Recreation unit winter schedule lists basketball, twirling, soccer

A variety of winter programs including basketball, twirling and indoor soccer are part of the Mountainside Recreation Commission's winter schedule. Registration for all of these activities is under way at the recreation office.

The fifth and sixth grade boys basketball clinic will meet Saturday mornings from 10 to 11 followed by fifth and sixth grade girls from 11 to noon beginning Dec. 8. The registration fee is $2.

Seventh grade boys will meet Tuesday evenings from 7 to 8:15 at Deerfield School beginning Dec. 4. Eighth grade boys will meet at 7:15 Thursday evenings beginning Dec. 6. The registration fee for both groups is $4. The gym will be open on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 8:15 to 10 for high school boys.

Girls in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades are set for Monday evening basketball from 7 to 8:15, beginning Dec. 3. The registration fee is $4.

Twirling for fourth to eighth graders will be held Saturday mornings in the Deerfield School all-purpose room beginning Dec. 8. Class times are 10 to 10:40 for advanced beginner, 10:40 to 11:20 for beginner, 11:20 to noon for intermediate. The registration fee is $2. Participants must bring their own batons.

Indoor soccer for high school students will be held Fridays from 8 to 10 p.m. in the Deerfield School gym. There is no charge. The dates for soccer are Dec. 14, Jan. 4, 11 and 25, Feb. 1 and 29 and March 7 and 14.

Registration for all programs is open weekdays at the recreation office between 9 and 11 a.m. and 2 to 4 p.m. Payment must accompany registration. Information is available at 232-0015.

Dayton Glass-In slated Saturday

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Key club will hold its twice-a-month Glass-In Saturday. All residents of the area are urged to bring glass (sorted by color, removing the metal rings around the mouth of the bottles) and newspapers (tied in bundles).

The Glass-In will be held in the high school front parking lot from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

United Way agency helping the retarded

The Union County Unit of the New Jersey Association for Retarded Citizens, a beneficiary of the current fund drive of the United Way of Mountainside, provides many types of assistance to the mentally retarded and their families.

The Thrift Shop Training Center located at the units office at 60 South Ave. in Fanwood is a sheltered workshop and retail store providing vocational training and sheltered employment for handicapped adults in Union County.

For participants in this program who eventually become ready for outside employment, job placement services and followup counseling are provided. For those for whom competitive employment is not a realistic alternative, continued sheltered employment and counseling are provided.

Other programs provided by the Union County Unit include a "mini-program" for newly identified retarded infants from birth to 3 years.

A preschool program is provided to give 2 to 6-year-olds training in group interaction, communication and basic

Cakes, cheese sale set Dec. 8

The annual Jonathan Dayton fruit cake and cheese sale will take place on Saturday, Dec. 8. Student members of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School vocal music department will sell the cakes and cheese door to door. The proceeds will help finance retreat weekends, concert tours, scholarships and vocal workshops.

Susan Graham, chairperson of this event, urged residents of Mountainside and Springfield to "support the student's efforts to finance their own activities."

Regional board to meet Tuesday

The Union County Regional High School District Board of Education will hold its monthly business meeting on Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield.

All residents of the Regional District have been invited to attend.

Board ends drama: will use Beechwood

By ABNER GOLD

The Mountainside Board of Education last week voted, five to two, to keep the Beechwood School open for the 1980-81 school year, thus ending the annual cliff hanger for the time being.

Supporting the motion to keep Beechwood open, despite a continued decline in student population, were Bart A. Barre, Linda Esemplare, Jerrold Kolton, Carl J. Marinelli and Dr. Arthur G. Williams, board president. Opposed were Patricie Knodel, vice president, and R. Charles Speth.

Before bringing the question to a vote, Williams called for comments from board members and the 75 people in the audience, but asked that they confine themselves to aspects of the problem not discussed in the past several months.

Marinelli was the only board member declining the opportunity to make a statement.

Knodel said that the board should seek a private educational tenant for the building. If a school is not used for education for three years or more, under state law, costs of renovation to meet new school construction standards would be prohibitive. Williams noted that he has two meetings scheduled with potential future tenants.

Kolton commented that closing Beechwood would be "detrimental to the students," and that the money saved would not justify any such action.

Barre stated that most members of the public and the board have agreed on keeping the school open. He added, "This is a proper educational decision."

Esemplare said that she had finally reached a decision only the previous day—that, "All our children can fit into Deerfield School, if not the coming year, certainly the year after." She noted that the Union County Educational Services Commission is looking for space for its special services program.

Stressing that school population will continue to decline for at least five years, Speth noted that Beechwood has become unnecessary. He added that the board could save more than $100,000 per year by closing the school and renting the building to an educational institution.

Williams emphasized that "This is a difficult decision." He thanked local residents for their input, as well as members of a citizens' committee which studied the problem. "I am not in favor of closing a school at this point," he said, "but we must continually review the matter. There might be no alternatives down the road."

He went on to say that he had met informally with Mayor Thomas Ricciardi and some members of the Borough Council and that they "will aid the board to make the maximum use of Beechwood facilities for the entire community."

Following the vote to keep Beechwood open for another year, the board unanimously approved a Knodel resolution that it keep looking for

"suitable private educational concerns to use excess school facilities as they become available."

In other business, Williams reported the end of a long standing dispute between the board and James J. Clancy, county superintendent of schools. That disagreement became public last March when Clancy ordered the board to restore to its budget $17,000 cut from funding for child study team services.

In permitting the board to go ahead with the $17,000 cut, Clancy said that he had conducted a "thorough review of the records of the handicapped children in your school district."

ALL KEYED UP—With top hats, canes, and legs on display, members of Mountainside Music Association get ready for their upcoming musical production, "All Keyed Up," at the Deerfield School auditorium. Performances are scheduled for tomorrow and Saturday evenings at 7:30. A special children's show will be held this evening at the same time. Admission is $1 at the door. Performers are from left, Carol Schon, Sally Boyd, Sandy Davis, and Laura Johnson; back row, Werner Schon, left, and Tom Klierim.

Music Association 'keys up' for action

A ticket for this year's Mountainside Music Association's production, "All Keyed Up," will help support the association's commitments for the next two years.

Beside the regular performances tomorrow and Saturday evenings, there will be a special show for children tonight at 7:30 at Deerfield School auditorium with admission of $1 payable at the door.

The Mountainside Music Association (MMA) was founded 21 years ago to support the then-budding music department in the local schools.

Its first project was to furnish a record player to each classroom, and this was followed by the donation of a piano to each primary grade.

Throughout the intervening years, the MMA has purchased tympani, two tubas, a bassoon, oboe, mirafone and a cello for the instrumental music department, as well as stereo equipment, tape recorders, a spot light, movable aluminum scaffolding, and risers for the stage. All the donations have been made possible by presenting an annual musical review.

As the shows became fully supported by the residents of Mountainside and the surrounding communities, the MMA undertook larger responsibilities: equipping the music room in the library and helping to maintain it on an on-going basis, adopting an Indian girl through Save the Children Federation, and supporting the Metropolitan Opera and the Juilliard School of Music by purchasing blocks of tickets and making them available to interested residents. The organization has made donations to the Recreation Commission, supplied musical instruments to a nearby drug rehabilitation center, and bought specially requested equipment for the Children's Specialized Hospital.

The association also cooperates with the PTA to bring into the schools theatrical and musical groups which every student can enjoy without charge. Since 1966 the shows have been presented only every other year, but the MMA continues its support and annually gives a small music scholarship to a graduating eighth grader at Deerfield School and to a senior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

FOR SATURDAY'S FAIR—Fran Shallcross, left, and Elva Taylor, both from Mountainside, are shown with part of their holiday collection to be exhibited at the annual Mountainside Branch of the AAUW Holiday Arts & Crafts Fair on Saturday at the Deerfield School, Central Avenue in Mountainside. The fair will take place from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and will feature more than 30 booths of original crafts by New Jerseyans.

Senese sees hope for future as Bulldogs finish 0-8-1 season

By PENNY LEVITT
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School football team ended its season with a disappointing 0-8-1 record. However, on Thanksgiving Day the team provided fans with an exciting morning of football as the Bulldogs cost, 21-23, to the West Orange Cowboys. Anthony Circelli intercepted a pass and ran 70 yards for a touchdown. Robert Irene also scored on a superb display of team effort and coordination, Tim Holleran kicked the extra point.

The Bulldogs gained 230 yards rushing. Ken Klebous had 12 carries for 19 yards, Ed Francis seven carries for 32 yards, Anthony Circelli five carries for 89 yards and Robert Irene eight carries for 90 yards. Anthony Circelli led the defensive squad. Excellent performances were provided by defensive halfback Mike Caricato and cornerback Tyrone Hayes.

Dayton was beaten in the fourth quarter when fumbles set up three scoring drives for West Orange. Fumbling has been a problem for the Bulldogs throughout the season.
The coaching staff commended the seniors on their contributions—Vinnie Cervone, tri-captain Anthony Circelli, Sal D'Addario, Joe Demark, Mark Dooley, Tim Holleran, tri-captain Robert Irene, Steve Kessler, tri-captain Ken Klebous, Steve Novich, George Pittenger, Joe Policastro, David Savage, Rich Seifert, Billy Ventura and Ron Wilhelm.

There are four games on tap this Saturday at Farcher's Grove in the intermediate division. Union County Sport Club gets the ball rolling against Sportsfriends at 11 a.m. The Union Lancers will meet the Kearny Americans at 3:30 p.m. The Lancer Intermediates posted a 15-0 victory over the Sportsfriends last week.

There also are two Boys' Division matches at the Grove. The Union County Booters will go against the Gergen Kickers at 12:30, and the Union Lancers will meet the Silver Lakes Americans at 1:45. The Lancer defeated the Bergen Kickers, 7-0, last week while the Union County Booters lost to the Sportsfriends Roadrunners, 1-0. The Union Kickers and the Union County Kickers will travel to Wayne to play the two Sportsfriends' teams. The Union Kickers blanked the Union County Kickers, 13-0, last week.

There are no games scheduled in the Youth Division, but the Union Lancers lost to the Sportsfriends, 5-2, and Union County lost to the Union Kickers, 5-1.

In the Midget, Division the Union Lancers defeated the Sportsfriends, 15-0.

With the high school season over, junior division play starts. The Union Lancers and the Union County Sport Club will open their seasons Sunday at Farcher's Grove at 11 a.m. against each other. The Lancer team is coached by Gary Mikula and Walter Hermann and is made up of Union High School players.

The Lancer organization has another junior team which will play in the Northern County Soccer Association and is managed by Emma Emmel and Carman Cioffi. The Union Americans as they are called, played their first game last week and downed Parsippany 6-2.

Iacono hopeful, notes excellent attitude of team

By DAVID GOLD
Coming off a strong '78-'79 season, the Jonathan Dayton wrestling team, under Coach Richard Iacono, will attempt to rebuild for another winning season.

"We have a lot of young, quality people this year," commented Iacono. Some of the young prospects are Charles Kachules (141 pounds), Joe Sefack (148), Anthony Castaloni (heavyweight), Jackie Vogel (158), Joe Roessner (129), Dan Gigantino (129), Mark and Jim Stevie (129) and Mike Scuder (101).

Iacono appears optimistic about the varsity team. All the weight classes are filled. The team will be led by co-captains Ben Scipuro (135) and Steve Tenembaum (129). Other outstanding wrestlers for Dayton are Vince Cervone, Steve Salemy, Mike Caricato (122), Ed Francis (115), Dave Cushman (101), Paul D'Andrea (148), Frank Colatruglia (108), Simon DeGiroloamo (122), Nino Parlavacchio (170), Ben Merto (188), Jack Tarant (158) and Mark Yoss (135).

Even though Dayton has no feeder program, it has been able to produce strong wrestling teams. Much of this success is due to Iacono and his assistants, Angelo Senese and Edward Franchina. The attitude of the team is "excellent" according to Iacono. "They believe in the program."

Sting, Strikers top divisions in Recreation soccer finale

The Springfield Recreation Department soccer program came to an end last weekend with the Sting and Strikers tops in their respective divisions.

In the Junior Division, it was Sting first, Fury second, Stompers third, Blizzard fourth, Aztec fifth, and Timbers sixth. All the final games were decided by one goal in evenly matched, well played contests.

In the championship game between Fury and Sting, the score at the half was 0-0, after strong defense by both teams. Steven Marchetti held the usually high scoring Marcelo Reyna of the Fury scoreless by marking him according to the game plan reported by Coach Lou Monaco. Mike Bowen made several saves against the strong Sting offense of Kay Bayrasli, Chris Monaco, Peter Sadin backed by center half Gregg Kahn.

In the second half, Kahn scored for the Sting and was answered almost immediately by Reyna for the Fury. The action became furious and the crowd of approximately 200 began to cheer the play of both teams. Finally, in a last effort, Kahn scored on a long shot from the 35 yard line with less than two minutes to go for the win.

Receiving recognition for outstanding play in the Junior Division for the season were Bowen, goalie for the Sting, Adam Miller, midfielder for the Blizzard, and Terry Roberts, named most valuable team player for the Timbers.

In the Junior Division, the Strikers defeated the Tornado, 4-2, to decide first place, with the Kicks defeating the Rowdies 2-1 for third. Receiving awards for outstanding play during the fall were: Peter Sommer—most valuable team player; Pablo Gutierrez—offense; Doug Colandrea—midfield, and Kevin Duffy—defense.

In the end-of-the-year exhibition game against the Kickers, a team from Farcher's Grove with boys aged 10 and 11, Springfield showed its strength and the results of the Recreation Soccer program by winning 2-1 with a pick-up team of similar age.

In the first two minutes of play, Paul Nadzan surprised the well-coached Kicker team with the first goal. Gary Francis followed in the same quarter with what proved to be the winning score. The Kickers stiffened and play was even for the remainder of the game. Nick Hlas and Jimmy Yee controlled the midfield action showing excellent dribbling and passing. Barry Rodburg and Louis Monaco shared the goal with several saves.

Dayton's girls: five will be tall, inexperienced

By DAVID GOLD
The Jonathan Dayton girls' basketball team could be characterized as tall and inexperienced.

Minus six lettermen this year, Coach Ruth Townsend will be cultivating a fresh crop of talent for the coming season. The team will be young and will have to learn to work together. The backbone of the team will be veterans Kathy Clark, Theresa Young, Linda Graziano and Debbie Baron.

"This will be a rebuilding year," commented Townsend. "We're bringing up an enthusiastic bunch of underclassmen." Some hopefuls are Linda Lees, Kathy Price, Jill Jacobs, Lana Tennaro, Debbie Brahm, Lynn Merrie and Patty Harrison. The team will be much taller this year.

For the first time in eight years more than two starting spots had to be filled. Because of their height and a lack of speed, Dayton will probably use a 3' 2 zone defense.

According to Townsend, the Suburban Conference will be tough this year but the team has a good attitude.

Two area women swim for Seton Hall

Jean Kascin and Kathi Schon, both of Mountainside, are expected to be key performers on this year's Seton Hall University women's swimming team, which began its season Nov. 20.

Coach Dot Vilaro says she feels Kascin will qualify for the freestyle event in the Eastern AIAW championship meet.

Temple-California offers potential passing display

Temple, which will make its first post-season appearance since the 1935 Sugar Bowl, and California, which last played in a bowl (Rose) in 1959, are expected to provide Garden State Bowl II fans with an aerial show Dec. 15 in Giants Stadium.

The east-west rivalry has one similarity, although the teams have never met and have no common opponents—both have quarterbacks ranked among the most talented in the nation.

Temple's signal-caller is Brian Broomell, a senior who, Coach Wayne Hardin says, compares favorably with anyone. Broomell is second in the nation in passing efficiency and has thrown 19 touchdown passes while completing 103 passes in 188 attempts.

California is led by Rich Campbell, a junior who is being touted as a candidate for Heisman Trophy honors in 1980. He is sixth in the nation in passing efficiency, having completed 67 percent of his passes.

"Our record is deceptive," Coach Roger Theder said. "Honestly, we could have won just about every game." The scores prove Theder is right—the five losses suffered by the Golden Bears were by a total of 24 points.

Garden State Bowl II, sponsored by the New Jersey Sports Authority, will offer its second matchup of an eastern independent and a Pacific-10 team. In the inaugural, Arizona State rallied to defeat Rutgers, 34-18, before 33,000 fans.

This year's contest was guaranteed to be a success before the teams were selected—more than 42,000 seats were sold. The stadium has a capacity of 76,800.

"There was tremendous enthusiasm among the bowl committee members even before the teams were announced," Bob Mulcahy, the head of the selection committee, said. "Now they're even more encouraged because of the potential for an exciting game. Fans love to see the ball in the air and we're fortunate to have two quarterbacks who know what to do with the football."

The Temple and California squads will arrive Dec. 12 and will work out in the stadium the next two days. The game will begin at 1 p.m. and will be televised live by the Mizlou Network on a coast-to-coast hookup, with delays in New York and Philadelphia.

Booters (8 in row) beat Lancers, Tigers

The Union County Sport Club youth soccer team ran its undefeated streak to eight with a 5-1 victory over the Silver Lake (Staten Island) Tigers and a 4-1 decision over the Union Lancers.

In the Silver Lake game, despite the rain and wind, Marty Gore headed a Peter Grett cross past an off-balance goalie for the initial score. Union County had the best of the play thereafter, with Grett scoring two goals, Jim Thorlakson and Jeff Doherty one each. Jim Haughey, Mike Boland and Peter Diehl played well in containing the Silver Lake offense.

Against the Lancers, Union County fell behind for the first time this year on an early breakaway but held firm thereafter on strong defensive play by Rick Brahm and David Walls and a diving save by goalie Steve Katowitz. A short placement by Peter Grett tied the score just prior to halftime.

Union County broke the match open in the second half on two goals by Jim Thorlakson and one by Grett as Matthew Miller earned two assists. The Union County midfield, paced by Rud Meleo and John Begleiter, controlled the play.

Maguire calls for passage of disability bill

Assemblyman William J. Maguire (R-22) this week said he will lobby for support of a bill, S-802, which modernizes the state's workers' compensation statutes. He said the bill, sponsored by Senator Eugene Bedell (D-Monmouth) has been endorsed by the State AFL-CIO and the major employer organizations.

"The drafters of this legislation have found the delicate balance between labor and industry," Maguire said. "The bill satisfied the primary concerns of both groups and deserves quick passage in both houses."

Maguire said the bill eliminated the "nuisance claims and awards" which employer groups have long fought in the existing statute and increases the payments for permanent partial disability which organized labor has been unable to secure for decades.

"It's a fair and balanced bill," Maguire said, explaining that "permanent partial disability" is defined statutorily for the first time.

Maguire said the AFL-CIO and the employer groups agree the bill must be accepted or rejected "as is," with no amendments. "The balance is so delicate one or the other of the major groups could withdraw their support if the scales are tipped one way or the other."

"Cooperation between these two groups is rare in legislative matters," he said. "We should act with haste and without amendment to take advantage of this opportunity to modernize our antiquated workers' compensation statutes."

YFCS offering troubled family counseling aid

The Youth and Family Counseling Service, which serves the residents of eight communities, offers casework counseling to individuals and families experiencing problems with adolescent conflict, child behavior, marital difficulty and parent-child relationships.

The professional counseling services of this private, non-profit, United Fund agency are available to those who reside in Mountainside.

Milton Faith, executive director of YFCS, notes that many families are experiencing difficulty and subsequent breakdown. Faith works with family members to establish clearer means of communication, healthier patterns of setting limits, and the resolution of hostile and angry feelings. Faith encourages families to use counseling to resolve many of these stressful situations.

"Seeking help is often a difficult first step for many families," he said, "and counseling does not provide easy answers. What we offer instead is insight and professional guidance that helps people gain better understanding of their feelings, behavior and relationships with others."

Further information is available from Faith at 233 2042. The main office is at 233 Prospect St., Westfield. Fees are based on a sliding scale.

CINDY AHLHOLM of Mountainside was high scorer in advanced level compulsory meet at Shore Gymnastics recently. Cindy, a member of the Bridgettes gymnastic team, Feigley's School of Gymnastics, South Plainfield, placed first on beam, bars, vault, floor exercise and all-around. She is a third grader at Our Lady of Lourdes School in Mountainside.

skills based on their special needs. The Preschool Readiness Enrichment Programs (PREP) located in Cranford and Linden are similar to regular nursery schools. However, their focus is on the needs of children who may already have been identified as being in need of special instruction or who have older siblings in special education classes in public school.

Group homes located in Berkeley Heights and Roselle provide opportunities for mildly, moderately and severely retarded adults to learn to live outside of an institutional or family situation. A new home to be located in Plainfield is in the planning stages.

The Union County Association for Retarded Citizens also maintains communication with related organizations in the community and can give assistance in referring those in need to the proper group. More information on the services available for retarded citizens and their families is available from the main office at 9-2930.

At the recent local telethon, Jackie Barry, chairman of the United Way of Mountainside, urged residents to contribute as generously as possible so that Mountainside could continue to give financial assistance to this and the other area organizations that support it.

O'Brien given alumni award

Raymond D. O'Brien, legal counsel to the Mountainside Board of Education, recently received one of Georgetown University's highest alumni honors, the John Carroll award.

Those honored are generally graduates chosen on the basis of career accomplishments, public service and dedication to the principles of the university.

O'Brien was graduated from Georgetown in 1949 and in 1951 from the university's Law Center. A partner in the law firm of O'Brien, Liotta and Mandel, he is president of the Union County Catholic Lawyers Guild.

Watson named head of hospital nursing

Patricia Watson, R.N., has been named director of nursing at Children's Specialized Hospital in Mountainside.

She replaces Jane Huckeba, who has left after 17 years.

Watson came to the hospital in 1972 as a part-time staff nurse and has been director of inservice education since 1976. She has been instrumental in developing a number of patient-oriented projects including the highly successful family asthma program in conjunction with the Central New Jersey Lung Association, according to Dr. Margaret E. Symonds, medical director.

Watson received a B.S. degree in nursing at Seton Hall University and an M.A. in parent-child nursing from New York University. She is also a graduate of the Ann May School of Nursing.

Prior to coming to Children's Specialized Hospital, Watson was an instructor in parent-child nursing and nursing leadership at Skidmore College and taught obstetric and maternal-child nursing at Mountainside Hospital School of Nursing.

She is a member of the board of directors of the Central New Jersey Lung Association and is chairman of the Union County Health Manpower Education Co-op.

Injured driver 'satisfactory'

A 34-year-old Scotch Plains woman was listed in satisfactory condition in Overlook Hospital, Summit, earlier this week with neck injuries she suffered in a fire-car accident Sunday, on Route 22, Mountainside.

Anneleas Greene was incapacitated after the vehicle she was driving ran into the rear of another vehicle that had stopped at about 10 p.m. Saturday, police said.

The driver of the stopped vehicle, Randy Hockaday, 30, of Irvington, reportedly told police he was traveling west on Route 22 when he saw people fighting on the side of the road. He applied his brakes and was struck by the vehicle Greene was driving. A third vehicle, driven by William Ogden, 54, of Somerville, which was passing the two vehicles, was struck by the bumper of the vehicle Hockaday was driving, police added.

Hockaday was issued a summons for driving while his license was revoked.

Title I council meets at Dayton

The Jonathan Dayton Title I Parent Advisory Council will meet Wednesday in the instructional media center. Parents will discuss this year's program, make plans for next summer and review new guidelines from Title I.

Community residents interested in the federally funded remedial program have been invited to attend.

NOTE FROM BORIGHT

At this time I would like to extend my gratitude to the voters of Mountainside for the support extended to me in the Nov. 6 election, at which time I was a candidate for the New Jersey State Assembly.

Throughout the course of the campaign I visited nearly 12,000 homes, and was assisted by my wife, Pamela, who served as my campaign manager. The reception given to us by Mountainside residents was extremely cordial and I wish to thank you for your warmth and friendliness. Although, I did not carry the borough in the election, I nevertheless was pleased with my showing in the community.

I have already contacted the victors and have offered to cooperate with them in seeking to address the needs and find solutions to the problems confronting the people.

Although I was not elected as your new assemblyman, I still have a year remaining in my term as your Union County freeholder. Should you have any need to seek my assistance, please do not hesitate to contact me.

County unit gives aid to victims, witnesses

Making sure that crime victims don't get victimized any further and that witnesses get the assistance they need are the top goals of the newest unit in the Union County Prosecutor's Office. The Victim-Witness Assistant Program, established with a $30,000 State Law Enforcement Planning Agency grant three months ago, has provided specialized services for nearly 70 crime victims and court witnesses with considerable success. According to Matthew Haney, former Cranford police chief and aide to Prosecutor John H. Stamler who directed the setup of the program, the idea is long overdue. "The progress of the unit has been beyond expectations," Haney said, "attributable to the support we've received from the prosecutor and the county manager."

Stamler, who instituted a policy of notifying the victims and witnesses of the outcome in criminal matters two years ago, points to the overwhelming response to the new program as evidence of a long standing need fulfilled. Calling the successes "remarkable," he said the unit can be a model for other counties and a "powerful asset" to the criminal justice system here.

Miss Doerr said it is important for witnesses who are reluctant or fearful to be away from the courtroom atmosphere and noted that the prosecutor has provided facilities to make them feel comfortable. There is a special room on the second floor where such persons can sit, read, watch television or talk.

The program has helped a 16 year-old girl who was uneasy about testifying in an assault and robbery attempt, an Edison woman who was willing to come to court but was not a licensed driver, a woman whose husband was killed who needed a job and got help and a rape victim who was provided with social services and counseling.

The list of cases on file already exceeds 140, and nearly 50 percent have received direct help from the staff.

The emphasis traditionally has been on the rights of the defendant "but now, more and more," said Campbell, "we are becoming aware of the needs of crime victims and those who are required to testify in criminal proceedings."

The $30,000 SLEPA grant covers a one-year period for the program. But judging by the initial impact and response, it is felt that the unit is on its way to becoming a permanent fixture in helping citizens in their involvement with the criminal justice system.

Nurse agency has new head

George F. Billington of Cranford, president of Elizabeth General Hospital, has been elected chairman of the Advisory Joint Nursing Committee.

The committee oversees the three-year cooperative program in professional nursing conducted jointly by Union College, Cranford, and the schools of nursing of Elizabeth General and Muhlenberg hospitals.

Workshop for job seekers

A workshop on resume writing and interviewing techniques will be sponsored by Union County Technical Institute next Thursday from noon to 1:15 p.m. in Room 125 of the Technical Building on campus.

Judy Vitolo, assistant director of career planning and placement at Kean College, will present the workshop, which includes a packet of materials for future use.

Individuals returning to the job market will find the workshop beneficial, as will students about to undertake job searches.

The event is open to the public and reservations may be made by contacting Tom Poznanski or Ann Walko, coordinators.

Nutrition discussion to be held at hospital

A free program on good nutrition will be held at Alexian Brothers Hospital Thursday, Dec. 6, at 7:30 p.m. in Grassmann Hall.

The A.B.C.s of good nutrition (including vitamins, salt, food and diet fads, exercise and the importance of eating a balanced diet) will be discussed by hospital nutritionists, who will answer questions from the audience.

Participants will be asked to complete a questionnaire on their general knowledge of nutrition and the answers will be discussed by the panel, which also will discuss how to read food labels.

"We feel it is vital for all members of the community to know as much as possible about good nutrition because of its importance to good health," said Ruth Wiggins, manager of the Continuing Education Department, which is sponsoring the program along with the hospital's Dietary Department.

Refreshments will be served and pamphlets on proper nutrition will be available. Alexian Brothers Hospital is located at 655 E. Jersey St., Elizabeth.

Town reports permits issued

Fifteen permits for construction projects with an estimated total value of $1,165,500 were issued in October by the Union Building Department.

According to a report from Building Inspector Salvatore Mauro, the largest single project was a $750,000 alteration to emission testing laboratories at Engeldard Industries, Route 22.

Schering-Corp., Morris Avenue, received a permit for an $80,000 storage shed.

Three permits were issued for new two-family homes on Astoria Place, two of them valued at $72,000 and one at $54,000. One permit was issued for a one-family home on Reinhold Terrace valued at $51,000.

Eight other permits were issued for additions and renovations ranging in value from $1,000 to $15,000.

Speech group plans to meet

Next Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside, the Union County Speech and Hearing Association will hold its second meeting of the year.

The speaker of the evening will be Dr. Martin Shulman. He is a professor at Kean College in the Department of Special Education and he also engages in private practice. He is past president of the New Jersey Speech and Hearing Association.

Dr. Shulman will speak about Apraxia: Symptoms, Theories, and Therapy Techniques.

Hospital gets accreditation

Elizabeth General Hospital has been awarded full, two-year accreditation by the Joint Commission on the Accreditation of Hospitals, following a three-day survey of its performance and facilities, announced George F. Billington, president.

The joint commission is a private, non-governmental agency made up of physicians and hospital representatives. The commission's purpose is to encourage the voluntary attainment of uniformly high standards of institutional medical care. Inspection is voluntary and signifies Elizabeth General Hospital's commitment to self evaluation.

Money market funds offer return, mobility

By JUDITH G. RHOADES

Q. Which is the safest investment with the highest return, say with a monthly check for $100, the interest on the investment, not including the original capital? I am 63.—C.F. Union, N.J.

A. Considering your age, and the fact you may not want to be locked into a long-term investment, I believe one of the safer investments for return on your money without eating into or disturbing your capital resources would be the money market funds. Of course, as interest rates descend, so will the amount of interest you receive on your investment.

What makes the money market fund investment good, however, is that you can invest without a commission (allowing you more return for your money), and the ease with which you can move from the investment to another one when interest rates begin to decline.

At that point, you may want to look into some income unit trust funds that do not have a long maturity date.

Q. I bought or am buying a charter airline fare to go abroad.

Last week, I received a memo telling me of a 5 percent increase in the total cost of my tour. I know that doesn't sound like much, but I am afraid, it could happen again, and that would really tax my planned budget for the trip.

Isn't there anything I can do?—R.F., Placentia, Calif.

A. The only way you might be able to obtain a refund is if the company that operates your charter changes the departure or return dates of your trip, changes the accommodations on your itinerary, changes where your charter will depart from, and raises the price of your tour over 10 percent.

If you were told there may be changes while making your reservations, you have seven days to cancel after any changes were made. Your money must be refunded in no more than 14 days after that.

Once you are on your actual tour, and there is a change made you may be entitled to a partial refund.

You should probably have been told to read your tour literature more thoroughly, as operators are free to raise prices up 10 percent (You've already had 5), and to substitute alternatives for cities of departure, dates, hotels, etc. These alternatives should be listed clearly in your tour contract, and you should not be subjected to any changes after you are only 10 days prior to departure of your trip.

Q. I am recently widowed with a son who is disabled.

I was told that he can have special disability payments from Social Security, since he is unable to support himself, and my husband is no longer here to monetarily take care of the two of us. Can you help me?

A. You or your son can apply immediately for Social Security benefits, even though he may never have had any work credits under the Social Security system.

In order to be considered disabled, however, you or he will have to show there is a physical or mental impairment that prevents him from doing any substantial gainful work. Most people under this category, however, have shown disability impairments so severe, under this definition, their medical conditions alone show they cannot work.

There is a waiting period of five full months so you should go to apply as soon as possible.

Parkway keeps eye on drunks

State police on the Garden State Parkway will be on an intensified alert for drinking drivers, with the approach of the holiday season.

"Don't Drive and Drink is the repeated warning being issued to motorists on the Parkway by way of posters and flyers," said Lionel M. Levey, vice chairman of the New Jersey Highway Authority.

"Highway deaths can be reduced by as much as 50 percent if drivers heed the warning and avoid driving when they have had too much to drink," said Levey.

Drunken driving is the major contributing factor in fatal accidents on our highways today," Levey said. "and in a continuing effort to make the Garden State Parkway the safest highway, we are reminding drivers particularly during the holiday season of the danger of mixing alcohol with driving."

Levey noted that toll collectors have played an important part in apprehending drunken drivers.

Capt. Richard H. Kelly, commanding officer of Troop E - Parkway also commended toll collectors for the assistance they have given the State Police in spotting drivers under the influence.

The state police have made a record number of drunken driving arrests along the Parkway in 1979. Kelly said most of the 768 arrests made so far this year will result in loss of license, fines and defense costs for those who have been apprehended.

"The offenders risk not only their own lives but the lives of innocent victims as a result of their reckless behavior," said Kelly. "We will make every effort to protect our motorists and limit this kind of unnecessary loss."

Club program to feature 'A Swedish Christmas'

The Springfield Woman's Club will hold its federation guest night on Wednesday at 8 in the Presbyterian Church Parish House, 37 Church Mall. Guests will include presidents of all the clubs in the seventh district of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Members of the choral group of the music department will open the meeting singing several selections of Christmas music. They will be directed by Mrs. George Lancaster, music chairman.

The program for the evening, "A Swedish Christmas" will be presented by Marilyn Youz, accompanied by Mrs. Hoffman. The program is based on songs and traditions of Sweden. Mrs. Hoffman will wear the national costume of Sweden and sing carols of that land. Included will be facts about the Jul Ten, straw goat, wooden horse and Santa Lucia. She will also give brief accounts of the life of Jennie Lind, the "Swedish Nightingale," with a few renditions of Lind's favorite songs.

She will conclude the program by leading the audience in singing Christmas carols. While Mrs. Hoffman was born in this country, her knowledge of Swedish folk lore was passed on to her by her Swedish father. She and her family recently spent five weeks touring Scandinavia to gather material for this program.

The committee planning this affair include: speaker, Mrs. Robert Rossner; program printing, Mrs. Charles Miller; art work, Mrs. Lee Andrews and the creative arts department; hospitality, Mrs. James Diamond; table decoration, Mrs. Michael Tatusko; name tags, Mildred Levensen and Mrs. Arthur Moore; invitations, Mrs. Edward Schubert. Past presidents of the club will serve as hostesses.

The literature department of the club will hold its Christmas party on Monday, at 8:15 p.m. at the home of Elise Ditzel, 100-C Wabeno Ave. The speaker will be Alice Holland, who will review old Christmas stories.

Mary Ellen Newman and Joan Shapiro, PHA vice-presidents, have announced that a Hanukkah store will be opened Sunday and will run for three consecutive Sundays from 9 a.m. to noon. A variety of gift selections will be made available for purchase to the Hebrew School children. Parents also have been invited to browse and purchase gifts.

Craft market set Saturday

A craft and flea market will be sponsored by St. James School Guild, Springfield, Saturday in the school auditorium from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Featured at the school guild table will be macrame Christmas tree hangings, pinecone wreaths and tree trimmings among the hand-crafted items and gift ideas Mrs. Georgette O'Conne and Mrs. Nancy Bernosky, co-chairmen, have announced that more than 50 dealers and craftsmen will take part.

They include Dick Swankie, creator of the cartoon character, "Eddie," and the senior citizens of Kenilworth, who will display their hand-made Christmas ornaments. Other tables will feature hardware, toys, stained glass, ceramics, books, wooden planters, hand-painted tee shirts, men's Velour shirts, jewelry, antiques, sneakers, records and tapes and white elephant treasures. Members of the social concerns committee of the parish council and St. James Rosary-Altar Society will have tables offering bric-a-brac and hand-crafted items.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Mrs. O'Conne at 379-1913 or Mrs. Bernosky at 376-9180.

SAINT BARNABAS MEDICAL CENTER

invites you to participate in

A Tradition of Progress

One of the major requisites of a great medical center is to provide excellence in health care. Care that reflects the most modern developments in the medical field.

The tradition at Saint Barnabas Medical Center is to be progressive — to provide quality care.

Progress requires a long-range program which includes the purchase of new modern equipment and the implementation of technological improvements to keep pace with ever-expanding horizons of medical knowledge.

Presently a new addition is being added to the existing hospital plant for supportive services in the Radiology, Pathology and Emergency departments and the Operating Room. The addition will not provide new beds.

We believe that quality care is important to you. We ask you, therefore, to help keep us progressive.

A contribution to the Saint Barnabas Development Fund will help us to continue a tradition of quality care that you will want to be available in your future — and that of your loved ones. It will not supplement the operating funds.

Please send a check today. Make our future worthy of yours. Contributions are tax deductible.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS

Nationally recognized Post-Graduate Training Programs in Anesthesiology, Internal Medicine, Obstetrics and Gynecology, Pathology, Pediatrics, Plastic Surgery, Radiology, Radio Therapy, Surgery • School of Medical Laboratory Technicians • School of X-Ray Technology • University affiliated Training Programs in Professional Nursing, Audio and Speech Therapy and Physical Therapy • On-the-job Training in Biomedical Electronics and Inhalation Therapy

PURPOSE

"The purpose of this development activity is to raise the necessary funds to implement the expansion and long range program of Saint Barnabas Medical Center, including the purchase of new equipment and technological improvements to meet the needs of rapidly changing medical advances; to secure support for an endowment of ultimately $10,000,000. These monies will not be used to supplement the operating funds of the hospital."

Mobilehomes show to offer more for '80

Prospective home owners, who were amazed at the array of spacious, beautiful homes at the Eastern Manufactured Housing Show this year, will see a dozen more homes and lots of special features in 1980. The show will be held in the Convention Hall Annex in Atlantic City Feb. 23 and 24. More than 200,000 square feet of exhibit space will house a "manufactured home village." More than 45 mobile homes, multisectional homes and BOCA-built houses will be displayed. The show is sponsored by the New Jersey Manufactured Housing Association, which represents manufactured housing retailers, manufacturers and suppliers as well as owners of communities who lease home sites. James A. Dyer of Jackson Estates, NJMHA, president of the "Miracle Mile of Mobilehomes" staged in

Asbury Park in the 1950s, when mobilehomes were only 10x50 feet. Today's mobile home has upwards of 960 square feet of living space. The single wide model is still the most popular in New Jersey, for its convenience and economy. It contains living room, dining room and one or two bedrooms plus two baths and sells for under $20,000. More than 25 percent of the manufactured homes sold today in New Jersey are double wide ranch style homes with more living space and the architectural exterior of a ranch home. Both models are built to stringent federal construction standards administered by HUD, which have dramatically upgraded the construction of manufactured homes since their adoption in 1974. "Most of the manufacturers featured by New Jersey retailers built to the high level of standards long before the government standards were set."

COLONIAL VILLAGE — Fully-furnished, insulated and equipped with the latest energy-saving systems, the manufactured homes of Colonial Village in Mt. Bethel, Pa., are priced from $22,364. Set on individual lots within an 82-acre private residential-recreational community just across the Delaware from New Jersey, the exceptionally-affordable homes are virtually indistinguishable from conventional Colonial ranch-style housing. After purchase of a Colonial Village home, residents pay lot charges of from only $119 per month for all community services, including security, recreational facilities, real estate taxes, sewers, water and street snow removal.

Panther Valley value is difficult to duplicate

A few years back, shortly after Panther Valley was conceived and succeeded in Allamuchy as a private planned environment for the executive market, it would have been natural to assume that other such luxury environments would be patterned after Panther Valley in other esthetically superior settings. However, the way things have worked out, Panther Valley may be a real one-of-a-kind residential opportunity.

Washburne D. Wright, vice-president of Mathews-Phillips Management Company, which is supervising continuing development of Panther Valley, feels it may now be impossible to duplicate this luxury community off Rt 80 in Allamuchy.

"Panther Valley land was purchased when it was priced at a fraction of what current acreage costs today," Wright stated. "A great portion of the utilities, the main roads and recreational facilities were put in before labor and material expenses skyrocketed." As a result, Panther Valley, once seemingly reserved for the most affluent, has become an exceptional value in the present residential marketplace. This situation, of course, has not gone unnoticed. Sales in 1978, for example, were double the previous year's volume. And 1979 continues to be another record-breaking year for community where elegant single-family homes are priced from $133,900.

"The community also became an affordable choice for a greater segment of the homebuying market as soon as we introduced the three separate Panther Valley townhome neighborhoods, which now offer models priced from $59,240," Wright explained.

In effect, because of the specific new models of affordable townhomes and the general pricing advantages over communities being developed anew in today's inflationary situation, Panther Valley is a more meaningful alternative to families, singles and both younger and older couples.

Panther Valley residents can enjoy recreational and social opportunities beyond the 24-hour security gatehouse of their community. Adjoining the entrance to the community is a distinctively charming mall for immediately accessible shopping dining and services.

Located just off Exit 19 of Interstate Rt 80 in Allamuchy, Panther Valley combines meticulous landscaping with undisturbed acres of nature. Within its 1500 acres are facilities for tennis, platform tennis, swimming, basketball and volleyball. Also within the community is the private Panther Valley Golf & Country Club and its championship 18 hole course, designed by Robert Trent Jones.

Unlike the owners of homes not in a private community, Panther Valley residents have enhanced freedom to enjoy their own facilities to take advantage of the many area attractions and to travel easily to New York City, which is 55 miles east on express Rt 80. Road work, snow removal, lawn work and exterior home maintenance chores are handled throughout the home owners' association. And all residents share in the peace of mind derived from the manned gatehouse and the security patrols that watch over privacy and safety within the community. Currently, single family home models available at Panther Valley offer from three to five bedrooms and from 2½ to 3½ baths. The traditionally styled homes include family rooms and large eat in kitchens. All were designed for both fulfilling family life and executive formal entertainment of guests. In addition, there are three separate townhome neighborhoods within the environment. The Westgate two to three bedroom townhomes are priced from $59,240. The Country Townhomes are priced from $74,400. Audubon Woods three to four bedroom townhomes are priced from $81,920. There are several models with patios, others with wood sundecks and some with basements for home expansion and use according to individual needs and interests of residents. To visit Panther Valley, take Rt 80 west to the Andover-Hackettstown Exit 19.

Colonial Village offers affordable alternative

It took six years of planning to make Colonial Village an overnight success. After the long process of finding precisely the right location for the year-round mobile home community, after developing relationships with the manufacturers of the best home structures and after assuring that the community will provide a most esthetically-pleasing family setting without disturbance of the natural environment, Colonial Village has made an immediate impact on homebuyers seeking that rare combination of super affordability and excellent quality.

On 82 acres off Pennsylvania Route 611, just across the Delaware River from New Jersey, developer David Utzinger has created an inexpensive alternative to "normal" residential life. Instead of rows of side-by-side trailers that one might expect to see when mobile homes are mentioned, Colonial Village is a truly beautiful community of residences that are virtually indistinguishable from conventional ranch-style homes.

Aside from its private tennis courts, swimming pools, clubhouse, security system, trout pond, putting green and other community features, Colonial Village has, at the heart of its concept, a welcome break for overworked family budgets. The more than 40 available variations of 14 and 24-foot width homes—including complete deluxe furnishings—can be purchased for as little as $22,364. And the monthly lot charges—the mobile home equivalent of rent—start at just $119. That includes real estate taxes, sewers and water, garbage collection, security and snow removal from the community's streets and common areas.

Near New Jersey Exit 4 of Route 80, Colonial Village is devoting more than 18 acres of its prime green dell land to an ecological area which will remain forever untouched and naturally beautiful. On the balance of the community property, more than 40 floor plan variations of large, attractively-appointed and well-engineered modern mobile homes are offered.

Available with from two bedrooms and two baths, the Colonial Village residences include such standard construction features as no-maintenance aluminum siding and high energy-efficiency values.

In the recent six-week period, 28 Colonial Village homes were purchased, Utzinger reported. The first families are already moving in, while final work is in progress on the community's clubhouse, health club, pond and nature areas.

The private recreational facilities will include the golf putting green, the main and wading pools, the tennis and paddle tennis courts, the children's playground and the five-acre, spring-fed trout pond and Angler's Island at its center, as well as the clubhouse, the community health club. Renovated from a basic structure dating back to the 1700s, the clubhouse will show a two-story structure with a large community hall, walk-in stone fireplace, grill, tap room, dining veranda, guests closets and lavatories on the main floor, and upstairs, a balcony overlooking the community hall, a large sitting room and an observation deck. Within the health club, alone, are an exercise room, dressing areas, whirlpools, saunas, billiards and table tennis.

In summer, there's paddle boating on the pond. In winter, the pond is the scene of ice-skating and ice-fishing.

"Unlike condominium communities where monthly fees, not including property taxes, may be much more than here, everything is spelled out explicitly," Utzinger stated. Also available to residents is a $12-per-month maintenance package which provides home lawn cutting, leaf raking and removal of snow and ice from driveways, walks and steps.

Within the surrounding Delaware River and Pocono Mountains are many more recreational opportunities. Skiing at Camelback and more than 12 other ski resorts, several golf courses, numerous hunting and fishing areas are in the area, as are such entertainment centers as the Tanglewood complex and the Pocono International Speedway. While seemingly secluded in a rural preserve, Colonial Village is situated near all services and conveniences. A 15-minute drive away are enclosed malls and a new medical center. Buses to the excellent local school stop right at the corner of the community property. And, for travel throughout the region, the community is less than an hour from the metropolitan New York area.

Countrywide Development Corp.

THE RUMOR:

There is no mortgage money ... and even if you can get a conventional mortgage for the new home you want, you can't make the purchase because there are no mortgages for the buyers of the home from which you're moving.

THE FACTS:

Countrywide Development Corp. has $2,500,000 of 10½ per cent conventional mortgage financing (for 30 years) with down payments as low as 10 per cent, for the qualified buyers of its new single-family homes at Holly Oaks in Manchester. And $1,500,000 of 10½ per cent conventional mortgage financing (for 30 years) for the qualified buyers of Meadow's Edge in Manalapan, as well as $2,000,000 of 10½ per cent conventional mortgage financing (for 25 years) for the qualified buyers of the country homes of Barclay Woods in Brielle ... PLUS affordable mortgage financing for the buyers of the home from which you're moving.

This double-mortgage offer is good for all qualified buyers who take delivery of their new Countrywide homes by July 1, 1980.

Never again will there be such low-rate conventional mortgages. The only reason why Countrywide can make this offer is that we saw the hard times coming, and we obtained long-term commitments from lending institutions.

Waiting will only mean that later you will have to pay both a higher interest rate and a higher price for the same home that's available to you now ... and you will lose out on the selection of the homesite you really want.

THE ADVICE:

Whether it's a Countrywide home or that of another superior builder, if you can get such a double mortgage offer on the home you want and can afford, buy it now! You can thank us later.

Barnegat Colonials

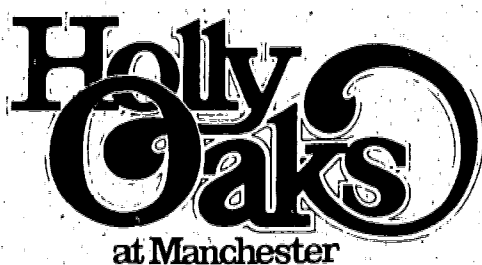

An effective mix of old and new is adding up to reasonably priced gracious living at Sands Pointe, Kaufman & Broad's new community of private single-family homes in Barnegat.

Prices for the three home models begin at $54,900. Each includes a large family room, formal dining room, separate breakfast room, wall-to-wall carpeting, modern kitchen with dishwasher, and up to four bedrooms and two-and-a-half baths. Practical features like a smoke detector, attached garage and energy-efficient insulated windows and screens are also standard.

Twentieth Century families who appreciate the colonis tradition are welcome to visit the Sands Pointe model exhibit, which is open every day from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Directions or information are available at (609) 698-8181.

13 PERCENT WIDOWED

About 13 percent of American women over 18 are widows. The country has more than 10 million widows, and their number is increasing by 40,000 a year.

Five Points holds '10'

Julie Andrews, Dudley Moore and Bo Derek star in the adult film comedy, "10", which is being held over at the Five Points Cinema, Union.

The picture, which was directed by Blake Edwards, Miss Andrews' husband, is about a married song writer, who seeks adventure with a newly-married beautiful woman.

The movie was photographed in color.

No ballet set this season

The New Jersey Dance Theater Guild of Rahway has announced that it will not present the "Nutcracker" ballet at Plainfield High School this season.

The guild has "found itself a victim of the present economic crisis." It will resume its performances of "Nutcracker" in the 1980 Christmas season.

Geiger's RESTAURANT

The London Broil at Geiger's is shipped down from Boston and is considered to be the best that one of Boston's largest meat purveyors has to offer. When it comes to beef, the taste and mouth feel are the things that count and Geiger's London Broil rates very high on my list...

The service salad bar at Geiger's is unique in the Westfield area. After you are seated, you are given a menu of salad items available and you check off the items that appeal to you. Your waitress and a salad chef prepare the salad in the kitchen and it is brought to your table. It is great to relax and be waited on...

Geiger's makes what they call Austrian Sweet Bread in their bakery and every party at dinner is served a loaf of this country style sweet bread and plenty of butter. It is good and different. Geiger's cares enough to make their own bread...

Luncheon at Geiger's is simple and good, many persons order a half portion of a regular dinner entree, others are satisfied with the salad bar and French onion soup... Several Deli style sandwiches are featured and they can be tied into the salad bar or soup for a delicious, moderately priced lunch.

Cocktails at Geiger's are made well and available for lunch and dinner... Lunch cocktails are priced lower than dinner cocktails and are a good bargain... A short wine list of good, but ordinary wines is highlighted by carafes of house wine and Sangria.

Draft beer at Geiger's is served in a frozen heavy goblet and who knows something better than a pastrami sandwich, a pickle and a beer?

Latest: indoor air pollution

Increasing levels of potentially harmful indoor air contaminants can be a consequence of energy-saving cuts in building ventilation and air intake rates, it was reported at the recent national meeting of the American Chemical Society in Washington, D.C.

Formaldehyde and other aldehydes, generated by occupant activities such as cooking and smoking as well as by "outgassing" from building materials, were found in some residential buildings and office trailers in concentrations that exceeded known health effect thresholds, reported Dr. Chin-I Lin of Lawrence Berkeley Laboratory, Berkeley, Calif. The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission recently announced preliminary test results that indicate formaldehyde can cause nasal cancer in laboratory animals.

"Substantial savings in building energy use often can be achieved by reducing infiltration and ventilation rates," Lin explained.

"Since people typically spend more than 80 percent of their total time indoors, the potential deterioration of indoor air quality might have adverse effects on their health and comfort," according to a summary of the report by Lin and co-authors Roy N. Anaclerio, Douglas W. Anthon, Leah Z. Fanning and Craig D. Hollowell. The aldehyde pollutants and air exchange rates were studied in public buildings and energy efficient research houses (occupied and unoccupied) at various geographic locations in the U.S.

At low ventilation rates of 0.3 air exchanges per hour (ach) or less, the authors determined that indoor formaldehyde and aldehyde concentrations can exceed the suggested European indoor formaldehyde standard of 120 micrograms per cubic meter, about 100 parts per billion (ppb). The outdoor concentrations were typically 20 micrograms per cubic meter (16 ppb) or less.

Formaldehyde concentration in air samples from several new office trailers were considerably higher than outdoor levels of this pollutant, the authors say in a summary of their report.

"Occupants of these units have reported odor problems. Formaldehyde concentrations in these trailers ranged from 137 to 251 micrograms per cubic meter, compared to 10 or lower outdoors under typical spring weather conditions," they continue.

When the ventilation rate was increased, however, from 0.16 ach to 0.35 ach, the formaldehyde concentrations were reduced by nearly half, they note.

large medical center in Long Beach, Calif., indoor and outdoor formaldehyde and aldehyde concentrations were similar, being well below the 120 microgram per cubic meter standard. High ventilation rates in these buildings were the probable reason," they suggest, "for the similar low indoor and outdoor concentrations."

"It is evident that indoor air, in general, has higher formaldehyde and aldehyde levels than outdoor air. The results show that residential buildings and office trailers have indoor formaldehyde and aldehyde concentrations that can exceed known health effect thresholds. Formaldehyde and other aldehydes, like other indoor air pollutants, are functions of indoor activities, building materials, and building design—especially the ventilation rate.

Further study is required to establish energy-efficient building designs that will assure indoor air quality adequate to preserve the health and comfort of building occupants," the authors conclude.
