Historical preservation unit identifies 40 sites; needs help

The Mountainside Historical Preservation Committee, created by Borough Council resolution last January, has identified 40 sites within the community of historical significance.

Volunteers are needed now to help verify dates and events related to each site. James Clark, a committee member, has offered to brief volunteers on the procedure to follow in determining and verifying historical data. No previous experience is necessary to help on the project.

Borough residents who live in old houses and would be willing to have them examined or those wishing to volunteer their time may contact Clark at 232-1687.

The committee hopes to prepare a complete list of historical sites with names, dates and events from the past to aid in the identification of buildings to be preserved and sites to be marked.

Mayor Thomas Ricciardi has appointed Shirley Horner to the historical committee to replace Patricia Hanigan who resigned.

Horner, formerly co-chairman of the Mountainside Cultural and Heritage Committee from 1973-77, has taught at Seton Hall and Rutgers Universities. Her special fields are American History and Literature.

She has lectured throughout the state and contributed articles to local newspapers and periodicals. She is co-editor of the soon to be published "Ladies at the Crossroads" which deals with 18th century women of New Jersey.

She will take over the chairmanship of Promotion and Liaison.

Late shifts are over Lenehan retires as cop

After 27 years, there will be no more 4 p.m. to midnight shifts... no more duty on weekends and holidays... and the bass and blue fish are just waiting to be hooked.

Mountainside police Sgt. William J. Lenehan, as of last Friday, retired from the force he joined in 1950 at the age of 26. There were only five other men in the department at that time. Charles Honecker was chief and Edward Mullin, now chief, was a patrolman with Lenehan.

Lenehan moved to Mountainside in 1927 from Norwich, Conn., when his father was transferred to Western Electric's Kearny installation. He is a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School and played varsity football for four years at the guard and right tackle slots. He was also on the wrestling team for two years.

He is also a World War II vet who was stationed with the 29th Infantry Division in Europe. Lenehan was part of the first wave to hit the beaches of Normandy on D-Day.

Sgt. Lenehan and his wife, Marion, have sold their borough home and on Monday moved into their new shore lodgings in Atlantis, near Tuckerton.

The Lenehans own a 23-foot power boat and the sergeant is looking forward to a lot of fishing for at least the next year. Then, he said, he'll look for employment in the shore area.

Another thing the couple is looking forward to is seeing their 7-month-old grandson for the first time. Lenehan's daughter, living in Frankfurt, Germany with her husband who is stationed at an Army base there, is expected to visit her parent's shore home some time this month. The Lenehan's son lives in California.

Chief Mullin said, "Billy will be missed around headquarters," and Lenehan admits he is a little sad to leave the force.

"It's been a wonderful police career," he said, "working for the borough. I'll miss my fellow brothers and also the town. I've been here almost all my life." The sergeant said he "wishes all the fellows good luck in the new building."

On the second day of school another firm, the Stockhom Bus Company, took over the routes, but parents reported that children were being stranded and not getting home until after 5 p.m.

At the last regular school board meeting, the members were contemplating legal action against the Beirn firm.

Board awards busing contract

The Mountainside Board of Education Tuesday night awarded a busing contract to the Melni Bus Co. of Chatham Township. The one-year bid was $52,500, but will be pro-rated because of the October starting date.

The district's busing woes started the day before school began when Superintendent Levin Hanigan was told by a driver for the Beirn Bus company, long the carrier for Mountainside, that the firm would not be able to fulfill its contract.

Cocktail party for candidates

A limited number of tickets are still available for the kickoff Campaign cocktail party being sponsored by the Mountainside Republicans, according to Kay Torma, ticket chairman for the event on Sunday. The price is $1 for an open bar.

Republican local, county and state candidates have been invited to the affair which will be held at the Elks Club on Rt. 22 East between 2 and 5 p.m.

Mrs. Torma noted that although tickets would be sold at the door, those who intended to attend were being urged to take advantage of the few remaining tickets being circulated by Republican Committee men and women, officers and members of the Republican Club and local councilmen.

Republican Club president Roy Mumford said that in addition to Council candidates Bruce Geiger and Tim Benford and Tax Collector Ruth Gibadlo, guests will see a majority of other Republicans who are candidates in the Nov. 8 election.

Board offices site of Tuesday meeting

The Mountainside Board of Education will hold its regular monthly meeting at the board offices at 1391 Rt. 22 east on Tuesday at 8 p.m.

All meetings, which were previously held at the Deerfield school, will now be held at the administration building.

Pereira promoted at Dayton

Aide is moved up to assist Romano

Manuel Pereira, administrative assistant at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, was promoted this week to assistant principal at an annual salary of $24,350.

His appointment, effective yesterday, makes him No. 2 man at Dayton, where the former assistant principal, Anne Romano, was elevated to the top job Aug. 17.

Pereira was appointed Tuesday on a 6-2 vote, with one member absent, at a meeting of the Union County Regional High School District Board of Education on the David Brearley campus in Kenilworth. The dissenters on the board—Roland Hecker and William Keyes, both of Berkeley Heights—said their votes were not a reflection upon Pereira, but a protest against unwritten policy of excluding the board from the interviewing process for jobs below the level of principal. Hecker and Keyes said they believe it should become standard procedure for the board to conduct interviews of candidates for assistant principalships.

"This is an extremely important job," said Hecker. "The assistant principal is the one who has the most contact with parents whose kids are

Marching band to hold tourney at Dayton High

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Marching Band will present its third annual "tournament of champions" on Sunday, Oct. 16 (rain date, Oct. 23) at 1 p.m. on Meisel Field, Springfield.

The tournament is a high school marching band competition where high school bands display their half-time shows and compete for first, second and third-place trophies.

This year Jonathan Dayton will be host for bands from New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. They include Arlington High School, Poughkeepsie, N.Y.; Woodbridge High School, Woodbridge; Rahway High School, Rahway; Woodrow Wilson High School, Levittown, Pa.; North Arlington High School, North Arlington; David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth; Bangor Area High School, Bangor, Pa.; and Oceanside High School, Oceanside, N.Y. The Jonathan Dayton Marching Band will present an exhibition of this year's fall show at the competition. The local band is directed by Jeffrey E. Anderson.

Tickets are available at discount prices before the competition from band members, or by calling the band room at the high school. Senior citizens may purchase tickets for $1 at the gate. The Band Parent Organization will have refreshments available throughout the afternoon.

PBA ball set for Oct. 15

The 21st annual Mountainside PBA ball will be held Saturday, Oct. 15 at 9 p.m. at the L'Affaire restaurant on Rt. 22 east.

Music of the 50's will be presented by the Blue Knights.

Tickets have been mailed to all borough residents and additional tickets will be available at the door for $4 a person. Reservations will be taken at police headquarters, 232-8100.

The proceeds will benefit the sick and death and welfare fund of the local department.

Choral parents schedule sale

The Jonathan Dayton Choral Parents' Society will sponsor a pumpkin sale on Saturday, Oct. 15. Students in the vocal music program, under the direction of Al Dorhout, will ring doorbells for the door-to-door sale in both Mountainside and Springfield.

The proceeds from past sales have benefitted music scholarships and retreat weekends. The choral groups have also participated in exchange concerts and competitions in Ottawa, Canada, and Washington, D.C., and appearances with the New Jersey Opera and local organizations.

Mrs. John Connolly, Kenneth Drysdale and John Farinella are co-chairmen of the sale.

Candidate profiles For the Senate

Pappas

Harry P. Pappas, Democratic candidate for state senator from the 22nd Legislative District, said he doesn't think New Jersey needs a state income tax, but adds, since he is not now in Trenton, he cannot be sure of that "without a shadow of a doubt."

Pappas said he is definitely against an alternative fund-raising proposal suggested by GOP gubernatorial candidate Ray Bateman for increasing the state sales tax. He suggests that more funds be raised by cutting the "bureaucratic wastes" in Trenton.

The 32-year-old candidate said he and his colleagues running for the Assembly will issue a "white paper" in the near future outlining specific proposals for eliminating the income tax and substituting alternate proposals. One concept Pappas feels is necessary is the installation of zero-based budgeting. This means departments should not automatically feel a percentage increase is due each year, but should try to run on the previous year's budget.

Workers do need to be put back on the job, the Democrat believes, in reference to the completion of Rt. 78. He called the situation "a touchy one."

Pappas said he is in favor of building the highway, though he doesn't think the state should disrupt the municipalities "the route is to go through. He said so much money has already been spent that the project should be completed and a commitment should be made to progress."

Pappas added he is a strong proponent of the home-rule concept and feels the local communities should have the final say on such projects.

In reference to the T and E education legislation, the Springfield resident thinks "it is in a mess." He feels the concept is highly workable but that the

McDonough

Peter J. McDonough, candidate for reelection to the state senate on the Republican slate, feels the state income tax is still the most important issue of this election.

McDonough said the GOP took a poll in his 22nd Legislative District, which includes Springfield and Mountainside, and found that crime topped the list of issues voters were most concerned with. But the candidate feels perhaps the poll was "out of line" because it was taken when the Son of Sam incident was prominent in the news.

McDonough said he has voted against the income tax nine times and believes the tax can be eliminated with a series of alternate proposals. He said the costs of administering the tax is much too high and the addition of those funds to the state coffers would be considerable.

The senator said a mini-job freeze in Trenton would also save state funds. He cited a 14 percent turnover in state employees as an example of cost overruns.

McDonough said another way to get the state back on its financial heels is to get the construction workers back on the job. He said there is a 40 percent construction unemployment rate in the 22nd District and those not working are "bleeding the unemployment compensation fund dry." He said the workers could be sent out to clean up highways and other cluttered areas. He said Federal Highway Trust funds are available to the state, but New Jersey "is never ready administratively to accept the funds and the monies just sit there."

The 52-year-old Republican said that new business needs to be drawn into the state and that New Jersey has to be made a better place to work. McDonough said the Garden State has the advantage of being so close to the

Clock tower issue ticking

Dr. Marilyn Hart, Mountainside representative on the Union County Regional High School District board, suggested Tuesday that the 40-year-old clock tower on the Jonathan Dayton campus should be refinished with aluminum siding. "The whole town would be up in arms," predicted Natalie Waldt, senior board member from Springfield, about any attempt to put aluminum siding on the landmark tower.

But Dr. Hart predicted people would look up there, see it white and clean, and never notice "a change from paint to siding. She said it would save the cost of repainting the tower every three to five years, plus periodic repairs such as a $1,000 job the board authorized Tuesday night. "It wouldn't cost anything to get estimates on aluminum siding," said Dr. Hart, asking Asst. Supt. Lew Fredericks to arrange for it.

Four persons are injured in three accidents

Mountainside police report that four persons were injured in three separate accidents Saturday through Monday. John McLaughlin of Westfield was taken to Overlook Hospital by the Mountainside Rescue Squad following an accident early Monday morning on Short drive at Central avenue.

Police said the car passed across the intersection of Central avenue and avenue and struck a tree.

He was incapacitated and suffered bleeding from the head. He has since been released from the hospital.

Another Monday morning rush hour accident sent a Westfield man and a Linden man to consult their own doctors.

Richard Voorhees of Westfield was driving north on New Providence road, according to police reports, and as he crossed the Rt. 22 intersection, the traffic light changed to red.

Police said Robert Goode of Linden was stopped for the highway light and when it turned green started to cross the intersection and hit the Voorhees car. According to police, the car driven by the Linden man then struck the traffic light and knocked it down.

Voorhees was bleeding from the lower hand and Goode complained of pain in the lower leg.

On Saturday, a 35-year-old Newark man was bleeding from the head after a Rt. 22 east accident. Pedro Garcia was a passenger in a car driven by Adelino Patrocino, also of Newark.

Plainfield man's case is sent to grand jury

A Plainfield man accused of attempting to obtain money by false pretenses from the First Federal Savings and Loan on Mountain avenue in Mountainside waived a preliminary hearing in municipal court last week, and his case has been forwarded to the Union County Grand Jury.

Stephen Bolles, 23, was arrested Sept. 15 after turning himself into borough police. Reports said he attempted to withdraw $90 from the savings institution with a stolen passbook listing deposits of $1,826.27.

The bank teller, forewarned that a passbook issued from the Plainfield branch had been stolen, signaled police with an alarm. Bolles had fled the bank when police arrived and lost him in a foot chase.

Bolles is also facing charges in Westfield for obtaining $400 from the main bank branch on Elm street.

He is out on $250 bail.

In other court action, two men were each fined $200 and $15 in court costs for driving with a suspended license. Phillips Booker of East Orange and Allen Johnson of Petersburg, Va. were found guilty by Municipal Judge Jacob Bauer.

Joseph Spiegel Jr. of New Providence, who was free on $100 bail for attempting to elude police while driving a motorcycle, was fined $65.

Bauer also levied another $55 worth of fines against Spiegel for careless driving, operating a motorcycle without goggles and operating without a license.

Larry Dale of Murray Hill was fined $35, including court costs, for careless driving and speeding on W. Tracy drive in the Watchung Reservation. Hans Nielson of Long Valley was fined a total of $25 for driving 60 mph in a 45 mph zone and Elton Armstrong of Plainfield paid $30 for careless driving in bad weather conditions.

Bauer levied a $25 fine to Julius Dixon Jr. of Plainfield for running a red light.

Townsend Alexander of Red Bank was fined $25 for passing on a marked shoulder and Steven Gallitelli of New Providence paid $25 for changing lanes without signalling.

'Free magazine' sales net consumer warning

Ellen Bloom, director of the Union County Office of Consumer Affairs, this week issued a strong warning to all county residents about "free magazine" solicitations.

She said her office has received complaints recently about magazines solicitations.

The allegations within these complaints are echoes one to the other," Bloom said. "A telephone solicitation is received at home, allegedly grossly misrepresenting cost and quantity of magazines to be delivered to the consumer's home. When the consumer receives the contract, the total cost of these magazines is very high, not at all what the consumer was led to believe on the telephone. And, as is the right of every consumer in the state, an immediate cancellation is sent to avoid any further obligation with regard to the matter.

"In some cases, the contract is never signed. Even then, these magazine sellers fight hard to hold the consumer to a verbal agreement made in a taped phone solicitation. It is the opinion of the state division of Consumer Affairs that these telephone solicitations and agreements are not binding unless and until the consumer has signed a contract clearly outlining all the costs and totals the consumer will be obligated to pay, said Bloom, noting that there "is indeed a question as to the legality of taping conversations without the agreement of both parties."

Awards given to 6 volunteers by cancer unit

The Union County Unit of the American Cancer Society honored outstanding volunteers at its recent annual meeting held at the Town and Campus in Union. The 1976-77 Cancer Crusade netted a record $234,756.

"Towns reaching or exceeding their goals were Berkeley Heights, New Providence, Clark, Fanwood, Roselle, Scotch Plains, Winfield and Union," announced Chuck Hardwick of Westfield, co-crusade chairman.

Office volunteers honored were Lillian Rubino and Florence Fox of Elizabeth, and Catherine Baiera of Hillside. A special award went to Caroline Hach of Elizabeth, transportation coordinator, and to Nettie Baser of Westfield, coordinator of Reach to Recovery, a rehabilitation program for mastectomies. Dr. Warren H. Knauer of Hillside was presented with an award for outstanding work in the area of patient services.

Dayton JV blanks Kenilworth 12-0

The Junior Varsity football team at Jonathan Dayton High School opened its season Monday at Hillside with the young Bulldogs whitewashing the Comets 12-0.

In a game totally dominated by Dayton both offensively and defensively, sophomore Robert Irene hammered over for two touchdowns. Coach Bob Kobuz's crew controlled the line of scrimmage with excellent offensive blocking led by guards Ed Johnson and John Halpin and tackles Bob Roff and Chris Dillemath. Irene, Anthony Circeilli, Joe Policastro and big Joe Dorfman took turns taking handoffs from quarterback Ken Klebous to gain significant chunks of yardage.

The defense was led by noseguard Lou Herkalo, ends Jim Reilly and Dillemath and tackles Tim Holleran and Bill Pellegrino.

All 31 of the Bulldog JVs appeared in the game and contributed to a total team victory. The JV squad next will take on always-tough Summit at Meisel Field on Monday.

In freshman football action, West Orange defeated the young team, 14-0. The Bulldog pups had lost earlier 23-2 to Arthur L. Johnston.

The starting line-up for the freshmen has been: ends Jules Asilo and Simon DeGirolamo, tackles Bill Meyer and Bob Dooley, guards Dave Galisewski and Paul D'Andrea, center Frank Riccione, quarterback Tyrone Hayes, wingback Fran Clemson, fullback Mike Caricota and tailback Ed Francis.

Additional players are Ron Butemann, Bob Southward, Larry Walker, Peter Ball, Jim Beyer, Paul Stypa, Steve Laschin, Estes Hoffman, Tom Martin, Lou DeMauro and John Cederquist.

The fresh travel to Summit on Monday.

Soccer Scene

By BILL WILD

The King is retired, long live the Kaiser. This is now the motto of the Cosmos. With Pele out of the lineup, the Cosmos will rebuild around Franz Beckenbauer. Steve Hunt will not be around next year either the way it looks now. Hunt did not make the Far East trip with the Cosmos because he went back to England, where he is considered a star. He received many offers from English teams and just might stay there.

With Hunt out of the lineup the Cosmos might be looking for a left wing, maybe from Germany or Holland. Right now your guess is as good as mine. I can see a few defensive and midfield spots opening up also. Whomever the Cosmos bring in, they must blend in with Franz and big Giorgio Chinaglia. Who knows, they might even go with a few local boys they have been adding to the roster, such as Santiago Formoso. I wouldn't be surprised if some of the English players end up with the Stings.

Only time will tell and it is nice hearing "soccer talk" for a change. Sometimes I feel a little left out when the gang starts throwing baseball or football players' names around in some of the sports discussions. Most of the new soccer fans only start with the names of the players of this season, but I can go as far back as Joe Marke, who is now the deputy police chief of Irvington. Marke was one of the hottest goalies in the Metropolitan area some time ago.

As of this writing, Farcher's Grove will be open Sunday because the Elizabeth Lancers versus Polonia was cancelled due to a cup match for Polonia. Union County will play Blackpool away. The Farcher's Grove regulars can still drop in because I am sure there will be a lot of activity in the junior ranks. The coaches will not let a chance like this go by without staging some games in the younger divisions.

Ragonese on team

Jerry Ragonese of Springfield, a business major at Glassboro State College, has joined the school's football squad as a wide receiver.

Mrs. Kepping takes tourney

Mrs. George Kepping took the Class A honors and Mrs. James Leonard the Class B and C combined at the Sept. 28 Wednesday golf tournament held at Echo Lake Country Club. Mrs. Kepping fired a 36, and Mrs. Leonard shot a 35.

Mrs. George Bauer was second in the A group with a 38, and Mrs. Robert Gude placed second in the B-C group with a 37.

Mrs. Noel Sidford won both the low putts with 15 and the chip-in title for the Class A division. Mrs. Thornton Smith and Mrs. Michael Apostolik shared the B division low putt contest with 15. Mr. Apostolik also took the chip-in honors.

A field of 54 teams started, players adding their scores in the morning round over the upper course, then playing alternate shots in the afternoon on the lower.

Housen, state amateur champion in 1973, and Gerard led after the morning round with 154 and added a 77 in the afternoon. The Sanoks were five shots back at lunch time but combined for a 74, the best alternate shot round of the day. Bisconti and Zahrenger added a 77 to their morning 157.

travel to Summit to meet the Hilltoppers.

Hillside scored on its first play from scrimmage when quarterback Greg DiLeo rifled a 35-yard touchdown strike to receiver Mike Sapp. Hillside went on to score on a quarterback sneak by DiLeo, to take a 14-0 halftime advantage. At the intermission rain began to pour, and soaked the field for the remainder of the game.

Dayton fought its way to the 11 midway through the fourth quarter and quarterback Al Preziosi fired an excellent pass to flanker Dave Vargas, who crossed the goal line for the TD. Using a bit of razzle dazzle, the Bulldogs hiked the football to tight end Dan Pepe, who found Bob Bohrod open in the end zone, on the extra point attempt. The defensive standouts for Dayton included Jeff Vargas, who intercepted a DiLeo pass, and Rich Cedarquist.

Dayton loses two; faces Madison today

By MIKE MEIXNER

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School soccer team dropped a 4-1 decision to Verona last week and rebounded to escape with a 0-0 tie against West Orange. Coach Jim Skobo's rejuvenated squad will play host to Madison today and Summit tomorrow.

Playing on a rain-soaked field, Dayton gave up four quick goals before

Jets C shut out Cardinals, 19-0 in midget action

The Mountainside Jets C Squad defeated the Chatham Cardinals, 19-0.

Early in the second quarter, the Jets mounted a long drive led by the running of Jeff Ahlholm, Dave Gagliano, Matt Dooley, Walter Kempner and John Fischer and the crisp blocking of Bob Alder, Gregg Goldenberg, Darren Iaione, Bob Mücke and Kyle Wissel. From the 25-yard line, Ahlholm swept left end to score. The Jets defense, led by Jim Merklinger, Fischer and Dooley, dominated the Chatham offense throughout the first half.

Early in the second half, Gagliano made a beautiful 60-yard run for a touchdown. Key blocks were made by Steve Burton, Alfred Heckel, Goldenberg and Alder. Fischer plunged over for the extra point. Gagliano, behind strong blocking, scored again in the fourth quarter to make the final score 19-0.

The offense rushed for 204 yards, led by Gagliano with 107 and Ahlholm with 44. The defense, led by Merklinger, Fischer, Dooley and Dave Rizzo, was outstanding. Wissel, Kempner, Iaione, and Glenn Stummer, also turned in strong efforts.

Beginner paddle tennis clinics are held for four weeks with two sessions a week on Monday and Friday mornings, 10:20 to noon, instructed by Missy Ryan, and Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7:20 to 8:40, instructed by Ellen Harrison. Intermediate instruction is offered once a week on Sunday afternoons, 1:30 to 2:50, instructed by Mrs. Harrison, beginning Oct. 16.

Byrne attacked by McDonough

Gov. Brendan T. Byrne's 16-point economy recovery plan is "too little, too late" and sprinkled with hypocrisy according to State Sen. Peter J. McDonough (R-22), a candidate for reelection.

"Where has Brendan Byrne been for 3½ years?" McDonough asked. "Why did it take a reelection campaign and a convention of the AFL-CIO COPE for Byrne to realize the state's economy was in desperate trouble?" McDonough said the Byrne plan, first disclosed at the AFL-CIO annual meeting in Cherry Hill two weeks ago, "is a reshuffle of proposals recommended by former Commissioner of Labor and Industry Joseph Hoffman but rejected or ignored by the governor over two years ago."

Marathon net event

The Scotch Plains Recreation Commission will sponsor a tennis marathon from 7 a.m. Saturday, through 10 p.m. Monday at the Kramer Manor Tennis Courts. Proceeds will go to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

The Marathon will be under the direction of Rose Marie Donnelly, recreation commission special events director, and Elizabeth Petroski, recreation commission tennis instructor, who also is a student at Kean College majoring in recreation and a member of the Kean College varsity tennis team.

All tennis players who wish to participate should call 322-6700, ext. 29, between 9 and 4:30 p.m.

the machine-like foot of Joe Sangregorio booted one through the goalposts. Dayton did get remarkably strong performances, though, from the agile underclassmen line of Tommy Ragon, Tim Harrigan, Bill Rose and Todd Melamed. Reserve halfbacks Bobby Shap, Francis Shaeffer and Christopher Shields played well in their first real varsity test.

Traveling to West Orange, Dayton avenged their fourth consecutive setback. The scoreless tie left the Bulldog record at 0-3-1. The fullback line, senior Michael Wittenberg and juniors David Luhoff and Tony Sangregorio played their best game to date.

Steve Shindler recorded his first shutout and young Mitchell Fever impressed the onlookers with his consistent play in his first lengthy varsity role. Bruce Davison and Ron Scappetulo also excelled on the offensive line.

The Junior Varsity squad dropped two more contests, falling into the Suburban Conference cellar with a 0-4 season log. The junior Bulldogs fell 4-0 to Verona and lost to West Orange, 4-2.

Dayton held a 2-1 lead before succumbing to West Orange. The Bulldog goals were scored by Joseph Huber and Michael Kong, who had a serious facial injury. Muscular David Weinberg set up the two goals. The defensive backs were led by Mike O'Connell and Steve Rockhead. Goalie Scott Worsick also excelled.

The freshman squad gained their first victory, scoring a 7-0 rout over West Orange. Dave Cushman, a 4-7, 80-pound forward, scored an amazing total of six goals, the most ever by a Dayton freshman. His brilliant outburst led the Bulldog barrage.

Fullback Paul Commarato scored the final goal, with an assist from defensive standout Don Meixner. Other Dayton stars were Keith Hanigan and Myron Wastrel.

ROBERT (CHUCK) ALLAN of Mountainside has earned a spot on the College of Wooster, Ohio, varsity soccer squad for the fall. Allan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Allan of Oak Tree road.

Teen Talk

By PATRICK EDWARD

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: I am 13 years old and I'm waiting to date.

My parents don't want me to date right now. All of my friends can date and I feel left out. I've talked with my mother but she says I'm not responsible enough right now. I'm afraid my boyfriend will get mad at me because I can't date. When can I do to convince my folks that I'm responsible enough—and that all my friends date? My folks are always acting old-fashioned. It seems that I'm stuck at home every weekend. Please help.

OUR REPLY: Accept the fact that you're a guest in your parents' home. They make the rules. Until you're ready to go out on your own, obey their rules. Chances are good that when they decide you are "responsible" enough, the rules will change. Prove your sense of responsibility by adhering to the guidelines they've already set down.

GOP hopefuls score board's lack of planning

The Union County Republican candidates for freeholder, Herbert Heilmann, Robert Morgan and William Ruocco, this week criticized the Democratic majority of the Union County Board of Freeholders for what they termed failing to establish an operational master plan for the future use and development of the recreational lands within Union County.

A former freeholder, Heilmann stated, "For well over a year, the Democratic majority of the Union County Board of Freeholders has been in a battle with the Park Commission over whether or not the Park Commission should remain in authority or whether the same should be brought over the wings of county government. Having been successful in the final counts of the 1976 election and being in the verge of success in the September 1977 elections, the Democratic majority failed to assess the representation and interest for the Union County Board of Freeholders."

Chairman Morgan in Roselle Park indicated that despite the fact that the Park Commission and the Board of Freeholders have been in a battle over the parks program, it is not the overall parks program that is the issue. He said that the Park Commission and the Board of Freeholders should be working together to develop a master plan for the parks. He said that the Board of Freeholders should be responsible for the overall parks program, while the Park Commission should be responsible for the day-to-day operations of the parks.

Springfield Township Committeeman Ruocco called for the immediate establishment of a commission to be composed of freeholders, members of the Park Commission and citizens at large to prepare an operational master plan, a map upon which the directions of the recreational services of Union County may be charted in the future.

County unit recruiting for training program

Fifteen unemployed and underemployed persons are being recruited by the Division of Employment and Training in Union County for a free automobile service mechanics training program, according to Larry J. Lockhart, director of the county's department of human resources.

Training for the 35 week program will start Tuesday at the Union County Technical Institute in Scotch Plains. Classes will be held Monday through Friday, 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. and Saturday, 12:30 to 4:30 p.m.

According to Camilla Coleman, education and training coordinator of the county agency, the course is designed to give students actual work experience. The student will gain a knowledge of motors, measuring instruments, interpretations of electrical schematic diagrams and use of shop manuals.

"Each student will have an opportunity to use hand tools of the automotive trade, learn the business operation and evaluate the completed work," Coleman said. She emphasized that the student will be provided by the Union County Technical Institute. Transportation and child care will be made available to participants through regular agency procedures.

Applicants must be Union County residents (exclusive of Elizabeth, which has its own funding). Interested persons from Plainfield, Summit, New Providence, Berkeley Heights, Springfield, Mountainside, Clark, Scotch Plains and Westfield should apply at the Western Center, 128 7th street, Plainfield.

Persons living in Linden, Hillside, Union (Vauxhall), Roselle, Winfield, Roselle Park, Cranford, Rahway and Kenilworth should apply at the Eastern Center, 20 E. Elizabeth ave., Linden.

Robert Cahill of Cahill Dodge, Summit, and Ron Collins of Goodwin Motors of Plainfield, were nominated for a year-term as trustees to the state dealer organization.

Hoblitzell announced a general membership meeting will be held Nov. 15 at the Towers.

Mollozzi leads parade Sunday

James P. Ali, president of the American Italian Cultural Society, has announced the selection of John D. Mollozzi, chairman of the board of Freeholders of Union County, as grand marshal of the Columbus Day Parade sponsored by the organization. The parade will be held Sunday at 1 p.m. in Elizabeth.

Mollozzi, who resides in Roselle Park where he served as a councilman, is a native of Elizabeth and a graduate of its school system. He holds a B.A. degree from Jersey City State College and a law degree from George Washington University and is a partner in the law firm of Mollozzi and Conti in Elizabeth.

held Oct. 15. Trip information is available from Robert Walker, 242 Denman road, Cranford.

Dealers elect new officers

The Union County Auto Dealer Association trustees met last week at the Towers Steak House, Mountainside. President Jack Hoblitzell announced that Ricky Crosta of Richard's Ramblers, Union, and Robert Amon of Amon Buick, Rahway, have been elected president and first vice-president, respectively, of the New Jersey Automobile Dealers Association.

Dems suggest county stagger working hours

Freeholder Walter Boright of Scotch Plains, Mayor Joanne Rajoppi of Springfield and Commissioner Thomas Dillon of Elizabeth, Democratic candidates for Union County freeholder, this week endorsed some staggered work hours at the Court House and other county agencies.

"Quite obviously," Boright said, "citizens with 9 to 5 working hours find it impossible to conduct their business at the Court House because the current hours force them either to go to work late or to leave early, possibly jeopardizing their own employment." "Some county employees," Rajoppi added, "may find it more convenient to come to work early and thereby be able to leave by mid-afternoon, while others may prefer a later schedule."

"Even from the standpoint of traffic and the convenience of public servants and the people they serve, staggered hours are a good idea," Dillon said. "It may be much easier for a Union County resident to go to the Court House early in the morning or late at night, outside his working hours," he said, "but currently, that's virtually impossible."

Scout Council conducts career interest survey

Health, law, law enforcement, transportation, science and engineering are careers in which area high school students have expressed major interest, according to the Union County Boy Scout Council.

James L. Leslie, Explorer Scout executive, reported that 18,000 junior and senior high school students were questioned in a recent career interest survey.

He said anyone interested in sponsoring an Explorer Post in any of these areas should contact him at the council's Service Center 60 Prince st., Elizabeth, 354-5676.

"While we have some posts in these fields, we can always use more," he said. The council now has 600 Explorer members who participate in their own unit programs and council, regional and national activities.

Total employed rises 4,500 to three million

The number of New Jersey residents with jobs rose 4,500 in August and reached a record 3,050,900 on a seasonally adjusted basis, John J. Horn, Commissioner of the N.J. Department of Labor and Industry, announced last week.

Employment in New Jersey has now increased 145,700 from the May 1975 recession low point.

New Jersey's labor force also expanded to a new high of 3,337,000 in August and this prevented the unemployment rate from declining. Unemployment totaled 286,200 on a seasonally adjusted basis and the jobless rate was 8.6 percent substantially unchanged from 8.6 percent in June and a downward revised rate of 8.5 percent in July. Unemployment in the state has declined by 90,100 since November 1975 when the rate peaked at 11.4 percent.

Horn also announced that his department's monthly survey of employers revealed another sharp gain in the number of workers in New Jersey nonfarm establishment payrolls.

NORMA J. HAYMAN of Ridgewood who has been elected the 24th president of the American Cancer Society's New Jersey Division. As 1977 Crusade Chairman, Mrs. Hayman headed a fund-raising drive that collected more than $2,885,000 to combat cancer in New Jersey.

Bankers group against S & L check service

Passage of a proposed legislative measure in New Jersey that would permit savings and loan associations in the state to offer checking accounts would be counterproductive for consumers, it was asserted today by the New Jersey Bankers Association.

Robert C. Forrey, NJBA executive vice-president, said that legislative approval of the measure, Assembly Bill 1680, would only serve to perpetuate special privileges already accorded S&Ls but which are costly to customers of these institutions.

"The rationale given for the proposed legislative change," Forrey said, "is that it would be 'pro-consumer.' What is not mentioned by the bill's proponents or what they are not aware of is that the bill would not change some of the financing techniques that savings and loans can apply with legal authority which react to the customer's disadvantage."

Among these practices, Forrey said, is the legal license given S&Ls to charge 'points' on a home mortgage loan, which represents a special and additional charge to the customer getting the loan.

"No other mortgage lender in New Jersey can charge points the same as an S&L can on conventional mortgages," Forrey said.

Another special privilege held by S&Ls, Forrey said, is authority to take one month's interest on a mortgage in advance and take advance payments of interest for any period on any loan.

On the question of checking account powers sought for S&Ls, Forrey said that one other factor that would react unfavorably on consumers is the contradiction between the short-term

Kean offering workshop for college-bound adults

Kean College in Union is offering a special workshop for adults who would like to begin a college career or return to college and for parents of college students. The three-session workshop, designed to familiarize participants with the college environment, will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. today and Oct. 14 and 21.

The sessions will be conducted by Mrs. Mary Slavitt, assistant professor and coordinator of teacher certification at Kean College, who has led such programs since 1974. There is no charge for the workshop.

Participants will have a guided tour of the campus and will learn where a student attends classes, gets supportive help and spends free time. In addition, they will be introduced to representatives of such key offices as Admissions, Academic Advisement and Placement, and Counseling.

Then, if they wish, they will learn about the many supportive services for those who need assistance in adjusting to college work. They will visit the library, the reading center, the writing laboratory, the instructional resource center and other organizations which provide the materials and the methods for becoming a successful college student. Arrangements will also be made for those who would like to attend a typical college class. Enrollment in the workshop is limited. Interested persons may contact the Special Programs Office at 527-2163 or 527-2210.

FROM THE BURDGES

We want to thank the Mountainside Rescue Squad, our wonderful friends and neighbors who helped us during the hospitalization and untimely death of our son.

All your time, efforts and concern you showed us by your phone calls, notes, prayers, food and flowers is greatly appreciated.

Your response to the Scott Burdge Memorial Fund has been overwhelming. We intend to use this fund to donate something to Mountainside's sports programs and the library, two of Scott's special interests.

Pappas

present mandate needs to be redefined. "It has to be torn apart and reviewed with a microscope," he said. Pappas added the legislation hasn't been in effect long enough to see if it's "really good or bad."

The Democrat said Brendan Byrne is "possibly the most honest, capable governor that the state has had in modern times." He said it is easy to criticize Byrne by "tying him to the state income tax," but, Pappas added, "The governor fought for the tax because he felt we needed it to run the state."

Pappas said though he has not agreed with Byrne on the tax either then or now, "that doesn't mean I don't support the governor."

The candidate said he is most concerned about flooding in Springfield. He said the Army Corps of Engineers should be brought in with federal monies to deal with the recurring problem. "A lot of monies also are in Trenton," Pappas said, "that could be utilized by the municipalities for local projects." He said he could play a key role as a liaison to distribute these grants to his district.

Pappas was, until just recently, the Union County purchasing agent responsible for a $5 million annual budget. He said he has been credited with saving the county a substantial amount of funds through implementation of zero-based budgeting and cutting questionable costs.

He is the president of Fedco Fab Corp. in Newark, a restaurant supply company.

He is on the board of directors of the New Jersey State Opera Company and president of the South Orange and Springfield Avenue Businessmen's Association. He was a sponsor of the National Conference of New Voters and treasurer of the League of New Voters.

Pappas is a graduate of West Orange High School and holds certificates of completion from the Professional School of Business in Union and in principles of public purchasing from Rutgers University.

New York port, but its major disadvantage is its notorious traffic jams.

McDonough said Rt. 78 must be finished to complete the interstate system. He said residents can't live with the pollution on Rt. 22. He said there needs to be some concern for environmental problems, but that the present alignment makes the least impact on the total area. The "no build" alternative is "terrible" and the "cut and cover" idea was much too expensive, he said.

Concerning the controversial T and E education mandate, McDonough said, though he voted against the legislation, he feels the concept is excellent. He said, "we didn't get T and E, we got T and I.... Through and Inefficient."

McDonough said the problem with the present T and E legislation is that it spends "tremendous amounts of money to educate the administrators" in how to live up to the legislated mandate, and not on the education of children.

Speaking of the present Byrne administration, he said the governor "shows a tremendous lack of leadership," and adds he and the Republican candidate for governor, Ray Bateman, have the experience to lead the state.

McDonough was elected to the State Senate in 1974 and was named to fill the minority whip position in 1975. He has been a member of the Transportation and Communications Committee and the Law, Public Safety and Defense Committee.

McDonough served four terms in the Assembly and had 22 bills signed into law. He is most proud of the passage of a hemophilia program which was the first such legislation in the country. Five-hundred thousand dollars in subsidies were provided to buy clotting agents.

The Plainfield resident was also on the Board of Freeholders for one term.

He is the president of the Plainfield Lumber and Supply Co. and was educated in the Plainfield public schools. He holds a bachelor's degree in business administration from St. Lawrence University.

He is a World War II veteran and is married and has three children.

Makes scholars list

SELINSGROVE, Pa.—Jessica Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Evans Jr. of Hedge Row, Mountainside, made the "university scholars" list for the 1977-78 school year at Susquehanna University. She is a senior majoring in liberal arts.

2 racquetball courts ready at Westfield Y

Racquetball and handball enthusiasts were urged to begin signing up to use the two new racquetball courts being constructed at the Westfield YMCA.

Walter C. Goldt, general director, reminded Y members that the four-wall courts will be ready for use in a few weeks. The new courts will be in addition to a squash court that is being completely rebuilt.

"Racquetball is on the move," Goldt said, "growing at a rate outstripping the growth of other racquet sports in America. The Y is meeting the need for additional courts by completing this phase of a renovation program that will also see men's and women's health club facilities expanded."

Goldt said that in order to meet the costs of the renovation project, Y members would pay an additional $50 a year for the use of the racquetball courts. Those members signing up now will have the fee pro-rated based on the terms of their current membership.

Non-members of the Y were invited to become members and use the courts.

Chapter seeks blood donations

The Westfield-Mountainside chapter of the American Red Cross will hold a blood bank Tuesday, Oct. 18, at the Presbyterian Church, Mountain avenue, Westfield, from 1:30 to 6:30 p.m.

"The three out-of-town hospitals that serve the Westfield and Mountainside area depend on the donations from residents of these towns to add to their constant needs for blood," a spokesman said. "By giving one unit of blood you can help reduce that need."

Anyone in good health between the ages of 17 and 65 may donate blood. An appointment may be made by calling the local chapter office at 321 Elm St., Walk-in donors are also welcome.

Stolen purse is recovered

Westfield police have recovered a purse stolen from the seat of a Mountain avenue resident's car.

The borough resident reported to Mountainside police last week that she backed her car out of the garage and went inside her home to get her child. She said when she returned, her purse, containing $10 and credit cards, was gone.

The purse was found on North Chestnut street in Westfield, with the money missing.

Regional

having problems... In many ways, he's our most important 'front man' in the community."

But Natalie Waldt of Springfield, commenting for the board majority, said she has "enough faith in our administrators' ability to pick an assistant principal." Mrs. Waldt also said she has heard many favorable comments about Pereira from Springfield residents—"This man is a complete asset to us."

The appointment was recommended by the school district superintendent, Dr. Donald Merachnik, and his personnel assistant, Charles Bauman.

"I feel completely confident" about the recommendation, said Bauman, describing Pereira as a man with "the skill, perception and sensitivity to make a really first-rate administrator." Pereira went to work for the district in the mid-1960s as a teacher, Bauman said, and later did his administrative internship at Dayton.

In other action at the meeting Tuesday:

—The board approved a trip to New Orleans next Feb. 2-9 for the David Brearley High band of Kenilworth, invited to the Mardi Gras. The band will march in parades on Feb. 5 and Feb. 6 in New Orleans. Brearley Principal Joseph Malt said the band boosters' organization has agreed to raise all of the money to pay for the trip and to provide chaperones.

—Asst. Supt. Lew Fredericks reported that electrical conduits and a central stanchion base have been added to the contract for tennis courts under construction at Dayton. The additional cost is $1,490, Fredericks said, $400 less than an earlier estimate. Night-tennis enthusiasts had sought this preparatory work, so that pavement would not have to be torn up if lights are later added to the courts.

Radio, camera reported stolen

A car radio, a camera and audio equipment were all reported missing to Mountainside police last week.

The radio, worth $170, was taken from a car left at a Rt. 22 gas station. An employee at Addressograph-Mimeograph reported a camera was stolen from a desk at the firm. The camera is worth about $400.

Audio equipment, worth $300, was reported missing from the Design Center on Bristol road.

The Westfield YMCA is located at 138 Ferris pl.

"Racquetball is fun for the whole family," Goldt noted. "It's a sport you can actually play the first time you step on the court, and has proved to be an excellent sport for improving your overall condition."

Because the Westfield Y is now open seven days a week, the two new courts, which will offer a glass observation window, will allow for more convenient scheduling of court time.

"Businessmen will find this particularly helpful, because they will be able to schedule court time around their business hours."

"Racquetball is also perfect exercise for the housewife who may want to play the sport during the day, and again, it is the perfect family sport," Goldt added.

"Put racquetball together with our other programs and activities, including swimming, basketball, physical fitness and all the other exciting programs the Y offers, and you have a full range of activities for the entire family the year-around."

Goldt said the enthusiasm shown by Y members to the opening of the new racquetball courts has been "very gratifying."

"Our old court, which will be the new squash court, was heavily used and members found it difficult to get the court time they wanted. This renovation project insures racquetball and handball enthusiasts some of the finest facilities in the area."

A brochure describing the facilities and membership fees will be mailed to area residents shortly.

Growing Older

STRETCH YOUR DOLLARS

Thrifty habits are especially useful for older Americans operating on fixed incomes. Put wise financial habits into practice. For example:

—Cooperate and work together for whatever is deemed important. Sometimes that means being willing to go without rather than using credit.

—Budget your money while keeping efficient records. When purchasing products, study labels, ads and literature carefully before making your choice.

—As much as 25 percent of every dollar can be wasted by making bad buys. Compare qualities and prices prior to purchase.

—Be the buyer instead of being sold on something. Don't let sales people talk you into something you really don't need.

—Plan ahead. Procure gifts at special sales months ahead of time.

—If you're using credit, keep purchases down as much as possible. Finance charges usually eat up the money you'd rather be spending on something else.

—Transportation costs can be easily cut. Reduce those unnecessary trips and walk whenever possible.

COMFORTABLE LIVING—Brighton at Barnegat homes feature roomy, comfortable living rooms with plush wall-to-wall carpeting and matching decorator drapes.

Holly Oak houses made for bargains

"Manchester is exactly the kind of area that everyone wants to live in, with clean air, sparkling lakes and active people involved in local government and the school system," said Bill Steinfield, marketing vice president of Investors Development Co., developers of Holly Oaks. "Now, Holly Oaks makes living in a new home available to families that know a bargain."

A feeling of the local area is engendered by a listing of what happens year-round nearby. There's Little League, other recreational programs for the kids, PTA and Scouting. And Ocean County offers its bays and beaches, skating rinks, theaters and amusement parks. There are two lakes in the immediate area, and Lebanon State Forest and the Pine Barrens are a short distance away. In addition, there's nearby Ocean County Community College, churches and such shopping facilities as Ocean County Mall.

Holly Oaks families who make a down payment of five percent (from $1,900) will pay approximately $319 a month, including the total mortgage and taxes. The payments are computed on the basis of 480 monthly payments at 8 3/4 percent interest.

In addition to the low taxes, residents will save money on energy costs. New Jersey Central Power & Light Co. acknowledged this fact when it awarded Holly Oaks its energy conservation award for such fuel-saving features as insulating windows, high "R" sheathing and full thick wall insulation.

The first buyers will benefit from the early availability of Holly Oaks homes, which can be delivered to the first families by late October," Steinfield stated.

The Holly Oaks models are open for viewing daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. To reach Holly Oaks, interested parties may take the Garden State Parkway to Exit 88; then proceed on Rt. 70 west approximately five miles.

AMID TREES as tall as the local taxes are low, the Holly 1 model at Holly Oaks, on a quarter-acre of wooded land off Rt. 70 in Manchester, is priced at $43,900. The four-bedroom family home also has both a family room and den, an eat-in kitchen and 1 1/2 baths. Holly Oaks is located five miles west of Garden State Parkway Exit 88 on Rt. 70

Sunny Brook sells $1 million

Sales of nearly $1 million in the three-month period ending May 31 at Sunny Brook, a townhouse community at Lumberton, were reported this week by Joan Harding, director of marketing for the U.S. Home Corp. of New Jersey.

The homes, clustered in groupings of six and eight units, are priced from $30,990. There are 240 units at Sunny Brook, located on Eayrestown road 1 1/2 miles from the center of Mount Holly. Community recreation facilities include a swimming pool and a Tudor-style clubhouse with a large meeting room, lounge with fireplace, catering kitchen and large swimming pool surrounded by spacious sundeck.

The townhomes are also in English Tudor style, with exterior cedar framing. In a country setting, they are surrounded by woodlands on private streets with sidewalks and curbing. Open for viewing are six furnished models of one- and two-story design with one to three bedrooms and one to 2 1/2 baths.

The six-room "Falmouth" is one of the models. It has three bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths. A feature of this home is its 19 x 10-foot family room with sliding glass doors opening to a private backyard. The dining room is served by an L-shaped kitchen.

The living room, slightly smaller than the family room, faces the front with a bay window and coat closet by the entrance door. Also on the first floor are a powder room and a laundry-utility room. Upstairs, the master bedroom is in a suite in with a private bathroom, dressing room and walk-in closet. The other two bedrooms each have closets, and there is also a linen closet and second full bathroom.

Each townhome buyer receives a deed to his property and has the same equity advantages as the owner of a detached single-family home, Harding said. The buyer may deduct real estate taxes and mortgage interest from federal tax returns.

Tasks such as grass cutting, snow removal and exterior home chores are cared for by professionals for a stipulated monthly fee. Sunny Brook has city sewers and water, Harding said, and utility wiring is being installed underground. Streets are paved.

To visit the model area at Sunny Brook on Eayrestown Road in Lumberton, the driver may take the New York Turnpike to Exit 5, goes to Mt. Holly on Rt. 541, turns left in the center of town to Pine Street, turns right on Pine and drives 1 1/4 miles to the community. (Pine becomes Eayrestown road after crossing Route 38.) From Philadelphia, the driver takes Rt. 295 onto Rt. 38 to Mt. Holly, turns right on Eayrestown.

Second golf course in final design stages

A second golf course for Leisure Village West, Manchester, is now in the final stages of design. The additional sports facility, supplementing the course built at the time of the inception of this adult community, is planned to meet the demand from ever increasing numbers of golfing enthusiasts at Leisure Village West.

Choice lots at the perimeters of the new golf course for homes in The Greenery series are now offered for sale. According to Terry T. Bickel, vice-president for sales at Leisure Technology Northeast, these lots are convenient for golfers.

The Greenery homes are suited to take full advantage of a golf course setting, as they are designed with high and wide windows opening out from living rooms, kitchens and The Greenery "sun rooms."

Plans for the new golf course are being developed by the department of environmental design of Leisure Technology Corp., headed by Glenn W. Cardoso, vice-president for environmental design, in conjunction with Chuck Wilson, CGCS (Certified Golf Course Superintendent), who manages the department's landscaping services. The golf course architect is Packard, Inc., of La Grange, Ill., designer of the original course at Leisure Village West, the course at Woodlake Golf and Country Club, Lakewood, and other golf courses throughout the nation.

In excess of 15,000 rounds of golf were recorded as played at Leisure Village West in a May to September period of 1976 by its residents and guests. A good many Leisure Village West residents claim they learned to play the game after moving into the development.

In planning the course, the intention has been to respect the environmental integrity of the area, according to Chuck Wilson, key planner of many Leisure Village sports facilities. Wilson explained that native vegetation will be removed only where necessary, with every effort made to protect and preserve native trees and plant material.

The entire area will be covered by an automated sprinkler system. The course itself will appear similar in nature to the course now existing at Leisure Village West, but will contain some different challenges in the game.

Leisure Village West is an adult and retirement community located on Rt. 70 in Manchester. The Greenery patio homes, priced from $39,990 to $50,990, and Countryside villa homes, for sale from $26,990 to $32,990, are offered, along with a package of amenities including security, recreational facilities and maintenance services.

In addition to golf, Leisure Village West offers a swimming pool, a lake for boating and fishing, shuffleboard courts, a greenhouse and a recreation building equipped with everything from billiards and crafts rooms as well as an auditorium with a stage to a complete television studio for the com-

Building completed

Peter F. Pasbjerg reports completion of a three-story office building at 100 Morris ave., Springfield, and lease of space by four insurance companies. They are New York Life Insurance Company, Acacia Mutual Life Insurance Company, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, and Equitable Life Insurance Company.

The Pasbjerg office served as exclusive broker for the 31,000 square-foot building constructed by Musto-Popolillo of Kenilworth at the hub of Essex and Union Counties. The Pasbjerg organization also handled the construction and permanent financing for this building through their warehouse lines and Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company. Gabriel Calanda, A.I.A., was the architect for the building, which is located at intersections of Routes 82, 24 and Interstate 78 for easy access to the Garden State Parkway, the New Jersey Turnpike, Routes 287, 280, 80 and 22.

The four insurance firms will occupy 78 percent of the building, leaving a few choice suites available for immediate occupancy. Space can be divided from a minimum of 2,000 square feet to fit the tenant's requirements.

The all-brick structure is on a landscaped park like setting with on-site and undercover parking for 125 vehicles.

Laurel Brook condos offer pool, tennis

The social season is in full swing at Laurel Brook condominium community located on Rt. 88, Brick Town. The pool clubhouse and tennis courts are open late for evening relaxation.

"The pool is kept open late evenings for working residents to enjoy at the end of the day, especially in this hot weather spell," explained Judy Fox, sales manager of the community which has registered a stream of steady sales to un-marrieds as well as young families and retirees.

Laurel Brook offers one and two-bedroom brick ranch-style homes priced from $27,990. The community was built in 1970, but homes were not released for sale until the past year. Many people who were tenants at Laurel Brook chose to buy their homes, recognizing it would take an estimated $40,000 to reproduce the same homes today with higher prices of lumber, materials and labor.

Immediate possession is another advantage to recent buyers. "We have empty, refurbished homes available, so that someone who buys cash can move in almost immediately—as soon as the paper work of title transfer is completed."

Laurel Brook at Brick Town sales and information office is open seven days a week, and evenings by appointment. The decorated model-sales office is just inside the gateway to the community, facing Rt. 88, 1 mile west of Laurelton Circle, Brick Town.

SUTTON VILLAGE, a condominium community off Lanes Mill road and Rt. 549, east of Garden State Parkway exit 91 in Bricktown, offers a variety of units built in quads and priced from $24,990 to $33,490. The community is being developed by Landall Corp. of River Edge.

New residents feted at Crestwood party

A recent get-acquainted luncheon given by Crestwood Village welcomed over 300 new residents and their guests. The catered event was held in Independence Hall at the retirement community in Whiting.

Featured speaker at the luncheon was John J. Sweeney, mayor of Manchester Township, who commented that he, too, had retired to Crestwood only a few years ago.

Herman promoted

Loretta A. Herman, manager of the Elizabeth office of r. e. Scott co., Realtors has been appointed a Vice President of the real estate brokerage and property management firm Robert E. Scott, Jr., company President, announced.

Herman who is the current President of the Eastern Union County Board of Realtors recently rejoined the Scott organization after operating her own brokerage business for several years.

Herman is a resident of Union and has extensive sales experience in residential and commercial investment brokerage. A licensed real estate broker, she is a graduate of Battin High School, the Professional School of Business and holds the designation Graduate of Realtors Institute. She is a member of the Independent Fee Appraisers Association and has successfully concluded courses in commercial investment and syndication at The Hall Institute of Real Estate in Massachusetts and industrial development workshops conducted by the State of New Jersey, Department of Labor and Industry. As a real estate salesman, she was one of the first associate members of the Eastern Union County Board of Realtors to be elected to the Board of Directors as a tribute to her service to the industry.

Ted Boyer, master of ceremonies and resident sales manager, reminded the assemblage that Crestwood Village "now contains 22 stores and three banks; a medical building, six doctors and dentists, with expected completion this fall of an expanded $500,000 medical facility; 10 buses provide fare-free service within the community and to nearby towns and shopping centers; and brand-new church, with additional ones being planned on land already set aside."

Crestwood's vice-president, Jan A. Kokes, presented a plaque of appreciation of Dr. Harlan C. Essertier, who came to Manchester Township eight years ago and was the first local physician to serve Crestwood's residents.

Crestwood's founder and president, Mike Kokes, paid tribute to Naomi Rice, who organized and directs the manifold activities of CARES (Crestwood Assistance, Referral, and Employment Service). CARES is completely a volunteer organization of residents helping residents.

Ranch homes at Holly Park offer space

Recent surveys of the home building industry show people who are moving from large family homes in congested areas too often find new homes with too little actual living space, rooms too small for the gracious lifestyle they have become accustomed to. This situation has been remedied at Holly Lake Park, community of one and two-bedroom ranch-style carriage homes in Tuckerton.

The community itself encompasses a beautiful woodland with private 18-acre spring-fed lake framed by woods in their natural state, drawing birds and small, interesting wildlife. Alongside the wide lake is Holly Lake Park's nine-hole golf course, a challenging convenience. Nearby is the clubhouse-social hall and swimming pool, the first of a wide span of amenities for this condominium community which has drawn retired professionals among its first residents as well as young marrieds and single people.

There are no age restrictions at Holly Lake Park, and homes are priced from a low $27,900.

Condos' sales up

Laurel Brook at Brick Town had an unprecedented 41 sales during July and August, Mrs. Judy Fox, sales manager of the 133-home condominium community located on Rt. 88 West in this Jersey Shore town, said.

At the same time, Mrs. Fox announced a price raise of $1000 per home on the remaining models, bringing the lowest-priced Laurel Brook home—an "expandable" one-bedroom model with full basement including paneled, carpeted recreation room, powder room, utility room and space for study or additional bedroom—to $28,990, effective immediately.

Built in 1970, with an estimated cost to build today of approximately $40,000 for the same home, Laurel Brook is offering one and two-bedroom basic homes, each with the fully "expandable" lower level plus private entry and garage. The community also includes swimming pool, tennis, clubhouse—social hall and landscaping that enhances the red brick of the ranch-style residential structures.

Pick Of The LP's: The packaging of a hit sound would be quite enough in the way of achievement for most bands. But being content with the dutiful resurfacing of hit formulas is not Seals and Croft's idea of musical and artistic progress. With every right to sit back and rest on their laurels, Jim Seals and Dash Crofts have never elected to play it safe. There has been a trip through many musical realms—through the folk and bluegrass of their early years, to jazzy tunes like "Diamond Girl" and "Summer Breeze" to the surprising R & B stance of "Get Closer" and their work with Carolyn Willis.

Higher Tar Cigarettes Lose Taste Exclusive.

Taste dominance of higher tar cigarettes challenged by MERIT breakthrough.

For years, you couldn't get real tobacco flavor without high tar. Low tar cigarettes just couldn't measure up. Until MERIT.

Until a breakthrough in tobacco science resulted in a way to boost tobacco flavor without the usual corresponding increase in tar:

The result was 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. MERIT and MERIT 100's were packed with this special tobacco. And taste-tested against a number of higher tar cigarettes.

Overall, smokers reported they liked the taste of both MERIT and MERIT 100's as much as the taste of the higher tar cigarettes tested.

Cigarettes having up to 60% more tar!

Only one cigarette has 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. And you can taste it.

Kean College to exhibit state bicentennial items

The New Jersey State Museum's Bicentennial Caravan, a traveling exhibition of more than 100 decorative and utilitarian objects from the Revolutionary War period, will be at Kean College in Union today until Oct. 20.

Housed in two 40-foot trailers, it represents a modified version of the "Pulse of the People: New Jersey 1763-1789" exhibition shown at the State Museum in Trenton and, later, the New Jersey Historical Society in Newark during the first half of 1976. It includes maps, documents, weapons, furniture, paintings and a variety of utensils. Setting the theme for the exhibition are appropriate quotations from the personal journals of Elias Boudinot, a prominent New Jersey patriot who was a leader in securing the state's ratification of the U.S. Constitution. A lecturer wearing clothes of the Revolutionary period will greet exhibition visitors.

Major funding for the exhibition was provided by the New Jersey American Revolution Bicentennial Celebration Commission with additional financial assistance from the Friends of the New Jersey State Museum.

While the exhibition is at Kean College, it will be open to the public from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday. There is no charge for admission. Information on visits by school groups is available by phoning 527-2660.

State unit to study New Jersey libraries

A study of the structure and organization of New Jersey's libraries has been launched by the State Library. The study, to be conducted by the state's County and Municipal Government Study Commission, is scheduled to be completed in December of next year. The work will be federally financed under Title I of the Library Services and Construction Act. The study will concentrate on the statutory base for library services, administrative structure for libraries in the state, fiscal implications and funding sources and perceptions and attitudes of librarians and library users. Commissioner of Education Fred G. Burke stressed that the commission in its survey will be seeking input from New Jersey's library community.

An advisory committee has been formed to lend the expertise of its members to the commission's planning and conduct of the study. The committee will have representatives from the State Library Advisory Council and from librarians and library trustees from public, county, college, school and special libraries. David C. Palmer, acting state librarian, will represent Burke.

The study commission has engaged two professional library consultants, Nettie B. Taylor of the Maryland Department of Education and William Roehrenbeck, former director of the Jersey City Public Library, now retired.

The final report of the commission will be the focal point of a statewide library conference in the spring of 1979.

Eclipse of sun warning: don't look directly at it

Due next Wednesday is a seldom seen phenomenon—an eclipse of the sun, partially visible in varying degrees over most of the United States, including Alaska and Hawaii. The New Jersey Society for the Prevention of Blindness this week cautioned those anxious to see this event that direct viewing can result in serious eye injury, even blindness.

"Many people are under the false assumption that it is safe to watch the partial phase of an eclipse," said the New Jersey society's regional director, John P. Kehoe. "This is a dangerous fallacy—the partial phase is the more dangerous to view. Even though only a portion of the sun remains visible, the light coming through has full intensity and can burn the retina, the delicate, back layer of the eye that transmits images to the brain. The principle is similar to the way a magnifying glass can burn a hole in a piece of paper with the sun's rays refracted on the paper."

Pointing to the hazards of direct viewing of the sun on a "regular" day, the society warns of the special danger during the eclipse. "The sun's bright rays prevent us from gazing directly on a regular day," Kehoe said. "During an eclipse, these rays are progressively blocked, making it easier to look directly at the sun. Invisible, dangerous infrared rays continue to be emitted, and can burn the eyes instantaneously, without your being aware of it. Burns to the retina are incurable and can produce a blind spot in the victim's field of vision—in the vital area used for reading and close work."

The society warns there is no safe way to view the eclipse directly. Results of a survey conducted by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, the New Jersey Society's parent organization, following the March 7, 1970, eclipse reported a total of 145 cases of solar retinopathy (eclipse burn of the retina) in the United States. Of those cases reported, almost 60 percent of the injuries to the eyes resulted from direct viewing of the sun during the eclipse. "Sunglasses, goggles, smoked glass filters or home-made viewing devices cannot give the eyes 100 percent protection from the harmful rays of the sun," Kehoe said. "Watching the eclipse directly, even for a quick moment, could mean serious problems for the careless observer." Estimated times for Wednesday's partial eclipse are 5:30 p.m. on the East Coast and 4:30 p.m. on the West Coast. The moon passing between the earth and the sun will hide approximately 13-20 percent of the sun from view; western states will experience a greater percentage of eclipse than eastern states.

The New Jersey Society is an affiliate of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, the oldest voluntary health agency nationally engaged in preventing blindness through community service programs, public and professional education and research.

Handicapped rights on TV

The rights of the handicapped and adequate provisions for their freedom of travel will be discussed on New Jersey Public Television's "Jerseyfile" on Monday, Oct. 17, at 8:30 p.m.

Ziggy Shapiro, who is active in two organizations for the handicapped, will discuss federal legislation that insures that otherwise qualified handicapped individuals shall not be excluded from any programs or activities receiving federal financial assistance.

WORTH REPEATING
Tommy chuckled when the teacher read the story of a man who swam a river three times before breakfast.

"You do not doubt that a trained swimmer could do that, do you?" asked the teacher.

"No, Miss Smith," replied Tommy, "but I wonder why he didn't make it four times and get back to the side where his clothes were."

"Low price for such high quality!"

- Toshiba SA-320 AM/FM Stereo Receiver
- B•i•C 920 Belt-Drive Record Changer
- Two Jensen 20 Speaker Systems

Here's a thrilling home entertainment center, packed with extras you don't normally find in this low price range.

The heart of this system is Toshiba's brilliantly engineered SA-320 receiver. It has an advanced front-end design for increased FM sensitivity to pull in those distant stations. It also boasts a full complement of controls, including FM muting, loudness compensation, hi-filter, dual tuning meters, and tape monitor. An outstanding performer in anyone's book.

Next is B•i•C's ever-reliable 920 belt-drive record changer. It will give you years of quiet, precise operation because the moving parts have been cut to the barest minimum. A top-rated Shure cartridge has been included to make sure you get the most out of your records.

And wait 'til you hear these crisp, clean Jensen 20's. They'll belt out those lows and coax out those highs better than many other bookshelf speakers selling for more money. You'll fall in love with them, just as we did.

Here's how Bamberger's Club Plan works. Simply choose your pattern from the ones shown (or see the complete assortment of Lenox at the Bamberger's nearest you). Make a down payment of 10% in cash, by check or money order and take up to 24 months to pay the balance, with monthly payments as low as $10. And remember, no added FINANCE or other carrying charges ever. (The cost of credit is included in the price quoted for goods and services.)

To qualify for Bamberger's Club Plan Account, your minimum purchase must be $200, exclusive of sales tax, and is subject to credit approval, of course. Take the cash price of your purchase, including 5% N.J. sales tax, is $34.95, your down payment will be only $3.49. You pay the balance of $31.46 (the deferred payment price) in 23 monthly payments of $1.36 and a final payment of $13.96. No finance charges will be added.

We will deliver china as soon as possible, but please allow 4 to 8 weeks for delivery. Come in, write or phone for Club Plan application.
