Rescue squad drill proves them ready

Smoke poured from the wreck of twisted metal as the drivers inside lay injured and helpless, trapped by their crushed cars. The call went out for all members of the Mountainside Volunteer Rescue squad, Fire Department and the State Police. Rescue helicopter to come to the scene of the three-car accident in Deerfield School's parking lot.

Within minutes, the surprise drill by training officer Lou Janeira and squad Capt. Ron Romack succeeded in removing the "victims" from the "wrecks" and transporting them to the burn center at St. Barnabus Hospital, Livingston. The teamwork and competency of the different groups working together to save a life was evidenced in a highly organized procedure of rescue techniques.

While the rescue squad has regular once-a-month training drills, this one was special. Not only was it a surprise to all members, but the use of a state police helicopter was made available to the squad for the first time. In less than four minutes, the helicopter transported "burn victim" Hope Walton from Deerfield school to the burn center at St. Barnabus, where minutes could mean life or death.

"None of our members are notified until the time of the drill," explained Janeira, who will be planning and coordinating the drills for the squad this year. "Each month we drill a different aspect of rescue technique—such as cardio-pulmonary resuscitation, respiratory and other emergency techniques. Last month it was emergency childbirth."

This month's surprise drill enlisted the help of the "jaws of life" from the fire department to extricate the trapped victims from their wrecks. After the device, which resembles a high-powered pair of pliers, forced the metal apart, the doors of the car were ripped off and the victims were carefully wrapped in a blanket and removed to the waiting helicopter.

"The only difference from this and a real emergency is that I would have called the paramedics," said Janeira.

Capt. Romack felt the drill went "very well" and explained its purpose. "Our areas of weakness are readily identified, as well as our areas of strength. It's beneficial in co-ordinating a working relationship with the fire department and other state agencies."

"We've had combined drills before," said squad member Gary Miller, "but nothing this massive."

The helicopter's swinging blades created a gust of wind as the chopper landed on the ballfield of Deerfield school. Curious spectators crowded behind the lines as the first victim was removed from the chopper.

Pilot Joseph Carlet, with 11 years flying experience, is one of 13 pilots who make up the State Police's Helicopter Patrol Bureau. Carlet said the helicopter system, which operates out of Holmdel, covers the whole state. He usually flies between North Jersey and Philadelphia, making hospital to hospital emergency lifts, transporting government executives and patrols for narcotics surveillance in the state.

That the Volunteer Rescue Squad said they felt their performance was sharp should be reassuring to any Mountainside area resident. But the squad needs more than skill and teamwork to do its job. It needs volunteers to help in its necessary service to this area. Information on supporting the squad is available from squad headquarters at 232-9778.

Mayor Koch, Hughes to be at Dems' event

Mayor Edward Koch of New York and Richard Hughes, former governor and chief justice of New Jersey, will be principal guests at the Union County Democratic Party's annual fall dinner in the Town and Campus restaurant, Morris Avenue, Union, at 6:45 p.m. Monday.

Four veteran Democrats with a total of 100 years of service to the party will be honored at the dinner. They are Bertha Fagen of Elizabeth, Thomas Kaczmarek of Clark, Everett Lattimore of Plainfield and Patrick O'Donnell of Rahway.

Dennis Eatis, county chairman, said that Koch "will be making one of his few campaign appearances outside the State of New York in appreciation of the efforts of his good friend, Tom Dunn, mayor of Elizabeth, on behalf of the entire Democratic ticket in Union County."

Hughes will be the principal speaker.

A two-term governor of the state in the 1960s, he recently retired after serving more than seven years as the chief justice of the New Jersey Supreme Court.

Fagen is fifth vice chairperson of the Union County Democratic Committee and first vice chairperson of the Elizabeth Democratic Committee.

Kaczmarek and Lattimore are both former members of the Union County Board of Freeholders. Kaczmarek also is a former mayor of Clark and now head of the state's Violent Crimes Compensation Board. Lattimore, who served as freeholder director, is assistant superintendent of Plainfield schools.

O'Donnell is a former chairman of the Rahway Democratic Committee. He resigned recently for health reasons.

Tickets for the dinner are available from Union County Democratic headquarters in Elizabeth, 289-8400.

Cost of school vandalism about $5,800 since April

By PATRICIA GEOGHEGAN

On the night of Aug. 11, more than $3,000 worth of windows were smashed by vandals using a steel grating ripped from its concrete base. The time was sometime between sundown and the next morning. The place was Deerfield School.

At the primary Beechwood School, floodlight bulbs are put in and taken out just before and just after any nighttime school function because of the high rate—two to three times a month—that they would be found smashed in the parking lot the next day.

The incidence of vandalism against Mountainside's school property has been increasing on a spiral during the past months. An estimated total of $5,800 since April has been spent to repair damages resulting from the attacks.

"Apparently, they are a few kids who have nothing to do," said Board of Education member Bart Barre. "The Deerfield School is a natural gathering place. The board has always tried to make the facilities available to them," he said, "but this is just pure malicious damage."

Officials blame a small group of youths from the borough who have been through the school system. Several members of both the police department and the school system agreed that there is no motive for youths to travel into Mountainside just to vandalize the buildings.

"I feel that this is not done by our present students," said Allan Shapiro, principal of Deerfield. "These acts just can't be done physically by our students." He cited a July 29 incident when all the bike racks were overturned. The racks weigh more than 100 pounds.

Sgt. Edward Rice of the Mountainside police explained why he believes the vandalism is being committed by local youths. "Why would someone come from outside to destroy property?" he asked. "If we had breaking and entering into the school for theft, that could be a motive. But nothing has been taken."

"There's no pattern, no logic," said board member John McDonough. "It's just thoughtless vandalism, the thrill of having nothing to do."

"Who knows what a kid thinks?" asked Dan Fiadio, maintenance supervisor at Deerfield.

"They broke a 24-foot crossbar right off the post on the soccer field," he said, commenting on the latest incident. "But mostly it's just windows and lights they break." He said the school replaces broken windows with Lexan, a strong plastic designed to deter glass smashing. "They couldn't break them, so they just pushed them out."

Fiadio pointed out that vandalism costs both time and money. He cited a July 7 incident in which vandals climbed to the roof and broke three skylights. From there, they entered the school and tore down ceiling tiles.

"We had just put that new ceiling in, and they tore it down," he said. "It took a whole day to put it back up—it's harder the second time. You have to tear out all the old damaged material before you can start building."

"You have no chance to keep up with it," said McDonough, commenting on the morning-after discoveries of destruction.

Deerfield is not the only school to experience vandalism. Even the primary school of Beechwood, set in a residential section, is not free of it. "Fifteen full-size windows were smashed, at a cost of $1,500 worth of glass," said John Johnson, principal. He said the incidents were isolated and usually occur at holiday times.

"There's a danger to the kids—you can't leave them exposed to broken glass at the entrance of the school," he said.

Johnson agreed with the consensus that the acts were not committed by students. In one incident, several slabs of granite, weighing approximately 40 pounds each, were moved from their original place.

"We try to provide the kids with the things they need," said Barre. "It's kind of disappointing. The $5,800 could be spent on things for the kids."

The school's two portable classrooms, which could be needed if the combination of the two schools which the board is now considering becomes a reality, have been attacked several times and are in disrepair as a result. A ripped meter box and broken air conditioner are among items which would have to be fixed.

"The board of education has tried everything they know," said Barre. "We need community support."

Shapiro agreed with Barre's plea for support. "We will be depending on the police, neighbors and community for cooperation. It's very important. This problem is getting progressively more severe and more frequent," he said. "Right now it's the schools—but next week it could be a home."

Dr. Arthur Williams, board president, is forming a committee to deal with the increasing problem of vandalism against school property. This committee is open to any Mountainside resident. Those wishing to serve should call Board Secretary John McDonough at 232-9406 between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

AFTER THE FACT—Lying on the ground are the remains of an air conditioner used in one of the portable classrooms at Deerfield school, after vandals destroyed the machine over the summer.

Proposed changes in bus routes would help county commuters

By SHARI BROWN

Area commuters should enjoy increased bus service and one-bus rides into Bloomfield and Linden, if route changes being proposed for Trackless Transit lines by New Jersey Transit go into effect.

Among bus lines which would be affected are the numbers 5, 94, 8 and 28, according to James Hughes, project manager for NJ Transit, the state agency which eventually is scheduled to take over operation of all mass transit in New Jersey.

The complete NJ Transit proposal includes 40 routes in Newark, Elizabeth and surrounding areas and is intended to coordinate a cross-county route from Newark into existing lines, Hughes said.

The 94 now starts at Brick Church in East Orange and comes down South Orange and Sanford Avenues into Irvington; it continues along Stuyvesant Avenue and Chestnut Street through Union into Roselle Park and Roselle, ending at Chestnut and St. George in Roselle.

The number 5 is a rush hour bus which runs only from 6:20 to 9:50 in the mornings and 1:50 to 5:25 in the afternoons. Starting at Irvington Center, it goes along Springfield and Stuyvesant Avenues into Union and then travels up Stanley Terrace and along Burnet and Morris Avenues to Route 22, turning around at the Rickel's Shopping Center.

The number 8 runs along Morris Avenue from Springfield to Elizabeth and the number 28 goes from Union College in Cranford down Springfield Avenue, Kenilworth Boulevard, Faitoute Avenue and Westfield Avenue to Broad Street in Elizabeth and Bayway, Clarkson Avenue, Arnett Street and Summer Avenue, all in Elizabeth.

According to Sanford Weiss, president of Trackless Transit, which operates the 94 and 5 buses, the 94 route will be extended from Roselle to the Linden railroad station, traveling along St. George and Wood Avenues to the station. However, buses will run the full distance only every other trip; on the alternate trips, it will continue to end its run at Chestnut Street and St. George Avenue.

According to Weiss, the schedule for the number 5 will not be substantially altered. The bus will run its old route on the trip from Irvington into Union; on the return trip, the route will be changed to come through Union Center, with the bus traveling along Morris to Stuyvesant and then up Stuyvesant to Irvington—However, Weiss said, since no left turn is allowed at the Center, it has not yet been decided where the bus will make the turn.

Hughes said that, if the proposals go into effect, commuters will be able to ride to Bloomfield and Linden without changing buses.

Transport of New Jersey, which operates the 8 and 28 and which is being taken over by NJ Transit, reported that the number 8 line will be extended at the western end to go through Summit to the Short Hills Mall.

At the eastern end, it will be extended along Pearl Street, Rahway Avenue, Broad Street and Westfield Avenue in Elizabeth, coming back into Union via Magie Avenue and Green Lane past Kean College before turning back up Morris.

The 28 will continue starting at Union College only after 8 a.m. and before 5:30 p.m. weekdays. At other times, it will begin at North 20th Street and Monroe Avenue in Kenilworth.

Other proposed route changes for the 28 are in Elizabeth, where alternate buses will take alternate routes to Brunswick Avenue and Amboy Avenue.

Public hearings were held in Bloomfield and at the Department of Transportation in Newark last week to allow commuters to respond to the proposal. Hughes said the hearings, phone calls and letters from citizens will determine any changes in the proposed plans. If no major changes are necessary, the proposal should become effective sometime in January.

Group is opposing creation of new post

The Borough Council of Mountainside met Tuesday night with representatives from the Union County Police Chiefs Association to discuss the ordinance that would replace the position of chief with a non-tenured director in the police department.

The ordinance, introduced at last week's council meeting, is scheduled for a final vote Oct. 21. The position became vacant when Chief Edward Mullin retired for health reasons in May. A director would be under renewable contract as administrator, would not be uniformed, carry a gun or be allowed to issue gun permits.

The differing views between the council and police representatives concern the civilian status of the director.

"The difference is that the chief takes an oath of allegiance and the director doesn't," explained Fanwood Chief of Police Anthony Parenti, president of the chiefs association. "To us, that makes a big difference."

Parenti said the motivation for advancement would not exist if a director were appointed and not promoted from within the ranks. He also said members of the department would not be able to relate to someone who was not a policeman.

Mountainside Mayor Thomas Ricciardi said the council feels the title is unimportant, and the main question is one of tenure. If the council felt the director's performance was not satisfactory, the council could, in effect, "try again," the mayor said.

Candidates' debate to be on cablevision

It will be a first for Mountainside when Candidates Night at Borough Hall Oct. 7 at 7:30 p.m. will be televised on cable Channel 3, according to Billie Jean Tulchin, president of the Mountainside American Association of University Women, who will be sponsoring the event.

Writer Shirley J. Horner of Mountainside is producing the televised program, which can be viewed on the community channel of Suburban Cablevision of East Orange, now available by subscription to borough residents.

The program will be aired Sunday, Oct. 12, at 1:30 p.m.; Wednesday, Oct. 22 at 8 p.m., and shortly before the Nov. 4 election on a day to be announced.

Running this fall are Republicans Timothy Benford and Lou Mass, and Democrats Frances Ehman and Stu Lutz.

The moderator will be Margaret Walker of the Westfield League of Women Voters.

PTA THANKED

It was my pleasure last week to be the guest of honor at a community coffee sponsored by the Mountainside PTA in order for me to meet and talk with interested residents. I enjoyed meeting those who attended and I look forward to getting to know others in the district during the year. I would like to take this opportunity to express publicly my appreciation to the PTA for another instance of their involvement in community service.

This seems an appropriate time to congratulate the PTA on the state-level recognition recently accorded their organization. Projects initiated, implemented, or supported by the PTA appeared frequently in the commendations given our district as part of our district progress report from the state Department of Education.

We are understandably proud of the "approved" classification granted our school district by the state. The many commendations we received as part of this evaluation process spell out specific features of our schools in which we can take pride.

What many residents may not realize is the PTA's level of participation in the many special areas which make our school system unique in what it offers for children. The library-media program, a PTA resource file, after-school activities, assembly presentations, enrichment opportunities, the gifted and talented program, career awareness day, advisory councils, games, sports and disco nights, and the "H.M.S. Pinafore" presentation—all are progress the PTA originated or supported with their gifts of time, talent and finance.

In close cooperation with the Board of Education, the administration, and the staff, the willing workers of the PTA have helped make our schools our strongest community asset. On behalf of the schoolchildren of Mountainside, I would like to express deep gratitude to them.

Westfield Y offering variety of programs

From parent-child relationships to Broadway matinees, the Westfield YWCA offers a variety of programs for Mountainside area residents in its fall lineup.

Other successful returns from last year are the open duplicate bridge games which are offered at a variety of levels.

A low-pressure game will be held on Wednesday mornings under the direction of Hilda Sandbeck, and an open game on Thursdays at 7:45 p.m. will be led by Hans Enard. An open bridge game at noon will include coffee and dessert in the fee.

Norman Dickheiser will conduct a Monday morning contract bridge class for experienced duplicate and rubber players which will include improving at intermediate level, plastic evaluation, cue bidding, and generalities of percents among others.

Popular response has caused the Y to add a matinee trip in its scheduled trip to Broadway for the acclaimed "Mornings at Seven" on Wednesday Dec. 17.

Other trips on the agenda include a tour of Mystic Seaport on Saturday and a nostalgic visit to Wheaton Village next Thursday. Bear Mountain and Storm King Art Center will be visited by the Y on Oct. 22, and Browsing in East Reading will be done on Oct. 30. A lunch and show titled "George Washington Slept Here" will be presented Nov. 6 at The Watchung View Inn.

Information about the registration for any of the YWCA programs or for reservations for the various trips may be obtained by contacting the Westfield YWCA at 220 Clark St., 233-2833.

Self-improvement courses set

Health and handwriting, dance and self-control are just a sampling of self-improvement disciplines offered by the Westfield Adult Education courses at the Westfield YM-YWHA beginning Oct. 6.

A morning class of dance aerobics will teach the rhythmic dance-exercise concept of cardio-vascular physical fitness on Monday and Wednesday for 20 sessions from 10 until 11 a.m. Baby-sitting services will be available for a fee of $1.

The ancient Chinese health exercise of "Tia Chi," which promotes physical and mental health via relaxation through slow, fluid movement, will be taught on Tuesdays by Angela Scoucy, the director of the Tai Chi Wu Center. The class will meet at 9:30 a.m. in a one-hour class for eight weeks.

Self-control and self-knowledge will be examined in a four-week workshop on the psychology of self-actualization. It will offer opportunities to improve communication skills, get in touch with one's personal value system and learn how to control one's own life.

The workshop is scheduled for two separate sessions, one on Tuesdays from 12:45 until 2:45 p.m. and one on Wednesdays from 7:45 until 9:45 p.m.

The art of beautiful handwriting will be taught by Fredda Shapiro on Thursdays at 1:30. The one-hour class will demonstrate how to print individualized stationery, invitations and announcements.

Further information on fees and registration is available from 232-5514.

Library offers 2 travelogues

Castles and beer fests will be featured in a variety of international travelogues to be presented by the Mountainside Public Library.

"Vienna" will give a glimpse of the Schonbrunn and Hofburg castles, the musical tradition of Vienna, the Spanish Riding School, and the city's famed beer gardens.

"Belfast Reel" is a documentary shot in Northern Ireland. It examines the different ways that the diverse and often opposed groups in Belfast socialize and relax.

The program is offered free of charge and will be shown Tuesday, Oct. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the Emma Weber Meeting Room.

Reagan friends to canvass area

Many Union County residents have signed up to canvass their neighborhoods for Ronald Reagan Oct. 4, according to Karen Lewis, who said she was very pleased with the response.

"We have found many Reagan supporters in Union County who are willing to get out and work for Ronald Reagan and other possible candidates," she said.

Anyone who would like to join the canvassing effort may get additional information by calling 233-9672.

Borough police seek traffic guards

Hill City square dancers readying for 30th year

The Hill City Squares will swing their "partners" and dosey-do for their 30th year as Summit's foremost dance club starts its 1980 season at Jefferson School, 110 Ashwood Avenue, Summit. This year's new presidents are Stan and Sue Bronson, of Bridle Path, Mountainside.

Manny Amor of Lakewood will return for his 13th year as caller for the group's meetings on the first and third Tuesdays of the month from 8 to 10:30 p.m.

The Hill City group dances at the M-plus-2 level, meaning all participants should be familiar with the basic 75 dance moves included in the "mainstream group." For those who are interested in learning the basics of square dancing, a course will be offered by Hill City in conjunction with the Summit Area Community School. Classes will be held in the cafeteria of the Summit Junior High School, corner of Summit and Morris Avenues, from 8 to 10 p.m. Thursdays beginning Oct. 2.

All registrants will be assured of partners for the duration of the course through the fall and spring, as Hill City will provide "angels" to fill in and assist those having difficulties, but more single men are urged to join.

Graduate dancers can visit clubs all over the country, including about 30 in northern New Jersey. For further information, call Oscar and Laverne Olson, Hill City vice presidents at 647-3038, or the school at 273-1141.

Heart health course offered

Overlook Hospital, Summit, will sponsor a "Cardiac Defender" course beginning Wednesday at the Summit Area community school. The four-hour session will begin at 7 p.m. and will be repeated every Wednesday to meet demand.

Designed for the general public, this program teaches participants how to reduce the risk factors causing heart attacks, how to recognize symptoms of a heart attack as soon as they occur, and what actions to take until emergency medical help arrives.

The life-sustaining skill of cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) is detailed in a slide presentation. It is followed by a closely supervised practice session in which life-like resuscitation mannequins are used.

Persons more than 14 years old can register for the course by calling 273-1141.

Medical course is accredited

The Family Practice Residency Program at Overlook Hospital, Summit, has received full, four-year accreditation from the Liaison Committee on Graduate Education, Dr. William Minogue, director of medical education, has announced.

There are 20 resident physicians in the program, and they staff the Overlook Family Practice Associates in Summit and Chatham.

Tea is planned by opera unit

The Union County Chapter of the Friends of the New Jersey Opera will hold a tea at 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 5, at 80 Shady Lane, Fanwood.

Guest of honor at the tea, which is open to the public, will be Alfredo Silipigni, general director of the New Jersey Opera. Entertainment will be presented and refreshments will be served.

Anyone interested in attending has been asked to call 964-9439 or 232-7693.

Mazza, Papa, Novy get Reagan campaign jobs

Three area coordinators have been named to assist the Ronald Reagan presidential campaign, it was announced by Assemblyman Chuck Hardwick, Union County campaign manager, and Alphonso Pisano, GOP county chairman and regional director for the campaign.

Frank Mazza was named Union Township coordinator with Frank Papa serving in Roselle and Anita Novy in Roselle Park. Hardwick said the county campaign will be directed by a steering committee comprised of Freeholder

Blanche Banasiak, County Registrar Dick Hetfield, Union Township Municipal Chairman Earl Henwood and former State Senator Frank McDermott.

Hardwick, who predicted a Reagan victory in a close election, praised the municipal coordinators for accepting "key positions in the county campaign. The drive will require a broad base of community support and I urge the citizens of Union Township, Roselle and Roselle Park to contact their local coordinators and get involved in the campaign."

A financial aid workshop, for high school and college students and their parents, will be held Tuesday, Oct. 14, from 7 to 9 p.m. at Union College.

The workshop, for those who think they can't afford a college education, will be held in the Seminar Room of the MacKay Library on the Cranford campus.

Financial aid officers will help students fill out application forms and provide information on types of financial aid available at Union College and other colleges and universities.

Additional workshops will be held Nov. 11 and Dec. 9; the workshops are free even for those who do not plan to attend Union College.

Democrats call for locator system

The Democratic candidates for Union County Board of Freeholders have called for "effective development of an accelerated locator program to deal with men who desert their spouses and children."

The call was issued by Joan Allen of Cranford and Herman Schreiber and Dexter Martin, both of Elizabeth.

Allen explained that this can be done by checking income tax and employment records and then ordering the delinquent spouse to make payments.

In Ocean County, the program has resulted in an estimated one-third reduction in welfare costs to deserted spouses, Schreiber said. "I believe that an effective development of such a program in Union County... would also meet with results," he said.

is needed, Martin added. Failure of the state to adopt a Uniform Reciprocal Act has "effectively eliminated out-of-state efforts to gain jurisdiction over state fathers," he said.

Personal finance topic of classes

"Personal Finance" planning to analysis of income and expenses and construction of a budget. The afternoon session will be addressed to a study of capital needs and how to create an estate. An attorney will discuss wills, trusts and other legal instruments related to personal finance. Tuition is $20 and information on registration and upcoming seminars can be obtained by calling the college at 276-2600, ext. 206 or 238.

Nutrition seminar set

Union College's Office of Health Services will conduct a series of nutrition seminars designed to show people how to cook low-calorie, low-cost meals beginning next Thursday at the Cranford campus. The series of three seminars will be conducted from 12:15 to 1:30 p.m. on Oct. 2, 9 and 16. The speaker at the sessions will be Lynne MacGregor of Clark, who will discuss nutritional cooking and give demonstrations on how to cook in the healthiest way. Participants are encouraged to bring in recipes so the class can work on "de-colorizing" them. Mrs. MacGregor, who teaches nutrition courses in her home and conducts lectures for organizations, holds a bachelor of arts degree from Jersey City State College and is certified as a dietetic assistant. She is currently studying to become a dietitian at night at both Union College and Middlesex County College. For further information on the seminars, which are free of charge, call Patricia Deck, director of Health Services at the college, 276-2600, ext. 201.

UC resumes classes with new pact OKd

Classes have resumed at Union College as the result of an agreement reached by the Cranford school and the college's chapter of the American Association of Union Professors.

Classes had been suspended from Sept. 2 to 19 by a strike of faculty members after the two parties failed to reach an accord on a contract which expired Aug. 31.

The two-year contract, which must be ratified by the chapter and the college's board of trustees, provides for a salary increase of 7 percent plus $298 in the first year, an 8 1/2 percent increase in September 1981 and a 1 percent salary increase in January 1982, along with improvements in the dental plan. The college also agreed to reduce by one the maximum class size.

Dr. Saul Orkin, college president, said a revised academic calendar, to give all students two full semesters in the college year, will be announced in the future.

Credit courses offered through the Senior Citizens Studies Center will begin next week with 20 courses scheduled in Cranford, Hillside, Linden, Mountainside, Springfield, Plainfield and Westfield.

Anderson unit to present play

The Union County headquarters of the John Anderson campaign will sponsor a fund-raising performance at the New Jersey Public Theater, 118 South Ave., East, Cranford, at 8:30 p.m. Oct. 9.

The play to be presented is "Phantom of the Opera," adapted for the stage by Richard Dominick, New Jersey Public Theater artistic director, from the novel by Gaston Leroux.

Tickets, available for an $8 contribution to Anderson's National Unity Campaign, are available from county headquarters at 2183 Morris Ave., Union, 686-1262.

4-Season resort area opens at Sussex site

Mountain Shadows Lake, the Garden State's newest recreation resort has just opened as a family vacation retreat in northwest Sussex County's Stillwater Township.

Bordering the historic Appalachian Trail, Mountain Shadows Lake is offering numerous recreational facilities and amenities with their unique campsite lease-ownership package.

Priced from $5,900, the vacationing family can select a site to suit their camping style—wilderness, woodland, meadow, lakeview or lakefront—with many sites already completed with water, sewage and electric installed.

Under the marketing direction of G & G Management Company, Sussex, Mountain Shadows Lake will definitely offer the outdoor oriented family a truly affordable place to spend weekends, weeks and years-on-end of superb vacations.

A brief explanation of the project's objective was given by Bill Galasso, marketing director, who said, "Mountain Shadows Lake is really an adventure in great recreational living, and we're trying to offer the entire family an opportunity to escape to the most magnificent four-season vacation area in New Jersey."

And as a plus for Garden Staters', John Galasso, Mountain Shadows Lake sales director added, "Our initial intent is to sell exclusively to New Jersey residents so that they will have the best selection of sites from which to choose. Also, we want them to be able to take advantage of our very low introductory prices ($5,900 and up)...which we hope to maintain through November."

Right now, Mountain

Shadows features a beautiful private lake, perfect for swimming, fishing and boating. In addition, there is a large family pavilion with a fieldstone fireplace, ideal for community dances and parties.

Plus there's a children's game room, baseball field, volleyball, basketball, cross-country skiing, acres of hiking and nature trails, and already proposed for next year, a new lakeside swimming pool.

Nearby, there is a super array of family attractions including the 100,000-acre Delaware Water Gap National Park, the largest park east of the Mississippi; the Delaware River for exciting white water canoeing and sporty shade fishing, and the Flatbrook Stream and Swartswood Lake for the best trout fishing in the state.

Also, the area offers Stokes State Forest, a gameland preserve; High

PANORAMIC VIEWS—Mountain Shadows Lake is set amidst the beautiful countryside of New Jersey's northwest Sussex County. In the background is the resort's lakeside family pavilion, and overlooking the community (on the left) is the breathtaking and historic Appalachian Trail. The private lake is ideal for swimming, fishing and boating.

Point State Park for adventurous snowmobiling; the Vernon Valley-Great Gorge sports and amusement complex; Peters Valley for arts and crafts of a special nature, and plenty of stables and trails for enjoyable horseback riding.

For those interested in visiting Mountain

Shadows Lake to see all the fabulous facilities the community and neighborhood have to offer, the resort is conveniently located just 31 miles from the intersection of Interstate 80 and Route 15 north.

To drive out, follow Route 15 to Route 206 north to Route 521. Make left at McKeown's Restaurant and go straight for four miles to Owassa Road. Make a right and follow for three miles.

The Madison Common, American Condominium Management of New Jersey at the sales office on Chateau Thierry Avenue, off Park Avenue in Madison, and a sales office has been opened to accept reservations.

Nestled in the hills of north-central New Jersey, the homes offer flexible floor plans, with a fireplace in each living room, three bedrooms, or master suite with guest bedroom, dining room and 2 1/2 baths.

Prices begin at $114,500.

Developed by Equi-National Madison Joint Venture, headed by Kenneth Breslin, president, and Patrick E. Law, executive vice president, the Madison Common is being marketed by North patio deck, wall and ceiling insulation and separate laundry area.

All ground maintenance will be taken care of by the management, as will the community building, tennis courts and swimming pool.

To reach the Madison Common from Route 287, take the 287 to Morristown and take Route 24 East. Turn left on Park Avenue, right on Chateau Thierry Avenue to the entrance.

From the New Jersey Turnpike, take 24 West from Newark Airport to James Park. Bear right onto Park Avenue and turn right onto Chateau Thierry Avenue.

The sales office is open every day from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Building is sold

Mitchell Kramer of the Investment Division of Brounell & Kramer, has announced the sale of a 22-unit apartment building on Morris Avenue in Elizabeth to an investment client of Brounell & Kramer.

Brounell & Kramer's more than 30 years of active experience in the management and sale of apartment buildings throughout Union County has established the Union-based firm as one of the most successful such enterprises in the industry. As a result, the organization's sensitivity to the problems of tenant laws, taxes, fuel and energy priorities and market rents has become well known. It has become a B & K tradition to call the purchaser after title is taken, in order to give suggestions and suggest techniques in the management process. A broad range of additional after-closing follow-up is provided owners as a no-charge courtesy of Brounell & Kramer.

Cypress Hill homes can be custom built

But Eastern Planned Communities in presenting its Cypress Hill luxury-range homes at Middletown in New Jersey's Monmouth County assert that they have achieved this, and at a saving to the shopper. This is being done, according to Tom Adinolfi, sales director, through the organization's "in-house" architectural and design services.

It is probably true that no man or woman and particularly the latter who has dreamed of owning a home, or of moving up to a better one, has not dreamed also of just how that home would be patterned: how the rooms would be arranged, where the closets would be placed, and how other domestic facilities would be integrated.

This service is given by a design studio, a facility through which a custom design can be achieved which Adinolfi declares cannot be equaled in the Cypress Hill price range.

And that range is not exactly in the dollar cellar.

In the case of Cypress Hill that price starts at $154,900 and goes into the $200,000s.

The design studio shows sample room arrangements by means of mock-ups, rendering and model layouts.

After inspecting houses built or under construction, the possible buyer sits down with industrial designer George Adinolfi, Tom's brother, and goes into every detail of how the future nest would be feathered—a procedure the home hunters find to be exciting and pleasurable, as well as highly productive.

They are spacious. They have a minimum of 2,100 square feet of living space. The ranches are of three bedrooms, the two-story homes of four bedrooms.

All have two or 2 1/2 bathrooms, 8-foot high basements, termite proof sills, central air conditioning, fireplaces, 150-amp electric service with weatherproof outside outlets and smoke detectors.

Exemplifying the quality of the construction also are the ceramic-tiled, sky-domed bathrooms with oversized tubs and whirlpool baths; walkways of random slate set in crushed stone; entrance foyer of slate set in crushed stone; entrance foyer of slate; and laundry room of cushioned vinyl. The area is served by city sewers and water. Heating is by natural gas forced air with pilotless furnace. Insulation of exterior walls has an R-value (resistance to heat flow) of 11. The R-value rating of the ceilings is 30.

Groundbreaking is held for Embury Arms condos

Groundbreaking ceremonies for Embury Arms, a condominium complex owned and developed by Samuel Fromkin Construction Company, Bradley Beach, took place Thursday to officially commence construction of "the first luxury condominium" in Ocean Grove.

The completed Embury Arms, located at Embury and Whitfield Avenues will be four, three story, energy efficient buildings grouped around an open-court setting.

Project financing was provided by Shadow Lawn Savings & Loan, Long Branch.

According to Fromkin, the footings and foundations of the first building will be completed this fall, with final construction and occupancy expected in early spring 1981. Condominium sales, however, are expected to begin by Oct. 1st.

Fromkin Construction Company is a long-established Monmouth County business incorporated in 1911. The company has grown to include all types of building construction, including residential, commercial and industrial. Pilgrim apartments, right in Ocean Grove, was built by Fromkin Construction Company. Other area projects include Village Green, West Long Branch; Fairway at Lincroft, Lincroft and Surrey Hill at Wayside.

Information on Embury Arms is available from Fromkin Construction Company, P.O. Box 400, Oakhurst, 07755, (201) 922-4603.

Marching band plans blow-out

Members of the Jonathan Dayton Marching Band will be honored at a covered dish supper tonight at the high school. The Band Parents Organization is host at the dinner to thank the students for the hours of work which led to the band's winning the Tournament of Bands Chapter V Championship, Class 1.

Following the dinner, the band will present its annual December concert.

Cleanup time: glass, papers

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Key Club will hold its twice-a-month Glass-In on Saturday. All residents of the area were urged to bring glass (sorted by color, with the metal rings removed from around the mouth of the bottles) and newspapers (tied in bundles), for recycling.

The Glass-In will be held in the high school parking lot from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

A holiday 'gift' idea—blood donors sought

Union County residents can donate a gift of life and health for the holiday season during a special blood drive tomorrow at Red Cross headquarters, 203 West Jersey St., Elizabeth, from 12:30 p.m. until 5 p.m.

The special blood drive is an attempt to bring up the level of local donations, which have been dropping during the past two years because of resident "apathy," according to the Red Cross.

No appointment is needed for tomorrow's blood drive and locations of other area blood banks outside of Union County are available from the Red Cross at 353-2500.

Blood donations are needed especially before the coming holiday season and most holiday weekends, when there are more emergency accidents and bloodmobile hours are cut, Overton said.

The amount of blood being given by Union County residents is becoming lower and lower, according to Peter W.

Overton, manager of the Union County chapter of the Red Cross. Two years ago, the Red Cross used to receive about 40 pints of blood per drive day; now it receives between six and 10 pints per day, he said.

"Alienation from one's neighbor is spreading," he said. "Severe public apathy continues to deteriorate the position of the Red Cross in collecting voluntary blood"

because of a "lack of concern for others," agreed Vera Maier, chairman of the local Red Cross blood program.

The Red Cross now must import about 35 percent of the blood used for medical purposes from Europe. About 5,500 pints of the 8,000 pints used annually in Union County donated by residents, Overton said. As a result, the Red Cross, now requires that patients who receive blood must replace it, Overton said. That can be done by finding friend or relative to donate the blood, he said. Until now, the Red Cross has provided blood to anyone who needed it without that requirement, Maier said. She noted, however, that the Red Cross will continue to cover all individuals participating in the program, senior citizens and those unable to give blood, but in need of it. Another problem is receiving donations from unhealthy specimens. Overton cited an example of a New Year's Day in Lowell, Mass., when a number of people lined up to give blood, but most of it was unacceptable.

Holiday deadlines

This newspaper has instituted 5 p.m. Wednesday deadlines for material intended for the Dec. 27 and Jan. 3 issues because printing schedules will be disrupted by the Christmas and New Year's holidays. All organizational, social and other material meant for the Dec. 27 issue must be submitted by this coming Wednesday, Dec. 19; all material for Jan. 3, by Wednesday, Dec. 26.

DEERFIELD PROGRAM—Patty Kelly, on the alto sax, and Judy Geiger, on clarinet, will be among Deerfield School students participating in a traditional holiday musical program to be presented next Thursday at 1:30 and 8 p.m. in the school. Participating will be the fourth- and fifth-grade choir, the sixth-grade choir, the mixed chorus, and the seventh and eighth-grade chorus, and the Deerfield Advanced Band.

Group seeking more vests aid

The Honorary Mountainside PBA 126 inaugurated a "Bulletproof Vest Fund Drive" in October for the purpose of raising monies to equip each member of its police force with a bulletproof vest. A spokesman said, "the fund drive has been successful but is still short of its goal, and it is hoped that those who were of a mind to contribute and who have not yet done so will do so in December."

Businesses and individuals were requested to send their donations to the Honorary Mountainside PBA, Local 126, Vest Fund, 895 Mountain Ave., Mountainside, 07092.

'Grandmother's' book on view

An exhibit of photographs, costumes, posters, books and regalia which represent historical costumes as social history is on display at the Free Public Library of Mountainside, through Jan. 3. Featured in "Grandmother's Trunk: Costume as Social History," are costumes for mothers and children from approximately 1890-1920, selected in honor of The International Year of the Child.

Two films on Costume as Social History will be shown next Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the library meeting room. At that time all of the items from the exhibit will be on display, and books and bibliographies will also be available.

The display and films are part of the project, "Ways of Knowing: The Humanities in New Jersey."

The controversial application again involved Clifford, who has asked for money to put on another musical show this year. Board member Pat Knodel mentioned that the minigrants originally were to be used for innovative programs. "It bothers me to see the money for the play come out of the minigrants; however, I have no objection to the play," she said. The vote to table the request was 4-1, Barre dissenting.

'Grandmother's' book on view

An exhibit of photographs, costumes, posters, books and regalia which represent historical costumes as social history is on display at the Free Public Library of Mountainside, through Jan. 3. Featured in "Grandmother's Trunk: Costume as Social History," are costumes for mothers and children from approximately 1890-1920, selected in honor of The International Year of the Child.

Two films on Costume as Social History will be shown next Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the library meeting room. At that time all of the items from the exhibit will be on display, and books and bibliographies will also be available.

The display and films are part of the project, "Ways of Knowing: The Humanities in New Jersey."

Marching band plans blow-out

Members of the Jonathan Dayton Marching Band will be honored at a covered dish supper tonight at the high school. The Band Parents Organization is host at the dinner to thank the students for the hours of work which led to the band's winning the Tournament of Bands Chapter V Championship, Class I.

Following the dinner, the band will present its annual December concert.

Cleanup time: glass, papers

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Key Club will hold its twice-a-month Glass-In on Saturday. All residents of the area were urged to bring glass (sorted by color, with the metal rings removed from around the mouth of the bottles) and newspapers (tied in bundles), for recycling.

The Glass-In will be held in the high school parking lot from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

A holiday 'gift' idea—blood donors sought

Union County residents can donate a gift of life and health for the holiday season during a special blood drive tomorrow at Red Cross headquarters, 203 West Jersey St., Elizabeth, from 12:30 p.m. until 5 p.m.

The special blood drive is an attempt to bring up the level of local donations, which have been dropping during the past two years because of resident "apathy," according to the Red Cross.

No appointment is needed for tomorrow's blood drive and locations of other area blood banks outside of Union County are available from the Red Cross at 353-2500.

Blood donations are needed especially before the coming holiday season and most holiday weekends, when there are more emergency accidents and automobile hours are cut, Overton said.

The amount of blood being given by Union County residents is becoming lower and lower, according to Peter W.

Overton, manager of the Union County chapter of the Red Cross. Two years ago, the Red Cross used to receive about 40 pints of blood per drive day; now it receives between six and 10 pints per day, he said.

"Alienation from one's neighbor is spreading," he said. "Severe public apathy continues to deteriorate the position of the Red Cross in collecting voluntary blood"

because of a "lack of concern for others," agreed Vera Maier, chairman of the local Red Cross blood program.

The Red Cross now must import about 35 percent of the blood used for medical purposes from Europe. About 5,500 pints of the 8,000 pints used annually in Union County donated by residents, Overton said. As a result, the Red Cross, now requires that patients who receive blood must replace it, Overton said. That can be done by finding friend or relative to donate the blood, he said. Until now, the Red Cross has provided blood to anyone who needed it without that requirement, Maier said. She noted, however, that the Red Cross will continue to cover all individuals participating in the program, senior citizens and those unable to give blood, but in need of it. Another problem is receiving donations from unhealthy specimens. Overton cited an example of a New Years Day in Lowell, Mass., when a number of people lined up to give blood, but most of it was unacceptable.

Group seeking more vests aid

The Honorary Mountainside PBA 126 inaugurated a "Bulletproof Vest Fund Drive" in October for the purpose of raising monies to equip each member of its police force with a bulletproof vest. A spokesman said, "the fund drive has been successful but is still short of its goal, and it is hoped that those who were of a mind to contribute and who have not yet done so will do so in December."

Businesses and individuals were requested to send their donations to the Honorary Mountainside PBA, Local 126, Vest Fund, 895 Mountain Ave., Mountainside, 07092.

Holiday deadlines

This newspaper has instituted 5 p.m. Wednesday deadlines for material intended for the Dec. 27 and Jan. 3 issues because printing schedules will be disrupted by the Christmas and New Year's holidays. All organizational, social and other material meant for the Dec. 27 issue must be submitted by this coming Wednesday, Dec. 19; all material for Jan. 3, by Wednesday, Dec. 26.

DEERFIELD PROGRAM—Patty Kelly, on the alto sax, and Judy Geiger, on clarinet, will be among Deerfield School students participating in a traditional holiday musical program to be presented next Thursday at 1:30 and 8 p.m. in the school. Participating will be the fourth- and fifth-grade choir, the sixth-grade choir, the mixed chorus, and the seventh and eighth-grade chorus, and the Deerfield Advanced Band.

How to make domino game in patchwork

By ELLEN APPEL
Back in Colonial days, when patchwork reached its peak of popularity, dominoes was an exotic game from the Far East. The game had already crossed the Pacific, however, and was providing entertainment in many an American home by the 18th century.

Aside from matching up dotted black tiles, Colonial women proved their enjoyment of the game by inventing a domino patchwork pattern. The pattern, composed of small squares, large squares and rectangles, resembles a domino layout. (Even if the resemblance is somewhat vague.)

The domino pattern is fairly easy to assemble. It is especially interesting when the domino theme is emphasized by using black, white and polka dot fabrics.

Here are directions for a domino pillow:

MATERIALS: Scraps of fabric, five-eighths yard of unbleached muslin, five-eighths yard fabric for pillow back, polyester batting, pillow stuffing, sewing supplies, ruler, cardboard, tailor's chalk, scissors, iron, X-acto knife (optional).

CUTTING PATTERNS: 1. Draw the following shapes on cardboard: 2.5x2.5-inch square, 5x5-inch square, 2.5x5-inch rectangle. 2. Cut shapes from cardboard, preferably using X-acto knife and straight edge.

CUTTING PATCHES: 1. Using tailor's chalk and cardboard patterns, trace the following shapes on fabric: 16 small squares, six rectangles, two large squares. Leave at least 1-inch margins between shapes. 2. Cut shapes from fabric between chalk lines (a).

ASSEMBLING PATCHES: 1. Lay out fabric shapes according to the illustrated pillow. You will now have one large square. 2. Divide the large square into four quarters. 3. In each quarter, stitch shapes into horizontal rows (b). Always match up chalk lines and baste. Use chalk lines as seam lines. 4. Press open seams. 5. In each quarter, stitch horizontal rows together. Again match chalk lines and press open seams. 6. Stitch quarters together. Your large patchwork square should now be entirely stitched together. Press open seams.

QUILTING: 1. With patchwork face up, sandwich batting between patchwork front and muslin. 2. Pin layers together. 3. Trim batting and muslin one-half inch larger all around the patchwork. 4. Baste a large X-shape through all three thicknesses. 5. Machine-stitch along all seam lines. For best results, start stitching at the center. Stitch toward outside edges.

ASSEMBLING PILLOW: 1. Remove basting. 2. With right sides facing, stitch pillow front to pillow back. Leave opening at bottom for turning. 3. Turn right side out. 4. Stuff pillow. 5. Sew opening closed.

A Communal Mass scheduled Oct. 4

A Communal Mass of Healing for the Sick will be held Saturday, Oct. 4, at 11 a.m. in Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Mountainside.

Ministry concert to be tomorrow

Mickey and Becki, a husband and wife team of recording artists in a contemporary Christian music ministry, will present a benefit concert in the Evangel Church, 656 North Broad St., Elizabeth, tomorrow at 8 p.m. The concert will be given in behalf of CONTACT: Union-Essex, an interdenominational telephone ministry which serves people with emotional and spiritual needs throughout the two counties.

Tickets at $3 each may be obtained by calling 241-9350 or by purchasing them at the door.

CONTACT: Union-Essex is one of the more than 80 accredited Christian Helplines throughout the United States which are related through CONTACT: U.S.A. to Lifeline International with centers around the world. Each center is an individual, not-for-profit corporation with its own governing board elected by the volunteers who serve all by active listening, befriending and referral. Each center is supported by contributions from individuals and churches. Volunteers undergo training in which practical psychological insights are viewed from a Biblical context. One of the training programs begins tonight from 7:30 to 10 in the First Presbyterian Church of Cranford. Another began Monday at Kean College of New Jersey, Union. The classes meet weekly until mid-December. Additional information can be obtained by calling Bruce R. Marino, executive director of the organization.

The Helpline number is 527-0555, and someone can be reached any day between 11 a.m. and 11 p.m., and all night Sundays.

Are you 35 or older and thinking about having a baby? No doubt at some point you've probably read or heard about Down Syndrome or mongolism—and how the older a mother is, the greater the chance of giving birth to a baby with this problem.

To help you learn more about this important health issue, the National Institutes of Health has a booklet that explains the problem and ways to deal with it.

A free copy of Facts About Down Syndrome for Women Over 35 is available by writing to Consumer Information Center, Dept. 661H, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

According to NIH, the risk of giving birth to a child with this genetic defect increases with the mother's age. For example, a mother under the age of 30 has less than 1 in 1,000 chance that her child will be born with Down Syndrome. But a mother at age 35 has a 1 in 400 chance of bearing a baby with this genetic problem.

Doctors are not sure exactly why mothers seem to show this increased risk with age, but several theories exist. Some scientists believe that since a woman is born with all the eggs necessary for bearing children, by the time a woman is 35 or older, her eggs may have passed their prime. Also, since the eggs have been around for a long time, they are much more likely to have been exposed to radiation or other forces that might damage the genetic material in the egg.

What is the outlook for a child with Down Syndrome? The most serious problem for the child is mental retardation. A baby with Down Syndrome is often slow learning to sit up, crawl, walk and talk. The child almost never achieves near normal intelligence. Adults with Down Syndrome seem to age a little faster than normal and as early as age 40 the diseases of old age can appear.

If you are a woman 35 or older and you're planning to have children, you should talk to your doctor about whether it's advisable to see a genetic counselor.

World pageant due Nov. 8, 9

Contestants are being accepted for the 1981 Little Miss Mahogany world pageant and revue (formerly called the Little Miss Ebony world pageant) Nov. 8 and 9 at the Coronet in Irvington.

Under the direction of Susette McDaniel and Laquanna Smith, the pageant will be open to girls between six and 12 years old. Competition also will include a physical fitness routine, sportswear modeling and evening wear.

Additional information can be obtained by writing to Little Miss Mahogany World, P.O. Box 117, Elizabeth, N. J.

Antique show due in Summit

The 20th annual Summit Outdoor antique show, sponsored by Brayton School PTA, Summit, will be held Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the school grounds at Tulip Street and Ashland Road. In the event of rain, the show will be held inside the school building.

Antique dealers from central New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania will be on hand, in addition to dealers from Summit, Chatham, Livingston and Gillette.

Disc & Data

By Milt Hammer

Pick Of The LPs—"High On Your Love" by Debbie Jacobs (MCA-3202).

The LP album showcases the awesome vocal talents of Debbie Jacobs, defying musical categorization.

A native of Baltimore, Md., Debbie established herself as something of a local phenomenon and built a loyal following. While attending the University of Maryland, Debbie performed with the school chorus, which led to her performance with the prestigious Baltimore Symphony Orchestra.

She participated in countless talent competitions and beauty pageants and has garnered top honors from a variety of civic, educational and social organizations.

Debbie's reputation stems largely from her stylized vocal interpretations: "My audience wants to hear my version of Barbra Streisand and Diane Ross hits and not just imitations of a juke box."

Producer Paul Sabu has provided material written specifically designed to showcase her vocal talents; songs that combine the raw emotion of rock and sophisticated technology of disco.

A former guitarist with the Guess Who, James Gang and Spencer Davis Group, Sabu had found his initial production successes in a string of disco hits—with Debbie Jacobs, with Ann-Margret's Top 10 effort—his first rock-disco foray. Debbie Jacobs' second MCA album, "High On Your Love," gave both the producer and artist a chance to refine the technique.

The result is a state-of-the-art album that has captivated both rockers and discovers alike.

Spanish ballet opens in Union

Tony Ribeiro, owner of the new Portuguese-Spanish Restaurant and Night Club, Fandango, 1664 Stuyvesant Ave., Union, has announced that Flamenco dancer, Jesus Cano, star of the Ballet Company of Spain, will make his first appearance in the United States at the Fandango Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 3, 4 and 5. He will appear with Paco Juana, Spanish guitarist, and Tata, Flamenco dancer.

Cano has performed in 35 countries and is associated with the Spanish Flamenco Ballet Company, "Antonio Y Sus Ballets de Madrid." He has appeared with Rafael de Cordova Ballet Co., Lola Flores Flamenco Ballet, the Ballet of Andalus for Generalissimo Franco in Spain and has made three films. Cano also has performed in Majorca and throughout South America, and on television in Bogota, Columbia.

Performances in Union will be Oct. 3 and 4 at 8 and 10 p.m. and midnight, and on Oct. 5, at 6, 8 and 10 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling 964-0490.

'Salesman' to be staged

The George Street Playhouse's seventh professional season will open tomorrow with Arthur Miller's classic drama, "Death of a Salesman" in New Brunswick.

The production is directed by Paul Autin. Set designer is Daniel Proett. Dick Shepard, Bill Cwikowski, Edmond Genest, Eric Loeb and Matthew Lewis will be featured.

The show will run to Oct. 19. Performances are Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays at 8 p.m., Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m., and Sundays at 7:30 p.m., with matinee performances Wednesdays at noon, Saturdays at 4 p.m. and Sundays at 3 p.m.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 246-7717.

Brynes named as chairmen

Governor and Mrs. Brendan Byrne will serve as honorary co-chairmen of the Committee to Rebuild the Paper Mill Playhouse, the historic Millburn theater which was destroyed by fire last January, it was announced by Angelo Del Rossi, Paper Mill executive producer.

In accepting the chairmanship, Mrs. Byrne told Albertina Reilly of the playhouse staff, "We both were personally affected by the tragic fire. The Paper Mill was the source of many fond memories for the Governor and me. We spent some of our early dates there."

"The loss of the Paper Mill has been a loss to all of New Jersey," Gov. Byrne added. "We hope the efforts to continue the Paper Mill's long tradition of excellence in a rebuilt playhouse will be successful."

Concert series slated Oct. 5

The New York Pro Arte Chamber Orchestra, under the direction of its founder, Raffael Adler, will open the new "Mostly Music" concert series Oct. 5 in Temple Emanu-El, Westfield. Twelve of the leading string instrumentalists from American conservatories, will be featured. The group has been the only American string ensemble to be invited by the Soviet Union to tour the USSR under the auspices of the United States State Department.

It was announced that the series has been sold out for this season. Additional information can be obtained by calling Claire Anel, artistic director, at 654-3226.

'Rigoletto' due in auditorium

The Lupo Opera Company will open its fifth season with Giuseppe Verdi's "Rigoletto" Saturday, Oct. 18 at 8 p.m. in the Madison High School auditorium, Ricedale Avenue. Miguel Andoor will sing the title role. Other performers will be Maryann Polesinelli, Jane Bunnell and Roy King.

Lupo is the recent recipient of a $5,000 matching grant from the New Jersey

State Council on the Arts. Tickets may be purchased at the Madison office of the American National Bank and Trust Co., Waverly Street.

The Coin Box

By GARY L. PALMER
Los Angeles is getting its own "birthday dollars" to celebrate the city's Bicentennial founding date-Sept. 4, 1791.

Gerald D. Edge and Associates, Ltd., a Toronto-based company, and Lazard Freres of Paris and New York, have been elected to design and manage a medallic art program to commemorate the 200th birthday of the City of Angels.

Backgammon

By James Seibert

White to play 2-1. Neither player has doubled.

Backgammon, as with any other game, including war, is often reduced to no more than knowing where your opponent's Achilles heel is. Players at all levels of expertise frequently omit the search for weaknesses in their opponent's game plan by concentrating exclusively on their own problems.

The mortality rate of these players is very high even when they're on hot streaks. Being on the constant lookout for the jugular vein accounts for the demise of the once thought of unconquerable Roman Empire.

Black is slightly ahead in his timing and the victor will be decided by the first player to make good his escape from behind either of the five-point primes. (White has a hole in his.) It's this hole that gives black the edge coupled with the fact that white needs an immediate 1-6 to escape. You now know white did not play bar 22 for his 2-1. Black is certainly thinking about a double as he has 11 ways to roll the four that he needs. Given the average roll of eight, he is going to get several tries at it before his prime starts to crumble.

Without warning, white made the one play that black did not want to see. Bar 23, 65. Black, with the cube already in hand, pulled up short to examine the possible sequence of events. Should he double now and miss (94 against hitting) white becomes a strong favorite to cover his blot creating a full prime. This would bring the game up to roughly even except for one thing. White would now have a firm grip on the ultimate weapon, the cube. Incidentally, white would take a double at this point as he is a 9-4 favorite to get away with his pressure play. This play is correct in that it should hold up a double for at least one more roll and the odds, which a minute ago were in black's favor, are now against him.

Black put the cube right back in its slot at center

A series of six trade dollars has been issued. Struck in nickel silver, the reed-edged community "coins" measure 39 millimeters (slightly over one and one half inches) in diameter and weigh approximately a half troy ounce.

They are being sold at $1.89 each or $9.45 for the set. A common reverse will carry the "Birthday Dollar" denomination, a stylized angel holding a rainbow, symbolizing Los Angeles—the Town of Our Lady of the Queen of Angels.

For those desiring rare and more costly souvenirs, limited edition sets will be struck in .925 fine silver, 14-karat gold and platinum. No pricing details are yet available.

Further information on this excellent numismatic salute to 200 years of progress for Los Angeles may be obtained from Los Angeles Bicentennial Commemorative Medallic Art Program, 12115 San Vincent Blvd., Suite 214, Los Angeles, Cal., 90049.

Points On Pets

By H.P. JANS D.V.M.

Q. I have a dog who is 3 years old and about a year ago developed a pouch or pocket under the tongue and throat area.

We had this fluid drained out about six months ago, but it's now filling up again. Would it be wise to operate on him, as I was told there's a blocked duct and a gland should be removed. Or would it be better to have the fluid drained now and then? He has been neutered since a pup, is timid, doesn't bark much but has put on more weight as he eats good. He's a small dachshund-terrier mix dog.

A. It is difficult to assess the seriousness of your dog's condition without examining him. Repeated drainings, in general, are not a cure for his condition. Surgery is. I would recommend that you follow your veterinarian's suggestion concerning your dog's condition. Q. I have a 8-to 9-year-old Chihuahua who is always chewing on her front feet. She chews till her paws' pads are red. It is also puzzling to my veterinarian. I've tried salves and solutions but to no avail. Do you know why and what I should do? She is strictly a house dog and only gets out for a minute R.A. Columbus, Ohio

A. I would recommend that her doctor do a complete physical examination. This would include a complete blood count, a urinalysis and blood chemistries, plus a fecal test. There may be a physical problem, which would only be detected in this manner. She may be allergic and your veterinarian could test her or refer you to a colleague who is routinely performing skin tests.

Proper discarding is difference for both sides. Declarer has an edge since his hand is hidden. The fewer bids he makes and suits he shows, the more likely a defender will err.

The defense's strength stems from cooperation. In following suit and discarding the defenders communicate count and attitude, that is, the number and quality of cards held in a suit.

To succeed, each side must plan ahead, mentally pre-playing the hand to arrive at a desired end position. This ability to project what will take place is a good measure of competence.

The auction was straightforward, the contract sound. West made the aggressive but logical lead of the five of spades, hoping to find partner with the ace or queen. Had East held no more than the ten high, the partnership would have been on its way to two tricks. The spade lead stands out since none of the other

A shift to a diamond was taken in dummy and a low heart led to the jack. When this finesse worked, declarer could count nine tricks if clubs were 3-2. Therefore, he cashed the king and queen of clubs. West, however, showed out on the second.

His chances fading, South played the ace of hearts but the king did not drop. Two high diamonds squeezed dummy before East declarer was forced to concede down one.

The contract is makeable. On the thirteenth spade, South must shed the deuce of hearts, no good to him in any case, rather than a club. The play proceeds as before to the point where declarer cashes two high clubs in hand. If West fails to follow to the queen, South plays off the king and queen of diamonds, bringing about this ending:

Barry, Dr. J describe sports-show-biz link

Two superstars of sports recently got together with nationally-syndicated columnist Dick Maurice for a look at the show business aspect of sports.

Dr. J. and Rick Barry were candid, open and honest about their careers.

Julius Erving, known to basketball fans and everyone as "Dr. J.," is the star of the Philadelphia 76ers basketball team. The graduate of the University of Massachusetts is regarded as one of the three top players in the NBA. The 76ers lost the championship series against the Los Angeles Lakers.

Rick Barry is one of the all-time great professionals in the NBA. He graduated from the University of Miami and played with both the NBA and the ABA. Five years ago he led Oakland to the championship and about a year ago was traded to the Houston Rockets. Off-season he is a color commentator for CBS covering a wide variety of sports including golf and track.

MAURICE: Has sports become really big business? Everyone seems to be endorsing something. Is there a connection between sports and show business?

ERVING: Sports has always been show-business oriented. It seems the guys who are able to do a special thing and become an attraction to the people are the ones management attaches the highest market value to. Not necessarily the guys who can win games for you. Sometimes they coincide so that the two can be the same guy.

When you talk about players' market value you are talking about their ability to draw people in, which is what owners are always concerned about. In that respect, it is big business and it is show business.

BARRY: There is no question about that. It has always been big business. The owners would never readily admit to that because they are always trying to get special exemptions from the government.

One of the newest owners in the league, a man who is fortunate enough to be the owner of the championship team this year, the Los Angeles Lakers, has the proper idea as far as pro sports is concerned. He tore up Kareem Abdul-Jabbar's contract in the middle of the season, which was worth about $600,000 and gave him a million dollars more a year because he knows this man is capable of putting people in the seats.

Julius is one of the most exciting ballplayers in the league today and his value is because he is able to bring people into the buildings.

It has been said that athletes were just like entertainers and should be

Vogel enrolls at Kean; All-State pitcher in '77

The addition of a former All-State pitcher, to shore up an inexperienced mound staff, has raised the hopes of Coach Rich Bakker for another successful baseball season at Kean College, Union.

Bob Vogel, a 1977 All-Stater at South River High School, has enrolled at Kean after a short stint at Mercer County College.

Bakker says Vogel will be a major asset at Kean. "He will provide some much-needed depth. Last year our lack of quality pitching cost us several games."

paid accordingly. The one detriment to athletes is that we are not fortunate enough to have extended careers. We have a limited time in which we are able to make the kind of money that people sometimes complain that athletes make.

They don't realize that an entertainer can start off as a youngster of 8, 9 or 10 years old and go on until they are 70 years old making big money. We have from about 18 years old, and if we are lucky until 30 or 35 years of age, which is a very limited time. You have to take advantage of it.

MAURICE: What are some disparities between sports and show business?

BARRY: There certainly are a great many similarities, but I think the biggest disparity is the fact that we go out there and put our bodies on the line. An entertainer goes out there and performs.

Certainly a great many of them work exceptionally hard in going out and doing two and, in the old days, three shows a night. It's very demanding and difficult. But they are not putting themselves on the line as far as receiving an injury that could end their careers right then and there.

MAURICE: Do you sometimes resent the agents, the managers and those people getting in there, rather than letting you go out and just play? Do you get involved in the business end of it at all?

ERVING: I think the involvement of agents and managers only tends to be a problem when it receives a great deal of publicity. There is a purpose and reason for having an agent and a business manager.

When most guys come out of school, especially if they are going for the pros and getting into a draft situation, they are going from a no-income situation to $50,000, $60,000 or $100,000 a year, or better. They don't really have a feel for management.

The majority of the professional athletes have come from less-than-affluent families that don't have a history of managing money or getting into intense negotiations. That is why they hire professionals such as agents and business managers to assist them.

Going about the correct process of selecting the right people for them takes a little time and involves a little bit of trust. That is something that only becomes a problem when it comes to the forefront of the sports page or starts to make headlines. Other than that it is not a problem. It is a necessity.

The return of Herman Diaz, a three-year starter who was named to the NCAA Division III second-team All-America last year, also bolsters Bakker's hopes for a successful season. Diaz was 11th in the nation in batting (.434) and drove in 20 runs for the 11-9 Squires last season. Diaz also led the nation with 11 doubles.

"Herm is a superior all-round ball player. He makes good contact at the plate and is an excellent fielder. He does everything well," summed up Bakker.

Entering win column goal of Dayton team

When the Dayton Regional High School football team takes the field Saturday against Clark, they'll be looking to do something no Bulldog gridiron team has done in two years—win a game.

"We're excited and we're ready," said Head Coach Angelo Senese, beginning his third year at the helm of Dayton football fortunes and coming off consecutive 0-8-1 seasons. "Clark is a well-organized and well-coached unit so it's going to be one heck of an exciting football game Saturday."

Coming off a successful scrimmage last week with David Brearley Regional High School, Kenilworth, last week, Senese said he is particularly impressed with his team's ability to move the football offensively, something they'll have to do Saturday in order to beat rookie coach Steve Ciccotelli's Clark team.

Clark frequently will go with an eight man front against Dayton leaving only three men in the secondary, something the Bulldogs will try to take advantage of.

"One thing about this year, we'll throw the football on any down," Senese said. "If Clark is successful in stopping our option plays, we'll put the ball in the air."

Co-captain Mike Caricato has been impressive at quarterback in the scrimmages along with his two prime targets, co-captain Tyrone Hayes at wide receiver and sophomore Kyle Hudgins at tight end.

A third co-captain, Kevin Iaione, has been running extremely well in the pre-season drills and could be a major ground threat against Clark.

Senese said he substituted freely against Kenilworth, leaving mainly third and fourth team players in for the entire second half against the first unit Brearley players.

"One thing we have this year is depth," Senese said. "My backup people performed extremely well against Kenilworth and we'll need them Saturday against Clark."

Senese said he scouted Clark on Saturday in their scrimmage against Parsippany and found the Crusaders to possess an explosive passing attack led by 6-foot-5 quarterback Glen Bodner.

"Clark is an aggressive team at least equal to us in ability entering the first game," Senese said. "The team that wins Saturday will be the one that makes the fewest mistakes."

A couple of two-way performers for the Bulldogs, who have done extremely well in the scrimmages, are tackle Nino Parlavecchio and guard-linebacker Jack Parent, both juniors.

"Parlavecchio's blocking has been just excellent and Parent could be an All-Suburban Conference player if he plays up to his potential," Senese said.

The Bulldogs tied Clark, 6-6, last year and will hope to keep the Crusaders' scoring output down again this year with a stingy defense. Junior Dan Circelli has been particularly impressive at monster back, making a name for himself instead of just being referred to as Anthony's younger brother. The elder Circelli was an outstanding back and captain at Dayton and is currently on the Bethany College (W.Va.) team.

One player who will not be available Saturday or for the rest of the season is defensive tackle Ron Boothman. The big 6-4, 265-pound senior was being counted on by his coaches to have an outstanding season, before a knee injury ended his high school football career.

"The coaching staff feels very badly about Ronny," Senese said. "We're still going to push him for college football and hope that he can at least get back by January for the wrestling season."

Filling in Saturday at Boothman's spot will be either Peter Ball or impressive sophomore Nick D'Achille.

"Whoever does better in practice this week will start Saturday," Senese said.

The enthusiasm of the student body is at a real high point, according to Senese, who said the whole positive mental attitude of the school will just add to the excitement of a close football game against Clark.

"Getting that first win of the season is what we're thinking about right now," concluded the youthful coach.

Kean's hopes dimmed by loss of two linemen

Kean College's hopes for a victory over Montclair State College in Saturday's Homecoming Day football game were dampened this week by the loss of two outstanding linemen.

Tony Ohar, the team's leading tackler in its first two games, suffered a tendon injury on his hand which may require surgery, sidelining him possibly for the season. The 6-2, 225-pound linebacker made eight unassisted tackles in last week's 16-0 loss to Ramapo.

Matt Holway, a 6-4, 215-lb. senior offensive tackle, strained a ligament in his right knee and will miss at least one game.

Coach Jim Hazlett was disappointed after the Squires' loss to Ramapo, even though the Roadrunners were limited to 49 yards rushing in 35 carries.

"The rushing defense has been doing a great job," Hazlett said, "but we have had problems rushing the passer. We finally had to blitz with our linebackers and Ramapo picked it up—a screen pass set up one of their touchdowns."

"We just have not been intense enough. We don't have enough complete football players on the line of scrimmage. And that game was an example of critical mistakes proving costly. For example, a guard lined up off-side on a run which put us on the Ramapo one so we ended up back on the 17."

Kean gained 115 yards on the ground, 98 during the scoreless first half. Quarterback Greg Eutsler, who completed just one pass during the season-opening victory over St. John's, completed eight of 17 for 86 yards last Saturday but three interceptions stymied Kean drives. Jo Bonaparte caught five passes for 50 yards.

Hazlett lauded the defensive play of linebackers Ohar and Jim Buchanan as well as Paul Mertz and Springfield's Bob Conte in the secondary.

Montclair, which lost its opener after outplaying Wagner and then beat East Stroudsburg (Pa.) State, will be opening its New Jersey College Conference schedule. "It will be the best defensive team we'll play this season," warned Hazlett. "It's very difficult to run against them. Our passing improved against Ramapo but it will have to be much better against Montclair. They have a winning tradition in football and a strongly-established program."

Kean's Homecoming Day schedule opens with an 11 a. m. soccer game against Stockton State with the football game starting at 2 p. m. A Homecoming Queen will be crowned and an all-college float parade will be held.

IN ON GOAL—Tuning up for this afternoon's home match with New Providence is Dayton forward Henry Largey, dribbling the ball in against netminder Andrew Greff. The Bulldogs are looking to improve on last year's 4-5-7 mark under second-year Coach Joe Cozza.

Soccer Scene

By BILL WILD

With the Cosmopolitan Junior League in full swing, we had lots of soccer activity at Farcher's Grove last Saturday. The Union Lancer A team in the midget division downed Union County SC, 6-0, while the Lancer B team lost their first match, 13-0, in an away game against the Hudson Dalmatians.

The Lancer Boys division A team defeated Union County SC, 4-1, at the Grove while the Cougars downed the Union Lancer B team, 5-0.

In the Youth division the Lancer A team came out on top of a 9-0 score against the Union County SC while the Lancer B team lost to the Hudson Dalmatians, 3-1.

There are six games on tap at Farcher's Grove this Saturday. Once again it is a come early and stay late situation.

In the midget division, it will be the Lancer A team that will get the ball rolling around 10 a. m. in a match against the Cougars followed by the Lancer B team against Silver Lake. The Union County midgets will travel to Sportsfriend's Oval in Wayne for a 12:30 game.

In the Boys division the Union Lancer A team will take on the Silver Lake B team at 12:30 and the Union Lancer B team takes on the Silver Lake A team at 1:45. Both games are at Farcher's Grove. The Union County SC 11 will be up in Wayne against the Sportsfriends at 1:45.

In the youth divisions we have the same combinations of Lancers and Silver Lake as in the Boys division with both games at Farcher's Grove. These games will start at 3 and 4 p. m. The Union County team will also be out in Wayne at 3.

Three Farcher's Grove Boys teams played in the tournament at the Garden State Arts Center last Sunday. The Union Lancer A team was in a group with the Union County 11 and Silver Lakes.

The Union Lancer B team was in a group with the German American Kickers of Trenton and Kearny. The Trenton Kickers and Silver Lakes took second place in their own groups and Silver Lake won the playoff game for third place in the tournament. Kearny and the Union Lancer A squads took first place in their groups and the Lancers came out on top, 3-1, in the playoffs for tournament first place and Kearny took second.

Well, the Cosmos did it again. They are the NASL Champions once more. The only two negative situations that came out of the game was the fact that it was Franz Beckenbauer's last NASL match and the benching of Carlos Alberto. I can bring myself to accept the move by Cosmos coach Hennes Weisweiler to bench Carlos, but I could never see why he did not put Carlos in the game after the score was 2-0. The Cosmos were rolling at that time and Gerd Mueller of Fort Lauderdale was out of the game. Weisweiler had two goals on the scoreboard at the time, and Carlos is not the weaker of the two men that can play sweeper, so there wasn't any reason not to put him in at that time. I think Weisweiler owes something to Carlos.

No one...no one at all, can say anything negative about Georgio and his accomplishments this season with the Cosmos. Not even me. What he did in the playoffs is unbelievable and the crowd at JFK Stadium in Washington gave him the cheers and praise he deserves. He shut us all up. Right after I file this copy at the Union Leader office, I am taking Route 22 home. But first I will stop in at the Fidelity Union Trust Company near Farcher's Grove and get my free autographed color poster of Georgio.

Equestrians vie Saturday

The first statewide equestrian competition of the New Jersey Special Olympics will start Saturday at 10 a. m. at Riding High Farm, Route 526, Allentown.

Up to 36 special athletes (mentally-retarded persons who are members of the Special Olympics), grouped by age, will compete at the Monmouth County site. There is no admission charge.

The competition is part of a nationwide effort to bring equestrian events into the 1981 Special Olympics. The national committee has agreed to include equestrian events if at least 12 states conduct a successful competition this year. So far, 14 states have indicated they plan such events.

Homecoming at Kean slated this Saturday

Athletic events, tailgate picnics, a float parade and a party will highlight Kean College's Homecoming Day Saturday.

Kean's soccer team will face Stockton State College in an 11 a. m. game and the football team will play Montclair State College at 2 p. m.

Judging of tailgate picnics will begin at noon in the gymnasium parking lot. Winners will be named in sorority, fraternity, alumni and all-round categories.

The first all-college float parade will begin at 1 p. m. Open to all sororities, fraternities and clubs, the winning float will be awarded a $100 prize by the Kean Alumni Association.

The crowning of the homecoming queen and the award of tailgate picnic and float parade prizes will be held during halftime of the football game.

A "victory party" will be held in the alumni lounge at 4 p. m. Admission, including food and entertainment, is $3. Additional information and reservations can be made through the alumni office, 527-2527.

Jersey 'Year of Disabled' to receive $60,000 grant

New Jersey activities in conjunction with the International Year of Disabled Persons will get a $60,000 boost from Governor Byrne's discretionary fund, according to Labor and Industry Commissioner John J. Horn.

The grant, to be used in coordinating International Year of Disabled Persons (IYDP) activities statewide, will be administered by Evelyn Aronow Dolan, executive secretary of the Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped. Horn is chairman of the committee.

In 1976 the United Nations proclaimed 1981 as the International Year of Disabled Persons. A conference was held in June of 1979 to develop plans for the United States involvement in IYDP. The result was the formation of the U.S. Council for the IYDP with David Kearns, president of Xerox Corp., serving as chairman, and Alan A. Reich, chairman, Board of Directors, People-to-People Committee for the Handicapped, as president.

The main goal of IYDP is, according to President Carter's proclamation, "to increase public recognition of what remains to be done before handicapped persons are permitted full participation in the life of their communities."

The U.S. Council on IYDP has asked each governor to appoint a state liaison. The liaison for New Jersey is the Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

The New Jersey projects will be a statewide effort designed to involve as many individuals and organizations as possible. The first step will be the appointment of an advisory Council whose membership will include representatives of government, business, labor, education, providers of service to the disabled, and, especially, disabled persons themselves. It will be the responsibility of the advisory council to set specific priorities and program objectives, to work with the U.S. Council, and to serve as liaison with local community organizations and activities associated with IYDP.

The U.S. Council on IYDP representatives were in Trenton to review New Jersey's plan for IYDP programs. The Council is planning to use New Jersey as a model for other states as a result of the strong government commitment to the project and the advanced stage of New Jersey's planning. A state advisory council for IYDP will be named by Horn at a later date.

PUEBLO WAS LARGEST
The great Pueblo Bonito in New Mexico was the largest single man-made dwelling in North America from the time of its construction, shortly after the year 1000, until New York apartment buildings rose up in the late 19th century.
Four and five stories high, the pueblo covered more than three acres, contained 800 rooms and housed 1,200 people.

Reunion slated by Linden High Class of 1970

Linden High School's class of 1970 will hold its 10th reunion Friday, Nov. 21, at Snuffy's Steak House, Scotch Plains.

The event will be from 7 p.m. to 12:30 a.m., including a cocktail hour with hot and cold buffet, dinner with appetizer, soup, salad, dessert, five-hour open bar and live entertainment.

Tickets are $24 per person. Each graduate and guest will receive a souvenir directory of class members.

Those wishing to attend may send a check to LHS Class of 1970 Reunion, c/o 13 Gentore Ct., Edison, N.J., 08817. The deadline for reservations is Oct. 6.

Further information may be obtained by calling Donna at 499-0924 after 4 p.m. or 574-0805 during the day.

Take-home pay drops in July

The purchasing power of the New York-Northeastern New Jersey factory production worker's take-home pay declined 1.6 percent in July, according to Samuel M. Ehrenhalt, Bureau of Labor Statistics' regional commissioner. The drop reflected a $2.83 reduction in average weekly earnings because of seasonal cutbacks in hours, as well as a 0.7 percent rise in consumer prices.

Between July 1978 and July 1979, the purchasing power of area factory workers' take-home pay declined 4.7 percent. Ehrenhalt said the over-the-year drop marked the third consecutive year of decline, with losses totalling 6.4 percent since July 1977.

He noted that the area-wide 4.7 percent drop in purchasing power between July 1979 and July 1980 was lower than the national decline of 7.2 percent. Nationally, gross average weekly earnings rose more slowly than in the metropolitan area, 5.6 percent compared to 7.0 percent. In addition, the national over-the-year consumer price rise (13.0 percent) was nearly two points higher than the 11.3 percent rise for this area.

In the metropolitan area, gross average weekly earnings rose $17.37 between July 1979 and July 1980 to $264.41. The rise entirely reflected a 58 cent increase in average hourly earnings to $6.85. The average work week declined 48 minutes over the year to 38.6 hours. Between June and July, a five cent increase in average hourly earnings was more than offset by a seasonal cutback of 42 minutes in average weekly hours.

Greek festival slated Oct. 3-5

The Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church of Westfield will hold its 14th annual "Greek Festival" Oct. 3 to 5 at the church Community Center, 250 Gallows Hill Rd., Westfield. The festival will be open from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Friday, 1 to 11 p.m. Saturday and 1 to 7 p.m. Sunday.

Authentic Greek food, drinks and refreshments will be served by costumed waiters and waitresses. Luncheon will be available starting at 11:30 a.m. on Friday. Boutique shops will offer gourmet foods, imported items, handcrafted jewelry, pottery and ceramics, handmade rugs and pillows, records and tapes and other gift items.

Greek dancers in folk dress will perform evenings. Takeout orders of food and pastries will be available by calling 233-8533. Donation will be 75 cents; children accompanying adults will be admitted free.

School to mark its golden year

St. Mary's High School of Elizabeth will celebrate 50 years of service in education to residents of the Union County area in 1980, and a committee of its graduates and friends has arranged for a golden jubilee celebration Sunday, Oct. 12. A golden jubilee mass of celebration will be held at 3 p.m. in the church followed by a reception at the school for graduates, former faculty and staff and friends.

Edward Moley, an alumnus and a teacher at the school, will serve as general chairman of the committee. He has announced that the celebration will end with a cocktail party and dinner dance on the evening of Oct. 12 at the Holiday Inn Jetport, Elizabeth. Additional information can be obtained by calling 353-7930 or 352-4350.

Growing Older

One of the most cherished aspects of the American dream has always been retirement. Traditionally, employers with the best retirement programs have been able to attract competent and qualified people. government and public service jobs paying less than the private industry scale did not go begging because capable young like the retirement benefits offered, as well as the job security found in non-political positions.

Every working American, however, begins to think about retirement some time in the middle-age years. Some plan carefully, make investments or accumulate savings, others consider a small business investment or part-time employment.

PENSION OUTLOOK
Nearly 14 million retirees or their beneficiaries will be drawing benefits from private pension plans by 1995, double the 1975 figure, according to a U.S. Department of Labor study.

Through the years, and less, people begin to set aside retirement plans and work harder on the project of accumulating more savings, more investments and more safeguards against the possibility of meeting hard times face to face.

The retirement dream is not lost, of course. But it has been dimmed by the awakening of a reality, truthful or not, based upon the uncertainty of security. What every individual wants in retirement is security. And, when you have worked hard for most of your life, you will continue to buy less
