Municipal voyage for administrator

Mountainside's new borough admimistrator was introduced to the borough's physical plant Monday with a guided tour from Mayor Thomas J. Ricciardi. Donald H. Bagger, who was appointed borough adminstrator at the June 17 council meeting, said he "was impressed with the quality of the community" at the end of the 90-minute car

Bagger is also impressed with the professional quality of borough management and feels confident that council will provide him with necessary guidance. Bagger sees his job as going beyond simply reflecting the wishes of borough council. "Reflecting isn't enough, you have to implement the desires of council and do it in a costefficient manner.'

During the trip around town, Ricciardi pointed out the challenges for a four-square-mile municipality which tries to maintain a 'frural atmosphere on the fringes of the most densely populated metropolitan area in the country." The mayor also made note of the conflicting desires for land use, the high percentage of land within the borough limits which actually belongs to the county and state, and highlighted the borough's perenial problem with rain run-off.

Bagger is a 20-year public administration veteran of the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey. After his retirement from the Port Authority last year, Bagger served as consultant for overall development at

Graduation at Dayton

Tradition prevailed at Springfield's high school commencement exercises last Thursday.

Two-hundred and sixty-four capped and gowned students processed to the front of the outdoor stage to the solomn tune of "Pomp and Circumstance." They sang the national anthem and were awarded their diplomas by Regional Board of Education members David Hart, Margaret Hough, Natalie

Then, as in other years, they threw their mortar boards in the air and congratulated each other. Later, proud parents met them with happy words for their accomplishments.

Valedictorian was Ellen Weinstein and salutatorian was Marcy Levinson. The short ceremony included an invocation from Rabbi Reuben Levine and a benediction by the Rev. Edward

6th grade applies its math

Sixth grade math classes at Deerfield School applied math lessons to everyday life, in a study of energy and infla-

Under the guidance of teacher Lorraine Leber, the students focused on conservation measures in the face of spiraling electricity costs. The electric bills of all students in each class were averaged at two different times during the school year. Homeroom 7-17 had the highest average monthly bill of $134. Romm 6-11 averaged the lowest at $98 per month.

Using charts provided by Public Service Electric and Gas Company, the classes learned the wattage rating, estimated use, and estimated annual cost of various electical appliances. They were suprised to note that a kitchen clock, going continously at a wattage of two would cost $1.23 for one

After a discussion about ways to use energy wisely (shutting off the TV when leaving the room, putting out lights when possible, etc.) the class bills were averaged later, and three of the four homerooms had lower average bills.

Concluding the study, Diane Raynor, consumer advisor for PSE'G, presented a program for the classe entitled, "Save Energy, Save Money."

American Legion, Bunnell win crowns

In softball action last week in the Springfield Recreation Department's Girls' Lower League, the Angels edged the White Sox, 6-5. The winning pitchers for the Angels were Heidi Warner, Leslie Ligorner and Abby Kantrowitz. The Angels defensively had a double play by Lesli Ligorner and Heidi Warner. Toni Ann Priore hit a long double to center

Most of the Angels looked over the pitching and walked. Leah Ashe stole home for the deciding run.

Offensively the White Sox were led by Nicole Green and Michelle Tomie who doubled and singled. Lisa Moninari, Alicia Seifert and Marianna Boffa all singled. The team also executed two double plays. Tina Schenerman and Elizabeth Craco picked up the loss.

The Indians edged the Red Sox, 8-7, with Jodie Klinger picking up the victory on the mound. Dena Calabrese picked up the loss but pitched well with strikeouts in the first three innings. For the Red Sox, Incoronata Quaglietta began with a triple and Kerry Blinder brought her home with a line drive

The Yankees turned back the Royals, 8-5. The Yankees were led by Denise Cameron, Ann Leddy, Dana Wasserman, Dana Shipitofsky and Patty Cameron. Jennifer Fabricant was the

Both teams played well enough to be winners in a game that was close all the way. At the end of regulation play, the score was tied 6-6.

Senator wants to delay bus and rail fare hike

Union, Morris) has petitioned members of the N.J. Transit board of directors to postpone a newly adopted bus and rail fare hike "until all options have been reviewed, particularly an audit of commuter operations.'

Fare increases averaging 11 percent for all Conrail commuter lines and subsidized bus companies were recently proposed by the transit board and approved by Governor Byrne.

Bus riders will start paying higher fares on Sunday and Conrail passengers on Tuesday

DiFrancesco said that the increases were approved before a scheduled audit of Conrail's passenger operations in the state. "It doesn't make sense to hike fares before we know the financial shape of the commuter lines," said DiFrancesco. "The audit may show that the books can be balanced by means other than fare increases."

DiFrancesco also pointed out that

Many flock to re-enactment of the 1780 battle

Even though they knew in advance which side won, thousands of people turned out last weekend to take part in commemorating the 200th anniversary of the Battle of Springfield and Connec-

Thousands of spiritual descendants of the Minutemen lined the curbs on Saturday to watch a two-hour parade with floats and marchers celebrating the anniversary. Members of the Brigade of the Revolution and other modern units modeled after the fighters on both sides of the War for Independence arrived Saturday morning and encamped with their families on Springfield school grounds. They were among the highlights of the parade and then, on Sunday, re-enacted the historic battle.

Springfield authorities estimated that more than 3,500 people watched the parade as it wound through Union, Millburn and Springfield. The last of the more than 70 marching units, floats and antique cars carrying various Meisel Field in Springfield on Sunday dignitaries were still leaving the muster point at Morris Avenue and Spruce Street in Union as the first marchers, having gone all through Millburn, were arriving at the reviewing stand in front of Springfield Town Hall on Mountain Avenue.

Massive traffic jams developed as all main roads into the Springfield area were closed for more than three hours. Traffic and marchers were supervised by Springfield Police Lt. Andrew Calabrese, assisted by all members of the township's police reserve.

No one float was selected as outstanding, but the parade organizers presented awards to those chosen as the three best, sponsored by Springfield VFW Post 7863, the Union Historical Society and the Springfield First Presbyterian Church.

More spectators thronged to Briant Pond, at the Springfield-Summit line, Saturday evening for the lighting of a 20-foot-high beacon, a replica of those used on hilltops two centuries ago to summon the militia—who belied British intelligence reports that Jerseyans would flock to the royalist banners once there was a show of force.

Things like:

Driving at a moderate speed and a steady pace. 35 to 45 miles per hour is the most efficient driving speed (no more than 55 on the highway). Paying closer attention to the traffic flow can help you avoid unnecessary acceleration or sudden braking.

Following easy steps like these really can help reduce your gasoline bills. So keep up the good work!
