Friends, neighbors honor Dr. Hanigan

A group of Mountainsiders gathered at Dasti's Mountainside Inn Sunday to give one of many tributes to a valued public servant and neighbor on the eve of his retirement. During the last few weeks, Dr. Levin B. Hanigan, retired Mountainside superintendent of schools, has been honored by the PTA and Borough Council but Sunday's reception was recognition and thanks from those who benefited most from Dr. Hanigan's 20 years of dedication to quality teaching—the people of Mountainside.

The "Community Reception for Lee Hanigan" was organized by a committee of 20 personal and professional friends of Hanigan's. Fred Wilhelms, former mayor and committee chairman, was the master of ceremonies at the $10-a-person hors d'oeuvres and cocktails reception. Mayor Thomas Ricciardi read and presented Hanigan a copy of a resolution from borough council expressing their "gratitude and appreciation...for his work in education during a period of historic changes."

The resolution applauded Hanigan for dealing "admirably" with the needs of physical expansion, balance between the community's desires and the state's mandates for thorough and efficient education and "the problem of achieving educational expectations in the face of diminishing school populations."

The resolution was made in the name of fellow citizens, thousands of parents and thousands of students "whose lives began with a first rate education" in the Mountainside kindergarten through eighth grade school system.

A leading educator, Dr. Hanigan has been a teacher, administrator and author during his 41 years in the field. He holds a B.S. in secondary education (mathematics and science) from Westchester State College, and master's in elementary education from the University of Pittsburgh. He received his Ph.D. in school administration from the University of Pennsylvania in 1950, and did additional course work in reading at George Washington University.

At Sunday's reception, Board of Education president, Dr. Arthur Williams, presented Hanigan with a set of golf clubs as a token of the board's appreciation. Hanigan also received a golf cart, presented by former board president William Biunno. The cart was a present from those attending the reception. Hanigan was then presented with a booklet of congratulatory letters, including a commendation from the Secretary of Education.

Hanigan noted at the reception that he had served with 43 different board members and 11 different board presidents. Hanigan commended current and past board members, saying, "Not once in 20 years was I leaned on," to give special recommendation to anyone. Mountainside students scoring consistently in the 90th percentile on basic skills tests testified to the effectiveness of the working relationship Hanigan had with the board. Hanigan likes to point out that only four of the teaching staff he leaves behind were on the faculty prior to his tenure.

When asked for comments on 20 years of experience with the Mountainside school system, Hanigan said, "This is a fine community not only to work in but also to live in and raise children." Hanigan feels that being a resident with his own children enrolled in the school system gave him a "double incentive" to achieve quality education. Hanigan also says the goal of quality was made easier to attain by the high level of involvement from the PTA. He was especially pleased with the present PTA's "outstanding efforts in rallying community support for the school budget."

Although Hanigan is a proponent of teaching basic skills he has not been opposed to innovative techniques. When a technique was considered, Hanigan introduced it on a trial basis in one class and if proved effective it was gradually adopted for the entire system. This how Mountainside schools have gone beyond basic skills education without rejecting them. Hanigan points with pride to special programs for the talented and gifted.

Before coming to Mountainside, Dr. Hanigan served in various administrative positions in Arlington Va., including elementary principal, director of reading and elementary education, and language arts supervisor.

He began his career as a public school teacher in Pennsylvania, teaching at various times in grades one through 12. A high school math-science teacher, he also was head coach for football, baseball and basketball.

Hanigan's own children span the educational gambit. Son Jay is enrolled at Trenton State College; daughter Patty is an honor student at the University of Delaware where she is majoring in International Communications; son Keith is a recent graduate of Johnathan Dayton Regional High School, and daughter Leigh Ann is entering sixth grade at Deerfield School. Dr. Hanigan's wife is also an educator and specializes in children with learning disabilities at Governor Livingston High School.

Board rejects bids, adopts drug policy

By FRANCIS X. MURPHY
The Union County Regional Board of Education could approve neither wheels nor water Tuesday, as it rejected or declined to act on transportation bids and bids for plumbing installation.

The board also sought assurances for the expeditious removal of stockpiled topsoil at David Brearley High School; tabled proposed evaluation procedures for chief administrator, and set disciplinary procedures for the use and sale of illegal drugs by students.

The board adopted a policy that suspends pupils for 10 days for a first offense, when caught with drugs in school. A second offense for possession or a first offense for selling drugs would warrant a hearing by the board. The board is empowered to permanently expel offenders after a hearing. In addition to administrative action, all incidents will be reported to the police.

The annex building at David Brearley, which houses the adult learning center, continues to be a structure without plumbing. L. F. Fredericks presented the board with three proposals, ranging from $36,000 to $63,000, for the installation of rest room facilities. The board unanimously voted to rebid the project. Board member Virginia R. Muskus commented, "You could build a whole house, let alone a bathroom," for that amount of money.

The board also directed Fredericks to investigate and determine why there was such a large discrepancy between all bids and the budgeted recommendation of $18,500. Regarding the difference between board engineer's estimated cost and actual bid prices, board member Natalie R. Waldt said, "Something's screwy."

Fredericks also presented the board with a plan to remove stockpiled topsoil from David Brearley to the Springfield site where it will eventually be used. Board member David M. Hart questioned the wisdom of such a move at this time, since the soil would be temporarily stored on an athletic field in Springfield. Hart said it would be inefficient to move the soil until it was needed in Springfield because temporary storage would result in double moving costs.

Fredericks replied that the contractor handling field projects assured him that a double move could be avoided. The contractor says the major cost of moving soil comes from loading and transporting in trucks. Fredericks said he was told the soil could be stored in Springfield so the move from temporary storage could be done with a bulldozer.

Board President Charles E. Vitale instructed Fredericks to get a written proposal from the contractor and to clear the plan for temporary storage with county authorities.

The board awarded, on Frederick's recommendation, a bid for smoke detector installation at David Brearley to E. P. Reid Co. Reid, who installed smoke detectors at Governor Livingston High School a year ago, submitted a bid for $5,630 ($70 less than the budgeted amount).

After a day-long evaluation of bids for 1980-81 to-and-from school bus transportation, the board secretary, Harold Burdge, and Transportation Committee Chairman Stephen A. Marcinak found all bids unacceptable. The board, on Burdge's and Marcinak's recommendation, moved to rebid to-and-from-school transportation for the upcoming school year. Marcinak also had the board defer awarding contracts for to-and-from athletic event transportation.

Although three bus companies bid on to-and-from athletic event transportation, only Kent Bus Co. submitted a bid on Jonathan Dayton School, and Vogel Bus Co. was the lone bidder for Governor Livingston School. Both Vogel and Brunner Bus Co. bid on Arthur L. Johnson School busing, and Kent and Vogel bid on David Brearley.

Board member William J. Keyes wanted to know why Jonathan Dayton and Governor Livingston had received only one bid each. Keyes also inquired why certain bus companies had not bid at all. Marcinak replied the bids did not "personally satisfy" him. The matter was tabled and Burdge assured the board he would investigate Keyes' inquiries.

A group of five special education requests were approved after some discussion about the special program for the auditorily impaired at Governor Livingston. Keyes was concerned that there was insufficient oversight on the placement of out-of-district students in the program for handicapped students.

Dr. Frank Kenny, director of Public Personnel Services, responded to Keyes' concern about overloading, saying, "We are attentive to the situation...but do not anticipate problems."

Keyes asked Kenny if there was an adopted ratio for a manageable percentage of handicapped students that Governor Livingston could handle. Kenny said that such "arbitrary cutoffs are meaningless" and that each case had to be judged individually. Keyes accepted Dr. Kenny's expert opinion, saying he was satisfied that needs of both handicapped and non-handicapped students were being attended to.

Board attorney Frank J. Skok introduced a four-page evaluation questionnaire to be adopted as policy for evaluating a "tenured" chief school administrator. Hart objected to adopting such a policy since it required the creation of second policy for "untenured" chief school administrator. Hart noted that evaluation of "tenured" and "untenured" chief administrators is mandated by the same state statute, and that one policy could serve both purposes. Skok conceded that one statute covered both cases. However, within the one statute there are stipulated different procedures for each case. Skok advised the board that it is best to parallel the "statutory authority" when adopting policy.

The board declined to move on the matter of evaluation policies and Skok agreed to present the board with an acceptable policy to cover both "tenured" and "untenured" chief administrators at the Aug. 5 meeting.

Cleanup set for Reservation

A large-scale scrubbing of the Watchung Reservation in Springfield and Mountainside by local groups and individuals is scheduled for Saturday, according to Joyce McDonough, administrative programs manager for the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation.

"It is the first time we have tried a massive cleanup" of "areas of the park maintenance trucks can't get to," areas off main roads, she said.

The crews will be cleaning up litter in the 2,200-acre reservation and making notes of bigger items such as stoves and refrigerators for the trucks to pick-up later, she said.

The first areas to be cleaned are the Lookout Tower area, the Deserted-Village area, Seeleys Pond and the Pine Forest area, near Skytop Drive. Most of those areas contain remnants of campfires and beer cans from teenage parties, she said.

Refreshments will be supplied and each crew member will receive a card allowing him or her to use a recreational area of the reservation free, McDonough said.

Some of the groups participating are the Union County Hiking Club, the Watchung Junior Hunt Club, the Watchung Bowmen's Club and the Union Model Airplane Club, as well as private residents.

Those wishing to join the cleanup should meet at the Trailside Nature and Science Center at 9 a.m.

Glass-in to be held at Dayton Saturday

Glass-ins are scheduled Saturday and Aug. 2 by the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Key Club from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the high school parking lot.

Newspapers should be tied in bundles and glass should be sorted by color with metal caps and rings removed.

Dayton graduates map plans for college, armed forces, job

With 84 percent of 1980 Jonathan Dayton graduates continuing their education next year, the 1980 recession has had little effect on future plans.

Sixty-five percent of 1980 Jonathan Dayton graduates will attend college or other secondary schools next fall, 13 percent will take jobs and six percent will enlist in the armed forces, according to a recent survey.

The high number of students continuing their education has "stayed within that range for the past several years," said Charlotte Singer, director of the high school guidance department.

Popular college choices for Springfield students include George Washington University, University of Delaware, Bucknell University and University of Pennsylvania, according to information from the Scholastic Aptitude Testing Service.

"Pennsylvania colleges that are not a great distance are popular choices," said Singer.

In-state schools such as Union and Kean colleges, Seton Hall University, Rutgers University, Fairleigh Dickinson University, Drew University and Monclair, Trenton and Glassboro state colleges also are popular choices. Students are keeping their career choices open as "college reps tell them to keep an open mind" about their future, said guidance counselor Marie Giannone.

Math and computer sciences are becoming more popular as course choices in Jonathan Dayton and as possible career choices, said Giannone.

Clerical, automotive, landscaping and construction are common vocational choices for those not pursuing higher education, Giannone said.

Jobless rate grows 3rd straight month

Nonfarm payroll employment in New Jersey declined in May for the third consecutive month to a seasonally adjusted level of 3,039,000, state Labor and Industry Commissioner John J. Horn reported.

Although the number of nonfarm wage and salary workers was 16,100 above the May 1979 level, jobholding has declined by 41,500 since February of this year when employment had reached an all-time high of 3,080,500, Horn said.

A general weakening in manufacturing and in certain nonmanufacturing industries was not offset by gains in government, trade and service employment, according to Horn.

In the manufacturing sector, employment declined in May by 13,000, on a seasonally adjusted basis to total 783,400, the lowest level since March 1978. The most substantial factory decreases were in automobile and apparel manufacturing.

Layoffs of one week at the Ford plant in Edison and for an indefinite period at the General Motors plant in Linden affected the auto industry, while lack of contracts caused hiring total short of seasonal expectations in women's and children's outerwear industry.

Government nonfarm employment rose with the addition of 4,000 persons to aid in processing the 1980 Census. These workers were actually hired in late April after the employment survey was taken, Horn said. A total of 9,000 have been hired in New Jersey for Census-taking.

Better than expected seasonal rises also were recorded in restaurants and in service-related businesses, such as hotels and amusements.

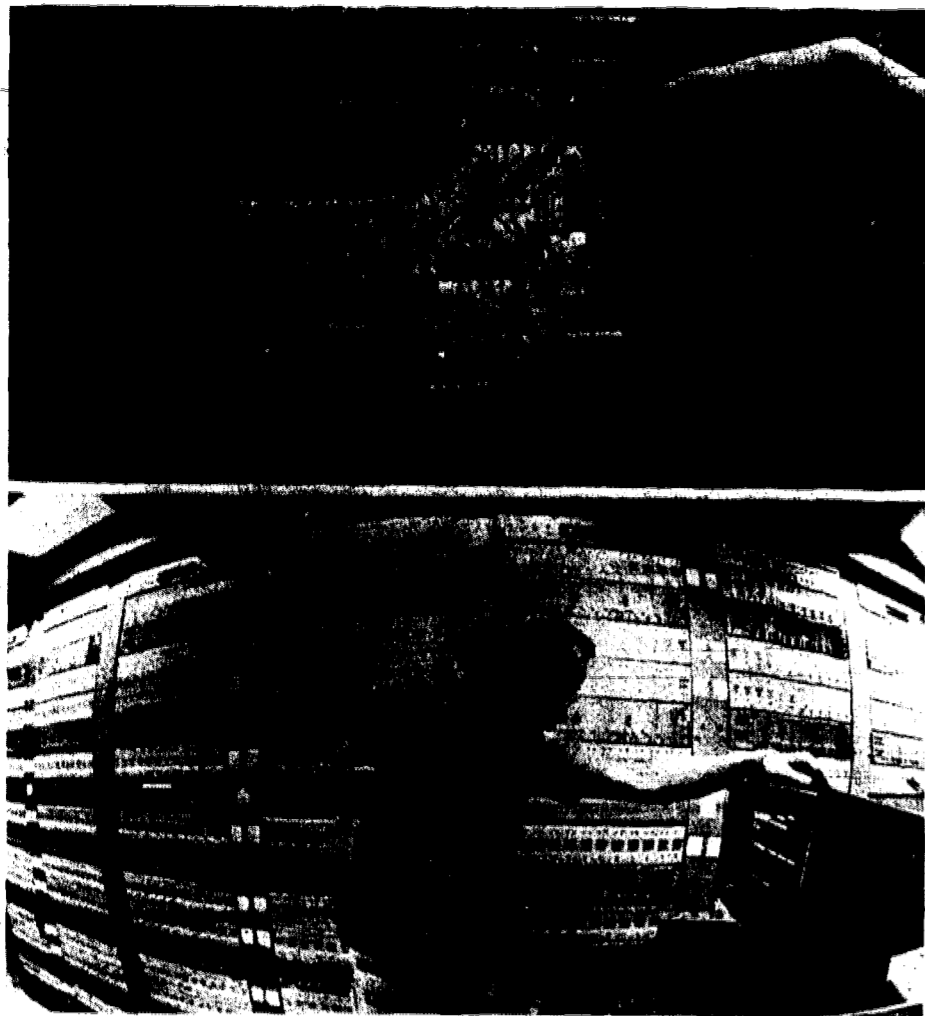

Construction employment, after seasonal adjustments, declined by 2,100 during the month. This was the fourth consecutive monthly drop for this industry with the May total of 103,800, down 8,600 below the May 1979 figure.

The special trades sector continued to exhibit weakness. In addition, there was a strike in the highway and bridge construction segment, which affected 700 workers.

Transportation services showed a loss of 1,000 jobs on a seasonally adjusted basis from April to May. The trucking segment accounted for most of the decrease in the transportation group.

The weekly earnings of manufacturing production workers averaged $292.84 in May, a decrease of 31 cents from April, but an increase of $19.11 from May 1979.

After seasonal adjustments, the average weekly hours edged downward to 40.9 hours in May from 41.1 hours in April and 41.6 in May 1979. This marked the fourth consecutive decline in weekly hours, according to the state agency.

VA pensioners get an increase

More than 300,000 veterans and their survivors received larger Veterans Administration pension checks this month—the result of a 14.3 percent increase in the government's cost of living index.

Some 2.4 million VA pensioners are affected in some way by the cost of living index.

Pensions are paid to veterans totally and permanently disabled from circumstances unrelated to their military service and to survivors of veterans who are in need. Unlike compensation paid to those disabled because of military service, pensions are affected by income from other sources.

The 300,000 who got increases this month are those who have switched to the "improved" VA pension plan inaugurated by Congress in 1979. The plan links VA pension rates to adjustments in Social Security payments. Before the change, an individual's pension was subject to reduction each time Social Security increased. Those pensioners who chose to stay under the pension rules in effect before 1979 will not receive the July 1 increase. They will, however, avoid the reduction in pension that the Social Security increase would have triggered before the legislation went into effect. For these pensioners, the 14.3 percent Social Security increase triggered a similar increase in the maximum amount of income they could receive from other sources and still remain eligible for VA pension.

Pensions for veterans and survivors under the "old plan" remain fixed and payable at the rates in effect in 1978. Those rates are protected against reduction that would otherwise result from cost of living increases in their income from other sources.

"Old plan" recipients may request transfer to the "improved" plan at any time, VA officials point out. The agency will carefully review each application to advise applicants to choose the plan which works to their personal advantage.

With the increase, a veteran with one dependent and no other income will receive $5,844. For each additional dependent, $755 is added per year.

Museum lists Indian exhibition

Most of the Delaware Indians who once lived in New Jersey moved westward almost 200 years ago; but a few elected to remain here, and some of their descendants still live in the state today.

In the intervening years, they have been joined by descendants of numerous other native American groups who have chosen New Jersey as a place to live and work.

Clothing, ceremonial objects, games and other examples of their craftwork are being shown in "New Jersey Indians Today" at the New Jersey State Museum through Aug. 31.

An illustrated lecture about the exhibition and its background is presented at the Museum at 2 p.m. each Monday during July.

The State Museum, a division of the New Jersey Department of Education, is open free from 9 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 1 to 5 p.m. weekends. It will be closed July 4.

Deadlock broken

Blue Stars top Cubs in playoffs

The Blue Stars finally broke their season-long deadlock with the Cubs in an extra-inning 6-5 thriller in Mountain-side Major League post-season play.

Pitchers Todd Richter, for the Blue Stars, and Matthew Miller, for the Cubs, pitched their maximum allowable innings. The Blue Stars scored the winning run when Duane Connell walked, reached third on a Shane Connell single and crossed the plate on a Robbie O'Neil RBI. Dave Kadesh and Peter Kozubal also delivered clutch hits for the Blue Stars. Billy Bryant with four hits, Drew Dunlap with three hits and Matt Miller and Frank Anronacci each with two hits were outstanding Cubs.

The Colts blew out the season leading Broncos 8-1 to take the Pony League championship playoffs. Colts pitcher Andy Rosenthal went the distance in his second start of the season and got a decisive edge from the bats of Jim Dascoli and Brett Walsh. Bob Sefack pitched well for the Broncos, but was plagued by errors. Alex Caiola provided the hitting strength for the Broncos.

In semi-final play, the Colts pushed across two last inning runs to top the Mavericks, 5-4. The Colts were led by Walsh with three hits, Chris Federico with two hits and the strong defensive play of Rosenthal and Gerry Pares. The Mavericks came close on the offensive efforts of Jim Thorlakson, Jeff Alholm, Ed Mayer and Bill Maresca. Mayer sparkled on the field with two unassisted double plays.

The Mavericks reached the semifinals by scoring three times in one frame to come from behind in extra innings and defeat the Mustangs, 4-3. Mustang pitcher Tommy Perrotta left the game after he pitched his maximum allowable innings. Jeff Alholm and David Gagliano shared the pitching duties for the Mavericks. Mike Nicholson, who drove in the winning run, was joined by Thorlakson and Alholm as the power hitters for the Mavericks. Ricky Brahm and Stu Jurzak paced the Mustangs.

In the American League final, the Reds scored all their runs in the first inning and held the Yankees scoreless behind the pitching of Jamie Downey for a 5-0 victory. Mark Costello and Dale Torborg had key hits in the early Red uprising. Lenny Campagna hurled scoreless relief for the Yankees and Ian Sharkey was outstanding in the field.

The Yankees topped the Cardinals, 7-5, to reach the finals. Yankee hitting was sparked by Tom Kelly's two home runs and Keith Hagey's double. Mike Sabatino pitched well for the Cardinals while Graham Connolly and Gray Murray provided power at the plate.

In an opening round playoff game the Cardinals topped the Brewers, 7-6. Gray Murray had five RBIs, and Jim Barrett singled in the game winning run. Catcher Eric Rauchenberger provided two key defensive plays. Brandon Rusche and Jeff Debbie both homered for the Brewers while Jason Schneider was the defensive star of the game.

In the other opening round game the Yankees spotted the Angels a quick lead but went on to win, 9-4. Mike Servello was effective in relief, Chris La Fon came up with a home run-saving catch and George Serio, Dwight Dachnowicz and Pat Attenasio were the hitting stars for the Yankees. The Angels were paced by Brian Carson, Augie Von Der Linden and Richard Ventura.

Little Leaguers split in first two contests

The Mountainside Little League All Stars combined fine fielding with the determined pitching of Todd Richter to commence post-season activity and defeat Maplewood 4-2. Maplewood opened up with eight hits in the first three innings but a shoe string catch by center fielder Shane Connell, and the airtight infield of Mike Wood, Matthew Miller, Duane Connell and Steve Burton held Maplewood to two runs. Miller eventually broke the ice for the Mountaineers by beating out an infield single, stealing second and third, and scoring on a passed ball. Wood doubled and Greg Torborg scored on a Brian Dailey RBI to put Mountainside ahead. Richter settled down and pitched a complete game to take the win.

The Mountaineers traveled to Springfield for its road opener and came away empty handed 3-0. Robbie O'Neil and Mark Walters pitched well enough to win but the Springfield infield converted three line drives into double plays, each time with the tying run at the plate. Myles Carter, Shane Connell and Walters dominated the offense for the Mountaineers. Kevin Everly and Chris Ventura both inspired the Mountain-side defense with sparkling catches.

The Mountainside seniors inaugural season opened to good news as John Baumgartner went the distance and struck out ten for a two-hit victory over Scotch Plains. Greg Egnatuk and Mike Baumgartner each tripled to pace Mountainside in the 7-2 win. Tim Black made a sensational catch of a line drive down the third base line to shut down a Scotch Plains rally.

Senior League pitcher, Frank Gagliano, registered a 12 strike out victory as the Mountaineers shutout Plainfield, 4-0. Plainfield hurler, John Geary, was hit for home runs by John Baumgartner and Peter Ard.

The Seniors visited Clark for their final game of the week and came away a 7-3 winner. A balanced attack led by Egnatuk and Black allowed hurler John Horbel to coast the distance.

The seniors, comprised of 16 to 18 year olds, are competing in the Union County Babe Ruth league with Frank Gagliano Sr. as manager, assisted by George Crane and Bill Adler.

The Pony League named Alex Caiola, Chris Carpency, Jim Dascoli, Matt Dooley, Chris Federico, Dave Gagliano, Ricky Julian, Ed Mayer, Gerry Pares, Tom Perotta, Andy Rosenthal, Brett Walsh, Vinnie Mannion, Mike Tomko and Jeff Alholm, to the All-Star team.

EDWARD REILLY of Mountainside has been elected president of the Port Service Club of the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey. The club is an organization of Port Authority employees who have been employed for 25 years or longer. Reilly is a senior management analyst in the management services department. He joined the authority in 1948 as a messenger.

Parkway sets target date for improvements

Garden State Parkway construction, covering a 12-mile stretch between Morris Avenue, Union, and the N.J. Turnpike entrance in Woodbridge, will be completed by Sept. 15, according to Randy Linthurst, public information officer for the state Department of Transportation (DOT).

Linthurst said that an additional lane will be added in both directions, a new surface will be applied and the installation of chain length fencing and new signs will be accomplished within the next three months.

"About 80 percent of the project is already completed," Linthurst said.

The Parkway project is being funded under a $25.5 million highway improvement bill signed by Gov. Brendan Byrne in March of 1977, intended to improve highway safety and reduce gas consumption and air pollution. Federal funds are providing 70 percent of the costs of the project and the other 30 percent is funded by the N.J. Transit Authority.

Yonkers Construction Co. of Yonkers, N.Y., is working on the 3.4-mile section from Morris Avenue, Union, south to Cranford, which has been allotted $12.8 million. The remaining $12.7 million is going to the eight-mile project from the Centennial Avenue intersection in Cranford to the Turnpike in Woodbridge, under construction by S.J. Groves Co. of Woodbridge.

Kickers take 2nd place in regional soccer play

The Mountainside Kickers placed second in their level of the Mid-New Jersey Youth Soccer Association competition June 22 at St. Joseph's High School in Metuchen. In the final round, they beat the Somerset Stars, 6-2, and were then edged out by the Westfield Rangers, 2-1.

Goals for the team were credited to James Woods, three; Colin Coogan, two, and Mark Armbruster and Alex Sansiviero, one apiece.

The Kickers, aged 7 to 9, are coached by Matt Welch. They train at Fareher's Grove in Union. The team placed third in division play with a record of 6-2-1. Scoring in regular season action were Alex Sansiviero, 14; Mark Armbruster, 13; Colin Coogan, 12; James Woods, 10; Eric Schobel, four; Marc Viscuso, four, and Eric Kusziner, two. Others on the team are Jayson Brown, Scott Coogan, Fritz Muhlbauer, Ernest Parsch, Toni Welch and John Sellitto.

The boys took second place in the Elizabeth indoor soccer League with a record of 13-3-1.

7 score high in math tests

Seven students at Dayton Regional High School scored exceptionally well in a regional mathematics day competition held this spring.

The students voluntarily took examinations in various levels of achievement in mathematics.

In level 2, first place went to Bernie Spang, with David Gold, Bruce Lefkowitz and Jon Silverman all ranked second.

In level 3, Joseph Cohen was first, Leon Liem was second, and Marc Parmet was third.

Quartet named to dean's list

Four Mountainside residents have been named to the dean's list at Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., for the second semester.

Residents who have achieved at least a 3.45 semester grade average out of a possible 4.0 are: Barbara Giaimo, Summit Lane; Gail Brandstatter, Grouse Lane; Nancy Keller, Wood Valley Road and Patricia Winkler, Ridge Drive.

2 from board join seminars

Arthur Attenasio and Linda Schneider of the Mountainside Board of Education attended a recent orientation course for new school board members at the National Conference Center in East Windsor. During the three-day session, sponsored by the New Jersey School Boards Association, new board members were introduced to state educational issues and the school board's functions in the educational process.

A non-profit, state-mandated organization, the NJSBA is a federation of more than 600 local school boards. It serves as advocate for the interests of New Jersey's public school districts and students, and provides training and assistance for the state's 5,000 board of education members.

Winners are listed in Echo Lake golf

The Echo Lake Country Club's Odd Back Even Front Tournament for the Ladies Wednesday Golf Group ended in a three-way tie on June 25. Mrs. Thomas Coniglio, Mrs. V. M. DeLisi and Mrs. William McCann shared top honors for Class A golfers with a net score 13. Class A putting honors also split three ways; Mrs. Harold Haddock, Mrs. Ray L. Pruett and Mrs. H. M. Rabassa had a low of six puts each.

In Class B competition, Mrs. W. G. A. Connell took first place with a net 12; Mrs. G. I. Perier was second with a 13, and Mrs. R. J. Bauer was low putter with six. In Class C, Mrs. B. F. Cake and Mrs. Robert A. Ruggiero tied for first with a score of 14, and Mrs. Ralph Russo low putted with a six.

Library offers stories, films for youngsters

Mrs. Candace Bowers, acting children's librarian, will begin Summer Story Hour July 7. The program is open to children three and a half to five years old and meets Monday from 10:30 to 11:00 a.m. in the meeting room of the Mountainside Public Library. Story hour features stories, songs, filmstrips and games. Children must be registered by a parent at the library.

The Vacation Reading Club is in full swing and registration is still open to those wanting to discover the fun of summer reading.

Wednesday, July 9 from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. will be the first activities program for children entering grades one through six. Each week different crafts, stories and activities, such as making shadow puppets and corn husk people, will be featured. These programs will be held each Wednesday through Aug. 20.

Movies suitable for children entering grades one and up are also included in the summer schedule. "The Glitterball," a science fiction film, will be shown on July 22, "Robin Hood" on July 29, and "Rabbit Hill" on August 12. All movies will be shown from 10 a.m. followed by a family showing at 7:15 p.m.

Richard awarded degree cum laude

Gary Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richard, Mountainside, has received a bachelor of science degree cum laude from Wilkes College, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Richard was also honored as the outstanding accounting graduate. Richard will be employed by Ernst and Whinney, a New York City accounting firm.

Correction

A photo of Richard C. Alston was incorrectly identified in last week's paper as the Rev. Clarence Alston, pastor of Antioch Baptist Church in Springfield. We sincerely regret the error.

IT'S VACATION TIME

DRIVE WITH CARE

Highways jammed with people in a hurry to get to fun and relaxation can spell disaster ... during the holiday week-end or any week-end. Remember the responsibility you have behind the wheel of a car. Drive slowly ... keep your eyes on the road ... stop when you become tired ... be considerate of other drivers and go cautiously in residential and children's play areas. Extra traffic demands extra care and caution. Drive safely ... as if your life depended on it!

Mountainside Woman's Club donates funds

Mrs. Eileen Walsh, ways and means chairman of the Mountainside Women's Club, has announced that "in excess of $1,400 has been distributed to various charities and scholarships," the result of fund raisers held during her term.

Scholarships were awarded to local high school girls in the amount of $800, it was reported. Money was donated locally to the Jonathan Dayton Regional Band, the Jonathan Dayton Regional Chorale, the Mountainside Rescue Squad, the Mountainside Free Library and the "Christmas Tree Fund." The fund helps to decorate the evergreen on the corner of Rt. 22 and New Providence Road each holiday season.

Donations also were given to the Sub-Junior Club, the Girls' Citizenship Institute, the Developmental Center for Autism, the New Jersey Eye Institute and all the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs charities.

Members of the club also have made afghans, bibs and slipper socks for Runnells Hospital, Berkeley Heights.

MRS. EDWARD ROWAN

Marriage held of couple from Mountainside

Anna Pauline Elisabeth Snorr Sorensen, daughter of Mrs. Scott R. Schmedel and step-daughter of Mr. Schmedel of Mountainside, was married Saturday, June 14, to Edward Allan Rowan, son of Mrs. Violet M. Rowan of Mountainside, and the late Mr. Graham V. Rowan.

The Rev. E. A. Talcott Jr., pastor of the Community Presbyterian Church, Mountainside, officiated at the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Richardson Jr. of Livingston, where a reception followed.

Mrs. Rowan was graduated from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield.

Her husband, who also was graduated from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, is employed by Stop and Shop Companies, Inc., South Plainfield.

The newlyweds reside in Cliffwood Beach.

DANIEL SCHLAGER

Scholarships are presented

Temple Sha'arey Shalom, Springfield, recently presented its annual educational scholarships awards to three young members of the congregation. They are Daniel Schlager of Nowood Road, Cara Novich of Meisel Avenue and Peter Herzliner of Christy Lane, all Springfield.

The scholarships are based on leadership qualities, scholastic achievements and community service. Additionally, the awards are to be used to further some aspect of the Jewish education of the recipients. The three recipients will spend part of their summer in Israel.

Bible School begins Monday in church

Evangel Baptist Church, 242 Shunpike Rd., Springfield, will hold its annual Vacation Bible School Monday through Sunday, July 13, 9:15 a.m. to 11:40 a.m. All children going into kindergarten through eighth grade are invited to attend.

There will be Bible stories, songs, games, crafts and contests.

Chaplain to inaugurate summer church series

Chaplain William E. Foreman, a Presbyterian minister and lieutenant colonel in the United States Army based at Fort Monmouth, will inaugurate the summer services of worship Sunday in the First Presbyterian Church of Springfield.

In an effort to bring "new voices" to the pulpit of the historic church, a group of clergymen has been invited to conduct the summer services which will be held "in the air-conditioned sanctuary" each Sunday during July and August.

In selecting Chaplain Foreman to open the series, Dr. Bruce W. Evans, the church's pastor, has said, "We feel the message of an army chaplain is most appropriate for the Sunday nearest the Fourth of July and especially coming hard on the heels of the community's observance of the 200th anniversary of the Battle of Springfield which Chaplain James Caldwell played such a conspicuous part."

Chaplain Foreman is a veteran of 18 years of service to the regular army and served in Vietnam, Korea and Okinawa in addition to posts in the United States. He is a graduate of Lafayette College and Princeton Seminary and is the recipient of three meritorious service medals, two army commendation medals and the Bronze Star awarded by the Republic of Vietnam.

The chaplain is chairman of the Religious Education Advisory Board composed of Army, Navy and Air Force representatives responsible for the religious curriculum of the nations and services. He and his family reside in Garwood.

The community has been invited to participate in the summer services.

PRESIDENT POLK EXHAUSTED SELF

President James Polk once said, "I prefer to supervise the whole operation of the government myself rather than entrust the public business to subordinates, and this makes my duties very great."

A compulsive worker with no sense of humor, he was so worn out after his four-year term that he died three months after leaving office in 1849.

The national preoccupation with conserving energy, and, at the same time, saving money has become of primary importance to office building managers as well as consumers and homeowners. Before property managers can begin to develop energy-saving programs, however, they must learn how to measure energy consumption. According to one certified property manager (CPM), this is a simple task.

"To obtain and maintain an efficient operation, the manager must be familiar with the building systems, understand energy terms and learn how to distinguish a building with a good energy posture from a building with a bad energy posture," said Robert E. Jones, CPM, assistant engineering manager in the Real Estate Division of the Hartford Insurance Group, Hartford, Conn. Jones is concerned that these important first steps in developing energy-saving practices are not being taken.

"The property manager does not have to be an engineer to determine how much energy a building is consuming," Jones insists. The key lies in a series of simple mathematical formulae dealing with the types of energy used (oil, electricity, natural gas, or any combination), and the location and size of the building in question.

At the heart of Jones' measurement system is the building's "boundary energy"—the total amount of energy entering a building.

"To determine a building's boundary energy," Jones explains, "each type of energy entering the building must be measured in British thermal units (BTUs)."

The amounts of each type of energy entering the building can be found on the monthly utility bills. Their BTU equivalents can be determined using a conversion table.

Finding the boundary energy, however, is not enough.

"To determine a building's energy efficiency, it is necessary to compare its energy consumption with that of other similar-type buildings," explains Jones. "To determine this requires considering the geographical location and size of the building."

Through his own experiences, Jones has found that five problems are the most common causes of energy inefficiency:

To find how a building severe weather the engineer should be consulted. A comparison of a building's present use factors to its load factor and its present use and load factors will reveal if the building's operating hours or tenant loads are causing high energy consumption. Jones defines the use factor as the "relationship between the number of hours a building is open and the total number of hours available in a given period of time." He defines the load factor as "the relationship between kilowatt hours used and kilowatts the building's chief mechanic.

"If this does not produce results," he suggests, "then a mechanical most likely operating efficiently and there is probably little opportunity to improve the building's efficiency," Jones maintains. He also states that any large difference between a building's present use and load factors and its previous use and load factors should alert property managers to any extended operation of building equipment or tenant use of the building. Jones' remarks appear in the May-June issue of the Journal of Property Management, in an article entitled, "Measuring Energy Consumption to Improve Conservation." To receive a free copy of the Journal's annual energy issue, write to IREM at 430 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill., 60611.

FREDERICK O. ARNDT of Edison Terrace, Union, recently marked his third decade of service with Central Jersey Power and Light Co. He is a line construction and maintenance chief in the utility's Summit line department. He is married to the former Joan Smith of Union.

The board of directors at Midlantic Banks, Inc., last week declared a quarterly dividend of 59 cents per share on its common stock and 50 cents on preferred stock. The dividends are payable July 15.

'Oz' is set for stage

The Metropolitan Musical Theater, Summit, will present "The Wizard of Oz" for its 1980 summer production Aug. 14, 15 and 16 at Summit High School. Ira Kushin, producer, will revive the stage version of the 1939 movie, which had been adapted from a musical play staged in 1902 based on the book, "The Wonderful Wizard of Oz," by L. Frank Baum. The theater will follow the original stage version. The theater will have three new staff members. They are Thomas Lanno, the director, Ed Shiley, vocal music director at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, who will serve as music director and set designer, and Eric Harvitt of Mountaintide, technical director at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, who will serve in the same capacity. He is a student at the University of Hartford in Connecticut. Susan Dougherty will once again serve as choreographer and John Hutson, lighting designer, Debbie Coleman will be associate producer. Additional information may be obtained by calling Kushin at 273-4874 or the Y at 273-3330. The theater is sponsored by the Summit Area YMCA.

Concerts in Park

"Concerts in the Park," an annual tradition at the Clinton Historical Museum Village, opened its 1980 season June 21 at 8 p.m. with Morgan Creek. Concerts are held on the museum grounds in back of the Red Mill where a 150-foot limestone cliff forms a natural amphitheater.

Tex Logan and the West Texas Grass and Electric Co. will perform Saturday. Bluegrass and country music will be featured.

Graham Stewart and his Gas House Gang will appear with a Dixieland concert July 19, and on July 26, the Delaware Valley Jazz Band will perform. "A Little Night Music" of Mozart and Bach will be played Aug. 2 when the Soclair Festival Ensemble returns for a second performance.

How to Change a Flat Tire, an Irish folk group, will perform on Aug. 9, The Fifth Street Symphony, bluegrass, Aug. 16; and Bob Smith's Lamplighters, a nostalgic big band, Aug. 23. Additional information may be obtained by calling 735-4101 in Clinton.

TV focuses on church

"New Jersey Catholic," a weekly program focusing on the Archdiocese of Newark and the activities of the Church, will be cablecast Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. by way of Suburban's local Channel 3. This week, host Monica Maske talks to Pat Scully of Berakah, a Single Catholics organization, and Kate Henderson, religious education director of St. Michael's Roman Church, Union. "New Jersey Catholic" will have repeat cablecasts on Thursday, July 10, at 5 p.m., and Friday, July 11, at 7 p.m. by way of Suburban's TV-3.

'KRAMER VS. KRAMER'—Justin Henry and Meryl Streep play son and mother, respectively, in film drama, which also stars Dustin Hoffman. Both Miss Streep and Hoffman won the Oscar for the movie, which also won an Academy Award as Best Picture. It opens tomorrow at the Linden Twin Two Theater.

Disc & Data

By MILT HAMMER

Pick of the LPs: "Run For Your Life" by Tarney Spencer Band (A and M Records SP-4757).

The fuse was lit with the release of the Tarney Spencer Band's first album in 1978, "Three's A Crowd." Critics described it as "one of the year's top debuts," "...a Boston tinged crossfire of pop and rock," and "...big on hooks, melodic in a Fleetwood Mac vein." Now with this, their second LP album, the band is ready to explode.

Alan Tarney and Trevor Spencer have been polishing their powderkeg of talent since they met in Australia in the late 1960s. A move to England and bands that came to nothing led to studio work and songwriting. They played, produced or wrote for Cliff Richard, The New Seekers, The Drifters, Olivia Newton-John and Bonnie Tyler. By 1976, the Down-under duo decided it was time to leave the enhancing of other artists' work behind and concentrate on developing their own careers again. A contract with A and M soon followed along with the interest of ace in-house producer David Kershbaum (Cat Stevens, Joan Baez and Joe Jackson).

They cut "Three's A Crowd" with the help of musicians from the Climax Blues Band but decided for their current project to rely completely on their own musical resources. Spencer plays the drums while Tarney handles all the guitars, bass, keyboards and vocals. The result is an album on which the songs are realized in unusually sharp focus. Their intent was to present this the strongest material they had ever written with maximum assertiveness and impact.

"Run For Your Life" is not a concept album, but rather might be considered a cycle of songs exploring the intricacies of contemporary relationships. From the urgency of "No Time to Lose" to the sensitivity of "A Heart Will Break Tonight," Tarney-Spencer have circumnavigated their chosen subject matter with a freshness and insightfulness rarely heard. Even their choice to cover the Knickerbocker's 1965 hit, "Lies," has a resonance that echoes everyone's adolescence.

'BRONCO BILLY', starring Clint Eastwood in the title role, opens tomorrow at the Elmora Theater, Elizabeth, on a double bill with another Eastwood picture, "Every Which Way But Loose."

Neil's marks its 6th year

With the production of "No, No Nanette," J. Gordon Bell Productions and Neil's New Yorker celebrate the sixth anniversary of Neil's New Yorker Dinner Theater in Mountain Lakes.

On July 11, 1974, the first performance of the musical "The Fantasticks" was presented on a temporary stage in Neil's Crystal Room. There have since been 36 consecutive productions on the permanent stage of the theater.

'Apple Tree' due July 31

The musical production, "The Apple Tree," will be staged by the Company Summer Repertory Theater of South Plainfield July 31, Aug. 1, 2, 6, 7, 8 and 9 at the Wesley Methodist Church, Plainfield Avenue.

The Company also has announced that its opening musical production will be "The Me Nobody Knows" July 10, 11, 12, 16, 17, 18 and 19. Additional information may be obtained by calling the box office at 757-9578 between 2 and 10 p.m. weekdays and noon to 10 p.m. weekends.

Museum concerts

The Newark Museum's summer series of noonhour jazz, pop and rock music concerts opened June 19.

The weekly concerts take place in the museum's sculpture garden beginning at 12:30 each Thursday through Aug. 28. There will be no admission charge, and visitors will be permitted to bring bag lunches into the garden.

Ted Marlowe and the Roaring '20s Band will perform today; Billy Ford and His Thunderbirds, July 10; The Landolfi Brass Quintet, July 17; the Vinnie Burke Quintet, July 24, and The Aquarius Funk Machine, July 31.

Concerts for August include Larry Todd and The Essex Brass Ensemble, Aug. 14, and Paul Colletti and Band, Aug. 28. The museum, located at 49 Washington St., Newark, is open daily from noon to 5 p.m. Additional information may be obtained by calling 733-6600.

FANTASY DANCE—Members of the 'Can't Stop the Music' dance troupe are photographed with reflected images in film which continues for another week the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montclair.

Fund venture is proposed

McCarter Theater, Princeton, has announced that it is offering organizations an opportunity to raise funds by selling subscriptions to the 1980-1981 drama series on a 20 percent commission. The theater will provide materials and a speaker with a slide presentation for a group meeting.

The season will include Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew," playing in repertory with "Moby Dick Rehearsed" by Orson Welles.

Additional information may be obtained by calling (609) 921-8370 between noon and 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, or by writing to Subscription Office, McCarter Theater, 91 University Pl., Princeton, N. J. 08540.

Ballet classes for 5 weeks

Summer ballet classes sponsored by the New Jersey Dance Theater Guild are being held for five weeks. They began Tuesday at the Guild Dance Center, 1057 Pierpont St., Rahway. The classes, which are open to all New Jersey ballet students and teachers, are being held today, Tuesday, Wednesday,

Festival matinees

In response to requests from senior citizens and others who do not like to go out at night, the professional New Jersey Shakespeare Festival, Drew University, Madison, has instituted a new matinee series for the first time this season. One matinee of each of the festival's six productions will be performed at 2 p.m. Wednesdays as a preview to the press opening with tickets offered at low preview rates.

The Wednesday matinee performances will be held this Wednesday with Shakespeare's "The Comedy of Errors;" Aug. 6, Ben Jonson's "Volpone;" Sept. 24, Harold Pinter's "The Caretaker;" Oct. 22, Jean Anouilh's "Waltz of the Toreadors;" and Nov. 19, Jules Feiffer's "Knock Knock."

The festival is under the direction of Paul Barry. Its season will run through Dec. 28 and include 12 Monday Night Special guest attractions, July 14 through Sept. 29, and "A Christmas Carol" by Charles Dickens, Dec. 16 to 28. Additional information may be obtained by calling 377-4487.

Mortgage available to Northfield buyers

For families seeking the home of their dreams, yet stymied by rising mortgage costs, the community of Northfield in Haledon may be the answer.

According to Al Friedman, vice president of Berg Agency, the exclusive sales agency for the deluxe colonial-style homes, 11 percent mortgages are available to qualified buyers. "We can help a buyer execute a 40-year mortgage which will significantly decrease his or her monthly payments," he said.

The homes are priced from $108,000 but, Friedman said, a new model soon will be offered by the builder at $99,000.

The generously-sized, four-bedroom homes are nestled in the natural wooded beauty of one of the finest sections of Passaic County. In addition to rural charm, the section is convenient to all community facilities and services. It is near shopping, public and parochial schools and houses of worship and is well situated for commuters. Sewers, curbs and sidewalks already are in.

Northfield offers a choice among four impressive homes; a fifth will be unveiled shortly. Every detail reflects the imaginative planning which leads to the utmost in luxury, convenience and comfort.

The Saratoga, for example, features a covered porch and picturesque bay window which gives the living room a very special charm. Beyond this spacious living room is a formal dining room.

Alongside the dining room is a conveniently-organized kitchen, an adjoining dinette, powder room, laundry room and, finally, a family room which rivals the living room in size, with sliding glass doors leading to the back yard. An optional fireplace is available for the family room.

The Concord is equally charming and will delight any traditionalist. It is "center hall" in design with a large living room to the left and a spacious dining room to the right of the covered entry way and inner foyer. Like The Saratoga, The Concord has a large family room with optional fireplace, a American Stock Exchange chen, a powder room and a laundry room—all on the first floor.

Both models feature large two-car garages and generous closet space. Both have two baths upstairs and four bedrooms. Each masterbedroom has its private bath. According to Friedman, model homes are open for inspection daily from 2 to 5 p.m., by appointment. On weekends they are open from noon to 5 p.m. Further information is available at the Berg Agency's Clifton office, Crooks and Trenton Avenues, 546-1900.

The Berg Agency is New Jersey's largest residential real estate company with 22 offices throughout the state.

It is part of Berg Enterprises Inc., the nation's second largest real estate and mortgage banking company. It has 120 offices nationwide and is publicly owned and listed on the American Stock Exchange.

Woodlake opens a new model

Potential homebuyers are finding what they are looking for at Woodlake Heights. The premium quality construction and energy-efficient features combine to make the Adams attractive. This newly-constructed home in the single-family home community in Middletown, is the latest model introduced by its developers, Williamsburg Associates.

This new model has been constructed to appeal to potential homebuyers at an affordable price of just $117,000. "Although many couples were anxious to purchase homes at Woodlake Heights, they were unable to qualify because of the high interest rates," said Domenic Martelli, president of Shrewsbury-based Williamsburg Associates. "So what we did was offer a slightly smaller home at a more affordable price."

What makes the Adam unusual is the combination of traditional-styling and quality construction. In spite of rising costs, this home features such standards as four-bedrooms, spacious living, dining room and family areas, two-car attached garage, U-shaped kitchen, full basement, center foyer, wall-to-wall carpeting and no-care aluminum siding. The energy-saving home has thickly-insulated ceilings, walls and floors, plus natural gas heat.

Also standard are six paneled stained-grade wood interior doors on the main level, stained grade mouldings and wood double-hung windows. In addition, the Adam sits on a lushly-landscaped 1/2-acre plot.

Ideally located in one of the most exclusive residential areas in the state, residents can benefit from a wide range of recreational activities. Its educational system includes seven elementary schools, three junior highs and two high schools. Monmouth and Brookdale College also are close by.

Major malls and local neighborhoods make shopping convenient; commuters find travelling easy with Middletown and Red Bank train stations minutes away. The Garden State Parkway is close by and commuters are able to travel to metropolitan Newark, New York and Philadelphia.

"We hope Woodlake Heights will now be within every homebuyer's purchasing power," says Martelli, "and mortgage financing is still available on all of the models for qualified potential homebuyers."

To reach Woodlake Heights, take the Garden State Parkway to Exit 114. Head east on Red Hill Road to Dwight Road, which becomes Nut Swamp Road. Continue on Nut Swamp to Michael Drive. The models will be on your right.

Summer programs at Newark Museum

Summer Garden programs at the Newark Museum this month will include children's theatre performances, jazz and chamber music concerts, 50 cents (children under 7 and craft are not admitted). Artists and craftsmen from the Museum's Arts Workshop demonstrate their skills Wednesdays at 12:30 p.m., from July 9 through 30. Garden visitors can learn about ceramics, hand-formed paper, screen-printing and clay sculpture. Also presented Wednesday at 1:30 are science programs conducted by the museum's Science Department. "Newark Building Stones" will be identified by Dr. Alice Blount in a downtown walking tour July 9; electricity demonstrations will be given July 16, Aug. 20 and 27, and a discussion of "Volcanoes" is set July 30. The "New Jersey Seashore" will be discussed by zoology curator Kenneth Gosner July 30 and beginning July 11. Films slated for Fridays in August have been chosen from "The Originals: Women In Art" series. A brochure describing all summer programs at the Newark Museum is available by calling 733-6600.

explosing galaxies Mondays and Wednesdays at 12:15 through Aug. 27. Planetarium admission is free. Children's theatre is offered Mondays at 1:30 p.m.; next week's show will be presented by magician Phillip Jennings.

A potpourri of musical performances and lectures will be offered at 12:30 p.m. Tuesdays. A performance by the Montclair Chamber Music Society is scheduled July 15, the New Jersey Shakespeare Festival Madrigal singers July 29 and "Behind the Scenes at the Planetarium" Aug. 5. On July 22 and Aug. 19, talks on energy conservation are scheduled. The Planetarium's summer program, "Cosmic Mysteries," explores quasars, black holes and exploding galaxies Mondays and Wednesdays at 12:15 through Aug. 27. Planetarium admission is free. Children's theatre is offered Mondays at 1:30 p.m.; next week's show will be presented by magician Phillip Jennings.
