Ehman, Vaccari picked as candidates by Dems

The Mountainside Democratic Committee this week announced the candidacy of Frances Ehman for Mountainside Borough Council, making the formerly-uncontested council race a three-way bid for two council seats. Ehman will oppose Republicans Thomas Spina, an incumbent, and Robert Viglianti for one of the two council seats available. Councilman Donald Halbsgut is not running for a second term.

The committee has also announced the candidacy of Raymond Vaccari for borough tax collector, in a race with Republican Edward Gibadio for the post.

Ehman, a 22-year resident of Mountainside, is a learning disabilities consultant for the Hillside Board of Education. She is former president of the Hillside Education Association and past state president of Alpha Delta Kappa, the international honorary teacher's sorority, and the Rosary Altar Society of Our Lady of Lourdes Church.

The candidate received her master of arts degree from Seton Hall University and has attended graduate school at Columbia University.

Vaccari, who has lived in Mountainside for seven years, is a senior process engineer at the Pirelli Cable Corp. in Bayonne. He is membership chairman of the power engineering society of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers North Jersey Section.

The Democrat holds a master of business administration degree from Rutgers University and received a master of science degree in applied mathematics and a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from the New Jersey Institute of Technology.

He is a member of the National Journalism Society, Pi Delta Epsilon, and the National Leadership Society and is included in "Who's Who in American Colleges."

The committee will hold a cocktail party in behalf of the candidates at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leonard, 1020 Elston dr., Mountainside on Saturday, Sept. 23. Tickets are $8 ($15 per couple) and can be obtained by calling 232-1043 or 233-0136. Rain date is Sept. 24.

The Ehman-Vaccari campaign committee includes Arlene Liberman, campaign chairman, Lydia Vaccari, treasurer, and Albert D'Amanda, publicity.

Dental care for poor goal of Dr. Lassiter, new NDA president

By PATRICIA GARRISON QUINN

Dr. James Lassiter of Mountainside, recently elected president of the National Dental Association (NDA), said dental care for the poor and admissions equality in the nation's dental schools will be two of his main concerns during his one-year term of office.

Lassiter, who has practiced in Summit for 13 years, said he will work for the reforms by acting as "chief spokesman" for the 3,500-member, racially-mixed organization, composed primarily of black dentists and dental professionals.

"We are concerned with a national health insurance plan," said Lassiter. "We would like to see a program that benefits all people equally. Medicaid doesn't include dentistry and we want Medicaid for dentistry."

The six-year resident of Mountainside said those most affected by lack of proper dental care are children, who, due to inadequate family funds, "are unable to receive the medical and dental care they need."

One way to better assure adequate dental care for the indigent city dweller is to equalize white and minority student enrollment in dental schools, he said.

Lassiter said his group will keep a close watch on the number of minority students enrolled to maintain or increase the ratio of black dentists.

"Now there is one black dentist to every 4,000 to 5,000 patients," he said. "We want to make sure that ratio doesn't increase, and we'd like to see it decrease."

The dentist said the NDA will "monitor the effects" of the recent Bakke decision by the U.S. Supreme Court, which allows colleges to consider race as an admissions factor, but does not permit the establishment of numerical quotas.

"We are going to monitor the effects on students in the schools," said Lassiter, "and work toward getting more minorities in dental schools. There should be more minorities in the schools."

Lassiter said an increase in black and minority dentists could ease the problem of dental care for inner-city residents. Noting that there are enough

Donated books on display this week at library

Memorial and gift books, donated by the American Association of University Women, will be on display at the Mountainside Free Public Library today through next Thursday.

The illustrated book "The Irish World" by Brian deBrefny, given in memory of James J. Greeley, husband of Peg Greeley, tells the story of Irish culture and history.

"A History of Russia" by Basil Dmytryshyn, was presented in memory of Anani Movchan, father of Mary Stanke.

Four other books are also being placed in the collection. "The Encyclopedia of World Theater" captures a spectrum of an art form closely related to society and life.

"Costume" by Rachel H. Kemper is a cultural history of clothing from Neolithic times to today. It gives an overview of all aspects related to clothing such as climate, magic and the development of modesty, as an indicator of social status and as a vehicle of sexual attraction.

Adrian Johnson's pictorial atlas "America Explored" conveys, in text and illustrations, the story of the discovery and exploration of North America. Milton W. Brown traces the development of art in America in his illustrated study, "America Art to 1900."

Recreation unit lists programs

The Mountainside Recreation Commission is sponsoring a variety of activities for young and old this fall, including soccer for boys and girls, "Shape up to Music" and gym nights for men and women.

Boys in the seventh and eighth grades will participate in the Union County Soccer League; those in the fourth to sixth grades will compete in an informal intratown league. The older boys will meet Saturday mornings from 9:30 to 11:30 beginning Sept. 9 at Deerfield School. League play will commence later in September. Players are responsible for their transportation to and from games.

The younger boys will meet on Saturday afternoons from 2 to 4 beginning Sept. 9. A skills clinic will be held the first few weeks; then all players will be placed on teams and games will be scheduled. The registration fee for participants in both age groups is $4 per person.

The girls' soccer program includes a junior division (fourth to sixth grades) and senior division (seventh to eighth

Tennis courts delayed; board defers payment

By HELEN REYNOLDS
The Union County Regional High School District Board of Education voted unanimously Tuesday to make Valley Paving Co. of Ramsey wait at least an extra week for a $12,906 payment due on tennis courts which the firm is completing about nine months behind schedule.

The payment is the latest one due on the $143,190 project which includes four tennis courts at the Jonathan Dayton campus in Springfield and a fourth court at the Gov. Livingston campus, Berkeley Heights, which already had three.

The board was already withholding $30,843 owed on the contract, pending negotiations on penalties to be assessed against the contractor for tardiness.

The latest action raises the withholding to $43,749, although the board indicated it probably will authorize payment of the $12,906 next week.

Faced with the latest bill from the contractor, the senior board member from Springfield, Natalie Waldt, made a motion to approve it but to hold the check until Valley completes the final job: about four hours of painting stripes on the courts. The contractor had promised to do the painting job immediately, but Waldt said she no longer

CAMPAIGN PROFILES For Congress

McCormack

Democrat Richard McCormack admits his campaign to oust Republican Matthew Rinaldo from his long-held 12th District Congressman seat will be an uphill battle, but he is quick to note "that it can be done."

The Kenilworth councilman-at-large said lack of funds will prohibit a lavish campaign. He has labeled his a "street campaign"—he will meet the voters face-to-face and "show them that we care."

McCormack considers "fiscal restraint the foremost, uppermost" problem faced by Congress and the White House administration, noting that "tax revolt fever" was precipitated by uncontrolled government spending.

"Tax restraint starts at the federal level," he said. "The federal government has to practice what it preaches. It's been appropriating too much money with no eye to the future."

The Democrat said that while he supports tax cuts and public tax reform referenda similar to California's Proposition 13, he stopped short of advocating massive tax cuts.

"I favor a (Bill) Bradley type tax cut," he said, which he said involves a $25 million cut instead of the 30 percent "across the board" slash favored by

Rinaldo

Republican Matthew J. Rinaldo, running for his fourth two-year term in Congress, apparently faces one serious challenge in the November election: competing with his own record as an invincible vote-getter in the 12th district that covers all of Union County except Linden, Hillside and Winfield.

Rinaldo defeated Jerry English, later legislative counsel to Gov. Byrne, about 3-2 to win the seat in 1972. One of few Republican congressmen in New Jersey to survive Watergate reaction, he clobbered young attorney Adam Levin almost 2-1 in 1974. He took 74 percent of the November vote, a record in the district, in the 1976 rout of Richard Buggelli.

Rinaldo's magnetism at the polls contrasts with a low-key personal image: rimless glasses, hair cropped short, conservative clothing, studious habits. A 1953 graduate of Rutgers, he later went back to class from time to time. He received a master's degree in business administration from Seton Hall in 1959. He recently completed all requirements except his dissertation for a doctorate in public administration from New York University. He has taught labor-management courses in the Rutgers extension division.

In his six years in Washington, the 47-had any faith in Valley's promises.

 Other board members said they were willing to go further in the latest flap at the tandy contractor. And Waldi said she would join them in voting "no" on her own motion even to authorize the payment. Tuesday, if it were procedurally possible for her to do so. Board attorney Franz Skok said the sponsor of a motion is banned from speaking against it during discussion, but may vote "no." Waldi then voted "no."
 Skok's parliamentary ruling unexpectedly revived a women's rights issue in Mountainside. Dr. Marilyn Hart, the board vice-president and member from Mountainside, pointed out that board president Charles E. Vitale Jr. of Kenilworth had withheld permission for a motion sponsor to vote "no" last June on action to deny detailed information sought by the Mountainside branch of the American Association of University Women-AAUW, which is trying to monitor Jonathan Dayton Regional High School's compliance with federal equal-rights law.
 Board member Stephen Marcinak of Clark had made the denial motion—to get the matter on the floor for discussion—but then had wanted to vote "no." Vitale had told Marcinak he must vote "yes" as the motion sponsor.
 Marcinak's reluctant "yes" had passed the motion, 3-2, with four members absent. The denial would have failed if Marcinak had been permitted to vote the other way. Dr. Hart pointed out.
 "The issue isn't dead," promised Dr. Hart about the request from Barbara Gerkin, project chairperson for the Mountainside AAUW and state topic chairperson for the organization.
 Vitale, who had not sought a legal ruling on the parliamentary issue in June, apologized for his apparent mistake then.

MUCH OF THE MEETING Tuesday night, on the Arthur Johnson campus in Clark, focused on the board's unhappiness with over-budget bids on construction projects. It became clear that the board is thinking about sack- ing its consulting engineering firm, Vogelbach and Baumann Corp. of Scotch Plains.
 "Yes, we're thinking about it," Vitale confirmed when questioned by the press. Board members apparently had talked Aug. 1 about scheduling a personal session later with Vogelbach and Baumann, to ask the firm to defend its estimates that have been far below the bids on several projects. More information about that closed session, whose secrecy the press had protested, surfaced Tuesday night.
 The board Tuesday rejected bids to replace a boiler room ceiling and improve the athletic track at Gov. Livingston, and it also rejected bids to convert a classroom into a photo lab for classes at the Arthur Johnson campus.
 The two bids for the boiler room ceiling were $12,350 and $22,300, compared with the engineers' estimate of less than $9,000. The only bid on the total photo-lab job was $34,550, compared with a $12,500 estimate. There was also a partial bid at $23,800. The sole bid on the Gov. Livingston track improvements was $38,619, compared with an estimate of $16,500.
 A related bid for athletic jumping pits at Gov. Livingston came in below the $11,500 estimate, however, and the board awarded the contract to Petrella Contracting at $6,635.
 The board postponed action to have another engineering firm, Kinsey Associates, draw up specifications for site renovation at the David Brearley campus in Kenilworth and for parking lot expansion at Dayton. The additional 50 parking spaces at Dayton would serve the Regional District's central staff and visitors at central offices now being created by conversion of seven classrooms.
 The board also was unhappy about some proposed non-construction contracts which its own staff arranges without engineers or other consultants. Vitale told O'Hara the board wants a great deal more information before taking action on proposed contracts to take Regional District students to and Republican senatorial candidate Jeffrey Bell.

 "The American people are accustomed to federal grants," he said, "and they are well-meaning in several areas."
 McCormack wants more money pumped into cities including Elizabeth, which he said "can be revitalized with more industry. The work force is there."
 "The food center should have been built in Elizabeth," said McCormack, referring to a proposed food center complex for the city which has now been planned for Middlesex County. "Unemployment has been at seven percent in Union County since 1972," he said. "We need more federal monies for government construction."
 McCormack also said he blames government for the state's transportation problems and advocates a "change in personnel." He said too much transportation money is being spent on over-priced, non-productive higher-ups, adding that there is "no reason" mass transportation should not make profits.
 "Transportation has been neglected," he said. "The department needs a change of clothing."
 And the candidate said that while he "sympathizes" with the environmentalists, R: 78 should be completed through the Watchung Reservation.
 Noting that costs to complete the highway are continuing to "skyrocket" with construction delays, McCormack said that "the original alignment might be the best. You're not harming homes or uprooting people."
 The 42-year-old regional sales manager for the Baxter Rubber Co. in Fairfield has been a Kenilworth councilman for two years.
 He is a former finance chairman and police commissioner for the borough and has been active in community and charity organizations including the Little League, the N.J. Arthritis Chapter, St. Theresa's Church and the St. Jude's Hospital fund-raising.
 He was born in Elizabeth and has lived in Kenilworth for 13 years. He is married to the former Jeanne Gorcevya and has four children.

 year-old bachelor's activities have generated no gossip-column material livelier than an invitation from entertainer Charo's sister to a show in Las Vegas. Rinaldo politely declined. Serious press coverage of Rinaldo has also been meager in Washington. But to the extent it exists, such coverage supports his claim of being a very hard-working congressman.
 The New York Times described him in a headline as "a busy Republican in the House." The Washington-deline article pointed out that he introduces at least a dozen bills a year, many on major issues, and frequently gets his ideas accepted. But he doesn't expect much credit nationally. Democrats control the House, 2-1. A popular proposal from a Republican, especially on an issue such as solar energy or Medicare, is likely to emerge from committee as part of "Democratic" legislation, with a member of the majority party named as chief sponsor.
 IF RINALDO'S WORK is semi-anonymous in Washington, he is more visibly busy when he returns to his district office in Union Township. And his Democratic colleagues are more generous with his billing on his home ground. Reps. Mario Biaggi from New Jersey's 10th district, both Democrats, praised the local congressman as an effective worker for the elderly when they showed up at a hearing in Union last February. Rinaldo had arranged the hearing on health care needs under auspices of the House Select Committee on Aging, on which he serves.
 Rinaldo will take all the praise he can get from Democrats. In a "swing" political district, he is vocally candid about his need to attract voters across party lines in November.
 He is less talkative about a fellow Republican, Jeffrey Bell, the conservative whose victory in the primary last June will end a quarter century in the U.S. Senate for Clifford P. Case. Rinaldo's supporters had viewed him as best apparent to Case in 1984.
 By the end of August, Rinaldo had seen Bell only twice: a two-hour meeting immediately after the primary, a chance encounter at a party in Cranford for all Republican candidates.
 "Jeffrey Bell has his own state-wide campaign to run," Rinaldo says. "When I'm not in Washington, I'm running a district-wide campaign at home. For that matter, I haven't run into Bill Bradley (Bell's Democratic opponent) either."
 Rinaldo obviously counts on support from Bradley voters, too.
 "Of course I go after Democrats' votes," he says. "When someone comes into the office, we never ask if he or she is a Republican, a Democrat or an independent. Everyone in the district is entitled to the representative's services—entitled to the best we can give."

bread-and-butter services he and his staff give to local constituents. The "thank-you" letter file in Union contains thousands of index cards, each with a name and address. Rinaldo invites the press to pick names at random, contact the people and ask if they want to comment for publication.
 "We handle literally thousands of telephone calls, letters and face-to-face cases of people with problems," he says. "And that's in addition to responses to questionnaires—16,500 from the July questionnaire, by the way."
 Rinaldo says he and his staff answer every letter and postcard within a day after receipt—sometimes with immediate satisfaction of the request, often with more detailed follow-up. The correspondence ranges from easy-to-handle requests for information—everything from copies of the U.S. Constitution to listings from a federal "who-handles-what" directory—to descriptions of complex problems with years of background. Common problems deal with Social Security, Medicare, veterans' benefits, immigration and the Internal Revenue Service.
 "Many of the people feel frustrated with bureaucratic red tape," Rinaldo says. "They don't get red tape from my office. We solve the greatest percentage of problems—probably over 90 percent—to everyone's satisfaction."

 dentists to go around. Lassiter said that the low number of city dentists is due to a "distribution problem."
 HE SAID MOST DENTISTS practice in the suburbs, and the clinics some have set up in the urban areas are not enough.
 "Some suburban dentists have set up clinics and are moving into the urban areas—like Newark and Elizabeth—in an attempt to serve inner-city residents," said Lassiter. "But that's not good enough. It's like businessmen who are in the city from nine to five but desert it at night."
 "The dentist should involve himself with the community," he added. "He has to put something back into the community," which is almost impossible when the dentist commutes to the suburbs, he said.
 Dr. Lassiter's new post adds to a list of professional and civic credits that include consultant to the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, a member of the advisory committee to the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry and consultant to the Union County Vocational and Technical School in Scotch Plains.
 He is an associate professor at the Fairleigh Dickinson University School of Dentistry and an associate at Overlook Hospital.
 A graduate of Howard University in Washington and a dentist since 1963, he has served as an associate at Martland Hospital and the College of Medicine and Dentistry in Newark and is acting chairman and president of the New Jersey Dental Group. He has been honored by the Summit Board of Health, the Head Start program of Union and the Greater Newark Urban Coalition.
 Dr. Lassiter lives in the borough with his wife and four children.

Woman injured as cars collide

A Plainfield woman suffered leg injuries when she was involved in a two-car accident on Rt. 22 last Wednesday morning, Mountainside police reported. Police said Janet Mayo, a passenger in a car driven by Tyree Baskerville of Plainfield, was hurt when his car collided with a vehicle driven by Clement Bonnell Jr. of Plainfield, near Cornell Parkway.
 Bonnell reportedly entered the highway from Cornell in the path of Baskerville's vehicle. Police said Baskerville told them he applied his car's brakes but was unable to avoid hitting Bonnell's car.
 Mayo was taken by the Mountainside Rescue Squad to Overlook Hospital where she was treated and released.
 from special-education classes.
 Cost is estimated at $9,270, for example, to transport two emotionally disturbed students between the Regional District and a special school in Gillette. It might be cheaper to send the two by taxi, Dr. Hart suggested. O'Hara pointed out that the district is totally reimbursed by the state for special-education transportation.
 "It's still tax money," said board member William Keyes of Berkeley Heights. The entire board demanded more information on why costs are so high for special-education transportation.

7 face drug charges; grand jury action set

Seven men arrested in Mountainside on drug charges remain in the Union County Jail pending a hearing by the grand jury. The cases were forwarded to the grand jury by Mountainside Municipal Court Judge Robert Ruggieri at last Wednesday's court session.
 Ronald Borrow, 23, of Plainfield:

Wilford Lewis, 20, of Newark; Ronald Melvine James, 22, of Elizabeth; Anthony Lewis Helms, 20; Derrick Oliver, 21; Gene Owens, 21 of Newark and Earl A. Johnson, 21, of Plainfield have been charged with possession of Doriden, Empirin with codeine, cocaine and less than 25 grams of marijuana.

Mr. Whyte, 80; ex-millwright

Funeral services were held Friday for Alexander Whyte, 80, of Mountainside who died last Wednesday in John Runnells Hospital in Berkeley Heights.
 Mr. Whyte retired in 1960 as a millwright with E.I. Dupont in Newark after 18 years of service. He served in the British Army during World War I and was a member of the Triune Lodge 158, F and AM in Arlington.
 Surviving are his wife, Agnes, a son, Hugh C.; a daughter, Mrs. Barbara Pettinger, and six grandchildren.
 Arrangements were made by the Smith and Smith Suburban Funeral Home in Springfield.

Additional charges were lodged against Borrow for receiving stolen property—a revolver—and carrying it without a permit with intent to use it illegally. Also, Borrow, who was reportedly convicted of other charges, was charged with having the gun, which is illegal for convicted individuals.
 Johnson also was charged with carrying a phony driver's license.
 Bail was set at $5,000 for Borrow and $500 for the other suspects.

AF cadet study for Rusbarsky

Gregory J. Rusbarsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Rusbarsky of Peachtree lane, Mountainside, has entered his freshman year at the U.S. Air Force Academy.
 Cadet Rusbarsky is one of the more than 1400 freshmen who were officially accepted into the cadet wing after completing six weeks of intensive field training, physical conditioning and survival instruction.
 Located eight miles north of Colorado Springs, Colo., and occupying 18,000 acres of mesas and valleys at the foot of the Rocky Mountains, the academy specializes in military affairs and scientific technology.
 The cadet begins four years of academic study and military training that will lead to a B.S. degree and a commission as a second lieutenant.
 Cadet Rusbarsky is a 1978 graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield.

Growing Older

Medicare's hospital insurance, which is carried by an increasing number of the nation's senior citizenry, can sometimes pay for home health care visits. In order to qualify for home coverage, six conditions must be met:
 —You were in a qualifying hospital for at least three days in a row (not counting the day of discharge).
 —The home health care is for further treatment of a condition which was treated in a hospital or skilled nursing facility.
 —The care you need includes part-time skilled nursing care, physical therapy, or speech therapy.
 —You are confined to your home.
 —A doctor determines you need home health care and sets up a home health care plan for you within 14 days after your discharge from a hospital or participating skilled nursing facility.
 —The home health agency providing services is participating in Medicare.

March of Dimes unit reelects Dr. Goodkin

Dr. Edward Goodkin has been reelected chairman of the Union County Chapter of the March of Dimes.

Other officers are Veronica Anzaldi, Beverly Platt and Peter Leonardis, who have been elected vice-chairman, secretary and treasurer respectively.

Dr. Goodkin, a former mayor of Union, is a gynecologist on the staff of St. Elizabeth Hospital and Elizabeth General Hospital. He is a clinical assistant professor of obstetrics and gynecology and a fellow of the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

He and his wife Judith, residents of Union, have seven children.

During 1977, under Goodkin's chairmanship, the Union County Chapter raised approximately $140,000 for the March of Dimes.

The money goes toward the fight against birth defects and is used for numerous purposes including medical service programs and equipment and health education.

The executive board also has named Jeffrey M. Brindle as the new executive director.

Brindle is a former director of public information and complaints for the City of New Brunswick and a public relations consultant.

DR. EDWARD GOODKIN, reelected chairman of the Union County Chapter, March of Dimes, discusses plans with Jeff Brindle (seated), executive director.

Goal is attained by Cancer unit; first since '74

The Union County Unit of the American Cancer Society this week announced it has reached its record goal of $250,000 for 1978. It is the first time since 1974 that the unit has succeeded in attaining the goal.

"What we saw all year was a group of people dedicated to the crusade and the many activities necessary for successful realization of our goal," said Irving Sturm, president of the unit.

All committees within the unit remained active throughout the year. Services were provided to cancer patients and their families, while education included a "Helping Smokers Quit" program, breast-self examination demonstrations and screening programs. The Nursing Education Committee conducted three symposia for health professionals.

"The crusade is an all-year commitment, with everyone donating valuable time and energy from beginning to end," Sturm said. "Planning, organizing, motivating and carrying out the events involves a great deal of dedication, and we are lucky because our group is the most dedicated you could hope for."

An annual meeting for volunteers and staff will be held on Tuesday at 6:30 at the Echo Lake Country Club. "This meeting gives us a chance to thank the individuals who play such a major part in our success," Sturm said. "And this year will be a particularly special evening because of the unit's success in reaching our goal."

Dem candidates back state welfare funding

A Union County Board of Freeholders resolution calling on the state to pick up 75 percent of welfare costs has been endorsed by the three Democratic candidates for freeholder, Anthony Amalfe, Eugene Carmody and Matthew Mirlocca.

"This resolution, passed by a Democratic-majority board, is just what we need here in Union County," said Amalfe, an incumbent freeholder and member of the Welfare Board. "It stipulates that the state pick up the tab for 75 percent of the costs while the county pays for 25 percent." Carmody, the mayor of Roselle Park, added, "Perhaps people are not aware of this but New Jersey is the only state in the union which does not contribute to local welfare costs, thus dropping the heavy burden of such payment on local property taxes."

Mirlocca, the Union County Planning Board chairman, said, "Right now, the responsibility for the administration of welfare programs in the county rests with the County Welfare Board while the federal government funds only part of the costs. Since the state exercises a great deal of control over the county Welfare Board, as far as disbursement of funds and personnel policies including salaries and wages, they should be picking up part of this bill."

Canine training offered by 4-H

Dog obedience classes, in cooperation with the Union County 4-H division of the Cooperative Extension Service, will be held on eight consecutive Monday nights starting Sept. 18 and ending on Nov. 6. A fee will be charged.

The classes will be held at the Harrison School all-purpose room, 310 Harrison ave., Roselle, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Dogs must be five months of age to begin training.

More information will be provided at the Extension Service, 233-9366.

Crane to speak at GOP dinner

Congressman Philip M. Crane of Illinois, the first announced candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, will be the guest of honor at the annual dinner-dance of the Union County Republican Committee tomorrow at the Chanticleer, Millburn. Cocktails will be at 7 p.m., dinner at 8:30 p.m.

Funds raised from this event will be used to assist Union County Republicans running for election this November.

Tickets, which may be obtained from the finance committee and all Republican municipal chairmen, are $100 per person or $150 per couple. Further information may be obtained at Republican Headquarters, 233-8683.

Calendar program

"Mayas and Aztecs," explaining the calendar developed by the Mayas and adapted by the Aztecs, will be presented each Wednesday at 8 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday at 2, 3 and 4 p.m. at the Trailside Planetarium in Mountainside.

County PBA sets park fair

The semi-annual Super Flea Market will be held on Saturday, Sept. 23, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Warinanco Skating Center parking area in Warinanco Park, Roselle. Antiques, plants, jewelry and crafts will be on sale at the Flea Market. Proceeds will go to the Union County Police Department's PBA Sick and Death Benefit Fund.

Articles to be sold include antiques, miscellaneous household items, plants, jewelry, clothing, macrame, books and many handmade craft items.

Refreshments will be on sale throughout the day; the Foundation will conduct a bake sale.

All proceeds will go for research into the cause and cure of the two diseases. Further information about the foundation or the flea market is available by calling 241-2342 or 289-7415.

"MR. BIN" says...

Now that the children are back to school, the vacations are over and things are getting back to "normal," lets talk about the home.

If you are interested in custom draperies, now is the time to order! As we get further into the season deliveries become slower and choices fewer. If you come into the store we have samples of fabrics and styles that will make "your eyes pop out"!!!!

Bring in your approximate window measurements and we will send a man to measure after you place your order. If you prefer a visit from us with samples... call, we'll be happy to come.

Remember, we have a store chock full of ready-made and ready-made "special order" draperies that may "fit" your needs.

See us soon and remember...our personal service costs you nothing extra.

'Jaws 2' devastates audiences at theaters

By BEASMITH
During a particularly grueling scene in "Jaws 2" after the awesome shark has had his dinner of humans and sides of boats...

GARY BUSEY - Actor has title role in The Buddy Holly Story, based on the brief career of the pioneer innovator of rock 'n' roll.

JON VOIGHT plays disabled war veteran, who finds love and a renewed sense of value in Coming Home.

Milt Hammer's
Disc & Data

Pick Of The LPs... The original picture soundtrack of the National Lampoon's ANIMAL HOUSE (MCA-3046) launches the film's star, John Belushi...

Belushi performs two raunchy party anthems, "Louie Louie" and "MONEY" on the original soundtrack.

Two-time Grammy nominee Stephen Bishop, named "best new male vocalist" at the 1977 Rick Music Awards...

From the nearly non-stop parrying at Delta Fraternity come the driving soundtrack cuts "Shout" and "Shama Lama Ding Dong."

The romantic pace is set with Paul and Paula's wistfully-haunting "Hey Paula." The "Faber College Theme Song" and "Theme From A Summer Place" cuts are scored on the soundtrack by the film's Academy Award-winning composer Elmer Bernstein.

"Animal House" is an outrageous campus comedy about the most determinedly low-class fraternity house ("animal house") on a Northeastern college campus in the early '60s.

In complete contrast to the stuffy, affluent Greeks in the frat houses around them, the "Animal House" philosophy is rooted in three truths: "fun is good," "better an animal than a vegetable" and "don't get mad-get even."

Suspense Films on Elmora bill "Capricorn One," starring Elliott Gould, James Brolan and Brenda Vaccaro...

'HOOPER' - Burt Reynolds is held aloft in film comedy which arrives tomorrow at the Linden I (twin theater) and the Last Picture Show, Union.

Club is selling point for luxury home site

The location of Panther Valley Golf and Country Club within the 1600-acre residential community of Panther Valley has influenced the sales success at this luxury home development in Allamuchy.

All residents of the townhomes and single-family homes have the option to join the club and play on its championship 18-hole course designed by Robert Trent Jones.

As reported by Henry Sigtermans, general manager of the Panther Valley Golf and Country Club, the actual club membership includes many individuals and families living in New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania, in addition to those living in Panther Valley. And the club's facilities are utilized by various groups, organizations and corporations for conventions and parties.

The club entertains many non-member functions, Sigtermans states. "The stately manor house is host to a wide spectrum of celebrations from small cocktail parties to elegant banquets for up to 200 people."

Relaxation and/or concentration in privacy is provided at the catered conferences and business seminars held here. Meetings for from 10 to 100 people are handled with the same ease as parties and dinners. The Panther Valley Golf and Country Club has ample parking, limousine service can be arranged and there is a heliport on site for extra convenience. Companies also can choose from either American or European dining plans.

Visiting businessmen also can utilize the club's private sports facilities. Golf with private carts, tennis or swimming in the olympic-size pool can all be arranged.

Assisting Sigtermans in club operations are: Richard L. Hughes, head golf professional; Charlene Fee, banquet manager and conference and coordinator, and Nicholas Coleman, head chef.

HUD financed homes offered at the Shore

Triad Construction has announced the opening of the first section of Bradford Estates, a custom community of bi-level homes in Neptune.

The project is the first for HUD-FHA financing by the Newark Office of HUD in North Jersey and offers mortgages with an effective interest rate of 4 percent to qualified homebuyers with up to 30 year terms available.

"Bradford Estates is designed for moderate income individuals" said Ben Grossman and Nocky Baume, developers of the project. "Naturally, we are equal opportunity housing builders and intend special attention be given minority homebuyers to help them establish in our community," Grossman noted.

Bradford Estates offers four-bedroom, 1½ bath homes on wooded lots with no through streets for the maximum in privacy and security. Economical oil heat is included, as are insulated glass windows and screens. All homes include a spacious family room and wall to wall carpeting is standard throughout the homes. City water and city sewers are also included.

Kennedy Mortgage financed the project. Qualification for a 235 mortgage at Bradford Estates means a homebuyer must have a minimum of five family members and a maximum family income of $20,750 to about $25,000, depending on the size of the family.

A Four Bedroom Home Just $325 a Month!

It could be yours, if you qualify. Special mortgage assistance for families of five or more can cut monthly payments from $501 to $325. Monthly payments include taxes, insurance, principal and interest. Homes are being constructed in established residential section of Neptune Township. All have fully-equipped kitchens, dining rooms, 1½ baths, attached garages, laundry rooms, wall-to-wall carpeting and much more.

BROOKSIDE MANOR TUDOR—One of Toms River's top new communities. Brookside Manor, is offering tudor and colonial styled homes from $63,990. The tudor style (shown here) includes four bedrooms, 1½ baths, two car garage and a balcony overlooking the living and family rooms. All homes are built on half-acre, wooded private cul-de-sac lots and include city water and sewer. Brookside Manor is located on Brlar avenue, Toms River, and can be seen by appointment through East Gate Realty, Rt. 37 West, Toms River. Hornes of Distinction, Toms River, is the developer.

Large families getting help in buying homes

With the price of new housing rising at double digit rates, the federal government has reactivated a special mortgage assistance program to help larger families with limited incomes.

"The reactivated program, referred to as Section 235, offers significant help to families with five or more members and incomes above $14,000 but below $25,200," reports Larry Santangelo, senior vice-president of the Berg Agency of New Jersey, Matawan.

"Recently," says Santangelo, "our Matawan office signed as exclusive sales agents for Bradford Estates which qualifies under the 235 provisions. Normally, total monthly payments for these four-bedroom bi-levels, priced at $46,900, would be $501 a month. Buyers who qualify under the federal provisions, however, can own one for as little as $2,900 down and $325 a month."

"Qualification requirements are very precise," says Santangelo. In general the program is designed to help families with incomes below the $25,000 level and with five or more family members. For exact information on qualifying, Santangelo advises contacting the professional staff at the Berg Matawan office, 583-5000.

"We have undertaken to the few Monmouth County builders building under HUD-FHA criteria.

"Building costs, particularly ground cost, generally prohibit financing of this type in many northern New Jersey communities," Zinman continued, "so we expect the Bradford Estates community to sell quickly with this program effective there."

Inquiries or application for homes may be made by contacting the developers, Triad Construction, at (201) 325-0020. The community is located at Bradford and Millbrook Aves., two blocks south of the Asbury Circle on Rt. 35.

help Bradford Estates with the marketing program because we feel," says Santangelo, "that there are many families who are paying as they would need to own their own homes. Home ownership is an excellent hedge against inflation. It has significant tax advantages and is an important way for a family to better itself financially," he adds.

Bradford Estates is currently constructing four-bedroom bi-levels on large wooded lots in an established area of Neptune Township. All come with 1½ baths and Sears carpeting in the living and dining rooms, three of the bedrooms and the foyer and the stairs.

Other features include an eat-in area of the kitchen which also has wood cabinets, formica topped working surfaces, and a double size kitchen sink and Sears Kenmore ranges and ovens. Energy saving insulated windows, walls and ceilings are used throughout. Attached garages and laundry rooms are standard.

The homes have city sewer and water and paved roads, curbs and sidewalks. The residential area is free from thru traffic and yet is close to schools, shopping and transportation.

The Berg Agency, which is the state's largest residential realtor, has an on-going program to keep its sales associates well informed on current federal legislation as it affects housing. "We pride ourselves on being better informed," says Santangelo. "Today, it is the only way to give clients the best in service."

The Berg Agency is a part of Berg Enterprises, Inc. The national real estate and mortgage banking company is publicly-owned and listed on the American Stock Exchange. It has 103 offices throughout the United States.

Builder names Andriessen as vice-president

Solomon Eisenrod, board chairman of Guardian Development Corp., sponsors and developers of Rossmoor and Clearbrook, adjacent adult condominium communities in Monroe Township, announced that John G. Andriessen has been named a vice-president of the company.

Andriessen will remain director of sales and marketing for the $240 million community of homes for adults over 48. Andriessen joined the firm in 1975 as sales manager for Clearbrook after 18 years with British Airways in New York as a sales management representative in its International Cargo Division. Prior to joining British Airways in 1957, Andriessen had been with the W.R. Grace Company's New Jersey Realty Division. In 1976, when Guardian, sponsors of Rossmoor, acquired Clearbrook, he was named director of sales and marketing for both communities. During his two years in this post, Rossmoor and Clearbrook have become two of the largest leisure-oriented adult condominium communities in the east.

In his new post he will join the company's management group responsible for policy relating to overall sales and marketing programs for both communities, with a projected 5,800 homes located off exit 8A of the New Jersey Turnpike, 45 minutes from Manhattan, 15 minutes from historic Princeton,

JOHN G. ANDRIESSEN and 30 minutes from New Jersey's famed beaches. Married to the former Catherine Bennett of New York City and the father of two daughters and two sons, Andriessen lives in Manalapan. He is a past president of Toastmasters International, New York Chapter, and along with his wife, a nurse, served as a member of the Archdiocese of New York's Marriage Counseling Service. Andriessen attended Columbia University where he studied Business Management.

READY, SET, HEAVE—School may have been closed for students and teachers, but there has been plenty of activity at Beechwood and Deerfield despite the summer vacation. Here, Henry Ruerup left and Ralph Andersen reorganize a Deerfield classroom that's been cleaned and painted. (Photo Graphics)

End of lunch program expected for schools

By PATRICIA GARRISON QUINN
The Mountainside Board of Education is expected to approve a resolution next month that would do away with the school system's lunch program.

The N.J. Supreme Court recently struck down a ruling by the Appellate Division of the State Superior Court that forced all school districts to provide lunches for students. The new ruling permits a district with less than five percent of its students enrolled in a reduced-price or free lunch program to forego the lunch requirement. Mountainside reportedly falls into this category.

While the food itself was state subsidized, a Board of Education spokesman said the board spent about $300 last year to transport the meals from Jonathan Dayton High School in Springfield. Neither Deerfield nor Beechwood schools has kitchen facilities.

School superintendent Dr. Levin Hanigan said that lack of a school lunch program should not prove a hardship for students or parents because "very few students" purchased school lunches.

"With the high prices today," said Hanigan, "it's just as easy for parents to give their kids food from home." The superintendent said about two-thirds of Mountainside students eat at school, but the district served fewer than 100 school meals per day. The district enrollment for 1977-78 was about 780.

The recent ruling does not affect the school milk program and Hanigan said milk will continue to be offered at reduced prices or free of charge. Families with financial problems may apply for the milk program, funded by state monies.

Unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs exceeding 30 percent of the family income, special education expenses or disaster or casualty losses may also qualify families for the reduced price or free milk.

Ability to obtain the special rates is based on a salary table. For instance, a student of a four-member family would be eligible for free milk if the family income did not exceed $8,110 per year. Reduced rates for the child would be available if the income is $12,660 per year.

Applications for the milk programs are available at Deerfield and Beechwood schools. Further information can be obtained by calling Marianne Beckers at 232-3711 or Dr. Hanigan at 232-3232.

Schools enrollment down 56; Dayton attendance holds steady

About 725 Mountainside youngsters will head back to either Deerfield or Beechwood school on Wednesday—56 pupils fewer than school officials had anticipated.

School superintendent Dr. Levin Hanigan said his June prediction of 781 students fell short because of the difference between the 1978 graduating class of 115 students and the incoming kindergarten class, which numbers 36. The 1977-78 kindergarten class included 56 students.

But enrollment at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield is "holding steady," according to assistant principal Manuel Pereira. While the student population throughout the area continues to decline, he said, this year's figure of 1,200 students shows no major decrease.

A state-mandated program for gifted students will be instituted in Mountainside this year. Dr. Hanigan said it fulfills a "thorough and efficient" education requirement.

Irene Bucher, a social studies teacher, will devote a portion of her work time to teaching and developing programs for the gifted and talented students as the district's "enrichment coordinator."

No other new programs have been established, according to the superintendent, but the Board of Education reportedly is considering a proposal to throw out the school lunch program.

A recent state supreme Court decision permits districts with less than five percent of its students enrolled in a free or reduced-price lunch program to forego the lunch program entirely.

The court ruling supersedes an earlier decision by the appellate division of the state Superior Court that required all school districts to provide lunches.

Neither Deerfield or Beechwood schools have cooking facilities, and the meals were being transported from kitchens at Jonathan Dayton to the Mountainside schools.

Hanigan said "very few" students were purchasing the lunches. The school board should decide on the lunch issue at its September meeting.

MEANWHILE, at Dayton, the administration is considering a change in the physical education curriculum for ninth graders, according to its athletic director, Charles Berchen.

The new plan, which Berchen stressed "is not finalized and only in the thinking stages," would require freshmen to take a specified gym program that would include team sports and a variety of other activities during the school year.

All high school students are now permitted to choose from a list of physical education electives every four-and-one-half to nine weeks. Under the new program, freshmen "would not be given a choice" until their sophomore year, said Berchen.

Berchen said lack of knowledge of each student's physical experience in elementary school prompted officials to consider the plan. He said, very often, "students come to high school skilled in different things. Each school specializes in something." Berchen said the new program might serve "to pull the kids together and give them the basics."

"We can let them choose after they have a little more insight" into a variety of activities, he said.

But he said the program hinges on discussions with faculty, administration and curriculum personnel, adding that "we're only thinking about it."

Dayton has lost about four teachers, because of "attrition or retirement," said Pereira, adding that six new faculty members have been hired for the coming year.

"There have been no layoffs," said Pereira.

Rosine Davies of West Orange will be joining the Mountainside school system as a foreign language teacher, replacing Carol Jackler.

The school board has also hired Lynne Stoddard of West Caldwell as community relations consultant, Dr. William Dougherty of Bernardsville as school psychiatrist-consultant and Mary C. O'Halloran of Trenton as learning consultant.

THE BUS SCHEDULE for Dayton

Holiday deadline

Particular care is urged this week in adhering to this newspaper's Friday news deadline because this office will be closed on Monday, Labor Day. All organizational, social and other items intended for the Sept. 7 issue should be submitted by tomorrow morning, Sept. 1.

Board votes on contracts in 'Sunshine'

The Union County Regional High School District Board of Education last week took remedial action to comply with the state's Sunshine Law in awarding contracts totaling $115,887 to convert seven classrooms on the Jonathan Dayton campus in Springfield into district-wide administrative offices.

The board acted anew Aug. 22 to adopt a resolution naming the successful bidders: Hahr Construction Co., $32,770 for general construction and carpeting; Cantello Plumbing, $59,607 for heating, ventilation and air conditioning, and Stater Electric Co., $23,500 for electrical work. Each successful bid was the lowest of three.

The board had selected the contractors at a meeting Aug. 1, and the renovation project already had begun. But the board had caucused in secret before voting in public Aug. 1, and newspaper reporters had called the closed-door discussion a violation of the state's Open Public Meetings Act, popularly known as the Sunshine Law.

The outcome was the same Aug. 22, with board member William Keyes voting "no" on the contract and other members voting "yes." But this time there was no closed-door discussion.

"I suggested...that, rather than jeopardize the bids and the project, the board should take remedial action," Franz Skok, attorney for the board, said about the Aug. 22 voting.

The board had closed the doors Aug. 1 on grounds that the bids were almost $21,000 over budget; the contracts, if awarded, would require transfers from other budget accounts; and Regional District employees might use the information in salary negotiations if they heard the board talk about budgetary transfers.

The board claimed the construction bids thus became a personnel matter exempt from anti-secrecy provisions of the Sunshine Law. Skok defended the board's interpretation of the law Aug. 1, but later conceded his ruling might not have withstood courtroom review.

At the Aug. 22 meeting, the board elaborated on what had happened behind closed doors Aug. 1. Board president Charles E. Vitale Jr. said there was no secret discussion about the merits of the bids themselves.

Registration date set for soccer programs

Boys' and girls' soccer programs sponsored by the Mountainside Recreation Commission will begin Saturday, Sept. 9 with the boys meeting at Deerfield School, the girls at the Echobrook field.

Seventh and eighth grade boys will meet from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.; fourth to sixth grade boys are scheduled from 2 to 4 p.m. The older boys will participate in the Union County Soccer League. Players are responsible for their own transportation to and from games.

Swimmers top all-star squad

Mountainside Community Pool took on the Westmont Outdoor Swim League and won the All-Star meet, 167-146.

The All-Star team consisted of the top swimmers from Highland, Mindowaskin and Willow Grove.

Mountainside swimmers included Beth and Sarah Post, Shane and Duane Connell, Mike and Nancy Wellish, Maureen Barsonok, Lisa Jackson, Amanda Wyckoff, Lisa McCarthy, Carol Luchenbach, Dana Zonnyville, Pam Bieszczak, Baron Jaffe, and Bob Anderson.

Mountainside took command of the meet from the start by taking the diving, 47-21.

Coach Peter Harley said he was pleased with the overall season, "but the winning of the all-star meet put the topping on the cake."

'Alert' declared for blood bank

Noting that the blood supply in New Jersey and New York is getting "low," the Westfield-Mountainside American Red Cross is declaring a "state of blood alert" for the area. To avoid a serious blood shortage that would endanger the health of patients in the hospitals, a spokesman said, the American Red Cross "earnestly solicits help" from the residents of Westfield and Mountainside.

The blood bank will be held Tuesday, Sept. 19, by the Westfield-Mountainside American Red Cross Chapter from 1:30 to 6:30 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church, 140 Mountain ave., Westfield.

Anyone who wishes to make a definite appointment may call the Chapter House, 232-7090.

The fourth to sixth grade boys will have a skills clinic for the first few sessions. Teams will then be formed and games scheduled for the duration of the season. The junior program will provide instruction and controlled competition in which all registrants will have an opportunity to play and learn.

The girls will participate in the Tri-County Girls Soccer League junior division (fourth to sixth grade) and senior division (seventh to eighth grade). The first practice session is scheduled for 1 p.m. Sept. 9. League play will commence later in the month. Additional practice sessions may be scheduled weekdays after school. Girls are responsible for transportation to and from games.

The registration fee for both programs is $4 per person. Registrants will receive a soccer tee shirt. For additional information, readers may call 232-0015.

Plainfield man charged with possession of less than 25 grams of marijuana and with speeding Sunday night, has been released on his own recognizance pending a court hearing.

Police said Everton G. Pencil, stopped for speeding on Rt. 22, was arrested on the drug charges after police found a marijuana cigarette in his shirt pocket and marijuana seeds on the floor of his car.

There also was a strong odor of burnt marijuana in his vehicle, police reported.

Pencil was also charged with driving 65 miles in a 45-mile zone.

CAMPAIGN PROFILES For county freeholder

Dios

Manuel S. Dios has been active in Union County government and community affairs for more than 20 years, and he says he wants to use that knowledge and experience to serve the county on the Board of Chosen Freeholders.

The Republican is running on the GOP ticket with Rose Marie Sinnott and Edward Slomkowski against Democrats Matthew Mirlocca, Anthony Amalfe and Eugene Carmody.

Amalfe, a Clark councilman-at-large and former council president, was a member and president of the Union County Regional High School Board of Education.

His service on the school board brought him an award for dedicated service in 1974 and he was presented with an award from the Clark Teachers Association for outstanding contributions to Clark's youth in 1968. He was cited for his community service by the township and its Jaycees in 1973.

A professional architect, Dios served for five years on the Union County Mental Health Board and was a member of the Clark Board of Education for six years. He was elected

Amalfe

If experience and accomplishment are any measure for continued service to Union County, Anthony Amalfe feels his credentials stand him in good stead. Amalfe, mayor of Roselle for nearly seven years, is a Democratic candidate for re-election in November to the Union County Board of Freeholders.

"Service as a Roselle councilman for two years, almost seven years as mayor, and closing out three years as a freeholder have given me the opportunity to closely assess the complex phases of government on municipal and county levels, and to work efficiently within their frameworks," said Amalfe.

The candidate says he takes his responsibilities as a member of county departmental committees "with great intensity." As a member of the appropriations committee, he notes that he worked judiciously within the "cap" law to enable the county to stabilize its tax rate without reduction of services. "Priority programming within a sound budget has been my fiscal persuasion from my very first year as a councilman," says Amalfe. "I am totally aware of the mood of the people regarding their desire for services

'Family' tribute set for stadium

A special day to honor the family will be observed Sunday, Sept. 17, at Rutgers University Stadium, Piscataway, the Rev. John N. Morley, director of the Family Life Apostolate of the Archdiocese of Newark, has announced.

"The purpose of Family Day is to pay tribute to the 'Family' at a time when the concept of 'Family' is being questioned," said Father Morley.

Special events for the family and children have been planned and picnics may be held on the university grounds. There will be a special program in the stadium from 2:30 to 5 p.m. featuring radio, stage and sports personalities.

All faiths will be presented and the program is free. The Most Rev. Peter L. Gerety, Archbishop of Newark, will be present at this event which will honor the statewide "Family of the Year" along with the 14 semi-finalist families.

In the event of rain, family day will be held in the Rutgers Athletic Center.

Jewelry exhibition scheduled by Kean

Mrs. Jean Schroeter of Chatham, a high school physical education instructor studying for her master's degree in art education and museology at Kean College, Union, will direct the college's first jewelry exhibition, Sept. 11 through Oct. 6 in Kean's Vaughn Eames gallery.

An opening reception will take place on Sept. 10 from 3 to 5 p.m. Gallery hours weekdays are from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and by appointment. Further information can be obtained by calling the gallery at 527-2347.

LABOR DAY

SEPTEMBER 4th

'Blessed is he who has found his work; let him ask no other blessedness. His is the greatest of all.'
—THOMAS CARLYLE

Labor, said a wise man, preserves us from three great evils...weariness, vice and want. It also serves as an excellent measure of strength and prosperity...especially when a nation's people are independent and proud of earning a fair day's wage for a fair day's work. Today, we take time from our daily jobs to pay our grateful tribute to the American ethic that dignifies honest labor and knows that work is love made visible.

National Smoker Study Hails Merit.

'Enriched Flavor'™ cigarette scores high marks in five key areas.

Can MERIT deliver the flavor of leading high tar brands?

Does MERIT satisfy smokers over a long period—or are MERIT smokers slipping back to old high tar favorites?

Read the bottom-line results of new research conducted with smokers like yourself.

MERIT Breakthrough Confirmed

Confirmed: Majority of high tar smokers rate MERIT taste equal to—or better than—leading high tar cigarettes tested! Cigarettes having up to twice the tar.

Confirmed: Majority of high tar smokers confirm taste satisfaction of low tar MERIT.

And in detailed interviews conducted among current MERIT smokers:

Confirmed: 85% of MERIT smokers say it was an "easy switch" from high tar brands.

Confirmed: Overwhelming majority of MERIT smokers say their former high tar brands weren't missed!

Confirmed: 9 out of 10 MERIT smokers not considering other brands.

First Major Alternative To High Tar Smoking

MERIT has proven conclusively that it not only delivers the flavor of high tar brands—but continues to satisfy.

This ability to satisfy over long periods of time could be the most important evidence to date that MERIT is what it claims to be: The first major alternative to high tar smoking.

Kings: 8 mg. tar, 0.6 mg nicotine—
100's: 11 mg. tar, 0.7 mg nicotine av. per cigarette, FTC Report May '78

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

IN 'JAWS II'—Lorraine Gary (center) cautions Marc Gilpin to be quiet when Roy Scheider falls asleep from exhaustion after a bout with a shark. Picture opened yesterday at Linden (twin theater), Five Points Cinema, Union, and Castle Theater, Irvington Center.

'Gigi' staged in Middlesex

Anita Loos' play, "Gigi," the final play of the summer season at the Foothill Playhouse, opened yesterday in Middlesex. It will run Wednesdays through Saturdays until Sept. 9. Curtain is 8:40 p.m. for all performances.

'Space' film at Bellevue

An exclusive New Jersey showing of "2001: A Space Odyssey," will open tomorrow at the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montclair. The picture, photographed in color and wide screen, with full stereophonic sound, is rated G.

'THE BUDDY HOLLY STORY'—Gary Busey, who plays the title role of rock music's first superstar, is seen with Maria Richwine. Picture opens tomorrow at Old Rahway Theater, Rahway.

Third 'Bears' now at Park

"The Bad News Bears Go to Japan," the third in the series about a Little League baseball team and its misadventures, arrived yesterday at the Park Theater, Roselle Park, on a double bill with "Mr. Billion," starring Jackie Gleason.

"Bears," which stars Tony Curtis and Jackie Earle Haley, was directed by John Berry and photographed in color.

EAT IN or TAKE OUT
The Chippery Comparison
Next time you stop in for Fish 'n Chips, stop and think...we at Chippery use only NATURAL PIECES of fish...not factory cut portions as do our competitors. Our fish are plump, juicy and always have a FRESH and NATURAL taste. We go out of our way, even at a greater expense and labor to bring you ONLY the FRESHEST and most natural tasting dish that money can buy...whether you eat in, or take out, we give you a meal that you'd be proud to serve your family. So next time you want some Fish 'n Chips...why not COMPARE, because if you do, Chippery always gains a customer.
Anything fresher and tastier than Chippery fish would still be in the ocean!

Energy data: toll-free calls

New Jersey residents can call the toll-free Department of Energy Information phone at Kean College (800-492-4242) for information on conservation, home insulation, alternative energy systems, energy legislation, technical and financial assistance programs and public policy development in both state and country.

Regular calling hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. On Friday, calls are answered in Spanish and English. After Labor Day and through September, calls will be taken Saturdays from 10 to 4.

Pamphlet lies, VA aide warns

James R. Purdy, director of the Veterans Administration regional office in Newark warned this week that "a false and misleading" pamphlet is again being distributed throughout New Jersey. The pamphlet advises that a special dividend is available to all World War II veterans who held National Service Life Insurance regardless of whether the insurance was continued after separation from service.

The pamphlet urges veterans to apply directly to the Veterans Administration Center, Philadelphia, to receive the "special dividend." Purdy stated that the information is "erroneous and a cruel hoax." He said that the material has been distributed several times the past several years.

The volume of inquiries received has seriously disrupted the Veterans Administration's ability to carry on its normal operation, he added.

But despite thorough investigation, the Veterans Administration has been unable to determine the source of the rumor or its purpose, he said.

UDDER DISEASE
Mastitis, a bacterial infection of the cow's udder, costs the U.S. dairy industry an estimated $1 billion a year.

Two programs on nurse's role offered at Kean

Two programs for nurses interested in recent developments in health care will be offered by the Center for Continuing Education at Kean this fall.

A 10-week course, "Health Crises of the '70s: The Role of the Nurse," begins Thursday, Oct. 5, at 7:40 p.m. Dr. Esther Krueger, professor of health and recreation at Kean is the instructor. Guest speakers will focus on topics such as child abuse, suicide, heart disease, adolescent alcoholism and drug addiction.

The discussion will center on the role of the nurse in intervention and treatment, contributing causes and symptoms and legal questions affecting practice and malpractice. The fee is $50. Registration deadline is Sept. 28. The course has been approved by the N.J. State Nurses Association and granted 30 recognition points.

On Tuesday, Nov. 14, from 4 to 9 p.m., a workshop on "Advances in the Management of Pain" will be co-sponsored by Kean College and the Nursing Education Committee, Union County unit of the American Cancer Society.

The workshop will feature four speakers on biofeedback, hypnosis, acupuncture and drugs: Dr. I. Anthony Todaro, psychologist; Marion Skelley, Roseanne Wille and Sharon Moscatello, all nursing experts in the field. The fee ($5) includes coffee and doughnuts.

New features at Vail-Deane

The Vail-Deane School of Elizabeth, will begin its 109th year when it opens Sept. 13. One of the new educational programs for this independent co-educational school will be its full day kindergarten with a full range of learning and play activities directed by Mrs. Carl Laggren, who teaches and supervises the Lower School.

In addition to the full range of college preparatory curriculum for Upper School students, new credit courses in typing, stenography, business subjects and home economics are planned.

BETHEL CHURCH COLONIAL—The St. Thomas colonial, one of eight models offered at Bethel Church Homes, Jackson, features three bedrooms, den or fourth bedroom on the upper level, and complete living and dining areas including family room on the lower level. Homes at the project are priced from $49,900 and include one-acre treed homesites. Quality Builders is the developer. Bethel Church is located in the Oakley Hill section of Jackson off New Prospect road, west of Rt. 9 or the Garden State Parkway.

Bethel Church aimed for first-home buyers

Quality Builders Inc. has announced the opening of Bethel Church Homes, a nine-unit custom home community in the Oakley Hill section of Jackson Township.

The community, noted Patsy Aversa, president of Quality Builders, offers well-wooded one-acre lots with ranch, bi-level and colonial designs available from $49,900.

Bethel Church is the second home development opened in Jackson by Quality Builders in recent weeks. Twin Oaks at Jackson, the other project, offers homes from $72,900. Bethel Church offers models specially designed and priced with the first-home buyer in mind.

Aversa stated, "We've approached the Bethel Church project with aggressive buying techniques to help keep the inflationary housing cost spiral under control." He said, "Young families are today finding themselves in many cases priced out of the housing market, yet what we've done at Bethel Church is to evaluate construction techniques, housing styles and comparative costs."

"We shop quality material first and then compare price, buying in the most economical quantities for our projects in Jackson and Toms River. In some cases we've achieved direct manufacturer contacts to eliminate wholesaler markups and this saves substantially on materials. We pass savings on to the consumer, thus increasing the relative marketability of our homes," he concluded.

Although cost is a major consideration with homebuyers, Aversa was quick to add that today's sophisticated enough to know at what point quality should offset the price motivation. "We try to equate the two," Aversa said, "including quality material at inexpensive cost."

Financing is also an important facet in Bethel Church's over-all cost analysis philosophy.

Buyers can arrange for minimum down payments of 10 percent and 30-year mortgages with competitive interest terms also available.

Bethel Church homes include within the base price asbestos roofing and siding, all wood double hung windows, cast iron fixtures, and macadam driveways.

Available options offered are fireplace, central air conditioning, exterior brick or stone facing, and storms and screens, among others.

Bethel Church is located west of Garden State Parkway Exit 91, to County Line road to New Prospect road, turn right to Valley road and right to Bethel Church road and models.

Party opens season at retirement village

An "open house" party for residents, their guests and visitors officially opened the spring season at Mystic Shores, a retirement village in Tuckerton. The charming community, situated in the woodlands adjacent to Great Bay and the Mullica River, offers an enviable lifestyle to adults over 52.

Sanford Miller, president of Mystic Shores Inc., creators of the fast-growing village, pointed out that the May 23 open house had a two-fold purpose. It was to introduce residents to Ruth Whitfield, the new resident sales manager, and provide V.I.P. tours of Mystic Shores' seven decorated model homes.

The community has a vast recreation complex, one of the largest in the northeast, with arts and crafts rooms, library, billiard room and large auditorium bordered with large picture windows. These reveal a vista of woodland beauty surrounding Mystic Shores. Outside there are shuffleboard courts and an Olympic-size swimming pool with spacious patio for summertime lounging, sunning and outdoor parties. Here residents can lead an active leisuretime life with friendly neighbors and friends.

Typical of the model homes at Mystic Shores is The Strathmere two-bedroom home with large living room, separate dining room and attached garage. The gracious home has front porch opening into central foyer. There are two baths, and the quiet zone at the rear of the home separates both bedrooms and bathrooms from the living area. The kitchen has sliding glass doors to private rear patio with large storage area. This is a home equally convenient for both formal and informal entertaining. Constructed for a minimum of maintenance, the exterior is of aluminum siding and decorative stone.

Bayfront bathing, fishing, golfing and boating are less than a mile away at Mystic Shores. The quiet, protected setting and refreshing environment of this retirement village makes it ideal for any outdoor activity—hiking, biking and gardening—and all the healthful things adults find joy in doing in their vintage years.

Mystic Shores is just 20 miles from Atlantic City via major highways.

LEISURE LIFESTYLE—This Florida home, 'Gardenia,' near Homosassa Springs provides privacy for family and guests, a swimming pool and country-like verandas and foyers. The home is valued at $60,200 and is one of several designs offered at the Sugarmill Woods village.

Bamber with firm

Lois Bamber of Irvington, an eight-year veteran of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has joined Jordan Baris Inc., the Irvington-based real estate brokerage firm, as a realtor associate. The announcement was made by Jordan Baris, president of the firm headquartered at 380 Stuyvesant ave.

A graduate of real estate career training at the Vail School in Maplewood, Bamber was involved in nine sales in her first six months with Jordan Baris, Inc. She also produced several residential property listings for the company.

She is the mother of two children, an 8-year old boy and a 3-year old girl. Jordan Baris, Inc., founded in 1952, is one of the state's leading real estate brokerage organizations, specializing in residential and investment sales. During the past year, the firm recorded its 10,000th transaction in its 26-year history.

Are you tired of carrying a house that's now too big?

If your kids are grown and you're tired of paying the rising costs on a big, half-empty home, we have a very pleasant alternative for you.

You can live in a home that's just right for your needs now. At Rossmoor. Or at Clearbrook. Two of the most prestigious adult communities. With some of the best home values around.

Both offer the most pleasurable recreation facilities you're ever likely to find. Each one has a magnificent clubhouse with fully-equipped hobby rooms. Each has an olympic-size swimming pool, tennis and shuffleboard. Each has a private golf course: 18 holes at Rossmoor; nine holes at Clearbrook.

Because each is a condominium community, you have greater peace of mind and more leisure time to enjoy yourself. A trained staff maintains the grounds and your home's exterior; a gateman and a security patrol protect your privacy 24 hours a day. And both communities offer all the tax benefits and the equity buildup of home ownership. Without the headaches and the horrendous cost.

If you choose Rossmoor—you'll be living in a picturesque community that resembles an exclusive New England village. You may choose from a variety of floor plans, some with two bedrooms, others with two bedrooms and den, most with two baths. All feature the latest G.E. appliances and central air conditioning. Some have oversized garages. Prices range from $41,000 to $74,900.

If you choose Clearbrook—you'll be living in a community of single-level homes, many with aluminum siding and fieldstone or brick facades. Some have one bedroom, others have two bedrooms or two bedrooms and study. Most have two baths. All feature central air conditioning, wall-to-wall carpeting and extra-large garages. Prices range from $50,990 to $61,990.

The nicest part is that you can see both communities in one visit. They're both at Exit 8A of the New Jersey Turnpike, just 45 miles from Manhattan. So come on over. Any day between 9 and 6. And see how easy it is to get that big house off your back.

If you're 48 and over...

High schools to receive help in teaching nutrition

A course designed to teach the fundamentals of good nutrition is being made available to secondary schools in the state by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of New Jersey.

The course, entitled "Eat Right to Your Heart's Delight," shows students how to implement a healthy diet lower in calories, how to store and prepare food to preserve flavor and nutrients and how to plan menus which will lower the risk of obesity and heart disease. The course is being made available by Blue Cross and Blue Shield with the cooperation and approval of the State Department of Education.

Don Porter, director of community service for Blue Cross and Blue Shield, said distribution of the course materials is "one of the most ambitious projects we've undertaken since our health-education program began." Lifetime habits, especially eating habits, are formed at a young age, Porter noted.

"Youngsters who form poor dietary practices begin at an early age to build susceptibility to such later-life maladies as overweight and heart disease," he added.

A principal element of the course is a series of six films dealing with meatless menus, new ways of serving chicken, modifying recipes to control saturated fats and calories, low-fat meat preparation, seafood specialties and half-hour meals.

The printed guide for the series helps the classroom teacher customize the course for the particular class. In addition to supplemental information for each of the component films, the guide contains more recipes, reference listings and suggested learning activities.

Each of the films in the course also has an accompanying recipe guide, giving detailed instructions for preparing the dishes seen on the screen.

The course is designed to show students that a healthful diet need not be bland or boring. Nutritious meals can be both tasty and fun to prepare.

More information on the series and how it can be obtained by secondary schools is available from the office of the county superintendent of schools in Westfield.

Scots highlight Center festival

Scotland again will become the source of entertainers for the sixth annual Scottish Heritage Festival when the featured artists will be vocalists Peter Morrison and Anne Lorne Gillies and comedian Johnny Beattie, all making a special trip across the Atlantic to bring a fresh touch of their homeland to the Garden State Arts Center Sunday, Sept. 10.

Prior to the stage show, which will begin at 2:30 p.m., the festival will include a wide range of activities on the Arts Center Mall. At 10 a.m., the pipe band and dancers will perform. Scottish athletic games, including tossing the caber, sheaf and stone will also be offered for all who wish to compete.

Once again the festival will present an exhibition of sheep dog handling. A large tent will house exhibits of Scottish art, crafts and clan information booths. Scottish food and gifts will be available.

William McClure of Linden, a member of Clan Gordon 69 of Elizabeth, is the Union County representative on the festival committee.

Stay is granted on board ruling

A State Supreme Court justice last week honored a request by Hillman Kohan Vision Centers to stay a State Board of Optometrists rule which barred the release of contact lens specifications to opticians.

In addition, Justice Sidney Schreiber on Aug. 17 ordered a compromise action which would remain in effect until the entire Supreme Court could hear the appeal by the optical chain.

The order requires optometrists, who examine patients' eyes and write contact lens specifications, to release a copy of those specifications to an optician on the written request of the patient. It also requires opticians to deliver the filled contact lens prescription to an optometrist or ophthalmologist for fitting.

Scandinavian festival due at Arts Center

The traditional raising of the five flags of Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway and Sweden will open the Scandinavian-American Festival '78 on the plaza of the Garden State Arts Center at 1 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 16.

Representatives of the New York Consul General's office will join those assembled in singing each national anthem and the Star Spangled Banner accompanied by the International Symphonic Wind Orchestra under the direction of Carl C. Wilhelm of Randolph. The activities that follow have been planned to demonstrate the pride the representatives of each of these participating ethnic groups has in both their own respective heritage and in being American citizens.

Afternoon activities on the plaza will include folk dancing by the VASA Children's Clubs of New Jersey (Swedish), and the Finnish Folk Dancers of Stamford, Conn. The Metropolitan Estonian girls gymnastic team also will perform, as will Swedish fiddler Eric-Olof Ericson, vocalists Rune Andersson and Lena Nyman, the Icelandic rock group, "Geimsteinn" and dance music by Tom Eliassen's orchestra. Master of ceremonies for the plaza program will be radio announcer Hans "Swede" Olsen, whose "Musical Smorgasbord" program has many Scandinavian followers.

Kean lists course on geneology

A course on "Tracing Your Ancestry" will be given this fall at Kean College, Union.

The non-credit Continuing Education course will meet on eight Thursdays from 7:40 to 9:40 p.m., starting Sept. 28. The fee is $35; deadline for registering is Sept. 21. Readers may phone 527-2163 or 527-2210 for information.

Dr. Milton Terry of Mountainside, course instructor, is a past governor of the New Jersey Society of Mayflower Descendants and has spent 15 years in research on a book on George Soule, one of four Mayflower passengers who figure in his ancestry, as do John Alden, William Brewster and Stephen Hopkins.
