

We protest

Fifty innocent lives are being held in abeyance, and we protest!

By now, the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini has won a new constitution for Iran, making him not only the spiritual leader, but the civil leader as well.

He has become the absolute power and we, as well as the rest of the world community, are watching to see that he uses his new-found power wisely and justly.

The new constitution provides that a Faghi, a trustee, will run the government in the absence of the Twelfth Imam. The Twelfth Imam is the redeemer of the Shiite Islam world, who was hidden in a cave about 11 centuries ago.

Part of the language of the new document provides that the new leader be, among other things, "well known to the people, just, pious, enlightened, sagacious and competent" to manage affairs.

A just man, by any standard, would not tolerate a situation such as this. It falls now to the Ayatollah Khomeini to show the world how "just, enlightened and competent" a ruler he can be.

The new constitution legalizes what has developed since the departure of the Shah: Total power for Khomeini.

There has been speculation that the 50 hostages have been held to help the Ayatollah's thrust for the new constitution.

We have no interest in interfering in the internal affairs of another country. Although we might not desire to live in a country ruled by a religious group ourselves, we realize other peoples in other countries have the right to govern their own lives.

But 50 innocent American lives are at stake in Iran. Even if they are being treated humanely, and we fear they may not be, we are outraged that they are being held hostage to deliver the Shah to Iran.

In effect, 50 innocent people are paying a very high personal price for a disagreement that rightfully should be discussed in an international forum, such as the United Nations.

It is our wish that the hostages be released immediately and be given safe passage from the troubled mission in Tehran, Iran.

We also fully support our government in any action it sees fit to accomplish the safe release of these Americans.

We urge you to make your feelings known to your official representatives in Washington through direct letters or through letters to the editor, addressed to this newspaper.

Finally, we ask you to show your support of our government by flying the American flag daily, until the 50 hostages are safely released.

Library describes its newest volumes

Memorial and gift books will be on display at the Free Public Library of Mountainside today through Dec. 13. The following descriptions are provided by 2 library spokesmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard K. Dreizler have donated "The National Trust Book of British Castles" by Paul Johnson, which traces each stage of the development of Britain's rich and varied collection of castles. "Rugs" by Mary Elizabeth Johnson gives designs, patterns, and projects for the time-honored art of rug making.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert French and children have placed four books in the library in memory of Scott Burdge, J. R. Tolkien's "The Hobbit" is a book with no age limit for all those who love a finely imagined story. "The Two Towers," also written by Tolkien, is an adventure story which all readers can enjoy, set in the imaginary world of the Third Age of Middle Earth.

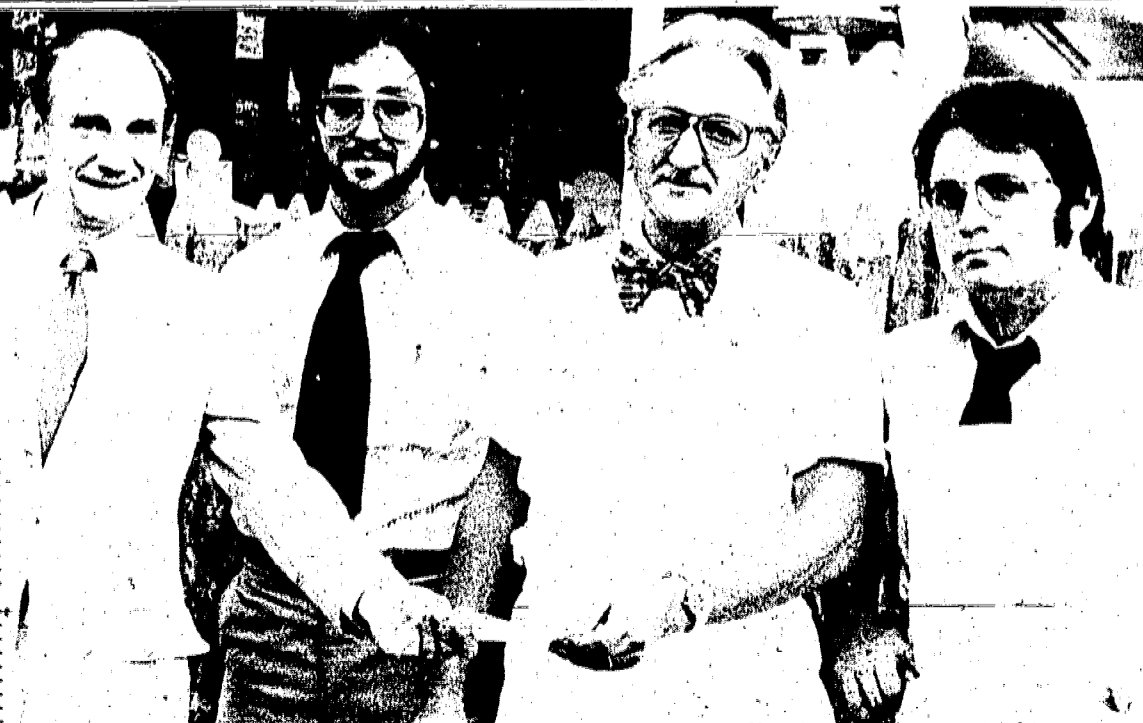

In "The Tolkien Companion" by J. E. A. Tyler, the author has compiled almost every known fact, name, "foreign" word, and date occurring in Professor Tolkien's history of the "Middle Earth" of long ago. A "Tolkien Bestiary" by David Day is a definitive and enchantingly beautiful explanation of Tolkien's fantasy worlds.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burdge Sr. have given two books in memory of Scott Burdge: "The Image of Their Greatness" by Lawrence Ritter is an illustrated history of baseball from the turn of the century to the present. In "The Encyclopedia of Toys" by Constance King, the reader will find a rich storehouse of information about the toys beloved by the children of the 18th, 19th and early 20th Century, both in the United States and abroad.

An additional book to be placed in the library's collection is "The Smithsonian Book of Invention," given by Suzanne Burdge in memory of Scott. This lavishly illustrated book portrays man's urge to invent, the strength of that inventive process, and its impact on our lives.

Dayton to charge fans

In a brief, routine meeting the Union County Regional High School Board of Education approved a mandate from the Suburban Athletic Conference that admission be charged for night girls basketball games at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

The charge will be 50 cents for students and $1 for others.

According to a report by Dr. Donald Merachnik, superintendent of schools, the regional board has charged admission only for football, boys basketball and wrestling events. Regional board directors of health, physical education, driver education and athletics have recommended the charge be instituted, he reported, because it will place girls games at parity with boys games.

In other business, the board approved two payments to M. Disko Associates for work at David Brearly Regional High School the firm deemed necessary after an inspection of completed work on the playing fields. The first payment, $800, will cover extra sodding not covered in the original contract. The second payment, $1,500, will pay for the installation of additional drainage pipe in areas of the baseball field that hydraulic engineer Michael Disko says are not draining well enough.

Disko, in a letter to the board, said he will do some final work on a practice field catch basin and clear up some uneven areas on the fields at no cost to the board.

At earlier meetings, board members had expressed concern over the safety of the iron grate catch basin. At the board's September meeting it withheld payment on part of the project until the basin was covered with artificial turf.

Lewis Fredericks said the two payments should be the final transactions, and the extra work mentioned in the letter follows most jobs of this kind. Settling is to be expected, he said.

The board also awarded a $2,890 contract to Braeland Brothers, Inc., for printing the spring 1980 adult school brochures. The bids were reviewed with Harry Linkin, director of adult and continuing education and do not exceed the board budgetary allotment of $3,000. In person registration for the adult school will be held Feb. 11 and classes will begin Feb. 25.

The board approved acceptance of $54,716 in funds from the Vocational Education Division of the State Department of Education for district-wide programs for the present school year. The funds are earmarked for 15 specific programs, including office procedures, summer work study and job placement. In his report Merachnik explained that in the past accepting the funds entailed only the superintendent's signing of a specific form but a new federal law requires approval by the board.

In personnel matters, the board approved a sabbatical for the 1980-81 school year by Barbara Oberding, a German and Spanish teacher at Jonathan Dayton. The board also accepted the resignation of Blanche Wimbury as school librarian at David Brearly, effective Jan. 1.

In addition, the board approved the appointment of three bedside instructors. George Scheer will teach special education at David Brearly, Barbara Hedges Latin at Jonathan Dayton, and Roland M... at Jonathan Dayton.

In another matter, the board learned from Frank Skid... that a resolution was in connection with a student's involvement with more than 20,000 damages to bleachers and the press boxes at Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School. Clark said the $1,500. Because the property was not included on the board's statement of values, the remainder of the cost will be paid by the board. Those structures now are included on the statement, according to Harold Burdge, board secretary and business administrator. He told the board that press boxes were not included in the statement of values because in most cases they were built by booster clubs, not by the board.

Choral parents to meet Monday

The second general meeting of the Jonathan Dayton Choral Parents Society will be Monday at 8 p.m. in the music room of the high school in Springfield.

John Farinella, president of the society, urged all parents who have students in the vocal music department to attend the meeting.

Stopped autos struck by third; 5 persons hurt

Five people suffered minor injuries in a three-car accident Saturday on Route 22, Mountainside.

Police said a vehicle driven by Lillian Hawkes of Irvington and one driven by Elias Wollerstein of Flushing, N.Y., were stopped in traffic on Route 22 east at about 6 p.m. A third vehicle, operated by Arthur Bryant Jr. of Plainfield, struck the Wollerstein vehicle in the rear, which rammed the vehicle Hawkes was driving, police reported.

Bryant was issued summonses for driving while on the revoked list and for driving an uninsured vehicle.

Hawkes and two passengers, Dorothy Hawkes of Irvington and Pat Sanford of Newark, were treated for neck strain and released from Overlook Hospital, Summit, according to a hospital spokesman. Dorothy Hawkes also was treated for head injuries.

Wollerstein and a passenger, Harriet Wollerstein, were treated for bruises and released.

Library sponsors holiday craft event

The Free Public Library of Mountainside will hold a holiday craft program on Saturday, at 10:30 a.m. in the Emma Weber Meeting Room.

Children aged 5 and up have been invited to join in the making of bread dough decorations and help the library decorate its Swedish peace tree. No preregistration is required.

Regional high schools' students score high on basic skills tests

The New Jersey Minimum Basic Skills Tests in reading and mathematics were administered to all ninth and 11 graders in March 1979. Students demonstrated very good basic skills competency in both reading and mathematics with 90 percent scoring above the minimum skill levels established by the state. These minimum skill levels are 75 percent correct on the reading tests and 65 percent on the mathematics test.

Analyses of the test results were conducted in order to improve instruction in these basic skills. The Union County Regional High School District test results were interpreted by comparing the students' performance on each test item with the results of the other school districts assigned to the District Factor Group H. Each school district in the state is assigned to a District Factor Group (DFG) composed of 50 similar school districts.

The students of the Union County Regional High School District demonstrated a very high level of achievement on both the reading and mathematics tests at each of the grade levels tested (9th and 11th grade). In the area of reading the students achieved at or above the comparison group (DFG-H) in the skills tested, which included word recognition, comprehension, and study skills. Regional student performance in mathematics was also equal to or above the comparison group in all areas tested, including computation, number concepts, measurement, and problem solving. The testing results:

READING (GRADE 9)
Strengths—The ninth grade students demonstrated a high level of achievement in all reading skills.

Weaknesses—No weaknesses were identified in the district reading results at grade nine.

MATHEMATICS (GRADE 9)
Strengths—The ninth grade students demonstrated the ability to deal with the four fundamental operations and whole numbers, fractions, and decimals; the students demonstrated an understanding of number concepts; and the students demonstrated good ability in problem solving.

Weaknesses—Although the ninth graders did not demonstrate any areas of weakness in math skills, a need for continued reinforcement in applying percentage was noted. Additional instructional needs were also noted in metrics and math applications.

READING (GRADE 11)
Strengths—The 11th graders demonstrated a high level of achievement in all areas of reading skill.

Weaknesses—No weaknesses were identified in the district reading results at Grade 11.

MATHEMATICS (GRADE 11)
Strengths—The 11th graders demonstrated a high level of math skills in the application of the four fundamental operations to whole numbers, fractions, and decimals; in understanding and applying number concepts; and the ability to solve problems.

Weaknesses—No weaknesses were evident in the test results for 11th graders. Reinforcement of math skills is needed with percentage, metric applications, and the reading and interpretation of line and circle graphs.

Knowles gains all-conference; Kelly: 1st team

By DAVID GOLD

Each year 21 runners are named to the All Suburban Conference cross country team. Of these, almost a fourth come from Dayton.

At the head of the list is Dayton captain and golden letterman Jeff Knowles. This is the second year in a row he has been named to the conference first team. He lead Dayton, placing fifth in the state sectionals after an outstanding season.

Named to the second team were Dayton runners Jay Bruder, Steve Wright and Adam Silverstein. Dayton's Glenn Eitz was selected to the third team.

The Dayton girls also have their share of all-conference selections. The team was led by Kathy Kelly, who was named to the first team. Janise Levine and Dana Levinson were selected on the conference third team.

Letters and awards will be presented on Monday.

Girls to launch court practice

By DAVID GOLD

The Jonathan Dayton girls' basketball team is scheduled to open its season a week from tomorrow. Practice scrimmages are being scheduled Tuesday and Wednesday.

Coach Ruth Townsend cancelled the first two scrimmages to give her more time to coordinate plans for the young squad. The only definite starter is Kathy Clark. Dayton's sole returning letter winner, Townsend indicated that many underclassmen will get ample playing time.

Dayton will be using a pattern 1-2-2 set offense against such powers as Caldwell, Milburn and Verona.

Fifteen athletes have made the team; all are working hard and trying to learn the pattern of the team, the coach said.

CANADIAN ROCKIES

The tallest mountain in the Canadian Rockies is Mount Robson which is 12,972 feet high.

Governor Livingston Holiday Tournament

Some of the tougher teams Dayton will face in the Suburban Conference are Madison, Milburn, New Providence and Caldwell. Outside the conference Dayton will meet Belleville, West Essex and Rahway.

Iacono appears pleased with the way his team is shaping up. To date he has had no problems with attitude or with wrestlers "making the weight." He is very pleased with the revived pee wee wrestling program in Springfield, which is also open to Mountainside residents.

The program for third through eighth graders will be run by Mitch Kotler and Lou Herkalo. All interested in participating should contact the Springfield Recreation Department or Kotler at 376-7555.

Yanchus notes promising outlook as basketballer drill for opener

By PENNY LEVITT

Fourteen boys attending Jonathan Dayton Regional High School are practicing strenuously to reverse the 5-15 record of last year's varsity basketball team. The squad—Alar Berliner, Anthony Circelli, Craig Clickenger, Jeff Engelhardt, Albert Garguilo, Tyrone Hayes, Adam Joseph, Ken Klebous, Ricky Marech, Don Meixner, Robert Ster, Mitchell Toland, Billy Ventura and Larry Walker has exhibited a competitive spirit in pre-season scrimmages.

Although the team is lacking dominating height, and many players have little varsity experience, Coach Ray Yanchus is optimistic about the coming season. The boys are developing strong offensive and defensive skills, he noted. The first game is scheduled Friday, Dec. 14, against Arthur L. Johnson High School in Clark.

The junior varsity, coached by Bill McNeese, includes John Apicella, Jerry Blaboli, Billy Boogar, Geoff Bradshaw, Dan Circelli, Jeff Cohen, Billy Condon, David Geltman, Robert Horwood, Larry Maier, Ken Palazzo, and John Sivoletta. They should be a strong squad and will provide fresh talent for future years.

Through pre-season practices Arto Krupp, freshman coach, has noticed a competitiveness previously lacking on the freshman level. Mike Berber, Glenn Delaney, Pat Esemplare, Ron Fusco, Kyle Hudgens and Dave Johnson exhibit outstanding talent. The first competition is scheduled Tuesday Dec. 18 at home against Union.

Track teams hoping to match last season

By PENNY LEVITT

Jonathan Dayton Regional High School's boys' and girls' winter track teams hope to duplicate last season's success. Last year, both squads were undefeated in dual meet competition. Head Coach Bill Jones said he is extremely pleased with the combination of familiar "stars" and new runners who are participating. The sport is particularly appealing to young girls at Jonathan Dayton.

The boys' team is counting on a nucleus of several Suburban Conference cross country champion runners along with state champion high jumper Paul Comarato, hurdler John Alexy and shot-putter Dan Damarowski. They will compete in the West Point Invitational, the Seton Hall Invitational and the Union County Developmental Meet.

The girls' outstanding competitors include Trish Taylor, Maria Sannino, Kathy Kelly, Linda Spina and Debbie Keller. A young but experienced distance team, which performed well in cross country also will be running.

Jones said he is proud to be associated with coaches Dave Cowden and Warner Byrne and added he is looking forward to "working with fine athletes who have the desire and willingness to put forth their best effort at all times." The team's first meet is scheduled Dec. 21 against Cranford and Roselle.

Dayton alumni run 3.2 miles cross country

The third annual Dayton Alumni Cross Country Invitational Run took place recently under ideal 70-degree weather conditions. The run is open to former Dayton cross country athletes only.

The alumni convened at 10 a.m. at Meisel Field for stretching exercises, followed by the 3.2 mile run over the regular Dayton course.

Marc Hollander (71) ran an extremely fine race but accidentally deviated from the standard course and was disqualified. Following him, in the order of the top five finishers, were: Marty Josephs (70), Kirk Kubach (79), Gary Sherman (77), Merrill Frommer (74), and Dennis Episcopo (73).

Other athletes participating were Robert Gilbert (77), Jeff Goldstein (75), Bill Bjorstad (76), Russ Lausten (78), Bob Ripp (71), Peter Keramus (79) and Gary Street (71). At the conclusion of the run, trophies were presented to the first five finishers by Commander Al Scott, on behalf of Continental Post 228, Springfield American Legion. Following addresses of welcome by Ira Geller, meet director, and Dayton Coach Martin Taglienti, plans were discussed for next year's run.

FRIDAY DEADLINE

All items other than spot news should be in our office by noon on Friday.

Captains elected at Kean

Elaine Carroll, Jane Koza and Kathy Shea have been elected tri-captains of the 1979-80 Kean College women's basketball team. All three are seniors.

Carroll, a 5'8" All-America candidate from Bayonne, averaged 15 points and 11 rebounds a game last year, when the team finished with a 19-7 record, the best in the school's history.

Koza is a 5-11 forward from Rahway. She averaged 8.3 points and 6 rebounds a game in 1978-79.

Shea is a 5-7 guard from Mays Landing, who averaged 6 points a game last season.

Kean figures to have another strong team this season with nine veterans back from last year, plus all-state freshman Terri Braithwaite of New Brunswick, a 6-1 center. The Kean women open their season Dec. 4 at home against the University of Connecticut.

A PEAK IN SKIING

Zugsplitze, Germany's highest ski resort, accommodated about 450,000 people in 1978. More than $5 million is being spent to add a seventh tow lift and a new restaurant, which will be built at an elevation of 2,500 meters.

Susquehanna features Doty

SELINGROVE, Pa.—Susquehanna University will hold its fourth annual Crusader Classic basketball tournament on Monday and Tuesday. The tournament marks the opening of the regular season for Coach Don Harnum's Crusader men's quintet.

Susquehanna is the defending champion of the tournament, which the Orange and Maroon captured for the first time last year with a 67-64 victory over Montclair (N.J.) State.

Kevin Doty of Springfield, N.J., then a Susquehanna freshman playing in his first intercollegiate games, was named the most valuable Player in last year's tournament.

The 6-4 Doty finished the season standing second in both scoring and rebounding for the Orange and Maroon with 10.4 points and 5.5 rebounds per game.

IN CONGRESS

Matthew Rinaldo

12th District

Imposing a double tax on dividends deals an unfair blow to far more people than just wealthy investors. As new studies submitted to Congress show, the federal government's policy of taxing dividends paid out of corporate earnings that have already been taxed, unfairly overtaxes Americans in all income groups.

It has been found, for instance, that double taxation of dividends cuts unfairly into the invested pension funds of millions of low and middle income workers. Meanwhile, it shortchanges all stock market investors, a majority of whom are in low and middle income groups. In addition, taxing corporate profits and dividends discourages investment in U.S. business that is needed to create more jobs and rebuild the nation's economy.

Eliminating the double tax would involve an immediate loss of $24 billion in federal revenues. But economists estimate that the revenue losses would be more than recouped through higher productivity.

Reports submitted to the House Ways and Means Committee calculate that the additional capital investment resulting from elimination of double taxation would generate a sharply increased flow of products and services and create a surge of tax revenues from increased business activity.

Additionally, the creation of new jobs through increased investment would lower unemployment compensation costs, provide new sources of individual income tax revenues, and increase the flow of funds into the financially troubled Social Security program.

An estimated 130 million Americans depend to some degree on dividend income and would benefit from legislation ending the double tax burden.

About 25 million people invest in securities and more than half of them have incomes of less than $18,000 a year.

The other 104 million are workers who participate in the stock market as members of a union or other pension fund. They rely on dividends to build a fund that determines how much they will eventually receive in retirement benefits or pensions.

These Americans have a personal stake in the double taxation issue. Corporate earnings on which their dividend income is based are subject to a federal tax of up to 46 percent. Individual tax rates take an additional bite out of dividends to shareholders. As a result, many workers have a part of their income taxed as high as 70 percent instead of the average rate of from 20 to 35 percent.

Apart from being unfair, this double taxation hurts productivity and burdens the economy.

The adverse factors have become so pronounced that one leading economist of the New York Stock Exchange has pointed out that the elimination of the double tax alone could significantly reduce inflation and unemployment.

Some economists maintain that at least a million new jobs could be created within a year after ending this double tax, and that within three years at least four million new jobs would be produced.

These powerful economic factors underscore the need for congressional action to correct an inflationary and socially inequitable tax policy.

A number of bills have been introduced in Congress to deal with the problem.

One of the measures would double the tax exemption on dividends, raising it from $100 a year to $200 a year.

When this measure reaches the floor of the House, I will offer an amendment increasing the exemption to $1,000 a year. This would be comparable with the amount of tax-free interest on savings permitted under legislation I have sponsored.

Another bill awaiting consideration in the House would increase the tax exemption for dividends that are reinvested—a move that would encourage more investment in U.S. industry.

A combination of both policies—increasing tax exemptions both on dividends received and dividends reinvested—would aid the nation's economy and provide fairer treatment for taxpaying investors.

Police probing

Mountainside police are investigating two incidents of malicious damage that occurred in the borough early Saturday morning.

Some time between 1 and 8:20 a.m. a motor vehicle was driven on the front lawn and through some shrubbery of a home on Rolling Rock Road, police said. Damage was estimated at $300.

A motor vehicle was driven on the lawn of a Wyoming Drive residence some time between 1 and 9 a.m., causing roughly $50 damage, police reported.

Driver given 2 summonses

A Plainfield man was issued two summonses following a three-car collision last Thursday in the westbound lane of Route 22 in Mountainside, police said.

Fred L. Bishop was charged with driving while on the revoked list and driving without a driver's license in his possession, police said.

Bishop was stopped for a traffic light in front of a car driven by Jeffrey France of Piscataway. A third car, driven by Thomas Allan of Manville, struck the car driven by France, which struck the car Bishop was driving, according to police.

Letters

CHAPEL ISLAND
Congratulations to the Mountainside Woman's Club community improvement program.

Since July 1979, one of their targets has been cleaning up the dangerous high weeds and overgrowth which impeded the vision of motorists at Chapel Island. The island is located on Highway 22 in the center of the borough.

Because of their insistent efforts, the New Jersey Transportation Department has removed dead trees and overgrowth. We hope they will not stop now. The huge mounds of winter road materials which remain are like a festering sore in our beautiful borough.

You have proved "an ant can move a rubber tree." Keep up the good work. We will support you.

Professor hurt in auto crash

A Westfield Professor was first listed in critical condition at Raritan Valley Hospital in Green Brook, following an accident which occurred Nov. 27 on Route 22, Mountainside. A spokesman at the hospital Monday said Dr. Louis Zemsky was in satisfactory condition. Zemsky, 33, a clinical assistant professor of surgery at Rutgers Medical School, was making a left turn into the westbound lanes of the highway from New Providence Road when his car was hit by a truck traveling in the eastbound side, according to police.

The truck driver, Christopher Tropia, 20, of Merrick, N.Y., employed by Coastal Services, Inc., of Perth Amboy, was issued a summons charging that he disregarded a red light, police said.

Service badge won by Carter

Spec. 4 Donald R. Carter, whose wife, Antoinette lives in Mountainside, was presented the Air Assault Badge upon graduation from the Air Assault School at Fort Campbell, Ky. Trainees learned to rapidly and safely leave a helicopter from a variety of difficult situations. Whether descending into tree tops or lowering themselves or injured soldiers down sheer drops, the graduates are highly proficient.

Carter, an administrative clerk with the 31st Field Artillery, entered the Army in March 1977.

Know Your Government

STATE USE OF INITIATIVE & REFERENDUM

The voter approval rate of referendums on laws and constitutional amendments proposed by state legislatures or constitutional conventions is nearly double that of laws and constitutional amendments initiated by voters. This is one of the significant findings in published studies completed after passage of the constitutional amendment initiative Proposition 13 in California and subsequent upsurge in initiative and referendum questions in other states. Reports the New Jersey Taxpayers Association, in the fourth of a series on the subject.

Tabulations showing historical use of initiative and referendum for both laws and constitutional amendments in 22 states, prepared by the Congressional Research Service of the Library of Congress, were used by Dr. Austin Ranney of the American Enterprise Institute in a book, "Referendums, A Comparative Study of Practice and Theory."

Ten of the 22 states with statutory initiative are in the west. In the period between 1898, year of first state adoption of initiative (North Dakota) and 1976, most frequent use of the power was in Oregon (1199 measures voted on), North Dakota (107), Washington (78) and California (69). Most frequent use of the constitutional initiative was also in western states—California (90), Oregon (88), Colorado (71), and Arizona (46). Total initiatives were: Oregon (207), California (159), North Dakota (137), Colorado (119), and Arizona (117) over the period 1898

DiFrancesco on committees

State Sen. Donald T. DiFrancesco (R-Union, Morris) has been appointed by Senate President Joseph Merlino to serve on the Senate Transportation and Communications Committee and the Committee for State Government, Federal and Interstate Regulations and Veterans Affairs.

DiFrancesco, elected Nov. 6 to fill a recently vacated Senate seat, was sworn in at the Nov. 13 session and has begun carrying out his Senate duties.

"I am especially pleased with the appointment to the Transportation Committee," said DiFrancesco. "The current high interest in transportation and energy problems, as well as the recent passage of a $475 million transportation bond issue, indicates that this committee will be an important business to consider."

DiFrancesco noted that the State Government Committee is currently studying an administration proposal to extend public financing to gubernatorial primaries and to put limits on campaign spending in races for governor of New Jersey.

1976. In the 14 states which have both initiative and referendum powers, use of constitutional initiative has been only slightly less than statutory initiative, 53% vs. 55%.

The national average percentage of voter approvals of both constitutional initiative and statutory initiative was slightly higher than one-third. High use states with high approval percentages were North Dakota, 63 percent for initiated constitutional amendments, Washington, 47 percent for initiated statutes, Colorado, 44 percent for initiated statutes. States with under average approval rates are Oregon, 33 percent for constitutional amendments, and California, 27 percent for both initiated constitutional amendments and laws from the beginning use of the powers in 1976. The majority of proposed initiatives fail to have sufficient petition signatures to qualify for the ballot. In only one-third of the states which have initiative has the power been used frequently.

Use of the initiative in the states increased in 1978, with the highest number of questions on the ballot in a non-presidential election in the last thirty years, according to a study by the Citizens League of Minneapolis.

Governmental processes like reapportionment have been the most frequent subjects of constitutional initiatives (one-third) and statutory initiatives (one-fifth). For both types of initiative, finances were the second most frequent subject, comprising 21 percent of all proposals. Measures regulating public morals, like abortion and sale or use of alcohol, were the third most frequent issue, accounting for from 13 to 15 percent of all initiatives. Since the early 1950s, there has been a marked increase in initiatives dealing with civil rights and environmental protection.

Dr. Ranney's analysis of 18 states which provide referendum, shows that 34 percent of constitutional referendum proposals initiated by popular petition were approved, about the same rate as initiatives on statutes.

Work requirements explained for Social Security coverage

"How long must I work under Social Security before I can get monthly benefits?"

Many people nearing retirement ask this question. So do younger workers wanting to know what protection their families can count on should they die or become severely disabled.

Most employed and self-employed people today earn credits that count toward future Social Security benefits. They include those working full time, such as factory workers and businessmen, as well as housewives and students employed part time, young people on active military duty, and millions more. With more than nine out of 10 jobs covered, workers build benefit rights year after year.

The Social Security credits these people earn are called "quarters of coverage." In 1979, both employed and self-employed individuals earn one quarter of coverage for each $260 of covered annual earnings. A person earning $1,040 or more receives the maximum of four credits, or "quarters," for the year.

If you are self-employed, you generally must have a net profit of $400 or more in a year before any earnings count. If your net is less than $400 ask at any Social Security office how you may still receive credit.

The amount needed to earn a quarter of coverage will go up automatically in future years to keep pace with increases in average wages.

All credits earned from covered employment after 1936 and covered self-employment after 1950 can help establish eligibility for Social Security benefits. The amount of credit needed depends on your age and the type of benefit. Once insured, both you and your dependents are eligible for payments.

A person who retires at 65 in 1980 needs credit for 26 quarters (6½ years) to be eligible for monthly retirement benefits and Medicare hospital insurance. No work credits are needed for Medicare medical insurance. Regardless of age, no one needs more than 40 quarters (10 years) of credit to be insured.

The number of credits a person needs to get disability benefits depends on the age disability starts, ranging from as little as 6 quarters (1½ years) for a worker disabled before age 24 to as many as 29 quarters (7¼ years) for people in their 50s or early 60s who become disabled in 1980. Except for blind workers, a certain number of the credits must have been earned in recent years.

For survivors benefits, the amount of credit depends on the worker's age at the time of death. The amount ranges from six to 29 quarters if the worker dies in 1980. However, cash payments can be made to a worker's children and their mother or father if the worker was covered under Social Security 1½ years (six quarters) in the three years before death.

Having enough credit means only that you or your family can receive benefits. The actual amount of the check depends on your earnings over a period of years.

It is important that you receive credit for all your earnings covered by Social Security. Keep copies of all Forms W-2 (Wage and Tax Statement) your employers give you at the end of each year, as well as a record of any self-employment income you report.

Then, every few years, request a free statement of earnings recorded to your Social Security record. You can get a post card form for this purpose at any Social Security office. If you find an omission or error on the statement, bring your W-2s or tax returns to the Social Security office so a correction can be made.

If you wish more information on this subject, ask for the leaflet, "Social Security credits—how you earn them," at 342 Westminster Ave., Elizabeth, 800-272-1111.

Gilruth details plans for Warinanco's rink

Carolyn Gilruth has been appointed manager of the Warinanco Ice Skating Center, a Union County facility located in Warinanco Park. She replaces Doug Mayer who resigned last year.

Gilruth, whose experience lies in all areas of rink operation from cashier to manager, plans to design new programs to introduce all county residents to ice skating.

"Right now, I'd like to organize the skating center's programs to transform it into an active facility," she explained.

To achieve this goal, she plans special contests such as "Skate, Pass and Shoot," in which youngsters test their hockey skills, and monthly special events. "Many of the events will coincide with holidays," she said. "The center will be decorated for holidays," she added.

Gilruth plans to interest special groups in ice skating, a leisure-time activity and exercise. "Daytime programs will be geared to senior citizens and housewives, in particular, to involve them in this sport."

Group lessons will be revamped and based on plans set by the Ice Skating Institute of America. "Skaters will strive to achieve skill levels and earn merit badges."

Gilruth, who holds a bachelor's degree in recreation from Montclair State College, previously worked at the Old Bridge Skating Arena as assistant manager and as manager. She was employed for nine years at the Montclair Skating Arena, Upper Montclair.

New concept offered for mobile home life

It didn't take long for the wide-ranging appeal of Colonial Village, the new concept mobile home community in Mt. Bethel, Pa., to become obvious. Shortly after Colonial Village's recent grand opening, the first two couples to move into the 82-acre, year-round community are from the divergent New Jersey points of Bergen County, about 50 miles to the east, and Phillipsburg, about 20 miles south.

"Quite a few of our first buyers have said that they would have moved to the value of life here even if we were further out in Pennsylvania," reports developer David Utzinger. "But, in fact, our location just south of the Portland Bridge over the Delaware permits us to offer the best of both worlds—close enough to major work centers of the metropolitan area and much closer to every kind of desirable recreational pleasure."

For the first move-ins—Charles and Joan Bruno, who own a tire business in Bergen County, and Bob and Jodi Mabie, who have a bookstore in Phillipsburg—their early arrival means immediate enjoyment of the proximity of Colonial Village to Camelback and other outstanding nearby ski areas. In effect, ownership of one of the affordable Colonial Village homes priced from $22,364 means having a year-round vacation place for what others might spend for just a seasonal visit. After purchase, Colonial Villagers pay from only $119 per month for lot rental. And that fee includes the community's own facilities being developed, a comprehensive maintenance program, 24-hour community security—even home water.

Near New Jersey Exit 4 of Route 80, Colonial Village is devoting more than 18 acres of its prime green dell land to an ecological area which will remain forever untouched and naturally beautiful. On the balance of the community property, more than 40 floor plan variations of large, attractively appointed and well-engineered modern mobile homes are offered.

Available in either 14-foot or 24-foot widths, and with from two bedrooms and two baths, the Colonial Village residences include such standard construction features as no-maintenance aluminum siding and high energy efficiency values.

"The great majority of Colonial Village residents, like those who have already been attracted to it, will be families from homes in northern New Jersey. They're tired of putting up with rising home prices, taxes and maintenance costs," states Utzinger.

In the recent six-week period, 28 such households, purchased Colonial Village homes, Utzinger reported. Now, while they're moving in, final work is in progress on their clubhouse, health club, pond and nature areas.

Located off Pennsylvania Route 611, below Portland, Pa., the community can be reached easily by traveling west on Exit 4 from N.J. express Route 80. Or take Portland Bridge, and proceed south on Pennsylvania Route 611.

The private recreational facilities will include the golf putting green, the main and wading pools, the tennis and paddle tennis courts, the children's playground and the five-acre, spring-fed trout pond and Angler's Island at its center, as well as the clubhouse and the community health club. Renovated from a basic structure dating back to the 1700s, the clubhouse will show a two-story structure with a large community hall, walk-in stone fireplace, grill, tap room, dining veranda, guest closets and lavatories on the main floor, and upstairs, a balcony overlooking the community hall, a large sitting room and an observation deck.

NEW 'HICKORY' — One of the most popular homes in Sugarmill Woods, Homosassa, Fla., is the new "Hickory" model. Designed for Florida living, it has an oversized patio overlooking a wide nature belt and an open air living-dining space for elegant as well as comfortable entertaining. The home is one of six new models recently opened at the recreationally oriented Florida Gulf Coast Information on Sugarmill Woods can be obtained from the local sales office.

Nature, sport prevail at Sugarmill Woods

"Lifestyle" has been a popular and common expression in Florida for years, and it means different things to different people. "Years ago we were made quite aware of it," said Kelley M. Johns, president of Punta Gorda Developers, Inc., builders of Sugarmill Woods, "and when we decided to go ahead with this community, which is now almost six years old, our focus was on introducing a recreationally oriented way of life for our residents."

"The housing market," said Johns, "has undergone many changes in recent years, with strong emphasis on aiming for the retiree. However, we're finding out that this is no longer true" he added, "for a very basic reason—people are retiring at a much earlier age and usually in a very comfortable financial position."

Sugarmill Woods is located one hour from the Tampa International Airport and about 75 miles north of St. Petersburg on U.S. 19. At Sugarmill Woods today, one will find a dynamic group of retired homeowners, professional men, corporate executives, along with a good cross-section of practicing physicians, dentists, lawyers, accountants, and others who enjoy a new way of life in this Florida Gulf Coast area.

For the golfer, there is the challenging 18-hole golf course at the Sugarmill Woods Golf and Racquet Club. Adjoining the clubhouse facilities are a fresh water pool, tennis courts and nearby is a complete marina with full vacation and recreational facilities for visitors and guests. Some of the finest fishing in America is found in the nearby rivers, streams, and lakes adjoining Sugarmill Woods.

For those who desire no part of physical exertion, the unique wilderness atmosphere which surrounds the community is ideal for hauling out the lounge chair and "just listening to the grass grow." Quite often the homeowners will see a small deer, a raccoon, a wild turkey, a lot of quail, grey squirrels, and other small friendly animals who share their home with the new residents.

"The climate at Sugarmill Woods is just delightful," said Johns. "We call it the land of three seasons as we have spring, summer and delightful fall. We encourage people to visit us on their winter vacation as we are convinced from past experience that once they've seen us they'll come back to stay even though it might be several years down the road."

To maintain the woodlands and the feel of unspoiled nature, Sugarmill Woods planners designed the community so that no backyard is closer than 100 feet of any other backyard and, in some cases, as much as 1,000 feet separates the homesites.

All of the trees are left standing and only mild clearing is done to accommodate the home, keeping a woodland feel to the community.

The intervening spaces are filled with wild shrubs and undergrowth.

New season gives Panther Valley appeal

Now that the plush green fairways and forests are transformed by the multi-colors of fall, residents of Panther Valley are preparing to change their recreational habits of summer but not their way of life in the luxurious environment

amid the hills of Allamuchy

The basketball courts will undergo their annual conversion for ice skating. The slopes of Panther Valley will become ski trails, the gentler ones runs for children's sleds. Snowdrifts on jogging paths will be potted by snowshoes.

Skiers with more experience or more time, will drive 30 minutes to the ski lifts at Vernon Valley or Camelback in the Poconos. And during the winter, of course, many of them will travel south for a holiday.

In a nutshell, the only real change will be in the weather at Panther Valley, the private community where single family homes are priced from $138,900 and three townhome neighborhoods offer models from $61,240.

Just 55 miles from New York City, where many of the professionals and business executives have their offices, Panther Valley is known as "the New Jersey home for families who can afford to live anywhere." Most of them can—but there were many reasons to select Panther Valley, states Charles Knoeller, director of sales.

"There are few more beautiful or private places anywhere and none that I know of so close to the greater metropolitan area," Knoeller points out. "Insofar as possible we have retained the natural beauty and left much of it undisturbed."

We obviously were successful because deer, red foxes, chipmunks, rabbits and other small game abound in the area and often are seen even in backyards. Each section of the community is separated by stands of tall trees and thick bushes.

The private pleasures within Panther Valley include tennis, platform tennis and swimming, basketball and volleyball and a kids playground.

To reach Panther Valley, take Route 80 to Exit 19. Turn left at the end of the ramp, and proceed south on Route 517. The community entrance will be on the left approximately three-quarters of a mile ahead.

Salaries for Profs up in N.J.

Increases in salaries and percentages of tenured faculty at New Jersey colleges and universities exceeded national rates last year, according to state Chancellor of Higher Education T. Edward Hollander.

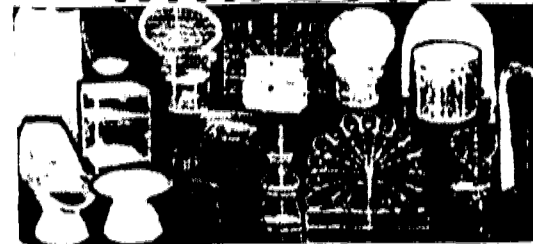

The annual salary for New Jersey college faculty on full-time, nine-month contracts averaged $21,265 in 1978-79, an increase of 9.1 percent over the previous year's average salary. Nationally, faculty average salaries rose 6.2 percent during the same period.

These increases kept New Jersey faculty ahead of both the 7.3 percent rise in the estimated Consumer Price Index for the state and the 9 percent rise for the nation. From 1972 to 1977, the average annual increase in salary for New Jersey college faculty was 7.1 percent. During 1978-79, 65.5 percent of the full-time faculty had tenure, compared to 63.5 percent nationally. The percentage of New Jersey faculty with tenure grew 1.6 percent over the previous year. Despite overall increases in salaries and tenure for faculty between 1977 and 1978, women faculty at New Jersey colleges and universities fared unevenly. While there was a higher rate of tenuring women faculty than men faculty, salaries for the latter increased at a greater rate.

Disc & Data

Pick of The LPs: BORN AGAIN, by Randy Newman (WARNER BROS. HS-3346)

Born in New Orleans, Randy moved to California with his family at an early age. At six he began playing piano. At 12 he dove headlong into music theory, a study which he later continued at U.C.L.A. Three of Newman's uncles, Alfred, Lionel and Emil, are respected conductors and film score composers (in 1972, Newman premiered Sail Away at New York's Philharmonic Hall with Emil conducting; he debuted Good Old Boys at the Atlantic Philharmonic. From his deceptively simple piano accompaniments to his masterful use of full orchestra, Newman's music is deeply entrenched in Americana. Strains of Stephen Foster, blues and country riffs, a sophisticated use of rhythm and rhyme that echoes the show tunes of Porter and Gershwin and Hart (Newman, in fact, began his career writing glossy Brill Building type pop tunes) underlie his work.

Many of his songs deal with ordinary people in ordinary situations (he once said that what he really does is put short stories to music), but his writer in contemporary music has managed to carve out a personal niche in quite the way Randy Newman has. And none has been able to get to the core of a situation, establish a locale, character and mood, with a turn of phrase or touch of the truly bizarre within the framework of a three minute song in quite the way Randy Newman can.

From his debut album, Randy Newman, down through 12 songs, Randy Newman Live, Sail Away and Good Old Boys, Newman's work has earned both critical acclaim and an ever growing, every loyal audience. It was Little Criminals, released in September of 1977, however, that really brought Randy Newman into the spotlight. That album featured the hilarious satire on prejudice titled "Short People." The song was a Top 40 hit and the center of a storm of controversy that elicited as much laughter as it did protest from the more diminutive segments of the listening public.

Statewide poll finds few favor blue laws

Most New Jerseyans agree with voters in Middlesex, Monmouth and Union Counties—they do not support

UC lists dates for spring term

The spring semester at Union College, which is open to entering freshmen as well as returning students, will begin Jan. 28, it was announced by Dr. Leonard T. Kreiman, vice-president for academic affairs.

Union College will offer some 175 credit courses in day, evening and weekend classes in its 28 programs in the arts, sciences, business, criminal justice, engineering and human services. Students may work toward the two-year associate degree and then transfer their credits to four-year colleges and universities. A recent survey of Union College graduates shows that 85 percent transfer to four-year schools.

Students enrolling at the Cranford college may charge their tuition and fees to their Master Charge or VISA credit cards. Registration will be conducted at the Cranford campus Jan. 23, 24 and 25. Those who wish to apply for admission by telephone may call 272-8580 or 272-8581.

Classes for the spring semester conclude on May 24.

the "blue laws" which still require most retail stores in seven counties to remain closed on Sundays.

Voters in the three counties repealed the blue laws in the November election. The latest Eagleton Poll, conducted the last two weeks of October, found 69 percent of New Jerseyans agreed that stores should be allowed to be open on Sundays throughout the state, while 26 percent disagreed and five percent offered no opinion.

New Jerseyans put little faith in the arguments of those supporting the blue laws. By identical margins of 64 percent to 34 percent, state residents did not feel that "allowing stores to open Sundays would force small storeowners out of business" and did not find persuasive the argument that "Sunday is the Sabbath for many people and retail shopping should not be permitted on a religious day."

Seventy-eight percent agreed that "people should be allowed to shop on any day they want," while only 21 percent disagreed. Two-thirds felt that "having stores closed on Sundays is a hardship on those unable to do their shopping during the week," while one-third did not see this as a severe hardship.

Cliff Zukin, director of the Rutgers-based poll, commented, "People still want to be able to shop anytime they like, but with the increasing number of women in the workforce and single-person households, Sunday shopping has become a matter of necessity rather than simply convenience for some people."

People were evenly split on a related environmental issue. Half of those interviewed—48 percent—agreed that "keeping stores closed on Sunday would save energy by cutting driving," while the other half—49 percent—disagreed with this statement.

Residents of the seven counties which presently have Sunday closing laws (Bergen, Cumberland, Essex, Hudson, Morris, Somerset and Passaic) favored Sunday shopping almost as strongly as did residents of counties without the blue laws. Residents of "blue law" counties favored Sunday shopping by a margin of 67 to 28 percent with five percent undecided. Residents of counties with Sunday shopping favored statewide Sunday openings by a margin of 71 to 24 percent, with five percent undecided.

The poll was conducted between Oct. 19 and 28, when a scientifically selected sample of 603 New Jersey residents, 18 years and older, was interviewed by telephone.

Toll-free Medicare answers

Blue Shield of New Jersey has opened a toll-free telephone line to answer questions most often asked by members enrolled for Medicare Complementary Coverage.

Senior citizens will be able to use this telephone service without charge from anywhere in New Jersey.

By calling 800-242-0220, a Blue Shield member can listen to a taped message that explains some aspect of Medicare or Blue Shield Complementary Coverage. The tapes average two to five minutes in length and cover such subjects as how to file claims under complementary coverage and how Medicare and Blue Shield together pay a claim for physicians' services. The messages will be changed from time to time.

Blue Shield is embarking on this new program because the sometimes-complex paperwork involved in filing claims for Medicare and complementary coverage creates service needs for senior citizens that are different from those of the membership as a whole.
