Council delays accepting resignation from Benford

By MIKE KINNEY

Citing personal and professional circumstances, Councilman Timothy Benford has resigned from the Borough Council position he has held for nearly four years.

His letter of resignation was read by Mayor Thomas Ricciardi at Tuesday's meeting. The governing body, however, took no action on it.

In the letter, which was received by the mayor the previous day, Benford told the council he would consider the resignation to be effective immediately, as soon as it is accepted by the council. But Ricciardi said, "I would like to have the opportunity to meet with the governing body and other Republican leaders (from the borough) in order to pursue this in whatever way fitting."

The mayor explained that, in the meetings with council members and other persons, he will discuss the procedure for filling a vacated council seat.

Borough Attorney John Post told the mayor that, when the seat becomes vacant, the mayor can nominate a replacement for Benford.

Ricciardi said that although he had received Benford's letter only the day before, he saw no sense "in my not acknowledging this to the public," since a replacement would have to be chosen.

Benford, reached at his home, said that his decision to resign was one he had been seriously pondering for more than a month. He explained that his professional workload has recently increased so tremendously that it would not be fair to the citizens of the borough to continue on the governing body.

"I came to the realization that my professional workload was too great for me to continue in the only way I know how—a total commitment," Benford said. He continued: "If I'm involved in something, I want to do it and do it right. I think that now we should let someone else step in and do the work; we have an abundance of qualified people in this borough who could do a fine job."

Benford, who works for the public relations firm of Morris Silver Services Inc., said that, along with this work, he has recently had two books published, with five additional works to follow. Benford also said that he has "come into some personal good fortune" in other business proposals and that at present "my time is pretty well metered out to the minute. I simply feel that I can no longer serve the community to my fullest extent." He added: "There comes a time when you've got to ask yourself, who's kidding who? I know what my responsibilities are and I feel that if I were to continue, I would only be fooling myself. I want to leave before it gets any worse."

Benford said that the mayor had been aware of his situation because, he said, "as the ranking member of the governing body, I felt it was only fair and proper to let him know what my position was." Benford added: "I know that now a great burden falls on his (the mayor's) shoulders. I regret that I won't be there to serve anymore, because it's been rewarding, and I would do it all over again. However, I've looked at what's ahead for me and I have decided to pursue this career goal."

Regional board joins movement to raise legal drinking age to 21

By J. W. BURNETT

The regional Board of Education has joined North Plainfield and other boards of education throughout the state in an effort to raise the drinking age to 21.

In its meeting Tuesday night, the board joined the Borough of North Plainfield in passing a resolution that "the drinking age be increased to 21 so the tragedy of the decision to lower the drinking age will be forever erased."

After passing the original resolution, North Plainfield sent copies to every board of education in the state and to Gov. Thomas Kean, asking for support.

The resolution quotes statistics from the Department of Motor Vehicles reporting "that motor vehicle accidents involving young drivers have tripled in the state since the legal drinking age was lowered from 21 to 18."

These young drivers, the resolution says, amount to "five percent of registered drivers" yet are responsible for "15 percent of accidents that are alcohol-related accidents."

Charles Vitale, board president, said: "I think it is the sincere feeling of the entire board that raising the drinking age will help to save the lives of the young people."

"In addition," said Vitale, "it will be a step in creating an attitude of acceptance of some of the moral standards that prevailed at one time."

Vitale said raising the drinking age should "start to put our young people back to the station in life where they deservedly belong."

In other business, the board heard a report from Thomas Baker, coordinator of computer operations and instruction, on the regional system's instructional and administrative computers.

Baker outlined the instructional, or teaching, efforts of the regional schools as well as the current status of the board's own administrative computer system.

Baker said computer instruction in the regional schools began in 1963 with a pilot course using teletype-like machines that were connected to computers over phone lines.

Over the years, the equipment at the disposal of the regional students has become more sophisticated. Today all the regional schools connect to a computer housed in the Arthur L. Johnson High School in Clark.

Currently two courses are given in the regional schools, Computer Science I and II. Each course lasts half the marking period and is usually taken in the junior year.

In the future, Baker said, he would like to see more emphasis on "computer literacy" for all high school students. He added that he is now trying to form an operational definition of the concept from three common interpretations of the phrase.

Baker's first definition of computer literacy was "if the student understands the capabilities and possible use of a computer as well as its limitations."

The second interpretation Baker gave is "if a student is able to operate the computer and answer questions." He added that in this definition it is not necessary for a student to actually write a program.

The third definition of computer literacy is "if the student has the ability to program the computer to follow a sequence of instructions to solve a problem he wants done."

A working definition for the regional schools of computer literacy would probably involve the last two definitions, Baker said.

The goal behind this is to introduce all regional high school students to computers. Baker said he is "definitely looking at the concept and concerned that graduates are computer literate."

The board also was told of plans to run a new computer program that would teach a new computer language. Baker said he is "presently studying the possibility of recommending that we provide instruction in an additional high-level language, PASCAL."

The board itself is also learning about computers. Many board activities such as grade and attendance reporting, scheduling, accounting, payroll and personnel record keeping are now being shifted to a board-owned computer.

Already the accounting system has been installed and the student record-keeping system is almost ready. Installation of the payroll and personnel accounting systems will begin this summer.

Date is announced for cheese program

Kenneth S. Meyers, chairman of the Westfield-Mountain Side Chapter of the American Red Cross, has announced that needy families in Westfield and Mountain Side will be eligible to receive five pounds of American cheese on Saturday, Feb. 27 at the Westfield Municipal Building from 10 a.m. to noon, in the Civil Defense Room. Entrance to this room can be gained from side basement staircase. The distribution for Mountain Side will be held at the Mountain Side Borough Hall from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

The cheese, a portion of the almost one million pounds designated to New Jersey's needy families by the Federal Government, will be available on a one-family basis to those who are presently receiving food stamps, SSI, AFDC and general assistance.

Identification of participation in these programs is necessary.

Red Cross has coordinated the project in New Jersey at the request of the state Department of Agriculture. Based on their proportion of needy families, each of the 21 counties will receive an allotment of the cheese, which will be distributed during the coming weeks. There is only enough cheese to reach approximately seven out of 10 eligible families, so it will be distributed on a first-come-first-served basis.

The Westfield Department of Human Services and the Welfare Department of Mountain Side and service organization volunteers are cooperating in the distribution of the cheese.

Music groups raise funds

To raise money for special activities, students at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School held the annual Music Department Marathon on Feb. 6 from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The Concert Choir, Chorale, Vocal Workshop and soloists, under the direction of Ed Shiley, alternated performances with the instrumental groups, including the concert band, marching band, jazz ensemble and indoor guard, under the direction of Jeffrey Anderson.

Each student was sponsored by friends, neighbors and families who pledged for each hour of the marathon. The performance raised money for the groups and also provided practice for their upcoming concerts.

19 named to 'Who's Who'

Nineteen students from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School have been named to the 1981 Who's Who in Music, which each year lists the most outstanding high school musicians in the nation.

The school's nominating committee picked students based on their music ability, academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extra-curricular activities and future potential.

This year's selections are: John E. Agey; Jono Brown; Cindy Caivano; Jeff Drood; Nancy Hammel; Brian Hendrix; Julia Klubenspies; Mike

AAUW plans trip

The Mountain Side branch of the American Association of University Women plans an evening at the Meadowlands Friday, April 23, at 6:30 p.m. A prime ribs dinner, tax and gratuity, and entrance fee are included in the $19.50 cost. Members and guests have been invited.

Further information is available from the AAUW, 686-8847.

RECOGNIZED BY PBA—Sgt. James Debbie Jr., left, is congratulated by PBA president John Olock on receiving a Silver Life Membership card. Detective Sgt. Jerry Rice received a card for completing 20 years with the Police Department, and Robert Connelly of L'Affaire Restaurant, received an honorary Silver Life Membership card, the highest award a civilian can receive, for his contributions to the PBA. The men were recognized at the PBA's annual dinner-dance, at the Tower Steak House.

PBA holds annual dinner-dance

The Mountain Side PBA Local 126 and the Mountain Side Honorary PBA held its annual dinner-dance Saturday Jan. 30 at the Tower Steak House. The affair, organized by James Debbie Sr., is held to honor both members of the Police Department and citizens who have earned special recognition. George L. Benninger acted as master of ceremonies.

Former Honorary President Steve

Eskoff and his wife, Julie, were honored guests. A plaque was presented to Eskoff by Vincent J. Vitello, president of the Honorary PBA, in appreciation of Eskoff's efforts on behalf of the organization. His wife received a flower arrangement.

PBA president John Olock presented Silver Life Membership cards to Sgt. James Debbie Jr., former president of the PBA, and to Detective Sgt. Jerry Rice, for completing 20 years of service with the department. An Honorary Silver Life Membership card, the highest award a civilian can receive, was presented to Robert Connelly of L'Affaire restaurant, for his contributions to the PBA.

Detective Stephen Semancik received a plaque and a Merit Achievement Award from Police Chief William Alder for outstanding performance of his duties as a member of the Mountain Side Police Department.

Course at mall to review SATs

A "High Scores S.A.T. Preparation Workshop" will be sponsored by Abraham and Straus Department Store, the Mall at Short Hills, over the next four Sundays.

The workshop, scheduled for Feb. 28, March 7, 14 and 21, will end just in time for the March 27 exam. Meetings are to be held in the special events room, second floor, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

The workshop spotlights an intensive review in the verbal and mathematics areas, understanding of key concepts and application of these concepts to new and different types of questions. Also featured will be test taking, timing and confidence-building strategies.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Lynn Kramer, feature events director, A&S, at 636-1400 or by calling High Scores at 277-3668.

Teachers collecting for memorial gift

The Mountain Side Teachers Association is sponsoring a collection to purchase a gift in the memory of Herbert Brown, former Deerfield School principal, who died Feb. 5.

According to Dr. Debora Clifford, MTA president, any person in the community who would like to make a contribution in Mr. Brown's memory should contact the Deerfield School Office at 232-8828.

Mr. Brown retired in 1979. He had served two decades in the Mountain Side School System.

Whitbread designer

Bonnie Whitbread is the co-designer of sets and lighting for "Vanities," an Off-Broadway comedy that will be presented by the Kent Place School Drama Department at 8 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday at the school auditorium in Summit. Whitbread is the daughter of Mrs. Willard R. Whitbread of Wood Valley Road.

The people and politics of global banking

By ROSE P. SIMON
Following are the reviews of the recently popular books for winter reading at the Springfield Library.

GLOBAL FINANCE "The Money Lenders," by Anthony Sampson.

Sampson's interest is in the international politics of banking and in the personalities that lie behind them. He briefs us on international finance up to this century, then stresses the evolution of world institutions after WWII.

The Marshall Plan, NATO, the International Monetary Fund, World Banks, etc., pressed global commercial banks into lending money more and more, to new, developing countries. These "high priests of private enterprise" supported greater flows of money into the third world than all the aid agencies put together. But because of inefficient supervision—unlike World Bank, Missionaries, U.N. etc.—Third World debts, which could not be paid, were mounting up.

Forced to keep countries alive by lending more, bankers found themselves in a trap. According to Sampson, it will require the cooperation of the North (technology with less capital and fewer markets) and of the South (capital without technology), with accommodations by governments and world institutions, to develop a truly international bank to cope with the world's precarious crises.

The author speaks of defaults, bankruptcies, moratoriums, roll overs, etc. He also notes the influence of OEC on the Western world. Among his sketches of money-involved personalities are: Willy Brandt, Tom Clausen, J.M. Keynes, John J. McCloy, Robert McNamara, President Mobutu, Jean Monnet, J.P. Morgan, David Rockefeller, Helmut Schmidt, The Shah of Iran and Walter Wriston.

FANTASY AND SCIENCE

"The Sun Shines Bright,"
by Isaac Asimov

One of the most prolific writers (230 books, 300 short stories, hundreds of essays) has included 17 entertaining, informative essays from "The Magazine of Fantasy and Science Fiction."

Asimov's first two pieces report on the history of sun spots and about the composition of the sun's core (neutrons). Gold, the "Noblest Metal of them All, (is unaffected by rust, water, most acids, and was said to be rarer and more beautiful than other metals. But platinum has a higher melting point than gold (first found in Central and South America in the 19th century) and reacts less than gold, and is as rare in the earth's crust. Iridium and osmium are even rarer, but they never match the beauty of gold.

The chapter headed "Just Thirty Year's," demonstrates how quickly science advances, particularly with regard to the planets. During that period, certain beliefs have been destroyed. Several of the gains include: the faster rotation of Mercury, the volcanoes and canyons of Mars, rings for Jupiter and Uranus, craters and volcanoes for others. There are also essays about the moon, radium, uranium, the nuclear bomb and the population problem.

ALL ABOUT GARDENING

"Green Thoughts,"

by Eleanor Perenyi

The first garden that Baroness Perenyi (she was born an American) cultivated was in Hungary. Just before WWII, unlike the custom of other Hungarian women, she was able to start a perennial garden and plant a host of bulbs—none of which she was able to see grow—to maturity. Her second garden was in Stonington, Conn., where it became her greatest pleasure for 30 years. Her experiences, opinions and prejudices have tempted her to write about them, and to pass them on to others.

Here are about 70 essays, with descriptions—and sundry remarks—from Annuals and Artichokes, to Wild Flowers and Woman's Place. A chapter named "Autumn" has some thoughts and suggestions; she notes the passage of birds to Central and South America; autumn's time to spread the compost, her biennial apple tree is a nuisance, but she refuses to cut it down, and she advises to wait for spring before dividing old perennials. Trial and error has taught her to leave tops of rose bushes alone until spring; she suggests pruning lilac bushes after flowers have faded.

Some of the other articles concern herbs, lawns, mulches, perennials, pruning, roses, seeds, tools, tulips, vegetables, and weeds.

Krueger elected

SPRINGFIELD—Sidney Krueger has been elected president of the board of trustees of the Public Library.

Krueger, a professor of English at Kean College in Union, is a five-year member of the board and was president of the Friends of the Public Library for seven years.

He has lectured extensively on literature for the adolescent, taught adolescent literature to adults and conducted discussion groups at the library. He has also arranged concerts and other programs at the library.

I am preparing legislation that would safeguard the integrity of hazardous wastes clean-up funds by mandating internal fiscal and management controls to avoid a repetition of the socking allegations of waste that occurred during clean-up operations at Chemical Control Corporation in Elizabeth.

In addition, I will ask the state attorney general to investigate the allegations made in the Newark Star-Ledger series. I believe a formal review is necessary to spend public clean-up funds wisely.

The revelations in the Star-Ledger's series have shattered public confidence in our state's ability to administer clean-up programs and assure the cost-effective use of the millions in Spill Fund monies. I have become increasingly appalled by the unprofessional, haphazard laxity evidenced by unsubstantiated overtime payments, duplicate and missing disregard for any semblance of accountability. The allegations imply the worst sort of mismanagement during the Chemical Control clean-up project.

I have no confidence the $100 million in hazardous wastes clean-up funds approved by the voters in a November bond referendum will be wisely spent. In fact, the opposite is true. The Department of Environmental Protection, which supervised the 33-month clean-up project at Elizabeth, displayed an abysmal disregard for public funds that has shattered my confidence in the department's ability to administer this sort of operation.

I believe it is essential for the Legislature to approve a detailed plan for internal fiscal and management controls for all future clean-up projects. It is infuriating the small amount of money we have for such projects is being wasted. The $100 million approved by the voters, plus the Super Fund monies, will be insufficient to clean up the already identified hazardous waste sites in New Jersey. This means future bond issues will be necessary to continue these operations. I cannot imagine the public giving its approval until we can all be assured that the chemical waste during the Chemical Control clean-up will not be repeated.

TIME RUNNING UNCOMFORTABLY LATE
 As the headmaster of the Vail-Deane School, which is making all best efforts to relocate in the Beechwood School for the coming academic year, I have some thoughts to share with your readers.

There is no doubt that as a school family we are excited about the prospect of bringing our fine preparatory school to Mountainside. We have invested time, energy and money to make this positive move for your community and for ourselves. We feel we will be a responsible tenant and an asset to Mountainside. Vail-Deane has been a college preparatory school in Elizabeth since 1869. It has devoted alumni, parents, faculty and students who care deeply about its future and continuity as well as its past accomplishments.

By this date we should have been able to tell our parents, students, and prospective parents that all matters were settled and that final planning was under way. We signed our contract in November 1981 with the Mountainside Board of Education.

Instead we find ourselves facing a third hearing before the Mountainside Board of Adjustment with uncertainty and misunderstanding facing our occupancy. We cannot in good conscience continue to pursue this matter beyond early March. It is already uncomfortably late. If our tenancy cannot be declared we must pursue other avenues to safeguard the welfare of our institution.

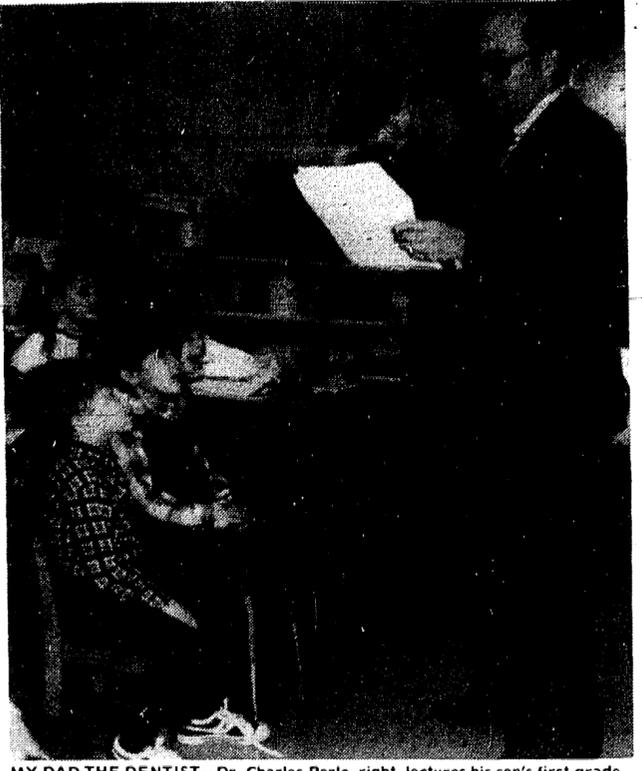

We can understand that disappointment of parents and other residents to the closing of Beechwood as a public school. We can also identify with the feelings of concern about a new institution coming to the Beechwood neighborhood. Many of our good friends and neighbors, alumni and parents are disappointed about our leaving the Fowler Mansion in Elizabeth where Vail-Deane has operated these past fifty years. To them we have been a known entity and a good friend.

We wonder if there aren't Mountainside residents who accepted the September 1981 decision of the Mountainside Board of Education as a fiscal necessity and who look forward to Vail-Deane as a new community member. If there are, we hope you will make your views known to your town officials.

Everyone involved may have been acting in good faith in this matter but Vail-Deane has been unfortunately victimized and delayed in the process. Beechwood will continue to be owned by the Board of Education and any possible future minor changes to accommodate our program will be worked out with the Board of Education in accordance with the lease contract and the approvals needed from the New Jersey Education Department.

Let us hope we can break this present impasse and begin to know one another as new friends. Our students, parents and faculty are responsible and concerned about each other and the greater community in which they reside. They will be a credit to Mountainside.

HIGHEST DENSITY
 None of the states is more densely populated than New Jersey, where in some places 40,000 of its 7,364,000 people are jammed into a square mile.

Free screening will be offered

A free screening for speech and hearing as well as blood pressure testing, will be held Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the offices of the Union Internal Medicine Associates and Eastern Speech Language Hearing Center, 2124 Morris Ave., Union.

The screenings are available to all Union County residents, a spokesman said.

Additional information is available by calling 686-4222 or 964-7555.

3 earn honors

Three Mountainside girls have been named to the second class honor roll at the Oak Knoll School of the Holy Child in Summit. Kim Genkinger, a 10th-grader, and Karen Genkinger and Rachel Reisdorf, both seniors, attained better than B averages.

Youngmans studies in urban program

MOUNTAINSIDE—Jonathan Youngmans, a junior at the College of Wooster, Wooster, Ohio, is studying off-campus this winter as part of the college's Urban Studies program.

This program provides students with an opportunity to add to their learning experience by coming in contact with the problems and conditions of urban areas.

After taking preliminary coursework, students are permitted to spend a quarter working in an area of personal interest. Youngmans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Youngmans, Coles Ave., is working with Mission Cable Television in San Diego.

Youngmans is a history major.

I am preparing legislation that would dramatically reform the congressional redistricting process in the state. The bill proposes a Constitutional Amendment to create a 10-member, bi-partisan commission with the tie-breaking 11 member, if needed, to be appointed by the Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court.

A similar commission process is used for legislative redistricting.

In my judgment, New Jersey was disgraced by the frantic, 11-hour gerrymandering by the Democratic legislature. The Congressional redistricting map ignores the public good, common sense and any semblance of political fairness.

The legislature forfeited its right to redistrict the state by its blatant disregard for anything other than the selfish political motives of the incumbent Democratic members of Congress.

I believe my plan for a bi-partisan commission would restore public confidence in our ability to fairly and dispassionately create Congressional districts.

The redistricting map was signed into law by Governor Byrne less than three hours before he left office.

It is unreasonable for the political party that happens to be in power immediately following the census to have the singular power to create districts that are binding for the next decade. As a Republican and as a legislator, I am prepared to relinquish the redistricting prerogative to a bi-partisan body. If the full Legislature approves my bill and allows the voters to decide the issue, I am confident the Constitutional Amendment will be approved overwhelmingly.

Speech aids to be shown

A demonstration of aids for patients who have had a laryngectomy or who are unable to use their voices will be offered Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Overlook Hospital, Summit.

The program is sponsored by the Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology Department. Additional information is available by contacting Bonnie Lowenstein, MS, at 522-2283.

Hiking Club

The Jockey Hollow Double Ramble and the Berta Hendel Hike art scheduled this weekend for members of the Union County Hiking Club and their guests.

Hikers on the Jockey Hollow Double Ramble Saturday will meet at the Jockey Hollow National Park Information Center, Morristown, at 9:30 a.m. for the six-mile morning jaunt or at 12:30 p.m. for the seven-mile afternoon jaunt.

The Berta Hendel Hike participants will meet Sunday at 8:00 a.m. outside the ferry entrance in Manhattan for this brisk 18-mile walk across Staten Island from Great Kill Park to St. George.

Additional information on these and other hiking club activities is available by calling the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation, 352-8431.

Views On Dental Health
 By SEAN T. FENTON, D.M.D.
 PREPARATION FOR FIRST VISIT
 There has to be a first time for everything and that includes your child's first visit to the dentist. Much of the preparation will be up to the parents. Here are some suggestions:
 Don't give your child the opportunity to hear "neighborhood experiences." It's best to tell a child about a dental visit the night before. Of course, always refer to the dentist as "our friend." Convey the feeling that dental visits are a part of growing up. Don't offer rewards or indicate that there is anything to fear. In fact, such words as hurt, grind, drill, etc., should be eliminated from the dental vocabulary. Say that your dentist intends only to examine and that he will always explain what he is going to do.
 Make appointment day easy for your child. Make no other plans for him or her that day. If possible, the appointment should be made early in the day.
 This may be the most difficult advice of all - but children are usually most cooperative if parents are not in the treatment room. Rest assured, all findings will be discussed with you after the visit.
 A public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: SEAN T. FENTON, D.M.D. 134 Elmer Street, Westfield, Phone: 232-2652.

New Jersey nurses are pondering whether to take on an important — and — awesome — new responsibility, and a recent forum at Seton Hall University's College of Nursing helped them make up their minds.

The question is "Should the pronouncement of death be within the scope of the nursing role?" The state Board of Nursing will decide the issue at its next meeting later this month and is conducting hearings for nurses and others to express opinions and views on the subject.

The debate stems from a proposal from the N.J. Board of Medical Examiners to give certified registered nurses, as well as other designated professionals, the legal authority to declare that a death has occurred. That authority now rests only with an individual's attending physician; the amended "Pronouncement of Death Rule" would continue the present requirement that only the attending physician can sign the official death certificate. The new ruling, which would apply to deaths occurring at a home, medical or non-medical facility, is meant to help avoid family distress or undue burdens on local ambulance squads and police when an attending physician is not immediately available.

The nursing profession, meanwhile, is debating if pronouncing death is a responsibility it wants to exercise. More than 100 nurses and other health professionals attended the Seton Hall forum on Jan. 29, the first of two statewide sessions to examine and assess the impact of the issue on nursing practice.

Testimony was presented by about 20 persons, including nurses, doctors, and hospital administrators. A range of views was offered, with about 60 percent opposing nurses performing this function and 40 percent in favor. Among those presenting testimony were Dr. Kathleen Dirschel, dean of the Seton Hall College of Nursing and a member of the State Board of Nursing, and Prof. Mary Germain, director of graduate programs of the College of Nursing.

Bernstein named head of Beth Israel division

Dr. Arthur Bernstein, former president of the Essex County Medical Society, has been appointed director of the Division of Cardiology at Newark Beth Israel Medical Center (NBIMC). It was announced by Dr. Marvin A. Kirschner, director of the Department of Medicine, and Lester M. Bornstein, executive director of the center.

One of the first members of the American College of Cardiology, Dr. Bernstein's early studies on the use of diuretic agents helped pave the way for modern potent drugs in this field, according to Dr. Kirschner.

An alumnus of the University of Pennsylvania Medical School, he has been associated with NBIMC since 1940. He is clinical professor of medicine at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey and is a former president of the New Jersey Academy of Medicine.

"Dr. Bernstein will coordinate the rapid growth in our division of cardiology," stated Dr. Kirschner. "Under his leadership we expect to see further expansion in invasive and non-invasive cardiology, electrophysiology and nuclear cardiology."

Dr. Bernstein is consultant in cardiology at several area hospitals as well as for the New Jersey State Department of Health's Commission on Crippled Children.

Newark Beth Israel Medical Center, a major teaching affiliate of the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, is a member of the Jewish Community Federation of Metropolitan New Jersey.

Open house slated by Historical Society

KEAN GROUP TO PERFORM 'OUR TOWN'—Diane Matthews of Elizabeth as 'Emily' listens to some advice from Hershey Snyder of Springfield as the 'Stage Manager' with Roger Fluot of Hillside as 'George' in a scene from 'Our Town,' by Thornton Wilder, to be given by the Kean College Theatre Series in the Wilkins Theatre for the Performing Arts, Union. Shows are scheduled at 8 p.m. March 4, 5 and 6, and at 2 p.m. March 7.

SPRINGFIELD—The Historical Society will hold a special open house at its headquarters and celebrate the 250th anniversary of the birth of George Washington on Sunday, Feb. 21, from 2 to 4 p.m. A highlight of this event will be the display of an authentic letter written by Washington when he was in Springfield just five days prior to the Battle of Springfield, on June 23, 1780.

The society's president, Madeline E. Lancaster, stated, "We urge the general public to come to see this letter which is rarely on display, and is taken from its bank vault only on special occasions."

Program Chairman Howard W. Wiseman commented, "We are most fortunate to have some members of the famous color guard of the New Jersey Sons of the American Revolution who will perform unique military exercises and drills in front of the Historic Cannon Ball House." They will be led by Kenneth D. Hendrix of Springfield, president of the Elizabethtown Chapter No. 1, the oldest SAR chapter in the state of New Jersey, assisted by Harold Herriek of Cranford, treasurer of the Elizabethtown Chapter, and Richard G. Ivory of Union, who is the secretary of the New Jersey State SAR Society. They will be dressed in full Colonial regalia, featuring the authentic red and blue uniforms which they use at state Capitol functions in Trenton as part of the official color guard. Their entire brigade marched in the parade in June 1980 at the time of the 200th Anniversary of the Battle of Springfield, and have appeared at numerous functions throughout New Jersey and the metropolitan area.

The letter, Lancaster said, is particularly unusual since it was written by the hand of Washington himself and not by one of his scribes. It is dated June 18, 1780, with Springfield noted as the location, and it is addressed to "Your Excellency, Sir George Clinton, Governor of New York." The message concerns the general's apprehensions about the state Legislature's plan to have militia drafted and to allow them to serve under the command of militia officers instead of Continental Army officers. In very precise language, he relates the potential crisis which he and Brigadier General Knox might experience and urges reconsideration "in the true interest of America," signing himself as "Your most obedient and humble servant."

The letter was acquired by Howard W. Casselmann, former president and current Trustee of the Springfield Historical Society in late 1950s. He donated it to the society, and its worth has increased more than ten fold. It is kept in a safe deposit box in a local bank, and is only taken for viewing at historic events. Guided tours of the house, which dates to 1740 will be available. Refreshments will be served by Elise Ditzel and the members of her Hospitality Committee.

Bloodmobile visit scheduled

SPRINGFIELD—The first of two annual Bloodmobile visits will be on March 18 from 1:30 to 6:30 p.m. at the Temple Shalom on South Springfield Avenue.

The North Jersey Blood Center will run the visit for all healthy adults ages 17 to 66, with 17-year-olds requiring written parental consent.

Temple members are asked to make their donor appointments through Dorothy Danziger, temple chairman. Chairmen of other participating groups have been contacted and will schedule appointments for their own members.

For further information and appointments, donors also can call Sue Kalem at 376-0582. This year the Blood Center is particularly interested in having young township couples become regular donors to the program.

Also, anyone in need of blood-credit replacement for blood used by them should call for information because credits remaining from last winter's visit may expire soon.

Episcopo to perform in benefit concert

SPRINGFIELD—Music by Township resident Peter Episcopo will be featured during an evening of contemporary Christian music sponsored by Contact—We Care, a 24-hour hotline for the troubled.

Episcopo, who produced his first commercial tape, "From the Heart," in 1981, will be accompanied by Peggy Pursel.

The concert is to be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Willow Grove Presbyterian Church, Martine Avenue and Raritan Road, Scotch Plains. A $3 donation will benefit the 1982 budget of the round-the-clock teleministry.

Contact—We Care may be reached at 232-2880. The Concert band being formed

The Millburn Recreation Department is forming a civic concert band in February and participation is open to adults who play musical instruments.

Rehearsals will be Thursdays from 7:45 to 10 p.m. at the Field House in Taylor Park in Millburn. College and high school musicians will be welcomed and participation is open to residents outside of Millburn and Short Hills.

Herbert Steier of Millburn will conduct.

Periodic programs are now being planned and it has been recommended that musicians bring their own instruments. Further information can be obtained by calling 379-4125.

Koldorf painting accepted

SPRINGFIELD—An acrylic painting titled "Andrea Ross IV" by Koldorf, a graduate of township resident Lawrence Koldorf has been accepted in the annual juried show at the Summit Art Center in Summit.

America was born in a tax revolt; now you can prosper in one!

Colonial Savings' Revolutionary Individual Retirement Accounts

Join America's opening volley in the war against taxes with powerful ammunition of your own...a Colonial Savings IRA or Keogh Plan. New legislation lets you save more and defer more from taxation, with the security of F.S.L.I.C. insurance up to $100,000 for each account.

Each of Colonial's Individual Retirement Accounts is available at either fixed or variable rates. Read through them, select the plan that best suits your needs, and check the chart to see how quickly your tax-deferred IRA can grow. Then visit your nearest Colonial Savings office for full details and an application...arm yourself now to win the war against taxes!

* Open a Colonial Revolutionary IRA with a variable rate and take advantage of the fluctuating 26-week U.S. Treasury Bill rate. Start saving for your retirement with only a $100 minimum deposit and add to it in $100 increments at any time without extending the 18-month term!

* If you enjoy the security of always knowing what your money's earning, open a fixed-rate Colonial IRA! Lock into a high rate for 18 months with just a $250 minimum deposit -- and build your IRA during that period with more $250 additions without term extension!

* Colonial has many other Revolutionary IRA plans available and we'll custom-tailor one to suit your specific needs. Any savings account or certificate rate we offer can become an IRA for you!

Individual Retirement Account (IRA)

Anyone with earned income -- even if in an employer's retirement plan -- can open a Colonial IRA and defer up to $2,000 each year from taxes, along with every dollar of interest earned! And if your spouse is not employed, you can defer up to $2,250 each year. For working couples the advantage is even greater; open two accounts for $2,000 each and get a total deferral of $4,000!

Rollover IRA

If you are about to receive a lump-sum distribution from a qualified pension or retirement plan, you can "roll it over" into a Colonial IRA within 60 days and earn the maximum tax benefits!

Keogh Plan

If you are self-employed, you can now contribute and defer up to $15,000 each year in a Colonial Keogh account. For additional contributions, you can also open a Colonial IRA!

The chart below shows what you could have at age 65* if you save $2,000 per year in a Colonial Revolutionary IRA:

Start Saving At Age:	Amount At Age 65:
30	$2,155,726.14
35	1,052,609.54
40	510,043.16
45	243,182.62
50	111,927.62
55	47,370.02
60	15,617.46

* Chart figures assume a 14.00% interest rate compounded daily to yield 15.248% per annum, and deposits made at the beginning of each year.

NOTE

There's still time to open a Revolutionary IRA for tax-year 1981 -- and save on taxes right now!

Retirement distribution may begin as early as age 59½ or as late as age 70½. Federal regulations require substantial penalty for premature withdrawal except in cases of death or disability.

Temple events are announced in Springfield

The regular Friday night service in Temple Beth Ahm, Springfield, will be dedicated tomorrow to individuals in the Springfield community, who were part of the group that established the congregation 30 years ago.

Milton Kapstatter, one of the Jewish Community Group, the precursor of the congregation, and president of the temple during some of its formative years, is chairman of Founder's Night. An audio-visual presentation of some of the events that occurred in the temple's early years will follow the service.

The temple recently announced its third annual teach-in scheduled April 30 to May 2 in the temple. The featured scholar-in-residence for the weekend will be Samuel Schaffer, historian, educator and rabbi, who heads the Metropolitan Chicago Board of Jewish Education.

Program plans are being formulated by Beth Ahm's adult education committee under the chairmanship of Neil and Anne Moisey. Claire and Arthur Falkin have been selected as overall chairmen for the weekend.

Temple members and other friends are invited to hear Dr. Schaffer's presentation following services on the evening of April 30 and the morning of May 1. A brunch will be held on May 2, and Dr. Schaffer will be guest speaker.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 376-0579.

Art show, sale due March 27

The Greater Westfield Chapter of Hadassah will open its 24th annual art show and sale on the evening of March 27 in Temple Emanu-El, Westfield. Benefactors, sponsors and patrons will view more than 1,500 works of art in oils, watercolors, graphics, charcoals and sculpture. The show will be open to the public March 28 from 1 to 10 p.m., and March 29 and 30 from noon to 10 p.m.

Among the coordinators of the show will be Miriam Blonsky and Maxine Bradie, both of Mountainside.

School Guild plans market in Springfield

The St. James School Guild in Springfield and the Larchmont and Battle Hill sections of Union will sponsor an antique flea market from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Feb. 27 at the St. James School auditorium at 41 South Springfield Ave.

"Rose's Kitchen" will be open featuring meatballs, sausages, Italian hot dogs, baked ziti, donuts and bagels. A thrift shop also will be open.

"I believe we are the only indoor flea market operating locally which features 50 dealers selling such things as live plants, handmade jewelry, new children's sportswear, hardware, brass, and much more," according to JoAnn McGann, school guild president.

Admission to the market is free. More information can be obtained by calling Nancy Bernosky at 376-9180 or Georgette O'Conne at 379-1913.

IRA programs are explained

BY GWEN WARANIS

Several tax law changes have been made to induce individuals to save money for their future.

Previously, only those individuals not covered by a group pension program could start their own Individual Retirement Account (IRA). Now, however, virtually all working Americans are eligible for IRA accounts. This doubles the number of people eligible, and, in some cases, means that individuals may now have an employee-sponsored program and an IRA.

Irregardless of any other pension plan an employee may belong to, that person may now also set aside up to $2,000 a year of his or her income in a self-initiated IRA bank account. Two-income families may deposit up to $4,000 a year ($2,000 for each person). A non-working spouse can participate in the program by having the working spouse deposit money in two IRA accounts, up to a total of $2,250 for both accounts. A divorced, non-working spouse may now deposit alimony payments as earned income into an IRA.

Money deposited into an IRA is not subject to federal taxes until the time of withdrawal. Depositors may not begin withdrawals until age 59½; they must, however, begin withdrawals by the time they are 70½.

Want economical food? Use rice for everything

BY ELLAWESE B. MCLENDON

Home Extension economist

What food cooks fast, tastes good, helps to extend meat dishes and the food dollar, versatile enough to be used for salads, main dishes, casseroles, soups and even desserts? It's rice.

Rice is a wholesome nutritious food, with qualities that are ideal not only for special dietary needs, but also for regular breakfast, lunch and dinner menus.

Rice comes to market as brown rice, milled rice, instant, enriched and parboiled rice. Brown rice is rice with the hull removed. It has a nutty flavor and a chewy texture. Milled or white rice has had the hull and at least the outer bran layers and a part of the germ removed. Enriched rice means thiamine, niacin and iron have been added. Parboiled rice is milled rice that has been partially cooked by a special process which causes some of the nutrients from the bran layers to move into the inner kernel. This also increases the shelf life of the rice.

There's one more—wild rice. While called rice, it is not a true grain; rather, it is a grass and is dark brown with a nutty flavor all its own. It is also expensive.

You can buy rice in three kernel sizes—short, medium or long grain rice. Short-grain rice cooks moist and tender and the kernels will cling together. This makes it a good choice for puddings, stuffings, rice rings and Oriental cooking. Medium-grain kernels also cook moist and tender and are good with meat and seafood. Long-grained kernels are about three times longer than their width and cook firm and dry. The kernels do not stick together and are used for side dishes in soups or in casseroles.

When buying, look for rice that is bright and uniform. Milled rice is white or creamy. Parboiled rice is not as white, but just as attractive after cooking. Wild rice is darker than brown rice. Also, look for rice with a high percent tage of whole kernels when buying. Rice with a great many broken kernels will have the same flavor and nutrients as top-quality rice, but cooking may be uneven and appearance may not be as attractive.

Rice should be free of seeds from other plants and free of damaged kernels.

Rice is often considered a convenience food because of its quick and easy preparation and the variety of ways in which it can be used. It is available in bags, boxes, cans and cartons and can be boiled, oven baked or prepared in a double boiler.

Try it for breakfast with a little butter, cream and sugar. Top it with a flavor sprinkle of cinnamon or top with slices of fruit. It's a fine choice for most casseroles because of its ability to blend, and it can be an elegant as well as tasty accompaniment to any meal when dressed up with a combination of vegetables. Try this nutritious rice dish with plenty of eye appeal as well as taste appeal for eight servings, or reduce each ingredient by one-half to make four servings.

RICE JARDIN

- 1 cup chopped onions
 - 1 1/2 lbs. zucchini, sliced
 - 3tbl butter or margarine
 - 1 can (1 lb.) whole kernel corn, drained
 - 3 cups cooked rice
 - 1/2 tsp salt
 - 1/4 tsp ground coriander
 - 1/4 tsp leaf oregano
 - dash of pepper
- Saute onions and zucchini in butter or margarine until tender. Add remaining ingredients and cover and simmer for 15 minutes.

Coupons cost retailer money

BY GWEN WARANIS

Extension Home economist

The continued use of double and triple value coupons by retail grocers may cost consumers temporarily, but they can be disastrous for retailers.

Offering double value for manufacturer's coupons is a type of retail promotion. Like any promotion, the cost must be built into the business and eventually passed on to the consumer. If this is not done, retailers will lose money.

Double, triple and bonus coupons are promotions by retailers to boost customer traffic in their markets. The costs are estimated at about two percent of total sales.

Hudgins sparks 60-48 victory

Bulldogs romp in UCT opener

By WAYNE TILLMAN
Dayton's 1982 debut in the Union County Basketball Tournament on Monday was a big smash. And it was made even better by a great game from one of its star attractions, Kyle Hudgins.

Hudgins poured in a game-high 23

Sports this week

points on 10 field goals and three-of-four shooting from the free throw line as the Bulldogs of Coach Ray Yanchus opened the tourney with a 60-48 victory over Pingry at the Dunn Sports Center in Elizabeth.

The win moved the Bulldogs (12-8) into last night's second round game with third-seeded Hillside

Hudgins, not only doing the job in the point parade, also had a super game on the boards with 14 rebounds.

"He's been getting tougher and has come a long way this season," Yanchus said of his 6-3 junior. "He has a great outside shot, although I'd like to push him back inside, where he's just as good."

Dayton didn't take control of the game until early in the second quarter. Pingry led 11-10 after the first period, but a bucket by Eric Saline gave the Bulldogs a 14-13 edge early in the second session, and from then on the Bulldogs never looked back.

Good defense held Pingry to just five points in that stanza and Dayton left the floor with a 25-16 lead at intermission. Hudgins had 11 of his points in the first two periods, and Saline and Geoff Bradshaw also combined to help the Dayton cause. Bradshaw hit a long jump shot at the buzzer to give the winners its nine-point cushion.

In the second half, Dayton just kept opening up its lead, moving it up to 11, then 13, then 15 late in the game. And Pingry just couldn't get any closer.

Besides Hudgins, Saline and Jim Price each hit for 12 points, mostly on long range shooting. Bradshaw finished up with six and Tim Walker came off the bench to add five.

"Balance is our game," said Yanchus. "And considering the hurts we had, we got a great effort from everyone."

He cited Price for his good defense and Ron Fusco, who was coming off a muscle injury and was doubtful for the tourney, for his fine all-around play.

"Ron must have gotten a cure from a witch doctor," Yanchus said with a smile. "But our kids showed the character—they came to play."

Once the Bulldogs complete Mountain Valley Conference play, they will get ready for state tournament action. Dayton is in North Jersey, Section II, Group II and is the ninth seed. They will play a preliminary round contest at Jefferson Township, with the winner facing top-seeded Hillside. Thus the possibility looms of a second meeting with the Comets.

Last week, the Bulldogs knocked off Metuchen, 59-50, in MVC play and will finish the regular season with games against Brearley, Clark's Johnson Regional and Ridge.

Brearley's Bears will come to town tomorrow evening at 7:30, while Johnson will be the Tuesday evening opponent on the road. And the Bulldogs will head to Ridge on Feb. 26. Then comes state tourney action.

INSIDE MOVES—Dayton's Geoff Bradshaw muscled his way to the basket in the Bulldogs' 60-48 Union County Tournament victory over Pingry on Monday afternoon at the Dunn Sports Center in Elizabeth. Eric Saline (21) follows the play. (John Shaffer Photo)

Penn, Harvard tied for Ivy lead

By ROBERT STEIR
Harvard and Pennsylvania each won its game last week to remain tied for first place in the Springfield Recreation Department's Ivy League with 5-1 records. Columbia, by virtue of its win over Yale, remains in contention with a 4-2 mark.

A 23-4 outburst in the second period helped Harvard roll to a 58-23 win over Dartmouth. Tom Kisch scored 16 points and led Harvard in steals and assists, while Chris Petino tallied 11, John Lynch added 12, Darren Marcantuone eight and Chris Wickham six.

Dartmouth was led by Allen Gross with eight, and Jon Sekella added seven. Also scoring were Ken Garguilo, Todd Wasserman and Jeff Ginsberg.

Columbia needed two overtimes to defeat Yale, 57-53. The Lions won by hitting eight of 11 foul shots in the extra session. John Lusardi led the winners with 23 points and David Di Lanno added 20 more. Mitch Cohen netted six and also scoring were Chris Monaco, Joe Cieri and David Littenberg.

For Yale, Eric Kahn swished home a game high 33 points, and adding eight apiece were Gregg Kahn and Greg Walsh.

Joel Greenberg's 28 points helped Penn beat Cornell, 40-31. Tom Mexner added eight and Adam Jacobs four for the Quakers, while Nick Ruggeri and Mike Gallaro combined for 17 points.

Rich Francis popped in 20 points as Princeton evened its record at 3-3 with a 44-29 win over Brown. Joe DiPalma added 10 and Levent Bayrasli eight with five steals. Danny Francis chipped in with six points.

Eric Cole led Brown with 12, while David Markstein added six, Chuck Saia and Chris Clemson four each and Ernie Lengrade and Glen Balthuz two apiece.

STATE LEAGUE
Alabama rolled to a 22-5 win over Utah as Marcello Reyna netted 16 points for the winners, and Matt Lynch added four and Greg Wioland two.

Baskets by Mike Peri and Mike Elson in overtime helped Oklahoma edge Tex as, 26-23. Kamuren Bayrasli led the winners with 13 points, while Elson and Spencer Panter had six and four points respectively.

For Texas, Graig Graziano led the way with 10, and Paul Taher chipped in with nine. Pete Carpenter added four.

California opened up a big early lead and defeated Florida, 22-16. Danny Francis paced the winners with 13 points, while David Lissy added six.

For Florida, Dominick Barone had six, Scott Summers and Robert Feinberg three each and David Blum and Dennis Costello also scored.

SMALL FRY LEAGUE
The Celtics were upset by the Lakers to cause a three-way tie for first place with the Raiders and Pistons.

Danny Monaco scored 19 points and blocked four shots to lead the Lakers to a 21-14 victory over the Celtics. Bindul Turakia had the other Laker basket, and playing well were Sean Weirnerman, Leo Gravina, Suzanne Saia and Jaime Schutz.

Matt Gallaro led the Celts with six points, followed by Chris Talaver with four and Eric Ferri and Evan Raumgartner also scored.

James Morrison and Michael Montanari combined to score 23 points as the Billikens rolled past the Rockets, 29-7. Morrison scored 14 points and grabbed five rebounds, while Montanari added nine and three steals. John Burger chipped in with six points. Michael Reddington, David Geller and Wendy Bartel all played well.

John Chung had three points for the losers, and Andrew Arnold and Evan Barron each added a basket.

A basket by David Schlosser with 12 seconds left in the second overtime period gave the Pistons a 22-20 win over the Jets. Lauren Meixner led the winners with eight points, four of them in the extra session. Schlosser netted six, Rick Lissy five and Matt Applebaum three. Charles Maltman and Greg Apilium also played well.

Jim DiTullio and Jemel Powell led the Jets with six points each. Brett Levy chipped in with four, and Claudia Reyna and Roger Lerner also scored.

Chris Swanstrom netted 12 of his 18 points in the second half as the Raiders defeated the Bullets, 29-12. Robbie Hamilton added seven and blocked four shots, and Greg Gomes and Billy Hart also scored. Jason Yee and Erinn Kenney played well.

The Bullets were led by Danny LaMourges with six points and six rebounds. Scott Wishna, Michael Lippman and Sean Leddy also scored baskets.

Parent selected to play in all-star football game

By RON BRANDSDORFER
People like Jack Parent make Angelo Senese's job as head football coach at Dayton Regional very easy. "Jack's outstanding athletic performance is just part of the total picture," Senese explained, announcing Parent's selection to be a member of the North all-star team in the annual North-South high school football game on June 26 at Rutgers Stadium in Piscataway.

"Besides being a top-notch student-athlete (ranked No. 14 in a class of more than 270), Jack is a quality young man," Senese continued. "He is personable, dedicated and responsible and, in essence, a credit to himself and his family. And I know he will perform very, very well in the all-star game."

Parent, who is also a top-notch wrestler for the Bulldogs, was the defensive stopper on a Bulldog defense that gave up just 6.4 points per game and allowed just one second half touchdown all season. He was one of the big reasons why the Bulldogs compiled an 8-3 record and reached the North Jersey, Section II, Group II championship game. "I'm not surprised at all that Jack was selected for the all-star game," Senese boasted. "He was probably the outstanding football player on our team and the team leader. His football ability is just excellent and he is being recruited by Ivy League and Division II schools."

Parent was a bit surprised by the honor. "I was pretty excited," he said. "It's really an honor, and I'll get the opportunity to play with the best seniors in the state."

Parent plans to fit football into a busy schedule in college, and he will pursue a degree in engineering. So the summer game will give him an opportunity to get back into top condition prior to camp with the college of his choice.

"I'll definitely have to get my weight back up," said Parent, who dropped down to 158 pounds for the wrestling season. "I'll do some lifting and a lot of running, so I don't think it will be that hard to get into shape."

Mentally, Parent is always ready for a challenge.

"He was a three-year starter for us at linebacker," Senese said, "and our defensive captain. He made all the decisions on the field."

It wasn't always so, Parent was the quiet type when he earned a birth with the Bulldogs as a soph.

JACK PARENT

"I've changed a lot," he said. "There's just no comparison to the way I played as a soph and as a senior. As a sophomore, I wasn't physically ready to play, but the coach had to go with us. By my senior year, we could play with anybody."

Including the state's top seniors. This will mark the second straight year that the Bulldogs are represented. Matt Smith took part in the game last year, and now it's Parent's turn. And Senese thinks next year will hold more of the same for Dayton. "I'm almost certain that we'll be represented next year," he said. "And there should be a number of other athletes down the road."

But right now, Senese is concerned with providing Parent with a large rooting section.

"I'd like to get more community and organizational support," he said. "Once again, the Lions Club has pledged its support, and we're hoping other groups will do the same thing."

And Parent's parents, Louis and Florence of Wood Acres Drive in Mountanside, will definitely be at the game.

"They were really excited and proud of me," Jack said. "They didn't miss a football game in four years. They, too, stuck with our program."

And it paid off for all involved.

Kuperstein picks up 13th in Bulldog loss to Ridge

By BOB BRUCKNER
It's no coincidence that Matt Kuperstein accounted for the Bulldogs' only three points in a 60-3 pounding from No. 4 Ridge last weekend.

Kuperstein was one of the Bulldogs' top wrestlers a year ago, placing fourth in the district tournament and posting a 17-5 record in his first season of varsity competition, and he has been just as impressive this season.

His record is 13-5, and his only losses have come against undefeated Albert Smith of Union, once-beaten (by Smith) Mike Shriner of Roselle Park on two occasions, Gov. Livingston's David Cacarro and Millburn's Mark Adams.

"Right now I'm as ready as I could be for the districts," Kuperstein explained. "I'm starting to wrestle better at the end of the season. At the districts, I'm just going to go out there and do the best I can do."

junior, was certainly at his best against Ridge. He kept his hot string going by stopping talented Bob Shepardson, 6-0, for Dayton's only points of the meet. Ridge is 14-1, while the Bulldogs dropped to 3-9.

"I just wanted to win it," Kuperstein said. "I really wanted us to get some points on the board."

Dayton's eighth loss of the season came against Elizabeth, but it was a squeaker. The 34-23 final tally doesn't tell the whole story.

Following a forfeit at 101, the Bulldogs received a 15-5 decision from Rob Sokohl at 108 and a 14-3 victory from Sal DiMaria and Millburn's Mark Adams.

Alfie Heckle was a 6-5 winner at 129, and John as Caricato rolled to a victory at 148. Then Kuperstein pinned his opponent in 3:31 at 188 pounds.

That gave Elizabeth a 28-23 lead entering the heavyweight match, and the Bulldogs'—Anthony

Marques Haynes will bring his remarkable Harlem Wizards into the area for one of their patented basketball performances at Dayton Regional next Thursday, Feb. 25 at 7:30 p.m.

The main attraction in the Wizards- Dayton faculty game will be Haynes. He wasn't even two years old when his sister took him to a basketball game and sat him down all alone in a corner just off the playing court.

He entertained himself by dribbling a miniature basketball. Sixty years later, Marques Haynes is still dribbling a basketball.

The man has long been—and remains—the best ballhandler and dribbler in the game's history. For years, men have tried to imitate his act but Haynes has stayed a league above all the copy cats.

Joining Haynes in the Dayton game, which will follow a special matchup between Mountanside's Gaudineer School and the Springfield Minutemen, will be top comedy basketball talents Valentino Willis, team captain and number one clown; eight-year Globetrotter veteran "Little John" Smith; John "Fast Hands" Adams; shot blocker Jerry "The Eraser" Abernathy and 5-4 scoring whiz Spencer "Tattoo" Johnson.

All proceeds from the game will go to

Victories keep coming for Dayton track team

By BOB BRUCKNER
During the past few weeks, the Dayton boys' and girls' indoor track teams obtained many medals in many different events at many different places.

In dual meet competition, the girls' and boys' teams are unbeaten. The girls defeated Spotswood, 54-8; Governor Livingston, 43-2; Brearley, 41-4 and Pingry, 61-0. Currently, the girls have a 4-0 record and are banking on a couple more victories before the end of the season.

As for the boys, they have beaten Spotswood, 38-30; Pingry, 58-2; Governor Livingston, 47-19, and Roselle Park, 37-31.

In addition to a perfect record, each team carries a number of state and county awards. At the Union County meet, Scott Connolly earned first place in the two-mile run with a time of 10:20.

Also at the counties, the boys took fourth in the mile relay. Competing were Anthony Bachus (58.9), Bob Carroll (58.3), Ken Palazzi (57.8) and Vinnie Cocchia (57.4). The composite team time was 3:53.4.

Bachus took first in the 60-yard dash in a time of 6.9. Palazzi was second in that event, as well as the 440. Cocchia was second in the 880.

As for the girls, Donna Commarato leaped 5-0 and Amy Kiell 4-6 in the high jump at the state meet at Princeton. The team of Karen Apicella, Nancy Gaglio, Kiell and Elinor Sadin was fourth in the high hurdles. Beth Mortimer has also been running very well during the indoor season.

At the counties, the girls took fourth in the mile relay in 4:40.04. Both teams must now concentrate on next Wednesday's state meet, also at Princeton.

Bowlers to battle for county crown

The Dayton bowlers will compete in the Union County Bowling Tournament on Monday at 3 p.m. at Echo Lanes and then will see action on March 3 at 9 a.m. in the state tourney at Garden State Bowl in Union.

Coach John Swedish's team finished the regular season with a 9-9 record after losing three games last week to Johnson Regional of Clark.

Team captain Dan Freedman posted a 224-628 in that final game, while Tim Nugent chipped in with a 194-528 effort.

In the season's final match, Dayton topped Kenilworth's Brearley Regional by scores of 758-727, 789-758 and 798-712, with Freedman, Jon Rubenstein and Sharon Kutsop posting totals of 592, 479 and 487, respectively.

DINING GUIDE

A COMPLETE REFERENCE OF FINE RESTAURANTS

Crab House adds buffet of Italian-style seafood

By JIM LEAHY
Whenever I get excited about something that I think will interest our readers, I can't wait until I sit down behind my typewriter to put my impressions on paper. All the time, however, I try to leave enough latitude for our readers to make up their own minds whether they agree or disagree with my findings.

Not too long ago I did this when I wrote a column about the Crab House, 248 Morris Ave. (near the Arch), Elizabeth. It was most gratifying to find out that those of you who took my advice and dined at this fine seafood establishment were more than pleased with the service and food, and that, my friends, is the bottom line of what writing a restaurant review is all about! I told you about the Crab House, and you saw fit to dine there on my recommendation, and were, obviously, delighted with the results. That's why I am elated to tell you what's been happening at this most unusual restaurant lately that deserves your attention. Namely, it's their Sunday Italian Seafood Buffet!

If you love seafood as I do, but never had it prepared Italian style, then you are in for the treat of a lifetime. A rich aroma of garlic and spices fills the air surrounding their most bountiful buffet. Your eyes travel from morsel to morsel, telegraphing signals to your brain, which, in turn, tries desperately to sort out exactly what to select. Should you start off with mussels marinari or would it be smart to check out the shrimp marinari first? No, I think it might be wise to begin with a delicious cup of their soup of the day and then try a tasty dish of cavatelli with broccoli or tortellini in marinara sauce or maybe scungilli? You hesitate for a moment, still unsure of what to begin with, because everything is so appealing and appealing to the eye. There are steamers, calamari, linguine, veal and peppers, sausage Murphy, baked chicken bass, meat ravioli and even chicken cacciatore and chicken parmigiana. Wait! Have you left something out? You bet you have. You forgot about their famous salad bar!

That's right, my friends, all of the above is just part of what's in store for you at the Crab House Sunday Italian Seafood Buffet, every Sunday from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. I've never seen such an abundant buffet—offering of Italian seafood anywhere, quite like that at the Crab House. One would expect to pay an outrageous price for so much, but the truth is, you get all this plus dessert and coffee for only $8.95 per person.

I guess there's no need to tell those of you who are not Italian food "buffs" that the Crab House is known throughout central and northern Jersey as one of the finest Seafood Houses of its kind to be found anywhere in the state, including the shore area. If it comes out of the sea, chances are you'll find it on their menu, along with a nice selection of items for the "landlubber."

Sometimes, I get carried away, showering accolades for the owners. When I do, believe me, I mean every word, and the same goes for my friends at the Crab House, Sam and Cal, along with the manager, Fred. They are a few of the greatest people who have ever chosen to go into the restaurant business. It seems they are always there, no matter what time of day or night, to greet customers and give them their personal attention, and always with a smile and a friendly handshake. It's easy to see that they pay attention to business by the spotless condition of their restaurant throughout. From the kitchen to the bar to the dining areas, you could eat off the floor; it's that clean!

Do yourself a big favor and get down there as soon as possible to treat yourself to the dining treat of a lifetime. It's a great place to take the family and if anyone goes away hungry, it's their own fault! Be sure to tell the boys I sent you!

STOPPED BY for lunch to say hello to my friends Al and Norma Spector from Pipes Pub, 323 North Broad St., while in Elizabeth the other day, and had one of the nicest chats in a long time with Norma. As usual, this "super-person" made me feel at home as she does with all her customers' and from the looks of the luncheon crowd, people still know where to go to get the best. The Pub is a fun place and on the weekends is the place to see and be seen. Get there A.S.A.P.; you'll become a believer, too!

HAVE YOU SEEN what's going on at the Holiday Inn North at Newark Airport these days? They have a Happy Hour from 4 to 7 p.m. that has their competition in the area sitting up to take notice. If you want to have a few before you call it a day and like rubbing elbows with the international set, which uses their facilities to stop over from their long journeys from throughout the world, then it's the Holiday Inn North for you! What a place to take a date and be treated like a king at 1960 bar prices during their Happy Hour. Check their ad on these pages for complete details. It's a winner for both young and old and is only a few minutes by car.

SOMETIMES WE GET NEGATIVE comments from restaurants we review each week, but more often we get such favorable response from the majority of our restaurants, it makes this column so worth while! Just last week we were told that so many people showed up at Mulberry Street Ristorante, 1050 Route 22, Mountainside, for dinner, there was a slight delay in seating as they lined up at the door to sample their fantastic Italian fare. It makes us feel good that this was directly attributed to our column. The same goes for The Cornerstone Restaurant, New and Pearl Streets Metuchen, last Saturday evening, thanks to the column written about Warren Vache' Sr. and his Syncopatin' Six Jazz Band, the place was packed with people from all over the Union area. Everybody had a ball and we know they'll be back again. Finally, our good friend Arlene from Arlene's Tallyho Inn, 943 Magye Avenue, Union, has sent us word (and kisses) that she's still getting response from the column we did on her fine establishment.

Sniff 'N' Tears' has new album

By MILT HAMMER
Disc and Data's Pick of the LPs—"Love Action" by Sniff 'N' The Tears (MCA-5242).

A new producer and an established lineup help to make the group's new album and its debut on the MCA label its most striking and far-reaching release to date.

"Love Action" was produced by Mike Howlett at the beginning of the year in Oxfordshire and mixed in Hamburg, Germany. The songs are all new compositions from the pen of Paul Roberts, the band's vocalist and rhythm guitarist.

As with the first two albums, the cover of "Love Action" features one of Paul's original paintings.

The line-up on the album was finalized in the summer of 1980 and in addition to Paul, the band now consists of Jamie Lane, drums; Nick South, bass; Mike Taylor, keyboards; and Les Davidson, lead guitar.

Sniff 'N' The Tears date back to the early 1970s when Paul first led the original band around the London club circuit. After this brief bout of live work, Paul spent most of the mid-1970s in France, where he developed his other career as a painter while continuing to write songs and playing occasional gigs as a solo artist.

In 1976, Paul was back in London and in the demo studio with a pick-up band recording a selection of his songs. Chiswick Records saw the potential in his material and immediately signed Sniff 'N' The Tears. "The Fickle Heart" album was released in late 1977, and a single, "Driver's Seat," was taken from it. This single charted worldwide, reach No. 15 in the American charts, hile th album sold more than 750,000 copies.

The second album, "The Games Up," broke Sniff 'N' The Tears in Scandinavia and Holland, and the band followed up the success with a series of European tours during 1980.

"Love Action" presents a tougher, more extroverted sound from the band Sniff 'N' The Tears is now back on the road.

James Van Der Zee, 95, the dean of black photography, will display his work at the Middlesex County College Art Gallery Tuesday through Feb. 26.

The exhibit will include about 50 photographs focusing on the Harlem Renaissance from 1919 to the 1929 stock market crash. His work is the result of more than 75 years of a self-taught career. The display is on loan from the Van Der Zee Institute and the Studio Museum in Harlem.

The gallery is open from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and Fridays from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Additional information can be obtained by calling 548-6000, ext. 327.

'Oklahoma!' at McAteer

Rodgers and Hammerstein's Broadway musical, "Oklahoma!," which opened recently at the McAteer Dinner Theater, Somerset section of Franklin Township, will run through March 31.

Performances on Fridays and Saturdays will be given at 3 p.m. and 8:30 p.m., with Wednesday matinees at 3. Additional information can be obtained by calling 469-2522.

Haynes coming to town Sunday

Marques Haynes will bring his remarkable Harlem Wizards into the area for one of their patented basketball performances at Roselle Catholic High School on Sunday at 8 p.m.

The main attraction in the Wizards-Roselle All-Stars game will be Haynes. He wasn't even two years old when his sister took him to a basketball game and sat him down all alone in a corner just off the playing court.

He entertained himself by dribbling a miniature basketball. Sixty years later, Marques Haynes is still dribbling a basketball.

The man has long been—and remains—the best ballhandler and dribbler in the game's history. For years, men have tried to imitate his act but Haynes has stayed a league above all the copy cats.

He is to basketball what Satchel Paige was to baseball.

"I tell everyone I'm 37 and holding," says Haynes, who otherwise admits to graduating from Langston University in 1937, playing pro basketball in six different decades and who has a daughter married to Dallas Cowboy wide receiver Drew Pearson.

"The good Lord's blessed me," he adds. "I've never had any illness, never any broken bones. I come to play ball every night just like I did way back when. I come in, get into my uniform and go out to the court."

"I don't need any of the tape and stuff these young fellows have to have.

Never been taped or rubbed down in my life. Never. I weigh 160 pounds, same as I did when I left Langston," he says.

Haynes joined the famed Harlem Globetrotters in the early 40's and, along with Reece "Goose" Tatum, was known to basketball fans not only in this country, but in every nation.

"If I haven't played somewhere, I don't know where that place may be," he says.

Showtime basketball is a game he both enjoys playing and watching. Tatum was the greatest court comic and entertainer of all time.

Haynes also appreciated the talents of Bob Cousy and recalled playing against him in a college all-star game.

Joining Haynes in the game at Roselle Catholic will be top comedy basketball talents Valentino Willis, team captain and number one clown; eight-year Globetrotter veteran "Little John" Smith; John "Fast Hands" Adams; shot blocker Jerry "The Eraser" Abernathy and 5-4 scoring whiz Spencer "Tattoo" Johnson.

Tickets, which are $4 in advance and $5 at the door, are on sale in Elizabeth at Jaspas Bros. and Prober Printing; in Kenilworth at Mr. Sub; in Linden at Star Sports; in Hillside at Mayfair Liquors, Carl's Luncheonette and Phil's Unisex Hair-Styling; in Roselle at Hayes Liquors, Chet and John's and Pat's Liquors.

Tickets can also be purchased by calling 351-2966, 245-4652 or 245-2350.

Tyler boosts No. 1 SLEJ

Despite losing two to Rainbow Rollers, SLEJ held an eight-game lead in the Girls Bowling League at Roselle Lanes. High for SLEJ wre Laura Tyler 209, Eileen Ertl 172, Sue Nycz 191 and Joanne Green 132.

In other action, Good Luck took three from High Rollers as Lisa Boronski and Linda Luxich each rolled a 140. Fantastic Four won two from WPM's and Rocket Bowlers took two from Little Rascals.

Other high scores were Donna Grundy 161, Carla Smith 154, Patty Lane 138, Karen Dunn 132, Adrienne Bowden 136, Alayna Paden 134, Avis Paden 140 and Luann Limaldi 129.

For further info, contact Benoit at Roselle Catholic, 245-2350.

Spots open for baseball clinic

Dave Benoit has been a very busy fellow this days. When he's not taking care of his administrative duties as Athletic Director at Roselle Catholic High School, Benoit has been putting the finishing touches on the school's sixth annual Action Instructional Baseball Clinic, which will take place on Friday, Feb. 26 and Saturday, Feb. 27.

The clinic will feature a number of well-known area coaches and will take place from 5-8:30 p.m. the first night and from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday.

"This clinic will provide our participants with the opportunity to run, throw and hit in our large gymnasium as part of their instruction," Benoit said. "The clinic will be especially helpful to youngsters in various youth leagues."

Benoit, the head baseball coach at RC and a former minor leaguer with the St. Louis Cardinals, has rounded up an impressive list of clinicians.

For example:

- Tony Picaro—Linden High coach, has led the Tigers to two state championships in three years; coach of the year in 1981.

- Rich Bakker—head coach at Kean College.
 - Bob Lelli—a former minor leaguer with the Cincinnati Reds; athletic director at Cranford.
 - Glenn Owens—assistant coach at RC, former player in Philadelphia Phillies minor league chain.
 - Bob Catullo—head coach at St. Patrick's; pilot of Roselle American Legion team.
 - Bill Hoodzow—former professional umpire; now ump's high school, college games.
 - Bill Rittweger—former Seton Hall University star; a member of New York Mets' Jackson (AA) team.
 - Mike Sheppard Jr.—minor leaguer with the Houston Astros; starred at Seton Hall under Coach Mike Sheppard, his father.
 - Jeff Ryan—assistant coach at RC; former player at Christian Brothers College.
 - Frank Feeney—assistant coach at RC; former Montclair State standout.
- Areas of instruction will include: throwing mechanics, fielding instruction at all positions, bunting, weight training, batting techniques, pitching fundamentals, catching skills.

and so on.

The clinic is open to youngsters ages 7-15. The fee is $10 for the two-day session and is on a first-come, first-served level. The clinic is limited to 75 participants.

Victories keep coming for Middle School teams

The wrestling and girls' basketball teams at Roselle Park Middle School just keep rolling along.

The wrestlers of coaches Al Smith and Bill Young are hoping for an undefeated season this year. With five matches already under their collective belt, they are 5-0 and boast an individual record of 60-5, with 45 pins.

Individuals undefeated to date are Anthony Galliechio, 4-0; Scott Toy, 5-0; Dave Fischer, 4-0; Vincent Capriglione, 5-0; Mark Casselli, 5-0; Paul Minitelli, 5-0; Gene Mirabella, 5-0; Ronald Toy, 5-0 (all by pin) and James Smith, 6-0 (all by pin).

Also wrestling well have been Ron Paton, Dave Baltito, Jeff Brink, Joe Kreech and Jim Gluck.

The girls' basketball team has also had much to boast about, including a 6-2 record.

The girls defeated Columbia of Berkeley Heights (37-18), Orange Avenue of Cranford (42-21), Brewer School of Clark (44-25), Lincoln School of Garwood (41-20), Hillside Avenue of Cranford (33-20) and Kumpf School of Clark (47-34).

The two losses came against an all-star recreation team from Carteret, which won games by scores of 33-29 and 31-30.

Starters for the Middle School are Merrily Daly, Kelly Murphy, Hanna Antonsson, Fran Ciak and Mary Hess, with Tricia Heims, Lisa Dragon and Darlene Woods seeing a great deal of playing time.

Other top players include Yolanda Romero, Linda King, Dee Welter Lisa Ferraro, Cathy Finizio, Jennifer Baldwin, Kim Schaefer, Karen Wasilko, Kara Baldwin and Donna Lewis.

Ciak leads the scorers with 71 points and is followed by Antonsson with 64 and Daly with 30. Antonsson, Ciak, Heims and Hess have been outstanding on defense.

Coach Virginia Gilerest's team has a few regular season games left and is entered in the Dunellen March of Dimes Tournament which begins at the end of the month.

UCLA to visit v-ball classic

All systems are "go" for the expected sellout of this weekend's East Coast version of power volleyball at its best.

For the fourth consecutive year, Rutgers-Newark will present the Michelob Golden Dome Volleyball Classic, which in the past has attracted fans of the world's most-played sport from as far west as Ohio and as far north as New England.

Taking part in the tourney will be defending champion UCLA, Penn State, the Scarlet Raiders of Rutgers-Newark and a new addition, Montreal International senior team.

Round-robin competition gets underway at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow with matches between all teams.

The Rutgers-Penn State match will be the last one scheduled that evening as it will also be an ECVL match.

Tickets are still available—and inquiries may be directed to a special "Golden Dome" telephone—648-5140—in the Rutgers-Newark Athletic Department.
