DISASTER DRILL—Dettlef Hoffman, Martha Zajkowski and Nancy Ceccon, all of Mountainside, go over plans for a simulated airplane disaster held Sunday at the former Nike site in the Watchung Reservation. The event, which involved many first aid squads and fire departments in Union County, was coordinated by Zajkowski, a training sergeant. The purpose of drill was to test county resources.

Senator takes post in Fenwick campaign

U.S. Rep. Millicent Fenwick has announced the appointment of Senate Minority Leader Donald DiFrancesco (R-22) and Mercer County Executive Bill Mathesius as co-chairman of her statewide campaign for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate.

"These men firmly believe, as I do, that the U.S. Senate today needs integrity, common sense and sound fiscal policy more than ever before," said Fenwick. "They have agreed to devote their considerable energy and abilities to organize and execute a spirited campaign to ensure that the New Jersey Republican Party wins in November."

DiFrancesco has served in the state Legislature for seven years and Mathesius is a former Mercer County prosecutor who won election to his office in 1979 in a county with a 4-1 Democratic margin.

"Through her many years of public service, Mrs. Fenwick has won the respect, trust and admiration of the people of New Jersey," DiFrancesco said. "She has been a national leader in the effort to cut the cost of government, reduce the burden of taxes, safeguard the rights of individuals and help the less fortunate of our society."

"Mrs. Fenwick voted for the twenty-five percent income tax cut, key spending limitation resolutions, and has worked tirelessly to promote a sound and cost-effective defense policy," DiFrancesco said.

Pets are in spotlight at Trailside May 2

"All About Pets," the Trailside Nature and Science Center's annual program dedicated to pets and their care, will be presented Sunday. Demonstrations, displays and films will be held from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation facility, Coles Avenue and New Providence Road, Mountainside.

"The fair's goal is to educate people about the variety of animals that can be adopted as pets and their proper care," explained Debi Jamieson, museum curator and coordinator of "All About Pets."

As in past pet fairs, People for Animals will sponsor a pet contest. Open to non-pedigreed animals who have been adopted, the contest features prizes for winners in specific categories such as best personality, nicest markings and overall cutest.

Carol Conway, owner of Bear, the world class champion frisbee catching dog from Plainfield, will host a frisbee catching contest for dogs. Bear will demonstrate his award winning catches and maneuvers.

Representatives from local pet stores will staff booths offering information on pet care products. A variety of pets, such as birds, snakes, guinea pigs and ferrets, will be on display. Demonstrations and talks will cover all aspects of care and training including obedience and grooming.

The first Sunday of the month concert, co-sponsored by the Folk Music Society of New Jersey and the county Department of Parks and Recreation, stars the Blue Flame String Band. Curtain time is 4:15 p.m. in Trailside's auditorium. Members of this all star string band play guitar, banjo and fiddle.

Further details regarding "All About Pets" and the concert are available by calling Trailside, 232-5930.

Towtruck reported stolen from station

The third towtruck in a year was reported stolen from a borough service station parking lot last week, police said.

The truck, valued at $9,000, was discovered missing from the Mountainside Exxon Station, Route 22 and New Providence Road, at about 5:30 a.m. on Friday, police said.

According to reports, two other trucks stolen over the year are still missing. Police said they were investigating the incident.

Vitale turns down nomination for another term as president

By J. W. BURNETT

In a surprise move, Charles Vitale, president of the regional board, declined to run for re-election at the board's re-organization meeting Tuesday night.

Elected to the post was Stephen Marcink, vice-president under Vitale and a 10-year veteran of the board. Joseph Vaughn of Berkeley Heights was elected vice president. Vaughn is entering his second year on the board.

The board also passed a revision of the capital outlay portion of the budget, which was defeated in last week's election. The revision cuts $35,000 from the budget.

The meeting also was the official beginning of new terms for Natalie Waldt and John Conlin, who were re-elected last Tuesday and Harold Donaldson, a new board member from Berkeley Heights. All three were sworn in at the meeting.

After the swearing in, Conlin placed Vitale's name into nomination for re-election as board president. It was then Vitale announced his decision not to run.

"I'm entering my sixth decade, and I can honestly say the eight years I have sat in this chair are the most fruitful of my life," said Vitale. "After all those years I feel that it really is time for the board to have new leadership."

Vitale said the board should have a new president because he felt a change was necessary and a new board president would bring "newer, fresher ideas and concepts, a fresher approach, or at least a different approach, to different problems."

"With all gratitude and humility, I decline the nomination," Vitale said, making it final. The board members sat for a moment. Conlin said he disagreed with the idea that change for the sake of change is good, but he and the board respected Vitale's position.

David Hart, a board member, commended Vitale as "a man who never took the easy path. He's a man who represented the community and the district with conviction and integrity. It's a privilege to have had him serve as our president."

Hart then put Marcink's name into nomination. Vitale seconded the motion, and Marcink was unanimously elected board president.

For vice president of the board, Vitale nominated Vaughn. The board's newest member, Donaldson, seconded, and Vaughn was unanimously elected.

Once elections were out of the way, the board moved to its regular business. The most important item on the agenda was the budget revision, necessary because of the defeat of the capital outlay budget at the polls.

Harold Burdge, board secretary, read a resolution calling for a reduction of $35,000 in the budget, cutting it from $294,000 to $259,000. The resolution was passed.

The figure of $35,000 for the cuts was arrived at, explained Burdge, during a meeting of all six regional district towns and the regional board last Saturday. Some of the towns wanted no cuts and Kenilworth wanted a cut of $160,000.

After hours of deadlock the towns finally decided to call for the $35,000 cut. Burdge said this is only the second time in the regional district's 57-year history a budget has been defeated.

Regional budget is cut

A $35,000 cut in capital outlay from the county regional high school budget was mutually agreed upon Saturday by the Regional Board of Education and representatives of the six towns it serves.

Capital outlay for 1982-1983 now stands at $259,300, down from the $294,300 figure that was defeated in the Board of Education election last week.

The municipalities of Springfield, Mountainside, Garwood, Kenilworth, Berkeley Heights and Clark had the choice of either leaving the capital outlay as it was or making some reductions. All parties agreed to let the board decide where the budget cuts would be made.

Yesterday was the legal deadline for each town to submit its approval of the capital outlay to the county board of taxation. Mountainside was to have approved the cuts on Monday and the other towns on Tuesday.

Although the vote to approve the $35,000 cut was unanimous, it took several hours of bargaining between representatives of the towns and the board to agree on the figure.

At one point, Berkeley Heights Mayor William Elderidge, chairman of the governing bodies, declared the proceedings "hopelessly deadlocked."

Kenilworth Mayor Livio Mancino's proposal to eliminate $164,000 from the budget was the main stumbling block for township delegations and the board. Mancino eventually dropped his demand to $45,000 and finally to the $35,000 figure proposed by Mountainside Councilman Werner Schon.

Mancino said he wanted the budget pared down because his constituents told him they wanted the cuts.

Rinaldo asks freeze on foreign aid in '82

Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo (R. 12th District) has proposed that Congress contain federal spending by freezing the fiscal 1983 appropriation for foreign aid at this year's level.

The New Jersey Republican said he favors capping foreign assistance at the 1982 figure of $7.5 billion, with any increase limited to the rate of inflation.

Rinaldo has asked the Reagan Administration to reconsider its proposal to boost foreign aid to $8.7 billion for the new fiscal year, beginning Oct. 1.

In a letter to Budget Director David Stockman, Rinaldo said, "It is unreasonable to consider substantial increases in foreign assistance at a time of budget austerity when Americans are being asked to accept major reductions in vital social programs. While foreign aid is important to national goals," he added, "it should not be funded to the detriment of other programs that fulfill critical needs at home."

The Congressman said his proposed freeze would permit the United States to continue its support for foreign aid programs that promote humanitarian, political, security, and commercial interests without putting additional strain on the beleaguered federal budget. "The world's largest single donor of foreign aid and it would not be unfair during this period of economic distress to expect other industrialized nations to assume their fair share of the burden of helping the undeveloped nations," he said.

Of the proposed $8.7 billion in military and economic assistance for fiscal 1983, the bulk of the increases fall almost entirely in the area of arms credits and loan guarantees. Among the countries that would receive substantial military aid are Spain (up from $125 million to $400 million), Turkey (up from $703 million to $819 million). The budget also proposed small military aid authorizations for Argentina, Chile, and Guatemala. The cap would not prevent the reallocation of funds to areas the Administration considers most critical, such as Israel, Egypt, and the Caribbean.

Automotive Excellence In The Gummung Tradition

The Mercedes-Benz 240 D Sedan hates waste in all its forms.

The 240 D Sedan is a machine engineered to be a mobile efficiency system—harnessing science and technology and even the wind to help minimize waste in every possible way. Its zero-excess four-cylinder diesel engine, for instance, is so efficiency-minded that conventional tune-ups are never required. It consumes a quarter of the fuel at idle that is burned by a gasoline engine of similar size. An efficient four-speed manual-shift version of the 240 D is available—and so is an efficient four-speed automatic. Even the 240 D's uncluttered shape is meant for efficiency: aerodynamic efficiency. The 240 D is meanwhile a purebred Mercedes-Benz in every engineering detail—helping to make this the ideal choice if you deplore waste, but love fine automobiles.

New trains to arrive by late spring, Gill says

Commuters using the Raritan Valley Line will begin to ride in cleaner, more comfortable, safer and cooler new trains by late spring, according to Assemblyman Ed Gill.

Gill, who serves on the Assembly Transportation and Communications Committee, has been notified by N.J. Transit that the new Bombardier passenger cars are beginning to arrive from the manufacturer.

"The cars feature — just in time for summer — year 'round climate control, on-board public address systems, high back seating, carpeting and rest rooms in all cab cars," Gill said.

"Extensive testing of the commuter cars will begin this week, with the first new trains entering regular service this June."

The current schedule calls for replacing all existing trains on the Raritan Valley Line with 62 passenger cars and 10 new diesel locomotives by fall.

In addition to the new equipment, work is now under way on safety repairs and access improvements at many of the stations, including Westfield, Garwood and Roselle Park.

Macdonald cited

SPRINGFIELD—Edward Macdonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Macdonald, Wentz Ave., has been named to the dean's list at Villanova University, Villanova, Pa.

"As a former commuter, I know the importance of these new cars and improvements to the everyday lives of the train rider," Gill said. "I'm pleased to announce these improvements. I recognize that an outstanding commuter line is essential to the economic welfare of the towns in my district."

"As a member of the Transportation and Communications Committee I have a unique opportunity to help solve the problems that have made commuting an unnecessary trial for so long. I invite any commuter who sees a problem to call my office Monday through Friday, 9:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at 276-3333," concluded Gill.

Seven officers to be installed

SPRINGFIELD—Seven township residents will be installed at joint installation ceremonies next Thursday of Elin-Unger Post 273, Jewish War Veterans, and its Ladies Auxiliary at Temple Sha'arey Shalom.

Officers to be installed are Morton Berger, senior vice commander; Joseph Todres, junior vice commander; David Gittes, judge advocate, and Seymour Marder, trustee.

Auxiliary officers to be installed are Elsie Lox, patriotic instructor; Ruth Hirschhorn, trustee, and Bobbie Wasserman, delegate.

Host St. Patrick's on Saturday

Bulldogs tabbed No. 10 in UCT

By RON BRANDSDORFER
Throw out the seedings and the rankings and the pre-tourney hoopla. The only thing that really matters in the 29th Union County Tournament is the on-the-field activity.

That's because the hottest team in Union County will win the tourney. It happens every time.

Can the Bulldogs, a somewhat disappointing 4-3-1 at this early point in the season, get hot in time for UCT action? "If we had a choice of winning something this year," began head coach Bob Lowe, "it would be the Union County Tournament. That's because Union County, over the last few years, has to be the best county for baseball in North Jersey."

Arguments may come from Morris County and Essex County, among others, but Lowe is sticking with his statement.

And despite the slow start, Lowe is sticking with his Bulldogs. He thinks his team can be a factor in the UCT, even though they've been tabbed No. 10 in the tourney seedings.

"I think it's a fair seeding," he said. "There are some really super ballclubs ahead of us."

That No. 10 seed does mean that the Bulldogs will get to host No. 23 St. Patrick's on Saturday in the preliminary round.

"Getting off to a good start on Saturday would be nice," he said.

At this point, Lowe doesn't know what to expect from his Bulldogs, who lost to North Plainfield (6-5) and Middlesex (7-5) before squeezing past Governor Livingston (5-4).

In the first loss, they got behind early, 6-1, and simply couldn't make up the lost ground. Vin Cocchia did rip three singles for the Bulldogs, while Doug Torborg and Tim Black had two hits apiece.

Against Middlesex, on the other hand, the Bulldogs jumped out to a 1-0 lead on Cocchia's solo homer. They boosted that lead to 5-1 a few innings later as Ron Fusco, Kirk Yogy and John Cocchia were the offensive heroes.

But four errors produced five unearned runs. That annoyed Lowe, who had seen his team make just eight errors in six previous games.

"Needless to say, I wasn't happy," Lowe admitted, "but the kids weren't too happy with their performance either. There wasn't very much for me to say." The Bulldogs did come to play against GL, and after giving up a home run on his first pitch of the ballgame, soph hurler Rich Policastro relaxed and kept the Highlanders off balance for most of the ballgame. Torborg provided a bit of final inning relief, and Vin Cocchia (two-run double) and David Crane (RBI triple) and Black (RBI single) handled the offense. And center-fielder Pat Esemplare made a sparkling running catch in the final inning to save the game.

"We needed that one," said Lowe, whose Bulldogs will host Bound Brook this afternoon, St. Patrick's in the UCT preliminary round on Saturday and will visit high-powered Roselle Park on Tuesday before a Wednesday trip to Spotswood. "There were a lot of smiles after the game, though not too much jumping around."

BULLDOG BITS—Linden (7-2) was presented with the top seed in the UCT, yet the Tigers are good but hardly awesome. In fact, there are a number of good—but not great—teams in Union County this season...New Providence is the defending UCT champion, having stopped Union a year ago...Crane appears to be back in shape after suffering a severe ankle sprain. He belted a long triple to right against GL and chugged all the way to third. A moment later, he scored the winning run on Black's clutch single.

Sports this week

Against Ridge, John Dahmen and Scott Vigilanti got things going for the Bulldogs by placing one-two in the high hurdles. Robert Casey kept up the winning streak by winning the 100-meter run and Ken Palazzi finished second.

In the 1600, Scott Connolly, the Bulldog captain, finished first and his younger brother, Dan, came in a couple of steps behind. Also competing in the 1600 were Walter Clarke, Jim Stevie and Chris Woodall.

Junior Sal Colatruglio won the 800 and Mark Stevie took second and Casey was a second place finisher in the 400.

After all those races, Connolly made it a clean sweep in the long distance events with a first in the 3200, Mitch Cutler, Tom Lausten and Jim Melkowitz followed with second, third and fourth finishes, respectively.

The team of Darrell Foster, Anthony Bacchus, Palazzi and Casey was nosed out in the 1600 relay.

Moving from track to field, Bill Cheney took second in the shot put with a toss of 39-9/2 and teammates Jack Vogel, Anthony Castellani and Kent Murray also competed.

Vogel and Murray did much better in the discus, with Vogel finishing second and Murray taking third.

Dayton swept the javelin, with Jim Stevie taking first, Scott Hain finishing second and Ed Hanbicki claiming third.

Casey came through with another victory in the long jump, while John Apicella grabbed second in the pole vault. Mike Boland won the high jump.

Though there were no big winners in the Summit Relays, Dayton teams placed in several events. The team of Bacchus, Palazzi, Casey and Connolly grabbed third in the sprint relay and Rusty Grimaldi, Colatruglio, Stevie and Foster combined for a fourth in the 1600.

"We have a 3-1 dual meet record, so there are really no problems," Byrne said. "I've been very pleased with our seniors—Scott Connolly, Anthony Bacchus, Bob Casey, Ken Palazzi, John Apicella, Scott Hain and Rusty Grimaldi."

The Panthers will host Bound Brook today and will welcome Roselle Park on Tuesday in a key matchup.

As for Dayton's girls, neither the rain nor a slow track could prevent the Coach Bill Jones' team from a fine showing at last Saturday's Summit Relays.

Junior Elinor Sadin teamed up with Sue Zavodny, Anne Marie Cocchia and Angela Macias to win the 800-meter relay and then joined Amy Kiell, Beth Mortimer and Maureen Kelly for a second place finish in the sprint medley.

Dayton also took fourth in the 400 meter relay in 54.2 and fifth in the long jump relay. Mortimer, Kiell, Linda Hockstein and Nancy Gaglio won the 1600 relay in 4:23. Other Dayton runners who placed in the 1600 were Shirley Salent, Lisa Roberts, Margaret Taylor and Lisa Mortensen.

Also, Dayton took fourth in the distance medley and fifth in the 3200 relay. All in all, Jones was pleased at his team's performance.

"I was pleased with the team's effort," said Jones, who hopes the effort continues at the May 7 Mountain Valley Conference championships in Metuchen. "We will be working very hard and try to work on our technique in the field events."

Jones was also happy to see his upperclassmen helping some of the team's younger competitors.

"They (the upperclassmen) are providing the leadership and experience that allows our younger people to develop," he said.

Dayton will host Bound Brook this afternoon in a 3:45 dual meet and then take on Governor Livingston tomorrow.

And both the boys and the girls are beginning to look ahead toward the Mountain Valley Conference championship meets, with the girls premiering on May 7 and the boys taking over the next day.

And he has been training hard. "You have to train like a boxer to prepare for handball, because it's a tough sport," he said. "Timing is important, and the training I've had is considered the best. In fact, handball is a game that can be played until you're 75."

Ciasulli is the father of seven daughters and three sons. Two of the boys are good handball players.

And everybody was happy on Sunday when Ciasulli he won the state title in the golden masters category (over 50) for the first time at the Paterson YMCA. He has also won two state doubles crowns in his 30 years of competition.

Why does he do so well in the sport? "I feel I was born with a lot of drive, energy and determination," he said.

If he can keep it up in June, he can place another trophy in his already overstuffed case. In all, he has won 150 trophies.

Not bad for a 56-year-old man with the enthusiasm and energy of someone 30 years younger.

Dayton rolls at Summit Relays

Racking up points has always been very easy for Dayton's boys' track team, but lately there has been a bit of a slowdown.

"We're doing well in terms of our ability," explained Coach Bill Byrnes. "What we need are more people in the events. A number of injuries have cut into our depth and have made things more difficult for us."

The boys did slide past Ridge, 69-62, last week in a very close meet and obtained second place in the 440 relay in the Summit Relays last Saturday. But the team did not have enough power to pile up enough points to place among the big winners at the annual invita-

Against Ridge, John Dahmen and Scott Vigilanti got things going for the Bulldogs by placing one-two in the high hurdles. Robert Casey kept up the winning streak by winning the 100-meter run and Ken Palazzi finished second.

Unbeaten tennis team hoping for slot in state top 20 rankings

Dayton's tennis team is pounding on the Top 20 door.

Ranked second behind powerhouse Westfield in Union County since the pre-season rankings were first announced, the Bulldogs have rolled to eight straight victories. Now they're pushing Westfield for the top spot and making a bid for the state's top 20.

The Bulldogs certainly looked like a state powerhouse last week, romping to four victories in five days, claiming undisputed possession of first place in the Mountain Valley Conference and improving to 8-0.

Playing all four matches on the friendly courts in front of Dayton Regional, Coach Dave Cowden's Bulldogs began by nipping MVC power Ridge by a 3-2 score.

It took three victories by the singles players to insure the victory. Michael Berliner had an easy time at first singles, rolling to a 6-4, 6-2 decision, while Dan Schlager (6-4, 6-2) was just as sharp in the second spot and Pete Sommer (6-2, 6-0) was sparking at No. 3.

Dayton lost two toughies in doubles, as Robert Steir and Dan Freedman were handed their first loss of the season, 3-6, 6-7 (4-7), and Tom Daniel and Kipp Levinson were stopped, 5-7, 4-6, at the second spot.

In a 4-1 romp over another MVC foe, North Plainfield, both doubles teams came through with victories, while Schlager and Sommer remained undefeated in singles play. Berliner, though, saw his five-match winning streak come to an end at the top slot.

Following the two difficult matches, Dayton enjoyed a bit of a laugh against Middlesex. Berliner, Schlager and Sommer all won at singles and Freedman teamed with Levinson for a victory at the No. 1 doubles position. Then Cowden slipped Tony Millin and Drew Greeley into the lineup at second doubles, and the pair come up with a 6-4, 6-1 victory to complete the 5-0 sweep.

The Bulldogs made it look even easier against Berkeley Heights, undefeated and the toughest opponent to date. But the Bulldogs came through with a big victory, as Schlager, Sommer, Steir-Freedman and Daniel-Levinson all earned straight set decisions. Berliner ran into one of Union County's finest players, John Lonquist, and was beaten, 6-0, 6-4.

The Bulldogs will host Bound Brook today and head to Roselle Park on Tuesday for a pair of MVC matches. And then they'll get ready for next Thursday's away matchup against Millburn, the No. 13 team in the state.

By the book

If pitching is indeed the key to winning softball, then the Dayton Regional program could be on the rise. VFW slips past Atlantic as Garbinski rips triple

It was an exciting week of baseball action in the St. James Little League. Just ask the members of Atlantic Metals and VFW.

Atlantic Metals was in control of the game and had just completed a perfect relay throw from the outfield to snag a VFW runner at the plate. Then, with a two-run lead and two out, VFW catcher Keith Garbinski laced a bases-loaded triple to give his team a stunning 4-3 victory.

Meanwhile, at the other end of Meisel Field, Joe DiProffio was busy holding Farinella to three runs while driving in four for Liberty. And after Tom Kisch pitched the last three innings, fanned six and even snared a hot liner to end the ballgame, Liberty had a 4-3 victory.

Ciasulli's not getting older — just much better ...at handball

Mountainside's Tom Ciasulli could be called the Pete Rose of handball—he's 56 years old, but he plays like 25. And he plays the sport exceptionally well.

Ciasulli is currently the nation's third-ranked handball player in his age group. And on June 5, he will seek his second national championship at a tournament in Tucson, Ariz.

He has been playing for 30 years, or since he gave up boxing at the age of 25. "I was a good boxer in the Navy, then won the state Golden Gloves championship at 175 pounds," he recalled. "I had been working out at the YMCA in Orange during that time, and I was considering turning pro. But to stay in shape, someone suggested I try handball. Once I played it, I got hooked on it."

And he was good enough to win the Y championship at Orange for 13 straight years. He then excelled at the regional, state and national levels to have won a title in all three categories for the last 30 years. In Tucson, he seeks to win for the first time since 1970.

"I finished third last year, but the will to win is great and I badly want to win out there in June," he said.

Annual track meet set for May 9 at Meisel Field

The 17th annual Junior Olympics track and field meet will take place on May 9 at 1 p.m. at Meisel Field. All boys and girls who live in Springfield are eligible to enter.

Competition is divided into boys and girls groups in three age categories. Age is determined as of Jan. 1, 1982: Bantam 7-9, Midget 10-11 and Junior 12-13.

Bantam and Midget competitors may compete in the 50 and 100 yard dashes, the running long jump and the half mile run. In addition, the Midgets also has the six pound shot put and the high jump.

The Junior division events are the 100 and 400 yard dashes, the running long jump, the high jump and the shot put.

jump and eight pound shot put. Girls get the six pound shot. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded to winners, all of whom are eligible for district competition later in the month.

Registration is free and entrants are limited to three events. Registration forms will be available at schools, the recreation department or at the field before opening ceremonies.

Last year, about 140 children were involved and two went on to earn medals at the state level. Pete Petino, third in the long jump and Carlos Hernandez, second in the shot.

The meet is sponsored by the rec department, with Greg Clarke serving as meet director. Maria Daramba, 11, has been chosen to carry the Olympic torch. She won both the 50 and 100 yard dashes last year.

In case of rain, the meet will be held May 16 at 1 p.m.

Chemical ends grass in gravel

Like a scraggly haircut, spring growth poking out of driveway gravel can make your whole house look shabby.

Similarly unattractive and annoying, persistent plant growth between bricks on walkways, patios, parking lots and even tennis courts can be a problem.

Weeding by hand is a gruelling chore and, after hours on your hands and knees, you've probably wished for a simple solution. A solution of water and Ortho's Triox Vegetation Killer kills weeds and prevents plant growth for up to one year.

For best results, apply Triox to barren ground or when growth is just starting in the spring. If weeds are 4 to 6 inches high, they should be cut down and removed before application. A large sprinkling can is the easiest applicator to use.

Careful planning important to successful remodeling job

When you remodel your home, you either change or reinforce its character. That's why nothing is more important to the successful completion of a home remodeling project than planning.

Andersen Corporation of Bayport, Minn., a leading manufacturer of windows and gliding patio doors, offers the following tips:

- Sketch a simple, but accurate floor plan of the project you have in mind. Cut out furniture patterns for the room and arrange them on graph paper. You might also seek help with the floor plan from an architect or interior designer.

- For safety as well as legal reasons, it might be best to leave complex electrical, heating and plumbing jobs to a professional. For less complicated projects, ask yourself whether you have the time, skills, patience and tools to do a good job.

- Contact the builder of your home. He may have plans for adding a bedroom or bath, or for finishing the attic or basement.

- In general, a building permit is required when structural work is planned or when the basic living area is changed. To be sure, check with your local building inspector. Always check the building regulations before working out details of a major remodeling project.

- Keep in mind that squares and rectangles are the most efficient shapes; therefore, likely to be less expensive.

Ovals and circles, on the other hand, are likely to be costly. Any new plumbing should be located so it can tie in with present pipes, drains and vents.

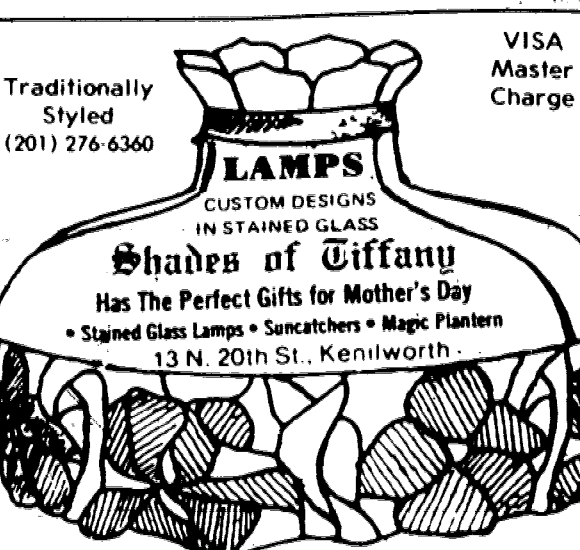

- Don't overload the do-it-yourself aspect. You can save from 10 to 15 percent of the total remodeling cost by doing some of the work yourself; painting, staining, laying tile, wallpapering, paneling, carpeting and hanging doors, for example.

- Whether remodeling is a good investment depends on how popular it is with buyers in general. From an investment standpoint, adding something popular like an updated kitchen or a second bath is usually sound advice.

Three musts in windows

When buying windows, look at the windows as well as through them.

Andersen Corporation of Bayport, Minnesota, a leading manufacturer of windows and gliding patio doors, suggests that homeowners look for these main features: energy efficiency, low maintenance and esthetics in addition to appearance.

Keep cool efficiently

It's easy to stay cool and save energy at the same time. All it takes is finding out how to use your air conditioner most efficiently.

The single most important factor, according to the National Energy Watch, is to make sure you have a unit that is the correct size for the area you're cooling. Room air conditioners are labeled with an Energy Efficiency Rating (EER). This tells you how efficient the unit is when compared to other models, and how much it will cost to run it for one year.

Know the good bugs from the bad ones

One day in your yard you discover a ladybird beetle, commonly known as a ladybug. Its bright red and black colors make you recall the children's jingle "ladybug, ladybug, fly away home."

But is its apparent innocence deceiving? Is the ladybird beetle in fact a threat to your garden?

Or perhaps you find a banded woolly bear — the familiar fuzzy-looking black caterpillar with a broad brown band around its middle. Remember your amusement when, as a youngster, you touched one and it curled into a ball? Is it also a plant killer?

No, the ladybug is not a threat to your garden; and yes, the banded woolly bear is. Some garden insects can be delightful to look at but deadly to your garden. Others are both helpful and beautiful.

Ladybugs aid gardeners by feeding on aphids, scale crawlers, and mealybugs. But the woolly bear is the larva of the tiger moth and can destroy many garden plants.

The elm leaf beetle and the Japanese beetle destroy trees. Elm leaf beetles skeletonize leaves, leaving attacked elms completely defoliated. The weakened elm is then a target for borers and Dutch elm disease.

Moths and butterflies are not the cause of leaf damage, but their larvae are. Tent caterpillars, bagworms, gypsy moths, and loopers are among the worst. Their feeding is small at first and the damage light. But when full-sized, they can defoliate a tree.

Leaking hose wastes money

A leaky garden hose may cost the homeowner more in higher water bills than the price of repairing the hose.

Most repairs are easy and inexpensive. But to help prevent leaks, Ortho's book "All About Lawns" recommends buying hoses made of highgrade rubber and laminated filament. A five-eighths-inch-diameter hose is usually sufficient for medium-sized lawn areas.

Drive heavy wooden stakes into lawns near flower beds to protect tender plants from damage caused by hoses pulled tight.

Overwatering deadly to plants

Overwatering kills more plants than underwatering.

Most house plants can survive a drying-out period between waterings. If they become too dry, wilted leaves and drooping stems signal thirst.

There are no hard and fast rules; knowing your plants is your best guide. Feel the soil. If it is moist and crumbly, water in the next day or so.

If water is not being absorbed, it is possible the root ball has dried out. Ortho's book "Award-Winning Small-Space Gardens" suggests adding a drop of liquid detergent to break surface tension.

Water plants thoroughly until water drains out of the bottom of the pot. Water plants less during cloudy

Stop wasps

Problems with wasps getting indoors can be solved by plugging up their entryway with a foam sealant. Excess cured foam can be cut flush to the wall with a sharp knife.

weather and in non-growing seasons when they are less active.

If you keep your watering can filled, the water will be at a temperature comfortable to plants.

A COMPLETE REFERENCE OF FINE RESTAURANTS

Personal touch keeps Mulberry Street thriving

By JIM LEAHY
When Mike and Carole Callahan first took over the reins at their now-famous restaurant, Mulberry Street, 1050 Route 22, Mountainside, I'm sure they anticipated a certain amount of success, but I'll bet nothing like it has been! Not only has this wonderful restaurant grasped the hearts of Italian food lovers from all over the state, but it has established itself as one of the finest of its kind to be found anywhere, and even more important, it's constantly building on its reputation of serving the public, because of the personal touch of Mike and Carol, who supervise the purchasing and preparing of every morsel that leaves the kitchen. It's this personal touch, this caring about people, that will keep this restaurant always great as long as the Callahan family is in charge.

and on, until you finally come to the entree portion.
It's under this category that the fun really begins, with such exotic Italian dishes as Vitello Alla Fiorentina, consisting of sauted veal with garlic, artichokes, mushrooms and spinach. If that doesn't bring a weak feeling to your knees, try Pollo Al Caruso, chicken sauted with olives, mushrooms and onions. Wait... if you'd rather have a beef dish, try Bisteche Giambotta, sauted sirloin pieces with mushrooms, potatoes, onions and peppers. Finally, for the seafood lover, there's everything from steamed lightly seasoned shellfish to shrimp and lobster tails, all with delightful sounding Italian names. Where, my friends, do you know of any other restaurant that offers some of the items I've just mentioned, and where, my friends, will you find such an authentic Italian restaurant so close to home? My hat must be tipped to chef Vincenzo, who creates these fabulous meals for all of us to enjoy.

For those of you who haven't had the pleasure of dining at Mulberry Street recently, I suggest you get over there this weekend and to be on the safe side, call ahead for reservations: it's getting that popular! There's plenty of free parking and remember... they now have a liquor license, enabling you to enjoy a glass of wine, beer or a cocktail with your meal.
Before closing, I forgot to mention another member of the family who someday will be taking over a very important part of their operation, and that's Michael Andrew Callahan Jr. He's now 2 1/2 months old at this writing. He's the apple of Mom and Dad's eye and is just another indication of how great things have been going for this fine couple of restaurateurs.
RECEIVED A LETTER the other day that deserves recognition. It goes like this:
Gentlemen:
After several months we finally got around to using our "Dinner For Two" gift at Dunn's Restaurant in Roselle, N.J. and a beautiful gift it was. We cannot thank you enough. There were many reasons for the delay. Bad weather, inconvenient working conditions, plus the fact that Dunn's is not open on Sunday. It was well worth the wait, however. We had a most delicious dinner. The place was spotless and we couldn't have had a more pleasant, efficient waitress.
As good as Jim Leahy's description was he still didn't do Dunn's justice. You can be sure we will visit there again many times and also tell our friends.

We eagerly await Jim's review every week, and have visited many of the places he reviews.
Keep up the good work. It is the best part of the newspaper. Please extend our gratitude to the folks at Dunn's Restaurant.
Gratefully,
JAMES AND HARRIETT LOOBY

The four sides of "The George Benson Collection" highlights Benson's association with the finest performers and producers in contemporary music, resulting in some of the most memorable music of the era. It's a creative saga stretching nearly two decades, brought into brilliant relief on this sparkling greatest hits collection which features his latest hit, "Turn Your Love Around," which is rapidly climbing both pop and R&B charts.

Class of '62 reunion

UNION—The Union High School Class of 1962 will hold its 20-year reunion Nov. 26 at the Town and Campus restaurant in Union.

Graduates are being asked to contact Linda Potter Petkov, 270 Washington Ave., Union 07083 for further information.

Ko-Ko-Mo will perform at Kean

A youth who loved to clown around so much in his junior high school days that he was suspended will do just that at a show at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Wilkins Theatre at Kean College.

He is Ko-Ko-Mo the Clown, better known to his classmates and college professors as Raymond Solimeno, 24, of Millburn, a sophomore industrial arts major. Ko-Ko-Mo, assisted by Gabrielle Pintado, 18, of Irvington, a freshman, will ride his unicycle, juggle and present comic repartee at a program also featuring "The Message," a rock and roll group.

The program is being given as a benefit for the Deborah Hospital at Browns Mills. It is being sponsored by the Community Services Department under the direction of Roye-Ann Hargrove.

Fascinated by the antics of clowns, Solimeno was accepted by the Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Clown School at Venice, Fla. Following his graduation, he joined the Hoxie Brothers Circus, only to find that while he likes "clowning," he's not a gypsy at heart.

"You can imagine what my parents thought when I told them I want to be a clown instead of a doctor or a lawyer!" he said with a smile.

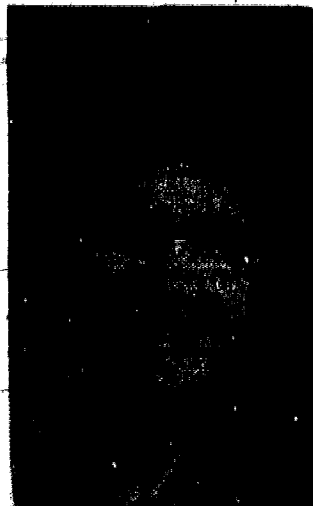

He worked at a variety of restaurants and fast food places before deciding that he would enter college. "I've always enjoyed making things and I wanted something substantial to do. I've always enjoyed working with wood and metal."

He now has the best of two worlds. He attends college during the week and gives shows on weekends. He also has done a Kodak commercial.

And he keeps adding to his repertoire. Besides juggling and riding the unicycle, he also makes balloon animals and does magic.

"The Message" features five talented artists. The lead vocalist is Dean Fasano, while Rich Sambora is the guitarist, Alec John Such plays the bass, Vince Sisser the drums and Dennis Amoroso the piano. The group made its debut album on Dream Disc records with "Lessons." It was released April 15.

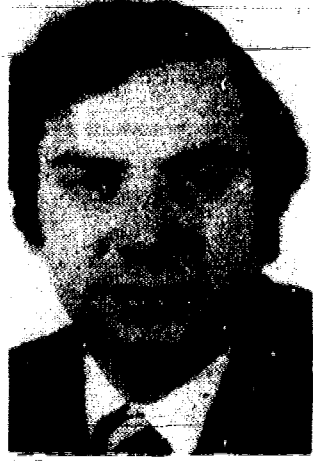

JOSEPHINE PEAKE, manager of the Mountain-side Branch of United Jersey Bank/Central, has been promoted to the position of assistant secretary.

JAMES J. HARRINGTON has been promoted to assistant secretary by United Jersey Bank/Central.

HELEN G. MACONEGHY of Union has been awarded a commemorative plaque to mark her 40th anniversary with Fidelity Union Bank.

BRUCE H. THEUERKAUF of Morvin Realty, executive managing director of General Greene Village, Springfield, and Springview Gardens, was awarded the designation of certified property manager by the Institute of Real Estate Management and was the recipient of the New Jersey chapter's "1981 Candidate of the Year" award.

NORMAN F. HECKEL of Union has joined Hartz Mountain Harrison as account manager for the northern and central New Jersey area.

BREEZE CORPORATIONS of Union reported sales of $9,645,355 for the first quarter of 1982, compared to $9,517,747 for the same period last year. Because of increased operating expenses, net income for the period was $515,854 (64 cents a share), compared to $574,103 (72 cents a share) in 1981.

NATIONAL STATE BANK reports first-quarter earnings before
