Dayton High will retain final exams

The Regional High School Board of Education Tuesday night denied a request by students at Jonathan Dayton Regional in Springfield to make final examinations optional for seniors with honor grades. The board meeting at David Brearley Regional in Kenilworth was attended by more than 100 people most of them apparently teachers in the district's four high schools. None of the teachers spoke, but apparently they were present to demonstrate solidarity in their deadlocked negotiations with the board over a 1977-78 contract. A teacher spokesman did state, however, that they would have "a great deal" to say in the near future if there is no progress

The case against final exams for senior honor students was presented by Charles Kiell, president of the Dayton Student Council. He noted that the board last year granted a similar

Playground tells of plans for summer

The summer playground sponsored by the Mountainside Recreation Commission will open on Monday, June 27, at the Echobrook School. It will run weekdays from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. through Aug. 19.

Children who will be entering first grade or above in the fall may participate in the playground. A variety of activities are scheduled, including arts and crafts, whiffle ball, kickball, 4square, nok-hockey, races, games, special events and trips. A weekly schedule of activities will be distributed throughout the summer.

Recreation Director Sue Winans noted that the playground "is not a babysitting service, but an opportunity for children to experience and participate in a wide range of activities. Specific programs are scheduled each day, but children are not required to participate in an activity if they aren't interested in it.

'Playgrounders may also come and go during the day, although they may not stay at the playground between there is no supervision during the lunch hour."

An experienced staff will direct the playground. Bill Krihak is returning for his fourth year as supervisor, and Kathy King also begins her fourth year on the staff as assistant supervisor. Arts and crafts supervisor Sue Oliverie (Continued on page 2)

Regional schools present report on statewide reading, math tests

The Union County Regional High School District has released a report on results of state reading and mathematics tests conducted among 10th grade pupils at the district's four schools this winter

Summing up the results, Dr. Francis Kenny, director of pupil personnel services, said:

"The reading ability of students who were 10th graders in 1976-1977 in the Regional District is very good. These students demonstrated reading skills and abilities at a very satisfactory level of achievement. The students' achievement was consistently high in comparison to the scores of other regional districts, all high schools in New Jersey, Union County, and within the district factor grouping to which the Regional District has been assigned for comparison purposes.

The reading comprehension scores indicate that the students have very good skills in identifying main ideas, recognizing the supportive details, making inference regarding what is read, drawing conclusions and dealing with cause and effect relationships.

"The word recognition skills of the students were also very good, with particular strength in the use of synonyms and analogies. The district scores in the area of study skills indicate that the students' skills are very good in the use of dictionaries and reference books, and in reading maps and charts. The very satisfactory results on this test indicate that the 9th and 10th grade emphasis on reading in the English curriculum is meeting the needs of the students.

According to Dr. Kenny, the mathematical ability of the students who were 10th graders in the district during 1976-1977 also is "very good," and the achievement level was "very satisfactory" compared to other

The Braves also won two games last week. Greg Van Name pitched a twohitter in the Braves' victory over the Mets, 5-0. Hits by Jim Cleveland, Jim Dascoli and Anthony Mazzucca gave Van Name the support he needed.

Jim Cleveland was the winning pitcher when the Braves and the Mets battled again. The Braves combined a strong hitting attack with good defensive fielding to win. Van Name, Dascoli, Mazzucca and John Schon were effective batters. Alex and Ben Caiola hit well for the Mets. The whole team played spirited ball.

exemption for seniors at Gov Livingston Regional in Berkeley Heights

Kiell said that the exams, which count for only one seventh of the total grade, would have negligible effect on final marks. He added that seniors Thave learned as much as they are going to about study skills

Board members voted unanimously to retain the final exams for all students. Several stated that to permit any more exceptions would vitiate extensive studies conducted in establishing the policy

Dr. Marilyn Hart of Mountainside, an assistant professor at Kean College. cited her view that "high school graduates need more experience in taking examinations

The board decision reinforced the policy outlined by Dr. Donald Merachnik, superintendent of schools, that every student is responsible for a "final test, product or project.

In other business, the board tabled a proposal to hire library aides to maintain order and perform clerical duties, freeing the professional staff to advise students in the use of media materials

Teachers have assisted in the libraries in their free periods, but there will be none available next year because of staff reductions. Although board members indicated approval, they tabled the measure until they can find the necessary $14,000 ($3,500 for each of four schools), which was not included in the 1977-78 budget.

A policy to ease the way for school attendance by foreign students residing temporarily in the district was introduced on first reading. It will receive final action next month.

Charles Vitale of Kenilworth, board president, reported that Natalie Waldt of Springfield had been elected president of the Union County School Boards Association. Mrs. Waldt is a member and former president of the Regional board.

The board denied permission for an environmental group to offer a 16minute slide presentation opposing construction of Rt. 78 through the Watchung Reservation in the vicinity of Gov. Livingston Regional High School.

Members said that such permission would open the door for similar presentations by groups with other opinions on the proposed path for the superhighway. They stressed that the board had studied the matter in detail and had made its position known at numerous public hearings.

The board approved the following items for staff members

- Mary Shanahan, teacher-leader in science at Dayton, to attend a workshop on computers at Montclair State College June 26 to 29, at a cost of $40.

 Carolyn Markuson, instructional media director, to attend the annual meeting of the American Association of School Librarians in Detroit June 16 to 21, with partial reimbursement of $125.

Raymond Yanchus, Dayton basketball coach, to attend a clinic in Wildwood June 10 to 12, at a cost of $140

The board accepted the retirement of Pearl Shapiro, English and Latin teacher at Dayton for the past 17 years, and Forrest Bartlett, music teacher at Gov. Livingston. Also approved was a maternity leave for Alicia Parker, a social studies teacher at Brearley, to begin on Oct. 1.

Pele is slowing down again and must earn the right to stay in the lineup. He will never be benched, but if he keeps playing the way he has been, he will be hurting the team up front. The Cosmos now are just great in midfield and on defense but the forwards are still not finishing off the plays, and all the good, hard work that is done by the defense on the team of the non-superstar variety, but he is still playing better than the superstar forwards. I am still not sold on Giorgio, but I really want to and midfielders is wasted. I think Tony Field is the weakest link

Other than the forward line, I can't see any changes being made in the lineup of last Sunday. Steve Hunt playing midfield scored three goals and had the game of his life. Ramon Mifflin played well and Vitomir Dimitrijevic played his best game of the season with four assists. Three of them in the second half and both tied NASL records. Vitomir plays the center halfback position so the Cosmos used Keiser Franz Beckenbauer as sweeper along with Werner Roth. Melsi Morais and Rildo were the other two fullbacks. Nothing should be changed in the upcoming games in the Cosmos lineup especially in the defense and midfield positions. Shep Messing proved he should be in the goal in the Toronto game with some beautiful saves. The Cosmos and Ft. Lauderdale are tied for second place in the division with 57 points but the Cosmos played one more game than the Strikers. This will all change before we go to press because the Cosmos traveled to Ft. Lauderdale yesterday. The game was seen on New York TV Channel 11. Tampa Bay is in first place with 63 points and will meet the Cosmos home here in the Meadowlands on Father's Day, June 19.

The Cosmos play their next home game against the Kicks this Sunday. Minnesota heads the Western Division with 66 points and has an 8-3 record. Game time will be at 2:05 and can be heard on WOR radio 710 on the dial. Keiser Franz is starting to pay dividends. The Cosmos-Toronto game drew 31,208 fans and if the Cosmos win the Striker match on TV and the weather is good on Sunday, I say the attendance will go over the 35,000 mark against the Kicks.

During the days of the Great

Today, unhappily, unemployment is still a major problem causing needless human suffering for millions of men

even more distressing is the tremenof all those who are unemployed are

Nationwide, nearly 20 percent of all young people are jobless, and in the

The consequences of teenage

Di Francesco wants to outlaw porn peddling

Assemblyman Donald T. Di Francesco (R., Union-Morris) is introducing legislation which would prohibit the use of children in the production and marketing of pornographic materials.

"The child-pornography business has become a multi-million dollar industry," he said. "Reports indicate that approximately 260 different magazines are being sold in adult book stores across the country, dealing with sexual acts between children or between children and adults. The need for protective legislation is obvious.

A growing body of information confirms that children, who are used in pornography. suffer psychological scarring and emotional distress as a result, the assemblyman said. Many of these children are being treated for drug abuse and participate in other kinds of delinguent behavior. They are subjected to infection of veneral disease and possible pregnancy.

"The use of children in pornography is an outrageous destructive crime, which destroys their normal development to healthy citizens in our future society," said Di Francesco. "We must protect them and our society against this crime and think of these children as if they were our own. It is my responsibility as a legislator to do all I can to eliminate this problem."

It was a year ago that a demo tape came across the desk of Robert Nickford, a mainstay of the Quebec music scene. They just had a simple demo," says Nickford, "but very carefully recorded, I might add. I was very impressed." Nickford's first step was to begin intensive work with the group, adding and subtracting members.

Drunk driver program begins at Union College

An Alcohol Counter Measure Program will open at Union College, Cranford, tomorrow under the auspices of the N J Division of Motor Vehicles. it was announced by Dr. Frank Dec. dean of special services and continuing education

Under the direction of Jack McCarthy, district supervisor of the Bureau of Alcohol Counter Measures, the education and rehabilitation program is required for all persons in Union County convicted of driving under the influence of alcohol

The program provides for a two-hour interview session, followed by three, two-hour educational seminars, McCarthy said The initial interview session is used to determine those participants whose problems require additional measures and these are referred to participating social agencies

Using films and lectures, instructors attempt to demonstrate to participants the effects of alcohol on the body and to convince them that drinking and driving don't mix, the director stated.

Meeting slated by Naturalists

The annual meeting of the Echo Lake Naturalists' Club will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Cranford Extended Care Center, 205 Birchwood ave., Cranford. The program, to which the public is invited, will be "New England Revisited" and will include slides of the trip club members made last June.

A field trip to the Four Seasons "Y" Camp will be made on June 18. Persons interested in making the trip may contact Robert Walker, club president, at 242 Denman rd., Cranford

A three-and-a-half year pilot program involving 5,000 drivers was conducted in Bergen, Middlesex, Hunterdon and Warren Counties. Results indicate that the recidivism rate in those counties was reduced to 1.8 percent, McCarthy said, while that rate in the state's remaining counties stood at 14 to 16 percent.

"We believe this is a significant statistic. With the program now being instituted statewide, we expect to see a dramatic drop in the number of highway accidents related to drivers who have been drinking," he said.

The Union College Alcohol Counter Measure Program will conduct weekly sessions on an on-going basis as determined by convictions for driving under the influence of alcohol, according to McCarthy.

Sign-up starts at Camp Union

Applications are available for Camp Union, a summer day camp for children with learning or behavioral disorders. It is sponsored by the Union County Organization to Aid Children with Leaning Disabilities and the Institute of Child Study, Kean College of New Jersey.

Staff members are professionals working in the field of special education. Bus transportation is provided at central pick-up areas. The children are divided into age groups from 4 to 15 years.

A structured program with a variety of activities will be held at the camp daily, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., from June 27 through August 5, on Campus at Kean College, Morris avenue, Union.

Further information is available from Pam Drotor, chairperson, 354-7473 or Bruce Beyer, director, 352-0096.

Career advice available from Union College

Professional direction in career planning for students and adults who are launching their first careers or changing careers is available at Union College, Cranford, in a new Career Interest Program.

The program provides for the administration of an interest inventory test and a followup interview to interpret scores and to counsel participants on career alternatives and courses of action open to them to achieve their goals, said Dr. Frank Dee, dean of special services and continuing education.

The program is conducted in two sessions. The first provides for the interest testing, which is scored by a computer. The second session is devoted to interpretation and counseling on an individual basis.

The Career Interest Program may be taken at the convenience of participants, Monday through Friday, day or evening, by appointment.

"The Career Interest Program is expected to serve a wide audience: men and women who are seeking new careers, recent graduates who have no set objectives, and high school students who wish to plan their college programs to meet career objectives," Dr. Dee

The program will be conducted by Barry Brelow of Edison, career counselor. Brelow received a bachelor of arts degree in psychology from Wake Forest University in North Carolina and a master's degree in career counseling from Seton Hall University.

The cost of the program is $25 for Union County residents. Registration information is available through the Division of Special Services and Continuing Education, 276-2600, Ext. 206 or

He has compiled a list of recommendations for parents who plan to hold graduation night parties at their homes. His suggestions are designed to prevent celebrations from turning into disturbances. He recommends that parents:

-- Try to keep the gathering as small as possible.

Limit the gathering to one section of the house, such as a recreation room. -- Request the student to have only people known to them attend. Do not broadcast the party as an open house. -- Do not serve liquor to juveniles. If alcoholic beverages are to be served, remember that the person hosting the affair can be held responsible as per a recent court ruling.

commenting about these guidelines, a school official said These recommendations are excellent. We certainly want our graduates to enjoy themselves in appropriate celebrations, but we do not want disturbances to occur which could be harmful or injurious. > The "Good Humor" van of higher education, the center is the vehicle for disseminating information about higher education opportunities to all members of the Union County community, according to Fred Perry of Roselle Park, center director.

Sponsored by Exxon Company, U.S.A. and Exxon Chemical Company U.S.A., the College Information and Counseling Center on Wheels travels to all parts of Union County, but places greatest emphasis on reaching those who are least likely to turn to traditional channels for information on educational opportunities that can benefit them, Perry said.

Over the past nine years, some 18,000 people have visited the mobile center and many of these have gone on to postsecondary institutions and are living richer lives for it, he said.

The College Information and Counseling Center on Wheels is a 22-foot van, staffed by trained counselors from Union College County and Union Technical Institute which with the college comprises Union County's comprehensive community college system. Its shelves stacked with educational materials on colleges, technical and vocational schools, high school and college equivalency testing, and other programs designed to help young people and adults to achieve their goals. Information on financial aid and assistance in applying for that aid is also available from staff members.

The next stop for the Information Center will be the annual Union County 4-H Fair at Warinanco Park, Elizabeth, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, June 17, 18 and 19.

Jersey banks show deposit, asset increase

Increases of $1.6 billion in assets and $1.5 billion in deposits were registered by New Jersey banks for the year ending Dec. 31, bringing those two categories to $26.5 billion and $23.1 billion, respectively, according to the New Jersey Bankers Association.

On the lending side, the year-end figures reflected a 12-month period of slow loan demand that retarded both bank activity and the general growth of the economy. Total lending at all banks in the state was up only slightly by $.58 billion from $12.96 billion to $13.54 billion. Of this total the funds made available by the state's nationallychartered banks for real estate purposes exceeded that granted for commercial and industrial loans by $1.6 billion for the second year in a row

Loan portfolios of the national banks. which comprise 103 of the state's 194 commercial banks, were reported by the comptroller of the currency as being $3.9 billion for real estate and $2.3 billion for commercial and industrial purposes. Similar figures were not compiled for state chartered banks but the Department of Banking, in its report for the year, noted that nearly 45 percent of all the state bank lending during the year was for mortgages.

In other breakdowns of bank activity during the year, the comptroller report for national banks showed an increase of $1 million in the funds made available in farm loans, an increase of $82 million in auto loans and a boost of $30 million on home modernization and repair lending.

In the Department of Banking report, the largest expense items for the 91 state banks were for the payment of interest on time and savings deposits which accounted for more than 40 percent of all income and for payroll costs which accounted for another 21

Prof's invention cuts costs of solar heating

Dr. George Cvijanovich, a physicist at Upsala College, East Orange, has made a major economic breakthrough in the solar energy field with the invention of a heat collector he contends can be marketed at a cost that is at least two-thirds cheaper than anything currently being offered.

The cost of this collector, made of specially designed light plastic, varies according to house sizes. For a typical

Earthbound

N.Y. Botanical Garden

As the earth turns, the sun comes up in the mornings and sets in the evenings on the fields and forests of our fragile biosphere. Everywhere within the field of light, tons and tons of oxygen are released from the surface of green plants, which are making their own food through the use of the sun's photons When the sun passes into the shadows at nightfall, there is a slowing of the oxygen production and the vast amounts of oxygen which were produced in daylight are consumed as

In the past 100 years, the development of cities and the asphalting of entire metropolitan areas, with the accompanying removal of green plants, has upset the balance of oxygen production. Gases and chemicals of all kinds compete with oxygen for space in the lower biosphere of industrial America. The result has been an increase in respiratory diseases among the population and daily air quality readings which are consistently unhealthy

The photosynthetic process also is interrupted as smog and other manmade pollutants deter the normal amounts of light from reaching the surface of the earth, for life-giving oxygen results not only from the duration of daylight but also from its quality and quantity. In areas like northeastern New Jersey, this quality and quantity is sadly lacking and little is being done about it.

Only more stringent air pollution laws and more vigorous enforcement will speed up the development of technologies which will remove dangerous solids from industrial discharges in the air, as well as the more elusive noxious chemicals which deprive us of a healthy environment.

Three graduate-level courses will be offered, one for teachers on elementary and early childhood levels, another for secondary educators, and a third general course on "Interdependence: From Local to Global." Each course is worth three credits, applicable either in humanistic studies or in education.

The Institute also will include a film series, an evening lecture series and practical resource sessions on specific issues and interests

Sponsors of the Institute are the Center for Humanistic Studies at Seton Hall and the School of Education, in affiliation with the Global Education Associates. six-room house with rooms 20 ft. by 20 ft., the cost of the professor's solar energy heat collector is estimated at $300, with the installation fee between $1,000 and $2,000. As mass production increases, Professor Cvijanovich estimates that the cost could be even Comparable heat collectors are now being marked at a cost of about $2,400 with installation fees ranging between $5,000 and $10,000, the professor said.

Dr. Cvijanovich, who has been working on the invention for a year, points out that it has a "totally new design and features the most efficient heat transfer one can find." Included is an especially prepared liquid that circulates through the panel and absorbs solar heat directly. The liquid is an antifreeze, dyed a dark color, that has maximum heat absorption.

The professor tried out his invention for the first time recently in his Glen Rock garage and reported that it "completely" met his expectations with "a very high efficiency performance." He will hold a demonstration for the press on the roof of the college's science building today at 10 a.m. He also reported that the collector can be used for special pumping purposes when a special rotary engine is applied. The engine patent was obtained a year ago by Upsala Professor John Snygg and Vello Ebrok, a member of the physics department.

Dr. Cvijanovich said he plans to expand the use of the collector so it can drive specially designed engines for pumping water and for irrigation purposes. The Upsala physics department, which is involved in research in the energy field, is applying for a grant to extend research on this project.

Dr. Cyijanovich, who has been an Upsala faculty member since 1954, is a native of Yugoslavia. In 1958, as chief scientist of the North Pole Expedition Project, ICESKATE, he and 20 associates were rescued from a drifting ice floe on which they had established a floating laboratory in the Arctic Ocean. The project was a part of the International Geophysical Year.

Selection of students to participate in the youth program has been made by school authorities in cooperation with the Department of Education, Police Community Relations Units and the

The program, presented at no cost to the participating youths, includes simulated police training. "The schedule of discussions, films, demonstrations and practical exercises is designed to provide a better understanding of the Criminal Justice System in today's society," said Colonel Clinton L. Pagan, superintendent of the State Police.

Pulitzer Prize-winning author James Michener will act as host and guide to distant places he has written about in "James Michener's World," premiering on Tuesday, June 21, at 8 p.m. on New Jersey Public Television channels with "Israel: A Search for Faith."

In the series of four hour-long documentaries, scheduled in the next 12 months, Michener combines his love for traveling with his talent as a storyteller to provide a unique vision, filmed on location, of such far-flung regions as Israel, Hawaii, Span and the South Pacific.

In the debut special, "Israel: A Search for Faith," Michener takes viewers on a personal odyssey to the birthplace of Judaism, Christianity Islam. From Jerusalem to Mount Sinai to the shores of Galilee. # Advance payments discontinued by VA payments to veterans attending schools and colleges under G.I. Bill benefits were discontinued June 1, according to James R. Purdy, director Veterans Administration Regional Office, 20 Washington pl., Newark.

Purdy said educational benefit checks will be issued at the end of each month instead of the beginning to qualified veterans enrolled for at least half-time training.

An exception will be made however, he said, for initial advance payments on request of veterans prior to the beginning of school terms

Advance monthly after July. If such a request is made, Purdy said, the school must agree to accept responsibility for delivery of payments, and must certify to the VA that individual checks have been issued

Under the new rule, Purdy said, a veteran planning on entering school this September and wishing an advance payment is required to file a request at least 30 days prior to the beginning of the school term. On registration he would receive a check for September and October entitlements. But his next

check would not arrive

until Dec. 1.

Sorry, no mail or phone orders. Budget Store Savings for Misses, Women, Children, Men and Young Men, at Bamberger's Livingston.

The six most powerful men in America (known collectively as Inver Brass) order J. Edgar Hoover killed to get at his secret -only to discover that half the files have already files been stolen.

On this astonishing thesis, the author of The Rhinemann Exchange and The Gemini Contenders builds his most compelling, suspenseful plot. To smoke out the thief—who has started using the files to blackmail some leading Washington figures—Inver Brass persuades a best-selling author named Peter Chancellor to construct a "novel" about Hoover's murder. But Chancellor's fictional characters turn out to be real people-often newly dead ones; his own life is threatened; separating fantasy and fact becomes a nightmare Peter Chancellor realizes may cost him his life.

BY THE AUTHOR OF THE RHINEMANN EXCHANGE

"Ludlum is in even better form here than in The Gemini Contenders," says Barbara A. Bannon in Publishers Weekly, "as he piles conspiracy upon counterconspiracy, keeping his hero and the reader dangling right to the end."

The sixth straight Robert Ludlum bestseller, THE CHANCELLOR MANUSCRIPT is a dazzling combination of fact and fiction that achieves terrifying levels of reality.
