(FIRST OF TWO PARTS) By JEFF FEINGOLD

Every Monday morning, Judge Steven Bercik, presiding judge of the Union County Juvenile Court, hears the cases of 45 youngsters who have found themselves charged with some sort of crime some sort of serious crime.

And, according to Judge V. William DiBuono, the county's assignment judge, there are 1,800 pending criminal cases involving Union County juveniles.

But most of those 1,800 involve youngsters charged with lesser of-Tenses, such as shoplifting, vandalism and minor drug charges. And that number doesn't include the youngsters whose crimes were committed yesterday or even last week.

If the court system had to deal with each of those cases, according to Judge DiBuono, there would be an immediate need for more judges-and probably more prosecutors-in the county.

What happens to the juveniles whose crimes are less serious, who find themselves charged with something as minor as trespassing or driving without a license or even possessing small amounts of marijuana?

Obviously, Judge Bercik's court couldn't carry the whole burden. But the county's juvenile justice system doesn't intend to ignore those youngsters charged with lesser offenses: it doesn't want them to feel that certain kinds of immoral or illegal behavior are acceptable to the adult community.

If an adult is charged with a minor offense-such as driving without a license—he must go before a municipal judge and, if found guilty, is fined. Under present law, juveniles cannot be fined. Therefore, in the county's 21 municipalities—and in almost every municipality in the state—there are other ways to deal with youngsters especially first offenders, who commit comparatively minor offenses

Each municipality has a Juvenile Conference Committee, a panel composed of between six and nine members whose primary function is to express the community's disapproval of behavior that is perhaps not serious but still unacceptable.

About 80 of Union County's 140 Juvenile Conference Committee members recently met at Union Collegé to discuss and learn the difficulties and options the juvenile justice system faces.

High schoolers ready Custodians' aid sought to for 'The Music Man' fight vandals (Stuart Gelwarg), a con artist who

Custodians in the Union County Regional High School District will be asked-"in a nice, voluntary way"-to change their working hours to late night so they can double as vandalism preventers, according to Dr. Donald Merachnik, superintendent of the

The Regional Board of Education, with no formal vote, indicated Tuesday that it likes the idea-if custodians volunteered in sufficient numbers so that there would be at least two at campus at night, not a lone one who might fall or become ill with nobody to hear a cry for help. Dr. Merachnik said he believes "a little more pay" should go to those who volunteer.

Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Hights, was the target of vandals with rifles late last month. Dr. Merachnik said the other regional high schools-Jonathan Dayton in Springfield, David Brearley in Kenilworth and Arthur L. Johnson in Clark-have also been plagued by vandalism or arson through the years, as have schools operated by other districts.

"I have always felt that the presence of custodians tends to prevent vandalism," said Merachnik, who also will seek funds to install some electronicsurveillance equipment at the four high schools.

Dr. Merachnik said vandalism prevention will be a "major priority" in the 1979-80 school budget. He said he will discuss details during the annual budget hearing at 8 p.m. next Tuesday. The hearing will be at the Gov. Livingston campus this time. (The board rotates meetings among its four campuses.) Merachnik traditionally gives a budget-hearing message relating spending plans to district priorities.

In other action at the board's meeting this week:

-The National Roofing Co. of Millington was awarded the contract to install a new roof on the gymnasium at the David Brearley campus for $37,400. The board had congratulations for many of its students, cited in a "worthy of note" listing from the district's new public-information officer, Tina Briscione. Those cited included the

Staff cuts possible next year

No final decision before Tuesday

By BARBARA WALCOFF

Staff reductions, including a drop of the equivalent of four full-time teaching positions, the possibility of moving fourth grade classes to Beechwood School, whether to retain the three principalships and the status of the libraries are scheduled to be discussed by the Board of Education prior to a vote on the proposed school budget for 1979-80 at a meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Deerfield School.

Telling the audience of approximately 50 that the board had not made a decision on several issues affecting the budget, Scott Schmedel, president, said, "This is a tentative budget. The board will vote next Tuesday night on the exact budget that will be submitted to the voters on Tuesday, April 3. The board can make changes in the budget before it votes at that meeting.'

Although money for thrre principal positions, the equivalent of 58 full-time teaching positions and 2.7 librarians is incorporated within the tentative budget, board members will discuss the possibility of some changes before a final vote. The proposed total $2,155,665, represents a $3,846 increase over the current budget. This would increase the tax rate by 1.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation. But Schmedel said that figure could be reduced by roughly $30,000 if one principalship is eliminated. The tax levy, which is put before the voters representing a $25,821 jump.

'This tentative budget shows virtually no increase, as a result of the well-known drop in our school (Continued on page 2)

'Tom Sawyer' to be presented by MMA, PTA

Final rehearsals are being held for the musical "Tom Sawyer" to be presented Friday, March 16, at 8 p.m. in the Deerfield School gymnasium. Dr. Debora Clifford and Doris Julian are co-directors.

The musical presentation is a combined effort of students and teachers under the joint sponsorship of the Mountainside Music Association and the Mountainside Parent Teachers Association.

The cooperative nature of the project was underlined this week by Peggy Wilson, president of the Mountainside PTA. "The PTA is pleased to join forces with the MMA in working together on a project which will so directly benefit the children," she said. "It should be a good learning experience for the cast, the crew, and the students who participate by being part of the audience. We are really grateful for the enthusiastic involvement of the MMA (Continued on page 2)

Geiger and Wood finalists in contest

Two students at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, have qualified as finalists in the 1979 National Merit Scholarship competition. They are Lorraine Geiger and Laura Wood.

Some 14,000 finalists will be considered for 1,000 National Merit Scholarships and 3,000 four-year scholarships, to be awarded this spring.

POLICE HOPEFUL—Joanne Perrin was among approximately 75 applicants who took the written test for a position on the Mountainside Police Department. Perrin, who was one of two women who took the exam, is a member of the Mountainside Rescue Squad. All applicants who pass the written exam will be interviewed for several positions opening within the Department during 1979.

Woman held, again, in burglary series

A request for welfare in Cumberland County led to the arrest last week of Claribelle (Gladys) Perez, alias Gladys Colon, suspected of being part of a team that committed a rash of burglaries within the borough during October and November.

Perez, now 81/2 months pregnant, was located through information supplied to welfare departments throughout the state by Mountainside police, according to Det. Sgt. Jerry Rice. Perez applied for welfare in Vineland, Cumberland County, using the same Social Security number she gave Mountainside police when she was arrested Nov. 20. She was later charged by Mountainside Police with five counts of breaking and entering and five counts of larceny.

At the time of her arrest, she told police she was a juvenile. Police say they later learned she was 20 years old on Feb. 19.

Rice said South Jersey welfare officials called Perez to verify that a Vineland address she gave was genuine and notified the Vineland Police Department, where she was held until being turned over to Mountainside authorities on Feb. 28.

Mountainside Judge Robert Ruggiero set bail at $10,000. A jail spokesman said Perez had not posted bail as of earlier this week and would remain in the facility until bail is posted or she is transferred to Elizabeth General Hospital to have the baby. Perez also faces charges in Union and Springfield, according to Rice. Detectives representing the three municipalities have testified before a grand jury and she will probably be indicted as soon as the grand jury concludes its investigation, Rice said.

Rice reported that on Feb. 28, Perez listed her address as 655 S. 18th at., Newark, an apartment that the detectives had raided in December. In that raid, police confiscated $25-30,000 worth of goods which was later identified as stolen during burglaries in several towns. Police have said that the ring may have been responsible for 11 burglaries in Mountainside, two in Springfield, one in Scotch Plains and three in Berkeley Heights.

Perez had been taken into custody Nov. 20 and released as a juvenile along with her husband Carmelo Coloni Colon, 19, has been arrested four times (Continued on page 2)

An armed robber took approximately $150 from the cash register at the bar of the Mountainside Inn on Rt. 22 at 1:49 p.m. on Sunday, police said.

Two employees of the Mountainside Inn, who claim that they can identify the robber, told police that a white male, in his 20's, entered the restaurant and went to the bar downstairs where he pulled out a .38 caliber snub nose gun. The bartender, who was instructed to get the money or "be blown away," gave the man approximately $150 from the register, reports said. The suspect, described as about 6-1 with dark glasses and a dark complexion, then turned around and walked out, the employee

The first contact a youngster will have with the juvenile justice system is, wauslly, a policeman.

For example, a youngster is discovered throwing rocks at a school window. He could be charged with malicious damage, an offense for which an adult would have to pay a fine of about $100.

Based upon the information, the panel members can either recommend that the matter be returned to court, dismiss the matter without further action or seek corrective action by the parent

The corrective action can include admonitions, forfeiture of privileges or restitution. It can also mean referral to a community agency, such as a youth service bureau or the Division of Youth and Family Services.

Participation in the hearings is voluntary, and those who do not wish to participate are sent to the juvenile court, which then seeks another way to settle the matter.

One aspect of the conference committee that impresses Judge DiBuono is ... that it allows the offender and the complainant to air their differences-if they want to. "The committee," according to the judge, "provides a forum " for problems. It shows the juveniles and ... the complainant that there are members of the community who will offer guidance and help.'

The committee's main function there, is to express the community's disapproval of the behavior with which it deals and to try to prevent more serious offenses in the future.

Four persons were injured in two three-vehicle accidents on Feb. 28, according to Mountainside police.

Robert J. Stalter of Frenchtown, who complained of pain in his head, and Louise Stalter, also of Frenchtown, who complained of pain in her lower leg, were transported by the Mountainside Rescue Squad to Overlook Hospital where they were treated and released. Stalter was driving the first car in a three-car accident on Rt. 22 at 4:30 p.m., police said. Stalter's car was hit in the rear by a car driven by Frederick H. Miller of Lebanon and Miller's car was hit from behind by a car driven by Silva Pontoriero of Union, police reports said. Pontoriero, who complained of pain in the back, said that she would see her own doctor. While traveling west on the highway, Pontoriero was blinded by the sun and was unable to stop when Miller stopped short in front of her, she told police.

At 8:20 p.m. last Wednesday, another three-car accident occurred between Parkway and Mountain avenue in the eastbound lanes of the highway, police Morris Segall of Union, driving the third vehicle, drove his truck into the rear end of a car driven by Marilyn I. Horowitz of New York City. Horowitz refused medical treatment saying that she would see her physician, after she complained of a pain in her neck. Horowitz, who had stopped for traffic, was pushed into the back end of a car owned by Cranford resident Joseph C. Schreiber, which also was stopped, police said. Reports indicate that traffic was stopped to allow a vehicle that had been going the wrong way in a U-turn to enter the highway.

Letters to the Editor

'CHILDREN BECOME NUMBERS'

The Mountainside Board of Education is not in an enviable position. Falling enrollment and increased costs focus their energies on plans for retrenchment.

The community seems to equate excellence in education with elaborate equipment and convenience, spacious, well-appointed facilities but is unwilling to commit itself to the cost of such a philosophy. Along the way the children become numbers and the staff dollar signs.

Where are the enlightened who attracted me to this community? Who is interested in providing our children with not the most expensive but the best education? What has happened to the loyalty and gratitude we owe a staff who has provided superior, dedicated leadership?

The students should not be used as pawns. The current events would be fine grist for Charles Dickens' mill. Our children have probably been introduced to him at one of the "frill" libraries.

A WORD ON REDUCTIONS

The following letter was addressed to members of the Mountainside Board of Education:

I read with interest the news release concerning the reduction in library (media specialist) positions in the elementary school system.

As the Mountainside representative to the Union County Regional High School system, I would like the board to consider what the reduction would do to the existing programs of the Mountainside schools, and to the ability of the Mountainside students to compete in a regional school system. Any reduction at this time might well put our students at a disadvantage with other sending districts.

For example, Mountainside and Springfield student attend Jonathan Dayton High School in Springfield. Our ratio of one librarian for 288 pupils (720 divided by 2.5) compares favorably with Springfield's one librarian for 292 pupils (1169 divided by 4). It would seem that both towns are working toward the recommended goal of 1-250.

There is no doubt that with declining enrollment staff must be decreased gradually; please be aware of the effects of your decisions as they relate to the performance of students in a regional district.

DR. MARILYN HART, Mountainside Representative to the Union County Regional High School Board

Board position for school aide

Jean Ott Grande, secretary to the superintendent of Mountainside public schools, has been named to the executive board of the New Jersey Association of Educational Secretaries.

As chairman of the public relations committee, she will oversee publication of a quarterly magazine and a monthly newsletter in addition to other public relations activities. She is a 20-year member of the organization, and has been a secretary in Mountainside schools for the same time.

Mancino seeks mini-confab for primary ballot #

MOUNTAINSIDE (N.J.) ECHO-Thursday, March 8, 1979-3 T.S.

Kenilworth Mayor Livio Mancino this: week urged the convening of a minio convention in the next 30 days of local-Democratic chairmen and committee people from the 10 communities incl Union County that are without a state senator. Mancino said the convention would open up the primary ballot forest others to challenge Freeholder Joanne Rajoppi for the vacancy.

Mancino said he has sent out letters* to the committee chairmen and municipal chairmen in the 22nd ** District, inviting them to arrange semini-convention. The municipalities are Berkeley Heights, Clark, Fanwood, C Kenilworth, Mountainside, Plainfield, Rahway, Scotch Plains, Springfield and Chatham Township.

The New Jersey Senate has rescinded a special primary on Feb. 27 and an election on March 13 to fill the senate seat vacated by Peter McDonough. Mancino strongly opposed it because of the cost and the lack of time. Here claimed the special election was secretly arranged to allow Rajoppi to gain office without a primary challenge. Mancino has filed for the senate nomination and said he intends to present himself as a candidate at they open convention, if it is held.

Date scheduled for blood bank

A community blood drive will be held by the Westfield-Mountainside Chapter , , of the Red Cross on Tuesday, March 20,, a from 1:30 to 6:30 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church, 140 Mountain, Westfield. non-,2 The denominational, community project is sponsored by the Red Cross.

Mrs. Edward Love, blood program chairman, expressed hope that new a volunteer donors as well as those who .; have given generously in the past will come to the blood bank. "Many people cannot appreciate the importance of having a constant supply of blood on hand until someone in the family is seriously hurt or ill and needs blood to survive. The concept of community responsibility for blood needs has proved successful so far, and we sincerely hope it will continue to succeed with this upcoming blood bank," said Mrs. Love.

An appointment may be made to give blood by calling the Chapter Office, 232-7090, or by walking in on March 20.

Dayton: two regional titles, coach of year

Regional displayed promise

By MIKE MEIXNER

A season-ending basketball victory which kept the Bulldogs out of the Suburban Conference cellar and the development of juniors and sophomores salvaged an otherwise-lackluster season for Jonathan Dayton Regional High School coach Ray Yanchus.

The 73-67 victory over Madison left the team with a 5-16 record. Yanchus noted that the team maintained its spirit despite the frustrations caused by a lack of height and experience.

Six juniors and a sophomore saw considerable action and should contribute to an improved record next Point guard Tony Circelli, a starter in every game, is a hustling player and fine passer who will concentrate more on shooting next season. Only 5-5, he surprises opponents as a tough rebounder.

Bill Ventura also will be a potent factor next season. Although he tapered off late in the season, "Vito" shows great promise as a shooting forward.

Ken Klebus and Craig Clickenger, each six feet and 180 pounds, will add. muscle to the roster. Although their play last season was limited, their

Another key factor next season will be Tony Gargiulo, a scrappy forward who is a fine defender, a determined ball player and a team leader.

Rick Morech, a transfer from Newark Academy where he was a starting guard, will be counted on for his ball-handling abilities.

Mitch Toland, a starter before a toe injury sidelined him for 16 games, had 20 points and 20 rebounds in five games as power forward.

Don Meixner, the lone sophomore on the varsity roster displayed driving and rebounding talent on the jayvee level.

Al Berliner, who averaged 18 points and six assists for the jayvees, also will be a potent player at point guard next

Mike Meixner paced this season's squad with an average of 20.7 points and 9.2 rebounds. He scored a career high of 38 points against Kenilworth and was named to the all-tournament team after the Bulldogs won the Dayton Invitational Tournament for the eighth time in 10 years.

Dave Lauhoff showed continued development through the season and averaged 7.9 points and 5.5 rebounds. Ed McGrady, a tri-captain along with Meixner and Lauhoff, was a strong rebounder. He also was named a tournament all-star. Kevin Engelhardt, a 6-3 defensive standout, twice scored 16 pointsagainst Madison and West Orange. Tyrone Parker starred on defense and was a great asset as a passer and shooter.

The Bulldogs, who averaged 48 points while allowing opponents 58 per game, defeated Madison twice, Clark, Kenilworth and Pingry. In the game with Verona televised by Suburban Cablevision, Dayton's bid for an upset fell short, 42-39.

Soccer Scene

By BILL WILD

A warning to all "soccer mothers:" this is the time of year that can be hazardous to your health. The winter indoor season is still in full swing and the teams either practice or play on Sundays. On Monday evening they all play at the Elizabeth Armory.

With the weather being the way it has been this past week, don't be surprised to see the lights on at Farcher's Grove on Tuesday and Wednesday nights. This means the regular outdoor season will overlap the indoor season, and games will have to be played on Saturday. Now, throw in a practice game or two each week, and soccer mothers will have one day a week for vourselves.

If they don't know what to do with yourself on Monday evenings soccer fans can just hop in the car and drive to the nearby Elizabeth Armory.

The evening starts off with the midget division and ends up with the oldtimers. The Union Lancer organization is doing quite well there. It has a team in first place in every division it plays in.

All of the first place teams are undefeated, which speaks very highly of the Union Township and Farcher's Grove programs.

As the evening goes on the teams on the floor jet older and the games get faster until you get to the over-the-hill boys. Then it is just pure brains and deterministion. It's a pleasure to watch.

A major sociological study will someday ex-Blain why such a large Number of American home builders have risen to prominence soon after arrival in the United States. Meanwhile, sucvess for one such builder 🗠 Kevork S. Hovnanian, founder and chief executive of Hovnanian Enterprises, Inc., headquartered in Middletown - has resulted from the man's ability to appreciate rather immediately what consumers in his new flomeland would desire and demand.

In the 20 years since Hovnanian came to this country, he has sold more than 7000 homes at the communities he has developed in New Jersey, Florida, Georgia, Penntylvania and Texas. And how, as he enters his third decade as an industry leader, Hovnanian is seeing the end come to marketing at his two large New Jersey communities hile he has set his sights n a new Florida project, the 1000-unit adult condominium community he has called Pine Ridge.

"If I have any secret, it concerns the importance ⋠ being big, but not too hig," Hovnanian stated. fin this business, you ¢an't sit back removed from the activity and just make policy decisions. You have to be on top of each activity, and people have to know you are.

Within a relatively short time, Hovnanian was building homes at the rate of 400 per year. He was philosophy about creating environments, not just groups of homes. At Yorktowne, for example, he acknowledged the impact that a large-scale project would have on the supporting municipality, and he set aside $600,000 to facilitate the construction of new public school. This policy was continued in subsequent projects where land was made available for public educational and recreational purposes.

By 1970, Hovnanian

knew there would be additional advantages in incorporating social and recreational facilities within private settings. He turned his attention toward condominium concept communities that would both meet and create buyer demand. In New Jersey, the industry history with condominiums was that they had little success unless geared to specific population segments, particularly the adult market.

"At that time, building costs were already putting a squeeze on prices,' Hovnanian recalled. "And it was obvious that the future of home sales to those facing fixed income years involved the condominium with its combination of private ownership, preserved open space and a reduction in material and construction costs-per unit — along with reduced physical household work."

His first condominium venture - Shadow Lake Village in affluent Middletown Township near Red Bank — evolved into the model for prestigious adult community development. Built on the 158-acre former estate of a millionaire with private lake and brook, Shadow Lake Village attracted many residents from the expansive homes in the immediate area. Originally priced from $27,500, less than 150 of the condomicommunity's nium homes now priced from $40,990 remain available for purchase. ## Parkway to limit 4th lanes to pool vehicles at rush times

The Department of Transportation has announced that the fourth lanes now under construction on the stateowned portion of the Garden State Parkway in Union and Middlesex Counties will be reserved for carpool and vanpool vehicles and busses during weekday rush hours to conserve gasoline and lessen traffic congestion.

"The department's program could save 750,000 gallons of gasoline a year and help alleviate congestion when a 25 percent increase in traffic by 1983 is expected on the Parkway" Richard L. Hollinger, chief of the NJDOT's Bureau of Operations Research said. According to Hollinger, vehicles with fewer than three occupants would be banned Monday through Friday from the left lane northbound from 7 to 9 a.m. and southbound from 3 to 6 p.m.

The $25.5 widening and improvement project extends nearly 12 miles on the state-owned section of the Parkway from Morris Avenue (Route 82), Union Township, south to the New Jersey Turnpike in Middlesex County.

In addition to the saving of fuel and lessening congestion, it is anticipated that the program also will result in 10 to 15 percent fewer vehicles on the 12-mile stretch of the Parkway and create less air pollution by 1983. "The real benefit," states Hollinger, "will be that there will be more people travelling in this lane in fewer vehicles and they will enjoy a free-flow trip. Motorists in the other three lanes also will benefit because over 3,000 cars will be travelling in the fourth lane during peak hours.'

Buying power climbs for area factory workers

Purchasing power of New York-Northeastern New Jersey area factory production worker take home pay rose 0.8 percent between November and December, according to Herbert Bienstock, regional commissioner of Labor Statistics who directs the Bureau of Labor Statistics' Middle Atlantic Region. Bienstock said increases totaling 3.6 percent since August more than offset declines in each of the preceding five months, raising purchasing power to where it was last

Over the year ending last December, purchasing power of area factory workers declined 1.8 percent. Bienstock attributed virtually all of the drop to increased withholding deductions, resulting from the manner in which the Tax Reduction and Simplification Act of 1877 was calculated, and a rise in the Social Security tax rate. He pointed out that the experience for the last year contrasted with increases in each of the preceding three years totaling 10.3

Between November and December, gross average weekly earnings of area factory production workers were up $3.61 to $242.80. Bienstock said average hourly earnings rose six cents over the month to $6.01 and the average workweek increased 12 minutes to 40.4 hours. A 0.6 percent rise in the area Consumer Price Index for urban wage earners and clerical workers partly offset the December earnings rise.

Since December 1977, average weekly earnings have increased $16.57 reflecting a 34-cent rise in average hourly earnings and a 30-minute lengthening of the average workweek. The 7.3 percent gain in weekly earnings outpaced a 6.4 percent rise in area consumer prices. With the impact of increases in withholding and Social Security taxes, purchasing power (average weekly earnings of all factory production workers, reduced by Social Security and federal income tax rates applicable to a married worker with three dependents who earned the average amount, and adjusted for changes in the area's Consumer Price Index for urban wage earners and clerical workers was down over the Bienstock said the tax reduction act became effective June 1, 1977, but applied to the entire year.
