Regional tab shows decrease in tax rate for Mountainside

J. W. BURNETT

The Regional Board of Education formally presented its $20 million budget to the public Tuesday night. The budget reflects a 6 percent increase over last year and promises essentially no tax increase.

On a regionwide basis, there will be no new taxes; however, certain municipalities will, according to the state formula for determining regional board taxation, face an increase.

The impact on a home with a market value of 100,000 and an assessed value of $50,000: in Kenilworth a tax break of $50; in Mountainside, a reduction of $20, but in Springfield an increase of $20.

The biggest increase in the budget came in the field of salaries, where 793,821 more will be spent. This however, is "not necessarily a dollar increase," said Harold Burdge, board secretary.

The increase represents only a 7 percent raise over last year and is less than the rate of inflation. In fact, Burdge pointed out, the entire budget falls under the inflation rate, so it essentially decreased from last year.

The greatest decrease in the budget comes in contracted services for school administration. Here the figure drops from $121,600 to $84,000. This drop reflects savings from computerized accounting and other practices.

Burdge, however, called that an "artificial" saving pointing out that the computer cost $37,000 in the first place and the board had to "spend money to save money."

The saving from the computer, though, will prove itself in the long run said Burdge. Another instance of a saving mounting over time is the board's payment to unemployment compensation.

In 1980-81, the board had budgeted $50,000 to be paid into the unemployment system. Since then, however, the board changed its policy on payment, so now it will be paying only 5,000 into the system.

The saving came because the board decided to reimburse unemployment and pay compensation as needed, rather than the usual system which Burdge compared to an insurance policy—where you make payments by regular installments.

The saving arises, Burdge said, because teachers find new work quickly and the board has been fighting fraudulent claims.

In presenting the budget, the board also warned that certain state and federal funds counted in the budget might be withdrawn. The regional board is expecting 16 percent of the budget, a total of $3,278,282 to come from state and federal sources.

Most of the federal cutbacks will have no adverse effect upon the budget and the taxpayer. A damaging cut would be revenues estimated at $1,042,843 from state equalization aid. If this is cut drastically, Charles Vitale, board president, said, the board would have only two options, either reduce the budget or raise taxes.

Last year the figure was cut to zero and the regional taxes were raised. Those funds, $996,654 were eventually restored and Burdge said the current figure may be cut back to just above that figure. "I'm confident we're going to receive no less than last year," said Burdge.

The budget goes before the voters on April 6. "I certainly hope it would pass," said Burdge on his budget. "I live in one of the six towns (in the regional district) and I would vote for it."

Marathon to benefit programs at YWCA

MADCAP MARATHON, the annual fund-raiser for the Westfield YWCA has been set to begin tomorrow at 10 p.m. at 220 Clark St., according to Special Events Chair Susan Adriance.

Members of the Teens, Outreach Teens and Young Adult Clubs as well as Health Ed Staff members will be on hand to participate in a special "All Nite Marathon" from 10 p.m. tomorrow through noon on Saturday. Swimming and Volleyball are scheduled for the first 10 hours with dancing and exercising beginning at 8 a.m. Saturday and completing the final four hours.

Throughout the week, tumbling, somersaults, swimming, dancing and exercise will be held during regularly scheduled classes with time set aside for Marathon participation.

The public has been invited to sponsor either a participating individual or Health Ed Staff member or even a board member, according to Shirley Renwick, executive director. Pledge sheets and information on all events are available at the YWCA office.

Participants may choose one or more events to enter during this week. Sponsors will be enlisted who will pay a mutually agreed amount for each half hour of exercise, volleyball or dancing. Swimming will be on a per lap basis with a one hour maximum. For children, maximums will be set for tumbling and somersaults as well as cartwheels and other gymnastic events.

A core of YWCA volunteers will assist Donna Newman, health education director, and her staff members during the classes as timers and event monitors.

Mountainside citizens have only one opportunity each year to support their local chapter, and that is during the March membership drive. The Westfield-Mountainside Chapter hopes that this year there will be some extra support due to the growing demand for local Red Cross services. This year the slogan is "TOGETHER WE CAN CHANGE THINGS."

The membership drive consists of a direct mail campaign only, and all contributions are tax deductible.

School budget reveals overall tax decrease

By LYNN JOFFE

The Mountainside Board of Education presented its proposed $2,363,531 budget for the 1982-83 school year at Tuesday night's budget hearing. The near $200,000 increase shows a tax decrease of $94,834 for the coming year.

The decrease translates into a 5.5-cent decrease in the tax rate. This means the owner of a home assessed at $50,000 would see a $27.50 decrease in taxes.

"We are spending more money per pupil because we have less of them. There is a fixed cost to run a building whether it holds 200 or 500 students, and no matter how many students there are, the administrators get the same salary," according to Bart Barre, board member.

The breakdown of costs, to be voted on Mar. 9, was summarized as follows:

The Administrative Account, which includes the salaries of the superintendent, administrators, legal services, accountant's fees and various expenses, displayed a total increase of $15,805 (11 percent), from $143,220 to $159,025.

The Instruction Salaries Account displayed a 6.98 percent increase of $84,070. The budget rose from $1,203,855 to $1,287,925. Grouped with this account was the Instruction Material Costs which rose from $59,945 to $89,150, showing an increase of $29,205. The total proposed budget for Instruction was posted at $1,377,075; an increase of $113,275 from last year's $1,263,800.

The total budget for Attendance and Health Services displayed a $1,800 increase for 1982-83. The figures were raised from $25,065 to $26,865, a 7.2 percent increase.

Pupil Transportation saw an increase of $6,600 from last year's $121,000 to the proposed $127,600.

The Overall Plant Operation, which includes heat costs, oil, electricity, gas and custodial services, was increased 3.1 percent. The total of $287,920 shows an increase of $8,635 from last year's $279,285.

The largest increase was in the area of Maintenance of the Plant. Partially due to the expense of repairwork and renovations in preparation for the combining of Beechwood and Deerfield schools, the total was increased $47,200, from $72,570 to a proposed $119,770, an increase of 65 percent.

The Fixed Charges Account was an area of decrease. The proposed budget is set at $220,063 from last year's $243,433, a decrease of 9.6 percent, or $23,370. Included in this account is Social Security funds, state retirement funds and property, employee and liability insurance.

Student Activities was increased 19.4 percent, from $9,800 to $11,700. Included in this area are the salaries for coaches, costs for the school play and the costs of equipment to run the programs.

Other Programs (such as non-public education, compensatory education, federal aid to handicapped) was increased 44 percent. From the 1981-82 figure of $23,288 to $33,493, displaying a difference of $10,205.

"I urge you all to adopt this budget," Carl Marinelli, board president, said. "It is important to look at the budget as a total package. It meets the educational needs of the children with no increase in class size and provides for new text books."

A question was raised from the floor as to the amount of instructors and duplicate positions the system would offer after the proposed closing of Beechwood School. Marinelli responded, "We will start to review the administration needs beginning next year. I think our best interest was to take advantage of all schools in the district. We are trying to move as cautiously as possible."

"I think we are fiscally prudent. I hope we are fiscally reliable," Marinelli concluded.

Four persons filed petitions just prior to last week's deadline for the two soon-to-be-vacated Board of Education seats of board president Carl Marinelli and Bart Barre.

Contenders for the board seats, both three-year terms, all filed their applications during the afternoon of last Thursday's 4 p.m. deadline. They are: Linda Esemplare, Camie Delaney, T. Wayne Treece and George Serio.

Esemplare, who presently has three of her six children in the Mountainside school system, said, "I feel I have a lot to offer the board. I was a member for three years and have been going to meetings for the past 14 years. I'd like to see the quality of the Mountainside education maintained and the costs cut in areas that would not hurt or compromise the children. During my time on the board, I helped develop a new literature course for seventh- and eighth-graders. I helped decide on the hiring of the new superintendent. I also served as transportation chairman for two years, and in that time, I reduced the five bus routes to four."

T. Wayne Treece has one son in the school system and said, "I feel that I could offer something to the Board of Education in the way of managerial experience with my job and background. I would like to see certain programs expanded, such as the computer area and some updated classes that are current now. I believe the school system offers excellent programs now, but in order for our kids to meet industry and business requirements in the future, it is important that they learn how to cope with advancements in science and basic English and math."

Contender George Serio has two children in the school system. "Running was always in the back of my mind, he said. "Now that two board members are not seeking re-election I felt that it was almost an obligation on my part. I'd like to see the quality of the education system stay intact, realizing the fact of declining enrollment and possible future budgets' being defeated. I would like to see the curriculum challenge the mind of the child."

Camie Delaney said she has been active in the school system for the last five years. "I am pro-education, as I have two boys in the system. I was president of the PTA last year and the year before I was vice-president. I've served on nearly every committee in school and have attended board and caucus meetings. I feel I have done my homework and am now ready to join the board. This is a crucial time, and I'd like to see the transition, between Beechwood and Deerfield schools, a smooth one."

After serving the board for three years and with one child left in the school system, Barre held out until the deadline date before making public his running plans. "I feel there are other people who can step in and do the job. People with new ideas, new thoughts and enthusiasm. Now I just want to spend more time on my job and with my family," he said.

majority opinion."

The board did not reject the survey as evidence, but Marcia Forman, a board member, said she was approached by a surveyor who said he "was getting paid 45 cents for every 'yes' answer."

Results of the survey were 80 percent of those polled in favor of the mall and 20 percent opposed, according to Broderick.

"All this survey was for was to find out what objections were," explained Broderick, who said a fact sheet included with the survey was not slanted in favor of the developers.

Stokes called the survey "unfair public relations."

The second witness called for the applicants was Raymond Keyes, a professional engineer and planner, whose New York-based firm conducted the traffic study for the mall.

Keyes said he first examined the site for traffic feasibility in 1977 and has since then done a drainage study and a traffic impact study, completed in January 1981.

Improvements on Route 22, Springfield Avenue and other local roads will actually ease congestion even with mall traffic, according to Keyes.

He added that the improvements will be paid for by General Growth but that the county Planning Board will have to approve local road improvements and that the state Department of Transportation must pass improvements for Route 22.

Keyes cited Springfield and Hillside avenues as "two critical areas." A third problem site, the intersection of Nomahagen Road and Springfield Avenue, is in Cranford. He projected about 10 percent of the center's traffic would come from Springfield Avenue.

More than 200 attend hearing on proposed Springfield mall

By PHILIP HARTMAN

A hearing on a proposal to construct a 725,000-square-foot shopping mall off Route 22 will continue March 24. Testimony began Feb. 24 in front of more than 200 residents who turned out to see the case presented before the township Planning Board.

Anzeglio Pancani, chairman of the board, set aside the fourth Wednesday of each month for hearing the case at the Florence Gaudineer School.

No action was taken on the proposal to put Bamberger's and Alexander's stores in the 85-store, bi-level mall. The board must recommend to the Township Committee whether the 52-acre tract should be rezoned for a shopping center as a permitted use. The land is presently zoned as industrial.

Two witnesses were presented to the board by Newark attorney Robert Podvey, representing General Growth Companies of Des Moines, Iowa, which has been contracted to develop the mall.

Neil Broderick, a vice president of General Growth, whose firm has developed 32 malls around the country, testified that the mall would produce about 2,200 area jobs and a significant increase in rates for the township. He also took the brunt of criticism from audience members and several members of the board, who seemed opposed to the idea of a shopping center that might increase traffic on Route 22 and other local roads, which already experience congestion during rush hours.

"When Alexander's and Macy's first came to town, they told me that they wouldn't want to come to any town where they are not wanted," said Nat

Stokes, board member and former mayor and committeeman. "And before this is over, you will find that the people do not want this center."

That comment brought a negative reaction from one audience member: "Is that man on the planning board? He has no right to make a statement like that." The meeting was called to order on several occasions because of audience remarks.

However, Stokes was not alone in his criticism. "There is a very, very negative feeling it is a problem...a drain not only from Westfield and Springfield, but on all the shopping towns—a devastating economic impact," warned Norman Greco, president of the Westfield Chamber of Commerce.

Broderick contended that local retail stores will not be in significant danger from mall competition. "Shops will be able to compete, but I'm not saying there won't be an effect. Aggressive owners can mitigate those effects," he said.

Broderick also testified that a shopping mall would be the most profitable use of the land for the township, although he said an industrial use also would be suitable.

"It will be a 'good return to us and a good return to the community. We believe it is the best use for the parcel.'"

H. Harding Brown, representing Valcor Engineering of Springfield and other objectors, asked Broderick if he meant it would be the "most highly economic return for this site?"

"Yes," Broderick replied.

Brown also requested that a survey conducted on resident opinion of the center be removed as evidence because it "should not be representative of any

Hypertension tests set for tomorrow

The Mountainside Board of Health will conduct its monthly hypertension clinic tomorrow from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. at the Municipal Building.

The test takes only a few minutes, according to a spokeswoman for the board, and is especially important because more than 23 million Americans have high blood pressure, and at least 90 percent are unaware they have it.

Red Cross seeks support

The local chapter of the American Red Cross reports that its annual membership drive will be held in March, according to Alexander Gordeuk, chairman, Mountainside Membership & Funds Committee.

There is no set amount necessary to qualify for membership, Gordeuk said. Red Cross is truly a citizen organization, he said. Although chartered by the U.S. Congress, it does not receive funding from that source.

Firefighters urge caution on kerosene heater use

SPRINGFIELD—The township Fire Department and Firemen's Mutual Benevolent Association Local 57, in cooperation with the National Fire Protection Association, has issued a warning to residents that portable kerosene heaters are in violation of township ordinance and that use of the heaters is dangerous.

If a kerosene heater is already owned, a fire department spokesman said, proper use of the heater is essential for personal safety. Only kerosene grade 1-k, or pure white kerosene, can be safely used. Never fill or clean the heater in the house, the spokesman said, and keep the heater away from drapes and other combustible material. Always follow the manufacturer's recommended procedure for wick replacement.

The spokesman also warned residents not to store large quantities of kerosene. Nothing larger than a 5-gallon vented safety can should be used. Diverging from these recommendations could be dangerous, he said.

More information can be obtained by calling the fire prevention bureau at 376-1740.

YWCA to teach self-defense

Children up to 12 years old and teenage women can register for karate and self-defense classes Saturday morning at the Summit YWCA, 79 Maple St., Summit.

"Karate instruction helps one to build confidence, free the spirit, sharpen the senses, handle violence when it cannot be avoided, deal with stress and resist disease," according to a Y spokesman.

Mary Lou Vandenburg will continue as instructor for the classes that will run for eight weeks and begin at 10:15 a.m. The cost is $35. More information can be obtained by calling 273-4242.

Sewing classes continued yesterday at 11 a.m. The two-hour classes, under the direction of Ernestine Moore, are in their fourth term.

Anyone interested for the eight-week course may drop in at the front desk or send a $34 check made payable to the "Summit YWCA." It should be addressed to the attention of the Adult Program Director.

Girl Scouts to run spring cookie sale

SPRINGFIELD—Girl Scouts will be ringing doorbells today through March 14 as part of the Washington Rock Council's spring cookie sale.

Approximately 70 local Girl Scouts will be selling the cookies baked by Burry-Lu. The cookies are $2 per package.

Each purchase helps support Washington Rock Council programs and services for the girls. Selling cookies also is a major source of income for individual troops, providing them with funds for trips, camping and special projects.

Merachnik to speak

Dr. Donald Merachnik, superintendent of schools for the Union County Regional High School District, will be the featured speaker next Thursday at the Founder's Day meeting of the Union County Council of PTAs at the Westwood in Garwood. Merachnik's topic will be "Career Education—Where are we Going?"

Sannino is named

SPRINGFIELD—Maria Sannino, daughter of Felicia and Luigi Sannino of Battle Hill Avenue, has been named to the fall semester dean's list at Upsala College in East Orange. She is a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

Bloodmobile to make first visit March 18

SPRINGFIELD—The first of two annual Bloodmobile visits will be from 1:30 to 6:30 p.m. March 18 at Temple Sha'arey Shalom on South Springfield Avenue.

The temple will host the North Jersey Blood Center, which will be drawing the blood. Appointments for temple members can be made through Dorothy Danziger, chairwoman of the temple group.

Donors must be between 17 and 66, have good general health and weigh at least 110-pounds. Seventeen-year-olds require parental consent.

Women pregnant within the past six months and persons who have had ears pierced or tattoos within that time must postpone their donation.

Surgery will postpone a donor for six to 12 months and persons on medication should check on their acceptability with the Blood Center in East Orange. Persons with a history of hepatitis or malaria, or having lived in a malaria area within the past three years, are ineligible. Persons with tooth extraction or dental surgery within 72 hours are ineligible.

Persons unable to make an appointment will be accepted for a donation, and, those who can not donate but would like to participate can call Helen Stickle, chairman of the St. James group. Also, anyone wishing to form a new donor group in an organization or place of work can call Sue Kalem at 376-0582 or Janice Tully at the Blood Center, 676-4700.

Letters to the editor

URGES INVOLVEMENT
The letter addressed to the residents of Mountainside from Ralph J. Scozzafava, headmaster of the Vail Deane School in Elizabeth, prompts me to write this note urging the taxpayers of Mountainside to become more involved in what is happening to the proposal to lease the Beechwood School premises.

I attended the last meeting of the Mountainside Board of Adjustment and, quite frankly, could not believe the questions being asked of the Vail Deane representatives. If one was not familiar with the reputation of this fine school, a person attending the meeting could have concluded that the board members were seeking to prevent occupancy of the Beechwood School by some organization that specialized in treating persons with highly communicable social diseases.

It is regrettable that the borough administration sees fit to insist that every T must be crossed and every I must be dotted and, in so doing, will close the barn door after the horse has been stolen.

The hard facts are that the Mountainside Board of Education still owns the school and could reclaim it, should there ever be a future need for it. (a very unlikely event; but, if such were to happen, I'm sure the borough government would make available to the Board of Education the Barnes site which is lying fallow these many years at a cost to the taxpayers in excess of $300,000.00). Also, because of the delaying tactics by the Board of Adjustment, we stand in jeopardy of losing a reputable tenant for the school at a cost to the taxpayers of approximately one-half million dollars per year. In times when the paramount efforts of local governments should be to reduce costs and taxes, our officials are totally ignoring this fundamental responsibility to the Mountainside taxpayers.

The Vail Deane school officials have put the Board of Adjustments and the Mountainside people on notice that time is running out — they must have a firm decision in early March.

If you are interested in preventing the waste of tax dollars, you should make your position known to borough officials, from the mayor and council persons down to each member of the Board of Adjustment. We should not permit the good of the community to be sacrificed for the benefit of a short sighted few.

AIS expansion noted by lease

Brounell & Kramer, realtors of Union, has leased an additional 13,500 square feet in a new Mountainside office building to Access Information Systems (AIS).

Burton K. Danzinger, Brounell & Kramer vice president, noted that less than a year ago the realty firm leased some 5,000 square feet to AIS at 200 Central Ave., Mountainside. At that time, the firm employed 28 people.

AIS has chosen to lease additional space at its present site, rather than relocate, according to Steven Rosmarin, executive vice president and a principal of AIS, which today employs 60 persons in the manufacture and distribution of word processors.

She was a homemaker. She is survived by two sons, Raymond C. Hagel of Westport, Conn.; Herbert N. Hagel of Mountainside; a brother, Irving Fein of Miami Beach, Fla.; a sister, Charlotte Kalb of Long Island, N.Y.; four grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

Services were held Feb. 18 at the Menorah Chapels at Millburn, 2950 Vaux Hall Road, Union.

Klebos is named

MOUNTAINSIDE—Kenneth James Klebos has been named to the dean's list at Frostburg State College, Frostburg, Md.

Views On Dental Health

By SEANT FENTON, D.M.D.

IRRIGATING DEVICES

Recently, the water pick or oral irrigating device has become popular. How do they work? The water pick cleans teeth by irrigation with tiny jets of pulsating water which clean around the gums, between the teeth and under bridges where the toothbrush and even floss sometimes cannot reach. The pulsating water jets, flush out food particles from difficult-to-reach spots where food collects.

The dental irrigator is not recommended for small children, but for children over 12 years with orthodontic bands, the device is invaluable in flushing out food particles.

Some dentists have reservations about the use of a water pick depending on the condition of your teeth and gums, so it might be wise to check with your dentist who is familiar with your particular condition before buying one. In any case, remember that water picks do not remove plaque — only food. So, it is to be used as part — not as your whole cleansing process.

A public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: SEANT T. FENTON, D.M.D. 134 Elmer Street, Westfield, Phone: 232-2652.

Senator

Donald T. DiFrancesco

If a burglar enters your home and you use a weapon to stop him, you could face a longer jail term than the intruder.

It may seem hard to believe, but it's true. Under New Jersey law, a resident who uses unnecessary deadly force in defending his home could be locked up for a longer time than the burglar who violates his home.

And the law places stringent restrictions on when deadly force is justified. It is time to stop the victim from becoming the criminal.

I support legislation introduced by Senate Minority Whip James Hurley (R-U) that would protect residents who are just trying to protect themselves.

An incident in Vineland in 1980 illustrates the importance of closing this loophole in the law. Manuel Marin, the victim of three prior robberies, returned home one night to find two intruders in his home. Marin said he ordered the two to stop, and when they didn't, he attempted to shoot the tires of their car as they fled.

Two suspects were later arrested and so was Marin. Marin was spared a jail term by completing a pre-trial intervention program.

Under New Jersey's 3-year-old criminal code, a resident is justified in using deadly force on an intruder in his home only if he or his family's safety has been threatened or anything short of deadly force would expose the resident to "substantial danger of serious bodily harm."

This law wrongly places the burden of proof on the victim, rather than the criminal.

Hurley's bill, which is patterned after a Pennsylvania law, would correct this flaw. A homeowner would not have to wait to use deadly force until there is no doubt his life is in jeopardy.

It would justify a homeowner's using a weapon to stop an intruder who illegally entered his home if he has reason to believe that deadly force is the only way to get the intruder to leave.

Shooting a robber in the back as he flees a home would not and should not be justified.

This bill would give homeowners just enough additional protection to repel dangerous intruders and should be acted on quickly by the Legislature.

Federal delay blamed

Thousands face loss of aid to pay heating bills

Thousands of elderly and other low-income people may not receive financial assistance with home heating costs due to delays in federal funding, according to G. Thomas Riti, director of the state Division of Public Welfare.

"We're concerned that as many as 55,000 eligible people may go without Home Energy Assistance benefits because the amount of available funds was not known until this month," Riti said.

The available funds were generally reserved for the physically or mentally handicapped and one-parent families dependent on public assistance.

Earlier this month the state was notified that this year's funding would be restored to last year's $68 million level, but applications, however, have not matched last year's level, according to state reports.

"We suspect that eligible people aren't applying because they have not heard much about the program this year but they have all heard about the reduction of other social service programs," Riti noted.

Riti also stated that some people may not be applying because of the agreement between the state Public Advocate and utility companies which forbids utility shut-offs during this winter. "Some people will come looking for help when they're subject to service shut-offs this spring but then it will be too late," said Riti who explained that all HEA applications must be filed by March 1.

Under the HEA income guidelines an individual cannot have more than $449 a month in gross income and still receive benefits.

Other maximum income levels are: $539 for a family of two; $737 for a family of three; $880 for a family of four;

$1024 for a family of five, and $1168 for a family of six.

Special arrangements have been made to allow senior citizens and the disabled to complete their applications at home and mail them directly to the county welfare agency. Extra applications also are available for the elderly at county offices on aging.

People who have their heating cost included in their rent also are eligible to apply.

The program also provides for the essential emergency repair of furnaces and other heating units.

New Jersey residents interested in the program should contact their county welfare agency or call 800-792-9773.

Iacono 'believes in kids'

Bulldogs plan to rebuild mat program

By RON BRANDSDORFER
If you're waiting for Rick Iacono to throw his hands up and give up, you may end up waiting a long, long time. The last thing Iacono plans to do now is give up on his Dayton wrestlers.

"Sometimes a program has to go through some tough years," explained Iacono, whose Bulldog wrestlers closed a 4-11 dual meet season a few weeks ago and placed a disappointing eighth in the District 11 tourney last weekend in Millburn.

"But I think we've paid our dues," he added. "We'll come back next year."

Losing is nothing new to Iacono. When he got to Dayton back in 1974-75, he had to perform a bit of magic just to get the Bulldogs two victories in 13 outings. A 3-12 season followed.

Then the Bulldogs turned it all around: 9-5, 9-4 and 11-2. And that 11-2 mark in 1978-79 included the District 11 championship.

But 8-8, 7-9 and now 4-11 seasons have followed, so now Iacono plans to go right back to the beginning and start all over again.

"The district tournament just mirrored our season," Iacono explained. "The season was disappointing in many ways, and we had to struggle just to keep our heads above water."

"We built a lot of character this year," he added with a smile. "Next year I just hope to do a bit less character-building and a bit more winning."

To do so, Iacono believes it will take more hard work on his part and a great deal of off-season dedication by his wrestlers.

"Hey, I'm not down on my kids at all," Iacono stressed. "I'm a big believer in my kids. They really hung in there this year. I'm pleased with the program from the standpoint of the morale of these kids."

Iacono has already mapped out his rebuilding plans. To turn this program around, I think we have to make some adjustments in the feeder program," he said. "We have to get down in the lower grades and sell wrestling."

"After all," he continued, "kids want to wrestle. It's a lot of work, but in return they receive the challenge of the sport, the potential for recognition for achievements and the achievements themselves."

Iacono also wants to keep his solid freshman and sophomore classes rolling along. Of the 12 wrestlers who took part in the district tourney, four were juniors, four were sophomores and one was just a freshman.

That made for a tough 1981-82 season, but that could also be the price the Bulldogs have to pay for future success.

At the districts, for example, Iacono inserted ninth grader Matt Locatelli into the lineup at 101, and he lost just 5-0 to the No. 3 finisher in the tourney. And at 108, junior Rob Sokohl got past the first round and placed fourth.

Of the next five weight classes, four were filled by sophomores with just junior Mike Scuderi, at 122, breaking the string.

Sal DiMaria, a first-year wrestler at 115, improved by leaps and bounds during the season, and Iacono is expecting even more from the soph.

"This kid has probably more natural ability than anyone on this team," Iacono said. "He was 3-9 this year, but that's not bad at all for a kid who never wrestled a match in his life before this season."

Soph Alfie Heckel had some big, big moments at 129 this season, winning seven matches. And he could be one of the Bulldogs' top wrestlers next season.

"If he makes a little more than average progress in the off-season," Iacono predicted, "I can see Alfie turning his 7-13 record into 13-7 next year. He could be a really fine wrestler."

The Bulldogs also relied on sophs Paul Stieve (135) and Brett Walsh (141) in the middle weight classes. Then came a trio of seniors—John Caricato, Jack Parent and Nino Parlavecchio.

"John Caricato deserves everything nice you can say about him," Iacono said. "He loves to wrestle almost as much as I do...and maybe even more. He went from 2-15 last year to 14-6 this year and even took a bronze medal in the districts."

Parent had a tough time this season, injuring his knee early last month in a meet against Roselle Park. Yet he still finished with a 5-3 record.

And at 170, Parlavecchio compiled an impressive 13-victory season and placed fourth in the district.

"Nino was a real team wrestler," his coach said. "If we needed a fall or some help, Nino came through."

The Bulldogs will have their 188-pounder and their heavyweight back next season, and Iacono can't wait.

Matt Kuperstein enjoyed a 17-7 record as a junior, and it might have been much better had 1981-82 not been the Year of the 188-Pounder in Union County. Kuperstein was bumped out of the district-tourney by undefeated Albert Smith of Union, the eventual champ.

"I would hope next year that Matt can win 20-plus matches," said Iacono. "I'm not trying to put any extra pressure on him, but he's that good."

So is Castellani. The junior will share co-captain duties with Kuperstein next year and should give the Bulldogs plenty of confidence if any matches come down to the final two bouts.

"Anthony has a great attitude and is a real super kid," Iacono boasted. "He's always been one of the best team wrestlers I've ever coached. I don't know of anyone who will so easily sacrifice his own record for the team. Sometimes I even wish he was a bit more selfish."

So that's what the Bulldog lineup looks like for next season, but they'll also have a number of solid jayvee wrestlers coming back and some very impressive sophomores.

"I really believe we've hit a low point record-wise," Iacono concluded. "I think next year we'll be back up."

After all, the Bulldogs have turned it all around once before.

Alabama keeps league lead

Texas nets 20-19 hoop victory

By ROBERT STEIR
State League powers Texas, Utah and Alabama were the big winners in Springfield Recreation Department basketball action last week.

Paul Taher scored the last four points to lead Texas past California, 20-19. Taher, who scored 10, rallied the winners back from an early deficit. Eric Storch had eight and Craig Graziano two for the other points. Cal was led by David Lissy with 10, Danny Francis with six and Dan Lissy with three. Elizabeth Pabst and Dave Spillane played well.

Alabama defeated Florida to maintain its hold on first place in the State League. Scott Leonard and Matt Lynch netted 10 points each in the 20-13 victory. Fred Teitsheid and Barry Teitlebaum played well for the winners. For Florida, Scott Summers scored six, Robert Feinberg, David Blum and Craig Franklin had two each and Dominick Barone added one point.

Utah beat Oklahoma, 15-11, to take over second place. Lenny Saia, Roger Bassin and Mike Zucker all scored four points and Nick Cataldo two for the winners, and Nate Zonerich played well for Utah. Spencer Panter led Oklahoma with six and Josh Wasserman, Neil Berma and Kamuran Bayrasli also scored.

IVY LEAGUE

Harvard, Yale, Brown and Dartmouth all came up winners last week, with Dartmouth winning by forfeit over Cornell.

Harvard edged Princeton, 37-36, to retain first place. Chris Petino led the winners with 18 points, followed by Tom Kisch with four and Darren Marcantune with eight. Chris Wiekham added three points and four steals. Jeff Ginsberg and John Lynch also scored. For Princeton, Rich Francis netted 12, while Levent Bayrasli added nine, Ian Scheinmann five and Joe Di Palma four and two blocked shots. Dan Francis and Mark Goss also scored.

Yale defeated Pennsylvania, 52-45, behind Eric Kahn's 21 points and 17 more from Gregg Kahn and 14 from Greg Walsh. The winners hit 12 of 23 foul shots, while Penn made only three of five. Joel Greenberg tossed in 25 for Penn, while Tom Meixner and Adam Jacobs added six each, Anthony Graziano five and Craig Parker also scored.

In overtime, Brown edged past Columbia, 44-42. Brian Cole, who scored 14 points, netted six of them in the extra session for the winners. Brown overcame a 20-9 halftime deficit. Rob Fusco added eight points, six in the second half, to help in the Brown comeback. Dave Markstein added seven points and four steals, while Chris Clemson added six, Chuck Saia four, Joe Colatruccio three and Glen Baltuch two. John Lusardi led Columbia with 14, while Don DiLano added 12, Mitch Cohen six, Joe Cieri and Chris Monaco four and Dave Littenberg also scored.

SMALL FRY LEAGUE

With only one week left in the season, the Raiders and Pistons are tied for first place. The Pistons beat the Bullets, 26-14, behind Lauren Meixner's 10 points and eight by Rick Lissy. Meixner also grabbed six rebounds and Matt Applebaum two points and five assists.

For the Bullets, Scott Wishna had six points, Mike Lippman four and Maurice Palimino and Danny LaMourges also scored. Also, the Jets won by forfeit over the Lakers.

UC's Picciuto closes at 12-1

Union College's Pat Picciuto of Springfield was runnerup at 134 pounds in the Region 19 wrestling tournament at Middlesex County College.

Picciuto, who lost in the finals to Gloucester's Willie Adams, qualified for this weekend's National Junior College Championships in Worthington, Minn.

The Dayton Regional graduate had a 12-1 record in dual meets this year, with the one loss to Adams.

Town lists new golf fees

The Springfield Recreation Department has announced it now has memberships available to the Millburn Par Three Golf Course. Fees are $40 for individual adults and $70 for married couples. Memberships are available at the Rec Department at the Sarah Bailey Civic Center, 30 Church Mall, from 9 a.m.-4 p.m.

Kean's training facilities drawing rave reviews

Kean College's athletic training program and rehabilitation laboratory are attracting lots of attention.

For example, the U.S. Olympic handball team wants to visit the college to certify the fitness of its players. Professional boxers, including Matthew Saad Muhammad, dropped by for a day of tests.

Under the direction of Dr. Walter Andzel, an associate professor at Kean, the lab has proven particularly appealing when used in a variety of human performance tests. Athletes are subjected to hydrostatic weigh-ins, ultrasound testing and skin fold measurements, for example.

A firm believer in aerobic fitness, Andzel can point to such devices as a respirometer to measure static lung capacity and bags to determine carbon dioxide content of expelled air.

More than 150 persons have been cycled through the lab's Cybex II since the facility was opened a year ago. It evaluates muscle strength, power and endurance for any major joint in the body.

"They've gone through pre-testing, rehabilitation and post-testing," Andzel said. "It has been quite a valuable tool."

Kean's own athletes often benefit from the lab. Student players with previous injuries undergo pre-season evaluation to check on their readiness and, if necessary, develop a rehabilitation program tailored to the individual. This is particularly helpful to those with previous knee injuries who want to return to football action.

Someone who should appreciate that knowledge is Jim Hazlett, football coach and assistant athletic director at Kean. Hazlett is in his 30th year of coaching.

Hazlett credits "sound scientific research" for reducing injuries and getting a hurt player back to the field quickly. He said modern devices which determine the extent of an injury are in effect dictating the direction of rehabilitation.

"Before we get strained muscles, we know we have to get them pulled correctly. That's why stretching exercises are now regarded as more important than the old-style calisthenics," the coach said.

Hazlett has coached at high schools and colleges, including Susquehanna, where he tape recorded his own set of exercises to permit two dozen athletes to use a Universal Gym at the same time.

Still, when he looks at Kean's athletic training program and rehabilitation lab, Hazlett regards it as "the best in the state."

Summit Y slates lacrosse program

The Summit Area YMCA is starting a new instructional program in lacrosse.

The program will be for boys and girls, grades 5 and up, and will be held in five different towns, including Springfield, beginning in April.

Lacrosse, with 10 on each team, is a fast, skillful game. It involves running, dodging and combines individual play with teamwork. There is some physical contact, but with the use of protective equipment and adherence to official lacrosse rules, it is a safe sport for youngsters.

To bring lacrosse to more area children, the YMCA, with the help of a $500 grant from Exxon, recently purchased $2,400 worth of helmets, gloves, sticks and balls. This is enough for 24 children per class.

The Y plans to hold summer lacrosse clinics and also is aiming towards the establishment of a lacrosse league in the spring of 1983. In the meantime, the Y is currently planning its Spring 1982 classes.

Registration details will be announced shortly. For more information, call 273-3330.

Dipel B.t. takes the bite out of gypsy moth damage without chewing up the environment.

Now's the time to get your community working with the non-chemical way to control the worms that strip oak and other trees, crawl all over your house and squish on your door steps.

Dipel® does not show harmful effects to birds, fish, wildlife, pets or beneficial insects. And it's biodegradable so it doesn't stick around after the job is done.

Dipel is a biological insecticide. It paralyzes the digestive tract of gypsy moth larvae and other leaf-eating caterpillars. One bite of a sprayed leaf and they stop eating. In a few days they're dead.

For 12 years, Dipel B.t. has been used on over 200 agricultural and horticultural crops, as well as the forests of the Northeast and has shown no harm to man or his environment. The carrier in Dipel 4L is an agricultural grade oil and does not contain xylene.

So, there is an alternative to chemicals. Talk to your community officials and homeowner group. Apply Dipel yourself or contact a custom applicator. Small packages of Dipel are also available at most garden supply stores for do-it-yourself homeowners.

Annual Crimson Ball set by Union Cancer Society

The American Cancer Society's 12th annual Crimson Ball will be held by the Union County Unit April 1 at the Meadowlands Racetrack, East Rutherford.

Last year, the event brought in more than $32,000 for cancer research, service and education.

The black tie affair will be held in Pegasus, the racetrack's penthouse. The Lester Lanin Orchestra will provide entertainment.

Congressman Matthew J. Rinaldo of Union will serve as honorary chairman for the ball, a position he has held for the past three years. William McKinlay of Westfield, district commercial supervisor for New Jersey Bell Telephone Co., Elizabeth, and chairman of the ball, has announced that in the past four years, proceeds have totaled over $90,000, and accounted for a substantial portion of the total funds raised in each Cancer Crusade campaign.

The funds, together with other donations, support patient service and rehabilitation programs for county residents and help to initiate and sponsor hundreds of public and professional education programs each year that stress the importance of cancer prevention, detection and treatment. Contributions also help to sustain research on the state and national level.

Among the volunteers serving on the executive committee this year are William J. Biunno, chairman; Jacqueline Dooley, Dolores Mayer, Carol Schon and Herbert Lutz, all of Mountainside; F. Al Lehner of Springfield, and Irving F. Sturm of Roselle.

Golden Agers plan Purim party at Y

The Golden Age Club of Elizabeth will hold a Purim party and meeting Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the YM-YWHA, Green Lane, Union.

Birthdays will be celebrated, and a film, "Along A Romantic Road," will be presented through the courtesy of the German Information Center.

Family musical set in Evangel Baptist

"Sir Oliver's Song," a family musical, will be presented by the young singers of Evangel Baptist Church Sunday at 6 p.m. at 242 Shunpike Rd., Springfield.

The public is invited to attend.

BRONZE CENT IN 1864

The bronze U.S. cent, which appeared in 1864, was inspired by the flood of Civil War tokens, mostly dated 1863. The thin bronze tokens, readily accepted by the public, were much lighter than the government's copper-nickel cents.

The bronze cents were lighter, thus saving metal, and the bronze alloy was softer, reducing die wear and breakage in the Mint.

Pre-Purim spectacular slated by congregation

The Purim season at Congregation Israel of Springfield will be launched Sunday with a day-long "pre-Purim spectacular" featuring a theater party to see "Barnum" in New York City and a mini "Ad-dio-Yada" upon returning to the synagogue.

The Purim festivities will continue Monday evening at the synagogue with the Megillah reading and celebration for adults and children. The Megillah will be read again at the Purim morning service on Tuesday.

The Sunday activities will be sponsored by the congregation's chapter of the National Conference of Synagogue Youth (NCSY). Sheldon and Rabel

Kohn, NCSY chairmen, have announced that reservations for the theater party have been closed. The evening festival at the synagogue is open to the congregants and community without charge. It will feature hamon tashchen and other refreshments, entertainment and a "Kumsitz" social.

The festivities will continue with Monday's Megillah (Story of Esther) reading at 6:45 p.m. Hamen taschen and traditional noisemakers will be distributed to the children, who will be permitted to attend in costume.

The Megillah will again be read during the Purim morning service which is scheduled at the synagogue Tuesday at 7 a.m., it was announced by Rabbi Israel E. Turner, spiritual leader of the synagogue. He also has reported that other Purim customs will be centered about individual homes or outside of the synagogue. These will include the Purim S'udoh (feast), "Mishloach Monos," exchange of food delicacies, and "Matanos L'Evyonim," special gifts to the poor.

Nutritional education offered in Union County

By GWEN WARANIS
Extension Home economist
 Comparing the quality and costs per serving of fresh, frozen, canned and dried fruits gives the consumer better taste and better buys. That's one of the educational messages families in Union County, who are part of the Nutrition Education Program, are putting into practice.

"There are many factors which influence fruit purchases," says Gwen Waranis, Extension Home economist, who directs the program in Union County from offices at 300 North Ave., East, Westfield.

Nutritional value, family likes and dislikes, storage, preparation and season of the year are all important considerations.

Statewide direction for the Rutgers University outreach comes from the New Jersey Cooperative Extension Service. Mary Jane Willis, foods-nutrition program leader, administers the Nutrition Education Program from offices at Cook College, New Brunswick.

Rutgers community assistants in Union County teach families and individuals through in-home and small neighborhood classes. Willer Dollrd, Mary Murgo, Osiris Narvaez, Frances Sullivan and Maria Vela work with homemakers in Plainfield; Dorothy Smith teaches homemakers in Roselle.

In teaching homemakers with limited resources, Rutgers Community assistants suggest comparing different forms of fruit.

Fresh fruits—buy only what can be stored in the refrigerator; select carefully and handle gently, since the cost of spoiled fruit is passed to the consumer. Buy in season. Avoid damaged fruit.

Frozen fruits—choose clean, firm packages from a store that turns over stock quickly. Freezer case should be 0 degrees F. or lower. Buy frozen food last and take home to freezer at once.

Canned fruit—read labels for weight, type of pack and number of servings; lower cost canned fruits may not look as nice as the more expensive ones, but have the same nutrition and save money. Water packed fruit cuts calories.

Dried fruit—usually costs more than fresh, canned or frozen fruit. Choose packages that are firm and contain brightly colored fruit.

The Nutrition Education Program suggests that two servings of fruit be included every day. One of these servings should be a citrus fruit or juice, such as orange or grapefruit. A serving size is one medium apple, two or three plums or half a cup of canned fruit and its liquid.

To compare prices in choosing fruits, be aware that fresh peaches, for example, have three or four servings per pound; while a 10-ounce package of frozen peaches serves two or three. A 16-ounce can of peaches contains four servings, and an eight-ounce package of dried peaches serves seven.

Mrs. Waranis has cautioned that poor quality fruit which has to be thrown out or a can or package of fruit no one will eat are not bargains. "And consider the number of people in the family and the number of meals to be served when planning fruit purchases."

How to clean ceramic tile, kitchen tops

By CAROLYN Y. HEALEY
Extension Home economist

Cleaning the ceramic tile used in kitchen counter tops and bath rooms can be a difficult job if not kept under control. Of the two types of ceramic tile used, the glazed is virtually stainproof but the grout can become discolored. The unglazed type is prone to absorbing stains if spills are neglected.

One of the best scrubbing tools for cleaning ceramic and/or grout areas is an old tooth brush, nail brush or synthetic scouring pad. There are several commercial products on the market that can clean easily and quickly; however, they do add to the cost.

The cheapest home cleaner that can be made with relatively small expense and do the job effectively is made with one-half cup vinegar, one cup clear ammonia and one quarter cup baking soda to one gallon warm water. In using this mixture, do wear rubber gloves and work in a well ventilated area.

Apply solution with a sponge and rinse with clear water. Wipe dry.

Discolored grout from soil and mildew may require a stronger type of solution with some bleaching action. There are several mildew spray cleaners that work well. A home-made type of grout whitener can be a paste made of baking soda and water placed on the discolored grout, scrubbed with a tooth brush, rinsed and dried. Or use a solution of one-quarter cup household bleach only to one quart water to clean grout; rinse and dry.

Milk, cheese add flavor to soups, dips, appetite

Real milk and cheese add honest flavor to soups or dips. With them you can excite a lazy appetite, fulfill the desire for a snack or take the sharp edge off hunger.

ASPARAGUS SOUP

- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter
- 1 cup shredded carrots (3 to 4 carrots)
- 1/2 cup thinly sliced leek (1 leek)
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 1/4 cup all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 3/2 cups milk
- 1 can (13 1/2 oz.) chicken broth
- 2 packages (10 oz. each) frozen cut asparagus

Melt butter in a 4-quart Dutch oven. Sauté carrots, leek and celery until tender, about 5 minutes. Stir in flour and seasonings. Cook until smooth, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in milk and broth. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Boil and stir 1 minute. Add asparagus. Simmer, uncovered, 15 minutes, stirring occasionally, until asparagus is tender. Remove from heat and place one-fourth of mixture in blender container; cover. Puree until smooth. Repeat with remaining soup mixture. Return pureed mixture to Dutch oven. Heat to serving temperature. Stir in lemon juice. Serve immediately.

GOLDEN CORN CHOWDER

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 cup thinly sliced onion
- 1/2 cup chopped celery

Meanwhile blend together cornstarch, soy sauce, gingerroot, orange peel, and juice; pour into browning dish. Cook at High for 2 or 3 minutes until thickened and bubbly, stirring after each minute. Stir in pork and pea pods. Cook, covered, at High for 4 minutes, stirring once. Gently stir in oranges. Heat, covered, at High for 1 minute. Makes 4 servings.

Micro Tip: You can hold a casserole or soup at serving temperature in your microwave. Use the LOW setting for a 1 1/2 to 4 quart casserole or tureen to keep food warm up to an hour.

How to wash a fiber glass

By CAROLYN Y. HEALEY
Extension Home economist

Fiber glass curtains have many good properties but one band property about them can be devastating. Never wash fiber glass curtains with other clothes.

Fiber glass lint off just like any other cloth. The difference is that fiber glass lint is actually small slivers of glass. These slivers get imbedded in any fabric washed together with fiber glass.

The result of washing clothes with fiber glass causes an itch and rash on the skin that is practically unbearable. And rewashing garments will not assure removal of the glass lint.

If the washing machine and dryer has been used with this combination, then several loads of rags and carpets should be run through along with fabric softener and vinegar added to the water.

In the dryer, the fabric softener sheets should be used.

Prevention is far easier and more effective than a cure for a fiber glass itch.

Shark kabobs? is easy, tasty outdoor dinner

An easy outdoor fish dinner is fish kabobs, a tasty alternative to the beef shish kabob. A perfect fish for this is shark. What makes shark meat so appealing is that it lacks bones, has a firm texture, is economical and is very tasty. Be sure to wash the meat thoroughly to rid it of any ammonia taste.

HAWAIIAN SHARK KABOBS

- 2 pounds fresh shark filets, or any other firm fleshed fish
- 1 can (16 oz.) pineapple chunks
- 1/2 cup soy sauce
- 1/4 cup sherry
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 1 green pepper cut into one inch squares
- cherry tomatoes, mushrooms, onions (optional)
- skewers

Cut fish into one inch chunks. Drain pineapple and remove 1/4 cup liquid. Combine pineapple juice, soy sauce, sherry, brown sugar, ginger, mustard and garlic. Pour marinade over fish and leave one hour in refrigerator. Drain fish and save marinade. Thread fish chunks, pineapple chunks, green pepper on skewer, adding tomatoes, mushrooms and onions if desired. Cook over hot coals about four inches from heat for five minutes. Baste with marinade. Turn and continue to baste; cook for five minutes more or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serve with rice as main dish or as hors d'oeuvres.

Special papers should be kept in safe place

By GWEN WARANIS
Home Extension economist

Do you know your valuable papers? And do you know where they are located? Every family has many important papers relating to personal finances, property ownership, insurance and other business affairs. Good management means that a family take inventory of these valuable papers from time to time.

Examples of important papers are wills, insurance policies, bank accounts, mortgages, birth and marriage certificates, and any papers referring to personal property. There are many other everyday papers that are also important. These include auto registration, driver's licenses, checkbooks, and even credit cards that we may or may not carry on our person.

As to where to keep important papers, this might be determined by the difficulty and cost of replacing them, and how often you need to refer to them. Those papers that are more difficult to replace are better kept in safer places.

Safe places for keeping important papers usually mean a rental safe deposit box at a bank and a safe in the home. But the decision may depend on the accessibility of the deposit box and its cost, which depends on its size. The cost is tax deductible.

The location of important papers used at home does not have to be fancy. A covered box kept on a shelf may be easy to carry to a nearby table. The important thing is having a regular place which all the family members know about.

A COMPLETE REFERENCE OF FINE RESTAURANTS

Menu at 'Old Mansion' can hardly be matched

By JIM LEAHY

Once again it gives me great pleasure to take my hat off to Jo Ann Festa, owner of The Old Mansion, 917 North Broad St., Elizabeth, for the outstanding job she and her associates did in bringing to this area one of the most marvelous restaurants of its kind to be found anywhere!

Jo Ann's dedication and confidence in herself and her staff has proved there are still great success stories to be told about people willing to take a chance and fight for their beliefs. With today's economy as it is, it's really not the most desirable time to jump into a new business venture unless you know the cards are stacked in your favor.

With this type of pressure constantly gnawing at her conscious, Jo Ann went ahead anyway, and for that we are the ones who have benefited by her success.

I've always said, "Give the people the best food you can muster up and keep it at a reasonable price and you can rest assured they will come back time and time again, bringing new friends with them on each occasion." This is exactly what's happened at The Old Mansion!

Let's examine the menu for a moment and then you tell me where it can be matched anywhere for its fantastic selection of French and Italian cuisine outside of New York City? Reason enough for success! The appetizer portion of the menu offers no fewer than 10 selections including escargots bourguignonne, oysters Rockefeller, asparagus in prosciutto, stuffed mushrooms, clams casino and much more. (When was the last time you saw oysters Rockefeller on a regular menu?)

A turn of the page (there are eight!) and you've stepped into a gourmet's paradise. There are 19 mouth-watering entrees covering everything from poultry and veal to seafood and beef and, finally, specialties for two. That's not even including the soups and salads plus six different pasta creations, including tortellini ala Panna, fettuccini carbonara and fettuccini Alfredo.

Under poultry are two of my absolute favorites. Leading the list is anitra con pesche, roasted duckling served with a sweet and sour peach-flavored sauce and garnished with glazed peaches. Absolutely fantastic, to say the least! My second favorite is coquelet bonne femme, a delightful serving of roasted Cornish game hen coated in brown sauce and garnished with lardons and pearl onions. How about that to bring tears of joy to your eyes?

On the opposite page we come to veal, served six different ways. There's salimbucca alla Romano, a wonderful dish of thin sliced veal cutlets joined with prosciutto ham and seasoned with sage and sauteed in butter. It's then served with a marsala sauce.

If this sounds great, how about piccata Milanese? A delectable creation of tender scallops of veal dipped in a batter of eggs and parmesan cheese and sauteed with tomato sauce. If that isn't enough, it's then garnished with ham, tongue, mushrooms and, get this...truffles! That's right, I said truffles!

It's now time for seafood lovers to sit up and take notice because you know from what I've just told you, you have to be in for something extra special and believe me friends, you certainly are! There's everything from triglie alla Piedmontese, snapper fillet sauteed in butter and topped with crabmeat and finished with sauce Hollandaise, to sole Normande, Dover sole poached in fish fumet, napped with a cream sauce and garnished with mussels, shrimp and mushrooms. If that doesn't send a chill up your spine, nothing will!

In addition there are shrimp, bay scallops, crab legs and much more! Beef lovers also get their turn at the fabulous Old Mansion. They can choose from tournedos Rossini, a delicate tenderloin of beef, sauteed and garnished in foie gras and supplemented with sauce Perigieux, or a filet mignon with sauce Bearnaise that you can cut with a butter knife—it's that tender!

Finally there's chateaubriand, beef tenderloin cooked to order and served with sauteed mushrooms, souffled potatoes and their own special chateaubriand sauce.

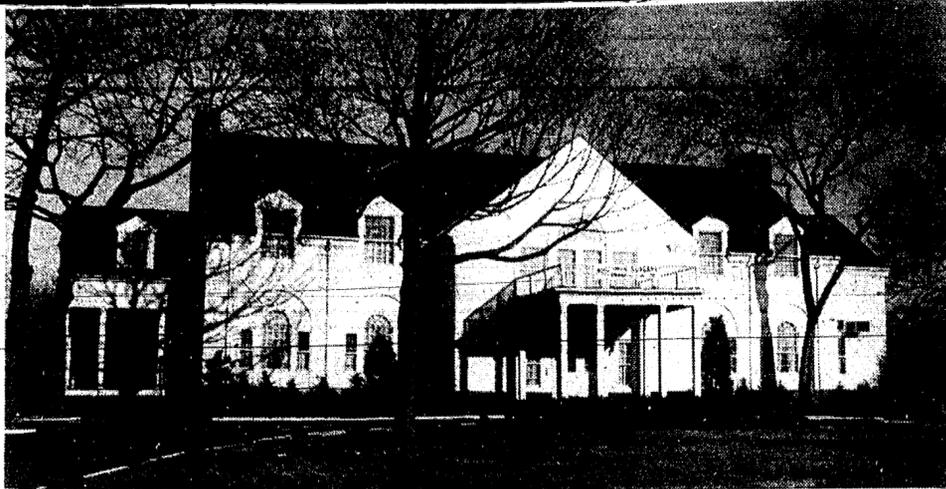

Last, but not least, when I pass from these mortal remains and head to the big kitchen in the sky, I hope they're serving carre d'agneau the same way it's served at The Old Mansion. It's a rack of lamb roasted and moistened with natural juices, accompanied by broiled tomatoes, sauteed mushrooms and rissole potatoes, truly a gastronomic delight.

If this column doesn't entice you to rush to The Old Mansion as fast as you can lay this newspaper down, then I've failed! If it does however, and you concur with my findings, I'd sure like to hear from you. Be sure to tell Jo Ann that I sent you!

LETTERS-LETTERS-LETTERS keep coming to our offices, some of a complimentary nature and others are just the opposite. We received one from a Mrs. R.B. who complained about an area restaurant that quite frankly, we never had the opportunity to review. However, Mrs. R.B., I'm glad to see you took a stand and sent a copy of the letter to the management. This is absolutely the best way to bring to their attention your complaint, and I'm quite sure, if they value your business they will take special notice of what you have to say and make sure something is done to correct the problem you found. Another note was received unsigned at our offices complaining about an attack on their gastric areas from food served

Lindenite in musical

Donna Anne DiMecele of Birchwood Road, Linden, will appear in the Trenton State College student production of Cole Porter's musical, "Kiss Me Kate," as a member of the Women's Ensemble.

The play will run March 4, 5, 6, 11, 12 and 13 and will be staged at 8:15 p.m. in TSC's Kendall Hall auditorium.

Miss DiMecele, who graduated from Linden High School, has performed in the college's productions of "The Playroom," "The Spiral Staircase" and "The Haunting of Hill House."

She also performed in the Linden Summer Theater's productions of "Oliver," "Fiddler on the Roof" and "Bye Bye Birdie."

Additional information can be obtained by calling (609) 771-2106.

Video spoof set on screen

"From This Spy On," a video spoof of the James Bond movies, will be shown at 8 p.m. March 3, 11 and 17 in J-100 of Hutchinson Hall, Kean College of New Jersey, Union, and at 12:15 p.m. March 17 in Sloane Lounge, following the appearance of Carlos Franzetti, who wrote the score.

The tape was written and directed by Garrett Gega, 21, of Roselle, who stars in the show. It was a class project completed over the summer in the Instructional Resource Center studio at Kean College and on location in Roselle, Cranford and Newark.

Concert due Sunday at 3

The New Jersey Symphony Orchestra will present an all-Beethoven concert for Summit area audiences Sunday at 3 p.m. in Newark Symphony Hall. The concert, as part of the season's seven-concert Summit-Millburn series, will be under the baton of the orchestra's music director and permanent conductor, Thomas Michalak.

American violinist Ani Kavafian will be featured. Busses will leave the Millburn High School parking lot at 2 p.m. Additional information can be obtained by calling 624-8203.

Sykes breaks a chart record

By MILT HAMMER
Disc and Data's Pick Of the LPs—"It Don't Hurt to Flirt" by Keith Sykes (Backstreet BSR 3277).

When Keith Sykes made his debut on Backstreet Records in 1980, he presented a style of music that sent reviewers running for the proper amalgam of labels. One in Memphis, Sykes' hometown, said that the music was "new wave '60s soul singer songwriter rock 'n' roll Anyone who can handle such a mixture, let alone reproduce it live with the basic enthusiasm and drive that its elements entail, is an artist to be applauded loudly."

The cheers did correspond when Sykes appeared on "Saturday Night Live" in November, 1980, to present songs from his first Backstreet album, "I'm Not Strange I'm Just Like You." Shortly after this engagement, Kit Raehls of the Boston Phoenix found another angle on praising the rocker. "Sykes' casualness is what makes his music appealing. You get this feeling on early rock 'n' roll records (Buddy Holly had it, so did Carl Perkins). Singer-songwriters rarely make rock records this comfortable, this certain."

This set the stage for Sykes' follow-up recording, "It Don't Hurt to Flirt." The songs confirm the musician's natural talent for creating catchy melodies and riffs and weaving them around lyrics that celebrate a rock 'n' roll lifestyle, but several tunes stand out in showcasing Sykes' special gifts. "In Between Lies" tells the tale of loving and losing a teasing woman, and Sykes has flavored the song with a reedy, roller rink organ that recalls the best of the '60s. Acoustic and electric guitars mesh with precision on "In My Hideaway," a song that extolls the virtues of an inner sanctuary.

With singers like Jimmy Buffett, Rodney Crowell and Rosanne Cash, including numerous Sykes compositions on their album and fans demanding more records, it was inevitable that the musician would snare a major record label contract. After shopping around with numerous companies, Sykes settled on Backstreet because its intimate organization was the personal touch he needed to help break a record on the charts.

Art show due

The Livingston Mall will present its semi-annual art show March 11 through March 14 from 10 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., daily through Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday.

About 100 artists from around the United States will display their work. Additional information can be obtained by calling Harriet Zocks, director of marketing and promotions, at 994-9391.

Cable TV set at Ritz

"Panorama Auction '82," a major fund-raising effort sponsored by the Lions Clubs of northern New Jersey and the cable television industry, will be held at the Ritz Theater, Elizabeth, March 13, from noon to 8 p.m. and March 14, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The auction will be telecast on most New Jersey cable networks and the public will be able to bid on fine goods and services at discount prices by calling the telephone numbers displayed on the telecasts. Bidding will also take place at the Ritz, 1148 East Jersey St., Elizabeth; admission will be free.

Proceeds will be used for Lions charitable organizations, winning bids are tax deductible. For information, contact the Ritz Theater, 1352-1360.

KEITH SYKES

'Loof' staged

Joe Orton's comedy, "Loof," is being staged at the George Street Playhouse. New Brunswick, through March 14. Additional information can be obtained by calling 246-7717. Tuesdays through Saturdays from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m.

'Chariots of Fire' offers something for everyone

By BEA SMITH

The very moment "Chariots of Fire" unrolls on the screen at the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montclair, the audience is engulfed by a musical score by Vangelis that captivates it right through the conclusion and the credits.

In addition, the movie's photography, a motion picture-postcard of breathtaking scenes of Scotland and England (one can almost reach out and touch the mountains and skies and oceans, and if one can use his imagination, one can actually breathe in the fresh, crisp air), is worth the price of admission.

The picture, which was nominated for seven Academy Awards, including best picture and best musical score, has some of the most exciting, realistic running scenes; particularly in the preparation for the 1924 Olympics and the actual competitions. A viewer rarely experiences audience participation, but last Saturday afternoon at the Bellevue, the children and the adults cheered and applauded.

"Chariots of Fire" tells a true story of two track stars, one a student at the magnificent Cambridge University in England, who vie for the Olympics championship. They are both fine, sensitive gentlemen, whose backgrounds are as different as their personalities. There is Harold Abrahams (Ben Cross), who is determined to be champion at all costs, particularly because he is a Jew at Cambridge and is disenchanted by the subtle anti-Semitism in the school, and Eric Liddle (Ian Charleston), a devout missionary, whose running talents come naturally.

The supporting cast, including Cheryl Campbell, Alice Krige and Sir John Gielgud, matches the excellent performances of the stars.

The picture concentrates on the athletic prowess of its runners to such an extent, however, that one never gets to see the inside of a classroom. A viewer sees the magnificent dining room, the vast halls and miles of campus, but hardly a book or a teaching class. (Don't they ever study?)

That seems to be the only flaw in the movie, and it can be the fault of Collin Welland, who wrote the script, and Hugh Hudson, who directed.

Phyllis Diller set for concert

Phyllis Diller, comedienne and concert pianist, will make the final symphony orchestra appearance of her career in a concert with the Bloomfield Symphony Orchestra Sunday at 3 p.m. at Bloomfield High School.

The concert date will coincide with Miss Diller's 27th anniversary of her entry into show business.

The program will highlight the orchestra's 50th anniversary. Edward Napiewocki will serve as director.

Tickets may be purchased at the Bloomfield Civic Center, 84 Broad St.

'PLAZA SUITE'—Robin I. Edinger of Linden and Irv Shames are starred in Neil Simon comedy continuing at the Stony Brook Dinner Theater, 154 Bonnie Burn Rd., Watchung. Judy Cole is director.

WINNERS LISTED BY ORCHESTRA

The Livingston Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Carolyn Hill, will feature winners of the orchestra's eighth annual competition for "gifted young performers" in concert on March 13 at 8:30 p.m. at the Livingston School auditorium.

They are Eric Olson and Joshua Gordon.

Among the 70 professional musicians from Union, Essex and Morris counties performing with the orchestra are Jacqueline Iozzi of Union, viola; Alfred B. DeFuria-Yanni, trumpet; and Susan DeFuria-Yanni, flute, both of Irvington, and Taida Alfonso of Newark, cello.

The ninth annual Young Performers Competition for Pianists will be held in May.

Additional information can be obtained by calling Carmela Cecere at 635-2345 or by writing to the Livingston Symphony Orchestra, P.O. Box 253, Livingston, N.J. 07039.

'Mary Sunshine' set for Academy stage

The fine arts department at Newark Academy will present the musical, "Little Mary Sunshine," March 5 and 6 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium, 91 South Orange Ave., Livingston.

Audrey Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice L. Davis of Mountain-side, is featured in the cast. Dr. Anthony Maltese, chairman of the communications department of William Paterson College, will serve as director.

Additional information can be obtained by calling 992-7000.

'Last Mile' staged March 5 in Edison

John Wexley's drama, "The Last Mile," will be presented March 5 through April 4 at the Edison Valley Playhouse, 2196 Oak Tree Rd.

It will be given a special 50th anniversary production. Among the members of the cast is John Williams of Linden. Additional information can be obtained by calling 755-4654.

Instructors note interest in aerobic dance event

Carole Fried of the Carole Fried Dance Studio will serve as the American Heart Association Metropolitan Chapter's coordinator in charge of organizing the first "Aerobic Dance For Heart" in Essex, Hudson and Union counties.

The event, sponsored by Capezio to benefit the American Heart Association,

Rockwell work to be featured

Norman Rockwell paintings and drawings will go on display at the Mall at Short Hills Saturday at 6 p.m., when Clara Maass Medical Center and B. Altman & Co. co-host an evening of the great American illustrator.

Original works will be on display as well as a set of the Saturday Evening Post covers. Dr. Stephen Lomazow, an assistant in neurology at Clara Maass, will be the guest lecturer. A cocktail reception will follow.

The exhibit will continue during the week of March 8 during store hours. Funds raised from this effort will benefit Clara Maass.

tion, stresses the importance of physical fitness. It will be held at a number of locations throughout New Jersey.

"More than 100 instructors have expressed interest in participating in the event, which is an effective way to make more people realize the importance of aerobic exercise and its health benefits," she said.

Aerobic exercise (also known as jazzercise or danceercise) and other forms of dance and exercise will be part of the event.

Participants in the "Aerobic Dance For Heart" will collect pledges of 10 cents per minute or more or a flat contribution from sponsors and then attempt to dance for as long as possible during the four-hour event.

"Some participants will be able to dance only 15 or 20 minutes of each 50-minute dance session," said Fried, "but it doesn't really matter. After all, it's all for fun and, most importantly, we're raising money for the vital programs of the American Heart Association."

For more information, contact the Heart Association at 429-0904 in Essex County and 789-3088 in Union County.

EGON KURZ of Springfield, director of field training and advanced marketing for the Prudential Insurance Co.'s Eastern Home Office, has retired after more than 34 years' service with Pru.

THOMAS SOPRANO has been named vice president, finance, by Memorial General Hospital, Union. He had been controller of Englewood Hospital.
