A cornerstone for the literate

'Mrs. Library' réviews the years

BY DENISE RENNER MARTIN Third of a series

Her library work was born in the basement of the Echobrook School and grew into the brick and glass comtemporary building on New Providence

Emily Hoffarth is credited with the Mountainside library as it is known today. She began her 24-year career as library director when it was just a small association operating out of the one basement room

Mrs. Hoffarth said that when she started the privately funded operation she just had old newspaper clippings and gleanings from attics to offer the public. The collection grew to about 2,000 books at that location. The New Providence road facility features space for about 45,000 volumes.

The former library director provided the small library with many books herself, including an autographed copy of West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt's 'Ordeal of Co-existence. Hoffarth had met Brandt at the International Convention of Rotary Clubs in St. Louis while she was attending the function with her husband.

Mrs. Hoffarth began her library duties on a part-time basis and was the only full-time employee in 1952.

Community volunteers helped staff the library, and it was not until 1958 that a part-time worker was employed.

During the war years, the former library director said, it was difficult to convince the community that a more extensive library was needed in the borough. She said Mountainside was not as affluent as it is today and funds for a library were considered a low priority item.

But the times and people changed and the drive for the new library facility began in the early '60s. Mrs. Hoffarth said she "waited until the climate was right" to push for the $375,000 municipal bond issue to finance the

MRS. HOFFARTH and the local architect hired to design the project, Howard McMurray, traveled through three states "brain-picking" other librarians to gather building design ideas. "We wanted to bring the outside in," said Mrs. Hoffarth of the finished design which integrates vaulted ceilings and skylights. She added that state officials thought the final plans were so good they were accepted on the first presentation.

The then library head, who retired in 1970, participated in the library ground breaking and saw her "baby" opened in 1968. She said it was "really a community-minded effort. Every organization in town gave gifts," to the new facility.

Mrs. Hoffarth extended her energies to the school district also and was cited by Superintendent of Schools Levin Hanigan in 1965 for her efforts to bring the library's resources to Deerfield and Beechwood Schools during their early days. According to a news clipping describing the presentation of a scroll to the librarian, Dr. Hanigan said she was also largely instrumental in having a special time set aside during the school day for library visits by children in Echobrook School when it was the only school in the borough.

The children's reading program, held during the summer, was the brainchild of Mrs. Hoffarth. Every Tuesday morning she could be found reading to students under the trees at the two

Mrs. Hoffarth's efforts were not confined just to the library. She was a charter member of the Mountainside Woman's Club and a member of the Business and Professional Woman's Club of Westfield. She was a war-time Girl Scout leader, and for the past 31 years she and her husband, Elmer, have been participating in the Birch Hill tree lighting ceremony held near their home on Evergreen court. The tree is lighted on Christmas Eve at 5 and glows until New Year's night. And a secret around town is that Santa is: Elmer Hoffarth.

Teachers' salary guide approved with 4-2 vote

The Mountainside Board Education Tuesday night approved the Aug. 15 memo of understanding accepting a teachers' salary guide by a 4-2 vote. Pat Knoedel and Charles Speth recorded "no" votes and board president William Biunno was not at the

Some confusion still exists, though, about the exact percentage of increase the teachers received. Negotiation chairman Ron Wood, who initialed the memo of understanding with board member Scott Schmedel, told the audience of about 25 people, the educators ended up with a 6.65 percent salary increase. Mountainside Teacher's Association (MTA) president, F. William Ortolf, said the increase was under six percent.

The figures given by the board indicate that less money is being paid in teachers' salaries this year than last, despite the pay hike. Wood said this is because five teachers left the school system and three new teachers were hired. The staff "mix" is the reason the board says less is being spent this year.

Ortolf contends, though the teachers got the salary guide they wanted, he did not want the audience to think the educators received a higher increase than his figures showed. Ortolf and Wood have tentatively scheduled a meeting on Wednesday to discuss the mathematics of the situation further.

Schmedel told the MTA president "the board did not have to account to the teachers, just the voters." Ortolf received a round of applause from the small audience when he replied that he was a voter.

Schmedel said what the voter needs to know is that the actual amount being paid teachers is less than last year because of the staff changes and that the two negotiators "settled for $7,000 more than we had intended to settle for." Schmedel said the dollar figure is half of one percent of the total Mountainside school district budget.

Explaining his "no" vote. Speth said he "believed an honest negotiating mistake was made, but they came up with a mathmatical error." He said "the full board doesn't have to go along with that honest mistake" and "the board has a responsibility to the taxpayers to reject the memo.

Knoedel had no comment on her rejecting vote.

Rt. 78 construction through Watchung is 'essential'--Bateman

State Sen. Raymond Bateman, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, last week said that speedy completion of Rt. 78 through the Watchung Reservation between Springfield and Berkeley Heights is "essential.

Bateman spoke at a breakfast session with local weekly newspaper representatives at the Raven's Nest in Union. He stressed the need to complete the final link in the superhighway between Newark Airport and the Delaware River.

"When you build a highway right up to the park on both sides," the candidate declared, "you just have to go ahead and complete the last portion." Citing perils caused by overcrowding on Rt. 22 and nearby local roads, he said, "We bit the bullet on Rt. 78 a long time ago in Somerset County and went ahead with the highway.

Bateman emphasized, "We must complete the interstate highway system. Finishing Rt. 78 should be our first order of business."

Discussing another transit controversy, he opposed extending the PATH rail system from Newark to Plainfield, Bateman said the costs for this project would be unreasonable. He called instead for upgrading of the Central Railroad of New Jersey line between Newark and Plainfield. This could be done at one-third the cost, Bateman stated, and would prepare for ultimate expansion west into Somerset

He said that the major issue in the campaign for governor is the economy. "We need jobs in the high unemployment state of New Jersey," he declared. "The state has suffered a loss in manufacturing in the last few years—because it is not being governed properly. We must stimulate the private sector."

Bateman added, "We must prove that we want industry to stay here and to expand. This is the clear message that I have been getting from both business and labor.'

He went on to say, "We will have a business advocate in the governor's office to cut red tape for business. We will also have a promotion section to compete with other states in bringing business and jobs to New Jersey.

"We must help the cities in providing tax abatements for new and expanded businesses. This is the kind of development that will bring the jobs to urban centers where they are most needed. When we have jobs, then we will be better able to deal with all the tough social problems."

state income tax a major campaign issue. He stated, "We should remember that the present tax will self-destruct next June. And the Democrats never admit that they have only 14 or 15 protax votes in the State Senate, out of the 21 needed to extend the tax.

'The way to deal with the problem is to face up to it-pull down the size of state government to something we can afford, as has been done in other states. We can start with the 'T and E' regulations, simplifying requirements and cutting down the size of the Department of Education. "Then we can make our welfare payments more efficient. We can save money with many kinds of administrative cuts, including a selective job freeze especially in the category of political jobs. We can also utilize the surplus funds available." He said, "We have to replace about $500 or $600 million, and with careful economies we should come close. If we have to, we could add another cent to the present five percent sales tax. 'Our New Jersey sales tax, which

Alcoholism center at Overlook receives of $452,358 grant

The progress of Overlook Hospital's alcohol treatment program has resulted in a $452,358 continuation grant from the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism.

Funded by a $903,550 grant from NIAAA three years ago, the Overlook alcohol treatment program has treated almost 1,000 patients, with 80 percent showing a six-month sobriety rate, according to Dr. Arthur S. McLellan, co-director of the program.

The new grant will be made in three installments, beginning with $212,358 this fall and, pending yearly approvals, $144,000 next year and $96,000 in 1979.

With an active caseload of 400 patients, the Overlook alcohol treatment program offers a variety of approaches designed to help the alcoholic and the family at any point of need, offering 24-hour-a-day availability and crisis intervention.

The professional staff consists of the physician co-directors, Dr. McLellan and Dr. Daniel J. O'Connell, as well as six counselors, a consulting psychologist and administrative staff. Inpatient care in the alcohol treatment program involves a detoxification period of seven to eight days, after which an evaluation is made for the continued management of the patient, either as an outpatient or through transfer to a long-term residential "Total confidentiality is the rule."

commented Dr. McLellan. "There is no access to any records by anybody without consent of the individual or as a result of a court order."

Outpatient treatment offers individual and family counselling as well as groups designed for different phases of recovery. Activities are available each day of the week, all times of the

An outgrowth of the program has been a volunteer corps of some 180 individuals who contribute 1,000 hours a month. Under volunteer director Mel Jensen, they assist with transport, visiting, crisis intervention, follow-up care and contacts, transfer to residential treatment centers, clerical and telephone reception and educational programming. Overlook's program works closely with Alcoholics Anonymous, Alanon for spouses and Alateen for children of alcoholics, with groups meeting at the hospital and neighboring churches.

Referrals to the program are made often by patients themselves, from AA, from a doctor of frequently from the spouse or other member of the alcoholic's family.

"When a family member joins the program for therapy, change in his or her behavior often triggers responsiveness in the alcoholic to seek assistance," Dr. McLellan observed.

A typical patient in the Overlook program is a male, aged 33 to 44, an area resident for 15 years, employed, earning $15-$20,000 a year, married, with above average education.

A significant number of women patients also are involved in treatment at Overlook, trailing close behind the males numerically. Dr. McLellan reported a concern with regard to the clearly emerging pattern of misuse of alcohol by young people, who often are also misusing other

GOP hopefuls ask opponents for tax position

Assemblymen William J. Maguire and Donald T DiFrancesco, all income tax opponents, this week called upon their Democratic challengers to publicly and quickly declare their positions regarding the levy Poll results indicate that the income tax continues to dominate the thinking of District 22 voters and the issue can be 'laid aside' if the three Demociatic candidates declare their opposition to it as we have done," the three GOP incumbents said.

McDonough, noting that the tax will 'automatically self-destruct' on June 30, 1978, said it will take an action of the legislature to continue or modify the tax beyond that date.

Maguire and DiFrancesco said, "We are also pledged to continue school funding at the present $505 million level and the senior citizens and veterans exemption funding and do so without income tax revenues.

"We are confident this can be done without imposing a one cent increase in the sales tax," the three Republican

Mountainside police set up a blockade at the intersection of the highway and New Providence road, but according to police reports Johnson made a U-turn before reaching the roadblock. Police said he hit a Springfield police car traveling east on Rt. 22, causing $877 in damage

Rice fired three warning shots at the fleeing car, but police said Johnson struck a road sign and abandoned his car. He was arrested in the wooded area across from the Mountainside Police Headquarters.

IN OTHER BOARD action, the board declared a state of emergency as of Sept. 8 because the Beirn Bus Co., which has been transporting Mountainside students for about 15 years, is unable to fulfill its contract for this

Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Levin Hanigan, said he was told the day before school started by a bus driver that Beirn didn't have enough drivers to service Mountainside. Hanigan said he called the bus company, but was assured the buses would be there. Beirn began busing on the first day of school, but on Thursday, the Stockholm Bus Co. appeared. Hanigan was told by the new bus company that Beirn had called Stockholm and asked them to take over the routes.

Bids from Stockholm and other carriers are to be submitted Oct. 4 to select a bus company for the year.

Board attorney Ray O'Brien said he will have to look into whether Beirn could be held for damages and the possibility of legal action.

Total enrollment after the first week of school is almost exactly what was estimated during the summer. Hanigan said there are 777 students in the district. Beechwood has 265 students and the remainder at Deerfield.

Hanigan also said 60 students bought lunch ticket strips at Beechwood and 178 strips were sold at Deerfield. A strip contains five lunch tickets.

School board meetings from now on will be held in the district office at 1391 Rt. 22. The board indicated if a large crowd was anticipated, it may hold an occasional session at Deerfield.

They had earlier suggested creation of a state Civilian Conservation Crops for unemployed young people in the 16to-21-year-old age bracket, and said he thought not enough was being done to get idle youth to work. "The large number of unemployed young people is a serious problem that has been largely ignored," Pappas said. "The State Department of Labor would be the logical place to use as a starting point in getting some of these unemployed youth onto payrolls.'

Spagnoli emphasized that he is his running mates did not envision the creation of another bureaucracy. "Certainly, anyone familiar with government knows that bureaucracies tend to be self-perpetuating," he asserted. "This is not our intention. We agree with those people who suspect that the bureaucracy-at every level of government-is under-utilized. We believe such a council could be carved out of the existing Department of Labor and Industry, without adding a single employee. Perhaps there are duties being performed there that could be done away with. We'd like to look into that possibility and try to get something moving in this regard.

Chilewich said he thought the youth employment council should concentrate on promoting work opportunities for the idle. An educational campaign could be launched to impress upon the business community the importance and desirability of putting these young people to work, he said. "There are many other useful functions such a council should perform,' Chilewich added, "But the important thing would be to create the vehicle for doing something in this area."

Ruocco

William Ruocco, Republican township committeeman and former mayor of Springfield, believes the Democratic majority on the Union County Board of Freeholders is too eager to take over services performed better at the municipal level.

When elected freeholder, my top priority will be to coordinate municipal and county efforts so that savings can be passed back to the taxpayers," says Ruocco, making his second try for a seat on the county board.

Ruocco said his long experience in municipal government - as a Springfield committeeman since 1971, mayor in 1973, deputy mayor in 1975 has shown him that tax dollars spent at this level most directly achieve what the citizen wants. But county government is "growing at such an alarming rate" that it is equaling "or even surpassing" municipal government's demand for tax dollars, Ruocco said. He wants "to assess county government's role to find out if a duplication of effort is being made."

An electrical engineer, Ruocco was graduated from the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn. A Springfield resident for 16 years, he formerly lived in Union for five years. He and his wife, Jane, have three daughters, 15 to 24.

Ruocco's Township Committee assignments have included the areas of finance, administration, planning, welfare, recreation, industry and service as police-fire commissioner.

He has been a public library trustee and served on the municipal committee that established the Springfield swimming pool in 1964. He was named "Citizen of the Year" in 1976 by the American-Italian Cultural Organization (AMICO).

Union College offers course in tax consulting

Preparation of business and personal tax forms will be taught in a special course to be offered by Union College this fall in cooperation with H & R Block, a national tax preparation firm.

The 10-week, 20-session course is designed to prepare participants for part-time employment as tax consultants during the tax season, according to Dr. Frank Dee, dean of special services and continuing education. Full and part-time employment opportunities may be available to students who complete the course, he said.

Two classes have been scheduled meeting Mondays and Thursdays from 9 a.m. to noon and 7 to 10 p.m., beginning Monday, Sept. 26. Tuition is $75 for Union County residents and $85 for all others and includes specially prepared notebooks and reference manuals.

Frank Sanders, area manager for H & R Block, is the course instructor. The Seton Hall accounting graduate has had 10 years experience with the tax firm and has previously taught tax form preparation courses.

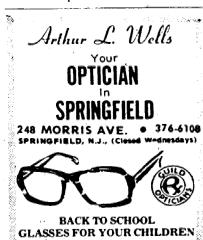

The tax form preparation course, the dean stated, offers a special opportunity to college students majoring in acounting, retired persons looking for part-time employment, and those unemployed who are looking to new areas of employment.

Additional information on the tax course may be obtained by calling the Division of Special Services and Continuing Education, 276-2600, Extension

UC career program Grads give studies 'A'

Career programs generally attract people who are looking for a job or who are dissatisfied with the job they hold. but the nine recent graduates of Union College's Administrative Assistant Program are all employed and generally content in their fields.

"To do a better job," "to qualify for a promotion," "to understand my job better" were among the reasons they offered for participating in the noncredit program of business, personnel and management courses

Irene Van Ollefen of Union, assistant director of financial aid at Union College and a college graduate, found all of the courses interesting and the administrative workshop, the one required course, especially good. She believes that she is more efficient as a result of the program and more understanding of the administrative structure of the college.

"I understand more now about what my boss and supervisor are trying to do," states Cheryl James of Scotch Plains, senior secretary at Bell Labs. "It's expanded my horizons and prepared me for the next promotion."

Describing himself as an "ace repairman," Nicholas Szucs of Berkeley Heights, an employee of New Jersey Bell, said his boss had recommended the program to him. Not only did he find it invigorating, but it stirred up memories of his student days and now he's thinking of taking credit

Margaret Beecher of Linden, who works in the personnel office at Union County Technical Institute, came to office work after owning her own beauty parlor "It's a lot different and there was a lot I didn't understand,' she said. She feels better oriented now

The program title describes just what Marcia Buchanan of Westfield would like to be-an administrative assistant Currently a purchasing expediter for Bell Labs, she feels the Union College program was a good start in that direction. She enjoyed the computer courses and now plans to take a Bell course in UNIX (word processing). Addressing herself to the question of taking non-credit courses, Mrs. Buchanan said, "you don't learn any less because you're not getting credit

Soccer Scene

By BILL WILD

Now that the pro soccer season is over in the United States and Canada. the soccer season is only starting at Farcher's Grove and the rest of the world. The big leagues in Europe, the Cosmopolitan League in metropolitan area, right down through the colleges, high schools and junior high schools are now in full swing

Yes, I said the Cosmopolitan League That is the new name for the old German American League of last year. The league opener was played last night over at the Metropolitan (wal in Maspeth, NY between Blue-White Ridgewood and Ukrainian SC

The league will feature a doubleheader every Sunday at Randall's Island. Blue Star will go against the Kearny Americans at 1 30 p.m. to be followed by Croatia vs. Pancypman at 3 15 The Elizabeth Lancers will travel to the Metropolitan ("val to meet Banatul at 3 15

The Union County SC will play the league opener at Farcher's Grove on Sunday in the second division against Hungaria Farcher's Grove Regulars can now settle back into normal Sunday routines again. I know it was hard for some of you to sit at home with the wives and just listen to the Cosmos games or go to the Meadowlands instead of Farcher's, but now things will be back the way they were at the end of last season.

Speaking of Union County SC, they showed us these past few weeks that they were once again a team to be reckoned with. They came in second in the Rheingold Tournament while displaying speed and goalscoring ability against some first division teams. Hungaria is one of the teams which dropped to the second division at the end of last season and will be in top form for their second division outing.

FOR THE PAST FEW DAYS I've been dropping in on some of the soccer playing schools in the area and found that things were about the same as last year. Union High School should do as well as they did last season while the boys at Dayton were not yet playing a technical game. Everyone was just kicking the ball toward the other end of the field and not looking for a teammate to pass it to. It is still a little early to tell and I think the team was mixed with starters and nonstarters.

When Iwent to Regional back in the last 40's we had a little path leading to the athletic field through the swamp and skunk cabbage. Now they widened the path to the size of a soccer field and that is where I saw the team practice. I never thought I would see the day that Regional would have a place for a soccer field other than the front lawn. I also dropped in on a Burnet Junior High School practice and saw the boys looking much better than last year's team on the second day of practice. I am sure I saw some of the boys at the Cosmos games in the Meadowlands and it showed. The passing in midfield was beautiful to watch from boys that young and I think they will do much better this

All Legislative candidates will also receive free technical consultation from NIPTV producers, directors and production personnel. However, the format for their appearances will be more formatived. Candidates will each. make opening statements, be asked specific questions about their districts.

Enriched Flavor Tobacco!

MERIT technology making "good taste" a reality for low tar smoking.

There is a way to pack flavor—extra flavor—into a low tar cigarette. MERIT proved it.

By cracking cigarette smoke down into separate elements, researchers were able to isolate certain "flavor-rich" ingredients that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar.

The result was 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. Tobacco that delivers the kind of taste smokers can switch to. And stick with.

"Several months ago, I tried Merit, and have been smoking them ever since. They are the first low tar cigarette that actually tastes good."

Philip Morris Inc. 1977

-Barbara G. Wiltshire Richmond, Virginia

Kings: 8 mg: 'tar;' 0.5 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette. FTC Report Dec: 76-100's: 12 mg.' tar;' 0.9 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

REGULAR & MENTHOL

This kind of smoker enthusiasm is typical of what smokers are saying about the taste of MERIT.

"MERIT is the only brand in low tar to give me the flavor and satisfaction that I had been looking for."

—Cecilia Beberman

—Cecilia Beberman Wantagh New York

"The first pack of MERIT MENTHOL did it. I was immediately impressed with the taste."

—Raymond T.

—Raymond T. Abdoo Suffield. Ohio

Only one cigarette has 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. And you can taste it.
