Condo case going higher in N.J. court

The Chatam Realty Co. this week disclosed that it will appeal a N.J. Superior Court decision upholding a variance denial which prevented it from building a 21-unit condominium at New Providence road and Rt. 22 in Mountainside. The firm decided not to challenge a borough ordinance prohibiting multi-family housing. The company had previously announced it would challenge the legality of the ordinance, but Chatam attorney Franz Skok said "costs and tactics" led the company to "take a voluntary dismissal" of that challenge.

The firm, however, will appeal a January decision by Judge Milton Feller which upheld the borough's denial of a variance on the grounds that Chatam had presented insufficient flood control guidelines. In addition, the company had argued that the con-

Council views parking rules

Parking will be restricted on three streets in Mountainside's industrial park section, if an ordinance introduced by the Borough Council on Tuesday is approved.

The proposal calls for no parking at any time on Sheffield street, and limits parking on Bristol road to one side from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. A portion of Willow road will also restrict parking to one side of the street.

The ordinance was recommended to the council by a committee formed to ease traffic problems in the industrial complex on Rt. 22, according to Business Administrator Lee Voorhees.

Final action will be taken at the council's April 18 meeting.

GOP to hear guest speaker

Former Mountainside Councilman Bill Cullen will be the guest speaker at the April 19 meeting of the Mountainside Republican Club, according to the president, Roy Mumford.

The club's second annual pancake breakfast will be held Sunday, June 4. Mumford said he will announce the price and location. The date was chosen because of its proximity to the primary election.

The GOP club meets the third Wednesday of each month at 8 p.m. at the Mountainside Inn.

Actors get accolades Director feels fulfillment

By PATRICIA GARRISON

"You need a special skill and talent to act," said Adele Magnolia of Mountainside. "I don't know if I have that."

What she does have is a keen interest in the dramatic arts and a belief in the educational merits of theater and music which culminate in her direction of the Mountainside Musical Association's production of "Make Mine Music" to be presented in May.

Mrs. Magnolia began theater production work at Montclair State College, directing dormitory musical revues. She directed children's plays as a teacher in Rahway and keeps a close watch on the school system's music program as the curriculum supervisor.

"Make Mine Music" will be a potpourri of things we feel are good examples of big, Broadway-type numbers," she said. "There's no unifying theme as in past shows, and this allows us more freedom." The lack of a theme also gives the cast a chance to "show off their talents. Every

Benefit musical tickets on sale

Tickets for "Make Mine Music," bi-annual musical production of the Mountainside Music Association, to be presented at Deerfield School in Mountainside on Friday and Saturday, May 5 and 6, at 8:30 p.m., are now on sale, according to Judith Williams, president of the MMA.

"This variety show is our major fund-raising effort to help support the music programs of all our schools as well as other charitable work to which we are committed," said Mrs. Williams.

Tickets are available through MMA members or from the ticket chairpersons, Mr. and Mrs. David Hart, at 233-4036. Prices are $4 each and $2 for senior citizens and students.

Weeding out textual stereotypes Teachers must be sensitive to biases

By PATRICIA GARRISON

Archie Bunker may be head of the country's best-known family, but many people's first introduction to the "typical American family" came by way of "Dick and Jane" elementary school textbooks.

For years, the schoolbook characters mirrored Americans' image of a healthy homelife. Mother hung clothes and baked cakes, but Dad was "important" and omnipotent. Dick had fun and played hard while Janet sat with Mom and played with dolls.

Textbooks were only part of the influence package children were expected to assimilate, but local educators seem to think the books play a major part in forming children's social attitudes.

With the threat of class action suits, Title Nine violations and brands of "sexism," school districts have kept a keen eye on textbook content and its presentation of women.

"Textbook content can be important in subtle ways," said Dr. Martin Siegel, director of curriculum and instruction for the Union County Regional High School District. Siegel said sexist or defamatory material in a book should be offset by "an alert, sensitive teacher aware of the situation. Teachers should make references to students" when women are presented unfairly or information is biased, he said.

Barbara Gerkin of Mountainside, a teacher in Woodbridge, said she not only informs her fifth-graders about important historical strides made by women, but also works at removing stereotypes that deny both sexes the chance to break out of restrictive roles.

"I hope teachers try to deal with all people," said Gerkin, who is chairwoman of the Mountainside Chapter of the American Association of University Women's committee to monitor Title Nine. "Some people are better than others at certain things. It has nothing to do with sex. The idea that girls are better or worse at some things is myth."

MOUNTAINSIDE school superintendent Levin Hanigan said his teachers are instructed to keep up with changes in all subjects.

"Teachers are told to be aware of racial or anti-feminist material in the textbooks," said Dr. Hanigan, "and they are required to supplement with other materials to bring the whole thing into line."

Dr. Siegel noted that a "sensitive" teacher is the key to broadening student perspective on the status of women. He admitted, "a textbook is not the answer, whether it's good or bad." He added that an "aware" instructor "makes a lot of difference."

"We don't use one single textbook in social studies or English," said Siegel. "We have a variety of materials and

Board gives students a choice on class trip

The Mountainside Board of Education Tuesday night put the final eighth grade class trip decision in the hands of the students. The board voted unanimously to allow the Deerfield School students the option of choosing any one of three trip suggestions proposed by a parent-student committee, but stipulated that a "get tough" disciplinary stance would bar any student who commits certain acts from going on the trip. The trip would be at board expense.

A student vote, tallied Monday, showed most students preferred a sightseeing-theater trip to New York City, followed by an 18-hour trek to Washington D.C. A visit to Lancaster, Pa., was ruled out by a low student vote.

Board member Patricia Knodel suggested the board tack on a disciplinary reminder to the resolution that will "automatically disqualify a student from going on the class trip" for such things as smoking pot or cigarettes on school grounds, drinking alcoholic beverages or vandalism.

She noted that past disciplinary problems on class trips have forced many teachers to lose their desire to chaperone the outings, and she said she "felt sorry" that this year's eighth graders are "catching the brunt of all that."

"But I can also sympathize with the staff," she said, "because of trouble with former class trips."

Board president Scott Schmedel

insisted the discipline resolution was not meant "to imply that we're dissatisfied with the staff in enforcing the present disciplinary code."

But Knodel said parts of the code have not been enforced and she added that it "isn't strict enough."

Board member Charles Speth expressed fears that the trip resolution would "set a precedent" and told the board that financial changes may alter this year's trip decision.

"How do you know where you'll be next year?" he said. "It may not be fair to the children that come after this class."

Most board members agreed, and noted that this resolution was not a precedent or a trip policy, which Sch-

$23,500 total is reached as campaign ends

The Community Fund drive in Mountainside for the 1977-78 season has drawn to a close, according to the local chairman, Thomas Spina.

"We collected $23,500 as the result of two mailings to residents and the business community. This figure represents a marked increase in revenue compared to the returns we've been getting in recent years," Spina said.

"On behalf of the trustees and the volunteers, I'd like to express appreciation for the considerate and generous support we received from all segments of the community during the drive," he added. Spina said the trustees would hold a final meeting on April 19 and announce the actual distribution of funds to the service organizations which benefit from the community effort.

In addition to Spina, trustees include Lou and Marge Maas, Larry Curtis, Mabel Young, Bob Trumbower, Jim Haughey, Bob Shields and Tim Benford. Mrs. Young and Benford are previous drive chairmen.

Spina said he was particularly happy with the efforts of Lou Maas and Larry Curtis, "since they organized the most comprehensive and thorough solicitation of the business community conducted in recent years."

In Assembly DONALD T. DiFRANCESCO

As a part of the "Thorough and Efficient" education law enacted nearly three years ago, a Joint Committee on the Public Schools was created in the legislature to review the goals and standards established by the State Board of Education for all the schools of the state.

Under this directive, the Joint Committee has just completed a review of the new "minimum standards" program, as well as a study of the impact of state aid on property taxes.

A third investigation about to be undertaken by the committee is an evaluation of the administration of the "Thorough and Efficient" education program. The administrative aspects of T & E have long been under fire for creating unnecessary paperwork and for involving teachers with the bureaucracy rather than with children.

The most recent charge leveled at the administrators of the T & E program is that they have strayed from legislative intent in their implementation of the law. A coalition of business, educational, religious and civic groups has received publicity lately by charging that there seem to be "disparities between the mandates of the law" and the manner in which the statute has been applied.

Specifically, the group, called Schoolwatch, has asked the Joint Committee to investigate State Education Commissioner Fred G. Burke's interpretation of that part of the T & E law stressing "individualized" objectives for students.

The Schoolwatch group, which includes the State Chamber of Commerce, the N.J. Taxpayers' Association, New Jersey Bell and the Greater Newark Urban Coalition, has charged that Burke has given into demands of teacher unions by reversing policy to require only district and program objectives, rather than individualized goals, in the school systems.

Schoolwatch contends that the intent of the T & E legislation was to focus particular attention on individual student needs, and that the return to traditional curriculum guides for objectives deviates from the intent of the law.

In response, Commissioner Burke has released a memo in which he claims that the T & E law does not require individualization of goals; therefore, the law's intent is not being violated.

It is clear that while there is such confusion and disagreement surrounding the administration of T & E, the chances that our children are receiving a thorough and efficient education are not enhanced. The T & E law has been in effect for nearly three years, and it is time we had a thorough evaluation of the program.

The Legislature's Joint Committee on the Public Schools can, by investigating the implementation of the T & E program, determine if the law has been followed as intended. The review can also cover other major criticisms of the T & E program, and should include an assessment of bureaucratic requirements in the school systems.

We have been arguing about the T & E program for years, guessing about its effectiveness and using it as a political issue. It is time we had some answers. As a member of the Joint Committee on the Public Schools, I will work to see that we get them.

'FINE JOB'

This is an open letter of thanks to Mr. Heckel and all of his men for the fine job they did this past winter in clearing our streets of snow and ice.

Many of the towns around us were not as lucky—and I, for one, appreciate their efforts here in Mountainside.

Thank you very much for a job well done.

SCHOOL BUDGET

The statements attributed to you in the March 30 1978 issue of the Mountainside Echo concerning your reaction to the proposals of the task force aimed at improving the efficiency of local school districts, is in keeping with the utter disregard the elected officials of our community have for the people they are supposed to serve.

Your indiscreet and inappropriate statements that it was unfair for a small number of eligible voters who "allow themselves to be ignorant about what they're voting on" to decide the fate of a school budget and "people have not done a good job of finding out things for themselves" are on a par with the recent statements issued by members of Borough Council in their attempt to rationalize their decision not to reduce the school budget after it was defeated at the polls. In both instances, a callous disregard for the mandate of the majority has been arrogantly displayed.

When are you all going to learn to pay attention to what your constituents are telling you?

SMOKE DETECTORS

I noticed the article on fire detectors in the March 16 issue of the Mountainside Echo, and I believe there is a logical solution to the problem. Exposing the need for smoke detectors in homes for the safety of people who live there is great.

Mentioned also was the frustration firefighters go through when they find that people, whose lives were saved from fire, neglect to take the proper precautions against the recurrence of such a life-threatening situation. I agree that the average person never thinks twice about his own life being threatened by fire. This just goes to prove that recommending precautions to these people doesn't do much good.

Six months ago, my brother and his wife purchased a trailer home in a

Keyport mobile home park. It was surprising to me when I found that there was a requirement for each trailer home to be equipped with a smoke detector and two fire extinguishers.

Do people misunderstand the true purpose for this? It is true that trailer parks are set up in a way that should a fire break out, neighboring trailers close by could easily contribute to the rapid destruction of the entire complex.

In a residential community such as Mountainside, the houses are spread out so such a "chain reaction" threat is not likely to occur. With this attitude, many people neglect to be aware that their own lives are at stake, and excuse themselves from investing in fire detectors.

I therefore suggest that a town ordinance be implemented to require all homes to install fire detection devices. To offset the cost, there might be a tax deduction allowed to home owners.

Surely the town would profit by this action. The savings in fire and Police Protection costs would be reduced, improving the community as well as making it a safer place to live.

Three injured in two mishaps

Three persons suffered minor injuries in two traffic accidents on Rt. 22 in Mountainside this week, police reported.

Lauro Bricurt of Westfield was hurt when her car was hit in the rear by an auto driven by Jan Lebowitz of Westfield at Rt. 22 and Mountain avenue Sunday afternoon.

Police said Lebowitz's car began pulling out into traffic when it struck Bricurt's auto, which had stopped for a traffic light.

A passenger in Lebowitz's car, identified as Rosann Vella, also was injured.

Charles Santo of Roselle Park was taken by the Mountainside Rescue Squad to Overlook Hospital after his car hit an auto driven by James B. Tremper of Middlesex Sunday morning.

Police said both cars were stopped in traffic on Rt. 22, when Santo's car moved, hitting Tremper's auto in front of it.

Greger picked as sales chief

Arthur W. Greger has been named director of marketing and sales for the Sterling Plastics division of Borden Chemical, Mountainside. He succeeds Philip E. Norman, who was recently named general manager of Borden Chemical's consumer products division.

Greger comes to his new position after serving for two years as Western sales manager of Sterling Plastics, in St. Louis. Since first joining Borden in 1960, he has held various positions with the company.

In his new position, Greger will direct the marketing of the full line of Sterling school and stationery supplies and home and office products.

Congress is showing increasing readiness to again revamp Social Security financing, this time by rolling back the unconscionable tax increases rushed into law last December.

I strongly favor such action and have already sponsored legislation that would substantially reduce payroll taxes.

Under my bill, the Social Security payroll tax set for next year would be slashed from 6.13 percent to 3.9 percent. This would be achieved by covering one-third of Social Security funds out of general revenues. The balance would be shared equally by employer and employee.

Escalating payroll taxes that currently threaten massive financial burdens for middle and higher-income Americans would be replaced with individual cuts of up to $1,013 a year shared equally by employer and employee. The change would reduce payroll taxes for Social Security by $30 billion, rolling them back to pre-1965 levels.

It would relieve the rising pressures of inflation on the nation's economy. Lower payroll deductions would reduce production costs, and employers would have an incentive to cut prices in the marketplace and to hire more workers. Studies by the Congressional Budget Office show that this kind of payroll tax cut would do more to combat inflation than President Carter's income tax revision plan.

Unless there is a major revision of the Social Security funding program, many Americans will find their payroll taxes tripling over the next 15 years to levels exceeding what they pay in income taxes.

There is no question in my mind that Social Security needs the extra billions of dollars earmarked by Congress. Without these extra funds, the whole system would be in danger of financial collapse, with disastrous consequences for millions of elderly Americans who rely on Social Security for their survival.

The proposal that I have made is not the only choice available to Congress in its anticipated move to roll back payroll tax increases.

Some alternative bills introduced in the House would approach the same goal by removing some components of the Social Security system from payroll tax financing.

One proposal would remove Medicare health insurance from the Social Security and have these benefits paid from general revenues.

It would reduce payroll taxes by $22 billion. Other proposals envisage the use of income tax credits to help offset the cost of rising payroll taxes.

A major advantage of the change I have recommended is that it offers straight-forward funding through a policy that has been tested and proven effective in scores of other countries.

Developed countries throughout the world have used general revenues for a portion of their social insurance programs for many years—Austria, Belgium, Canada, Finland, Great Britain, Ireland, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland, West Germany and others.

Nor is the use of general revenues to pay for Social Security a new concept in the United States. The Federal Advisory Council of 1939 recommended a tripartite approach with equal contributions by employers, employees and the government. There is certainly nothing sacrosanct about the Social Security trust fund which prohibits the use of general revenues.

The whole issue of payroll tax burdens created by the new Social Security funding program is expected to come under Congressional review when the House and Senate Budget Committees prepare the first concurrent budget resolutions later this month. It also is expected to be a major topic when the House Ways and Means Committee begins work on the budget around the end of this month.

Freedom Jewish Center, will lead a discussion on "Continuity of Halacha (Jewish religious law) Throughout the Ages." Mr. and Mrs. Schneider will sponsor a social hour after the discussion.

The overall theme of the congregation's discussion series this year is "Contemporary Problems in Light of Halacha." The final session, scheduled for Sunday, May 7, will offer a discussion on another topic within this theme.

Rabbi Greebel was ordained at the Kollel Shevet Yehuda, Brooklyn. He holds a master of arts degree from Seton Hall University and a bachelor of arts from Brooklyn College. His discussion will outline basic principles of Halacha, which form a framework for the interpretation of all questions and problems which might develop.

The daily services and other activities of Congregation Israel of Springfield are housed in temporary quarters at 42 Shunpike rd., Springfield, during the construction of a permanent synagogue at Mountain avenue and Shunpike road. Information about the living room series may be obtained from Melvin Harelk (379-7081) or Allen Penn (467-3478). General information about the congregation's services and activities may be obtained from Rabbi Israel E. Turner (467-0217).

The Religious School of Congregation Israel of Springfield will conduct its annual model Passover seder Sunday at 1:45 p.m. at the American Legion Hall, North Trivet avenue at Center street, Springfield. Children from all classes of the school will participate under the direction of Gilda Tesser, Esther Newman and Shandi Zudick of the school's teaching staff.

Participating in the program will be Fred Israel, Greg Lamberg, Marc Baltuch, David Edelcreek, David Krell, Barry Shpitolofsky, Alan Talarsky, Thea Winarsky, Elizabeth Strulowitz, Abby Israel, Barry Rodburg, Jill Zimmerman, Glen Baltuch, Jerry Lipschitz, Dana Shpitolofsky, Laura Talarsky and Mark Winarsky. The public has been invited to attend.

Congregation Israel provides religious school classes for children eight to 13, paralleling the third to eighth grades of public school. It is expected that classes for the 1978-79 school year beginning in September will be held in the congregation's permanent Synagogue and Religious School, presently under construction at Mountain avenue and Shunpike road. Until June, classes are being held at the congregation's temporary synagogue at 42 Shunpike rd.

The Religious School board of directors is composed of Bernice Edelcreek, chairman; Bebe Asman, Mel Harelk, Margot Schlesinger, Dr. Leonard Strulowitz, Daniel Talarsky, Scott Tanne and ex-officio, Jack H. Stifelman, congregation president, and Rabbi Israel E. Turner, spiritual leader. Information about the school may be obtained from Rabbi Turner at 467-0217 or 376-6806, or Mrs. Edelcreek, 376-3283.

Contributions by employers, employees and the government. There is certainly nothing sacrosanct about the Social Security trust fund which prohibits the use of general revenues.

Communities merge sales offices, staffs

Rossmore and its adjacent Aducci Community Clearbrook have merged staffs and offices. In the past weeks since the opening of this newly combined sales office, prospective buyers have commented on the ease and efficiency of working with the different communities under the guidance of the salesperson.

Each of the homes features spacious rooms with ample closet space and a central heating and air conditioning system. Buyers who prefer the traditional style of a New England Village complete with a white deeped meeting house and a colonial mansard clubhouse will tend to prefer Rossmore with its walk gardens, trees, pathways and meadows reminiscent of either a Williamsburg village or a New England village.

Tax reduction could usher in senior homes

A recent 10 percent property tax reduction in the Pinebluffs Township of northern Jersey has prompted the construction of a retirement community in the Northeast. It is believed that even more senior housing will be built in the area.

Manhasset Township takes only a year to have dropped 10 percent from $100 per $100 valuation to $90 per $100. The Township officials believe that as low as an 8 percent rate in the state for a municipality with a population of some 20,000.

Princeton Court lists close-out sale prices

A good thing, especially appreciated by singles and young couples, is coming to an end. But even the builder's close-out at Princeton Court at Coventry Square off Kennedy Boulevard, Lakewood, means a good thing for home buyers: the last 11 townhomes have been especially priced from $28,990.

Michael Gordon, sales and marketing director for Kaufman and Broad Homes Inc., New Jersey Division, reports that qualified buyers will need only $23,000 cash to move into a Princeton Court home and enjoy its recreational facilities with immediate occupancy.

Also, there are no closing costs or savings of about $6,000. The special cash requirement is an offer to purchase a payment. The total cash requirement then is a two-pronged offer: both a down payment of $23,000 and a $100 membership fee in the Princeton Court Home Owners Association.

The low prices of a Princeton Court home have resulted in the sales success of the community, according to Michael Gordon, sales and marketing director for Kaufman and Broad Homes Inc., New Jersey Division, reports that qualified buyers will need only $23,000 cash to move into a Princeton Court home and enjoy its recreational facilities with immediate occupancy.

Also, there are no closing costs or savings of about $6,000. The special cash requirement is an offer to purchase a payment. The total cash requirement then is a

Exchange, and the firm stands behind each home's funds.

Location also is vital. Princeton Court is about an hour from New York City, 15 minutes from the Jersey shore, in the heart of one of the state's finest fishing and hunting areas. Buyers who work in the metropolitan urban centers find there a pure air environment.

Princeton Court residents are pretty much a young group as far as age is concerned. Most are in their late 20s and early 30s. The younger set, especially those who've come to realize that they can't make any more money at the same time.

The community association takes care of many of the chores usually associated with home ownership, giving residents extra time to enjoy the social and recreational life within and outside the community. Such services as snow removal, garbage disposal, gardening, lawn care and exterior maintenance are handled by experts.

The association also provides full services for the community swimming pool, illuminated tennis courts, private clubhouse, auditorium, library, children's play area, gymnasium, saunas, billiards room and other amenities which make for an active life at Princeton Court.

"As if all that weren't enough, there are parties every weekend and sometimes during the week, either at the clubhouse, on the lawns, or in private homes," Gordon says. "Of all the communities our company has created, I don't believe there's another like Princeton Court for sheer fun. It's why, no doubt, it became so

New shopping center to serve Manchester

Crestwood Village, the largest retirement community in the Northeast, has filed plans with Manchester Township for Whiting Shopping Center, a 16-acre complex of stores and services designed to meet the growing needs of its 9,000 residents and those of nearby communities.

According to Mike Kokes, president of Crestwood Village, the shopping center will be located on land bordered by Manchester Boulevard, Lacey Road Rt. 530 and Cherry Street in Whiting, not far from the center of our plans for controlled growth in step with those of the total community," Kokes said.

For example, our Medical Center, opened last fall, is serving the surrounding communities as well as Crestwood's residents. This shopping center will be a decided advance in convenience for residents of other retirement communities nearby, as well as for residents of Manchester Township.

Plans for the shopping center call for extensive landscaping and planting with all buildings connecting by covered walk ways. In addition to the Foodtown and Centennial Savings, a restaurant, pharmacy, beauty parlor, barber shop, a large hardware building, supply store, travel agency, variety store, dry cleaner, laundromat, a greeting card shop and other facilities are planned, as the center develops in later phases.

Noting that Manchester Township has done "an outstanding job of controlling and lowering its tax rate," Kokes added that the new shopping center should support the trend. "It will substantially increase rates without a commensurate demand on municipal services," he said.

Firm rebuilds Shore condo

The Towers at Manalapan Beach, one of the last oceanfront condominiums to be built on the Jersey shore, is closing its sales pavilion, according to Jack P. Studnicki, president of J.P.S. Associates of Washington, D.C.

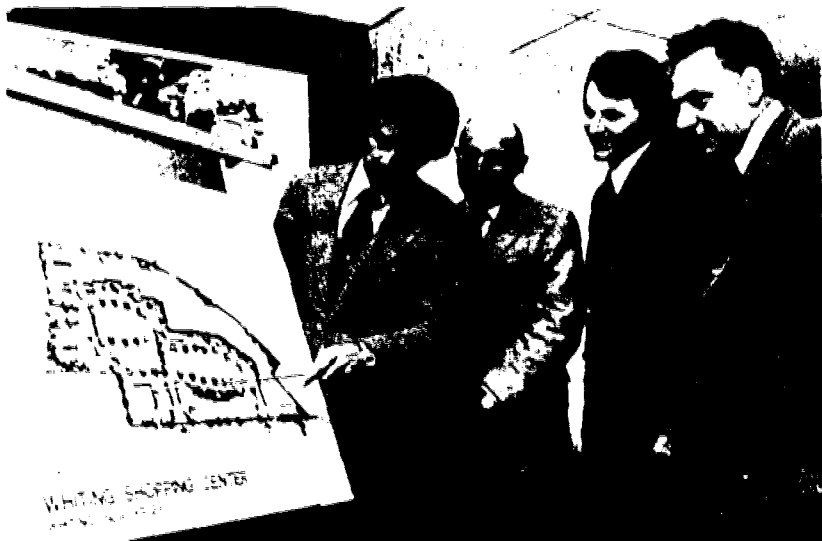

The close-down is a first in a series of steps involving the entire redevelopment of the two-towered condominium colony. During this time, the public will not be permitted on the site since much construction and re-designing are being done throughout the project. Fencing is going up around the entire perimeter of the property.

The construction that is going on is unique in that it will involve the re-designing of apartment product line, a concept which was usually thought to be impossible. The entire overhaul is expected to take from four to six weeks, as 100 workers are on the site each day. The residents now living at the Towers have full use of all facilities.

Studnicki said, "This will be a 100 percent turnaround. We will take what was an outstanding building, a good product, and turn it into what will be called the epitome of oceanfront luxury condominiums. There will be no facet of structures which will not yield to our master plan lifestyle, amenities pricing design and services."

The Towers was one of the last oceanfront, high-rise buildings to be permitted to be built under New Jersey's recently enacted shorefront protection program.

Sale nets tax break

Brandywine, a garden apartment complex off Route 35 in Brielle, has been sold for more than $1.5 million. The sale was announced by Robert Genz, sales representative for Getroe-Hammer, a Livings-on-based investment real estate sales firm, which arranged the transaction. Built 12 years ago, Brandywine contains 69 four-level apartments on 8 1/2 landscaped acres.

Facilities include central air-conditioning, eat-in kitchens, dishwashers, walk-in closets and fireplaces in all apartments. Tenants also have a recreation room, storage area and enclosed parking. The Garden State Parkway is only a few minutes from the site.

Monroe Management Co., the seller, acquired Brandywine through a tax-free exchange of other properties, also arranged by Getroe-Hammer. Seymour Shepard of East Orange was counsel for the seller in both transactions.

5:20 pm the express bus trip home from Manhattan

6:30 pm at the gatehouse of your private community

6:35 pm the comfortable, private life at home

For those who have made it to success, Panther Valley is a world apart from concerns of time or distance. For those who want what others dream, Panther Valley is the unequalled residential choice. A truly private 1600-acre community in undisturbed mountain and lake country, but only 55 miles from Manhattan. For distinctive homes, private tennis, platform tennis and swimming, nature trails and the option to join the Panther Valley Golf & Country Club* and play on its 18-hole course designed by Robert Trent Jones...Panther Valley is still the available reality.

Residents are automatically members of the Panther Valley Property Owners Association.

*These facilities may be enjoyed by residents and non-residents on a proprietary or non-proprietary membership basis to the extent of available capacity.

Time shown based on current bus schedule.

Dayton nine beats Clark, 5-3; in baseball season opener

By MIKE MEIXNER
The Jonathan Dayton baseball team began its 1978 campaign by ousting A.L. Johnson Regional of Clark by a 5-3 score. Coach Ed Jasinski started four juniors.

Dayton will continue its tough schedule on Saturday, Gov Livingston, and Monday, when the Suburban Conference schedule begins with Dayton facing Madison Junior righthander Dave Vargas picked up the victory in his first varsity appearance. He came on in the fourth, relieving starter Dave Ironson recording two strikeouts. Ironson struck out three.

SHARP SHOOTERS—Springfield police brought home two first-place trophies in their division (B) of countywide shooting competition last week. Det. Sgt. Howard Thompson, left, was on the team that brought home the bullseye target trophy. Pfc. William Chisholm helped win the team trophy for practical pistol combat.

The Dayton attack was paced by Ed Johnson, who hit run-scoring singles in both the first and fifth innings, when all of the Bulldog scoring was done. The first Dayton run was scored when junior Dave Lauhoff drove home Mark D'Agostini with a single. Johnson, another junior, knocked in Lauhoff for the second run.

In the fifth, Lauhoff smacked his eighth career varsity hit and was driven home by Johnson. After a walk, junior Jim Wnek drilled a hard single to tally the winning two runs.

The final Dayton hit was a single by designated hitter Billy Young. D'Agostini reached base twice defensively, he stopped a hard grounder behind second base with a lunging catch. John LaMotta, playing centerfield, robbed a Crusader of an extra base hit. Bob Bohrod and Kevin Lalor flanked LaMotta. Frank Zahn played third before being replaced by Adam Williams. Darren Young and Al Preziosi also played.

Echo tourney to begin May 6

The East's largest handicap bowling tournament, the 20th annual Echo Lanes-Cadillac event, will begin May 6 and continue to July 2 at Echo Lanes in Mountainside.

Last year's prizes totalled $55,228 plus a Cadillac, which is awarded to the bowler with the highest series in team, singles or doubles competition. Prizes this year include $6,000 for the winning team, $2,500 for doubles and $1,250 for singles.

Further information and applications may be obtained by contacting Jack Best, tourney director, Echo Lanes, Rt. 22, Mountainside, 07092 or by calling 232-7100.

Badge sale is under way

The Springfield Recreation Department this week announced that tennis badges for 1978 season are available at the Sarah Bailey Civic Center, 30 Church Mall. All residents are required to have badges in order to play on town tennis courts.

The fee is $5 for adults and $2.50 for children 17 and under. Proof of residency must be shown at the time of purchase. Reservations will be taken for town courts starting May 1.

Micke makes team

Bill Micke, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Micke of Mountainside, has made the Susquehanna University baseball team. The Pingry School graduate is a sophomore at the university. He plays third base.

Junior Minutemen nip Livingston for crown

The Springfield Junior Minutemen staged an amazing comeback from a 14-0 deficit in the first quarter Saturday night to beat a tall, physical Livingston squad 55-49—making them champions of the sixth annual Springfield Invitational Tournament and keeping their undefeated record going to 26-0.

Thomas Ard led the seventh graders in scoring with 18 points, 12 of which came in a second quarter surge which gave the Minutemen a 23-22 lead at halftime. Tom also had nine rebounds, three steals and two assists. Kyle Hudgins was a power off the boards at both ends of the court totaling 14 rebounds, 14 points, four steals and two assists.

Ron Fusco was outstanding with 14 points and six steals. Michael Berliner carried the load at the point guard position and scored the final foul shot to secure the victory.

Victor Gutierrez did a super job covering the opposing center and had eight rebounds to go with his four points. David Johnson and Richard Hinkley did an excellent defensive job coming off the bench and created many turnovers. Jack Alpert of Livingston received the most valuable player award for the tournament after scoring 74 points and collecting 45 rebounds in three games.

Livingston reached the finals by beating Wayne and Morristown recreational teams. Springfield received a bye in the first round.

The local Juniors reached the finals by defeating the Parsippany-Troy Hills team, 60-35. Fusco led all scorers with 20 points and had five steals. Ard scored 11 points and had 16 rebounds. Hudgins had nine points and 13 rebounds.

Berliner had eight points, four assists and four steals. Gutierrez and Hinkley each threw in a bucket and helped off the boards. Johnson was a defensive stalwart.

David Kadish scored four and Steve Srednick two as well as playing a strong floor game. Joe Roessner had his usual aggressive game.

Sixth graders Andy Rosenthal, Danny Spotts and Jay Siegel played well together and are looking forward to another year with the Junior Minutemen.

Track team opens today with Linden

By KIRK KU'BACH

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School track team found its strengths and weaknesses as it defeated Middlesex in pre-season action, 95-36. The team will travel to Linden today for its debut.

In the 100-yard dash, Dayton swept the half-mile with Brad Weiner capturing first, followed by Dave Barnes in second and Jamie Halper in third. Winning the mile was Gregg Rusbarsky with teammate Jay Bruder in third. Dayton aced the remaining distance event with Russ Lausten in first, Kevin King in second and Steven Wright in third for the two-mile.

In the quarter mile, Rick Spina and Harvey Kaish finished first and second, respectively. The same crew took the 100-yard dash as Spina grabbed first with Kaish behind in third. Dayton placed in all the running events as the team's Jeff Zeller and Peter Bachus found second and third slots in the 220-yard sprint.

In the jumping events, Kevin Doty led in the high jump with Israel Joseph clearing the bar for second. The long jump found middle distance runner Spina in second with freshman Paul Commarato leaping to third.

The weightmen found success in all their events with Dan Pepe placing in everything in which he competed. After a first in the discus and second in the shot, he competed in the javelin and came in second with Bulldog sophomore Dan Domaratzky in third.

Finding success in the hurdles, Jay Fine and Kevin Doty each had a first and a second with fine gliding to victory in the intermediate hurdles and Doty in the high hurdles.

Coach Martin Taglienti said he sees a lot of work ahead. Although the team has placed in many of the events, he is aware of the team's lack of depth.

Dayton golfers defeat Rahway, Bayley-Ellard

By MIKE MEIXNER

The Jonathan Dayton golf team easily outstroked Bayley-Ellard of Morristown and Rahway High School in its season debut, finishing with 276 while both opponents in the triangular meet scored in the 300s.

Coach Raymond Yanchus directed the squad to its victory despite inclement weather conditions Monday. Today, the golfers travel to Roselle.

Playing on a nine-hole course at Baltusrol, Dayton's Dave Gechlik, a junior, and senior Skip Liguori led the golfers with scores of 44.

Toby Lesofski recorded a 45. Howard Doppelt shot a 46. Neil Tepper, 48 and sophomore Martin Swanson, 49.

Soccer Scene

By BILL WILD

If Vadislav Bogicivic is too much for you to say, just try Bogie for short. Bogie played in his first NASL game Sunday when the Cosmos demolished the Ft. Lauderdale Strikers, 7-0. The tall Yugoslavian not only scored the first goal for the Cosmos, but also was credited with four assists. Playing next to Franz Beckenbauer, Bogie was outstanding, and he stole some of the thunder from Franz.

A quick glance at each of the starters: Erol Yasin played a better game in goal than I would have given him credit for last season. It wasn't until the second half before he could show what he could do, and he handled himself pretty well when the Strikers finally started peppering the Cosmos goal. Bob Smith and Werner Roth both played well and avoided those crazy mix-ups which sometimes happen in the backfield. Nelsi Morais and Carlos Alberto were the other two fullbacks and were just as sharp as last year. Alberto is "Mr. Cool" in the backfield and a pleasure to watch.

Fisherman is cited for reeling in shark

George Christoff of Oaktree rd., Mountainside, earned a citation in the Metropolitan South Florida Fishing Tournament when he caught a 148-pound shark in the 20-pound division.

He fished out of Kay Largo with Capt. Phil Laufie on the Sea Elf as guide. Christoff will also receive a jacket patch and year book with his award at the close of the tournament.

Now we get to midfield, and I think this is where the game was won for the Cosmos. You take the double-barreled "B's"—Beckenbauer and Bogie—and add Terry Garbett and you have near perfection. Garbett played his usual steady game but took a few wild shots that shouldn't have been taken. Although Beckenbauer had two assists in the game, I think he can play much sharper than he did. The combinations between the two B's were beautiful to watch. Give the two B's a few more games and they will make Bugs Bunny look good as a forward.

Garry Etherington was ineffective at right wing. He got one assist and caused many corner shots but was never any real threat on the Striker goal. As a charter member of the "Boo Chinaglia" club I must admit he scored two worthwhile goals and rammed home a Garbett rebound for his third. Giorgio reminds me of a bull while he is on the soccer field. He uses his power to go through opponents. Giorgio slipped the ball under Gordon Banks very nicely on his first goal of the game. His second goal came on one of those blasts through Banks that was partially blocked but had just enough on it to trickle into the goal. We nonbelievers had to look very hard to find something to boo Giorgio in Sunday's game.

The excitement generated by the fancy footwork of the two B's was kept alive when their passes went down the left wing to Steve Hunt. Hunt could be seen streaking down the wing like an express train, electrifying the fans everytime he got a ball. Hunt was playing injured but showed more speed and dazzle than any other forward on the field.

There were over 44,000 fans in the stands on a cold, windy day. The next Cosmos home game will be on Sunday, April 16, against Tulsa. With this 7-0 victory over the Strikers I expect the crowd to be in the neighborhood of 60,000 or better.

The next game is also the date of the Union Lancer midgets' appearance at Giants Stadium. They will play in the first preliminary match of the day about noon against the Bergen Kickers. Tickets for this day can be bought through the Elizabeth SC by calling 687-3882. A block of seats has been set aside for Union soccer fans at $6 a seat. Senior citizens and children under 16 will pay $4 for the same seats.

This Sunday's Cosmos game against Los Angeles can be seen on WOR-TV in the evening, so watch for it.

College gets its man from the polar icecap

The ice covered cap of Antarctica is the distance to which Union College has reached its efforts to find scientists to address this year's Science Seminar for academically talented high school students.

Dr. Commander Verner, past in the U.S. Navy and son of Dr. Kenneth Verner, seminar coordinator, flew by helicopter to the southernmost reaches of the globe to recruit Dr. William Gassidy as a guest speaker.

Knee to speak on ERA, NOW

The Union County chapter of the National Organization for Women met on Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the First National Bank in Trenton, N.J., for a meeting on the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA).

A special program on the Equal Rights Amendment will be presented by Judy Knee, New York state representative and former state court justice. Knee will discuss the urgent need for an extension of the deadline for the ERA.

Commander Verner, who makes a regular run to Antarctica for the Navy, was asked by his father to look up the scientist who was there doing research on meteorites to ask him if he would be free in April.

Dr. Verner said there would have been little time to plan for the class by a ship's itinerary.

The science seminar was established in 1975 to give students an opportunity to attend lectures on topics that are normally covered in high school. The seminar is open to selected students who are recommended by their principals. There is no charge for the program, Dr. Verner said.

The seminar will be held by the first of several talks by Dr. William Gassidy, a Princeton University professor who opened the seminar. Dr. Gassidy is the director of the National Center for Paleobiology and is a senior research advisor at the University of Maryland, Baltimore.

Classes aimed to help moms

The Union County Extension Service and the March of Dimes will sponsor a series of seminars as part of Healthy Baby Week, April 16-17.

Mothers and expectant mothers have been invited to attend classes which will include speakers, films and demonstrations on family planning, infant care, development, nutrition, breastfeeding and the Lamaze method of child birth.

Classes will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. on Monday, April 16, at the Union County Cooperative Extension Service, 100 North Avenue E., Westfield. Further information is available at 235-8362.

Classes will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. on Tuesday, April 17, at the Union County Cooperative Extension Service, 100 North Avenue E., Westfield. Further information is available at 235-8362.

Artists to make tour of Greece

A 21-day on-the-spot study tour of Greek art and ethnic crafts will begin July 25 under the leadership of Hella Bailin of Union who is listed in 'Who's Who in American Art' and Kay Weiner of Mountainside, who uses stained glass as an art form.

Arrangements have been approved by the Greek National Handicraft Foundation. The itinerary will include the island of Hydra, where Mrs. Bailin has her summer home, and Athens, Delphi, Mykonos and Rhodes. There will be a trip into the Northern mountain region.

The tour is open to anyone interested in the beauty and culture of Greece. Participation in the workshops and instruction opportunities is optional.

Financial aid officer appointed at college

Lester M.E. Biggs of Wharton has been appointed acting assistant director of financial aid at Union College, according to J. Harrison Morison, dean of student affairs.

Biggs is a graduate of Salem College, Salem, N.C., and holds a master's degree in student personnel services from Upsala College, East Orange.

Lens-framed women in photography show

Original photographs by Paul Strand, Edward Weston, Alfred Stieglitz, Henri Cartier-Bresson, Man Ray, Moholy-Nagy, Emmet Gowin, Harry Callahan and many others will be on view in the 'Images of Women' exhibition at the Summit Art Center, 48 Elm St., Summit, from April 16 to May 14.

The exhibit is the opening reception on Sunday, April 16, from 2 to 5 p.m.

The photographs of women are drawn primarily from a private New York collection representing many of the finest photographers of the 20th century. Some of the photographs will be shown for the first time.

No ifs, ands or butts about it—UC students vote smoking ban

Union College Students by a vote of 415 to 242 have agreed to ban smoking in the college cafeteria at the Cranford campus.

While only 20 percent of the students cast their votes in the two-day referendum, the turnout was described as 'good' by Lissa Heider of Garwood, who spearheaded the drive to give students 'smoke-free air' in the main student eating facility.

The number of votes cast, she said, compares favorably to voter turnout in other student elections in recent years.

Based on the results of the referendum, students are expected to request the president, Dr. Saul Orkin, to institute a no-smoking policy in the cafeteria, the chairman said.

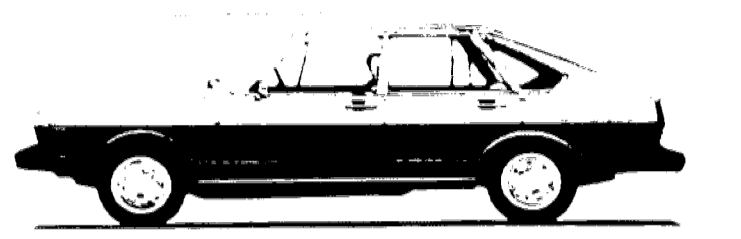

Students will continue to be permitted to smoke in the Snack Bar in the Campus Center, in the Student Lounge and in the corridors.

The Union College referendum is considered to be the first ever held on a New Jersey college campus to ban smoking in a specific area.

Traditionally students are not permitted to smoke in classrooms, the library or gymnasium. Heider had stated that as long as smoking areas did exist, the rights of smokers were protected, but there was no protection of the rights of non-smokers.

Dentists to give free exams for mouth cancer

Free oral cancer screenings will be conducted throughout New Jersey during the week of April 10-15. Members of the New Jersey Dental Association, assisted by volunteers of the American Cancer Society, will conduct the screenings at work places, shopping malls, hospital clinics and other sites.

A spokesman for the project said information on time and location of oral screenings may be obtained from the county office of the American Cancer Society, A.S., listed in the telephone directory.

The examination takes only a few minutes. It is painless and requires no X-rays, according to dentists.

The A.S. estimates that 300 persons in New Jersey will die of oral cancer in 1978 and that 300 new cases will develop this year.

Cancer of the mouth is the easiest of cancers to detect, said Dr. Charles Hart, the screening coordinator for the A.S. and the New Jersey Dental Association. It also is one of the most fatal forms of cancer because once it progresses it rapidly reaches the lymph nodes or vital arteries. That is why early detection is so vitally important.

The five-year survival rate for localized lesions of the oral cavity is 67 percent, Dr. Hart pointed out. Yet he noted the survival rate drops to 33 percent when the cancer has metastasized or spread.

Women, health topic of Watchung forum

Deedee Sly, administrator of the Women's Medical Center in Edison will be the featured speaker at a "Woman to Woman" talk at the Union Ethan Allen Gallery, Rt. 22, Watchung, on Friday, April 14 at 10 p.m.

Ms. Sly, a former health educator with the Perth Amboy planning program, will discuss a wide variety of topics ranging from human sexuality and birth control to menopause and patients' rights. Admission is free.

TOWER BEGUN

The Tower of London was begun on the order of William the Conqueror in 1078, 12 years after his victory at the Battle of Hastings. It has had Yeoman Warders, "Beefeaters" as caretakers for the last 500 years.

28-hour dance set as a benefit

Students at Drew University in Madison have hit on a constructive use for that "craze" of the 1930's, the dance marathon. Set for tomorrow and Saturday, their 28-hour ankle buster will raise money for cancer research in memory of a young woman faculty member who died in January, a victim of leukemia.

Donations to the American Cancer Society are being invited from those who attend.

At 8 p.m. tomorrow, some 200 contestants will begin dancing to music by groups like the Michael Fitzgerald Phenomenon, Bishopsgate Dimrill Gate, New Dimension, Mellow Relief and Mad Children. Between sets, there will be recorded music.

Most of the contestants will be students from Drew and other area colleges. Each has arranged with sponsors to contribute to the American Cancer Society for every hour danced. Prizes donated by area merchants will go to the individuals who perform best in a variety of dance events and who dance the longest and make the most money.

Student organizations and dormitory groups will also compete for awards by making game booths, holding bakery and plant sales and conducting a car wash.

Flexible loans from Carteret

Carteret Savings and Loan Association will finance a new type of graduated payment mortgage, known as a "FLIP" mortgage, thereby marking the first time that this form of mortgage financing has been offered in New Jersey.

The plan was announced by Robert B. O'Brien, president of Carteret, the largest state chartered savings and loan in New Jersey. He said the "FLIP" mortgages, named after the Flexible Loan Insurance Program, are being offered in conjunction with Kaufman and Broad, Inc. of Los Angeles, the nation's largest multinational housing producer. O'Brien said Carteret will provide the mortgages on homes to be sold at two Kaufman and Broad developments in New Jersey, the Woods of Georgetown in Toms River and Liberty Corners in Washington Township.

College offers study abroad during summer

An opportunity to combine study and travel in France, England, Kenya, Scandinavia or the Soviet Union is available this summer through Kean College's summer programs known as "Travelearn." Those interested should send application and $100 deposit to Kean College no later than April 20, spokesman said. Additional information can be obtained from Prof. Edwin Williams, coordinator of international studies at Kean, at 527-2296.

All "Travelearn" programs are supervised by full-time faculty members at Kean College, specializing in the fields covered by each program. Professor Williams described the programs as "a progressive and very relevant extension of the college's non-traditional studies concept."

Costs include round-trip air fare, transfers, room and most meals, and a limited number of excursion and performance tickets. They are: Workshop in French Language and Culture, June 28-Aug. 2, $1,065; Workshop in Open Education and/or Creative Drama in England, June 28-July 23, $950; Education, Culture and Wildlife Conservation in Kenya, East Africa, July 2-July 26, $1,895; Special Education and/or Social Welfare in Scandinavia, July 4-July 23, $1,295; Optional post-study seminar in Soviet Union, Soviet Study Tour, July 20-Aug. 7, $1,395.

Wheelchair hockey planned at Seton Hall on April 13

The Seton Hall Disabled in Action, one of the university's newest organizations, will sponsor a benefit wheelchair floor hockey game at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, April 13.

The two organizers of the game, Seton Hall students Ed Heaton and Harry Pizutelli, both of Union, said that handicapped students from the university and students from the David Brearley High School in Kenilworth will oppose members of the Seton Hall University varsity basketball team, faculty and administrators and celebrities.

Proceeds from the event will be divided between the David Brearley High School which services more than 40 handicapped students from Union County and the Seton Hall Disabled in Action group.

Admission to the game is $1 for students and $1.50 for others.

Operating costs up, utility says

Public Service Electric and Gas Company reported March 28 that earnings for the first two months of 1978 were $31.4 million, or 53 cents a share, compared with $33.3 million, or 56 cents a share, for the same period a year ago.

The company said that operating expenses continued to increase at a faster rate than revenues. Expenses increased 12.2 percent to $359.1 million in the January-February period as revenues rose 10.8 percent to $413.6 million.

Two teen trips planned by Y

Teenagers in the Metropolitan New Jersey area who want to travel this summer will have an opportunity to join either of two unusual teen trips planned by the Y.M.Y.W.H.A. of Metropolitan New Jersey.

A cross-country trip, which will travel by bus from one end of the United States to the other, camping along the way, will leave New Jersey on July 5 and return, via a flight from Denver, on Aug. 7. A second trip for young people from throughout New Jersey, 15 to 18, will head for Israel, for six weeks of exploration, sightseeing and discovery.

Information on either of these teen trips may be obtained by calling the Y, 736-3200.
