Incumbents defeated, budget approved

Municipal budget gets total OK

No residents attend hearing

The 1979 Mountainside municipal budget was unanimously adopted Tuesday night in a public hearing that lasted less than 30 minutes and attracted no members of the community.

After approximately five minutes of general discussion about the budget, the Borough Council adjourned for 10 minutes to wait to see if any members of the public would show up to question the governing body on the proposed budget. When no one showed to join the audience of two—Frank Clooney, from the Council's auditing firm, Supplee and Clooney, and this reporter—Lee Voorhees, Borough administrator, read the resolution adopting the budget and polled the five councilmen present. Tim Benford was the only councilman absent.

Council members suggested that the timing of the hearing may have been in part responsible for the no-show of local residents. At the same time as the hearing, Board of Education elections were in the final hour. Another suggested reason for the absence of residents was the small increase in the tax levy. After receiving approval from the Division of Local Government Services early Tuesday afternoon, councilmen cited examples of substantial jumps in taxes in surrounding communities.

Mayor Thomas Ricciardi said the "sound conservative attitude" by all six council members and a watchful eye on the surplus in the budget have allowed for the small increase—a six-point overall jump.

As explained by Nick Bradshaw, finance chairman, the hike of six cents in the tax rate, from $3.33 to $3.39, is divided between a nine-cent county jump, a three-cent regional high school tax increase, a seven-cent local district school tax drop and a one-penny rise in the municipal rate.

Although these are not concrete figures, Clooney assured council that

Jogging is her outlet Healthy life her goal

KEEP ON MOVING—Louise Isaac was caught during one of her daily 10 mile runs. This Mountainside resident runs from her home to Springfield, Westfield, Roselle and sometimes as far as Elizabeth. After giving up a three-pack a-day cigarette habit, this former nurse runs to release nervous energy and for her health.

PTA urged to stop sitting back: drugs too accessible for youths

"When I die, I want to be in good health," Louise Isaac of Woodacres drive said. That is the reason she gives for her daily jogging, which totals over 10 miles. The nurse had worked for Overlook as well as the Mountainside school system, and had seen a cigarette habit grow to three packs a day.

Mrs. Isaac was not ordered by her doctor to quit but only needed a reminder of all the autopsies she had helped perform of young people with advanced artery diseases as an incentive.

"I knew that if I could have an outlet, I could quit smoking," she said. "I have so much nervous energy, so I turned to exercise."

"I can do a seven-minute mile, but it usually takes about nine minutes. I do it for endurance and not speed."

The biggest advantage of her daily exercise, she said, is that it keeps her weight down. When she first quit smoking, she gained 37 pounds right off the bat, but with exercise and a strict diet, her weight dropped to 88 pounds.

At her doctor's instructions, she again began to eat normally and regained a normal weight.

"Exercise is the only answer. After I run, I am not going to go and spoil it by gorging on food. I think people should make exercise a part of their day," as resolution against the decriminalization of marijuana and all other controlled drug substances.

Noting that awareness is a first step toward solving any problem, Silverman showed a group of 60 parents and teachers many of the ads geared directly to junior high and middle school students.

She displayed many examples of "toys" and harmless-looking devices related to the use of what are lauded in advertising as "recreational drugs." The examples ranged from innocuous-looking, dual-purpose belt buckles and earrings to contrived ballpoint pens and felt-tip markers—to legitimate brand-name containers which had been appropriated by companies and converted to other uses. The latter included a motor oil can and various brands of lip balm.

The exhibits came from Silverman's collection of drug paraphernalia. Many were used as evidence in the lawsuit against the two shops in Livingston Mall.

Knodel commented, "It is important to hear what people like Mrs. Silverman have to say. I am very concerned that our townspeople understand the problem and do something about it. We have to bring pressure on our legislators to get them to protect our children from the professionals who are appealing to our youngsters through very effective Madison Avenue tactics."

Marinelli, Barre top balloting

Funding still lacks okay from Clancy

By JAMES SWEENEY and
BARBARA WALCOFF

Two incumbents running for a second three-year term on the Mountainside Board of Education were soundly defeated Tuesday while the current expense portion of the local school budget was approved by more than a 2-1 margin.

Carl Marinelli, who collected the greatest number of votes, 623, and Carl Marinelli with 532 votes, will join the seven member school board in May. Peggy Reilly and Scott Schmedel received 281 and 212 votes respectively.

The budget adoption, by a 585-223 margin, was the first in Mountainside since 1976. It came on a budget which County Superintendent James Clancy has refused to approve because of cuts made by the board after it drew up its original spending plan for 1979-80. Clancy has ordered the board to restore $17,000 for special services without increasing the tax levy.

The overwhelming approval of the budget was received warmly by board members, teachers, parents, members of the Borough Council and Mayor Thomas Ricciardi, informally following the council meeting. PTA President Peggy Wilson was "elated." She attributed a large part of the reason for the budget victory to the massive two-month campaign waged by her organization.

The current expense portion of the budget approved totals $1,656,684.

Although the voter turnout was described as light—902, or 18 percent of the 4,771 eligible voters—residents nearly doubled the 502 ballots cast during last year's election when the budget was turned down by two votes. Of the 902 votes, 27 were absentee ballots.

"Tonight's results indicate the public wants the board to go in a new direction," Barre said. "The board of Education has to reach out to the public to improve community interest within the school system." He called for more guidance from the board in dealings with the public relations consultant.

The board member-elect said that the board must re-address the budget problems but added that the board must come up with plans to implement the cuts they have made. After openly campaigning against drastic cuts in library aid, Barre expressed hope that he might effectively work to assure "what is best for the children—within the budget boundaries." He said that his business background as well as Marinelli's will be an asset in service and improved direction.

"A good education can be had at a

Pancake breakfast planned on Sunday

The Youth Fellowship of the Community Presbyterian Church of Mountainside will sponsor a pancake breakfast on Palm Sunday, from 9 to 10:30 a.m., in the assembly room of the church on Deer Path and Meeting House Lane.

The breakfast menu will include orange juice, pancakes, sausage and a choice of coffee, tea, or milk. Tickets, which may be purchased at the door, are $2 for adults and $1.50 for children. Proceeds from the breakfast will be used for fellowship activities.

Echo regrets ethnic tag

The Echo regrets having stated in a recent article about a holdup man that "police said he may possibly be Italian." Information provided by local police had presented this newspaper with a difficult problem.

On the one hand, there is a need to provide any information which may lead to the apprehension of a criminal. On the other, the Echo has no desire to print material which would be offensive to an ethnic group which has made major contributions to the growth of the nation and the local community.

Tax office open on Tuesday night

Leroy Mumford, Mountainside's tax collector, will hold office hours the second Tuesday of each month. His office, located in the municipal building, will be open from 7:30 to 9 p.m. and persons interested in talking with the tax collector may visit during these hours.

Anyone wishing to contact Mumford at any other time during the month may leave a message with the municipal clerk at 222-2400.

Yaworsky, also of North Plainfield, paid $26, including $10 court costs, for speeding 46 mph in a 25 mph zone. A $7.50 fine and $17.50 in court costs were paid by Nathaniel H. Masters named to school panel Pepperdine University School of Law has selected Randolph Tracy Masters of Mountainside to serve as chairman of the law school honor board.

The honor board consists of eight students selected by the dean from the 600 member student body. It functions as a judicial panel in cases where university regulations have been violated.

Masters, of Sunny Slope Drive, is a second-year student at the Malibu, California, University. He is a graduate of Governor Livingston Regional High School and Connecticut College in New London.

3 persons hurt in two Rt. 22 traffic mishaps

Three persons were injured in two motor vehicle accidents last week. Another driver was issued summons on two motor vehicle violations.

Bradford L. Becker of Dunellen was arrested at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday, March 28, and charged with driving while on the revoked list and passing on the right, police said. Becker was pulled over at the intersection of Rt. 22 and New Providence road, reports indicated.

Johnnie T. Weatherspoon of Plainfield was charged with careless driving following a two-car accident last Friday at 6:28 a.m. at the corner of Rt. 22 and Robin Hood road, police reported. William R. Evans of Scotch Plains was on the shoulder of the highway, according to police, preparing to make the right turn onto Robin Hood road. The auto driven by Weatherspoon, who later told police that he was dozing, struck the Evans car in the rear. Evans complained of pain in his neck but said he would see his own physician.

Michael G. Sellitto of Paterson was issued a summons for driving without a valid insurance card in his possession after a two-car collision in the west-to-east U turn on Rt. 22 at 8:21 a.m. on March 28. Graham V. Rowan of Woodvalley road was in the U turn, waiting to make a left turn into the eastbound lane of the highway, police said, when Sellitto's auto pulled up alongside, on the left of Rowan's car. When Rowan began the left turn, his auto collided with Sellitto's car, police said.

Two truck drivers were injured in a 12:15 p.m. accident last Thursday, police reported. John Benjamin Estes of Kings Mountains, N.C., told police that he had stopped to check bridge clearance on the Mountain avenue exit of Rt. 22 when a truck driven by Donald Scott Perkins of North Gower, Ont., struck his vehicle from behind. Police said that Perkins reported he was looking at directional signs and did not realize until too late that Estes' truck was stopped. Perkins complained of pain in his lower leg and Estes complained of pain in his head; both refused medical treatment, saying they would see their own doctors.

Born in Rahway, Mr. Thompson resided in Westfield for 21 years before moving to Mountainside 13 years ago. He was an executive for Steel and Alloy Tank Co., Newark, for the past 35 years. Mr. Thompson was graduated from Newark College of Engineering. He was a member of Our Lady of Lourdes Roman Catholic Church, Mountainside.

Surviving are his wife, Cecilia Margaret Thompson of Mountainside; a son, R. Spenser Thompson of New Sharon, Maine; two daughters, Mrs. Judd Kinzley of Scottsdale, Ariz., and Mrs. Richard Ellis of Columbus, Md.; and 15 grandchildren.

Mobile Meals seeks helpers

Mobile Meals, a non-profit organization serving Mountainside and six other communities, needs volunteers to pack and deliver hot and nutritious meals to those unable to prepare adequate meals for themselves, a spokesman said this week. Retired couples or singles or homemakers with some spare time were urged to respond.

Volunteers pack the meals at the First Baptist Church of Westfield and deliver them to the homes. Anyone able to spend approximately an hour a week or every other week to serve as a packer driver was urged to call 388-9419 in the evenings or 232-4175.

Johnson scholarship

A 50 percent tuition scholarship to Union Catholic High School in Scotch Plains was awarded to Michael Johnson, an eighth grade student at Our Lady of Lourdes in Mountainside.

The scholarship was granted to Johnson, a resident of Westfield, on the basis of his grammar school grades, Science Research Association test results and a special test given at the high school for scholarship applicants. There were more than 100 applicants taking the test, but only a few scholarships were given. He must maintain a 92 percent scholastic average to keep the scholarship.

County council decision is due Wednesday on waste disposal

The Union County Solid Waste Advisory Council will hold a special meeting in the Courthouse Annex in Westfield at 4 p.m. Wednesday to make its final decision on solid waste disposal recommendations.

At a meeting last week, with 15 municipalities as well as some private industry and environmental groups represented, the council voted unanimously in favor of continued landfill arrangements as its preferred interim solution, covering the next four to six years.

It also made a preliminary ranking of long-range solutions, with the number one choice being a Port Authority of

New York and New Jersey plan for creation of an industrial site at one of three locations in New Jersey. Mass burning of solid waste brought to this site or refuse-derived fuel (RDF) would produce steam to generate electricity. There also would be some resource recovery.

In considering the three sites being looked at by the Port Authority, the council made its selection on the basis of proximity: Elizabeth first, then Newark, then Jersey City.

Second choice in the preliminary ranking went to a proposal for inclusion in landfill and resource recovery plans being drawn up by the Middlesex County and Hackensack Districts. It is not known, however, if these solid waste disposal districts would agree to accept Union County.

The council's third choice was a facility being built by Combustion Equipment Associates in Newark to produce RDF, with some resource recovery; fourth, a Merck Company proposal for RDF to produce steam, with some ferrous recovery, at the Rahway-Linden line; fifth, a Union County refuse processing facility, at a site to be determined, for combustion-produced steam or electricity, with resource recovery where cost-effective. In connection with the county facility, transfer stations have been suggested as a possible way of reducing haulage costs.

Advisory unit members also voted, 13-5, to support continuation of community recycling programs which are in effect in many of the county's municipalities.

Formal recommendations will be presented to the Board of Freeholders after the April 11 meeting. The board then will hold public hearings before adopting the long-range plan which the state has called for by June 11.

The state Department of Environmental Protection is requiring Union and other counties to develop these plans as an alternative to landfill operations.

The Hackensack Meadowlands Development Commission has warned it will close its landfill sites June 30 to all Union County municipalities dumping there except Union Township, Springfield and Rahway, which were using the facility when the commission was created. The commission also has indicated it would like to cut off those three communities by the end of this year.

Union County communities which send solid wastes to the Hackensack Meadowlands are Elizabeth, Hillside, Kenilworth, Rahway, Roselle, Roselle Park, Union and Winfield.

In addition, industrial and commercial wastes from several other Union County towns are hauled to the Hackensack Meadowlands even though residential wastes from those communities end up at other places. They include Linden, which has its own landfill site; Springfield, which sends residential wastes to Carteret although it is covered by the mandate protecting its right to use the Meadowlands after June 30; New Providence, and Summit.

County Manager George Albanese received a letter from the Meadowlands Commission last Thursday reaffirming the June 30 deadline.

But he said efforts to obtain an extension are continuing.

Commissioner Daniel O'Hern this week told county officials he agrees that landfill sites will be needed until a long-range plan can be put into operation in the mid-1980s. He promised that his staff will assist Union County in seeking to reach agreements with other counties where such sites are still available.

Letters to the Editor

'TOM SAWYER'

The Deerfield School students who participated in the recent production of "Tom Sawyer" are to be commended for excellent work, both for the talents evidenced by the cast and the enthusiasm and attention to detail displayed by the crew who supported them. The cast, the crew, and co-directors Dr. Debora Clifford and Doris Julian are indeed to be congratulated for their work in providing an outstanding evening's entertainment.

On behalf of the Mountainside public schools, I would like to express our deep gratitude to the Mountainside Music Association and the Mountainside PTA for making the production of "Tom Sawyer" possible. Their cooperation in providing the financing and time and talent is greatly appreciated. This kind of cooperative effort is important, not only because the students were provided with a unique educational experience through their work on the musical, but because it is very supportive for them to know that the community stands behind their endeavors.

ADULTS FAILING SCHOOLS?

devotion to quality education, and Mountainside, hampered to an extent by state regulations limiting personnel expenditures, has also begun to trim and vote down school budgets. The "three Rs" are today being emphasized. I believe that the arts are necessary for a truly well rounded individual; however, should we not consider reading the greatest of all the arts, for it can awaken each and every sense?

My wife is one of a score of library volunteers in the local school system. These volunteers are sickened by the slashing of the number of librarians (Beechwood is to have a half-time person), the library enrichment program and the hours of the speech therapist. We adults are reversing the status of one of New Jersey's best primary school libraries to mediocrity. Is it not possible that when we cut the hours, and thus the pay, of these inspired and dedicated servants, we force them to go elsewhere for economic reasons? Can we afford, as a town, to lose some of the very people who can motivate some of the children who do require added stimulation? We are a family which has required and benefitted from all these various services, including the Special Services Department. We fail to see how the need to save a few dollars and cents per household in taxes—the price of several tanks of gasoline—can measure up to the need for such services.

In every society children are educated to be knowledgeable and functional as to the needs of that society. In a democracy, we hope also to inject wisdom and a love and purpose for life into them. We pray that our school board will re-examine its priorities to our youngsters as suggested by Dr. (Elena) Scambo (assistant to the county superintendent of schools), to increase their educational potential.

Should we fail in reversing this trend, I have only myself to blame for not expressing my views earlier to our school board members, themselves dedicated volunteers.

A six-session "Vocational Development Group" for women considering employment, further education or future career development will meet on Tuesdays, 9:30 to noon, from April 24 to May 29. You're O.K.-Math's O.K., and necessary!" provides a re-introduction to mathematics for those returning to school or to math and is aimed at developing a positive attitude among the math-anxious and math-avoiding. This five-session workshop will meet on Tuesdays, 7 to 9 p.m., April 24 to May 22; the fee is $25. Registration deadline is April 17.

Health Education Day May 10 will stress preventive medicine

Grandpa checks his blood pressure regularly, Mom exercises daily, cousin Bob is cutting back on his smoking, and seven-year-old Linda has learned to brush her teeth regularly and properly.

This family is practicing preventive medicine by taking more responsibility for its health, a philosophy which is behind "Good Health Is Up To Me," the slogan of the fourth annual statewide Health Education Day.

Gov. Brendan Byrne has proclaimed May 10 as the special day to encourage preventive medicine and has asked the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (CMDNJ) to provide leadership in the statewide program. Supported by a grant from the Hunterdon Health Fund, a private organization, the program is a grassroots effort to encourage New Jerseyans to become more involved in their own health care and to take greater responsibility for their health.

CMDNJ; Office of Consumer Health Education and Department of Public Affairs have distributed packets of resource information and a poster stressing "Good Health Is Up To Me" to schools, libraries, hospitals, pharmacies, health agencies, non-profit organizations and community groups.

For CMDNJ, May 10 has added significance. On that day College Hospital, the final piece of the "superblock" that makes up the college's Newark campus, will be dedicated. The $78-million, 520-bed hospital replaces Martland Medical Center as the teaching facility for CMDNJ-New Jersey Medical School and as a major health care provider for Newark citizens.

May 10 also marks the fourth anniversary of the dedication of the $200-million Newark campus. Besides the Newark complex, with its four schools, hospital, library and community mental health center, the college comprises the CMDNJ-Rutgers Medical School and its community mental health center, Piscataway, and the CMDNJ-New Jersey School of Osteopathic Medicine, Piscataway and Camden.

Dr. Stanley S. Bergen Jr., CMDNJ president, said the college aims to provide guidance to the consumer on sound health habits and to the professional community for its continuing education needs.

"We must inspire New Jerseyans of all ages to become more involved in their own health care," Dr. Bergen said. "People must be aware of their role."

Information on community participation is available from Tomi Higgins, project coordinator, Office of Consumer Health Education, department of Community Medicine, CMDNJ-Rutgers Medical School, Piscataway, 08854, or by calling (201) 463-4500.

Host Seniors lose tourney title to Morristown

By CRAIG CLICKENGER

The Springfield Senior Minutemen reached the finals of their annual tournament only to lose to Morristown, 94-82. On their way to the championship game, the Minutemen beat Florham Park, 89-51, and St. Philomena's of Livingston, 84-83. The Minutemen are currently playing in the Summit tourney, which concludes Saturday evening.

Reaching the semifinals in the tournament at Gaudineer was the easiest step for the Seniors, who scored 32 points in the first quarter and took a 39-point halftime lead over Florham

Park. The Minutemen controlled the backboards throughout the contest, 36-21. Going into the final period, Florham Park trailed, 81-29. High-scoring center Kyle Hudgins had 24 points, seven rebounds and five steals. Forward Thomas Ard contributed 17 points, eight rebounds, 10 assists and six steals. Victor Gutierrez missed the remaining tourney contests because of illness.

Ron Fusco had one of his best defensive games, getting nine steals and three assists to go with 10 points. Michael Berliner played very well in a starting role, scoring twice.

Rich Hinkley, David Kadish and Louis Jenkins had six points each. Kadish added four assists and three steals. Jenkins six rebounds. David Gold had three points and Joe Roessner a bucket. David Johnson, coming off an injury, had four assists. Steve Srednick and Carlos Rivera contributed to the victory.

Also reaching the semifinals were teams from Summit, Morristown and St. Philomena's.

In the semis, the Minutemen and Morristown earned one-point decisions. Morristown overturned Summit, 65-64, and the Seniors overcame a seven-point deficit to beat St. Philomena's in double overtime. The Minutemen trailed until late in the last quarter. Springfield was down 21-18 and 37-36 in the first two quarters. Livingston outrebounded Springfield, controlling the boards for most of the game. The Seniors gained to a basket in the third stanza with an 18-16 showing. Down by seven, with only eight minutes to play, the seniors were paced by Ard's 14 fourth-quarter points. Scoring by Berliner, Hudgins and Roessner sent the two teams into overtime.

The first overtime with a basket at 2:42, but Hudgins immediately made it 71-all. Ard made it 73-71 but St. Phil's tied the score at 1:33. Roessner made it 75-73 at 1:20 but Livingston tied the score at 75. The Seniors and Livingston failed to score after timeouts at :08 and :01.

In the second overtime period, St. Phil's jumped ahead at 2:43. Ard scored twice, at 2:27 and 1:47 but Livingston scored at 2:10. At 1:31, two Ard free throws put Springfield on top, 81-79. After Livingston took the lead, 83-81, Ard's free throw at :35 made it 83-82.

Hudgins, with three seconds left, popped in the two-pointer that sent the Minutemen into the finale. Ard's 34 points and 11 assists topped all players. He also had 10 rebounds and four steals.

Hudgins, with 17 points, was the leader in rebounds (18) and steals (5). Berliner collected 16 points, six assists and three steals. Fusco put 10 points on the scoreboard. Roessner finished with three and Hinkley and Johnson each had two points.

Although the Minutemen scored 82 points in the title game, they were the victims a very powerful and multi-talented team from Morristown. Morristown played at a level just above Springfield's capability and it was a frustrating loss for the Seniors. The Minutemen cut a five-point first-quarter deficit to two at the half. Morristown stretched it to 10 by the fourth quarter when Senior rally got close as four points. Foul trouble hampered Senior play throughout the contest and their opponents controlled the backboards. 42-23.

Ard led the Seniors with 34 points, 10 assists and five steals and grabbed five rebounds. Hudgins contributed 18 points, seven rebounds, seven assists and four steals.

Fusco had 10 points and seven assists. Berliner contributed eight points. Hinkley and Jenkins each scored six with Jenkins adding six rebounds. Roessner played well.

Track season will open today with boys, girls facing Linden

By KIRK KUBACH

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School varsity track team competed at Middlesex, last week in preparation for its season opener today against Linden. In the pre-season meeting, the squad looked good. Although Coach Martin Tagliente's team lacks depth in all the events, it has been fortunate to escape injuries to its top athletes.

In the practice meet, Kevin King won the mile with junior teammates Jeff Knowles and Jon Fingerhut grabbing the remaining places. In the two-mile, Jay Bruder took top honors ahead of King and Knowles. Although Dayton lost the 880, Dave Barnes and Jeff Vargas appeared tough. Other distance members awaiting the season debut are Rich Bantel, Steve Wright, and Kirk Kubach. The quarter-mile was won by Glen Felipe, a young and gifted runner who will be aided this season by captains Pete Keramas and Jeff Vargas. Keramas was successful in the 220; the versatile runner will have Tony Cirelli and Ed Francis for back-up power.

In the jumping events, Paul Commarato won firsts in the hurdles, high jump and long jump. Hurdles support will come from senior Nick Caricato and Jon Alexy. Ed MacDonald and Hanigan will compete in the jumps. Pole vaulters Jeff Knowles, Robert Irene and Robert Dooley are a talented group.

Dayton's veteran weightmen include Paul Matysiek, who took a first and a second at Middlesex, Steve Ferry, Dan Pepe and junior Dan Dammoratzky, who took a second at Middlesex.

Under the coaching of William Jones, the girls track team competed in a pre-season tri-meet with Livingston and Mount Olive. Jones is pleased with the team's progress. Today, the girls will have the hands full as they take on Union County power Linden.

Leading the girls in the weight events will be returning veterans Maria Sanino and Mary Anne Boogar, who compete in the shotput, discus and javelin. They will be aided by Barbara Taylor. Veterans Trish Taylor and Laura Clarke will compete in the high jump; they will be augmented by newcomers Penny Levitt, Shelley Schwartz and Kathy Kelley. Taylor and Clarke perform in the long jump, where the team is awaiting the return of senior Carol Wingard from an injury. Linda Spina and Debbie Keller are newcomers in the long jump.

In the distance events the squad features Barbara Taylor, Dana Levinson and Elise Ogintz, who will be aided by Janice Levine, Adrienne Positan and Lori Kubach. Kathy Kelly will lead in the 880; Sue Kuperstein and Yvonne Harrison also will run in that event. In the quarter-mile and sprints are veteran athletes Trish Taylor, Laura and Susan Clarke and Debbie Keller. Also running in the sprints will be Judy Hockstein, Lisa Salsito and Nina Liberi. The hurdles feature Linda Spina and Irene Zervakos with help from freshman Jill Wachsberg.

Vets to bolster volleyball team

The Dayton girls' volleyball team is eagerly awaiting the approach of this year's season. With a squad of mostly returning veterans, the team should be successful.

Returning to this year's varsity are letter-winners Shari Reich, Sharon McGurty and Cheryl Barron, all seniors, and Mary-Jo Scuderi, a junior. Adding to this nucleus will be Sue Belenets, June Glaser and Barbara Goldner, a freshman. Other members contributing to the varsity are Sue Sveatal and Ilene Powers.

The junior varsity also appears impressive with Terri Brand and Renee Allen returning to the lineup.

Regional netters play Union Catholic today

By MIKE MEIXNER

The 17-player Jonathan Dayton varsity tennis team, coached by Rick Iacono, will open its 1979 home season today with a promising outlook and plenty of depth. The squad was scheduled to open Tuesday at Gov. Livingston in Berkeley Heights and today will play Union Catholic. The team was impressive in a pre-season defeat of Hillside.

Gary Nestler, who battled at third singles last season, has vaulted to the top and competes at first singles. He had an excellent day in the opening scrimmage.

Gary Nestler, who battled at third singles last season, has vaulted to the top and competes at first singles. He had an excellent day in the opening scrimmage.

Sardin, Demark spark Nettes to 48-24 victory

The Springfield Nettes (6-6) defeated East Hanover, 48-24, in a recent Suburban Girls' Basketball League game in Springfield. The Nettes took a commanding 15-4 lead after the first quarter and increased the margin to 20-14 at the half. The Nettes outscored their opponents by nine points in the third quarter, to put the game out of reach.

Elinor Sardin led the Nettes with a season-high 14 points. She also led the team in rebounding. Jill Demark added 12 points (10 in the first half) while playing only three quarters. She led the team in steals and assists. Traci Karr, the starting center, scored nine points, a season high. Traci added rebounding and defensive strength. Mary Pat Arducci and Kathy Meixner, rounding out the starting five, added four points each. Both played a fine game, reacting well at both ends of the court. Beth Teitelbaum contributed a strong performance and four points. Kathy Drummond added a point while playing a solid game.

Joanna Cirelli, Maureen Smith, and Lori Pohlman also played.

Elinor Sardin was named player of the week after her fine performance.

Vastly-improved Greg Wanner competes at second singles for Dayton. A senior, Wanner dualed at the second doubles spot last year.

At third singles, sophomore Alan Berliner, a consistent player with varsity experience (he played first doubles as a freshman), has been very impressive in pre-season play. He topped his Hillside foe in two sets.

Mark Dooley, a junior, and Mike Clarke fill the first doubles spot with poise. Both competed in doubles last season and, with their added experience, should sparkle.

Two talented seniors tried out for the first time this year and have earned the berth at second doubles. Both Jim Reiner and Dave Gechlik should with time, improve. They romped in the Hillside match, working very well together.

Bob Steir and Danny Schlager appear to be coach Iacono's top hopes for the future. These freshman will help out greatly in future years. Freshmen Bill Koppel and Jon Stein also have earned spots on the varsity roster.

Sophomores Jack Chin, Steve Bloch and Steve Warner will all be competing on the team for a second year. These players, though not seeing much duty in matches, will boost the program's future.

Juniors Mike Pine and Jim Craner, also members of last year's outfit, are back to strengthen the Dayton reserve corps. Senior Dave Simon, another experienced veteran, will help.

Star watchers open doors for Space Day

Members of Amateur Astronomers, Inc. (AAI) will join other astronomy groups throughout the country to observe the first National Astronomy and Space Day on Saturday at the Sperry Observatory at Union College. George Chaplenko of Edison, president of AAI, said the observatory, which is operated jointly by AAI and Union College, will be open to the public beginning at 1 p.m. Members of AAI will give brief lectures on various aspects of astronomy, answer questions and make slide presentations on the space program and the space shuttle.

A "Star Party" is planned at dusk for viewing through the 24-inch reflector and 10-inch refractor telescopes. In addition, smaller telescopes will be set up on the grounds by AAI members who will explain to viewers what they are seeing.

This is a particularly good time to see Saturn and Jupiter, according to Arthur Cacella of East Brunswick, lecturer at Union College and education chairman of AAI.

"Saturn's rings are in the process of 'crossing,' and by October the rings will be on edge, or lined up, and will not be visible. Then Saturn will look like any other planet," Cacella said. This phenomenon occurs once in about every 15 years.

Viewers also will be able to see Jupiter's moons, "Io," "Ganymede" and others which were photographed by Explorer 1.

Observance of Astronomy Day was first initiated last year by a West Coast group called Astronomy for America to lead the public to a better awareness and understanding of astronomy and space science and to call attention to the observation facilities available in local areas. The idea was endorsed by the Astronomical League and most amateur and professional astronomical organizations, Chaplenko said. This phenomenon occurs once in about every 15 years.

Shadow Lake chief predicts '79 sellout

Kevork S. Hovnanian, president of Hovnanian Enterprises and founder of Shadow Lake Village, predicts that this adult community in Middletown will be sold out by September.

Shadow Lake, Hovnanian said, will close out its construction as one of the region's more successful condominium developments.

Since construction began in 1971, the rate of sales and values of Shadow Lake homes have both accelerated rapidly, he said. Annual sales during the first year, he noted, averaged around 80 homes while the current annual rate is almost 250 per year. The first models were priced from $27,990. New models are selling from $42,990 to $74,990.

The owner of one older model has just resold it for $99,000, according to Hovnanian. He said many original buyers have used appreciated equity to finance a second home in Florida. Many have purchased in one of two Hovnanian communities in Florida, he added.

Shadow Lake includes

cycling and nature walk trails, a trout-stocked lake for sailing and fishing, a large swimming pool, a clubhouse with sauna, gameroom, social and banquet facilities, lighted tennis courts and golf courses.

Shadow Lake's staff maintains all recreational facilities. A private security force mans a 24-hour guard house at the entrance and carries out regular patrols within Shadow Lake.

To qualify for residence at Shadow Lake, one member of the family must be at least 52 years of age.

Hovnanian said about 90 percent of the Shadow Lake residents moved there from elsewhere in New Jersey, including 60 percent from within 12 miles. Most formerly lived in single-family homes, he added. About half paid all cash, and more than two thirds of the families still have members in the work force.

Houses at Barnegat cheaper than renting

When it costs less to own a home than to pay a landlord each month, today's young marrieds will be among the first to find out about it.

At Barnegat Woods, small "hidden" community of two and three-bedroom attached ranch and townhouse homes in Barnegat, several young marrieds are making their first home their investment in the future at a monthly outlay of less money than they would be paying for rental of a home with less space!

"Why pay rent when you can own for so little?" one young wife said, stressing a trend that has surprised the developers of Barnegat Woods, which was planned as a 120-homes community and is already more than half sold out.

The attached homes of Barnegat Woods are not condominiums, so buyers do not have to pay monthly maintenance fees. Each home comes with its own land, sodded and landscaped, plus private parking in front. These are some of the plus-benefits that attract young buyers as homeowners.

The two-bedroom ranch at Barnegat Woods has a tremendous expanse of living-dining room that makes for easy decorating and easy entertaining. The three-bedroom townhouse has both formal living room and an oversized country kitchen-dining room arrangement that fits in well with today's casual lifestyle. The back yards of these homes spacious enough for outdoor entertaining during warm weather months, with plenty of space for barbecue and other outdoor treats. There is also an exterior storage shed, for furniture or lawn equipment.

Excellent financing of only five percent down payment lets young people begin owning a Barnegat Woods home for as low as $1,390, with monthly outlay after that about $275 for principle, interest and taxes—an exceptionally low cost for high value in good living.

New series is added at adult communities

Clearbrook and Rossmoor are sister adult condominium communities for adults over 48. It is 43 miles from mid-Manhattan, off Exit 8A of the New Jersey Turnpike in Monroe township.

From a living style viewpoint, residents here might be said to be having their cake and eating it too. They enjoy a way of life that is different, a mixture of country club and small town. They also get freedom from the arduous chores of house maintenance. A well-trained staff maintains the grounds and home exteriors; a gatekeeper and a roving security patrol protect each community 24 hours a day. All of the tax advantages and equity buildup of home ownership without any of the work and headaches are here.

When they step outside, it's like stepping out into a private country club with the huge sweep of lush lawns and well-cared-for, meticulous, colorful foundation planting accenting the individual homes.

Two clubhouses provide recreation. Each community has its own Olympic-size swimming pool, tennis and shuffleboard. Each clubhouse has fully equipped hobby rooms, library, meeting rooms and billiards. Each new series of has a private golf course: 18 holes at Rossmoor, nine holes at Clearbrook, making a total of 22 available at a nominal fee. models to choose from.

Deitz is given sales duties

The reassignment of Kandace Deitz of Union to sales associate of Jordan Baris, Inc., the Irvington-based real estate agency specializing in residential and investment properties, has been announced by Jordan Baris, president.

Deitz, who joined the firm as a secretary 18 months ago, "realized the potential in real estate sales and, although busily engaged in raising two young children, managed to complete a course in real estate and pass the New Jersey Board's examination," Baris said.

"Not only did she finish near the top of her class."

He added, "but, upon receiving her license, has been involved in several sales of homes. She has the personality and desire to become a leader in our field."

A graduate of Mountain High School in West Orange in 1967, Deitz was a secretary for one year and an administrative assistant for two years in a business machines firm before becoming what she calls "a full-time housewife and mother." She returned to the business world as a secretary at Jordan Baris in the summer of 1977.

Deitz lives in Union with her two children, Richard, 6, and Keri, 3.

The 26-year-old Baris agency, at 380 Stuyvesant Ave., Irvington, is headed by Jordan Baris. He is a past president of the Real Estate Board of Newark, Irvington and Hillside, North.

Panther Valley adds third townhome unit

The lure of Panther Valley's luxurious lifestyle has been so great that another section of medium-priced Country Townhomes—the third in a single year—is being opened in the exclusive community near Rt. 80 in Allamuchy, Charles Knoeller, sales director, announced.

The new section, featuring two- and three-bedroom townhomes priced from $71,900 to $91,600, is set among thickly wooded, rolling hills dotted with single-family homes.

One can take the winding road past the community's private recreation grounds—tennis, platform tennis, swimming and other activities—lakes and landscaped grounds to the property and enjoy a breath-taking view of the surrounding countryside.

"Panther Valley is known as the community for families who can afford to live anywhere," Knoeller stated, "but Country Townhomes are appealing to young people on their way up as well as couples whose children have grown and who no longer require large homes of their own. The three-bedroom models, of course, are ideal for couples with two children of any age."

Country Townhomes is one of three separate townhome neighborhoods at Panther Valley. There also are Westgate, with two-to-three-bedroom homes priced from $51,740 to $60,490, and Audubon Woods, with three-to-four bedrooms priced from $92,500 to $111,500.

Wherever one lives at Panther Valley, townhome or custom-built, single family home with extensive property priced at a quarter-million dollars and more, the privilege of enjoying a fabulous life-style is similar. All residents share the private tennis, platform tennis and swimming and the 1,600 acres of nature. Within Panther Valley is the Panther Valley Golf and Country Club, and its 18-hole championship course designed by Robert Trent Jones.

Only 55 miles from New York on express Rt. 80 and in the center of the New Jersey-Pennsylvania ski areas, residents also share the peace of mind derived by the 24-hour manned gatehouse and security patrols which ensure safety within the community. Road, snow removal, lawn care, exterior maintenance and other services are provided through the homeowners' association.

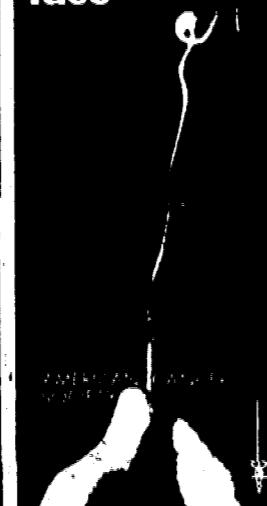

There is an attractive, Colonial-style shopping center just outside the community gates, and the area boasts some of the finest public and private schools in the state.

"The population of Panther Valley is growing more rapidly than we anticipated," Knoeller pointed out, "mostly because residents have discovered how quickly they can commute and they tell their friends about it. The way the community is planned, however, it cannot be over-populated. There will always be woods and green fields, and the high stone cliffs with panoramic view...as well as spaciousness of the rooms themselves."

"More and more families are discovering that it's not only a prestigious community where they meet other professional people and business executives, but one of the best investments they can make."

To visit Panther Valley, take Rt. 80 west to the Andover-Hackettstown exit. Turn left. The community entrance will be on your right approximately $\frac{1}{4}$ of a mile ahead. The community is being developed by Mathews-Phillips Management Co.

Couple sent packing--for a 10-day cruise

Lions Head, the popular new community for active adults in Bricktown, announced that it is sending one active couple "packing."

Mr. and Mrs. Richard F.O'Brien are the winners of the community's Caribbean sweepstakes, so they will be packing for a 10-day, all-expense paid cruise aboard the Home Lines "Doric," compliments of Lions Head.

To qualify for the drawing, all participants had to do was visit the Lions Head sales display in Bricktown. "We know we've got an exciting, glamorous, adult lifestyle here," explained Bill Ferry, vice-president and marketing director for Lions Head. "So to call the public's attention to it, we offered this exciting, glamorous sweepstakes."

Based on their introductory sales figures, the public is already well aware of Lions Head, however. In fact, the first section proved so popular that Section II is almost ready to open—months ahead of schedule.

Each Lions Head home includes two bedrooms, up to two full baths and standard features like central air conditioning, upgraded wall-to-wall carpeting, deluxe GE appliances, genuine oak kitchen cabinetry, R-30 ceiling insulation, sheetrocked garage and screened terraces. Five basic model designs are available, with 12 different exteriors and as many pits, illuminated shufoptional floorplan designs. Prices range from $43,990 to $54,990.

Lions Head has a thorough list of glamorous extras, too. This resort-at-home community offers tennis courts, swimming pool, sundeck, horseshoe shuffleboard courts, barbecue pits and a lavish private clubhouse with billiards, card, craft and game rooms. A nine-hole golf course that will surround a private lake $\frac{1}{4}$ mile from Lions Head is proposed, as well as an elaborate waterfront facility on Barnegat Bay, that will offer swimming, fishing, boating, sunbathing and a wildlife observatory. Both will be available to residents for a nominal membership charge.

While active adults lifestyle are too late for the Caribbean cruise, they can still find plenty of other attractions at Lions Head. The models are open from 9 to 5 daily. Directions and further information is available by calling 920-8300

Down payment low at Barnegat

Down payment low at Barnegat

Excellent location and construction plus low cost of purchase and low upkeep spell out a variety of uses for the two and three-bedroom attached homes of Barnegat Woods, "hidden" community of fine homes in Barnegat's bay-side township.

Offering two-bedroom ranch homes and three-bedroom townhouses, all attached, Barnegat Woods is priced from $26,990. Excellent financing with down payment as low as $1,390 makes Barnegat Woods available as full year-round home or as second home for vacation use in the shore area.

Pre-retirees and retirees equally find the community inviting, reports JoAnn LaTerra, who is both sales director and production supervisor. "This makes for an interesting mix of residents," she points out, adding that investors have also found Barnegat Woods to be well worth looking into.

The community is not a condominium, so there are no monthly maintenance fees. The location is near Barnegat Bay, between Garden State Parkway Exit 67 and Route 9. Marinas, fishing and bathing are nearby at the Bay.

Homes include wall-to-wall carpeting, excellent insulation, well designed kitchens and both front and back yards. There is private parking at the rear where sliding glass doors from dining areas lead to patios. Various buildings that are divided into the two-story townhouses and the ranch homes have different exterior coloring and materials, so there is strong individuality in exterior appearance of the homes.

Two model apartments have been decorated for visitors' better understanding of the wide space usage, stressing the versatility of formal and informal living areas. A country kitchen-dining room arrangement is featured in the three-bedroom townhouse, and the two-bedroom ranch offers a tremendous expanse of living and dining room that favors entertaining formality as well as at-home casual days a week, at Bowline Woods.

Barnegat Woods sales office and decorated models are open seven days a week, at Bowline Woods.

Closets are abundant throughout all the homes of Barnegat Woods.

What's hotter than the balmy Florida sunshine? Sales at La Pinata Condominiums at Pine Ridge, Hovnanian's new adult community in the beautiful Palm Beaches.

What's so hot about Pine Ridge? Everything. And that's why smart New Jerseyans have been hurrying down here with their sunglasses on and their checkbooks out. In fact, Sections I and II were virtually sold out in just 12 weeks (that's almost 1 year faster than we anticipated!) So we locked our engineers and planners behind closed doors, and made them work overtime to get Pine Ridge III ready for you—a full year ahead of schedule!

Now here it is . . . Pine Ridge III. And it's just as hot as our earlier sections. For a lot of dazzling reasons. Like our five spacious 1-bedroom, 1-bedroom plus den and two-bedroom models, for one. With plush carpeting, Central air conditioning. Screened terraces. Modern, equipped kitchens. Plus a private swim club, shuffleboard courts, picnic groves and acres of nature, lakes and landscaping.

Another reason for our sizzling sales success is price. Just $29,950 to $36,250 for some of the best looking homes south of the Mason-Dixon line.

But perhaps as important as anything else is Hovnanian's extraordinary guarantee: when you buy a home at Pine Ridge now, Hovnanian promises—in writing—that your maintenance costs will stay from $23 to $29 a month for at least the next five years! Guaranteed!

And the good news doesn't stop there. If you reserve a home in New Jersey, and sign a sales contract after flying down to visit Pine Ridge in Florida, your airfare will be deducted from the purchase price of your home.

Now you know where New Jersey is moving—and why. If you've been thinking about a vacation, retirement or permanent home in Florida, you'd better get moving, too. To one of Hovnanian's convenient New Jersey sales exhibits. You'll discover values you didn't think existed in 1979. And a way of life that doesn't exist anywhere else.

To get to the sales exhibit in Manalapan, take the Garden State Parkway south to Exit 123 and proceed south on Route 9 for 9 miles to Hovnanian's Covered Bridge.

To reach the sales exhibit in Middletown, take the Garden State Parkway south to Exit 114. Turn left on Red Hill Road for 2/10 mile, then right on Dwight Road (which becomes Nut Swamp Road/Hubbard Road after 1 1/2 miles) and proceed approximately 3 miles to Hovnanian's Shadow Lake Village.

Open every day until 6 p.m. Or call 536-5440 (Manalapan) or 842-9402 (Middletown.)

Salesman gets 'unique' award

Joseph Santoro, Union County sales representative for Archie Schwartz Co., East Orange based Realtors, was awarded by Elmer Schwartz, president of the firm, the annual president's award for the most unique transaction of the year involving the huge former Pyro Plastics plant on Chestnut Street, Union.

Santoro arranged the simultaneous sale and leasing to six firms of the entire plant area. In order to arrange the financing for the vacated plant, it was necessary for the company to obtain commitments for 100 percent occupancy, which was arranged in a three-week period.

Disc & Data

By MILTHAMMER

Pick Of The LP's: HOG HEAVEN: by Elvin Bishop (CAPRICORN CPN-0215).

The Tulsa-born Bishop began his career when he went to the University of Chicago as a National Merit Scholar in the early '60s and ran into Paul Butterfield. After a stint with the legendary Butterfield Blues Band, Elvin formed his own band and embarked on a prolific career.

After a few albums, he came to Capricorn Records in 1974 with the pivotal LP "Let It Flow." His exposure as a good-rockin' performer and recording artist grew through "Juke Joint Jump" and then Elvin exploded in 1976 with "Struttin' My Stuff," which spawned the smash gold single "Fooled Around And Fell In Love."

The logical followup was "Hometown Boy Makes Good," and then in 1977 came the live double LP "Raisin' Hell," a cross-section of Elvin's best to that point.

The albums show a consummate musician, one of the finest guitarists in the world, and a man who's not afraid to rock and roll. As he explained, none of that's changed, he's just decided to show people that this artist can successfully touch on different styles—while retaining the unique Bishop brand of rock and roll.

Recorded at the Automatt in San Francisco, "Hog Heaven" proudly displays lots of Elvin's friends and a potpourri of some of the finest musicians around.

"Some of the material," Elvin notes, "has been around for a while, just like 'Fooled Around' had been, and then some of it's new."

Some of the many highlights are the rollicking "It's A Feeling" sporting a vocal duet with Elvin and Maria Muldaur, greatly enhanced by keyboard whiz Phil Aaberg's saloon-style "fack" piano. "Arkansas" is closer to the familiar funlovin', boisterous Elvin, was its cooking shuffle and stinging guitar licks.

Fashion show will aid opera

The Greater Newark Chapter of the Friends of the New Jersey State Opera will hold its annual fashion show on Thursday, May 3, at the Newark Museum. The show, with fashions by Saks Fifth Avenue, will begin at 11:30 a.m. with champagne and refreshments in the Museum Garden.
