Lady of Lourdes will merge with Westfield school

By Suzette Stalker
Managing Editor

Our Lady of Lourdes School in Mountainside will soon be closing its doors after 30 years of providing Catholic education to area youngsters, as the parish prepares to merge its scholastic programs with two other churches within an existing Westfield parochial school.

Monsignor Raymond J. Pollard of Our Lady of Lourdes Church confirmed last Friday that the parish would be closing the Central Avenue school in order to merge with Holy Trinity Church and St. Helen's Church, both in Westfield.

The new school, to be called the Holy Trinity InterParochial School, will serve students from Holy Trinity and Our Lady of Lourdes schools in pre-kindergarten through eighth grade, and will be operated in the present school building at Holy Trinity Church on First Street in Westfield.

It will also enroll students from St. Helen's parish, which currently does not have a school.

Archbishop Theodore McCarrick of the Archdiocese of Newark recently approved the merger because Our Lady of Lourdes has been experiencing declining enrollment in recent years. The action was proposed by the archdiocese's school office after consultation with each of the parishes involved.

The InterParochial School will be supervised by the archdiocese and jointly administered by the three parishes, Pollard said. He reported that the school is scheduled to open in time for the 1991-92 school year and that enrollments are currently being taken.

The monsignor emphasized that the new school will offer the same quality education which was provided at Our Lady of Lourdes, adding that the latter will continue to play an active role in development of educational programs offered by the Inter-Parochial School.

"I'm sad to see that the school is closing," Pollard commented. "We worked hard to keep it open for many, many years and we have a wonderful alumni. We're happy, however, that we'll still have a very strong Catholic school."

"Right now I'm in the process of trying to effect the orderly transition of our school into the Holy Trinity complex," he added.

Our Lady of Lourdes enrolls students from numerous area municipalities, including Mountainside, Springfield, Westfield, Scotch Plains, Fanwood, Plainfield and North Plainfield. Pollard stated that response to the new school among Our Lady of Lourdes parents has so far been "a positive one."

The Board of Education of Union County Regional High School District 1 will either provide bussing for Mountainside students to the new school in Westfield or else compensate parents for providing their own transportation. Our Lady of Lourdes Principal John Aslanian confirmed on Tuesday.

In the past, parishes generally sponsored their own schools within the local community, according to Aslanian. The principal added that a trend has recently developed, however, whereby several parishes may co-sponsor one school to compensate for decreased enrollment or other factors.

Trustees needed to organize foundation

By Suzette Stalker
Managing Editor

Dr. Donald Merachnik, superintendent of schools for Union County Regional High School District 1, met with several area residents Monday night at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield regarding a proposed Education Foundation for the district.

The regional district includes Jonathan Dayton, which enrolls Mountainside students; David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth, Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark and Governor Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights.

The purpose of the Education Foundation, which would be independent from the Regional District Board of Education, would be to raise funds from corporate or private sources to be used for education programs not covered under the board's annual budget.

A board of trustees would be required to oversee the foundation, according to Merachnik, with one or two individuals representing each of the six district communities. These communities include Springfield, Mountainside, Kenilworth, Clark, Garwood and Berkeley Heights.

Several people have already expressed interest in serving as trustees for the foundation, but district officials emphasized during Monday's meeting that additional volunteers will be needed in order to get the foundation off the ground by the beginning of the 1991-92 school year.

"The Board of Education is interested in exploring the idea of an education foundation, which would have a great deal of flexibility and leeway that a board of education doesn't have," Merachnik remarked. "However, unless you have someone representing each one of our six communities we can't have a regional education foundation."

"We're essentially appealing to two groups of people," added district spokesman Thomas Long. "Residents in general, because the schools belong to the residents, and individuals who may not live in the district but who own businesses here or work for major corporations locally."

Three trustee candidates attended the meeting with Merachnik and Long at Jonathan Dayton, including Clark attorney Stan Fink and Berkeley Heights residents Alan Schwarz and Tony Fernandez. Fink is a member of the Regional District Business Education Advisory Council.

Schwarz, who is active in the Governor Livingston PTA, stressed that the proposed foundation would provide supplemental funding for district education, noting that "there were some things which we were able to offer in 1980 but which we will not be able to offer in 1992."

A banker, Fernandez explained that he was motivated to become involved in plans for a foundation out of concern for his son, who will be attending high school next year. He said he wanted to "do his part" to enhance the quality of education offered to students at the four regional high schools.

The prospective trustees agreed that the potential impact of the Quality Education Act of 1990, which calls for a reduction in state aid to New Jersey school districts between 1992-1996, could make the services of an education foundation especially vital to the regional district.

Anyone interested in serving as a trustee for the Regional District Education Foundation can call Long at 376-6300, extension 328.

PEER TUTORING — Michele Pitts, standing, a guidance counselor at Deerfield School in Mountainside, looks over sixth-grade student Elizabeth Segall, seated at center, and first-grader Eva Greenberg, seated in foreground, during a Peer Tutoring session. Students in grades 1 through 8 meet during the student lunch activity period on Thursdays to either tutor or be tutored in any subject area. The program was initiated by Pitts and Deerfield School Enrichment Coordinator Elaine Fass.

Trailside explores history, nature

By Suzette Stalker
Managing Editor

Trailside Nature and Science Center, located on Coles Avenue and New Providence Road in Mountainside, is planning an array of family activities for February, focusing on American history, plants and animals common to the Watchung Reservation, as well as two planetarium shows.

The festivities will begin Feb. 18 with a program titled "Maple Sugaring," to be held from 10-11:30 a.m. Park naturalist Joyce Laudise will explain the process of making maple sugar, which involves "tapping" sap from a maple sugar tree, collecting it and then boiling it down into a syrup.

The planetarium shows, titled "Rodney The Rocket" and "Dusting Off Dinosaurs," will be offered by Trailside on Feb. 19 and 20. The programs, one for younger children and the other for older ones, will both be presented by planetarium instructor Wendy Ackerman.

"Rodney The Rocket," from 11-11:45 a.m., is for children ages 4 to 6 accompanied by an adult. This program will feature a film plus a projection of the constellation on the domed ceiling of the planetarium, according to Trailside Assistant Director Betty Ann Kelly.

"This show is for preschoolers, most of whom have probably never been inside a planetarium before," Kelly explained. "Our aim is to introduce them to a planetarium and to give them basic facts about the planets."

The second planetarium show, "Dusting Off Dinosaurs," will be held from 1:15-2 p.m. for children age 6 and older. This program will explore the "big bang" theory of how dinosaurs became extinct millions of years ago and what atmospheric changes may have preceded this event.

Wildlife enthusiasts will have an opportunity to seek out inhabitants of the Watchung Reservation during "On The Trail Of The Whitetail Deer" and "Owl Prowl," two outdoor programs which will help participants discover and identify the whitetail deer and various species of owls.

"On The Trail Of The Whitetail Deer," a program geared toward the whole family, will be offered on Feb. 19 from 4-5:15 p.m. and will consist of a slide show followed by a walk along the reservation to discover signs of deer.

"Owl Prowl," for family members 12 years old and up, will take place Feb. 20 from 7:30-9 p.m. and will also feature a slide show and a hike in search of Great Horned, Screech and Barred owls.

A look at the lives of American pioneer children will be presented on Feb. 21 from 10-11:15 a.m. by preschool naturalist Debbie Stein, who will demonstrate crafts and games which were enjoyed by youngsters 200 years ago, in an era "before television and Toys R Us," Kelly said.

This program, titled "Pioneer Winter," will be open to children ages 4 to 6 accompanied by a parent, and will feature crafts and games, such as the making of pine needle dolls, which were popular during colonial times.

Families with children age 7 years and up are also invited to attend a showing of "Lenape — The Original People," on Feb. 21 from 1-1:30 p.m. The film colorfully recounts the history, customs and wishes of the Lenape, or Delaware, Indians through personal testimony by tribe members themselves.

Trailside will celebrate George Washington's birthday on Feb. 22 from 10-11 a.m. with "Catch Your Shadow," lead by park naturalist Ruth Yablonsky. Children in first grade and up will be able to create their own silhouette portraits the way that people did during Washington's lifetime.

Children in first grade and up, accompanied by a parent, will also have an opportunity Feb. 22 to "Meet A Live Owl!" from 1-2 p.m. during a program featuring naturalist Giselle Chazotte of the Avian Wildlife Center, Sparta.

Chazotte will discuss the habits and behavior of owls and will bring along two live owls for participants to view up close.

"Most kids don't get a chance to see a live owl in person, because the creatures are nocturnal," Kelly said. "This will be an opportunity to learn all about owls' adaptations, how they hunt, how they get their food and their role in ecology."

Preregistration is required for all Trailside's February programs except for the planetarium shows and "Meet A Live Owl." For information on fees and space availability, one can call Trailside Nature and Science Center at 789-3670.

Seniors to meet

The Senior Citizens' Club of Mountainside will meet on Wednesday, Feb. 13, at noon at Manor Care Nursing and Rehabilitation Center, Route 22 West, Mountainside.

Capt. Raymond Lynch of the Union County Prosecutor's Office will be guest speaker. His topic will be "Protecting Yourself from Fraudulent Schemes."

Coffee and cake will be served. On Wednesday, Feb. 27, a slide show on the subject of horticulture will be presented by Irv Wiener, master gardener, with Ruth Samuelson. They will answer questions to help people grow flowers and vegetables, and offer pertinent information on the subject of special interest to seniors.

Hospital plans spring benefit

The Auxiliary of Children's Specialized Hospital in Mountainside will present its annual Spring Party and Fashion Show on April 26 at the Short Hills Hilton, featuring contemporary styles by some of the most prominent American and European fashion designers.

Fashions by Armani, Adolfo, Calvin Klein, Anne Klein, Donna Karan and Caroline Rohme will be featured throughout the show, titled "The Best of Saks Fifth Ave." The event will focus upon today's fashions, particularly dresses, which accommodate the lifestyles of all women.

The Auxiliary, a volunteer group, traditionally raises funds for various projects to assist patients at the pediatric rehabilitation facility, which treats children and adolescents suffering from accident-related injuries, congenital defects and other afflictions.

This year, proceeds from the Spring Party and Fashion Show will benefit the pledge made by the auxiliary to outfit a room equipped with four beds on the hospital's long-term care unit. Tickets are now available and can be obtained from any auxiliary member or by calling the hospital at 233-3720.

"The auxiliary has been an active, important aspect of Children's Specialized for over 80 of the hospital's 100-year history," commented Janet O. Jackson of Westfield, president of the auxiliary.

"We're proud to continue our tradition of support to the hospital and to the young patients," she continued. "Our annual spring party, an example of our commitment, promises again to be an exciting event."

Children's Specialized Hospital, headquartered on New Providence Road in Mountainside, currently houses 60 acute care beds and 25 long-term care beds. The hospital also operates an outpatient facility in Fanwood and is currently developing a 30-bed inpatient branch in Ocean County.

Registration scheduled for Deerfield students

The Mountainside school district will be holding registration for kindergarten students for the 1991-92 school year during the month of February. Parents should contact the Deerfield School office at 232-8828 to set up an appointment.

Children must be five years old on or before Oct. 1 in order to be admitted to kindergarten in the year when school entrance is requested and must be six years old on or before Oct. 1 in order to be admitted to first grade.

Exception to the above will be made only if the child is transferring from another public school or in a program of its equivalent. However, the administration may waive the Oct. 1 date to Dec. 1 if in the opinion of the Child Study Team, the child is deemed ready for school.

For entrance into school, all pupils must have a complete immunization series for diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus — four doses — with the last dose having been administered not less than six months after the previous dose.

Children who register for entrance to school shall be required to exhibit a birth certificate or its equivalent as proof of age and birth date. In addition, the following is required:

For kindergarten registrants:

- All New Jersey state-required immunizations.

- A report of a physician's examination and signature.
- A tuberculin test within the last year.

Students transferring from another school:

- A transfer card including immunization requirements.
- Other information, medical and scholastic, to be forwarded by the sending school.

Commission reorganizes

The organization meeting of the Mountainside Recreation Commission was held recently at Mountainside Borough Hall. John A. Connolly was re-elected chairman and Regina Picut was elected to the Pool Committee.

Sue Winans was reappointed as Recreation Director/Pool Administrator and Sandy Burdge was reappointed to the position of secretary/pool bookkeeper. Both are one-year terms.

Meeting dates for 1991 include Feb. 14, March 21, April 18, May 16, June 20, July 25, Sept. 19, Oct. 17, Nov. 21 and Dec. 12. Members of the commission include Jim Barrett, John Connolly, Pat Debbie, Tony DiVito, Carl Marinelli, Regina Picut and George Serio.

Barrett and Debbie will also serve on the Pool Committee this year.

DiVito was just appointed to the commission to fill the unexpired term of Keith Turner, who is now a member of the Mountainside Borough Council. DiVito, a manager of human resources for Bell Atlantic, has lived in Mountainside for 12 years. He and his wife, Deanna, have three children.

A graduate of Seton Hall University, South Orange, DiVito is a captain in the Army Reserves, serves as a board member of the Wesley Hall Nursery School in Westfield and is a member of the Atlas Pythagorus Masonic Lodge in Westfield.

Councilman Turner is the liaison to the commission from the Mountainside Borough Council.

Benefit dance noted

The Union County Irish-American Association is sponsoring a dance for "Project Children," on Feb. 9 from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. at St. Catherine's School Hall, 1003 North Broad St. in Elizabeth.

The Union County Irish-American Association is an organization that has more than 12 states in the United States acting as host for a period of six weeks to Catholic and Protestant children to help them escape the tension and problems of their homeland.

According to Marie Troiano, Chairperson of the Union County Irish-American Association, the children who visited the United States last year had to get their air fare paid by the host family.

"I am chairperson of the dance. I hosted a 10-year-old girl from the worst part of Northern Ireland. She was a pleasure to have in my home, and we visited all the amusement parks in New Jersey and Pennsylvania," Troiano said.

There will be soda, beer, coffee, tea, cake, and Irish soda bread served at the dance, and music will be provided by the Willie Lynch Group. Alcoholic beverages will not be served; however, one may bring one's own bottle. For tickets, one may phone Pat Driscoll at 352-7863, Barbara Mahon at 926-5391 after 6 p.m., or Marie Troiano at 351-3636 after 5 p.m.

library notes

The Mountainside Public Library will feature a collection of snow domes as featured in the national magazine "Decorating and Remodeling." Miriam Bein, Mountainside library director, has been collecting snow domes for approximately four years.

In all, she has more than 600 of all varieties of snow domes, including Christmas, advertising, states, tourist attractions such as amusement parks and caves, World's Fairs and Expositions.

Bein reported that she finds them at airport gift shops, souvenir stands, museum shops and other places, and that her friends are always on the lookout for the domes when traveling and that duplicates are traded with other collectors.

The library director said her specialties include children's literature and older figurals where the character is molded around the dome. She prefers the older domes and out-of-the-way places with a decal or plaque showing its origin.

On display in one case will be children's literature and fairy tales. The other will hold travel domes. The idea for the collection started when Bein found a Lone Ranger dome, which is one of the oldest domes ever manufactured.

SIGNS OF TENSION

How can you tell if you are suffering from nervous tension? There are certain signals you should be aware of that tell you relief is needed from this condition. Talking in a loud voice, raising your voice to a higher pitch, and talking more rapidly than normal may be signs of nervous tension. Do you frown more often than usual? Are you irritable and "out of sorts?" And when you lie down to rest, do you have difficulty in falling asleep because of an overall tenseness in your body? Untreated or unrelieved nervous tension may affect your whole body as well as your disposition. It may pull your spine out of alignment, or cause a tightening of the muscles in your neck, back, shoulder and pelvic muscles or your thighs. Nervous tension may cause "insults" to nerve tissue in these areas as well as other parts of your body. This results in aches and pains as well as mental irritation until you get the relief you need to feel well again.

Parent workshop slated

The Huntington Learning Center will hold a workshop titled "Homework: A Parent's Survival Guide," on Feb. 12 from 7-9 p.m. at Walnut Avenue School, Cranford. This two-hour program was developed in response to growing parental concern over weak study skills and poor homework habits.

"Homework is a vital element of an education. The work students do at home reinforces what they learn at school," said Kim Orth of the Huntington Learning Center in Livingston.

"Many students never acquire adequate study habits...sometimes the quality of the homework doesn't reflect the student's best work, or it takes all night to get assignments done, or the child will wait until the very last minute...there are many symptoms of poor study skills. And with understanding and commitment, these skills can be strengthened," she said.

For example, during "Homework: A Parent's Survival Guide," parents are told that they, together with their child, should define mutually acceptable goals and expectations.

"You can't expect a child to achieve a goal that is not clearly defined," Orth stated. "Simply saying 'do your homework' may not be sufficient direction for some students."

Admission to the workshop is free. For more information about the program or about the Huntington Learning Center, one can call 994-2900.

Tax assistance available

The Springfield Public Library, 66 Mountain Ave., will offer income tax assistance from 9 a.m. to noon beginning Feb. 19. Trained volunteers will be present to assist with federal and state income tax returns and applications for the Homestead Rebate.

Taxpayers seeking assistance should call the library at 310-4390 for an appointment and should bring a copy of last year's tax return. The program is sponsored by the American Association of Retired Persons.

With respect to the Homestead Rebate, changes in the law require the filing of a state income tax return even if no tax is owed. The amount of the rebate is calculated differently. It is based upon income and real estate taxes or rent paid.

Rebates for homeowners range from $100 to $500, and for tenants from $35 to $500. Gross income in excess of $100,000 does not qualify for the rebate.

Support group to begin

A free self-help group for persons with anorexia nervosa, bulimia and compulsive eating disorders will begin on Feb. 15 from 6-7 p.m. The group will meet for seven weeks at the home of Amy Koontz, 514 South Livingston Ave., Livingston.

The group will be led by Koontz, a counselor who has successfully overcome an eating disorder herself. The aim of the group will be to provide people with the support and understanding they need to start them on the road to recovery.

Valentine customs will be highlighted

St. Valentine's Day will be celebrated at the Miller-Cory House Museum, 614 Mountain Ave., Westfield on Sunday, Feb. 10, from 2-4 p.m. Named in honor of St. Valentine, a Roman martyr priest of the third century A.D. who was the patron saint of lovers, this festive occasion became a welcome winter treat.

The custom of exchanging valentines was brought to America by the English settlers but was not widely celebrated during the 1700s. Lace papers and hearts produced in England and Germany were often put together by hand and sold in America in the 1800s.

Evie Kennelly of Westfield will demonstrate some techniques used in making early valentines and will have a variety of examples on display for visitors to enjoy.

Ann Douglas, Lisa Stroup and Theresa Kanzler of the museum's cooking committee will explain how farm families such as the Millers and Corys preserved and utilized apples throughout the winter months. The 1802 inventory of Joseph Cory's possessions lists a cider house, cider barrels and a cider mill and press.

Bonnie LoPresti and Bette Petersen will be conducting tours through the 18th-century farmhouse, which was originally part of a 100-acre farm in the "Westfields" of Elizabethown.

Unique valentine gifts can be found in the museum shop along with plenty of winter reading materials and craft projects. For additional information about the museum's programs, one can call the Miller-Cory Museum office at 232-1776.

COLONIAL VALENTINE — Volunteer Evie Kennelly will create early Valentine designs Feb. 10 during a special celebration at the Miller-Cory House Museum in Westfield. The custom of exchanging valentines was brought to America by English settlers during the 1700s, but did not become popular until the 19th century. Original valentine gifts will also be available in the museum gift shop.

Artwork to be displayed

The public is invited to view the art of Betty M. Stroppel, a well-known area watercolorist and art teacher, which will be on display at Children's Specialized Hospital, Coles Avenue and New Providence Road, Mountainside, throughout the month of February.

Stroppel, a resident of North Plainfield, is a graduate of the School of Fine Arts of Miami University and has served as a faculty member of the du Cret School of Art in Plainfield. She also conducts workshops and lectures and also teaches privately throughout the area.

She is the recipient of more than 100 awards for her watercolors, including a fellowship grant from the New Jersey Council on the Arts; the Medal of Honor from the New Jersey Water Color Society and the President's Award in the Grand National Exhibition of the American Artists Professional League.

She is a member of the New Jersey Water Color Society, the Garden State Watercolor Society, the Westfield Art Association and was recently elected to membership in the prestigious National Association of Women Artists.

Her paintings are in many public, private and corporate rooms throughout the United States and Canada. If an individual or group is interested in viewing the display, they can contact the hospital's community resource coordinator, Shirley Biegler, at 233-3720, extension 379.

The artists' works are for sale, with a portion benefiting Children's Specialized Hospital.

Mail call

For the men and women serving in the Persian Gulf, mail call becomes synonymous with home. Our armed forces personnel discover that each letter they receive written by a member of their family, a friend, or even by someone who lives in their hometown, shortens the distance between the Middle East and the United States.

Letter writers describe the mood here — the American flags waving proudly on almost every street in the neighborhood, the yellow ribbons tied around trees, on the sideview mirrors of vehicles, and on front doors all across Middletown, U.S.A.

They write about the protests across the nation and try to ingrain in them that, while most of the protesters decry the war, more still back the troops.

Letters might include anecdotes about a younger brother or sister, a word or two about war efforts on the part of the local citizenry, or a recap of the final seconds of the Giants' victory in the Super Bowl.

Regardless, those are letters from home, and probably the one item every member of the armed forces anticipates while he or she awaits the next move in the Gulf.

The Mountainside Echo has been behind our troops since they began deployment in Saudi Arabia and through every Scud missile attack perpetrated by Saddam Hussein. We at the newspaper look for feature stories — reaction stories — that highlight the members of the armed forces who reside here. When it comes down to it, it is they who are preserving our freedom for future generations and deserve to be noted.

We will continue to do so, and in the meantime, we'd like to assist in reaching out and making their lives in the Persian Gulf a little more bearable.

We'd like to ensure them more correspondence from home.

If you have the address of a member of your family, a friend, or a resident of the community serving in Operation Desert Storm and would like others to write to them, drop us a note and we'll publish the names and addresses as soon as possible.

Send your letters to Roll Call, c/o Mountainside Echo, P.O. Box 3109, 1291 Stuyvesant Ave., Union, 07083.

Write to our soldiers and let them know you're behind them.

Mideast peace was not in Saddam's plans

Report From Washington

By Matt Rinaldo

The missile terror attack by Iraq against Israeli civilians in an effort aimed at widening the Persian Gulf war should lay to rest any doubts that Saddam Hussein is ever interested in peace in the Mideast. Israel is the fourth neighboring country that Iraq has attacked; the others being Saudi Arabia, Iran and Kuwait.

For over a decade, Saddam Hussein has been planning a war of conquest, and he received enormous help from countries that sold Iraq billions of dollars in arms, including the Soviet-made SCUD missiles that were launched against Israel and Saudi Arabia.

The buildup of Iraq's military, chemical and nuclear arsenal points up the urgency of halting a worldwide arms race through tough trade and financial sanctions against countries that buy or sell weapons of mass destruction.

Even as the missiles were on the launching pads in the Persian Gulf, former Warsaw pact countries that desperately need capital were busy selling their surplus military hardware to the highest bidders, including many poor Third World countries. Defense analysts fear that the Soviet Union will join the parade by dumping tanks, planes and missiles on the world market as part of an agreement limiting its forces in Europe.

The Soviet Union has dominated worldwide arms sales during the past 10 years with sales of $134 billion. Almost $46 billion worth of Soviet-made weapons went to Iraq. France sold it $26 billion, Britain $14 billion, China $6.2 billion, and North Korea $3.3 billion in modern arms and missiles.

This enormous and unprecedented arms buildup in Iraq does not include the military bases and infrastructure developed with help from several countries. Nor does it calculate the costs to pay the West German firms for their technology and expertise in the construction of chemical and biological warfare plants.

The Western democracies have been just as culpable in their hunger for profits from selling arms to unstable countries, such as Iraq and Syria. Six of the world's top 10 merchants of mass destruction are Western countries, and they accounted for $104 billion worth of arms sales out of the $261 billion sold by the top 10 exporting countries over the last decade.

With 6 percent of the world's gross national product and 20 percent of all government expenditures of developing countries spent on arms, it is time to halt this dangerous competition. Once the Iraq war ends, President Bush will have an opportunity to offer a new initiative to stop the arms race. As a start, I am urging the president to reassess the proposed transfer of $30 billion worth of U.S. weapons to our allies in the Persian Gulf.

Only the oil-rich Gulf states can afford to purchase the sophisticated missiles and new weapons of mass destruction. Indeed, Iraq's main goal in invading Kuwait was the billions in oil wealth it needed to develop its nuclear capacity and missile delivery systems. Stopping Iraq thus became a moral imperative.

The Bush-Gorbachev summit meeting can lay the ground for establishing a common framework for controlling the arms race. We must end this plunge toward military terror by dangerous dictatorships.

Congress can do its part. I am sponsoring the War Prevention and Arms Transfer Act to cut off foreign firms and buyer nations from U.S. trade and military and economic aid if they violate restrictions of the Arms Export Control Act. The president could waive these provisions on a case-by-case basis and allow arms sales for legitimate self-defense. But long-range missiles that can be fitted with nuclear or germ warheads could not be sold to countries that are determined by the president to be a threat to peace.

Arms makers would have a stark choice: Either stop selling weapons of mass destruction to countries like Iraq and Syria, or lose access to the lucrative U.S. market for consumer and industrial goods. It could serve as a model for restraint by other countries caught up in the arms race.

Rep. Matt Rinaldo is the U.S. congressman representing New Jersey's 7th District, which includes Mountainside.

Senators offer reality to temper war support

Screening New Jersey

By Steve Adubato

"The war will be longer than people had anticipated. There will have to be ground forces used, and that will be bloody and long."

— Sen. Bill Bradley

"We could very well be looking at reinstating the draft. Operation Desert Storm could plunge us into a very deep recession."

— Sen. Frank Lautenberg

No one can accuse New Jersey's two U.S. senators of pulling punches or being overly optimistic about our involvement in the Persian Gulf. In separate statements last week, Bradley and Lautenberg offered gloomy forecasts regarding the duration of the war and the condition of the Middle East when the war finally does end.

Bradley and Lautenberg were two of 47 senators to vote against the use of U.S. force against Iraq on Jan. 12. But once Operation Desert Storm began, both voted to support the war effort. That has not stopped either from speaking openly and somewhat surprisingly about the Gulf crisis.

In a speech before the Morris Chamber of Commerce, Lautenberg, a member of the Defense and Foreign Relations Subcommittee, said, "The war could last weeks, even months and could turn from an air into a ground war with thousands, perhaps tens of thousands of casualties." He also quoted reliable sources that estimated that "90 percent of the casualties will be American."

Beyond these gloomy predictions of casualties, Lautenberg's statement regarding the likelihood of the draft being reinstated is particularly troublesome. The senator's son, Josh, is of draft age. While 80 percent of the U.S. public says they support Operation Desert Storm, that figure doesn't take into account the possibility of a draft. Obviously, the idea of moving beyond volunteer military service is something most of us don't want to talk about. Therefore, Lautenberg's frank talk is like a slap in the face. A reality check of dramatic proportions.

Beyond the human cost, Lautenberg spoke directly to the issue of the economics of war. Noting that since October, the war has cost us close to $15 billion, he concluded that a protracted war effort could "plunge us into a very deep recession," which would put off vital investments in non-defense areas such as education and health. There is a very good chance taxes will have to be raised to pay for this effort. Again, something most of us don't like to think about.

Finally, on the issue of stopping Saddam Hussein, Lautenberg again refuses to jump on the bandwagon: "We don't want to knock off one tyrant to make room for the rise of hostile, radical and dangerous regional powers like Syria or Iran. There is more at stake than just stopping a brutal bully on the world stage."

In an interview with a major North Jersey newspaper editorial board, Lautenberg's colleague Bill Bradley concurred, stating, "A war that takes tens of thousands of Iraqi lives, Arab lives, is one that could very well lead to a wave of anti-Western, anti-American sentiment when the war is over."

Bradley did say the United States would ultimately defeat Hussein, but questioned the price we would have to pay for such a "victory." "There will have to be ground forces used and that will be bloody and long," Bradley agreed with Lautenberg's assessment of further Middle East instability upon the war's conclusion, saying that a "crippled" Iraq would be vulnerable to stronger hostile neighbors such as Syria, Turkey and Iran. Such a dangerous development would not be good for the United States or for the only real friend we have in this volatile region — Israel.

Bradley said that the only way to avoid such chaos might be a "long-term American occupation of Iraq." Such an action would obviously be unpopular at home and even less popular among Arab countries. While most American's support our current war effort, are we willing to be the policeman for the Middle East with the responsibility of maintaining peace in a region that at times seems more comfortable when fighting?

With our preoccupation in the Persian Gulf, Bradley once again goes against the tide, raising an issue that is both uncomfortable and inconvenient for Americans, especially George Bush — that issue is the Soviet military crackdown in Lithuania and Latvia.

Saying that we may be witnessing "the death of Glasnost," in which 20 Lithuanians and Latvians have already been killed in their fight for freedom, Bradley called on the president to end economic and agricultural support to the Soviet Union.

And finally, Bradley reminds us that in spite of our current commitment to protect Kuwait and Saudi Arabia and the fact that it would anger our "good friend" Mikhail Gorbachev, we can't turn our backs on Lithuania and Latvia: "This is a democratically-elected parliament that's being surrounded by and intimidated by military force. I do not believe that we can fail to take action."

Waving the flag, donning yellow ribbons and cheering for our troops clearly has a place when our country goes to war. Optimism is important, patriotism essential. We all as Americans need to be supportive at such a critical time in our history. But so, too, is it important to have candid, sometimes unvarnished talk from our political leaders about the realities of war and its ugly aftermath. Sens. Lautenberg and Bradley have provided that in spades.

Cures may create some other problems

State We're In

By David F. Moore

A fascinating thing about our environment is that we uncover new problems all the time. Now electricity has become an issue, perhaps one we should have suspected might have human effects all along, but didn't. The problem is called EMF — electromagnetic fields.

Statistical evidence of leukemia and other types of cancer happening in people subjected to magnetic fields from power lines, and power-line transformers, has appeared from time to time for some 40 years. At the same time, other researchers have been collecting similar evidence about radio, radar and television radiation.

All of the above are classified as "non-ionizing" radiation, as opposed to ionized radiation from radioactivity, another source of cancer.

Not surprisingly, the electric power industry, in the face of inconclusive research, has not done much about dealing with evidence concerning EMFs. It's gratifying to read a new report from the Electric Power Research Institute which treats the subject of EMFs realistically.

Some suspect that trouble stems from the electrical and electrochemical components of life itself. Animal life functions by means of a nervous system driven by electric impulses. The first life was created in part by electrical discharges, some believe.

Many researchers believe EMF causes interference in the functioning of cells. But although circumstantial evidence abounds, proof is lacking, as it is also lacking in any other potential cause of cancer.

A great deal of research is being concentrated on the effect of electromagnetic radiation on life forms, with many mysteries. For example, low-level magnetic field exposure seems to induce cancer in some instances — but not higher levels.

Does length of exposure to EMF's have different effects? Do alternating currents, as in our house wiring, affect us differently than direct currents, such as those in batteries? Do frequencies other than that of house current, which alternates direction 60 times per second, have greater or lesser impacts? Those are among top questions.

There is also the possibility that biological damage might be done if the magnetic forces of the earth, electric lines and living cells are aligned with each other.

Some such effects are a bit like the old science-fiction ray guns, where the enemy is destroyed by vibrations, or like resonance, when soldiers marching in step across a bridge destroy it by making it swing beyond its designed capacity.

While there are some studies linking EMF with increases in some forms of cancer, other studies show no linkage. But some companies, feeling that preemptive action is useful, have gone about reducing magnetic fields in and around their products, such as electric blankets and computers.

Without knowledge of what to fix, it's pretty hard to solve a problem. As with lots of environmental situations, the cure may create another problem. We need at least to have an idea of what EMF levels to avoid in order to redesign house wiring, transmission lines, appliances or motors — all of which and more produce EMFs.

Learn laws, increase those after-tax profits

When it comes to running a business, taxes can be a make-or-break proposition. If you want to increase your after-tax profit, take the time to familiarize yourself with tax laws that can have an impact on your bottom line. Here are a few basic strategies suggested by the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants.

To offset the high cost of office equipment — whether office furniture or a computer system — you can depreciate the equipment over its useful life. For computer equipment, the depreciation period is generally five years. For other depreciable business assets, such as office furniture, the write-off period usually ranges from seven to 10 years. But keep in mind that there are certain assets which may be subject to additional restrictions and expense limitations.

As an alternative to depreciation, you may choose a special "expensing" election. With first-year expensing, you can take an immediate tax deduction for equipment purchases of up to $10,000 per year, as long as that amount does not exceed your business income. You basically treat these equipment costs as current expenses and deduct them in full in the year incurred — just as you would deduct salaries, office supplies, and utilities. If the property costs more than $10,000, the excess amount can be depreciated. The $10,000 limit applies as long as your business equipment purchases are less than $200,000 for the year.

Here's an example: If you buy a photocopier for $20,000, half of the copier's cost can be taken as an immediate tax deduction. The other $10,000 is depreciated over five years. Expensing gives you the greatest tax boost when you apply it to property that would otherwise have the longest depreciable life.

As a small business owner, you are allowed to deduct 80 percent of the cost of business meals and entertainment expenses as long as they are "directly related to" or "associated with" the active conduct of your business. Generally, this rule means that you must discuss business immediately before, during, or immediately after the meal. In addition, the costs must be reasonable.

To protect your deduction in case the Internal Revenue Service decides to launch an audit, make sure you carefully record the date, place and business purpose of the meal or entertainment, as well as the amount spent, the name of the individual entertained, the business relationship, and the topic of discussion.

Bear in mind that the rules for overnight business trips allow you to deduct 100 percent of your lodging and travel expenses. Furthermore, the cost of meals while away from home on business are 80 percent deductible, whether or not there is any special business purpose for the meal.

When you hire your children to work for your business, you may generally deduct their salaries as a business expense. As an added incentive, the income your children earn will be taxed at their own tax rate, not yours. Most children are taxed at a rate of 15 percent. Bear in mind that deducting wages to a family member may trip an IRS flag, so handle this situation carefully.

To ensure your deduction, your children must actually perform necessary business services and their wages must be in line with what you would pay an outsider. You are also required to withhold taxes from their wages and to provide them with W-2 forms at the end of the year. For children under age 18, however, you do not need to withhold FICA taxes. Finally, CPAs advise you to maintain detailed records of any work your children perform for your business.

For further information on how tax laws can affect your company's profitability, you may want to consult a CPA.

Death penalty is discussed

Former Assembly Speaker Chuck Hardwick, R-21, the sponsor of legislation that would put teeth in New Jersey's death penalty law and limit court-ordered proportionality reviews, recently issued a statement in reaction to the state Supreme Court ruling in the Robert Marshall capital punishment case.

"After 27 consecutive reversals and years of procrastination, I'm glad the court has finally affirmed a conviction in a capital punishment case," Hardwick said.

"But we shouldn't lose sight of the fact the court did not say Robert Marshall will be put to death for his crime," he added. "The court will undertake a proportionality review to determine whether the sentence will stand."

"For some time now, I have been warning that proportionality review may be one of the largest remaining loopholes," the assemblyman said.

The court may, in fact, already have laid the groundwork for overturning Marshall's sentence by using proportionality review. In its most limited form, proportionality review will compare the sentence imposed in the Marshall case with other cases where the death penalty was imposed.

"We have already seen the court overturn the conviction of Walter Gerald, who viciously stomped an invalid to death. Marshall can now argue that if someone as vicious as Gerald can't be sentenced to death, why then should he? I will believe the Supreme Court is not trying to subvert the death penalty when it finally sets a date for a death sentence," Hardwick concluded.

PUBLIC NOTICE

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT THE REGULAR Y SCHEDULED BOARD OF ADJUSTMENT MEETING ON MONDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1991 HAS BEEN RESCHEDULED TO MONDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1991 AT 8:00 P.M. THIS IS DUE TO THE OBSERVANCE OF LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY.

Valerie A. Saunders Secretary to the Board of Adjustment U01659 Mountainside Echo, (Fee: $5.25) February 7, 1991

New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection Division of Water Resources Ground Water Quality Management Trenton, N.J. 08625 (609) 292-0424

PUBLIC NOTICE AND STATEMENT OF BASIS

Notice is hereby given that the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection, Division of Water Resources, proposes to terminate the valid New Jersey Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NJDES) Discharge to Ground Water (DGW) Closure/Post-Closure permit issued to:

Stampings Incorporated 27 S. Sheffield Mountainside, NJ 07092 The site is a metal parts production facility. Metal is cut (stamped) and formed for a variety of intermediate products used by other industries.

Waste Water from a metal parts tumbling operation was formerly discharged to an on-site dry well located underneath the building. This discharge was to Wisconsin Stone, a crushed shale, limestone, and sandstone of the Triassic/Jurassic Brunswick Formation (Passaic Formation, USGS). Waste Water is now discharged to the Railway Valley Sewerage Authority.

The NJDES DGW Closure/Post-Closure permit required that the permittee implement a ground water sampling and analysis plan to confirm that there were no residual pollutants remaining from the past discharge. Two (2) monitoring wells or piezometers were installed, sampled on one (1) (MW-1) of two (2) (MW-2) occasions, depending on proximity to potential contaminant source areas, and found to be within acceptable standards.

This permit has been completed, to the satisfaction of the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection (Department), the closure/post-closure requirements of the permit. Therefore, the Department is preparing to re-classify the status of the Stampings Incorporated DGW activities as INACTIVE, and is considering the discharge unit as formally closed.

This notice is being given to inform the public that NJDES has prepared a draft TERMINATION notice for a NEW JERSEY POLLUTANT DISCHARGE ELIMINATION SYSTEM (NJDES) action (NJDES NO. NJ0072178), in accordance with the provisions of the New Jersey Pollutant Discharge Control Act (N.J.S.A. 15:10A-1 et seq.) and its Implementing Regulations (N.J.A.C. 7:14A-1 et seq.).

This is an existing facility with a past discharge to ground water. Implementation of the NJDES requirements are the enforcement mechanism by which existing and past pollutant discharges are brought into conformance and compliance with laws, regulations and standards. The pollution control requirements are those conditions necessary to restrict the discharge of pollutants and protect the public health and the environment.

Copies of the draft permit termination have been sent to the Mayor, Municipal Clerk, Planning Board, Sewerage Authority, Health Officer, and Environmental Commission of the Borough of Mountainside and/or the County of Union.

The draft document prepared by NJDES is based on the administrative record which is on file at the offices of the NJDES, Division of Water Resources, located at 401 East State Street, the City of Trenton, Mercer County, New Jersey. It is available for inspection, by appointment, between 8:30 A.M. and 4:00 P.M., Monday through Friday. Appointments for inspection may be scheduled by calling (609) 292-0400.

Interested persons may submit written comments on the draft to the Assistant Director, Ground Water Quality Management, at the address cited above. Comments shall be submitted within thirty (30) days of the date of this public notice. All persons, including the owner or operator, who believe that any condition set forth in this document is inappropriate should file and submit in writing to the Department all reasonably available arguments and factual grounds supporting their position, including all supporting material, by the close of the public comment period. All comments submitted by interested persons in response to this notice, within the public comment period, will be considered by the NJDES with respect to the requirements being applied to this facility. After the close of the public comment period, the Department will make a final decision. The Department will respond to all significant and timely comments within a reasonable period. The owner or operator and each person who has submitted written comments will receive notice of NJDES's final decision. Any interested person may request in writing that NJDES hold a nonadversarial public hearing on the draft document. This request shall state the nature of the issues to be raised in the proposed hearing and shall be submitted within thirty (30) days of the date of this public notice to the Assistant Director, Ground Water Quality Management, at the address cited above. A public hearing will be conducted whenever NJDES determines that there is a significant degree of public interest in the permit decision. If a public hearing is held, the public comment period in this notice shall automatically be extended to the close of the public hearing.

Additional information concerning the draft termination may be obtained between the hours of 9:30 A.M. and 4:30 P.M. Monday through Friday from Stephen J. Urbanik of the Bureau of Ground Water Discharge Control at (609) 292-0424.

Saving the Part

We humans tend to think in absolutes. All or nothing at all, as the old popular song has it. A desire for perfection seems to be built into most of us. That's not the way dentists approach the care of your teeth. We are not prepared to sacrifice the part for the whole, particularly when advances in treatment and technology make it possible to maintain the natural architecture of your mouth — an overriding objective.

There are times when tooth damage is limited and the way is open to saving part of a tooth, usually in the case of a molar. This may happen due to a loss of bone foundation or a vertical fracture that affects one side of the tooth.

There are several options before adopting the extreme recourse of extraction. Your dentist, for example, can take a vertical cut through the molar and surgically remove the damaged roots, saving the remainder with a root canal — truly, not as painful or frightening as popular legend has made it seem.

This, in technical terms, is called a hemisection. There is another way to deal with an infected root. Sometimes it can be surgically removed without harm to the tooth's crown as in the previous example.

Your dentist may consider adopting this approach if the tooth in question is capped and hemisection would entail demolishing a perfectly good restoration. Another reason would be if the tooth is basically healthy and in strong relationship with adjacent teeth.

The procedure in this case sounds severe but isn't, really. It calls for lifting and turning the tissue alongside the roots (called bisecting) and removing the infected root. The final step is to perform a root canal on the remaining root or roots.

The final message is elementary. Save the tooth, even if it's less than the whole. It's yours and is worth preserving.

Historical Society to address origins

Kathy Christo, vice president of the Union Township Historical Society, announced that guest speakers Bill and Ruth Frolich will be in attendance for the Feb. 21 meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the Rev. James and Hannah Caldwell Parsonage, 909 Caldwell Ave.

The program, "Union County History," will feature 35-mm color slides and commentary prepared by the Froliches. Some of the historic events illustrated will be Elizabethtown as the first permanent English settlement in the province of New Jersey, the origin of the cities, towns and boroughs in Union County, Thomas Edison's electric lighting of Roselle, Edison's cement homes built in Union Township, and the Central Railroad train and depots in Union County. Some of the old buildings still standing in Union County also will be shown.

The public is invited and admission is free. Kay Genis and Lucy Giacalone will be in charge of refreshments.

Genevieve DiVenuto, nominating committee chairperson, will present a slate of officers for the 1991-92 year.

Members of the Society have translated a Thomas Clark (father of Abraham Clark — a signer of the Declaration of Independence) and James Clark (Thomas' brother) Indenture made on Oct. 31, 1750, to purchase six acres of land, a sawmill and a grist mill, by the Rahway River in the Borough of Elizabethtown from Daniell Sayre for 133 pounds.

James Clark and his family were buried in the graveyard of the First Presbyterian Church. The deed belongs to the UTH Society.

Julius Benevento, graphic arts teacher at Union High School, framed the original document with a translation mounted next to the original.

The deed will be on display for open house on Feb. 17 from 2 to 4 p.m. Michael Yesenko, president of the Society, will conduct tours of the Parsonage.

The first 50 adult visitors to the museum on Sunday will receive a free copy of the translation of the Thomas and James Clark Indenture.

Chris Sapienza of Brearley Regional has Craig Mahon of Johnson Regional in trouble during this 119-pound bout during last Saturday's Brearley-Johnson clash in Kenilworth. Sapienza won, 9-4, while the Bears, who are 9-1-1 and the tentative No. 2 seed in North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2, won big, 45-14.

Park earns section's top seed

By Mark Yablonsky
Sports Editor

For the first time all season, the Roselle Park High wrestling team was outwrestled, but a 34-21 setback in Cranford this past Saturday did little to upset the team's high ranking, both in local and state competition.

In fact, according to an unofficial published report, the Panthers, with their 11-1 record, will be the No. 1 seed in North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2, ahead of second-seeded Brearley. If and when that does become official, that particular section will have only a post-season field of five teams and not eight, since not enough teams had good enough records and/or power-points to qualify.

This coming Tuesday in Roselle Park, there will be a preliminary bout between Butler and Cedar Grove, the section's tentative fourth and fifth seeds, respectively, at 5:30 p.m. That survivor will face Park later on in the evening at 7 p.m., and if Park wins, it will advance to the final two nights later, Feb. 14, against the Brearley-Kinnelon winner at 7 p.m. — also in Roselle Park.

Prior to Park's loss at Cranford, the Panthers were able to defeat Arthur L. Johnson of Clark, 42-18, last Wednesday in Clark. In that match, the Panthers, after winning at 103 pounds, 5-4, behind Mike DiMaio, dropped the 112-pound bout, but then reeled off seven straight wins to put it away.

Bob McCafferty started the run with a pin of Greg Mahon at 1:24 in the 119-pound bout, and John Petrosky (125), Keith Appello (130), Pat McCafferty (135), Anthony Barra (140), Chris Powers (145) and John Ranieri (152) won after that.

Also, unbeaten junior Dave Patterson, who now stands at 15-0 along with Ranieri, pinned Bill Flemm at the 1:51 mark at 171 pounds. Junior Ryan Dwyer won Park's other bout, an 18-7 decision over Roy Piitta at 189 pounds.

Against Cranford, DiMaio came through with a 5-4 decision over John Cuccolo in the opening 103-pound match, but it would be the only time all night that Park would hold the lead. Park's other winners against the Cougars were Keith Appello, who won, 6-5, over Dan Clancy at 130 pounds; 135-pounder Pat McCafferty, Ranieri and Dave Patterson.

Patterson in fact recorded a fall over Greg Williams in just 24 seconds.

"We wrestled and we just got beat, that's all," explained Park coach Sam Appello, when asked if the loss to Cranford might have any effect on his team. "You've got to give Cranford a lot of credit."

Will Panthers be 6th?

By Mark Yablonsky
Sports Editor

By the time you read this, the seedings for this year's Union County boys' basketball tournament will have been chosen and made public. And Roselle Park, which was 18-0 entering Tuesday's game with St. Mary's, was hoping for a seeding as high as sixth — providing, of course, that Park was able to defeat St. Mary's.

If nothing else, you can be sure that Park's unblemished record will have caused an extra debate or two to pop up along the way. There are those who say that 18-0 is 18-0, and deserves to be acknowledged as such; and, of course, there are others who have been insisting that strength of schedule is more important — meaning that a school larger than Roselle Park should get the benefit of the doubt. Whatever.

"I think the way we've played all season, we do deserve a No. 6 seeding," explained Panther skipper Pat Lalley on Monday evening. "If we do get the sixth seed, we just have to prove that we're capable of beating the first team we play."

"Record-wise, we deserve that seed, and we've just got to prove that we can play."

More than likely, Park, if it is seeded sixth, will face the No. 11 seed in first-round play, and teams such as New Providence and Union Catholic were two real possibilities for the No. 11 spot at last night's seeding committee meeting.

In the meantime, Scott Sexton, the red-hot junior shooting guard, just keeps right on rolling. In Park's 55-43 victory over New Providence last Friday night in Roselle Park, Sexton pleased the hometown fans with a 33-point effort, a new season high for him.

Sexton, who is averaging roughly 18 points a game this season, was 6-for-7 from three-point range and 11-for-17 off the floor overall against the Pioneers.

Other team leaders include junior forward Steve McCauley, who is averaging 12 points a game, and senior center Scott Bermingham, who is averaging eight points and eight rebounds a game.

Also, senior point guard Mike Leonardis is averaging close to seven assists and three steals per game. Chris Kelly, a senior forward, is averaging 10 points and five rebounds per contest.

"It's been a great year so far, and hopefully, that will carry over into the counties and the states," Lalley added.

Bears clinch state slot

By Bob Taylor Jr.
Sports Correspondent

The 1990-91 Brearley Regional High wrestling team picked up two more decisive victories during the past week, and ended up clinching a post-season berth in North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2 as a result. The Bears, who are now 9-1-1, defeated Bound Brook, 38-24, last Wednesday, and then outpointed sister school Arthur L. Johnson of Clark, 45-14, on Saturday in Kenilworth.

Both matches were team efforts, with the Bears winning key bouts up and down the line.

Bound Brook came into Kenilworth riding the momentum of a big victory over Johnson, and kept it going by winning the first three bouts over Brearley to grab a 12-0 lead. But beginning with a 12-1 win by Bob Cox at 125 pounds, the Bears won eight of the last 10 bouts, including two by forfeit, to put it away. The key victories came at 135 and 140 pounds, with junior Ron Cagno beating Dave Parisi, 7-3, in the former bout; and co-captain Clint Kaminski securing a pin in the latter.

At 152 pounds, senior Deomid Rappoport won his first varsity bout of the season by defeating Greg Beatty, 10-0.

Against Johnson, the Bears dominated throughout. Dom Tripodi began things with a pin at 103 pounds, and Joe Dillon won at 112 by forfeit. After Chris Sapienza defeated Craig Mahon, 9-4, at 119 pounds, Johnson got its first points of the day when Tim Hoerle settled for a 4-4 draw at 125 with Cox.

The Bears later won at 135 pounds behind Cagno, and ended up capturing the last five matches to win handily.

Individually, the Bears have also fared well this season. They have seven wrestlers with 10 victories or more, including co-captain Vic Verno (13), Bob Taylor (12), Jose Rodriguez (11) and Scott DuBeau (11), Kaminski (10), Tripodi (10) and Cagno (10).

Prior to the Group 1 sectionals, for which Brearley will likely be seeded second, the Bears will compete in the Union County wrestling tournament this weekend in Elizabethtown. The UCT begins tomorrow evening and concludes on Saturday.

'Dawg grapplers halted

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High wrestling team returned to the mats this past Saturday and lost a tough 38-29 decision to Governor Livingston Regional in Berkeley Heights.

Dayton, which hadn't wrestled since losing, 42-19 to Brearley on Jan. 23, got off to a quick lead behind wins from Jim Basile at 103 pounds, Dante Puorro at 112 and Kevin Delaney at 119.

But after that, the Bulldogs managed just three more wins the remainder of the way: by Pat Laffan, Russ Nesevich and heavyweight Dejohn Cataldo.

The 'Dawgs, who are now 5-6-1 on the season, will compete in this weekend's Union County Tournament in Elizabeth.

County tourneys in B-Ball and wrestling set to start

By Mark Yablonsky
Sports Editor

With the arrival of February comes the time of year all local basketball and wrestling buffs look forward to, and that, of course, is the Union County Tournament. And beginning this weekend, the annual mid-winter event will get under way in full stride.

As you are reading this, the seeds for both boys' and girls' basketball have already been decided. And tonight, seeding for wrestling will be conducted in a meeting among county coaches.

The first to get underway will be wrestling, and that's tomorrow night at 6 p.m. at the Dunn Sports Center in Elizabeth, where preliminary-round bouts will be held. Then on Saturday morning at about 9 a.m., more preliminaries will take place, followed by first and semifinal-round competition. The finals will commence at roughly 3 p.m.

In boys' basketball, the 55th annual rendition of the UCT — referred to by the Union County Interscholastic Athletic Conference's executive director, Frank Ciccarelli, as "the granddaddy of all county tournaments in New Jersey" — begins on Saturday with preliminaries scheduled at the old Battin High building in Elizabeth. Preliminaries will conclude on Monday at the Dunn Center, and first-round games will follow on Feb. 12

"Elizabeth is very strong. One, two and three (seeds), I think, are pretty solid. After that, it gets tough to handle. I think it's wide open, it really is, once you get past Elizabeth."

Stan Kokie

and 13, with the sites including Cranford High, Arthur L. Johnson Regional in Clark, and the Dunn Center.

Next Friday and Saturday nights, Feb. 15-16, boys' quarter-final games will be held at the Dunn Center, the permanent site for all UCT games from this point on. After the semifinals are played on Feb. 19-20, the two surviving teams will meet in the title game on Saturday, Feb. 23, at 3 p.m.

In girls' basketball, it all starts with the preliminaries this Saturday at Johnson Regional in Clark, and then on Monday at three other locations as well: Cranford, Brearley Regional in Kenilworth, and Union Catholic in Scotch Plains. The quarters will take place next Thursday, Feb. 14, at both Clark and the Dunn Center, and the semifinals will follow four days later in Elizabeth.

The title game to decide the 16th UCT champion will be played on Thursday, Feb. 21, at 8:30 p.m. at the Dunn Center.

In boys' basketball, the general opinion is that Elizabeth, winner of the UCT for six of the last seven years and this year's likely number one seed, will be in the title game on Feb. 23. The question is, who will be there to oppose the powerful Minutemen?

"Elizabeth is very strong," commented Roselle coach Stan Kokie, whose Ram squads have emerged as tournament runner-up for the past two years. "One, two and three (seeds), I think, are pretty solid. After that, it gets tough to handle."

"I think it's wide open, it really is, once you get past Elizabeth."

Union High coach Bill Hazelton believes there will be a "real dog-fight" to determine which team will be left to deal with the Minutemen.

As of press time, Linden, whose 1988 title is the only thing interrupting Elizabeth's dominance in the last seven years, seems the likely No. 2 seed in the boys' field. And Linden's powerful, well-balanced girls' squad should, in all probability, be the top seed.

HOW MANY ARE THERE? — Pictures don't lie, but once in a while, they do get a little deceiving. Roselle's Machli Joseph (10) doesn't have four arms and four legs as this photo might suggest, because he's busy battling underneath the basket for a rebound against a Hillside player during last Friday's Mountain Valley clash between the two teams in Roselle. Joseph netted eight points in Roselle's 56-47 defeat to the Comets, who now are alone atop the MVC's Mountain Division standings.

Griffith earns second letter

Springfield resident Bill Griffith, a junior linebacker, was a member of the Springfield College football team which posted a 6-4 record during its centennial season this past fall.

The 6'0", 220-pound Griffith received his second varsity letter after recording 42 tackles (14 primary), including 12 stops in a 39-16 victory against Slippery Rock in the season-opener.

Springfield, under coach Mike DeLong, captured its third consecutive Mayor's Trophy with a 23-20 victory over crosstown rival American International in the season finale. The Chiefs were tied for sixth with East Stroudsburg in the final Lambert-Meadowlands Division II Northeast poll and seventh in the final ECAC Division II poll.

A psychology major, Griffith is a 1987 graduate of Seton Hall Prep High School in West Orange where he was captain and MVP of the football team, and an All-State/Iron Hills Conference selection. Griffith also lettered in basketball.

Griffith attended the Milford Academy in Connecticut for a year before enrolling at Springfield.

Farmer swimmers take 2nd

For the third straight year, the Union High boys' swimming team captured second place in the Union County championships this past weekend in Elizabeth. Westfield, the county's perennial champion, came in first as usual, and Scotch Plains finished in third behind the Farmers.

In the 200-medley relay, Union came in second behind a squad of Steve Waszak, Frank Acque, Scott Stephenson and Kevin Smith. Kevin Smith finished first in the 200-yard freestyle, with Paul Ulrich coming in seventh and Ed Friend 12th.

In the 200-individual medley, Scott Stephenson was fifth and Joe Moran ninth. In the 50-freestyle, Acque came in 10th before later taking fourth in the 100-butterfly. Smith was second, Ulrich seventh and Friend ninth in the 500-yard freestyle.

The 200-freestyle relay unit of Ulrich, Acque, Moran and Rick Santangelo placed fifth. In the 100-yard backstroke, Greg Lear placed seventh and James Guinee came in 12th.

Scott Stephenson finished first in the 100-yard backstroke, and Waszak took fifth. The Farmers came in second in the final event, the 400-freestyle relay behind the efforts of Stephenson, Waszak, Ulrich and Smith.

"The swimmers all did a terrific job," said Union coach Dennis Reinhard. "This year's team has lived up to and surpassed our goals, and most of the team will be back next year."

Croce cited by college

Frank Croce of Roselle Park, who was an All-American wrestler at both Middlesex County and Kean College, was recently named as Kean's Male Athlete of the Week for going 4-0 while leading the Cougars to three wins — despite suffering from torn rib cartilage at the time.

Croce, who has wrestled at 150 pounds, held a recent record of 16-1-3 on the season for Kean, which was 11-7-1 after a 31-15 victory over Western Maryland on Jan. 26. That week, Kean also beat Stevens Tech and Elizabethtown, Pa., while losing to Montclair State College.

Tourney slated

The Township of Union Recreation Department will be sponsoring a one-day Winter Snowball Softball Tournament on Saturday, Feb. 16.

All proceeds from the tournament will be donated to the Make-A-Wish Foundation. Further information is available by calling the Union Recreation Department office at 686-4200.

WHO'S ON FIRST?

This week's question: Here's another question to test your hockey knowledge. Who holds the record for most assists in a single game? Two individuals share this record and we need both names for your answer to be considered correct.

Last week's answer: Three members of that gold-medal winning hockey team are still playing in the National Hockey League. Mike Ramsey, who attended the University of Minnesota, joined the Buffalo Sabres after the Olympic Games in March, 1980. He remains a steady presence on defense for Buffalo.

Dave Christian, who attended the University of North Dakota and scored eight points in the Olympics, joined the Winnipeg Jets after the Games. He now plays right wing for the Boston Bruins.

Forward Neal Broten, another Golden Gopher from the University of Minnesota, returned to school after the Olympic Games. He later joined the Minnesota North Stars, where he is still playing.

In all, 12 of the 20 members of the 1980 Olympic hockey team played at the National Hockey League level. Others played professionally, but in Europe or on the minor league level, never making it to the NHL.

This week, Henry Hascup of Lodi submitted a correct answer. Please have your responses in our Union offices — at 1291 Stuyvesant Ave. — by no later than noon each Monday.

Kammermusik hits area

The Garden State Chamber Orchestra will present the music of New York Kammermusik at its next concert on Feb. 15 at 8 p.m. in Kean College's East Campus Theater, Union. On Feb. 23 at 8 p.m., the orchestra will perform the same concert at the Grace Episcopal Church in Madison.

The Kammermusik group is composed of various combinations of double-reed instruments to provide a variety of ensemble effects; it will perform Renaissance music from a soon-to-be-released CD as well as works by Handel, Hadyn, Mozart, Salieri and Telemann.

The New York Kammermusik was founded in 1969 and has performed throughout Europe, China and South America.

Commenting on the forthcoming concerts, Frederick Storfer, the Garden State Chamber Orchestra's music director, stated that "the employment of combinations from duets to sextets conforms to the instrumental demands of the composers; they provide a unique and unusual musical experience for audiences which rarely get to hear combinations of instruments such as these."

The February concerts are the third in the Orchestra's five-concert subscription series. Tickets for both Kammermusik concerts at $16 each are available from the orchestra at 144 Main Street, Hackensack, N.J. 07601. They may also be purchased at the two concerts immediately prior to the performances.

'Y' sets senior plans

The senior department of the YM-YWHA of Union County, located on Green Lane in Union, under the direction of Myrna Friedman, has prepared its calendar of events for the spring season.

Headlining the events is a trip to Lou G. Siegals, the popular Kosher New York dairy restaurant. A five-course meal will be served and accompanied by entertainment featuring a Klezmer band, a singer and a comedian. Early registration is requested for this special program, as it is anticipated that it will fill quickly. The cost is $35 for members, $40 for non-members.

Always a memorable morning at the "Y" is the agency's traditional seder. This year, the seder will be held on March 27 at 10 a.m. This program is filled with the recitation of Passover prayers and melodies plus a festive meal complete with all the trimmings. The charge for this event is $4 for members, $6 for non-members.

Where would spring be without a trip to the Catskills? Save April 28 to May 3 for a vacation at the Tamarack Hotel. The price of $225 for members, $250 for non-members includes six days and five nights, plus tips and tax. Registration is open now, and Friedman encouraged early reservations.

For further information regarding these and other programs offered through the "Y's" Older Adult Program, contact Friedman at 289-8112.

Studio opens its doors

Series offers Jersey's own Colorado quartet

Afternoon Music, the concert music at the Unitarian Church in Summit, will present the Colorado String Quartet on Sunday at 4 p.m. This performance will also feature guest artist and clarinetist Bernard Yannotta.

The Colorado Quartet originated in 1976 at the University of Colorado at Boulder. Currently based in New Jersey, the group maintains its original name.

This ensemble appears regularly in major halls around the globe. The quartet made history in 1983 when, within a 10-day period, it won two of the highest honors in chamber music; the Naumburg Chamber Music Award and the First Prize at the Banff International String Quartet Competition. Since then, it has been acclaimed on four continents as one of the great quartets of all time.

The quartet's first CDs, released on the Fidelio label, have received much critical praise.

The quartet consists of violinists Deborah Redding and Julie Rosenfeld, violist Francesca Martin and cellist Diane Chaplin. Joining the quartet for this special performance is clarinetist Yannotta.

UCC prof shows off his work

Prof. Robert Yoskowitz of Belle Mead, who teaches fine arts at Union County College, will show a dozen of his original photographic works in the college's Tomasulo Art Gallery of the MacKay Library on the Cranford campus.

The artist's works will be displayed through Feb. 28.

Yoskowitz will exhibit unique silver prints based on Roman antique busts and found photographic imagery, all prepared over the past 18 months. Entitled "Nouns," the show's methodology deals with the modernist notion of two-dimensional flat space and working within the framework of photographic mimetic characteristics.

He fuses disparate elements to obtain results similar to a collage, which have both characteristics plus depth. The support construct is two-dimensional by its nature, relating to the philosophers Henri Bergson's and Rolande Barthes' idea of equating photography with death. Yoskowitz has manipulated a contemporary image via photographic deception. The photographs remain true to their two-dimensional space, detailed but grainy, to reinforce the photochemical process and present a dichotomy of the veristic and the false.

A graduate of Kean College with a bachelor's degree, Yoskowitz holds master's degrees from both Pratt Institute and Hunter College, and currently is working towards a doctorate at City University of New York. He has had his works exhibited in both solo and group displays throughout the New York metropolitan area.

Gallery hours are 1 to 4 p.m., Mondays through Saturdays; 6 to 9 p.m. on Mondays through Thursdays.

State Theatre hosts 'Oklahoma!'

Rodgers and Hammerstein's enduring musical classic "Oklahoma!" will be performed at the New Brunswick Cultural Center's State Theatre on Saturday at 8 p.m. The performance is a production of Music Theatre Advancement Group, Inc. — formerly Opera Northeast — which has staged critically acclaimed national tours of the Broadway musicals such as "Fiddler on the Roof," "Showboat," "The Pirate of Penzance," "Carousel" and "Kimset."

This is the first season for musicals at the State Theatre since its 1988 opening. "We weren't sure about whether or not we could compete with New York," producer Bill Wright said, "but, as it turns out, people want to stay in New Jersey. They'll gladly forego the commute if we give them something comparable and we do." The State Theatre opened its with a successful production of "Hello, Dolly!" and will present "The Sound of Music" in March.

"Oklahoma!" is a classic of the American musical theatre. It was considered so revolutionary when it opened in 1943 that its success caused a dramatic shift in the course of American musical theatre. Until that time dramatic plots, fully dimensional characters, ballets and integrated lyric writing were rare in musical "entertainments" and were never found together in one production. Today, the form that defines the art can be traced to this landmark show.

"Oklahoma!" was so successful that it yielded its backers a 2,500 percent payback on their original investment. The show generated unprecedented demand for tickets and set a run record that was not surpassed until "My Fair Lady" opened in 1961. It received a special Pulitzer Prize and it launched an international tour that continued for 10 years, performing in every corner of the world.

The first joint venture by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein, "Oklahoma!" launched their 17-year partnership that resulted in a string of Broadway triumphs. Together, the two created "Carousel," "South Pacific," "The King and I," and "The Sound of Music," in addition to a host of other projects for film, stage and television.

The show's score features a number of songs that have become American standards, such as "The Surrey With the Fringe on Top," "People Will Say We're in Love" and "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning." Based on the Lynn Riggs play, "Green Grow the Lilacs," "Oklahoma" is a love story that parallels the turbulent burgeoning of the American Midwest.

Donald Westwood is producer/artistic director for Music Theatre Advancement Group, Inc. Jerome Shannon is the production's music director/conductor and Joseph Patton is the stage director/choreographer.

The State Theatre's presentation of "Oklahoma!" will take place on Saturday at 8 p.m. Tickets are $32, $28, $24 and $20, and may be purchased through the New Brunswick Cultural Center's Ticket Central by calling 908-246-7469.

This performance is made possible in part by funding from the New Jersey Council on the Arts/Department of State.

LOCAL ARTS — The Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders recently hosted "Visual Arts '90," the third annual county arts exhibition sponsored by the department of parks and recreation. Freeholders Gerald Green and Casimir Kowalczyk, Assemblyman Neil Cohen and Freeholder Walter Boright are joined by Rahway artist Christine Dolnick. Below, the officials honor Springfield artist Louis Winarsky.

George Grizzard and Katherine Houghton star in "To Kill a Mockingbird"

'Mockingbird' opens at PMP

For its first major production in the United States, "To Kill a Mockingbird" — based on the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel by Harper Lee and adapted for the stage by Christopher Sergel — will be produced at the Paper Mill Playhouse. The drama opens on Wednesday at the Millburn theater and continues through March 23.

This run includes an extra week of performances — longer than the traditional run at the Playhouse — due to the interest producers say the play has generated.

Stage, screen and television actor star George Grizzard heads the cast as Atticus Finch, a highly respected attorney given the difficult task of defending a black man falsely accused of committing raping a poor white girl in Alabama, circa 1935.

Grizzard last appeared at the Paper Mill in the 1965 production of "The Glass Menagerie," which went on to Broadway and to the White House for a command performance before President Lyndon Johnson. His numerous Broadway credits include the original production of "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf," and the revival of "The Country Girl" with Jason Robards.

His television appearances include work on "The Golden Girls" and "Murder, She Wrote." He won an Emmy nomination for his portrayal of John Adams in "The Adams Chronicles."

The play also stars Katherine Houghton as Finch's neighbor, Miss Maudie. Houghton starred in the film "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" with Spencer Tracy and Katherine Hepburn and appeared on Broadway in "The Front Page" and the revival of "Our Town."

Performances are Wednesdays through Sunday at 8 p.m.; Thursday matinees at 2 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday matinees at 3 p.m. Extra matinees at 12:30 p.m. have been scheduled for March 19, 20 and 21. Tickets range in price from $22 to $36; Mastercard and Visa are accepted and group rates are available. For more information, call the box office at 376-4343.

Audio-described performances for the visually-impaired are scheduled for March 14 at 2 p.m.; March 16 at 3 p.m., and March 17 at 8 p.m. A sign-interpreted performance for the hearing impaired is slated for March 17 at 8 p.m.

Applications ready for summer arts institute

The New Jersey Summer Arts Institute — entering its 11th year as the state's only residential program for selected, artistically talented students currently in grades 7 through 12 — has applications available for summer 1991.

The program is held at Rutgers, the State University, in New Brunswick and is planned in cooperation with the Mason Gross School of the Arts, a state-designated center of excellence for the arts.

Interested students are encouraged to apply early and to schedule their audition workshop as quickly as possible. Early applicants gain the opportunity to apply for the variety of scholarships available through the Arts Foundation of New Jersey and avoid being closed out from their department of choice.

SAI offers a six-year sequential program for returning students and individualized placement within the more than 85 courses offered. The eight departments at the art institute are visual arts, including divisions in painting, sculpture, drawing, printmaking and photography; instrumental music, including jazz and classical; vocal music, with an emphasis on ensemble, popular, classical and opera; a workshop; dance, including ballet, modern and jazz; writing offering poetry, playwriting and fiction; theater, including acting, mime, signing, Shakespeare, musical and technical theater; art and technology with a focus on computer graphics, video/film and advanced photography; and interarts, an ensemble of multi-arts disciplines, studying communal art making and the creative arts process. Advanced level students in some departments may earn escrow college credits.

School includes six hours daily of intensive study within the chosen major — plus open studios, independent study, individual lessons and practice times. Trips to galleries, museums and performances in the tri-state area are scheduled throughout the residency. Rutgers' Summerfest and Moscow Conservatory offer music students unique opportunities for master classes with world class musicians, while visits to their performances are regularly scheduled for those who are interested.

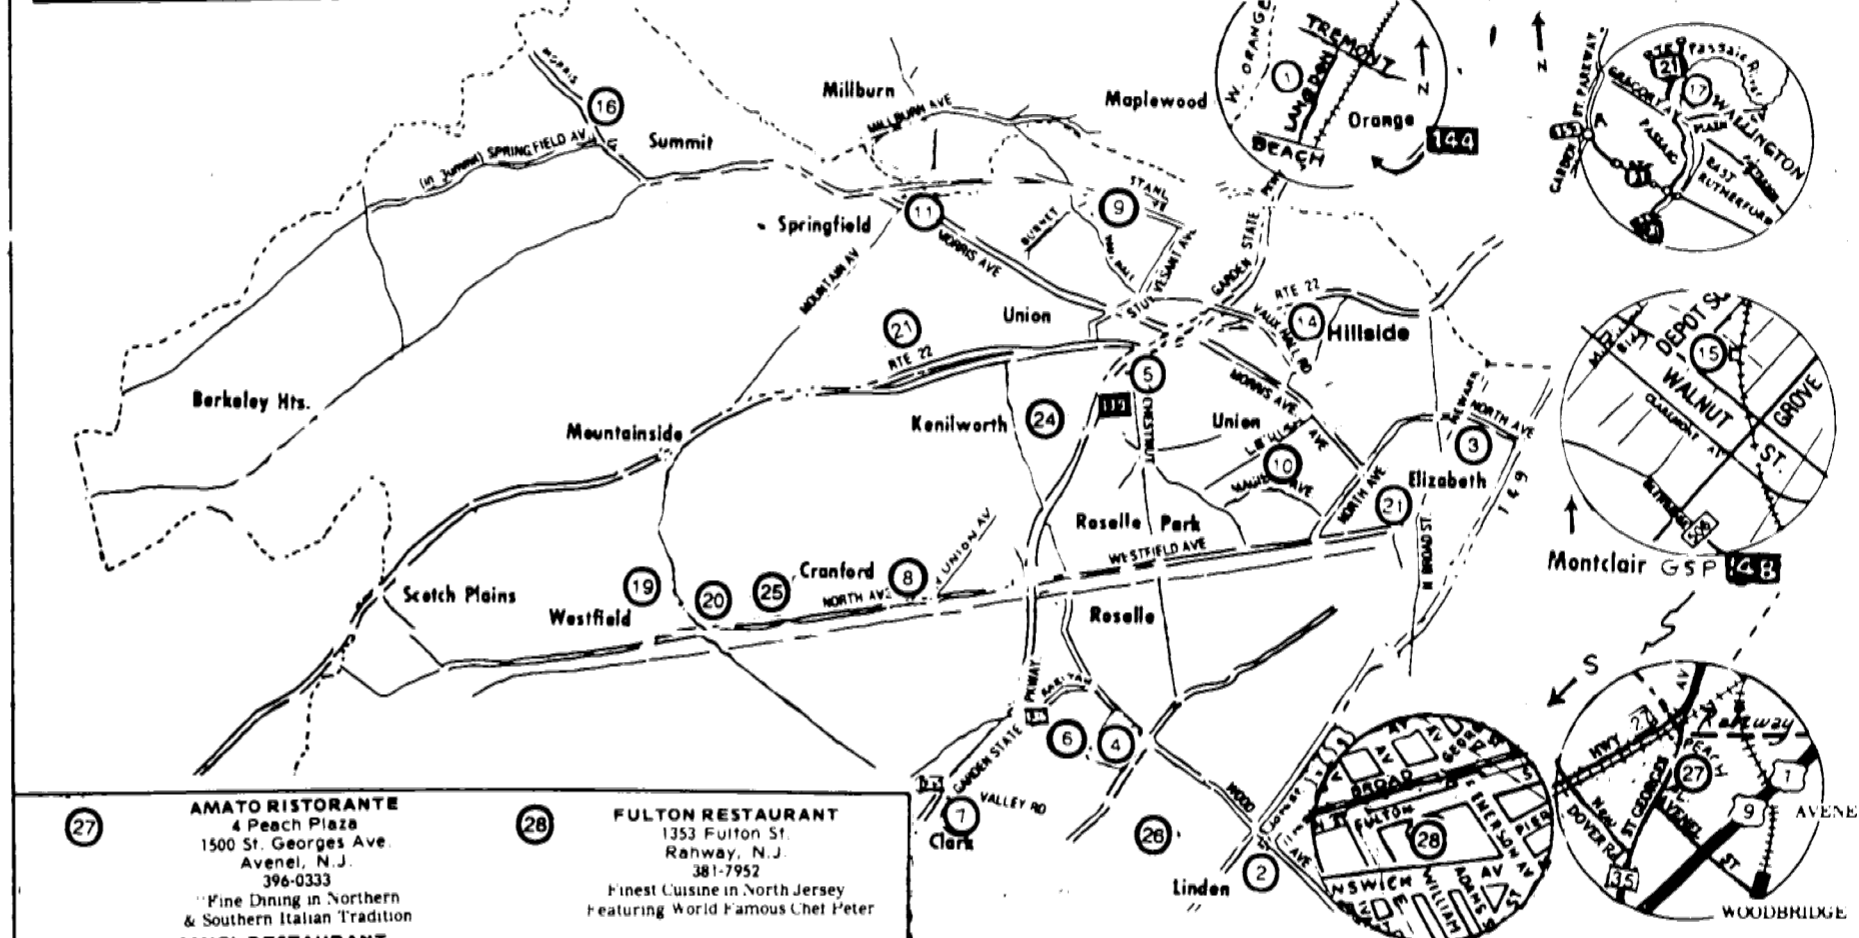

Regional auditions are held on April 13, May 5 and June 8. The program is sponsored by the Arts Foundation of New Jersey and is funded, in part, by the State Council on the Arts/Dept. of State and the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation. For copies of the curriculum or artist/faculty profiles, send a self-addressed, large brown envelope with $1.25 postage for free applications to AFNJ, Box 352, New Brunswick, N.J. 08903; or call 201-463-3640.

Hickory Tree Chorus airs on cable

Hickory Tree Showcase Chorus will be cablecast on TV-36 during the month of February, on Tuesdays from 12:30 to 1 p.m. and on Thursdays from 9 to 9:30 p.m. Produced by Beth Pincus, the show provides an opportunity to hear, enjoy and learn about women's barbershop singing with the Hickory Tree Chapter of Harmony International, formerly Sweet Adelines Inc.

Hickory Tree performs several arrangements in four-part harmony — barbershop style — with choreography. Brocade, one of the chorus quartets, shows how they achieve their smooth four-voice blend in this television broadcast. New director Jack Pinto and associate director Carolyn Schmidt familiarize viewers with general knowledge about this unique American art form and the special musical character of this championship chorus.

Potential new members are encouraged to attend any rehearsal on Wednesday evenings, at 7:30 p.m., in the Madison Presbyterian Church, 19 Green Ave. in Madison. Call 522-1954 or 647-0867 for more information.

Restaurant review

Jade Lake Gourmet
By Sharon Cates

For our entrees, we both selected one of the house specials. My companion chose the Sizzling Seafood Special. Served on a sizzling platter were shrimp, scallops and crab meat garnished with Chinese vegetables. Placed on a bed of white rice, the meal was moderately priced at $11.95.

Conveniently located at 243 W. St. Georges Ave., Linden, the restaurant boasts two spacious dining rooms. Patrons can either dine in the front room, or, for that special occasion, important business meeting, or to add an extra touch to an evening out, they can enjoy their meal in the glass-enclosed Garden Room.

For $10.95, I selected the Hunan Market Place for my entree. The meal offered sliced chicken and shrimp with a variety of mixed Chinese vegetables. Both the chicken and shrimp were deliciously tender, the vegetables were crisp and fresh.

The Garden Room offers privacy and intimacy. It can also provide a festive atmosphere for a special occasion or party.

The meal was served with the chef's special sauce, which was light and tangy and enhanced the flavor of the food.

Specializing in Hunan and Szechuan cuisine, Jade Lake offers a large variety of poultry, beef, seafood, vegetable, and noodles and rice selections. The entrees are modestly priced and range from $4.75 to $10.95, with most of them priced below $7.

For dessert they serve ice cream, sesame banana, fruits and cookies. My companion and I shared a fruit platter.

In addition there are 20 mouthwatering house specialties to choose from. The house specials range from $8.55 to $24, with most of the entrees priced between $9 and $11.

Uniquely prepared, the fruits were designed to represent flowers and animals. The fruits were fresh and juicy and served as the perfect light ending for the meal.

If it's lunch you want, there are 20 luncheon specials all priced at $4.25, which includes an entree, fried rice and soup. Lunch specials are served daily from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Although they do not have a liquor license, the restaurant encourages patrons to bring their own bottle of liquor or wine.

The Jade Lake offers something to satisfy everyone's palate, from the seafood-lover to the vegetarian. They have a specially prepared diet portion on their menu. Also, there are several "hot and spicy" entrees, seasoned to taste by Sonny, the chef.

Jade Lake is also available to cater parties. And, they deliver.

In a recent visit, my companion and I started our meal with a PuPu Platter for two. Priced at $9.95, the platter offers six hot appetizers and allows patrons to taste a sampling of the delicious, well-prepared cuisine. The platter includes lightly breaded fantal shrimp, tender mongolian beef, and traditional egg rolls.

Ample free parking is available for all customers in the rear of the establishment.

Take-out orders are also popular at Jade Lake, for those who wish to savor their authentically prepared food, but do not have the time to dine in.

The Jade Lake Gourmet is open on weekdays from 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. and on weekends from noon to 11 p.m.

Just mention to Lisa and Sonny that you read about them in Worrall Community Newspapers and you will receive a complimentary pleasant surprise.

For week of Feb. 10-Feb. 16

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You could exceed your expectations this week. Focus yourself on romance, and a promotion. A long-standing obligation you have will be fulfilled. Celebrate with kindred spirits.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Take a calculated risk when it comes to both business and social activities. Playing it safe can be dull. Learn to differentiate between love and lust. Promote a sense of levity.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Your proverb for the week is "Rules are made to be broken." Pull the plug on your old methods. Dynamic action will pay off. But do not trample the little people on your way up.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Those memories of childhood can trip you up. Pay credence only when it is warranted. Your active imagination can stir up a witch's brew. Analyze your own personal style.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22) Steer yourself clear of anger and frustration. Put on your thinking cap. A sharp mind can penetrate quicker than dull emotions. Put the accent on the unorthodox.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) Find the balance between partnerships and self-expression. Keep any extreme actions to a minimum. Record your dreams. Relaxation and re-creation are in vogue. Do it all your own way.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Take a relative under your wing this week. Do not allow those emotional storms to create a sense of financial havoc. Beautify your personal surroundings. Attend gallery openings.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A trip you have planned may be delayed. Watch out for needless words. A slip of the tongue may cause some embarrassment. Maintain an open-door policy with your friends and relatives.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Strengthen your leadership skills. Do not paint yourself into a corner. Abandon any romantic illusions you may have. Break yourself free of those self-imposed restrictions.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) A crisis in a love relationship will subside. A walk on "financial Easy Street" looms ahead for you. Call in your chips. Do not get dizzy riding on the business merry-go-round.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) Some secret information will be provided to you. It could not be in better hands. Watch out for shopping fever, however. Give your credit cards the week off. Love will blossom again.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20) Put on regal airs. Step away from pride and arrogance. Make plans regarding your life's work. Your hopes and dreams can be fulfilled now. Touch the lives of the needy.

Jackson, Wallach paired in 'Sparky and the Fritz'

Anne Jackson and Eli Wallach will bring their renowned talent to the George Street Playhouse stage in Craig Volk's new comedy, "Sparky and the Fritz," running Feb. 15 to March 3.

The play tells what happens when a set-in-her-ways housewife is faced with a newly retired husband who has too much time on his hands and an amorous UPS man. This love story gives new meaning to special delivery.

Steve Rothman, who directed GSP's production of "The Subject Was Roses" with Isabel Sanford, returns to direct this world premiere comedy, where growing old can sometimes mean having to grow up all over again.

Wallach and Jackson, husband and wife in real life, have been performing together for more than 40 years. Some of their favorite plays include "Waltz of the Toreadors," "The Typist and the Tiger," "Luv," "The Diary of Anne Frank" and the recent Broadway production of "Cafe Crown." In addition to theatre, both have worked in film, with Wallach currently starring as Don Altobello in "The Godfather, Part III."

Rounding out the cast is veteran actor Ben Hammer. Hammer has appeared in such noted productions as "The Great Sebastians," "The Diary of Anne Frank," "The Tenth Man" and "Mother Courage," among others.

Working with Rothman on "Sparky and the Fritz" are designers Deborah Jasien — sets, Donald Holder — lights and Barbara Forbes — costumes. Michael Suenkel is production stage manager.

Rehearsals for "Sparky and the Fritz" begin on Sunday at 7 p.m. Performances run through Saturday evenings at 8 p.m. and Sundays at 2 and 7 p.m. There will be Saturday matinees at 2 p.m. on Feb. 23 and March 2, with Thursday matinees at 11 a.m. on Feb. 14 and 28.

Tickets for this production range from $16 to $26 with discounts for students and senior citizens. For information or reservations, call ticket central at 908-246-7469.

George Street Playhouse, a resident company of the New Brunswick Cultural Center, is at 9 Livingston Ave.

Reeves sets winter series

Rain Forest Day, two innovative "exercise in the garden" classes and two luxury-coach trips to the Philadelphia Flower Show headline the adult winter series at the Reeves-Reed Arboretum in Summit. Enrollment has now begun and is open to the public.

Free demonstrations on Feb. 14 are available with reservations to try the half-time lunchtime postural stretching class for relief of work stress, starting at 12:30; or the golden age exercises for senior citizens for improved flexibility and circulation, starting at 1:30 p.m. Six weekly classes in each exercise plan will begin March 7 and will be held outdoors when possible or in the glass-enclosed sunporch with panoramic garden views.

Rain Forest Day on Feb. 16 opens at 9:30 a.m. with an illustrated lecture, "The Rain Forest and You," featuring Eugene Fox. Following will be a choice of workshops. Participants may elect to attend at 10:30 a.m. either "Growing Plants from Cuttings" or a kitchen session on making "Cashew Crunch." Cutting techniques for propagation will be taught by Dr.

Thomas M. Ombrello, a professor at Union County College and horticultural advisor to the Reeves-Reed Arboretum director Lu Rose will demonstrate how to use fresh cashews, a product of the rain forest, to make a butter-brittle — with samples to taste and take home.

Participants may also view the rain forest color photography exhibit which continues through Feb. 23. A final program emphasizing tropical flora and fauna features a bus trip in April to New York City's rain forests.

Two luxury-coach trips to the Philadelphia Flower Show, March 11 and 14, are offered and additional programs includes "All About Orchids" and crafting a springtime centerpiece of fresh flowers and vegetables.

Arboretum membership provides advance notice and discounts for all adult education programs and trips. For information on fees and registration, call 273-8787 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday; or stop by the Reeves-Reed, 165 Hobart Ave., near Rt. 24. Program brochures are available at the Summit, Millburn, Scotch Plains and Fanwood libraries.

Cantorum seeks singers

Singers in all voices are invited to join the New Jersey Schola Cantorum, which has resumed rehearsals for the spring season. A mid-April concert, to be presented at the First Methodist Church on Front Street in Plainfield, will feature the John Rutter Requiem, which has become an "instant classic" of contemporary music," according to representatives of the group. The chorus will also perform a number of a cappella Bruckner motets.

The New Jersey Schola Cantorum, which has been the recipient of numerous government and corporate grants, rehearses Tuesday evenings from 8 to 10 p.m. at the Wilson Memorial Church at the corner of Valley and Hillcrest Roads just off the Watchung Circle in Watchung. The 40-member chorus draws singers from communities in Union, Middlesex, Somerset and Morris counties.

James Little, a teacher of choral music at the Pingry School and organist/choir director for the Community Presbyterian Church in Mountainside, is music director of the Schola Cantorum.

For further information, call chairwoman Julie Meagher at 757-8405. Formal auditions are not required for singers who wish to join the group.

Buy Low - Sell High!

A common goal of investors in the stock market is "Buy low - sell high". Determining what is "low" and what is "high" can be difficult yet, if you know the difference, investing can be easy.

The same "Buy low-sell high" philosophy can work when buying or selling a home too, but there is a difference. Stock market investors may buy at will when prices are "down" and sell when they are "up", while you were probably not free to determine whether the housing market was "up" or "down" before buying your present home.

Your home purchase was predicated on some event, wasn't it? Perhaps a job transfer, an addition to the family, or a strong desire to "move up" created the need to purchase. A similar event may also prompt you to sell your home, based on a time frame over which you have little control. When that happens, the price you receive may have little relation to the price you paid.

Historically, real estate has risen in value. It has also experienced periodic up and down cycles, lasting from 3-10 years depending on the geographic market. If you purchased your home during the "down" portion of a cycle, and sell during the "high" cycle, a sizeable profit may be realized.

You may just as easily have made your purchase just as homes reached the peak of a cycle. This does not mean you paid too much, but only that, at the time of your purchase, you paid the going price-the highest price in that price cycle. If you sell your home just a few years later, you may find that prices are the low end of the cycle, possibly resulting in a loss.

Either way-high or low - the value of your home today is whatever a "ready, willing and able" buyer is currently paying for similar homes in your area. This can be determined by asking a REALTOR to perform a "Competitive Market Analysis" on your home. The results can help you make an informed decision about the sale of your home.

Dotsy puts trust in the roof over your head. Unless he is familiar with construction, the average homeowner doesn't know too much about roofing. So, when people need a new roof, they look for someone they can trust. Dotsy Lou Roofing of Union is a 7-year-old business that has built its name on trust, and has done so through providing its customers with workmanship and materials that are literally unmatched in quality, price and pride. According to Mike Postal, the owner and founder of Dotsy Lou Roofing, experience and expertise is what has made his business a success over the years. "I started out in the roofing business 16 years ago with my grandfather," says Postal. "He taught me the trade and I've made it my career ever since." According to Postal, Dotsy Lou Roofing also specializes in siding, replacement windows, dormers and additions. "We do all our own work," Postal says, "so there is never a middleman. That's how we keep our costs down, and that's how we stay competitive — very competitive. We save money and we pass those savings on to our customers. "We like to keep our material costs low too. We do that by shopping around for materials. With the war going on, and the economy the way it is now, suppliers are always trying to make the sale. We take advantage of that in the interest of our customers and shop around for the best deal." But Postal's words are modest. Dotsy Lou has never received a complaint from one of its customers. Just check with the Customers Satisfaction Department of the Better Business Bureau and see for yourself. "We do everything the old-fashioned way," Postal says. "We don't use nail guns — everything is nailed by hand. It takes a little longer, but it saves time from going back and fixing something that wasn't done right in the beginning." Unlike most other contractors, Dotsy Lou Roofing is busy all year long, even during the typically "slow months" of winter. That's why customers usually leave a message with the company's answering service, and a prompt return call is promised. For a new roof, new siding, new windows or a new addition, call Dotsy Lou Roofing at 688-2188 and leave your worries behind.
