ADAM LA SOTA

Classroom veteran calling it a career

By TRACY SCHROTH Adam LaSota is looking forward to doing all the things he hasn't had time for in the last 32 years. Adam LaSota, golfer, swimmer, woodworker, gardener, farmer, fisherman, and friend, is retiring as a teacher in the Regional High School system after 32 years of service.

"I feel great," said 65-year-old LaSota, who has unofficially retired although his contract does not expire until April 30. LaSota has been on sick leave since December when he had an operation. He's recovered from the operation, but now he has a bad back. Doctor's orders are to stay home and rest.

"I'm really looking forward to not having to get up at 5 in the morning to walk the dog and get ready for school," he said. "It's a great load lifted off my shoulders. Now I have the freedom, I just hope I have the health to go with it."

LaSota, a rosy-cheeked man with white hair and a friendly disposition, has been a teacher in the regional high school system since 1948. He spent 28 of those years at Jonathan Dayton, where he taught agriculture and, in more recent years, worked with the regional high school's handicapped youngsters. LaSota directed the first program in the state which provided job placement for the handicapped.

The first 18 years of LaSota's teaching career in Springfield was spent teaching farming and agriculture.

He reflects on the days when he taught in a one-room schoolhouse behind the main building. The house is still there, but it's used as a field house, not as a classroom. He recalls the chicken coop and the greenhouse, the students constructed next to the house. They even had what was called a "farm shop," what is now a field house on Meisel Avenue behind the football field, where the students would practice the more intricate techniques of farming.

LaSota boasts of his students' successes in various farming competitions entered under this direction. "My students won the apple packing contest seven times in a row. Finally they did away with it because no one could beat us," he laughed. Among others, he has graduated a champion egg judge and a public speaker.

When the agriculture program was done away with in 1966, LaSota went to teaching the handicapped.

"I feel very satisfied, especially with the handicapped. I have seen so many of them become successful workers. It just shows that most of them are capable of doing something very worthwhile if they are just given the chance," said LaSota.

So, 32 years and 1,800 students later, LaSota is ready for a rest. He talks of his and his wife's "little place" on Long Island where they have been vacationing for the last 10 years.

"There I can go to the beach, swim, fish, and play golf. I used to coach golf and still do to people who are willing to listen," LaSota said.

School board to get help in finding superintendent

By SAM FINNELL The MountainSide Board of Education on Tuesday night took a first step in seeking outside help in its search for a new superintendent.

The board voted 3-2 to meet Wednesday with a two-person team of consultants from the New Jersey School Boards Association. Help from the team would be free, Board President Dr. Art-Williams explained, because the association has just begun offering the search service and will not charge until it gains experience.

Board members Pat Knodel and Jerrold Kolton voted against the motion. Because the vote involved no expenditure, a majority of the full board was not necessary.

Williams also presented a tentative schedule for the selection process. Under the schedule, all applications would be received by April 29. An announcement could be made as early as June 25. Dr. Levin Hanigan, superintendent of schools, will retire June 30.

In other business, the board approved

ed, 6-1, applying for about $20,000 in federal aid for the Title VIB program for classified children. Knodel questioned the need for placing children who are only "perceptually impaired" into special classes. "I think the children should learn to function in the regular class," she said, adding that the special treatment could be demoralizing the children.

Hanigan told the board he thought the program is worthwhile. "I'm satisfied the kids will benefit," he said. "I think it's a good program." He also said the board may not receive a reply on the grant application until late June, and if the money were not to come through, the board would be left with the task of funding the program.

Knodel, who approved the program, qualified her vote by saying that this would be the last year she would endorse the program without some sort of written evaluation on Title VIB. Speth opposed the approval.

Following the vote, the board accepted a motion by board member Carl Marinelli that instructors be required to report to the board regularly on the program. Specifics of the reports will be outlined by the superintendent of schools.

On another matter, the board declined to act on sending a communication to the state Board of Education on its impending action on the family life program, which would mandate sex education in the schools. A letter drawn up by Dr. Hanigan protesting the program was read at the meeting, but it had been decided at the last meeting for the board to pass a resolution expressing its view. The state board is expected to act on the program April 5.

The board also tabled a request from Hanigan that substitute-teacher pay be raised from $25 per day to $30 for the first 10 days and $35 per day for additional days to make the board's rate competitive with other districts. Hanigan said MountainSide, along with Scotch Plains, pays the lowest rates, and, consequently, has had trouble finding the substitutes. He said for three days this week he could not find a substitute.

In addition, the board voted to delete the final half-day for students from the 1980-81 calendar, which is essentially the same as the Union County Regional High School calendar. A half-day for students on June 24 had been proposed by Hanigan to give the calendar 184 days, the usual number for MountainSide. The last day for regional students also will be June 23.

It also was announced at the meeting that Mayor Thomas Ricciardi, Williams, board counsel Ray O'Brien and Borough Council attorney John Post were to meet Wednesday to discuss the wooded area in front of Deerfield School, which is reportedly used as a clandestine gathering place for students.

The board also approved combining the April agenda and action meetings to be held April 2 to accommodate Passover holidays.

Ricciardi asks cooperation in 1980 census

Mayor Thomas Ricciardi has urged all MountainSide residents to cooperate with the 1980 census.

The mayor made the request last week during the meeting to introduce the 1980 municipal budget. He also announced that various jobs with the Census Bureau are available to MountainSide residents.

The mayor said he has been asked by the county to check the census results with a local count. He said he will ask members of the local county committees to assist him in going over tax maps and come up with a figure. He said he expected the count to show a decline from the 1977 master plan estimate of 7,690.

According to Reni Erdos, district manager for the Union County census, most of the jobs entail field work, or door-to-door census taking. Clerical jobs, most of which would be in the census office in Elizabeth, also are available. Most jobs will begin after April 1 and the pay is $3.55 per hour. Some jobs could last until June or July, she said, although all workers would not necessarily work full time through the entire period.

Applicants must be residents of Union County, and those between 16 and 18 years old must be high school graduates, she said. Persons who have worked in law enforcement or tax work in the last six months, or who are employees of any government agency, are not eligible.

Erdos said an accurate count for the county will ensure the continuation of federal funds. "If we dip under a half-million, we could be in trouble," she said. Now a second-category county, Union would fall into the third category and thereby face a reduction in federal grants.

The census is done by mail, and a questionnaire is sent to every family in the county. The forms should arrive March 28 and are to be returned by April 1. Census workers are sent only to those residences which did not return forms.

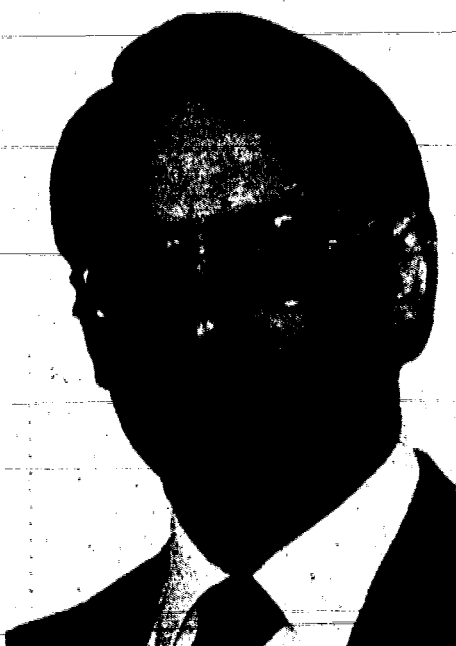

Job information is available at 353-7208.

Ticket information is available from 376-6300.

Summer school costs told

It was incorrectly stated in last week's paper that the Regional Board of Education budget was adjusted to allow $11,000 for a summer school program for seniors who need credit to graduate. Only $3,200 of this amount will be used for this purpose. The remainder will be used to hire a summer-time librarian at about $4,800, and continuation of an after-school recreational program for the handicapped, at approximately $3,000.

Summer school for students who need remedial help before entering the ninth grade will be paid out of federal funds. It is open to students from Springfield, MountainSide, Kenilworth and Garwood, who will attend Jonathan Dayton or David Brearley high schools. The comprehensive summer school, which offered enrichment and review courses, as well as courses for advanced credit, will be eliminated.

The portion of the budget to be raised by taxes is $13,664,793, not $12,805,254 as reported previously.

Major increases in the budget are a result of higher energy costs, representing 40 per cent of the budget's increase; anticipated negotiated salary increases, (50 per cent of the increase), and fixed charges, (10 per cent).

The budget election will be held on March 25. Polling places include: Kenilworth—Harding School; MountainSide—Deerfield School; and Springfield—districts one through six at James Caldwell School, districts seven through 10 at Florence Gaudineer School and districts 11 through 13 at Edward V. Walton School.

Dayton actors play 'The Pajama Game'

Jonathan Dayton Regional High School students will present their spring musical, "The Pajama Game," this weekend in the school's Halsey Hall.

Performances are scheduled for 8 p.m. tomorrow, 2 and 8 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are $3, and ticket information is available from 376-6300.

"The Pajama Game" is a musical comedy about the rift between union and management of a midwestern pajama factory over a 7 1/2-cent raise. Sid Sorokin, the manager of the factory, falls head-over-heels for Babe Williams of the grievance committee, and that's where the romantic and rocky negotiations begin.

The production includes the songs "Steam Heat," "Hernando's Hideaway," "Hey There" and "Small Talk."

Jonathan Dayton is using the double casting system, in which two sets of students perform lead roles on alternating performances. Edward Shiley, music director, says, "The double casting provides the opportunity for two people to study a part and bring their individual interpretations to the character as well as learn from each other."

The cast comprises Victor Gutierrez and Jay Davis as Sorokin; Denise Richter and Randy Feuerstein as Williams; Neal Spivack and Paul Farinella as Hines; Glenn Bardack and Stuart Gelwarg as Prez; Linda Spina and Donna Seymour as Gladys, and Colleen Chrystal and Kathleen Keenan as Mabel.

Character roles include Jessica Fine as Brenda, Ellen Weinstein as Pooptie, Janet Digiorgio as Mae, David Grossman as Max and Alan Effron as Hasler, Stephanie Cohn, Debbie Keller, Jenny Bradshaw and Wendy Julian are the solo dancers.

Candidate night Monday

The MountainSide PTA will sponsor a Board of Education candidates' night Monday at 8 p.m. in the Deerfield School cafeteria, Central Avenue. The association has invited all residents to attend.

A member of the Westfield League of Women Voters will be moderator and the audience will be able to join the candidates for coffee and dessert after the candidates' regular presentations. Candidates for three three-year terms on the board include Dr. Arthur Williams, Arthur Attenasio, Linda Schneider and Pat Knodel. Candidates for the one-year term are Robert Gardella and Sandra Burdge.

The association has announced that anyone needing more information on, or transportation to, the school election March 25 from 2 to 9 p.m. at the Deerfield School may call Jane Von Der Linn at 233-4285 or Peg Wilson at 232-6835.

the handicapped. She is an adjunct faculty member at Kean College and at Seton Hall University, teaching courses in special education. She and her husband Kenneth, a professor at Rutgers University, have three children, ages 8, 4, and 3, who are either enrolled or soon to be enrolled in the local schools.

Schneider serves as legislative chairperson on the PTA executive board, she is an affirmative action committee member of the Mountainside schools and den mother of Cub Scout Den 2, Pack 177, at the Community Presbyterian Church. She was coordinator of the Mountainside PTA effort to get the public involved with the local school election in 1979. For the last three years she was coordinator and teacher in the PTA after-school activities science program.

"The focus of attention for the Mountainside Board of Education should be on the children who attend our schools. The board must ensure that each child is being offered the best possible educational services to help that youngster maximize his or her own potential. It is also important for the board to be accountable to all sectors of the Mountainside community for educational policies as well as for fiscal operations. While the board of education in the last year has done a fine job of improving communication between itself and the public, more sharing of information is needed among the adults of the community so that we can understand each other and can work together in a positive way to help the children become the well-educated, well-rounded, positive-thinking adults we want in the future.

"The board of education must be aware of the needs of the community. Mountainside has a declining school enrollment, and a large number of residents who do not have school-age children.

Most local residents do have a commitment to maintain the quality residential status of our borough. These citizens know, too, that our very good school system contributes immensely to their prestige position in the real estate market. Preserving a high quality school system will benefit the entire community.

"Faced with the current decreasing pupil enrollment, the cutting back of funds, inflation, and the number of local residents who do not have school-age children, the board of education must see the taxpayers' money is being spent judiciously and that the quality of educational services is not diluted. I feel that I am well qualified to make sure that the children of Mountainside do not suffer educationally from the many demands of the community.

"I have a sincere concern for the quality education of all children. My educational background and varied college teaching experiences, plus my active involvement with the Mountainside school system, PTA and board of education meetings, strengthen my commitment to provide the best educational services for each child in school. I believe in strong local control of our schools, knowing that the board of education can use its own varied resources to meet the needs of the student population."

Gardella

Since coming to Mountainside in 1976 Bob has been active in the Mountainside Little League, serving on the board of directors for two years and also managing teams. He has been a member of the PTA for two years and last summer he was appointed to serve on the School Facilities Advisory Committee that reviewed the declining student population in town.

Bob is employed by Chubb & Son Inc. of Short Hills. He is an administrative officer and printing coordinator with major responsibilities in the Corporate purchasing areas.

Bob and his wife Christine have three children: Jennifer, 7 1/2; Matthew, 5, and Robert, Jr., 3. The Gardellas reside on Partridge Run. The family is a member of Our Lady of Lourdes parish.

Education in the State of New Jersey and specifically in our borough will face many challenges in the early '80s. During 1980 four major questions must be addressed with the best interest of the children and all the residents of Mountainside in mind: the selection of a new superintendent of schools, declining school enrollment, regionalization of the smaller school systems, and continuing to meet the needs of Mountainside's most important resource, "our youngsters."

"All four of these challenges are very closely related with the common denominator being meeting the needs of the children in our school system. I consider the selection of a new superintendent and the declining student population to be the first two key issues which the board of education must address this year.

"A new superintendent of schools must be found as soon as possible who will continue the fine work that has made the Mountainside educational system one of the finest in the State. The superintendent is the hub of the Mountainside educational foundation. He must be the link between the Board of Education, the faculty, the children and most of all the residents of our town. He must be an educator first and an administrator who will work with the community for the betterment of our educational system and values. He must understand the financial pressures in the community and react accordingly with the members of the board of education.

"Last summer I was asked to serve on the School Facility Advisory Committee which was formed to review the declining student population in our borough. During this period the committee conducted a door-to-door canvass in town and held a public meeting to gather data and information regarding the future student population. By far the majority of the residents understood the problems of closing the Beechwood school and expressed a strong desire to keep Beechwood open. Mathematically all the children would fit into one building and it would save the taxpayers' money. But at what cost to the borough? Next to the selection of a new superintendent of schools, I consider the future of the Beechwood School the board's number one challenge in 1980.

If elected to the board of education, I will do my best to insure that the overall development of our children is the number one priority during my term on the board. Top priority must be given by the board to meeting these challenges while keeping in mind the best interest of our children and the majority of our residents.

Spaulding lists March 21 date of disco dance

The volunteer auxiliary of Spaulding for Children, a free adoption agency, will sponsor "Disco Plus," an evening of dancing and entertainment at L'Affaire, Route 22, Mountainside, on March 21 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Larry Stuart, a frequent entertainer at the Playboy Club in Great Gorge, will perform.

Spaulding is a private, accredited agency that places children with special needs in adoptive homes.

Tickets are $6 in advance and $8 at the door. Tickets can be obtained at the agency, 36 Prospect St., Westfield, or by calling Mrs. Thomas Hargreaves or Mary Ridgway at 272-7210.

Burdge

"I feel the decisions to be made by the Board of Education within the next school year are most important, including the hiring of a new superintendent, our school's chief administrator. We should investigate new areas of economy of operation, i.e., energy conservation and cooperation with other districts in areas of purchasing and transportation. We must continue to evaluate staff requirements yearly in light of decreasing enrollment to assure efficient use of our experienced personnel and the economic operation of our schools while continuing to provide all necessary services to our children. It may be feasible to reorganize using our personnel to the maximum level of the varied skills and talents to provide some expansion of programs for the students.

"It is imperative we manage our system to the best of our ability to prevent state takeover of small districts which cannot provide a "thorough and efficient" education at a reasonable cost. Increased board action is needed toward this end to advise our legislators and State Board members what we feel is beneficial for the children of Mountainside.

"Improved communication between the board and the community and between the board and staff is one of my goals. This communication has improved somewhat in the past few years but much can be done in this area. Encouraging citizens to take an active interest in the board's decisions is important. Mountainside has always had an excellent reputation, including that of its educational system, and it is necessary we re-commit ourselves to remaining this valuable asset.

"I believe my experience working with Mountainside residents in the various organizations I've been involved with has provided insight into the needs and interests of our citizens, which would prove an asset to me as a member of the Mountainside Board."

Fire damages garage, house

A fire early Tuesday morning destroyed the garage and the roof of a Birch Hill home Mountainside.

No one was injured in the fire, which began at about 3 a.m. and was out in about an hour and a half, according to Ron Huter, deputy chief.

Hunter said the fire started in the garage in a foam rubber mattress. The mattress had accidentally caught fire earlier, the deputy chief said, and the owner thought he had sufficiently drowned the fire.

Roughly two dozen volunteer fireman were at the scene with three fire pumper trucks.

NJIT offers summer program to 80 students in junior highs

Eighty talented junior high school students from New Jersey will benefit from a new program offered this summer by New Jersey Institute of Technology to increase knowledge and understanding of science and engineering.

The NJIT junior high school program, "An Introduction to Urban Engineering," is one of only 15 programs in the nation funded by the National Science Foundation this year as a means of enriching the science experience of younger students, according to Dr. Howard Kimmel and Dr. Harold Deutschman, co-directors of the program and a long established parallel program for urban high school students.

The two independent NJIT summer programs will run from late June through early August. There is no fee and students receive a stipend to cover the cost of food and transportation.

The junior high sessions will be held in two three-week segments, the first from June 23 to July 11 and the second from July 14 to August 1. Participants will meet weekdays from 9:30 a.m. through 3:30 p.m. Social activities and field trips will supplement classroom and laboratory activities.

Participants must reside within comfortable commuting distance of NJIT's Newark campus. Minority, disadvantaged and female students are encouraged to enroll.

The NJIT urban engineering summer program for high school students is structured differently but also is designed to accommodate 80 students.

Participants in the high school program (10th and 11th graders) take part in an innovative six-week program that focuses more definitely on urban problems.

Educational field trips to industrial sites and informal talks with practicing engineers and scientists provide a rich background to the on-campus activities offered through the program.

During the 10 years the Institute's high school urban engineering program has been functioning, more than 300 young people have taken part in the summer activities.

Information on the NJIT summer programs, may be obtained through local schools or by writing Dr. Howard Kimmel, New Jersey Institute of Technology, 323 High St., Newark, 07102.

Mail sought for shut-ins

The New Jersey Branch of the National Shut-In Society has offered to send names to anyone wishing to remember a shut-in member this Easter season.

Cards and small gifts mean a great deal to most of the shut-in members, as many are confined to wheelchair, bed, or home, according to a Society spokeswoman.

Interested persons are asked to write to Mrs. M.B. Hamfeldt, 47 Orange Ave., Irvington, N.J. 07111, and state how many names are to be sent.

Can we count on you?

You, the people. That's what the Census has been about since the first one in 1790.

This year is the largest and most important Census ever undertaken in America. So it's crucial for everyone to be counted.

Your answers can help your community get fair government representation in Congress. Census answers can also help show where your community needs funds for new job programs, new schools, parks, better care for the elderly, and more. Please help yourself and others by being part of this national effort.

All answers are kept confidential by law.

School to train mechanics in diesel program

Union County Vocational Center in Scotch Plains will institute a two-year program in September to train diesel mechanics.

"The diesel and trucking industry has identified a need for many trained mechanics in the next decade," according to Leslie Kiray, director of the Vocational Center. "Job opportunities will be good and trained and qualified graduates of our program will have absolutely no difficulty in securing well-paying benefits," he said.

Information on enrollment is available by contacting Barbara Kaczmarek, admissions counselor, at the school, or by writing to the Vocational Center, 1776 Raritan Road, Scotch Plains, 07076.

Three will receive leadership awards

Groups sponsor Holocaust observance

Representatives of 21 Jewish communities in Central New Jersey are expected to take part in the area's first Holocaust Memorial Day observance at Congregation Anshe Chesed, Orchard Terrace and St. George Avenue, Linden, at 7:30 p.m. April 14.

The commemorative program is being sponsored jointly by the Union County Board of Rabbis and the Jewish Association of Centers and Y's (JACY), with the cooperation of the Yad Vashem Committee of the Jewish Federation.

Co-chairmen are Sally Kopstein and Dr. Lew Kampel.

Pointing out that the gathering will mark the 35th anniversary of the liberation of the concentration camps, they said they hope it will be attended "by all the Jews in our 21 communities as well as our non-Jewish neighbors."

Gladys Helfgott, a member of the planning committee, as well as a Holocaust survivor, added, "There were many non-Jews who helped thousands of Jews escape to freedom and survival during the war. We know today that our non-Jewish neighbors feel, as we do, that we must always remember what happened in order that it may never happen again."

The commemorative program will consist of two parts.

Part one will be a religious observance with the participation of representatives from various communal agencies.

In part two, poems were written by children in Terezina concentration camps during the war will be interpreted by the Wendy Osserman Dancers.

Admission to the program is free. Additional information is available from Eva Rosenberg at the Jewish Community Center in Plainfield, 756-2021.

"Quality is Remembered After Price is Long Forgotten". This is a simple statement that is so important in today's world. How many times in your life do you buy a "bargain" and are not happy with it 2 weeks later? How many times do you have to be shoved around... not find assistance... never get just what you wanted because they were "out of stock"? Knowledgeable sales people are most difficult to find today. At the "Bin" we have specialized help for every department. When it comes to special situations... drapes... shades... Blinds... Roman shades... verticals... see Ed or Jack. For our huge Bath Department... curtains... kitchen ensembles... blankets... tailored curtains... panels... and fabric cloths... see Jo, Mary, Rita, Sue, Marie or Debbie. All of us are here to serve you, no commissions, no "pushy" people to sell you what you do not want. We want you to be our satisfied customer.

We have 35 styles of kitchen curtains on display... 500 spreads in stock... 32 styles of shower curtains. And this is just a sample of the huge selection we carry in our stock.

MOVIES THE THEATER OTHER ENTERTAINMENT Campaign picks girl

Alice will represent the New Jersey Easter Seal Society at fund-raising events throughout the coming year, the highlight of which will be her appearance on the Easter Seal telethon on Channel 11 the weekend of March 22-23.

Wellington Homes now provide models

Previewing new condominium homes in December, without the benefit of furnished models, would never work, warned insiders in the real estate industry. So what happened when Wellington Place opened its sales trailer in the Aberdeen-Marlboro area three months ago? In just four days of previews, more than $2,000,000 in sales were recorded and the community's first section sold out entirely. Now Wellington Place is getting ready to open Section II, and there will be three designer-furnished models to show off: a one-bedroom, a one-bedroom-plus-den, and a two-bedroom layout. The model interiors were designed and decorated by the national interior merchandising firm of Norman Harvey Associates of New York.

Since we first announced Wellington Place to the public," noted David Weiner of Weiner Homes Corporation, builders of Wellington Place. "Our location, designs and, frankly, our prices generated so much enthusiasm that our first section buyers apparently didn't need to see furnished models. Now that it's almost spring, and our models are ready to open, it's reasonable to assume that our second section will sell out quite quickly."

"A large part of Wellington Place's appeal is the list of features we include in the homes," noted Joshua Weiner, the firm's construction manager. These include standard items such as woodburning fireplaces, central air-conditioning, carpeting, GE appliances, York heat pumps, R-30 attic insution and solid brick construction. Residents also have their own swim and tennis club, a clubhouse that offers game and meeting rooms, a wet bar, fireplace lounge and banquet facilities.

Besides its homes and convenient location, Wellington's most desirable attributes are its down-to-earth prices, ranging from $51,990 to $63,990. Special 1 1/2 percent mortgages for the first five years of ownership are available with 20 percent down payments.

"Homes like these would be an exceptional value even if they sold for thousands of dollars more," marketing director David Weiner declared. "People recognize that our preview sales proved it."

The new models are located on Route 34, just south of Lloyd Road.

FEW UNITS LEFT—Only four of the original 491 condominiums remain unsold at Island View Townhouses, 1500 Ocean Sea Bright Ave. The townhouses can be purchased by qualified buyers for only 20 percent down; private mortgage money is available at a very low rate of interest. The price tag on each home is $89,000—extremely low for oceanside real estate.

Island View condos: only four are unsold

Only four of the original 68 condominiums remain unsold at Island View Townhouses, 1500 Ocean Ave., Sea Bright. These townhouses can be purchased by qualified buyers for only 20 percent down; private mortgage money is available at a very low rate of interest. The price tag on each home is $89,900—extremely low for oceanside real estate.

The model townhouse home now being offered for sale is professionally decorated, with or without furniture.

The four units each have 1700 square feet in living area. The floor plans are flexible proportioning over two bedrooms, one full bath and two half baths, eat-in kitchen, all purpose room, living room with fireplace, an indoor garage with inside access and a patio plus two balconies viewing the ocean.

Ocean and the lovely Shrewsbury River. However, other factors have contributed to the success of Island View Townhouses. These homes are all elegant, planned and built with genuine care. They are filled with surprising standard features such as private one-car garage, wood-burning fireplaces, central air-conditioning and deluxe appliances which include dishwasher, washer, dryer and disposal. Each home has a patio and two balconies.

The community itself offers an acre and a half of Atlantic Ocean beach, plus swimming pool and tennis court. Landscaping is imaginative with rock gardens.

Another attraction of Island View Townhouses is the condominium lifestyle itself. While condo-ownership is similar to single-family ownership with respect to tax benefits, equity and profit potential. But a professional maintenance staff frees residents from these homely chores and also offers a certain measure of home security while they're not at home. This appeals to professionals who commute or travel a great deal, and people who own more than one home.

More information on Island View Townhouses is available by calling 201-747-7169. The sales office is open from 11 to 5 daily at 1500 Ocean Ave. Only four condominiums are available now.

Marc View nears sellout

Convinced that the last remaining Colonial-style homes in the Marc View community in Old Bridge will be purchased before this spring, the Howard Siegel Companies are offering even the three model homes for sale, ensuring buyers of immediate delivery.

The virtual sell-out of the community on Farrington Road off Route 34 near Matawan, only weeks after preview showings "and before we had a chance to announce an official opening, is a dramatic confirmation that Old Bridge is one of New Jersey's most desirable residential areas," Nod-Siegel stated.

Siegel attributed Marc View's dramatic success to location and to buyer awareness of his firm's reputation for craftsmanship "which represents real value for money."

The three models at Marc View, spacious three and four-bedroom residences with attached garages, are priced from $84,990. The homes, all of which can be heated with natural gas, included 2 1/2 baths, family rooms, no-maintenance aluminum siding, full storm-and-screen windows and other built-in features.

Commuters may take the train to northern New Jersey or New York City, travel by express bus along nearby Route 9 or by car on the Garden State Parkway and New Jersey Turnpike. The beaches of the Jersey shore, as well as nearby bay and river recreational facilities, are all close at hand.

Marc View is open to visitors daily, except Thursdays, from 11 a.m. until dusk. To reach the community, take the Parkway to Exit 123, then south on Route 9 to Route 34. Continue south approximately 2.5 miles to Farrington Road and turn right to the model area.

Baris trains new staffers

The Jordan Baris Inc. Training Center has opened at the Irvington headquarters of the real estate brokerage firm specializing in both the urban and suburban areas of Essex County. Under the direction of Dominic DiStasi, the first intensive training program to be offered by the center began recently at the firm's offices at 380 Stuyvesant Ave.

"We have designed an intensive two-week program structured to give our real estate professionals a fast start towards a successful career," DiStasi explained. "The course covers the various facets of the real estate business including such subjects as listing, marketing, advertising, public relations, contracts and financing."

Programmed into the 30 hours of initial instruction, it includes also talks by invited outside lecturers and role-playing exercises through which salespersons gain insight into the needs and concerns of homebuyers and sellers. The class sizes, DiStasi reports, are limited in order to provide the greatest measure of personal attention.

Follow-up sessions are scheduled to insure a smooth transition from classroom to actual practice.

The program is open to new members of the Jordan Baris Inc. organization.

Founded in 1952, Jordan Baris Inc. has recorded more than 10,000 real estate transactions. The firm is engaged in the sale of residential, commercial and investment real estate. As a member of the national Homes for Living network, Jordan Baris Inc. serves to introduce the Essex County area to those moving here from other regions of the country, while also providing assistance to those moving from Essex County to elsewhere in the 50 states.

Leisure Village life keeps retiree active

The African violet is not commonly found outside South Africa. But at Leisure Village West, the adult community on Route 70 in Manchester, Norman Kerhli grows them by the hundreds.

Kerhli, a former oil company executive who has retired on at least two occasions, acknowledges he could live almost anywhere he chooses. He and his wife moved from Westfield to Leisure Village West because, he said, "We like to keep active and we heard this was an active community. The report was 100 percent correct. We're very happy here."

Kerhli, who retired for the first time about a quarter-century ago at the age of 40—"I was vice president of an oil refining company in western Pennsylvania, and wanted time to fish and hunt"—has 200 plants in his home, the Hastings model, one of the series that Leisure Technology Corp., developer of Leisure Village West, calls the Greenery Patio homes. More than half of the plants are species of the African violet which he cross-breeds, and which have won numerous awards at garden shows.

"Growing flowers is a wonderful hobby," he said, "but after working with them a few hours, there's not much to do. You can't just stare at seeds, waiting for them to grow. So my wife and I have plenty of time to enjoy ourselves in the community. We've made many new friends since moving here in January 1978, so we entertain and are entertained a great deal."

"It's a warm, friendly kind of place. There's always something doing at the clubhouse."

"It wasn't long before we felt very much at home here. Also, we're not far from our daughter, who lives in Ocean County, and our three grandchildren. All in all, it's a splendid way to live. Our home is much smaller, of course, than the large one we had in Westfield, but the rooms are spacious, we're extremely comfortable and we certainly don't need all those extra bedrooms we had. As for the area, it's one of the cleanest and finest one can find in New Jersey."

The Kerhlis, like many other residents, are recommending Leisure Village West to friends nearing retirement. Homes in the community are priced from $56,990 to $72,990. Directly across Route 70 is Leisure Knoll, another creation of Leisure Technology Corp., comprising the Summerhill Series of single-family homes.

Both communities may be reached by taking Garden State Parkway to Exit 88, then six miles west on Route 70 to the entrances—Leisure Village West on the left, Leisure Knoll on the right.

Why sell NOW?

WHY BUY NOW?

"Prices for new homes nationally will rise 8%-10% in 1980." This warning was voiced by the Chief Economist for the National Association of Homebuilders. We're holding the line with 1979 prices on most Crestwood models until early spring. Thereafter, inflationary pressures will drive our prices up, too.

Placing a $1,000 deposit now, your retirement-sized home will be purpose-built for delivery this year—guaranteed at today's price!

Crestwood Community Service Charges, which include home maintenance, recreation and clubhouse membership, bus transportation and many other basic living costs, are fixed on annual contract. Our real estate tax rate is now .42% lower than it was in 1972.

Summing up... inflation at today's feverish rate is a strong inducement to buy before prices go even higher. —The Morgan Guaranty Trust Company SURVEY, February 1980.

Avoid 1980 price rises of 8% to 10% by acting NOW. What are you waiting for?

Why sell NOW?

"Prices for existing homes have reached a peak. Expect a decline during 1980." This was the consensus of economists at the Homebuilders convention.

That means your home will be worth less next year than it is now. Why wait to sell? The equity tied up in your too-large home could provide a comfortable income after you move into a new and handsome home here.

The problems where you live now won't go away. They'll get worse. Taxes, insurance, fuel and maintenance costs won't go down, they'll go up.

We can help you to sell your home now, for top dollar. We can help you procure mortgage financing in New Jersey; over 200 lending institutions now have funds available. If you qualify, capital gain on your profit is exempt from taxes this year, up to $100,000.

Social Security benefits listed

The cost of Social Security has received a great deal of attention in recent years; however, the program's benefits have not been publicized.

Since Social Security's value can be determined only by comparing what it costs with what it provides, it is valuable to review the program's benefits.

Many think of Social Security only in relation to terms of retirement benefits, but it is much more than that. The program provides protection to workers and their families against loss of income because of the retirement, disability or death of a wage earner. Beneficiaries include young workers and their families as well as older persons.

Social Security is like life insurance, providing monthly cash benefits to surviving spouses, dependent children and other family members. In fact, the value of survivors insurance under Social Security is almost as much as the life insurance in force by all private companies for everyone in the United States.

If a person who has worked long enough under Social Security dies, family members become eligible for payments. Unmarried children receive monthly checks until they reach 18, (22 if they are full-time students) and the widow or widower is eligible for payments until the youngest child is 18. In addition, there's a lump-sum death benefit of $255. Benefits also are payable to adults disabled before 22 and to older widows and widowers.

Social Security is disability insurance, particularly valuable to young workers and their families. These benefits are payable at any time before age 65, starting with the sixth full month of disability.

Social Security is Medicare coverage for people 65 and over who are entitled to monthly benefits, people under 65 who have been entitled to disability benefits for at least 24 months and those with permanent kidney failure who need dialysis or a transplant.

And, of course, Social Security is retirement benefits, replacing from 30 to 55 percent of the worker's most recent earnings. Not only can a retired insured worker get monthly benefits at 65, or at a reduced rate as early as 62, certain dependents can also get benefits.

If a person reaches 65 before 1982 and decides to delay retirement the benefit will be increased by one percent for each year — (or one-twelfth of one percent for each month) from age 65 to 72 that benefits are not paid because of delayed retirement. If a person reaches 65 after 1981, the benefit will be increased by three percent for each year (or one-quarter of one percent for each month) from age 65 to 70 that benefits are not paid because of the delayed retirement.
