$15 million high schools budget adopted

By HELEN REYNOLDS

The Union County Regional High School District Board of Education this week wrapped up a "reasonable" budget package of $15,033,587 to be delivered to the voters for an election Feb. 7.

The budget, unanimously adopted by the board Tuesday, includes $13,899,059 for current expenses, $269,495 for capital projects and $875,033 for bond debt service in the fiscal year that starts next July 1. This would be an increase of less than 2.3 percent over the current budget for the regional high schools: Jonathan Dayton at Springfield, David Brearley at Kenilworth, Arthur Johnson at Clark and Gov. Livingston at Berkeley Heights.

The proposed budget calls for a local tax levy of $12,025,421 next year, including $10,880,893 for current expenses, as well as the total amounts budgeted for capital expenses and bond service. This levy would be an average increase of about 2.5 percent, but would vary from town to town in the regional district which includes Mountainside and Garwood, as well as the four communities where campuses are located. For Springfield and Garwood, the anticipated levy would represent a reduction, rather than an increase, according to John O'Hara, regional finance officer.

Dr. Donald Merachuk, regional superintendent, said the budget increase "must be considered as reasonable" during "a period of continuing, creeping inflation."

He said the Regional Board of Education not only obeyed a state-mandated "cap," without seeking any waiver from Trenton, but also launched its own economy campaign.

The board, "recognizing the need to keep costs down and yet provide a quality education for 4,750 students, developed a budget based upon specific priorities of the administration," Merachuk said. "While this budget does not include everything requested, it certainly provides fairly and adequately for operating district schools in 1978-79."

In the school election Feb. 7, voters will be asked to approve only the $10,880,893 for current expenses and the $269,495 for capital projects. Voters approved the debt repayments when they authorized bond issues.

O'Hara said the projected local taxation includes about $2,470,200 from Springfield, a cut from $2,796,411 this year, $1,611,523 from Mountainside up from $1,521,432 and $1,908,841 from Kenilworth, up from $1,487,516 with the balance from the other three towns. An audience of 35, almost all of them school staff members, had few comments and no protests at the formal budget Tuesday night on the Clark campus.

"Did you like what you hear?" commented the board president Charles Vitale Jr. "This budget deserves support."

Largest single item in the capital outlay budget would be $100,000 to convert seven classrooms at Dayton into offices for the regional district. The district has been renting privately.

IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE that just a few short months ago Mountainside residents were sweating it out on the tennis courts. The courts, along with most other sites and services were desolate as the weekend storm tapered off and left more than a foot of snow in its wake.

4 officials leaving posts are praised for service

By PATRICIA GARRISON

The Mountainside Borough Council bid formal goodbyes to four public servants at its first regular 1978 meeting last Wednesday. The meeting, scheduled for last Tuesday, was postponed because of inclement weather.

Mayor Thomas Ricciardi praised the retiring municipal judge, Jacob Bauer, and borough clerk, Helena Dunne, and accepted "with regrets" the resignations of recreation commission and pool committee member John Hechtle and William Gutman, chairman of the Board of Adjustment.

Council voted unanimously to approve resolutions commending the outgoing municipal workers and also presented Mrs. Dunne with a silver tray. It was announced she will be retained as a consultant by the borough during the transition period.

"We are very indebted and appreciative to Mrs. Dunne," said Councilman Nicholas Bradshaw. "I am sad that she chooses to enter this new chapter in her life, but also pleased for her. She will always have a warm spot in our hearts."

Mayor Ricciardi commented that Judge Bauer did "a tremendous job for the community." Bauer stepped down as municipal magistrate Jan. 1 after serving the borough for 24 years.

"For a man to have that kind of responsibility to the community for very, very few dollars is wonderful," said Ricciardi.

All four workers will be sent embossed gold-sealed copies of the resolutions of commendation.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, Councilman Abraham Suckno released the borough police department's report of activities for 1977 and noted the sharp increase in calls from 1976.

"There were 1,000 more calls than in 1976," said Suckno. "This is extremely high for a small town such as Mountainside, and that's good. It means people are watching and the police can control the town as far as break and entries are concerned." Mayor Ricciardi mentioned the reportedly high rate of juvenile crime in the borough. A total of 85 youths were arrested in Mountainside for various offenses in 1977.

While there was no comment from council regarding the police report Mayor Ricciardi decried recent department efforts to insure passage of the so-called "20 and out" legislation.

Although it was recently defeated by the state legislature, Ricciardi blasted Union County Assemblyman Louis

Board of Ed approves 2.8 percent budget hike

The Board of Education last Thursday approved a $24 million school budget for 1978-79 a 2.8 percent hike over last year. The budget will go before the voters on Feb. 14.

The majority defended the increase saying that higher salaries and hikes in fixed costs have offset the decrease in school population.

Board President William Biunno detailed the budget for the 11-member audience and noted that it "stays within the 3.97 percent cap" mandated by the state. He added that while it provides for no increases in services it does not cut any existing programs.

Residents' attention centered on teachers' and employees' salaries, the school system's public relations program and the state cut in funding for the borough's compensatory education program.

Most board members defended the $4,000 cost for two board-retained public relations consultants hired to improve communication between the school system and residents who do not have children enrolled in the Mountainside schools.

"There is a lack of communication between the board and 80 percent of the people who live in Mountainside," said board member Dr. Arthur Williams. "People have told me of the great value they have seen in the public relations program and the continuation of this program is a most important thing."

When one resident questioned the value of the public relations program and said the bulletins on school activities sent from the superintendent's office seemed sufficient, President Biunno said that the superintendent's notices were sent only to Mountainside residents with school-age children.

"We are looking for a total public relations program to inform all taxpayers," he said. "They are all paying for the schools." Calling the task "king-size," Biunno said, "the board felt it was too big a job to put on the shoulders of the administration."

Board member Scott Schmedel admitted that the program's results will probably not surface quickly.

"Developing a good program is a fairly long-term thing," he said. "I'm not sure we will see results right away."

Board member Charles Speth criticized the project, saying the consultants did a "minimal" job. He insisted the public relations program was instituted to "ram the budget down the public's throat."

Board member Margaret Reilly countered Speth's remarks and said his criticism of the program and other budget questions was clouded with "bait truths."

"Mr. Speth's statement against the program is invalid," she said. "It is not based on fact and it cannot be accepted as gospel truth."

Speth, who voted with board member

Pat Knodel against this year's budget, said he does not hold to what he defined as a "theory that more money is needed to insure quality education."

"I see no reason why we can't run a tight ship and supply a good

Only snowplows out on streets in storm

Snowplow crews took to Mountainside streets early Friday morning and continued working to clear roads through Saturday and Sunday to help ease the community out of the weekend storm that dumped more than a foot of snow on the metropolitan area.

Road Supervisor Robert Koser said main thoroughfares were plowed first and non-essential areas such as municipal and school parking lots were tackled Sunday.

"It all came up so suddenly," said Koser, who, like most residents, was expecting up to three inches of snow followed by rain. "Cars parked on streets were our biggest problems."

Koser said most streets were cleared of snow by Monday, but he said snowplows were still working to assist with "minor touch-ups."

Few people ventured out on the roads which kept the number of traffic accidents down to a minimum, according to Mountainside Police Chief Edward Mullin.

"Everything went well," said Mullin. "Everyone was off the roads on Friday and on Saturday there was still nothing moving."

Rescue Squad workers could not take part in the unexpected work holiday like most Mountainside residents, and efforts were made to clear paths to area hospitals.

"The Rescue Squad made one trip to the hospital with a sanding and spreading vehicle riding shotgun," said Koser. "They had to make it up Summit road and rather than depend on the road conditions, they took the sander with them."

Overlook Hospital spokeswoman Marilyn Garabrandt said the hospital operated at a "near normal level of patient care" throughout the weekend, but she added things might not have gone as smoothly without the help of area residents.

"We called on people with citizens band radios and four-wheel drive vehicles to help bring nurses, doctors and other essential employees to and from work," said Garabrandt. Additional residents volunteered to assist hospital employees with patient care and feeding.

"If it weren't for them (the volunteers) we wouldn't have been able to carry on," said Thomas Foley, Overlook executive vice-president. "Our biggest problem was transportation of employees, particularly nursing personnel. People filled in where they could and showed a tremendous amount of cooperation."

While blood supplies dropped to dangerous levels at blood banks and hospitals in the area, Garabrandt said Overlook's supply held steady.

"Our supply was all right," she said.

Deerfield School plans paper drive

The Deerfield School Student Council will again hold a paper drive in the front parking lot of Deerfield Middle School on Central Avenue, Mountainside, Friday, Feb. 10, from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. and Saturday, Feb. 11, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The youngsters hold these paper drives among other fundraisers to raise money for student activities. Anyone unable to bring papers to the school at these times may call 654-4498 by Thursday, Feb. 9; the students will arrange to pick up the papers.

NICE TO LOOK AT — The snow that caused Mountainside and most of Union County to grind to a halt presented a pretty picture through Mountainside residents' windows.

But the stunning spectacle darkened when it came time to venture outdoors and battle Mother Nature.

CBs 'rescued' Overlook staff

When Overlook Hospital staff members could not get to work because they were snowbound last week, Citizens Band radio operators came to the rescue.

The major snow storm which crippled mass transit in New Jersey also caused a personnel shortage in the state's hospitals because doctors and nurses were snowed in.

Thomas J. Foley, executive vice-president of Overlook Hospital in Summit, said CB enthusiasts used their radios to recruit drivers to bring doctors and nurses to the hospital.

The volunteers provided the hospital with "critical" assistance, he said, enabling the hospital to operate at a "near-normal level" of patient care.

Their dad, Borough Councilman, Tim Benford, is a newspaperman in New York City.

Hospital to get toys handmade by contestants

Shirley Jean Measures, former child star of Our Gang and Little Rascals comedies, and Rose Robinson, director of women's activities for the New Jersey Grange, will present handicapped youngsters at Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside, with dozens of handmade toys at 1 p.m. today.

The boys were entries in a national stuffed toy contest sponsored by Fairfield Processing Corp. of Danbury, Conn., the makers of Polyfil, and the National Grange. Shirley Jean is director of marketing at Fairfield Processing.

Children's Specialized Hospital has a number of resources for the care of physically handicapped children, including physical therapy, occupational therapy, recreational therapy, social service, activities of daily living, an education department and fulltime physician and rehabilitation nursing care.

A 60-bed patient wing designed specifically for the handicapped opened last year and increased capacity by 23. It provides many conveniences for disabled children, including lower handrails and water fountains, telephone booths to accommodate mobile stretchers and wheelchairs, a larger swimming pool and ample space for patient rooms and various activities.

After prizes have been awarded on state and national levels, all entries in the stuffed toy contest are given to children confined to hospitals.

Local schools

"Our big problem was employees not being able to get out of driveways," said Lee Kochenash of H.A. Winston on Rt. 22.

"More people started coming in on Sunday because they were tired of staying home," she said.

Echo Lanes bowling alley manager Jack Best said a lack of employee help and an unclear parking lot kept business down to a minimum with only 30 percent of the usual clientele showing up.

"We stayed closed Friday because of a lack of help and snow plowing," said Best. "We managed during the weekend but few people came out."

Local singer to give opera show Sunday

Evelyn Mitschele of Mountainside will give an opera recital at the Bloomfield Public Library, 90 Broad Street in Bloomfield on Sunday at 3:30 p.m. Mrs. Mitschele has sung for many opera groups including the Mountainside-Westfield Jersey Lyric Opera Company.

Her piano accompanist for the Sunday concert will be Thomas Finetti of Nutley. Tickets are $3 for adults, $2 for students and $1.50 for senior citizens.

Morality of sex is priest's topic

The Home-School Association of Our Lady of Lourdes School, Mountainside, will present the third and final talk in its series, "Education in Human Sexuality," on Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

This session is entitled "The Morality of Sex" and will be presented by a priest, the Rev. Joseph Barbonne. His talk will explain the church's stand on moral issues in human sexuality with special emphasis on the parents role as the primary educators of their children.

After this presentation, questions will be accepted concerning the entire series. All parents have been invited to attend this session.

Snowfall

"We put out a call to all employees for blood donors. We hope everything will be ok."

There was little to do but wait the storm out on Friday, with most businesses, stores and services shut down. The Westfield post office did not deliver Mountainside mail on Friday and daily newspaper presses remained idle.

But food markets sales skyrocketed as people flocked to stores to stock up on essentials and staples. Manny Class, manager of Mountainside's Seven Eleven, said although fewer people were shopping, the individual sales were bigger.

"We were buying as much bread and milk as they could," said Class. He said snow prevented many deliveries of various items, especially baked goods.

Most Mountainside restaurants were closed Friday, and managers said business was slow throughout the weekend.

"Our big problem was employees not being able to get out of driveways," said Lee Kochenash of H.A. Winston on Rt. 22.

"More people started coming in on Sunday because they were tired of staying home," she said.

Echo Lanes bowling alley manager Jack Best said a lack of employee help and an unclear parking lot kept business down to a minimum with only 30 percent of the usual clientele showing up.

P. Steinleitner services held

Services were held Monday for Peter Steinleitner, 70, of Woodland avenue, Mountainside, who died Jan. 18 in Overlook Hospital, Summit, after a long illness. Born in Germany, Mr. Steinleitner came to this country in 1929. He lived in Brooklyn prior to coming here in 1937.

He was a former tool and the maker for Stampings Inc. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Theresa Wendler Steinleitner, a daughter, Mrs. Erica Hovet of Eugene, Ore., and two grandchildren.

The Grey Funeral Home, 318 Broad St., Westfield, handled the arrangements.

Council meets

Bassano's favorable vote for the bill and expressed anger at local police lobbying for passage of the legislation.

"We are paying good salaries (to the policemen) with darn good pensions," said Ricciardi. "Bassano voted for the '20 and out' bill and I'm frustrated with that. We must not bend to the lobbying pressures of the police we employ."

The council also introduced an ordinance permitting work to begin on a sanitary sewer system on Mary Ellen road. Ricciardi said residents had been polled about the sewer system and he said all were in favor of proceeding with the construction.

The mayor also proclaimed Sunday as Ukrainian Independence Day in Mountainside in the presence of several members of a local Ukrainian community organization. The day commemorates the 60th anniversary of the signing of the Ukrainian Declaration of Independence from the Moscow regime.

"I support your efforts wholeheartedly," Ricciardi told the organization members. "We all want to be free."

It was decided the Ukrainian flag will be displayed in front of the Mountainside Public Library on Sunday.

The feature film for February will be shown on Tuesday, Feb. 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the Emma Weber Meeting Room.

Two classic silents, "The Phantom of the Opera" with Lon Chaney Sr. and "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" with John Barrymore, are scheduled for that evening. Admission is free to residents of Mountainside, and children under 14 must be accompanied by an adult. Reservations are not necessary.

The library is currently displaying "First Day Covers 1977" from the collection of Milton Smith of Mountainside. Included in this display are the "Pueblo Art" set, the U.S. Bicentennial issues, the Peace Bridge and the Christmas stamps. Many of the first day covers are hand-drawn and designed by Milton Smith. Others are special philatelic covers depicting a special event or place such as the 50th anniversary of the first solo trans-Atlantic flight and the Santa Fe Room.

First day covers may be obtained by attaching a newly issued stamp a quarter of an inch from the upper right-hand corner of an envelope. Persons should then type or print in ink their names and addresses in the middle of the envelope, ending no more than five-eighths of an inch from the bottom. A filler must be placed in the envelope to keep it firm. This envelope should then be placed inside a larger one and mailed to the postmaster of the first-day issue point. The postmaster will put the "First Day of Issue" cancellation on the envelope and mail it back to the sender.

The 1977 First Day Covers will be on display during the month of January.

Octogenarian pianist Sherman loves Chopin

At the age of 80, Max Sherman of Springfield is realizing a lifelong ambition to study and master the art of piano-playing. At a time of life when most of his contemporaries are content to settle for a sedentary, rocking-chair existence, Sherman looks to the future and finds other pursuits to occupy his time and interests.
A leader in interior decorating for 50 years, Sherman continues to operate his business, going to work every day. When his work day is done, he takes to his piano, practicing a minimum of two hours daily, sometimes three on weekends, he usually averages from four to five hours.
When he was a young adult, Sherman studied piano for two years, but he was just starting in the decorating business then, and his practice time was limited. Then he married and his wife Shirley was an accomplished pianist, so Sherman left the performing to his spouse. However, since her death, Sherman developed the need to express himself musically. He bought a piano for himself and began studying with Carmela Cecere, of Chatham and West Orange, about a year and a half ago.
When he returned to the keyboard, there were some problems, such as "the virtual refusal of the fingers to move," Mrs. Cecere said. But with a comprehensive program of finger drills, scales, arpeggios and Czerny exercises, a gradual but definite improvement has taken place. His fingers are responding amazingly well at this point, according to his master.
A conscientious student, he has clearly defined his practice schedule for his family and friends. They are not allowed to call him between 6 and 7 p.m. If they do, he will simply hang up on them. Says Sherman: "The time passes so quickly that I only seem to begin my practicing when I must stop. Sometimes, when I am exceptionally tired, I almost fall asleep at the piano. But it is so satisfying to the heart and mind that I must continue."
Last June, for his 80th birthday, Sherman's two daughters threw a party. He chose the occasion to make his musical debut with a recital for friends and family. He performed works by Liszt, Chopin, Mozart and Brahms.
A lover of Chopin, Sherman began his studies with Mrs. Cecere with the demand that she give him a "crash course" in that composer's work, since his (Sherman's) days were "numbered."
The teacher says, "With his indomitable spirit, Mr. Sherman will never be diminished, either musically or in any other way."

PIANO LESSON—Max Sherman, 80, of Springfield plies the keyboard under the tutelage of Carmela Cecere.

Roessner head of S-L board

Gilbert G. Roessner of Summit has been elected chairman of the board at City Federal Savings, the state's largest savings and loan, it was announced at the association's annual members' meeting.

Roessner succeeds Everett C. Sjerbourne of Westfield, who served as chairman since 1969 and who has been associated with the Elizabeth-based savings and loan since 1939.

New workshop date

A church history workshop sponsored by the Union County Cultural and Heritage Programs Advisory Board which was to have been held last Saturday has been postponed for a week. It has been rescheduled for 9:30 a.m. to noon this Saturday at Union College, Cranford.

Cross-country skiing has invaded the Union County Park System, a spokesman reported this week.

Approximately 10 years have passed since the Commission opened its first cross-country ski area at the Galloping Hill Golf Course, Union and Kenilworth. This course is laid out in a clockwise direction beginning and ending east of the ninth green on the pitch and putt golf course.

Three additional courses have been opened at the Ash Brook Golf Course, Scotch Plains; the Oak Ridge Golf Course, Clark, and the Watchung Reservation.

The four-kilometer course at Ash Brook begins and ends between the first and 10th tee and is laid out in a clockwise pattern, while the two-and-one-half kilometer course at Oak Ridge begins and ends at the first tee and is laid out in a counter clockwise pattern. The course in the Watchung Reservation begins at the Trailside Nature and Science Center. The full course is five kilometers, but is sectioned into smaller courses to give the skier his choice of large and small courses.

Only standard cross-country skis are permitted on these cross-country courses. Skiing is offered, weather permitting.

All cross-country facilities are open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to dark.

Skiers must follow markers on each course and are permitted to ski only on the designated course in the designated area.

The Union County Park Commission reserves the right to close cross-country ski courses at any time if declared unsafe due to insufficient snow or weather conditions.

Information about course openings can be obtained by calling 352-8410.

Ham radio operators plan emergency test

Union County ham radio operators affiliated with the Amateur Radio Emergency Service will participate this weekend in a nationwide simulated emergency test sponsored by the American Radio Relay League, L.

Local operations will be via the Roselle Park repeater, WR2AIX, on 146.085 .685 MHz and will be tied into statewide emergency and traffic networks of the League's National Traffic System. The test involves relaying radiograms, for agencies and public, between Union County and other points of the world where radiogram messages are permitted via amateur radio.

Operations are conducted under simulated emergency conditions and without the aid of telephone or commercial power services. All radio units operate either on batteries or emergency generator.

Involvement in the test requires that each radio amateur be familiar with standard network and message handling procedures as well as access to equipment suitable for emergency work. The League's emergency coordinator for Union County is Paul Krugh, N2NS, of Cranford.

A different kind of used car from a different kind of dealer.

The used cars listed here aren't ordinary used cars. Because they don't come from an ordinary dealership. At Pace, a customer is respected as the owner of a fine automobile, not dismissed as a troublesome accessory to it.

Because of our service, we're selling more and more new Buicks. And taking in more and more fine used cars as trade-ins. The cars listed here are the best of them.

Before we put a used car up for sale, we inspect it inside and out. We fix what needs fixing—and if we can't we simply don't sell the car to you.

Then, we protect every used car we sell with Pace Buick's own double warranty: 3 months or 3,000 miles, whichever comes first, on the entire car plus 6 months/6,000 miles (whichever comes first) limited to the engine and drive train.

Best of all, when you buy a used car from Pace, you receive the same attentive service that's winning us more and more new-car customers.

So, if you're tired of looking at the same old kind of used cars, come to Pace. You'll find the kind of used car you can trust—because you can also trust the dealership they come from.

Doty's accuracy from the line not enough to defeat Madison

Frosh edge Madison as Berliner scores 17

The Jonathan Dayton Freshman basketball team edged Madison, 49-44, at the latter's court in another down-to-the-wire affair. Having pulled ahead of Madison in the later stages of the first quarter, Dayton lost the lead at half-time but finally caught up to Madison at the start of the fourth period. Dayton used a stall in the remaining two minutes of the game to protect its five-point margin of victory. In the first four minutes of the last period, the Bulldogs opened up an 11-point margin and held off a pressing Madison rally.

Two baskets by Donald Meixner in the opening minutes of the first period tied the score, 4-4. Two baskets by Alan Berliner and one each by Larry Walker and Steve Altman led the frosh to a 14-6 lead at the quarter.

Madison came out in the second quarter utilizing a 2-3 zone, coupled with a half-court press, and outscored Dayton, 15-4, to take a 21-18 lead at halftime. Berliner was the only Bulldog scorer.

In the third quarter, Dayton solved the Madison defense. A pair of fouls by Berliner followed by his 20-foot side pop early in the frame, plus Altman's basket, put the Frosh ahead, 24-23.

Each team then exchanged baskets to end the quarter tied, 32-32. Two points each by Altman, Meixner and Billy Condon, and an additional bucket by Berliner, rounded out the scoring.

The Bulldogs started the fourth quarter with four successive baskets—two by Meixner, one by Todd Leonard and a twisting backhand by Walker—to put Dayton ahead, 40-32. Another basket by Leonard, combined with a three-point play by Berliner, raised the score to 45-34 midway through the period. But Madison clawed back in the next two minutes to make it 45-40, with 2:10 remaining in the game. Dayton went to a stall, adding four points in the next 60 seconds on Meixner's uncontested baskets, as Madison began pressing and trapping. Madison fought back with four points to end the game.

Berliner led all scorers with 17 points, followed by Meixner (16), Altman (six), Walker and Leonard (four each) and Condon (two). Jerry Blabolil also saw action. The Bulldogs are now 3-3 overall and 2-2 in conference play. Both conference victories were by five-point margins, both losses by three points. The frosh play host to Millburn and travel to New Providence this week.

By MIKE MEIXNER

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School basketball team dropped a close decision to the Madison Dodgers in a Suburban Conference matchup. The Bulldogs, coached by Raymond Yanchus, have compiled a 1-3 record in league play. Their seasonal log stands at 3-7. The Dayton team is scheduled to face New Providence tomorrow on the Bulldog home court.

Madison stayed off a Dayton comeback attempt to hold onto a 72-64 victory. In the early going the Bulldogs jumped out to a 10-4 lead and seemed on the verge of breaking the game wide open. Clutch shooting by Willie Wilburn sparked Dayton to a 21-18 first quarter bulge. Wilburn gracefully burned the Dodgers for nine points in the first eight minutes of the contest. Kevin Walker also started quickly, tallying seven points in the first stanza. Kevin Doty, Dayton's ace performer, added five to complete the initial quarter scoring.

Poor shooting, coupled with a sub-par defensive effort, left the Bulldogs down by four points at the intermission. The Dodgers netted 21 points in the period, while the Springfield squad managed only 14. Doty scored eight in the quarter, six coming from the free throw line. Walker added a bucket, and Dave Ironson and Israel Joseph swished two foul shots apiece.

Fouls took their toll on the Bulldogs in the third period. Point guard Frank Zahn was forced to make an early exit, as was Walker in the later stages of the quarter. Zahn was replaced by Skip Lagoori, Walker by Mike Meixner. Dayton won the third, 16-15, but trailed by three entering the final eight minutes. Doty and Wilburn each tallied six points, Walker canned the final four.

Fouls eventually did the Bulldogs in. Wilburn and Joseph were assessed with their fifth fouls midway through the final quarter. Substitute of the week Ken Fingerhut entered the game upon Wilburn's exit and proceeded to rifle in eight points in barely four minutes of playing time. Doty added four more points, not enough to compensate for the 10 scored by Madison's Steve O'Donnell, who finished with 23. Big Davey Lauffhoff chipped in with a free throw.

Doty ended the game with 23 points, including a perfect 15 for 15 from the charity stripe. Doty also handled the bulk of the board work, hauling in 13 caroms. Wilburn dazzled with 15 points and a team-high five assists. Walker netted 13 points in under three periods of play, and grabbed 10 bounds.

Dayton takes romp; jayvees get leveled

By KIRK KUBACH

Jayvees wallop Madison after 2 close losses

By MIKE MEIXNER

The steadily improving Jonathan Dayton Regional High School junior varsity basketball team captured its first victory by topping Madison, 62-48. Standout defensive play by Tony Garguilo spurred the Dayton outfit to victory. Earlier, Coach William McNeec's team lost to undefeated Summit by seven points and to 8-1 Verona by five.

Garguilo, showing continuous hustle, held 30-point-per-game scorer Pete O'Donnell to a mere two points in the entire game.

Adam Joseph, who has begun to show amazing talent, scored 27 points. Connecting mainly from the outside, Joseph kept the Dodger defense honest.

Tony Circelli, a point guard recently elevated to the varsity roster, sparkled with 24 points. Circelli played a solid all-around game. Billy Ventura had a mediocre shooting day, scoring but five points. Rebounding tower Toby Lesofski connected for four points in the successful outing and ripped down 11 rebounds.

decided his opponent 6-4. In the most exciting match of the day, Dean Pashaian overcame his opponent, a district champion, at 108. Pat Picciuto recorded the only Bulldog pin at 115. Despite a setback at 122, Howard Doppelt won his match. Kirk Kubach (135) survived a one point decision.

Also in the victory column: Tom Poulos, 141; John Ferry, 158; and Ken Bell who decisively won his match 15-2. Chris Smith, 148 and John Halpin, 188, both were defeated.

Millburn grappling brothers, Don Calabrese, 101, took an 8-5 decision and his brother Mike, 122, outpointed his man.

Although the varsity wrestlers went down, the jayvees salvaged the day with a victory after the Bulldogs beat Rahway jayvees. Their record now stands at 3-2. Millburn wrestlers took five of the Bulldog jayvee's best. They were: John Meisel, 122, Ed Francis, 129, Alan Wilde, 135, Paul D'Andrea, 141 and Chris Smith at 148.

Jr. Minutemen score, 57-38, over Madison

By CRAIG CLICKENGER

The Springfield Junior Minutemen continued their winning ways with an easy 57-38 victory in Madison last Wednesday. The Juniors were in charge from the first minute. The starting five—Thomas Ard, Michael Berliner, Ron Fusco, Victor Gutierrez and Kyle Huggins—put the Minutemen out in front for good with quick baskets. The Junior defense took over from there and they never relinquished the lead.

Berliner and Ard were standouts. Berliner had his best game of the season as he hit consistently from outside and on the fast break to accumulate 24 points. The Juniors' guard also was active on defense with six steals and six assists. Ard, with 18 points, led with 11 rebounds and seven steals.

Fusco, Scott Newman and David Kadish each hit four points. Huggins hit a basket and pulled down 12 rebounds. David Johnson (two) and Joe Roessner (one) rounded out the scoring.

Gutierrez, Richard Hinkley and Andy Rosenthal all played. Other Junior participants were Danny Spotts, Jay Siegel and Steve Srednick.

Pingry honors pair

Two students from Springfield were awarded athletic letters for winter competition at the Pingry School. Thomas Schmidt of Fernhill road was honored for jayvee football; Nancy Berkowitz of Chimney Ridge drive, for girls' varsity soccer.

Small Fries show high scoring ability

The Lakers, along with the Pistons, in the Small Fry League, remained the two undefeated teams by edging by the Raiders, 16-11. A Raider nine-point fourth-quarter surge narrowed the Lakers lead but stalled out. Joel Greenburg had his best game of the season scoring 10 points.

Other standouts for the Lakers were Adam Jacobs (four) and Anthony Boffa (two). Beth Lebovitz, Nick Ruggeri, and Barry Rodburg each had strong defensive games for the unbeaten Lakers.

Leading scorer for the Raiders was Tom Kisch. Kisch kept the Raiders close with six points from inside. Don Dilanno put three points on the board and Robert Fusco hit for two to complete the Raider scoring. Kenny Garguilo (six) and Fusco (eight) led the Raiders in rebounds.

The Pistons outdid the Billikens 13-10. A fourth-quarter charge by the underdog kept fans on the edge of their seats. Tony Graziano and Christian Petino brought the Billikens within three but were stopped. Gregg Kahn (six) and Tom Meixner (five) combined to lead the Pistons to victory. Meixner's rebounding chore tallied 10. Robert DeRonde (two) also scored for the Pistons.

The Billikens were headed by guard Anthony Graziano's eight points. Christian Petino was the top Billiken rebounder, scoring two points. Bruce Schneider, Terry Roberts and Deanna Campos played scrappy defensive games.

The Rockets took their first win of the season with a victory over the winless Bullets, 8-6. The Rockets did all their scoring in the third quarter. John Lusardi and Eric Kahn netting four a piece.

Brian Cole (four) and David Markstein (two) were the top men in the point column for the Bullets. Jim Yee, Darren Marcantore, and Adam Cummis led the Bullets on defense.

The Celtics exploded overpowering the Jets 13-4. Center Todd Wasserman had hot hands six points and seven rebounds. Allan Gross (four) and David Rockman (two) contributed to the Celtic scoring. Paul Modzan also hit a foul shot.

Guards Jim Roberts (two) and Chris Schramm (two) did all the scoring for the Jets. Top defensive stalwarts for the Jets were Joe Clere and Mike Bowen. Jeff Pinkava had a good game and ripped down five rebounds.

'Best housing buy' at Laurel-in-the-Pines

"It's the best housing buy in the metropolitan area today," boasts Philip Taylor, sales manager for Laurel-in-the-Pines condominium, North Lake drive, Lakewood.

"$33,990 buys a three-story townhouse with two full baths plus two guest lavatories, paneled family room and wall-to-wall carpeting at Laurel-in-the-Pines," Taylor says. "Our maintenance package includes heat, sewer, water, exterior maintenance and recreation club. I challenge anyone to show me a better value in the tri-state area today."

In a day of grandiose advertising claims, Taylor realizes that his message may fall on deaf ears. "It's actually frustrating to hear some of the inquiries we receive each week," he says. "Even though our literature and advertising tells the full story, some people still don't believe it. They think there's a 'catch' to it."

The D model, which Taylor refers to as "the best housing buy in the metropolitan area today," boasts Philip Taylor, sales manager for Laurel-in-the-Pines condominium, North Lake drive, Lakewood. "Our maintenance package includes heat, sewer, water, exterior maintenance and recreation club. I challenge anyone to show me a better value in the tri-state area today."

The condominium maintenance fee is $60.50 pays for natural gas heat, recreation club membership, city water and sewers, exterior maintenance, grounds-keeping, snow and garbage removal. "Once a resident, an individual needs only to take care of his own electric and telephone bills," according to Taylor.

Recreation facilities include a private clubhouse with saunas, a swimming pool, plus adjoining Lake Carasaj, which features a beach, nature trails, boating and picnicking.

Laurel-in-the-Pines was built in 1971 and has existed since as a rental community. Since the beginning of its conversion to condominium 82 units have been sold. Only 48 remain.

Sales office is located at the site on North Lake drive in Lakewood. Hours are 10 to 5 daily, six days (closed Tuesday). Exclusive sales agent is the Laurel Management Corporation.

SCENE FROM STAGE COMEDY—Nonnie Weaver tries to get away from Bob MacCallum's advances in Neil Simon's "Star Spangled Girl," now at McAters Dinner Theater, Somerset. The show will run through Sunday, Feb. 5.

Husband, wife team in 'Goodbye Girl' film

Marsha Mason, who is starred in her husband's story and screenplay, "The Goodbye Girl" by Neil Simon, says that this is the first time she and her husband have collaborated on a film. The picture is being held over at the New Plaza, Linden, and the Maplewood Theater, Maplewood.

Miss Mason explains that although she is diligent about tailoring her career to fit her personal life, she has only made a handful of movies. "I was...and still am...serious about my career," says the young actress, "but I have other things to consider besides acting. I need time at home for my family between jobs, and I won't take any roles that mean an extended absence from Neil."

About teaming on "The Goodbye Girl," Miss Mason explains, "first of all, of course, it was fun working together. And then the role itself was a delight. I play an ex-Broadway hooper who has been jilted by two actors, one of them my husband. I'm left with no career, and a 10-year-old daughter to support. Then another aspiring actor comes into my life. The wonderful thing about the character is that she turns out to be a winner after all." Richard Dreyfuss plays opposite Miss Mason, and her daughter is played by Quinn Cummings.

Disc & Data

BY MILT HAMMER

Pick of the LP's
E L O I S E A B C RECORDS-10232

A native of Houston, Texas, Eloise Laws, the stirring pop and soul songstress, is the sister of touted individual jazz performers, Hubert Laws and Ronnie Laws. Musically prolific, the Laws family is also a model of scholastic achievement. Ronnie received a scholarship from Berklee School of Music, while Hubert studied at the prestigious Juilliard School of Music.

For Eloise, first came a scholarship at Texas Southern University, and later a fellowship to study music under the guidance of the Corinthian Broadcasting Company in New York.

In New York, Eloise auditioned at The Improvisation, the renowned showcase for new talent. She was selected to perform on the Playboy Club circuit, which led to national television appearances on The Mike Douglas, Merv Griffin, David Frost and Tonight shows.

Two years ago, Eloise moved from New York to Los Angeles. She contributed backup vocals on brother Ronnie's LP, "Friends and Strangers." To return the favor, Ronnie plays saxophone on two cuts on ELOISE. This is her second album on the ABC label.

As a woman, Eloise describes herself as being "right in the middle of the spectrum, healthy and wholesome. Some people don't think the middle is a good place, but I see it as a strength because you can go both ways."

Numbers on this good sounding LP include: "Baby You Lied," "His House And Me," "1,000 Laughs," "Someone Who Still Needs Me," "Love Is Feeling," "Number One," "You're Incredible," "Love Comes Easy" and "Forever Now."

Violinist set for concert

New Jersey violinist Gil Morgenstern will join forces with the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra and its associate conductor Jesse Levine in the second concert on its three-ticket Kaleidoscope Series at Symphony Hall, Newark, Sunday, Feb. 5.

Ballet drama due at Foxes

"The Turning Point," starring Anne Bancroft, Shirley MacLaine, Mikhail Baryshnikov and Leslie Browne, and featuring the American Ballet Theater, opens tomorrow at the Fox Theater, Route 22, Union, and the Fox Theater in Woodbridge.

The picture, set in the turbulent world of ballet, concerns a reunion of an aging ballerina and a friend who gave it up for domesticity.

In 1974, these high school graduates faced a very important decision

In 1978, these Seton Hall seniors know they were right

For high school seniors, choosing the right college is no easy decision. And it wasn't easy in 1974 for Pamela Martin of Point Pleasant, or James Girard of Trenton — each accepted at many schools. Now, it's 4 years later. And both are convinced that choosing Seton Hall University was one of the best decisions they'll ever make.

Pam Martin, Seton Hall '78. "After graduating from Brick Township H.S., I entered Seton Hall as an accounting major — and now have an internship with one of America's finest accounting firms. During my years at Seton Hall, I became secretary of the Resident Student Association, chairman of the Student Program Committee, a member of the University Budget Committee — even a statistician with the varsity football team. While the friendships I've made here are valuable, the education I've received from a top-notch faculty has been invaluable in preparing me for a meaningful and rewarding career. There's no question about it — coming to Seton Hall University was one of the best decisions I'll ever make."

Jim Girard, Seton Hall '78. "After finishing Holy Ghost Preparatory School in '74, I enrolled at Seton Hall University as a communication major and I couldn't be more confident of the future after my graduation this May. During the past 4 years I've served as a campus correspondent for metropolitan newspapers and the student press, and as assistant to the sports information director — activities ideally correlated to my career objectives in the field of public relations. Both in and out of the classroom, Seton Hall's faculty really helped — because they really know how to communicate. No matter how you look at it, coming to Seton Hall was the right step."

Like more information about September admission to Seton Hall University? Just write to Director of Admissions, Seton Hall University, South Orange, New Jersey 07079. Or call (201) 762-9000, Ext. 444. Tell 'em Pam Martin and Jim Girard sent you.

PLEASE... HANDS OFF!

METER TAMPERING IS DANGEROUS, ILLEGAL, AND PUNISHABLE BY LAW!

Tampering with electric and gas meters is a serious violation of the law.

Unfortunately, a new kind of criminal has emerged during the last few energy conscious years: The electricity and gas thief. These criminals are cheating honest customers out of millions of dollars a year by tampering with meters. The obvious purpose of meter tampering is to defraud electric and gas companies. This is not only illegal—it is also dangerous and can result in serious or even fatal injury.

At PSE&G, we are especially concerned with the effect that meter tampering has on the vast majority of our customers.

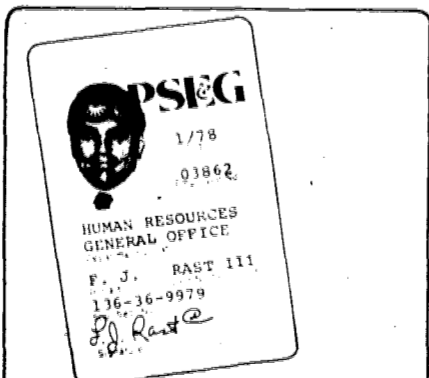

Those who pay their bills month after month for the energy they use are penalized because, as in any business, losses through theft are reflected in our operating expenses and your energy costs.

To protect our customers, PSE&G has adopted a firm policy for energy thieves.

Now, any person or group caught stealing electricity or gas or tampering with meters will be subject to prosecution. Since this policy went into effect, indictments have been brought against several persons, convictions have been obtained, and substantial fines have been levied.

PSE&G feels that strong action is in the best interest of our customers and these cases will continue to be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. Furthermore, if you are aware of any persons or groups involved with meter tampering, it is in your best interest to bring this information to the attention of your local PSE&G office. All customers will benefit.

More tots neglected than beaten

Study shows how parents inflict harm

A recently completed state study indicates that more children suffer severe harm from neglect than from abuse.

The study, which analyzed Division of Youth and Family Services (DYFS) case records, showed that neglect compared with abuse, produced at least twice as many incidents of severe harm to children.

Dr. Leroy H. Pelton of the state's bureau of research, who conducted the study, said 32 percent of the cases involved only neglect, 28 percent involved both abuse and neglect, and 40 percent involved only abuse.

For purposes of the study, "severe harm" was defined as that which required either hospitalization or emergency medical treatment, Pelton said.

The division's major responsibility is mandated by law to protect abused, neglected and abandoned children in New Jersey. Delivery of protective services is handled by the division's district offices in each county.

Pelton conducted the study by drawing a random sample of 1,000 cases under active supervision by the Division's district offices in each county. He found that 60 children with all of the incidents were known to suspected parents. The case records of these 60 children were analyzed and parent interviews were conducted in connection with 33 of the cases.

Of the cases in the sample, 30 mothers had the care of the children, and 10 percent were under 16 years of age when they had their first child; only a third had remained in school past the 10th grade. In 10 percent of the cases, the parents of the children were not living together.

While most of the abuse and neglect cases that came to the attention of DYFS in Mercer County involved families with marginal incomes, the vast majority of impoverished parents do not abuse or neglect their children," Pelton said.

The data suggests that neglectful behavior, such as leaving a child alone, more readily leads to dire consequences when it occurs in the context of poverty than when that same behavior is engaged in by middle-class parents, Pelton said.

He pointed out that a parent in a poverty situation has very little margin for mismanagement, either of time or money. "If a mother squanders $5, her children may go hungry for two days, if she leaves a child alone for half an hour, the household health and safety hazards that often accompany poverty may lead to injury," Pelton explained.

"The study supports the establishment of an emergency cash fund, soon to be implemented by DYFS under a grant from the National Center on Child Abuse and Neglect, which will permit DYFS to make time-limited case grants to families on an emergency basis for the purpose of eliminating certain health and safety hazards presenting imminent danger to a child," Pelton said.

Health plans near deadline

Deadline is approaching for Blue Cross and Blue Shield subscribers who are parents of 16-year-old mentally retarded or physically handicapped dependent children, according to an official of the two nonprofit health plans.

"If the child turned 19 in 1977, he or she may remain under the parent's contracts if the parent submits satisfactory proof of incapacity and dependency to us by Tuesday," said the official.

Parents of such children should contact the nearest Blue Cross and Blue Shield office to obtain the forms necessary to arrange continued coverage. There are offices in Paramus, Newark, Basking Ridge, Princeton and Cherry Hill.
