Mountainside's four Board of Education candidates outlined their platforms before a group of some 55 residents during Monday night's candidates forum held at the Deerfield School.

The political event was presented by the Mountainside Parent/Teacher Association (PTA) in conjunction with the League of Women Voters, and moderated by Mary Ann W. Collins.

The four members vying for two seats on the board, one of which is being vacated by President Camie Delaney, include William Vetter, incumbent Linda Esemplare, Elizabeth Bellezza and Dorothy Unchester.

After brief introductions, Collins opened the floor for questions, most of which centered around the candidates' views on the proposed 1985-86 school year budget, the decline in enrollment and the ad-

Vetter stressed his 25 years of teaching experience in the Springfield school district and the fact that his two children have already gone through the Mountainside school system, in claiming that he has "no vested interest" in the local school district and can remain . objective.

'Sometimes those with children in school are overzealous about spending money," he said.

Esemplare, who emphasized her past experience, said she is seeking re-election based on her track record during her six years of service to the board.

"I will bring 19 years of knowledge and dedication to the Mountainside Board of Education; I know where it has been, and where it is now," she said.

Bellezza told the audience that she is a supporter of the budget and is also an advocate of keeping a fulltime superintendent and principal.

'Basically, I support the budget; I feel it meets the educational needs of the children. No programs have been cut or added and I feel it is fair," Bellezza said.

Unchester told the audience that a board member should be accountable to the citizens of Mountainside, and that board members should not try to run the school but oversee that the school is run well.

"The focus of attention should be aimed at the children," Unchester said.

Sharing her views on the budget, Unchester said, "I believe the budget is reasonable and I consider the coming budget almost a budget freeze; 90 percent of the budget is fixed and the remaining 10 percent you must play with and as the budget goes along, it's reshaped to fit the needs."

In arguing for retaining separate administrative positions, Bellezza said, "I feel it is in the best interests of the students to keep the two positions. The superintendent and principal both have full time jobs; the superintendent must be out attending meetings and the principal must be able to oversee the day-to-day operations. It is very important that we have strong leadership," she continued.

Esemplare, who voted against adoption of the budget as a board member, said she feels there are areas in the budget that can be cut that "absolutely will not affect the students."

While borough taxpayers are faced with the prospect of a potential 20-point increase in their tax bill, Mountainside officials point out that the 1985 municipal budget of $3,610,836.48 calls for only a 2-point increase in the municipal portion of the tax bill.

A public hearing will be conducted on the municipal budget at 8 p.m. at Borotigh Hall, following which the budget will be submitted to the council for formal adoption.

The $214,750.12 increase over last year's budget of $3,396,086.36 amounts to an additional $30.20 in the municipal portion of the tax bill for the average home in Mountainside assessed at $151,000, according to borough officials. Out of the total $3.6 million-budget, some $1,454,282.83 would be raised by taxes, up from last year's figure of $1,363,301.25.

According to Councilman Bob Wyckoff, who presented the general sutline of the budget on March 12. while the municipal portion of the new tax bill would only call for an average increase in taxes of $30.20, he average homeowner would pay in additional $256.70 in property axes due to the cumulative 20-point ocrease.

The cumulative 20-point tax increase includes a 7-point hike in the Union County Regional High School budget, a 5-point increase in the Union County budget and a 6-point hike in the Mountainside Board of Education tab.

In commenting on the municipal budget, Borough Administrator Jim Roberts noted, "We will tax the citizens well under half of the cost of doing municipal business."

In a Mountainside budget breakdown chart prepared by Wyckoff, which includes three levels of control over the budget, it noted that borough officials only have direct control of 26.5 percent of the budget, or some $953,694.10.

This figure constitutes miscellaneous salaries and wages for positions with no union contracts, and miscellaneous other expenses and increases incurred therein. A breakdown of the $953,694.10 includes $359,540.00, or 33 percent for the salaries and wages, and $594,155.10, or 23.5 percent of "other expenses,"

Roberts explained that the borough has "marginal control" over 13.5 percent of the total budget. or $487.053.44.

Within that figure, there are state mandates of $4,917 for the Board of Health. $16,440.44 for emergency appropriations and $350 for civil defense.

A third category, listed on the budget breakdown sheet as cost factors that borough officials have no control over, constitutes 45 percent of the budget, or $1,626,087.94.

Within in this area, some $1,700 is used for elections, $21,933 for the appear to be "overexaggerated"

A fourth column on the breakdown chart indicates that the remaining 15 percent of the budget, or $544,000, is reserved for uncollected taxes.

"Some of the major sources of revenue this year are state mandated and the state has not only been late in contacting us, but they haven't told us anything at all." Roberts said. "So, you have to use your best guess."

"If the estimates are a little under, we are not going to put the citizens of the borough under a shortfall. There are just certain things that you can't anticipate, but the governing body mandated that we do a very deep review of all line items ad really cut back any increases," he said.

Roberts added that since the council only has control over 26.5 percent of the budget, cuts have to come out of the one quarter of the budget that the governing body does have some discretion over.

Democrat won't give in to GOP's stronghold

By SHAWN EVANS

A dandelion growing within a carefully maintained bed of daisies may seem a hit out of place, but Mother Nature had her reasons for nourishing the seeds of both plants in the same terrain.

Like the placement of the lone flower which refuses to bow amid the dominance of the others, Horace "Ruse" Cardoni, the lone Democrat official who sits on a public board in an overwhelmingly Republican borough, prefers to stand against the wind.

A member of the Mountainside Planning Board since 1982, Cardoni concedes that while it's frustrating at times to sit back and take a "look-see". attitude, he wouldn't change his party affiliation for the sake of political advancement. "It does become discouraging af tions to have speit backingd take a "look-see" attizude since we (Demginate) and a "non-visibilit" party but I feel strongly to the extent that I have sever soon fit to estitch allegiance because of the possibility of my chances becoming enhanced to become elected to

"We try to assimise two-sided issue to approach as well as what is the best method to go about accomplishing this; but since we don't have any Democrats as candidates or elected officials, we really don't have an impact in the community," he contends.

Cardoni is convinced that without a two-party system, the present "dialogue" presented throughout the various governing bodies is limited and that apathy has settled in since there is never a discussion pertaining to both sides of the question.-

He says there is still hope that the public will "awaken from their laisse faire attitude."

"If our town is run well, they (the public) should look at it from the standpoint of 'can it be run better?' '

"We need a two-party system to bring to the forefront what's being discussed to a limited extent; there's more to it than meets the eye," he SEYS.

He also says that the fact that Mountainside does not have equilibrium or balance between the two parties is detrimental to good government.

Citing an example, Cardoni pointed out the legal confrontations between the governing body and the Police Department.

"They're all from the same mold so their souirmishes are superficial; the equirmishing might turn to a more serious form of dialogue if there was

On a state level, Cardani says that although New Jersey may be becoming increasingly Republican, he feels it's all part of a cycle that may turn back the other way.

"New Jersey has always been a swing state: I don't know if Mountainside is part of a trend, or if it's more of a cycle - you vote the rascals in and you vote them out," he says

One of the major projects that went before the Planning Board was the Feb. 14 site plan approval for the development of a two-story office building on Route 22, submitted by Air Con Inc. officials,

While Cardoni says he feels the Air Con representatives did an excellent job in presenting their plans, he voted against approval of the project because he preferred to see one phase completed before moving to the next step.

"But overall, other than retaining the property in its original state, the property is being put to use in accordance to the ordinance. I really felt the town would have been better off with the approval of the first plane, and then a conditional approval of the second part," Cardoni SAYS.

In other business, the committee unanimously approved an ordinance on second and final reading which authorizes a 1.5 percent increase in the state-mandated cap limitation from 5 to 6.5 percent for municipal spending in the township's 1985 budget.

A second ordinance was tabled until the committee's next regular meeting because of faulty language in the measure. Tough choices

On Tuesday, Mountainside voters will have a responsibility which should not be neglected or taken lightly.

Borough residents will have to decide between four very capable individuals running for the Board of Education, in order to select two candidates to serve on the board for the next three years. The four candidates are incumbent Linda Esemplare and challengers William Vetter,-Elizabeth Bellezza and Dorothy Unchester.

These selections should be thoughtful and knowledgable ones, for the two candidates chosen will have the precious task of determining how to appropriate taxpayer dollars and be entrusted with the responsibility of making decisions that affect the educational welfare of the borough's children.

We feel that the choice is an extremely difficult one in that there is ample reason and justification to support a vote for any one of the four. They all have the same intent, to accomplish what is best, both educationally and economically for the children, their parents, and the borough at large. All four of the candidates have exemplified strong backgrounds and service in education, either professionally and/or on a volunteer level, and each appears to be resourceful and well-versed in debating the issues.

While the choice will ultimately be left to the voters, we have taken a stance in this contested race in the belief that it is high time for a change in the composition of the board, which has witnessed a transition in only one seat over the last two years. It is time for new faces to participate in the educational decision-making process in the interest of promoting an exchange of new ideas.

We believe that the two individuals best qualified and most capable or serving the educational interests of the borough are Elizabeth Bellezza and Dorothy Unchester.

Letters to the editor-

Urges support for school tab

I strongly urge the citizens of Mountainside to support the local school budget in Tuesday's election. The budget is reasonable - a 4.4 inflationary increase over last year. It reflects the approximate 35 student enrollment declince projected for next year. And it provides for the high quality educational program that has been Mountainside's tradition.

Many taxpayers are concerned about the cost of education per pupil. They question also why the total school budget increases each year with less students to educate. There are several reasons for this apparent paradox.

One is that a school system has certain fixed costs over which it has little control. State retirement funds. Social Security contributions, property, employee and liability insurance, tuition, out-of-district costs for handicapped pupils, and state-mandated educational programs are some of the accounts which increase at a rate higher than the decrease in staff and students.

Second, is the fact that consumer prices have tripled since 1967. These increases have been passed on to the schools in such budget accounts as instructional supplies and equipment, contracted services for the maintenance and repair of the buildings, and utilities.

Last is that even though staff reductions have have been made each year to reflect declining enrollment, the cuts are made with our least tenured. generally lowest paid teachers.

The cost savings is easily lost with the percent contractual salary agreement for the many long-tenured faculty members employed. Fixed cost increases, higher consumer prices, and contractual salary agreements for a "seasoned" staff far outstrip the student enrollment decline. And these expenses, spread among fewer students, naturally result in a relatively high cost per pupil.

One area of the school budget which has been targeted by some tor cost reduction is administration. We currently employ a superintendent and a principal. It is felt by some people that these two positions can be combined to save money. After careful investigation of this possibility - examining professional readings and interviews, obtaining legal counsel, and surveying school districts in New Jersey with an enrollment similar to ours - results indicate that not only would the dollar savings be minimal (approximately $13 a year for each taxpayer) but a possible legal action and additional costs may ensue.

More importantly, with the strong educational leadership reduced to just one administrator, the negative effect on the educational system could be great.

It is understandable that most of us do not want to pay higher taxes, particularly when we note bureaucratic inefficiencies and when we do not been found to be the most efficient government service, and its long term benefit to our society is without equal:

Mountainside, despite the recent tax increase, has the fifth lowest tax rate

Unchester 'has what it takes'

I recently went to my first Mountainside Board of Education meeting and was very disappointed. Between several of the board members and some of the audience, I felt like I was back in grammar school where kids had arguments over the silliest things. It seems that their main concern was to save a few dollars at the expense of quality education.

I moved to Mountainside because I wanted my children to get a good education. If things continue as is, we'll be regionalized before you know it. The loss of local school control is not in the best interest of our children or our community. Mountainside citizens must not forget the important fact that a quality school system is directly related to the maintenance of our established property values.

I've gotten to know Dottie Unchester through her endeavors with the Mountainside Newcomers Club and PTA. In my opinion, she's the person to help maintain and improve our school system. She has a thorough knowledge of just what's going on in and out of our school. She puts her thinking cap on and there's no stopping her. She's not one-sided like some of the current BOE members I saw. She'll listen to what anyone has to say and do what's right for all concerned.

On Tuesday, my vote's for Dot Unchester. She's got what it takes to make an excellent board of education member.

> MARYANN J. CUSANO Garrett Road

Urges 'no' vote on budgets

An open letter to all Mountainside residents:

Are you fed up with the whopping tax increase you are about to receive ($250 per year on a home assessed at $150,000)?

If so, go to Deerfield School Tuesday, between 2 and 9 p.m. and vote "no" on the school budgets

It is time the citizens put both the local Board of Education and the (Union County) Regional Board on notice that they are fed up with the inefficient way our schools are being managed. What company would continue 'business as usual'' if they had lost two-thirds of their profits?

Yet, the local board of education has lost two-thirds of its students, but costs continue to escalate;

Regional has lost 40 percent of its pupils. Together the boards of education are asking for a tax increase that is almost double the rate of inflation.

Let's not permit the boards to bankrupt us locally like the federal government is doing nationally.

Remember to vote "no" on both the current expense and the capital investment budgets.

Don't forget the local and regional elections are held in two separate voting booths in the Deerfield School gym.

RUTHF. FASCHE

Unchester and Bellezza both have considerable professional experience in education and have worked extensively with the Mountainside PTA and after-school programs at the Deerfield School. Unchester has a wealth of ideas for generating additional revenues into the district, such as the "Adopt A School" program, and for reducing expenditures, like the idea of combining purchasing power with other districts for school supplies and materials. Bellezza appears to be truly committed to the idea of providing the best education possible for the borough's students at the least cost, but has the level-headedness to see beyond the feasibility of various cost-cutting measures others have accepted at face value.

In addition to this all-important election, there is another equally important issue that voters will decide Tuesday - the fate of the proposed 1985-86 budget of $2.75 million. The new budget has already become the object of extensive public debate, with residents offering legitimate concerns and arguments both for and against passage of the new school pact.

While we share some of the reservations aired by opponents in regard to the need to reduce the district's expenditures, we nevertheless support public approval of the new budget. A 4.4 percent increase is not unreasonable, even in light of a continued decline in enrollment, and primarily reflects an unavoidable rise in fixed costs caused by inflation.

Also, the major proposed option for reducing district appropriations, consolidating the positions of principal and superintendent, is a move that would result in only a minimal savings in the average homeowner's tax bill and demands much more extensive evaluation before it should even be considered. For, in the event that the consolidation plan proved unsuccessful, it could leave the district overburdened administratively and have a negative impact on the school system. Secondly, if the plan was implemented and failed, it's doubtful voters would be willing to consider reinstituting a dual administrative system once one of the positions has already been phased out.

We have tried our best to evaluate the candidates and issues farily and objectively and make the recommendations we feel are in the best interests of the borough. The real choice, though, will be made in the voting booth. The children of Moutainside are the bacough's future. Show them that you care. Vote on Tuesday.

among the 21 towns in Union County. The local school budget, along with the borough budget, account for 42 percent of the tax dollars. The county government and the regional high school budgets spend the remaining 58 percent. Clearly, where local control prevails, spending is closely monitored and more prudently managed than it may be outside the borough.

It is impossible that a perfect school budget can be developed - one that satisfies every educational need and every taxpayers concerns. What citizens in a well-educated, affluent community like Mountainside should ask for is a prudent, reasonable projection of expenses which offers our students, our future, a quality education. The Mountainside school budget satisfies this request.

> LINDA SCHNEIDER Member, Board of Education South Fork Road

Containing the costs

I, a candidate for election to the Mountainside Board of Education, have stated that I see the decline in enrollment and the high cost per pupil as the two greatest problems facing the Mountainside board. Since 1967, Mountainside has lost more than two-thirds of its students. Yet the cost of education continues to escalate.

I am concerned that unless these costs are contained. Mountainside will be forced to regionalize. Since the greatest saving through regionalization would be in administrative costs, I was shocked when the board recently voted to continue with two administrators, one superintendent and one principal, instead of combining these two positions into one administrative principal. With the Deerfield principal retiring in June, now is the time to make this change. If elected, I will ask the board to reconsider this issue.

The board of education has left the citizens of Mountainside no choice, the budget must be voted down in the hopes that the Borough Council will cut enough funds to force the board to make the cuts necessary to run the system efficiently and thus stave off regionalization.

The superintendent and the business administrator should be moved out of the highway building into Deerfield School. This building should then be turned into a senior citizen center.

It certainly seems unfair that the 400 students in our system next September, whose families represent only 15 percent of the homes in town, require the use of two public buildings while the senior citizens, representing more than 30 percent of the homes, have none.

These suggested economies will not hurt the education of the children. The most important factor is the quality of the classroom teacher.

I do not equate quality education with the quantity of dollars spent.

WILLIAM B. VETTER Candidate, Board of Education Central Avenue

Budget reflects 'excellence

The quality of the educational system in a town benefits not only the students involved, but the entire community. Here in Mountainside we have an excellent educational system which has helped to draw families with school age children to our community. This educational attraction is essential for the maintenance of our property values.

Declining enrollment does not mean reduced cost. Four factors which continue to raise school cost are: inflation, operating and maintenance costs, more state-mandated and added programs, and costs for a mature staff.

The Mountainside Board of Education deserves a lot of credit for bringing. in their proposed hudget well within inflation rates. The current inflation rate is approximately 4.1 percent and the proposed budget increase is only 4 4 percent.

Declining enrollment does not mean reduced cost. If you have four children and one moves away, does the cost of maintaining your home or your utility bills automatically drop by one-sixth? No, you still have insurance, fuel, upkeep and utility costs that do not change. The Hoard of Education is faced with this same fact.

Whether educating 460 or 350 students, most cost factors do no change. The state continues to add programs, and over-half our staff have been with us for a number of years.

Our children are tomorrow's world leaders, doctors, lawyers, etc. The future lies in their minds and hands. Support the excellence in education that Mountajaside students deserve.

Vole on Tuesday and vole for the budget.

Library column Real life spy story

By ROSE SIMON The following are reviews of books currently available at the Springfield Public Library.

CON-MAN'S RISE AND FALL "The Death Merchant," by Joseph C. Goulden and Alexander W. Raffio

The story of Edwin P. Wilson starts off normally enough; an Idaho farm boy, born in 1938, merchant seaman and Portland University graduate with bachelor of arts degree in psychology, Marine in Korea and Japan, married and joined the CIA in 1955 as a junior security officer. During his service; Wilson became expert in using "proprietary" companies serving as fronts for U.S. intelligence projects,

Here his life changed. He learned how to take advantage of people and events in order to further his greed and ambition. He invested in real estate extensively, with his wife, entered into shady deals using his connections with the CIA, even after his dismissal, with military officers and congressmen, and organized his own company, Consultants International, Inc. His "James Bond" character was fixed by this time.

As a wheeler dealer, he found little to hinder his illicit business plans. Eventually, again through contacts with-other questionable (or innocent) characters, he became a top man in the nefarious bloody schemes of Maumur Quaddafi, For him and his friends. Wilson went to extremes to pursue his international adventures. These are uncovered by the author and his associate who was once involved with Wilson.

There are horror stories, intrigue involving associates and family. The man was cruel, amoral, utterly without comparison. He falsified documents, taught others to plot and kill, even his son, illegally disclosed U.S. information to Libya, hired expilots and Marines to train terrorists, provided every imaginable kind of explosive, weapon, electronic equipment, to carry out his espionage adventures, incidentally acquiring huge profits for himself.

The unbelievable tale ends with the luring of Wilson from his haven in Libya to the Dominican Republic, to New York, to his trials indictment, and imprisonment until at least the year 2000.

Novel is topic

Judith Rossner's 1983 novel "August" will be the focus of the next book discussion at the Springfield Public Library Tuesday, at 8 p.m., in the Library Meeting Room.

The book discussion is free and open to the public. The next meeting, scheduled for May 7, will deal with Philip Roth's "The Anatomy Lesson."

Auditions set

The Springfield Stagecrafters will hold auditions Monday and Tuesday for the Michael Bennett musical comedy, "Seesaw." The auditions will be held between 6:30 and 10 p.m.

Additional appointments can be made by calling Alan Souza at 467-0013 in the evening.

COUNTY LEADER NEWSPAPERS 1,2,3 + - Thursday, March 28, 1985 - 5 Burdge blasts new state law

By VICTORIA VREELAND Harold Burge, board secretary of the Union County Regional High School District, has blasted the new state Right-to-Know law, saying it dumps the administrative duties on the "little guys," rather than the "big guys" it was intended to regulate.

Burdge made his comments following a presentation by regional coordinators at a board meeting March 19. George Barclay, science coordinator, and Stanley Grossman, vocational education coodinator, gave a presentation of the aw accompanied by slides. Barclay called the law a "monument" to the bureaucratic system.

'It would have been nice if they came up with something enforceable and in the best interest of the students and the taxpayers," Burdge said.

In accordance with the revised "Right to Know Law," which went into effect in August, all employers are required to survey their facilities and inform employees of any toxic substances that are kept on the premises.

The original law mandated manufacturers to label products, but in a suit filed by a number of businesses and industries, a U.S. District Court judge ruled to release manufacturers from the law because state officials had not sought federal approval for the regulations.

According to Burdge, although employers were given the task of identifying toxic substances, they were not instructed how to interpret the "massive" list (a 144-page book) of substances the state considers hazardous.

"You have to have a scientific background to understand the thing," he said. He added that questions to the two advising state bodies, the Department of Health and the Department-of-Education, have been futile. "At this time, they are of know help," he said.

-'No one can be critical that workers should be informed of toxic substances they are exposed to," he continued, but he strongly emphasized that, "the responsibility should be on the manufacturer to label the product. The big guys got off the hook by getting the law changed.'

The state first imposed a deadline of toxic substance identification by March 1, however, according to Burdge, it has been extended until-June 30. Even still, he believes it would have been more sensible to make a summer deadline so the inspections could have been conducted when the buildings were less active.

"Our major function is to educate kids, not label bottles," Burdge said. Among some of the hazardous substances are cotton and oxygen, but ironically, according to Burdge, aspestos is not listed.

A task force has been developed to conduct a hazardous substance inventory of the four regional high schools. In addition, the board approved the hiring of 11 staff members to work on weekends and during the spring vacation to assist the task force.

Burdge said it was necessary to have staff members from the involved areas, such as cosmotology, science, home economics, art, who are familiar with the chemical terminology. The added employment will cost the district about $1,800.

"In spite of the weaknesses, we have every intention of following the law," he summarized.

"You're the Best, Dad!" "Thanks, son. Do you really think so?"

Program under way

Registration has begun for an after-school activities program that is to start April 15 in both Sandmeier and Caldwell Schools, Springfield. The program is sponsored by the respective Parent Teacher Asociations.

Helene Sambur, chairwoman of Sandmeier School, said that the response for registration has been overwhelming.

The Springfield program is patterned after a program that has been in existence in the Short Hills/-Milburn schools for a number of years. The program is intended to provide an enrichment opportunity for the children, a chance to try new things, gain new skills, and to have fun, Sambur said.

Homeowners Protect Yourselves

For most of us our individually owned homes are our greatest asset. When demands are made for the enactment or increasing of rent control, individual homeowners take it on the chin. For income properties, taxes are based on rent rolls. When rents remain low, taxes are not adjusted upward to help pay for the costs of local government. Who takes up the slack? For the most part it is the "man-in-the-middle", Mr. Average Homeowner, Mr. Good Guy.

When your taxes keep increasing, the attractiveness of your property is in danger and certainly not as easily sold as it might have been. High taxes discourage buyers. Your insisting, you, the individual homeowner, that the cost of local govenment be equally shared-not discounted for renters because they appear to be organized and ready to speak out. Keep your taxes in line, keep your local services coming, support your town because it supports you, make your wishes know to your councilperson -no more rent control, no hardening the application of rent control-no handouts for renters who may or may not be here tomorrow.

Help you representatives maintain Irvington as a clean, progressive, nice-place-to-live. Let them hear from you. And always remember, local rent come houseing. You will not hurt any deserving person by asking that rent control be curbed or eliminated. Call Town Hall, tell your representatives what you want.

Ralph Klopper, executive director of the Union County Economic Development Corporation, has announced that at its initial 1965 meeting, the Overall Economic Development Program Committee, appointed last month by the Union County Board of Freeholders, established priorities for applications within the county for U.S. Economic Development Agency grants in 1965. The Union County Economic Development Corporation serves as the administrative staff for the Overall Economic Development Program Committee which presently numbers 18 members.

The function of the OEDP Committee, a broadly based cross section of Union County citizens having a minority representation of at least 26 percent, is to provide priority approval of applications for projects within Union County which are submitted to the federal EDA for funding. The focus of the projects is on employment, both construction and permanent jobs.

Two grant applications were voted upon at the meeting after members were sworn in by Matthew T. Rinaldo, UCEDC legal counsel. The first was for $1 million for site work including hazardous waste removal at the Port Authority's Elizabeth Industrial Park at Kapkowski Road Building construction on this 125-acre site will begin in the summer, involving 2 million square feet of development and 2,000 jobs over the next five years. Costs for the project are estimated at $1 million from the Federal EDA, $13.5 million from the Port Authority, and $70 to 90 million from the private sector.

Also prioritized at the meeting were planning grants totaling $75,000 for the City of Plainfield relating to the renovation of the Tepper's Building, development of the Park-Madison site, the Strand Theater, and Plainfield's newly approved 840-acre urban enterprise zone.

In prior years, federal EDA funds have been used for several Union County development project. One grant was approved for the City of Linden for sanitary sewer installation in a 450-acre site adjacent to the Linden Municipal Airport and Lower Road,

BOROUGH OF MOUNTAINSIDE EXPLANATORY STATEMENT APPROPRIATIONS "CAPS" Chapter 68, Public Laws of 1976, places limits on municipal expenditurs. Commonly referred to as a "CAP", it is actually calculated by a method established by the law The actual calculation is somewhat complex bul, in general, it works as follows. Starting with the right of the 1984 budget for fotal General Appropriations, certain 1984 budget figures are subtracted, including the reserve for uncollected taxes, dots service, State or Federal aid, cash deficit, mandated expenditures per N.J.S. 40A. 4.45.30, etc. Take the resulting figure and multiply if by 065 and this uves you the basic "CAP" or the amount of appropriations increase allowed over the 1984 Total increase funded by increased valuations from new construction improvements and from new or In creasen service fees. Appropriations for the items subtracted in the above paragraph may be set at any necessary level and are not subject to the "CAP" The actual Services in the State Department of Community Atlairs, but the calculations upon which this budget was prepared are as follows:

WORKING TO MEET A DEADLINE—Construction workers from Conti Construction Co. in Plainfield, are well under way in making reparations to Mountain Avenue Bridge. Though the temporary shutdown of the bridge has aggravated rush hour traffic problems on or near Route 22 and New Providence Road, the construction is scheduled for completion by April 30, and reports have indicated that the work may be proceeding well ahead of schedule. The $450,000 project, financed through a combination of state and federal funds, was originally scheduled for completion late last summer, but was delayed until Feb. 11 by the state Department of Transportation when the contractor was unable to obtain the necessary materials.

Residents advised of tax assistance

Tax counseling for the elderly is available by appointment every Thursday morning at the Mountainside Public Library between the hours of 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Interested residents may call 233-0115 to arrange an appointment.

Residents are requested to bring all necessary information with them, including copies of 1983 federal and state returns, 1099, W-2 and 1984 copies of federal and state returns

Additional information is available from Helen Rosenbaum, senior citizen coordinator at 232-4406.

This program is available free of charge through the cooperation of the American Association of Retired Persons and the Internal Revenue Service.

Cardoni won't give in to G COUNTY LEADER NEWSPAPERS - 3 * - Thursday, March 28, 1985 - 11

"They (Air Con officials) really did their homework; my only concern is I think we probably do not have sufficient expertise on the board to determine if the opinion of the experts submitted by Air Con's conclusion could be questioned by someone looking at it from another point."

Regarding another form of construction, Cardoni says he has always supported the idea of developing multiple housing, but the town administration has "uniformly because of her successful background in the business world and the fact that she has always been active in the community.

"I care very deeply about the educational system and I feel the primary objective in all board decisions should be the educational welfare of the children, " she said.

One of her goals, if elected, is to set out to establish the expansion of the computer programs throughout the lower grades.

"Expanding the computer program would be one of my definite goals," she said.

"I will bring to Mountainside Board of Education a positive, progressive attitude. If we want Mountainside to continue to be a choice place to live, we must realize our future lies within the quality of our children."

Unchester said one thing she will do to make the board better is implement more equitable scheduling in the middle school such as typing, home economics and computer programing.

Ogden: State should pay bill

Assemblywoman Maureen Ogden (R-22nd District) said she wants the state to use a portion of the growing budget surplus to assume the full cost of the court system now funded by the county's share of the local property tax.

She said state assumption of court costs could result in a cut of up to 19 percent of the county share of property taxes in Essex County.

"The cost of the court system in Essex County, including probation and sheriff department budgets and other ancillary costs, approaches $31 million a year," Ogden said. In multiple housing.

"I think there is now, at least a gleam of acceptance that the fact that we don't have multiple housing may not be best for the town." he says. "Some officials in the administration have acknowledged that our town might be better off to recycle our homes for families with children rather than have them occupied by widows. Our school system reflects that. This is a mature community in age and we

She would also like to see a more unified disciplinary system and continue staff development. "Education is more than just budgets, contracts, bus scheduling - it's more than reading, writing and arithmetic - it's a committment to the children. With varied training and experience, I would carry out my experience in an objective and intelligent way," she said.

Esemplare told the group that she does not want the area to become regionalized.

"I don't want it. I have devoted 19 years to this; when you lose local control, you have no say and I will not give up the 19 years that I dedicated to this school," she said.

Commenting on the one thing she would do or offer to provide for a better school system, Esemplare said, "To take one thing out of all the goals in may head, I would our administration go over our childrens' textbooks in order to have the children pass the N.J. literacy test. I want to be sure that every single solitary child pass that test, she said.

Union County, net court-related costs exceed $17.5 million and state assumption of these costs would reduce the county share of property taxes by some 15.7 percent.

"I support legislation sponsored in the Senate by Senate President Carmen Orechio that would cause the state to assume these costs on a 'phased-in' basis,'' she stated:

She said that state funding of the courts would cost between $120 and $150 million, "with these costs continuing year to year in the state rather than in county budgets."

need the influx of new blood with the influence of families with children,' he adds

He says to make this possible, many older senior citizens might consider moving out of their three and four-bedroom homes to townhouses, opening up the homes for families with children.

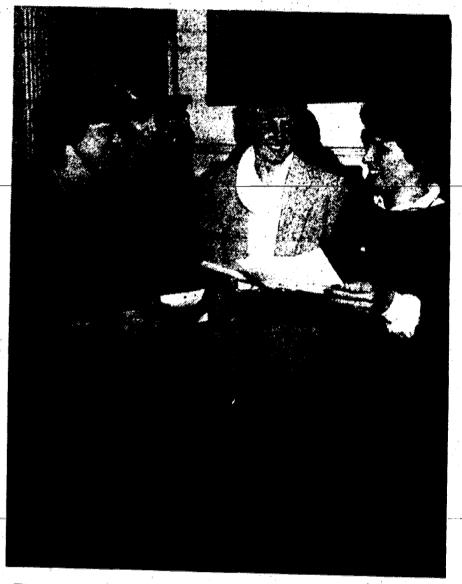

"I say this only on the basis of my own personal knowledge on the results of a survey taken that would indicate that; although the results have never been implemented."

Cardoni, born in Jessup, Penn., obtained his undergraduate degree from the University of Scranton and his law degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1941. In that year, he was admitted to the Pennsylvania Bar and the federal courts and he began practicing in Scranton.

He retired in 1981 from Slumberger, Ltd. in New York City where he was associate corporate counsel.

He is presently vice president for the Association for Advancement of the Mentally Handicapped, and is a trustee for Our Lady of Lourdes Roman Catholic Church as well as a member of the United Way of Mountainside Board of Trustees.

He also belongs to the Volunteers in Probation of Union County.

Homeowners Protect Yourselves

For most of us our individually owned homes are our greatest asset. When demands are made for the enactment or increasing of rent control, individual homeowners take it on the chin. For income properties, taxes are based on rent rolls. When rents remain low, taxes are not adjusted upward to help pay for the costs of local government. Who takes up the slack? For the most part it is the "man-in-the-middle". Mr. Average Homeowner, Mr. Good Guy,

When your taxes keep increasing, the attractiveness of your property is in danger and certainly not as easily sold as it might have been. High taxes discourage buyers. Your insisting, you, the individual homeowner, that the cost of local govenment be equally shared-not discounted for renters because they appear to be organized and ready to speak out. Keep your taxes in line, keep your local services coming, support your town because it supports you, make your wishes know to your councilperson -no more rent control, no hardening the application of rent control-no handouts for renters who may or may not be here tomorrow.

Help you representatives maintain Irvington as a clean, progressive, nice-place-to-live, Let them hear from you. And always remember, local rent controls do not apply to senior citizen or low income houseing. You will not hurt any deserving person by asking that rent control be curbed or eliminated. Call Town Hall, tell your representatives what you want

instead of your regular home fuel oil

A new home heating oil which has recently entered the marketplace reportedly saves homeowners significant amounts of money on their heating bills. According to an independent research firm, use of ThermOil "results in a decrease of fuel oil consumption of 10.2%." Currently ThermOil is in use in California, Nevada, New Jersey and Virginia.

Area homes tested

Econalytic Systems of Colorado conducted studies in two areas of New Jersey between December 15, 1980 and March 9, 1981. The study was originally initiated to confirm laboratory results obtained by the Environmental Protection Agency. Results showed that the participants gained savings ranging from $75 to $350 per home on their annual fuel costs when they burned ThermOil instead of their regular number two fuel oil.

ThermOil burns more efficiently than number two home fuel oil

In order for a furnace to provide heat, the energy stored in oil must be released through the process of combustion. Combustion needs air to occur but with ThermOil. "Combustion can be achieved with less air," says Econalytic Systems. Since extra air is one of the main causes of high fuel consumption, ThermOil helps end the wasted energy that occurs with ordinary number two heating oil.

ThermOil burns cleaner than your usual heating oil

Another benefit of ThermOil use is increased cleanliness. The catlyst in ThermOil reduces the temperature of free carbon from 1085°F to 860°F. This reduction in temperature means that existing soot is eliminated and further build up is prevented. Homeowners find they have a cleaner furnace when they use ThermOil.

Now available to the public

Hundreds of homeowners in New Jersey have already been using ThermOil for several heating seasons. More and more are switching every week. You can take advantage of this cost efficient home fuel oil by contacting CPO for free information and literature at 388-1000 in Rahway, N.J.

Solid UHS track team ready for opener.

The Union High boys track and field team enters the 1985 spring season with much promise. After a very successful 1984 campaign and a good 1964-85 indoor season, the team appears to be solid, with proven veterans in every event.

Union's nucleus consists of 12 returning lettermen, along with several promising newcomers. The Farmers of coach Bill Soranno open their dual meet season this Monday at home against Kearny, then competes at Elizabeth next Wednesday. After that comes the Ridgewood Relays a week from Saturday.

The turnout for the team has been excellent as 60 boys came out, the largest number ever in Soranno's five years as head coach.

Figuring to be UHS' top scorer again this season is senior Les Dixon, a sprinter and hurdler who placed second in the state in the 100 meter dash last year. A third team All-State selection, Dixon also placed fourth in the state at 200 meters and he holds four school records. He will again be a top contender for state honors later this spring.

Rob Trinkler, another senior member of the school's award- and high jump relay teams.

Lakers, Pacers win

Upsets were the order of the day in the finals of the Junior and Senior divisions in the Roselle Park recreation basketball league playoffs.

In the Junior division title game, the Lakers, who finished third during the regular season, knocked off the first place finishers, the Rockets, by a 28-21 score.

Meanwhile, in the Senior division final, the Pacers jolted the Nets, 46-44. on Brian Bodnar's late basket.

Steve McCauley's 24 points led the Lakers, while Adam Dowling tossed in four. Coached by Joe Beer, other members of the Lakers were Daniel Adams, Joe Beer, Jr., Greg Dreher, Alex Gomez and Dan O'Connell. McCauley and O'Connell were designated all-stars.

The Rockets were led by Scott Sexton, who scored 20 points. He and John Schinestuhl are the team's allstar representatives, who were coached by Gary Sexton.

winning mile relay team at the Penn Relays last year and will be looking to break the 50-second barrier for 400 meters this spring.

Eric Renkoff, the team's top pole vaulter, finished in the top 12 in the state for the event last spring. He cleared 13 feet last year and placed third in Union County. The county title is a possible goal for him this year, with the potential for a new UHS pole vault record.

Steve Kraus, a junior, tied the school record in the 3,200-meter run as a sophomore last season. He placed fifth in the county and fourth at the state sectional meet: Along with that, he was second in the county at the two miles indoors this past winter. He should be the Farmers' top distance runner.

Senior Dave Price finished second in the county in the discus last season and fifth at the sectionals. He is the favorite to win the county discus title in 1985.

Versatile juniors Tony Stewart and Gary Mobley will play key roles as hurdlers and jumpers. Stewart, who high jumped 6-2 and long jumped 22 feet as a sophomore, also placed fifth in the high hurdles at the sectionals. Mobley figures to be a sprinter, was Union's second highest prominent member of the inpoint scorer last spring. He was a termediate, high hurdle and long Reinhardt's 13 points, 10 by Vanderkoy and five by Baylock helped the Nets defeat the Knicks. 29-25. Vanderkoy and Baylock were the team's all-star representatives. The Knicks were led by Tom Ellam and Mike Smith, both all-stars, and were coached by Bobby Johnson, Jr. and Tom Piscotta.

In the Senior Division, Bodnar's 27 points led the winners, while 10 by Russell Kizma, six by John Strahan and three by Mike O'Connell aided the Pacers. Other members of the Pacers were Jim Kompany, Scott Nigro. Billy Huber and Vic Goldsmith and the coaches were Tom Piscotta and Bob Johnson, Jr.

The Nets were led by Joey Siter's 30 points, nine by John Hutchinson and six by Anthony Costello. Siter, Costello and Mike Wielgus are the all-star representatives.

Senior Andre Bowers, who placed fourth indoors in the 800 meters this past winter, will be the Farmers' top performer at that distance. He will also compete in the intermediate hurdles, 400 meters and mile relay along with another key senior, Dan-Waldron. Letterman Eric Frenchman will also see action at the 200 and 400 meter runs.

Junior Sean Dillon should be the team's top javelin thrower and will be backed up by senior Vin Rosano. In the shot put, seniors Joe Jelovcich and Gordon Byrd, along with junior Jacob Kessler, appear to be the key throwers.

"We expect an excellent season, both in the dual meets and championship meets," said Soranno.

For Tony Siragusa, going out for the wrestling team at Brearley was only "just to keep in shape.", It's turned out to be a whole lot more than just keeping in shape for both Tony and the Bear matmen.

Siragusa has just concluded his high school wrestling career by winning the coveted state heavyweight title before 8,000 screaming fans at the Jadwin Gym on the Princeton campus.

Winning the state title put the lid on an outstanding season for Siragusa as he won all 26 of his matches, 23 of them pins.

When it was suggested to Siragusa that he go out for the wrestling team, he thought this would be a good way for him to keep in shape during football's off-season. He never dreamed that he would enjoy it as much as he does, nor did he think he would be as successful as he has been.

During his career, Siragusa has won two district, two county, two region and one state title. He has also won the Glen Ridge Tournament as a junior and senior.

What makes the big bad Bear so tough is combining his outstanding strength and quickness. He also likes to use the "bear hug" (no pun and during his high school career, has competed in baseball as a freshman, track as a sophomore, besides football and wrestling. This spring, he has decided to give golf a try. He has consistently been hitting drives well over 280 yards from the tee. According to Siragusa, "it will be my chipping and putting which is going to make or break my game." And working hard on his short game is how he'll spend a good deal of his free time this spring. After graduation Siragusa will try to enjoy the summer and then get ready to begin his college football career at the University of Pittsburgh.

Tony received scholarship offers from many schools all over the country and one of the reasons that he choose Pitt was for the opportunity to play for head coach Foge Fazio.

Another man that was very influential in Siragusa's decision to go to Pitt was defensive line coach Sal Sinsieri. Tony feels that both of these men have a "great deal of confidence in my ability."

Fazio hasn't decided where Tony is going to play for Pitt, whether it The organizational meeting of the will be at offensive tackle, defensive end or nose tackle. There is also the possiblity that he will do some kicking. At Brearley this past season, he hit on 23 of 27 extra point tries and averaged 39.7 yards per punt for the Bears.

"One of my big thrills last season was the game in which I ran for 38 yards on a fake punt," said Siragusa.

NJTO raps state probe into rent agreements

The 82,000-member New Jersey Tenants Organization (NJTO) has charged that a "probe" being conducted by the Kean administration could void rental agreements in several municipalities and cause thousands of tenants to become victims of landlord rent gouging.

In a letter sent to Gov. Kean, Phyllis-Salowe-Kaye, president of the NJTO, the oldest and largest state-wide tenant organization in the country, said,

"The NJTO is extremely distressed to learn that the attorney general's office is conducting a probe into rental 'agreements' that have been signed by municipalities, lan-diords, and, in some cases, tenant. associations, to limit rents in several New Jersey communities.'

The attorney general's office has subpoensed records in several towns as part of an investigation into possible antitrust or price-fixing violations."

"If these agreements are voided," Salowe-Kaye continued. "thousands of tenants will be without rent protection. Even if doesn't happen, this municipalities and landlords are already hesitant to renew existing agreements in light of the pending investigation. leaving tenants unsure of their ability to afford the apartments that they are now occupying.

seem to agree that the local effects of rent control are a losing proposition for all. Property maintenance standards suffer, values decline, tax bases erode, town services limo along. schools' ratings tailspin. Greater burdens are placed upon the individual homeowner and finally the whole complexion of a town or neighborhood undergoes radical change.

So, who at least in the short term, gains from rent conrol? Only renters, many of them short term residents, are able to keep their shelter. costs low, while everyone else in town shoulders a portion of the burden miraculously avoided by the renter. Keep in mind that this local or dinance of infamy does not affect those senior citizens in Housing for the Elderly, nor does it affect residents of low income housing. You see, the federally assisted housing is exempt from local controls. These rents can be adjusted at anytime, based upon an income/expense basis. By asking your councilperson to vote against the proposed changes in rent control; indeed asking that a person to consider the elimination of rent control, you will be hurting no senior citizen or no low income family. You will be asserting your right to insist that all residents of Irvington share the cost of government in a fair manner

Once More A Season Upon Us

Every few year, a small group here in Irvington get out their old banners, their old slogans, and their old hats. A touch of spring may be in the air and their longings turn once more to fantasy and the world of makebelieve. And so they reason, there is an election upon us, let's cajole some politicians into joining us in singing that old tune called "Rent Control". Never mind that Irvington enacted and has benefitted from a very fair ordinance for the past years. Now is the time get more

Now, not all our Town Fathers are fooled. Most know of the faults and evils of rent control. But, they are looking to you for guidance. Since you don't call them and let your feelings be known, they assume that everything is all right. Call them, write to them, show up at meetings and tell them what to do. Tell them you want everyone to pay a fair share of the cost of government-and that includes renters as well as everyone. Being a renter does not entitle anyone to shirk their part of the burden. Now we want renters in or town and the mix of people that results from having a balanced population. However, individual homeowners insist that everyone pay their fair share. When rent control takes over, we middle people, owning our homes, often end up paying or subsidizing others. Now, there is nothing fair about that! Resident of senior citizens or low-income housing are not effected in anyway by local rent control. Thus, cancelling our rent control will not hurt any deserving person. It will make the cost of local government more equally shared. Call that councilperson-write that letter-go to that meeting and let your wishes be known. This is America and this is the way we grew and became a great nation.

Homeowners Protect Yourselves

For most of us our individually owned homes are our greatest asset. When demands are made for the enactment or increasing of rent control, individual homeowners take it on the chin, For income properties, taxes are based on rent rolls. When rents remain low, taxes are not adjusted upward to help pay for the costs of local government. Who takes up the slack? For the most part it is the "man-in-the-middle", Mr. Average Homeowner, Mr. Good Guy.

When your taxes keep increasing, the attractiveness of your property is in danger and certainly not as easily sold as it might have been. High taxes discourage buyers. Your insisting, you, the individual homeowner, that the cost of local govenment be equally shared-not discounted for renters because they appear to be organized and ready to speak out. Keep your taxes in line, keep your local services coming. support your town because it supports you. make your wishes know to your councilperson -no more rent control, no hardening the application of rent control-ph handourts for renters who may or may not be here tomorrow.

Help you representatives maintain Irvington as a clean, progressive, nice-place-to-live. Let them hear from you. And always remember, local rest controls do not apply to senior citizen or two income houseing. You will not hurt any deserving person by asking that rent control he curbed or aliminated. Call Town Hall, tell your representatives what you want.

Preparing for a new addition

By DORIT BENSCHAR

Preparing for your new dog is just as important as preparing for a new baby - short of diapers

A bag of good nutritional food together with two dishes - one for food and one for water, should be set up in a designated area for your dog. A few toys and chewbones should be on hand in order to prevent the little pooch from chewing on your furniture and woodwork.

Like the eating area, your dog should have a sleeping place set aside for him

A small blanket or bed is sufficient. And no matter how cute and cuddly the puppy is, your bed or furniture are not the places for him to get comfortable. Make this clear to your puppy from day one that the furniture is off limits to him.

You will be grateful and glad that your started your puppy's training early enough before it becomes a bad habit.

Getting acquainted with your local vet is very important since your new puppy needs innoculations and a general check-up to assure good health. Your vet also will give some helpful hints on how to raise your new addition properly. Don't wait for emergencies; get to know your vet and let him know you and your pet.

The vet will play an extremly important role in your dog's life, just as a pediatrician for the children. House training your new pup will be the most important subject on your mind when your bring the pup home. It can be done quickly and easily; or it can take away the pleasure of owning a dog by dragging on for months.

A dog crate will be the best thing to happen to your puppy, next to your love. It is his own little private domain and secure hideaway or simply a bed with a door. Because he instinctively wants his den kept clean, the pup will learn quickly to control himself and not soil his bed. When left alone, the crate will prevent the puppy from chewing and soiling the house. The benefit to you, of course, is the peace of mind you will enjoy when you are away from home.

For more information on house training and the use of a crate: write to Dorit Benschar Club-Pet Kennels 135 East Highland Pkwy. Roselle N.J. 07203.

Service helps elderly to stay at home

By RAE HUTTON

Three area women with experience in the field of aging have organized a "unique" service for older adults which enables them to remain in their own homes even though they are unable to do "many of the little things in life that we take for granted.'

Older Adult Resources and Services provides "every conceivable service for elderly adults," who, according to Eleanor Rubin, one of the founders, are "most happy staying in their own home."

"Because we are private, we can fashion our services uniquely to the needs of the older adult," she explained.

Rubin, of Watchung, and Toby Rosen and Leah Weiss, both of South Orange, opened O.A.R.S. in January after researching similar services in Long Island, New York City Florida and Boston.

Although their offices are based in South Orange on Valley Street, their clients come from both Essex and Union counties.

Their many years of volunteer service with senior citizens in the area led them to realize that many elderly people would rather stay in their own homes, but must look for new ways to cope with the basic needs of daily life - grocery shopping, doctor appointments, even going out to lunch once in a while.

In addition, Rubin explained, "we were aware of the services provided for people with lower incomes and are aware of services provided for people with money, but many of these services stop after initial consultations.

"With the elderly population increasing, many more services are needed, but not provided," she said.

O.A.R.S. is different from public, government-funded programs for senior citizens because it is flexible and not limited by geographic area, funds or services.

"We are careful to remain creditable. We do only what we do best." said Rubin, the immediate past president of the Senior Services Corp., a non-profit agency whichprovides services for senior citizens.

What O.A.R.S. does best and initially, is consult with their clients which means both the elderly parent and the adult child.

"Many times adult children do not include their parents in planning and until they do, we can't help them,' Rubin emphasized. "They must have confidence in us and they have to get used to the idea that someone they do not know is in the house.'

A consultation with the O.A.R.S. staff to evaluate individual needs. explore alternate methods of care or living arrangements and discuss community resources is the first step for clients.

We can do a lot of what the adult children have been doing, but just don't have enough time to do it. Rubin explained.

And just what can O.A.R.S. do?

Staff members can do grocery shopping, drive patients to the doctor, the bank or the post office, help them with their banking, prepare their meals ahead-of time, put their groceries away, accompany them to the theater or just take them out to lunch.

This "personal assistance" is provided by trained staff members college students, housewives, retirees - who have had experience with the elderly.

And if the staff is unable to provide a certain service - such as hair care for example - O.A.R.S. will find someone who can or direct the client to an agency that can.

Personal assistance is only one component of the services providedby the trio.

"Keep in Touch" is a weekly program which includes regular phone contacts, home visits to clients and liaison with out-of-town relatives. "Getting There" is a private transportation service.

Rubin said that while municipal programs provide transportation and companion services, much of it is limited to one municipality and the programs are not flexible.

O.A.R.S. has contracted with a livery service which will provide transportation for older adults to the doctor or to out-of-town malls for example. And the drivers, she said,... will attend to any needs of the customer.

'We're gearing this service to adult children who might want to give a gift to a parent," she added, noting that coupon books can be purchased for $50. This service eliminates the need for calling a taxi or a relative for transportation and gives the elderly person one more means of remaining independent,' Rubin emphasized.

She noted that the elderly population in both Essex and Union counties is increasing all the time -in Essex, about 17 percent of the population is over 60, while in Union, the figure is nearly 20 percent.

With this increase in the population age, she said, more older adults need assistance with shopping, meal preparation, personal errands and transportation. In addition, more adult children, particulary women, are working and are busy with their own families, and are concerned that they are unable to spend enough time with their aging parents.

"It is in these cases that O.A.R.S. can be beneficial," Rubin said.

A member of the National Council of Jewish Women for 12 years, Rubin is on its board of directors and was a 🛛 🔁 delegate to the White House Council on Aging. She is co-author of several manuals dealing with housing for 8 senior citizens and has worked directly with older adults at senior centers. She is studying for a master's degree in Judeo-Christian Studies at Seton Hall Univesity and ≥ is preparing her thesis on "The Religious Community's Response to the Needs of the Elderly in New Jersev.'

Rosen is chairman of Older Adult Services for the YM-YWHA of Metropolitan New Jersey in West Orange and previously the chairman of senior centers for the Y and the National Council of Jewish Women.

Weiss, who holds a master's degree in social work, has been a caseworker in New Jersey and Massachusetts and is on the board of the United Way of Essex and West Hudson and a member of the Mental Health Association of Essex County.

All three are members of the Senior Services Corp. of Essex County and are associated with numerous community boards dealing with the elderly

NJ Transit's 'got the ticket' for your pleasure trips

NJ Transit is now your ticket to ski resorts, shoppers excursions and entertainment in New Jersey and Manhattan. The statewide public transportation corporation's Department of Special Operations is... offering rail transportation at discount rates to promote group travel.

The goal of the Department is to generate increased ridership on NJ Transit offpeak and weekend trains.

"We have big plans for this department," said Jerome C. Premo, executive director of NJ Transit. "There are many things to see and do in New Jersey and the New York Metropolitan Area. Not only will we work with groups regarding transportation to and from their destination, but we'll also, when necessary, make all other arrangements such as securing group tickets for Broadway plays."

"The department is something of a mini-travel agency," said David Nogar, manager of Special Operations. "Our office will plan almost any type of group excursion. desired. For example, we recently planned a one day ski trip for a group offering them a very reasonable priced package that included a lift ticket, equipment and lesson."

The department also is responsible for booking private parties aboard NJT-One, a restored observation car owned by the statewide public transportation corporation. To this end, the special operations unit can arrange catering services for a group. "The NJT-One is an attractively appointed rail car having wall-to-wall carpet, captain's chairs, a bar and kitchen area." Nogar said. For a reasonable cost a group can lease the rail car to hold meetings and parties.

"Just last New Year's Eve we provided the NJT-One to a group who requested the car be attached to one of our regular revenue service trains leaving from Hoboken to Port Jervis and returning to Hoboken, said Nogar.

The Department of Special Operations currently is coordinating and developing special packages such as shoppers excursions between New York, Newark and Flemington, and group trips to a New Jersey winery, Manhattan's South Street Seaport and Broadway shows.

For further information about group sales write to NJ Transit Special Operations, David V. Nogar, manager, Special Operations, NJ Transit Rail, 95 Orange St., P.O. Box 720, Newark, N.J. 07101 or call (201) 648-3360.

Child's room fun to decorate Children's rooms can be the most are too typical for a child to grow up challenging and fun to decorate, says Lyn Peterson, a designer who considers' them something of a speciality. Her ideas have stood the test of her own three children as well as those of her many clients around the country.

Motherhood has reinforced Lyn's belief in the connection between design and development. The new Marimekko Little People collection of wallcoverings and fabrics, herlatest collaboration with the famed Finnish firm, offers an innovative approach to decorating with elements for education as well as good looks.

One example is the "Learning Wall," a mural in five parts that displays the complete alphabet. In bright colors that Marimekko calls "happy colors," each letter is paired along with a single image of a word that begins with that letter.

The pictures chosen are objects children can easily identify such as airplane ("A"), boat ("B"), car for "C" and zipper for "Z." "Educate, and decorate," Ms. Peterson says. Another mural features the numbers one through 10:

Both are an excellent way to put color and pattern to work fine-tuning a child's developing sensory network. And if one rule prevails in decorating a child's room, Ms. Peterson notes it is a generous supply of color and pattern.

Ms. Peterson offers other suggestions:

· Don't get trendy. You may believe that Cinderella is every littlegirl's wish, but such fairy tale characters and comic strip heros happily ever after with. They soonprove an embarrassment about their room-s decor. But, if Cinderella is just what the daughter ordered, then satify the whim with a framed picture or a few pillows featuring Cinderella.

· Borders are an easy way of adding graphic interest or a "storyline" without overdoing the theme or budget. Borders can highlight an area and accent architectura details such as an alcove, pitched ceiling or windows. Placed right at crib level, a border adds a ribbon of magical color and detail to baby's small world.

· Be resourceful. Big brother's old dresser can be up-dated for the nextin-line with a whitewashing and new bright porcelain or plastic hardware. (The secret of a good high gloss paint job, according to Peterson, is sanding between coats of paint. Use very fine grained sandpaper, available in hardware and home supply stores).

Another way to make a bureau or night table look new is to cover the top and sides with vinyl wallpaper. The new vinyl adds a layer of protection, too.

 Maintain perspective. Furnishing a room in scale with a child's size doesn't require an expensive yearly overhaul, just a little ingenuity. A typist's chair can be adjusted as a child grows.

A length of plastic laminate or a hollow-core door placed on two single-drawer file cabinets or stacking plastic cubes creates a work surface at the proper height. Later on, two-drawer cabinets or anothe level of cubes can be added to raise the desk top.

Sticky fingers and artistic crayons can spoil the look of non-vinyl wallcoverings, painted walls, and the patience and budget of any parent. "Opt for vinyl wallcovers," advises designer Peterson.

Since vinyl is resistant to scuffs and wipes clean, it is the number one choice for wall surface treatments for young tots up to school age. Even for the older set, vinyl makes the perfect surface for the latest rage in posters. Tape won't peel the surface of vinyl as it would painted walls.

In terms of pattern, a classic design will live longer. A striped motif, for example, can make the switch from romantic to high tech with a few small accessory changes. A pattern lke Marimekko's new "Happy Stripe" or "Arithemetic III'' keeps pace with a child's fast changing developmental stages.

"It's unfair to give children furnishings that require caution and care," says Lyn. The plastic laminate piece set atop brightly painted saw horses is a good example of what works best. Choose washable fabrics. vinyl wallcoverings and plastic surfaces.

Plastic stacking cubes are another good durable way of providing storage, seating and a base for shelving and desk tops. Pegboardslike dad's workshop make an attractive wall storage unit with a good supply of wire bins attached with large hooks.

Children's rooms are generally small and box-like, but a simple floor plan and color scheme will lend a spacious feeling.

BO-BOO('beep beep' in Finnish), Marimekko's most classic children's design ever, now appears on towels by Dundee and a new wallcovering and fabric pattern by Motif as well as a host of other produces.

Many are available in sizes designed to fit into the rough opening left when the old unit is removed. In many cases, says the National Wood work Manufacturers Association, a new wood patio door can be installed quickly without reframing or re-siding.

Homeowners who plan to replace a patio door as a do-it-yourself project to save money may require two days to complete the installation: One to prepare the opening and the second to finish the job.

Available at local lumber yards, home centers or building supply stores, wood patio doors come in six, eight, nine and 12 foot widths.

Patio doors are ideal for families who like to entertain outdoors because they provide such easy access. The most common patio door consists of one stationary panel

Answers to some 'insulating' questions

Despite growing interest in energy and energy savings, homeowners continue to be plagued by such questions as the amount of insulation they need and the proper material to install.

In response to these kinds of questions, the Certain Teed Home Institute has developed its own version of the "Ten Most Wanted List.'

From questions asked most frequently by concerned homeowners, here are the Home Institute's Ten Most Wanted Answers.

How does insulation work?

Heat naturally flows from warmer to cooler spaces. During the winter heating season, warmth is flowing from your heated living areas to adjacent unheated areas-attics garages basements and then directly out doors. In the summer, warmth from outdoors flows into the rooms you are trying to keep cool.

Insulation guards against this heat transfer by providing a barrier to block the flow of heat.

Does my house need insulation? Because most houses were built when energy was cheap and abundant, the amount of insulation in your home is probably not adequate by today's standards.

In fact, if you have already added some insulation, you may find that even this is inadequate in view of the rapid rate of which energy costs are rising.

Anything less than 10 inches (R-30) of fiber glass building insulation in the attic is inadequate regardless of where you live. For many parts of the country, 12 inches or more is recommended.

Why should I insulate?

As a homeowner, there are three basic reasons to add insulation; to save money, to save energy and to increase your personal comfort.

Adequate amounts of insulation will enable you to use less energy to heat and cool your home.

You'll also be conserving energy, a valuable and limited resource. In addition, proper amounts of insulation help to maintain uniform temperatures throughout a house.

What is an R-value?

An R-value is the measure of an sulating material's resistance to heat flow. The higher the R-value, the greater the insulating power. Specific thicknesses of insulation are recommended to achieve certain R-values.

How much insulation do I need? If your attic has less than six inches of insulation, at least the equivalent of 6 inch thick R-19 fiber glass building insulation should be added, according to governmentrecommendations.

If your attic has no insulation, up to 12-inch thick R-38 fiber glass building insulation may be required.

Where can insulation be added? Insulation can be added to almost any house; and wherever structural framing is exposed (such as unfinished attic floors). You can install it yourself. What kind of insulation should I use?

The most popular kind of insulation among homeowners today is fiber glass, which is available in rolls and batts for easy installation. Fiber glass is an extremely effective insulating material, because it contains millions of tiny pockets that resist the flow of heat.

In addition, fiber glass insulation won't deteriorate with age and, unlike some other kind of insulating materials, it is noncombustible.

Garden State Brickface & Stucco Company, headquartered in Roselle, the nation's largest exterior remodeler, suggests that you plan your remodeling work in advance to ensure that you can complete your remodeling on schedule:

"I anticipate that the industry may very well be overwhelmed with work in 1985," said David Moore, chief executive officer of Garden State Brickface and Stucco. "In many situations, homeowners may find themselves waiting longer than usual to schedule their work. Remodeling companies of good repute will probably have full schedules, some for months in advance

"But this year, it is probably unrealistic to assume that someone can put in a new patio, for example, for the Fourth of July, when the homeowner waits until June to schedule the work.

Aside from the boom in the remodeling industry, there's another factor which can throw tight schedules into turmoil -- the weather. "A solid week of rain will surely wreak havoc on the most meticulously planned schedule, (Moore noted. "In our business of sculpting and toning masonry surfaces, the weather can, and does, cause delays which are simply not necessarily have to be ready to pay or even finance a remodeling job in order to make preliminary arrangements. "The best advice I can give 'someone to avoid long delays in scheduling is to do advance preparation and follow this procedure:

· Think out just what remodeling you would like to have done; Review contractor qualifications;

· Make an appointment with the contractor to look at your project and draw up some qualifications and estimates of both the time involved and the dollars involved;

. If the job must be completed by a specified date, ask when it is reasonable to schedule.'

Moore said that homeowners do or work experience. "I'm not suggesting that all new businesses are not reliable," he added. "What I am suggesting is that many unquaified people will try to take advantage of the growth in the remodeling industry and go into

An interior designer: Really an artist

By NINA LEE American Society of Interior Designers

An accredited interior designer should interpret your personality and your needs correctly. Comfort, suitability, individuality must all be inherent in a room to make it really satisfying.

The same principles are applied in interior design as those used by an artist on his canvas; mass, balance, rhythm and line. And the designer uses his knowledge of these to integrate shapes and materials, colors and patterns within the architecture of the room to create a livable and personal environment for the client. However, this can be best reached if you_know_how_to_work_with, a designer.

House painters and furniture salesmen often call themselves "decorators." But interior designers are professional men and women qualified by study and experience. Anyone can buy furniture, but not everyone can correctly measure, draw floor plans, and know the potential of each craft, materials, lighting equipment and architectural features, using this knowledge to avoid costly mistakes.

Your designer should first be a professional. Membership in the American Society of Interior Designers (A.S.I.D.) is in itself an assurance of an educated person in the field from an accredited school. It also gives the client recourse to contact the national office in New York should any problems occur between designer and client.

Professional interior designers should be able to interpret all periods of design. They can begin with an empty space or use existing furniture. They can make the most of your favorite possessions by giving them a new setting, redesigning furniture if necessary be reupholstering or refinishing.

They can design furniture or builtins to create special effects and will supervise its construction. They can design special floors, closets and all other installations as well as create, special effect lighting.

They can save the client footwork because they know where to acquire anything you wish. The designer's choice is much wider than yours; his sources and reference books are endless. He knows which are the reliable workrooms and craftsmen. The designer is concered with the "long haul" as well as the immediate effect.

A reliable interior designer makes himself responsible for everything connected with your job. If draperies arrive too short or a tile is badly laid, it is the designer's headache and not yours. He will supervise the job through completion. Beware of the "pretenders." They still exist in some communities, frequently known as "10 Percenters." whose qualifications consist of a resale number and a friend's definition of "good taste." They usually have little study or professional experience. Their fees are usually minimal because their work does not warrant any more. When mistakes are made, they are at your expense.

Looking at pictures of past work helps fittle in choosing a designer, since each client's home, circumstances and desires are different. You cannot judge from other people's homes what the outcome of yours will be.

Instead—you—should request the names of clients whom you can call. Find out their opinions of the rapport, integrity and satisfaction they have experienced with a particular designer — that is far more important,

What about cost? The independent designer customarily charges a design fee when drawing board time is involved. This may include floor plans, detailed furnishings, changing the use of rooms, furniture placement all to scale. The design fee will be stated in advance.

Then for all the legwork, searching, planning, following up orders, supervision, installation and bookkeeping, the designer makes his profit by buying at a discount and charging you retail. The price-less ingredient of the unusual or surprise element that may be applied to your interior is yours for free.

Your agreement with your designer should be in writing, and should specify a retainer applicable to future purchases. You, however, should be in complete control over costs. After plans are made, character of the room established, samples and furniture shown, then and only then can a written proposal of cost be made. With this in hand, you may discuss, review, delete or modify. Then a downpayment is in order to meet expenses the designer will incur before you receive the merchandise. Fabrics, for example, must be paid for before the workrooms process it into draperies, spreads or upholstry. Your are then billed as merchandise arrives.

Your designer should be guided by as much knowledge about you as possible- your tastes, customs, hobbies, interests and way of life-so your interior may be personalized and speak of you.

To "fool" your designer by pretending to wish to spend less than you can really afford is only cheating yourself. If your budget is really low, a lot can be done with tricks and camouflage with color for effect to achieve a very satisfactoy appearance. However, the difference between a $5,000 estimate and a $10,000 estimate most surely will lie in quality, and it is up to you to choose.

CANCER (6/22-7/23) You may be feeling moody and argumentative early in the week, private concerns escalate and mixing business with pleasure may be more profitable-shan you think. Mistakes delay returns

Many simple errors that can cause weeks of delay in the processing of federal income tax returns could be prevented if taxpayers would use the preprinted label and envelope that accompany the tax package, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

The peel-off label contains the taxpayer's name, address and social security number. It also has a series of numbers that are computer shorthand for the taxpayer's name, another series of symbols indicating the Postal Service local delivery route and the service center where the taxpayer filed the previous year. The two digit number indicates type of the tax package that was mailed to the taxpayer and a three-digit number allows the IRS to pre-sort and bundle the mail by destination for the U.S. Postal Service.

Many taxpayers are suspicious of these numbers on the label, mistakenly thinking that they are coding that will trigger an aduit. They have nothing to do with audits, the IRS said. The coding on the label is designed to speed processing at IRS service centers and prevent common errors that delay issuance of refund checks.

If the return has a label on it, service center personnel know that the taxpayer's name, address and social security number are already in the computer and they need make an abbreviated entry of just 13

keystrokes into the computer. However, if there is no label on the return, up to 97 keystrokes may be required to enter the taxpayer information from the name and address part of the return in the computer — a much greater expenditure of time and effort to accomplish the same result.

When you consider that IRS service centers process more than 170 million federal tax returns annually, more than 95 million of which are individual income tax returns all those additional keystrokes can really make a difference, the IRS said.

In addition to speeding up the processing of the return, the coded numbers on the label also prevent common errors that delay the issuance of refund checks.

One of the most troublesome errors, according to the IRS, is an incorrect social security number. Such an error can take weeks or even months to correct and is a major cause of delayed refund checks. Taxpayers should make sure that the social security number on the label is correct, and if not, mark through it and correct it on the label.
