Board turns down two 8th grade trips

No action by board on ranking

Consensus still a dim possibility

The Union County Regional High School District Board of Education left two major issues—scholastic ranking and rewards for athletes—simmering on the back burner Tuesday.

Six board members and an audience of about 20 stayed past midnight before deciding only that they are no closer now than they were months ago to reaching agreement on new procedures for ranking students from first to last place in each class.

"At this point, I couldn't even hazard a guess" on when a ranking decision will come, the board president, Charles E. Vitale Jr., commented.

"My case seems to be the only way to decide this," commented board member Stephen Marcinak, who opposes all ranking systems and has filed a test case against the rest of the board with State Education Commissioner Fred Burke.

On the athletic awards, the board tabled a motion from Marilyn Hart to provide $20 per student toward the cost of jackets, rings or other rewards desired by teams winning conference championships in any sport. She proposed this as an interim measure through June, until the board adopts a full-scale recognition policy. Dr. Donald Merachnik, district superintendent of schools, announced he has completed a report recommending policy for honoring star scholars as well as star athletes.

But a member of the audience, Muriel Crater of Springfield, predicted the board will run into trouble with any material-rewards program, even if it includes star scholars as well as outstanding athletes. She pointed out that service organizations such as the Key Club fall into neither category—athletics or academics.

"Are you going to say that an extra-curricular activity such as the Key Club is worth less than extra-curricular athletics?" she asked. "The Key Club members have won a major award. Are you going to give them jackets, too?"

In other action at the Tuesday meeting, the board gave approval to award 10 contracts totaling $182,121 for athletic supplies and equipment for the 1978-79 school year.

Shields named Merit winner by ASARCO

Christopher Shields, 18, of Mountainside is one of three high school students awarded National Merit Scholarships through ASARCO Incorporated.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Shields ranked 23rd in a class of 338 at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School and is said to show strong artistic potential. He will enter Yale University in the fall as a fine arts major.

The students, all children of ASARCO employees, will receive between $2,000 and $6,000 during their college years, depending on financial need. Richard de J. Osborne, ASARCO foundation president, said this is the first time the firm has decided to award more than one scholarship, despite "difficult economic conditions facing ASARCO."

"We felt that supporting the education of our employees' children had to be considered one of the more worthwhile investments we could make with our limited resources," said Osborne.

Students hit the road Grant to finance outings

Eleven Mountainside students will soon be touring a pickle factory, dairy farm, supermarket and post office and taking a train ride to improve their communication skills.

A $700 grant awarded to the local elementary school district's speech and language therapist, Lois Mishkin, will finance the outings. Mishkin received the grant for a proposal she called "Eyes and Hands on Learning."

"The 11 students are communication 'disordered,'" Mishkin explained. "By working closely with their parents, and reviewing special lessons before and after each visit, the program is designed to help the students improve their communication abilities."

gives softball player Heather Creran some batting hints. The Little League will usher in its 1978 season with an opening day parade April 22 and an evening dance at Our Lady of Lourdes School.

State-mandated health program 'going just fine' in Mountainside

Mountainside's joint community health plan took effect April 1 without a hitch, according to Borough Board of Health President Joseph Car.

"It's a little too early to say," said Car, "but so far, it's going just fine."

State health mandates forced Mountainside to obtain services of a full-time health officer and fulfill a long list of state health requirements. The combined community health organization also includes Westfield, Garwood and Fanwood, sharing the services of Westfield health officer Joseph Motley.

"I've read that a lot of towns aren't complying with the ruling," said Car, "but we're not one of the towns. We're complying."

He said Motley is on "24-hour call" in Mountainside and employs two sanitarians to fill in when he cannot be reached by phone.

"If he leaves town," said Car, "there's always someone standing by."

The board president said borough residents should call the Municipal Hall at 232-2400 to register health complaints or problems. He said municipal workers will then contact Motley or an assistant through an emergency phone call chain, including health board representative Maxine Buck.

The new health requirements increased the board's municipal budget allotment from $12,000 to $26,000, but Car said it had no trouble getting the figure approved.

"They (the Borough Council members) knew it was coming," he said. "It was a shock, but it happened."

The state mandate requiring public health nurses to have master's degrees or to work under someone who has was fulfilled through Overlook Hospital.

Car said Mountainside's nurse, Elaine Graf, will be supervised by an Overlook staff member, and the borough will contract with the hospital for her services.

The Rosary Society spokeswoman say the Rev. Gerard McGarry "built everything," and it's true that Our Lady of Lourdes was a design on a blueprint when he established the parish in December 1958.

"There was no parish when I was assigned here," said Father McGarry. Masses were held in the Deerfield School while the church was under construction.

Father McGarry, who has been in the priesthood for 44 years, retired April 1 after serving as Our Lady of Lourdes pastor for 20 years. He was assistant pastor at St. Paul's Holy Cross Church in Jersey City before coming to Mountainside.

"The congregation has enlarged considerably" since the church opening in 1961, he said. But he added that he has seen the number of parishioners rise and fall to its present 1,200 members.

"It's continually fluctuating," he said, and he admitted that Our Lady of Lourdes had "its share" of parishioner decline during the turbulent 1960s.

"There was a new spirit of freedom in the latter part of the 1960s," said Father McGarry. "When things were changing, the old theologians felt free to throw the old rules out and they led some people astray."

But people are returning to the church, according to the veteran pastor. "People are now coming to

Rescue Squad lists activities

The Mountainside Rescue Squad reported it answered 19 emergency calls last month as part of a total of 40 calls for squad assistance.

There were eight accidents requiring Rescue help, according to the squad, and six persons required heart or oxygen assistance. Two fires were reported in March and the squad was called for five transportations.

Rescue workers traveled 684 miles and contributed 169½ hours of work time.

Innkeeper gets annual award

The owner of the Mountainside Inn, Laura Massa, was chosen "Woman of the Year" by the Mountainside Woman's Club at a ceremony held at the Inn on April 5.

Mrs. Massa, a wife and mother, was selected for her years of service to the community. She was presented with a plaque from club president Mrs. Walter Keller.

The club will hold a creative arts day at its next meeting, Wednesday at noon at the Mountainside Inn.

Members will model clothes they have made, and the club's art department will display its paintings and pictures. The American home department will feature crafts, and the literature department has prepared several readings. The art of table setting will be demonstrated by the club's conservation and garden department.

Parents ask option for pupils

Students back D.C. by 55-54 margin

By PATRICIA GARRISON

A decision on the Deerfield School eighth grade class trip again led to heated discussion at the Mountainside Board of Education meeting Tuesday night.

A parent committee suggestion to allow members of the graduating class to go on the trip they desired, thus permitting two class trips, met with strong disapproval from board members, who said a vote for a trip to New York City and Washington, D.C., would be "going too far."

"Two trips is going too far to be accommodating," said Board President Scott Schmedel. Member Margaret Rielly said the board "gave approval the students could go to one or the other. If the board were to adopt this policy tonight, it will be setting a very bad precedent."

The committee suggestion was the result of a close student vote 55-54 favoring Washington. A parent spokeswoman said while they "had no intentions of forming two trips" they thought the compromise would "make both trips far less cumbersome and give the board a chance to try out a system such as this."

"We thought two trips would be a way of making it more palatable to the kids," said Betty Pracht.

Member Arthur Williams noted that the board had tried to please students by leaving the trip decision in their hands, admitting that decision may have been a mistake.

"Vaccination is not the answer to a decision," he said. "I'm sorry we have to make the decision for the students."

The Board voted to approve the Washington trip based on the vote count, but Mrs. Pracht noted that the student turnout would probably be low.

"A lot of parents will not allow their children to go to Washington," said Pracht, because of the length of time they would spend on a bus. She added

Boats to hit water at Echo Lake Park

Saturday is opening day for Echo Lake Park boating facilities, Mountainside and Westfield. Hours are 10 a.m. to dark on weekends. There will be a weekday schedule later this season.

No date has been set for the opening of boating facilities at Warinanco Park, Elizabeth and Roselle.

MADRIGAL CONCERT—The Bloomsburg (Pa.) State College Madrigal Singers will perform Sunday at 4 p.m. at the Community Presbyterian Church, Deer Path, Mountainside, as part of the Community Concert Series. Selected by competitive audition, the group includes 12 singers, four alternates and an accompanist (piano and harpsichord). The director, Richard Stanislaw, acts more as a coach than a conductor; the singers always perform in chamber fashion, watching one another for cues. Donations may be made at the door.

Slates selected for primary by political parties

The Union County Democratic and Republican organizations this week announced their slates of candidates for the June 4 primary.

Kentworth Councilman Richard McCormack is the Democrats' choice for Congress, while Councilman Anthony Amadio of Roselle and Marjorie Marzocco of Union and Roselle Park Mayor Eugene J. Carmody were named to run for Board of Freeholders. Amadio is an incumbent Freeholder.

The Democrats also chose incumbent Hachtan Awad of Plainfield for register and Brian Finley of Westfield as their candidate for surrogate. State Senator Alex Mendra of Hillsdale is the Republicans' choice for U.S. Senate. Edward J. Somasko of Union, Councilman Manuel S. D'Amico of Clark and incumbent Rosemarie Summitt of Summit were named to the Republican board of Freeholders slate.

The organization also chose Freeholder Walter H. Ehrlich for county surrogate and Richard Hartman of Scotch Plains for register.

The Republican candidates for Congress are incumbent Sen. Clifford P. Case of Haddonfield and Rep. Matthew B. Spitzer of Trenton.

Fr. McGarry

Fr. McGarry said he has no intention of replacing their religious training with contemporary values.

He said both priests and nuns should not underestimate the importance of setting themselves apart with a religious habit and should restrict their clothing to leisure time activities.

"The very fact that the sisters wore their religious habits in classrooms," he said, "seemed to put them in more formal, firmer students."

K. R. LADY of Lourdes School has 200 have teaching nuns which said Father McGarry would make the parish administration financially easier.

"We have contemplative nuns," said Father McGarry. Their principal work is prayer.

The three present Mountainside nuns and the community through prayer and various functions at their convent, the site of the first Our Lady of Lourdes rectory.

"I've always been happy with the sisters we've had," he said.

Father McGarry said he has no regrets about retiring and added that he is looking forward to the freedom that will give him.

He said he will remain at the parish despite his retirement but he notes his plans are "rather fluid."

"I intend to keep busy and continue my work as a priest," he said. "I'll never be saying what should I do now?"

Patricia Spang and Mary Ann Emm, Rosary Society spokeswoman, said the congregation will congratulate Father McGarry with a testimonial dinner June 2 at the Mountainside Inn. All parishioners and former church members are invited, they said.

Gerhard H. Scheich of Mountainside has been named to the dean's list for the fall semester at Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken. Scheich is a sophomore.

Sjonell: Skills exams get no extra security

Mountainside school administrators have denied recent reports that extraordinary security measures have been imposed on local school districts for the administering of the Minimum Basic Skills tests, being given to the state's third, ninth and 11th grade public school students this week.

Ed Sjonell, director of Mountainside school testing, admitted that the State Board of Education had instructed schools to "keep the tests under lock

DiFrancesco: alter power of the pocket veto

Assemblyman Donald T. DiFrancesco R-22 this week called for a change in the rules governing the power of the governor to kill bills passed by the Legislature with the use of the pocket veto.

Because of a practice called gubernatorial courtesy, bills that pass both houses of the legislature are not sent to the governor until he asks for them at which time he has 10 days to sign a bill into law. If the governor does not make a particular piece of legislation he can refuse to call for it and allow it to die at session's end.

In a democratic system, it is important to allow the legislative branch the opportunity to override an executive veto with a two-thirds vote, said DiFrancesco. Gov. Brendan T. Byrne, by using the pocket veto more than any other governor since 1947, denies the elected representatives of the Assembly and Senate the opportunity to effectively represent the wishes of their constituents.

The 22nd District assemblyman said he supports a recently proposed rule change that would limit the amount of time between the passage of a bill and its presentation to the governor.

Local schools

There may be some disciplinary problems with students who go to Washington, D.C. for the annual event for the choir.

Other business board members wrote letters of protest to state politicians including U.S. Sen. Clifford Case, opposing Department of Agriculture proposals that would restructure school lunch programs. The bill, according to board secretary John McDonough, would force school boards to bid for school lunch service companies pay fixed yearly rates instead of paying per meal, award yearly contracts that could not be automatically continued and make school boards specify lunch menus one year in advance.

"I have a strong feeling that putting this sort of thing out for bid is difficult," said McDonough. "It will not keep the program honest."

McDonough noted that New York City encountered numerous problems when a similar system was established.

The board also agreed to pay one-third the cost of repairing the Little League National field at Deerfield School in time for the April 22 opening day. It also voted to allot $200 for the improvement of the Deerfield varsity playing field.

Steering fails, three injured

A Scotch Plains teenager and two of his passengers were injured Monday when his car apparently failed to turn at Coles avenue and New Providence road.

Police said Kevin Cunicella, 17, told them he attempted to make a right hand turn at the intersection but his car did not turn. The vehicle hit an ambulance.

Cunicella, who was charged with careless driving, Kenneth Leigh, and Dorsey Osborne were driven to Overlook Hospital by the Mountainside Rescue Squad with face injuries.

Borough adult tennis courses to start Monday

MMA players getting their show together

Rehearsals for "Make Mine Music," to be presented May 5 and 6 at Deerfield School, are fully under way, it was announced by Judy Williams, president of the Mountainside Music Association.

"The show has been as much a nostalgic reunion for the cast of old Mountainside friends and fellow performers, as it will be a great entertainment for the public," Mrs. Williams said.

Some of the performers, such as Mrs. Bea Reich, first president of the MMA, and Mrs. Mona Grubel, have been performing with the shows since their inception 20 years ago.

Other long-time performers returning for this year's production are: Martha Podmayer and Sandy Davis, both teachers at Deerfield School. Councilman Abe Suckno, Betty Anson, Jim Noste, former member of the Board of Education, Herbert Seidel, former Shade Tree commissioner and chairman of the Community Fund, Ronnie Geiger, Walter Degenhart, head of the trustees and a member of the choir of the Mountainside Gospel Chapel, Mr. and Mrs. Werner Schon, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Evans.

PTA plans talk on sexist tests

Rita Marshall will discuss sexism in textbooks at a meeting of the Mountainside PTA next Thursday, April 20, at 8 p.m. in Beechwood School.

Coordinator of the Educational Task Force of the National Organization for Women and a former teacher, she has conducted workshops on the subject of sexism for teachers throughout the state. She has also reviewed textbooks used in grades K-8 to determine whether they are sexist. At the PTA meeting she will discuss her findings on textbook images of boys and girls, how they are portrayed and how it affects their lives. She will seek to prove that sexism is everywhere in schools and that most parents and teachers are now aware of it.

The program also will include the presentation of certificates of appreciation to the volunteers who ran the local after-school activities program. Coffee will be served.

LILIAN J. GALABURDA

Krowne to wed Boston teacher

Mr. and Mrs. John Galaburda of Andover, Mass., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lilian, to Ronald J. Krowne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan P. Krowne of Springfield and Fort Lauderdale, Fla.
 Miss Galaburda was graduated from the C.W. Post Center of Long Island University and last year earned a master's degree in bilingual education from Boston University. She is employed by the Boston public schools.
 Mr. Krowne earned a master's degree in community psychological counseling from C.W. Post in 1976 and is director of the Pelham Narcotics Guidance Council. He also maintains a private practice as a psychotherapist in New York and is a professional photographer.
 An August wedding is planned.

Church women to view slides

"God's Beautiful World" will be the theme of the meeting of the Ladies' Evening Group of the Springfield Presbyterian Church next Wednesday evening at 8:15 in the Presbyterian Parish House. Members will share slides of scenic views and nature which they have observed. Mrs. Jerome Bongiovanna, program chairwoman is in charge of the presentation.
 A Bible study class at 7:30 p.m., precedes the regular meeting, led by Dr. Bruce Evans, pastor of the local church. Mrs. George Klein, chairwoman of the Evening Group, will preside at the business section. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Robert Isley and Mrs. Edward Ries.

Program listed by Fellowship

A Women's Fellowship coffee will be held April 20 at 10 a.m. at the Mountinside Gospel Chapel, Spruce Blvd., off Central avenue.
 Joan Watkins, a real estate associate from North Plainfield, will discuss her experience in France in 1975 and 1976.

Congregation helps with Passover rules

Two traditional pre Passover customs will be observed under the auspices of Congregation Israel of Springfield, 339 Mountain Avenue, corner Shunpike road (temporary synagogue, 42 Shunpike road).

The first is called "Mehiras chometz" (sale of chometz). Under Jewish religious law no chometz (food with leavening) or utensils used with such food may remain in the possession of Jewish families during the Passover. Traditionally, arrangements are made for the transfer of title of such items before Passover to a non-Jewish owner. Rabbi Israel E. Turner of Congregation Israel will provide that service for all who desire his assistance, whether or not they are members of the congregation.

Rabbi Turner may be reached at the synagogue weekdays mornings, 7 to 9, Sunday mornings, 8 to 10, and evenings, 6 to 7:15. Arrangements may also be made by phone, 376-6908 or 467-0217. There is no charge for this service.

The second custom is called "Siyum Bchorm" (repast of the first-born). Traditionally, all first-born males are required to fast the day before Passover because Jewish first-born were spared in Egypt when the angel of death "passed over" Jewish homes on his way to slay the Egyptian first-born.

Since this is a minor fast day, the first-born may avoid it by participating in a "Sudat Mitzvah," a repast associated with a happy religious event. A "siyum" is such a repast, marking the completion of the study of a Talmud tractate by an individual or by a group.

The siyum at Congregation Israel will be conducted by Rabbi Turner immediately following the morning service on Friday, April 21, which is scheduled for 7. There is no charge for participation in the siyum for members or non members. The service will be held at 42 Shunpike road.

MICHELLE ZAPOLITZ

Miss Zapolitz engagement told

Mr. and Mrs. George Zapolitz of Springfield have announced the engagement of their daughter, Michelle, to Robert Shandler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Shandler of Springfield.

The bride-elect, who graduated from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, is a senior at Rider College, Lawrenceville. She will receive a B.S. degree in management in June.

Her fiancé, also a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, is an alumnus of Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa. He is employed by the accounting firm of Shaenar and Simson of South Orange.

An August wedding has been planned.

MRS. LAWRENCE CHAPIN League show opens May 12

Local amateur performers are set to give their "professional all" in the Elizabeth-Plainfield Junior League production of "Merry Go Round" May 12 and 13 at 8 p.m. at the Westfield High School, the League announced.

Honorary program chairwoman is Mrs. John Kean of Union, who was recently welcomed to the League by Mrs. Lawrence Chapin of Mountainside and Mrs. Douglas Yearly of Westfield, assistant folies chairwomen.

The show will feature performances by Union County mayors, councilmen and other community residents. Proceeds will go to the printing of a learning disabilities booklet.

The Junior League is a volunteer organization working toward the physical, emotional, mental and social growth of children.

Rosary society sets style show

The Rosary Altar Society of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Mountainside, will hold its annual fashion show and card party May 9 and 10 at 8 p.m. in the church auditorium. The fashions will be presented by Brooks of Summit.

Tickets $3.50 for "Springtime" are available from Marie Smith, 232-2733, or Jo Capriglione, 232-1880. Mary Emm is chairperson.

LEGISLATURE TO CONSIDER NEW TAX COURT

Is there a Tax Court in New Jersey's future? Legislative chances for passage of a series of three bills establishing a Tax Court as a principal full-time court in the Judicial branch in place of the present part-time Division of Tax Appeals appear good after six years of failure, reports the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

The Senate Revenue, Finance and Appropriations Committee, after spending several hours considering three measures (Senate Nos. 113, 114 and 115) sponsored by Sen. Steven P. Perskie (D-2nd), and after making several amendments, released the bills whereupon they were given second reading by the Senate on March 2, placing them in position to be voted upon at a forthcoming meeting.

What would a Tax Court do and why is it needed? Currently, any taxpayer dissatisfied with the assessed value of his property may first appeal to the county board of taxation and subsequently may appeal to the Division of Tax Appeals. The judges in that division serve part-time hearing appeals from county boards of taxation and from decisions of the Director of Taxation on tax matters relating to a variety of taxes administered by the Director. Because of the part-time nature of the duties of the tax appeals judges and a significant increase in the number of appeals from property assessment-related decisions, a growing backlog of cases has developed. This number now is about 28,000 and includes cases three years old. Appeals from personal income tax rulings are expected to add to the appeals burden.

In order to eliminate the backlog of appeals, the proposal is for six to 12 full-time judges who will be specialists in taxation. Legislation to create a Tax Court has been introduced in both houses.

This is not the first year such legislation has been proposed. In each two-year session since the Tax Court was advocated by the Cahill Tax Policy Committee in 1972, implementing legislation has been introduced. On three occasions, the bills passed the Assembly but died in Senate Committee.

Events to mark Holocaust and Israeli freedom

A community-wide program for Union County will be offered in three parts beginning April 30 and will involve the remembrance of the Jewish Holocaust at the hands of the Nazis and the 30th anniversary of Israel's independence.

A ceremony will be held in conjunction with the United Jewish Appeal's Walk-a-thon April 30 at noon in Westfield. Alan Goldstein will speak on the Holocaust, and the participating organizations will participate in the lighting of candles commemorating the six million Jews who died.

Barry Farber, radio commentator, will moderate a panel of four Holocaust survivors in an open discussion, followed by questions and answers and a dramatization, May 4 at 8 p.m. at the Plainfield Jewish Community Center, 403 W 7th st in Plainfield.

The third event will occur on Saturday, May 13, at 9 p.m. when a coffee house to celebrate Israel's independence will be held at the Green Lane YWHA, Union. Folk dance teacher Moshe Ariel will lead dancing to live music. Traditional foods will be served. Reservations are limited, and the $6 per person donation must be paid to the Union Y no later than May 4.

These events are co-sponsored by the Westfield YM-YWHA, Plainfield Jewish Community Center, Eastern Union County YM-YWHA, and the Jewish Federation of Central New Jersey as a community event.

More information is available at 289-8112.

Colonial names new manager

Harold Schreiber has been promoted to assistant vice-president and branch manager of Colonial Savings and Loan Association's Elizabeth office. The announcement was made by William J. Biunno, president of the institution.

Schreiber was head teller for Colonial Savings before his promotion. Schreiber came to Colonial Savings in 1977 from the Marine Bank of Punta Gorda, Fla., where he started as assistant cashier and later was installment loan officer.

The event was sponsored by the hospital and the John F. Kennedy Medical Center of Edison. Michele later earned a gold medal for her softball throw.

Handicapped youths set for tournament

Handicapped persons will have an opportunity to compete in wheelchairs sports when the annual statewide Tournament of Champions is held at Elizabeth High School on Saturday, May 13, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside, which recently staged the first Central Jersey Wheelchair Invitational Meet, will sponsor the Union-Middlesex County region meet in cooperation with the Elizabeth public schools. The tournament is open to learning and orthopedically disabled persons.

"The emphasis is on ability, not disability," Linda Tibaudo, Recreation Therapist at Children's Specialized Hospital said. "Persons can vie in softball throws, basketball foul shots, dashes and relays, slaloms, and obstacle courses. Events are for all ages, starting from 5 years old," she added.

Organizers and volunteers from the hospital gained practical experience from their recent wheelchair sports effort. Working with supervisors and referees from the Tri-State Wheelchair Athletic Association, they set up the events at Elizabeth High School and directed more than 80 participants in the day-long competition.

"The most enthusiastic persons, however, were the children themselves. They prepared for the Central Jersey Invitational by devoting many days to practice. The spacious hallways of Children's Specialized Hospital's new 60-bed patient wing were filled with youngsters honing their racing skills and maneuverability in wheelchairs," Tibaudo said.

June Clark of Mountainside won four medals, including golds in the 50-yard dash and slalom, a silver for the softball throw, and for being the best junior female athlete. Terry Brown of Linden was best junior male athlete and earned a gold in the slalom.

Other medal winners for Children's Specialized Hospital included Kevin Waltersdorf of Union with golds for the softball throw and 50-yard dash and a slalom silver.

Children's Specialized Hospital earned team honors with 25 medals.

Y's production of 'Oliver' set

Susan Goldberg of Hillside will play the title role in the Green Lane Y Drama Club's production of "Oliver" scheduled to open Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Green Lane YM-YWHA in Union. A second performance will be held on Sunday, at 2 p.m.

John O'Grady of Union is also featured in the cast.

Tickets, which are available at the Y front office, are limited in number. Further information about the show can be obtained by calling 289-8112.

Budget, program set for area's lung group

The Central New Jersey Lung Association, the local Christmas Seal organization, has adopted a budget of $243,000 to support its patient, community, hospital and other health programs during the 1978-79 fiscal year. It was announced by Mrs. Dorothea K. Holmes, president.

Mrs. Holmes said the association's efforts follow the priorities of its parent organization, the American Lung Association, and concentrate on the prevention and control of asthma and other childhood lung disease, adult lung disease, such as emphysema and chronic bronchitis, occupational lung disease and the environmental hazards of smoking and air pollution.

Included in the program of work are a series of physical reconditioning programs for patients with lung disease, self-help classes for parents whose children have asthma and training courses in adult lung disease for hospital and home care nurses in the tri-county area.

Mrs. Holmes said the association will continue its hospital consultation service, a program designed to assist local hospitals evaluate and improve their services for patients with lung disease.

Committee sets public hearing on flood control

Assemblyman William J. Maguire (R-22) this week announced that on Wednesday, May 3 at 10 a.m. in the Municipal Building in Scotch Plains, a public hearing will be held by the State Assembly's Energy and Natural Resources Committee on his bill to create a Rahway River Flood Control Authority.

"A feature of my bill protects local and county government from the enormous cost of construction of flood control facilities, which contrasts directly with similar legislation that would cause local taxpayers to pick up these enormous costs," said Maguire. "It is apparent that flood control authority legislation will move this year, and for that reason I hope everyone that lives within the Rahway River Flood Basin will make a special effort to attend the hearing."

The Green Brook Flood Control Authority bill also be discussed. It was introduced in the Assembly by Assemblyman Donald DiFrancesco.

Business theft to be discussed

Union County Prosecutor John H. Stamlar and Eastern Union County Chamber of Commerce President Clifford M. Peake have announced joint sponsorship of an industrial thefts seminar.

The seminar will be held at the Coachman Inn, Exit 136, Garden State Parkway in Cranford, beginning with registration at 8:30 a.m. and ending at 3:45 p.m. on Thursday, April 27. Total cost will be $15 per person and will include coffee and danish, lunch and all materials.

Prosecutor Stamlar said that he, his assistant prosecutors and detectives will cover such material as: investigation of thefts, including administrative charges versus criminal charges, prevention of thefts to cover screening employees, polygraph, plant security and terrorism. The subject of infiltration of organized crime will also be covered.

Science seminar

Andrew H. Bobeck of Chatham, supervisor of the Device Design Group of Bell Telephone Laboratories in Murray Hill, will be guest speaker in the third lecture in Union College's 16th annual science seminar for academically talented high school students, on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., it was announced by Dr. Kenneth Iversen, seminar coordinator.

Bobek joined the technical staff of Bell Labs in 1949. His early work dealt with the design of communication and pulse transformers and later, the development of one of the first solid state digital computers. He is concerned with the development of magnetic logic and memory devices.

A different kind of used car from a different kind of dealer.

The used cars listed here aren't ordinary used cars. Because they don't come from an ordinary dealership. At Pace, a customer is respected as the owner of a fine automobile, not dismissed as a troublesome accessory to it.

Because of our service, we're selling more and more new Buicks. And taking in more and more fine used cars as trade-ins. The cars listed here are the best of them.

Before we put a used car up for sale, we inspect it inside and out. We fix what needs fixing—and if we can't we simply don't sell the car to you.

Then, we protect every used car we sell with Pace Buick's own double warranty: 3 months or 3,000 miles, whichever comes first, on the entire car plus 6 months/6,000 miles (whichever comes first) limited to the engine and drive train.

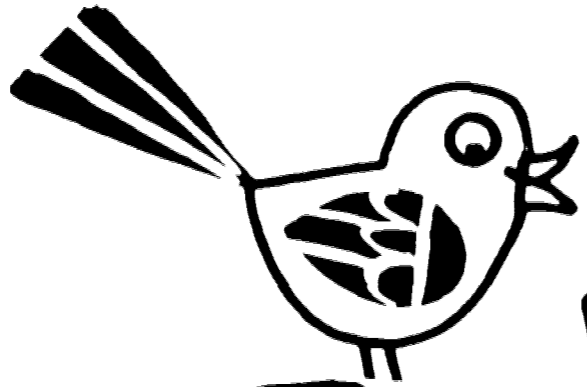

Best of all, when you buy a used car from Pace, you receive the same attentive service that's winning us more and more new-car customers.

So, if you're tired of looking at the same old kind of used cars, come to Pace. You'll find the kind of used car you can trust—because you can also trust the dealership they come from.

Softballers top Clark; Madison rallies, 11-8

By MIKE MEIXNER
The Jonathan Dayton softball team opened with a 7-3 victory over A.L. Johnson of Clark before losing to Madison, 11-8, in a seesaw thriller. The Dayton nine, coached by Hope Valenti, continues Suburban Conference play today against Caldwell.

Ellen Stieve pitched a complete game in winning the opener, striking out five. Ellen also had two hits in four at-bats. The balanced team effort was led by freshman Kathy Clark, who had three hits and starred in the field. Power hitters Debbie Scelfo and Terry Young each batted in two of the runs. Hits were also recorded by Kathy Gerndt, Barb Martino, Tina Segall, MaryJane Gagliano and Lori Gabay.

After taking an 8-5 lead—scoring its runs in the fourth inning—Dayton faltered in the sixth, allowing six Madison runs to score. Stieve at (1-1), was replaced in the sixth by Clark, who looked promising in her relief role. Stieve, Martino and Gerndt paced the attack with two hits apiece. Young had one single and Segall walked in all four times at bat. Gabay and Scelfo also had hits.

Dayton nine plays today at Caldwell

By MIKE MEIXNER
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School baseball team, after losing close decisions to Berkeley Heights and Madison, will travel to Caldwell today in a bid to improve its 1-2 record.

Berkeley Heights got only three hits in over the Bulldogs' ace Dave Ironson (0-1). Lefthander Rich Schmedel started for Dayton, which outthrew the winners in a game played in frigid temperatures. Dayton third baseman Frank Zahn had a pair of singles. Ed Johnson and Jim Wnek also had hits.

In Dayton's conference opener Monday, the Madison Dodgers beat Dave Vargas and the Bulldogs, 6-3. Dave (1-1) pitched five innings, striking out two. He faltered in the fifth, giving up four runs. Ironson finished up Johnson, the only Bulldog to hit safely in all three games, had a two-run single in the first inning. Junior Dave Lauhoff, who has four hits as the cleanup batter, had two hard singles. Vargas, shortstop Mark D'Agostini and utility infielder Adam Williams each had his first career varsity hit.

Regional routs Linden in track; Doty, Spina win two events each

By KIRK KUBACH
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Varsity track team opened the season by blasting Linden, 85½ to 23½. Kevin Doty and Rick Spina each collected two firsts. Dan Pope had one first and two seconds. Exceptional efforts were contributed by distance runners Gregg Rusbarsky and Brad Werner.

Jeff Vargas won the 100 with Harvey Kaush third. The 220 went to Rick Spina with Ken Fingerhut third. Pete Keramas and Gregg Rusbarsky finished one two in the half-mile with time efforts turned in by juniors Dave Barnes and Mitch Frank. In the quarter mile, Spina outran the field with Vargas second. Russ Lausten won his season mile debut with sophomore Jeff Knowles, a close second. The Bulldogs' Brad Werner and freshmen Kevin King and Steven Wright swept the two mile.

Two hurdles races were won by Doty. Jay Fine, had a second and John Alex a third and a tie for third.

Dayton was one two in the discs on the throws of Dan Pope and Don Lusardi. Pope finished second to Lusardi in the shotput and was second in the javelin.

Regional's mile relay team of Kaush, Rusbarsky, Vargas and Fingerhut won. Because of the inclement weather the high jump and long jump were called off. Leaving Dayton's Mitch Krasnoff, Paul Commarato and Israel Joseph without competition.

The team's overall performance was not as good as anticipated. Times were off in some events and so far no set lineup has been formulated. After facing Roselle this week Dayton will oppose Crawford today.

Soccer Scene

By BILL WILD
This is it. This is the week one of our Union Lancers teams invades Giants Stadium in the Meadowlands. The mighty midgets (eight and nine-year-olds), who boast a 9-0 league record, will play in the first preliminary match this Sunday when the Cosmos meet the Tulsa Roughnecks. The Bergen Kickers, who sport an 8-1 record, will be the opposition. Both of these teams play in the Midget New Jersey Division of the Cosmopolitan Soccer League. The Kickers' only loss came at the hands of the Union Lancers and that was only decided by one goal, so the match should be a good one.

Union area residents can jump on the soccer bandwagon and go out to the Meadowlands and get behind the team: Unionite Manny Schellscheidt, who coaches the New Jersey Americans in the ASL, is the coach of the Union Lancer squad and has done a remarkable job with the Farber's Grove-based youngsters. The game should start a little after the gates open at noon.

Volleyball team will face Nutley in opener today

By KIRK KUBACH
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School varsity volleyball team will open its season tomorrow against Nutley. New coach Melinda Wilson is counting on four returning letter-winners—senior captain Carolyn Weeks, Moira Halpin, Sharon McGurty and Maria Miller. Strengthening this year's lineup are Cheryl Baron, Shari Reich, Pam Korley, Marijo Scuderi and Judy Jacobs.

In junior varsity play sophomore captain Debbie Doit is backed up by Carol Dysart, June Glaser, Renee Allen, Teresa DeFino, Lynn Maier, Cathy Ostrich and Terri Brand. The jayvees also will open against Nutley.

With a 2-1 scrimmage record and a fairly-strong performance in pre-season, the team anticipates a winning season.

Speaking of the soccer bandwagon, things have been happening pretty fast around town. Two weeks ago the recreation department announced the forming of a clinic and soccer league for Union over the summer and fall months. City Federal Savings has equipped the midget team that is to play this Sunday, with warm-up suits. The boys will not only play sharp but also look sharp when they make their entrance on the field. I think I can publicly thank City Federal Savings for all the players for their new warm-up suits. Lets hope all the moms put the numbers on in the right spots.

Anyone can still order tickets through the Elizabeth SC by calling Horst Haussler at 687-3063, and then pick up your tickets at his tool shop on Elmwood Ave., Union.

Let's take a look at what these youngsters were up to over the winter months. Schellscheidt likes to keep his boys active through the cold days, so he entered them in a few indoor matches. The Lancers played in the Elizabeth City Recreation tourney in the Elizabeth armory on Monday nights and came away with the top prize in their age group. In this tourney, the team played 11 games, won all of them by shutouts, and scored 66 goals. Karl Schellscheidt hit the net 30 times followed by John Kempner with 20. Stephan Schmidt added five more while the youngest player, John Dziaidzo, notched four. Andy Woods, and Ken Garcia hit two each with Glen Van Deventer, John Aroujo and Chris Maas scoring one each.

Overall they played 20 indoor matches, winning 18 and tying two.

The Cosmopolitan Soccer League is now back in full swing in all division and age groups.

UCT seedings to use records as of April 25

Records through April 25 will be the basis for consideration when the seeding committee of the Union County Varsity Baseball Tournament prepares pairings for the annual diamond event.

Tournament rules and regulations have been forwarded to all varsity and jayvee baseball coaches in the county, according to Virgil Bork, athletic director at Roselle's Abraham Clark High and tourney chairman.

First-round games will be played Saturday, April 29, with rain dates of April 30 and May 1. Second-round games will be May 6 with rain dates of May 7-8. Quarterfinal games will be May 13 with rain dates on May 14-15. Semifinal dates will be announced. The final game will be on May 29 at Union High's diamond. A coin toss will determine the home team.

Serving on the committee with Bork are Gordy LeMatty of Union, Paul Miller of New Providence, Ron Matlosz of Edison Tech, Carmen Vitello of Johnson Regional (Clark) and Gene Picker of The Daily Journal. Bob Brewster of Westfield is jayvee tournament chairman.

Most rate legislature 'poor' in Maguire poll

More than 50 percent of the voters responding to a questionnaire circulated by Assemblyman William J. Maguire (R-22) have rated the work of the legislature as "poor" with only 2 percent willing to give the state lawmakers "good" marks, he said this week.

The Union County Republican released the results of his questionnaire in a statement this week. He represents nine communities in western Union County and Chatham Township in Morris County.

According to the responses, 56 percent would relax the state's strict environmental laws in order to attract business and industry, with 41 percent opposed, Maguire said. 79 percent oppose giving public employees the right to strike, and 63 percent would allow the Concorde aircraft to operate from Newark Airport.

Only 53 percent of the respondents would support a new attempt to repeal

FORAGE DIET

In studies by scientists of USDA's Agricultural Research ARS, steers fed a low-quality forage diet containing cement kiln dust not only gained weight faster but also ate less feed and produced higher-grading carcasses than steers on a controlled diet. Dust-fed steers graded an average of top choice, control steers averaged top good.

National Institutes of Health

The macula is a small yellow-pigmented area in the central part of the retina, the light-sensitive tissue at the back of the eye.

Our ability to read and to see fine detail depends upon the health of the macula because it is the part of the retina that provides for sharp, central, color vision. Unfortunately, the macula is particularly prone to degenerative changes that affect the rest of the retina less frequently. In addition, a slight change in the macula that would not seriously affect vision if it occurred in any other part of the retina can cause severe visual impairment.

Macular disease generally causes a gradual loss of central vision over a period of years. Peripheral or side vision is usually maintained so that vision is not totally lost, but a central blind spot may render many people with macular degeneration in both eyes legally blind.

Aging is the most common cause of macular degeneration. This type of macular disease accounts for approximately 13 percent of all new cases of blindness occurring annually, making macular degeneration one of the leading causes of blindness in the United States.

Aside from aging there are several other causes of macular degeneration. It can occur as a primary disorder unrelated to other eye or systemic defect. This form of the disease usually affects children. Or, it may be the result of other conditions such as injury, inflammation, or blood vessel disease.

Unfortunately, there is no way of effectively treating most forms of macular degeneration, although many patients can be helped to read by low-vision aids such as special eyeglasses and magnifiers.

Some ophthalmologists are using the laser to treat certain forms of macular degeneration. This technique is used only in selected cases, and its effectiveness in preventing or controlling loss of visual acuity has not yet been clearly established.

Through research, progress has been made in understanding the cause and development of macular degeneration which may eventually lead to means of preventing and successfully treating this disease.

One new diagnostic technique involves making a series of photographs of the retina after intravenous injection of two fluorescent dyes. Each dye illuminates a different system of blood vessels in the back of the eye, and dye leaking from damaged vessels shows up as spots the photograph.

This method, recently developed by scientists working with the support of the National Eye Institute, a component of the National Institutes of Health, is at present used primarily in research. However, it promises to aid physicians in the future by helping them diagnose more accurately abnormalities of the ocular blood vessels which underlie diseases like macular degeneration.

Israeli to speak at congregation meeting tonight

"Social Problems and Integrating Immigrants in Israel" will be discussed at the general membership meeting of Congregation Israel of Springfield tonight at 8:15 at the temporary synagogue site, 42 Shunpike rd., Springfield.

Sara Bogen, a shlicha (representative to the community) of the Israel Program Center of Metropolitan New Jersey in West Orange, will speak. A native of Haifa, Israel, she was graduated from Hebrew University in Jerusalem as a psychology major. Her post-graduate work included the School of Social Work at Hebrew University.

Mrs. Bogen served two years in the Israel Defense Forces, and worked as a community organizer in Jerusalem. At the Hebrew University she was coordinator of social activities for the School of Overseas Students.

At the business session which will precede the program, the congregation will discuss progress on the construction of its synagogue center and religious school at Mountain avenue and Shunpike road in Springfield.

Occupancy of the new facility is now scheduled for the coming High Holy Days, according to Jack H. Stiefelman, president of the congregation, and Fred Bayroff, building chairman.

Besides its inpatient and doctors' coverages, Medicare also helps pay for other kinds of treatment.

Medicare insurance assists in subsidizing only one kind of treatment furnished by a licensed and Medicare-certified chiropractor. The only treatment that can be covered is manual manipulation of the spine to correct a subluxation that can be demonstrated by X-ray. Medical insurance does not pay for the X-ray or for any other diagnostic or therapeutic services furnished by a chiropractor. Medical insurance can help pay for any covered services of a licensed podiatrist, except for routine foot care. In addition, Medicare payments are available for dental care—only if it involves surgery of the jaw or related structures or setting fractures of the jaw or facial bones. Care in connection with the treatment, filling, removal or replacement of teeth; root canal therapy, surgery for impacted teeth, and other surgical procedures involving the teeth or structures directly supporting teeth are not covered.

Moist March breaks another weather mark

Setting records may be newsworthy under most circumstances, but in terms of weather it is becoming commonplace, according to Raymond J. Daly, director of Union College's U.S. Cooperative Weather Station.

In his monthly summary for March to the National Weather Service, Daly reported the fourth straight record-breaking month in the station's 18-year history. March, he observed, brought the total precipitation for 1978 to 16.94 inches, setting a new station record. Total precipitation for March alone was 4.39 inches, 0.72 inches above normal, he said.

February was the coldest month in the station's records. January had the most snow and December set a record for the highest temperature.

The past month was also distinguished as colder than average. Daly noted, with a mean temperature of 37.05 degrees, 3.87 degrees below normal. The mean temperature for March 1977 was 45.15.

Total snowfall for the month was 10.5 inches, 6.2 inches above normal, bringing the total snowfall for the season to 60.7 inches, as opposed to 23.25 inches at the end of March 1977.

Degree days for the month totalled 866, bringing the total for the heating season to date to 5,134. Degree days at this time last year, the director stated, totalled 5,276.

Luhrs' art exhibited by Elizabeth bank

An exhibit of marine paintings by Henry Luhrs has opened at the main office of the National State Bank, 68 Broad St., Elizabeth. The exhibit will continue through April 26. The exhibit is one of a series which the bank has sponsored in recent years of the work of local artists. Henry Luhrs lives at the New Jersey shore.

Hospital to hit century mark

Elizabeth General Hospital and Dispensary will mark 100 years of service to the Eastern Union County area on May 9, 1979, it was announced by Spencer M. Overton, chairman of the board of trustees.

The hospital will observe its Centennial with a year-long celebration during 1979, which will include professional, social, educational and fund-raising events.

Elizabeth General is the oldest hospital in Eastern Union County. It had its beginnings in a free two-room surgical dispensary which was founded by four Elizabeth physicians. The dispensary provided care to 100 patients during its first year of service.

Welfare board picks Perselay

Leda Perselay of Summit was named to head the Union County Welfare Board at the board's recent reorganization meeting.

A former freeholder, Perselay is a member of the New Jersey Association of County Welfare Board Members and the state planning committee for the annual conference of the state board of public and county welfare board members. She will be a panelist in May at the welfare conference.

Counties agree to regional plan for solid waste

The Department of Environmental Protection said this week that five of the state's northeastern counties have entered into a regional solid waste management agreement in order to prepare a comprehensive management plan to be submitted to DEP by mid-October.

Scheduled to adopt a joint solid waste management plan by Oct. 23 are Bergen, Essex, Hudson, Passaic and Union counties and the Hackensack Meadowlands Development Commission. According to New Jersey's Solid Waste Management Act, each of the state's 21 counties and the Hackensack Meadowlands have been divided into three groups to develop regional management plans.

Beatrice Tylutki, director of DEP's Solid Waste Administration, said five of the six northeastern districts have approved formal resolutions authorizing the joint solid waste planning. Essex County is expected to do so by the end of the month.

According to the agreement, a technical advisory group will be established consisting of one representative from each district. The group will coordinate and analyze each district's data, and prepare a final report with recommendations for collection, transportation, resource recovery and disposal alternatives. The report is scheduled to be submitted to each county's Board of Freeholders and the Hackensack Meadowlands Development Commission by July 1, Tylutki said.

Help at festival sought by ARC

The Union County unit of the New Jersey Association of Retarded Children (ARC) has issued a call for volunteers to help out at a nature and science festival May 20 at the Trailside Nature and Science Center, Mountainside.

Volunteers can help with nature motifs, rubbings, kite flying, collages, planetarium shows, nature walks, museum tours and performing arts. The ARC Day program, which is also sponsored by the Union County Park Commission, will run from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Further information is available by calling 232-5930.

Flood safety measures listed by Red Cross unit

The Disaster Services Unit of the Eastern Union County Chapter of the American Red Cross (this week reminded area residents that they can reduce flood-related losses if they take precautions in advance.

Walter Cocker, disaster chairman, warned of the possibility of serious "localized" flooding this spring. "This winter's heavy snowfalls have left the ground in many areas saturated with a large amount of ground water," he said.

Cocker pointed out that flood-related losses could be greatly reduced if people would take "even the most basic precautions before a flood strikes."

"Always remember that your primary responsibility is yourself and your family—property can be replaced, human lives can't," he said.

"Before a flood strikes," he added you should make sure you have a flashlight, battery-powered radio and first aid kit available and in good condition. The fuel supply for your car should be maintained at an adequate level. Maintain a supply of easily prepared foods—enough for at least three or four days. And in the event of an evacuation or severe flooding, all utilities should be turned off if at all possible.

"In the event of flooding conditions, you should be prepared to evacuate on short notice, as flood waters often rise quickly. If your basement floods, the basement windows should be opened to equalize water pressure on the foundation and the walls. Rugs and furniture should be moved to the upper floors if time permits. Valuables and important documents should be safeguarded," Cocker said.

Union College adds Dr. Slavin to faculty

The appointment of Dr. Stephen L. Slavin of Brooklyn as assistant professor in the Economics, Government, History Department at Union College has been announced by Dr. Saul Orkin, president.

Dr. Slavin is a graduate of Brooklyn College and received both his master's degree and doctorate from New York University.

Dr. Slavin had been assistant professor of economics at Brooklyn College and has served as an instructor in economics at the New York Institute of Technology.

Senior citizens plan workshop on health

A workshop on "Health and the Senior Citizen" will be held by the Senior Citizens Council of Union County today at the Coachman Inn in Cranford. A variety of health-related topics will be covered.

Guest speakers will include Jim Denham of the Arthritis Foundation, Bernard Walker of the Union County Mental Health Law Project and Rosemary Cuccarro, director of the Visiting Nurse and Health Service Association.

The talks will be followed by a question and answer period. During the afternoon session, small round-table discussions will be held.

On May 4, the council will hold its seventh annual convention and installation at the Mountainside Inn.

Mayors of communities with clubs which are members of the council have been invited to attend the convention. Each mayor will be given an opportunity to make a brief presentation relating his municipality to the theme of the convention.

PBA sets date of flea market

PBA Local 73, Union County Park Police, will hold its second Flea Market Saturday, May 20, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Antiques, collectors' items, jewelry and toys are some of the items that will be on sale in the Warinanco Park Skating Center parking lot—or inside if it rains.

You know what to look for in a car. Now we'll show you what to look for in a dealer.

BRAIN. Pick the dealer who was smart enough to pick Volkswagen as the best car for New Jersey. He's the man who knows the difference between the cheapest price and the best value.

WATCH THE EYES. They should be unblinking, sharp, and wide open. Volkswagen dealers are the kind of guys who can look you right in the eye because they believe in the cars they sell. They've got the sharp eyes that spotted Volkswagens—Rabbits, Dashers, and Sciroccos—as the best cars for New Jersey. And they keep their eyes wide open so they won't miss any details that will make their service better.

CHECK THE EARS. Make sure the man you buy a car from listens real well. Volkswagen dealers do. We think it's important so we can give you just what you need in a car. And it's important after you get your car too! Because someone should be there to listen when you need or want something done.

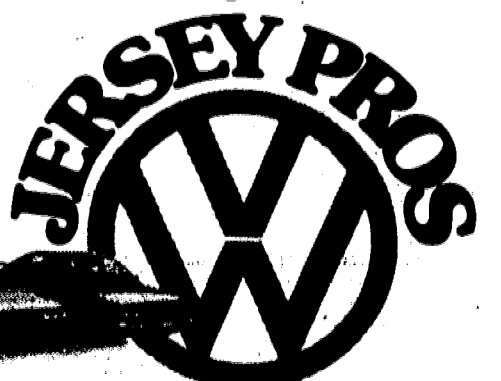

THE MOUTH SHOULD BE MORE THAN JUST A GARAGE FOR THE SMILE. A smile does not a great dealer make. A mouth should talk out of only one side. It should be filled with reassurance and helpful answers. That's the kind of mouth you get when you talk to a Jersey Pro.

Every Volkswagen dealer really cares. He's got the most sophisticated, most experienced, and loyal service department in his area. He wouldn't do all that if he didn't care, would he? And he certainly wouldn't sell a car that gives you so many features as standard equipment if he didn't care about you.

You'll get features like front wheel drive, negative steering roll radius, fuel injection, and a dual diagonal braking system, to name just a few.

There are a lot of features... and a lot of caring.

We're the Jersey Pros. We're in a league all our own.

Century 21 Real Estate Corporation has opened its North Jersey Training Center at Arlington Plaza on Route 46, Parsippany. The new training center is designed as a focal point for the corporation's activities in North Jersey. The center is the site of the first Century 21 Real Estate Academy, which prepares students for the state's Real Estate License Examination. It also contains the "2 and 1 Training School" which prepares licensed Century 21 brokers and sales associates in increasing their sales listings and income and to conduct field sales and listing activities in accordance with company procedures. The program is followed up with specific management training in areas of financing, marketing and advertising. Sales management training is likewise offered at the center for brokers and office managers to keep them up to date ROSSMOOR—The planned colonial look has an air of quiet elegance. The condominium community is located in Monroe. More and more residents are either still working or returning to work.

Rossmoor residents are defeating inflation

The time-tested leisure-oriented lifestyle afforded Rossmoor residents coupled with the decided edge they enjoy against rising inflation, are but two of the reasons more and more adults, 48 years or more, are buying their homes in this ideally located Monroe Township community off Exit 8A of the New Jersey Turnpike, a one-hour's drive to mid-Manhattan and 15 minutes from historic Princeton.

According to John G. Andriessen, director of marketing and sales for the adult-condominium community, sponsored and developed by Guardian Development Corporation, condominium ownership makes for an ideal arrangement because it allows for private ownership of housing along with shared expenses and equal participation in all the amenities.

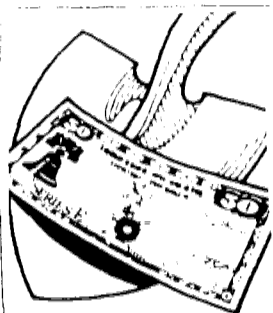

Real estate taxes or mortgage payment interest charges are deductible from federal income tax returns, and while Rossmoor home owners are taking their tax and interest deductions, they are building up equity positions as their homes increase in value with each passing year.

In many areas of New Jersey, families are being priced out of home ownership, but not at Rossmoor. Because it is a self-sustaining adult community, with no children to send to local schools, there is no drain on the local municipalities' services thus taxes remain relatively stable.

Homes that sold for $39,000 only five years ago are now selling for $65,000. A growing segment of home buyers still work

Homes are priced from $29,500 to $71,900. The community has an 18-hole championship golf course, an Olympic-sized swimming pool, tennis court, and an elegant, spacious clubhouse where game rooms and arts and crafts workshops join billiards for a host of leisure-time activities. Twenty-four hour on-site medical facility and around-the-clock security protection also are provided.

Homes stress quiet seclusion

Hidden Landing, at Wellington, Palm Beach, Fla., is secluded in nearly 10 acres of pine trees and bordered by recreational waterways. Wellington is a 7,400-acre community development of Breakwater Housing Corp. along with Gould Florida Inc., has emphasized a harmonious relationship with nature since building began five years ago.

Sixty villas in one and two story styles with two or three bedroom models will be included in Hidden Landing when it is completed. The homes offer the privacy of large, walled patios and the convenience of attached garages with utility and storage space. It will have its own swimming pool and boat landing on Lake Wellington, including private roads and bicycle trails.

Three floor plans are available. The Argonaut, a two-bedroom, two-bath, single-story home with a two-car attached garage, features 2539 sq. ft. of living space, including garage and walled patios.

Single women buying homes

Every year, more and more single women are purchasing homes, according to George Paton, Roselle Park Realtor who serves as vice-president of the Union County Multiple Listing Service.

This fact was substantiated in a recent survey conducted throughout the 172 real estate firms which comprise the local MLS unit's membership.

"It's not surprising," said Paton. "Changing social customs are creating new attitudes that have greatly affected the real estate industry and literally created a whole new market of real estate buyers: Women."

"The earning power and increased interest in home ownership makes today's single women acceptable and responsible mortgage loan candidates."

As added evidence, Paton cited a recent report by the National Association of Realtors. The study revealed one of every 16 home mortgage applications in 1976 was a single woman. By 1980, the ratio is expected to climb to one of every 10.

According to the real estate executive, an important step forward, of course, was legislation which prohibits sex discrimination in loans by federally insured savings institutions.

"Today many single women who have purchased a home say they are realizing a part of the American dream 'all on their own,'" added Paton.

He advises all individuals thinking of buying a house "to do so now before inflation forces home prices even higher."

"The fastest and most effective way to find a good buy is to take advantage of the one-stop shopping service provided by our Multiple Listing Service," he said. "It combines the specialized attention and respon-

LARGE BAY WINDOW is a main feature of this Glen Arden home living room. The Hathaway IV is a spacious two-story colonial and one of U.S. Home Corp's five models available in the new home development in Howell Township.

Past's charm makes Glen Arden special

It was Shakespeare who wrote sonnets to Anne Hathaway. But it was U.S. Home Corp., with a poetic eye toward design and the charms of the past that has paid her another compliment with the Hathaway IV model home at Glen Arden. The new community off Aldrich road in Howell Township features homes priced from $55,000.

The Hathaway IV, one of five models on the site, just south of Freehold, is a spacious three-bedroom, 2 1/2-bath home with family room and garage on its own wooded lot.

Attractive from the outside, its two floors and attached garage blend with the community's rural atmosphere. The appeal of Hathaway IV's interior is revealed at the front door, as the visitor stands in the foyer.

Ahead is the living room with 130 square feet, and beyond, a full-size dining room and entrance to an eat-in kitchen with ample space for modern appliances, a service bar, storage cabinets, as well as a breakfast nook overlooking the backyard.

The front lawn is seen through a picture bay window in the living room. The kitchen has access to the garage, to a laundry-utility room with optional washer-dryer, and to a large family room which has sliding glass doors leading to a backyard patio.

There is plenty of storage space in the garage, and a huge closet under the stairway leading to the second floor. A half bath, or powder room, is located between the family room and kitchen.

The master bedroom with private bath and walk-in closet and three more bedrooms with ample closet space and a full bath and linen closet are located upstairs.

There are four other Glen Arden models, including the three-bedroom Hathaway III, priced from $53,490. Each is built on a gently winding street surrounded by tall trees. The location along with the trees, sewers, water and area conveniences—make Glen Arden one of the Garden State's most desirable residential areas, according to Joan Harding, marketing director for the New Jersey Division of U.S. Home Corp., the nation's largest on-site manufacturer of single-family homes.

"An elementary school is adjacent to the property," Ms. Harding said. "Also nearby are two shopping malls, many parks, golf courses and other recreational facilities."

Glen Arden is situated near some of the Jersey shore towns and is minutes from Freehold Raceway, the Garden State Arts Center and the Jersey fishing fleet.

"The location of Glen Arden, coupled with U.S. Home's reputation for providing highest-quality homes at good value, have attracted many buyers since our models were opened for inspection in early November," said Ms. Harding. "From all early indications, Glen Arden will be one of the company's most successful communities."

U.S. Home Corp. is engaged in home-residential development with 185 projects under development in metropolitan areas of Arizona, Colorado, Florida, Illinois, Louisiana, Minnesota, Texas, and the Washington, D.C. area. In its fiscal year ended Feb. 28, 1977, the company delivered 8,358 homes and had revenues of $413 million.

Glen Arden can be reached via the Garden State Parkway south to Exit 123, then south on Rt. 9 to Aldrich road in Howell.

Hard sale completed

Berkeley Terrace, the landmark garden apartment complex in Irvington, has been sold for its original builders and their families by Gebroe-Hammer Associates, a Livingston-based investment real estate sales firm. The 156-family, two-story property built shortly after the end of World War II, was sold for $14 million.

Gebroe-Hammer account executives David Wiener and Stuart Falkin structured and negotiated the sale. The transaction, they said, was challenging in two ways. First, the account executives had to develop a structure that met the respective needs of the several generations of descendants of the original owners, and, second, the negotiations were complicated by the purchaser's requirements regarding tax shelter and other considerations. When originally constructed, Berkeley Terrace was financed under the Federal Housing Administration's 608 program, which was created to meet the housing shortage at the end of World War II. This program, which helped build millions of apartments, has since been replaced by more recent sections of the FHA code.

Senior development; small is 'beautiful'

Something like the builder of jumbo airlines directing its energies to making a special small executive jet, a giant of the housing industry was the creator of a concept of a small, neighborly community for adults. While there's been no record of such an attempt in the airline business, the smaller planned adult community is a successful reality.

The giant in this case is Kaufman and Broad Homes, Inc., the multi-national company with more than 80 residential developments being marketed in North America and Europe. And the giant's creation is a Country Place, the 56-home community on Hope road across from Lake Carasajlo in Lakewood where two-bedroom homes are priced from $3,000 less than 10 percent of the home sites are left for potential residents at least 55 years old.

"There's just plain no other residential option for adults in New Jersey that is similar to a Country Place in several respects," Michael J. Gordon, sales and marketing director for the New Jersey Division of K and B said.

Anthony Calderone, president of the division, said. "The idea of a Country Place has been to provide a truly private and uncrowded adult environment along with a fulfilling program of social and recreational activities."

By limiting the number of homes, the community has retained the atmosphere and sense of a rural village. Laterally in the woods, but only 75 miles from both New York City and Philadelphia, it is across the road at one point from a trout stream, as well as near the lake. Stocked with fresh water fish, Lake Carasajlo is one of the most beautiful and clear inland bodies of water in the state. There's no pollution, and, to keep it that way, motor boats are forbidden.

For more water recreation, the Atlantic Ocean is only 12 miles away. And for golf, there's nearby Lakewood Country Club.

But, having a good time or finding something interesting to do means staying near home. Within the ranch style community is Country Hall, a clubhouse with saunas, lounges and card rooms. In addition, it contains a men's club for pocket billiards or cards, as well as a sewing area, a community closed-circuit television system, a completely equipped workshop and a spacious studio where residents are involved in painting, sculpture, ceramics, woodworking and other creative activities.

Outside, on the sprawling, tree-filled grounds of the community are the private swimming pool, horseshoe pits, all-season shuffleboard

WILLIAMSBURG DESIGN The Guardian Development Corp. features this new colonial design in the Rossmoor community located off Exit 8A of the New Jersey Turnpike

Rossmoor features colonial architecture

Rossmoor homes, the condominium community for adults over 48, in courts and lots of green parks for strolling and bicycling.

A small monthly maintenance charge frees residents from lawn care, snow removal, painting and garden maintenance. The community even has its own underground sprinkler system.

The available Cedar model, at $35,900, has five big rooms and one and one-half baths, a covered porch area and a patio, as well as an attached garage. There's lots of closet space, including walk-in closets in both bedrooms. There's also a separate utility-laundry room off the kitchen, which itself has a pantry and counter space. The Cedar is centrally air-conditioned, carpeted in all the living areas and has color-coordinated appliances, including an over-range and garbage disposal.

There also are churches, hospitals, shopping, restaurants and movies nearby. Buses make regular runs to town all year round.

To reach a Country Place, take the New Jersey Turnpike south to Exit 11, then south on Rt. 9, following the signs to County Line road, Lakewood. Turn right approximately one mile to Hope road, then left to the community. Or take the Parkway south to Exit 91, then take right fork (toward Lakewood) and proceed straight on Rt. 549 approximately one-quarter mile to Rt. 526. Turn right onto 526 (County Line road) and proceed approximately five miles to Hope road. Turn left and continue to a Country Place.

Monroe Township, off Exit 8A of the New Jersey Turnpike, are designed in the tradition of "Old Williamsburg."

According to John G. Andriessen, director of marketing for Guardian Development Corporation, sponsors and builders of Rossmoor and its adjacent sister community, Clearbrook, Rossmoor features light and spacious bedrooms, decorator-designed baths, dining room for entertaining, eat-in kitchen, complete with G.E. appliances including an electric stove with hood, refrigerator, self-cleaning oven, dishwasher and disposal unit, the garage with automatic door opener, the central air-conditioning and storm windows and screens.

Rossmoor residents share a New England-style meeting house for community functions, club house that houses a creative arts and crafts center, hobby shops, billiards, photo dark room, a library, banquet rooms and lounges.

A monthly maintenance fee provides for around-the-clock security, all exterior service including landscaping, water, trash collection, a medical service center (doctor's fee additional) and a mini-shopping mall. There is a private 18-hole golf course, an Olympic size swimming pool, tennis and shuffleboard. There are a variety of models priced from $29,500 to $64,900.

Group to act as sales rep for Towers

The Commodore Group, one of Central Jersey's most well known management organizations, has been retained as the sales and management agent for the Towers at Monmouth Beach. The announcement was made by Jack P. Studnicky, chief executive officer of JPS Associates, Washington, D.C., marketing organization which is responsible for the overall marketing program for the $10,000,000 Monmouth Beach luxury condominium colony.

Commodore Group manages a number of buildings, including the East Point Condominium Association in the Highlands, Hamilton House in Weehawken and Sandy Point South in Monmouth Beach, plus many other projects on Long Island.

According to Eugene Fishkind, president of Commodore, "We will create an inventive and exciting lifestyle for the unit owners at the Towers, and see that these luxury buildings fulfill their potential in becoming one of the most desirable addresses on the eastern seaboard."

The Towers at Monmouth Beach is undergoing a major reconstruction program which will include some redesigning of apartments and re-establishment of a condominium lifestyle. The firm also will begin an intensive marketing program, as part of a major marketing thrust that officials say will be felt by the Jersey shore community as well as the metropolitan New York and international and financial communities.

The Towers at Monmouth Beach is a 132-unit luxury condominium colony in two 12-story high-rise structures and is one of the last high-rise buildings to be built on the ocean-front of the Jersey shore.

New colonial homes have old world flair

The patriotic spirit lives on, two years past the bicentennial, at Monroe Village in Williamston, the community of extra-large three and four-bedroom single-family homes off Glassboro-Williamston road near the Black Horse Pike. Just off the drawing boards and now being offered at preview sale price is "The Patriot," the newest model to be unveiled by the community's developer, Kaufman and Broad.

Keeping with the patriotic theme, The Patriot is a colonial-style home. With three bedrooms, one bath and attached garage, the new model is priced at $37,900 with estimated monthly taxes of approximately $75.

"The Patriot was designed to meet specific consumer needs for a home that is both priced right and will mean low monthly carrying costs. We are very encouraged by the nine sales already made from blue prints in our preview week," explained Michael J. Gordon, director of marketing and sales for the New Jersey Division of Kaufman and Broad.

In addition, no closing costs are being charged at Monroe Village. This translates into a savings of approximately $1,000 on the purchase of any of the four community models. The other models are priced from $39,900 to $42,900.

The Patriot's special appeal includes a brick front exterior and spacious rooms. The master bedroom contains more than 195 square feet of space.

All Monroe Village homes, have at no extra cost, spacious kitchens with abundant counter space and butcher-block finish countertops, full ceramic baths, storm windows and screens, energy-saving insulation throughout, easy-maintenance exterior siding, storage space and lifetime copper plumbing. "Our advertising has stated that Monroe Village is (more than just another pretty place) and, in truth, it's much more," Gordon aid. "After thoughtful design, the homes are built with superior old-fashioned craftsmanship and complete attention to every detail."

VA benefits do not pay for dropped course

James R. Purdy, Veterans Administration regional office director in Newark, this week reminded GI Bill students who might overload themselves with summer courses, "the VA does not pay GI Bill students for dropping courses." "In fact, a veteran who drops a course mid-term can find himself owing the VA money or at least having his monthly educational payment cut proportionately," Purdy said.

The VA encourages GI Bill students contemplating dropping "problem" courses to use GI Bill tutorial assistance benefits to avoid both educational and financial setbacks. It's a free service to the veteran which isn't charged against the veteran's basic educational entitlement.

The Government did not pay for tutorial assistance for World War II and Korean Conflict veterans, but under present law VA will pay as much as $69 a month for such help up to a maximum of $828.

In addition to veterans and active duty servicemen, tutorial benefits are available to widows, widowers, spouses and children studying under the VA's Dependents' Educational Assistance Program.

Veterans and servicemen attending school at the post-secondary level on at least a half-time basis are eligible if they have a deficiency in a subject required in an approved program of education, he said.

$51,832 grant awarded to N.J.

New Jersey will receive $51,832 from the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) to undertake three marketing improvement projects proposed by the state's department of Agriculture.

Barbara Lindemann Schlei, administrator of the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, said that a $7,500 grant will be used to expand the fruit and vegetable marketing reporting at the Vineland Produce Auction to cover truck movement of peaches and dry onions. Another $12,500 will go to survey export sales outlets for the state's fresh and processed food products. Finally, $31,832 will help New Jersey determine the market potential for dehydrated animal waste.

The grants, which will be matched by state dollars, were awarded under the Federal-State Marketing Improvement Program.

Telethon asks for volunteers

Volunteers are needed to participate in a Saturday Night Fight — "but they don't have to bring boxing gloves. All that's needed is the ability to answer telephones and accept pledges for the Saturday Night Fight — Stop Arthritis Telethon scheduled for Saturday, May 6, beginning at 10:30 p.m., and running through 6:30 p.m. Sunday, May 7.

The telethon will be broadcast over WOR-TV, Channel 9. Volunteer telephone answerers will be at New Jersey headquarters, the Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge across from Newark Airport, on Rts. 1 and 9.

Anyone wishing to volunteer a few hours of time to answer telephones during the Saturday Night Fight — Stop Arthritis Telethon may call the N.J. Arthritis Foundation at 233-7151.

THEN I'LL HUFF AND I'LL PUFF and I'll blow your house in.—These familiar words can be heard Saturday in the Kean College Children's Theatre Series when 'The Gingerbread Players and Jack' present 'Real Stories of Little Red Riding Hood and the Three Little Pigs.'

Offbeat version of tales for children to be staged

The Kean College Children's Theatre will offer "Real Stories of Red Riding Hood and the Three Little Pigs" in the Wilkins Theatre for the Performing Arts on the Union campus Saturday at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Performers are from the professional troupe known as The Gingerbread Players and Jack.

The program also will feature belleranger Herman Deussing of Fair Lawn and a master duck decoy carver, Gary Giberson of Millville.

W. Orange Y offers springtime courses

The YM-YWHA of Metropolitan New Jersey will offer a May minimester, with more than 50 courses for young people and adults, all geared to fun indoors and out and new learning experiences.

Adult courses range from disco dancing, backgammon, mah jong, belly dancing and photography, to self-help and learning courses such as "Strategies for Growth," designed to help discover positive personal and professional qualities upon which to base future growth. The minimester for youngsters will offer four-week courses, beginning the first week in May, utilizing all the indoor and outdoor facilities of the Y.

Passover oratorio

A Passover oratorio, "Haggadah: A Search for Freedom," will be presented on New Jersey Public Television Sunday, April 23, at 6 p.m.

Written by Morton Gold, professor of music at Nasson College, Maine, it was first presented in Syracuse and later performed at the 1974 convention of the Cantors Assembly of America.

Four musical groups are included: 65 voices from the Jamesville-DeWitt High School Select Chorus from Syracuse; 35 voices from the Trinity Cathedral Choir; a 20-voice children's choir from Har Sinai Temple in Trenton, and the Collegium Musicum of Princeton, a chamber orchestra.

Director is Bonnie Nye of the Jamesville-DeWitt Select Chorus, and concertmaster is Joseph Kovacs of Princeton, instructor at Douglass College. Albert Ludecke, choir master and organist at Trinity Cathedral, plays the organ.

Arts center readies fourth season opener

Expo '78, the outdoor art show at the Garden State Arts Center, is ready to open its fourth summer season.

Artists will show oils, acrylics, sculpture, watercolors, serigraphs, batik, weaving, macrame and pottery. A jury, must first approve the work prior to the professional programs six nights a week, from June through early September. In addition, artists have been invited to exhibit during the reception for the Arts Center's opening benefit production of "Madame Butterfly" by the New Jersey Opera Company on Saturday evening, June 24.

Approximately 5,000 patrons stream into the Center nightly for browsing and buying before each performance. The show was created as a pilot project in 1975.

The Expo group is holding policy meetings now and will be accepting

Antiques show starts April 28

Thirty nationally-known antiques exhibitors will offer pieces within a wide price range at Newark Academy's third annual antiques show and sale on April 28 to 30 at the school on South Orange avenue, Livingston. Proceeds from the show, which is being presented by the Mothers' Association, will benefit the academy.

The three-day event also will feature a special exhibit on the China Trade of the 18th and 19th Centuries, courtesy of the Newark Museum. The exhibit will have a representational grouping of the objects involved in the China Trade, including decorative table screens, a painted brass wine pot, porcelain dishware, and engraved pewter tea sets, among other items.

Reunion to be held by 1944 graduates

The January and June 1944 graduating classes of Newark South Side High School are making plans for a 35th reunion, according to Lila Lewitter Hersh.

Disc & Data

Pick Of The LPs The original soundtrack from the motion picture "American Hot Wax" (two-record set, A&M SP-6500). It is 1959, and there is a cultural revolution going on in America (Chuck Berry and Jerry Lee Lewis have taken over the charts which had been controlled by Perry Como and Patti Page). James Dean and Buddy Holly have become legends—and Elvis reigns. It is one of the pivotal moments in American history, the birth of the teenager as cultural force, as consumer, as tastemaker. Rock and roll, though no one knows it at the time, is here to stay—and Alan Freed is its high priest. "American Hot Wax," the film that chronicles that moment, is not only a film about the music business, about disc jockey Alan Freed and about the people who hounded him for playing the "jungle music," but also a success story—the rise of a young Brooklyn street-corner doo-wop group, The Chesterfields. As such, it is in the mainstream of the American tradition, for it is a story of triumph against seeming insurmountable odds. One disc contains original masters of the period—the Cadillacs, Bobby Darin, The Moonglows, Jackie Wilson, The Drifters, Maurice Williams and the Zodiacs, Chuck Berry and the immortal Buddy Holly. The other disc, which features music from the live concert at the Brooklyn Paramount which forms the climax of the film, showcases newly-recorded performances by Chuck Berry, Screamin' Jay Hawkins and the incredible Jerry Lee Lewis. It also features performances by the Chesterfields, who really are a modern-day street corner group—and also signed, incidentally, to A&M.

Travolta held on two screens Oscar-nominee John Travolta stars in "Saturday Night Fever," which is held over for another week at the New Plaza Theater, Linden, and the Lost Picture Show, Union. The picture features musical score by the Bee Gees. Karen Gorney plays Travolta's leading lady, John Badham directed the picture, which was photographed in color.

Nostalgia at theater
 The Garden State Theater Organ Society will sponsor a 50th anniversary celebration of the Old Railway Theater, 1601 Irving St., Rahway, Wednesday at 8 p.m. Its theme will be "A Nite in 1928."
 One of the original 1928 shows will be recreated, featuring live vaudeville, a 1928 newsreel, a sing-along and a 1928 Buster Keaton silent film comedy. Rex Koury of Reno, Nev., one of the theater's original organists, who began his musical career accompanying silent films, will headline the celebration. Koury has served as musical director for three TV networks on the coast and has composed theme music for television shows including "Gunsmoke."
 Tickets will be $3.50 a person and may be purchased at the box office.

Musical continues

"Annie Get Your Gun," Irving Berlin's hit musical, which opened recently at Neil's New Yorker Dinner Theater, Rt. 46, Mountain Lakes, continues through May 28. The 26th J. Gordon Bell production, features such tunes as "There's No Business Like Show Business," "I Got the Sun in the Morning," "The Girl That I Married," "You Can't Get a Man With a Gun" and "Doin' What Comes Naturally." Joan Agosta stars in the title role, and Dan Gregory plays Frank Butler. Producer Jack Bell directed "Annie," and Robert Marks served as musical director. The next stage production will be the musical spoof, "The Boy Friend," featuring Minette Sklott. It will open June 1 for a four-week run. Additional information may be obtained by calling 334-0058.

Hoffman stars in Irvington

"Straight Time," starring Dustin Hoffman and Theresa Russell, arrived yesterday at the Sanford Theater, Irvington. The crime drama concerns a parolee who finds life outside oppressive and resumes a life of crime with desperation. The picture, in color, was directed by Ulu Grosbard. The Sanford is holding over its special children's show, "Pippi on the Run," Saturday and Sunday. It will be shown at 1:30 p.m.

Kim is 'Belle'

Kim Hunter will recreate poet Emily Dickinson's life in "The Belle of Amherst," by William Luce, at the New Jersey Theater Forum, 232 E. Front St., Plainfield, tonight, tomorrow and Sunday, April 20, 21, 22, 27, 28 and 29, and May 4, 5, and 6. Matinee performances at 3 will be held this Sunday, and April 23, 30 and May 7. Additional information may be obtained by calling 757-5888.

'Hero,' 'Point' now at Castle

"A Hero Ain't Nothin' But a Sandwich," is the current attraction at the Castle Theater, Irvington. The companion feature is "The Breaking Point." "Hero," which tells a story of a troubled Los Angeles ghetto boy who turns to drugs, stars Cicely Tyson, Paul Winfield and Larry B. Scott.

'Holocaust' on NBC-TV

"Holocaust," a nine-and-half-hour original drama, set in the Nazi years and dramatizes the history through the lives of two families in Hitler's "Third Reich," will be shown on Channel 4 (NBC-TV) on four consecutive nights starting Sunday (8 to 11 p.m.), Monday and Tuesday (9 to 11 p.m.) and Wednesday (9 to 11:30 p.m.). The original screenplay was written by Gerald Green. It was directed by Marvin Chomsky and stars Fritz Weaver, Rosemary Harris, Joseph Bottoms, Sam Wanamaker, Michael Moriarty, Deborah Norton, David Warner and Tom Bell.

At CMDNJ, he will be in charge of plant maintenance, campus security, transportation safety, and the care and use of facilities, property and supplies at campuses in Newark, Piscataway and Camden.

Deadline listed to shift primary party affiliation

Secretary of State Donald Lan noted this week that Monday, April 17, is the last day for a registered voter in New Jersey to change party affiliation for the June 6 primary election. Lan's office administers Title 19, the election laws of New Jersey. Party affiliation has no bearing on the Nov. 7 general election, since a voter has a free, non-party choice at that time. Party affiliation changes must be made on forms available during office hours from any municipal clerk, county commissioner of registration or county election boards. Lan stated: First-time primary election voters may vote for the party of their choice by merely announcing that choice at their polling place on election day. Those who have never registered to vote, Lan added, may do so until the May 8 cut-off date for the primary election. The registration books will thereafter be reopened for eligibility for the November general election. To be eligible to vote in New Jersey, you must be a United States citizen, 18 by election day, living at present address 30 days or more prior to voting and not denied the voting franchise due to a criminal record.

EVE panel to explore 'Coping with Stress'

A one-day conference on "Coping with Stress" will be presented by EVE (Education, Vocation, Employment) at Kean College on Saturday, April 29, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Following a welcoming address by Mae Hecht of Union, director of EVE, a panel will discuss the causes and effects of stress, coping strategies and a total approach to self-management. Afternoon workshop sessions will address topics such as "Stresses in Personal and Work Relationships," "Relaxation Techniques," "Dealing with Life Transitions" and "Developing Support Systems to Ease Stress." Mary Ann Bornmann of Short Hills is the conference coordinator. Panelists and resource people include Joan Alevras, director of Feminist Resource Center of Nutley, Dr. Betsey Brown, Westfield psychologist, Patricia Iorio, chief clinical dietitian, Beth Israel Hospital, Renee Jacobs of Summit, psychiatric social worker, Barbara Maher, EVE counselor from Berkeley Heights and Edith Resnick, associate professor of physical education at Kean College.

The fee of $12 includes a box lunch and materials. Registration deadline is Saturday. Further information is available from the EVE office, 527-2210.

Montclair Museum to hold 'Family Day'

"Family Day," the Montclair Art Museum's annual multimedia, outdoor-indoor event, will take place on Saturday, May 6, from 1 to 4 p.m. It was announced this week by the chairman, Mrs. Kathryn Hanley. Mrs. Hanley and her committee are gathering a roster of artists, dancers, musicians and poets, but not simply to perform for an audience. On family day everyone joins in, she said.

There will be folk dancing on the lawn led by Rose Greico, who will be accompanied by a group of dancers wearing costumes of various lands. There will be Blue Grass music by Michael Fogarty and Phyllis Elkind, folk singing led by harpists Drs. Rosalie and Samuel Pratt, and music produced from unusual objects by composer David Van Tieghe. Members of the Whole Theater Company and the Dance Arts Center, New School of the Arts of Montclair, will provide demonstrations of character makeup, and children will create their own makeup styles on paper masks. Poetry, dance and music through puppets will be presented by Leila Weisholz and Lois Koenig through their "Pocket Full of Poems" program which they have been bringing to classrooms throughout New Jersey. Family Day at the Montclair Art Museum is also the day for the outdoor exhibition of the work of students in museum art classes. Work done by adults and children in all classes will be on display.

TV examines handicapped

Two documentaries about how families have adjusted to their severely handicapped children make up an hour-long program. "Reach For Tomorrow" and "Kurt: A Retarded Child in the Family," on Sunday at 4 p.m. and Wednesday at 9 p.m. on New Jersey Public Television. "Reach for Tomorrow," a production of Japan Nippon Television Network, chronicles the first 13 years in the life of Taskashi Arai, a thalidomide "seal baby." In "Kurt: A Retarded Child in the Family," Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lesko of Mechanicsburg, Pa., recall their initial reactions to their retarded child and the impact he has had on their lives.

The fifth annual New Jersey Daffodil Society show will be held on Thursday, April 20, from 1 to 8 p.m. at the Unitarian Church on Route 206 and Cherry Hill road in Princeton. The show is open to the public with no admission charge. Interested exhibitors may obtain a schedule and entry cards from Mrs. Fenn Stafford, 338 The Great road, Princeton, 08540. Any named variety of daffodil, grown in the open by the exhibitor, is eligible.

NAMED ROAD BOSS
Gen. George Goethals was named the first head of the State Highway Department in 1917 when the agency was formed.
