Regional district awaiting settlement tests

BY PHILIP HARTMAN

A threatened teacher strike, loss of promised state aid and declining student enrollment are major concerns for the Union County regional schools, according to Superintendent Donald Merachnik.

He explained, however, that despite those hindrances the district has equipped itself to protect current curriculum and will make provisions for changes in some instructional programs.

The superintendent gave assurance that a plan to operate programs is ready should the school year begin without a contract settlement with the teachers, represented by the American Federation of Teachers (AFT), local 3417. Because the board is bargaining

"in good faith," the plan will not be made public until such time that a teacher strike happens, he said.

The AFT has said its position, "no contract-no work," will be followed by its membership who overwhelmingly endorsed that stance.

"The (regional) board, although willing to be reasonable in dealing with its staff, must be prepared for the possibility of a teacher strike. If a strike occurs, the board is committed to keeping schools open for students and to protect the safety and security of students, working staff and school property and equipment," Merachnik said.

He added that if some of the union demands were agreed to the board would be forfeiting its right to govern and manage the schools.

On the loss of $1,012,435 in state aid, the board announced last week that budget cuts would partially satisfy the district's need of those funds. In lieu of further budget cutting, other cost saving measures, including return of monies by the state legislature or the use of surplus funds, are only possibilities at this time, Merachnik said.

"The regional district does not feel that students should be harmed because of a lack of integrity and credibility on the part of the state government," he stated.

Declining enrollment in the schools also is expected to continue.

Projected figures for this year are:

Jonathan Dayton, 974; Arthur L. Johnson, 1013; Governor Livingston, 924, and David Brearley, 764.

A newly formed board education committee, "Committee on Future Planning," will be addressing this issue in their study of long-range planning for the district, Merachnik said. The committee's findings will affect district planning considering that the state Board of Education may be looking to decrease the number of school districts in the state, according to Merachnik.

The superintendent states in a four-page report, that despite those concerns, the board has made provisions for changes in the instructional programs this year.

Advanced placement physics, a new course, will be offered as second-year level physics taught on the college level. Because of adequate enrollment at only two schools, Dayton and Johnson alone will be offering the advanced course.

A basic skills improvement program is being introduced as a required course for one semester or one year for students identified as requiring basic skills instruction in communication and/or computation. The change takes two programs, the federal Title I and the state Compensatory Education Program, and combines them as a comprehensive basic skills improvement program.

All four schools will offer the program for students who require remediation in accordance with high school graduation requirements.

A third change is four vocational and technical courses added to the specific vocational specialties already offered at each school.

The additions are: Technical Education Electronics at Livingston; Technical Education Computer Science at Dayton; Child Care and Guidance Services at Livingston, and Institutional Home Management and Support Services at Johnson. The courses will be introduced in the 11th grade and continue into a second-year program for seniors.

Also, a class for neurologically impaired students will be opening at Dayton.

Echo worker helps save paraplegic from car fire

Mike Stergiou, a full-time employee in the circulation department of Suburban Publishing Corp. (The Mountainside Echo), is one of two persons Roseland police credit with saving the life of a paraplegic last week.

Stergiou a Union College student who resides at 255 Fitzpatrick St., Hillside, was coming back from making a delivery about 3:30 p.m. on route 280 Aug. 9 when he spotted a flaming car on the roadside and pulled Joseph Venpola, an East Orange resident and a paraplegic, from the vehicle.

"I saw flames shooting around the front tire of the car. The door was open and smoke was coming out of the inside of the car...I pulled over to the shoulder and ran back to the car. I looked at the guy (Venpola) and asked him if he was hurt. I looked at the handles he used for driving. He said he wasn't hurt, but he couldn't get out of the car.

"I pulled him out and away from the car. Then John Casale (another person driving on the highway) ran up with a fire extinguisher. I asked him to help me move him (Venpola) back further from the car."

Local police arrived within five minutes of the incident and fire department personnel within 10 minutes, Stergiou said. The car, which experienced a mechanical failure, was "totally destroyed by that time."

Rinaldo amendment receives go-ahead

The House Energy and Commerce Committee has approved legislation authorizing the creation of Radio Marti to transmit news to Cuba, and in the process adopted a key amendment offered by Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo of New Jersey permitting the station to broadcast on the AM band.

Radio Marti is a government project aimed at countering Fidel Castro's propaganda offensive in Cuba by setting up an independent station to inform listeners in Cuba about their government's activities in Cuba and throughout the world. Planned for location in the Florida Keys, it would be patterned after Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty.

The Rinaldo amendment, approved 24-18, is intended to allow Radio Marti to go into operation on the AM band next year as planned. Had it been rejected, the station would have been subjected to lengthy regulatory proceedings that would have taken many years and would likely have killed the project, Rinaldo said. The amendment had the support of Cuban-American organizations and the State Department, which sees Radio Marti as an important instrument of U.S. foreign policy toward Cuba.

Opponents of the amendment expressed concern that Castro would retaliate against Radio Marti by broadcasting on the same frequency from a 500,000-watt station. It was feared that this signal also could have serious consequences for domestic U.S. stations, particularly WHO in Des Moines, which shares Radio Marti's proposed frequency.

Rinaldo rejected that argument, telling the committee that it "fails to take into account that Cuba has been interfering with AM radio broadcasting in this country for more than a decade, and it is pure speculation whether it would increase its interference ac-

50G approved for legal fees

BY SUE SWEENEY

An emergency resolution for $50,000 from surplus funds, to cover "unanticipated expenses" for the 1982 legal fees, was approved by the Mountainside Borough Council at the regular meeting on Tuesday.

The council did not, at the time of preparing the 1982 budget, foresee the additional expense of legal fees. As a result of the Raymond Della Serra hearings and other P.B.A. issues, Councilman Robert Vigilanti had estimated that the borough would be short at the end of the year.

Vigilanti stressed that the money being allocated "will in no way increase the tax burden on the citizens, nor will it take money away from any other programs of services that the Borough provides."

The mayor and the council have appointed a Task Force to review the Springfield Mall proposal. The major concern of the council is safety of the citizens of Mountainside since the proposed mall will increase the amount of traffic on the roads.

The Task Force will be asked to determine the effect that the mall will have on the roads and whether or not those roads can adequately handle the increase.

They will also investigate the adequacy of sewerage treatment for the facility.

Councilman Louis Maas will head the Task Force, with the help of Police Chief William Alder, Borough Engineer Robert Koser and Borough Administrator James Roberts.

The council approved the authorization for soliciting bids for snow removal trucks. The council is seeking eight suitable trucks, including cinder and salt spreaders, to be available to the borough through May 15, 1983.

Bids for snow removal trucks will be read Sept. 14.

A surety bond for $6,700 for the guaranteed completion of repairs made to the Mountainside Village Mall in 1971, will be returned by approval of the council.

A resolution to return $672.86 to the Hudson City Savings Bank. Paramus was approved by the council. An overpayment had been made to M&P Devos, Forrest Hill Way.

The date for the sewer meter bids, which was to be received and read Aug. 26, has been extended until Sept. 27.

The council approved three raffle applications from the Children's Specialized Hospital, and one application for the Chapter No. 1 Knights of Columbus. A request to solicit for the Cerebral Palsy Charity Council was also approved by the council.

In a police committee report read to the public at the meeting, there showed an increase in burglaries for the month of July. However, Alder stated that the overall burglaries are down in Mountainside.

Dominick Aiello was presented with a plaque at the meeting to acknowledge his help and interest in obtaining a new fire engine for the borough.

The council also approved giving the government the assurance that the Community Development grants are being used for the appropriate reasons. The Community Development grants appropriated to the borough are for the senior citizens, in the amount of $3,000, library improvements, for $4,500, and construction for the municipal building, for $20,000.

Minerals show being planned

The 10th anniversary gem and mineral show of the New Jersey Earth Science Association will be held from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday at the Student Center of Seton Hall University, South Orange.

Among those working on the preparations are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ondrejek of Union.

Larry Felder will display "Stalking Dinosaur Footprints in Suburban New Jersey."

Also to be featured is an exhibit of Tibetan jewelry and artifacts from the Tibetan collection of the Newark Museum.

Legal fee issue clarified

(Editor's note: The following is a summary of some of the items that came under discussion last week at the Borough Council conference. The Echo regrets any misunderstanding that may have resulted from an earlier story.)

In proposing that the borough ask the state for permission to make an emergency appropriation, Councilman Robert Vigilanti noted that the extra funds are needed because one line item in the budget has been exceeded: that of legal expenses. If the state gives its approval, the emergency funds will be taken out of the borough's surplus.

Vigilanti noted that he had raised the issue of the amount of legal fees which the borough will have to pay as much as one month earlier.

In commenting on borough documents, he said that they are available for inspection by the public at any time during normal business hours. He said that officials ask only that those seeking "massive" documentation give advance notice of a day or two, so that the borough clerk's office has time to compile the information.

Councilwoman Marilyn Hart expressed concern about a turn-around in the center island of Route 22 which has been closed temporarily by the state. The state is at present making a traffic study of the area, it was reported.

Route 22 lane to be closed

The Department of Transportation has announced that there will be lane closings on Eastbound Route 22 in the Chapel Avenue area of Mountainside from Aug. 23-27 and Aug. 30-Sept. 3, 8 p.m.-6 a.m. for paving. The speed limit in the construction area will be reduced to 35 miles per hour.

Majority: audit state agencies

Nearly 98 percent of the almost 900 voters who responded to Assemblyman Bob Franks' constituent questionnaire want all agencies of the state government to be subjected to periodic performance audits to justify their continuing existence.

"This support for the 'Sunset' concept was the most one-sided response to the 30-question survey I conducted throughout the 22nd district," Franks said. "I prepared the questionnaire in order to gauge public opinion regarding topical issues facing the legislature this year and I am delighted that 887 citizens took the time to respond," he said.

Franks said some responses were unexpected. "I was surprised that only a narrow 51 percent majority expressed satisfaction with the out put product of their local public schools and that 85 percent thought teacher certification standards should be made more rigorous," he said. "I also was surprised that nearly 55 percent of the respondents would not grant municipalities CAPS relief for mandated costs such as energy, insurance, pensions, etc."

Franks said an overwhelming 91.4 percent want the state government to have the same 5 percent CAPS limit as is presently imposed on county and local governments and school districts.

93.6 percent of the respondents want the state government to reduce its number of employees by 10 percent over the next four years while a 3 to 2 majority want the state to cut business taxes as a means of stimulating

Franks bill cuts red-tape

Assemblyman Bob Franks of Berkeley Heights has introduced a bill that would improve communications and reduce confusion when weather emergencies force postponement of elections. He said his bill resulted from the "mis-information and costly confusion" last April 6 when a snow emergency caused Governor Kean to cancel school elections in eight counties.

"My bill closes the gap in the law by establishing final responsibility for the notification of election officials and the mass media by telephone and messages economic growth.

According to the survey an eight to one majority would oppose raising state taxes in order to provide replacement revenue to fund social programs affected by federal budget cuts.

Franks said he was "surprised" that a slim majority opposed the creation of Urban Enterprise Zones in order to stimulate urban revitalization. He said that a four to one majority supports his own legislation that would provide for congressional re-districting by a bipartisan commission other than the legislature.

"In the area of taxation, a very small majority expressed support for Governor Kean's proposal for a 5 percent sales tax on gasoline with the revenues to be dedicated to transportation costs," Franks added, noting that the respondents were nearly two to one opposed to modification of the existing gross income tax to increase state revenues.

Franks noted that an average of 85 percent of the respondents favored initiative, referendum and recall while a clear majority would abandon the concept of public financing of gubernatorial primary and general elections. A four to one majority believe the need exists for the state to build additional jail space but a three to one majority want new jails financed by bonding rather than by additional taxation.

In the portion of the questionnaire where respondents were asked to list state issues in the order of importance, crime was the most frequently cited state problem.

"I will make copies of the results of the questionnaire available to anyone who contacts my legislative office and will mail copies to everyone who took the time to respond to the questionnaire," Franks said. "I also plan to make the results available to my legislative colleagues."

Franks said the questionnaire was mailed to approximately 14,000 households in the 22nd district.

CONDUCTING DISCUSSION—Joyce Gliniewicz of Mountainside conducts recent discussion on fairer appraisals as part of an extensive affirmative action training program underway at Merck and Co., Inc., in Rahway. Gliniewicz, a personnel data and support services department employee, served as a discussion leader in the program, known as Phase III, under which groups of 10 to 12 Merck employees participate in daylong forums to examine affirmative action goals and strategies with the help of visual aids. It is believed to be the first program to include the entire workforce of a major corporation—16,000 employees at 61 plants, administrative and sales locations in the United States.

CALLING FOR ASSISTANCE—Human Services Commissioner George J. Albanese, left, answers a call on the Commission for the Blind's toll-free number while Ann Burns, a member of the commission's board of trustees and an ex-officio member of the Consumer Advisory Board, looks on. New computer capabilities also will enable the commission to determine and follow a client's history and ensure faster service.

A toll-free number listed for impaired

A new toll-free number designed to provide information, answer questions and accept referrals for visually impaired people throughout the state has been established by the Commission for the Blind and Visually Impaired, according to Human Services Commissioner George J. Albanese.

The toll-free number, 800-962-1233, will be answered by employees in the commission from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. A recorded message on the types of comprehensive services the commission provides will be offered during off-hours and weekends.

"This toll-free number was installed to make the public more aware of the services the commission for the blind has to offer," Albanese said. It gives blind and visually impaired people throughout the state quicker access to services offered by the commission.

"Too often visually impaired clients have trouble getting to the commission because of transportation and other difficulties. This toll-free number will help clients to contact us at no cost," added Norma Krajczar, director of the Commission for the Blind and Visually Impaired.

The Commission for the Blind and Visually Impaired provides a variety of education and vocational services to more than 10,000 clients in the state. Educational services offered by the commission include tutoring, special library aids, services to families of infants and pre-schoolers, special textbook and materials for blind and visually impaired students, reader services and summer camps. Related services such as home instruction in cooking, braille, typing and sewing are also available, as well as social services and programs in prevention of blindness.

The commission's vocational services provide job placement, vocational counseling, vocational training, career development, a business enterprise program, deaf-blind services and home industries.

Check with attorney before signing pact

By GENE GARY
 Q. Is it advisable to have a contract for a home improvement reviewed by an attorney, or are all these contracts pretty much cut and dried so that even if a change were desirable, there would be a great deal of resistance to it?—Morey J.S.

A. If you are in doubt about any provision in your contract, or if an answer by the contract leaves you still in doubt, by all means do consult your attorney, before you sign.

Most of these contracts are, as you suggest, standard and usually quite equitable. But this does not mean that you can freely sign a contract without reading it. Read your contract through, discuss it, get professional advice if you want, and understand it—all of this before you sign.

Q. I have a lot of trouble keeping my pool clean. Is it right to use steel wool to do this job?—Phil P.T.

A. No. Never use steel wool or scouring pads of any type on tile. They scratch the surface of the tile, but worse yet, pieces of steel will flake off and drop to the bottom and sides of the pool, causing rust marks.

There are special brushes you can buy for cleaning tile which can be used in conjunction with the tile cleaners and various household detergents. For persistent lines that cannot be removed with normal cleaning procedures, use a fine grain of wet and dry sandpaper.

Q. We have installed a flagstone walkway on our yard. Grass has now started to grow between the stones. I do not want to run the mower over the stones because of the possibility that the blade might scrape them.

Can you tell us what is the best way to keep the grass from growing between the stones?—Herman S.F.

A. Use a downy grass killer that comes in a wax-type bar. Rub this over the surface of the grass according to instructions on the bar.

Q. Is there any way to remove backing from a mirror, so that it could be used as a window glass?—June Mary H.

A. The silvering on a mirror is usually protected against oxidation by a coating of paint. In order to remove the silvering, the paint will first have to be taken off with a prepared paint remover. Then cover the silvering with a layer of salt and moisten with a mixture of one part water and three parts vinegar. Allow to remain for several hours. Then wipe off the silvering and salt solution with soft cloths.

International flavor heavenly in Jamaica

By MARJORIE RICE

Trying to pin down the taste of Jamaica is rather like trying to capture the memory of a particular breeze whispering through a Jamaican garden restaurant. Too many flavors, too many memories.

The cuisine is international in its scope, lavish in its use of seasonings—a celebration of the fresh fish and fruit available throughout the island.

Jamaica has been occupied by the Spanish and English, and both left their marks on the cuisine. Slaves introduced from West Africa to work the sugar plantations and their descendants make up a large population, bringing an African flavor to some dishes.

Hot peppers, from the African influence, have found their way into much of the cooking, and into a sauce called picapeppa, sort of a peppery Worcestershire and used in a broad collection of dishes.

Jamaican food was demonstrated recently by Leon George Meredith, executive chef at the Talk of the Town restaurant in the Pegasus Hotel in Kingston.

The chef prepared Avocado Lagoona, a shrimp-and crab-stuffed avocado salad; Chicken Island Dream, a curried mixture served in coconut shells, and Tia Maria parfait, piped into tall glasses over the liqueur, then frozen.

The first dish Meredith prepared was this cool salad. It's a simple mixture, depending on strictly fresh seafood for its appeal.

AVOCADO LAGOONA
 6 avocado halves
 Shredded iceberg lettuce
 1 whole avocado
 12 ozs. cooked crab
 Mayonnaise
 1 onion, minced
 30 jumbo shrimp
 Tomato ketchup
 6 ripe olives

Remove the seeds and peel the avocado halves and arrange a little shredded lettuce in each half. Cut the whole avocado in half, remove the seed and skin and cut half the flesh into julienne slices. (Reserve the rest for another recipe.) Mix the avocado with the crab and moisten with 1 tablespoon mayonnaise. Blend in the chopped onions and salt and pepper to taste.

Divide the mixture between the avocado halves, smoothing over the tops. Cut the shrimps in half lengthwise and arrange them over the crab mixture. To make the dressing, combine equal amounts of mayonnaise and ketchup and spoon a dollop on each salad. Garnish with an olive.

CHICKEN ISLAND DREAM
 Mirepoix (see note)
 1 oz. curry powder (see note)
 4 tbsps. flour
 2 cups chicken stock
 2 cups coconut cream
 2 cups evaporated milk
 Salt, pepper to taste
 1/4 cup (about) chopped onions
 1/2 cup butter
 2 1/2 lbs. boneless chicken breast
 3 ripe bananas
 Shredded coconut
 6 cherries
 Chopped parsley
 6 half-coconut shells

Saute the mirepoix until slightly brown. Stir in the curry powder and flour and cook the mixture about 2 minutes. Add the chicken stock, stir-ing constantly until the mixture thickens. Add the coconut cream and evaporated milk, salt and pepper, stirring it constantly. Lower the heat and simmer the curry sauce 1 hour. Strain and set it aside to cool. The sauce can be made well in advance of use, and refrigerated until needed.

Heat the half cup butter and saute the onions until they are slightly brown. Cut the chicken into bite-size pieces and saute until lightly brown. Add the sauce and simmer on low heat for 30 minutes, or until the chicken is tender.

Divide the chicken into the coconut shells and garnish with sliced bananas, shredded coconut, cherries and parsley. Makes six servings.

Note: For mirepoix, essentially a blend of aromatic vegetables cooked together, use 1 carrot, 1 onion, and 1 heart of celery, finely diced and sauteed in about 1 tablespoon butter until brown.

Meredith specifies an ounce of curry powder. Start with about 1 tablespoon and increase the amount to taste. The dish should be slightly hot but not overpowered by the curry powder.

Using chicken breasts, you run a risk of overcooking the chicken and having it be dry. Another good choice would be boned chicken thighs or turkey breast. The sauce also would be delicious on fish.

TIA MARIA PARFAIT
 1 qt. heavy cream, whipped
 Tia Maria (or Kahlua)
 5 eggs
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 tsp. vanilla
 1 tsp. lime juice
 12 cherries

Whip the cream and refrigerate it. Pour 1 tablespoon of the liqueur into each of 12 parfait glasses and set them aside to chill.

Whip the eggs and sugar together until fluffy. Fold in the vanilla, lime juice and if desired, a few tablespoons of liqueur. Fold the mixture into the whipping cream.

Using a large pastry bag and a star or plain tip, pipe the mixture into the parfait glasses and garnish with cherries. Freeze until firm.

Nests are always the first to go. Please use fire carefully.

College courses set for young students

Union County area high school students may enroll in college level credit courses at Union College in Cranford this fall while completing requirements for their high school diplomas, according to Dr. Leonard T. Kreisman of Westfield, vice president for academic affairs.

High school juniors and seniors may take courses at any of the sites where the college is offering courses: Cranford campus on Springfield Avenue, Elizabeth, Scotch Plains and New Providence.

The college began admitting high school students on a part-time basis several years ago in response to a need to provide an educational challenge to an increasing number of talented high school students, Dr. Kreisman said.

In the past, high school students have taken college courses for pleasure and/or to begin accumulating college credits, Dr. Kreisman said. Credits earned are transferable to other colleges and universities or may be applied toward an associate degree at Union College.

To enroll in Union College courses, students must have the approval of their high school principal or guidance counselor.

Applications for the fall semester are being accepted now. Information is available from the college admissions hot lines: 272-8580

CHECK FOR CP—Members of the Suburban Mothers of Twins and Triplets Club present check for $2,000, representing proceeds of a dinner and fashion show, to Dr. David Spelkoman, executive director, United Cerebral Palsy League of Union County. A plaque commemorating the gift will be hung in the lobby of the Cerebral Palsy Center, 373 Clermont Terrace, Union. From left are Kathy Quenan with Timmy; Sue Juellis with Michelle and Melissa; Spelkoman; Pat DeGeso with Nicole, and Ruth and Sara Filgel.

Study skills taught at UC

Adults planning to enroll in a course or academic program at Union County College this fall can fine-tune their skills ahead of time by attending two sessions of a preparatory course in late August—and the sessions are free.

"Preparations for College Study for Adults" will meet this Tuesday and next Thursday, August 31, from 7 to 9 p.m. on the Cranford campus. The short course is designed for people who have been away from the classrooms and books for some time and who need guidance and advice on how to do college-level work with the most effectiveness. The course will be taught by Dr. Donald Anderson, professor emeritus at the college.

Topics to be covered in the pre-semester sessions are note-taking from both texts and teachers, development of study skills, guidelines for writing, how to conquer tests and how to use the resources of the library.

Further information on the free college prep sessions is available by calling the college's Division of Continuing Education, 276-2600, ext. 206 or 238.

County candidates end garbage crisis

Union County Republican freeholder candidates Blanche Banasiak of Elizabeth, Robert Miller of Berkeley Heights, Bernard Yarusavage of Clark and John Kulish of Hillside said last week that Union County is "resolving the garbage crisis."

Kulish said that Banasiak, as freeholder chairman, and her colleagues "adopted resolutions which made it possible for Widner & Ernst to file for a permit to construct and operate a $110 million resource recovery plant to burn Union County garbage to produce steam."

According to Kulish, Merck and Company of Rahway and Linden has signed a contract to purchase the energy to be produced by the Widner & Ernst plant. The plant is expected to be located along U.S. Route 1 in Rahway.

The action was taken "in conformity with our belief in home rule principles," Banasiak said. "Linden didn't want it, but the Rahway City Council adopted a resolution of intention to accept it and we are happy to have accepted Rahway's cooperation in this new enterprise... Now we are involved in the battle to cut the red tape in Trenton and I am hopeful that we will prevail in that battle soon."

Yarusavage charged that "in the 1970s, freeholder majorities ran away from a decision as the crisis worsened. In 1970 the county hired a consultant, but the freeholders took no action on the studies for which they paid thousands of dollars."

Miller also said that the garbage crisis "is one of a number of crises left behind by the last Democratic board which the new Republican majority is resolving."

He credited the Republican majority with resolving the problems facing the Union County Technical Institute, the deficit in the social services board, and "a serious financial crisis left by the Democrats."

Overlook sets Lamaze course

Prepared childbirth classes under the sponsorship of Overlook Hospital's Parentcraft program are being formed for a September start for those couples with a child due in November. Five sections, each limited to eight to 10 couples, will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis.

Each session of the seven-week series features the Lamaze method which prepares couples physically, intellectually and emotionally for childbirth.

Sessions will be held Sept. 9, 13, 20, 21 and 30. The two-hour classes will begin at 8 p.m. Interested persons may register by calling 522-2963.

Parks get a grant

The first step toward utilizing the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation as a clearinghouse for recreational information for the county's 21 municipalities took place recently at the first meeting of the Interagency Recreation Advisory Council in Union.

The Interagency Council, if successful, will be the end result of a five-year recovery action program which included a study of recreational needs in the county. That study resulted in an 18-month grant to implement the program.

The National Park Service, part of the U.S. Department of the Interior, has supplied $31,000, to be matched by Union County to review current programs, analyze needs and organize the council.

The Union County Department of Parks and Recreation will act as coordinator for the grant. As part of the plan, a single coordinator to implement these goals was hired. She is Ellen Unger of Springfield.

The seminars and the dates they will be offered are: Introduction to Word Processing, Sept. 11, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.; Money Market Investments—Making Your Money Grow, Oct. 9, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.; Getting Your Act Together, Oct. 9, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.; How to Start and Manage Your

AFL-CIO officials oppose proposals

The Reagan Administration is pushing for the adoption of a number of measures which would further depress the economy and do great harm to working people in desperate need of jobs, officers of the N.J. Industrial Union Council, AFL-CIO, have charged. They said they have wired the entire N.J. Congressional delegation "to give leadership in turning back these measures."

Among them are revisions in child labor regulations proposed by Labor Secretary Raymond J. Donovan, which would permit the expansion in the hours and types of jobs that 14-15 year olds are allowed to work.

These changes in regulations would permit employers to pay full-time students subminimum wages, making it more profitable for employers to hire these youngsters at a time when their older brothers and sisters and even their parents cannot find work, the IUC officers said.

They would also allow employers to lay off higher-paid, older workers and employ in their place students who are not ready for the job market but who would take work away from those who need it most, the union officials charged.

The IUC also urged passage of legislation to provide an extra 13 weeks of unemployment compensation

COMMENDED—Governor Thomas Kean, right, presents a proclamation to John J. Horan, chief executive officer of Merck & Co., Inc., Rahway, and to B. Lawrence Branch, the company's director of equal employment affairs. Kean commended the health products firm for its commitment to the advancement of women, minorities, the handicapped and all working people.

Governor proclaims equal employment

Governor Thomas H. Kean has signed a proclamation commending Merck & Co., Inc., Rahway, for its commitment to equal employment opportunity and affirmative action.

The document cites Merck for voluntary efforts to provide Affirmative Action training and awareness programs to all 16,000 of its employees in the United States, including 4,400 at the company's New Jersey headquarters in Rahway. It was presented to John J. Horan, chairman and chief executive officer, and B. Lawrence Branch, director of equal employment affairs of the $3 billion-a-year health products firm. The Merck program, called Phase III, is characterized in the proclamation as an appropriate effort "to further improve the workplace climate in our state."

Phase III follows two previous Merck Affirmative Action communications programs — Phase I training for executives and managers, begun in 1977, and Phase II training for supervisors, shop stewards and union officials, begun in 1979. Phase III consists of full-day forums for small groups of 10 to 15 persons and is said to be the first such program to include the entire workforce of a major corporation.

The Merck Affirmative Action program demonstrates the company's "unyielding commitment to the advancement of women, minorities, the handicapped and all working people," Gov. Kean proclaimed in the document.

"Phase III," said Horan, "promotes Affirmative Action through an explanation of our company's policies and goals and through an honest airing of employee viewpoints. It reflects our total commitment to equal opportunity and to the creation of an improved work environment for all Merck people."

NJLN opposes toxic wastes

The New Jersey League for Nursing (NJLN), at its 1982 convention, passed a resolution calling on the New Jersey State Legislature to reduce health hazards related to disposal of toxic wastes and to prohibit further development of new landfill sites.

The League urged the Legislature to seek alternative measures for toxic waste disposal. For existing sites in New Jersey, the League is supporting the Superfund bill.

According to League officials, New Jersey, with 17 of the 160 sites now designated by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) for cleanup with monies from Superfund, has the most sites of any state. In addition, the EPA has identified one former chemical disposal site and one former landfill site in South Jersey among the 10 worst disposal sites in the entire country.

Free Sterling Interest Checking...

it gives you so much for so little.

You're busy; you work hard; you know you need a checking account, but you can't be bothered looking for a good one; anyway, you think they're all alike. But you're very wrong.

For instance, many banks still have conventional checking accounts that don't pay interest. Perhaps most regrettably, many require that customers keep $1,000 or as much as $2,000 in their checking accounts in order to earn any interest and avoid service charges.

None of these instances could be further from Investors Savings' business philosophy.

With Sterling Interest Checking you can have a free checking account, one that pays a full 5 1/4% per annum, with only a $50 monthly minimum; and that very same $50 is all it takes to avoid service charges. It's just that simple.

Exceptional? We think it is. And we think that no matter how busy you are, you have better things to do with your money than spend it on a high-priced checking account. Investors Savings' Sterling Interest Checking because you deserve the best.

Brooklawn takes 10th championship

Legion falls in state tourney final, 6-3

By RON BRANDSDORFER

Post 228's baseball team can talk all it wants about character and pride and the thrill of simply reaching the finals of the state's American Legion baseball tournament. But beneath all that tough talk was a lot of hurt on Monday afternoon when Springfield finished second best.

"It's tough to talk now," whispered Harry Weinerman, the Springfield coach, as he slowly removed his glasses and rubbed his red, moist eyes.

The Legion had just been beaten, 6-3, by defending state champion Brooklawn in the finals of a tourney that capped Post 228's 38-8-1 season and ended the Springfield dream.

"Well, 212 teams in the state had the dream to get here," Weinerman said. "And we made it."

"You never want to come in second in anything," he continued. "We had our dreams and fantasies. We read the papers, too—'stayin' alive' and 'magic numbers.' You get carried away in that kind of thing."

Which explains how Springfield even reached Breslin Field in Lyndhurst for the state finals. After fighting their way to the Union County championship by finishing ahead of powerful Union, Roselle and Westfield, Post 228 headed up to the North tourney bracket.

Springfield premiered with a 7-1 victory over Rutherford but dropped a 4-0 decision to Saddle Brook. That one really put the pressure on, because Weinerman knew his team would have to win eight straight ballgames to wrest the state title from Brooklawn, which has won the championship 10 times.

And the Legion believed after victories over Kearny (12-1), Montville (6-2), Bloomfield (5-1), Saddle Brook (9-3), Trenton (4-0) and Paterson (11-0).

That set up the showdown with Brooklawn, which breezed through the South bracket unbeaten. So in order to capture the championship, Post 228 would have had to beat Brooklawn twice on Monday.

It never came down to a second game.

Post 228 just didn't have its magical touch against Brooklawn. For whatever the reason—pressure, fatigue, etc.—the spark simply wasn't there.

"This just wasn't a top-notch effort," Weinerman said. "The boys showed character and class throughout the tournament, but I guess they ran out of gas one game too soon."

Actually, Post 228 ran out of gas with two out in Brooklawn's half of the seventh inning. Shortstop Bill Narleski bounced a grounder off the glove of third baseman Fran Broskoskie to get on with two outs.

That brought slugging John Florentino, Brooklawn's big catcher, to the plate, and he got a hold of a 3-2 curveball and lofted a fly ball to deep left field.

Post 228's John Baumgartner got a beat on the ball but it kept tailing and tailing. Finally, Baumgartner ran out of real estate and went crashing into the left field fence, the ball deflecting off his glove and falling near his side.

But Baumgartner was injured and before shortstop Vin Cocchia and center fielder Tom Ard could get to the ball, Narleski and Florentino had rounded the bases to give Brooklawn a 5-3 lead.

Moments later, Baumgartner had to be helped off the field and taken to a nearby hospital with a broken collarbone.

That play took the final spark out of Post 228, which managed just one hit over the final two innings.

In all, Post 228 only had seven hits and three came in the third and two more in the fourth, as Springfield erased Brooklawn's 3-0 lead.

The champs bunched a walk, an error and three singles together off of Springfield's Frank Gagliano to take a 3-0 lead in the second. But they also may have gotten a bit of assistance from the men in blue.

With two out and runners on first and third, Gagliano picked off Brooklawn's Mark Leise at first. Dave Roche gunned the ball to second, where Paul Clarke seemed to put the tag on Leise as he slid by. But the second base umpire ruled Leise safe, and Florentino, who had walked, scored from third.

Weinerman protested—to no avail, of course—and Brooklawn added two more runs before the inning was over.

"The umpire was right there," Weinerman said. "I'll never second-guess an umpire if I'm 120 feet away from the play. But yeah, it was a key part in the ballgame."

Post 228 did come back in the third when Clarke singled with two out and Ard and Baumgartner followed with singles, producing a run.

And in the fourth, Gagliano walked with one out and raced to third on Dave Crane's double to right center. Both runners scored just moments later when Roche drilled a double off center fielder Mike Basara's glove.

But Brooklawn pitcher John McGettigan settled down and only allowed two hits the rest of the way.

"Whether we tagged or didn't tag that runner at second is history," Weinerman said. "Anyway, that wasn't the difference in the ballgame. We just didn't get the timely hitting today that we had gotten the last few weeks. Maybe the stretch finally caught up with us a bit."

Maybe, but Weinerman and his players would have loved to extend their streak just a bit longer. That would have meant a ticket to Hampton, Virginia for the regional tournament.

So much for dreams.

"These boys gave us a lot of thrills," Weinerman said. "And as a coach, all you can ask is that the kids care as much as you do."

Harry Weinerman never doubted it.

Record-breaking year for MCP

Mountainside Community Pool made a fine showing in the division swimming championships held earlier this month in Florham Park.

Seven division records were set as 21 local swimmers scored first through sixth place and earned positions in the final league championships held later that week. Record setters were Lisa Dowdle (2), Maureen Barisonok (2), Mike Dowdle, Walter Kempner and Rick Van Benschoten.

Individual results are as follows:

8 and under girls division: Whitney Tancred - 2nd freestyle, 4th breaststroke; Audrey Bellesza, 3rd breaststroke, Elena Maguire, 6th breaststroke.

8 and under boys: Eric Dowdle, 4th breaststroke.

9-10 boys: Stephen Fowler, 4th breaststroke, 4th butterfly; Chris LaFon, 4th breaststroke.

11-12 girls: Charlotta Jaffe, 5th breaststroke.

11-12 boys: Allen Gardiner, 4th freestyle, 3rd, backstroke; Mike Dow-delivered an outstanding performance in capturing the boys' 15-17 50-meter butterfly at 28.42, thereby tying the MCP record set by Paul Healy in 1978 and setting a new league mark. Van Benschoten also bettered his won MCP 15-17 freestyle record at 26.32.

Only one Mountainside swimmer scored in each of the first three age groups. Whitney Tancred, swimming in the girls' 8 and unders, turned in a fine performance with a 5th in breaststroke and 7th in freestyle.

For the 9-10 boys, Steven Fowler was 7th in butterfly and 9th in backstroke. Mike Dowdle registered a 2nd place in both breaststroke and butterfly for the 11-12 boys. In the 13-14's, Mike Barisonok was 8th in breaststroke, while his sister Maureen Place 4th third in both breaststroke and backstroke. Lisa Dowdle was 4th in freestyle and butterfly.

Lisa McCarthy, consistently one of the team's top swimmers, was the lone Mountainsider to score in the 15-17 girls' event by placing 3rd in both freestyle and butterfly. In the boys 15-17 events, three swimmers placed. In addition to the record-setting by Van Benschoten, Kempner placed 3rd in backstroke and 4th in butterfly, with Fred Filler 5th in fly and 7th in freestyle.

The league championships marked the last competitive meet for senior team members McCarthy and Van Benschoten. McCarthy, twice named "Most Valuable," and Van Benschoten have set many records for Mountainside through the years and have both been team members since age 8.

Views On Dental Health

By SEAN T. FENTON, D.M.D.

ARE DENTAL X-RAYS SAFE?

Sometimes dentists wish they had the eyes of "Superman" but we don't. So we use X-rays. The X-ray is one of the dentist's most useful diagnostic tools. Many defects of the teeth and the bone which surrounds them cannot be seen by the dentist's eye. They are only visible on X-ray film. Before you ask - let me answer - dental X-rays are safe!

Millions of X-ray films have been taken by dentists without a factual report of injury of anyone. Exposures which used to take 6 or 8 seconds are now made in a fraction of a second. Metal filters to keep back unwanted radiation are standard on all new model X-ray machines. Older machines are equipped with filters and electronic timing devices to enable them to use high-speed X-ray film for short exposure times.

The National Committee on Radiation Protection states: "There is no scientific evidence that the proper use of modern X-ray equipment for dental diagnostic purposes will be harmful to the patient."

A public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: SEAN T. FENTON, D.M.D., 134 Elmer Street, Westfield. Phone: 232-2652.

Disc & Data

By Mill Hammer

Pick Of the LPs—"Come and Get It" by Geri Logan (MCA Records).

Geri started her singing career with a broomstick and a dream. Now, she can justifiably say "Come and Get It," the title of her debut album on the MCA label.

As a youngster, she would stand in the backyard of her South Los Angeles house, using a broomstick as a microphone and singing the hits of the day, especially the songs of The Supremes. During the following years, she worked with various local groups, singing anything from standards to R&B, samba to Top 40 with a rock edge. An although she nearly recorded an album with a group she was with (but subsequently broke up, ending the recording plans), it wasn't until she was pregnant, did she finally become serious about music.

"I had started to sing with little groups, playing clubs and parties, around 1968," Logan explains. "But it wasn't until I got married in 1973, and then had a little boy a few years later that it struck me. I thought that marriage, motherhood was all nice and good and that I would accept a certain role. But I realized that I wasn't my own person, that I would just be a good little housewife and that would be it."

"When I was pregnant, though, I realized that there was something more for me, that I wanted to do something to make my son proud of me. That's when I called Hadley and said I wanted to sing professionally. I really did."

GERI LOGAN

Hadley was Hadley Murrell, who produced "Come and Get It." Geri had met Murrell seven years before when he was going to record the group that Logan was then in. He realized that she was serious about a singing career and helped guide her until she eventually signed with MCA Records. But during that time, she still sang with a local Los Angeles vocal group, took singing classes, which she never had before, and honed her talent.

"I started taking classes to stretch myself, I really got good. I was getting hot! It made me both confident though nervous. But I knew what I had to do, so I went after it."

And what she has done with "Come and Get It" is craft a record that seems to cover all the bases from R&B (so nicely delivered on the opening track, "Back Again"), to pop and Latino.

"When I was younger, I didn't know the potential I had. I just sang because I didn't know what else to do. Now I sing because I do."

Title role for Barry

Two and a quarter centuries ago, a popular actor of the English stage, Spranger Barry, portrayed the title role of Shakespeare's "Timon of Athens." This season at the New Jersey Shakespeare Festival, Drew University, Madison, a descendant of Spranger Barry, director Paul Barry, is portraying Timon.

The 1982 festival, which continues through Dec. 12, will offer Thornton Wilder's "Our Town," Sept. 28 to Oct. 17; Tennessee Williams' "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," Oct. 19 to Nov. 14, and Lanford Wilson's "Fifth of July," Nov. 16 to Dec. 12. Additional information can be obtained by calling 377-4487.

New dialing system set in Clara Maass

A highly sophisticated, computerized telephone system featuring direct inward dialing was switched into effect at Clara Maass Medical Center last week. The hospital's main number will be changed to 450-2000.

The "Dimension 2000" system allows the public to bypass the switchboard and be connected directly to the department or party desired.

"We believe that this system strengthens our lines of communication with the community as it enables us to offer the most efficient and time-saving communication system available," Albin H. Oberg, hospital president, said. "With direct inward dialing, incoming calls can bypass the switchboard, freeing operators to handle emergency situations more effectively and give prompt service to calls requiring special assistance."

Patient information and patient phone numbers may be obtained by calling 450-2300. The direct dial number for the hospital's Emergency Room will be 450-2100.

TAKING CARE OF YOURSELF

"Jupiter will have to wait. You're not going anywhere till you get your shots."

Before your child takes off for Jupiter—or for school—make sure he or she is immunized against the many serious diseases that plagued earlier generations. The chart at right tells you when to get the necessary immunizations—and the boosters to ensure continued protection.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield believe the Children's Health Immunization Project (CHIP) can help you and your family take a giant step toward good health. We urge you to ask your physician for a copy of the New Jersey Immunization Record Card. Keep an up-to-date record of all your children's immunizations. It's one of the best ways on earth to protect your child for life.

IMMUNIZATION GUIDE

Approximate Age	Immunization
2 months	Diphtheria-pertussis (whooping cough)-tetanus, plus oral polio vaccine.
4 months	Diphtheria-pertussis-tetanus.
6 months	Measles vaccine, rubella and mumps vaccine—combined or singly. If given singly, consult your doctor for appropriate time (measles not before 15 months).
15 months	Diphtheria-pertussis-tetanus booster. Oral polio booster.
18 months	Diphtheria-pertussis-tetanus booster. Oral polio booster.
+6 years	Tetanus-diphtheria booster.
14-16 years	Tetanus-diphtheria booster.
Thereafter	Tetanus-diphtheria booster every 10 years.
