DIP, DUNK AND DIVE!—At least that's what borough swimmers plan to do after the water's added. Contractors added the finishing touches of paint last week to the inside of this 12-foot diving tank, at the Mountainside Community Pool, which opens this Saturday for summer fun. Nestled off of Mountain Avenue adjacent to Echo Lake Park, the pool offers plenty of sun and swimming for members and their guests. ## County buys option for incinerator site

By PHILIP GIMSON
Union County Board of Freeholders Chairman G. Richard Malgran said Friday that several steps must still take place before the county can act on an option agreement to purchase 23 acres of land off Route 1 in Rahway targeted as the site for a $150 million resource recovery plant.

"First it will be necessary to conduct an environmental impact study," Malgran stated. "Then we have to get our financing in order before we can even proceed with purchasing the property."

Under the five-year option agreement, with Dorbett Inc., the county will spend some $76,000 in the first year for the right to purchase the property, which is currently priced at $1.5 million, Malgran said. With each succeeding year that the county waits to act on the agreement, Malgran said that the option price would increase 7.6 percent. At the end of five years, if the county has still not purchased the property, the option rights would cost some $400,000, the chairman stated.

The agreement was reached officially May 30 when the board authorized the purchase of an option on the site, where the county plans to construct the $150 million waste treatment facility. Current projections would call for the plant to burn some 1,200 tons of county garbage daily, producing steam to generate electricity.

For the past year, the board has devoted extensive discussion to the idea of implementing a resource recovery plant under pressure from the state Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) to develop a long-term solution to the county's garbage disposal crisis.

Since the court-ordered closure of the Industrial Land Reclaiming landfill in Edison April 1, the county has been trucking some of its waste to the Edgeboro Disposal Inc. landfill in East Brunswick under a controversial contingency plan developed by the DEP.

According to Ken Marsh, the head of the county's Environmental Planning Division, development of the resource recovery plant is not scheduled for completion until December 1989.

Marsh said that the county would have to select a "competitive bid" from among six separate proposals submitted by contractors for development of the plant. "Then from there, the design process would begin," Marsh said, explaining that it would probably take about one year to develop the specifications for constructing the plant.

While county officials said there is no way of knowing exactly when the county will act on the option to purchase the property in Rahway, Marsh said, "At least by signing this agreement, we tie up the site so that when it comes time to make the purchase we already have the option in hand."

The county's purchasing of rights to the property has the outspoken support of Rahway Mayor Daniel Martin, though some city residents have banded together in an organization called R.A.G.E., Rahway Against a Garbage Environment, to oppose development of the facility in their neighborhood.

Court reverses officer's fine

A Union County Superior Court judge Tuesday struck down the 1982 dismissal of Mountainside police officer Raymond Della Serra, but decided to impose a six-month suspension and $1,000 fine as more appropriate punishments.

Judge Milton A. Feller reversed the council's decision to dismiss Della Serra from the force in November 1982 following his conviction on 24 of 30 Police Department infractions in November 1982.

But the judge ordered that Della Serra immediately begin serving the six-month suspension and pay a $1,000 fine.

In his ruling, Feller threw out eight of those charges, allowing 16 of the infractions to stand.

Della Serra could not be reached for comment on the ruling, though according to a published report, the police sergeant said he was "pleased with the bottom line" of the ruling, but needs further time to review the decision with his attorney.

On Nov. 24, 1982, the council voted 5-0 to convict Della Serra of various offenses, including failure to back up another police officer, failing to respond properly to a police dispatcher and failing to file a required report.

The judge noted that in contrast to Della Serra's case, in other New Jersey court cases where police officers were dismissed from the force, the charges were much more serious. Feller noted examples where officers were dismissed on charges such as gross insubordination, assault and battery on a prisoner, bookmaking on horse tracks and leaving patrol to consort with prostitutes.

"It is the opinion of this court that in cases in which the police officers were dismissed, most of the offenses were more serious than those involved herein," the judge stated.

The judge also said that council had chosen to concentrate on the negative aspects of Della Serra's record without balancing the letters of commendation and appreciation he had received during his 20-plus years on the force.

Litigation in the patrolman's case has continued for more than two and a half years, during which time, numerous legal appeals have continually prevented the council from implementing its decision to dismiss Della Serra.

Court action in the case was initiated in 1981. Della Serra challenged the legality of the council's hearings, in which the vote to dismiss him was 3-2, and contended that one of the councilmen should not have been allowed to vote due to a conflict of interest. Feller ruled that the council violated the Open Public Meetings Act by going into closed session to deliberate Della Serra's fate, but the Appellate Division later reversed this decision, ruling that there was no violation of the Sunshine Law and denying the conflict of interest claim.

When asked for a comment on Tuesday's ruling, Borough Administrator Jim Roberts said the governing body would reserve comment until it has had a chance to read and discuss the judge's 27-page decision.

Artist's works peek through windows

Renowned Mountainside artist and architectural historian Harry Devlin is featuring his drawings during the Westfield series display of "Windows on Westfield," now through June 15.

Devlin, also a nationally recognized illustrator and writer, chose two central business district street scenes, the North Avenue Train Station and the Miller-Cory House, to comprise the series.

Commissioned by the Westfield Area Chamber of Commerce, the series started in 1981 and is now complete with four editions.

"The Westfield Series has attracted a loyal group of patrons," said Susan Jardine, executive director of the chamber. "Since Devlin's work is rarely sold in reproduction, the limited edition prints are a unique opportunity to own his work."

Jardine added the Westfield Series is representative of Devlin's interest in architectural subjects and that some of his architectural portraits were commissioned by corporate or state organizations to commemorate specific historic buildings.

Most of the paintings that compose a body of work numbering more than 100 major paintings are of buildings that caught Devlin's interest as examples of disappearing architectural forms.

"Devlin's realistic style faithfully reproduces every detail of the building's form while he adds a pervasive tone or mood that lifts the painting from the classification of illustration and defines its artistic quality," Jardine said.

Framed prints can be seen during the spring promotion in the windows of Milady's Shop on East Broad Street, Rorden Realty on Elm Street and in Jane Smith's display windows near the parking lot entrance.

Devlin has used his architectural paintings to illustrate two books which he wrote on architecture — "To Grandfather's House We Go," and "What Kind of House is That?" The books are the basis of a four-part documentary, rerun periodically on public television. He is currently concentrating on a major book, 15 years in the making, entitled "Portraits of American Architecture," to be published by the end of the year by the firm of David Godine of Boston.

Jardine said the black and white drawings which depict familiar Westfield scenes are available as signed and numbered limited editions ready for framing.

Prints are on sale at Jeannette's Gift Shop, 277 E. Broad St., Juxtapose Gallery at 58 Elm St., or the chamber office at 225 E. Broad St.

A brochure illustrating "The Westfield Series" is available at the three "Windows on Westfield" locations, and at the chamber office. Anyone seeking further information about the series may contact Jardine, Westfield Area Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 81, 07091.

Young poet envisions life limited, free

By SHAWN EVANS

In one of her poems, Stephanie Levine of Mountainside wrote: "Maybe my life is only an ephemeral beam of brightness, briefly severing barren blackness before and after..."

Levine, the 17-year-old daughter of Arthur and Carol Levine of 1253 Deerfield Court, has been named as a Governor's Scholar by officials at Newark Academy, Livingston, for her skills in creative arts and writing.

While the talented Levine may turn to her pad and pencil during times of uncertainty, her words obviously touched the judges who selected her as one of only 13 students throughout New Jersey to hold such an honor.

Levine, the first Newark Academy student named as a Governor's Scholar in the creative arts, will attend the Governor's School at Trenton State College for four weeks this summer.

Timothy Palmieri, a student at Mountainside's Vail-Deane School and two other Newark Academy students from other areas were chosen as Governor's Scholars in Science to attend the Governor's School of the Sciences at Drew University this summer.

Levine said she has always enjoyed writing and was influenced early on in the fourth grade.

"I actually became interested then because my fourth grade teacher emphasized creative types of things and I really liked it — in fact, that was the first thing I really liked in school and I became more and more interested," she said.

She said her parents also encouraged her and believed in her work.

Levine explained that after submitting five of her works, which included short stories and poems for the preliminary judging, she was rather confident until she realized how much competition there was.

"At first, I was confident and then I got there (to meet the judging panel) and I saw that there were so many other people there. I never knew there were so many people interested in writing; then, I went home and became kind of depressed," she said.

But the depression didn't last very long, because she was soon notified that she was chosen as one of the finalists.

"I was so happy when I learned they had chosen me! I was very excited," she said.

A member of the editorial board of the "Minuteman," the student newspaper, Levine said her future will definitely include writing, although she is not yet sure which avenue she will travel.

She has already had some of her works published in "Prisms," the school's literary magazine.

"I like to write about things that bother me, depending on what kind of mood I'm in. And I also like to influence people through my writing," she said.

Continuing, she said, "I would like to someday do something with my writing. My dream or high goal is to write a novel — something to blow people's minds and have them step back and look at the world."

The concluding lines in the young writer's poem entitled, "Maybe," reads:

"Maybe my consciousness will somehow transcend this clumsy, cumbersome body and become united with pure, peaceful perfection, as I've always wanted to be — weightless, pressureless, limitless and free."

If Levine continues in the talented manner that she has traveled thus far, that, she will be.

'Historical move' near

The Mountainside Borough Council is expected to meet tonight with contractors from the firm of R. Welsh & Son of Florham Park to iron out the final details of a "historical move."

Welsh was awarded the contract to move the 230-year-old Deacon Andrew Helfield House, commonly dubbed the "Dutch Oven," from its present location at 1260 Route 22 West.

If all goes as scheduled, the house will be moved on Saturday morning, June 29, to a new location adjacent to the Mountainside Public Library, officials said.

The house, once owned by the deacon of the First Presbyterian Church in Westfield during the late 1700s, received a considerable amount of attention over the past several months as members of the Mountainside Historic Preservation Committee tried desperately to preserve the house from being razed.

The clapboard, two-and-a-half story house, constructed in 1755, was purchased last June by Walter Kuczynski, an inventor who intends to use the property for a new structure to manufacture his product, committee members said.

Committee members said Kuczynski has been "more than decent" to have waited this long for the move.

Robert Gunter, a historic preservation consultant with Acroterion in Morristown said because of the historical value of the home, it was his opinion that the house should definitely be saved.

In an earlier letter sent to Borough Administrator Jim Roberts, Gunter said, "On the basis of my site inspection of the Deacon Helfield House, I can report with considerable enthusiasm that this is a building worth saving. My evaluation is based not on personal opinion, but on the application of a number of standard criteria used in assessing historic buildings."

Fern Hyde, president of the local historic committee, emphasized how few historical buildings are left in the borough worth preserving, hence the importance of saving this "landmark house."

"There are so few truly old houses in Mountainside that we would like to place the Dutch Oven on another site. We see the house's rehabilitation in part as a positive activity for various groups who seek worthwhile projects," she said.

Shapiro gains victory in governor's primary

Essex County Executive Peter Shapiro won the Democratic nomination for governor Tuesday. He will face Republican Gov. Thomas Kean, who is seeking re-election, in November.

With 5,742 out of 5,761 state election districts reporting, Shapiro garnered 100,676 votes; State Sen. John Russo received 86,025; Newark Mayor Kenneth Gibson, 85,740 votes; former State Sen. Steven Wiley, 27,908 votes; Robert Del Tufo, 19,667 votes; and Elliot Greenspan, 5,644 votes.

Shapiro garnered 31 percent of the vote total, Russo and Gibson shared 26 percent, Wiley received 9 percent, Del Tufo took 6 percent and Greenspan, 2 percent.

In Union County, according to unofficial results from the county clerk's office, Shapiro received 7,619 votes; Russo, 5,727 votes; Gibson, 6,471; Wiley, 1,485 votes; Del Tufo, 985 votes; and Greenspan, 151 votes.

Of the six Democratic candidates, Shapiro and Wiley individually spent about $700,000 on television advertising, the most out of all the candidates.

Shapiro, 33, has been serving as chief executive of Essex County since 1978, a new position created by a citizen-initiated charter change.

In Mountainside, Kean drew 184 votes in the Republican-dominated borough. Shapiro raced ahead of the other Democratic candidates in the borough with 58 votes. State Sen. John Russo from Ocean County followed Shapiro with 35 votes while Newark Mayor Kenneth Gibson captured eight votes.

Voter turnout in Mountainside was poor with 242 people voting out of 4,591 registered.

Borough Council incumbents Marilyn Hart and Robert Wyckoff received 174 and 175 votes respectively in uncontested bids for the Republican nomination for two seats on council.

Former schools' woes mount

By KENNETH SCHANKLER
Workers for Springfield Township and the Board of Education are doing their best to keep pace with necessary maintenance work at two former school buildings in the township.

At the former Chisholm and Walton schools, lawns have gone unmowed for longer than usual and broken windows have been boarded up and not replaced.

At the Walton School, according to Springfield Board of Education Secretary Leonard DiGiovanni, work has been performed by school board maintenance workers, who are dividing their time between groundskeeping and driving school buses, while the regular groundskeeper has been performing inside maintenance work at the Caldwell School.

"That building was closed all last year and we had a full-time groundskeeper who could take care of it," DiGiovanni said.

In addition, a lawn mower used at the school broke down and was only recently replaced by a new one, said Ned Sambur, head of the school board's Buildings and Grounds Committee.

Further complicating matters, Sambur said, are two pending lawsuits involving Frank Racioppi, a local developer who wants to use the property for a subdivision, and a local resident who is trying to stop the subdivision from being built.

The resident, Dr. Barry Maltzman, is suing Racioppi's firm, Greensprings Estates, Inc., and the Planning Board. Racioppi is suing the school board.

The case between Racioppi and the school board is scheduled to go to trial July 10, according to Board Attorney Yale Greenspoon.

"I think the question is whether it's economically sensible to spend any money," Greenspoon said, adding that the money would be wasted if the board lost its case and the property was turned over to Racioppi.

"It makes no sense in my mind," said Sambur, "that we can put any money into that building until we get the judge's decision."

Greenspoon said he was hopeful the case will be settled by the end of the summer.

DiGiovanni, meanwhile, said he had received a call from a local PTA member Monday complimenting him on the school's appearance.

At the Chisholm School, which the local Recreation Department will soon be using for a teen center, the situation is much less complex, according to township engineer and director of public works Walter Kozub.

The lawns are mowed once a week, Kozub said, but the "couple" of broken windows will remain boarded up.

"Kids have broken the windows by throwing rocks," Kozub said, "so I boarded them up."

Kozub said that if he were to replace the windows, they might get broken again.

"What we're trying to do is keep the grounds clean," Kozub said, noting that he can't keep them as nice as the area surrounding the local municipal complex, but is doing his best under the circumstances.

Roof repairs OK'd by town

Repairs to the roof of the former Raymond Chisholm school building in Springfield will be completed within the next two to three weeks, enabling the township to meet its projected late June opening date for the teen center that will operate in the building.

The Township Committee, in a special session Monday morning, voted to accept a $38,000 bid from Raming Roofing of Wayne for completion of the work.

Mayor Edward Fanning said that once the roof is repaired, the refurbishing of building's gym floor can begin. The gym is expected to be used by the Recreation Department for basketball, volleyball and other indoor sports, according to plans recently outlined by Recreation Director Joseph Rapuano.

The Recreation Department is in the process of hiring a director and an assistant director for the center.

Rapuano said he had "one very good prospect, one of the teachers in town, but there's nothing definite at this point."

Town pool to open June 15

One of the sure signs of summer — the opening of the Springfield Municipal pool — is drawing closer.

The Springfield Recreation Department has announced that the pool will open for the weekend only June 15 to 16 at 11 a.m. The pool begins its daily schedule June 22 and will remain open until Labor Day.

Pool badges will be available at the Sarah Bailey Civic Center, Church Mall, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., beginning Monday through June 14.

The department has also announced its plans for a beginning gymnastics class for children in

Schools holding pupil art shows next week

Art works and class projects prepared by Springfield elementary school pupils will be on view next week at the Sandmeier and Caldwell schools.

Projects from classroom work and integrated art will be exhibited at the Sandmeier School gym Tuesday from 1 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

The Caldwell Art Show will be held in the school gym during the same hours June 13.

Of the talent to be displayed, art teacher Marilyn Schneider said, "Parents plant the seeds, teachers nurture the saplings, and I get to pick the blossoms."

Among the art on view will be the semifinalists in Channel 13's 1985 Student Art Festival.

Freeholders adopt 1985 county tab

The Union County Board of Freeholders voted to adopt its controversial 1985 budget of $122.5 million May 30, instituting a cumulative 10.6 percent tax increase.

The new budget of $122,532,899 calls for $85.1 million to be raised from taxes, boosting the county tax rate from 53.3 cents to 54.25 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. The impact of the increase will vary for each community depending on the percentage of total assessed valuation used by each municipality to calculate the local tax rate.

This year's budget previously sparked considerable criticism from mayors throughout the county, who challenged the need to appropriate an additional $2.5 million added to County Manager Louis Coletti's initial budget of $120 million.

But the freeholders cited the inflating costs of running Union County College, unforeseen increases in county contracts, escalating insurance costs and continued delays in the planned sale of the Runnels Hospital tract in Berkeley Heights as contributing factors to the expanded budget.

Republican Freeholder Brian Fahey was the only member of the board to oppose the budget, arguing that, "The budget is too high and the changes in philosophy are too dramatic. There's no doubt in my mind that the purpose of this budget is to hamstring the administration."

One other dramatic change contained in the new budget is the listing of county jobs as individual line item appropriations, a provision which the freeholders have claimed will enable them to streamline county government by being better able to monitor jobs within each department. Previously, the freeholders claimed there was no way of determining the exact total of employees working for the county, since there was no listing made of individual county job titles.

Daffner among fellows

Claire Daffner, director of occupational therapy at Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountainside, has been elected to the Roster of Fellows of the American Occupational Therapy Association. According to the AOTO announcement, Daffner is one of only 300 therapists of the 28,000 practitioners in the United States who have been accorded the honor. Nine of the 1,100 occupational therapists in New Jersey are fellows. The award, announced at the association's annual conference held in Atlanta, Ga., was granted to Daffner "in recognition of having skill and knowledge which has resulted in the growth and improvement of the profession" and specifically for her "outstanding contribution to education and developmental disabilities practice." Daffner, a resident of Manalapan, holds a BA in Psychology from Queens College. She completed graduate training in occupational therapy at Columbia University and also earned a Master of Arts in Motor Learning from the same school while working fulltime at the hospital. He has been affiliated with the hospital since 1972.

Dayton High band takes first

The Jonathan Dayton Marching Band has again returned as champions from a national competition.

The band competed at the Daytona Beach (Florida) Music Festival, May 2 to 4, and took first place in the small band category for both field show and parade. In addition, the Dayton rifle line placed first overall and senior Kim Fisher was named best drum major/ette in field show regardless of band size. The Jersey Devils, Dayton's indoor color guard, received a rating of "superior" in guard competition.

Following the competition, band members enjoyed a day at Walt Disney World/Epcott Center before returning home. Funds to finance the trip were raised by band members and parents through candy sales, a home competition, a journal, music marathon and fashion show.

The Jonathan Dayton Band Parents Organization would like to thank the individuals and businesses in the Springfield/Mountainside area who have generously supported the band this year.

Once out, it's out

Not all subjects on the meeting agenda of a public body — such as the Board of Education — are open to public inspection, including pending litigation and personnel matters. The rationale, of course, is that matters of personnel should remain private because they are of a personal nature.

Even public figures, such as a superintendent of schools, have a right to their privacy, especially when it pertains to such sensitive issues as salary, or dissension among employees.

In regards to the letter of resignation recently submitted by its superintendent, we believe the Mountainside Board of Education was secretive without reason and may have caused more harm than good.

For more than two weeks, talk about the resignation circulated and became common knowledge among board members, school officials and teachers.

Yet most were tight-lipped and not willing to clarify the matter even after the cat was already out of the bag. When a subject is no longer private — as in this case — and a considerable amount of time elapses before the public is adequately informed, then it is the responsibility of public officials to openly and honestly communicate with the public through the media if for no other reason than to avoid the potential for inaccurate statements.

After all, what's the big deal? The superintendent produced a note of resignation to work in another district. The press has the obligation to inform the public, especially its local readers, of issues that are pertinent to them and their interests, such as the status of the individual charged with administrating the local school district.

The Mountainside Echo strives to provide adequate and accurate information and at times, has even refused to run a story because news tips received did not prove to have enough validity.

It is extremely difficult, if not frustrating to say the least, when an issue that should be made public is kept under wraps, or written without the knowledge or support of those involved because of lack of cooperation.

The press has been used as a scapegoat far too long. It is the responsibility of public officials involved in issues that may even be controversial to work with us to provide our readers unbiased, well-balanced information.

The Mountainside Echo will continue to use its best judgement in an effort to inform its public, and we concede that there are many issues that should remain behind closed doors for one reason or another, but once the door is cracked and the news leaks out, it's time to set the record straight.

Support for students noted

As a community coordinator for the Washington-based Close Up Foundation, I recently had the opportunity to work with approximately 300 high school students from across New Jersey who traveled to capital city to participate in the Close Up Foundation government studies program.

Over the past several weeks, New Jersey students participated in series of week-long seminars on the issue and processes of the federal government as they questioned members of Congress, political experts, lobbyists, journalists, and policy-makers. The students behaved maturely and responsibly and were always prepared to ask intelligent and pertinent questions of the speakers.

The students were not selected based on academic achievements nor on extracurricular involvement or on ability to pay; the program was open to anyone. Because of the diversity of students, they shared their viewpoints on the issues facing the nation.

Through the efforts of the schools, teachers, parents and the entire community, the students had the opportunity to travel to Washington. For many of the students and the teachers, the program would not be possible without fellowships provided each participating school which are supported by Sea-Land Corporation and R.J. Reynolds Industries, Inc. Sea-Land's support of the foundation exhibits its outstanding commitment to citizenship education programs throughout the nation. In addition, many businesses and organizations in your area helped sponsor individual students.

I want to applaud everyone whose combined efforts make the program a successful one for the students.

Week-long winter recess supported

An open letter to school communities of Mountainside, Springfield and Kenilworth:

Have you heard that you lost your traditional week's mid-winter vacation for the 1985-86 Regional High School year? Are you aware that the Regional Board of Education justifies discontinuing it with the statement that the local communities asked to eliminate it?

When this move was made by the regional board in December and gone along with by the Mountainside board the following month, a sizeable portion of the Mountainside school community was disappointed and disturbed.

To find out how the bulk of Mountainside parents felt, our PTA conducted a survey, which verified that our school community does indeed prefer the full week. The Gaudineer School PTA in Springfield also took a poll and found the same decided preference for the full week. The results of the poll at Jonathan Dayton were even more overwhelmingly in favor of the full week versus the two days.

Reform: Taxing fringes is no solution

By CY BRICKFIELD

Until the current debate over reforming the tax system is decided one way or another, most of us are going to be holding our breaths, so to speak, and keeping a watchful eye on our purses for fear that our various personal pet oxen might get gored in the process.

While the present pressure to make taxation fairer is, of course, commendable, there is justifiable concern in many quarters that new problems might be inadvertently created in the process. For instance, one such area of proposed change and resultant alarm is the possible taxation of certain employer-paid fringe benefits.

The fact that taxation of fringes is even being talked about may surprise many people who have come to take such benefits almost for granted, regarding them as an integral part of the compensation package. And there is no question they affect a lot of people. In 1979, no fewer than 74 percent of the total workforce was covered by an employer group health insurance plan. The coverage rate is even higher for employees age 50 through 64.

Moreover, employee benefits are widely distributed among workers and their families at all income levels, points out the Employee Benefit Research Institute, an industry-supported research group in Washington. In fact, most workers who participate in employer pension and health insurance plans are low- or middle-income workers. In 1979, for example, 80 percent of all employees covered by an employer group health plan earned less than $20,000 a year.

Nevertheless, proposals to tax at least some employer-paid benefits are picking up steam. The idea is increasingly championed in Congress among key lawmakers of both parties.

The leading proposal has been put forward by the Treasury Department, which has targeted 20 different employer-provider fringes for some degree of taxation. Under this plan, the amount of tax-exempt health insurance would be capped; workers would be required to pay Social Security and income tax on any employer-paid health premiums above $175 a month for a family, above $70 for a single person. Among other proposed changes, life insurance would lose favorable tax treatment, and educational aid, group legal services, employee awards, and van pooling would become fully taxable.

Treasury officials justify such taxation on many different grounds. One is that untaxed fringe benefits have been growing at a faster pace than taxable wages, thereby diminishing the tax base and causing federal income and Social Security tax rates to be higher than they would otherwise. Another is that employer-paid group health insurance helps push up health care costs by encouraging overutilization of facilities. Finally, administration analysts contend that many so-called fringes are unfair in that they discriminate against the self-employed and those not covered by generous benefit plans — individuals who, then, must buy their own coverage.

Mountainside parents spoke up and went to our local board of education with objective statistics indicating strong preference for the full week. Our local board responded to the community preference and has restored the full week mid-winter vacation for 1985-86.

The regional board of education says it is the local school communities that want just the two days. Our polls in two of the six constituent towns say just the opposite.

How does your school community feel? If you do not find out, let your local board of education and the regional board know, you may never see that full week again.

And to the Mountainside Board of Education members, all those Mountainside parents who worked for restoration of the mid-winter week to the 1985-86 school calendar would like to express formally and publicly their appreciation of the way in which you handled our recent request.

Naturally, we are pleased with the outcome. However, more basic and far-reaching than that, we are pleased with the professional and open-minded posture of the board during the proceedings. You have impressed numerous people in the community with the way in which you acknowledged the community input we provided and the way in which you responded to it — with deliberate and an obvious, most commendable willingness to listen.

Promoting such good will, in an area where the board could be flexible and chose to be, certainly enhances its stature in the eyes of the school community.

It is bound to engender an increased tendency on the part of its constituents to see the board's viewpoint in other matters less open to flexibility, as it has strived in this matter to see ours.

DMV clarifies surcharge reports

Because of recent erroneous reports concerning insurance surcharges that have appeared in many newspapers around the state, I felt it was unnecessary to write this letter.

The Division of Motor Vehicles does not levy an insurance surcharge on anyone for simply forgetting to carry a driver license or insurance identification card. The division has never proposed, nor even considered that failure to carry these identifications should be the subject of a surcharge. Such a surcharge would be ludicrous and would not conform with the content of the Insurance Reform Act.

The surcharges are, however, levied on motorists who drive without insurance coverage, without a valid license or while suspended and not allowed to legally drive.

Simply forgetting an insurance I.D. card is not driving while uninsured. Driving while uninsured means you don't have any coverage with any insurance never had one in this state or any other state. Driving while suspended means your valid license has been taken away by the court or division for other traffic violations and that you are continuing to drive illegally.

These are serious violations of the laws that govern automobile ownership and operation in this state.

The surcharges for driving without insurance or while suspended are $250 a year for three years. Operating a motor vehicle without ownership of a valid license is $100 a year for three years.

Thank you for allowing me the opportunity to clarify the matter.

H. ARTHUR SMITH, III
Public Information Officer
Division of Motor Vehicles

Although it is true that steps should be taken to raise revenues by broadening a tax base shrunk by too many loopholes, we should also be mindful of the "fairness" problem. Some benefit plans seem to confer a disproportionate amount of benefits for workers on higher-income employees; still others are no more than tax shelters.

Such abuses exist and should be eliminated. Yet, I am concerned that some proposals, if not properly balanced, may go too far. Sweeping changes aimed only at revenue-raising may ignore important social goals. If enacted, they may undermine an important aspect of income security provided by the private sector.

For example, while the tax-free status of employer-paid health benefits may to some extent contribute to overutilization of health services, a flat cap on tax-free benefits isn't the best way to correct the problem. Such an approach fails to recognize the complexity of incentives in the health care sector. If costs aren't controlled and if this tax cap doesn't keep pace with rising premiums, benefits for workers and their dependents will be eroded.

Some workers would be hurt more than others; among them: older workers, employees with chronic health problems, and those who work at relatively hazardous jobs. One big reason they could be harmed is that low-risk and/or younger employees would be more likely to opt out of comprehensive coverage if it were no longer fully tax-exempt. And as these low-cost employees drop out, the average cost of medical insurance would rise for those high-risk employees remaining behind in the original benefit plan.

Quite likely, merely capping tax-exempt benefits would lead to reduced levels of coverage with the ensuing hardship being borne primarily by older workers and high-risk employees.

Such a possibility should spur lawmakers to place the fringe-benefits issue in a larger context. Rather than just as a way to reduce the deficit, plans to tax fringes should also be examined in terms of their impact on families and the economic needs of individuals — areas well served by fringe benefits in the past. As a long-established system that has worked well, fringe benefits shouldn't be lightly tampered with.

Begin was Israel's fighting leader

BY ROSE P. SIMON
The following book is currently available at the Springfield Public Library.

THE FIGHTING PRIME MINISTER

"Begin," by Eric Silver.
A Jerusalem correspondent for the Guardian and the Observer (1972-1978) was able to amass information about his subject from his own observations and many oral and written sources. Silver is often critical but factual as he comments on Menachem Begin's turbulent, dedicated life.

Begin was born in Brest-Litovsk, Russia, in 1913 into a strongly Zionist family. At 15, he joined a Zionist group led by Vladimir Jabotinsky, whose Revisionist policy Begin embraced. His goal was the establishment of a Jewish State, a course from which he never deviated. For several years his life was a nightmare. After his marriage, he was attacked by the NKVD, was incarcerated then sent to the Gulag work camp. Later he was inducted into the Polish Army, sent to the Mideast, eventually rejoining his wife in Jerusalem. His parents and brother had died in concentration camps.

In Palestine, Begin plunged into politics, became commander of the Iragun Underground, a refugee from official Zionism. The author describes the terror of this period, when Britain, the Arabs and the Zionists were working at cross-purposes. He recounts Begin's activities, the hostility between him and Ben-Gurion, his slow rise to power, the Suez War, the Yom Kippur war, and the growth of the Likud Party, supported by Begin and Sharon.

As prime minister, Begin served for six years and three months, working doggedly to prevent the redivision of Jerusalem, the establishment of a Palestinian State, and the return to pre-1967 borders. He participated in the Camp David Summit, the ensuing peace treaty, the withdrawal from the Sinai, the decision to destroy the PLO camps, and the troubles in Lebanon. There are accounts of Begin's illnesses, his deterioration, and his withdrawal from the political scene.

Hospital schedules health courses

Classes in cardiopulmonary resuscitation and Caesarean births are among the courses being offered this month at Overlook Hospital, Summit.

A four-part CPR course begins Wednesday, from 7 to 10:30 p.m. in the hospital auditorium. The course includes individual practice on electronic mannequins and focuses on the risk factors leading to heart disease, early warning signs of heart disease and heart attacks and the common causes of sudden death related to heart disease.

The course, open to those over 14, is limited to 25 persons. The registration fee is $8.

A second CPR course, also open to participants over age 14, will be held Tuesday and June 13, 18 and 20 from 7 to 10:30 p.m.

Subjects to be covered include one- and two-man CPR, infant and child CPR and obstructed airway techniques for both adults and children. Students successfully completing the course will receive an American Heart Association certification card.

The fee for the course is $25 for the public, $10 for members of a rescue squad, police or fire department. Class size is limited to 25 persons.

The Caesarean course, taught by one of Overlook's Labor and Delivery nurses, will take place June 18. It will cover the reasons for Caesarean delivery, the pre- and post-operative procedures involved and the recovery period. A slide presentation of a Caesarean delivery will also be given.

There is a $15 fee. Further information on these and other courses offered at the hospital is available from the Department of Health Education, 522-2963.

Rizzo chosen All-American Scholar

The National Secondary Education Council recently announced that Cecilia Rizzo of Kenilworth has been named an Academic All-American.

Rizzo attends David Brearley Regional High School. She will appear in the Academic All-American Scholar Director, which is published nationally.

The NSEC established the Academic All-American Scholar Award Program in order to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in academic disciplines.

Academic All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 or better grade point average. Only scholars selected by a secondary school instructor, counselor or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the NSEC.

The council selects Academic All-American Scholars upon the exclusive recommendations of teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in American history. Certainly, winners of the Academic All-American Awards should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, executive director of the National Secondary Education Council.

Pair face theft charges

Two suspects face charges in Newark and Summit as a result of their arrests May 25 by Springfield police.

Police said the two, Darryl Clay Davis, 19, of East Orange, and Xavier Christian, 20, of Newark, were stopped while riding bicycles near the intersection of Baltusrol and Morris avenues by Patrolman John D'Andrea.

The suspects, police said, told D'Andrea that they were from Newark and their car had run out of gas. Noticing that both bicycles had Summit identification plates, D'Andrea ran a check on them and discovered they had been reported stolen in Summit.

During the subsequent investigation by Detective Robert Mason, the car the suspects were using was located on Route 24 and found to have been stolen at gunpoint in Newark.

Further investigation turned up a starter's pistol near where the car was found on Route 24. The gun is believed to have been used during the Newark car theft, police said.

Davis and Christian were arrested and turned over to Summit police, who filed charges of burglary, theft and possession of stolen property, police said.

Both are expected to be charged in Newark for the car theft, police said.

The suspects remain in Union County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bail pending further court proceedings.

Voluntary water curbs listed

Elizabethtown Water Company has responded to Gov. Tom Kean's call for the prudent use of water throughout New Jersey. Chester Ring, 3rd, executive vice president, asked the company's customers in the six counties it serves to join in a voluntary odd-even system of water use for lawn and garden care and in a series of other voluntary measures to ensure that adequate amounts of water will be available to its customers and to the parched northern areas of the state as well.

Ring said that Elizabethtown's sources of supply are more than capable of meeting needs in the towns it serves. "But now," he explained, "the company is being asked to supply substantial amounts of water to northern New Jersey. Demand rises dramatically during the traditional evening period of lawn and garden watering. The company's ability to service both its own and other areas may be impaired unless our customers help. Without voluntary conservation, such as odd-even sprinkling, the state Department of Environmental Protection may have to mandate restrictions.

Under the voluntary system, homeowners with odd street numbers may, if they wish, water lawns and gardens on odd days of the month, and those with even street numbers on even days of the month.

"It should be stressed," said Ring, "that this means customers may sprinkle on those days, not that they should sprinkle."

Ring also asked Elizabethtown customers to check all plumbing fixtures for leaks and to have these repaired as quickly as possible. He advised homeowners to water lawns in the early morning, when the sun's rays are least likely to cause evaporation. Lawn sprinklers, he added, should be carefully placed so as not to waste water on driveways, sidewalks and streets.

"If we work together," said Ring, "we should be able to get through a difficult period without any real restrictions on water use."

WEIGH-IN—Union County Police Officers Jeffrey Foulks, left, David Jackson, bending, and Lester Swick, prepare to weigh a truck as the county initiates a new program to cut down on overweight violations on county roads and bridges. Any fines collected will go towards repairs, reconstruction and maintenance of county roads and bridges.

Division offers car safety tips

The Union County Division of Consumer Affairs issues a warning of an anticipated increase in traffic fatalities during the remainder of the spring and summer months.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) reports a traditional upswing in deaths on the road during the April to September period. Ellen Bloom of Springfield, director of Union County Division of Consumer Affairs, suggests drivers follow these traffic suggestions for safe driving:

Safety Belts—Wear your safety belts at all times, since they are your best protection in the event of a crash. Safety belts can make the difference between life and death. Lap and shoulder belts are 40 to 50 percent effective in reducing fatalities and full use of safety belts can save an estimated 10,000 lives a year. Full proper use of child safety seats can save 260 to 440 lives.

Right on Red—The opportunity to save time and gas by safely turning right on red must be used wisely. This does not mean drivers should alternately feed into oncoming traffic, but must first come to a full stop—and only if no traffic is approaching may a right turn be made. Remember, pedestrians always have the right of way.

Alcohol—Don't drive if you have been drinking. Alcohol slows reaction time and is a factor in half of the nation's traffic fatalities. In 1984, alcohol was involved in 23,500 deaths on the highway.

Car Care—Keep your car in safe driving condition. Inspect wiper blades and light lenses, replacing worn or broken parts. All fluid levels should be checked regularly and "topped off" or replaced as necessary. Replace any worn fan belts, and leaking or deteriorating radiator hoses and exhaust system components. Keep your windshield clean.

Tires—Keep your tires properly inflated and rotate them periodically to prevent premature wear. Replace worn tires. A front-end alignment may be advisable for improved road handling and tire wear, particularly in parts of the county where potholes and other winter road hazards may have caused misalignment. Air pressure should be checked at least every two weeks. When replacing tires, do not mix radials with other tire types, and check your spare frequently.

Brakes—Have your brakes in good working order. There are certain signs that tell you when the brakes are not performing the way they should. Have your car checked if you have to push harder on the brake pedal to stop the car, if the pedal moves closer to the floorboard than usual, if you car pulls to the right or left when you apply the brakes, or if the brakes make unusual or loud noises when you stop. If your wheels seem to grab when you apply the brakes, it may mean your brake linings are worn out. All these conditions can cause accidents.

Parking Drivers often leave their vehicles unattended with the engine running to let them warm up, when cleaning the windshield, opening a garage door, or running a quick errand. Cars equipped with automatic transmissions can slip into reverse gear after the driver believed he or she has placed the vehicle in the "park" position. To prevent such an occurrence, these three simple actions are necessary every time you leave your vehicle, no matter how short a period of time. Put the gear shift lever securely into "park," turn off the engine and apply the emergency brake.

NHTSA's toll free Auto Safety Hotline can provide free information on safety belts and child safety seats, how you can help fight drunk driving, travel and camper trailer safety, and other safety literature. To obtain this information, call 1-800-424-9393.

Amber every homeowner who has a residence of more than 1 year in their home. If you've owned your home for a few years, chances are you have quite a bit of cash equity that can easily be converted to you.

College tuition, payments toward improvement projects, vacations, loan or debt crises, etc. All of these things come up at some time in everyone's life. Now Queen City Savings offers homeowners the opportunity to tap this existing credit line for the really important expenses or any worthwhile purpose.

As a homeowner you can obtain a line of credit as high as $100,000 (depending upon the value of your home, present mortgage, income, etc.). And you can use all or part of it—as you want, when you want.

Here's a simple formula to show you approximately how much credit you can qualify for:

CALCULATE YOUR OWN CREDIT LINE

Present market value of your home	$ _____
80% (Percentage of loan to value)	$ _____
Less first mortgage balance	$ _____
Your Potential credit line	$ _____

You apply for BEELINE EQUITY RESERVE just like you would any other loan. And for a limited time, only we are waiving our modest one-time set-up fee! Upon approval of your credit, you'll receive a set of 20 checks (different from your regular checks). You will also receive a separate, detailed monthly statement (much like a credit card statement) showing the amount of credit available, current interest rate, payments applied and current balance. And remember, you only pay for what you use ($1,000 minimum draw). See how much money you can get from home!

INSIDE Fashion

Men's fashions 'adventurous'

The spring 1985 Lee Wright Collection brings freedom of choice and freedom of movement to a new generation of men.

"This spring men are more adventurous. They are feeling more secure about moving into new fashion silhouettes and they're willing to try new colors," says Wright.

Wright's largest designs, exclusively for JC Penny, project today's casual and confident fashion stance.

Roomier, pleated-front trousers are cut fuller in the leg and thigh. Generous sweaters in soft cotton knits play up the chest and shoulders with linear graphics. Big woven shirts in airy stripes look cool for warm weather.

The feeling of fullness throughout Wright's new collection takes a cue from the 1940's, but it's modified for the modern man: "These are not crazy clothes," says the designer. "they are simple and masculine."

Sportswear styling is clearer and sharper within Lee Wright's definition of classic American style. His tailored clothing is freer and more relaxed. In both dress clothes and weekend wear, it's color and fabric that best convey Wright's special fashion viewpoint.

This season he has elected to use lighter weight fabrics and to emphasize natural fibers within his collection.

Wright especially likes the look of sheer Italian wovens in his new spring shirts. Multi-colored flecks brighten subtly textured silks. They add finesse to suits and sportcoats—and to the men who wear them. Sturdy lived-in cottons work for Wright's casual pants, and for his new longer shorts for summer.

The designer is using fewer colors this season, but ones that work together well. He likes warm shades such as Persian green, violet, green, cinnamon and raspberry, and offsets them with fresh white or natural beige for an effect he calls "clean and graphic."

Tonal mixtures are another pivotal part of his spring collection. Wright combines blue with grey or violet, blue with green, khaki with green or light hues with darker hues.

When mixing colors Wright plays with texture too: slubbed silks are paired with sunny cottons, knit tops are worn over wrinkled-look trousers.

Lee Wright's fashions are innovative, yet straightforward. His collection is for the man who always states, but never shouts about—his individuality.

Softer fashion look for spring, summer

Spring and summer '85 are bringing a refreshingly softer attitude in fashion. Hardlined shapes and structured silhouettes are giving way to rounded-off contours and the simplest, most uncluttered styles.

While the influences of manstyling are still evident, this season introduces a much more feminine, a more romantic, definitely more wearable approach to this trend. Fine, sartorial details are as essential as ever, but now look for "prettier" expressions of those borrowed-from-the-boys looks.

How it shows up:
• In color...from pure pastels-soft pink and pearl gray are real winners—to vivid brights like royal blue and clear aqua.

• Silhouettes are relaxed, unconstructed. Watch for anything that resembles a shirt: shirtdresses, shirt jackets. Blouses make for an important finish. Trousers are wider, slouchy.

• Texture is the pivotal message. Knits are cablestitched, patterned, chunky. Fabrics have a nubby or open weave. Woven linen mixes with knit, and stripes combine with plaids to create visual interest.

• Fabrics have body. Linen is as important for warm-weather comfort as for how it shows the form underneath. Cotton is ever-present. And, of course, those luxurious, slip-on knits are a must in every wardrobe now.

• Accessories are definitely simple — A flirty hat or pretty pair of earrings may do the trick. This is ready-set-go fashion.

MAILLOTS like this one by La Blanca are sure to catch his eye this summer. Available at Stan Sommer in Union Center.

FREE FLOWING NEON cuts from the HairAmerica fashion group of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association move hair onto the forehead for the spring and summer.

Hair 'stands up' to new cuts

Multi-length haircutting is the key ingredient in energized Neon Cuts designed for spring-summer by HairAmerica, the fashion group of National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.

Plugging into a new generation of hair designing, Neon Cuts makes use of unique cutting techniques that create non-blended cuts with a multitude of hair lengths throughout the entire head.

"Such techniques as chip-cutting and spike-cutting make the hair stand-up in new energy-filled directions, especially when styled with the latest mousses, gels or fixatives," says Jack Duckworth, HairAmerica chairman.

Duckworth describes Neon Cuts as short, feminine and pretty. "They are designed to be personalized for almost any face shape or age group," he said.

"Neon Cuts are named for the new music-oriented generation, which is attracted to shocking colors, glitter and pizzazz."

"The whole idea is to draw attention to oneself to show individuality and to make one's own statement," Duckworth added.

"Cookie Cutter hair styles have been shoved out the window together with carbon copy designer label looks."

Neon-Bright colors have hit the fashion scene for spring and summer, and Neon Cuts, with extra perm-controlled length at the front of the head, interpret the new, electric look of the 80s.

Extra body and control are given to Neon Cuts through random perming, to achieve curl patterns in selected areas of the head, and root perming to create expansions within the hair design.

Coloring for Neon Cuts concentrates on hair with light ends and deeper colored roots, with multi-tones throughout the head.

Make-up designs for Neon Cuts feature flashes of color along the cheek bone, under the lower eyelash and on the lips.

The male Neon Cut varies in length from approximately one and one-half inches to two and one-half inches, with options of extended length at the nape or at the front of the head.

It is designed for adaptability to different facial features.

WE'VE GOT A PLAN TO LOWER YOUR GAS BILL:

Conserve & Save

Working with the New Jersey Board of Public Utilities and Department of Energy, we've developed a plan to make it easy and affordable to install practical conservation measures. The plan is called "Conserve & Save" and includes:

LOW-COST HOME ENERGY AUDITS

These audits, valued at $70 each, are part of the New Jersey Department of Energy's Home Energy Savings Program, and cost you only $15. It is free to Lifeline recipients.

A specially trained auditor will inspect your home for energy wasting conditions, and issue a detailed report on how to correct the problems and reduce your energy cost.

A free weatherization kit is included. Free literature and do-it-yourself audit instructions are also available. This program is available for gas heating customers residing in one- to four-family dwellings.

NO INTEREST/ LOW INTEREST LOANS

If you own and live in a gas-heated one- to four-family dwelling, you may be able to pay for qualifying conservation measures with a no-interest or low-interest loan from a participating bank, provided you have an approved HESP audit.

No-interest loans are available to homeowners with family incomes under $30,000. Those with family incomes over $30,000 are eligible for loans at 8.5 per cent interest.

Loans will range from $500 to $4000, for terms of four to six years, subject to credit approval by the lending institution and determination of the cost-effectiveness of the improvements.

ASSISTANCE TO LOW-INCOME HOUSEHOLDS*

Working through selected social service agencies, we're providing low-income gas-heated households with free weatherization kits and free installation of cost-effective weatherization measures.

*Low-income households are defined as those not exceeding the following income limits, family size in parentheses: (1) $2,470; (2) $10,080; (3) $12,690; (4) $15,300; (5) $17,910; (6) $20,520. Add $2,610 per family for each person over 6 total in family.

REBATE TOWARD CLOCK THERMOSTAT PURCHASE

If you buy and install an energy-saving clock thermostat, we will give you a $10 rebate. You will soon receive a rebate request card with your bill. Please fill it in and return to us to get your $10 rebate coupon, which you will use when purchasing your clock thermostat at any retail outlet.

FREE LITERATURE AND INFORMATION

Free conservation information and literature is always available at any of our offices. Be sure to ask for our new "Conserve & Save" pamphlet that outlines this and all of our programs in detail.

Children see, discuss play with teachers

The children of Livingston School, Union, recently participated in a discussion period after the performance of "Bubbyoman Encounter" with the characters of the play.

The Livingston School PTA provided the children of the school with the play, which was about touching—both good and bad.

The play was performed by adult professional actors from the Children's Repertory Company from Drexel Hill, Penn.

The play, titled "Bubbyoman Encounter," introduces "Bubba," who is a visitor on earth from the planet Bubbyloma. With the help of two friends, Bubba breaks out of his bubble and discovers the warmth of good touching as well as forced touch and how people might use touching and kissing and holding to hurt you.

The play handled sensitive subject areas in a very natural and non-threatening way, it was reported. After the performance, a discussion period followed. Teachers also were given materials before the show and work sheets for discussion and coloring afterwards.

Society's sale Sunday

The Springfield Historical Society will hold its sixth annual flea market Sunday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. (rain date June 16), at the corner of Morris, Meisel, and Springfield avenues (latter also known as Seven Bridges Road), Springfield.

This year, as in the past, there will be a flea market combined with a used book sale, and a bake sale. In addition to the area in the corner parking lot, there will be a Colonial Tea Room at the adjacent Historic Cannon Ball House, built circa 1740, where members will serve refreshments and sell homebaked items.

"There will be many vendors who will be offering sporting tops of all sizes, handmade children's toys, plants, jewelry, antique glass, bric-a-brac, attic treasures, etc.," said

General Chairman June DeFino. "There are still a few parking lot spaces, 18 x 18 feet, which can be had for a nominal fee by calling me at 376-7523."

Other committee members are James Bongiovanni, Eva Brown, Elise Ditzl, Hazel Hardgrove, Dorothy and Kenneth Hendrix, Madeline Lancaster, Mildred Levens, Claire Malik, Rose Miller, Virginia Regenthal, Catherine Seiss, Tom Stiles and Howard Wiseman.

Arrangements can be made for pick-up of donated items to be sold at the Historical Society's table by calling DeFino at 376-1343.

Tips on mail orders offered

The convenience of mail-order shopping will be more pleasant and less risky if some advice from Postmaster Robert H. Vreeland of Union is heeded.

"Don't buy a pig in a poke," he said. "Above all, don't look for simple answers to complex problems, like losing weight without exercise or dieting, or fantastic bargains, like getting a $350 color TV for $50."

The postmaster also offers some additional rules:

—Beware of exaggerated claims or unusually low prices.

—Don't be rushed. Avoid offers that claim to be your "last chance" to get a bargain.

—Keep a copy of the advertisement from which you ordered.

—Never send cash. Use a check, money order or credit card because these can be traced, if necessary.

—Keep a record of the date of your order and the number of your check, if you pay by check. And retain the cancelled check when it is returned to you.

—If you are suspicious about a company, check with the Postal Inspection Service, the Better Business Bureau or a local or state consumer protection agency before you order, to see if there are any complaints on record against the company.

PARK ROLLS IN BASEBALL PLAYOFFS—Roselle Park's Al Martino (44) reaches first base ahead of throw to Warren Tech first baseman Rich Hutchison during last week's North Jersey, Section II, Group I playoff at RPHS. Roselle Park rolled to a 25-3 win over the Knights and met New Providence this past Tuesday in the sectional semifinals. (Photo by John Boutsikaris)

Park title hopes dashed, 8-7

So close, and yet so far. For six innings, Roselle Park had control of the Group I state softball semifinal game with Saddle Brook this past Tuesday at Passaic Valley in Little Falls. But the Falcons rallied to tie the score in the seventh and then won it in the eighth, 8-7, spoiling the Pink Panthers' hopes of going to Saturday's state finals. It was a disappointing end to a great '85 season for Coach John Wagner's team in a game that had a lot of everything. RP scored first in the first inning on Diane Cushman's sacrifice fly, then made it 2-0 in the third on Cushman's run scoring groundout. Saddle Brook then scored in the fourth before Karen Antonucci's three-run homer in the fifth gave Park a 5-1 lead. But the Section I champs rallied, pulling to within 5-3 after five Carolyn Hazlehurst's single and an error put the Pink Panthers back up, 7-3, but they could not withstand the Falcon comeback as Saddle Brook scored twice in the sixth and twice in the seventh, tying it on Chris Henry's single with two out. Saddle Brook then scored in the eighth to win it and leave Roselle Park feeling empty after a great campaign. The Pink Panthers advanced to the state semifinals with a 5-2 victory over defending state Group I champion Mountain Lakes last Friday at West Essex High in North Caldwell. It was Park's first sectional crown since 1980. Roselle Park fell behind in the first inning on Debbie Wilkins' two-run homer, but battled back to tie the game in the second inning on a run-scoring groundout by Robyn Perrette and an RBI single by Cathy Finizio. Park took the lead for good in the fourth on a bases loaded walk to Donna Lewis, then broke the game open with two more runs in the seventh, one on a single by Fran Ciak and the other on a fielder's choice. It also was sweet revenge for RP, who lost to the Lakers in the sectional finals a year ago. Lisa Dragon limited the Morris County team to just four hits and Ciak had four hits of her own. All that, plus great defense and a few breaks, added up to victory. RP was the only area team to win a sectional. Union's dream of reaching the state Group IV finals for the second straight year came to an end in a 2-1 loss to Belleville in the semifinals of Section II, Group IV. Belleville scored twice in the seventh to erase a 1-0 Union lead, provided by Julie Brzezinski's sacrifice fly in the third. Andrea Peters added three hits, but it was not enough.

RP, Union win in state action

Two area teams are still chasing the dream of a championship as the state baseball tournament moves to the sectional semifinal round. Roselle Park and Union, both seeking to repeat as sectional champions, are still alive after they defeated their opponents in the quarterfinals last week. Here's what happened:

ROSELLE PARK

The Panthers pounded out a 22-hit barrage to defeat Warren Tech, 25-3 in North Jersey, Section II, Group I. James Shriner slugged a triple, two doubles and a single to knock in a total of four runs and Anthony DeFabrizio drove in four runs with a triple and three singles for the Panthers. Gene Mirabella pitched the first five innings for the victory. Roselle Park played New Providence in the section semifinals this past Tuesday. The two opponents have met twice this season and have split two games.

UNION

The Farmers broke a 2-2 tie in the top of the ninth inning by scoring three runs and held on to edge Bloomfield, 5-4 in Union. Nelson Colon singled in two runs and Mike Horton doubled in the third run of the inning for Union. Bloomfield came back to score two runs in the bottom of the ninth, but Paul Cifelli was able to put out the fire and claim the victory for Union. The Farmers, the defending champions of Section 2, Group 4 played Morristown in the sectional semifinals this past Tuesday at Morristown. The two teams met earlier this season with Union coming out on top, 9-8.

The winner of the Union-Morristown game meets the winner of the Belleville-Elizabeth game tomorrow in the sectional championship at a site to be determined. Conceivably Union could play archrival Elizabeth for the fourth time this season in tomorrow's final. EHS has won two of the previous three meetings this season with the Farmers, including the Union County Tournament championship recently.

TOURNEY NOTES—There are some rugged teams left in the state

SPORTS

Union Lancers Win Third State Cup

For the Union Lancers, the third time really was the charm. In their third appearance in the New Jersey State Cup soccer finals recently held at Mercer County College, Union captured the title with a 2-0 victory over Allendale.

Gerry DiPisa and Chris Unger scored the goals as Union, coached by Manfred Schellscheidt, Herb Unger and Walter Schmid, has qualified to compete in the Eastern Regional tournament, to be held at Niagara Falls, N.Y., June 29, 30 and July 1.

If they can win that event, they would then qualify for the national tourney in July at New Britain, Conn., with the winners from the South, Midwest and West region champions.

The Lancers had advanced to the state finals by defeating the Medford German Eagles, a team from South Jersey, 4-2, in the semifinals. Unger scored twice for Union, with Anthony Clapcich and Dave Santos adding the other tallies.

What has been the reason for the Lancers' success?

"We have good quality players that work well together. We have our act together," said Schellscheidt. "But the players have previous experience and they are strong and physical kids with good skills. We also do not hold back; we try to always go forward and score goals."

The team is supported by the Union Recreation Department and the Boys and Girls Club.

"If we continue to play well, we have a realistic chance at winning the regions," said Schellscheidt. And if they do, a national title is a definite possibility.

Twins, Mustangs lead in MLL

All three league leaders held onto their positions in the Mountainside Little League. Here's what happened.

The first place Little League Twins used a five-run first inning to top the Braves, 9-6. Chad Oberhauser, Jason Perle and Peter Gittich also had RBI singles. Gittich went three-for-three. John Rau and Matt Gardella paced the Braves attack with first baseman Steve Matajek.

The Mustangs held onto first place in the Pony League by surviving an eight-run rally in the fifth inning by the Springfield PBA to win 17-12. Peter Rosenbauer performed the freeman chores for the Mustangs as he slammed the door shut on the PBA in the late innings, aided by catcher Matt Ventura who picked off two base runners. Pat Attenasio had two doubles and knocked in three runs for the Mustangs. Danny Baker and Nick Cataldo each had two hits and three RBIs for Springfield.

The Colts topped the Mavericks, 8-6, in a battle for second place as Jim Barrett went the route for the Colts. Barrett helped his own cause with three hits while Jeff Davis had four hits, including a triple and a double. Grayson Murray hurled well in relief for the Mavericks while catcher Mike Price led the attack with two hits and three RBIs.

In the American League, the Angels maintained their hold on first place with an 8-7 squeaker over the Indians in the first game of a doubleheader, but then dropped their first game of the season in the nightcap, 7-5. The Angels came up with all of their runs in the second inning of the opener as Kevin Sauer and Brent Rusche each smacked a two-run double. The Indians' Jimmy Hurley hit a three-run homer and Ian Sanchez had a triple and a double.

In the nightcap, it was the Indians' turn to celebrate as Sanchez and Menniella each had homers and David Santos a double and single. John Hurley hurled two perfect innings in relief to pick up the victory and Tony Wladyka made the defensive play of the game by snaring a sinking line drive to thwart a last inning threat by the Angels. Eric Serio had a bases-clearing triple for the Angels and Reid Farrington and Nicole Codrington each had RBI singles.

Seven teams involved in tight softball race

The race for first place in the Springfield Men's Softball League tightened up last week as Masco Sports, Ehrhardt TV, the Bombers, MEI, Cardinal Garden Center, Shalleross Creative and Knights of Columbus each won.

Ehrhardt TV opened the week with a 6-4 extra inning win over Shalleross Creative. The win scored twice in the eighth to pull out the game. John Ehrhardt, Sr. was the winning pitcher and Jim Fritzen the loser.

The Bombers beat M&M Auto, 10-5, as winning pitcher Jeff Kronert had two singles, a double and a walk. The win kept the Bombers undefeated.

Masco Sports edged Shalleross Creative, 7-6, by scoring two runs in

The Indians continued their winning ways by whipping the Astros, 15-3. Ian Sanchez belted two homers and Chris Giannotti one while Bob Gardella had two hits and three RBIs. Blair Gardiner and Manho Capelli had home runs for the Astros.

The Yankees broke open a tight game with a seven-run third inning to beat the Brewers, 11-3. Jim Argast, Dave Crosby and Alan Kennedy each had two hits with Argast getting the key blow, a three-run triple during the third inning uprising. The Brewers pounded out 10 hits including a solo home run by Anthony Capriglione and two hits each by Tom Ryk and Paul Santos.

the seventh. Winning pitcher Joe Pepe, Sr. recorded his second victory and Fritzen lost.

The big upset of the week, though, came on Wednesday night when Cardinal Garden Center pounded Ehrhardt TV, 10-2. It was Ehrhardt's first loss of the year. Joe Policastro, Rich Policastro and Jake LaMotta were the hitting stars of the game. Greg Johnson took the win. John Ehrhardt Sr. took the loss.

In other games during the second week of action, the Bombers beat the Cardinal Garden Center, 13-4. MEI beat Walker Foods, 14-4. Masco Sports, behind the good pitching performance of Lou Monaco, beat M & M Auto, 11-4. Jim Fritzen pitched an outstanding game to give Shalleross Creative a victory over the Knights of Columbus, 4-2. Ehrhardt TV bounced back from their first loss of the season to beat MEI, 9-0. Finally, KFC rolled over Walker Foods, 21-4.

In more recent action, the Bombers, led by Scott Nagar, beat Shalleross Creative, 2-1. Scott's single in the bottom of the seventh inning brought home Gregg Lalevee for the game-winning RBI. Bob Hydock was the winning pitcher for the undefeated Bombers.

M&M Auto exploded for five runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to beat MEI, 10-6. Pete Pepe had two hits, one a double, and two RBIs. Dave Bronson was the winning pitcher and Dave Cohen the loser.

Ehrhardt TV beat KFC, 5-1, as Don Meixner had two hits, a double and triple. John Ehrhardt Sr. was the winner and Eddie Torres the loser.

Petino: a very special athlete

BY RICK BARBA
Brian Piccolo lived a full life until cancer stripped it away from him at an early age. He is remembered for his courage, humor and his love of life. The 1985 recipient of the UNICO sponsored "Brian Piccolo Award," Peter Petino has those same qualities.

The 18-year-old Petino of Springfield, is an athlete who has participated and done well in many sports since he was a little boy.

When asked how he felt to be the winner of this year's award, Petino said: "I feel honored to be chosen the winner of this prestigious award. I have known by reputation, some of the past recipients and that makes receiving the Brian Piccolo Award all the more special."

The issuance of the Brian Piccolo Award is an annual event for UNICO. It was established shortly after Piccolo's death in 1970. The group, a non-political and non-sectarian civic organization was founded in 1922 to unite Americans of Italian descent and fight discrimination.

Springfield Township Committeeman William Cieri, a member of UNICO, said that the group "tries to find someone who is the best example of what Brian Piccolo stood for, to be the recipient of the award." Other qualities that are taken into consideration before a winner is chosen are: athletic ability, courage, leadership and excellence in the classroom.

Petino, who will graduate from Delbarton next month, possesses these qualities. He played in the Springfield Junior Baseball League for six seasons, Recreation Basketball League for five and the Minutemen Football League for three seasons. Petino also was in the Junior Olympics where he won many medals. At Delbarton he played football, baseball, and basketball as a freshman. JV baseball and basketball as a sophomore, basketball, baseball and track as a junior, and basketball as a senior. This past basketball season Petino was selected to the second team of the Northern Hills Conference. In the fall he'll attend Washington and Lee University in Lexington, Va., on a scholarship and play small forward on the basketball team.

Petino, who is an honor student, is president of the student council at Delbarton and also donates his time as an admission tour guide, a campus minister-rector of retreat, a basketball clinic for the retarded and also participates in a prejudice reduction workshop.

Father Giles Hays of Delbarton said, "I have known Peter since he was a freshman and UNICO could not have picked a finer young man for the Brian Piccolo Award." Father Hays also said that Petino knows what its like to "play in pain." "When he was a small child Petino suffered from Osgood Schlatters Disease, which attacks the joints of growing children." However, Peter didn't let the pain stop him from participating and excelling in sports until years later when he was able to outgrow this painful disease.

Petino is familiar with the career of the Chicago Bears running back and All-American football player at Wake Forest, who led the NCAA in rushing his senior year.

"I know that Brian Piccolo played in pain in the later stages of his career and by winning this award it gives me more of an incentive to become the best basketball player I can be," said Petino.

Petino was honored recently at a dinner at the Holiday Inn on in Livingston where he was presented with his award by Ali Haji-Sheikh, placekicker of the New York Giants.

Penn played varsity basketball as a sophomore and junior, then managed the team in her senior year.

Arians to unveil strong hitting team

By WAYNE TILLMAN

After finishing with a 30-13 record and the state championship in Class A women's fast-pitch softball last season, the Linden Arians will be featuring somewhat of a new look in 1985, which opened with an exhibition doubleheader with the Colonia Crusaders this past Tuesday.

"We have a lot of new people at key positions," said manager Linda Lensch. "But we are a much stronger hitting team than last year, and we will rely more on our offense."

Lisa Rever, the former Union High School star now at the University of Massachusetts, has moved on to the Budweiser Belles. Thus the pitching will have only two returnees: Lensch (who will hurl in relief) and Mary Jo Flannery. But the Arians will also have available Joyce Flower and Jane Koza, who were with the Linden Majors the past few years.

Returning behind the plate will be Gina Biolotti, but she will have a capable backup in Karolyn Bachmann, who played at Seton Hall this spring. Another newcomer, Marge Krau from Rutgers, will platoon at first base with Lisa Dembeck.

Lensch also can vary at second with returnee Michelle Zaleski and newcomer Annie Freda of Seton Hall. Judy Martino, who hit .267 a year ago, is back at third and another new player, Eileen O'Malley, will be at short. O'Malley, who goes to Stockton State, played with the Marlton Rebels last season.

The outfielders are Debra Rinaldi, Lois Carpenter and Lisa Lynen. Lynen, another of the stars from Rutgers, will aid the outfield with her quickness and intelligence.

The bench will be strengthened by the addition of two other RU players, Chris Buck and Beth Kelly, who can play either the infield or outfield.

Linden will open regular season play this Tuesday by hosting the Brooklyn Dreams in a doubleheader at Toots Nusse Field, starting at 7:30. The Arians will then meet the Belles in Parsippany June 14, then play the Adamucci Oilers at Warinanco Park June 15 at 2 p.m.

Lensch, who again will be assisted by coach Ruben Cordero, hopes for another good season. And with the people on hand, it just might be.

Summit 'Y' kicks off summer activities

Gymnastics, baseball, karate. Take your pick and sign up now for the YWCA Summer Sports Camp. Professional Y instructors will teach your children the basics, the techniques and the strategies needed to become proficient in the sport of their choice.

Kathy Parcels, coach of the Summit Summies (the YWCA's gymnastics team) will direct the Summer Gymnastics Camp. Open to all girls who have completed kindergarten, it will be an introduction to beginning gymnastic techniques as well as more advanced techniques on the balance beam, uneven bars, horse vaulting and floor exercises.

"As part of the total training, we'll introduce the girls to aerobic dancing, conditioning and flexibility exercises," says Kathy Parcels. "Jogging and dancing are part of the gymnast's workout."

The Summer Gymnastics Camp provides girls with the perfect opportunity to prepare for a September team tryout. Participants will be grouped according to ability. The camp meets from 8:30 a.m. to noon, Monday through Friday, at the Wilson Center, Summit, which is fully equipped with a flexible floor, mats and the latest in gymnastics equipment. Sessions run weekly, July 1 through August 2.

Karate Kids will be glad to hear that Christopher Goedecke returns to the YWCA this summer to lead the popular karate camp. There will be sessions during the weeks of July 22-26 and July 29-August 2, from 1 to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday. It's designed for girls and boys, ages 7 to 15, no previous karate experience is necessary.

Goedecke will teach a variety of techniques to escape from holds and grips as well as methods to avoid negative confrontations. "I want the kids to become aware of their physical selves," says Goedecke. "Karate is excellent conditioning. It gives the child the opportunity to work with his or her own body. It offers self-discipline and an understanding of body mechanics."

Children will learn the blocking, striking and kicking techniques of karate; basic routines or katas; controlled kumite (two-person practice) and deep breathing forms. "The orientation of the camp is on defending oneself, not hurting anyone else," says Goedecke. "We use protective equipment. The children practice their kicks on striking pads. Of course, karate training shouldn't be entirely serious. I want the kids to have fun, too."

Chris Goedecke is the president of the Martial Arts in New Jersey. He teaches an accredited course at Drew University, coaches karate teams, and leads a karate class at the YWCA year-round.

If you've caught baseball fever, bring your glove over to the YWCA, July 29-Aug. 2 or Aug. 5-9 for the Junior Baseball Clinic. Boys and girls will team up at the Summit Junior High School field with coach/teacher Michael Ianella, who makes this a fun game for all. There are morning sessions 9-11:30 a.m. and during the afternoon, 1-3:30.

Registration for the Summer Sports Camps is now being accepted at the Summit YWCA, 79 Maple Street. Further information can be obtained by contacting Pat Cronin, 273-4242.

UHS golf team closes at 18-9

The Union High School golf team finished its season last week by beating Irvington, 168-225. The win raised the Farmers' final mark to 18-9.

Mark Seib, a senior, finished his career with a round of 39 at Union's Suburban Golf Course. This was the fifth successive round in the 30's.

"Mark was a little erratic early in the year, but the last three weeks he has put it all together," said coach Nick Nugent. "Starting at Glen Ridge Country Club with a 39, then 38 at Echo Lake in Westfield and 38-39-39 at Suburban. In the Westfield match at Echo Lake, Mark had three consecutive birdies which set a school record."

In the final match of the year, Union fired its lowest score of the year-168 for a foursome. Seib had a 39, Joe Scanelli a 40 (his personal best), Chris Sabath a 42 and Bill Schau a 47.

Seib also shot an 88 in the Union County Tournament at Echo Lake and an 88 in the state sectional at Rutgers Golf Course in New Brunswick.

SEPTIC TANK MAINTENANCE

If you are fortunate enough to have city water and sewer pipes reaching out to your property, you don't have to worry about septic tank maintenance. However, over 2/3 of our population live in areas that DO have to worry about septic tanks. If you are one of them, you may ask: "If my septic system is working properly, is it still necessary to have it pumped?" The answer is a resounding YES. The time to pump it is before you have problems-not after.

A properly working system traps the digesting solids in the septic tank so that only rather clean water drains off into the drain field, gradually plugging the pores in the soil under the drain field, and eventually, causing system failure.

How often should it be pumped? It depends upon the size of the tank and usage, of course. Generally, once every 1 to 3 years is suggested. Even if septic systems do not apply to your present home, they may be serious consideration if you decide to purchase a vacation or second home in the country, or even in the outskirts of a major city.

Annual golf classic in offing

The Essex County Michelob Golf Classic, hosted by the Essex County Department of Parks, Recreation and Cultural Affairs, tees off at 9 a.m. June 17 at Weequahic Golf Course in Newark in which a Chevrolet Conversion Van awaits the winner of the hole-in-one contest.

Proceeds from the fifth annual golf tournament will again be donated to the Essex County Special Olympics and the Newark Youth Golf Club announced County Executive Peter Shapiro, New Jersey Bell Manager of External Relations Brad Davis and Anheuser-Busch General Manager Terry Poulos, all honorary co-chairman of the event. The Michelob Golf Classic is sponsored by Anheuser-Busch and the Essex County Parks Department.

This year, $6,000 is being divided between the Special Olympics and the Youth Golf Club as a result of last year's Classic. Special Olympics holds various sports tournaments and events for the mentally retarded throughout the year while the Newark Youth Golf Club educates young people in the essentials of golf and provides incentives through scholarships and awards for inner-city youth.

"With the Michelob Golf Classic, we are able to attain several goals, which are to promote golf, youth involvement in the game, our county golf courses and one of the noblest of worthy causes, the Special Olympics," said William C. Scalzo, Director of the Department of Parks, Recreation and Cultural Affairs and chairman of the Classic's Executive Committee.

"I'd like to personally thank Anheuser-Busch and all the corporations involved in the Michelob Golf Classic," added County Executive Shapiro. "Thanks to their cooperation, it will be bigger than ever. All corporations and individuals are invited to participate in this worthy fund-raiser. Remember, all golf fees are tax-deductible."

Twelve trophies will be awarded after the 18-hole tournament. They will be awarded for low net scores, low gross scores, closest to the pin and the longest drive. The Chevy Van for the hole-in-one competition is being donated by Francis Chevrolet in Irvington.

In addition to Lee Elder, who is a top black golf professional, the tournament has the support of many other sports, government and business figures. Other members of the tournament's executive committee are Aaron Hairston, coordinator for Anheuser-Busch; Pearl Beatty, Essex County Freeholder, James and Elizabeth Felton of Ebon Services International; Leo Bunion, Sr., representing the Parks and Recreation Advisory Council; William Pressley of the Weequahic Golf Club, Peter Clancy, a vice-president with Newark's First Fidelity Bank; Morton Goldfein, a Hartz Mountain vice-president; Kennedy Wilson of Essex County; Joan Foster of the Greater Newark Chamber of Commerce; and Edward Wadood, a member of both the Weequahic Friends of the Park and the Newark Youth Golf Club.

For information on these facilities and the up-coming Michelob Golf Classic, call the Parks Department at 482-6400.

Irvington Legion improved this year

By WAYNE TILLMAN

Coach Jim Casalino and his Irvington American Legion baseball found last season a struggle, but this year could be a good one.

"We added five players from Weequahic High, which finished second in the Newark City League. We really have a whole new team on hand," said Casalino. "We should be better, with improved pitching and balance throughout."

Irvington had a chance to display its team in exhibition games against Union this past Tuesday, Cranford tomorrow and June 13 against West Orange Recreation. The Essex County League opener is June 17 against Newark at Schools Stadium.

A deep and talented group make up the pitching staff, all six of whom are righthanders. The ace is Barry Wiggins, one of the Weequahic players, along with Greg Carney and Ron Freeman. Rounding out the staff are Irvington High players Pete Estrada, Juan Alvira and Troy Bowers.

"Barry has good control and a good curve ball, while Greg is a big, strong kid and a hard thrower," said Casalino. "Peter has a good fastball and improving curve. Alvira, Bowers and Freeman will provide us with good relief help."

Behind the plate to handle these hurlers will be Joe Casano and Alex Gaddy, with Carney and Eddie Stewart, who played on the Union High junior varsity, sharing the duties at first base.

Mike Dixon, who led the Campers in hitting at .325 this spring, is the second baseman, with Freeman the backup. Shortstop will be shared by Alvira, Wiggins and Rich Muller. Estrada and Bowers will share playing time at third.

The outfield is pretty well set, with Solley Sellers in left, Warren Griffith in center and Earl Conte in right. Sellers has improved defensively, while Griffith provides outstanding speed and Conte, the team captain, returns after hitting .450 for the Legion a year ago.

Bench strength will be provided by Harold Padilla, Steve Casano, Al Galard and Duane Onque.

All of Irvington's home games will be played at Chancellor Field. The home opener is June 26 against Caldwell.

Stewart, Baker star in state track meet

Area boys and girls came up with top-notch performances at last week's state group championship meets at Rutgers Stadium in Piscataway.

At the Group IV boys meet, Union placed 14th out of 55 teams, scoring 64 points. Tony Stewart scored all of the Farmer points, and he qualified for yesterday's all-group Meet of Champions in South Plainfield in three of four events.

Stewart placed fourth in the 100 meters (11.1 seconds), fourth in the 110 high hurdles (14.6) and fourth in the long jump (21-6 1/2). He also finished in a four-way tie for fifth in the high jump at 6-2, but did not qualify in this event.

Other Union competitors were Dan Waldron in the 400 intermediate hurdles, Eric Renkoff in the pole vault, Sean Dillon in the javelin and Jeff Barber in the discus.

In Group III boys, Vailsburg finished in a three-way tie for 15th, while Linden finished in a seven-way tie for 23rd. Edwin Harris of the Vikings finished third and teammate Maurice Gibbs fifth in the 400. LHS' Scott Benjamin was third in the 800 and Jamar Carter of Vailsburg fourth in the 1,600.

In Group II boys, Roselle finished in a tie for second place. Ezell Baker was the big gun for the Rams, winning the 400 meters, finishing second in the 200 and fourth in the long jump. Andre Rogers was third in the 800 and the 1,600 meter relay team placed third.

In the girls state meets, Vailsburg finished in a tie for seventh place in Group III. The Viking 1,600 meter relay team finished third, while Hope Jones won the 100 meter hurdles. Also, Damita Lucas was fifth in the shot put.

In Group II, Dayton finished in a tie for 14th and Roselle in a five-way tie for 25th. Roselle's only place winner was Engria Alderman, who was fifth in the shot. Dayton's only point scorer was Tracy Biber, who was second in the 3,200 meters.

Notty Pyne triumphs in Irvington

After a 7-0 loss to Fraser-Gold, the Center Lounge Brohans have won three straight games. In a 10-0 over BAT, Jim Popolski led the way with a homer, and four runs batted in. Glen D'Andrea and Joe De Rocco each added two hits and two RBI's.

Center Lounge then beat Clubhouse 1, 10-6, behind Bill Turton's three hits and two RBI's. Popolski added two hits and two runs batted in and Danny Henson chipped in with two hits. The entire lineup had at least one hit.

The Brohans then romped to an 8-2 victory over VFW, behind the pitching of Joe De Pasquale. Mike Martinez was the leading hitter with two, one a triple, while D'Andrea had two hits and two RBI's. Joe DeRocco also drove in a run and had two hits.

MS. UNION COUNTY
ANGELA CLEMONS

T. J. Hewitt and Angela Clemons were selected Mr. and Ms. Union County Saturday evening following a full day of pumping iron and flexing their muscles at the third annual Union County Body Building Championships at Soehl Middle School in Linden.

Hewitt, of Staten Island, and Clemons, of Irvington, were chosen from a field of 37 challengers in three divisions after a day of activities sponsored by Iron Age Gym in Linden.

The decisions were made after an afternoon session in which the contestants did mandatory poses to show off their muscle groups and an evening session in which the contestants did a one-and-a-half-minute posing routine set to music.

Judges sanctioned by the National Physique Commission judged the competition and chose championships in all weight categories in the teen's, women's and men's divisions.

Contestants, while not required to have won a championship, had to have knowledge of body building in order to be familiar with the poses required for the competition.

According to Mary Waseleski of Iron Age, the judges' decision was based on muscularity and symmetry of body development.

The evening program is the "fun part" Waseleski said, and shows the participant's coordination and basically, "the all-round picture" so the judges can make their decision.

The number of contestants, as well as the number of spectators, has grown steadily during the past three years as the sport has really started to come into its own, Waseleski noted.

"People who come to the shows are pleasantly surprised at what they see," she added.

Waseleski, who works out at Iron Age and expects to compete herself later this year, noted that body building is hard work and competitors must stay on strict diets and work diligently on building their bodies and developing their routines.

Besides winning the county title, Hewitt was named "Best Poser" in the men's middleweight division. Clemons captured the same title in the women's middleweight division.

Other winners were Nick Melisinos of New York, "Best Poser," teen division, Lillian Darnofal of Roselle, best in women's lightweight division and Jane Weiss of Quakertown, Penn., best in women's heavyweight division.

In the men's division, Phil Motta of Linden won the lightweight championship. Darrell James of Irvington the light heavyweight title and Lance Cooper the heavyweight title.

Other Union County competitors included Dennis Bellow of Union and Barbara Carlstrom of Elizabeth.

Leon Brown of Staten Island, a former Mr. America, was the guest poser for Saturday evening's event.

Books to read this summer

This column is devoted to books which are quite simply outstanding whether they are fiction or non-fiction. They're the top books to get your summer program of reading fun going.

Many years ago I met Shane Stevens and I sensed even then he was going to make some major contributions to modern literature. His last novel, "By Reason of Insanity," anticipated all the news about serial killers by creating one that left you breathless as he left a trail of murder from coast to coast. His newest book is "The Anvil Chorus" ($15.95, Delacorte Press). Set in Paris, it begins with the Nazi SS-style murder — by piano wire — of a 56-year-old-German man. What looks like a standard suicide unravels in an intricate, utterly fascinating story in which a brilliantly crafted hero, a police inspector, follows clues that lead to a multi-billion dollar cache of war spoils. Don't miss this one!

For those who love modern world literature, Peter Bedrick Books Inc. (125 E. 23rd St., New York 10010) has just published "The New Guide to Modern World Literature" (Special Introductory price $39.95, Dist. by Harper & Row) which is a masterpiece. It is, without question, the most comprehensive, scholarly and entertaining account of 20th century world literature. It is 1,413 pages and a superb reference book.

Less profound, but endlessly funny is Ring Lardner Jr's "All for Love" ($13.95, Franklin Watts), just published last month. Lardner is the author of screenplays such as "M*A*S*H" and, turning his talent to the novel, has created a very funny one about a Yale scientist with no love life with him who invents a substance that can make any woman fall in love with him. The one he chooses is married to a Presidential-hopeful, a U.S. Senator. Comic complications abound.

Out this month is a Signet paperback entitled "Switch" ($3.95, New American Library) by William Bayer in which a killer murders two women in New York and switches their heads. How this seemingly perfect crime is solved will have you spellbound. Also available in paperback from Signet is Ken Follett's "The Key to Rebecca" ($4.50) which was just dramatized on television. The book is far better.

THE REAL WORLD

Does the United States hire assassins? Given the recent contratemps about the Lebanese bomber supposedly trained by the CIA, "The Specialist" by Gayle Rivers ($16.95, Stein & Day) answers that with a resounding "yes!" Indeed, Rivers reveals all in a book subtitled "Revelations of a Counterterrorist" which tells how the U.S. and England both use the skills of commandoes like himself to go into places like Ireland and Lebanon to kill off those fellows who go around planning and carrying out so many of these bombings and attacks on innocent people in the name of whatever cause they advocate.

Just how deeply entrenched in American political and diplomatic circles are the Saudi Arabians as the result of the immense wealth their oil provides? Very deep. Steven Emerson has written "The American House of Saud" ($18.95, Franklin Watts) which explores how they pull the strings of corporate supporters, lobbyists and special interests. Much of this has been hidden from public knowledge until now, but this book reveals some startling insights.

Have you been watching "The Heart of the Dragon" on public television? You'll enjoy the book that complements this fine series, but you may also develop a real hunger for more information about China too. If that's the case, read "A History of Chinese Civilization" by Jacques Gernet ($42.50/$16.95, Cambridge University Press, hard & softcover), one of the best single-volume histories available. The author takes in the social, political, religious, scientific, artistic and intellectual elements, weaving them together masterfully.

Another fascinating look at history is provided in "The American Jewish Album: 1654 to the Present" by Allon Schoener ($19.95, Rizzoli) which tells its story with more than 500 illustrations covering 352 pages. This book is a delightful way to learn of the incredible contributions made by Jews who truly found that America was a land of milk and honey.

I absolutely loved "The Great Thoughts" as compiled by George Seldes ($12.95, Ballantine softcover) which contains the thoughts of the world's movers and shakers from Abelard to Zola. Wonderful reading no matter what page you turn to.

One of the great characters from the world of boxing is Angelo Dundee, probably the sport's greatest manager and trainer. He's handled Sugar Ray Leonard and the legendary Muhammad Ali, among many others. Now he tells his story in "I Only Talk Winning" ($16.95, Contemporary Books) and, if you're a fan, you're going to love this wonderful account of his life.

SCIENCE STUFF

A marvelous send-up of science can be found in "Science Made Stupid: How to Discomprehend the World Around Us" written and illustrated by Tom Weller ($6.95, Houghton Mifflin softcover). "I'd love this book, except that I'm dead" is the quote attributed to Roger Bacon, an "early philosopher of science." And that tells you just how wacky the humor is. If you have someone you know who loves scientific subjects, this book would be a great gift.

The last time Halley's Comet took a turn around the Earth was in 1910. If you intend to be comet-watching this year when it returns, you might very well enjoy Jerred Metz' "Halley's Comet: 1910, Fire in the Sky" ($13.95/$6.95, Singing Bone Press, PO Box 1650, St. Louis, MO 63188, hard & softcover, add $1.75 for postage and handling.) This book recreates the history and commentary from 1910 on the last visit.

Wonderful reading, all of these books. As the television set begins to provide re-runs, a way to avoid the boredom is to read about anything that entertains and informs your mind.

Drinking, driving don't mix at prom

With prom and graduation time approaching, the Union County Council on Alcoholism is asking families and their teenage children to be aware of the continuing problem of drinking and driving.

Alcohol-related highway accidents are a major cause of death among teenage Americans. In addition, alcohol is the drug most widely used by New Jersey youth. In fact, nine in every 10 students have used alcohol at some time in their lives. According to the New Jersey Attorney General's report about 90 percent of high school seniors have tried alcohol and 15 percent are heavy or problem drinkers (drinking at least once a week with five or more drinks per drinking occasion). Furthermore, research has shown that parental attitude and behavior concerning their own and their children's use of alcohol are considered to exert the most influence on adolescent drinking behavior. The affect of peers on teenage drinking is linked to the desire for sociability rather than peer conformity.

In light of this information, the Council has launched a public information and awareness campaign on the risks of drinking and driving. The campaign is to provide information and materials to parents and their children to help them make informed decisions not to drink and drive.

The materials available give factual information on drinking and driving, such as how long it takes for the effects of alcohol to wear off. Contrary to popular belief, only time, not coffee, cold showers or fresh air, leads to sobriety. In addition, studies have shown that a person need not be "falling down drunk" to be an impaired driver. Just a drunk or two will reduce the ability to make judgments and slow reflexes.

Anyone interested in further information on the subject of drinking and driving may call the Union County Council on Alcoholism, 233-8810, Monday-Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The Council is located at 300 North Ave., E., Westfield.

'Planet P Project' is 'bigger than life'

By MILTHAMMER

Pick of The LPs "Planet P Project-Pink World" (MCA Records)

"Planet P Project's Pink World" is an imaginative futuristic tale brought to life by the unique collaboration of Tony Carey and Peter Hauke. This conceptual double album features music composed and performed by Carey, richly enhanced by Hauke's state-of-the-art production. The twosome create bigger-than-life rock, intertwining the quiet sounds of nature, on the LP's 26 tracks, while weaving a haunting story of nuclear holocaust and the little boy who leads the remaining survivors to a "Pink World"

This future world permeates each track on this, the second "Planet P Project" album, and the Carey-Hauke combination again proves to be a winning, inventive one.

Tony Carey's initial prominence came as a keyboard player with Riche Blackmore's Rainbow for three years. When the California raised Carey left Rainbow in 1978, he was invited to Frankfurt, West Germany for a two week recording session he has remained a Frankfurt resident ever since. Although he has written well over 300 songs and recorded and performed on many albums for other artists, it wasn't until early 1983 that he made his mark on the U.S. with the release of his Peter Hauke produced debut solo album, which included the hit, "I Won't Be Home Tonight"

Disc & Data

Simultaneous with the debut solo offering moving up the charts, Carey and Hauke's first "Planet P Project" album, entitled "Planet P," was issued. The single from that LP, "Why Me," became an instant radio hit and the powerful accompanying video became a staple. Carey's second solo album, "Some Tough City" (also produced by Hauke), included the two hit singles,

"A Fine, Fine Day" and "First Day of Summer," and was accompanied by Tony's first cross country tour of the U.S.

For over two decades, Peter Hauke has been a pivotal force behind much of the progressive music to emerge from Europe. An accomplished musician, composer, arranger, and producer, Hauke has become one of the continent's premiere and most prolific producers, adding his distinctive touch to over 100 albums. He is also one of those rare musical technical wizards whose creative abilities are matched by their business acumen. A native of Frankfurt, he has made his mark as a top concert promoter, and he has signed and produced a good number of artists for his own label, X Records.

In 1981, Hauke entered his Hotline Studios in Frankfurt to begin work on an album known only as "Peter's Project," selecting Tony Carey to participate, along with some of the world's foremost session players. The result was "Planet P Project's" debut album. Now, the Carey-Hauke team return again as "Planet P Project" with a whole new world for us to explore, a "Pink World."

Auditions announced for Youth Symphony

The New Jersey Youth Symphony will hold auditions from now to June 23 in the United Methodist Church in Summit. The NJYS program provides orchestral training for talented young musicians through grade 12. Candidates are selected to participate in one of three orchestras; the New Jersey Youth Symphony, the Preparatory Orchestra, and the Orchestral String Ensemble.

The Youth Symphony, led by music director George Marriner Maul and assistant conductor and director of ensembles Bernard J. Yannotta, is open to advanced students, grades 8 to 12, who are studying privately.

The NHYS Preparatory Orchestra, led by conductor Barbara H. Barstow, is open to intermediate to advanced students studying privately. Barstow also leads the Orchestral String Training Ensemble (OTSE) for young string players.

Orchestra members receive coaching, ensemble training, musicianship training, conducting classes, master classes and clinics from a professional staff.

On May 4, the Youth Symphony was awarded first prize at the 33rd European Music Festival for Youth in Belgium and also performed before the King and Queen of Belgium. Since its inception in 1979, the NJYS has presented concerts in New Jersey, New York City, Washington, D.C., England, Holland and Belgium.

As of this year, students who have been in the Orchestra for a year are eligible to audition for a Frank and Lydia Bergen Foundation scholarship to be awarded to a student or students.

An audition application or for further information can be obtained by calling 522-0365.

An open house will be held Sunday afternoon for fans of Plays-in-the-Park at the Roosevelt Park Amphitheater, Edison.

The theater building and grounds will be open for guided tours between 2 and 4 p.m. The tours take visitors backstage and into the workshops to see how the summer musicals are produced.

At 4 p.m., a preview of the 1985 Plays-in-the-Park season will be staged. Featured will be songs from "Pirates of Penzance," "Carnival" and "Evita." Visitors are reminded to bring lawn chairs for seating.

Plays-in-the-Park is sponsored by the Middlesex County Board of Chosen Freeholders and the Middlesex County Department of Parks and Recreation.

winners also will be included in the evening's entertainment when they sing Viennese songs to the accompaniment of the opera's orchestra which will play Strauss waltzes throughout the evening. The first waltz will be conducted by Silpigni. A dance master also will be available to offer dance tips.

GARDENING TIME

Time-saver tips for do-it-yourselfers

Every year about this time, preparation gets underway to repair what time or weather has damaged, do periodic maintenance or begin a project planned over the winter.

For the more experienced do-it-yourselfer, creating a list of materials from the project plans or design is the normal first step of the project.

Next comes estimating the cost, based on that list of materials. Finally, a timetable for doing the job is established.

For the less experienced, however, there's an important intermediary step: creating the list of tools needed for a project.

Sensible time-saver

According to the experts at Red Devil, Inc., of Union, one of the nation's leading manufacturers of hand tools for home improvement projects, that one element of planning can save many hours on a project.

Those hours are the time lost in discovering the unanticipated need for a tool, having to stop work, leaving the work area, finding the tool, returning to the area and using it.

What Red Devil's DIY experts suggest is taking time during the planning stage of any project to "walk through" the work area with a pencil and paper.

Make notes

Review in your mind all the steps involved in the project, writing down each step along with the materials and tools needed for that portion of the job.

Let your imagination run free, they suggest, anticipating the worst situations so you'll be sure to have the tools you need when and if there's an unpleasant surprise.

Remember, there's often a need for more tools than a sample description of the project contains.

For instance, there's more to a basic painting project than the can(s) of paint, the brush or roller or spray.

If the surface needs any work, a wall scraper or putty knife will be necessary. Any holes found must be spackled or filled, which requires a putty knife, a sanding block, sandpaper and, on interior projects, a tack cloth to pick up sanding dust.

Save money with coupons

Shopping with coupons has now gone beyond saving a few cents. Rising supermarket prices have made it a necessity, but have you ever wondered how profitable it can be?

For many people refunding has become a profitable home business which they can run from the kitchen table. Believe it or not, top refunder get back most of their grocery money each month. If their grocery bill is $500 and they receive $450 in refunds, that money is clear...and that's a nice little business!

To reach that level, super shoppers do more than clip coupons. They know how to get coupon mailed to their door. They also know how to get information on loads of manufacturers' refunds few people seem to know about.

An astonishing fact is that, though 83 billion coupons and refunds are issued each year, only five percent of them are ever used.

A consumer service group has obtained a special report that gives the inside tips on how to get more manufacturer coupons and refund each week.

Shoppers interested in receiving this report or more information about making money with these sample coupons should send a self-addressed stamped envelope (long to Consumer Services, P.O. Box 9 Orangeburg, N.Y. 10962.

GARDENING TIME

Gardens can be created on balconies

Balconies they've been miraculously transformed into the "backyards" for thousands of apartment, condominium and townhouse dwellers across the country.

So many types of gardens can be created on balconies. Deightfully dressed in splashes of color, an entertainment center just right for relaxing. Lawns, shrubs and trees recall a suburban landscape. Still others offer total food production, with flowering fruit trees and container-grown herbs and vegetables.

Highrise penthouse or a simple second-floor walkout, a well-tryed set of guidelines will aid in creating your "garden on high." First, turn a critical eye to the situation as an interior decorator or fashion designer would. Are you looking for a colorful relaxation area or privacy from an adjacent highrise? Toward which corner of the compass will your garden face? If the situation is very open, will your plantings be subjected to high winds and buffeting?

Next, use the "three-tier" idea in your design, as in all good garden plantings. "Uprights" should be used against a wall or as the centerpiece for a circular planting to add height. "Bushy" varieties provide for the bulk of the planting. "Trailing" plants will tumble over the sides of a planter or window box to soften the composition.

Safety considerations play an important third factor. Most balconies are required by building

Summer recipes

After a long winter there's nothing quite like those first early summer crops of scallions and peas to add sparkle to your meals.

SPRING ONION SOUP

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 cups diced scallions, including some green tops
- 6 cups chicken broth
- 1/2 cup white wine
- 3 tablespoons Tamari or Soy Sauce
- 2 teaspoons fresh ginger root minced
- 1 cup pea pods sliced diagonally

Melt the butter in a soup pot and saute the scallions and ginger for 2 minutes. Add the soy sauce, wine, chicken broth and salt to taste. Cook just enough to soften the scallions, one to two minutes. Add the pea pods and simmer one minute more. Serve immediately.

HAY AND STRAW

- 2 cups julienne-sliced ham
- 2-3 cups blanched shelled fresh peas
- 1/2 cups fresh grated parmesan cheese
- 1/2 cup heavy cream
- 1 lb. fettucini noodles

In plenty of boiling salted water, cook one pound of fettucini noodles until just tender. Drain and place in a large bowl, add all ingredients and toss. Season with salt and pepper. Dinner, in as much time as it takes to boil water!

safety codes to support 60 pounds per square foot. Be sure to use a lightweight professional soil mix such as Jiffy Mix which can reduce weight by up to 60% over standard garden soil. Avoid using heavy containers - plastics and wood are highly recommended for low-weight situations. A popular choice among small-space gardeners is the 21-inch diameter Vegi-Tub from Carefree available in many garden centers and nurseries. Lightweight for easy moving yet tough enough to last for years, it's big enough to grow masses of flowers or up to three tomato plants.

The plants on an outdoor balcony will usually be enjoyed as well, so it's practical to plant an eye-catching display. A handsome container of flowering peas or beans rising up the side railing provides a partial windbreak. Miniature conifers in a wooden trough offer year-round viewing pleasure. Colorful clematis trained up a permanent trellis does wonders to disguise an unsightly view.

Many summer bedding plants are suitable in a sunny location - try new 'Pink Daddy' petunias, graced by big four-inch ruffled flowers, or compact 'Red Hot Sally' salvia, with a lot of red blossoms on strong, stocky spikes. A shady position still offers a multitude of choices. Experiment with shade lovers the likes of climbing or trailing ivies, tough year-round evergreen plants, and annuals such as ever popular 'Super Elfin' impatiens or 'Blue Bells Improved' browallia to brighten sheltered areas.

Be adventurous. If it's "growable", your balcony may be just the spot!

State seeks a few good eggs

The New Jersey Department of Agriculture is looking for a few good eggs.

The first Jersey Fresh Egg Cooking Contest, sponsored by the department and the New Jersey Poultry Council, is inviting cooks to submit their original egg recipes for prizes ranging from $50 to $400 for the first place winner.

Divided into an adult and junior-senior high school categories (grades six through 12), the recipes will be judged on nutritional quality, ease of preparation, taste, appeal, appearance and creativity.

The contest deadline is July 15, 1985, and the winning recipes will be presented at a cook-off at the Vineland "Jersey Fresh" Festival on the Buena Vista Campground, Buena Vista (Cumberland County) on August 25.

Entries should be mailed to Jersey Fresh Egg Cooking Contest, c/o Mary Anne McGovern, New Jersey Department of Agriculture, CN 330, Trenton, N.J. 08625.

Get your tomatoes off to a good start

Nothing tastes better than a fresh, vine-ripe, New Jersey tomato. Fortunately it's also one of the easiest vegetables to grow in the home garden, according to James Niehnadowicz, program associate in agriculture at the Union County Cooperative Extension Service.

The following tips will help get your tomatoes off to a good start this year.

Planting Time — The earliest tomatoes can be planted is May 15. If you'd like to wait until it's warmer they can be put in up to the third week of June.

Plant varieties that do well in Union County are Jet Star, Pikred, Big Girl, Supersonic and Ramapo.

Locate the plants in full sunshine. Tomatoes need at least 6 to 8 hours of direct sunshine a day to do their best.

Prepare the soil before planting. Work in a 2- to 3-inch layer of peat moss, compost or old manure into the planting area. Add 10 pounds of lime per 100 square foot area. Also put half cup of 5-10-5 around the base of each plant.

Place plants at least 3 feet apart. Crowded plants produce poorly.

Cage or Stake Plants. This will keep fruit off the ground and prevent rotting.

"Start tomatoes off right and your tastebuds will reap the benefits," Niehnadowicz added.

Prize tomatoes

Tomato growers could reap a $1,000 prize along with this summer's harvest if they make plans now to enter the annual New Jersey

Declare 'war' on weeds in your garden

There is an army at war in America's backyards and gardens, and gardeners can mobilize against it. This is the message from Gardens for All, The National Association for Gardening, based in Burlington, Vermont.

According to the latest Gardens for All/Gallup National Gardening Survey, approximately 20 million or 60 percent of the nation's 34 million gardening households point to weeds as their greatest problem.

In a recent Gardens for All Newsmagazine, these guidelines are recommended in the war on weeds:

- Control weeds in a year-round program;
- Start right away and then plan for next season;
- Identify the weeds in your/garden;
- Learn which are annuals, perennials and biennials and know what offensive methods work with each;
- Rotate your crops — it confuses weeds who like to co-habitate with certain garden crops;
- Put black plastic, newspaper or organic mulch on garden paths and around vegetables and flowers;
- Pull or dig out weed roots.

Championship Tomato Weigh-In, according to state Secretary of Agriculture Arthur R. Brown Jr.

"Now is a good time to start planting tomatoes," he said, adding that those interested in entering the August contest should choose seed varieties known to produce large fruit.

Winning tomatoes usually weigh between 3.5 to four pounds, he said, with the record set at 4.034 in 1981. Not discounting a "little bit of luck," Brown suggested would-be contestants place plants deep in soil that is well-drained, easily worked and located in strong sunlight to encourage growth.

This year's contest will be held August 24 at 5 p.m. at the Monmouth Mall, Eatontown, where at least 50 people are expected to compete for the prizes, ranging from $100 to $1,000, according to contest founder and organizer Joseph Heimbold of Monmouth Beach.

Created by Heimbold in 1978 to promote vodka for a liquor company, the former sales supervisor has continued the contest in his retirement.

"The popularity of the weigh-in keeps growing," said Heimbold. "I've had inquiries from all parts of the country. We're the only state that has such a contest."

Additional information can be obtained by contacting Heimbold at (201) 229-2395.

Intern is sought

The Reeves-Reed Arboretum in Summit is seeking a student of horticulture to fill a 10-week paid internship, now through July.

The internship involves plant identification, mounting and engraving labels, general grounds maintenance and the opportunity to run a one-day summer plant clinic.

The position primarily calls for those engaged in the earning of a degree in horticulture or related fields. However, students' experienced in horticulture through previous summer work will also be considered.

The position is for two days per week, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Additional information is available by calling 273-8787, Monday, Tuesday or Thursday. The Arboretum is at 165 Hobart Ave., near Rt. 24.

Water saver tips

In spite of the recent rain, drought is still forecast for the summer. The following tips — to help in keeping plants happy and water bills low — come from the Union County Cooperative Extension Service:

Save water from the roof—Place a container under the disconnected spout. After rain ends, cover the container to prevent evaporation and mosquitoes.

Rinse water from dishes and the washing machine can be used— This gray water can be used as long as it does not contain ammonia, bleach, detergents that contain borax or any other material that would harm your skin if poured on it. Keep this water off the leaves of the plant when applying it.

Watering times—Water in early morning, before 9 a.m., or late evening, after 8 p.m. Little water is lost to evaporation at these times.

Mulch—A four-inch layer of leaf mold, aged grass clippings, wood-chips, or black plastic will keep water in the ground. Apply the chosen mulch after a heavy rain or a deep watering.

Garden spots

Some plants will survive on minimal water—"Your lawn will survive without water," according to Dr. Henry Indyk, Cook College specialist on lawn care. Indyk concedes that it will brown but this is only temporary as it will recover with the advent of wetting weather. Plants that definitely need water are vegetables, annual flowers and newly-established plants.
