DOT to give information on Rt. 78

The New Jersey Department of Transportation (DOT) will hold an information meeting on completion of Rt. 78-at the Springfield Municipal Building next Thursday, July 21, from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. The meeting will deal with the development of the Final Environmental Impac Statement, which will be submitted to the Federal Highway Administration early next

The N.J. DOT supports the original alignment of the road which extends I-78 from Shunpike road in Springfield to the vicnity of Plainfield avenue in Berkelev Heights, passing through the Watchung Reservation.

Opponents of the extension, a group called Impact 78 of Springfield, are proceeding with the conviction that the construction will not be completed. This group, along with citizens from Berkeley-Heights and Summit, is recommending a Watchung Reservation by-pass, using improved existing highways plus mass transit. They have retained David Sive, an environmental attorney from New York.

Donors needed for blood drive

The next Westfield-Mountainside community blood bank will be held Wednesday, July 27, from 1:30 to 6:30 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church, 140 Mountain ave., Westfield.

Mrs. Edward W. Love, blood program chairman, stressed the importance of the need for volunteer blood. She said hospitals are forced at times to use commercial blood when their supplies are low. Mrs. Love urged residents of the Westfield-Mountainside area to donate a unit at the blood bank in order to assure themselves and families of good blood when needed.

Berkeley Heights put two men on base as a result of an error and a walk. The next batter hit a long shot to Peter-Klaskin, whose throw home was right on the money but the umpire called the runner safe and the score was 2-0.

The Mountaineers could not get their offense in high gear to support Gary Kane, the Mountaineers' pitcher, who allowed only two hits after the first

It was a day of fine defensive play For example, Henry Largey put out all three batters in one inning

In their second game of the week, the Mountaineers beat New Providence 8-4. at Mountainside after running into problems in the first inning. New Providence's first three batters singled for one run. With men out, the batter sent the ball to deep center field where a misjudgment allowed two more runs

The Mountaineers Henry Largey walked, stole second and moved to third on an excellent bunt sacrifice by Patrick Esemplare. Two more walks loaded the bases. Then Jimmy Cleveland smashed a grounder to the shortstop, who watched it go between his legs, and two runs scored.

In the second, the Mountaineer's Michael Kontra opened with a walk and stole second and third. Kirk Yoggy singled and stole to second. Gary Kane drew a walk. Peter Klaskin smashed a line-drive triple down the third base line to make the score 5-3. The Mountaineers added three more runs. Glen Delaney started for the Mountaineers.

Library to offer children's films

Two children's films will be shown at the Free Public Library of Mountainside Thursday, July 21, from noon

"It's Not Cricket," featuring the "Magnificent 612," opens with an angry neighbor throwing the ball from the children's cricket game up the street and into a passing truck, which carries it to a building development where it causes a series of nasty mishaps. The "Magnificent 612" return the ball to the neighbor with unpredictable results. The Pigeon That Worked a Miracle," a Disney film, is the story of a boy's overwhelming love for his pigeon and how this love works a miraculous cure and forces the boy from the confinement of his wheelchair. Admission is free for boys and girls aged five and older. No bare feet and no swimwear will be allowed.

The Mountaineers opened with a 10-1 victory in a South Orange tournament against 15 area teams. In the laddertype competition, the Mountaineers' first game was against the host team In the first inning, Kirk Yoggy opened with a double and Jimmy Cleveland, in his final game, sent a long, high shot to deep left field for a home run. Later in the same inning. Peter Klaskin doubled to deep right field. Gary Kane gave up one run on one hit.

In the second inning, the Mountaineers' Andrew Grett walked and scored on Mark Dougherty's triple down the third base line. Henry Largey walked and Kirk Yoggy hit an infield fly ball that dropped in for a single. With the bases loaded. Cleveland and Esemplare walked for another run and Peter Klaskin lined a shot to right field for a two-run double. The Mountaineers' Steven Jurczak tripled for two final runs. The Mountaineers continue their competition in this tournament today at home against Chatham

Put the signs on hydrants!

Dog walkers beware... that is if you're walking your pet on school grounds! Dr. Levin Hannigan, superintendent of schools, said at Tuesday's school board meeting, letters have been sent to repeated violators, but the pet owners are ignoring his warnings. Hannigan warned he may have to start naming the violators publicly at school board meetings.

The problem seems to lie in the fact that signs warning against walking dogs on the properties keep being torn down by vandals. The public says they don't know they are violating any rules if there are not signs telling them so.

The signs are to go up once again... but this time not on trees and poles. They are to be affixed to the buildings.

'Glass-in' slated for Dayton High

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Key Club will hold its monthly "glass-in" on Saturday. All residents of the area communities have been urged to bring glass bottles, sorted by color, and newspapers, tied in bundles.

The "glass-in" will be held in the high school's front parking lot from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Ranking system legal, counsel tells school unit

Counsel for the Mountainside Board district such as policy and PTA news of Education, handing down his opinion on the constitutionality of the numerical ranking system, said Tuesday night that the so-called tracking system is legal and implements the guidelines set down in the 'thorough and efficient' education mandate

Ray O'Brien said, legally, studies must be suited to the needs of the students, thereby granting highly motivated children a challenging, program. O'Brien said the ranking system is not discriminatory because not all children have similar abilities

Counsel stated a 1971 Supreme Court case said districts are not required to. be uniform in all things O'Brien speculated the Mountainside system would withstand a court challenge

The attorney's opinion was greeted with less than enthusiastic response from the small audience. They told the board of incidents where particular students were not tracked in aboveaverage classes when their grades indicated better-than-average capabilities

To the pleasure of the audience, board member Charles Speth said he was "as confused as the people out there" about the tracking method and indicated he didn't know the system existed before a member of the audience brought it up last fall

Board member Scott Schmedel suggested Superintendent of Schools Dr. Levin Hannigan draw up a clear explanation of the ranking system and its relationship to grades.

This report and a further discussion of numerical ranking is due at the next board meeting scheduled at the board office on July 25 at 8 p.m.

The board also discussed at length implementing a better communications system between the community and the

LILA BERNSTEIN and Shirley Clements, two communications con-sultants, presented the board with a $5.500 package they felt would meet the needs of the district.

The consultants said a two-way communication system was needed in the district. They said this included not only information handed down from the board to the community, but ways for residents to feedback their thoughts to the board:

An eight-point program was delineated to the board consisting of a district newsletter, issued three times a year; personal contact with the local press to establish a cooperative relationship; an internal newsletter to all staff members; a parents brochure giving general information on the

and a building news letter. This would entail teaching principals how to prepare releases concerning their own schools and directed at the families attending those schools The consultants also suggested a detailed budget presentation, defining each expenditure carefully so the public could understand exactly what each item costs.

A community involvement program was suggested. This would entail meeting with residents of the borough to establish cooperative relationships. The consultants suggested monthly meetings be held along this line

THE LAST ITEM the consultants put to the board was the implementation of a workshop to be held in the district for board members, administrators and principals on the techniques of handling a community information program.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION

The Board of Education and citizens of Mountainside honored me by presenting a beautiful silver tray at the official June meeting, with President William Biunno as spokesman. I do appreciate this act of thoughtfulness for my service as a board member and -consultant over the years.

At the meeting, I dedicated the tray to my wife Sidney, who cheerfully bade farewell and happily welcomed me home after about 1,000 meetings of the board. I will say that this cooperation helped a lot for my 18 years of board service and 25 years of consulting ef-

So many changes in attitude and approach to problems occurred over those years. As I stated on accepting the tray. I enjoyed being a board member and was cheered by being elected six times by my fellow citizens who were nice enough to show confidence in me.

Kaczorowski named to lead Dem campaign

A former first assistant Union County prosecutor, Stanley Kaczorowski, will serve as campaign manager for the Democratic legislative candidates in

Kaczorowski, a Scotch Plains resident, will coordinate campaign activities in behalf of Harry Pappas of Springfield, the Democratic candidate for the State Senate, and Jim Spagnoli of Scotch Plains and Mel Chilewich of Clark, the Assembly aspirants.

"I have volunteered to work on this campaign because I am convinced that the incumbent legislators have failed to provide the residents of Berkeley Heights, Chatham Township, Clark, Fanwood, Kenilworth, Mountainside, Plainfield, Rahway, Scotch Plains and Springfield with the type of responsive representation they deserve to have in Trenton," said Kaczorowski.

The former prosecutor, now a partner in the Fanwood law firm of Mitzner and Kaczorowski, said he was convinced that the Democratic candidates offered "a more realistic approach to the serious problem of crime and criminals. Having worked in the prosecutor's office with Jim Spagnoli, when he was an assistant county prosecutor, and having personally known Harry Pappas and Mel Chilewich, I sincerely believe that they will launch a legislative attack on both the roots and results of the serious crime problem facing us here in Union County.

Kaczorowski, 36, is a graduate of Lebanon Valley College, where he attained Little All-America recognition in football. He earned his law degree at Seton Hall University in 1964.

Unemployment for area stands at 8.8 percent

The seasonally-adjusted unemployment rate in May for the Newark area, which includes Union, Essex, Morris and Somerset counties, was 8.8 percent-five percentage points less than the state figure of 9.2 percentaccording to data released by the state Department of Labor and Industry. The labor market rates ranged from a high of 12.3 percent in Hudson County to a low of 6.9 percent in Mercer County.

Employment in New Jersey increased in May, reflecting both seasonal hiring and further recovery from the recession, according to John J. Horn, commissioner of the department. The number of nonfarm wage and salary jobs in New Jersey rose by 40,000 between mid-April and mid-May, most of the rise attributed to economic improvement in manufacturing construction and service industries.

Nonfarm employment increased by 24,300 to an estimated total of 2,811,800, the highest level since May, 1974, when the number of employed was at a record high of 2,813,800.

Department analysts noted, however. that the unemployment rate is still very high compared to prerecession levels-May's 9.2 percent rate compares with an average of 5.6 percent in 1973. Though employment has substantially recovered to its prerecession level, the analysts said it has not been enough because of the continued expansion of the labor force

> The plan will describe the state's recreational resources in relation to population and development, and will analyze the need for additional recreation facilities. In addition, the plan will include detailed inventories of existing public and private recreational facilities and open space lands.

"This comprehensive plan will set the policy and priorities guiding New Jersey's recreational development, open space acquisition, and assistance programs for local projects," Ricci said.

The plan is the culmination of a four-year program with special emphasis on recreational needs in urban areas and needs of the handicapped, Ricci said. When adopted, the plan will qualify New Jersey for continued participation in the U.S. Department of the Interior's Land and Water Conservation Fund

Blood center needs 250 donations daily

The North Jersey Blood Center in East Orange needs at least 250 blood donations every day if it is to meet the demands of the 50 hospitals it serves, according to its medical director.

Dr. Kamill Gal, said that their heavy demand reflects the center's growing commitment to the region's hospitals and a greater sophistication among physicians concerning transfusion therapy.

Dr. Gal noted that the blood center has two specialized machines which extract only needed components from a single donor while returning red cells and plasma.

"These machines are truly life-savers," he said. "With them we can obtain in two hours a carefully crossmatched, therapeutic amount of the needed components. This procedure eliminates the lengthy harvesting from multiple donations and the accompanying risk of hepatitis that multiple donors always poses.

Some blood donations are put into mini-bags, or quad packs, for transfusions to newborn infants requiring a total blood exchange. "Since this must be freshly drawn blood, we rely on highly motivated donors who come to Blood Center especially to give for newborns," he said.

Other donations which must be fresh and type-specific are those earmarked for open-heart surgery patients.

'We work with the families of these patients and organizations such as the Hemophilia Association of Northern New Jersey and the Cooley's Anemia

Shepherd back with Public TV

·Humorist Jean Shepherd has signed a contract with New Jersey Public Television for another season of his series "Shepherd's Pie."

At a formal signing ceremony attended by Shepherd, NJPTV executive director Dr. Lawrence Frymire, programming director Douglas Leonard and executive producer Calvin Iszard, plans for the new 13-week season were drawn up. According to Iszard, taping segments are under way and the "Shepherd's Pie" film crew will be out canvassing the Garden State and its surrounding neighbors this summer for unique people, places and

Foundation in obtaining the blood replacements which offset the total cost of transfusion," Dr. Gal said. "The patient is helped in a tangible way, and we are assured that blood will always be available for his future treatment. "Today's blood center is a complex medical facility in its own right," he said. "We provide to hospitals in the region highly specialized services and facilities. It's cost-conscious and efficient for centers such as ours serve a whole network of hospitals. 'Blood banks' are no longer only places to collect and store whole blood. They're an integral part of the health-care delivery system."

Rent rebates to be sent soon

Tenants in New Jersey may begin receiving rebates as early as Aug. 1 under the Tenants' Property Tax Rebate Program, according to John F Laezza, director of the Division of Local Government Services, N.J. Department of Community Affairs.

"Under the law, landlords are required to pass on to their residential tenants, in the form of a rebate or credit towards their rent, a specified proportion of tax reductions received after 1976," Laezza said.

Stressing that the rebates are for renters of residential properties only, and apply only to tenancy during calendar year 1977, Laezza noted that the landlord is to share with his tenants 65 percent of the property tax reductions as certified by the tax collector in each municipality.

'This really is an experiment, where for the first time, the Legislature and Governor Byrne give formal recognition to the fact that tenants share in paying real estate taxes," said Community Affairs Commissioner Patricia Q. Sheehan.

A hot line number (609-394-0440) has been set up to handle questions on the rebate program.

St. Benedict's plans recreation facility

Abbot Melvin J. Valvano, O.S.B., president of St. Benedict's Preparatory School, announced this week that the Benedictine Abbey of Newark, which operates the school, has taken title to the urban renewal property behind the present buildings and will develop it as a new recreational facility.

The immediate plans for the property development include a playing field, a multi-purpose area, tennis and handball courts, and a plaza for exhibition and performances, and a parking area.
