Schools seek to comply with T & E rulings

BY DENISE RENNER MARTIN
After a year, the mere mention of the "Thorough and Efficient" state mandate still stirs the ire of most school administrators and the educational jargon still elicits confusion from many parents.

The state legislation which has caused the uprising, began in 1975 with the passage of Chapter 212 which sought to assure that New Jersey's system of schools would become one of "the finest in the country." The legislative goal was "to provide to all children in New Jersey, regardless of socio-economic status or geographic location, the educational opportunity which will prepare them to function politically, economically and socially in a democratic society."

No one disagrees with the principle, but there is much objection to the manner in which it is being carried out. Mountainside Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Levin Hanigan voices the concern most commonly held by other administrators—the amount of paper work he is saddled with to comply with state requirements.

"It's frustrating," Hanigan said. "I don't need the state looking over my shoulder. Most of the suburban districts were implementing the kinds of programs T and E requires anyway." T and E tried to give the most money to the poorer, mostly urban districts. But Hanigan says the money is not going to educational programs, but is being funneled through the bureaucracy.

After having the mandate in practical effect for just over a year, the Mountainside school district is in the third stage of operation—determining the difference between the goals the district set (the first stage) and the actual level of proficiency the students are at in relation to those goals, as planned in the second step.

To determine this, the local administration will soon create a task force of parents, teachers, administrators and board members to take a look at the objectives set and assess what needs the district still has.

This task force will create subcommittees to analyze language arts, reading and mathematics specifically. If the final determination is that the district has already instituted programs to achieve the goals, that will be reported to the state. If it is found that needs still exist, new programs must be established (the fourth step). The final phase of operations in T and E is evaluating how the district measures the extent to which its educational programs actually fulfill their expected purposes as set by the original goals.

The idea is for these five steps to be implemented in a five year cycle over and over again. In 1981 the process will start again.

ONE OF THE specific goals the state wishes to achieve is programs for both the gifted child and the slow learner.

The Mountainside district, Hanigan said, was forced to eliminate its program for high achievers in the first through third grades. Hanigan said he believes "very strongly in gifted programs, but we must have the criteria to identify these students." Opponents of what is locally known as the "tracking system" felt the lower grades were too early to identify gifted students and that it was an undemocratic process. Others felt the young students were pushed too hard with the more difficult work.

Students in the sixth through eighth grades are still ranked and the administration has the option to rank the fourth and fifth grades if it wishes.

As for remedial education for the slower learners, Hanigan said he would rate Mountainside's program as one of the best in the area. He said "We do it well because we're so small. We can identify the students very easily."

The state has allocated $21,701 to the district for what is now called compensatory education, that is, remedial teaching in the basic subjects.

GOP aspirants name Biunno to treasurer post

William Biunno, president of the Mountainside Board of Education, has been appointed campaign treasurer for the three local Republicans seeking office in the Nov. 8 general election.

In a joint statement, council candidates Bruce Geiger and Tim Benford and tax collector Ruth Gibadlo said:

"Bill Biunno brings an impressive record of fiscal management and community involvement to the campaign. He is a welcome addition to the campaign team." Biunno joins Shirley Horner, who was appointed campaign manager, in overseeing the administrative details for the GOP trio.

Benford also announced the final two Sunday night campaign meetings this Sunday and Nov. 6 will be held at his residence, 1464 Whipoorwill way. All interested parties are invited, he added.

2 drivers hurt in 2 accidents

Two drivers received minor injuries last week in accidents on Rt. 22 west-bound in Mountainside.

Dean Rednieri of Paterson complained of shoulder pains following an accident with Anthony Lynch of North Plainfield.

Police reports said Rednieri stopped in the fast lane in slowed traffic and Lynch thought the car was going to move and struck Rednieri in the rear. Lynch was uninjured.

In the second incident, Frank Chepica of Union complained of pains in the lower arm after an accident at the intersection of the highway and New Providence road.

Police said Mary Murphy of Mountainside was crossing the intersection with a green light and Chepica was going west against a red light on Rt. 22, striking the Murphy car.

The Mountainside resident reported no injuries.

Plainfield man given sentence

County court Judge John P. Walsh has sentenced a Plainfield man to an open-ended sentence in the state men's reformatory for receiving a stolen motor vehicle in Mountainside last March.

Fred Banks will serve concurrent sentences for obtaining a title to a motor vehicle by misrepresentation in Springfield and for possession of a weapon in Plainfield. A charge of disorderly conduct filed in Mountainside was dismissed.

THOMAS SPINA

Spina sworn in to fill unexpired term on council

Thomas Spina was sworn in last week by Borough Clerk Helen Dunne to fill the vacated council seat of John O'Connell. O'Connell resigned his position as of Oct. 15 to accept a job in Chicago.

Spina will hold the position until the end of next year, when O'Connell's term expires. He must then run for election.

Spina, who is a 15-year resident of Mountainside, served on the Board of Education from 1970 to 1973. He was on the Mayor's Council for Youth from 1968 to 1970 and is this year's chairman of the community's United Fund drive.

He was a Little League manager for five years and a Boy Scout leader. He is a member of the Mountainside Music Association and has served on the PTA safety committee.

Originally from Lyons Falls, New York, Spina holds a bachelor's degree in business management from Syracuse University. He has also done graduate work in the same field at Fairleigh-Dickinson University. He is group insurance sales manager for northern New Jersey for Connecticut General Insurance.

His wife, Ruth, a piano teacher, has been president of the Mountainside Music Association, active in the PTA and has helped with past Board of Education elections.

The Spinas have two children, Rick and Linda, both students at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

The new councilman said he "was very happy to be appointed" and is "pleased to serve the community in a different capacity." He will assume O'Connell's duties as fire commissioner.

Fund drive in full gear in borough

Preparations have been completed for this year's borough-wide mailing by the Mountainside Community Fund and residents can expect to find the familiar return mailer envelopes coming to them shortly, a spokesman said this week.

As in recent years, the trustees voted to contact Mountainside residents exclusively through the mail. No door-to-door soliciting or telephone campaign will be employed.

In an open message to borough residents, the fund's board of trustees said: "As the holiday season is rapidly drawing upon us, our thoughts quite naturally move toward appreciation for all the good things we have. And the residents of Mountainside can once again display their appreciation for the life-saving work our local Rescue Squad provides and the myriad services we receive from the other organizations who share in the funds we collect."

This year's drive chairman is Tom Spina, who is joined by three former drive chairmen on the board of trustees: Mabel Young, Tim Benford and Nancy Rau. Other trustees include Marge Mass, Larry Curtiss, Bob Shields, Grace Reed and Jim Haughey.

Driver injured in auto accident

A Lebanon woman was treated at Overlook Hospital for minor head injuries Friday night following a two-car accident on Rt. 22.

Patricia Luna told police she was slowing down in traffic. The car behind her, driven by John Burroughs of Gladstone, was also stopping in traffic. Burroughs told police his foot slipped off the brake and he struck the Luna car in the rear. The woman was released after treatment at the hospital.

Mrs. Byrne to visit here

New Jersey First Lady Jean Byrne will be making a campaign swing into Mountainside on behalf of her husband, Gov. Brendan Byrne, on Nov. 1. Her visit for "Coffee and the Issues" will be an opportunity to talk with Mrs. Byrne.

Mrs. Byrne said she is "looking forward to exchanging views with Mountainside residents on such issues as mental health, mental retardation, environmental protection and problems of the elderly." She will be the guest of Lorraine and Jack Leonard, 1020 Elston Drive, Mountainside at 9:30 a.m. Those interested in joining Mrs. Byrne to talk about the issues can call the Leonards at 232-1543.

Candidate profile For Borough Council

When Bruce Geiger of Mountainside learned he was unopposed as candidate for election to a third term as councilman, he said he felt he had to work twice as hard for reelection.

Geiger, who is Borough Council president, interpreted his position as an implied vote of confidence. He said, "There is also the obligation to be especially worthy of their confidence in the next three years."

The Republican is chairman of the public works and engineering committee and has been involved in both the Charles street-Briar Hills circle flood project in conjunction with Springfield and the reconstruction of the New Providence road bridge over Nomahegan Brook.

He has also been active in opposing challenges to Mountainside's single family zoning laws, namely the proposed Chatham Realty Company's condominiums planned for the intersection of Rt. 22 and New Providence road.

Originally from Springfield, Geiger has lived on Saddle Brook road for 15 years with his wife, Ronnie, and their three children; Lorraine, 16; Bruce, 14, and Judy, 12.

He is a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School and served four years in the Air Force, returning to work at Geiger's Cider Mill in Westfield where he is a partner.

He studied accounting and economics at the New School for Social Research in New York, Rutgers University and the International Association of Accountants.

He has been a volunteer fireman in the municipality and served as chief in 1971. He is a member of the Elks Club and a director of the Eastern Union County Chamber of Commerce.

Borough GOP starts members' campaign

Roy Mumford, president of the Mountainside Republican Club, has announced an intensive membership drive to generate increased activity in the club from the more than 2,000 registered Republicans in the borough. "The Mountainside Republicans have become a much more active, viable organization in the last year and now that we have the momentum going we want to keep it. We believe the club is serving a very necessary purpose by bringing Republicans together regularly to exchange views and make their feelings about government known," he said.

Mumford noted that this is the first time in a number of years that the GOP organization has held regular monthly meetings, sponsored a fund-raising event in the spring and a campaign kickoff in the fall and attracted guest speakers from the ranks of elected Republicans in the county and state.

The fund-raiser, a pancake breakfast and the campaign kickoff cocktail party were sponsored in conjunction with the Republican Municipal Committee of which Ed Gibadlo is chairman. Twenty committeemen and women in the borough's 10 election districts make up the Municipal Committee. The club vice-president, Monroe Nestler, has announced that more than 300 people were present at various times during the recent cocktail party. He said the figure is well in excess of the attendance at champagne kickoffs of previous years.

Senator calls Byrne remarks 'unbecoming'

State Sen. Peter J. McDonough (R-22) said this week that Gov. Brendan Byrne's "name-calling and obvious distortions" during televised debates with his Republican opponent were "unbecoming and no way for a governor to act."

"Although some people apparently think words like 'liar' and 'hypocrite' live up a debate, I believe they demean the office and have no place in a public forum," McDonough said. "I congratulate Sen. Ray Bateman for not lowering himself to that level. McDonough noted that he had a total of 30 minutes during the past two debates to speak about his record. "I cannot recall a single positive remark the governor made," McDonough said. "Instead, he resorted to name-calling and nit-picking of Senator Bateman's 19-year legislative voting record."

"It appears Mr. Byrne can't find a single accomplishment in his own record that is worth talking about," McDonough added.

IN CONGRESS

Harrison Williams

In Washington, there is a group known as the National Transportation Policy Study Commission which is taking a critical look at the way we move people and products across the country.

Created by Federal law, the commission has been charged with preparing a report outlining the nation's transportation needs between now and the year 2000. This report will eventually serve as the basis for legislative action by Congress and administrative action by the President.

As a member of the 19-person commission, I have been thinking of ways to dramatize New Jersey's transit needs to this impressive collection of transportation experts. Without a doubt, New Jersey is one of the nation's leading transportation hubs, so it stands to reason that our state is an ideal place to see how national policies affect the average patron of transportation services.

At my urging, the commission will travel to Camden and Jersey City on Nov. 15 and 16 for a first-hand look at transportation problems in our state. Through excursions by rail, highway and helicopter and by listening to local and state transit officials and concerned citizens groups, I think the commission will be able to gain a real feel for what our state — and our nation — need in the transportation field.

Among the many issues we will consider during these two days of hearings are: — mass transportation service in Philadelphia area particularly through the Lindenwold-Camden-Philadelphia corridor; — improved service through Camden and Atlantic counties to Atlantic City, to serve the needs of a revitalized coastal resort; — problems with Amtrak and ConRail commuter service through New Jersey; — improved commuter service in the Plainfield corridor, with the use of previously-committed federal funds; — the Port Authority's involvement in mass transportation; and, — commuter service through Hudson County, perhaps by light rail service from Bayonne to Jersey City.

Maguire says facts distorted

Assemblyman William J. Maguire, (R-22), the sponsor of product liability legislation in the Assembly, said this week opponents have "consciously distorted the intent of this legislation or simply do not understand the public need for it."

He noted that in a recent political mailing, the Democratic candidates in District 22 referred to the product liability legislation as a "heartless bill that would limit the right of a parent to collect damages from a manufacturer for injuries."

But Maguire claimed that his product liability bill would "dramatically" cut insurance costs "while increasing protection for the consumer by guaranteeing him compensation even after his case is heard in the courts."

Local schools

(Continued from page 1) The Mountainside district who had small groups for children who need extra tutoring. The superintendent feels the mandate for special compensatory education teachers is detracting from the ideal situation of having these small groups stay together all day long and not be pulled out of class to have individual instruction.

The state will soon be evaluating how each district is doing in relation to the goals it set. Hanigan said most likely the district's progress will be approved since Mountainside has been in the "J" classification—those schools with the highest combination of various test scores.

IN CONGRESS

Matthew Rinaldo

The federal government is operating the biggest scrap paper pile the world has ever seen.

Indeed, if all the scrap paper and useless government records were recycled, they would save the equivalent of all the timberland destroyed by fire in the United States this year.

Besides the tremendous waste of natural resources, the government's paper pile costs millions of dollars a year just to maintain. More than 30 million cubic feet of federal records are stored in 15 locations throughout the nation. The bulk of the records have absolutely no historic or legal importance.

In addition, old government papers and reports are piled high in the National Archives, creating costly sorting and indexing problems. There is so much on file that it has become increasingly harder to find records that are important.

A massive recycling of even half the records in warehouses and in the National Archives would save valuable space and millions of dollars.

To bring this about, I have introduced a bill in Congress that would compel federal agencies to limit severely the length of time they store non-historic, routine records.

Under my bill, bureaucrats would no longer be able to hoard tons of records in rented warehouses for as long as 50 years. A strict watch would be kept to reduce substantially the extent and cost of stored records.

The bill would in no way reduce or interfere with records needed by individuals or organizations seeking to trace family "roots" or for research into significant events in the nation's history. Nor would it affect documents which might be needed in litigation.

The target is the huge and mounting volume of routine government papers that pile up week by week in every federal agency.

This is a financially attractive target so far as taxpayers are concerned for it costs 12 times as much to store papers in a federal agency building than in facilities operated by the National Archives and Record Service.

It costs 54 cents a cubic foot to store papers in premises of the Archives and Record Service, $6.79 a cubic foot in a federal agency.

About 1.3 million cubic feet of government papers are classified as historic Archive records. Another 12.9 million cubic feet of files are in the Archive Records Service premises awaiting analyses for possible retention or disposal.

Area executives to help in United Way campaign

Donald Carpenter, IBM Corporation's data processing division manager, Cranford and chairman of the United Way of Union County's loaned executive program, has announced that six area executives will assist the United Way's Loaned Executive Program for the 1977-78 campaign.

They are Stephen M. Patchell, who is returning to the program for his second year and is Western Electric Company's production department head in Clark; Edward MacGorman, department chief, Western Electric Co., Springfield; Charles Przywara, personnel director, Boorum-Pease, Vernon, McMillan, Amberg Co., Elizabeth; William Kleine, marketing manager, IBM Corp., Cranford; Wesley Philo, staff engineer, Exxon Chemical Co., USA, Linden, and William Welmer, special assistant to the president, Airco Industrial Gases, Murray Hill. The "Loaned Executive Program," now in its second year of operation, brings management expertise to the United Way's effort in achieving the goal of $1.6 million from major firms in the county. Employees in the major firms contribute 65 percent of this goal.

The advantage to companies who lend an executive to the United Way is the development of community relations for the company. The advantage to the United Way is the expertise of the men who do the job, Carpenter said.

He added, "Unusually low costs, only 3.9 percent or four cents out of every dollar contributed to the United Way, go for administration expenses. The loaned executive program supplements the United Way staff as a means of cost reduction, ensuring that contributed dollars by the community go the 73 agencies that are a part of the United Way."

Gymnasts turn back Cranford; Dayton host to county tourney

By MIKE MEIXNER
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School gymnastics squad, directed by coach Nancy Dougherty, defeated Cranford, 80.15 to 72.45, and then recorded its eighth victory in nine matches when Elizabeth, unable to muster up a team, defaulted. Dayton will play host to Millburn in a crucial meet tomorrow.

The Union County championships will be held Saturday night at 7 in the main gym at Dayton. This will be the first time a Springfield gymnastics team is host to a county tournament. Miss Dougherty will serve as chairperson and director of the meet. Trophies will be given to first-place finishers with the top three gymnasts in each event receiving ribbons. Since it is a county-sponsored event, an admission fee will be charged — $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Jill Lipton led Dayton to its impressive victory over Cranford, excelling in all four events and turning in one of the top scores ever by a Dayton gymnast. Jill finished first on the vaulting horse and on the balance beam (recording a score of 6.65), was second on the uneven parallel bars with a brilliant performance for a score of 6.75 and also competed in floor exercises, earning a very respectable total.

Barbara Calamusa won the bars event with a score of 7.7 and was second on the balance beam. Carol Wingard vaulted to a second-place finish with a score of 6.85, while Ellen Kaplan led Dayton in the floor exercise routine.

Booters beaten twice; Shindler out for year

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School soccer team lost two more

Minutemen fall to Summit by a 12-7 score

In a hard fought, well-played battle, the Springfield Minutemen B team lost a squeaker to Summit this week, 12 to 7.

Summit scored in the second period, returning a Neil Kesselica punt for a touchdown. Early in the fourth period, Summit got its second T.D. also on a punt return. Other than these two lapses the Springfield defense anchored at the ends by Tom and Rob Daniel, linebackers Benji Ford, Dagny Gigantino, Pete Rosen and Brett Walsh, deep backs Rich Policastro and Tony Apicello gave up very little yardage from Scrimmage.

After Summit's second score, Springfield had a long gain erased by a double penalty. The Minutemen then began an 85-yard drive with a first down and 30 yards to go from their own 15 yard line. Four sweeps by quarterback Brett Walsh, a reverse to Rob Daniel and a blast up the middle by Pete Rosen moved the ball to Summit's 20-yard line. Walsh then ran it in on a sweep led by great blocking up front.

After holding Summit to no gain Springfield got the ball for its last shot as time ran out. Credit should be given to B team players David Cole, Vince Castellani, Paul Caffrey, Paul Steve, Scott Nager, Scott Karen, Kevin Duffy, Mike Nicholson, Paul Santamore, Randy Horishny and Jack Zotti who have given a super effort even though they have been substantially out-manned and outsized in suffering through four straight losses.

Suburban Conference decisions last week, including a well-played game against the Millburn Millers. Coach James Skobo's varsity team will face Caldwell today and the Oratory Rams tomorrow. The Bulldog record has slipped to 1-10-1.

Dayton, hobbled by a muddy field, played Millburn even throughout the game before losing, 3-2, in the final stanza. The Bulldog offense was in high gear, with crisp passing throughout the afternoon. Scoring for Springfield were sophomore Bill Rose and senior co-captain Mike French — both recorded their initial varsity points. The half-back line was led by Steve Geltman who, apparently unnoticed the whole season, got the chance he was waiting for and proved his worth. His play was definitely starting and, perhaps starring, caliber. Helping him on offensive and defensive play were Joe Sangregorio and Robert Shapiro. Hustling Marc Meskin and rugged Michael Wittenberg led the fullbacks.

Conference power Verona, ranked among the state's top 10 teams, stomped the Bulldogs, 5-0. Adding to the Dayton woes was the broken arm suffered by goalie Steve Shindler. Trailing 3-0, Shindler made a beautiful save and was barreled into by an onrushing Verona lineman. Shindler gave a short "go get 'em" speech before leaving the field wearing a Dayton uniform for the last time.

Replacing Steve in the goal was David Lauhoff. Geltman turned in another big day. The offensive leader was Tim Harrigan; Tony Sangregorio used his head and feet to control the defense.

The junior varsity squad was shut out twice, as were the freshmen. Halfback Dave Barnes and goaltender Scott Worswick led Scott Shallcross' JV team. Johnny Gerndt paced the freshmen.

Harriers run for title tomorrow

By KIRK KUBACH
Cruising to its 12th victory, the Dayton cross country team, coached by Martin Taglienti and William Jones, successfully defeated West Orange by a score of 22-39. Dayton compiling a 12-1 record will race tomorrow in Warinanco Park, in Elizabeth, for the Suburban Conference crown.

Despite muddy conditions against West Orange, which was also held at Warinanco, Greg Rusbarsky captured first. Sophomores Jeff Knowles and Rich Bantell took third and fifth places, respectively.

Bus Lausten took sixth, followed by a swarm of Dayton runners. Brad Weiner took seventh; Pat Keramos, eighth; Kevin King, ninth and Kirk Kubach, tenth.

Middleweights defeat T-Birds on Caoli score

Playing for the first time without intermittent rain the Mountinside Jets middleweights outplayed the Chatham Township T-Birds and came away with a 6-0 victory.

On the first series of plays the Jets drove down the field on runs by John Caricato, Ben Caiola, Stew Jurczak and Bob Sefack. Key blocks were made by Bill Carthy, Robby Martignetti, Alex Caoli, Ed Mayer, John Alder, Bill Kellet, Fred Alholm and Jim Dascoli. The score came on a three-yard run by Ben Caoli, his first TD of the year.

The extra point failed as Bob Sefack was tackled inches from the goal.

Again Jet defense was superlative, holding the competition to minus yardage for the day. Doug Adams made two tackles to save the shutout, Robby Martignetti was in the visitors' backfield all day, causing errors and recovering a fumble. The linebacking of Alex Caoli and John Sefack and the hard tackling by Bill Carthy, John Smith, Jeff Lischin, Tim Reardon, Drew Sullivan and David Baron were outstanding.

Last Sunday in Mountainside the Jets played the T-Birds to a scoreless tie.

The game was a stalemate throughout the first half. Every drive was foiled by a fumble or pass interception. The blocking of Damion O'Donnell, Jim Dascoli, John Seamen, Jeff Lischin, Tim Reardon, Billy Kellet, John Alder, Bill Kellet, Alex Caoli, Robby Martignetti, Bill Carthy and Fred Alholm was outstanding. The running was handled by John Caricato, Ben Caiola, Bob Sefack and Doug Adams. On defense, Robby Martignetti, Mike Poole, Drew Sullivan, John Smith, Alex Caiola and Fred Alholm, Jim Dascoli, and Bob Sefack starred.

In the last 30 seconds, with the T-Birds on the two, the Jet defense held for four successive downs driving the opposition one yard back on each play. The key ingredient in stopping the opposition was the charging of Robby Martignetti, Alex Caoli, Doug Adams, John Alder and John Caricato.

Springfield gains second triumph, 13-0

Springfield's C team defeated a Berkeley Heights football team last week, 13-0, for its second victory of the season.

Springfield began the game by moving the ball 65 yards for a touchdown — scored by Anthony Romano, — who was given key blocks by Christian Petino, Donny Larzler and Mike Bonocore. Springfield led 6-0 after an attempt for an extra point failed.

Springfield's offense was led by Anthony Romano who rushed for 157 yards, and Reid Jones, who gained 105 yards. Springfield's defense, led by Mitchell Nenner, Danny Klinger and Danny Spots, excelled.

During the second quarter, a penalty brought back a touchdown run of 35 yards by Frankie Romano. In the third quarter, Springfield's quarterback, Chris Clemson, hit Peter Petino for 18 yards and completed another pass to John Baber. The defense, during that quarter, was led by Anthony Graziano, Anthony Boffa, Mark Gross and Eddie Cardinal as Springfield continued to contain Berkeley Heights.

Anthony Romano ran 45 yards for a touchdown later in the third quarter, and Glen Schneider made the extra point to give Springfield a 13-0 lead.

During the fourth quarter, Berkeley Heights was held in check on tackles by Danny Klinger and Tom Kisch and when David Salsido stole the ball on a Berkeley Heights handoff. Also contributing to Springfield's second victory were Kenny Burroughs, Brian Cole, Timmy Trivett, Mike Pisano and Gary Lalavee.

SPRINGFIELD DEFENDERS Tom Kisch, Danny Klinger, Peter Petino, Anthony Romano and Reid Jones converge

on a Berkeley Heights runner in a game played last week. Springfield won the game, 13-0.

Minutemen A lose to Summit

Springfield's Minutemen A team lost a hard-played game Sunday on the Summit's High school field, 26-16.

Springfield's offense was led by John Apicella with two touchdowns and 171 yards for the day. Tackling by Anthony Castellani, Chuck Bell, Drew Johns and Mike Burroughs did not stop Summit's offense.

Blocks by Mike Burroughs, Nino Parlevocchio, Jimmy Halpin and Danny Circelli led John Apicella run 30 yards for the first touchdown. Summit scored three touchdowns in the third quarter. The extra point attempts were stopped by Burroughs and Apicella.

Fishing great on Delaware

Delaware River fishing has been excellent recently from Trenton up to the New York state line, according to the New Jersey Division of Fish, Game and Shellfisheries.

Walleyes, smallmouth bass and muskellunge are the primary catches. Largemouth bass and many varieties of panfish and catfish are also being taken. Carp, suckers and eels are adding to the catches of some of the big river's veterans.

The division reminded anglers that the season for trout is closed in the Delaware River between New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Trout season in the rest of New Jersey is open until March 12, 1978.

For details about the Delaware River fishing regulations are listed in the N.J. Summary of 1977 Fishing Laws, available free from fishing license issuing agents.

5 honored as PTA Council marks 20th anniversary

The Springfield Council of Parent-Teacher Associations celebrated its 20th anniversary this month by presenting certificates of appreciation to Dr. Thelma Sandmeier, William Fallon, Dr. Robert Black, Muriel Craner and Dr. Fred Baruchin.

Dr. Sandmeier, principal of the Florence Gaudineer School, was honored for 20 years of service. Fallon, principal of the Thelma Sandmeier School, for 19 years; Dr. Black, Edward Walton School principal, for 12 years; Mrs. Crane, a PTA leader, for 10 years, and Dr. Baruchin, district superintendent, for five years.

The PTA Council reviewed its origin, as reported in its 20-year old minutes. "On October 3, 1957, at 2 p.m. at the Walton School, Mr. B. F. Newswanger called a meeting of the principals of Caldwell, Chisholm, Gaudineer and Waltons Schools... the presidents of the four local PTA units, namely, Mrs. A. Cunningham, Mrs. N. Christensen, Mrs. J. Patterson, and Mrs. J. Bender, and the Keywoman for the Springfield PTAs, Mrs. J. Jakobsen, for the purpose of discussing advantages of a council for the four Springfield PTAs."

The PTA Council was organized to provide a means of coordination and cooperation among the local PTA units, "and it continues its original function today," according to Eileen Dahmen, current president. "Some of the projects that have been coordinated over the years are blood bank, candidates' night, bicycle safety, UNICEF, membership drives and parent education meetings. Letters have been written over the years concerning crossing guards, sidewalks, traffic lights and bus safety, as well as many to legislators regarding important legislation that affected our children."

This year the PTA Council, working with the school district's Special Services department, is sponsoring parent rap sessions, starting with parents of kindergarten children. Dr. Charles Schwartz will moderate the sessions. Later in the year groups will be provided for parents of children in different age groups, Mrs. Dahmen said. In January a program will be held on state testing and its results, according to Mrs. Dahmen, and the district's special services department will be the topic of the March meeting.

Dems ask elimination of phone credit cards

Harry Pappas, Jim Spagnoli and Mel Chlewich today called for the cancellation of all telephone credit cards given to state legislators. Pappas, a Springfield resident who is the Democratic candidate for the State Senate in District 22, and his running mates for assembly seats, Spagnoli and Chlewich, said recent disclosures of possible abuse by some legislators made cancellation of the cards "the only viable alternative."

Pappas, the former Union County purchasing agent, said he and his running mates recognized that not all 120 lawmakers were abusing their cards. "However, so long as the possibility exists, we must take extraordinary measures to make sure the public is not being ripped off."

Spagnoli, a former assistant Union County prosecutor who lives in Scotch Plains, suggested that lawmakers be permitted to file vouchers to obtain reimbursement for any telephone calls they must make relating to state business. "The person who might be tempted to use his state credit card for a personal call would probably think twice before trying to obtain reimbursement for such a call," Spagnoli declared. "This would be particularly true if the voucher had to list the name of the person called and the reason for the call."

Noting that one of his opponents, Republican Assemblyman William Maguire, "had made a great show of tearing up his state health plan card," Chlewich asked whether Maguire, Sen. Peter McDonough and Assemblyman Donald DiFrancesco "were interested in joining me and my running mates in calling for elimination of the telephone cards."

The Democrats said the residents of Berkeley Heights, Chatham Township, Clark, Fanwood, Kenilworth, Mountainside, Plainfield, Rahway, Scotch Plains and Springfield "recognized that telephone credit cards for state legislators are a luxury New Jersey simply can't afford, given its fiscal problems. Cancellation of the credit cards would symbolize the lawmakers' determination to cut spending to the bone by knocking out all expenditures that aren't absolutely vital. Certainly telephone credit cards fall into this category."

Candidate set to speak before AAUW meeting

"Women's Influence on Legislation" will be the title of a talk by Assemblyman Donald T. DiFrancesco before members of the Mountainside branch of the American Association of University Women tonight at 8 at the Mountainside Library.

DiFrancesco was elected to the State Assembly in 1975 after serving for four years as assistant township attorney and municipal prosecutor in Scotch Plains. A partner in the Scotch Plains law firm of Appenza' and DiFrancesco, he has served on the Assembly's Health and Welfare Committee and the Banking and Insurance Committee.

Refreshments at the meeting will be served by Mrs. William Taylor, chairwoman, Mrs. Robert Anderson and Mrs. William Stanke.

A "prospective member sherry" will be given at 8 p.m. on Wednesday at the home of the AAUW membership chairwoman, Mrs. John Connolly, 323 Partridge Run, Mountainside. Any graduate of a four-year college who is interested may call Mrs. Connolly at 232-1657.

Miss Schmidt wins UC student post

GQP candidates call for flood bill passage

State Senator Peter J. McDonough and his District 22 running mates, Assemblyman William J. Maguire and Assemblyman Donald T. DiFrancesco, said this week the Democrat-dominated legislature "has wasted two years" in acting upon flood control legislation which would help the district.

"It is incomprehensible that our bills which would provide for the operation and maintenance of competent flood water control facilities have been stalled in both houses of the legislature as a result of Democratic foot-dragging," they said. "The Senate and Assembly leadership have simply refused to move the bills and the citizens of this district are the losers," they said.

McDonough is the sponsor of the Green Brook Flood Control Authority Act in the Senate and DiFrancesco is the sponsor of parallel legislation in the Assembly. Maguire has sponsored the Rahway River Flood Control Authority Act in the Assembly with McDonough the Senate sponsor. The Green Brook bill has cleared the Senate Committee but has not been put in line for a vote. The bill has bi-partisan co-sponsorship.

The two bills would create 9-member authorities and local government committees to assure representation by all affected municipalities. Every

Hospital seeks more helpers for new wing

Expansion at Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside has created a need for more adult volunteers, it was announced this week.

The rehabilitation hospital recently opened a 60-bed patient wing. Patient capacity increased by 23 while more facilities are to be provided for diagnostic, therapy and treatment services in areas now undergoing renovation.

Shirley Biegler, volunteer coordinator, said volunteers perform administrative duties or have patient contact, depending on the individual's preference, background and department needs.

Retired teachers or professional personnel with the necessary qualifications might work with children on a one-to-one basis on such things as reading and school work.

"Too many times, people overlook their own talents," Mrs. Biegler said. "There are many ways that a person can channel his or her energies to help others. Senior citizens, and all persons with time to contribute, are a valuable resource of skills and concern."

Anyone seeking more information about the volunteer program can contact Mrs. Biegler at 233-3720.

Union County town in the 22nd District is in one or both of the flood plains.

"We will continue to press for passage of these bills and will pre-gile them for early 1978 consideration if the legislature continues to refuse to take action," McDonough, Maguire and DiFrancesco said. "The legislation is crucial to our district and we will fight for its passage."

Teen Talk

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: I'm worried about my friend. We're both 18 and have been through a lot together — drugs, wrecked autos, alcohol. We've tried them all and paid for our mistakes. Now, we're both straight. We both have part-time jobs. I'm happy, but he is constantly depressed. In fact, he has even mentioned suicide, saying life just isn't fun anymore. He doesn't want to go back to the things that got us into trouble, but he isn't satisfied with the way things are. What can I say or do to help him?

OUR REPLY: You must convince him that life has a purpose, and that he will be happy if he sets himself a goal and works to achieve it. You can probably help most by advising and encouraging him to seek professional help. Suicide tendencies among teenagers is an increasing fact of life. You can get many opinions as to what brought it about, but the important thing is that it is a truth of our times and must be dealt with. There are people well qualified to help your friend — an older person he respects, his parents, minister or doctor.

HOW TO RECOGNIZE AN ALCOHOLIC

Alcoholism is marked by dependence on alcohol and loss of control over one's drinking. This loss of control may develop almost imperceptibly over a long period, or it may manifest itself almost from the start of a person's drinking.

When a person continues to drink despite the fact that it causes serious psychological, physical, or social problems, alcoholism is developing or is already present.

We tend to think of "typical" alcoholic people as skid row inhabitants, but only about three to five percent of alcoholic Americans are in that category. Actually, alcoholic people represent a cross section of the nation, embracing rich and poor, young and old, white-collar workers and blue-collar workers — in fact, every level of society. Most alcoholics are employed and most have families — much like their neighbors and fellow citizens.

Seldom can you spot alcoholic people by their appearance. However, for those close to a person who seems to be more and more dependent on alcohol in order to function, there are indicators that his or her drinking may be reaching the danger point.

For example:
— Is there the immediate reaction to pour a drink when faced with any problem?
— Has getting drunk become a regular occurrence?
— Is there a record of missing work because of drinking or regular attendance at work with an ill-disguised odor of liquor on the breath?

— Has the person's driving license been suspended for driving while drunk?
— Has the person had trouble with authorities for no "logical" reasons?
— Has the person been involved in several unexplainable accidents without evidence of physical impairment?

Union College to offer credit exam program

A series of CLEP (College Level Examination Program) orientation programs will be conducted by Union College, this fall to increase public awareness of the opportunities that exist to earn college credits by examination.

The first of five CLEP orientation programs to be conducted throughout Union County will be held on Tuesday at Union College's Elizabeth Urban Educational Center, Bayway and S. Broad street, at 7:30 p.m.

Adults who believe they have acquired the equivalent of a college-level course through independent study or work experiences may attend the orientation to learn how they can translate that knowledge into college credits that may be applied toward a degree.

Billy Snapp, former professor of English at Bloomfield College, and Joaquin Garcia, director of Union College's GED (General Education Development) and CLEP Test Center, will conduct the orientation.

CLEP, a national program, offers comprehensive examinations in five general areas and in more than 30 specific subject areas. The general exams cover English composition, humanities, mathematics, natural science and social science-history. These areas are included in the CLEP preparation courses.

Most colleges will accept CLEP credits toward the requirements for an undergraduate degree. Union College will accept up to 32 CLEP credits toward an associate degree.

Future orientations are scheduled for Nov. 3 at New Providence High School, Nov. 8 at the Rahway Public Library and Nov. 17 at the Elizabeth Urban Educational Center. A fifth program to be conducted in Spanish is yet to be scheduled. All are at 7:30 p.m. and are free.

Plan for prison farm 'lunatic' Dems claim

The Democratic freeholder candidates this week claimed their Republican opponents have introduced a "lunatic plan" for a county prison farm.

In a joint press release, the Democratic freeholder candidates—incumbent Walter Boright of Scotch Plains, Springfield Mayor Joanne Rajoppi and Thomas Dillon of Elizabeth—claimed the Republicans are "continuing to conceal from the public" a proposed location for the prison facility.

Boright stated: "The Republicans came up with a lunatic plan to release from the Union County Jail murderers, rapists, armed robbers, child molesters and other long-term prisoners and to put them on a minimum-security prison farm that would have to be located somewhere in Union County."

Rajoppi said: "We have repeatedly asked the Republican freeholder candidates if any combination of open lands or portions of open lands in this area of Union County will be used for the county prison farm. The Republican freeholder candidates have vigorously resisted giving us a yes or no answer."

Dillon claimed that the Republican freeholder candidates have "have also proposed using these murderers, rapists, arsonists, and child molesters to work in chain gang style on the county roads doing the tasks normally performed by the county public works department. Such a plan, if implemented, would expose every community to unprecedented dangers."

In their joint statement, Boright, Rajoppi and Dillon said the "Republican county prison farm proposal would require the use of open tracts of land, Parks, undeveloped industrial and residential zones, golf courses, and other open spaces are the only available lands that could be condemned to make way for the Republican prison facility."

UC to present Priestley play

J.B. Priestley's suspense drama, "Dangerous Corner," will be presented by the Union College Drama Society from Wednesday, Nov. 16, through Wednesday, Nov. 23, it was announced by Prof. Donald Julian, chairman of the fine arts department and director of the play.

"Subtitled 'Let Sleeping Dogs Lie,' the play examines the dangers that exist in telling the whole truth," Julian stated.

The production staff includes Lori Daskowitz of Roselle Park, Irene Linton of Roselle, Anthony and Frank Baidassarre of Roselle Park and Donna Gilligan of Mountainside.

Performances are at 8 p.m., and a matinee is also scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 20, at 2 p.m. Tickets are $2 and are available to the public. Reservations may be made by calling the Union College fine arts department, 276-2600, Extension 305.

Poison posters are available

The American Red Cross is offering a poster with new advice on first aid for poisoning, according to Walter T. Cocker, chairman of the Eastern Union County Chapter, located at 203 W. Jersey st., Elizabeth.

"Family members should know what to do and what not to do if someone swallows something harmful or potentially fatal," he said. "Our free poster contains the latest first aid information on poisoning from the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council," Cocker explained. "It can be posted on the medicine

SENATORIAL SUPPORT—U. S. Sen. Clifford P. Case, left, meets with three Republican candidates for Union County freeholder, after announcing his support of the GOP trio. With Case are, Herbert Heilmann Jr. of Union, Robert Morgan of Roselle Park and William Ruocco of Springfield.

Republicans defend work farm proposal

The Union County Republican freeholder candidates Herbert Heilmann, Robert Morgan and William Ruocco, this week criticized their Democratic opponents for recent attacks upon the GOP freeholder candidates' proposal for a bi-county commission to study the feasibility of a county work farm in conjunction with Middlesex County, which already operates such a facility.

"It is obvious," they stated, "that our Democratic opponents and their puppets are content to speak from ignorance, distort the truth and deceive the public. They are following a pattern established at the start of the campaign which amounts to nothing more than electioneering and have once again obviously not done their homework."

"For the information and education of our adversaries and erstwhile candidate for sheriff who should, but obviously does not, know any better, let us state that under present law county jails house individuals sentenced to less than one year of confinement for offenses such as disorderly persons, non-payment of alimony and other non-violent breaches of the peace. Individuals convicted of violent crimes are sent to state prisons and not county facilities."

The GOP candidate added, "Our opponents have no accomplishments to point to and have seized upon this issue to inflame the public in a desperate attempt to sustain their badly lagging candidacies. Perhaps they would prefer to see the county jail remain in the City of Elizabeth in its present obsolete and dangerous condition rather than be relocated out of the county. Their actions are indicative of this position.

"County work farms are in existence in many areas throughout the state and country. It is deceptive to represent to the public that persons confined to these facilities roam free in society. In fact the Union County Board of Freeholders and the State Department of Institutions and Agencies, both under Democratic control, have both adopted policies designated as "work releases" in which convicted felons presently roam in society free of any restraints.

"It is the height of hypocrisy that the political party which sponsored such a program of work releases now condemns a study proposal less liberal than the one it implemented. It is unfortunate that our opponents are so nearsighted, inflexible and frenzied in their desperate attempt to gain election that they refuse to consider and discuss alternative solutions to the problems which have been publicized for many years by sheriff Ralph Orsiccio, a member of their own party.

"Their desperate attempt to distort the truth and mislead the voters on this issue and to distract the voter's attention from their abysmal record would surely fall on deaf ears.

"The consideration of such a proposal is warranted. It could result in substantial savings to the participating counties as the result of the joint sharing of costs. It would not result in additional hiring or layoffs because present personnel would be adequate to sustain the facility but would make available thousands of square feet of floor space at the site of the present county jail for future use."

Superintendent in county parks leaves Nov. 1

Jack Birmingham, superintendent of recreation of the Union County Park Commission, has resigned effective Friday, Nov. 11.

Birmingham will become director of the Ocean County Department of Parks and Recreation, effective Nov. 14.

His contributions to the Union County Park Commission include assisting in Green Acres re-development programs such as Mattano Park, Elizabeth; the development of the Warinanco Ice Skating Center, Warinanco Park, Roselle; the Trailside Nature and Science Center, Watchung Reservation, Mountainside, and the Oak Ridge Golf Course, Clark.

Fawn Lakes passes 100th condo sales

The Mancini Company, developer of the Fawn Lakes condominium community on Highway 72, Stafford Township, this week announced the sale of its 110th home.

To commemorate the rising sales, the company entertained over 150 residents of the community at an outside party on the grounds of the Fawn Lakes community center.

Fawn Lakes is a $4.5 million development project undertaken more than a year and a half ago and is eventually expected to have nearly 2,200 units. Bill McCleery, vice president in charge of marketing for the Mancini Company, attributed the popularity of Fawn Lakes and the high sales surge to the quality of homes in the development.

He said many residents were buying homes in anticipation of retirement or just "to beat the Atlantic City-generated influx of price increase." The homes are priced from $28,990 to $41,000. Fawn Lakes condominiums are available as single-family dwellings, duplexes and quads, with a number of style variations possible for each configuration.

McCleery said all homes are equipped with double-hung Thermopane windows, self-cleaning ovens, self-defrosting refrigerators, washers, dryers, dishwashers, and wall-to-wall carpeting.

The homes are built over three-foot crawlspaces, rather than resting on concrete slabs. By itself, the crawlspace provides for a margin of protection from dampness and heat loss; this margin is enhanced by insulating the crawlspaces.

Insulation, seven inches of it, is also used in the ceilings of Fawn Lakes condominium homes.

"All maintenance," McCleery said, "be it lawn care, house painting or roofing problems, is provided by the company. A roving security patrol is on duty at all times. There is a lake for boating and fishing, a heated swimming pool and a club house."

Located three miles west of the Garden State Parkway on State Highway 72, the Fawn Lakes sales office is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. seven days a week.

Fawn Lakes president James J. Mancini presents a letter of welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lanza, who purchased the 100th home sold at the 45-and-over community. To mark the occasion a party was held for more than 150 residents of the new community. Fawn Lakes is located on State Highway 72 in Manahawkin.

Buyers given many options at Holly Lake

A new section of ranch-style carriage homes has been started at Holly Lake Park, offering added customized variations of interiors to immediate buyers Holly Lake Park, on Great Bay boulevard, Tuckerton, is a condominium community of spacious one and two bedroom homes priced from $27,900.

The community is now being developed by Courter Partnership, carrying through the original environmental plan of the wooded tract of native holly trees, oaks and pines surrounding an 18-acre spring-fed lake. A challenging nine-hole golf course of three, four and five-par holes hugs the lake. There is also a full clubhouse-social hall and large swimming pool.

Holly Lake Park homes are all of ranch design, built around open courtyards in a style similar to townhouses of Colonial town squares yet updated to more convenient one-story ranches. The exterior designs are a contemporary blend of natural wood with energy saving materials designed for minimum upkeep with maximum efficiency and economy year round.

The developer's respect for natural environment, has led to two of the main features of the community—exterior home designs that compliment and are complimented by—the surrounding woodlands and the extension of living space to the outdoors through wide windows and sliding glass doors to patios that are included in the basic low home prices.

Joseph Courter, manager of Holly Lake Park, reports that actual construction is never allowed to go far ahead of sales. "This allows us to offer new homebuyers added touches of individuality in the interior of every home" he explains. "These custom variations extend to such items as pass-through opening in the wall between kitchen and dining area and to the final decision on whether doors to the patio at the rear of the home open from the living room, from the dining room or from the kitchen. This, of course, depends on the architectural design in part, but we try to give homebuyers in new sections as many options as possible in such details."

Holly Lake Park is located on Great Bay boulevard, Tuckerton, an established community with easy access to both bay and ocean, just over a half hour from Atlantic City via the Garden State Parkway. The sales office and models are open seven days a week and evenings by appointment. Holly Lake Park is easily reached from Rt. 9 and from Parkway exit 58.

Sign deal for hi-rise

Caribbean House, well known hi-rise apartment house in Edgewater, has been sold in a complex transaction which took more than a year to consummate, it was announced by Gebroe-Hammer Associates, the Livingston-based investment real estate sales specialists who handled the arrangements.

Edgewater Caribbean

Associates purchased the six-story, 65-unit building from Gilda Holding Co for cash over financing. Complexities in the sale required various government and banking institutions' approvals which took 13 months to obtain, according to Robert Ploshnick, the Gebroe-Hammer representative.

Frank Rusch, Teaneck attorney, represented Edgewater Caribbean and Max Druz was counsel for the seller. Caribbean House is located at 1375 River rd. in Edgewater and has a dramatic view of the New York skyline, the Hudson River and the George Washington Bridge.

Gebroe-Hammer, with sales of more than $47 million last year—a figure expected to be exceeded in 1977—is the largest real estate firm in New Jersey.

New American price begins at $26,490

Prices start at $26,490 for a single-family house in the New American Homes community at Settlers Landing in Barnegat, Ocean County.

There are already 600 families living in the community, situated less than half-a-mile from Garden State Parkway Exit 67, according to Michael J. Gordon, sales and marketing director for the New Jersey Division of Kaufman and Broad, the builder. Then, back at home, residents have truly attractive homes," says Gordon. Within 10 minutes are the beaches and fishing areas of Barnegat Bay.

The Cambridge model is an example of the homes, Gordon says. It is a two-story, three-bedroom, colonial-style home with 1 1/2 baths and a den or family room, priced at $33,900. The exterior is available with a brick front. Inside, the living room and the dining room are carpeted in the buyer's choices of color, and the living room is available with an optional fireplace or built-in cabinets. The first floor also includes an eat-in

New model opens at Marc Heights

Ever hear of a grand opening in a community so popular that it has been almost completely sold out? That's exactly what is taking place at Marc Heights, the single-family homes on wooded, rolling terrain off Parkway Exit 117 in Hazlet.

The Howard Siegel Companies, developers of Marc Heights now offer a new model. One of their architects designed a step-saving floor plan which makes the homes even roomier, the energy-saving features even stunner, and the value for money even greater.

As a result, the New Marc—four bedrooms, 2½ baths and a two-car garage—is being unveiled in Section III of Marc Heights on the Keyport-Holmdel Road in Hazlet. The price is $54,990. The third section of Marc Heights itself came as a surprise. The first two sections had been sold and, to all intents and purposes, there was no more wooded land left on which to build in Hazlet.

Then, this summer, the Howard Siegel Companies were able to purchase an estate which increased the value of the entire property, because all of Marc Heights now had access to Beers Street. Diagonally across the street from the new section is the Beers Street Grammar School.

Even before the New Marc came off the drawing board, the other four models—priced from $46,990—were so popular that only a few homesites remained. These had been expected to be sold by the end of the year, now, the last of the new Hazlet homes will probably disappear from the market earlier. Homes at Marc Heights—colonial-style and ranch—also sell rapidly because no closing costs are charged, a saving of approximately $1,300, and because eight and one-half percent mortgages to qualified buyers are available.

There are many reasons for the success of Marc Heights. The location is ideal—less than an hour from New York City or northern New Jersey, yet in a secluded, picturesque area considered to be among the state's finest residential environments.

Models are open daily from noon to dusk, or weekends from 11 a.m. to dusk. Take the Garden State Parkway to Exit 117 in Hazlet, follow Rt. 35 to the first traffic light Keyport-Holmdel Road and turn right to the site.

HAMILTON ranch model at $45,790 is offered at the 74-house Eagle Rock community on New Hampshire Avenue just off Rt. 88 and the Garden State Parkway. Lakewood Vahak Hovnanian of Hovbit Inc. is developing the community, which is showing Cape Cod, ranch and two-story homes priced from $45,290.

Laurel Brook condos selling at brisk pace

ECONOMY AND SPACIOUSNESS—Lower level recreation room offered in each home of Laurel Brook at Brick Town, condominium community of 1 and 2 bedroom homes, shows design that carries through "expandable" space at prices starting at $28,990. Lower level, offered in all models, has powder room, utility room and an extra room that may be "converted" into study, den or spare bedroom, all in addition to the central recreation room. At right, lower part of wrought-iron railed stairway to main level of home may be seen.

Laurel Brook condominium community of one and two-bedroom ranch style condominium homes in Brick Town, is offering "expandable" home designs priced from a low $28,990, with maintenance for exteriors and condominium amenities starting at a low $40 per month.

Built in 1970, and offered for sale starting in summer of 1976, more than 100 of the 133 homes at Laurel Brook have already been sold. A current estimate of what it would cost to construct the same home at today's labor and materials prices brings to $40,000 the same home now offered at Laurel Brook's $28,990 starting price, a spokesman said.

Red brick exteriors provide easy upkeep and living. Exterior maintenance is part of the condominium, and homes have "extra" rooms that may serve a variety of purposes according to the individual homeowner's needs. The landscaping reflects the good care that has gone into Laurel Brook. Several former renters in the community were among first purchasers when the homes were offered for sale last year.

Good interior plans make best use of space that shows its quality from the fine structural components in each home. These include excellent heating, air conditioning and insulation systems for energy saving. Other examples of Laurel Brook's economy in living are: well-planned kitchens that offer a maximum of cabinets, countertops and up-to-date appliances near the entry foyer, and close to the dining areas which combine formality and casual styling.

Spacious interior plans offer a central hallway on the main level, extending from entry and oversized living room to the bedroom wing of the home. Easy connection between the main level and full lower level is achieved with an attractive wrought iron-railed stairway that leads to paneled, carpeted recreation room. Further conveniences on the lower level, the most "expandable" part of Laurel Brook homes are the powder room, utility room, and another room which may be used for study, den or extra bedroom.

Several community amenities are included in purchase of each Laurel Brook home. These are a large swimming pool, tennis and community center-social hall, for use of all residents.

Several model homes at Laurel Brook are available for immediate occupancy, reports Mrs. Judy Fox, sales manager of the community. Financing is also available to qualified buyers, and in cash sales it has been possible for new owners to move in in a matter of days.

Among the first 100 purchasers at Laurel Brook, many have come from the local area, recognizing the good value

Community near city affords country living

The pleasant fact of home life for commuters traveling to New York City is that Panther Valley, the private recreational community in the rolling woodlands of Allamuchy, is only about an hour from mid-Manhattan.

Many Panther Valley homeowners are executives who make the daily trip to New York, either on their own or on the air-conditioned buses which travel to and from the Port Authority Terminal. The buses run from the community's front door seven days a week. When residents feel the urge to shop or attend a Broadway show, they can leave their country world for the city.

But whenever they return home to the various townhomes and single-family detached residences of Panther Valley, which are now priced from $57,000 to $107,000, residents experience a life that other metropolitan area people must find at a vacation resort further west in either New Jersey or Pennsylvania.

Much of the community is planned around its award-winning 18-hole championship golf course designed by famous architect Robert Trent Jones. The focal point of the golf complex is Temperance Hall, which is composed of a pro shop, locker rooms and Swedish saunas, a billiard room and a card room, a dining room for luncheons and a bar-lounge.

Then there's the Country Club, a former private mansion overlooking the 17th green. Once one of the important homes in New Jersey, it now has intimate dining rooms and a lounge for entertaining guests.

High above the golf course is the cabana which provides a nucleus for the three Panther Valley swimming pools and the championship tennis courts. Nearby are paddle tennis courts which are lit for evening use. The greenery of rolling land and lush green trees is also the setting for the community's two lakes. Adjoining Panther Valley to the east are more than 15,000 acres of natural woodlands belonging to the New Jersey Green Acres Program.

Currently, there are several home styles available at Panther Valley. These include five models of two and three-bedroom townhomes priced from $57,000, which make up the Village County View section. There are three models of colonial and split-level style detached homes priced from $91,900 including fireplace and central air-conditioning.

Panther Valley is a planned residential community located on the eastern edge of Warren County. The concept plan calls for a total community containing all of the essential services necessary to be self-sufficient. Private security gates guard the community entrances.

The entire residential-recreational complex is being built by Matthews-Phillips Management Co. for the community's owner, Traveler Insurance Company of Hartford.

The main entrance to Panther Valley is less than a mile from Interstate 80. The community may be reached by driving west on Route 80 to the Andover-Hackettstown exit. Turn left on Rt. 517 south and proceed, three-quarters of a mile to the entrance.

GEORGE BURNS — Eighty-two-year-old Oscar-winner plays title role in "Oh, God!" film comedy, opening today at the New Plaza Theater, Linden, and at the Maplewood Theater, Maplewood.

Mill grant received

The Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn, recently received a matching grant of $3,000 from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts in cooperation with the National Endowment for the Arts. The grant was approved in support of the theater's 25 percent discount which the Paper Mill offers to students and senior citizens Wednesday and Sunday evenings and Thursday matinees. It was announced by executive producer Angelo Del Rossi.

The Paper Mill Playhouse, a non-profit theater, was established 49 years ago. It evolved from a group of writers, artists and actors, who met in the ballroom of the Dryden residence at Lincoln Park in Newark.

"Shenandoah" opened yesterday at the Mill and will play through Dec. 18. "Nutcracker" performed by the New Jersey Ballet Company will be on stage Dec. 21 through Dec. 30, and the Newark Boys Chorus will present its production of "Amahl and the Night Visitors" and give a concert of seasonal music Dec. 10 and 12.

ROBERT DE NIRO stars opposite Liza Minnelli in "New York, New York," at Elmora Theater, Elizabeth, on a double bill with "The Loves and Times of Scaramouche."

Disc & Data

By MILT HAMMER

Pick Of The LP's. Since the British invasion of the 60s many people in this country have overlooked a vast heritage of their own. BANJOMAN, a recent film whose soundtrack is on ABC-SIRE RECORDS (SA-7527), focuses on that heritage. It's a moving tribute to the awesome talents of Earl Scruggs and, through him, it honors American music in all its popular forms. Filmed in part at an evening in honor of Scruggs, the soundtrack features brilliant performances by the Earl Scruggs Review, Joan Baez, The Byrds, Ramblin' Jack Elliott, The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, and Doc and Merle Watson. More than a soundtrack, the BANJOMAN album is one of those rare recordings that only happens when masters gather.

Numbers include: Side One—"Lonesome Reuben" (The Earl Scruggs Review), "Battle Of New Orleans" (The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band), "You Ain't Goin' Nowhere" (Joan Baez), "Freight Train Boogie"

FDU lists free films

The "Development of Jazz and Pop Music in the United States," a course at the Florham-Madison Campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University has invited the public to attend a free film program this fall.

All film evenings will be held Thursdays at 8:15. The programs are about one hour, according to course instructor Morton Cohen, unless otherwise specified.

The schedule is:

Tonight: "Sounds and Sights of New Orleans"—the musical life of New Orleans featuring trumpet player Al Hirt, and clarinetist Pete Fountain.

Nov. 3: "Biography of Louis Armstrong," "African Soul: Music, Past and Present," development of Afro-American music from primitive to present.

Nov. 10: "The Blues Accordin' to Lightnin' Hopkins," blues guitarist tells about his music; "Body and Soul, Part II," Ray Charles discusses black American popular music.

Nov. 17: "Le Tambour, Drums of Haiti," drum making in Haiti; "Jazz of Dave Brubeck."

Public TV will cover state, county elections

Complete coverage of New Jersey's general election, Tuesday, Nov. 8, will begin at 8 p.m. on all New Jersey Public Television channels. "Election '77" will present computerized returns on gubernatorial, legislative, freeholder races and key municipal contests.

Remote units will be at campaign headquarters of Republican challenger Raymond Bateman and Democratic Governor Brendan Byrne. Returns will also be relayed on votes tallied for the other 14 candidates for top state position.

Commentator Dick Minton will coordinate returns in network studios, with Rosemary Hall covering returns on legislative seats and Dave Straker and Paul Springle covering freeholder races. Democrat James Dugan and Republican Thomas Kean will analyze the gubernatorial election; George Callas (D) and George Silliphant (R) the Senate races; Thomas O'Neill (D) and Joseph Gonzales (R) on Assembly voting.

Key to reporting of voting data will be the computer at Rider College and others in Burlington, Bergen, Camden, Middlesex and Ocean counties. Some 50 stringers throughout the state will call in information to a bank of telephone operators in the studios.

"We have traveled thousands of miles putting together our most comprehensive coverage yet," says George Perkins, director of news and public affairs. Perkins and his staff visited county clerks and political leaders throughout the state to find out how to collect and to present returns most quickly and efficiently. Because of assistance from county clerks and other sources of returns, NJPTV will be able to begin reporting the views of state voters only minutes after "Election '77" goes on the air.

Kean offering grads psychoogy courses

At the request of graduate students in the field of school psychology and professional organization the dean of graduate studies at Kean College, Dr. Richard Nichols, and the graduate psychology faculty are offering courses to qualified professionals. Dr. William Angers, graduate coordinator, explained, "Those holding a doctor's degree or professional diploma and other specialists are eligible for these post-graduate courses at the college." Should continuing education become mandatory for maintaining certification or licensure he said, then successful completion of these Kean College courses would be recommended for such accreditation and will receive course credit from the college. This fall the response to course offerings was better than expected, according to Dr. Angers. In the Spring 1978 semester, the following courses will be offered: Psychological Counseling Practicum, Behavior Modification, Group Psychological Counseling Techniques, Psychological Counseling of Parents, and Advanced Developmental Study of Children. Other courses are being considered for the summer session as well as for the next fall and spring semester. Selected courses will be offered in sequence so that all offerings will be scheduled within a two year period. These courses will have limited student enrollment so advanced registration is advisable.

Approach to government reform by Byrne, Bateman dissimilar

Although both Gov. Brendan Byrne and Raymond Bateman have pledged to "open up the system," the results of a questionnaire sent to the candidates reflect some dissimilarity in approach to governmental reform, according to New Jersey Common Cause.

As part of the citizen's lobbying organizations' "Campaign '77," candidates were asked their opinions on, among others, the following issues: conflict of interest, lobby disclosure, campaign finance, "sunset," senatorial courtesy and financial disclosure. Their replies:

CONFLICT OF INTEREST—Both major party candidates favor legislation that would include a standardized code of ethics for state and local officials, prohibiting them from using their official positions to further their own financial interests or those of their families or business associates. And both candidates favor an independent commission on ethical standards that would conduct investigations, render advisory opinions, and issue rulings.

However, when asked whether elected officials should be prevented by law from holding two elected offices at the same time, Bateman was undecided; Byrne did not answer.

LOBBY DISCLOSURE—Both Byrne and Bateman would support legislation to require lobbyists and lobbying organizations to disclose publicly, and quarterly, all sources of income and expenditures related to their activities. (A bill which would require such disclosures, A 3140, has been awaiting gubernatorial approval since June.) When asked, however, if executive branch agencies should maintain a log, recording all contacts with the agency and the date and purpose of each contact, Senator Bateman agreed in concept, but in his opinion, "the feasibility and implementation are questionable and, unless highly regulated, provide the basis for abuse." Governor Byrne did not answer the question.

CAMPAIGN FINANCE—Both Byrne and Bateman would support legislation to include "reasonable limits" on the amount of money an individual may contribute to political parties. When asked if they would actively support legislation banning contributions from so-called special interests, such as business organizations, labor union, lobbyists, etc., Bateman said he would not. Byrne would support it. And Byrne agreed to a system of partial public financing of gubernatorial primary campaigns to parallel the present law covering general elections. Common Cause supports limiting private contributions to $600 in primary campaigns, with individual matching of up to $100 in public funds. Byrne's proposal to this effect passed the Assembly but died in the Senate Judiciary Committee. Bateman would not support this system. Concerning the state legislative primary or general election campaigns, Bateman would not support placing a $200 ceiling on private contributions; without committing himself to a specific dollar ceiling, Byrne supports partial public financing of such elections.

SUNSET—The Assembly State Government Committee released last week legislation requiring the termination of state licensing boards and commissions unless specifically reconstituted by the Legislature at regular intervals. Senator Bateman indicated that he supports the sunset concept, but he was not in agreement with the proposed legislation. Governor Byrne would not support such legislation, but prefers the addition of public members to these boards and re-evaluation procedures to consider whether agencies continue to be needed.

APPOINTMENTS PROCEDURES—Both candidates would support efforts to eliminate senatorial courtesy, the practice whereby a senator could block

Players sought for new Kean chamber group

A chamber orchestra composed of members of the community and Kean College students is being created by Rae Fowler of the department of music at the college in Union. The new Kean Chamber Orchestra will be open to advanced players by audition only.

The orchestra will hold its first concert on Dec. 5, in the Theater of the Performing Arts on the Union campus. There will be four rehearsals for the concert. The program will be the Stravinsky Suite No. 2 for Small Orchestra, Haydn Symfonia Concertante, Faure Pavane and Mozart's Jupiter Symphony.

The orchestra will be available for benefit performances at a cost of $800.

a gubernatorial appointment of an individual from the senator's own district in exchange for supporting such a blackball by other senators. Bateman indicated he would "relegate courtesy to an unused status" by working more meaningfully with the Senate.

FINANCIAL DISCLOSURE—Candidates were asked if they would support legislation which would require all elected and appointed officials at all levels of government to publicly disclose each source (not amount) of income and assets in excess of $1,000. While Byrne supports this policy, Bateman feels that the use of the word "all" makes the position too broad.

Both Byrne and Bateman would issue an executive order requiring that financial disclosure be filed by all cabinet and major sub-cabinet level appointees prior to appointment and annually thereafter.

TV looks at aliens

The illegal entry of hundreds of thousands of Mexicans to the United States each year will be examined by New Jersey Public Television in two half-hour discussions on liberal and conservative attitudes toward the problem.

"Illegal Aliens I" will be held in English on a segment of "Imágenes Latinas," Wednesday, Nov. 9, at 10:30 p.m. on channels 23, 50, 52 and 58. It will be repeated Sunday, Nov. 13, at 7 p.m. The second half will be aired the following Wednesday, at 10:30, with a repeat Sunday, Nov. 20, at 7 p.m. While "Imágenes Latinas" usually is presented in Spanish for Latin residents of New Jersey and a five-state area, the two-part special on the Mexican alien problem has been produced in English in order to reach a larger segment of the population.

Gypsy roots

Juan Serrano, Spanish guitarist, will trace gypsy roots of flamenco music on "Imágenes Latinas," next Wednesday, at 10:30 p.m. on New Jersey Public Television.

Dr. Rosenthal earns grants

Research grants awarded by the American Philosophical Society and Merck Sharp and Dohme Research Laboratories have enabled Dr. Judith Rosenthal of Edison, a faculty member of the biology department at Kean College of New Jersey in Union, to study "The Effects of Melatonin, Serotonin and Colchicine on Adipose Tissue and Fat Cell Metabolism."

By studying the effects of insulin, hormones and other chemical agents on adipose tissue, many scientists, including Dr. Rosenthal, hope to gain more insight into the mechanism of insulin action.
