Disability class to be expanded

By KAREN ZAUTYK ...

The Board of Education will seek four or five tuition students from other communities to join a program for youngsters with learning disabilities.

The Mountainside school board approved the expansion of the program at its regular meeting Tuesday night at the Deerfield School. The fourth grade class will begin next September. Five youngsters currently enrolled in borough schools will form the core of the program.

The students, who have disabilities ranging from minimal brain dysfunction to hearing or vision problems, would be in the special class for part of the day and in regular programs the remainder of the time. The borough youngsters are receiving similar instruction at present, but the new class would be the first attempt to bring in non-residents students.

In a report to the board, Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, superintendent of schools, noted achievements of Mountainsiders in ninth grade programs at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. During the first marking period the percentages of borough youngsters achieving above average grades were as follows: Spanish II, 90.3 percent; rench, 81.8 percent; biology, 95.2 percent and geometry, 100 percent.

Financial matters dealt with at the meeting included authorization of an $86,636 rebate to the borough so the community can meet its commitment to issue tax refund checks to local citizens. The checks are due because the amount of taxes to be raised for local education purposes for the 1976-77

Scouting honor for Greenberg

Paul Greenberg, an Eagle Scout member of Mountainside Presbyterian Church Troop 177, has completed the requirements for the Ner Tamid Award for Jewish Scouts. He is the first Scout in his troop to receive the award.

Rabbi Charles Kroloff of Temple Emanu-El, Westfield, presented the award during a recent Friday night service. Similar programs have been developed by the Catholic and Protestant faiths.

To be eligible for the award, a scout must complete one required and one elective item from each of the following areas: home observance, synagogue worship, Jewish study, the American Jewish community and world Jewry. In addition the Scout must perform three service projects connected with the temple.

Tennis ladder gets an encore

The Mountainside Recreation Commission this week announced that there will once again be tennnis ladder competitions during the summer of 1977. Six ladders are planned: singles for men, women and young people and doubles for men, women and mixed couples. The tennis ladder is not a tournament, but is intended for players who are interested in increasing their skill by meeting and playing other Mountainside residents. For more information, or to register for any ladder, readers may call Helen Hewitt at 232-4745 or Sandy Burdge at 232-4373. Deadline for registration is May 15.

May 11 hearing listed for four arrested in brawl at Reservation

May 11 is the preliminary hearing date set in Mountainside Municipal Court for four youths arrested in connection with a mob brawl in the Watchung Reservation Sunday night.

Released on $1,000 bail each were Van Braxton, 20, of Scotch Plains and Frederick Bundy, 19, of Westfield. Braxton is accused of assault with a deadly weapon (a tire iron), possession of prescription drugs, fighting in a public place and being drunk and disorderly. Bundy is charged with atrocious assault and battery, possession of a dangerous weapon (a club) and fighting.

Little League parade to open 24th season The Mountainside Little League parade and opening day ceremonies this Saturday will start the 24th season of organized baseball in the borough. Mayor Tom Ricciardi will throw out the first ball of the season to begin a full schedule of competition.

Marchers will assemble for the parade at 8:45 a.m. at the corner of Wood Valley road and Stony Brook Lane, Bill Biunno, chairman of opening day festivities, will lead a parade of Little Leaguers, Girls' Softball League players and Fire and Rescue Squad representatives accompanied by the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Band

Paraders will leave the assembly point at 9 a.m., continuing toward Central avenue, right to Wyoming drive, left to Longview drive, right to Sawmill and then to the entrance of the Little League field behind Deerfield

School. After introduction of local dignitaries and speeches by representatives of the Borough Council, Fire Department, Rescue Squad, Board of Education, sent to their homes.

Story hour to begin at library next week

Maryann Sheehan, Mountainside children's librarian, will begin spring story hour next Thursday, April 28. There will be a morning hour from 10:30 to 11 and an afternoon hour from 1:30 to 2 every Thursday from April 28

Story hour open to children aged 31/2 to 5, will be held at the Free Public Library of Mountainside. Parents were asked to register their children at the Police Department and Little League, Mayor Ricciardi will throw out the first ball and the competition will begin at 10 a.m. The American League games will be played on the OLL field instead of at Echobrook School.

George Yoggy, Little League president, announced that the American League is headed by Jack Burrows, Major League by Art Williams, the newly created Pony League by George Crane and Senior League by Jim Huelbig. Other officers of the league are secretary, Julie Rusbarsky; treasurer, Pete Klaskin; umpire-in-chief, John Kontra; field maintenance chief, Chuck Fernicola, and equipment manager, Don Rodriquez. Refreshments will be sold on opening day, sponsored by the Junior Women's Club of Mountainside.

The regular season will be followed by the All-Star circuit through July. The awards dinner will be held in the

Also arrested and freed on $500 bail each were James Ruane, 20, of Elizabeth, charged with fighting and being drunk and disorderly; and Michael Espositio, 18, also of Elizabeth, accused of interfering with a police officer in the performance of his duties, fighting and being drunk and disor-

The four, police said, were among approximately 100 black and white youths who engaged in a one-hour battle, which broke out in the loop picnic area of the park at approximately 6 p.m. Ruane was the only person reported injured-he was treated for facial injuries at Overlook Hospital-but police believe many others also were hurt but fled from the officers. Tire irons, clubs, large sticks. tree branches and broken beer bottles were reportedly used in the brawl.

The melee was first reported by Union County Park Police who were patrolling in the area. Reinforcements were sent by other park police units, three Mountainside patrol cars, and officers from Summit and the Union County Prosecutor's Office. Police said approximately 400 to 500 other persons, reservation visitors, watched the

The cause of the brawl is still under investigation, but police theorize "the use of alcoholic beverages and many derogatory remarks" by groups of white and black youths "contributed to the outbreak."

According to police, the mob attacked one of the police cars, rocking it in an effort to free one of the arrested suspects, and threatened to burn a car owned by one of fighters.

AAUW will meet tonight for portrait demonstration

The Mountainside Branch of the American Association of University Women will meet in the Emma Weber Room of the Mountainside Library tonight at 8.

Joy Thies, a local portrait artist, will give a lecture-demonstration on "The Process of a Pastel Portrait." One of the members of the branch, Ena Siefken, will be the subject of the portrait.

The artist's educational background includes the Washington Irving Art School and the New School in New York City; she has studied portrait painting with Katherine Grove Sailer, John Howell, Beth Born, Paul Burns, and John Howard Sanden.

Ms. Thies has been painting for more than 20 years. She is a member of numerous art groups, and her works are in 50 private collections in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Florida. She also teaches fine art painting to the Mountainside Woman's Club art group.

Council moves to raise pay of borough police

Following lengthy negotiations, the Mountainside Borough Council has agreed to a 7 percent salary increase with the Mountainside Policemen's Benevolent Association. The increase, announced with the introduction of a pay ordinance Tuesday night at the council's monthly meeting at the Beechwood School, represents a oneyear contract for the 20-member PBA. which was granted a 6.5 percent increase last year. The council also introduced a salary scale for all other municipal workers.

The 1977 salary range will be, for patrolmen, to $16,200; detective, to $16,800; sergeant, $17,350; detective sergeant, $17,850; lieutenant, $18,250; detective lieutenant $18,500, and captain, $18,750. The chief, who is not included in the PBA agreement, will also receive a 7 percent increase in salary, raising it to $20,569.

The ordinance that would raise the salaries of all other municipal workers brings their salaries to: business administrator, $2,200; borough clerk, $11,785; clerk stenographer, $6,740; secretary, public works, $10,110; court clerk, $5,025; deputy tax collector, $5,025; tax collector, $500; clerk bookkeeper, $6,330; recreation director, $11,000; treasurer, $10,350; director of public works, $24,165; deputy court clerk, $6,240; borough attorney, $4,000; municipal judge, $5,400; ; zoning officer, $6,000; assistant director of public works, $6,000; construction code official, $3,000; building sub-code official, $3,000; plumbing subcode official, $2,100; public works employee, $10,500; administration public assistants, $2,200.

Part-time public works employees will receive salaries ranging from $3.50-$3.75 an hour. School crossing guards will receive $3.50 an hour, and part-time clerks will receive salaries ranging from $3.25-$4 an hour. The full text of the proposed ordinance will appear next week.

In other business, the council in troduced an ordinance to raise the annual license fees for liquor retailers to $1,714, up almost 20 percent from the previous $1,429 fee. State law prohibits an annual increase of more than 20 percent, and the fees for liquor-selling establishments cannot go higher than $2,000. Fees for bars and lounges are already $2,000.

Authorization was also given to tainside by bond anticipation notes at an interest rate of 3.4 percent. The money, according to Councilman Nicholas Bradshaw, includes the initial funding for the new police facilities in the Echobrook building and will also be used for the borough's new storm sewer program.

Members were named to the Board of Adjustment in accordance with the borough's new land use ordinance. The meh appointed, with the expiration dates of their terms in parentheses, are: William Gutman (December 1977); Michael Sgarro (December 1978); Andrew Tully (December 1978); George C. Novitt (December 1979); John Ament (December 1979); Gerald S. Dillemuth (December 1980), and

Ronald M. Heyman (December 1980). The council gave final approval to an ordinance to allow the use of $2,500 (Continued on page 2)

GOP breakfast offers pancakes as fund raiser

A pancake breakfast, sponsored by the Republican Club of Mountainside and the Republican Committee of Mountainside, has been scheduled for Sunday June 5, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Mountainside Elks Club, Rt. 22

Roy Mumford, president of the club, and Ed Gibadlo, chairman of the municipal committee, announced that proceeds from the event will be evenly divided between the groups. They noted that all residents, regardless of political affiliation were invited and encouraged to take part in what they described as a "community event."

Other members of the pancake planning committee include Herman Hafeken, Larry Curtis, Kay and Frank Torma, Monroe Nestler and Tim Benford.

The Republican Club is in the midst of a membership drive and has urged residents interested in joining to contact Tom Bailey at 654-3926. The Municipal Committee is made up of district committeemen and women elected in the yearly party primary election.

regarding unauthorized hardball playing. School board attorney Raymond O'Brien noted the resident has the right to call police if any ball players or their equipment (i.e. a baseball) trespasses on his property. The board authorized the placement of a "No Hardball Playing" sign at the site. A similar sign was installed last spring and disappeared within two weeks, McDonough noted.

Approval was granted to the Mountainside Rescue Squad to conduct a daylong health fair on the Deerfield grounds on June 4. First aid units from Springfield, Westfield, Scotch Plains and Overlook Hospital; a bloodmobile, an eyemobile, the Union County Heart Association, Cancer Society, Planned Parenthood Association, Red Cross, and police and fire departments will participate.

The board authorized McDonough to prepare letters to elected representatives regarding its position on pending state legislation: Support of bills S1671 and A2428 which would make school lunch programs optional: opposition to $3071 which would make it mandatory for school boards to pay teachers for all religious holidays; and opposition to A3065, which calls for a constitutional referendum on the voucher system. Under that system, which, Dr. Hanigan said, "has been a failure" wherever it was tried in the United States, parents could receive payment from the state in an amount equal to the per-pupil cost of education in their local public school district, with the money to be used for tuition at private schools.

Also at the meeting, board president William Biunno announced his appointments of board members to committees and as representatives to other organizations.

Committee members, with the first person named being the chairman, are as follows: Education-Peg Reilly, Biunno; Transportation and Safety-Charles Speth, Patricia Knodel; Finance—Ronald Wood, Dr. Arthur Williams; Buildings and Grounds— Speth, Scott Schmedel; Public Relations—Schmedel; Legislation— Reilly, Williams. Wood will serve as chairman for negotiations with all bargaining units and will name his committee members for each group. Dr. Hanigan will be an ex-officio member of all committees.

Named as board representatives were: Schmedel, New Jersey School Association: Educational Services Commission; Biunno, Union County School Boards Association: Wood, Constituent Boards of the Regional High School District; Biunno, Borough Council; and Reilly, Mountainside PTA.

Dr. Hanigan noted that parents may now obtain their children's scores on recent state tests. They should call Edward Sjonell, guidance counsellor at the Deerfield School, for an appointment.

The United Nations Law of the Sea Conference appears headed on the same meandering course over the exploitation of deep sea mineral rights as it unsuccessfully followed over fishing zones.

Three years ago the conference bogged down in indecisiveness after years of attempts to establish an in-ternational fishery protection code. As a congressional representative at the conference in Geneva, I warned that the U.S. would establish its own 200mile limit if an international agreement was not concluded.

The conference continued to bicker. As a result, the U.S. acted unilaterally by establishing its own fishery protection zone. Now a similar situation is developing over the way the conference is handling, or mishandling, the recovery of seabed minerals.

For years the conference has hemmed and hawed over the issue. The prospect is that delegates from 150 nations will remain stalemated on the issue at the fifth Law of the Sea Conference, opening in New York City next under the oceans-within the reach of U.S. deep-sea mining technology. The available minerals, estimated to be worth $3 trillion, are rapidly increasing in importance as land-mined minerals are depleted.

The warning I gave to the Law of the Sea Conference three years ago over fishery protection can be equally applied to current handling of the deepsea mining issue.

The fact is the U.S. and other industrial nations are becoming im-patient and may well decide to "go it alone" in the recovery of seabed minerals if an international agreement is not concluded soon. The UN conference has only itself to blame. Certainly the U.S. is in no way responsible for the many delays in reaching an international agreement.

The U.S. has gone out of its way to encourage such an agreement. We have even proposed a dual policy for the recovery of seabed minerals, through which half of all mining sites would be reserved for international use. Additionally, we have offered to help finance and provide the technology for international seabed mining ventures.

This is a generous offer, making it possible for small nations and those without the technological resources to share in the benefits of seabed mining.

The U.S. is prepared to accept the establishment of an International Resource Authority to manage and participate in seabed mining and to guarantee nondiscriminatory access for states and their nationals to deepsea mineral resources.

Proposals advanced by our nation even show a readiness to meet the concerns of those involved in mineral production who may be hurt by the competition of seabed mining. In this respect, the U.S.:

-Is prepared to accept a treaty period limitation on the production of seabed minerals tied to the projected growth of the world nickel market, about six percent a year. This would, in effect, limit production of other minerals, including copper, contained in seabed nodules.

-Proposes that revenues of the International Resource Authority be used to assist smaller nations, helping them to become more competitive and to diversify their production if they are likely to be seriously hurt by deepsea

The U.S. has done all it reasonably can to encourage implementation of an international code of seabed mining. In sharp contrast, many Third World nations have stubbornly and shortsightedly escalated their opposition and criticism.

When the delegates convene again in New York City next month, they should know-and be clearly told-that America's patience is wearing thin, and that industrial nations with the technological knowhow cannot be expected to keep waiting year after tificated health teachers who possess masters' degrees in the subject. The staff also seeks to supplement instruction by using guest speakers who represent a variety of health-related organizations.

According to instructor Gerald Rettenberg, students study health one marking period (nine weeks) per year. During the freshman year, students review general health in the areas of diseases, mental health and health maintenance.

The sophomores study driver education theory, which emphasizes safety, proper attitude and defensive driving. Students do not enter a driver education car until the age of 16.

First aid and community and social health problems are reviewed in the junior year. First aid instruction includes the treatment of shock, fractures, artificial respiration and common medical emergencies. Pollution, communicable diseases, socialized medicine and medical quackery are also covered, Rettenberg said. In the senior year, various aspects of mental health and family living are discussed. Common to all four levels of instruction is an emphasis on preventive health measures and discussions regarding drug, alcohol and tobacco use, he ad-

Recent guest speakers in Dayton health classes have included Gloria Sherman of Springfield, an officer of the New Jersey Chapter of the Huntington's Disease Association; gastroenterologist Dr. Joel Levinson, who discussed diseases related to digestion, and Dayton guidance counselors, who reviewed problems and problem solving.

Rettenberg declared, "The most important aspect of the curriculum is the emphasis placed on preventive health measures, and the insight into community health problems that the course provides students. The material complements other subjects, and health's importance as an academic subject should not be deremphasized."

from the borough's capital fund account to resurface two tennis courts at the Deerfield School. According to Councilman William Cullen, the money represents part "of an ongoing maintenance program of the tennis facilities within the borough."

In other action, the council voted 5-0, with Council President Bruce Geiger abstaining, to express its opposition to the proposed construction of a police firing range at the Nike Base in Berkeley Heights. The opposition was expressed because, as Cullen said, it would be "utterly ridiculous" to have a target range so close to homes and the Gov. Livingston Regional High School "where children will roam through the Opposition was also expressed to the state Department of Transportation proposal to reduce the speed limit to 30 miles per hour on Woodland avenue after the council requested a reduction to 25 mph. Councilman Abraham Suckno said that, after the reduction by the borough was requested, the department conducted a traffic study and found that the 30 mph zone would be sufficient.

But, he said, after the council pointed out that Westfield had a 25 mph zone on the same street, the state said that the town was allowed to keep its lower speed limit because, as Suckno said, "it hadn't requested a traffic study.' Bradshaw also said that a copy of the resolution, in addition to being sent to the Department of Transportation and the Union County Board of Freeholders, will be mailed to the residents of Woodland avenue because "they showed concern" about reducing the speed limit.

In other actions, the council approved the appointments of Melinda D. Hagey as deputy court clerk for a one year term and Marilyn Eisenhauer as a parttime recreation department secretary. A contract to supply gasoline to the borough was awarded to the Dean Oil Co., Fanwood.

Suckno also requested that the parking regulations in the Echobrook building parking area "be strictly observed," especially where construction is under way, because of the inconvenience parking near those areas

Four Seasons taking sign-ups for day camps

Registration for the four Four Seasons Outdoor Center Day Camps is now open, according to Center Director Pat Schriver. Located 35 miles away in Hunterdon County's Lebanon Township, the camps are sponsored for the YMCAs of Westfield and Scotch Plains-Fanwood.

Pioneer Camp for boys and girls in grades 1 to 6 concentrates on nature study and native crafts in a program centered around 32 environmental education stations.

A feature of the Pioneer Camp will be "primitive camping" for one night, sleeping out of tents on the ground. Daily swim instruction is included, with rowing for youngsters aged 6 and 7, canoeing for those 8 to 11 and sailing for ages 12-14.

Ranger Camp is an advanced program for boys and girls in grades 4 to 6-including survival skills, orienteering, camperaft and firebuilding, handling and use of equipment. A fournight overnight campout will be held each two-week period.

The Four Seasons also offers a camp for junior highschoolers—an Adventure Backpacking Appalachian trail is the high point, after a one-week "in camp" preparation session for the adventure.

The fourth camp is for children with learning disabilities. This camp enjoys all the same activities as the others. Special emphasis is on motor development, coordination, fine and gross motor skills and social skills.

Bus routes pick youngsters up at their neighborhood schools between 8 and 9 a.m. and transport them to the camp in Lebanon Township. The youngsters are returned to their bus stops after 4:15

Camp period dates run from June 27 through Aug. 19 on two-week session basis. Further information may be obtained at 233-2700.

Space is topic for week-long Union events

The exploration and industrialization of space will be the topic of a week-long program of events for the public and school students in Union.

Free public programs will be held Tuesday and Thursday at Union High School, North Third street. On Tuesday night, space science exhibits will be displayed in the main lobby beginning at 7 p.m. Space science films will be shown in Rooms D-101 through D-107 beginning at 7 p.m. A lecturedemonstration and question-answer program will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

Thursday's program, which includes the exhibits and films at 7 p.m., will also feature a discussion by William Agosta on space colonization. That will be preceded at 8 p.m. by the film, "The Age of Space Transportation,' produced by the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

A luncheon will be held Monday at noon at Union High featuring a keynote speech by Jesco von Puttkamer, an associate of Werner von Braun. He will discuss the industrialization of space. Tickets, at $4 each, may be obtained through the Union Township Chamber of Commerce, 688-2777.

Unico meeting slated Tuesday

Unico National of Mountainside will meet Tuesday at th Mountainside Inn. Rt. 22, for its monthly general meeting and to complete arrangements for the dinner-dance at the Mountainside Inn on May 28.

The net receipts derived from this event will be dedicated to charitable institutions. Members were urged to attend the meeting. Friends of Unico interested in attending the dinnerdance may contact Joseph B. Visceglia, Box 1070, Mountainside, or phone 233-

Reading group to hold brunch

The Suburban Council, International Reading Association, will sponsor a brunch on Saturday, April 30 at 10:30 a.m. at the Stage House Inn, Scotch Plains. Dr. Lesley Morrow, professor at Kean College, Union, will speak on "Enticing Chilren into Literature through Creative Story Technique."

Members of the council from Mountainside include Evelyne Holcombe of Ledgewood road, Jeanette Turley of Cherry Hill road and Anna P. Matko of Sawmill road.

A presentation of the IRA award for excellence in the teaching of reading will also be featured at the brunch.

Arts brochure avàilable soon

The Westfield Summer Workshop for the Performing and Fine Arts Inc. is preparing its 1977 brochure which should be available for distribution at the end of the month. The workshop is a nonprofit organization.

The five-week workshop will be held at Edison Junior High School in Westfield, from June 27 to July 29, with classes held daily from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., on a tuition basis. Enrollment is open to students entering kindergarten through grade 12 in September. Theodore Schlesberg, director, has also arranged a program to include adults and senior citizens.

Last summer, the workshop included several Mountainside students in its general program and Broadway musical, "Oliver." Bus service is available upon request.

School boards to get program

In an effort to provide more services to school board members on the local level, the Union County School Boards Association, in cooperation with the Union County Regional Adult School, has scheduled a five-week orientation program for school board members.

The program, free to Union County school board members, will be held at the David Brearley Regional High School, Monroe avenue, Kenilworth, beginning Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Local, county and state experts will discuss the role of the school board member, school budgets, governance of the schools and educational program planning.

For further information, readers may call the Regional Adult School at 376-6300.

LOCAL VALUES

This message is directed to those Mountainside residents who went to the polls on March 29 and voted against our local school budget. Mountainside was among four Union County communities who defeated their budgets; the others were Linden, Rahway and Roselle.

Ours was a fair, equitable and lean school budget allowing for good education at a reasonable cost to taxpayers. It did not allow for any "frills," or waste, or even for 15 children in every classroom as was intimated during the recent campaign (our actual class average is 22.8).

Where do we place our values? When the people of a town such as Mountainside shift their priorities from the education of their children to the saving of a few dollars, the entire complexion of the town is altered. The trend is a sad and frightening one. It is this very attitude which will result in the death of a once superior school system. Is Mountainside still a town that really cares for the education of its children?

Anti-budget voters owe it not only to themselves but, indeed, to this town, to determine the results of their action, that is, to attend at least one school board meeting to witness first-hand where, specifically, further educational reductions will be made. Think about the impact of those cuts on our children and decide whether these reductions can really be made without cutting into the heart of our school system. See if we can afford to be proud of our defeated school budget. NANCY MICHALSKI

Two letters in last week's issue plus an article by Mr. Scott Schmedel prompt me to write at this time.

First: Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Norris, let me say that never did Mr. Speth or I say that the average class size was 15 pupils per class. If you had attended any of our coffees you would know that we said the average class size was 22. As to the teacher-pupil ratio being one to 15, this is exactly what it is. It surprises me that you and also Mrs. Ruth Spina, who claims to be so education-conscious, are unfamiliar with this term. If you have ever looked at a college catalogue you will see teacher-pupil ratio and that does not mean class size. This is a common term in educational jargon. Surprisingly, at our coffess, the vast majority of people knew exactly what was meant. There was never any deception intended on our part. It was included in our flyer in response to many, many inquiries.

Concerning the kindergarten aide, it is you who are misinformed, not I. The state maximum for kindergarten is 25 pupils. Never during this school year has our kindergarten exceeded this maximum. The highest our kindergarten enrollment reached is 50 pupils, 25 in each section.

An explanation as to why our budget failed while the vast majority in the state passed was given by the Star Ledger analysis two days after election. Budgets which offered a tax reduction were passed-those which required an increase in taxes were defeated. This, Mr. Schmedel, may possibly be the reason our Regional budget passed while our local one was rejected. Mr. Schmedel claims the enrollment will drop by 50, not 100 pupils. As explained at our coffees and as I did in my profile in the Mountainside Echo on March 24, the budgetary loss of pupils discretion. This newspaper reserves the right to edit or reject any letter.

Next year's budget is premised on an enrollment of 800 pupils. Mr. Schmedel assumes that the citizens are ignorant of our school system. Perhaps when Mr. Schmedel has lived in town as long as I have, he will realize that many citizens, though they no longer have pupils in our school system, are very cognizant of the system.

The fantasy that voting "No" on a school budget lowers your property value is so much hogwash. We were told this when we lost Gov. Livingston as our home high school, also, but any realtor will tell you that Mountainside has the most inflated real estate values in the county.

Where are these houses that have declined in value? One home in our neighborhood was sold nine years ago for $42,000, three years later for $65,000 and four years later for $82,000. Twelve years ago another friend purchased a home for $38,000, and recently sold it for $115,000. I could go on and on with other examples. Several longtime residents told me they wished their property value would go down so they would pay less taxes

Dayton fourth in County Relays, beats Roselle, Cranford in meets

By MICHAEL PETRO

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School track team defeated Roselle, 108-23, and Cranford, 74-57, in two dual meets last week and placed fourth in the Union County Relays on Saturday. The Bulldogs, who are now 3-0 in dual meet competition, will face New Providence today.

Dayton totally dominated the Roselle meet, controlling every event.

Union Catholic beaten, 3-2, by Dayton netters

By MIKE MEIXNER

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School tennis team, 1-2 after three nonconference contests, scored an impressive 3-2 triumph over Union Catholic. The team lost to Clark (a 3-2 heartbreaker) and Gov. Livingston.

The team has been aided by the stalwart play of Donna Lies, one of the outstanding young women tennis players in the country. Donna plays in the first singles position.

Danny Schlessinger, at second singles, is constantly improving; he has a competitive nature, possessing a strong will to win.

Splitting duties at third singles are Peter Hess and Neil Meisel, Meisel, a junior, also performs at the doubles spot. Other players who have helped in doubles include Rich Simon, Arthur Solomen, Mickey Gottlieb, Howard Doppelt, Todd Melamed, Mark Dooley, Chris Johns and sophomores Mike Clarke and Gary Nestler.

Dayton nine still winless in 5 games

By MICHAEL PETRO

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School baseball team is winless in five games after losses to Summit, (15-3), Hillside (10-9) and Verona (4-0). Dayton, now 0-3 in the Suburban Conference, will play New Providence today, Saint Mary's Saturday and Millburn Monday.

Against Summit last Thursday, Dayton battled back from a 3-0 deficit to tie the game in the fifth inning before Summit exploded for 12 runs in the sixth inning. Brian McNany, Ed McCaine and Ed Johnson each batted in a run for the Bulldogs.

The Hillside game was a slugfest from the beginning. Dayton scored one or more runs in every inning and carried a 9-6 lead into the seventh inning. But Hillside won the game in the seventh on a three-run single and an RBI error.

Ed McCain led Dayton's 12-hit attack with three RBI on a two-run homer, a double and a single. Bob Bohrod and Henry Daas each had two hits and two

In the Verona contest the Bulldogs were held to one hit, a single by Bohrod. Although the team hit well, almost every hit was at a Verona fielder. Rich Galinkin pitched strongly in taking his first loss, giving up only six hits and striking out five in his complete-game performance.

Bulldog golfers split; face New Providence

By MIKE MEIXNER

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School golf team kept its season record at .500 by defeating New Providence and Verona while losing to Caldwell and Madison. Coach Raymond Yanchus expressed his disappointment when the squad was eliminated from state tournament competition by losing to Caldwell. The next golf competition for the Bulldogs will be Monday at Baltusrol against New Providence.

Dayton recorded a 294-295 victory over New Providence at the Essex County Country Club. Skip Liguori shot a sizzling 43 to lead his team to victory. Mike Rosenberg, despite having trouble in the sand traps, shot a respectable 46. Dave Gechlik added 47,

Donna will vie in net tourney

Donna Lies of Springfield will participate in Seventeen magazine's tennis tournament May 17-21 at Mission Viejo, Calif. She will participate in the 18-andunder division.

Donna, a high school junior, is the daughter of Mrs. Stella Lies of Tooker place. Last year she was ranked No. 5 in the 16-year-old category and No. 6 in the 18-and-under division of the Eastern Tennis Association. She was No. 31 in the country in the 16-and-under group. She was a winner in the N.J. State Women's Indoor and New York State Girls' 18 Hard Court tournaments.

Donna, who has 10 brothers and sisters, says, "Tennis is a sport that has taught me determination, humiliation and pride."

Other New Jersey players in the tournament include Cindy Johnson of Spring Lake, Caroline L. Stoll of Livingston and Kimberly Arnell Medd while Toby Lesofski shot a 49.

In the 286-291 loss to Caldwell on the Mountain Ridge Country Club course, Rosenberg shot a 41, earning medalist honors for his fine putting. Also sparkling were Ligouri (47), freshman Martin Swanson (48) and Gechlik (49).

Dayton split a duel meet with Verona and Madison, losing to the Dodgers, 290-277, but defeating the Hillbillies, 297-300! Top shooters for the day were Liguori, who birdied his way to a 42, and Gechlik, who scored a 46. Rosenberg added a 45, but was outdueled by Suburban Conference archrival Pat Romano, who notched a brilliant 40. Rick Grier made his initial varsity appearance for Dayton, showing a fluid but somewhat erratic stroke.

During the week the Bulldogs had the opportunity to test the new course on the circuit, the Essex County Country Club. Many of the golfers had a favorable opinion of the course.

THIS WEEK'S LET-TER: I'm writing to see if you can help me solve a problem. I'm 16 years old and in the 11th grade. I'm going with a guy who's also 16. About a year ago, he got into some trouble and was sent to a Correction Institute. He didn't like the place, so he ran away. They caught up with him and now he's in prison. I really think a lot of him and I can't get him off my mind, no matter what I do. I feel like my whole life is thrown away. What can I do so I won't think about him so much?

OUR REPLY: The harder you try not to think of something, the more you think about it, right? Try letting your thoughts be there. Don't fight them when they come into your mind, Just let them be. Once you really learn to do that, chances are those thoughts will actually bother you less than they do now. It's a matter of really getting in touch with yourself and your feelings. Sparks Low Tar Boom!

Enriched Flavor tobacco seen as major factor in unprecedented smoker move to low tar.

Since its introduction, MERIT has become one of the most popular new cigarettes in twenty years.

A popularity largely responsible for a significant growth in low tar smoking.

The reason: 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. Tobacco that delivers extra flavor without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

The kind of flavor smokers can switch to—and stick with.

Here are the taste-test results which show why smokers are switching to MERIT. If you smoke, you'll be interested.

Overall, smokers reported they liked the taste of both MERIT and MERIT 100's as much as the taste of the higher tar cigarettes tested.

U.S. program funds 200 jobs for teens

A federally-funded, after-school youth employment program that will eventually provide parttime employment to almost 200 Union County teenagers began April 1 under the joint sponsorship of the Union County Division of Youth and the Union County Division of Employment and Training.

Thus far, 141 teenagers whose families meet the federal income guidelines are employed in schools, libraries, municipal offices and other community service institutions, according to Joseph Sharp, director of the

Asteroid belt is lecture topic

"Asteroids and Comets" will be the lecture topic by Dr. Thomas Van-flandern of Washington, D.C., a professional astronomer, at a meeting of Amateur Astronomers Inc. tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Campus Center Theatre at Union College, Cranford.

Dr. VanFlandern's talk will concentrate on evidence indicating that the asteriod belt is composed of rocks, ranging in size from a fraction of an inch to several miles wide, and located between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter. They are believed to be the leftovers of a massive planet which disintegrated approximately six million years ago.

Funded through the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA), Title I, the program is providing participants "with up to 15 hours of work per week, work which it is hoped will serve as a transition to ongoing job training programs in the county," Sharp said.

In Linden, sites which are providing after-school employment to teenagers include the Linden Day Care Center, Linden Recreation Department, Linden High School-Vocational Technical Building, Linden Public Library and the Linden Board of Education.

In Roselle and Roselle Park, employment is being provided by the Linden-Roselle Multi-Center, Roselle High School, the Roselle Day Care Center, Roselle Park Public Library and Roselle Park High School.

The Union Municipal Building, Union High School and the Union Township Community Action Organization are providing jobs for Union teenagers.

Also, the Springfield Public Library and David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth are providing after-school employment.

"The part-time employment component is the first program where planning and coordination have been executed jointly by the two county divisions," Sharp said. "We are also planning a summer program for economically disadvantaged youth that will provide close to 1,000 jobs for county teenagers.

"In addition," Sharp continued, "the Youth Service Bureau will also be seeking jobs in private industry and businesses for those hundreds of Union County youths who don't fall within the federal income guidelines but who still need jobs."

Sharp also said that any business or institution that can hire teenagers for summer or parttime work, may call the bureau office at 353-5000, ext. 628; 353-1323 or 322-2154.

Choral groups in spring show

The Ramapo Valley Chapter of Sweet Adelines, six-time regional chorus champions and 1974 international finalists, will be featured in a special program of barbershop harmony Saturday, April 30, at 8:15 p.m. at Westfield High School.

The fourth annual spring show sponsored by the Colonial Chorus chapter of SPEBSQSA, the barbershop harmony society, also will present the "Pacemakers," representing the Montgomery County, Md., and Fairfax, Va., chapters, as well as local barbershoppers.

Ramapo Valley first entertained area audiences in the Spring of 1973. Their performance began the "Swing into Spring" tradition and was highly ac-

Training starts for those aiding sick and elderly

Training sessions for volunteers to work in outreach programs for the sick and elderly are being offered in Union County by the Office of Elderly Affairs and the Health and Hospitals Apostolate of Catholic Community Services.

The sessions, scheduled from 8 -10 p.m., are free, open to the public and are being held at St. John the Apostle Parish, Clark-Linden.

"The need to assist the sick and elderly to remain in their own homes as long as possible and not be institutionalized, is a national priority as well as the desire of most older persons," explained Sr. Rita Margaret, OP, director of the Office of Elderly Affairs.

The sessions in Union County are being conducted by William Watson, Union County director of Catholic Community Services; Raymond Molnar, director of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program of Union County operated, and Frank Soltesz, MSW, supervisor of Associated Catholic Charities Family Service program of Union County, which also is a component of C.C.S. The first was scheduled yesterday and others are scheduled Wednesday, April 27, and Tuesday, May 3, at St. John the Apostle, 1805 Penbrook ter., Linden.

"This third annual event will have added dimensions," said Warren Rorden of Westfield, who designed an "over 40" trail of 10 miles. The "over 40" alternative meanders through Westfield, Fanwood and Scotch Plains, with designated check points clearly defined.

The regular 15-mile path heads up and through the Watchung hills and traverses Westfield, Mountainside, Berkeley Heights, Watchung, Fanwood and Scotch plains. Both paths will begin and end at the Spaulding office, 321 Elm st., Westfield, with refreshments for those en route and at the finish line.

Those who join the venture obtain as many sponsors as possible. Sponsor forms are available at the Spaulding Office or at Rorden Realty, Quimby street, Westfield. The sponsors agree to pay a certain amount of money for every mile walked. Readers who would like to join Spaulding in this effort may telephone their pledge to the agency: All contributions are tax deductible; prepaid contributions (a flat fee)) are acceptable.

Spaulding for Children is a private, non-profit corporation. It depends on its fund raising activities to help it continue finding permanent adoptive homes for school-aged older children of all races, sibling groups, and those with mental, emotional or physical disabilities.

The recently-unveiled for the office inspection "Berg Performance report. Commitment" is the Berg Agency's innovative method of giving home sellers total ·accountability, beginning before a home is listed and continuing through all of the details and contingencies of the quickest possible and most satisfying sale. As explained by Kenneth Berg, chairman of the Iselin firm that is New Jersev's largest residential real estate organization, the commitment program contains 16 points offering the most intensive and extensive service ever devised for the sale of homes.

The "Performance Commitment" package contains explanation of each of the following points:

1. The pre-listing market analysis of the seller's property based on the most current market data available. It shows the list price, time involved in the sale, sale price and terms of homes near the seller's that were sold in the past 12 months.

2. How the Berg Agency ties in with its publiclyowned parent company, Enterprises, Inc., its personalized and relocation service to attract the potential buvers moving to the seller's area from anywhere in the nation.

3. Samples of the weekly progress report on the status of the property for sale. The reports are made by the seller's sales associate either by telephone or personal visit every week. 4. The facts about Berg's American Home Shield Warranty, with coverage for one year, and how it benefits both seller and Homesites are leased by community, eliminate the large initial investment in property. 'We realized the problem couples are having with the initial down payment for a new home in New Jersey with an average cost of $50,500," Dyer stated. "A good portion of that cost is for land. It used to be desirable to be a landowner. Now, leasing is a better way. Monthly homesite cost is $90 with a lease that caps increases at the Consumer Price Index for the Philadelphia Metropolitan Area. Barnegat Township also has a rent control ordinance to which the community must comply. Besides homesite rental and recreation, the lease covers services such as mini-bus transportation, trash collection, taxes, of $500,000 from Prudential

A $500,000 commitment to the Foundation of the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (CMDNJ) has been made by the Prudential Insurance Company of America.

The Prudential gift, payable in installments of $100,000 each for the next five years, was announced by Dr. James G. Affleck, chairman of the foundation and chairman of American Cyanamid Co.

Dr. Affleck said Prudential requested that the funds be used primarily to support community health projects and the development of programs in the college's Office of Consumer Health Education.

The initial $100,000 will be used for several consumer education and service programs.

One of the beneficiaries will be the heart attack prevention program, which is headquartered at CMDNJ-New Jersey Medical School in Newark and has clinical facilities at St. Michael's Medical Center, Newark. The program provides screening and follow-up expertise for treatable coronary risk factors, such as high smoking and lack of exercise.

Pick Of The LPs.. This week you're in for a very special turntable listening treat on the LONDON label (SP-44276) STAN LIVE IN EUROPE.

In recent years Stan Kenton and his Orchestra have toured Belgium. Canada, Denmark, England, Germany, Holland, Hungary, Italy, Japan, Poland, Spain and Sweden, in addition to extensive tours in the United States.

This LP album, recorded on the 1976 tour, gives an idea, as Stan says, "of the kind of music the band is playing these days." And what music it is, and what an atmosphere is created, from the opening bars of Stan's piano solo into Billy Strayhorn's "Lush Life" to the closing finale of the "band call" during the play-out of "Artistry in through Sunday evenings. Rhythm.''

Additional tracks include: "Love For Sale," "Turtle Talk," "My Old Flame," "Tattooed Lady," "I'm Glad There Is You," "Fire and Ice" and "Eager Beaver."

The sheer power of sound leads one to think that the Kenton Band is 11 Scalloped. much larger than it actually is. The precision section-work, as welldrilled as an army

CMDNJ opens newest building at Newark site

A $56.5-million Medical Science Building is being opened on the permanent Newark campus of the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (CMDNJ) as the keystone of medical education and research in the northern part of the state.

The wide nine-story structure will be the home of the CMDNJ-New Jersey Medical School and the CMDNJ-Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences, both now housed nearby in temporary structures occupied after the schools were relocated from Jersey City in 1969.

The move into the new building, scheduled on a department-bydepartment basis, is expected to take most of the spring and summer, so that all will be in place by the start of the new school year next September.

The Medical Science Building is the fifth new structure to be occupied on the $200-million permanent campus, which is regarded as one of the largest construction projects of its kind ever undertaken. Only a 486-bed college teaching hospital remains, to be finished. Its completion is scheduled for late next year.

Arts Center will offer top stars this season

To celebrate its 10th anniversary this summer, the Garden State Arts Center at Holmdel will feature an "unprecedented" season of stars for both is popular and classical subscription series beginning in June according to Robert J. Jablonski, vice-chairman of the New Jersey Highway Authority. The Authority operates the Garden State Arts Center and the Garden State

Heading the list of top performers will be Arthur Fiedler, Olivia Newton-John, Engelbert Humperdinck, Andre Kostelanetz and Bobby Vinton.

The top international classical attraction this year will be the Stuttgart

Another highlight of the anniversary program will be Liberace, who appeared in the amphitheater in the opening season in 1968, and has agreed to perform for a weeklong stand.

Opening the popular subscription series will be Bobby Vinton, who will appear the week of June 27 to July 2. Engelbert Humperdinck will play the week of July 11 to 16.

Olivia Newton-John, who played to near-capacity houses at the Arts Center last year, will return for a weeklong stand, July 18 to 23.

Neil Sedaka returns for a weeklong stand, July 25 to 30.

Another top box office attraction at the Arts Center will be Johnny Mathis, scheduled to play the amphitheater August 29 to Sept. 3.

The sixth event for the popular subscription series the week of August 1 through August 6 is still to be announceú.

The classical subscription series, which has shown an increase in at tendance in the last few years, opens with the New Jersey Symphony, conducted by Edward Michalak with Misha Dichter, soloist. This will be an all-Beethoven program.

Arthur Fiedler conducts the Baltimore Philharmonic on July 6. This will be Fiedler's second appearance at the Arts Center.

The Stuttgart Ballet will perform at the Arts Center on July 8, 9 and 10. The programs for the subscription series will be "Romeo and Juliet" and "The Taming of the Shrew.'

A month later, the New Jersey Ballet, with Edward Villella as guest artist, will take the spotlight on August 10 with performances of "Off to Sea," "Swan Lake" and an original jazz number.

Closing out the classical series will be the New York Philharmonic conducted by Andre Koste¹ Inetz.

Although Liberace is not part of the subscription series program, season subscribers are being given priority to purchase tickets for his Arts Center appearance during the week of August 15 to 20, Jablonski said.

Subscription brochures with order blanks have been put in the mail to all 1976 subscribers, who will be given an opportunity to renew their seats until the renewal deadline of April 23, according to Jablonski. In addition, subscribers will also be able to purchase single event tickets with a deadline of May 14. Information concerning the coming season will be abailable at the Garden State Arts Center, Box 116, Holmdel, N.J. 07733, (201) 264-9200. The Arts Center is located at Telegraph Hill Park, Exit 116 on the Garden State Parkway.

and the character of the rarified atmosphere through which satellites and other spacecraft must fly.

The scientists have been listening to the jet sounds since last May when the first Concorde began regularly scheduled trips to Dulles International Airport in Washington, D.C. Sound waves from the jets reach recorders at the Palisades observatory in groups. Too low in pitch to be heard by the unaided human ear, they can be detected by sensitive microphones which measure changes in air pressure. The waves are recorded on both magnetic tape and by pens moving across chart paper.

"The exact strength and path of the waves," Dr. Donn said, "depend upon atmospheric temperatures and wind conditions, so we can use the specific characteristics of each wave to interpret these atmospheric conditions. This novel use of sonic booms is possible because tile elevation and location of the Conco de is known very precisely along the flight path."

along a line 35 miles south of Long Island.

"Because the plane flies faster than the shock waves it produces," he explained, "the first waves to reach our microphones are the last generated, coming from a point on the flight path south of eastern Long Island about 100 miles away. Succeeding waves are recorded periodically for about an hour. Each group lasts about 60 seconds and comes from a point progressively farther east on the flight path. The last sounds we hear reach us from 600 miles out at sea."

The first waves detected, the Columbia scientists said, come directly from the plane or are reflected from the stratosphere about 30 miles above the earth. A second group reaches Lamont-Doherty about seven minutes later and is reflected from the upper atmosphere or thermosphere about 75 miles above earth. Succeeding waves arrive in groups every 11 minutes after "skipping" between the ground and the thermosphere.

Historical fair slated

Junior historians from around the state will vie for honors and display their carefully designed projects at the Museum of the New Jersey Historical Society in Newark from May 3 through 13.

The 14th annual State History Fair is a project of the society-sponsored Jerseymen Club, a statewide student organization designed to enliven the study of history and give youngsters an appreciation for their New Jersey heritage.

On display will be more than 100 exhibits in forms ranging from authentic reproductions of Colonialera dress and tools to multi-media "walking tours" of the students' own historical communities.

Projects are slated to be judged on April 29 and winning entries in all categories will bear their colored ribbons for the duration of the exhibit.
