Judge settles neighbors' quarrel over use of traps

By Suzette Stalker Managing Editor

Mountainside Municipal Judge Robert Ruggiero last week issued a restraining order prohibiting two Cherry Hill Road residents from having any contact with each other for a period of one year in an attempt to end a dispute which began when one neighbor accused the other of setting illegal traps.

Last October, Else Wenger filed several complaints against her next door neighbor, Ted Kuzsir, charging him with having set spring-loaded traps baited with peanut butter in his backyaid, which she said was causing the deaths of squirrels and other small animals and birds which wandered into the traps.

A trial date for Kuzsir, who had been issued four summonses based on his neighbor's complaints, had originally been set in Mountainside Municipal Court for Dec. 5, but was postponed until Feb. 14.

Wenger's husband, Franz, had also charged Kuzsir with disorderly conduct for allegedly threatening to strike him after Wenger and his wife had complained about the traps. The charge against Kuzsir was dismissed during last week's trial.

Ruggiero stated that he hoped the restraining order would herald a "cooling off" period between the two neighbors. The order prohibits Kuzsir or his wife, Helen, "from the setting of any traps for the catching of animals for one year." It also bars the two neighbors from having any contact with each other for the same period of time.

The judge warned that violation of the restraining order by either party, however, would allow the original charges to be heard again in court "without prejudice."

Kuzsir's attorney, Richard Kress, denied that his client ever harmed any squirrels with his traps, which were designed for rats and mice and have since been removed. Kress claimed that Kuzsir's main trap is a Hav-A-Hart model in which he captured squirrels alive and then released them onto the Watchung Reservation.

In handing down his decision, Ruggiero explained that he "respected both positions" involved in the case. He called for compassion for the animals but also cited the need to prevent such creatures as squirrels from getting into homes, which he said can be detrimental to both the animals and homeowners.

After the restraining order was issued, Franz Wenger remarked that he was "happy" about the judge's decision "because it will protect the simals."

The judge concluded that he hoped the temporary separation would eventually mend the estrangement between the two neighbors. He said he regretted that emotions over animals, which often bring people together, "under these circumstances caused a breaking apart."

High school writing centers are given high marks

By Suzette Stalker Managing Editor

The Board of Education of Union County Regional High School District 1 recently heard a report by Kenneth Mattfield, district supervisor of curriculum, regarding the success of the writing centers which were begun last September in each of the four regional high schools.

Regional District English department supervisors had studied various writing center models during the 1989-90 school year before presenting their own proposal to the Regional Board of Education. The board subsequently approved the program for the 1990-91 academic year.

The district based its writing centers on the model currently used by Columbia High School in Maplewood. The facility there, located in the school's media center, offers a quiet enclave where teachers can meet with students individually or in small groups to discuss pupils' writing techniques.

Mattfield compared this model with the one observed at North Hunterdon High School in Hunterdon County — a highly sophisticated and computerized laboratory for reading, writing and cognitive exercises, but which Regional District educators felt left little opportunity for one-on-one interaction.

"We thought the model at Columbia High School had the philosophy and the procedure we liked for our schools," the curriculum supervisor remarked. "We saw the writing centers primarily as places where students could get help from skilled writing teachers rather than with computers."

Each of the Regional District writing centers is a full-size classroom equipped with tables and chairs for teacher-student conferences, a single computer for word processing, and standard reference aids such as a dictionary, thesaurus and professional reading materials.

An additional advantage, according to Mattfield, is that the services of the writing centers can be brought to other classrooms. For example, a science teacher can request that a writing center staffer visit the teacher's class to advise and assist students with laboratory reports.

The writing centers also serve as a clearinghouse for information about scholarships, literary contests and other kinds of publication opportunities, according to Mattfield.

Finglish teachers are assigned to the writing centers five periods each weekday, with a volunteer teacher operating the centers before school hours and another teacher available after school hours to assist students with their writing assignments.

"I think that the direction we're going in is a good and useful one for all the schools," Mattfield said.

"We've been impressed by what has been going on during the first half of this year. We're using a computer and a daily log to keep track of who's coming to the writing centers, when they're coming in and why."

The curriculum supervisor explained that Regional District students primarily utilize the services of the writing centers for homework or class assignments and for college essays, although a small group at each school also visit the centers to have samples of their creative writing critiqued.

Mattfield explained that Regional District writing centers "do not rely heavily on computer equipment. You have a teacher and a student who have time to discuss the student's writing without distractions, and it's also a good place for teachers to get together to make plans for upcoming assignments."

During the last Regional Board of Education meeting Feb. 5, Mattfield, accompanied by Julia Latzer, English department supervisor at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, gave a report on the number of recorded student visits to the writing centers at the four high schools.

Mattfield's report showed 404 for Jonathan Dayton, 116 for David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth, 447 for Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark, and 446 for Governor Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights.

The curriculum supervisor explained that the reason the Brearley count was so much lower than the other three schools was because the writing center there had only been open three days a week for the first semester and therefore Brearley students had less access to the facility.

Mattfield reported that the Brearley center was only operating three days a week because former English Department Supervisor Steffi Poss had left and her two teaching spots had not been filled. The writing center at Brearley is now under the supervision of Ron Fernandez, who also heads the social studies department at Brearley.

Since the beginning of the second semester in January, however, the writing center has been open five days a week, and Mattfield said Friday that he expects the number of student visits to the Brearley writing center will soon match those of the other three high schools.

"We know the writing centers are being used, and we think we made the right decision," Mattfield remarked, noting that the centers could provide assistance to students in social studies, foreign language and the Gifted and Talented Program. "We foresee that there will be further expansion."

Transportation services for disabled discussed

By Debbie Sacharoff Managing Editor

The need for affordable mass transportation for Union County's handicapped and the possibility of repairing a Roselle "orphan" bridge through state funds were the subjects discussed at a meeting of the county's Senior Citizen and Disabled Residents Transportation Advisory Board, held Feb. 5 in Elizabeth.

According to the group's chairman, Frank Mannuzza of First Avenue, Roselle, the special cards that handicapped and elderly residents can use to pay half fares for buses and trains in the county are only valid between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., and after 7 p.m. every night.

This means that elderly or disabled individuals, many of whom do piece work or are employed at minimum wage, reap no benefits from their special cards during rush hours, when they are commuting to or from their jobs.

At the meeting, a member of the North Jersey Transit Advisory Board conveyed to the group that there are insufficient funds from casino revenues to offer reduced fares all day long. This was first discussed at a previous meeting of the NJTA in late

Also at the meeting, Roberta Grayson of Union County Department of Human Services, Para-Transit Unit, reported that the state has a fund for "orphan" bridges. No municipality or county claims ownership of orphan bridges, hence the name, and thereproviding funds for necessary repairs.

There is the possibility that these funds could be used to repair the Walnut Street Bridge joining Roselle and Roselle Park, to fix the broken railings as well as the sidewalks. The feasibility of this project is currently being investigated.

Para-Transit is a county agency involved with the four emergency transportation services of Westfield Red Cross, which is closely aligned with Mountainside; Catholic Communities of Linden, SAGE of Summit, and Plainfield Red Cross.

Senior services on tap

Brochures detailing a wide range of state-funded services for senior citizens are now available at the legislative office of Sen. Donald DiFrancesco, R-Union/Essex, whose district includes Mountainside. DiFrancesco's office is located at 1801 E. Second St., Scotch Plains.

"A Guide to Senior Citizen Services" provides senior citizens with a description of the programs available, eligibility requirements and application procedures.

"New Jersey is a national leader in providing services for the elderly," DiFrancesco maintained. "This year alone, the state will be spending $800 million to address a variety of senior citizen needs from assistance in paying utility bills to reduced mass transit fares.

"This guide is designed to provide seniors with up-to-date information on programs so eligible individuals can take full advantage of these services," he continued.

Among the programs described in the brochure are the $225 annual lifeline utility credit, the low-cost prescription drug program, condominium conversion protection and a variety of free or reduced-rate leisure activities.

A copy of this brochure is available by contacting DiFrancesco's legislative office at 322-5500.

Hospital to sponsor rehabilitation forum

A conference titled "Rehabilitation Technology: Building A Better World For Disabled Youth" will be sponsored by Children's Specialized Hospital in Mountainside April 11 at the Hyatt Regency in New Brunswick, featuring nationally and internationally recognized experts in the emerging field of rehabilitation technology.

A comprehensive pediatric rehabilitation facility, Children's Specialized houses 60 rehab beds and 25 long-term care beds and also operates an outpatient facility in Fanwood. The hospital treats patients from newborns through age 21 with congenital defects, car accident injuries and other afflictions.

The conference is being presented as the hallmark educational event of the hospital's centennial celebration this year. Children's Specialized Hospital began in 1891 as the Children's Country Home and gradually expanded its services over the years.

The focus of the daylong conference will be rehabilitation technology and its applications to the daily lives of the handicapped; future trends, funding and the implementation of the new federal Americans with Disabilities.

"Rehabilitation technology is the future," remarked Ilana Zarafu, M.D., medical director of Children's Specialized. "This conference will explore how rehab tech can assist today's disabled youth and what current research and development will present for tomorrow."

Workshop topics will include: innovations in the management of spinal cord injuries; work site, home and telephone adaptations for the disabled; functional electrical stimulation; computerized systems of wheelchair mobility; artificial limbs and public and private funding sources for rehab

In addition, conference workshops will cover orthotics and prosthetics; augmentative communication and the effect of the recently approved Americans with Disabilities Act and its relationship to rehabilitation technology.

Keynote speaker will be Edward Roberts, founder and director of the World Institute of Disability, Oakland, Calif. He is expected to give an address concerning the Americans With Disabilities Act, including a personal overview and the status of the current international disabilities movement.

Geoffrey Iles, Ph.D., director of Rehabilitation Technology at Children's Specialized, will join a panel of nationally known rehabilitation engineering professionals who are scheduled to speak at the conference.

The event will be geared to professionals in the rehabilitation field, including physicians, nurses, rehabilitation counselors, occupational, physical and recreational therapists, speech pathologists, special education teachers and rehabilitation engineers.

For more information about the conference or to register, one can call James Pascuiti, vice president for professional services at Children's Specialized Hospital, at 233-3720.

Boro residents eligible for March health tests

The Garwood Board of Health will be conducting a Health Day, open to residents of Mountainside, Westfield, Garwood and Fanwood, on March 9 from 9 a.m-11 a.m. at the Garwood First Aid Building, Walnut Street, Garwood.

The health program will offer an extensive blood screening, consisting of a SMAC 26, a Complete Blood Count and a High Density Lipoprotein. The blood tests will be performed by Roche Biomedical Labs.

The SMAC 26 is an elaborate blood analysis monitoring several bodily functions. The CBC test is a test including a red blood cell count, a white blood cell count and differential count. The CBC test may indicate the presence of infection, anemia, allergies, lung disease and other test indications.

The HDL test measures factors protective against coronary heart disease. The SMAC 26 is used in assessing total cholesterol results, to determine possible coronary risk factors.

Pre-registration for the blood test is mandatory and will be conducted by the Westfield Health Department, 425 East Broad Street, Westfield, Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. beginning on Feb. 25.

The registration deadline is March 7 at 4 p.m. However, registration is limited and may be discontinued if program capacity is reached prior to the scheduled deadline.

The Health Day will offer blood pressure and nutrition programs. Also, hemmocult test kits will be available to test for occult blood in the gastro-intestinal tract. Test packets and dietary restrictions will be distributed at the health program.

Postmaster offers tips

Westfield Postmaster James Rosa Jr. has announced that two new nondenominated postage stamps are available at the Westfield Post Office to make it more convenient for customers to apply first-class postage. New rates went into effect Feb. 3.

The use of non-denominated stamps is intended to ensure a more manageable transition to the new rate structure.

"Our new flower stamp is valued at 29 cents and is valid, full-rate firstclass postage anywhere within the United States postal system," Rosa said. "And, for the first time, we are issuing a second non-denominated 'make-up' stamp, bearing text describing its value, worth four cents.

"It can be used in combination with any 25-cent stamp to make up the difference in the old and new full firstclass domestic rates. This single, widely available stamp will make it much more convenient for the American people to make up the price difference and use their existing supplies of 25-cent stamps."

These stamps can be used indefinitely but can only be used for mail intended for delivery in the United States. Other stamps are available for international use.

"You can also order stamps by phone," added Postmaster Rosa. "Just call 1-800-STAMP24 day or night and charge them to your Mastercard. VISA or Discover credit cards. A minimum of $3 service charge will be

"If you prefer," concluded the postmaster, "you can order 'Stamps by Mail' by simply calling your local post office and asking your postmaster to send you an order form. You can pay by check and there is no service charge."

Hetfield drive under way

The Mountainside Restoration Committee has launched its third annual fundraiser to benefit the historic Hetfield House, located on Constitution Plaza in Mountainside, with Valentine letters which were mailed to every Mountainside household.

The Hetfield House, which dates back to 1755, was moved in 1985 by the Borough of Mountainside to its present location to save it from demolition.

Since then it has been the responsibility of the Restoration Committee to restore and refurbish the house, which is now listed on both the State and National Registers of Historic Places. Past fund drives have generated suffi-

Girl Scouts to attend spring camp

Washington Rock Girl Scout Council, which includes Girl Scout troops in Springfield, Mountainside and Kenilworth, has announced the creation of special Vacation Camp for girls which is designed to coincide with spring vacation from school.

Vacation Camp, April 1-6, will utilize the seven modern buildings at Camp Hoover, Middleville, overlooking Swartswood Lake. Both Girl Scout members and non-members in grades 1-9 can attend the overnight camp program.

Experienced adults will supervise the girls, who will be divided by age in the five large heated chalets equipped with sleeping accomodations and kitchen and bathroom facilities. Two large program buildings will provide ample space for varied indoor activities.

"The Vacation Camp program will offer a variety of activities including hiking, gymnastics, crafts, sports, campfires and horseback riding," remarked Camp Administrator Peggy

Two workshops will be offered each morning from the five areas of Girl Scouting: Arts; People; Out-of-Doors: Today and Tomorrow and Well Being.

The afternoon program will include such activities as finding animal tracks along the camp trails, learning how to use a compass or creating a favorite craft project at Creation Studios. Evenings will include square dancing, a talent show and sing-a-

Teenage counselors will also be on hand to assist in the program. Girls in grades 10-12 may apply to be a volunteer apprentice counselor.

Washington Rock Girl Scout Council has also launched its 1991 Annual Giving Campaign to raise funds for local Girl Scout programs. Tax deductible contributions to Washington Rock Girl Scout Council help organize troops, train leaders, provide camping experiences and many special events for local girls.

Washington Rock Girl Scout Council serves more than 7,000 girls in 508 active troops. The council also includes 2,093 volunteers who provide leadership and learning opportunities to girls ages 5 through 17.

Washington Rock Girl Scout Council helps families become more involved in their daughters' lives; reaches out to girls in need; expands learning opportunities for girls and is committed to community service for all ages.

The council also provides camping opportunities at Camp Hoover, its year-round outdoor center in Sussex County, and offers programs dealing with contemporary issues.

The goals of Girl Scouting are to help girls develop values and selfconfidence, with the emphasis on growth and self-awareness.

If anyone is interested in learning more about Vacation Camp or the other programs and goals of the Washington Rock Girl Scout Council, one can call the council at 232-3236.

THE WHOLE TOOTH

A Blow to the Mouth

Imagine a bad scene. Your young son is attacked by the school bully and in the ensuing fracas has one of his front teeth knocked out.

Let's hope such an incident never happens. But the possibility of losing a tooth by some kind of injury is not unlikely. Children fall off bicycles and are hit in the face with baseballs all the time. Teeth don't take kindly to that kind of treatment.

Fortunately, if an accident happens, the result need not be the permanent loss of the tooth. Your dentist can handle an emergency like this -- if you act promptly.

You have a vital part to play in this rescue operation. Wrap the dislodged tooth in a wet cloth. Better yet, put it in a glass of salt water. The idea is to keep the tooth "alive" until it is in the dentist's hands.

Very important -- don't wash off the tooth or clean it in any way. You may think you 're removing "dirt" when in fact you could be washing off live tissue. As in surgical grafts generally, living tissue helps assure the success of restoring the tooth to its proper place.

The next thing is to bring your child to the dentist. Don't delay. Time is of the essence. Experience has shown that between thirty minutes and an hour is the period when a tooth replant has the best chance of being successful.

Don't panic. Most of all, in your anxiety don't forget that all important tooth.

Another program in the series, called "An Environmental Crisis At Home And Abroad," is currently being shown on TV 36 on Tuesdays at 6 p.m. and Thursdays at 8:30 p.m. Liz price is the host of this program.

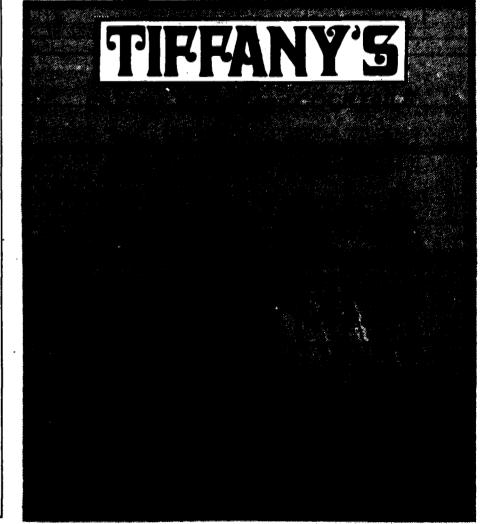

The program features Mountainside resident Dr. Christine Durbak, chairperson of World Information Transfer; Steve Madonna, the only environmental prosecutor in the United States, and Jerry Bello, an environmental private consultant.

Madonna calls the crisis an appeal for action on the part of both government and individuals, and Bello supports this position. Durbak talks about efforts on the part of the United Nations to implement laws similar to the ones passed in the United States.

They also talk about the environmental crisis in the Persian Gulf.

Both "Children At Risk" and "Environmental Crisis At Home And Abroad" were taped in the studio of TV 36 in Summit and were produced by Greenberg and Price.

Neurology unit debuts

The new neurosciences center at Overlook Hospital in Summit, located on the ninth floor of the hospital, is a multifaceted team program clustering the expertise of neurologists, neurosurgeons, radiologists, neuroscience nurses and ancillary staff.

It is staffed by nurses specially trained to provide care for patients with neurological and neurosurgical needs. Counseling and support groups conducted by social workers are available to patients and families.

As part of the continuity of care, patient education is provided by the nursing staff and includes the resources of a specialized library of neurological medication information for patients.

The neurosciences team approach, which integrates medical, nursing and ancillary services and is enhanced by sophisticated equipment, maximizes patients' rehabilitation while decreasing the length of a patient's hospital

The hospital's new pediatric unit is specifically designed to meet the spectrum of needs for families with youngsters of varying ages and stages Adolescents are grouped with their peers in a specially designated Young Adult section. Critically ill youngsters are intensively monitored in a fourbed unit where telemetry screens supply continuous information.

A short-stay observation section permits the necessary monitoring to determine if a youngster needs hospital-based treatment or is well enough to be cared for at home. Large rooms and daybeds accommodate a parent sleep-over.

At the library

The Adult Department of the Springfield Public Library, 66 Mountain Ave., Springfield, has assembled a display of its many books on the Middle East, complete with maps, and has also purchased extra copies of books that are currently in high demand.

Included in the display are books which explore individual countries in the beleaguered area, including Syria, Israel, Lebanon, Iraq and Jordan, among others.

The volumes, part of the Library of Congress area handbook program, provide in-depth information on the history of a specific country, as well as that nation's current economic, social and political climate.

In addition, there is a criticallyacclaimed book by Thomas Friedman, "From Beirut to Jerusalem," which attempts to legitimize the Palestinian question.

"Saddam Hussein and the Crisis in the Gulf," by Judith Miller and Laurie Mylroie, a recent New York Times release, gives a thorough explanation of Saddam Hussein's rise to power and his conversion of Iraq into the bizarre police-state it has become.

It also discusses the invasion of Kuwait and the threat it poses to world peace.

Jean P. Sasson's "The Rape of Kuwait" gives several personal accounts of how the Kuwati people are coping with the brutality of the Iraqi invasion.

In "The Prize," author Daniel Yergin describes the far-reaching impact of oil on the course of world history and current events, and conjectures about its future influence on both politics and the environment.

Probably the most emotional account of the Middle East is Betty Mahmoody's "Not Without My Daughter." A recently released film, it is a mother's horrifying account of her struggle to escape from Iran and the prison her husband's family created

County layoffs issued

By Tom Canavan Editor

In a move to reorganize and shrink the size of county government in order to absorb a $12 million deficit, Union County issued more than 200 layoff notices to its employees.

The layoff notices were distributed Friday, according to Peggy Woliansky, the county's media liaison, and will take effect April 1.

Because of budget constraints and changes in the cap law, she said, Union County is attempting to reduce its number of code departments from 11 to six and a law department, and in the process, is forced to issue the notices.

The positions that are targeted are classified as middle- and uppermanagement positions. However, under civil service guidelines, civil service employees in high level positions who receive a layoff notice can "bump" another employee who is lower on the department's roster, she said. Hence, employees who do not receive notices also can face layoffs.

In the meantime, the reorganization committee of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders has been meeting with County Manager Ann Baran in an effort to find ways to cut costs in other areas of government to reduce the number of layoffs.

In fact, the committee is meeting tonight and may act on an ordinance that reorganizes government and outlines its composition, Woliansky said.

The six departments, following the reorganization, will include a Finance Department; Public Safety Department, which will include Corrections; Department of Administrative Services, which will comprise central services and personnel; Human Services Department, which comprises welfare and social and senior services; Reynold's Specialized Hospital; and a department that is a combination of government property, parks and recreation, public works and engineering.

The county is trying to target "middle- and upper-management instead of front-line type people" such as laborers, said Freeholder Chairman James Connelly Welsh.

Welsh cited the nation's recession and said that during periods of this kind, enrollment at county colleges increases, as does the usage of the county's parks. "Front-line" people then play a more active role.

WHEN SOMEONE BELIEVES IN YOU

But, "if we can't effectuate savings in other areas of spending, we will have to go with the layoffs. If we can effectuate savings in other areas, it will minimize the number of layoffs,"

Welsh said that because of the state's cap law, which prohibits "runaway" spending, the county "was already in a hole of almost $12 million" on Jan. 1. The plan to reorganize government, he said, is one way to recoup that loss. "When you don't have the money, you have to cut back. There's no question that county government has to be scaled back in certain areas."

While he called the situation "a severe problem," Welsh said the reorganization, or downsizing, of government will result "in a benefit to the taxpayer. If the $12 million can be absorbed into the existing budget, Union County's tax increase will be only 1 percent."

He said that on a county level, the cap law, which is the purpose of the reorganization, seeks to eliminate runaway spending in government.

Welsh called the reorganization preparation a "minute-by-minute process which has been occurring for a number of months."

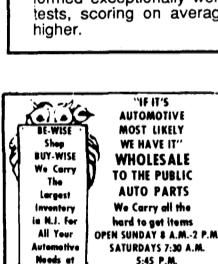

Because the state Personnel Department requires 30-day notice of the elimination of civil service positions, and then requires employers to provide 45-day notice to the employees, the process has been "continuously ongoing."

Woliansky said Union County already received approval for its preliminary plan in January. The notices that will be distributed Friday will put employees on a 45-day notice - or a layoff date of April 1.

Once the reorganization plan is in place, the county will return to the Personnel Department.

While no additional layoff notices are foreseen following those that are to be distributed Friday, Woliansky said that the county may be able to absorb some of the money through cost-cutting measures and "perhaps no layoffs will occur."

Some of those measures include meetings between the county and the unions, the de-privatization of services, and eliminating vacant positions.

Caveat emptor

In times of war, it is not uncommon for citizens to pull together and rally behind their country. Since the United States has many service people in the Persian Gulf, many Americans have decided to show their support in a visual way — with flags and yellow ribbons.

As difficult as it may be for people to comprehend, not everyone thinks war is a somber occasion. Some people view it another way: as an opportunity to make a quick buck off other people's pain and

It's easy to be overwhelmed by flashy merchandise, especially items that appeal to our sense of national pride. But keep in mind that many merchants are doing nothing but selling the public back its own reflected patriotism. Instead of lining the pocket of the rich, if you want to show how much you love the troops and America, find a worthwhile charity and make a donation. You'll be glad you did.

Preserve the quarry

Ninety-three acres of Houdaille Quarry in Springfield may not sound like a big deal, but if it's sold to private developers at public auction, the land could turn into just that — a big deal.

A big deal to the private investor who, during a real estate slump, successfully procures the largest piece of undeveloped property in Union County at a rock bottom price, and later turns it into a profitable business venture.

That's probably what will happen if the 93 acres are placed at public auction. Some corporate fat cat will seize a golden opportunity, take the dirt-cheap land and bulldoze all of the natural beauty and wildlife within it, all in the name of progress.

The woods, which help to replenish the oxygen supply in this densely populated and traffic congested county, will be leveled to make way for towers of steel and glass, most likely.

And who will be the big losers in this game of high-rollers and high-finance? Union taxpayers, of course.

Their tax money contributed to the $8 million purchase of Houdaille Quarry in the first place, and now the federal government is demanding they cough up another $4.5 million to boot by March 1.

Right now, the state is saying the $4.5 million sale price is equitable, actually far below the land's fair market value of $20 million — appraised last year according to state officials.

This deal, however, is not fair to Union County residents who again will surrender acres of scarce land — filled with deer, fox, birds and other wild creatures — just so an expansionistic investor can stake his claim, to the detriment of thousands of Union County taxpayers.

The county needs the 93-acre parcel, not to stifle commerce, but to preserve the delicate balance in which we find our environment, already seriously damaged by water and air pollution.

Scientists are theorizing that the Earth's climate is getting slightly warmer each year, with the worldwide destruction of woodlands, a development now called the "greenhouse effect" or "global warming."

Much of Union County's unspoiled and undeveloped property was handed over to the state to construct Route 78, ultimately considered a boondoggle to some, an ecological disaster to others.

Union County residents deserve a better deal. They should have the 93-acre Houdaille parcel with no strings attached. Neither the federal government nor the state, as a matter of principle, should be permitted to sell the Union County property that's needed for open spaces, merely to close a budget deficit.

The 93-acre parcel is Union County's last frontier, after which there will never be another. And once a bit of nature is dismantled, it can never be returned to its original state. This is why the land must be conveyed to Union County in perpetuity, so it can be protected and preserved for future generations.

lot to be optimistic about in New Jersey

It's starting to be clear that 1991 isn't going to be a routine year. Our country is at war. And we're in a national recession. New Jersey can't help but be affected by these developments. But we shouldn't let pessimism cloud our vision of the future. There is a lot happening in New Jersey that should make us feel optimistic about what lies in store for us and our children.

First of all, we in New Jersey have a firm foundation for growth.

Our economy is diversified. We've got the know-how to build parts of the Patriot Missle and the muscle to build new highways and airports.

We're the strongest state in the region. Our unemployment rate continues to be below the national average. A record number of firms last year left New York City for New Jersey. And our Wall Street credit rating is number one in the nation.

And this is the year we'll start getting the dividends from investments we began making last year — invesments that will mean jobs today and a future of opportunity for our children.

That's the promise we've made to the people of this state. And, 1991 is all about keeping promises.

You'll be able to keep track of how well we're doing at keeping our promises. Mark these dates on your calendar.

On March 17, we keep the promise of clean water. That's the date when the long-time practice of dumping sludge in our ocean will finally come

Last year, we had great success at keeping our beaches clean. Despite New Jersey's extremely high clean water standards - the toughest in the nation — there were very few beach closings at the Jersey Shore last summer. This year, we're going to work to do even better. By putting an end to ocean dumping, we're renewing our commitment to preserving for our children the Garden State's most precious resource — the Jersey Shore.

State Of The State

By Gov. Jim Florio

On April 1, we keep the promise of lower car insurance bills.

No, it isn't an April Fool's joke. After that date, every policy written or renewed in New Jersey will have something missing: the $222 per car Joint Underwriting Association surcharge that we've all been paying to clean up a mess made by the insurance companies. For families with two cars, that will mean a savings of $444.

We're able to provide those savings to you because last year we finally drove a stake through New Jersey's old bad-driver fund, the JUA. New Jersey drivers will no longer have to pay to keep that fund afloat.

By July 1, we'll enact a balanced budget. I've submitted my proposed budget to the Legislature. It's the property tax relief budget. It represents a real break from our past patterns of spending. Direct aid to people is up by close to $2 billion. Money spent on state bureaucracy is down by $130 million.

This budget proposal fully funds the largest property tax relief program in our state's history. It also provides increased aid to local and county governments to help them pay for schools and social services that otherwise would be paid by local homeowners' property taxes.

There are likely to be some changes as people all across this state debate what should be in our budget. But whatever the details of the final budget happen to be, I'm confident it will keep New Jersey's future secure and keep the promise we made last year that no matter what happened to the national economy, we wouldn't raise taxes again.

When that final budget is approved, we'll publish a concise, easy-tofollow "People's Budget." It will contain information about how the state gets money and where those taxpayer dollars are spent. People want information so they can participate in the debate about New Jersey's future. The "People's Budget" will be something to which people can refer for the entire budget year.

Another important date is July 31. We're proposing that by that day you'll receive your homestead rebate

This is the year that the state's largest-ever property tax relief program goes into effect. Under this new program the most money — up to $500 — goes to the middle class families who need it the most. For 1 million homeowners, this year's rebates will add up to more than they received under the old system of rebates and income tax deductions.

This year is also the first time that tenants can get as much as

And those are not the only promises we're going to keep this year. Our budget proposal calls for a renewed commitment to our state's commuters by not increasing NJ Transit bus and rail fares. We're going to keep our commitment to our young people by fully funding the largest school aid package in our state's history. And we're going to help college students by offering more for tuition

And we won't forget that we're committed to making government smaller. We've already proposed eliminating three departments in state government and combining scores of agencies and divisions that do the same thing.

By taking these steps we will save taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars. And by getting rid of the waste and duplication that we all know is there, we'll go a long way toward making our state work better.

The people of New Jersey have made it clear that when it comes to government, "Smaller is better."

It's time for those in government to start saying, "We hear you. And, we're acting."

I'm optimistic that this year we will do the things we need to do, so that when the thousands of fighting men and women from New Jersey come home again, they'll find a secure state filled with opportunity. Because as they do their job overseas, we're getting ready at home by sounding a battlecry of our own: "New Jersey

Schools can ease children's fears of war

In recent days, the war in the Persian Gulf has occupied the thoughts of the American people, including its Because young children frequently have concerns they cannot express, or have unrealistic impressions that go unstated, both parents and school officials are encouraged to talk regularly with them as events in that region occur.

Since the first American troops left for Saudi Arabia last summer, students have sought comfort for their fears and answers to their questions from their families and in their schools. This is particularly true in communities where military call-ups have involved a large number of local citizens. Children with parents or other family members in the military may require special understanding, especially if those family members are already overseas, expect to be called into action, or are experiencing financial or other family stress at home due to the war.

To deal with their children's apprehension, parents can watch television news and commentary with their children, and thus help put events in the proper perspective and moral context. They should consider limiting the amount of time their children are exposed to war-related newscasts to avoid preoccupation with negative impressions. This may be particularly important should the atrocities of war, including civilian casualties and treatment of prisoners of war, become vivid media topics.

Children will find it comforting to know that some of their fears and concome are shared also by their parents, school boards members, school administrators and teachers, for whom this is not their first war.

Be Our Guest

By Martha C. Fricke

The schools, together with parents at home, can serve as a valuable resource for children. School attendance itself can provide a needed stability in children's lives. An understanding and explanation of world events can be a part of both classroom and home activities. By simply showing children a world globe, they will better understand what is occurring and appreciate their distance far from the fighting.

The following answers respond to the kinds of fears or perceptions that may come into children's minds:

Iraqi missiles cannot reach the United States, which is 7,000 miles

Threats of terrorism are just that - threats. Terrorism in other parts of the world is not a real factor in America's day-to-day life, although certain precautions must be taken.

☐ The problem in Iraq has to do with that country's leaders and not with the people of Iraq or those of Arab descent, including students' Arab-American classmates in school.

There is no current plan to draft persons not now in the military

Schools and parents should be alert for signs of continuing student stress. such as withdrawal, aggressive behavior, listlessness, hyperactivity, or blatent feer. If a child is having a problem, perents should talk to their child's teacher so that proper attention and understanding can be given at school. Many schools have resources for counseling or can refer the student to community agencies. Parents should look for special television programs for children, including a number of programs that are being produced by school districts. School districts should share resources and ideas to deal with students' concerns and encourage discussion of the war's effect on students at PTA meetings and other school activities.

Beyond providing assurance to children, parents and educators should discuss the issues and reasons for the Persian Gulf war, especially among older children. Perceptions of death, right and wrong, and an understanding of world events vary, depending upon the individual student and his or her age. School officials and parents should make an effort to be "in sync" with each other when discussing the morality and politics of War can leave a lasting impression on children and can influence their lives as adults. As citizens, they have a right and a responsibility to understand the seriousness, and implications involved, of their nation's decision to use military force. After all, our nation's future decisions regarding the issue of war or peace ultimately will be their's to make.

Beneficiaries must report change

Social Security and Supplemental Security Income beneficiaries must report any change in mailing address or risk having their checks suspended.

This is especially true of those who use direct deposit, because they are not using a mailing address to receive monthly checks. However, notices of changes and reminders of reporting requirements cannot be sent to a bank, so having a correct mailing address on file is extremely important.

In addition, in January of each year, Social Security sends each beneficiary a Form SSA-1099, the Social Security Benefit Statement. If the U.S. Postal Service returns a Form 1099 as undeliverable, that person's benefit may be suspended for lack of a good address, even if the beneficiary is using direct deposit.

Springfield realtor honored by peers

Lezlie K. Winter of Springfield was grounds, membership, budget and Winter expressed her gratitude for honored as Realtor of the Year during the recent Orange-Maplewood Board of Realtors' 80th annual dinnerdance. The award is conferred upon the realator who, in the opinion of board members, has made an outstanding contribution to the betterment of her community, her fellow realtors and her chosen profession.

Board president Gloria W. Costello of Raymond Connolly Realtors, Millburn, praised Winter for her contributions.

"Lezlie has been a highly positive force on behalf of the board for many years. She has chaired or served on such committees as multiple listing, by-laws, equal opportunity, house and finance and advanced planning.

"Lezlie was one of the first Cuyahoga Plan instructors, and her contribution to the New Jersey Association of Realtors' committees for license law and for multiple listing service has proved invaluable," Costello continued.

Winter has also been involved with local causes. She has chaired many charitable events for cancer research, and has raised thousands of dollars for the benefit of patients at the Flo Okin Clinic of the Beth Israel Medical Oncological Center in Newark. She has acted as a trustee of the religious school of Temple Beth Ahm in Springfield.

Scouts reflect on their world

The Girls Scouts of America will spend tomorrow, which has been designated as Thinking Day, as a special time for contemplation and an opportunity to take a worldwide view beyond their local programs and activities.

Girl Scout troops in Springfield, Mountainside, Kenilworth and Roselle Park belong to the Washington Rock Girl Scout Council.

The Girl Scouts is an organization that encourages girls "to do things," though many people are only familiar with such Girl Scout activities as hiking, camping, swimming, or selling cookies.

The Girl Scouts are expected to give thought tomorrow to the goals they share with members of the worldwide Girl Scout/Girl Guide community. Tomorrow, Girl Scotts will change their focus from near to far, from here to there, to recognize their alliance with the 8 million Girl Guides and Girl Scouts in 112 countries around the world.

In 1988, Thinking Day was dedicated to thoughts of peace - a commitment made by the World Associaiton of Girl Guides and Girl Scout Thinking Days.

The Springfield Girls Scouts are dedicating the 1991 Thinking Day to peace in the Middle East, and the safety of all Americans serving over there.

This is in addition to other meaningful topics for all people on the earth — topics such as a worldwide good health, an end to world hunger, literacy for all and the preservation of the world's natural resources.

The mission of the Girl Scout/Girl Guide Movement is to give each girl a sense of her own personal inner strength. Thinking Day helps Girl Scouts to focus that strength outside themselves for the good of people everywhere.

A SPINE OUT OF BALANCE

If you're feeling out of sorts, with a vague discomfort in your back, your spine may be out of balance.

Your spine serves a vital function in many ways. The spine and nervous system attached to it, in fact, have a direct effect on any of the functions of your body. It's important to keep the spine in proper balance.

The spine is connected to a foundation made up of your pelvis and legs. If this foundation is well-balanced and working normally, it helps to keep your spine in balance, otherwise it can cause pain and discomfort.

For example, if a house's foundation is crooked or unsteady, it will distort the walls. You'll see cracks in the plaster. Doors won't fit properly. Windows may not open. You can repair the cracked plaster and trim the doors and windows to fit Hillside's Dwayne Arrington gets off a layup attempt, while two Roselle Park players, including Scott Sexton (44) watch during last Saturday night's Union County Tournament game in Elizabeth. Arrington had 13 points and seven assists as Hillside beat the Panthers, 74-57, in the quarterfinal round. Sexton scored 23 points for Park.

Paulsboro beats Park

By Mark Yablonsky Sports Editor

After outlasting Brearley Regional to nail down another sectional title, the Roselle Park High wrestling team went on to lose, 42-18, to powerful Paulsboro in the Group 1 finale this past Saturday in Paulsboro.

Paulsboro, which has now won nine straight Group 1 titles, took command quickly from the start with pins at both 103 and 112 pounds, making the score 12-0. Park fought back to within a 16-12 count when it sandwiched pins by both Bob McCafferty and John Petrosky — at 119 and 130 pounds, respectively - around a defeat at the 125-pound level.

But from that point on, Paulsboro won six of the final eight bouts, with only Anthony Barra (140 pounds) and Chris Foy (189 pounds) able to gather—points for Park. Also, for the first time this year, Park's two top wrestlers. 152-pounder John Ranieri and 171-pounder Dave Patterson, were defeated. Both wrestlers enter the individual post-season activity with 24-1 records and 14 pins.

Thus, the Panthers, who have now won four straight sectional titles, end the 1990-91 season with a 15-2 record. The individual competition begins tomorrow night at Millburn, the site of the District 10 tournament, and will conclude Saturday, with the top three in all weight classes advancing to regional competition the following week.

Earlier in the day, Park, which also beat Cedar Grove, 57-7, last Tuesday in the North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2 semifinals, was able to advance to the Group 1 finale by outpointing Palisades Park, 35-30. Key wins came early in the bout from 103-pounder Mike DiMaio, who decisioned Chris Tennant, 6-2; from McCafferty, who won by technical fall at 119 pounds over Ed Giannantonio; and from Keith Appello, who decisioned Ron Shingelo, 10-9, at 125 pounds.

The biggest wins of the night, however, came from Ranieri, Patterson and Foy, all of whom pinned their opponents, enabling Park to retake the lead for keeps. Ranieri pinned Mike Ealogh in 2:42, Patterson halted Richie Katz in 3:20, and Foy, who is 14-7, got the fall against Eric Zitz less than two minutes into the bout.

Comets top Panthers, 74-57

Assistant Sports Editor The Hillside High School boys' basketball team put all the pieces together on Saturday night and came away with a 74-57 win over sixthseeded Roselle Park in the quarterfinal round in the Union County Tournament. Hillside, the third seed in the tournament, advanced to the semifinal round and were scheduled to meet second-seeded Linden High School at the Dunn Sports Center last night.

"I thought we played well, but we did have some lapses out there," said Hillside head coach Morris Griffin. "Roselle Park is a very smart team, and they played well. We had to play them really tough on defense."

Panther head coach Pat Lalley agreed. "Every one of our guys played as well as they could, but Hillside was the better team on Saturday night. They played strong defensively and

Bears lose heartbreaker, 31-29

By Bob Taylor Jr.

Sports Correspondent The Brearley Regional High wrestling team, following its 35-30 victory over Butler in the North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2 semifinals, rolled into Roselle Park last Thursday looking for its first sectional championship. But the Bears, despite wrestling their best match all year as a team, fell one match short as the Panthers won, 31-29.

Versus Butler, the Bears used a strong comeback to offset an early Butler lead. Middleweights Mike Lynch (130 pounds) and Ron Cagno (135 pounds) gave Brearley the spark needed to send it into the

The Bears then traveled down

Michigan Avenue two nights later to face rival Roselle Park. The Bears started the match off with freshman Dom Tripodi grabbing a 12-3 victory over Mike DiMaio at 103 pounds, but Park then proceeded to rattle off three consecutive victories to take a 15-4 lead.

At 130 pounds, Lynch avenged an earlier defeat when he drew with John Petrosky, 2-2. Cagno followed suit by tying Roselle Park's Pat McCafferty, 6-6. Senior captain Clint Kaminski also avenged a previous loss in defeating Anthony Barra, 1-0, at 140 pounds.

Roselle Park was victorious at 145 and 152 pounds to grab a 28-11 lead, but senior Vic Verno brought the Bears back to within nine points Wrestling of Park by pinning Paul Mooney in 1:04. The fall thus gave the Bears a chance to win the match if they could win the final three bouts.

But victory for the Bears was not meant to be. At 171 pounds, in a rematch of the county finals, Park's Dave Patterson scored a controversial 3-2 victory over Bob Taylor, enabling Park to forfeit the final two bouts and still win the match, Brearley will look to rebound in the District 10 tournament, which will take place this weekend in Millburn.

Lady Bears win conference

By Kim Eagan Sports Correspondent

The Lady Bears of Brearley Regional High beat New Providence in a very close game, 46-44, last Tuesday night to win the Mountain Valley Conference's Valley Division title.

Brearley was up by seven points at halftime, but fell behind by two points when New Providence outscored the Lady Bears by a 15-6 margin in the third period. However, Kim Eagan came back in the fourth quarter to score all of Brearley's 12 points, including a pair of foul shots with 17 seconds remaining that produced the final 46-44 score.

Eagan also pulled down 10 rebounds and registered seven assists.

'Dawgs batter Summit

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High swimming team completed a solid 12-4 season with a convincing 114-49 victory over Summit last Friday afternoon at the Boys and Girls Club of Union. The Springfielders won all but one event in the meet.

Rob Bierwirth, a resident of Clark, won both the 100 and 200-yard freestyle events, while Marty Visitacion took the 100-backstroke and 200-individual medley, in addition to being on two winning relay teams.

Softball clinic is slated

The Union Girls' Softball Club will be sponsoring a hands-on softball pitching clinic on March 24 at the Boys and Girls Club on Jeanette Avenue, Union. The clinic will feature instruction by John Stratton, the pitching coach of the 1990 Women's National Champion Raybestos Brakettes of Stratford, Information and applications are available by writing or calling Ed Collins, 2719 Killian Place, Union, NJ 07083, 687-9679. Spots for the clinic are limited.

Zawacki stands at 5-0

Union resident Tracy Zawacki, a sophomore at Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, has a perfect 5-0 record in women's tennis singles matches this season. She recently tallied wins over Samford, Alabama and Arkansas.

Her success has helped Wake Forest to a perfect 5-0 record.

Zawacki is also 4-1 in doubles matches with her partner, Diane McKeon.

Senior league

The Union County Senior Softball League is now planning for its second season, scheduled to begin May 1.

If enough players are interested, the League is planning to expand from one six-team league for players 50 and over, to two leagues for ages 50-59 and for players 60 and over. This will help to even out the competition.

Further information is available by calling or writing to Ray Mayer, 1127 Salem Avenue, Hillside, N.J. 07205, 353-4430.

WHO'S FIRST

Who's on 1st?

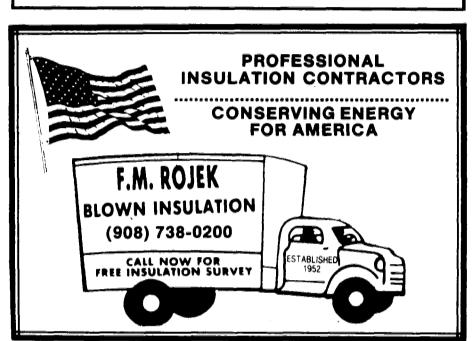

This week's question: Here's one that is definitely for your hockey trivia book: who scored the final goal in the old Madison Square Garden? Sorry, no clues.

Last week's answer: The NBA's all-time leader in steals is current Knick point guard Maurice Cheeks, who, entering the 1990-91 season owned the total of 2,066.

Cheeks, interestingly enough, never once led the league in steals, either in total number or in average. The closest Cheeks came to attaining this was in the 1981-82 campaign, when his 209 steals in 79 games for the Philadelphia 76ers worked out to a 2.65 per-game average. But Magic Johnson's 208 thefts in 78 games for the L.A. Lakers worked out to a pace of 2.67, and Michael Ray Richardson led numerically with 213 thefts for the Nets in 82 games, an average of 2.60.

The NBA, it should be noted, recognizes the leader(s) in steals by pergame average, and not by total number.

This week, Henry Hascup of Lodi submitted a correct answer. Please have your responses in our Union offices — at 1291 Stuyvesant Ave. — by no later than noon each Monday.

Lawn spinners unsafe

New Jersey Director of Consumer Affairs Patricia A. Royer, the federal Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) designee for the state, recently announced the voluntary recall of the "Pro-Sport" lawn spinner game by the Service Merchandise Company, Inc. of Brentwood, Tennessee in cooperation with CPSC.

The plastic fins of the spinner discs may cause serious facial injuries if a player throws the disc with too much force, misses the intended target, and the disc strikes another player or bystander.

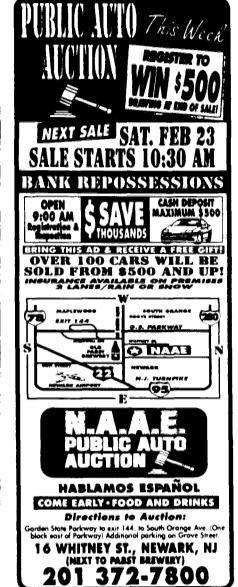

From 1988 until September 1990, approxiamtely 18,000 of the lawn spinner games were sold in Service Merchandise stores nationwide. CPSC knows of 18 facial and eye injuries to young children from thrown plastic spinner discs of similar type or design, which were sold by stores other than Service Merchandise.

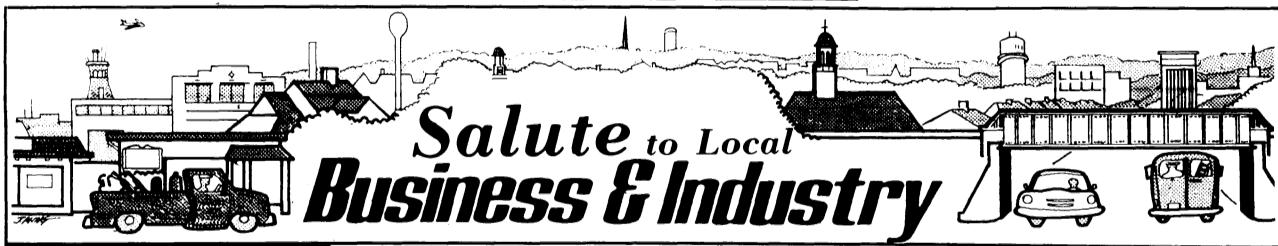

The "Pro-Sport" lawn spinner game consists of four colored plastic discs which are nine inches in diameter, and two stakes. The disc is flat and has seven fins with multiple holes. Players throw the spinner discs, scoring points when one of the holes of the disc drops onto the stake. Consumers can identify lawn spinner discs purchased at Service Merchandise stores by the word "Taiwan" molded into the discs. Service Merchandise advises consumers to return the discs to a Service Merchadise store for a refund.

To report an unsafe consumer product or a product-related injury, consurters may call the CPSC's toll-free hotline at 1-800-638-2772.

Expensive services at affordable cost

People for Animals, a low-cost neuter and spay clinic located at 433 Hillside Ave., Hillside, provides expensive services at a cost that is affordable for

Carol Hilton, the assistant manager and vice president of the clinic, has been working for People for Animals for about 10 years and believes it is one of the most professional clinics of its type.

According to Hilton, the clinic has five members on its staff and is able to provide surgical service for extremely low prices. "We always urge people to spay and neuter their pets," Hilton says. "The benefits are numerous and help both the pet owners and the animals themselves. But the primary reason for neutering your pet is to help stop the growing problem of domestic animal overpopulation. "More than 100,000 cats and dogs are destroyed in New Jersey alone every year because they are unwanted," Hilton says.

"We like to call spring 'Kitten Season.'" says Hilton, "Most people don't realize that female kittens can get pregnant at five months, and that pregnant animals can be spayed safely." Hilton said it is important not to allow kittens to become pregnant or to go through a heat cycle before getting the animal spayed.

"During the height of Kitten Season.

between April and June, we get 30 to 40 calls per day from people who want help in putting pets up for adoption," says Hilton. "The survival rate for most stray cats is one out of every four. If you multiply those figures together, the numbers of animals dying are outstanding."

When someone brings a pet, or even a stray animal, into People for Animals to be spayed or neutered, the animal receives plenty of care even before the surgery is performed.

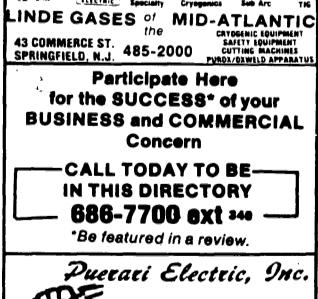

The animal receives a complete screening examination and all inoculations prior to the operation to make sure the pet is fit for the procedure, all for one low price. After qualified veterinarians determine the animal is a good candidate for surgery, the operation is permitted.

Rates for pet spaying and neutering are as follows: female cats, $35, male cats, $25; female dogs $35 to $50 and male dogs, $25 to $35.

People for Animals also has special programs for "outside cats," and outside cat owners are urged to call the clinic for more information. Residents can also call for information regarding special discount rates for residents on fixed incomes.

Dedicated to care, comfort and quality service, People for Animals is the best choice in town. The number to call for appointments is 964-6887. The office is closed on Mondays.

Tin painting exhibited

The Miller-Cory House Museum — at 614 Mountain Ave. in Westfield — will feature country tin painting on Sunday, from 2-4 p.m. Mary Ellen Halsey will demonstrate this popular form of decoration in New Jersey during the late 18th and early 19th centuries.

As time permitted, painted designs were added to household items such as coffee pots, document boxes and kitchen canisters. Halsey will explain the technique used and have a variety of examples on hand. She is currently president of the New Jersey chapter of the Historical Society of Early American Decoration.

Ellen Hess of Cranford will discuss the types of leavenings used in batters and dough at the time of the Millers and Corys. Hess is a member of the museum's cooking committee.

Life on an 18th New Jersey farm during the winter months will be highlighted by Christine Glazer of Cranford and other docents in period dress as they guide visitors through the furnished farmhouse.

The Museum Shop contains many educational items and handcrafted gifts, and will be open from 2-4 p.m. Staffed by volunteers, the museum welcomes new members. Anyone wishing further information about the museum's schedule of events or the volunteer orientation program can call the office at 232-1776.

League offering videos

The Junior League of the Oranges and Short Hills is offering to make video tapes at no charge for family and friends of members of the U.S. Armed Services in the Persian Gulf or at U.S. Military bases. Tapes will be sent directly to those individuals. This new war service effort has been initiated with the help of the Millburn-Short Hills Chapter of the American Red Cross.

League volunteers will make tapes either at the league headquarters or at the office of the American Red Cross, both located in Millburn, Fan,ily and friends can do a variety of things on the tape, including singing, reading and talking. This service is available immediately. League members also will provide free round trip transportation. Call Lise P. Chapman or Lisa Gadsen at the league at 379-9655 to set up a date and time for taping.

The league serves the communities of the Oranges, Maplewood, Livingston, Millburn, Short Hills, Union and Springfield. With more than 500 members, the league initiates and staffs community projects in the fields of health, welfare, education, ecology and cultural arts.

Craft exhibitors sought

Exhibitors are being sought by the sisterhood of Temple Sha'arey Shalom in Springfield for its 4th annual Crafts Show and Boutique, which has been scheduled for April 21 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. The event will be held in the temple's newly expanded facility.

Artisians and merchandisers featuring jewelry, stationary, accessories, knitted and crocheted items, pottery, ceramics, leather goods and personalized gift items are being sought. There is a $15 application fee per table, plus a charge of 10 percent of sales and orders.

Space is available on a first-come, first-served basis. For information and an application, call the temple office weekdays at 379-5387.

W. David Wilkins confronts Alice Staunton, as Norman Anderson, Ella Ackerman and Michael Hodson look on in rehearsal for "Arms and the Man."

Shaw play seems timely now

Though George Bernard Shaw set it in Bulgaria nearly 100 years ago, "Arms And The Man" is a play with meaning today, according to producers at the Summit Playhouse. The play deals with the "romance of war" — an odd phrase when one thinks about it. The wit, characters and use of language makes it both romantic comedy and a satire.

Director Arnold Buchiane said he has been waiting 25 years to stage "Arms," which he considers one of Shaw's most brilliant works. It opens Friday at the Summit Playhouse and features a number of players popular with local audiences.

Michael Hodson appeared in "Children" in Summit and received critical acclaim for his work in "Glass Menagerie" at Chatham and in area productions of "The Wool Gatherers," "Extremities," and "Lone Star." W. David Wilkins is remembered for his performance in "The Boys Next Door," and as the sadistic cousin in "Murder in Mind" on local stages.

Ella Ackerman is a principal in many Stony Hill productions, now making her first appearance in Summit. She's been seen in "The Mousetrap," "The Lion in Winter" and "Blithe Spirit" among others. Alice Staunton attended the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, and interned at the New Jersey Shakespeare Festival where she was in "Tom Jones" and "The Night of the Iguana." Norman Anderson and Jeff Maschi also are familiar for many local appearances. Sue Winik may be recognized from her appearances in television commercials.

"Arms And The Man" runs Saturday, Sunday and Feb. 23, 24, 28, March 1, 2, 8 and 9. Tickets are available through Jill Stevens, 431 Springfield Ave. in Summit or by calling Karen Horbatt at 273-8290.

Gala aids WCP troupe

The Westfield Community Players are hosting a gala dinner theater event at a cost of $25 per person — to benefit the troupe on Saturday night. Cocktails will begin at 6 p.m. in the theater, located at 1000 North Avenue West in

Director of activities Pam Heller, with the assistance of Lou and Ingrid Casella, has planned an evening that includes cocktails, a candlelight buffet and staged readings of original one-act plays by Helen and Sid Frank.

Heller said that the evening has the dual purpose of giving local theatergoers a new experience and providing additional funds to defray costs. For information or to reserve seating, call Ingrid Casella at 908-647-6308 after 6 p.m.

Hogan talks of black era in baseball

Dr. Lawrence Hogan of Fanwood, a history professor at Union County College, will speak on his traveling memorabilia display and upcoming documentary, "Before You Can Say Jackie Robinson: Black Baseball in the Era of the Color Line. 1885-1950," on Feb. 27 at the college's Plainfield Center.

The public is welcome to attend the l p.m. program, which has been arranged to coincide with February's national designation as Black History

Hogan will use videos in his discussion of his travel photo and memorabilia exhibit and its offshoots, including a national conference/reunion, black baseball archives and writing of a major text and photo history. The college recently received a $6,000 grant from the New Jersey Historical Commission to finance postproduction work on the video documentary.

His presentation will deal with the history of black baseball nationwide, using New Jersey as a case in point to illustrate the sport's overall societal implications. Examples of black baseball teams outlined in his research include the Atlantic City Bacharach Giants of the 1920s — with Baseball Hall of Famer John Henry Lloyd, and the Newark Eagles of the 1930s and 1940s — with Abe and Effa Manley as owners. That team featured such greats as Monte Irwin and Ray Dandridge, both Baseball Hall of Famers.

The original traveling exhibit debuted at the Newark Public Library in 1989, and has since been displayed in Baltimore. It consists of more than 300 photo and text panels. Featured in the exhibit, and its subsequent documentary and related teaching vehicles, are photographs, newspapers, scrapbooks, organizational records and personal testimonies.

Hogan, who has been teaching at UCC since 1977, earned a doctorate in American and Afro-American history from Indiana University.

A Guide to Find the Finest Dining In New Jersey Restaurant Coachman

Restaurant review The

By Suzette Stalker A visit to the Coachman Restaurant

in Cranford, at Exit 136 of the Garden State Parkway, is to experience hospitality, fine cuisine and professional service at its very best. It is all these qualities and more which make this the ideal setting for a family dinner, a romantic rendezvous or a large gathering.

My companion and I were welcomed into the restaurant by a friendly hostess, who seated us at a comfortable booth in the Coachman's elegant dining room. The recently renovated room, furnished in mauve and pastels, was softly lighted by custom-made brass chandeliers and by small candles on every table.

We began our feast with two of Coachman's many tantalizing appetizers. My companion selected mozzarella sticks with a tasty sauce, while I opted for a serving of the equally delicious stuffed mushrooms.

My companion chose for his entree a dish called the Odd Couple, a delectable combination of yeal and breast of chicken scaloppine, sauteed with sherry wine, onions and sliced fresh mushrooms. It was accompanied by mashed potatoes, a salad and Italian vegetables.

I enjoyed the Surf and Turf combination, with tender portions of filet mignon and lobster tail, also served with potato, salad and vegetable. As a grande finale to this fine meal, I ordered the restaurant's creamy chocolate mousse topped with whipped

The Coachman comprises a cocktail lounge and dining room a la carte, as well as six banquet-convention rooms designed to accommodate between 20 and 500 people. There is live entertainment on Friday and Saturday and a DJ in the lounge Sunday through Thursday.

Coachman's diverse menu, prepared by longtime chef Nathanial Dickey, includes appetizers, soups, entrees, desserts and a children's section. Seafood and charcoal-broiled offerings are among many entrees featured on the menu, as well as generous salad platters.

All dinner entrees are served with the customer's choice of potato or mixed rice and vegetables and a complimentary salad bar. There are also fine California wines available by the glass, carafe or half carafe; domestic and imported beers; and an impressive wine list presented upon request.

The children's menu, for patrons under 10 years of age, features such fare as hamburgers, fried chicken and fried fillet of fish, all of which are served with a helping of french fries; spaghetti and meatballs, beverage and dessert.

Patrons can also enjoy their favorite cocktail at the Coachman, which counts martinis, whiskey sours, strawberry daiquiris and pina coladas among its specialties.

The restaurant is open from 7 a.m. to midnight Sunday through Thursday, and from 7 a.m. to 2 a.m. on Friday and Saturday. It periodically opens even earlier to accommodate conventions and other large-scale events. Coachman serves breakfast, lunch and dinner, and even includes a late evening menu.

General Manager Joseph R. Ambrozy, a most cordial gentleman, reported that the restaurant is planning to mark its 20th anniversary in March with an expanded menu and entertainment roster which is expected to include performers from Atlantic City, New York and Philadelphia.

■ Buy Low - Sell High!

A Matter of Time! Ever hear the question "How high up is up?" It's one of those lighthearted "brainteasers" to which there is no precise answer. When listing your home for sale, you may face a similar question: "How long should the listing period be?"

That's a question to which there can be many answers. Friends may advise you not to sign a listing for more than thirty days, saying "It will make your agent work harder!" On the other hand, you may be asked to sign a oneyear listing. So, what is the best approach? How long is long enough? The selling time for homes can vary widely from city to city, and even differ greatly from one neighborhood to another. Homes in a popular subdivision may experience an average sale time of 63 days, while those in a less attractive one may require 227 days - even though they are only a mile apart.

Before signing a listing on your home, ask your agent to provide detailed information about all home sales in your neighborhood over the past twelve months - sale prices, financing offered, and the time they took to sell. If there were nine sales, eliminate the two with the longest and shortest times. There were probably some special circumstances which caused their exceptionally long or short sale time.

Look at the remaining seven sales and average them. If your home is being offered at a fair price, on similar terms, you can probably expect a similar marketing time. If the average marketing time was 117 days, consider signing a listing for a four month period. If the average is much higher, say 193 days, a six month listing may be in order. Unless your home offers some unique benefit to prospective purchasers, its sale time will closely parallel that of other homes in the

How long is long enough? With the information provided, give your agent a fair amount of time to produce a buyer. You may then expect loyalty and productive effort from your agent.

IF YOU'RE PLANNING TO SELL YOUR HOME SOON AND WOULD LIKE INFORMATION ON ITS CUR-RENT VALUE, GIVE ME A CALL AT 686-1340 eves. THERE IS NO COST OR OBLIGATION.
