Somber reflection

Editor's note: The following was written by Bob Baxter, formerly a photographer for this newspaper and now paralyzed and a patient in East Orange Veterans Hospital.

When President Abe Lincoln declared a day of national remembrance for the dead of the tragic Civil War, it was planned as a day of somber reflection, and it was called Memorial Day. Now, four major wars and several skirmishes later, we once again commemorate the memory of fallen men who fought and died for the cause of freedom.

Veterans' groups decorate the graves with little flags, and a firing squad fires several volleys of blanks while a bugler blows taps, probably off key; hats will be doffed and veterans will give a hand salute and mothers will recall their beloved sons.

The few remaining veterans from World War I will be driven in the local parade, which usually has more marchers than spectators. Somehow the memory of what these fallen comrades have done has faded. Their names are inscribed on a local memorial tablet, and that is about the only reminder of their existence.

The veterans of the Vietnam conflict feel cheated of the dignity of this unpopular war they so valiantly fought. They show their displeasure by their absence from the parades, the speeches and the momentary burst of patriotism.

While we offer our praise and prayers for those who have died for their country, most of us have forgotten the men of our wars who are now confined to veterans' hospitals all across the country.

These men, who are now aging, have also suffered the sting of war, and now lie nearly forgotten in beds of loneliness and pain. Perhaps the best way we could possibly honor the memory of our departed veterans is to make a visit to a local hospital and say "hello" to some of these, our forgotten men. For here lie the survivors of our wars, those who lost their limbs and had their bodies, and in some instances their minds, shattered for the balance of their lives.

Hanging out the flag and having a backyard barbecue is one way to turn a day of memory into a holiday. The local stores will celebrate by having a Memorial Day sale, and thus passes another May 30.

Men sell balloons along the parade route, and children will sit on the curb to watch the feeble ranks march by; and in the quietness of the hospital wards the memory of lost friends will be recalled in thought.

Beat no drum of dirge
Drape no bunting black
Watch the thinning ranks go by
As God welcomes his soldiers back.

Vitale, chosen board chief, lists problems for the year

Charles Vitale Jr. was elected to his seventh one-year term as president and three incumbents were sworn in at the Union County Regional Board of Education annual reorganization meeting Tuesday night.

Margaret Hough of Springfield was sworn in to her second three-year term by board attorney Franz Skok. Roland Hecker of Berkeley Heights and Virginia Muskus of Clark were sworn in to their third terms. All three ran unopposed in the March 25 school board elections.

Muskus, by voice vote, also was unanimously elected vice-president. She was nominated by Natalie Waldt of Springfield.

Vitale, a Kenilworth resident, is starting his ninth year on the board. He served as vice-president from 1972-1973 and president since then. He served on the board negotiating team for six years and on finance, safety, education and athletic committees.

Student discipline, attendance and declining enrollment are some of the major issues the board faces during the next school year, Vitale said after the meeting. He also cited "fiscal and budgetary problems that come from the impending recession" as board challenges.

The board reappointed Waldt to be in charge of school funds and the law firm of Johnstone, Skok, Loughlin and Lane as board counsel. Stefany and Co. was reappointed board auditor.

In other business, the board asked superintendent Dr. Donald Merachnik to draw up a job description for a full-time floating substitute.

The board asked Merachnik to create that position because Barbara Feldman, a tenured science teacher from Governor Livingston school, recently was dismissed with 11 other teachers because of declining enrollment. Some board members want to keep Feldman on staff and rehire her in the science department when an opening occurs.

Skok cautioned the board that if the position is created, it must be advertised. Any opening for a teacher in the science department also must be advertised, he said.

Vitale said after the meeting that hiring Feldman as a floating substitute could "lead to complications and a Pandora's box of requests from any staff member relieved."

Board member William Keyes of Berkeley Heights said having a good teacher such as Feldman available when an opening occurs would benefit the board and school district.

In other business, Skok told the board a drug policy warning students of the hazards and penalties of narcotic usage should be voted on during the June meeting so that it can be included in the student handbook next school year.

During the public portion of the meeting, Richard Fleischer of Berkeley Heights asked why a change in the policy of the pupil-parent grievance procedure is being considered.

Under the proposed procedure, a student or parent may bring a complaint relating to a staff member directly to the school superintendent after speaking with the principal instead of meeting with the staffer. The superintendent may discuss the problem with the student or parent, but may not hold a formal conference without notifying the employee.

Vitale told Fleischer the new policy was proposed because there is a "gap that prevents parents from talking to upper administrators."

Board chooses Williams again

Dr. Arthur Williams, president of the Mountainside Board of Education for the past year, was re-elected president for 1980-81 at the board's reorganization meeting Tuesday. Bart Barre, entering his second year on the board, was elected vice president.

There were no other nominees. Both men were nominated by board member Carl Marinelli.

Williams, Arthur Attenasio and Linda Schneider, elected to three-year terms in March, and Sandra Burdge, elected to a one-year term, were sworn in at the meeting.

Attenasio and Schneider replace former board members Charles Speth, who is retiring, and Pat Knodel, who was defeated in March. Burdge is filling the year remaining in the term of Anthony Mazzucca, who moved from Mountainside. Jerrold Kolton had been appointed to fill the middle term of Mazzucca's unexpired term, but chose not to run for the third year.

The seventh member of the present board is Linda Esemplare, whose term expires in 1981.

In the March election, Schneider garnered 811 votes; Williams, 774; Attenasio, 746, and Knodel, 690. In the race for the one-year slot, Burdge defeated Robert Gardella 666 to 422.

The board also reappointed current board secretary John McDonough secretary for 1980-81.

Appointments to the many board committees will be made at a later date, Williams said.

In regular business, the board voted to hold a special meeting next Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Deerfield School to decide on matters pertaining to the coming school year.

And the board voted to accept the resignations of teachers Marianne Beckers and Jeanette Sektberg.

Deerfield nine beats Winfield

Police Chief Mullin submits retirement

The Mountainside Borough Council on Tuesday night accepted the retirement of Police Chief Edward Mullin, effective July 1.

Mullin, who spent time this winter in the coronary care unit in Overlook Hospital, Summit, has headed the department since Aug. 1, 1969.

Church offers 'fish and chips'

The Deerfield School boys' baseball team opened its season with a 2-1 victory over Winfield. Tom Perrota pitched six innings, giving up one walk, one hit and striking out eight.

Mountainside scored twice on five hits, including doubles by Chris Carpeny and Dan Leon. Ricky Brahm, Drew Greeley, and Jerry Pares also had hits. Good defensive play was contributed by Brahm, Greeley, and Mark Spatucci, according to Coach Ed Sjonell.

In its second game, Deerfield lost to Brewer, 3-1. Brewer had seven hits and made two errors; Mountainside recorded six hits and one error.

Carpency and Rob Fernicola went two for three, Carpeny contributing a triple. Jim Dascoli pitched the entire game, walking three and striking out eight.

The next home games are scheduled tomorrow against Brewer.

GRANDPARENTS DAY—Brian Burke, 3, of Mountainside gets some help with his artwork from his grandparents, Theresa and Owen McElroy of Maplewood, during grandparents day activities at the Community Presbyterian Day Nursery, Meeting House Lane, Mountainside. ## Police probe theft at 3 Rt. 22 firms

Mountainside police are investigating the theft last week of business machines from the offices of three Mountainside businesses in a Route 22 office building.

According to police reports, sometime between 5:30 p.m. Tuesday and 9 a.m. Wednesday, the door to the Allstate Insurance Co. was pried open, and an IBM Selectric typewriter, valued at $1,000, reportedly was taken from the office.

While investigating the burglary, police determined that entry also was gained into the office of Storage

Technology, and another IBM Selectric typewriter was reported missing. There were no signs of forced entry, police said.

A 3M copying machine, valued at more than $2,000, also was reported stolen from the office of realtor Edgar Savacool.

Police reported the burglar first tried to gain entry to the main building by breaking a pane of glass on the west side, but the window was bolted from the inside. Entry was gained by kicking in part of the rear door, police said.

Band marches home with more honors

The Jonathan Dayton Regional Band added another trophy to its collection when it took first place in the Southern Classic Competition in Orlando, Florida recently.

The victory was "the most important in a school year of outstanding performances," according to Peggy Hammer of the band parents organization. Those performances include winning the 1980 chapter V, class I division of the Tournament of Bands competition and winning marching band competitions sponsored by the David Brearley and Woodbridge marching bands.

In the Orlando event, the Dayton band competed against 11 other bands from other states performing a repertoire of pieces including "Fantasy" from Earth, Wind and Fire, "Soul Man" by David Porter and Issac Hayes and an original drum solo by band member Joe Reo.

Band members and the Band Parents Organization raised more than $14,000 for the trip by selling such items as candy, mirrors and candles. The band also sold advertising space in a program for a competition it sponsored at Jonathan Dayton and charged admission to the event.

The band parents group raised most of the money before the trip through a raffle and other activities. "Without them, it would not have been possible," said band director Jeffery Anderson. The band parents then gave the band a "hero's welcome" after the triumphant trip when about 25 parents met the band with streamers and signs, Anderson said.

The journey to Florida was not all work for the nearly 100 musicians, twirlers and color guard members. After practice and the competition, they could be found at Sea World, a discotheque in Orlando called Wet and Wild or in the hotel pool.

Judges for the competition were chosen by Telstar Travel Agency, Virginia Beach, sponsors of the event, and included educators and professional musicians from across the nation, Anderson said.

The band also is Chapter V, Class I champion of the Tournament of Bands

VFW members to sell poppies to honor dead

Members of Mountainside Memorial Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 10136 have urged all citizens to wear a VFW Buddy Poppy on Memorial Day as a symbol of respect and appreciation for those who have given their lives and health in service of their country, according to James F. Dowd of the Mountainside VFW.

Poppies will be sold by VFW volunteers through the holiday.

The poppies have been sold for 58 consecutive years, Dowd said. The poppy as memorial flower was inspired by the opening words of Col. John McCrae's poem "In Flanders Fields," which pays tribute to the soldiers who lost their lives on poppy-covered World War I battlefields.

Veterans organizations first sold the flowers in the United States in 1921 in response to an appeal from Madame Guerin of France for funds to aid needy and disabled war veterans. In 1922, the VFW sold poppies made by disabled veterans in U.S. Hospitals to support a national welfare program. The symbolism of the poppy was quickly accepted by Americans, and the sale was an immediate success, Dowd said.

In 1980, more than 10,000 VFW posts will participate in the sale, selling more than 15 1/2 million poppies, Dowd said.

The funds must be used exclusively for the welfare of disabled veterans and for the widows and children of dead veterans, Dowd said.

Red Cross asks for blood; small supply is noted

The Westfield-Mountainside Chapter of the American Red Cross will hold a community blood bank tomorrow from 2 to 7 p.m. at the Presbyterian Parish House, 140 Mountain Avenue, Westfield.

All residents are urged to donate to help alleviate the anticipated Memorial Day shortage, a chapter spokesman said.

In other business, the Red Cross has urged all those preparing to begin their aquatic sports season to "play it safe and start off easily."

"Don't try to do it all at once," said William Bower, water safety chairman. "You've got the whole summer ahead of you, so take it easy at first and get yourself back into condition and acclimated to the sun before spending extended periods in or on the water."

He also has urged those new to water activities to begin by learning to swim—or by learning to swim better. He said 60 percent of the roughly 7,000 persons who drown each year fall into the water accidentally and could have saved themselves if they had been able to swim.

He also offered advice to parents: "Watch small children most carefully in and around the water. Even in supervised areas and even at shallow wading pools, mere seconds of inattention can be tragically fatal."

The Red Cross offers courses in swimming and life saving at all levels of skill, Bower said.

Other Red Cross safety tips include:

- Always swim with a companion, never alone. When swimming a long distance, have someone with you and stay close to the shore.
- Swim in a safe place. The presence of lifeguards usually means the area is safe for swimming. Stay away from the area immediately in front of a diving board and do not swim near piers and pilings.
- Before diving, make sure the water is deep enough and there are no submerged rocks or other hidden objects. In pools, look for depth markings before diving.
- Wait at least an hour after eating before swimming. Do not swim when overheated or very tired.
- Make sure that reaching poles, buoys and other rescue gear are on hand.
- Do not depend on an inflated toy or inner tubes for support, because they may slip.
- Never swim in a thunderstorm; water is a conductor of lightning.

Lions selling canes for sight

The Mountainside Lions Club is sponsoring White Cane Days, a sight conservation project, through Saturday.

Club members will distribute miniature white canes throughout the borough as a fund-raising effort, according to Ed Savacol, club president. "White canes are traditionally associated with the worldwide efforts of Lions International to aid the blind and foster better vision," he said.

The fund raising supports the Eye Institute of New Jersey, a Newark-based facility affiliated with the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey. Other Lions projects include operation of eye and hearing clinics in New Jersey hospitals as well as sponsoring "eyemobiles" or mobile eye-testing units, scholarships and Eyes for the Needy. The club also aids several other institutions for the blind in the state.

Remember all those "decisions, decisions" you had to make during your last eye test? Well, we now use a new "eye computer" in our office which makes the whole vision test easier, faster, and much more accurate. It was invented to test the NASA astronauts.

You simply look into the computer through a small window. Then, it instantly measures your eyes and prints out the calculations of any "visual errors" it finds. This computer data helps us prescribe glasses or contact lenses which will give you the sharpest vision possible. In fact, if you wear contact lenses, we can verify that they are the correct prescription, without even having to remove them.

Thus, our "eye computer" makes your exam go smoother. It also makes it very simple to examine little children, hard-of-hearing patients and others who have trouble communicating with the doctor.

To schedule your computerized eye exam, please call or visit our office soon.

Now's the time to reduce next year's tax bite

If you earned more than $25,000 last year, your tax bill was probably the biggest bill you paid all year. If you want to lower this year's tax bill, now is the time to start planning for it.

Tax planning is impossible without well-defined personal financial goals; knowing exactly how much you earn and spend and having a clear idea of how you plan to use your money in the future.

The New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants suggests you to keep up-to-date on your finances because a good deal of your spending has tax ramifications. Bills, receipts, appraisals and cancelled checks should be kept in a simple, handy and orderly system. Set up a record book with current totals broken down into the categories on your federal income tax return. If you stay organized throughout the year, CPAs say, it won't be such a chore to prepare your next federal income tax return.

Begin now by filling out a Form 1040 with your 1980 anticipated income, deductions, exemptions and credits. Tax rates for 1980 probably will be unchanged, so figure out what your tax bill is likely to be.

To reduce your taxes you can lump every available deduction into this year, or you can defer as much of your income as possible until future years—or you can do both this year. That might make next year's tax bill correspondingly higher, but you will have had the use of the money in the meantime. For instance, if you lump deductions into alternate years, you might be able to get, say, $4,000 of deductions in odd years and $2,000 in even years. This way, you itemize deductions in the odd years and deduct the zero bracket amount ($3,400 for a joint return) in even years. Otherwise, you would have $3,000 of deductions in each year and would never get any tax benefit from them.

Think about deductions first. If you will need a car in the future, buy it in the year when that substantial sales tax deduction will do the most good. To add to the usual medical deductions, perhaps you can prepay 1981 medical expenses for an elderly parent in a nursing home.

In planning deductible contributions, remember that a $1,000 contribution lowers your tax burden by $500 if you are in the 50 percent marginal tax bracket. If you donate appreciated property, your contribution may cost even less, so ask your tax advisor whether it is better to sell the property and contribute the proceeds to charity, or to give the property itself.

The "points" paid on a secured mortgage or home improvement loan are deductible in the year paid, so if you plan to buy a home this year you may want to pay this amount by separate check—rather than having the bank withhold it from the loan proceeds.

If you pay estimated state income taxes, you may want to pay the final installment in December instead of January, so it will be deductible on your 1980 federal income tax return. This can also apply to accelerated payment of accrued property taxes, although you cannot deduct tax payments made to a mortgage company and held in escrow (until they are paid to the taxing authority).

There may be deductions to consider in all plans you make during the year. Can you combine a vacation with a tax-deductible business or house-hunting trip? Will you change jobs this year? Do you plan to support a foreign student in your home? (You may be able to claim expenses of up to $50 a month as a charitable contribution.) If deductions will not be substantial this year, consider postponing payment of some bills, until next year when the deductions will mean bigger tax savings.

Now take a look at exemptions for the coming year. Are you supporting a parent who does not qualify as a dependent because he earns more than $1,000 from interest or dividends? Perhaps that parent will consider transferring his funds into tax-exempt bonds, so you can claim him as a dependent.

TRADE UP TO SNAPPER DEPENDABILITY!

SNAPPER walk mowers include these performance features:
 1 "Vacuum" power for a smooth professional cut and the ability to bag cuttings under tough conditions.
 2 With an optional Mulcherizer, your SNAPPER is converted to a mulching mower which chews up cuttings so fine they become lawn food.
 3 Another option, the Snapperizer, converts your SNAPPER to a leaf shredder and lawn vacuum so you can go over four times as far without emptying the bag.
 4 Self-propelled models have rear wheel drive and six forward speeds for mowing slowly in tough grasses or quickly in normal situations. A fingertip control disengages the drive for trimming in tight places.

The rear-engine SNAPPER Hi-Vac rider gives you a smooth, even cut. Plus: immediate response steering for cutting in tight places; on-the-go adjustment of cutting height and speed; and a floating cutting unit which minimizes damage.

SNAPPER Hi-Vac riders can vacuum cuttings, leaves and litter into an optional 6 or 30 bushel catcher, even during high moisture conditions. Before you buy, compare the quality and performance features of a SNAPPER. You'll find SNAPPER is worth more because it does more. And its price is competitive with other quality mowers.

SUPERIOR QUALITY—The Pennsylvania model at Rossmoor includes two bedrooms, den and two baths. It is priced at $68,900.

Guardian's homes list superior quality

Guardian Development Corp. developers and sponsors of Rossmoor and Clearbrook-two of New Jersey's most prestigious adult condominium communities in Monroe Township—are keenly aware of their obligation to build and develop superior quality homes.

These adjacent popular communities embody all the desirable aspects of condominium living with sound dollar value and prudent investment qualities inherent in the homes. Almost 3000 mature families, purchasers of homes in these two communities can attest to the unusually excellent value and high quality construction of their homes.

The handsome, elegant homes—off New Jersey Turnpike Exit 8A—are superbly designed for easy, carefree maintenance, with an unusually wide variety of floor plans and models available. Much thought has been given to design and construction. Constant quality control checks during construction insure the high level of quality built into each home. Decorator touches are evident throughout the homes. Impressive entrances; bright, spacious rooms; ample closet space; convenient, step-saver kitchens with deluxe kitchen cabinets, GE appliances and abundant counter space; central air conditioning with individual room-controlled heating; ceramic tiled baths with full vanities with integral bowls; fully insulated ceilings; full, thick fiberglass insulation in the walls; insulated windows, insulated patio doors and masonry exterior with aluminum siding, are but a few of the outstanding standard features of the homes. Whether the home is a Clearbrook or a Rossmoor model, excep-

Lions Head names Brown spokesman

Officials at Lions Head, the most successful new adult community in Ocean County, have named WNEW radio personality Ted Brown the community's first advertising spokesman.

Sometimes irreverent and always irrepressible, Brown has a wide following in the New York-New Jersey metropolitan area. His easy-going reputation notwithstanding, he is taking his new position seriously. Before accepting the role, Brown drove out to see the Lions Head community for himself.

"The Lions Head residents are having the time of their lives," he reported, citing the list of private recreational amenities that include tennis, golf, swimming and clubhouse. "There's always something going on."

Of significant interest to today's prospective buyers is an unusually strong mortgage program. Thanks to careful advanced planning, Lions Head, is able to offer buyers 10 1/2 percent 30-year mortgages—a rate at least 3 percent or 4 percent below what's available almost everywhere else. And if you stop to figure out the difference this rate will make over the courses of the mortgage, as com-

Tenants' handbook

A tenants handbook has been compiled and edited by Edward Temkin, a professor of communication science at Kean College, Union. The handbook is a requirement of the New Jersey Housing Finance Agency for all senior citizen housing projects.

A list of churches and synagogues, community and social services is supplemented by a list of important numbers in large print on the back of the handbook.

Rules about such things as air conditioners, use of the balconies and changes within the apartments are followed by directions for care of apartment equipment and security regulations.

Temkin has been a member of the Cranford Senior Citizens Housing Board since its inception and was chairperson of the business management committee of the board, which wrote the procedure manual for the housing complex. He is an active member of the Union County Audio-Visual Education Commission.

Ruling to curb abuses in home improvements

New Jerseyans increasingly have turned to upgrading their homes during the past year, as record-high mortgage rates discourage people from moving and rising energy costs encourage many homeowners to weatherize their homes. Not surprisingly, there has been a corresponding increase in the number of consumer complaints concerning home improvement contractors.

New Jersey citizens will now be protected by the Division of Consumer Affairs' new and stringent regulation that will outlaw deceptive practices in the home improvement field. The regulation, which has been endorsed by the National Remodelers Association, was recently adopted by Attorney General John Degnan and became effective on April 1.

The home improvement regulation REQUIRES contractors to:

Obtain all required state and local building permits before beginning work.

Give you a written copy of all guarantees--his own and any manufacturer's guarantees--for your home improvement work. He must give you copies of his own guarantees at the time he presents his bid and when he completes the job, but is only required to give you one copy of the manufacturer's guarantee. These guarantees must be clear and specific, state any limitations, and specify the time period of the guarantee.

Tell you in advance if his estimate does not include delivery, installation, financing charges, or any other costs or fees. Contractors are required to give you a written contract for all home improvements over $25. The contract must be signed by you and the contractor, and MUST clearly and accurately give you the following information:

The name and address of the contractor and the sales representative, if any.

A description of the work to be done and the major products and materials to be used or installed. The description must be specific and include the names of manufacturers, size of models and quantity of the parts and appliances.

The total price for the home improvement, including all finance charges. If you contract is for labor and materials, the hourly labor rate must be clearly stated.

The dates or time period when the work is to begin and be completed.

A description of any security interest taken in connection with the financing or the sale of the home improvement.

Home improvement contractors CANNOT:

Make any false or misleading statement about the condition of your home (such as misstating that a part is defective or unsafe) or the products and services offered by him.

Engage in a bait-and-switch tactic by offering a certain product or material for sale without intending to sell it, and then inducing you to buy a higher-priced one.

Offer or advertise any gift, free item or bonus without fully disclosing the conditions of the offer. The contractor must comply with the terms of all offers he makes.

Request that you sign a certificate of completion or make your final payment before the home improvement is completed.

Deliver materials, begin work, or use any other tactic to pressure you into signing a home improvement contract.

Fail to complete all work within the time period specified in the contract unless the failure is due to a cause beyond the contractor's control. If a legitimate delay occurs, the contractor must advise you in writing.

The nominating committee consisted of Mae Pakulski, chairperson; Rena Booker, Grace Lubman, Gertrude Frolich and Marjorie Grimm.

The club will hold its annual "dinner honoring all good Democrats" Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Kingston Restaurant, Union. Anyone interested in attending can call Joyce Dillon at 353-5759 or Adair McGlynn at 354-5645 for further details. Tickets are $11 for a full-course dinner.

N.J. vacation guide

Springtime in New Jersey offers outdoor fun and activity, according to John J. Horn, commissioner of Labor and Industry. A vacation kit published by the N.J. Division of Travel and Tourism lists dozens of New Jersey attractions, ideal for family outings, which can be reached by less than a tankful of gas.

Horn called New Jersey's Pine Barrens

one of the most scenic areas of the state. "By April, this region becomes the center for literally every outdoor activity," notes Horn.

The Division of Travel and Tourism 1980 Vacation Guide, detailing New Jersey's six major regions, can be obtained by writing to Tourism, Box 400, Trenton, 08625.

Blood center, college combine programs

The North Jersey Blood Center will become an official teaching affiliate of the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (CMDNJ) under a new joint arrangement announced this week.

Under the arrangement, announced by Dr. Harvey P. Einhorn, president and chief executive officer of the center, students and members of the CMDNJ medical staff will participate in the collection, processing and preparation of blood and its components at the East Orange facility.

The program will be organized under the direction of the center's medical director, Dr. Harry L. Taylor, in consultation with the department of pathology at CMDNJ.

"The blood center becomes an integral part of the college's educational program under this arrangement," said Einhorn. "This will be an ongoing program, organized by the blood center in cooperation with CMDNJ and operated as a teaching arm of the college."

Einhorn noted that the center operates training programs of a short-term nature for physicians at Newark Beth Israel, St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Veteran's Hospital in East Orange and St.

Michael's Medical Center. It also has a training program integrated with several other medical facilities which allows students in medical technology to spend days or weeks working with the blood center.

The center is the largest non-profit community blood bank in the state, and serves 47 hospitals in the north Jersey area.

Cancer unit warns: use care getting tan

"The deep golden tan which thousand of Union County residents will try to achieve this summer may be more harmful than beneficial to the body," according to Dr. Roy Cabrera, the American Cancer Society Union County Unit's vice-president.

Skin cancer, the most common of all cancers when detected early is the most curable. Yet about 400,000 new cases are reported and over 6,000 unnecessary deaths occur annually.

Superficial skin cancers generally show up on the skin in one of two forms: as a pale, waxlike, pearly nodule that may eventually ulcerate and crust or as a red, scaly, sharply outlined patch.

Melanomas, the most serious of the skin cancers, are usually distinguished by a dark brown or black pigmentation which tends to bleed easily from a slight injury. Melanomas, however, are not necessarily sun-related.

Dr. Cabrera, director of radiation therapy at Overlook Hospital in Summit, explains that "in every case of skin cancer, early detection and prompt treatment are important.

A Cancer Society pamphlet, "Sense In The Sun," lists the simple precautions that can be taken in order to get tanned safely or with minimum risk: Avoid or limit direct exposure to the sun between 11 A.M. and 2 P.M.

Use medically-approved creams and sunscreens lotions, such as zinc oxide and lotions that contain para-aminobenzoic acid (PABA).

Wear protective clothing, such as long-sleeved shirts and wide-brimmed hats.

"By following these simple steps, the development of skin cancer could be lessened. Enjoying the summer sun is one thing; broiling in it is quite another," added Dr. Cabrera.

A free "Sense In The Sun" pamphlet or information about skin cancer, is available from the ACS Union County Unit, 512 Westminster Ave., Elizabeth.

HOT TESTING—Western Electric and Bell Labs engineers test Voice Storage System equipment under many conditions including heat—like that behind this plastic shield where the temperature is above 120 degrees, requiring something other than normal business attire. VSS, a digital storage system, lets the Bell System offer such services as advance calling and call answering. They will be introduced in some areas of Philadelphia in July.

Senior Citizens Council to conduct recruitment

May, which has been designated as Older Americans Month, will be marked by recruitment of older workers in Union County through outreach desks to be set up in several communities.

Evelyn Frank, president of the Senior Citizens Council of Union County, reported, "Our employment staff has been reduced to only two, but we will continue to assist senior citizens to obtain employment. The council is most concerned about the effect of today's continued spiraling living cost. Additional income becomes necessary when outgo exceeds income.

"We find that employers realize that senior citizens are reliable workers and some employers keep contacting us on an on-going basis," Frank added.

Registration for employment will be held in the Union Recreation Center on May 27; Roselle Borough Hall, 28, and Plainfield City Hall, 29. The council office at 2165 Morris Ave., Union, is open on all business days for registration or information. Senior citizens from any Union County community can register at any of the locations.

Further information on registration or job orders may be obtained by phoning the council office, 964-7555.
