Financial data listed by Boright, Cassidy

Patrick Cassidy and Walter Boright, the Democratic candidates for Assembly in the 22nd legislative district, have issued a joint statement disclosing their sources of income and land holdings.

Although the public interest organization, Common Cause, only suggests disclosure of present income sources over $2,000 annually, we believe that an income history over a longer period of time would more accurately reveal potential conflicts of interest," the candidates declared.

Accordingly Cassidy, currently serving as Fifth Ward Councilman in Rahway stated that his only major income source from the time he completed his graduate studies in 1967 up to 1977 was his salary as research scientist at Merck Sharp and Dohme Research Laboratories in Rahway.

Since 1977 he has also received the councilman's salary. Cassidy also stated that he receives less than $1000 yearly from interest on savings accounts and dividends on Merck stock. His land holdings include his residence at 836 Stone st., Rahway and a partial interest in a residence at 90 E. Highland ave., Atlantic Highlands, where his mother and brother live.

Walter Boright reported that he began full employment as an educator in the Clark school system in 1966, a position he still holds. In 1975 he was elected a member of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders, a salaried post. He states that these two positions provide his only major income sources. Boright stating that the income sources of a candidate's spouse should also be disclosed, reported that his wife Pamela has been a full-time teacher with the Linden Board of Education since 1968. The only real estate owned by the Borights was listed.

as the family residence at 7 Homestead terr., Scotch Plains.

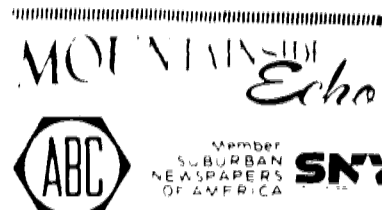

Cassidy and Boright both stated that because of the inherent potential conflict of interest, each would resign his current elected position if successful in his bid for the Assembly in November.

Sprachschule opens Sept. 8

The Deutsche Sprachschule, Inc. will open Sept. 8 with registration on that date and Sept. 15 and 22 between 9 and 11 a.m. at Franklin School, Julian Terrace off Oakland ave., Union.

Cancer agency calls for kits

The Union County Unit of the American Cancer Society this week appealed to all county residents to turn in kits distributed to them during the annual residential crusade. All kits must be in by tomorrow to be counted as part of the unit's 1979 crusade. At present, the unit is $30,000 short of its $260,000 goal.

Contributions to the unit support transportation, rehabilitative training, counseling and dressings which are provided free of charge, as well as loan distribution of hospital beds, wheelchairs and other medical appliances. Free cancer education programs are provided to schools, businesses, hospitals, clubs and industries.

"The fact remains that we must raise money to continue to offer these services to the people of Union County," Herb Lutz said.

AVOID BURN
Be sure and wrap packages headed for the freezer carefully.
Improperly wrapped packages usually allow air to enter, drawing moisture from the meat. The result is "freezer burn"—meat which is dry and less flavorful.

THOUGHT FOR FOOD

New Potatoes, Green Beans
Wash and break off ends of 2 pounds fresh green beans. I like to leave them whole, but they can be broken into pieces. Put in a large kettle and cover with hot water. Add 1/2 pound of salt-pork, 1 red pepper pod and salt to taste. Push salt pork into center of beans, cover, bring to a boil, lower heat and simmer for an hour. Add as little water as necessary to keep them from scorching and continue to simmer until tender or rather almost tender, because you add the potatoes, and maybe a little more salt.

Wash the little new potatoes — I don't peel them — and place on top of the beans. Cook until potatoes are done. This should serve 4 to 6 and is a good fresh vegetable dish.

Series to begin on 'Technology'

This newspaper will carry a series of weekly articles on "Historical Connections: Technology and Change," beginning Sept. 8, as part of a course-by-newspaper being conducted during the fall semester at Union College, Cranford.

The three-credit course involves the reading of articles on the controversial subject of technology and its relation to society, as well as class attendance at Union College every other week. In addition, the reading and class work are supplemented by 10 television shows on the subject produced by BBC-Time Life.

The articles, written for the course by authorities on the subject, are provided through University Extension at the University of California at San Diego, which runs the course-by-newspaper program. The project is funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities.

The course will be conducted in three sections, a Tuesday morning section at Union County Technical Institute and Monday Morning and Tuesday evening sections at Union College.

The institute course meets on alternate Tuesdays from 8 to 9:45 a.m., starting on Sept. 18. The courses at the college meet on alternate Mondays from 10 to 11:50 a.m., starting Oct. 1 and on alternate Tuesday evenings from 6 to 7:50 starting Oct. 2.

"Historical Connections: Technology and Change" will explore the controversies involving science, technology and society by examining the nature of technological development in an historical context. The program, which will relate the history of technology to contemporary problem, will utilize selected technological innovations to show how each has affected individuals and societies.

In addition to class discussion, newspaper reading and TV viewing, students will use a study guide, reader and TV viewer's guide.

The Union College sections will be taught by Dr. Donald N. Anderson, associate professor of history and urban studies.

'Quiet' homes available at 3 Williamsburg sites

One of the best ways to judge the structural values of a home is to listen to it, according to Dom Martelli, president of Williamsburg Associates, the homebuilding firm developing three single-family home communities in Monmouth County.

"A well-built home is a quiet home," Martelli contends. "And to have a home turn out quiet means a lot of extra noise and effort in construction stages."

Homes within Williamsburg at Colts Neck, Williamsburg at Manalapan and Woodlake Heights in Middletown, therefore, undergo sound-silencing virtually unparalleled in the homebuilding industry today. In building the living area floors, for example, a Redex underflooring is first glued and nailed to the floor beams. Then a 3/4-inch Homosote carpet underlayment is nailed on top. Then the carpet padding is put down, and finally a thick wall-to-wall carpet is attached on top. As a result, Williamsburg home floors are as quiet as they are luxurious.

The bathroom floors (there are 2 1/2 in each Williamsburg model) also are exceptionally-crafted. Concrete is laid evenly over the entire floor area and then the tile is put in.

Williamsburg home window parts are sprayed with a silicone coating that facilitates smoother, quieter operation. The steel front doors seal out both temperature and sound. The thick, R-13 wall insulation and R-30 ceiling insulation also contribute to a more quiet home. And since each home is set on a generous one-third or one-half acre property, the residences are also quiet in privacy.

To make sure that people, as well as floorboards and walls, don't go bump in the night, all Williamsburg home closets have lights. And all lighting fixtures have bulbs in them, so that moving won't be an exercise in night maneuvers.

Also included in the standard price (from $96,400) of the homes of Williamsburg at Manalapan homes, located off Gordons Corner road, two miles in from Rt. 9, are woodburning fireplaces and central air-conditioning. Williamsburg at Colts Neck is situated just off Phalanx road near Parkway Exit 109, offering custom homes priced from $169,000. And Woodlake Heights, off Nut Swamp road in Middletown, offers seven two-story home models priced from $113,900.

The builders of the quiet homes have been making noise in the home development industry for more than 15 years, and have delivered more than 500 elegant residences. Williamsburg Associates is headquartered in Shrewsbury.

"FOR PEOPLE WHO WEREN'T BORN YESTERDAY"

Area legislators praised by group

Common Cause of the 12th Congressional District of New Jersey passed, by unanimous vote, a resolution of commendation for the four state assemblymen in the district who voted for A-1878. The bill requires limited financial disclosure for appointed and elected officials. These assemblymen are Louis Bassano (R., 20th District), Chuck Hardwick (R., 20th), Raymond Lesniak (D., 21st), and William Maguire (R., 22d). Having passed the assembly, A-1878 is now being considered by the state senate. It requires disclosure of sources of income (not amounts) over $2,000 per year.

Joseph P. Stoner, Common Cause coordinator for the 12th District, stated, "This bill is a vital part of our agenda for restoring the greatly weakened popular confidence in our governmental institutions and officials. We are working actively for passage."

Common Cause is the 1970 former secretary of citizens' action organization founded in HEW.

Water bath canners require correct use

By DONNA PATEREK
 Extention
 Home Economist
 Many people are beginning to realize that the boiling-water bath canner is being recommended for many items, including tomatoes, making pickles and jams, preserves and marmalades.

The boiling-water bath canner kills yeasts, molds and bacteria that cannot live at 212 degrees F. It also creates a vacuum enabling the jars to seal themselves.
 In selecting a water bath canner, the most important item to remember is size. It must be large enough so the jars on the rack inside the canner have at least two inches headroom for the water to be boiling constantly and not spilling over. A 33-quart Boiling-Water Bath Canner would be suitable to process 1/2 pint jars, but is not deep enough for quart jars.

 To use your canner correctly, put it on the stove and fill it halfway with water, put a rack in the bottom, and turn on the heat.

Prepare the food for canning according to instructions; packing it in clean, scalded, containers and putting on lids as directed.

Jars of raw (cold) food must never be put in boiling water because the glass might crack; however, if the food in the jars is very hot, you can put them in without fear of breakage.

Process one type of food, in one-size container. Use jar-lifters to lift and lower jars into the hot water. Place them away from the sides of the canner and about one inch apart, so the boiling water will be able to circulate freely around them. If your batch is too small to make a full canner-load, submerge open jars in the empty spaces to keep your capped jars of food from shifting around as they boil.

Chain opening first Plus units

The first Plus discount food stores, offering savings of as much as 30 percent on quality food and general merchandise products have been opened in South Plainfield and Bayonne with some 50 more scheduled to open in the next six months.

The new facilities stock about 850 grocery products, including produce, dairy items, frozen foods, canned hams, bacon, luncheon meats, health and beauty aids, and general merchandise. About half the first-line products sold are packaged under the private label, "Plus," many of them processed in A&P-owned facilities.

Operated by Plus Discount Foods, Inc., a subsidiary of A&P, the new units are able to offer low prices by keeping operating expenses at a minimum. Customers serve themselves from product cartons and bag or box their purchases.

Only cash and food stamps are accepted. Checks are not cashed nor are manufacturers' coupons redeemed. Fritz Teelen, president of the new A&P subsidiary, formerly operated limited-assortment units for the Tengelmann Group, which earlier this year purchased a major share of A&P stock. The layout and product offering of the new Plus stores are modeled on their popular German counterpart, Teelen said.

"The limited-assortment concept of providing low prices by reducing operating expenses has a particular appeal to bargain-conscious shoppers," Teelen noted. "Plus offers top quality national brand and private label products. The Plus line of products are comparable to the best items offered in competing supermarkets," he said.

First Jersey tabs manager, vice-presidents

The appointment of Silvana Buccianti as manager of the Union branch office has been announced by Thomas J. Stanton Jr., chairman of First Jersey National Bank. He also announced that Frederick Miller has joined First Jersey as vice-president in the systems and programming department. Miller, who had been with Equitable Life Assurance in New York, was graduated from Princeton with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering.

Edward Gurskis was promoted to vice-president, assigned to the Belmar Region.

Buccianti, the new manager of the Union branch, joined First Jersey's management team in June 1974. She was promoted to administrator in 1977 and most recently was assistant manager of the Central Avenue Branch. Buccianti, who was graduated by Rutgers University with a bachelor of arts degree in French, resides with her husband in Bayonne.

First Jersey National Bank, headquartered in Jersey City since 1864, has 27 offices in Hudson, Bergen, Monmouth, Essex, Union and Ocean Counties.

'Sunday close' ballot is sought

Union County Freeholder Chairman Everett C. Lattimore this week announced a petition drive to place the Sunday closing laws on the November ballot. The petitions must be filed by Sept. 21.

Union County is one of 10 counties in the state that still observe the blue laws. Lattimore said 25,000 signatures are needed to place the question on the ballot. The petitions must be filed by Sept. 21.

The Board of Freeholders unanimously passed a resolution earlier this year calling for the referendum.

Lattimore stressed that the petitions are not meant to establish a pro or con position regarding the Sunday closing laws on the part of the freeholders. Rather, they are an attempt to have county residents themselves determine whether Union County will continue to observe the blue laws, he said.

LEAP YEAR
 Leap year occurs every fourth year when the month of February has 29 days instead of the customary 28. This is to compensate for the fact that the year in the Gregorian calendar is actually one fourth of a day shorter than the astronomical year. Thus, every fourth year it is necessary to have a year of 366 days, rather than 365.

Fund drive set by United Way

The United Way of Eastern Union County will kick off its 1979-80 fund-raising campaign Wednesday at the United Jersey Bank, 12-23 Broad st., Elizabeth, according to Joan K. Corbet, president. A luncheon and volunteer training session will be held from noon until 2 p.m.

This year, the campaign goal is $1.187 million for the 40 member agencies in Eastern Union County.

"We hope to continue the United Way tradition of successful fund-raising. The citizens of Eastern Union County gave us a tremendous amount of support last year, and I know that we can depend on them again. Their one donation helps in so many ways, and they know it is used where it is needed most," said C. Alan Spaes, general campaign chairman. Spaes is a vice president of the United Jersey Bank.

Slomkowski seeks moped law giving municipality jurisdiction

Union County Freeholder Edward Slomkowski has called for immediate passage of legislation pending before the New Jersey Legislature dealing with juveniles 15 and 16 years of age who commit traffic violations while operating mopeds.

"The current law holds that juveniles committing traffic violations in this age bracket are handled by the juvenile court," he said. "The new legislation would allow the traffic violations to be handled in the municipal courts."

Slomkowski, a police officer in Union Township, warned: "The increased use of these mopeds and the inability of these youngsters to handle them on our streets and roads makes me think we are on the road to tragedy needlessly."

Youngsters who operate mopeds and commit traffic violations should receive the same treatment as any other traffic violator, he said. "These laws," added Slomkowski, "are for their own protection. I don't think these youngsters understand that we want them to have the mopeds, but we also want them to use them in a manner that will insure their safety and the safety of the motoring public."

He proposed that the state Division of Motor Vehicles issue an immediate order requiring proof of age for the issuance of a permit to operate mopeds.

Children 13 and 14 years old are acquiring permits from the Division of Motor Vehicles, since they are not required to produce proof of age, he said. "Additionally," he said, "these 13- and 14-year-olds simply allow the permit to expire and then ask for a new one. They feel this can keep them on the roads indefinitely."

Slomkowski said he will introduce a resolution at a Board of Freeholders meeting calling for passage of the bill and urge Union County municipal governments to do the same. "Anyone who has witnessed these mopeds and their youthful operators in action," he concluded, "shares my concern and nervousness for their personal safety."

Revelers plan Coward show

The Revelers of Rahway will open their season with "Oh Coward," a musical revue by Noel Coward, Sept. 7. It will run every Friday and Saturday night through Oct. 13, except Oct. 6, at the Kings Row, 169 West Main st., Rahway. Reservations may be made by calling 574-1255.

The production stars Norman Noll of Union and Pat Bradley of Irvington.

Dinner is served upstairs in the Kings Row restaurant starting at 6:30 p.m. Curtain time is 8:30 downstairs in the Revelers cafe-style theatre.

Meeting slated by Choristers

The Choristers of Union, formerly the Exxon Choristers of Linden, will hold an open house at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 11 at the Recreation Center, 881 Stuyvesant ave., Union.

Former members and those interested in joining are invited to attend, according to Dr. Anthony J. Godfieski of Roselle, conductor. He said anyone who can't attend should call 241-3954 after 6 p.m. for further information.

The 35-voice chorus is beginning its second year under the sponsorship of the Union Recreation Department. It sings Broadway hits, nostalgic favorites, folk music and some serious music, Godfieski said.

2 are selected to pilot booters

Tommy McDonald and Ray Downey, former professional soccer players from Elizabeth, will coach the Newark Rutgers soccer team.

Both are United States Soccer Federation coaches. McDonald is state youth coach and Downey is head coach of the Elizabeth City Recreation soccer programs. They also have worked at soccer camps in the state.

Velour easy to sew—but it requires care

By CAROLYN Y. HEALEY, Extension Home Economist

If you thought velour garments were costly last year, a look at prices this year should get you busy sewing one, suggests Mrs. Carolyn Y. Healey, Extension Home Economist. The cost will be about a third that of ready-to-wear.

Velour is perhaps even more popular this season than last because it is suitable for garments for men, women and children. You will be assured success in this sewing venture if a few pointers are followed:

When choosing a pattern, look for one designed for "stretch knits only" or look for the listing of velour as one of the suggested fabrics on the back of the pattern envelope.

When purchasing the velour, look or ask for the care information. Most velour is machine-washable and should be

Tailored look for men

Tailored silhouettes, accented with pleats, gathers and tucks, are shaping up fall 1979 men's wear. Also in store are slightly brighter colors, with special color excitement in the new iridescents.

Fashionable fabrics containing polyester are ideal for winter wear because they are easy to care for and keep their fresh, neat looks, even under bulky outerwear.

Classic fabrics such as tweeds are appearing in trousers, jackets and suits with neat clean lines this fall. Look for a lighter color story here, too, in blue, brown, tan and grey suits and pants.

Casual wear comes in even lighter colors. Its epitome is the iridescent shades seen in many of fall's fashion shirts. Eye-pleasing plaid patterns also are popular selections in shirts.

Fall '79 shirt detailing is soft and updated: collars are smaller and slightly rounder; yokes may be gathered for a leisure look or designed in a Western style. Look for plenty of pockets, too. These popular accents appear everywhere, from shirts and tops to pants and vests.

Today's busy man will enjoy the fall silhouettes with softened lines providing comfortable fit.

PARKS COSTS

A recent survey on our National Parks System revealed that more Americans are concerned with the money being invested in their parks. In 1955 only 21 percent of those surveyed felt "not enough" was invested; in 1978, at least 51 percent felt not enough money was spent on their parks.

EASY ELEGANCE—Pleated trousers of Kodel polyester, cotton and wool, by Metro Slack offer fashion flair for fall. In brown or grey, they're versatile enough to wear with a wide range of contemporary shirts and jackets.

Schools to open; fewer to go

August 23, 1978

The downward trend in enrollment that has been seen in area schools in recent years will continue when classes reopen after Labor Day.

Despite the drop, however, many schools will inaugurate new programs when the fall term gets under way. Many also will welcome new staff members, including some in top administrative positions.

Union

Union public schools, where continuing declines in enrollment have left vacant classroom space, will expand their services this year to those outside the usual school age - from four-year-olds to senior citizens. Classes begin Sept. 6.

A pre-school program which got under way as a pilot project on a half-year basis in 1978-79 will grow into a full-year program in 1979-80.

At the other end of the age scale, the Board of Education is making one wing of Burnet Junior High School available to the Township Committee for a municipally-operated senior citizens center.

The pre-school and senior citizens programs will make use of rooms that otherwise might have been left empty by the steady drop in the school population that began more than six years ago.

Enrollment in the public schools is expected to go down by about 200 again this year, the same rate as in recent years, to a total of approximately 6,500.

Springfield

Public-school enrollment declines in the Springfield area, exceeding 8 percent during the 1978-79 academic year, are expected at a slower rate during the 1979-80 term which will start officially Sept. 5.

Springfield Township schools are preparing for opening day enrollment of about 1,090 children in kindergarten through eighth grade (K-8), according to Fred Baruchin, Ph.D., superintendent of the system. This would be a drop of less than 7 percent from the previous September.

At Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Principal Anne Romano expects 1,147 students this year, a decline of about 3 percent.

While Sept. 5 will be the official opening day, teachers of both public-school systems, K-8 and 9-12, will be back on campus one day earlier.

The K-8 system also plans a repeat of its community splash party, popular last year, on the day before school. Bringing their own picnic suppers and swim suits, parents and children will meet informally with school personnel and the board of education from 5 to 8 p.m. Sept. 4 at the municipal swimming pool.

A more traditional pre-school orientation is planned again for Dayton freshmen - from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Sept. 4 on campus.

Only a partial day of classes is planned for K-8 children on Sept. 5.

Opening day will be Thursday, Sept. 6, for pupils in grades one through eight at the parochial school, St. James, located in Springfield and also serving part of Union. But teachers will be back on campus two days earlier.

Mountainside

Beechwood and Deerfield schools will open their doors to students on Sept. 5, but will end classes on 1 p.m. the first day. The new principal at Beechwood is James Johnson, and the new principal for Deerfield is Allan Shapiro.

Our Lady of Lourdes School will start classes Sept. 6, and will also dismiss classes at 1 p.m. the first day. Among the new features of the school's extra-curricular activities will be an arts and crafts program and an after-school enrichment program.

Jonathan Dayton Regional High School will start classes Sept. 4 with a freshman orientation schedule that will end at 11:30 a.m. Full classes begin the next day.

Roselle

A projected enrollment of 2,600 pupils is forecast for the opening of Roselle public schools early next month. The forecast figure represents a slight decrease from the 2,637 student body when school closed in June.

Assistant Superintendent of Schools Leonard Moore said the decrease is not unexpected.

A child entering kindergarten in Roselle must be five years old as of next Dec. 31.

Classes will open on Wednesday, Sept. 5, for all grade levels.

One top-level administrative post remains to be filled by the board of education. A principalship vacancy was created earlier this summer when Walter Reutter resigned the position at Grace Wilday School.

Roselle Park

Roselle Park's 1979-80 school year will get under way next month with two new faces in top administrative positions.

Ernest J. Finizio Jr. has succeeded John S. Linscott Jr. as superintendent of schools and Anthony Basto has replaced Finizio as principal of Aldene School. Basto moved up to the principalship from assistant principal of the Middle School. The latter position has not yet been filled by the board of education.

Finizio said he expects a district-wide enrollment of 2,202, a slight decrease from the 1978-79 school year.

All schools will be open from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3 p.m. on Sept. 4, for registration of children new to Roselle Park.

Schools in Roselle Park will open Sept. 5. All grade levels (1-12) will have a full school day.

A modified kindergarten schedule will be in effect Sept. 5 and Sept. 6.

Finizio said the lunch program in all schools will begin on the first day of school.

Linden

A new program for gifted and talented students will be instituted on the elementary school level in Linden. A total of 34 students, chosen from both the fifth and sixth grades, will take part in the program.

According to the schools superintendent A.R. Taranto, the program will be on "a one-year trial basis." If successful, it will most likely be expanded, he said.

All Linden schools will start classes Sept. 5.

Linden High School has a new principal, Alvin Coplin. He leaves his post as principal at McManus Junior High

The high school also has a new vice principal, Michael DiMichele, formerly a social studies teacher at the school.

Filling the vacancy at McManus will be Joseph Placa.

Arthur Boyd was appointed assistant principal at Soehl Junior High School.

Enrollment in Linden schools will be down to about 5,000, from 5,200 last year, according to Taranto.

Roselle Catholic

A new administration, headed by principal Anthony LaPolla, will guide Roselle Catholic High School for the 1979-80 school year.

"The administration will be dedicated to upgrading the academic standards of the school," declared LaPolla, who pointed out that the administrators have spent much of the summer working on school policies.

"We are attempting to improve the school not only in the area of academics, but also in the area of discipline," said LaPolla, who succeeds Brother Leo Francis as principal.

The new assistant principal for academics is Brother Thomas Potenza, who has been at the school since 1975, serving as chairman of the English department. The new assistant principal for student affairs is Robert O'Connor, a faculty member since 1971.

Roselle Girls Catholic

Students entering Roselle Girls Catholic High School next month will find "a new look" awaiting them.

A summer-long project has involved the painting of corridors, classrooms and gym.

Faculty orientation and preparation days will be held on Sept. 4, 5 and 6 and freshmen orientation is scheduled for Sept. 7.

All students will report at 9 a.m. on Monday, Sept. 10, for a half-day session. The regular schedule of classes will begin the following day.

Kenilworth

Full-time instruction for Kenilworth students will begin Sept. 5.

Harding School will open Sept. 5 with an enrollment of 810 students, and with an average class size of 22 children.

Anthony V. Richel, formerly the principal of Harding School, is now the acting superintendent of the Kenilworth school system and Frederick Rica has been appointed acting principal of Harding School.

The school cafeteria will be open to serve all students on the first day of the school year, and students may either bring bag lunches or purchase hot meals in the school lunchroom. Kindergarten pupils will get milk at recess time.

David Brearley Regional High School will open its doors to freshmen on Sept. 4 for an orientation, and full classes will begin Sept. 5. The high school will have seven school periods instead of eight. This provides for three 28-minute lunch periods during fifth period.

Unlike the year before, all lunches will be in closed lunchrooms.

HOUSEHOLD HEADS

By 1990 it is expected that 22 million "heads" of the household will be between 25 and 35 years of age. However, in 1970 there were only 10.5 million heads of the household between 25 and 35 years of age.

What's in is in, is in, is in!

The most fashion-conscious female in the world may be the 11- or 12-year-old in the act of choosing new clothes.

She welcomes mommy's advice, naturally. But try to shift that whim of steel from the look that she and her set have decided is in. Right then, parental guidance is out the window.

Fortunately, the young recently rediscovered shape, quality and idleness, just like their elders. The dirty jeans syndrome is less and less in evidence for Fall 1979.

College examines homemaker needs

The Division of Community Education at Middlesex County College Edison has uncovered a hidden population in need of guidance.

Under the direction of Dean Anita Voorhees, the state's first county-wide comprehensive needs assessment of displaced homemakers was conducted.

The project, completed in June, was funded by the State Division of Vocational Education Consumer-Homemaking. The survey was done by experienced telephone interviewers who spoke to a total of 267 displaced homemakers out of 7,159 households contacted in Middlesex County.

Ponti predicts styles for fall

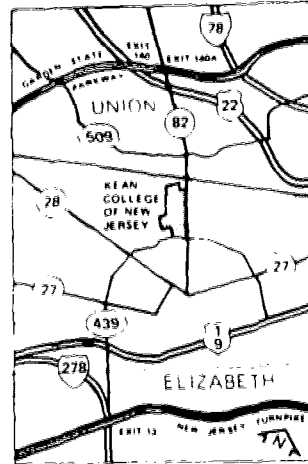

Gino of Ponti Bros. 336 Chestnut street, Union, this week predicted, excitement and change will run high in fall and winter 1979-80 styling. Well tailored and ingeniously constructed clothing will allow a man to be impeccably dressed without discomfort. I feel that a variety of trend will emerge for different functions... with men looking more sophisticated and elegant, or just well dressed in a more leisurely mode.

"Masculinity and style will be highlighted by a more American silhouette featuring the soft V, or wedge body shoulders which are padded and broader, lapels are narrow, with a straighter hanging back. Trousers can be plain or pleated. Vests are still very important for fall in the updated traditional fashion.

"In sportswear the look will be loose, soft and relaxed, beautifully tailored, full or medium structured. Shoulders can be with or without padding if draped well. This look could be called either sportswear or leisure wear, but if correctly fabricated and color coordinated, it will provide the consumer with many sophisticated fashion alternatives."

PEOPLE PER MILE

The first census was taken in the United States during 1790 and 865,000 square miles housed a little under four million people—4.5 per square mile. However, since then the land area has tripled but the population has multiplied at least 55 times and there are 61 persons per square mile.

College plans sponsorship of course on TV

Middlesex County College Division of Continuing Education recently presented a special preview of the television segment of "Connections" a three credit telecourse planned for the fall semester.

Students can earn college credits in the convenience of their homes by viewing the series on a public television station and reading 15 companion newspaper articles and textbook assignments.

Diane Bauer, director of independent study at MCC, said "Connections" is a unique study of ideas, inventions, and happenings that have resulted in a major technology explosion.

"Connections" is an unfolding detective story, filmed by the British Broadcasting Corporation, in 19 countries and 150 locations," Bauer continued. "The series spans locations ranging from exotic temples and old battlefields to the White House and modern research centers.

Each program traces the chain of circumstances leading the world through the centuries of technological advancement up to the present time.

Class members will meet three or more times during the semester for discussion and testing purposes.

The course is scheduled to begin in late September. Interested students should contact the Division of Continuing Education, Middlesex County College at 548-8000, extension 290-269.

Union College will offer wider course selection

Several new degree programs, new courses, an expanded "Weekend-Weekday" college program, and a larger continuing education program will result in a wider variety of study choices as Union College Cranford, begins its 46th academic year this fall.

Anticipated enrollment in degree programs for the fall semester is more than 5,000 students, including 2,000 full-time and 3,000 part-time. They will choose from 28 programs, three of them new this year, according to Dr. Saul Orkin, president of the college. The fall semester opens on Sept. 4.

In-person registration for the Fall Semester will be held at the Cranford Campus on Aug. 28, 29 and 30 from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. An admissions hot line has been installed to facilitate the admissions process. A phone call to 272-8580 will initiate the process, and all necessary materials will be sent directly to applicants.

The three new associate degree programs to be offered are communications, architecture, and interpreters for the deaf. A new nondegree program, Minorities in Engineering, is a precollege project that concentrates on junior and senior high school students from minority groups in an effort to guide and prepare them for careers in engineering.

The communications program, an option in liberal arts, includes five communications courses, most of them new: mass communications, reporting and news writing, introduction to broadcasting, introduction to television: production and theory, and introduction to film study.

The decision to develop an architecture program resulted from a study that showed not only student interest, but also a large demand in the job market for people with architectural expertise.

The architecture program, an option in the engineering curriculum, includes four new courses for the fall: Man in His Environment, I and II, and Architectural Design, I and II.

The new interpreters for the deaf program is being offered to help meet a critical need for interpreters, especially in New Jersey. With a deaf population of more than 50,000, the state needs approximately 90 interpreters, and no other college in New Jersey offers such a program. New courses in this program for the first semester are American sign language, community resources in human services, introduction to interpreting and lab and manually coded English.

In the college's Weekend-Weekday program, a record number of credit courses—30—will be offered on a once-a-week basis. The program is aimed at adults whose responsibilities do not permit them to follow a traditional college schedule of two to three class meetings per week. Classes meet either mornings, afternoons or on Saturdays for 2 1/2 hours.

Academic programs at Union College lead to the associate degree, whose 60 credits are transferrable to most four-year colleges and universities. The College's courses are offered days, evenings and Saturdays and can be taken on either a full-time or part-time basis.

Cosmetologist replaces hairdresser in salons

"Cosmetologist" is the most definitive description for today's hairdresser, according to the 68,000-member National Hairdressers and Cosmetologist Association (NHCA).

"Today's licensed cosmetologist do much more than dress hair," says William J. Ware, president. "They provide skin care and cosmetic care and advice. They work with chemicals to curl and color hair. They also give manicures and pedicures and total fashion advice."

"The beauty salon used to be called the beauty shop and before that, the beauty parlour," Ware said. "We believe it is time for another transition and that the present beauty salon, which now provides complete beauty services, should be called the cosmetology salon," Ware said.

"Some people mistake the term cosmetology to apply only to cosmetics, but this is completely contrary to state statues as well as the setup of cosmetology school throughout the country," Ware explained.

Ware pointed out that the term hairdresser is still in the association's title and that the term will still be used on occasion within the association when referring only to the art of dressing hair.

The term "cosmetologist" and "cosmetology" have been used by the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologist Association.

Saint Laurent makes clothes 'for real life'

In the world of international menswear, which is increasingly dominated by the concept of change for its own sake, Yves Saint Laurent stands apart. "I feel I make clothes for real life. They should be like timeless classics. I believe in clothes that are simplicity and perfection," states Saint Laurent.

These are the concepts underlying the design of the Yves Saint Laurent men's collection for fall 1979. The Saint Laurent stance is best reflected in his line of suits. The two-piece suit with a slimmer silhouette has become the businessman's mainstay. Cut in such classic fabrics as pinstriped flannels and elegant worsteds, these suits have double-vented jackets with leaner lapels tapering to a lowered button stance and narrowed trousers. While browns and grays dominate the palette, the more fashionable suits are toned in taupes and greiges. Such suits consist of ventless jackets with boutonnieres and pleated trousers.

Similar silhouettes are found in Yves Saint Laurent's sportjackets, but here his fabrics conjure up the moody colors and masculine textures of country living. The city sophisticate can adopt this look to his lifestyle by coordination with pleated trousers of tweed or flannel, knit vests of textured yarns, trim collared shirts of comfortable brushed cotton, and that all-important accessory, the narrow tie. The prevalence of boutonnieres allow the countrified dandy the privileged opportunity of taking the feather from his cap and sticking it in his lapel.

EASY STYLE—Don Sayres eases into Fall 1979 with this olive and fuchsia boucle knit sweater jacket, wrapped over a fluid, side-slit skirt in olive silk broadcloth.

NEW WAYS She'll double her fashion looks with this fall ensemble from Nannette Now collection: hooded, A-line dress in plum jersey plus a side-slit tunic in mauve polyester-cotton twill by Cone Mills, with a floral hanky in the pocket. Danskin tights; Olof Daughters clogs.

Time to fix-up... add on... spruce-up...

Time for a home improvement loan from the Howard

At the Howard, you can borrow up to $15,000 at easy interest and with convenient repayment terms to fix-up, add on, or spruce-up your home.

For your smaller spruce-up needs, a Howard Itch Loan* is just the thing. If you qualify, we'll approve your loan quickly, and you'll be on your way to a bright home in a jiffy.

For the really big jobs, like a new addition to your house for a growing family, the equity you already have in your home will help you borrow what you need to do the job.

So whether you're planning to fix-up, add on, or just plain spruce-up, come to any convenient office of the Howard, or call (201) 456-3806. We'll help you make your home just the way you want it to be.

It took a hundred years to make this boot.

Frye® started benchcrafting boots over 100 years ago, using only the finest leather available. Today, we still make them the same way, paying attention to details and handcrafting them in the old fashioned tradition. You'll love the durability and fashionability of Frye's new styles. The times change, and styles change, but our quality and craftsmanship remain the same.

It took a hundred years to make this boot.

Frye® started benchcrafting boots over 100 years ago, using only the finest leather available. Today, we still make them the same way, paying attention to details and handcrafting them in the old fashioned tradition. You'll love the durability and fashionability of Frye's new styles. The times change, and styles change, but our quality and craftsmanship remain the same.

The best.
