School budget of $2.1 million would mean 4.2-cent tax hike

The 1980-81 Mountainside Board of Education tentative budget would raise the current tax rate in the borough 4.2 points per $100 assessed valuation, according to John McDonough, board secretary.

The increase would mean owners of a home assessed at $50,000 would pay an additional $21, and owners of a home assessed at $75,000 would face a $31.50 increase.

The anticipated tax levy for 1980-81 is $1,851,370, an increase of $75,390. The total figure includes a reduction in debt service tax levy of $4,085, from $119,296 to $115,211. The decrease results from a reduction of the total number of outstanding bonds, according to a budget summary published by the board. The total tentative 1980-81 budget, which has been approved by the Union County Superintendent of Schools, is $2,178,161, an increase of $86,776, or 4.1 percent.

The budget falls within the state mandated cap figure of 6.98 percent.

A major increase in the proposed measure is a 38 percent increase in heating costs, from $59,900 to $82,400. Because of energy conservation measures in the schools, the budget anticipates no change in electricity costs, the summary said.

Total proposed administrative costs are $139,420, a 2 percent increase over last year. Total tentative instruction salaries, however, are down 2 percent because of staff reductions and changes.

Projected instructional materials cost is up 5.5 percent, from $51,725 to $54,595. The increase stems from course reimbursement for teachers and from evaluations of handicapped children.

Proposed attendance and health service costs are down 10 percent, largely because of changes in the nursing staff.

Pupil transportation costs would be up 30 percent as a result of last year's busing contractor going out of business. Last year's bid was "exceptionally low," according to the budget report. This year's projected appropriation is $87,670, up $20,670 from last year. The costs of field and athletic trips are up 73 percent over last year because of increased costs and activities.

Increased premiums have caused a $23,500 increase in property and employee insurance, the two of which now would total $110,200.

Another increase would be tuition for students housed in state facilities such as mental or reformatory institutions. According to the State Facilities Education Act of 1979, a community must now pay for residents of these institutions if their last known address was in the community. McDonough said Mountainside has two such students in state facilities. McDonough said last year no money was appropriated, but for 1980-81, a total of $10,644 is budgeted.

Help offered for graduation

Seniors to get makeup chance

By SAM FINNELL

The Union County Regional Board of Education Tuesday night announced that, although it does not plan to provide for summer school in the tentative 1980-81 budget, it will provide classes for seniors who fail to meet graduation requirements.

Money will be appropriated at the public hearing on the budget to hire three teachers to allow seniors to try to make up a failure in one of the three required areas, English, math or physical education, Dr. Donald Merachnik, superintendent of schools, said. Because the proposed budget is at the state-mandated cap, something in the budget must be given up, he said.

The superintendent, after the meeting, estimated the cost at $3,000. Students would provide their own transportation. He said principals estimate about 10 seniors from each school would need the makeup work.

The summer school issue came up at the meeting when a member of the Clark Board of Education asked the board to reconsider its decision to eliminate the summer school. Board member Roland Hecker of Berkeley Heights replied, "What do you suggest you give up?"

Merachnik said maintaining the summer school system at two schools costs in excess of $70,000. When cutting the locations to one was suggested, Hecker said, experience has shown that attendance drops considerably.

Hecker also said, "We already offer a tremendous amount during the school year." He said many students elect to take another course instead of a study hall during the regular school year.

Stephen Marciniak, board member from Clark, said he thought the board had not explored all the options to slashing the summer school. "All we did was pick on this academic hunk," he said.

The board also addressed the problem of a cheerleading policy for the four high schools. It was decided that the superintendent and the four athletic directors would meet the next day (yesterday) to draft a paragraph depicting the status of the activity and include that paragraph in the district's athletic policy. Placing the paragraph under athletics would "make cheerleading more like a sport," Merachnik said after the meeting, and would allow schools more flexibility in setting the guidelines for its cheerleading teams.

In other business, the board discussed the responsibility of coaches in regional high schools to contribute to community sports programs and discussed the coach job description in general.

Most of the discussion centered on the part of the description that says a coach should promote his sport in the community and attempt to develop feeder systems—good young teams to supply talented players to the high school squads.

Board member John Conlin of Garwood said that having coaches advise local elementary and junior high school level teams hurts the coaches' work in the classrooms. Training athletes in the younger grades should be left to the respective coaches at those levels, Conlin said.

William Keyes of Berkeley Heights said coaches should be urged to visit and to make suggestions to the coaches of those younger squads.

Natalie Waldt of Springfield said that many of the younger teams regard the high school coaches' suggestions as interference and request not to have the regional coaches' involvement.

Pete Falzarano, athletic director at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, said part of the problem is the interpretation of the job description. "What is expected?" he said.

The discussion ended with Merachnik saying the athletic directors should be the ones to interpret the policy and decide specifically how much the coach should do to promote his sport and encourage participation by younger

In election matters, Harold Burdge, board secretary, announced that Margaret Hough will run uncontested for re-election to the board. Hecker and Virginia Muskus of Clark also will seek another term, uncontested. Last year the three candidates ran with no opposition.

In another matter, the board appointed election officials for the March school election. Kenilworth officials include Helen Smith, judge; Isabella Hartnett, inspector; and clerks Ruth Most, Dorothy Seale, Pearl Brennan, Dorothy Wood, Beatrice Slater, Rose Longo, Gertrude Marion and William Smith.

Springfield officials are Julius Thele, judge; Amy Powell, inspector; and clerks Fannie Braskin, Samuel Braskin, Abner Thele, Freda Horowitz, Helen Sofia, Verma Baldwin, Helen Kallens and Dora Schneider.

Judges in Mountainside are Jeanne

Planners to meet

The Mountainside Planning Board, which was to have met last Thursday, will hold a special meeting instead at 8 p.m. today in the municipal building.

Survey to determine senior housing need

How many senior citizens are in Mountainside?

The newly-established Senior Citizen Housing Advisory Committee is trying to find out, preliminary to a study of housing needs, a committee representative said Friday. The committee held its first meeting last month.

According to a committee spokesman, a registration letter will be included in the borough's annual newsletter, scheduled for release in about two weeks. The purpose of the letter, the spokesman said, is to locate the senior citizens and find out how many actually reside in Mountainside. After the survey is taken, it will be determined whether there is an interest in or a need for senior citizen housing.

"We have to find them before we can realize the scope of the seniors' needs," said the spokesman. The registration letter requests that residents more than 62 years old complete a form with their name, address, marital status and phone number. They may include their age if they want, the spokesman stated.

According to the spokesman, the committee was appointed by Mayor Thomas Riccardi last fall, after several persons expressed an interest in moderate-income housing for senior citizens. The committee includes a cross-section of the community.

Members include: Carol Falter, who will act as chairman; May Ladd, committee vice-president; Roween Miller, publicity chairman; Fred Wilhelms; William Biunno; Roy Mumford; Norma Huber; Frank Galiano; Henry Von Der Linden; James Dowd and Mary Lou Greely. Mabel Young will act as council liaison to the committee.

ROCKETEER—Allan Levantthal prepares to launch a model rocket at Deerfield School, Mountainside. A Deerfield eighth-grader, he shared his interest in rocketry with fifth-grade students of Mary Porter, who have been studying the universe. Levantthal lectured the students on rocketry and then gave a demonstration on rocket launching.

County reapproval needed

Board looks to adjust accounts

The Mountainside Board of Education in a special meeting Tuesday night discussed five possible areas of adjustment in the 1980-81 tentative budget, according to board member Bart Barre. All areas were tabled until the Feb. 26 public hearing on the budget.

The five accounts contain "potential for adjustment," Barre said. They are expenses in the superintendents office for such things as supplies and travel; two salary accounts in the instruction portion of the budget; contracted services for grounds maintenance, and contracted services for equipment repairs.

Any changes in the budget at this point would require reapproval by the office of James Clancy, county superintendent of schools. Barre said the county will look more favorably on changes in the budget made with public input. Five members of the public attended last night's meeting in the board offices, Barre said.

The board also discussed in private session matters pertaining to the search for a replacement for Dr. Levin Hanigan, superintendent of schools, who will retire at the end of the school year.

At present, Barre said, the search committee, which is headed by him and board member Carl Marinelli, is examining what services—such as professional advice—are available to the committee to help in its search for a new superintendent.

In other Board of Education business, nominating petitions for election to fill a one-year term on the Mountainside Board of Education were submitted by two candidates before the 4 p.m.

deadline last Thursday.

Petitions from Robert Gardella of Partridge Run and Sandra Burdge of Old Tote Road bring to six the number of candidates seeking a seat on the board.

Burdge and Gardella are running to fill the final year of the term of Anthony Mazucca, who moved from Mountainside. Board member Jerrold Kolton, who was appointed to fill the middle year of Mazucca's term, did not submit a petition.

As a result of last Friday's drawing for positions on the ballot, Gardella's name will appear above Burdge's.

Positions on the ballot for three-year term candidates are, first through fourth, Dr. Art Williams, Linda Schneider, Arthur Attenasio and Pat Knodel.

Fishing club again offers instruction

The Watchung Saltwater Fishing Club will begin its 12th year of fishing instruction in Kenilworth Feb. 28. The basic course is designed for beginners and those interested in brushing up on basic techniques. The club also will offer an advanced fishing course.

During the eight-week basic course, lectures and personal instruction will cover fishing from charter boats, party boats and your own boat; fishing from beaches, jetties, bays and inlets; terminal tackle, knots and equipment care.

Students in the seven-week advanced course will work with fishing electronics, rig baits, rebuild a reel, study fish biology-behavior and oceanography. Speakers will include Russ Wilson, fishing columnist-expert; Frank Rusch, tackle and fishing expert from Newark Sinkers Company; Stuart Wilk, National Marine Fisheries Service; and representatives of marine electronics firms.

Both courses will be held in conjunction with the adult education program at David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth. The basic course will begin Thursday, Feb. 28, at 7 p.m. and continues on Thursdays thereafter at 7:30 p.m. The course fee ($24) includes all class materials, instructional charts and booklets. The Advanced Course begins on March 6 at 7 p.m. and continues at 7:30 p.m. on succeeding Thursdays. The fee is $25. Certificates will be issued to those completing each course. Information is available from Steve Arbes (232-5676), Harry Linkin (376-6300), or John Wilkinson (654-6485).

PECOS SAYS HOWDY — Tipping his hat to his 'bride' is Pecos Bill, as portrayed by Chris Ventura in a play presented by fifth-graders at the Deerfield School for their parents and friends. Portraying the bride, Slewfoot Sue, is Tara McGrath.

Gardiner is No. 1 in Cub Scout derby

Cub Scout Alan Gardiner of Stony Brook Lane, Mountainside, took grand prize in racing in the annual Pinewood Derby at Community Presbyterian Church February 8.

Approximately 150 Cubs and their families attended the event, sponsored by Mountainside Cub Pack 177. Forty-one cars, created by the Scouts and their fathers, were entered in the contest. The event included races and judging of design.

Racing trophies also were awarded to first-year Cubs Justin Toner, who received first place; Gregory Bell, second place, and Glen Knierim, third place. Second-year Cubs who received awards were: Matthews Swartz first place; Jamie Downery, second place, and David Brahm, third place. Racing winners among the third year Webelos were: Bart Christopher Barre first place; Kevin Everly, second place, and Jim Kellerk, third place.

Michael Von Der Linn received a trophy for best car design, while Steven Koochis was awarded most original car, and Glen Miske, the funniest.

Judges for the event were Will Wells, George Stummer and Ron Damon, while Jerrold Kolton acted as scorekeeper. Jim Toner took charge of the overall arrangements for the derby.

The annual Blue & Gold dinner of Pack 177 will be held at 7 p.m. Friday, March 21, at the Community Presbyterian Church. The "Singing Troubadors" will supply the entertainment at the dinner, which will begin at 7 p.m. A spaghetti dinner will be prepared by the parents of the Scouts.

DERBY DESIGNER—Michael Von Der Linn of Dunn Parkway, Mountainside, displays the trophy he won for best design in the Cub Scout Pack 177 Pinewood Derby, held Feb. 8 at the Community Presbyterian Church. His entry was one of 41 cars.

Deerfield 7th graders take college entry exam

Fifteen Deerfield School seventh graders recently took a college entrance examination as part of a six-state search for intellectually talented youth conducted by the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.

The students met the eligibility requirements established by Johns Hopkins and were invited to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT).

The students gain experience by taking a college entry level test at an early age, according to Irene Buchner, the district's enrichment coordinator.

Participating students also receive a realistic appraisal and extensive interpretation of their mathematical and verbal reasoning abilities, as well as suggestions for using those abilities more effectively.

The talent search, conducted on the seventh grade level only, has been held in other states for six years. Students in New Jersey were included for the first time this year due to increased financing for the program at Johns Hopkins.

Vocational program open house planned

Gov. Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights and David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth will be open Wednesday from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. for school visits in accordance with the "Exploring Vocational Opportunities" project.

The "open house" will enable parents and eighth grade students to gain a greater understanding of vocational opportunities in the regional high schools. Classes will be in operation and the teaching staff will be available to inform and counsel those attending.

In addition, a guidance counselor will be available in each school to answer questions regarding course and career choices.

This Career Orientation-Vocational Education program is being administered by Stanley Grossman, coordinator of industrial arts and home economics education, with the assistance of Mrs. Emma Massey, business and distributive education coordinator.

The Union County Regional High School District has four high schools: Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield; Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School, Clark; Governor Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights; and David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth.

Clerks include Lillian Greenbaum, Barbara Byron, Madeline Szekes, Mabel Young, Bessie Hand, Constance Muirhead, Leokadia Stawick, Barbara Pittinger, Mary Steiner and Yvonne Jeka.

Machine operators are Mayera Cohen and Doris Van Voorhies.

Alternates include Anita Curtiss, Helen Hay, Florence Degenhardt, Helen Borchert, Eleanor Hechtle and Florence Haas.

The Leader regrets that it miscalculated the effect of the 1980-81 tentative Union County Regional High School District budget on taxes in Mountainside, Springfield and Kenilworth. In Mountainside a seven-point increase would mean the owner of a home assessed at $50,000 would pay an additional $35. In Springfield, on the same home, a four-point increase would cause taxes to increase $20. Kenilworth taxes on the same home, with a three-point increase, would rise $15.

Let's help each other the good neighbor.

Key Clubbers in benefit game

Ten members of the Key Club of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, participating in a basketball marathon, raised more than $50 for Hand-In-Hand, a charity for retarded citizens.

The Key Club beat a group from Perth Amboy High School, 127-72. Alan Berliner (27 points), Ken Palazzi (26) and Mike Berliner (20) provided the scoring punch for the Key Club. Team captain and coordinator Jon Levine had seven points and several assists and Steve Kessler controlled the Boards. Mark Dougherty, Steve Stieckler, Jon Stein, Glenn Bardack and Rob Irene contributed to the attack. Jim Craner and Abby Davis were team managers.

Mountainside families aided, YFCS reports

Twenty-four Mountainside families were helped at the Youth and Family Counseling Service in 1979. Milton Faith, executive director of this United Fund member agency, noted that this represents 369 service hours to Mountainside residents.

The independent, non-profit organization, at 233 Prospect Street, Westfield, helped 622 families in the eight communities it serves, involving the staff in 7,664 service hours.

In the YFCS annual report, Faith noted that those with problems (marital, parent-child, adolescent conflicts, and adult personality problems) either called the agency or were referred to YFCS by schools, physicians, clergy, relatives, and health and social agencies.

"Counseling enables the troubled person to gain a better understanding of his feelings, attitudes, and behavior, and of his relationships with others," said Faith.

Information is available from Faith at 233-2042. The main office of YFCS is 233 Prospect St., Westfield. Fees are based on a sliding scale; all calls and inquiries are confidential.

Three cases sent by court to grand jury

The cases of three persons, one a Mountainside resident, were forwarded to the grand jury last week by Mountainside Municipal Court Judge Robert Ruggiero. No court date has been set.

Edward Keuler, 22, of Locust Avenue; Ronald Harmon, 20, of Union and Joseph Clader, 21, of Fanwood, were arrested by officers John Olock and Richard Osieja the week of Jan. 20 and charged with theft of moveable property and receiving stolen property. The property includes a brown leather cassette tape case, 25 stereo cassette tapes and a wooden hand-carved walking stick. The property had been reported stolen earlier in the evening of the arrest.

A juvenile also was arrested with the three men. She was released to the custody of her parents.

The three men were released on $500 bail each.

On Feb. 6, a Plainfield woman was fined $240 for drunken driving and $65 for driving without a license. Gayle Matthews pleaded guilty to both charges.

Seniors beat Warren; juniors' streak ended

The Springfield Senior Minutemen split two decisions last week for a 13-6 season record. The Seniors defeated Warren Tuesday and fell to Parsippany Wednesday.

The Juniors' winning streak was halted at 15.

In Warren, the Seniors had to fight back to win, 62-57. Warren led going into the final period but 10-for-13 fourth-quarter foul shooting and hustle gave the Seniors the victory. Mike Graziano had 14 points, six steals and seven assists. Neal Keselica added 13 points and 19 rebounds.

Jay Siegel had 12 points, four assists and five steals. "Juice" Nicholson added nine points, Robert Daniel eight, Eric Mignolino four and Danny Spotts two.

Springfield travelled to Parsippany and was beaten, 45-39, with several players out or away on vacation. The Seniors drew within a point in the final period but couldn't win.

Graziano had 20 points, Siegel and Keselica six each, Nicholson five and 11 rebounds. Andy Rosenthal had two points, five assists and four steals.

The Junior Minutemen's 15-game winning streak was snapped Wednesday by Parsippany after a 61-38 rout of Warren Tuesday.

The Juniors led Warren after the first quarter, 15-6, and at halftime, 34-16. Carlos Hernandez and Pete Petino had 17 points apiece and combined for 19 rebounds. David Cole six free throws to finish with 14 points.

Mitch Nenner had seven points. Danny Klinger five assists and six steals. David Fruchter, Jeff Pollack and John Wisland each scored two points.

The Juniors were handed their third loss by Parsippany, 49-40. Springfield, minus starting guard Nenner, did well in the first half, taking a 24-21 lead but Parsippany regained the lead, 33-32 in the third quarter. The Juniors were held to eight points in the final period. Hernandez and Petino had 14 points and 14 rebounds each. Petino added five steals.

Cole had six points, Klinger four and seven assists, Mike Blabohl two points, Anthony D'Alessio and Joe Graziano added the Minutemen effort.

Dayton fails to stop Rodgers, falls to New Providence by 6

By PENNY LEVITT

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School basketball team fought hard against the New Providence Pioneers in a recent game but fell six points short of a victory, 73-67.

The Bulldogs fell behind early in the first quarter, but made a strenuous comeback in the third period. Dayton's tough defense was challenged by the leading Pioneer scorer, Doug Rodgers, who had 25 points.

High scorer for the Bulldogs was Don Meixner with 17 points; Ricky Marech was close behind with 15 and Larry Walker had 14. Anthony Circelli and Ricky Marech each had 10 points and Billy Ventura sank one foul shot to bring the Bulldogs within three points with two minutes left on the clock. Despite Dayton's strong defense, erratic play in the final two minutes cost them the game.

Last Friday, Dayton lost by two points as a Madison Dodger sank a bucket with two seconds left on the clock.

The game was excitingly tight, and the Bulldogs biggest lead was six points at the half. Madison came back with a tough defense, which rattled the Bulldogs, and won the game, 51 to 49.

Don Meixner led Dayton with 16 points. Anthony Circelli scored 11 points and tallied six assists. Adam Joseph came off the bench to score 9 points and stun the Dodgers with his quick handed steals. Larry Walker scored eight points, skillfully controlling the boards at both ends of the court. Craig Chickenger had three points and Albert Gargiulo contributed two points to Dayton's offense.

The J.V. Squad finished the week with its sixth consecutive win. The team is ranked seventh in the county and recently beat the fourth-seeded New Providence team in triple overtime. Today at 4 p.m. the J.V. team will begin the Union County Tournament at Roselle Catholic High School.

The Dayton Puppies clinched the conference by beating Madison, 57 to 35. They marked a 14-game winning streak Saturday with a close victory over Clark.

The Bulldogs will begin the State Tournament at home Tuesday, March 4, at 8 p.m. The squad will play Booton High School for a position in the quarter-finals.

Kean athletics hall of fame set

Hawley Waterman, director of athletics at Kean College, Union, has announced formation of an athletic hall of fame. "To honor those men and women who have embodied the highest ideals of amateur athletic competition and who have, through service, leadership or individual achievement, made outstanding contributions to our athletic programs."

Members will be inducted into the Hall of Fame annually. Those inducted as charter members this year will be selected by a committee of alumni, students and faculty. After 1980, the committee will include Hall of Fame members.

The chairman of the 1980 committee, Prof. Robert Erdington of the history department, said nominations are being sought from alumni.

A second category has been set up to include alumni and non-alumni (coaches, trainers, etc.) who made a significant and lasting contribution to the athletic program.

All nominations should be forwarded to Hawley Waterman, Athletic Hall of Fame, Kean College, Union, 07083, by March 15.

Dayton bowlers win first suburban title

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School varsity bowling team defeated Millburn by a 3-0 score in the final round of play at Plaza Lanes in Madison last Thursday to capture its first Suburban Conference championship with a 30-6 record.

All 10 varsity bowlers took part in the 774-733, 745-605, and 809-745 shut-out scores were: Mike Suchomel 219, Mike Steenberg 181, Dan Freedman 179, Mike Pine 161, Rich Popper 175, Barry Sherman 155, Steve Klein 167, Ron Zinkel 139, Rich Zinkel 138, and Todd Nugent 105.

In other action last week, Dayton defeated sister school, Kenilworth in non-league play by posting scores of 340-763, 796-800, and 784-726 to take a 2-1 edge in the series. Dan Freedman's 213, Rich Zinkel 185, Mike Steenberg 191, Suchomel 185, Pine 166, Sherman 134, Klein 142 were outstanding in that win.

Despite Steenberg's series high of 203-597, Dayton dropped its second series of the year to a tied up New Providence by a 1-2 score with tallies of 873-793, 825-806, 780-806. Dayton posted a 2459-2424 total pin advantage in the contest.

Dayton just last year's conference championship by one pin and one game to Summit on the final day of the year, but this year they defeated Summit twice by 3-0 scores to post a 30-6 record. Summit finished second at 26-10, followed by Verona 24-13, New Providence 17-19, Caldwell 14-23, West Orange 9-27 and Millburn 8-28. Kenilworth finished with a 23-9 record, four of their losses coming at the hands of the winning Dayton five in non-conference play. The Bulldogs over all record is 34-3. They will play in the Union County Conference bowling championships at Echo Plaza in Mountainside on Monday at 3-15 p.m.

Utah subdues Ohio to take over Ivy lead

Utah gained sole possession of first place in the Ivy League last week. Alabama, California and Texas also won victories.

Utah (6-1) beat Ohio (5-2) Saturday, 33-13. Utah's Gregg Kahn had 15 points and five steals, Tom Meixner seven points, Mark Semel four, Mike Gallaro three and Bruce Schneider and Gilon Rubanenko two each. John Baren played aggressive ball. David Markstein led Ohio with eight points, Jim Yess had three and Louis Monaco two. Christian Petino led with 11 rebounds.

Texas barely made it into overtime but beat Kansas, 32-27. A last-second Texas free throw with no time on the clock forced the overtime. Texas' Richard Francis had 12 points, Alan Gross nine, Brian Bromberg five, Jeff Ginsberg four and Joe Divalpa two. Todd Wasserman grabbed seven rebounds. Kansas was led by Glen Scheider's 11 points, Adam Jacobs and Bruce Oberhand six each and Jeff Feinberg three steals and four points. Craig Parker contributed.

California's strong second half beat Florida, 24-17. Ken Gargiulo nine points and John Lusardi eight led the Cal scorers. Mark Hodes added four and Barry Rodburg three, Adam Cummis had a fine game. Tom Kisch led Florida with 12 points, Jim Roberts scored three and Robert DeRonde two. Eric Yoss and Kevin Bowen contributed rebounds.

Alabama beat Oklahoma, 29-14. Anthony Boffa had nine points and 11 rebounds. Robert Fusco had eight points and three assists. Ian Schienmann (4), John Lynch (3), Chuck Saia (3) and Nick Ruggieri (2) also scored. Chris Schramm saw action. Oklahoma was paced by Levent Bayrasli's 10 points, Chris Wickham and Chris Clemson had a bucket apiece. Darren Mercantore played a good game.

Lakers beat Pistons in duel for first place

The Small Fry League Lakers defeated the Pistons in a battle for first place, 34-22. The Lakers took control with a 12-2 third quarter. Paul Taher had 18 points for the Lakers, Mike Elson seven rebounds and 12 points and Andy Greenman four points. Stephen Marchetti showed solid defensive play. The Pistons' Lenny Saia had nine points, Chris Monaco eight, Scott Summers and Seth Hammer two each and Tom Miskewitz a free throw.

The Celtics outlasted the Rockets, 20-19. The Celtics led after three, 16-9. Then the Rockets rallied but the Celtics' Robert Feinberg hit a basket for the victory. Gregg Walsh had eight points for the Celts, Mike Zucker six Feinberg four and Nick DiGiralamo two. The Rockets Barry Teitlebaum had eight points, Matthew Lynch seven and Spencer Panter four. Dominick Barone had six rebounds. The Jets turned back the Raiders, 24-20, as Danny Francis scored 10 points, Scott Leonard eight points and seven rebounds and "Kay" Bayrasli six points. Greg Biffo contributed. Adam Miller led the Raiders with 18 points, four steals and five rebounds. David Blum had two points. Dennis Costello and Don Vorhees played well.

The Bullets gained their first victory by defeating the Billikens, 12-7. The Bullets took the first half lead, 7-2. Stanley Federovitch led the victors with eight rebounds and five points, Eric Schober had three points and Roland Nagal and Charles Weiss one basket apiece. The Billikens' Josh Wasserman had three points, Mike Peri and Ken French two each. Dave Spillane and Nate Zonerach played well.

Dayton tops Summit with pin in final bout

The Jonathan Dayton wrestling team boosted its record to 5-8 last Saturday with a 23-19 victory over a tough Summit team. The Bulldogs will be in action Saturday in Hillside.

Summit was a "big meet," commented Dayton coach Rick Iacono. It was also a close meet; each team won six of the 12 bouts but falls and major decisions gave Dayton the victory.

Going into the last weight group, Dayton was losing, 19-18, and needed a victory to win. After falling to a 7-2 deficit, heavyweight Ron Butthman rose to the occasion to pin his opponent. Other Dayton victors: Bill Giordano (191), Dave Cushman (108), John Colotruglio (115), Ben Scituro (141) and Jack Parent (158).

Iacono lauded Colotruglio and called his one of the key bouts. After getting off to a slow start, John kept his head and came back to win.

Summit was Dayton's third victim of the week. The Bulldogs beat West Orange, 42-13, on Thursday and Elizabeth, 35-15, Wednesday. The meets gave the Bulldogs added confidence. They wrestled well all week as they traditionally do towards the end of February.

"We're going to hit 500," Iacono predicted. He feels confident of a victory in Hillside next Saturday and says some of the Bulldogs should do well in the district tournament March 7. Victors at the district meet will advance to the regional competition. Some of the wrestlers Iacono thinks will do well in the tournament are co-captains Scituro and Steve Tetebaum and Colotruglio.

George Pittenger won the Union county novice tournament by pinning all three of his opponents. Mark Yoss finished third in his weight class.

Freshmen and junior varsity teams also have been performing well. The freshmen scored a 32-28 victory after training one point. They achieved pins in four of the last five bouts.

Iacono is pleased with the team and says the wrestler, have been improving every day. Although they are still lacking in mat time, the Bulldogs are coming on strong late in the season.

The Wardlaw-Hartridge School, Plainfield, was the site of a film being produced by Graph Productions in conjunction with the Ducret School of Arts, both of Plainfield, under the auspices of the Institute of Family Services of New Jersey and the National Council on Child Abuse.

Producer-director Ralph Davis of Graph Productions said Wardlaw-Hartridge was one of several schools with wrestling programs where footage was being shot. The film, whose script was co-written by Adam Beckett, a student at Westfield High School, titled "Richie" and concerns child abuse.

The film, part of an educational series, will be previewed locally in June. Actual filming took place Feb. 9 during a break in a tri-state wrestling meet between Wardlaw-Hartridge, Admiral Forreget Academy and the Delbarton School.

Education of drivers endorsed

A poll of New Jersey Automobile Club (AAA) members shows they favor by three-to-one making driver education a required course in all secondary schools in the state.

But the members are strongly against, five to one, any new state tax or levy to support such a program.

The club released the results of the poll published in its magazine, Driving.

On a variety of motor vehicle topics, Derham said, the poll showed that the members favor expanding the emergency telephone network along limited-access highways (85-10 percent), requiring motorists to turn on headlights during periods of reduced visibility (89-8 percent), continuing New Jersey's right-turn-on-red law (84-13 percent), and passage of a law requiring tow trucks to post maximum towing rates and garages maximum storage rates (89-5).

The members oppose studded snow tires in New Jersey (55-39 percent), a rear-only license plate system (54-38 percent) a mandatory seat-belt and shoulder-harness law (62-32 percent), and continuing the existing law that permits 15- and 16-year-olds to operate mopeds (82-13 percent).

Freund is the former host of the Elizabeth television show, "Elizabeth Newsmakers," where for three years he interviewed the leaders of Elizabeth and Union County. Presently employed by the City of Elizabeth, Freund is an administrative analyst and deputy coordinator of the Elizabeth River Flood Control Project.

"Being from the business world," Freund said, "I fully recognize the need of government to work hand in hand with the private sector. I believe in that old-fashioned concept that a public official should be a public servant, proud of it and responsive to the needs of the people. I entered government service for this reason and it is why I am now seeking office as a treeholder."

Freund served during World War II as a navigator and flight officer in the air corps. He is a member of Argonne Post 6 of the American Legion in Elizabeth. He speaks extensively on the importance of a strong national security policy for the United States.

Freund has been a resident of Union County for twenty five years including 15 years in Hillside, six in Roselle Park and four in Elizabeth.

Teacher of cuisine leaves adult school

"The growing demand for private lessons and lecture-demonstrations" was cited by Rebecca Caruba, teacher of haute cuisine, as the primary reason for ending a 30-year affiliation with the Maplewood and South Orange Adult School.

Caruba began teaching the art of gourmet cooking in 1947 and taught, in addition, in the adult schools of Montclair, Madison-Chatham, Westfield, Nutley, Springfield and Union. In 1977, she was singled out by the New Jersey State Adult and Continuing Education Association as the outstanding adult school teacher that year.

"I am not giving up teaching," Caruba said, "but rather adapting to the times with a flexibility which will permit me to teach truly interested students at times and places most convenient to small groups for short, intensive course periods lasting generally five weeks each." She will also continue to be a guest lecturer and give cooking demonstrations for various groups and organizations.

"If anything," said Caruba, "I am trying to put a priority on teaching for the newer generations of men and women whom I have not been able to reach." In 1979, Caruba turned over the presidency of the New Jersey Gourmet Society to new leadership, although she remains on the board of directors. She also formerly served on the board of the Sommelier Society of America.

"Because there are more working women and because there are still men who want to enjoy the fine points of cooking, I have designed a series of shorter, five-week courses that can be taught in private homes or at various sites at times that are more convenient to students. In fact, the students participate in selecting the items they want to learn how to prepare," Caruba said.

She is the author of "Cooking With Wine and High Spirits" and "Colonial Cooking," two successful cookbooks, and has been honored over the years for her knowledge of wines and foods.

She is accepting inquiries for her special courses from throughout the metropolitan area, and plans a series of such courses for the spring.

Temple to honor Levine for 25 years of service

Dr. Reuben R. Levine, spiritual leader of Temple Beth Ahm, Springfield, for the past 25 years, will be honored at the temple's second annual ball, dinner and dance on Sunday evening, March 16, at the Short Hills Caterers.

Shortly after the Jewish Community Group of Springfield decided to become a congregation in the spring of 1955, Rabbi Levine was elected as its spiritual leader. He suggested the name Beth Ahm, which, loosely translated, means "communal center." Under his leadership, the temple became an integral part of a growing community.

Dr. Levine received his rabbinical ordination at the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York, where he was awarded a master's degree in Hebrew literature and later a doctor of divinity degree. He is also an art historian with a master's degree in that field.

Along with building close relationships with his members in his pastoral and education activities, Dr. Levine has played a role in the community at large. He was a founder of the Springfield Clergy Association and a long-time member of the court-appointed Juvenile Conference Committee. He consistently has been appointed a member of the Mayor's Committee on Human Rights and other civic bodies, and served on the Board of the Union County Mental Health Association. He is a member of the Overlook Hospital Chaplains' group, which uses his booklet "Guideposts on the Road to Recovery" for distribution to patients.

Dr. Reuben R. Levine

Dr. Levine is a member of the Rabbinical Assembly (National Organization of Conservative Rabbis), serving on its executive council, and is a consultant to the United Synagogue of America (National Body of Conservative Congregations) on synagogue design and ritual art. In the recent past, Dr. Levine has been elected "Man of the Year" by the Springfield Lodge of B'nai B'rith and by the Unico Organization; he has been honored by Israel Bonds and also awarded honorary lifetime membership in the Zionist Organization of America.

Jewish school open house set

The Religious School of Congregation Israel will hold an open house for parents Wednesday evening at the synagogue, 339 Mountain Ave. at Shunpike Road, Springfield. Students of the Daled and Hay grades will be observed in a model classroom experience at 7 p.m.; the session for Aleph, Bet and Gimmel groups will start at 7:30. The classes will be conducted by Rabbis Jacob Goldberg and David Vail, members of the school's faculty.

A refreshment and social hour will follow the model classes; parents will be able to meet the teachers and discuss their children's work.

Mrs. Bernice Edelcreek, chairman of the Religious School Board, said the school's enrollment this year is the highest ever. Registration soon will open for the 1980-81 school year, which begins in September. Prospective students and their parents are invited to attend the open house.

Temple to hear ballads singer

Temple Sha'arey Shalom, Springfield, will hold a special service on Friday, Feb. 29, at 8 p.m. Rabbi Howard Shapiro, spiritual leader, indicated that Ilan Mamber will assist Cantor Irving Kramerman and Music Director Ron Brown in conducting a unique musical service of Jewish music and Cantorial compositions.

Mamber, who was born in Israel, has been entertaining audiences for over a decade, using his extensive repertoire of ballads and contemporary music which is sung in English, Hebrew, Yiddish, Spanish, Italian and Russian to demonstrate the music of Jews around the world.

Further information is available from Dr. Stanley Newman at the temple office.

Okin group to meet

The Flo Okin Cancer Relief group will meet Wednesday, Feb. 27, at Temple Sha'arey Shalom, Springfield at 8 p.m.

Book-review is planned at meeting of Hadassah

The Springfield Chapter of Hadassah will meet Thursday, Feb. 28, at 8:15 p.m. in Temple Beth Ahm, Springfield. Reports will be made by Edith Callen on a book and author dinner scheduled March 25 at the Clinton Manor, Union with Bel Kaufman; Evelyn Spielholz, fund-raising vice president on the Harbor Island Spa weekend April 25; Pearl Kaplan on a donor event May 7; and Lydia Sherman on the Lincoln Center Ballet May 18.

Elsie Zurkoff, program vice president, will present Thea Lauton, who will review "Raquela" by Ruth Gruber.

Dorobon Schwartz, president, has announced that "an amazing new instrument which can perform 3,000 biochemical tests on 150 blood samples within one hour" is being used in the Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical Center. "It is a high speed computer-controlled biochemical analyzer and said to be the only machine of its kind in the Middle East."

Mae Schulman, hospitality chairman, will serve hamentashin to celebrate Purim. Evelyn Gingell will provide the refreshments to honor the birthday of Frances Ostrofsky and to celebrate the fact that she is the first woman supervisor of the Union Post Office.

RICHARD HESCHKE to play an organ recital on Sunday at 4 p.m. at St. Stephen's Church, Millburn. He will play an all-Bach program including the Toccata, Adagio, and Fugue in C Major and the Fantasy and Fugue in g minor.

Salt addiction may cause serious health problems

By CATE TUTTLE
The taste for salt, like the taste for sugar or cigarettes, is an acquired and not an inherited craving. Addiction begins when we're babies. Fed salt in processed baby foods (added by the manufacturer to make it taste good to Mom), we then grow up with a diet scandalously high in salt from processed foods such as potato chips, hot dogs, and luncheon meats. Long before adulthood, we consider salt normal part of food, and unfortunately, it can predispose us to a number of serious health problems.

There's no question that salt is a major contributor to high blood pressure. Even moderate salt use increases the amount of liquid retained between cells. Called extracellular fluid, that liquid not only increases body weight but forces the heart to work harder, pushing blood through the kidneys. That effort is what can result in hypertension or high blood pressure.

The recent McGovern Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs stated that Americans must reduce their salt intake to help prevent cardiovascular diseases. In addition, doctors report that salt intake is related to migraines, painful menstruation and swollen ankles. A real beau y hazard, water retention caused by salt can aid in the formation of the unattractive female fatty tissue called cellulite.

Dr. Lot B. Page, professor of medicine at Tufts University in Boston, says that among 18 societies in the world that are free of high blood pressure, not one uses salt, whereas people whose traditional diet includes salt have very high rates of hypertension. Page says we should restrict our sodium to less than two grams daily. Unbelievably, American intake ranges from seven to 15 grams daily per person with many of us consuming as much as 30 grams.

Dr. Edward Fries in the April 1976 issue of "Circulation" says that if you already have high blood pressure, you must reduce your salt intake to about one gram to produce more than a minimal reduction of blood pressure. That means not only eliminating the salt shaker but almost all processed foods.

Double wrap rope belt for waist accent

It's easy to make a rope belt twice as interesting. Just make it nearly twice as long, and wrap it around the waist twice.

This year, when waists are "in," the double-wrapped rope is an exciting waist accent, especially when the ropes are colorful. In shiny fibers, in fact, the double-wrap is even dressy enough for evening fashions.

You can make a rope belt in minutes, no matter what the length. Attractive ropes are available nowadays in sewing, craft, and fiber shops all over the country. For the ends, tassels are an easy-to-make, professional-looking finish.

The double-wrapped rope, like any wide belt, has an extra advantage: It makes the waist look slimmer. Even though waist sizes don't change with the addition of a belt, the waist shrinks in appearance nonetheless.

The appearance of a wrap belt is also beautiful...over dresses, blouses, and even jeans. Here are the directions:

MATERIALS: You'll need two-and-one-half yards of shiny rope. Rayons and rayon blends are usually the shiniest and most attractive belt fibers. For the tassels choose several shiny, relatively thin yarns and cords.

In addition, you'll also need a 5x5-inch cardboard square and scissors.

CUTTING: 1. Tie the rope around your waist twice. 2. Trim ends to desired length.

STARTING TASSELS: 1. Wind tassel yarns and threads around the cardboard square. Keep winding on yarns until you have a thick yarn buildup on the cardboard. 2. Cut a one-foot length of yarn. Slide it under the mass of yarn. 3. Push the one-foot yarn to the top of the cardboard. 4. Tie the one-foot yarn into a bow. 5. Carefully cut through the yarns at the cardboard's bottom edge (a).

TYING THE TASSELS: 1. Carefully untie the bow. Retie it around one end of the rope. 2. Slide yarns around the rope to distribute the yarns more evenly. 3. Cut a one-yard length of yarn. Wrap it around the tassel yarns as follows:

1. Loop one end of the new yarn.
2. Wrap the other end around the loop and all other yarns.
3. As you near the top of the loop, thread the wrapping end through the loop (b).
4. Pull the other end to secure the loop under the wrappings.
5. Make the second tassel for the other rope end. To do so, follow directions for "Starting Tassels" and "Tying the Tassels."

The Ruth Estrin Goldberg Memorial for Cancer Research will meet Monday at 8 p.m. in Temple Shalom, Springfield. Rosary Morelli will preside.

Marilyn Alexrad of Union and Fern Kerbel, program chairmen, will present guest speaker Barbara Girion, author of "Misty and Me." She is a former teacher and has written scripts and educational programs for adults and children.

Reservations will be taken for the March 22 fashion show and the May 3 international night. Additional information may be obtained by writing to REGM, P.O. Box 194, Springfield 07081.

Couples Club plans a costume carnival

The Original Y Couples Club will meet Saturday, March 1 at 8:30 p.m. at the Y on Green Lane, Union. The program will feature a costume carnival night. Hosts will be Mrs. Marcia Fischgrund, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lipschultz and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Raffle.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Ann Levine at 353-1395.

Hugh Jones group to sing at Vauxhall

The Hugh Jones Gospel Messengers of Fountain Baptist Church, Summit, under the direction of Ronald Foster, will appear in concert at Calvary Baptist Church, Valley Road, Vauxhall, on Sunday at 4 p.m.

Spirituals and contemporary black songs will be sung under the sponsorship of Tri-City NAACP. Admission is free.

William Michael is born to Votapeks

A seven-pound son, William Michael Votapek, was born Jan. 14 in Overlook Hospital, Summit, to Mr. and Mrs. William T. Votapek of Mark Drive, Union.

Mrs. Votapek, the former Shirley Jara, is the daughter of Mrs. Henrietta Jara of Union, and the late Mr. Emil Jara. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Monica Votapek of Union, and the late Mr. William Votapek.

Gainor wins honor

Kathy A. Gainor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Gainor of Union, has been named to the dean's list for the first semester of this academic year at Waynesburg (Pa.) College. She is a 1979 graduate of Union High School, where she was a member of the Honor Society.

Optimists plan member drive

The Optimist Club of Union will observe March as "Membership Month," according to Irv Jones, past president.

Jones, who will head the membership drive, said the club will seek to recruit at least six men who either live or work in Union.

A kick-off dinner will be held at the Kingston restaurant at 6:30 p.m. March 6. Guests will include Serge Nadeau, lieutenant governor; Buzz Barmen, governor-elect, and George Bazaze, district membership chairman. Plans for the annual oratorical contest will be reviewed.

Those interested in joining were asked to call Jones at 686-9214.

5-county plan urges care of terminally ill

A five-year plan for Essex, Union, Morris, Sussex and Warren counties that sets goals for providing hospice care for the terminally ill and rehabilitation for the developmentally disabled was announced this week by the Regional Health Planning Council.

The Council is the official Health Systems Agency (HSA) for the five-county region and its approximately two million residents.

The Health Systems Plan is a detailed statement of goals for the region for 1980-85. It recommends actions and changes for a "healthful environment and health services which are available, accessible, offer quality services and assure continuity of care at reasonable cost."

John J. Daly, council president, said the plan was adopted by the agency's 50-member volunteer board of trustees after extensive public hearings and community input. It has been submitted to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services for review and approval. As do all HSAs, the council develops a plan for its region which is reviewed annually.

Acting Executive Director William Primus said sections on care of the terminally ill and developmentally disabled are new "high priority" goals in this year's plan.

Primus said hospice programs give the terminally ill patient the opportunity to maintain an independent and full life before death occurs and attempt to minimize the effects of bereavement on family members.

The criterion for admission to a hospice program is a diagnosis of terminal illness with a prognosis of six months or less.

The Plan calls for the establishment by 1982 of three additional hospice programs in the region which should:

- Emphasize conversion of existing excess facilities for in-patient hospice care.
  - Emphasize home care, family and volunteer involvement.
  - Serve areas geographically inaccessible to existing programs.
- The plan recommends programs "to eliminate ignorance and negative attitudes about the hospice concept by training health personnel, advancing public awareness and encouraging community involvement."

Another recommendation was that existing or new hospice programs should emphasize home care services whenever feasible because the cost is far less than nursing homes or hospitals.

The council's staff would assist those interested in starting hospice programs with feasibility studies to assess needs for their community. The plan also recommends that Blue Cross-

BlueShield and other private health insurers should modify their policies to reimburse for hospice services by 1981.

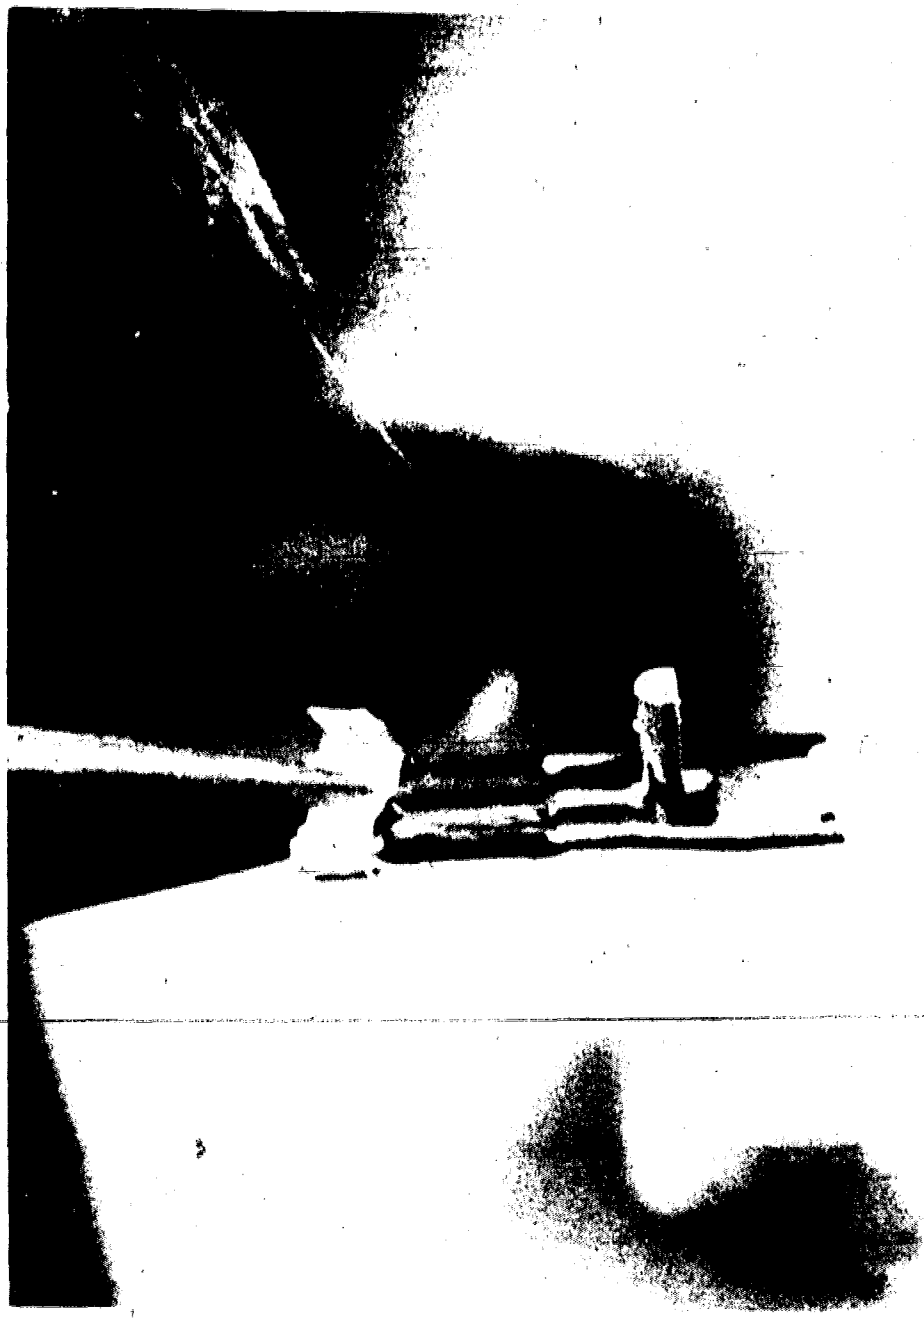

The section on rehabilitation estimates that there are about 30,000 developmentally disabled people in the region. The goal is to provide services for them in the "least restrictive setting to foster a maximum degree of independence." The recommendations include:

By 1984, comprehensive training, counselling and support services should be available to help maintain the developmentally disabled individual in the family setting as far as possible.

The establishment by 1982 of a network of residential settings, such as group homes, to meet the needs of the developmentally disabled.

Other sections of the plan cover mental health, alcoholism and drug abuse, primary care and health manpower; acute care services; emergency medical services; maternal, infant and child care services; preventive health services and dental health. Copies of the plan are available at the council's office, 8 Park Place, Newark.

When heated, the filament emits electrons into a vacuum chamber containing a sample of a material to be analyzed. Based on the sample's capacity to deflect magnetically the ions produced by the electrons, the sample's molecular structure revealed—providing the scientist a data base with which he can improve product quality and confirm that the substance presents no environmental concerns.

Price index up by 1.6%

Higher prices for housing, transportation, food and clothing increased the Consumer Price Index for the Northeast region 1.6 percent between October and December, it was reported by Samuel M. Ehrenhalt, regional commissioner, Bureau of Labor Statistics. Over the past year, consumer prices in the Northeast have risen 11.8 percent, up from 7.9 percent in the preceding year.

The over-the-year rise for the Northeast was the smallest among the four major regions of the country. The sharpest increase was 15.4 percent in the West, followed by 13.7 percent in the North Central region and 12.8 percent in the South. Nationally, the over-the-year increase was 13.3 percent.

The October-November CPI rise for the Northeast compared favorably with a national rise of 2.0 percent and was the smallest bimonthly rise among the four regions. Prices rose 1.8 percent in the South, 2.0 percent in the North Central States and 2.6 percent in the West.

The over-the-year increase in prices for the Northeast reflected some diversity among the different population size areas of the region. Major metropolitan areas had the smallest rise (10.8 percent) since December 1978. Sharper increases ranging from 12.6 percent to 14.4 percent were reported for the other three size groups reviewed.

The CPI for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers in the Northeast rose 1.5 percent between October and December. Since December 1978 the index has risen 11.8 percent.

DESIGNER SHOWCASE — The living room of 'The Manor' was decorated by Fran Murphy Interiors, West Palm Beach, Fla. The room expands outward through the brass-louvered windows which look out on the terrace and pool. The room features a baby grand piano, grass cloth walls, soft upholstery in tones of white, banana and sand, and travertine marble floors. An oriental rug adorns the marble floor and is matched by two oriental paintings which hang above the sofa.

Design ideas pooled in a showcase home

Wellington, a 10,000-acre residential community in West Palm Beach, Fla., has announced the opening of "The Manor," a $400,000 designer-showcase home. "The Manor" brings together home decorating ideas which represent the combined talents of 200 Florida artists, interior designers, home furnishers, suppliers and landscape professionals.

Pat DeVivo, president of Seemie Homes Inc., builder and co-owner of the showcase home along with interior designers Nat and Sophie Chasser, donated the use of "The Manor" to the Palm Beach County Unit of the American Cancer Society as a fund raising project. A $4 admission fee is charged; proceeds benefit the charity.

"My idea was to build a home that every woman would want," said DeVivo. "It is designed for easy care and everyday living." Chasser Interiors of Hollywood, Fla., conceived, supervised and coordinated the interior design.

"The Manor" is set on a beautifully landscaped 1 1/2-acre wooded lot. A circular driveway leads to a multi-columned landscaped entryway. An original sculpture by Addison Mizner is on display.

The living and dining rooms, designed by Fran Murphy Interiors, West Palm Beach, Fla., include travertine marble floors, grass cloth walls and vaulted ceiling. One wall of the dining area is highlighted by black glass and features two hand-carved wooden palm trees.

The library, set off the dining area, is designed by Yolander Pty. Ltd., using wood parquet floors, suede walls, miao and wood bookcases, and ample soft seating from Sofa and Chairs of West Palm Beach.

Down the hall from the library are the children's bedrooms which are set away from the rest of the house. Double pocket doors between the two rooms open to reveal a disco dance floor for entertaining. These rooms are the work of Anne Houde and Barbara Veltman. Beds are set on platforms and the rooms feature suede walls with peach and beige Formica.

Down the hallway from the children's rooms are the guest quarters. The bedroom is furnished with wicker to give the out-of-state visitor the feeling of Florida living. Furnishings are by Systema. The guest bedroom and bath share a private entrance so that guests may come and go without disturbing the rest of the household. This entrance can also be used as a service entrance leading directly to the kitchen.

Formal entertaining can take place in the dining area without distractions from the kitchen. The kitchen features imported tile countertops and natural white oak cabinets. All cabinets are designed to be functional so that every item in the kitchen has a specific place for storage. Adjacent to the kitchen is the Trophy Room. It includes an informal area for entertaining and a platform.

"Since Wellington is a sports-oriented community with tennis, golf and equestrian facilities, the family which lives here can display its trophies in this specially designed case," explained Chasser. Teddy Warner, who planned the interior of Burt Reynolds' home in Jupiter, Fla., is the designer of the Trophy Room. Parquet wood floors add to the room's beauty. A fieldstone fireplace is set at one end. Windows open to the landscaped yard and a sliding glass door leads to the pebbled terrace and pool area. "No matter where you are in The Manor, you never lose touch with the outside," said Chasser.

A major event for the industry in the Northeast is taking place next week in Atlantic City Convention Hall. An entire village of manufactured homes is being erected in the indoor exposition hall. More than 48 homes in a wide variety of sizes, styles and prices will be on display. Purpose of the show is to literally "show" manufactured housing to the home-buying public. The setting is a simulated community.

SPECIAL IN FLORIDA — This DeSoto model at The Lakes of Sherbrooke in Palm Beach County, Fla., is an example of one developer's creative idea of offering a viable, more attractive alternative to condominium dwellers, or others, who have decided not to condo.

Lakes of Sherbrooke: bright step out of condo

To condo or not to condo. If that's the question for Floridians these days, the answer, surprisingly, may be no.

Many South Florida residents and residents-to-be now wonder if the condominium life might be too confining for their temperaments. Instead, these people are moving away from the condominium complexes to private, single-family homes in communities geared to Florida-style recreation.

Following this new trend, one successful condominium developer in Palm Beach County decided to turn his creative efforts toward establishing a total community of single-family homes. Alec Engelstein, president of AE Development Corp., believes the Lakes of Sherbrooke caters to many age groups, including the retirees, searching for something larger than a condominium apartment.

"Many of our buyers have already lived in a condominium environment, and have decided it's just not for them," Engelstein said. "They want their own roof over their heads, and all the privacy and space of a single-family home."

The Lakes of Sherbrooke is divided into two distinct neighborhoods. One is devoted to active adult living, complete with recreation facilities. The second is centered around families and others who prefer living in a mixed age-group environment.

To date, 250 homes have been sold; of these, 150 are presently occupied. Six different model homes are offered, with two- and three-bedroom designs, with one- and two-car garages. This month, The Lakes is celebrating the opening of its 1980 models. The new models range in price from the mid-60s to the high 70s, including fully sodded homesites.

"The facilities provided here offer an excellent opportunity for residents to meet new people and establish new friendships," Engelstein observed. The Lakes is part of Western Lake Worth, which is located in Palm Beach County and just north of Boca Raton and Delray Beach. The Lakes of Sherbrooke will have approximately 100 acres of lakes and waterways for boating and fishing.

Work has started on an extensive recreation complex, on the edge of one of the lakes, designed for both neighborhoods. Here, residents will find facilities for many of Florida's outdoor activities in one attractive setting, such as a swimming pool, tennis courts, jogging trails and a white sandy beach, complete with pine-shaded park and picnic areas.

The adult community has a Clubhouse, a pool, sun deck, shuffleboard courts and bocci greens. Those who feel that life would not be complete without a regularly scheduled golf game quickly discover the close proximity to the challenging course at Sherbrooke Country Club.

Perhaps the biggest advantage this 463-acre, single-family home community has over other developments and condominium complexes is the luxury and spaciousness of its individual homes. "Value is an important comparison factor in today's housing market," Engelstein said. "The price of two residences may be almost the same, but the space value can

Essex Green Villas adds exclusive club

The most exclusive private recreational club in Essex County—limited to only 80 household memberships has opened in West Orange within Essex Green Villas, the luxury townhome community off Mount Pleasant Avenue on the western slope of First Watchung Mountain. The early-bird first 30 households now living here and those to come now have year-round sports and social activities literally at their doorstep.

Ready for use immediately are the community's platform tennis court and its clubhouse, which includes card, billiard and lounge areas, an exercise spa, showers and locker rooms, a member's bar and a California redwood hot tub. Also to be opened as soon as weather permits is the free-form swimming pool and its expansive deck, which are reached through sliding glass doors from the upper level of the clubhouse. All owners of the Essex Green Villas townhomes, priced from $107,000, are members of the club. The extra measures of facilities built into the club are in keeping with the extra features and spaciousness that come standard with each of the two-story residences. Each home, from the one-bedroom to the three-bedroom model, has an additional basement bedroom or den area with its own separate full bathroom, as well as an attached garage with radio-controlled door opener, extra-heavy insulation in walls and ceilings, a storage attic, Pella thermal insulated windows, wood-burning fireplace, beamed cathedral ceilings, redwood balconies, and patio. Each home is heated by two gas furnaces and cooled by two central air-conditioning compressors. And the extra luxuries at no-extra cost include all lighting fixtures, which have a retail value of more than $2,500, a Budd central vacuum system, full-sized washer and dryer, micro-wave oven, refrigerator-freezer, garbage compactor and individual burglar and fire alarm systems.

To permit residents to make the most of their private club, full-time grounds maintenance and club maintenance crews will be employed, and such household chores as lawn care, snow removal, street upkeep and garbage collection are provided through the condominium homeowners association.

For recreation beyond that at Essex Green Villas, the community's neighborhood includes Essex County Country Club, right across the road, and its public links, other private golf, tennis, racquetball and swim clubs, riding clubs and stables, and literally thousands of acres of park land. Almost directly above the community is the Essex Green shopping plaza and its department stores, supermarket, other shops, restaurants and movie theatres. And Exit 8A of Route 280 is a minute from the community for express travel throughout the metropolitan area.

Opening concurrently with the new club facilities is Section II of Essex Green Villas, which includes three new townhome models. Countrywide Marketing Corp. is the exclusive sales agent for Essex Green Villas. The models are open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Manufactured home has permanent look

Some 60 percent of manufactured homes now being sold are being permanently sited on privately owned building lots.

This trend in affordable housing, which has been sweeping the country, seems to have finally come to the Northeast. The New Jersey Manufactured Housing Association reports that the greatest developer interest in mobilehomes today is for the building of mobilehome subdivisions.

"The mobilehome boom is long overdue in New Jersey," stated James A. Dyer, president of the Trenton-based trade organization. "A two-bedroom, ranch style manufactured home costs about $24,000. It offers all the style and comfort of a home built on site for more than twice that amount. It's just more efficient and economically feasible to build indoors than outside, at the mercy of the weather."

"Building the home in the plant allows strict quality control. Its cost efficiency is just now being recognized and utilized in the Northeast," Dyer explained. He stated that zoning codes, once freely banning mobilehomes, are crumbling under the recognition of the quality of today's manufactured housing and the need for affordable, energy efficient housing.

A major event for the industry in the Northeast is taking place next week in Atlantic City Convention Hall. An entire village of manufactured homes is being erected in the indoor exposition hall. More than 48 homes in a wide variety of sizes, styles and prices will be on display. Purpose of the show is to literally "show" manufactured housing to the home-buying public. The setting is a simulated community.

"We have found that only one in ten people has ever been inside a mobilehome," stated Edward J. Dolan, chairman of the Eastern Manufactured Housing Show. "That means 90 percent of home buyers don't know about the advantages of manufactured housing. They may not know they are now built to rigid federal construction standards under HUD. They have not seen the spacious rooms, numerous bedrooms and baths and formal dining rooms. And they surely don't realize they surely can enjoy luxuries like wood burning fireplaces, cathedral ceilings and science kitchens."

Dolan is a developer of a new mobilehome community at the shore. "We see first hand how surprised people are when they come inside a manufactured home for the first time," he stated. "The old trailer image dissolves immediately in light of the facts before them. But like the man said, 'You have to see it to believe it.'"

Manufactured housing now accounts for 97 percent of all housing sold for under $30,000. In New Jersey, most mobilehomes are located on leased land in mobilehome communities. Land leasing is a viable economic alternative to high cost, long-term obligations of property ownership.

"Things have changed dramatically in the economy of the 1980s," stated Dolan. "Land leasing used to be unique to the mobilehome industry. Now there are developers throughout the country building houses on site on leased land. They think it's a new concept, inspired by the inflation of the 1980s. But the manufactured housing industry has been offering it for decades."

The most popular mobilehome in New Jersey is still the single-unit traditional home with its arrangement of rooms one behind the other. That's probably because New Jersey's major market for mobilehomes has been the empty-nester—the couple whose children have grown and left home, so that the parents look for a smaller, easier-to-maintain home.

The ranch style home, comprised of two of the traditional units joined on site, now accounts for some 27 percent of manufactured housing sales in New Jersey. A multi-sectional home offers wide diversity in floor plans and may have upwards of 1,600 square feet.

These days, energy efficiency is an important consideration when choosing a new housing lifestyle. Mobilehomes built for the Northeast have strict insulation standards geared for harsh, winter weather. Monsanto and Owens Corning are two major brand name insulation suppliers to the manufactured housing industry. Homes are equipped with storm windows and doors. The heat pump is an important fuel saver, as well as insulated foundation skirting.

A dramatically changed aspect of mobilehomes in the depreciation factor. In their earlier years, when they were transient, mobilehomes depreciated like other forms of motor vehicles. New models were introduced each year, just like automobiles. As the industry matured, entering the decade of the 1960s, travel trailers and other recreational vehicles retained their desired mobility. Mobilehomes took on characteristics of permanency.

In a nationwide survey of mobilehomes recently concluded by Foremost Insurance Co., New Jersey was found to have one of the highest appreciation factors in the country, along with California and Florida. Appreciation is running between 17 to 23 percent.

The Supreme Court of New Jersey last year confirmed the mobilehome's status as permanent housing by ruling they should be assessed for real estate taxes.

The show is open to the public from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. only, on both Saturday and Sunday. Admission is $3 for adults, $1 for children.

The show is totally indoors at Convention Hall, on the boardwalk, in the heart of Atlantic City.

Smokers Affirm Merit Choice!

MERIT smokers report "no taste sacrifice" in switch from high tar brands.

MERIT: Proven Long Term Alternative To High Tar Brands.

New national smoker study results prove it.

Proof: The overwhelming majority of MERIT smokers polled feel they didn't sacrifice taste in switching from high tar cigarettes.

Proof: 96% of MERIT smokers don't miss former high tar brands.

Proof: 9 out of 10 enjoy smoking as much since switching to MERIT, are glad they switched, and report MERIT is the best tasting low tar they've ever tried.

Smokers Prefer MERIT 3 To 1!

New taste tests with thousands of smokers prove it.

Proof: A significant majority of smokers rate MERIT taste as good as—or better than—leading high tar brands. Even cigarettes having twice the tar!

Proof: Of the 95% stating a preference, 3 out of 4 smokers chose the MERIT low tar/good taste combination over high tar leaders when tar levels were revealed.

You've read the results. The conclusion is clearer than ever: MERIT delivers a winning combination of taste and low tar.

A combination that's attracting more and more smokers every day and—more importantly—satisfying them long term.

Disc & Data

Pick Of The LPs... BETTER by Brenda Lee (MCA RECORDS-3211)

Brenda Lee isn't content with having a voice and career that have both turned out great—so she's taken a proven talent and image and made them "Even Better."

Because Brenda was so young when she sold over 85 million pop recordings throughout the 1960s, many people are not aware of the fact that she is still a young vivacious woman. Brenda hit the national recording scene at age 11 in 1956; today she has come back home musically to where she belongs, and she's ready for chart success 1980s-style.

Brenda, known in the early stage of her career as "Little Miss Dynamite," won fans around the world with the throaty, emotion-filled voice she displayed

Rate change in Medicare

Because of the rising cost of hospital care, the hospital insurance deductible and daily co-insurance amounts under Medicare have been increased for 1980. The law requires an annual review of hospital costs under Medicare and an adjustment of the hospital insurance deductible when costs have risen substantially. The amount of the deductible represents the average cost of one day of hospital care, which is determined by a formula provided in the law. Effective Jan. 1, the hospital insurance deductible is $180, up from $160 in 1979. This means that for the first through 60th day of in-patient hospital care in each benefit period, Medicare hospital insurance will pay for all covered services except for the first $180. The higher deductible amount for 1980 applies only to benefit periods which start in or after January 1980. The 1979 deductible, $160, applies to benefit periods which started in 1979. This is true even if you entered a hospital in 1979 and are still a patient after Jan. 1. When the hospital insurance deductible changes, the law requires comparable changes in the daily dollar amounts (co-insurance) the Medicare hospital insurance does not pay. For the 61st through 90th day of in-patient hospital care in each benefit period in 1980, hospital insurance will pay for all covered services except for $45 a day (up from $40.) Anyone who needs to be in a hospital longer than 90 days in a benefit period can use the in-patient hospital reserve days provided by hospital insurance. For each reserve day used this year, hospital insurance will pay for all covered services except for $90 a day ($80 a day in 1979.)

Class to help cut fuel costs

Cutting Home Fuel Bills—a course which could save consumers fuel dollars, will be offered in March by the Center for Continuing Education at Kean College, Union. Registration is set for Feb. 25, a fee of $20 is required. The program will meet from 7:40 to 9:10 p.m. on four Mondays beginning March 3. Topics will include insulation, oil as opposed to natural gas, types of furnaces and hot water heaters, solar systems, wood stoves, fire places, appliances and how to beware of frauds. Speakers will be Joseph Somma of the New Jersey Department of Energy; Joseph Clinton, a Kean faculty member and solar energy authority; and Ricki Stochaj, director of the New Jersey Energy Information Line, which has offices on the Kean campus.

After a stay in a hospital or skilled nursing facility, hospital insurance can cover home health care. More information about hospital insurance is given in "Your Medicare Handbook", available at any Social Security office.

For the 21st through 100th day of post-hospital care in a skilled nursing facility, hospital insurance will pay for all covered services except for $22.50 a day (increased from $20.) Hospital insurance pays the full cost of covered services for the first 20 days of care in a skilled nursing facility.

More information about hospital insurance is given in "Your Medicare Handbook", available at any Social Security office.

Proper driving cuts 26 cents per gallon

Dollar a gallon gasoline set America on its ear. And most of us feel there's nothing we can do about it.

But the U.S. Department of Energy figures that sensible driving measures could save the typical consumer about 26 cents on each gallon. That's like getting your gas at about 74 cents per gallon at the pump. For details, send for a free copy of "How to Save Gasoline...and Money" from the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 514H, Pueblo, Col. 81009.

These savings apply to you if you're the typical American driver who's averaging just 15 miles per gallon, driving 11,000 miles a year, and paying more than $700 each year for gas. Your gasoline bill could be cut drastically without much inconvenience if you just adjust your driving habits. Here's how:

Save up to five cents per gallon by driving more efficiently. For instance, warm up the engine by driving slowly; never idle for more than one minute to warm up or while waiting in line.

Drive at a moderate but steady pace. Don't pump the accelerator and continually speed up and slow down. Anticipate the flow of traffic ahead and adjust speed accordingly. Don't spend the money to race up to a stop light or traffic snarl.

Use the most efficient speeds of 35 to 45 where allowed. Fifty-five may be necessary on the highway but going just 10 miles per hour faster wastes 18 percent more gas.

Save up to 13 cents a gallon by planning ahead to combine or eliminate trips. Carpool with a friend to and from work or shopping. Combine several errands into one trip to cut down on expensive stops and go driving. And replace some trips altogether by using the telephone and mail services for banking and shopping.

Save up to eight cents a gallon by keeping your car in good shape. Tires should be kept inflated to the highest recommended pressure. (If they're down just four pounds, you lose a couple of pennies per gallon.) You'll save another two cents a gallon by using one of those "high mileage" motor oils. And save an average four cents per gallon more by getting a tune-up.

"You Block people really know your stuff. I should have come here last year."

Each year, all Block preparers are updated on all the latest changes in the tax laws. That's another way of making sure we can complete your return accurately and correctly.

Business booklets available

A series of self-instructional booklets is available free from the U.S. Small Business Administration. The series, which contains 23 self-study modules, is designed to help small business persons increase their knowledge of business management.

The publications cover a wide variety of topics, ranging from evaluating money sources and training and developing employees, to inventory management, marketing and costs control.

These publications, available at no cost, can be obtained by writing to Caroline Jackson at the SBA, 970 Broad St., Newark, 07102. A listing of the free publications entitled Business Basics Series should be requested.

Dysautonomia group to meet

The Northern New Jersey chapter of Dysautonomia will hold a regular meeting next Thursday at 8:30 p.m. at the City Federal Savings & Loan building, 1057 Stuyvesant Ave., Union.

The public is invited to attend. Helen Vollein, president, will preside.

Data packets being offered

The Northern New Jersey Chapter of the Myasthenia Gravis Foundation has enlisted the aid of Dennis San Filippo, health officer of the Township of Union and president of the Union County Health Officers Association, in distributing packets of information about the disease to all the health departments in the county.

Myasthenia gravis is a neuromuscular disease afflicting more than a quarter of a million Americans. It is characterized by varying degrees of weakness of the voluntary muscles of the body.

Information may be obtained from the Northern New Jersey Chapter, Myasthenia Gravis Foundation, 1203 84th St., North Bergen, 07047, or by calling Estelle Novak of Union, chairperson of the chapter.

Audition set for Chorale

The Garden State Chorale, formerly the Cable Car Choral Society, will hold auditions for the spring 1980 season from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Monday at Mountain High School, 51 Conforti Ave., West Orange. Rehearsals are held on Tuesday evenings, 8 to 10, at the same location. Interested persons who cannot audition on Monday should write the Garden State Chorale, 3 Oak Ridge Rd. West Orange.
