Thomas Ricciardi said one of the primary reasons for increases is that salary appropriations "continue to go up at all levels of our government. There are several reasons for this, including inflationary pressures on our employees and the fact that employees are no longer willing to be satisfied with the security provided by employment in borough government, but are demanding salaries commensurate with those paid by industry.

The swimming pool ordinance, approved on a 5-0 vote (Councilman Abe Suckno was absent) permits nonresidents to apply for membership, provided they are sponsored by a current resident member. Dear Larrie:

I had a woman come to my door soliciting a photography deal that sounded sensational. I was told that I had to take advantage of this offer now, in order to be eligible. Well, any time I'm pinned down for an immediate decision I become terribly nervous, and need to talk things over with my husband. I know I shouldn't be so dependent on my husband for the right decision to be made, because he most certainly wants me to use my own judgment. But, I couldn't make an instant decision and thus lost out on taking advantage of this offer. In order to assess these needs, the district's testing program has expanded and readiness grouping will be added to the 11th and 12th grade curriculums in order to assist these students whose basic skill levels dictate small group instruction for success.

The superintendent also noted planned revisions in business education, including updating courses, equipment and introducing business courses for college preparatory students. The Project ACTIVE physical education program for handicanned students will be taught in all four regional schools and the girls' athletic program will be placed on parity with the boys' program.

Funds also are included in the budget for field trips and plans are being made to conduct summer school at both David Brearley and Gov. Livingston Regional High Schools.

The budget also reflects the Board of Education's desire to keep wellmaintained school facilities. Repairs and replacements for both buildings and instructional equipment are needed in order to operate school programs. Transportation costs are also expected to increase," a spokesman added.

At the present, plans call for a reduction in force of 13 positions throughout the regional district. Board guidelines call for an average class size of 22 to 25 students.

Using state formulas, the Regional District's budget breaks down to a cost per pupil figure of $1,987. Out of a group of 18 selected regional districts in New Jersey, Union County Regional ranks eighth on a cost per pupil comparison.

On Tuesday, the polls will be open from 2 to 9 p.m. In Kenilworth, the polling place is David Brearley Regional High School; in Mountainside, the Deerfield School on Central avenue.

tendent to director of public works and adding the position of a director's assistant, and one adding salaries for zoning officer, construction code official, building sub-code official, and assistant to the director. The latter four full time jobs will be held by Chester Johnson, who formerly was a part-time employee, at a total annual salary of $18,000. Councilman Bruce Geiger explained the changes were made to allow for easier administration under the new state-mandated construction code, which has increased the workload of the department Introduced at the session was another flood-control construction code ordinance amendment, which could result in extra red tape for borough residents who want to make improvements to their property. The amendment had been requested by federal officials as a prerequisite to approval of flood insurance coverage.

The ordinance, as amended, affects every piece of property in town, excluding one-family homes on lots of one acre or less, "Basically what it states, is that you cannot do anything to the property that will increase the runoff of rainfall," Geiger said.

Under the amended law, property owners with lots over one acre will be required to submit a site plan and other required information to the Planning Board before any construction, subdivision or development can be approved. They also may be required to submit a topographical map of the land.

The governing body approved introduction of the ordinance on a 4-0 vote, with Councilman Cullen abstaining "on principle," but requested that the borough attorney find out if the amendment is required under federal law or is "just he whim of some federal official." The attorney is to present his report before council votes on the measure at a special public meeting March 29

"This amendment could result in a very complicated and expensive procedure for property owners,' Ricciardi commented.

Also introduced was an ordinance appropriating $2,500 from the capital improvement account for the resurfacing of two tennis courts at the Deerfield School. Public hearing will be held at the Council's April 19 meeting.

Springfield officers said they were notified March 10 by Mountainside police that two men had been seen looking into vehicles in parking lots in the borough. They radioed a description of the suspects' car, including the license plate number, and shortly after 10 p.m. Lt. Andrew Calabrese of the Springfield force spotted the auto in the lot of the Quality Court Inn, Rt. 22. A check of the car reportedly revealed two stolen CB radios — one allegedly taken from a car at the Halfway House in Mountainside, and one from an auto at the Echo Lanes lot.

Arrested and charged with possession of stolen property and loitering with intent to steal were Joseph McAdams, 21, of East Orange and Gregory Daniels, 20, of Newark, McAdams also is charged in Springfield with possession of burglar tools: Daniels, with possession of less than 25 grams of marijuana. which provides for many of the same tasks and functions of this committee," Maguire said.

"For example, the oversight committee will decide which government programs are carrying out their duties in the best and most effective fashion and which are not," Maguire said. "It will be in a position to decide which programs should be modified and which eliminated, if need be.

The assemblyman pointed out that this function is essentially the same as that contained in the "Sunset Law" proposal under which state agencies and programs expire unless it can be proven there is a public need for them

"The oversight committee will be able to conduct investigations and studies to determine whether the many programs at the state level are being carried out in line with the legislation which created them," Maguire said.
"This committee will, at long last, provide government with the opportunity to cast a critical eye at itself and to set its own house in order," he added. "If it is permitted to carry out its assigned task in an objective and business-like fashion, it will accomplish a great deal, indeed, toward restoration of our credibility.'

Maguire, a resident of Clark, also serves on the Assembly Appropriations Committee. He is a former member of the Union County Board of Freeholders and former director of the board.

Down by 17 with six minutes left, Princeton jolts Harvard, 60-58

*The advance of Pennsylvania, Princeton, Dartmouth and Brown to the Springfield Ivy League playoff semifinal brackets was highlighted by the amazing comeback by Princeton in a 60-58 victory over Harvard.

With less than six minutes remaining in the game, Harvard was ahead, 56-39, and in total command of the game. However, in the next minute, the Crimson lost three key starters-Bill Condon, Steve Altman and Bill Meyer-

Utilizing a full-court press, the Tigers stopped the ball in backcourt, and forced turnovers which led to points. Red by Todd Leonard, Pete Ard and Courtney Bachus, Princeton cut the margin to seven points with 3:18 left, with a run of 10 points. Pete Ard then converted three free throws and put in a rebound to cut the edge to two. At the 2:30 mark, Tom Ard tied it up with two

On the ensuing inbounds play, Tom stole the pass-in, was fouled and sank one foul shot to put his club up, 57-56. After another steal, Pete Ard swished a baseline jumper for a three-point lead, and followed with a free throw to lead. 60-56. A basket by Harvard's Todd Vogt broke the Princeton scoring skein at 21, and reduced the margin to two, but neither team could score again in the final frantic minute.

Harvard's attack was paced by the 23-point, 16-rebound performance of Steve Altman, and was directed by Bill Condon, who tossed in 15 points and fed off for six assists. Bill Meyer grabbed 13 rebounds and scored 10 while Steve Wright hit for eight and Vogt tallied Penn won the right to meet Princeton in the upper bracket of the semifinals with a 49-40 victory over Cornell. The winners saved their strongest effort of the season for this game, taking an early lead and keeping the taller Cornell team off the boards with good position and hustle, never allowing them to pull even. Jerry Blabolil had another super game for Penn, leading all scorers with 25 points, hauling down 15 rebounds to lead in that department and playing solid defense. Penn also made good use of its bench, and received outstanding performances from Mark Yoss, Pete Graziano and Gary McCormick. Yoss had eight rebounds and seven points, while Graziano and McCormick each hit for six, and played tenacious defense. Young Ron Fusco again directed the winners' attack, and set up his front line for many baskets. Ron was credited with three points and seven assists. Dan Schlager also played hustling defense and hit an important basket in the early going.

Cornell scoring honors were shared by Jeff Cohen and Mike Berliner; each had 10 points. Jeff had a strong game off the boards, grabbing 10 rebounds, and Mike played a solid floor game in directing the Big Red's offense. Ed MacDonald and Howie Feintuch each chipped in with eight points, and Bill Boogar netted four.

Dartmouth reached the semifinals with a 52-49 victory over Yale. The Bulldogs had battled back from an eight-point halftime deficit, and cut the margin to a basket near the end of the game, but the Big Green had just enough to hold on. With less than two minutes remaining, Roy Zitomer sank a pair of fouls to put Dartmouth up by six, but Yale battled back, and in the final minute, Jack Chin and Jon Usdin hit baskets to cut the lead to two. However, a free throw by John Apicella in the final three seconds put the game on ice for Dartmouth. Zitomer led all scorers in the game with 27 points, while Steir had 14 and grabbed 10 rebounds. Lou DelMauro. with four points, and Apicella, with three, played strong games off the boards, while Dave Johnson and Don Magers each contributed a pair of free throws. The ball game was won by Dartmouth from the foul line, where they hit 18 of 23. In contrast, Yale, which scored five more field goals, could make only five of 10 from the line.

Jack Chin was top scorer for Yale, with 20 points, while Larry Walker chalked up 12 points and 10 rebounds. before fouling out late in the game.

Dayton freshmen, led by Joseph and Circelli, end season at 8-4

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Freshman basketball team ended their 1977 Suburban Conference season with an impressive 8-4 mark.

Minutemen end season play at 19-4

The Senior Minutemen of Springfield completed their regular season with an impressive 19-4 record.

Although the Minutemen were defeated by Linden, 94-57, in their final contest of the season last Wednesday, the Seniors deserve great praise for what turned out to be a very productive year. The Springfield eighth graders, under the direction of head coach Phil Kurnos, will round out the year with post-season tournaments in Springfield and Florham Park.

The Minutemen, missing two starting players, were not able to stop the much stronger Linden team in the contest last Wednesday. At halftime the Minutemen were trailing, 60-24. The Seniors surged in the third quarter but it was too late and too little. Roy Zitomer led the Minutemen in a losing cause with 20 points. Zitomer was also the leader in assists, with five, and in steals, three. Roy has been a consistent player throughout the entire season.

Todd Leonard and Jerry Blabolil each hit eight points in the contest. Blabolil helped off the boards with eight rebounds from his wing position. Steve Altman and Billy Chesley were the top rebounders for the Seniors as they pulled in 12 and 10 bounds respectively. Both boys knocked in six points.

Courtney Bachus, Jeff Cohen and Eric Rutstein all tallied a basket in the game while Billy Condon, Jack Chin and David Geltman each converted a foul shot to complete the scoring for the

Baseball team preparing for April 2 opener

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School varsity baseball team has begun practice in preparation for its April 2 opener against David Brearley.

By MICHAEL PETRO

Coach Edward Jasinski's squad is hoping to improve on last year's very disappointing 5-16 record. This year's team is sprinkled with a very healthy number of younger and older players. Seven returning letermen will be among the starters with the rest of the team consisting mostly of last year's junior varsity players.

Among this year's participants will be seniors Pete Episcopo, Henry Daas, Brian McNany, John Kronert, Mike Petro, Ed McCaine, Rick Weber, Rich Galinkin and Richard Weinberg.

The remaining team members are Dave Ironson, Dean Gerber, Bob Bohrod, Franmk Zahn, Jeff Goldfarb, John LoMotto, Bill Young, John Powell, Richard Schmeidel, Mitchell Slater, Darren Young, Ed Johnson and Dave Leuhoff.

Jasinski is hoping for a winning season this year but there are some rough spots on the team that have to be smoothed out. The pitching staff of Gerber, Petro, Galinkin, Schmeidel and Ironson is, according to Jasinski, "a very green staff." None of the hurlers has a varsity triumph under his belt.

The enthusiastic squad was coached by Arthur Krupp, a mathematics teacher at Dayton. After losing its first two outings, the team regrouped and won four straight games. It then coasted to its impressive final record.

The team was led by two guards, Adam Joseph and Tony Circelli. Constantly scoring near the 20-point mark, these two players drilled many long shots through the nets, and controlled the tempo of the Bulldog offense.

The strong forward for Dayton was Craig Clickenger. Possessing a fine inside shot, he twisted his way to many key layups, averaging nearly 15 points

Perhaps the most underpublicized player on the club was workhorse Kenny Klebous. Not a prolific scorer, the muscular Klebous was a very smart ballplayer and, playing in the center position, did the bulk of Dayton's defensive rebounding.

Rounding out the starting quintet was streak shooter Billy Ventura. A smooth performer, Ventura was an excellent defender and had the ability to stick the ball from the corners. Swingman Billy Rose was Coach Krupp's sixth man, reporting in to provide a needed lift. Rose played a vital part in the team's success. He responded well when given a starting assignment.

known for his passing skills. Cleveland was counted upon many times during the year. Wayne Lewis and Tony Parker were used frequently in Krupp's wellbalanced lineup. Lewis, the team's tallest member, worked in the pivot, while the ever-hustling Parker was used in the forward slot. Jeff Engelhardt, a lanky forward, led the team in shooting percentage. Although seldom used, Engelhardt burned the nets at an unbelievable clip. Andy Volpe helped out as a backup guard. Volpe was always learning, being known for his eagerness to help

Forwards Tony Garguilo and Steve Kessler helped to mold an impressive relief corps. Both showed flashes of brilliance at times during the year.

Flamboyant Damon Clark was known for his scoring bursts. He tallied an amazing 9 points in one period during the squad's final game.

Other former team members included Martin Swanson, Kevin Karp, and John Haws.

Coach Krupp was an intelligent leader. His continuous words of praise and constructive criticism helped the team to become a conference power.

Lead Bullets take crown in DIPPER court league

The Lead Bullets (9-3) clinched the regular season Daily Intramural Program Physical Education Recreation (DIPPER) basketball league championship by defeating the STP-5 (8-4) by a 36-30 margin in the Jonathan Dayton Regional High boys' gym last week. Jay Liss sank two baskets in the closing minutes to wrap up the victory. Andy Herkalo dominated the boards for the Bullets and posted nine points. #### Improvements program begun at Arts Center

A major maintenance improvement program is now under way at the Garden State Arts Center in Holmdel, it was announced by Robert J. Jablonski, vice chairman of the New Jersey Highway Authority, which operates the Holmdel amphitheater and the 173-mile Garden State Parkway.

"This year marks the 10th anniversary of the Arts Center," F. Joseph Carragher, executive director of the Authority stated, "and we felt that it necessitated a major face-lifting. During the last nine years, more than 8 000 000 persons have attended events at the Arts Center and there has been a great deal of wear and tear on the facilities. In past years, we have done very little in upgrading this area. Much of the work is being done around the amphitheater complex itself."

The maintenance improvement program is under the supervision of Robert Harjes, chief engineer for the authority. Estimated cost for the total project will be $140,000. During the last three to four months. Haries and his staff have done a complete survey of work that had to be done in the amphitheater.

A major mud-jacking program has to be instituted and several sections of the walks and stairs leading to the amphitheater are collapsing due to hollow areas underneath. The plan is to cut holes in the paving and inject a mud filling to realign the stairs and the walks. In addition, the dressing rooms at the Arts Center are being repainted and refurbished.

A new rug is being installed to take the place of the one that was originally installed when the theater first opened in 1968. To afford better crowd control. Harjes has recommended that turnstiles be installed at all entrances to the theater. These will be portable, self-contained units

Parking facilities are also being improved. As part of this program, the access road to the north area overflow lot is being widened and improved and a wooden traffic guard rail is also being installed to allow safe pedestrian traffic along the road. In the south area overflow lot, a general clean-up and refurbishing of the parking lot surface will be instituted. There will be some additional blacktop laid down, however, this parking area might not be completely finished for the Arts Center opening and only portions will be available for use.

Zamir Chorale at Seton Hall

afternoon of Jewish tertainment will be presented by the Northern New Jersey Region of the United Synagogue of America at Seton Hall University gymnasium on Sunday 🦚

Designated as "Simcha '77," the program will feature the Zamir Chorale; Cantor Abraham Mizrahi; the young Jewish rock group known as Tayku and the Israéli entertainer, Gadi

The Zamir Chorale has sung in all of New York City's major concert halls as well as on many college campuses in the communities throughout the Northeast. The Chorus has also appeared in Montreal, London and extensively throughout Israel. They also appear annually at Carnegie Hall in Celebration of Israel Independence 'Day, and in 1975 appeared at the Jewish Festival of the Arts, at the Garden State Arts Center, in New Jersey.

Bromberg set for Seton Hall

The David Bromberg Band will present two rock concerts at Seton Hall University, South Orange, next Wednesday in the Main Lounge of the Student Center. The two shows are scheduled for 7:30 and 10 with tickets priced at $5.

A group of six musicians backs Bromberg, who is known for injecting a crazy sense of humour often in the form of rambling narrative interludes and exchanges with the audience.

Bromberg has studied the guitar since the age of 13 and planned a career as musicologist. Since 1970 he has been a performer of his own and traditional American music.

DR. BRUCE EVANS, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, this week reviewed the history of the annual event. He stated:

'Almost old enough to be an antique itself" is often the appellation given the antiques show and sale sponsored by the historic Presbyterian Church of Springfield. For 35 years the ladies of the Church have given the community a sure sign of spring with the coming of the antique show.

'This show is probably the oldest of its kind in the metropolitan area. It was started in 1942 when the Second World War was being waged and the women were searching for a means to finance their charitable work. They decided to hold a show where reputable dealers might come together and display old silver, glass and furniture. They were surprised at the response, for dealers from Vermont to Virginia applied for admission. Very early the ladies, determined on a board of examiners to assure prospective purchasers of the authenticity of the items, and for years this was handled by Mrs. Don Maxwell of Westfield.

"The first shows were held in what is now the Chapel of the church. Later. when the Parish House was built it was moved to the more spacious quarters where a two-floor display was possible. Refinements made with the passing years have made it into one of the finest shows in the area, one which has been copied by many other church groups earning it still another commendation: "Duplicated but never surpassed."

Drew, FDU to increase iuition fees

Tuition increases for the 1977-78 academic year were announced this week by Fairleigh Dickinson University and Drew University.

At Drew, tuition for undergraduate and graduate students will be increased by $220 (seven percent) to $3,400. For residents, the combined fee for tuition, board and room will be $4,950, a 5.7 percent increase over the combined charges for the current academic year.

Drew officials said scholarship budgets will grow by an amount commensurate with the rise in student Fairleigh Dickinson said the undergraduate tuition will increase 6.25 percent, but financial aid will increase 15.71 percent. The actual increase in tuition will be $5 per credit to $85.

Graduate tuition is being increased 7.53 percent, from $93 to $100 per credit. Tuition at the university's dental school will increase from $4,600 to $5,000.

Resident students will pay about four percent more for their rooms next year, up from $789, to $821.

Dr. Jerome Pollack, president of Fairleigh Dickinson, said the 20,000student institution expects to complete the current academic year with a balanced budget. Last year the university incurred a $1.7 million deficit; the year before it was $1.5 million.

W. Scott McDonald Jr., vicepresident for administration and finance at Drew, said the board of trustees has approved a $11.6 million balanced budget for 1977-78. He reported that Drew used a version of zero-base budget technique to fund departments, divisions and programs at the current level, effecting an acrossthe board cut equal to whatever toll inflation may take.

Rising economy noted by architect's survey increasingly large amount of commissioned work on their drawing boards, according to a recent survey by the New Jersey Society of Architects. and prospects are good that the state's depressed construction industry will begin to experience an upswing this

This is the conclusion of J. Robert Gilchrist, AIA, of Hackensack, president-elect of the society, who compiled the results of the survey

KENYON MARTIN, director of the National Mime Theater, will perform at the 1977 Cancer Crusade Kickoff of the American Cancer Society's New Jersey Division on Saturday at Fiddler's Elbow Country Club in

"It is a very encouraging turnaround from the past four years," he said, "and it bodes well for all concerned When architects are busy, construction men soon also will be busy, and the benefits will be felt among materials suppliers, in the transportation field and in every industry serving design and construction.

Gilchrist observed that architecture has proved to be a reliable indicator of the state of the economy. For example, on Jan. 1, 1973, the responding firms reported a total construction value of $200 million for approved projects with construction drawings on the boards. The following year the figure dropped to $173 million, then to $140 million and on Jan., 1976, to a low of $130 million. ''In January, only two months ago,' Gilchrist said, "the figure had jumped to an amazing $290 million.

"It is interesting to note that 40 percent of that figure, or $116 million, is in foreign work, much of it in the Mideast. This is an unparalleled spurt in this category and indicates that some New Jersey architects, hard hit by the local economy in past years, have gone far afield. Still, fees from foreign work will serve to support and expand New Jersey offices, and much Mideast construction uses materials imported from the United States-which will contribute to the well-being of the domestic economy."

Safety Council fund campaign begun in state

The New Jersey State Safety Council, founded by business executives 30 years ago, is seeking $700,000 to fund its accident prevention programs for the next three years.

David J. Sherwood, executive vice president, Prudential Insurance Co. who is chairman of the council's statewide fund appeal, announced that Governor Brendan T. Byrne and former Governors, William T. Cahill and Robert B. Meyner will serve as honorary chairmen.

Sherwood in accepting the chairmanship of the fund campaign said, "The council has done an outstanding job of making New Jersey one of the safest states in the nation. We are counting on the business community to once again provide the financial support needed to continue the council's work of keeping people alive and preventing injuries.

The chairman said the highway safety work of the council received national acclaim when recently it was rated as the most active and effective state safety council in the nation.

He cited as examples of the council's leadership its innovative programs to eliminate highway hazards, increase use of safety belts and child restraints. remove drunks and drug users from the road, promote pedestrian safety, improve on and off the job safety, and train volunteer and paid firemen throughout the state.
