School board rules out paying for field trips by 8th-graders

Future Deerfield School eighth-graders will have to pay for their own field trips and take them on non-school days. The Mountainside Board of Education Tuesday night voted not to allot a proposed $2,000 in the budget to pay for the annual eighth grade trip.

Citing financial problems and difficulty in getting the public to pass its school budgets, member Anthony Mazzeuca said "I can't, in good conscience, put $2,000 in a school budget for a class trip and then sit back and watch the budget go down next year."

The class trip was the subject of considerable controversy this year, as parents and students rallied for the trip location to remain at Great Adventure Amusement Park. But the board ruled the trip non-educational, thus prohibiting trip payment by the board. State law forbids local school boards from paying for non-educational class trips, and also prohibits parents from paying for a trip which takes the students out on a school day. The board eventually agreed to pay for a class trip to Washington, D.C.

Member Patricia Knodel, who voted for the trip proposal, said "the trip would be a deterrent to misbehavior" since the proposal also included a ruling that would bar a student from taking the trip for misbehavior. She also added that "she didn't think parents should have to pay for anything in a public school system."

But member Charles Speth said the fund-raising aspects of the new policy would give "kids an incentive and will keep them occupied during the year."

The new policy would permit a parent-sponsored organization, such as the Parent-Teacher Association, to help students raise money and supervise the outing.

Woman injured in Rt. 22 crash

A Trenton woman suffered injuries Monday afternoon in a two-car accident on Rt. 22, Mountainside police reported.

Police said a car driven by Edna Mailloux was heading east on the highway when her auto collided with a car driven by Joan Ackman of Westfield, as Ackman's car was coming out of an east-to-west u-turn.

Mailloux reportedly told police she thought Ackman was waiting for her car to pass the intersection, but drove across the highway and hit her auto as she approached the u-turn area.

Mailloux sustained injuries to her lower leg. Police said she refused aid.

he was not convinced that mainstreaming in an additional subject would be beneficial. "Are we just going after something because the money is available," he said. "We have to ask, are we helping the kids and is it in their best interests to take them out of small group instruction for anything more than reading and math."

Dr. Hamman noted that federal law, which goes into effect in September

GOP lists full slate for June 6 primary

The Mountainside Democratic and Republican organizations have just filed petitions for district committee candidates to run in the June 6 primary.

Republicans presented a full slate for the borough's ten districts, but Democrats only nominated committee members and women for districts one, three, eight and 10 and filed no petitions for tax collector or Borough Council seats.

Petitions filed by Steven Sussko, Democratic County Committee chairman, and Democrat Rose Holleran were disqualified for having only eight of the 10 signatures needed.

Republican nominations include: incumbent Thomas Spina and Robert Vigilanti for Borough Council; Edward Gibadlo, Republican County Committee Chairman for tax collector; Ruth Gibadlo and Edward Gibadlo, district one committee members; Anita Lania and Frank Harrison, district two; Barbara Fresco and Timothy Benford, district three; Barbara Knierim and William Van Blarcom, district four; Joan Nemick and Richard O'Neill, district five; Virginia Hafeken and Matt Bistis, district six; Rosemarie Hulse and James Kellerk, district seven; Eileen Dachnowicz and Andy Dachnowicz, district eight; Janice Tully and Andrew Tully, district nine; Veronica Geiger and Fred Gerkin, district 10.

Football coach chosen amid resident protests

By HELEN REYNOLDS

The Union County Regional High School District Board of Education chose a Connecticut applicant as head football coach for the Dayton campus Tuesday during a stormy meeting in which an unprecedented gag order was imposed on 90 Springfield Mountainside residents who wanted another man for the job.

The board voted 7-1, with one abstention, to hire 27-year-old Angelo Senese from the Pawtucket area of Connecticut, where he is assistant football coach at Stonington High School. The crowd obviously wanted another applicant: Don Carpenter of Springfield, assistant coach at New Providence High School for 16 years. Carpenter, who serves on the Springfield Recreation Commission, is a Dayton alumnus who starred in football and baseball and was "athlete of the year" in 1958.

The board's roll-call vote for Senese was barely audible above the roar of the crowd, reacting angrily after board president Charles E. Vitale Jr. had abruptly halted chair recognition of audience comments.

"In five years," as board president, I've never cut off the public. You're pushing me to that point for the first time. I'm very, very close to that point," Vitale warned, seconds before he acted.

TWO OF THE THREE speakers whom Vitale had formally recognized, Sandy Irene of Mountainside and Mel Vargas of Springfield—were still on their feet. Vitale had twice gaveled Irene out of order, telling him to "address the chair" not to direct his questions to the staff or to board member Natalie Waldt, senior representative from Springfield. Others were speaking without any recognition from the chair.

Vitale gavelled loudly and announced that the right to speak during the rest of the meeting was "closed to the public." Most of the audience continued to talk.

"Are you going to throw at least 50 parents into jail?" shouted one man from the back of the room.

"Is this democracy in action?" shouted Pietro M. Petino Sr. of Springfield, echoed by Anthony Graziano of Springfield: "Let them speak."

The commotion died during comments from board member Marilyn Hart, the Mountainside representative, before she cast the lone vote against hiring Senese. She repeated in public what she had told Charles Bauman, assistant superintendent in charge of personnel, during a closed executive session.

Mr. Bauman, I think you have stacked the deck," Dr. Hart said. "I think you have not given one of the applicants a chance."

SENESE WAS UNANIMOUSLY recommended by the screening committee of administrators: Dr. Donald Merachnik, district superintendent; Bauman; Anne Romano, principal of Dayton, and Charles Berchen, Dayton athletic director.

Before Vitale gavelled him down, Irene accused the administrators of making up their minds on the basis of incomplete information supplied by Bauman. Speaking to Bauman, Irene charged:

"Don Carpenter applied for the job Feb. 19. You didn't even bother to follow up on his references until April 27, after Dr. Hart made you aware of the fact that you had totally ignored this

Council slated to act on offer for building

The Mountainside Borough Council is expected to take action on the lone bid for the old Municipal Building on Rt. 22 at its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night at 8 p.m. in the Borough Hall.

It is also reported that the governing body will introduce an ordinance to restrict parking on a portion of Tanglewood lane.

essential part of any reasonable screening process.

Irene accused Principals Romano and Berchen of delaying chair-stool observation of Carpenter at New Providence High School. Springfield Mountainside parents had demanded that it be done.

"We got all that to learn about how we shouldn't apply pressure," Irene shouted. "It's applying pressure to demand a proper screening process. We'd better apply more of it. Don Carpenter didn't get a fair shake."

Board member Waldt told the crowd that she, as well as Dr. Hart, had requested that Carpenter's title be brought up to date before any decision was made on the coaching job.

"I requested that every applicant's title be brought up to date, and this was done. I based my decision on complete information," she said. She then voted "yes" on Senese, and several in the audience cheered.

"If you want to vote on the board, then run for the board," she snapped at Charles Shon of Mountainside, who was shouting her.

Voting to back the administrators' recommendation were Mrs. Waldt and Margaret Hough of Springfield and two representatives from towns served by Regional District campuses: other than Dayton, Member William Keyes of Berkeley Heights abstained.

Dr. Hart said she was voting against Senese primarily as an English teacher. Regional coaches draw only part-time pay for their athletic chores. Senese's primary salary will come as

APPLY CLERK'S OFFICE 232-2400

THE "FOR SALE" SIGN may soon be removed from the lawn of the old Mountainside Municipal Building, if a prospective buyer agrees to the borough's purchasing terms. The turn-of-the-century structure on Rt. 22 has been empty since borough offices and the police department moved to new facilities late last year.

Officials consider bid for old borough hall

Mountainside borough officials are reportedly considering a $40,000 bid for the old Municipal Building on Rt. 22, according to business administrator Lee Voorhees. The offer, from a Metuchen advertising consultant, Donald Eldridge, is the only one that has been received since the building was vacated last year.

Voorhees said the prospective buyer has stipulated that he wants to use part of the building for office space and the top floor as living quarters. But Eldridge would need a zoning variance to live there and Voorhees said the Borough Council could not guarantee variance approval should he agree to purchase it.

"The Borough Council would not be authorized to grant him the variance," said Voorhees. "It's not in the governing body's jurisdiction."

All variance requests must be decided by the borough's Board of Adjustment and purchasing the building without a variance would be "his liability," said Voorhees.

The former borough hall and police department headquarters was put up for bids after it was shut down in November. The business administrator said the condition of the building has created a selling problem, forcing the borough to lower its $60,000 minimum. "It needs some repair," said Voorhees, "and that's been a problem."

Borough offices, including the police department, are now located in the renovated Echo Brook School building.

Hearing is held on establishing flood authority

The Assembly Energy and Natural Resources Committee panel recently heard public testimony on legislation proposing the establishment of flood control authorities in the Green Brook and Rahway River sub-basins. The hearing was held May 10 in the Scotch Plains Municipal Building.

As sponsor of the Green Brook Flood Control Authority Act being considered by the Legislature, Assemblyman Donald T. DiFrancesco expressed his concern that a comprehensive system of flood control management be established in New Jersey.

"We cannot afford further loss of life and property from the recurrent flooding that occurs in this area," DiFrancesco said. "We have more than $7 billion worth of property in the Green Brook basin which is regularly threatened by flood waters, and the heavy concentration of population and investment make any flood a potential disaster."

Citizens and elected officials from the affected areas of Union, Morris and Somerset counties appeared before the panel to provide testimony on the flooding issue.

DiFrancesco noted that the traditional approach to flood problems in this state has been a piecemeal and ineffective one. "Before we can hope for solutions, we must have a central organizational body in each flood region," DiFrancesco noted. "The bills we are discussing would set up these bodies for two very troublesome areas and will input from local residents and officials. We hope to have a strong workable program of flood control."

DiFrancesco announced that the official record will be held open for two weeks following the hearing so that further written testimony can be submitted by interested parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Adams of Springfield recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. They were married April 15, 1928, in Our Lady of Sorrows Church, South Orange.
A Mass of Thanksgiving was offered by Rev. Stephen Lynch in St. James Church, and the couple renewed their marriage vows on that day.
In the evening, a cocktail hour and dinner party was held at the Town and Campus Restaurant, Union. It was given by their son James and daughter and son-in-law, Patricia and Gabriel Ruggieri, and was attended by relatives from Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and New York and friends of the family. The couple have one grandson, Nicholas Ruggieri.
Congratulations were received from President Carter, Governor Brendan Byrne, Rep. Matthew Rinaldo and Springfield Mayor William Ciery. Mr. and Mrs. Ciery were among the guests, and Ciery read the messages.
Adams retired from the National Newark & Essex Bank, now Midlantic Bank, in 1967 after 38 years of service.

The purpose is simple: to give personal injury lawyers the same if you are practicing a yourself right now imagine the success really begins ducking as a ball in tennis.

But you're wrong. There are many independent players who regularly consider it when faced with a sizzling passing shot. Occasionally they make that decision for me.

That's when they swear loudly at our terms and return to gardening or fly casting.

Most of these little tennis players eventually overcome their fears as you probably have. One day they'll take the split-second decision and have no choice in an attempt to grab their perfect smile they'll stick the racket out and make a perfect volley. Everyone will say "Nice shot" and never again will they consider ducking.

On that very day their reflexes will improve tremendously. Instead of cowering in the doubles alley, they'll boldly drift out into the middle of the court.

There, with their feet spread wide, their knees bent, their necks held up and their eyes wide open, they'll dare anyone to hit the ball near them, let alone at them.

The Tuesday Night club of the Union County Unit, New Jersey Association for Retarded Citizens, has issued an urgent call for volunteers to aid in the group's activities. The club meets Tuesdays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Towne House in Scotch Plains.

Counselors are needed to accompany three to four members on each outing. Previous experience in Special Education or teaching is not needed, according to Elle Hajjar, recreation coordinator.

Volunteers can call Hajjar at 322-2240 or write to the Union County Unit, 60 South Ave., Fanwood, for an application or further information.

They'll never catch the Rabbit.

Let a Jersey Pro tell you why.

We're flattered because everybody is copying our Rabbit. But, they're still a long way off.

They can't catch the Rabbit's engine. Only the real Rabbit uses regular gasoline. Because only the real Rabbit has fuel injection. It's a system Volkswagen pioneered and improved to deliver economy and performance. And they can't match the most economical car engine in America, because they haven't been able to copy the Rabbit's Diesel engine that delivers 53 mpg highway, 40 mpg city.

They can't catch the Rabbit's handling. But man does not live by mileage alone. There has to be a joy in driving. And the real Rabbit remembered that. It is by far the best handling car of them all. We've kept the sure, firm, European handling package intact. We believe you can love driving without getting mushy about it.

They can't catch the Rabbit's safety. Only the real Rabbit™ has the kind of passive-restraint seatbelt system that the U.S. Department of Transportation says every car will have to have by 1984. Just another of the important touches that make the Rabbit a big improvement over the others.

They can't match the Rabbit's reputation. You just can't copy experience. The others will always have to be a few years behind the real Rabbit in that. They can't imitate Volkswagen's reputation of reliability, durability and economy that comes from decades of building cars with quality and integrity—not from building cars to fit a price tag.

A different kind of used car from a different kind of dealer.

The used cars listed here aren't ordinary used cars. Because they don't come from an ordinary dealership. At Pace, a customer is respected as the owner of a fine automobile, not dismissed as a troublesome accessory to it.

Because of our service, we're selling more and more new Buicks. And taking in more and more fine used cars as trade-ins. The cars listed here are the best of them.

Before we put a used car up for sale, we inspect it inside and out. We fix what needs fixing—and if we can't we simply don't sell the car to you.

Then, we protect every used car we sell with Pace Buick's own double warranty: 3 months or 3,000 miles, whichever comes first, on the entire car plus 6 months/6,000 miles (whichever comes first) limited to the engine and drive train.

Best of all, when you buy a used car from Pace, you receive the same attentive service that's winning us more and more new-car customers.

So, if you're tired of looking at the same old kind of used cars, come to Pace. You'll find the kind of used car you can trust—because you can also trust the dealership they come from.

Panel to debate role of media in the courts

A debate on media coverage of the courtroom. The two-hour special will be presented by New Jersey Public Television. Media coverage of the courts from four attorneys of national prominence.

Richard Hughes will be one of the seven chief justices. The other six will represent Arizona, Colorado, Florida, Delaware, Georgia and New Mexico. Governor Brendan T. Byrne will make opening remarks, as will Donald F. Stokes, dean of the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs.

Arguing before a participating audience of judges, lawyers, law professors, law students, newspaper editors and radio and TV news directors from all sections of the country will be the following attorneys: Arthur Liman of Paul Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton, Garrison in New York City; Paul R. Connelly, of Williams and Connelly, Washington, D.C.; Adrian Foley, past president of the N.J. Bar Association, who is with the Newark law firm of McElroy, Connell, Foley, Geiser, and Professor Alan Dershowitz, of the Harvard Law School.

The Judiciary and The Media will concentrate on two points of law regarding Canon 35 of the American Bar Association's Canon of Professional Ethics. Canon 35 says, in part, that the taking of photographs in the courtroom and the broadcasting of courtroom proceedings distract from the dignity of the courtroom and therefore should not be permitted. The two points under consideration are "disruption in the courtroom" and "fair trial."

Loretta Brennan, co-producer of "The Judiciary and The Media," explains, "There has been extensive controversy about whether television coverage of the courtroom disrupts the proceedings and precludes the possibility of a fair trial. Many states do allow such coverage; New Jersey is considering experimenting with it for a limited time."

Rutgers to hold symposium on asbestos ills

A medical symposium on asbestos-related diseases will be held at the Rutgers Medical School, Piscataway, on June 7, under sponsorship of the American Cancer Society's New Jersey Division.

Specialists participating in the symposium will discuss the medical problems that have developed 15 to 30 years after direct and indirect exposure to asbestos. Detect and clinical management of asbestosis, lung cancer and mesothelioma will be featured.

The symposium has been arranged in response to HEW Secretary Joseph Califano's report on the nationwide effects of exposure to asbestos, particularly among those who worked in shipyards during World War II. It is open to physicians, clinicians, radiologists, nurses and health officers. Dr. Irving J. Selikoff, professor of medicine and director of the Environmental Sciences Laboratory at Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York will direct the conference.

In a recent article, Dr. Selikoff and Dr. F. Cuyler Hammond, vice president for epidemiology of the American Cancer Society, both of whom have been charting the effects of asbestos exposure for the last 25 years, report that as many as 4 million men and women worked in shipyards during World War II. Many of them in the New Jersey-New York Connecticut area. "Many of these persons," says Dr. Selikoff, "worked under conditions in which exposure to asbestos was possible."

The Selikoff-Hammond report states that among asbestos workers approximately 20 percent of all deaths are due to lung cancer, and six percent are due to mesothelioma. It also notes an excess above national averages in other forms of cancer.

The results have been drawn from a detailed study of cause of death of 17,800 asbestos workers in the United States and Canada during the decade from 1967 to 1977.

Eaton's work saluted by Historical Society

A salute to American artist Charles Warren Eaton is the subject of the New Jersey Historical Society's exhibit this month. The exhibit presents a portrait of the artist and one of his works, "Site of Watessing Park" in Bloomfield.

The paintings will be displayed through May in the lobby of the society's headquarters at 230 Broadway, Newark.

The Eaton portrait, by J. Campbell Phillips, was rendered in 1921. Eaton, who lived from 1852 to 1937, was born in Albany, N.Y., and lived for many years in Bloomfield.

Eaton's "Site of Watessing Park" was painted in 1887 and shows the area in its natural state before park improvements.

Both paintings are the gifts to the society of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Polkinghorn of Verona.

The society museum and library are free to the public and are open from 10 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays.

Series deals with language

"Watch Your Mouth" is a new series of 10 half-hour television programs based on the thesis that children—particularly ethnic and minority children—acquire language patterns containing many nonstandard expressions and idioms.

It premieres on Monday, May 29, at 6 p.m. on New Jersey Public Television channels 23, 50, 52 and 58. The series deals with language skills and communication for teenagers roughly between ages 14 and 17.

Purchasing power falls in Metro area

The purchasing power of the take-home pay for factory production workers in the New York Northeastern New Jersey area dropped sharply by 7.3 percent between January and February, according to Herbert Bienenstock, regional commissioner of the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The drop primarily reflects the sharp reductions in the length of the average work week because of a near record snowfall, said Bienenstock.

Choral group to give concert

The Kean College Riverdale Singers with orchestra under the direction of James Cullen, Kean College music faculty, will commemorate the 150th anniversary of Franz Schubert's death by performing the "Mass in G" and the little known "Stabat Mater" next Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in Kean's Wilkins Theatre. The concert is free to students and senior citizens. Tickets for $2 will benefit the annual Kean Riverdale Choral Tour.

The 120 singers in the concert performance have been selected from the Kean College Chorus, the Kean College Chorus and the Riverdale N.Y. Choral Society. Orchestra members include Kean students and faculty, community volunteers and regional professionals.

Kissinger due at Case dinner

Former Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will be the keynote speaker at a fund-raising dinner for U.S. Senator Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.) on Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Short Hills Caterers.

Dr. Kissinger is at present at Georgetown University, where he is professor of diplomacy in the School of Foreign Service and counselor to the Center for Strategic and International Studies.

Kissinger received the Nobel Peace Prize in 1973 and the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the nation's highest civilian award, in 1977.

Further information about the dinner is available from Tony Cicatiello at 382-9626.

Between January and February gross average weekly earnings of area factory workers declined $17.7 to $204.98, entirely reflecting the reduction in average weekly hours. A four cent rise in average hourly earnings to $7.75 only partially offset the drop in the length of the average work week.

With the impact of the snowstorm gross average weekly earnings of area factory workers were down by $6.88 between February 1977 and February of this year. A decline of two hours and 48 minutes in the length of the average workweek over the year more than offset by a 40 cent or 7.3 percent increase in average hourly earnings.

Bienenstock noted that with the 3.2 percent decline in average weekly earnings and a 4.8 percent rise in area consumer prices, purchasing power was down by 5.4 percent over the year.

The purchasing power is described as average weekly earnings of all factory production workers, reduced by Social Security and Federal income tax rates applicable to a married worker with three dependents who earned the average amount and adjusted for changes in the area revised Consumer Price Index for urban wage earners and clerical workers.

Operation is daily for ferry service

The Department of Environmental Protection has announced that regular ferry service between Ellis Island, Battery Park and Liberty State Park reopened April 30.

The ferry service was first implemented last May through the combined efforts of DEP, Circle Line Cruises and the National Park Service. Boats will operate daily from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. until Oct. 29.

Pupil aid for NJIT

New Jersey Institute of Technology has received $15,600 from the National Fund for Minority Engineering Students to assist 18 of its undergraduates.
The award was made, according to the NFMES, because of the Institute's "demonstrated commitment to the recruiting and graduating of a greater number of minority students."
Established in 1974 as a financial catalyst for improving the nation's supply of minority engineers, the NFMES promotes aggressive recruiting of minority students and funds those institutions when noticeably increase minority enrollments. Major corporations are in large part supporting the organization's work, NFMES reports.

"Everybody Needs Some Love," "Out On The Road."
"TROUBLE" is a band hailing from various urban centers here and in Great Britain. Not only do they incorporate their disparate musical roots into a well-realized R&B based rock formula, they approach their craft with vigor and commitment.
All musicians involved are veterans who've paid their dues with such artists as Ides of March, Harvey Mandel, Toefat, The Hounds and numerous others. Their combined experiences have meshed into an enticing blend producing a sound that is both consuming and accessible.
Another good sounding LP also on the UNITED ARTISTS label (LA821-G) is LADIES ON THE STAGE, by The Millington Sisters, June and Jane.
Their 10 goodies include the LP title song, "Ladies On The Stage," "Love Brought Us Together," "How Can I Make It Better," "Dream Desire," "Heaven Is In Your Mind," "Young and in Love," "You Need This Woman," "Fantasy," "Bird in Flight," and "So Good to Be Home." Listen and enjoy!

Papers printed about Jersey's ethnic heritage

"New Jersey's Ethnic Heritage Papers of the Eighth Annual New Jersey History Symposium" has been published by the New Jersey Historical Commission. It deals with ethnic influences on 19th and 20th-century urban and rural New Jersey. The papers were delivered Dec. 4, 1976.
"Italian Immigrants and the Working Class in Paterson: The Strike of 1913 in Ethnic Perspective," by James D. Osborne of Warwick University, England, analyzes immigration's impact on an urban work force.
"The Rural Experience of Jews in Farmingdale, New Jersey," by Gertrude W. Dubrovsky of YIVO Institute for Jewish Research, traces the history of Jewish farming in America and examines the community at Farmingdale from 1919 to the mid-1950s. Caroline Golab of the University of Pennsylvania comments on the papers and adds information on the European backgrounds of the two groups.
"The Evolution of the Modern Urban Core: The Implications of Newark's Late Nineteenth-Century House and Population Patterns," by Ronald A. Foresta of Rutgers University, shows how Newark's boarding houses reflected the city's ethnic and social composition.
"The Process of Community: Class, Culture and Ethnicity in Nineteenth-Century Newark," by Charles Stephenson of the State University of New York, examines the relationship between class and ethnicity and presents extensive tabulation of Newark's census data. In commenting on the papers, Seth M. Scheiner of Rutgers University considers the advantage of models in historical analysis.
The 140-page publication is edited by Paul A. Stellhorn, the Commission's research director. It is available at $3.50 from the New Jersey Historical Commission, 113 W. State St., Trenton 08625; check payable to Treasurer, State of New Jersey.

NJEA votes to allow non-teachers to join

The New Jersey Education Association has made a basic organizational change that should increase both its membership and the number of its local affiliates. Beginning next fall, every school board employee will be eligible for active membership in the statewide educational organization.
The change gives non-professional school employees full voting rights in the NJEA and the right to seek office. Previously, only teaching staff members held these rights.
The change was voted in NJEA's annual spring election, conducted every April to select NJEA of fileholders and to consider changes in NJEA's constitution. NJEA's Elections Committee has now counted the ballots and certified the results.

The election asked NJEA's voting members if they wanted to extend full membership rights to non-professional school employees including such categories as custodians, secretaries, bus drivers, aides, guards, maintenance people and cafeteria workers.
Because the change required an amendment to the NJEA constitution, a two-thirds majority was required of those voting. Active members approved the proposal 18,258 to 5,420, a 77 percent majority.

Seminar on sports medicine

Weekend warriors must be careful

Warmer temperatures have again begun to lure many a sometime athlete out of hibernation. But according to an expert in sports medicine at the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (CMDNJ), whether the casual sportsman profits or suffers from his efforts depends on how well he prepares himself for it.

Dr. Max Novich, director of the sports medicine program at CMDNJ, New Jersey Medical School, said exercise and athletics are a necessary part of a healthy regimen, strengthening the heart and lungs and building up muscles. But he said "recreational sports can do more harm than good unless they are approached intelligently."

A good program of recreational exercise takes more than a decision to get in shape. Dr. Novich said "It takes smart work, pre-conditioning, proper equipment and a realistic attitude."

There are some of the aspects of amateur athletics that will be explored by a panel of experts at a symposium on "The Medical Aspects of Recreational Sports" to be held Wednesday at the medical school. Coordinated by Dr. Novich, the program features Alie Sherman, former coach of the New York Giants, and specialists in sports medicine and professional athletics.

The all-day conference will be held, beginning at 9 a.m., in Room 13-552 in the Medical Sciences Building on CMDNJ's Newark campus. It will focus on some of the most popular and, according to Dr. Novich, the most beneficial, recreational pursuits: jogging and running, swimming, jogging and running, swimming, skiing, and dance and ballet.

Students plan rally for Israel

A Student Mobilization for Peace in Israel, organized by the Stern College Student Council, will be held in Washington, D.C. on Tuesday and Wednesday. Students and faculty from Stern College for Women will participate in the program, and are urging the participation of student and faculty groups from colleges and universities throughout the United States.

The Mobilization will be a two-day effort involving political activity, prayer services and Bible study sessions, and demonstrations to protest President Carter's proposed U.S. arms sales to Arab nations. Underlining this protest will be condemnation of President Carter's interpretation of UN Resolution 242 and his support of a sovereign homeland for the Palestinian people.

Amy Schwartz of Union, a Union High School graduate and a freshman at Stern College, is serving on committees organizing the protest.

former boxer and a 12 year member of the medical jury for the Olympic games, said these activities are classified as aerobic, exercises which require normal, continuous breathing. He said that sports of this type have the greatest long term benefit for the heart, as well as the least risk for serious athletic injuries. He added that most sports related injuries are the result of improper pre-season training.

Last year, some 18 million Americans suffered from some form of athletic injury, ranging from the strained muscles of the weekend jogger to the torn ligaments and broken bones of the professional football player. Many of these, according to Dr. Novich, could have been prevented with proper training.

He added that anyone considering taking up a new sport or exercise program should have a physical examination first. If any problems are indicated, an electrocardiogram and a cardiac stress test may be advised. Then, the would be athlete should start slowly, with daily calisthenics, to acustom his muscles to the new demands being placed on them.

String concert at Seton Hall

"Dr. Samuel Applebaum and Friends," an annual concert event, this year will be presented at Seton Hall University for the first time.

The string music program, which is open to the public free of charge, will be performed on Sunday, May 21, at 7:30 p.m. in the main lounge of the Student Center.

Principal guest soloists will be concert artists Ereck Friedman, violinist, and Ingrid Dingfelder, flutist, with violinist Anne Lieberston of Millburn and pianist Anita Gordon of Whippany. Dr. Applebaum, teacher, composer and writer, and Jacques Singer, former conductor of the Dallas and Oregon symphony orchestras, will conduct the string orchestra.

JACK ANDERSON, Pulitzer Prize winning columnist, will speak on "The News Behind the Headlines" in Kean College's Wilkins Theatre at 8 p.m. today. Free tickets are available to the public following first release to students. Further information can be obtained by calling 527-2085.

Show to reach mastectomees

The ninth annual Northern Area Reach to Recovery Workshop, sponsored by the American Cancer Society's New Jersey Division for persons who have had breast cancer surgery, will be held Wednesday, May 24, at the Town and Campus in West Orange.

This year's program has been designed especially for recent mastectomees who are not acquainted with Reach to Recovery programs of physical rehabilitation and psychological support. All aspects of recovery from breast surgery will be covered.

Dr. Murray H. Seltzer, a surgeon affiliated with St. Barnabas Medical Center in Livingston, will discuss awareness factors that produce "Today's Total Woman," theme of the conference.

Williams to sponsor business conference

For the third year in a row, New Jersey Congressman will join U.S. Senator Harrison A. Williams Jr. in sponsoring a Business Opportunity Conference to teach owners of small businesses how to cut through red tape and learn where and how to apply for government contracts.

The free, day-long conference will be held June 23 at the Sports Complex in East Rutherford.

The Federal Government will spend an estimated $150 billion nationwide this year to purchase goods and service, yet because many small business men and women do not know how to apply for government contracts or sell their products in foreign markets, they will probably miss these opportunities to expand their market, Sen. Williams said.

In addition to counseling throughout the day, the agenda will feature workshops in such fields as crime prevention and protection for business people, causes of success and failure in business, how to start your own business, how to sell products and services to private industry and foreign markets.

As in last year's conference in South Jersey, representatives from over 125 different federal agencies and over 50 major corporations will be on hand to meet with small business owners to discuss individual projects and specifications.

Additional information regarding the conference can be obtained by writing to: Conference, Room 352 Russell Senate Office Building, Washington, DC 20510.

Historians print data on Jersey buildings

An illustrated survey of more than 800 New Jersey buildings of historic and architectural interest was introduced Tuesday by its publisher, The New Jersey Historical Society.

Information for the book, entitled "Historic American Buildings Survey of New Jersey," was compiled over a period of 10 years from professional historian and volunteer sources, and updates an earlier survey of 1941 and its 1959 supplement. The book becomes the most comprehensive survey available on buildings of architectural and historic distinction statewide. Nearly 200 photos and drawings illustrate interiors and exteriors not only of historic houses throughout the state, but also of churches, inns, schools, early industrial structures and other landmarks.

To observe publication of the book, the Historical Society is exhibiting 50 enlarged photos from the book in the first-floor Victorian Room at its headquarters, 230 Broadway, Newark.

VA speakers are available

James R. Purdy, director of the Newark VA Regional Office, this week reminded local civic and social groups that the agency has a speakers bureau with speakers available to discuss the full range of veterans benefits.

Groups and organizations interested in having a member of the VA speakers bureau address their group should write to the VA Regional Office, 20 Washington pl., Newark.
