Council hears opposition to instituting directorship

By PATRICIA GEOGHEGAN
The debate on the ordinance which would create the non-tenured position of a civilian police director in place of an up-from-the-ranks police chief continues as the final voting date of Oct. 21 draws near.

The question is one of tenure as both sides—borough council and police—exchange views concerning the passage of the controversial ordinance which would make Mountainside the only municipality in Union County to have a director in charge of the police department.

Several other towns, such as Elizabeth, Clark, Rahway and Plainfield, have both a director and chief, however Mountainside is a smaller community with a smaller budget and cannot afford employing both.

This is the second attempt for passage of this ordinance, which failed two years ago when first introduced to the borough. This year it was introduced Sept. 16 at a public council meeting and has met with opposition by police groups from the start.

The council has met with several different police associations since the introduction of the ordinance, including the Mountainside PBA, Union County Police Chiefs Association and members of the borough's force.

The tenure question involves the ability of the council to dismiss the appointed director if they feel his performance is not satisfactory. The police are opposed to the civilian status of the director and intervention on the part of the council.

"The union is in total opposition to the appointment of a civilian director," Mountainside PBA president James Debbie told borough council members at a closed meeting last week. "The state lawmakers had a definite purpose for mandating tenure at the chiefs level. In order to perform his sworn duties prescribed by law, he must be free from political intervention. Tenure will give him that protection."

The protection of tenure is what the council is opposed to because it could stand in the way of an effective evaluation of the chiefs position, according to Donald Bagger, borough administrator. If the council felt the performance was not satisfactory, the director, who would be under contract, could be fired, but a tenured chief would have to be brought up on formal charges.

Mountainside Mayor Thomas Ricciardi, speaking as administrator for the council's meetings, said, "There would be no opportunity after a period of time to judge the leadership qualities of the person they appoint. The police department is the largest on the municipal end of the budget, and they have a responsibility to look at all aspects of the thing."

In another closed meeting with council, the Union County Chiefs Association voiced its opposition to the pending ordinance. "A chief takes an oath of allegiance, but a director doesn't," explained Fanwood Police Chief Anthony Parenti, president of the association. "The moment you put on that badge you are sworn to uphold the laws of the state. The chief's oath is an expressed oath, the director's an implied oath. To us, that makes a difference."

The civilian status of the director would have an effect on the morale of the force, which Debbie described as an "all time low" after three positions of the force—captain, detective lieutenant and detective sergeant—were removed from the force over the last few years.

"The governing body wants to eliminate the chiefs post, leaving little or no job opportunity for advancement," Debbie explained.

"Why should a good, young police officer stay in Mountainside if he can never be promoted?" asked Parenti commenting on the effects a civilian appointee would have on the quality of the force's work. "There's just no motivation."

Bagger stated that the council would accept applications from within the department as well as outside. However, an officer, if appointed, would have to give up his police status for the job. This would mean he could not carry a gun, make arrests or issue gun permits for the residents.

Parenti said the force would not be able to relate to a civilian administrator who had not "walked in their shoes," and is afraid they would not trust someone who had "left the ranks."

One of the PBA's oppositions to the ordinance is that it would "leave the position unprotected from political maneuvering," arguing that he could be removed from the office without question or reason.

Mountainside Police Commissioner Abraham Suckno said he feels the director position would be in the best interests of the borough. "The chief's position doesn't allow for on-the-job training. There is a probationary period with any job," he said. "The director would be under an ongoing evaluation according to the terms of the contract he signed."

The meetings between council and cops have allowed for a "free exchange of ideas," according to Bagger.

Parenti said he left the meeting with the chiefs association feeling the council was "genuinely interested with what is best for the police department and borough." Each group is planning further research on the decision, which is scheduled for a final vote at the next borough council meeting.

Council talks alone about police leaders

The Mountainside Borough Council met Tuesday night in a special session which closed into an executive session after 20 minutes of public hearing.

The session involved proposed changes in police leadership.

The first item on the agenda was the introduction of an ordinance which would permit the conduct of legalized games of chance on Sunday. This would include raffles and bingo and would bring the borough into compliance with state law. It would cover such technicalities as holding a raffle after midnight following a Saturday night function where a raffle was included for fund-raising purposes.

After a reading of the ordinance by Borough Administrator Donald Bagger, the introduction was voted unanimously by the council. The ordinance will be presented for a final vote at the next meeting, Oct. 21. There is a seven-day waiting period after such an ordinance is introduced before it can be passed.

After the council voted on the games-of-chance ordinance, it adjourned into a closed executive session to continue discussion on the pending ordinance creating the position of civilian police director in place of a police chief.

Under the "Sunshine Law" of New Jersey, a governing body may close a public meeting if certain topics are to be discussed. Personnel matters that include discussion of individuals as related to job status are included in these exceptions, and last night the council adjourned to executive session in order to discuss possible candidates for the director position.

"I'd like to clarify that names will be mentioned," said Councilman Timothy Benford. The final vote for the ordinance that has stirred opposition from three different police factions is scheduled for the next council meeting on Oct. 21.

Candidates and cameras gearing up for debate

Mountainside residents will get a chance to experience first hand the workings of local government as well as cable television when the Mountainside American Association of University Women sponsors the first televised Candidates Night. The public is invited to the event, which will be held at Borough Hall Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The cablecast of a local government's presentation of the candidates running for office will be a first for Mountainside as well as New Jersey. The show will be produced by writer Shirley Horner of Mountainside with Margaret Walker of the Westfield League of Women Voters serving as moderator.

Featured at the event will be the two hopefuls for the office of councilman from each party. Running this fall are Republicans Lou Maas and Timothy Benford and Democrats Frances Ehman and Stu Lutz. Each candidate will get time to voice his positions and strategy.

The program will be aired on Cablevision Channel 3, the community channel which cable television is required by FCC regulations to set aside for public access. The program will air Sunday, Oct. 12, at 1:30 p.m. and Wednesday, Oct. 22, at 8 p.m. The program also will be shown shortly before the Nov. 4th election date at a time to be announced.

CAMPAIGN PLANNING—Dr. Marilyn Hart, left, Mountainside council member and honorary chairman of the United Way of Mountainside 1980-81 fund-raising drive, meets with Jackie Barry, vice chairman, and Mable Young, chairman, to discuss the campaign. The campaign will begin with mailing letters, with a return envelope enclosed for contributions, to all Mountainside residents. A goal of $28,000 has been set for this year's campaign.

Fire Prevention Week stresses two ways out for safety

Every day more than 1,900 homes are destroyed by fire in the United States, according to the New Jersey State Safety Council. Residential fires alone claimed 5,765 lives in 1979, and nearly two-thirds of them were children under 15.

National Fire Prevention Week begins Oct. 5 and the Mountainside Volunteer Fire Department is trying to alert residents to the importance of fire prevention to their homes and family.

Fire Prevention Bureau Chief Ron Huter reports that this year the number of fires in Mountainside has been a low 45 since January, and the department is asking for continued support from borough residents in their fight against the threat of fire.

One of the most important actions a family can take is an escape plan which employs the "two way out" idea. This method stresses the family's task of knowing ahead of time of at least two accessible exits from a smoke filled house.

In the midst of a fire, panic can often be as binding to a life-saving exit route as a cloud of dark, suffocating smoke. The unpredictable path of flames may block an obvious exit, but if a family has prepared two exits in advance and practices an orderly escape drill, the chances of surviving a house fire are greatly increased.

Huter was recently awarded the Fire Prevention Man of the Year Award by the New Jersey State Fire Prevention Association because of his contribution to fire prevention in the state with his "look about for two ways out" campaign. The campaign has met with interest and support from fire prevention officials and the award, given by a committee of peers, was "the greatest thing that ever happened to me," he said.

The Mountainside Volunteer Fire Department will be using a "fire prevention is education" theme next week as it tries to inform children at the borough's schools of the importance of protecting their homes and families from fire.

"We train the little people and they train their parents," explained Huter. "Usually, they're very receptive, and the questions they ask are exceptionally encouraging for children their age."

The department, more than 80 years old, is made up of volunteers from the borough who Huter calls "the most dedicated group of volunteers in any metropolitan area in the world." The low rate of fires attests to their dedication, even though they hold down regular daytime jobs as well. "Volunteers have to make a living too," said Huter. If a fire occurs during working hours, the volunteer fire officers are alerted by police dispatch and in compliance with state law must be released from work.

The department handles approximately 100 calls a year and is constantly drilling its members on the different uses of equipment and rescue techniques. Huter said they respond to many accident calls, both for fire and the use of their jaws of life apparatus, as well as appliance fires in homes and brush fires in the reservation area.

The drought has caused many brush fires in this area, but Huter reports, "We have been very fortunate so far and not had any really bad brush fires." He asked people using the woodlands to be especially careful with cigarette butts and cookout fires.

The department urges families to survey their homes for possible fire traps. A clean home, free of combustible clutter, is less likely to ignite and feed a fire if common sense is used. Huter suggests they look twice at everyday articles which could start a fire, such as appliances or flammable liquids. A safe-can, available in hardware stores, can be used to keep gas and other flammable liquids from curious children and careless adults.

A smoke detector can alert a sleeping family to fire before the smoke has a chance to overcome them. A careless cigarette butt can ignite a mattress which can smolder for hours before it becomes engulfed in flames. These everyday precautions can save a family from becoming another statistic.

Revised calendar listed for UC's academic year

Union College has announced a revised calendar for the current academic year which includes a winter break from Dec. 24 to Jan. 4 and a spring break from April 17 to 21.

The revision was necessitated by a faculty walkout which delayed the start of the fall semester 13 days. Under the revised schedule, the fall semester will conclude Jan. 23 with final examinations starting Jan. 15. The spring semester will start Feb. 2 and wind up May 27; final exams will begin May 18. Commencement is scheduled Friday, June 5.

Registration for the spring semester will be held Jan. 28 to 30 from 9 to 11 a.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. at the Cranford campus; registration at the Elizabeth Urban Educational Center will be held Jan. 21 from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and 6 to 8 p.m.

Classes will be held Election Day (Nov. 4) and Washington's Birthday (Feb. 16); the college will be closed Nov. 27 and 28 for the Thanksgiving recess but classes will be held Saturday, Nov. 29. The college will be closed Memorial Day (May 25) and Good Friday (April 17).

Summer Session I will open Wednesday, June 3, and Summer Session II July 13.

The revised calendar provides two full semesters as required by the state, according to Dr. Leonard T. Kreisman, vice president for academic affairs.

TOURNAMENT WINNER—Matilda Stone of Springfield is congratulated by Oak Ridge Golf Course manager Russ Raffa, left, and gold professional Dan Billy for winning the 10th Annual County Women's Public Links Tournament. Stone shot a 92 in the tournament, which was sponsored by the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation.

Youth soccer opens with close matches

The upper league, grades six through eight, of the Springfield Youth Soccer Program opened with two very close, defensive games.

The Rowdies edged the Lancers, 1-0, on a pretty goal by Gilon Rubencko in the third quarter from 25 yards out. Lou Monaco saved a bid to tie by the Lancers when he stopped a penalty kick by Elan Schwartz in the fourth quarter.

The Tornado won, 1-0, over the Strikers. Ian Scheinmann scored in the second quarter. Allen Gross led the Striker defense with several important saves in the final quarter.

In the middle league, the Stompers took the Sting, 7-4, in an offensive duel, with each team showing good offensive combinations. Chris Monaco scored twice assisted by Greg Grazino and Lauren Meixner. Kamanan Bayrashi scored twice for the Sting.

Roger Basin, showing excellent ball control, scored four times for the Stompers; Peter Sadin netted two, and Dom Barone scored once. Jared Pottito was the difference on defense, breaking up many thrusts by the Sting.

The Blizzard beat the Fury, 6-1, with Adam Muller and Dan Lissy scoring three apiece. Mitchell Friedberg scored in the fourth quarter for the losers. Elizabeth Pabst played a courageous game at fullback and Peter Glassman saved two penalty kicks for the Fury.

A strong Timbers team won, 4-2, over the Aztec. Josh Wasserman, Marcella Reyna and Nat Zonnerrach scored for Timber, while Eric Schobel scored a pair for the Aztec.

3rd fall classic 10-k run scheduled Nov. 9 at UC

The third annual fall classic 10-kilometer race will be held through the streets of Kenilworth and Cranford Sunday, Nov. 9, starting at 1:30 p.m. at Union College, Cranford. A one-mile fun run will be held on the campus at 1 p.m.

A total of 100 trophies will be presented to the overall male and female winners and to the top five finishers in eight female and 10 male age categories. The top four male and female fun run finishers also will receive trophies. All finishers will receive ribbons; finishers in the 10-kilometer race will be eligible for a merchandise prize to be presented after the race.

The race is being sponsored by the Central Jersey Road Runners and Natural Lite Beer, which will present T-shirts to the first 1,200 runners who preregister for the 10-kilometer run ($4) or the fun run ($3); the fee is a dollar less for those registrants who do not want T-shirts.

Information and entry blanks are available by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to CJRR, Box 79E, Rahway, 07065.

Co-directors Peter Mogendorff and Marty Ziper anticipate fast times in the race because the AAU-certified course is flat and split times will be provided at each mile. Racetime System Inc. has donated a large digital clock and electronic timer for the finish line.

Sunday runs, chair races will benefit palsy league

Two fund-raising runs of 5,000 and 10,000 meters, including a wheelchair category, are part of the events to be featured in a benefit for the United Cerebral Palsy League (UCP) of Union County, Sunday, at the UCP center, 373 Claremont Terrace, Union.

The runs for UCP are being sponsored by the World of Chevrolet, Honda and Toyota, who are paying for all race expenses, meaning that the pre-entry fee of $5 (which would have required a postmark prior to Sept. 30) or the post-entry fee of $6 will go directly to benefit the UCP center.

Tea shirts will be given to all runners, certificates to all finishers, championship trophies to the overall male and female winners in both races and trophies to the top five male and female winners in each age group category in both races.

The five-kilometer (3.1 miles) race will begin at 9:30 a.m., and the 10-kilometer (6.2 mile) event will follow at 10:30 a.m. Check-in for the races will begin at 7 a.m. at the UCP center at Claremont Terrace.

Fred Nagler, director of public relations for the UCP center, said that the race may be the only competitive one in which a wheelchair category for awards has been established and wheelchair runners have been actively recruited to join a race with other runners.

"Not only is United Cerebral Palsy attempting to raise funds to maintain its programs, but it believes in sports by ability, not disability," Nagler said.

Bowmen hunt trophy deer

Bow hunters were reminded this week of the state's trophy deer program.

The New Jersey Division of Fish, Game and Wildlife noted that the program includes a category for deer that weigh more than 200 pounds as well as deer with outstanding antlers.

Fall bow hunters, who hunt when deer usually weigh the most, are most likely to have a chance of taking bucks eligible for the 200-pound class.

Public invited to club dinner

The public has been invited to attend a reunion night meeting of the Newark Bait and Fly Casting Club on Tuesday at the Kingston Restaurant, Union. Dinner is to be served at 6:30 p.m. and the general meeting is to start at 8.

Guest speaker will be Bob Byrne of the New Jersey Division of Fish, Game and Shellfisheries. He will discuss the division's future programs.

Enlarged pictures of some of the club's historical casting trophies will be on display, according to John F. Reban, club president.

Gymnastics squad is off to good start

With hopes for both a Suburban Conference and Union County championship, the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School gymnastics team is off to a fine start with victories in each of their first three competitions.

"I'm extremely pleased and optimistic that we're going to continue a fine season," said second year Coach Howard Cushman.

The Bulldogs opened the 1980 season with a 81.65 to 69.45 win over Gov. Livingston High School (Berkeley Heights). They then battled Caldwell last week, triumphing once again, 78.35 to 59.80. And last Thursday, they eked out a 83.05 to 79.55 win over Madison.

"The uneven parallel bars has been a weakness in past years for Dayton," Cushman said. "But this year we're doing well in all four events and I'd like to see us scoring in the 90's by season's end."

Leading the way for Dayton has been co-captain Paige Carter, only a junior, along with a pair of freshmen, Karen Rose and Gina Pashayan. All three compete in the all-around—uneven parallel bars, vaulting, balance beam and floor exercises.

Carol Carpenter has been steady on the uneven bars. Senior captain Sue Feig is a mainstay at floor exercises. Seniors Donna Alberti on the balance beam and Vicki Sarracino in vaulting, uneven bars and floor exercises have scored several points in the early going.

"With some outstanding freshmen we have the nucleus of a fine team for years to come," Cushman said. "But right now we're looking at our next meet and then ahead to the Oct. 29 tri-meet with New Providence and Millburn, our biggest challengers for Suburban Conference honors."

Dayton booters win twice—by shutouts

By ROBERT A. BRUCKNER

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School soccer team shut out New Providence, 2-0, and Hillsborough, 4-0, last week.

John Klimas scored both goals against New Providence, with an assist by Dave Cushman. Yoram Rubaninko scored twice against Hillsborough with other goals coming from Keith Hanigan and Henry Large (with assists by Cushman and Zenon Christodoulos).

The defense played well against New Providence, according to coach Joe Cozza, although it was inconsistent. The losers, however, could not generate an offense. Except for the goals by Klimas, the offense could not take advantage of its scoring opportunities. The offense will have to work on skills and reading the game, Cozza said, so it can capitalize on its opportunities.

Goal keeper Andrew Grett was credited with some outstanding saves to preserve the shutout.

Large scored in the first period against Hillsborough. The Bulldogs were outstanding and maintained control throughout the match. Rubaninko played an excellent game, giving the Bulldogs a 3-0 lead.

Midget team impressive in 24-0 romp of Chatham

Victories weren't very easy to come by for Springfield's Midget C team last year. But this is 1980 and their first triumph came in impressive fashion, a 24-0 romp over Chatham.

Springfield's winning formula was a simple one, combining plenty of offensive punch with an outstanding defensive effort.

The offense really clicked, gathering more than 340 yards behind quarterback Chris Wickham. Wickham was personally responsible for 230 of those yards, scoring four touchdowns in the process.

Wickham needed plenty of blocking to compile those statistics, and linemen Robert Valentino, Paul Taho, Luke Lyons, Danny Francis, Greg Wioland, Brian Ruban, and Chris Kisch as well as backs Eric Storch, Charlie Saia and Greg Walsh did the job.

Defensively, the spotlight was on John Lynch all ballgame. Lynch was credited with 14 unassisted tackles, while Chris Kisch added eight. Greg Walsh had six, and Danny Francis and Paul Arntz were credited with five apiece. Also playing well on defense were Charlie Saia, Andy Greenman, Eric Storch, Jimmy Francis, John Colangelo, Kelvin Jackson, Matt Lynch, Matt Magee, Mike Mancuso, Tom Miskewitz and David Spillane.

The Midget C team will play Mountaintop on Sunday at Meisel Avenue Field, beginning at noon.

Rec team has tennis banquet

The Springfield Recreation Department's women's tennis team held its post-season luncheon meeting recently. The luncheon, which featured an authentic Chinese banquet, took place at Chan's Garden in Dunellen.

The highlight of the meeting occurred when Sylvia Kosnett, representing the team, presented Susie Eng, the team manager, with a tennis outfit as a way of showing the team's appreciation for Eng's three-year contributions.

Team members present for the luncheon were Lucille Clunie, Lucy DeVries, Arlene Diamond, Charlotte Eurver, Helen Glaser, Ruth Goldstein, Iris Goodman, Maureen Hamilton, Pat Horowitz, Susan Kane, Corinne Kay, Linda Kirsh, Marlene Koonz, Julie Liem, Blanche Meisel, Marie Morrocco, Shirley Ross, Grace Savel and Sue Weinberg.

Kean lists schedule

Kean College's only night football game of the season highlights the week's athletic schedule.

The Squires will travel to Wayne Friday to face William Paterson in an 8 p.m. New Jersey State Athletic Conference game. Possible starters include Bob Conte, junior defensive end from Springfield, and Joe Moyal, freshman running back from Linden.

The Squires' soccer team will be at home to Trenton State Saturday and at NJIT Wednesday. The women's tennis team will compete in the Eastern Regionals Friday and Saturday in New Paltz, N.Y., and travel to Kings College for a match Tuesday.

The women's field hockey team will face FDU at Madison Wednesday. The women's volleyball team will meet FDU at Teaneck Friday, compete in the College of Staten Island tournament Saturday, face Newark Rutgers Tuesday and take on Upsala and Seton Hall next Thursday.

ELUSIVE—Dayton fullback Kevin Iaione eludes a Clark defender to pick up some of his 96 yards rushing Saturday in the Bulldogs' 14-0 defeat. Coach Angelo Senese's gridders travel to Hillside this Saturday for a 1:30 p.m. kickoff.

Not making big play key to Dayton's loss

The big play, be it a breakaway run, a kickoff return, or a pass interception, is what has decided many football games. Jonathan Dayton Regional High School found out once again last Saturday in losing to Clark, 14-0, that consistency on offense means nothing if you give up the big play and can't put the ball in the end zone yourself.

This Saturday the Bulldogs travel to Hillside for a 1:30 p.m. kickoff and Coach Angelo Senese points out the key to his team's winning their first game is the offensive unit's ability to put the ball in the end zone when inside the five yard line and the defense's ability to stop the big play.

"We had the ball inside the Clark five yard line four different times and failed to score," Senese said. "Once we fumbled the ball away, another time we missed a field goal. If we could have scored three out of those four times, we could have won the football game."

The Bulldogs may have lost more than just a football game against Clark. All-Suburban Conference tackle Robert Dooley fractured his wrist and may be lost indefinitely. Senese said he hopes the senior co-captain can return to his place kicking duties this Saturday.

Another key to beating Hillside will be physical conditioning. With the injury to Dooley and the season ending injury to tackle Ron Boothman, seven players are going both ways, whereas before only four were seeing double duty.

"We have a lot more depth this season, but after losing two starting tackles, we'll have to move some people around," Senese said.

Center Chuck Bell, who along with Dooley did a fine job pass blocking for quarterback Mike Caricato against Clark, has moved from linebacker to end on defense and Ben Mirto has moved from linebacker to tackle.

There were some excellent individual performances against Clark in the season opener despite the shutout defeat. Co-captain Kevin Iaione rushed for 96 yards on 14 carries from his fullback position. Caricato passed well, but his receivers couldn't hold on to the ball.

Clark led, 7-0, going into the final minutes before fleet-footed halfback Tom Wilson broke away from four would be Bulldog tacklers enroute to a long touchdown run.

Tackle Nino Parlaviccio and monster back Dan Circelli were outstanding on defense, Senese said.

"We're going to stick with our offense against Hillside," Senese said. "I thought we played well enough to win against Clark, but just didn't capitalize on our opportunities."

Dayton lost to Hillside, 35-6, last year, but trailed by only one, 7-6, at halftime.

"They broke one run for a 98-yard touchdown and returned a kickoff for a score in the second half," Senese said. "That is what I'm referring to in stopping the big play and Hillside always has the breakaway threats in the backfield."

Senese said he wants his team to pick up a victory against Hillside before going into two straight weekends against Suburban Conference powers Madison and Summit.

"Hillside is bigger than us, but physical size doesn't bother me in terms of our chances of winning," Senese said. "Again, if we can stop the big play and capitalize inside the five when we have the ball, then I think we can win this football game."

Silverstein run leads harriers

Adam Silverstein's 18:12 finish on the 3.2 mile Dayton Regional High School course led the Bulldogs to an 18-46 season opening victory against Gov. Livingston Regional High School of Berkeley Heights.

Silverstein outdistanced teammate Scott Connelly (18:14), who finished second and Jim Roach, who came in third. The Dayton course is longer than most cross country routes in the area, which are usually 3 to 3.1 miles.

Railroad to receive funds for 10 engines

Assemblyman William J. Maguire (R-District 22) and member of the Transportation and Communications Committee, has announced that New Jersey Transit's board of directors has approved the award of a $13 million contract for 10 new passenger locomotives to replace those now in use on the Raritan Valley Line. The contract went to the Electro-Motive Division of the General Motors Corporation.

The 3000-horsepower, diesel-electric locomotives operate on electricity produced by self-contained, diesel-operated generators. The locomotive also provides the electric power needed for the heating, air-conditioning and lighting systems in the cars.

Delivery of the new locomotives is expected to begin by the end of 1981 and will coincide with the delivery of the new push-pull passenger cars already under construction by Bombardier Ltd. of Montreal. The 57 passenger cars are being constructed at a cost of $43 million. The new locomotives and passenger cars will replace the entire existing fleet on the Raritan Valley Line, some of which are more than 50 years old and this should make a lot of our people very happy, Maguire added.

Purchase of the new equipment is part of Phase I of the Raritan Valley Upgrade. The Upgrade covers rail station rehabilitation and modernization and track rehabilitation to replace the Passenger Equipment. The Raritan Valley Line carries more than 6000 commuters daily from Hunterdon, Somerset and Union Counties to Newark. The Urban Mass Transportation Administration is providing 80% of the funding required for the locomotive purchase.

If anyone has questions about New Jersey Transit, said Maguire, the state public transit agency number is (201) 648-7422 and his office's number is 381-2120.

Recovery program is praised by Franks

A 10-point economic recovery program developed by a special task force of Assembly Republicans was unveiled recently. Assemblyman Bob Franks of Berkeley Heights, a member of the group, said the program features "an extensive system of tax incentives, a streamlined regulatory process and low-interest loans" designed to stimulate the state's economy.

"We worked for four months, held several hearings and gathered input from business, labor, government and citizen groups," Franks said. "I believe the program is a positive answer to our recession-plagued economy that deserves serious attention by the full legislature."

Franks is the author of a bill, A-1840, that is considered a keystone of the package. It would mandate an economic study of all bureaucratic rules and regulations to determine their fiscal impact before they go into effect.

Other parts of the package include a system of "one-stop shopping" for all minor permits required for development projects, state sales tax exemptions for a limited period for the purchase of American-made automobiles, legislative review of all changes or amendments in departmental rules and regulations before they go into effect, and permission for the State Division of Investment to invest in Savings and Loan Associations.

Other provisions would modify the state's unemployment benefits program, eliminate the state's corporate net worth tax, create a matching fund program to aid county Economic Development Authorities and extensive reform of the products liability statutes.

Franks said the committee's recommendations will be filed as legislation for consideration and debate by both houses of the legislature.

"I am convinced these measures will improve the economic climate in our state, reduce costs borne by our state's consumers and help us reverse the tide of job-producing business and industry locating in other states," he said.

Fires banned in reservation

Fires remain prohibited in Watchung Reservation, the 2,000-acre, heavily-wooded park in Springfield and Mountainside. The protective measure went into effect last month after Union County officials toured the park and saw how dry conditions caused by the drought have made the reservation dangerously susceptible to forest fires.

The ban prohibits all fires (including those for barbecues and cooking), careless disposal of matches, cigarettes and cigars and smoking on nature trails and bridle paths.

Signs warning against fires have been posted throughout the reservation, including recreational facilities.

Although patrols have been increased in the reservation, the Union County Department of Public Safety has asked park patrons and neighbors to call the county police at 233-0070 if they see smoke or violations of the ban on fires.

Councilman Benford charges Democrats show no interest

Mountainside Councilman Timothy Benford last week charged that his Democratic opponents in the November general election had failed to show an interest in community affairs by failing to attend any of the more than two dozen public work sessions or regular monthly council meetings in the borough during the last year.

"I find it inconsistent with their alleged statements last year, when they also ran for office. They professed to be attuned to the needs of the borough, but for some reason have not bothered to attend a single council meeting since last October. Does this translate as the actions of people who are concerned?"

"I believe we're doing the best job we can and have no problems with answering the questions of any resident who may question a particular ordinance or resolution. That's how we get the feel for community. I just wonder how the other side gets its 'feel.'"

"The governing body in Mountainside is a non-salaried team of concerned citizens who devote several days each week handling the myriad details of this municipality. Our only interest is in maintaining the quality of life as we know it, and trying to improve it where possible."

UC gets grant for adults unit

Union College's Division of Continuing Education has been granted a $500 gift by Ecodyne-Graver in Union Township for the fifth year in a row.

The money is used each year to make a purchase which augments the college's program of non-credit offerings for adults, such as special films, supplies or equipment needed to modernize classroom presentations, according to Dr. Frank Dee, dean of the division.

The Continuing Education program conducts approximately 90 courses each semester as well as workshops and seminars of special interest to adults.

Local board lists meeting

In compliance with the Sunshine Law, meetings of the Mountainside Local Assistance Board are open to the public—except during the review, discussion or evaluation of individual cases, a board spokesman has announced.

The third meeting of the year will be Oct. 29 at 8 p.m. in the upstairs conference room of Borough Hall. Meeting notices also are posted in Borough Hall.

Two to appear on TV program

Two members of the Union Chapter of the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation will appear on the television program "Good Morning New York" Monday in observance of National Diabetes Week.

They are Fran Del Sordo of Roselle and Waltraud Koch of Clark.

Diabetes is the third leading cause of death by disease in America, they said, ranking after heart disease and cancer. Ten million Americans suffer from diabetes, the chapter representatives said, many of them children.

Our computerized eye exam assures you of the right prescription

Remember all those "decisions, decisions" you had to make during your last eye test? Well, we now use a new "eye computer" in our office which makes the whole vision test easier, faster, and much more accurate. It was invented to test the NASA astronauts.

You simply look into the computer through a small window. Then, it instantly measures your eyes and prints out the calculations of any "visual errors" it finds. This computer data helps us prescribe glasses or contact lenses which will give you the sharpest vision possible. In fact, if you wear contact lenses, we can verify that they are the correct prescription, without even having to remove them.

Thus, our "eye computer" makes your exam go smoother. It also makes it very simple to examine little children, hard-of-hearing patients and others who have trouble communicating with the doctor.

To schedule your computerized eye exam, please call or visit our office soon.

Fall nature program to begin at Trailside

The Trailside Nature and Science Center will begin a series of autumn "Saturday Morning Investigations" this weekend. Advance registration is suggested for the popular children's nature adventures sponsored by the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation facility in the Watchung Reservation.

"Snakes, Fact and Fiction," aimed at students in the fourth through sixth grades, will open the series at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The following Saturday, Oct. 11, a special planetarium show for third through fifth graders, "Starway to the Stars," will focus on our planets and constellations.

"Fall Color Festival" will take to first, second and third graders into the Watchung Reservation to view the foliage and learn why summer's green leaves turn red, orange and yellow.

"Campercraft," again with a 10-child limit, will start at 10 a.m. Oct. 25. Fourth through sixth graders will learn the basics of camping, including building a camp fire, cooking, identifying wild edibles and survival.

Trailside, at Coles Avenue and New Providence Road, Mountainside, offers after-school activities for students in the third through ninth grades.

Those in the sixth through ninth grades will become "Trailside Rangers" who help the Watchung Reservation. Each Wednesday at 3:30 p.m., they garden, work on trails, care for animals or become involved in other projects.

Newcombe will address alcoholism unit's dinner

Former baseball great Don Newcombe, a recovered alcoholic, will address the annual dinner-benefit of the Union County Council on Alcoholism Friday, Nov. 17, at 7:30 p.m. at the Plainfield Country Club.

Mrs. Geraldine O. Delaney, executive director of Blairstown's Little-Hill Alina Lodge, also will speak, according to Mrs. Teresa McGeary, council director.

Newcombe, born in Rahway, was one of the first black players in major league baseball. He is the only player to receive the Rookie of the Year Award, National League Most Valuable Player Award and the Cy Young Award which, when he won it, was for the best pitcher in both major leagues.

Struck out by alcohol, Newcombe will discuss his dramatic comeback. Although alcoholism is among the leading fatal diseases in America, it is among the most neglected and most misunderstood, she said.

The Union County Council provides free counseling for the alcoholic and family members; it maintains an extensive educational program for schools and industry, operating as a private, non-profit health agency. The dinner-dance is its most important fund-raising event.

Tickets for the function, which will include music by the Matt Carnavaal orchestra, are $25 (tax-deductible). They may be obtained from the council, 300 North Ave. E., Westfield, or by calling 233-8810.

Republican trio calls for more jobs, industry

More jobs and more industry will be a top priority for the Union County Board of Freeholders if the Republicans win control in November, the three GOP candidates for the board said this week.

In the statement, Frank Lehr of Summit, Virginia McKenney of Roselle Park and Peter Okrasinski of Union promised to establish a special task force with representation from county departments.

The task force would work with municipalities and local chambers of commerce to start a "massive sales effort" to attract industry, business and jobs to the county, they said.

Lehr charged that the Democratic majority has "failed miserably to address itself to this essential need." McKenney called attracting industry to the county "the key...to fighting the high unemployment of the Democrats" and Okrasinski said the county needs "jobs, jobs and more jobs—not new featherbedding political patronage jobs but productive jobs in the private sector."

Democrats call for retaining budget control

Joan D. Allen, Dexter Martin and Herman Schreiber, Democratic candidates for Union County Board of Freeholders, this week called for "a strong stand to reverse the trend away from freeholder accountability on budget matters."

Allen, a Cranford resident, urged Union County to join Bergen and Passaic in seeking legislative action "to put control of the budget back in the hands of the county officials."

Martin, of Elizabeth, charged that the result of a recent trend in court decisions has been to place "growing portions of the budget...out of the control of the county officials."

Schreiber, also a resident of Elizabeth, added, "The key problem is that control of the budget should not be outside the control of elected officials. In essence, it is a question of accountability."

United Ostomy unit
The United Ostomy Association will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Schering-Plough Corp., Galloping Hill Road, Kenilworth.

Dr. Warren H. Knauer of the Wuester Clinic, Elizabeth, will be the guest speaker.

Msgr. Francis X. Coyle to be honored at event

The Newark Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women, Union-Westfield District, will hold its annual fashion show luncheon Saturday at the Westwood, North Avenue, Garwood. Mrs. Mary Caruso of Linden, toastmistress of the affair, has announced that the group will honor its moderator, Msgr. Francis X. Coyle of St. James Roman Catholic Church, Springfield.

Elegance is offered at Park Ridge Estates

The formal opening of Park Ridge Estates, a collection of prestigious homes for affluent families in suburban Cedar Grove, brings a new dimension in elegant living to West Essex. The developer, Paragano Enterprises of Short Hills, brings to the new community the amenities associated with elegant living.

Larry Paragano, President of Paragano Enterprises, has built executive-priced homes in the Essex, Morris and Union county areas with more than 300 homes constructed in Short Hills alone. The current price range of these homes is in excess of $300,000 each. A quality builder for more than a quarter century, he brings to Cedar Grove the same emphasis on excellence.

Homes at Park Ridge Estates are priced in the $250,000 range and are custom designed and built on over-sized lots high atop Second Mountain. The site of the prestigious community of executive homes overlooks the surrounding countryside and affords a view of the New York City skyline.

Paragano, who has brought to the area such quality communities as The Oaks at Short Hills, White Oaks at Short Hills, Paragon Park West at Short Hills and Paragon Park North at Short Hills, brings to Cedar Grove a new standard of elegance—quite, Belgian block-curbed streets and gently rolling terrain.

Perhaps the single most important fact which underscores his excellent reputation as a quality builder is that he has built the private homes of 12 other builders.

Perhaps—widest known for his prestigious homes in Short Hills, The Oaks, White Oaks, Paragon Park West, and Paragon Park North, he has built extensively in the Essex, Morris and Union County areas, not just houses, but subdivision work and installation of all the necessary utilities and roads. This is the case at Park Ridge Estates in Cedar Grove where homes are set on heavily wooded lots and where he has already installed all underground utilities and Belgian-block curbed roadways in Section I.

Paragano, who owns and manages numerous apartments and office buildings, as well as shopping centers and industrial buildings, has testified as a real estate and construction expert in court cases and before planning boards and boards of adjustment. He has testified before state Assembly sub-committees and state agencies on builder licensing, housing warranties and environmental and flood plain legislation on behalf of the New Jersey Home Builders Association, he has served as numerous committees for the state and held high positions for local organizations.

Paragano also has found time to become a real estate broker and operate WOODED LOCATION—Set on beautiful heavily wooded homesites and surrounded by rolling hills the homes of Park Ridge Estates will feature, depending on model, such amenities as textured hallmark roof, zoned warm air heat, air conditioning, sodded lawn fireplaces, Pella insulated windows, metal insulated entry doors, paneled doors, quarry tile in entry foyer, cathedral ceiling, full basement and two-car garage. The homes are priced in the mid-$200,000 range. To reach Park Ridge Estates, take Route 80 or 46 to Route 23 South (Becomes Pompton Avenue). Proceed South about two miles to Vincent Road and turn left to the models.

a real estate office as well as a development firm. He was one of the original incorporators of The Inter-Community Bank, Springfield, and has been chairman of the bank since it opened. He also has found time to serve on the following: Environmental Commission of Millburn; Rent Control Advisory Board of Millburn; Police Department Building Committee of Millburn; trustees of the Livingston Library Endowment Trust; Advisory Council of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church; Member of the New Jersey State Construction Safety Council.

He is a man for all seasons—a master builder, a man who contributes to his community.

The Esplanade combines the old and new

New Jersey's newest condominium. The Esplanade, a seven-story condominium conversion, the first in Asbury Park, is offering one- and two-bedroom homes from $49,900 to $148,300. The apartments, which combine the charm and elegance of natural wood parquet floors and high ceilings with modern energy-saving electric heat and weather-protected balconies, is just two blocks from the boardwalk and Convention Hall.

Adeline Schofel of Deal, the head of Jelinrich Realty Corp., who has gained an enviable reputation for successful seashore condominium conversions, last year acquired the 50-unit Sunset Terrace Apartments, facing Sunset Lake and Sunset Park, renamed it The Esplanade and has recently completed extensive renovations and improvements. The complex was completed 25 years ago in the classic Bauhaus design. Its beauty of architecture has now been enhanced with a swimming pool and enclosed garden, as well as a circular entry drive with covered canopy and door-mat service with intercom to all apartments.

Schofel stated, "Its elegance is evident not only in the porte cochere, but in the spacious lobby and elegantly proportioned rooms. Such generous sized interiors, which boasts spacious kitchens, combination living and dining rooms, plus country kitchen-dinette arrangements, are rarely found in apartments."

Floor plans for the apartments, ranging from the one-bedroom Ascot to the plush penthouses, have areas somewhat similar to spacious ranch houses set within the mid-rise complex.

More than a half million dollars has been spent on installing new electrical heat pumps for energy-efficient heating and cooling systems, replacing standard windows with thermal glass, and major renovation work from lobby to apartments. Today, it is a showcase of elegant living in a seashore resort.

It is a prestigious address at 321 Sunset Ave. in North Asbury Park. Buyers may have their units finished to their own specifications, since they will own the apartments. Additionally, ownership is more affordable because of an excellent mortgage plan which offers 8 1/2 percent interest and payments as low as $397.80 per month for principal and interest.

Buyers now have a chance to purchase a condominium at prices which are the best in the area. It is expected that prices will rise in the months ahead. Purchase at these low prices will give all the advantages of home ownership including the attendant tax deductions on their federal income returns for mortgage interest and local taxes. Additionally, buyers gain in equity with each payment. The initial investment or down payment is lower than for a conventional single-family home and the monthly payments are low enough for young or retired couples.

What buyers purchase at The Esplanade is a touch of elegance at the seashore at a price they can afford. It combines year-round home ownership with exciting vacation atmosphere. Through all seasons, residents may enjoy spectacular ocean views. Moreover, the private walled-in garden encompasses the swimming pool area to create a swim-club atmosphere during warm weather months. In addition to the pool, which will be heated, a spa is planned — including a whirlpool, a sauna and changing rooms. The pool is scheduled for completion late this month. Nearby, will be the Esplanade Entertainment Center featuring barbecues, umbrella tables and decorator furniture.

Within the exclusive privacy of the canopied front entry, each apartment has been designed to provide an abundance of comfort and airiness. Rooms are graciously proportioned and the terraces extend the living space to the out-of-doors.

There are 40 one- and two-bedroom apartments, six penthouses and four professional suites. The carpeted hallways are interior decorated. Wood-burning fireplaces are optional in the penthouses.

The available four models include the Ascot, the Brandywine, the Fairmont, and the Georgetown. All feature spacious kitchens with custom-designed cabinets, laminated plastic countertops, breakfast-serving bar pass-through to dining room, two-door no-frost refrigerator-freezer, four-cycle dishwasher, garbage disposal, range with self-cleaning oven, vented range hood and decorator vinyl flooring. They feature classic oak parquet floors throughout the ceramic tiled baths.

With the exception of the Ascot, all models have been designed with an exceptionally large walk-in closet, which some residents have converted to home office space, possible because of its enormous size. The Ascot features a slightly smaller walk-in closet.

The Ascot has three and a half rooms and a bath, as well as a private weather-protected terrace, a bedroom with closets, a large living room, dining room and large kitchen. There's also an entry foyer, and abundant closets for all uses.

The Brandywine boasts two bedrooms, plus bath, powder room, spacious living room and terrace. There's also an entry foyer and assorted closets.

The Fairmont has four rooms, plus bath and a powder room and terrace. As with the other models, it has the same kitchen foyer, spacious rooms and abundant closet space. The bedroom features twin closet.

The Georgetown has five rooms, including two bedrooms plus full bath, a powder room and terrace. A full bath services the sleeping wing of the home. Entrance is via a foyer to the dining room, kitchen and living room.

There are private garages and on-site reserved parking, plus doorman and intercom service to each apartment. Maintenance of the common property, the lobby and the two self-service elevators to the pool as well as the enclosed garden, is taken care of by the management. Maintenance cost per month are expected to be in the $160 range.

"Condominium apartments in The Esplanade are just about as close to the ocean as you can get without buying oceanfront property," explains Mrs. Schofel. She says purchase of a condominium apartment in The Esplanade is not only a smart move for its esthetic value but for an economic one. There is a lack of land for development along the shore and because of government regulations, development of beachfront property is prohibited. Moreover, the cost of building homes in today's real estate market places the average home price beyond the pocket-book of most young families and retirees. Condominium apartments offer the solution to both ends of the market.

The Esplanade sales office is located at the lobby level and is open seven days a week. The sales and information office and model apartments are open until 7 p.m. on weekends.

The reach of The Esplanade, lake Garden State Parkway to Exit 105 and at the first circle (Monmouth Mall), turn right (South) onto Route 35. Continue South on Route 35 for approximately 4 miles to Sunset Avenue. Turn left on Sunset Avenue (toward the oceanfront) for two miles. The Esplanade is on the left, opposite Sunset Lake.

Convenience available at new Colonial Acres

A prime location, excellent transportation, shopping in the immediate area and quality construction continue to make Colonial Acres at Freehold a winning combination. But the major attraction may be the financing package that guarantees a 12 1/2 percent interest even if the rate is higher at time of closing. If the interest is lower at that time, then that's the rate the buyer closes at.

"There are no strings and no additional costs," said Arnold Silverman and Henry Opalut of American Planned Communities Inc., developers of the 260-house community. "As far as we can determine, Colonial Acres is the only housing subdivision in the area with this offer."

Besides the starting offer, Colonial Acres also offers an excellent graduated mortgage plan which is attractive to many home seekers since it enables them to qualify for a house and have lower payments over the first year. The guaranteed conventional 12 1/2 percent rate is for 30 years and assures the buyer of no extra costs over the term of the mortgage.

These financing packages have contributed to the late summer sales spurt at Colonial Acres where homes are still available from $94,990.

"But not for long," the developers said, determined to hold the price line for as long as possible. "Costs for labor, lumber and other materials keep increasing and we will have to follow suit with our prices shortly."

At Colonial Acres, which is at Pond Road and Route 9, the developers are showing Colonial two-story homes with three, four and five bedrooms.

to move into the community this summer, with the 13th homeowner taking occupancy in late August. Other buyers are slated to take deliveries through the fall and into early winter.

Along with the financing terms, Colonial Acres has a prime location, convenient transportation, recreation facilities, schools for all, and shopping in the immediate area.

Colonial Acres is ideally located for commuting to North Jersey and New York, with bus service originating from Route 9 and rail transportation 10 minutes away. Manalapan Mall and Pond Road shopping centers are only a block from the community, and the township has a recreation program for all age groups. Facilities for tennis, racquetball, golf and more are in the immediate area, and public and parochial schools also are in the community.

Pincus is appointed

The recent appointment of Daniel Pincus to the presidency of Berkeley Financial Corporation marks a new high point in the career of this youthful Toms River resident, and a fresh commitment on Berkeley's part to expanded activity in residential real estate. Dan Pincus comes to this position from Countrywide Development Corp., Red Bank, where he served as vice president for operations. Earlier, he was Director of Construction at Crestwood Village in Manchester Township.

Berkeley Financial is a subsidiary of the Berkeley Federal Savings and Loan Association of Short Hills, one of the fastest growing S & L's in the United States. In announcing Pincus' appointment, the parent company's chief executive officer, Richard K. Gartenberg, noted, "We view the creation of quality housing as a natural extension of our financial services to the public and the building industry. Dan Pincus brings us the kind of creative management experience in this industry which can help Berkeley Financial broaden its service to the community and enhance its effectiveness—both as a source of financing and as a co-venturer in worthy development projects."

One such co-venture, with which Pincus is currently occupied, is the newly opened townhouse community of Liberty Greens in Convent Station, developed jointly with the Harry Olstein Organization. According to Pincus, "Liberty Greens is a perfect example of the direction we are setting for Berkeley Financial. It's the newest, and I think, finest of our real estate developments and it clearly reflects our commitment to environmental planning, financial management, and construction of the highest quality."

Crestwood Communities has help for the retiree

A coordinated effort to counteract the effects of "gloom and doom" on all aspects of the shelter industry was launched with a high-level seminar recently at Crestwood Communities. Spokesmen for the home construction, mortgage financing and marketing segments agreed that "despite the doom-sayers and gloom-spreaders, America will continue to grow. This country will still be here on Jan. 1, 1981, and people will still be living in homes."

Adding to the note of optimism that pervaded the conference on housing for retirees, David S. Wolff, marketing director of the retirement community on Route 530, Whiting, underscored its faith in the housing market by unveiling its new "no risk, no nonsense guarantee" to buyers of its retirement homes.

In his welcoming remarks to the conclave, Wolff pointed out that a common stumbling block to a retiree's purchase of home better suited to his new lifestyle is the difficulty in disposing of his older home—too big, too costly to maintain, located in an older neighborhood. To combat this, he announced the formation of a cooperative network of independent realtors throughout New Jersey to list the retiree's older home for sale, and offered a hitherto unprecedented guarantee to refund every penny of a purchase deposit at Crestwood if those brokers failed to produce a customer for the retiree's present home in that state at an acceptable price, within a specified time.

Full text of the guarantee, printed in Crestwood advertising in New Jersey editions, and offered to prospects in writing at Crestwood's sales center is: "We guarantee delivery of your Crestwood home on the date promised—at today's price—even if you don't move in until next year; we will help sell your present home in New Jersey at top market value, when prices appear at their peak, no longer climbing; we will help to procure financing to expedite sale of your present home. Mortgage funds are now available and interest rates have dropped; but in our exclusive network of cooperating real estate brokers fails to produce a buyer for your present home—at a price to your satisfaction—we will refund your Crestwood deposit in full. You can't lose a penny."

Crestwood Communities is currently showing 14 models, priced from $308 to the $70s, at its Exhibit Area on Route 530, 10 miles west of Garden State Parkway, Toms River Exit 80. Fully furnished samples are open 7 days a week from 9 to 6.

Adamo Homes plans outdoor country fair

Bob Adamo, president of Adamo Homes Inc., Old Tappan, and developer-builder of custom homes, will celebrate the grand opening of his newest single-family luxury community—Cobblestone Crossing in Norwood—by sponsoring a country fair at the 28-acre site Saturday and Sunday.

Visitors will have the opportunity to tour the models of Colonial, Tudor and contemporary homes, offered from $168,000, and sample seasonal refreshments such as apple cider, while being entertained by a Dixieland band, Clowns, balloons and cotton candy will all be part of the carnival atmosphere. "It will certainly be a very proud weekend for Adamo Homes," said Adamo. "The grand opening of our Cobblestone Crossing community is another milestone for our organization."

"I extend personal invitation to those in the Bergen County area to drop by and join in the festivities. With the end of the summer vacation season, our outdoor fair will be an enjoyable way to spend an autumn afternoon close to home."

Located on the heart of Norwood, the new Adamo community offers a country atmosphere with all the practical conveniences necessary for family living. Tucked away on quiet cul-de-sacs, the distinctive homes are just minutes away from shopping, entertainment, medical facilities, public transportation and places of worship. A fully equipped children's recreation area is just one of the features of the family environment.

Adamo noted that weekend visitors might be especially interested in seeing a Tudor model home's interior design, created by Bloom- ingdale's of New York. According to Richard Ryan, director of Bloom- ingdale's interior design department who coorminated the work, the Tudor model reflects "the distinctive Begen County lifestyle." Natural substances such as brass, wood, and glass, and fresh dramatic coloration have been incorporated, he added.

Ryan will attend the grand opening fair on Sunday and will offer useful information about interior design procedures. To visit Cobblestone Crossing to see the wide selection of home sites still available, take Livingston Street in Norwood, north to South Avenue. Turn left, and look for the community's entrance. Sales personnel are available daily from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. For those interested in obtaining more information about the grand opening or the Cobblestone community of homes, call 768-0510.

Couples became friends at Greenbriar II homes

Two couples with similar interests who lived a block from each other for 25 years in Cliffside Park have finally met—as neighbors in Greenbriar II, an adult community of Burnt Tavern in Brick Town, created by U.S. Home Corp.

The believe-it-or-not saga came to light recently when the Alfred Carrelles and Frank Bitondos were named co-chairmen of the Recreation Activities Committee in the single-family home community.

It was only then that they discovered they had been neighbors for a quarter of a century, had children of approximately the same age, had traveled extensively, enjoyed similar hobbies—even had purchased the same model home, the two-bedroom Everest, at Greenbriar II.

Two-bedroom homes with attached garages, spacious living rooms, formal dining areas, kitchens equipped with the most modern appliances, convenient laundry room with washer-dryer and "extras" such as air conditioning, wall-to-wall carpeting and more are featured at Greenbriar, starting in the low $70s.

Greenbriar II, located across Burnt Tavern Road from another U.S. Home community, is off exit 91 of the Garden State Parkway.

A distinguished community of quality homes amidst choice wooded lots in a prestige suburban location.

Sleepy Hollow homes priced within reach

Just about the time when most prospective home buyers have become convinced that the home of their dreams is now priced well beyond their reach, along comes Sleepy Hollow to prove that "it ain't necessarily so."

Now nearing the grand opening of its first section, Sleepy Hollow is a community of 97 condominium townhomes and apartment homes that is conveniently located to almost every business, social and recreational activity in the Northern New Jersey-New York City metropolitan area. The site is practically on the western bank of the Passaic River, right off Route 21 in Nutley. By car, residents can reach the office buildings, theatres, fine restaurants and all the other exciting activities of Manhattan in approximately 15 minutes. About 20 minutes if they take the bus that's within walking distance of the homes.

Those who prefer to stay on the New Jersey side for their work or recreation have just as many recreation and travel opportunities. Adjoining Sleepy Hollow is a public recreation area with tennis and basketball courts, jogging paths and secluded areas for picnicking. The Meadowlands Sports Complex is a five-minute drive away. And the area is dotted with golf courses, tennis clubs and parks.

Commuters, too, will find Sleepy Hollow's location ideal. It's situated about seven minutes away from the New Jersey Turnpike or the Garden State Parkway. About three minutes from Route 3. About seven minutes from Route 17. And about 15 minutes from Newark via Route 21.

Sleepy Hollow is offering a wide choice of two-level townhomes and one-level apartment homes with one, two and three bedrooms and with one, one-and-a-half and two baths.

According to William Govel, president of Century 21/Govel Realty, the exclusive sales agent for Sleepy Hollow, the community was planned to appeal to diverse segments of the housing market. "We literally have something for everybody," Govel pointed out to a recent visitor. "As a matter of fact, over 50% of our first section is already sold, even before our Grand Opening. Our one- and two-bedroom townhomes and apartment homes are ideal for young marrieds as well as for those families who no longer need their big home because their children are grown. And our two- and three-bedroom townhomes are, of course, just right for growing families."

Prices at Sleepy Hollow range from $65,900 to $96,900. "The builders of Sleepy Hollow," added Govel, "aimed to build luxury residences in a conveniently located area at prices and terms that most families could afford. I believe they succeeded in doing just that."

For those interested in seeing Sleepy Hollow, the community may be reached by taking Route 3 to the Route 21 South. Go South on Route 21 to Park Avenue exit in Nutley. AL... The book has called the exit, turn left onto River Road and proceed to park Avenue (first traffic in light). Continue across Park Avenue on River Road for about 300 feet to the Sleepy Hollow entrance on the right. The information and Sales Office is open seven days a week from 12 to 5. For information by phone, call (201) 751-7500.

Novel out- by Szold is popular

There is no better place to start a literary career than on home ground—and that is exactly what Barbara Szold has done with her first novel, "PROMISES," an Ace paperback that is reported selling as fast as it is placed on the stands.

Szold—known to builders of the Garden State Parkway for more than a decade as Barbara Szold Sloan, president of Wavemakers Inc., promotional and condominium consulting firm now located in Lakewood—has gone public with the positive story of homebuilding in the early 1970's in coastal New Jersey—the time of the housing boom, with expansion of giant homebuilding companies and many going public—or attempting to.

Within this framework familiar to homebuilders, she weaves an exciting tale of a working woman, fighting her way in the business world while raising children alone. The book stresses the tremendous changes in the lives of today's women, and will relate strongly to all working women.

Not only is "PROMISES" an ideal production for development and housing marketing, but also an introduction to an area unusually relevant to all Americans—the vital homebuilding industry in environmentalists.

The main characters take on a reflection of the novelist and her own marketing work during that period, but Szold stresses that it is a work of fiction. She also admits that there may be guesswork among the N.J. homebuilding industry, but she says she is not trying to label specific characters within the novel; those characters, she says, are conglomerates of ideas and activities that typify the whole rather than any one specific.

The book has called attention to what goes on in the homebuilding industry, a pulsating world of astronomical profits in the circle of the 20th century land barons whose fortunes are built from turning raw land into model homes—the promise of fulfillment of the Great American Dream of home ownership.

Olympic films

Films on electronic technology and the 1980 Winter Olympics have been made available to schools, service clubs and community organizations by New Jersey Bell.

The pageantry and drama of the Lake Place Games is depicted in "Global Arena," which offers a behind-the-scenes look at the Bell System's role in transforming a small village into an international sports arena.

Short segments of various sporting events were filmed to include the way the events were transmitted throughout the world via a complex system of telecommunications. The film lasts 24 minutes.

"Microworld" traces the electronics revolution from the invention of the transistor at Bell Laboratories to today's miniature electronic technology and how it is being put to use in today's rapidly-changing world. The film runs 15 minutes.

Both films are part of New Jersey Bell's library of more than 160 productions available for booking free of charge. The 16 mm sound films range from seven minutes to an hour. They deal with a variety of subjects—from science and safety to places and people; most are described in a "Program Planner" available free by calling 649-2012.

Since the demand for these films is high, it is recommended that groups make booking arrangements as far in advance as possible.

Although most films may be picked up at New Jersey Bell PhoneCenter stores or business offices, customers who are more than 10 miles from the nearest pick-up office are offered free, one-way UPS delivery service.

Exhibit reflects politics of past

Gimmicks and gadgets from past American political campaigns are on exhibit at quarters of the New Jersey Historical Society, 230 Broadway, Newark.

The display will continue through Nov. 4, election day. The Society is open free to the public from noon to 4:15 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Among the oldest items in the exhibit are a letter written in 1800 by New Jersey Rep. Aaron Kitchel supporting Jefferson against Adams on grounds that Adams would raise taxes, and a Federalist publication denouncing Jefferson as unfit for the presidency because of his "disbelief of the Holy Scripture."

From the 1888 campaign comes a ceramic novelty with the figures of Harrison and Cleveland at the opposite ends of a balance, showing Cleveland "weighed in the balance and found wanting."

From 1844 there is a Clay-Frelinghuysen banner, and from 1860 a Lincoln-Hamlin "torchlight" made of tin and wood, and inscribed by the "Orange Wideawakes."

Representing the modern era is a variety of buttons, key rings and accessories such as an apron, tie, bandana, gloves and stickpin—all backing Eisenhower.

Cartoonist Lute Pease is represented by a 1948 drawing showing Dewey about to tackle Truman.

Musicians needed

The Fairleigh Dickinson University Symphony Orchestra on the Florham-Madison campus is seeking musicians for its string and wind sections.

Rehearsals are held on Thursdays between 5:50 and 8 p.m. in the Leonard Dreyfuss College building. The first concert is scheduled for Dec. 7.

Additional information is available from Herman L. Dash, associate conductor, at 377-4700 extension 389 or 366-9082.

Pick of the LP's—"Rene & Angela" (Capitol-12077). Rene Moore and Angela Winbush met in the fall of 1977, introduced by a mutual friend, singer Carolyn Dennis. By February, 1978, they'd decided to form a duo, made a tape the following month, then began their search for a label. Within a year, they'd signed to Capitol Records.

A native of Los Angeles, Calif., Rene was to the manner of music born. One of his brothers is Rufus' bassist Bobby Watson and while still in high school, Rene performed in various rock and R&B bands with his friends Louis and George, now The Brothers Johnson.

In 1976, while studying court reporting and music at Cerritos College and performing in a group for the SCLU's Operation Breadbasket, Rene was invited to join the Los Angeles Philharmonic's minority training program. To date, he has written several pieces orchestrated and performed by the Philharmonic and, through the program, has performed with such artists as Ella Fitzgerald, Sarah Vaughan, Billy Eckstine and John Denver. And he's also collected quite a few credits as a session performer on his own. Growing up half a continent away, Angela too was raised in a family whose avocation was music—in this case, gospel music. At 17, she left St. Louis to earn a teaching credential at Howard University in Washington, D.C. Between classes, she and two other students formed a trio which, during its brief year of existence, proved professional enough to open for Al Jarreau and Van McCoy and play a few dates in New York City.

Graduating Howard, Angela spent a few months singing backup for Jean Carne, then on tour with Redd Foxx, then moved to California. Once in Los Angeles, she began to work the session circuit, performing with such artists as Dolly Parton and Lenny Williams. (At one point, she turned down Bob Dylan's offer to sing and play keyboards with his group on "Slow Train Comin'.")

Discussing their present and future, Rene enthuses: "We want to be a duo that can sing aggressive, funky songs as well as ballads and exercise both our abilities as keyboardists as well. Most of the songs on 'Rene and Angela' are originals."

Group aids spouses of victims of strokes

Kessler Institute for Rehabilitation in West Orange has announced plans to organize a self-help group for spouses of stroke victims.

The first meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 14, at the Millburn Library, 200 Glen Ave. (off Lackawanna Road), Millburn. There is no charge.

Dr. Roy Grzesiak, director of psychology, will supervise the group.

He pointed that that, when someone suffers a stroke, "drastic changes" can result in family life and relationships.

"Of necessity, the needs of the patient become dominant while those of the person upon whom the responsibility rests are totally overlooked," he said.

The group is being organized to give participants an opportunity to share problems and feelings and "overcome the sense of isolation brought about by the sudden disruption in their family life," he said.

Since registration is limited, he added, those interested should call the Kessler Institute for Rehabilitation (731-3600; ext. 299) as soon as possible.

Jobless pay benefit rise slated for 1981

Weekly maximum benefits for unemployment insurance in New Jersey will be increased $10 to $133 next year, according to John J. Horn, state Labor and Industry commissioner. The maximum also applies to temporary disability insurance.

Horn said the new maximum, established under a formula in the state's Unemployment Compensation Law, will be applied to all unemployment insurance benefit years and all new periods of disability starting on or after Jan. 1, 1981.

He also announced that the maximum amount of wages subject to the New Jersey payroll tax for unemployment and disability insurance purposes has been set at $7,500 for the 1981 calendar year.

Because weekly benefits represent a percentage of the claimant's average earnings, not all claimants will receive the maximum benefits. Only those whose wages averaged more than $198 will be eligible for the maximum. The lowest weekly unemployment insurance payment is $20; the minimum payment for disability insurance is $10.

Arthur J. O'Neal Jr., assistant commissioner for income security, explained that the maximum and taxable wage base are geared to the average weekly wage paid to workers protected by the law. The 1981 rates are based on the average weekly wage figure for 1979, computed to be $265.35.

"The electric car promises Americans affordable, clean and efficient transportation," Bradley said in the Senate when he introduced the bill. "Mass production of these vehicles would enable us to reduce air pollution, cutting oil imports and creating new job for Americans."

He noted that U.S. and foreign automakers are "starting to take the electric vehicle's potential seriously," citing efforts by General Motors, Chrysler, Toyota and Volkswagen to develop battery-powered models which could travel 50 to 60 mph for 150 or more miles before needing to be recharged.

"Together, these firms have the mass marketing potential to deliver hundreds of thousands of electric vehicles within a few years," he said. "In the meantime, motorists increasingly will be able to take advantage of 'conversion cars' gasoline vehicles converted to electric. Although presently there is only a handful of companies converting combustion engines to electric, the number is bound to grow."

"A tax credit would promote these trends by stimulating consumer interest in the electric car and by making the cost of these vehicles more fully competitive with standard automobiles."

The New Jersey senator, a member of the Senate Energy Committee, pointed out that electric cars would be far less costly to operate and maintain, compared to conventional models.

Under his measure, a tax credit of 15 percent or up to $1,500 would be available for individuals who purchase a four-passenger electric car or convert a gas-powered model to electric. For two-passenger models, the tax credit would be 10 percent with a $1,000 maximum.

Preliminary industry estimates put the retail cost for production in 1984-85 at $8,000 to $10,000 for the larger models, between $7,000 and $8,000 for the smaller cars.

Bradley said he was proposing the bigger tax credit for the larger automobile "to encourage manufacturers to build an acceptable electric alternative to the typical
