Boro's school board resumes budget talks

By Suzette Stalker
Managing Editor

The Mountainside Board of Education resumed discussion Tuesday regarding development of its 1991-92 school budget, which has been delayed since December while the board awaits final state aid figures from the New Jersey Department of Education. These figures are scheduled to be released March 15.

Superintendent of Deerfield School Leonard Bacarro said the district was originally slated to receive $728,929, according to state information received last week, but that this figure has tentatively been increased to $794,000. Bacarro emphasized, however, that this amount could be subject to change.

The board must keep its budget within a 7.5 percent cap, which limits how much the budget may increase over the previous year. Bacarro reported that the 1991-92 budget may not increase by more than $250,000, or five tax points, over last year's $3.8 million figure.

"I think we have to refocus the budget," Bacarro told the board during Tuesday's meeting. "If we're going to be limited to a $250,000 increase, I think we have to start setting some priorities as to what areas we're going to fund."

The superintendent acknowledged that while the cost of certain materials, such as textbooks and workbooks, has increased in recent years, the amount of money the Mountainside school district expects to spend on these items for 1991-92 "is identical" to the amount in last year's budget.

Board members are particularly concerned, however, about having sufficient funds to cover projects such as the repair of the Deerfield School library roof, which has been leaking. Bacarro said that the board would be investigating within the next several weeks how funds could be allotted for such tasks.

Enrollment at Deerfield has been on the rise during the past year, according to Bacarro, which will eliminate the possibility of combining classes. The increase may also require a rescheduling of physical education periods, he said.

Each grade level, with the exception of the fifth and sixth grades, is currently divided into three sections. The superintendent said the school is planning to expand the fifth and sixth grades into three groups as well during the 1991-92 year to accommodate the growing number of students.

Bacarro said he would present recommendations regarding budget priorities at the board's next meeting on March 19. This meeting will take the place of the one originally scheduled for next Tuesday, which has been cancelled, so board members can discuss state aid figures which are due next week.

BRAIN POWER — Fifth- and sixth-graders at Deerfield School in Mountainside recently competed with students from the United States, Canada, England, Europe, Africa, South America and the Pacific Basin in the fourth Elementary Knowledge Master Open, an academic contest testing skill in Life Science, American History, Literature and 11 other categories. Students offered 'alternatives' to drugs

By Suzette Stalker
Managing Editor

A group of teen-agers from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, which enrolls Mountainside students, is attempting to dissuade peers and younger children from using alcohol or drugs by offering them "alternative" social activities they can enjoy instead.

The group, called Alternatives, presented its first assembly program for elementary school youngsters Monday when eight of its members visited Deerfield School in Mountainside, where they spoke to 150 sixth-, seventh- and eighth-graders about the perils of substance abuse and the benefits of staying sober.

The high school students shared their own feelings and experiences with the Deerfield youngsters and explained how they dealt with peer pressure to drink or experiment with drugs. Many of them stressed that they were able to remain popular and well-rounded without resorting to substance abuse.

Eleventh-grader Andy Huber of Springfield reported that his desire to be successful academically and athletically was his motivation to stay sober. He also said he would never want his family to have to experience the anguish that their son had been killed in a drunk-driving accident.

Huber's brother, Ryan, a 10th-grader, recalled that while he himself has never experimented with drugs or alcohol, he has witnessed the debilitating effects which these substances have had upon some of his peers, and urged Deerfield youngsters to avoid such pitfalls when they enter high school.

Mountainside senior Thomas Cukier, co-president of Alternatives, explained to Deerfield students that his organization wanted to do more than just offer them the flat message "don't drink." He said he wanted to offer them real alternatives to drugs and alcohol.

A popular activity has been the monthly "open gym night," held at Jonathan Dayton on Fridays, when students can enjoy volleyball, basketball, indoor soccer and the weight room, as well as a movie room.

The first night drew about 100 students, according to Dayton guidance counselor Carolyn Konen, who is co-adviser to Alternatives.

Last Christmas, Alternatives members also tied red ribbons, donated by Mothers Against Drunk Driving, to the antennas of cars parked in the Jonathan Dayton parking lot. The gesture served as a reminder to faculty and fellow students not to drink and drive and to enjoy a safe holiday season.

"We give you an opportunity to do things on the weekend instead of hanging out at someone's house drinking a can of beer," remarked 12th-grader Marcie Gomstein of Springfield, co-president of Alternatives.

"It gives students an opportunity to hang out with their friends and do a lot of other things. We hope a lot of you guys will join us next year," she told her young audience.

Springfield senior Jamie Schutz discussed Safe Rides/Safe Home, a program co-sponsored by the municipalities of Mountainside and Springfield, in which Jonathan Dayton students await calls from fellow teens who are either intoxicated or are afraid to ride home with someone who is.

After the Dayton classmates spoke, they met with Deerfield youngsters in small groups to answer questions and further discuss Alternatives. Michele Pitts, Deerfield guidance counselor, said she believed the open dialogue and personal anecdotes carried a more direct message than any anti-drug video.

Cliff Lauterhahn, Regional District student assistance counselor and co-adviser to Alternatives, explained to the Deerfield youngsters his role in Animal worker answers variety of 'pet' peeves

By Debbie Sacharoff
Staff Writer

It's the mating season. The air is warming, flowers are budding, and people get spring fever. In the animal kingdom, dogs and cats get spring fever too — which makes work for Marisol Torres of the Associated Humane Society.

Torres, who responds to calls about stray or troublesome dogs, cats, even raccoons, works for a company that services many North Jersey towns including Mountainside, Springfield, Kenilworth, Roselle Park, and Hillside.

"When spring is in the air, animals are out, and we get more calls. Starting at the end of February until June, we are very busy," she says.

A female dog can lure so many males that once, in Newark, she recalls, the company picked up 13 dogs, who ran right into the van after the female was caught.

"The season is just starting, and last week we were loaded with calls," Torres continues. "Lately we had a raccoon problem at the border of Roselle Park and Kenilworth. A raccoon kept going into this lady's yard. When I would try to get it, it would try to jump on me. Then a dog chased the raccoon all over the yard. It was really something."

Torres explains that for seven days after the animals are taken in by the society, owners get a chance to reclaim them. Then they are put up for adoption, and often end up in good homes, either as pets or, in some cases, as watch dogs.

Sometimes the company tries to get stray animals spayed or neutered so they have a better chance of finding a home if they are not claimed.

"You get many more strays now, as dogs, cats and raccoons are all out chasing each other," she says.

Four nights per week Torres is on call in case of emergencies, and notes that "at night it's busy."

"This past weekend I had nine calls. Last night at 4 a.m., for example, a raccoon fell through a guy's ceiling," she says.

When asked how she likes her animal work, with its varied schedule, and on-call nights, Torres, who has been employed at Associated Humane Society for three years, says very simply, "You know, I just enjoy it, I guess."

CHEERS FOR A GOOD SEASON — The girls basketball team at Deerfield School in Mountainside celebrates the end of the season with a good record and hopes for an even better season next year. The team, along with coach and physical education teacher Esta

Watchung Reservation to get 'spring cleaning'

By Suzette Stalker
Managing Editor

Residents of Mountainside are being called upon to help clean up their community during Litter Day '91, which is scheduled to take place April 27 from 9 a.m. to noon at the Watchung Reservation. The reservation is one of four sites which have been designated for a cleanup by Litter Day Inc. this year.

Litter Day, headquartered in Hopewell, is a statewide community program organized to remove litter from recreational areas and to promote public awareness of environmental issues among New Jersey residents, according to Litter Day coordinator Rusty Priory.

The organization has selected the same three sites as last year for Litter Day '91, including the Watchung Reservation, the Delaware and Raritan Canal in Princeton and Community Park in East Brunswick. A fourth location, Monmouth Battlefield State Park in Freehold, has also been added to the roster.

Litter Day '91 will mark the third annual cleanup for the Watchung Reservation, Priory said. She explained that the Watchung Reservation "is not a particularly dirty place, but during the winter, debris gets blown in from everywhere."

"There are a lot of programs at the Trailside Nature and Science Center, and the people who work there have been very cooperative and enthusiastic about their park," the program coordinator continued. "They welcomed our support."

The organization is seeking local volunteers, including young adults, teen-agers, children, senior citizens and Scout groups to volunteer for Litter Day '91 at the Watchung Reservation. Participants will meet at the Trailside Visitors Center on Coles Avenue and New Providence Road, Mountainside.

Doughnuts and cider will be served at the center, and Litter Day will supply volunteers with biodegradable bags for the project, Priory said. Each participant will also receive a T-shirt as a reward for their efforts in helping to keep their community clean.

Priory reported that the purpose of the annual Litter Day program is twofold. One aspect is to improve the environment of New Jersey's recreational areas and the other is to educate people, and particularly children, not to litter.

"If every third-grader threw out a gum wrapper every day, you'd be able to ski on the tin foil," she commented. "I think the program increases their awareness of litter problems and what they can do about it as a citizen."

Anyone interested in participating in Litter Day '91 can pick up a registration form at Eastern Mountain Sports of Union, the principal sponsor of the event or at Trailside Nature and Science Center. For more information, one can call 466-4333.

Aid brochures available

Sen. Donald T. DiFrancesco, R-Essex/Union, whose district includes Mountainside, has announced that brochures describing college financial aid programs are now available at his legislative office, 1801 E. Second St., Scotch Plains.

"The State and Federal Financial Aid Programs for New Jersey Students" brochure provides valuable information to both students and their parents on the various state and federal grants, loans and scholarships available to New Jersey residents," DiFrancesco said.

"It outlines the basic eligibility requirements and the application process for the various financial aid programs," according to the senator.

DiFrancesco said that last year more than 64,000 students received approximately $84 million in state-supported grants and scholarships. In addition, more than 66,000 students received loans guaranteed by the New Jersey Higher Education Assistance Authority.

The senator's legislative office also can provide constituents with brochures describing graduate-level financial aid programs and higher education opportunities available in New Jersey.

To receive copies of any of these brochures, one can contact the senator's office at 322-5500.

The state also has a toll-free hotline, 1-800-792-8670, to answer questions about financial aid. Another state toll-free number, 1-800-962-INFO, provides information on all higher education facilities in New Jersey.

assisting students at the four schools in Union County Regional High School District 1 with any problems they may have.

Lauterhahn emphasized that he is neither "a law enforcement officer or a disciplinarian," and that not everyone who comes to see him has a drug or alcohol problem. He added that he also counsels students who have family, school or other problems or have family members or close friends in these situations.

The student assistance counselor explained that he advises students who have never used drugs or alcohol, as well as those who have experimented with them and those who have more serious problems. He said he also advises students on how to offer resistance to alcohol and drugs in social situations.

Local vets plan parade

Norman Sprague of American Legion Martin Wallberg Post 3, Westfield, and Joseph Sisto of Veterans of Foreign Wars Memorial Post 10136 of Mountainside are co-chairmen of the Westfield Memorial Day Parade, scheduled for May 27, and will be holding a planning meeting with members of the executive committee.

It is requested that any organization interested in participating in the parade notify, in writing, the Parade Committee, American Legion Post 3, 1003 North Avenue West, Westfield, 07090. All groups will be advised at a later date when it will be necessary for them to be present.

Marcie Gornstein, a senior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, offers some 'alternatives' to students at Deerfield School in Mountainside in an effort to dissuade them from using drugs or alcohol in high school. 'Alternatives,' of which Gornstein is co-president, promotes a wholesome lifestyle for teenagers.

The Mountainside Public Library is currently expanding its audio-visual collection with a wide variety of new compact discs and videocassettes. The compact disc selections include Broadway musical numbers, opera, classical concerts and popular music.

A partial listing of the library's new musicals includes "Jerome Robbins Broadway," "Chorus Line," "Cabaret" and "Anything Goes." For jazz fans, the library offers Duke Ellington and Manhattan Transfer, among others.

Popular music is represented in the library's collection by Scott Joplin's "Ragtime," Barbra Streisand, Bobby McFerrin and Harry Connick Jr. New classical selections feature Plácido Domingo, Vladimir Horowitz, "Peter and the Wolf," read by John Gielgud, and Chopin and Vivaldi collections. Recent additions to the adult video collection include three instructional titles just in time for spring: "Wallpaper Like a Pro," "Preparing Your House to See" and "Foolproof Flower Beds."

For children, there are six "Ramona" videos from the popular PBS series; "The Velveteen Rabbit" and "Homer Price" stories. Entertainment videos, such as Walt Disney's "Ben and Me" and Sesame Street's "Sing Yourself Silly" are also available.

All compact discs and videos may be checked out free of charge to Mountainside residents and other Union County residents whose home library participates in Open Borrowing. For further information, one can call the library at 233-0115.

Irish lawyer to be feted

Attorney Raymond O'Brien, who represents the Mountainside Board of Education, will be honored by the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick of Union County as the recipient of the 1991 William A. Boyle Sr. Award as Irishman of the Year at its annual dinner to be held March 13 at the Town and Campus, Union.

O'Brien is a founding partner of the Elizabeth law firm of O'Brien, Liotta and Mandel, and his practice specializes in education, real estate and trusts. O'Brien also represents the Elizabeth Board of Education. He is a member of the New Jersey, New York and Washington, D.C., bar associations.

The dinner is held annually to benefit the Friendly Sons' two favorite charities: its annual college scholarship, awarded to a deserving high school senior of Irish descent, and "Project Children," the group which brings children to the United States from war-torn Northern Ireland.

For dinner tickets or further information, one can call Jim Keefe at 276-1100, Michael Walsh at 635-4416 or Dennis O'Brien at 758-0730.

Volunteers are also being sought for daytime work at the chapter house on Elm Street, Westfield.

their families," said Gail Moffett, chapter director.

The volunteers would handle calls in their own homes concerning requests, usually for emergency leave for military service personnel which come through the office's answering machine.

"Without Red Cross verification, emergency leave will not be granted," Moffett said. "We're the only ones designated by Congress to do this. It's a very satisfying and rewarding job."

"The nighttime job involves a service which is mandated by Congress to help service men and women and

Lifeguard course offered

The Summit Area Chapter of the American Red Cross, which serves Springfield and several other communities, will conduct a lifeguarding course at the Berkeley Aquatic Club, 649 Springfield Ave., Berkeley Heights, May 12-June 24, from 11:30 a.m.-4 p.m. There will be no class May 26.

Candidates for lifeguarding certification must be at least 15 years old, in excellent physical condition, with strong swimming skills and current certification in Standard First Aid, according to Jean R. Thomas, water safety chairman.

This certification requires four hours of First Aid training plus four hours of cardiopulmonary resuscitation instruction, or Advanced First Aid and Emergency Care, or Emergency Medical Technician certification.

One can register at the Summit Area Red Cross, 695 Springfield Ave., Summit. Enrollment is limited to 24 people. One can call 273-2076 for information about registration and the fee for the course.

Enrollment in a First Aid or CPR recertification course or an entire course before completion of this course is acceptable before final certification in lifeguarding. One can contact one's local Red Cross chapter, hospital or first aid squad for dates of available courses.

Cookie sale begins

The Washington Rock Girl Scout Council has launched its annual spring cookie sale, and Springfield and Mountainside Girl Scouts will be doing their part by taking cookie orders door-to-door through March 17. Cookie sale proceeds help support the council's many programs and activities.

All cookies are baked especially for Girl Scouts by Little Brownie Baker and can be purchased for $2.50 per package. The sale helps Washington Rock Girl Scout Council provide an extensive camping program and services to troops.

Selling cookies is also the major source of income for individuals troops, and are the means to fund troop trips and special projects. This year's theme is "Girl Scouts — Growing with Pride."

Girl Scout cookies come in seven varieties, including two new cookies: Trail Mix Cookies and Chalet Cremes. Selling cookies is a valuable learning tool for girls, according to council officials. Each scout learns to practice safety measures, to deal courteously with customers, and to handle money.

After the sale, all the girls in a troop plan together how to use their profits. Individual sale incentives, including Cookie Campaign patches, buttons, jewelry, 35millimeter cameras, keychains, and sweatshirts to help motivate the girls to make the cookie sale not only a profitable event, but a fun time also.

Attorney will be speaker

Kenneth S. Javerbaum, senior partner in the Springfield firm of Javerbaum Wurgaft and Hicks, will be a principal speaker at the Joint Meeting of the Union County Medical Society and Union County Bar Association, scheduled for March 13 at the Westwood, Garwood.

Javerbaum, who has been designated as a certified civil trial attorney by the Supreme Court of New Jersey and who has been certified as a trial advocate by the National Board of Trial Advocacy, is co-chairman of the Medical-Legal Liaison Committee of the Union County Bar Association and Medical Society.

This committee is designed to deal with the problems of mutual interest and concern in the medical and legal professions.

The subject of Javerbaum's discussion at the annual meeting will deal with recent changes in the New Jersey Automobile Law, including, most specifically, the enactment of a fee schedule for physicians.

Javerbaum is active in numerous Bar activities and is a frequent lecturer to the public and to professional organizations. He limits his practice to the representation of persons sustaining serious personal injuries.

Tried and True Dentistry

Exciting technological advances in dentistry, some of which we have discussed, frequently obscure the rescue work your dentist performs every day for patients suffering pain and distress. Such work should not be overlooked merely because it is accomplished without unusual incident. For example--

Let's suppose you've experienced warning signals that your teeth need professional attention. You rush to your dentist for help and there learn that decay has eroded a once healthy tooth. But not so badly that it can't be saved by having it filled.

This is one of those dental restorations, you think, a dentist can perform without a second thought?

Well, not quite. To be successfully executed, this so-called "commonplace" procedure calls for highly developed, and artful, skills. Your dentist has to proceed effectively through three stages:

1. Completely remove the decay and prepare the tooth for the filling.
2. Cut a pattern in the tooth that will securely hold the filling in place as you grind away at your food month after month.
3. Install the filling in the tooth.

In fact, going through this procedure your dentist is filling the triple role of artist, engineer, and contractor -- carving, preparing, and constructing.

And all along you thought a filling required nothing more than a spinning drill and some kind of tough composition stuffed into the excavation!

TREATMENT FOR WHIPLASH

If you've had the misfortune to experience whiplash, you should seek treatment immediately to avoid any dangerous consequences.

The most familiar victim of whiplash is someone who's been in an automobile accident. The jolt to the head caused by collision and the effort to control it can have painful results. Other accidents can also cause whiplash, even stepping off a curb and turning an ankle can cause a jolt to the head when you try to prevent yourself from falling.

The affected area is centered in the seven vertebrae in your neck. Assisted by muscles and ligaments, they support your head and help control its movement. The whiplash action may cause the vertebrae to pull out of alignment, putting unusual pressure on the nerves attached to them.

Along with the pain, often there are other alarming symptoms such as headaches, dizziness, nausea, and depression. Treatment to put the vertebrae in proper alignment may relieve the pressure causing these distressing symptoms.

Hospital seeking 'old friends'

Administrators of Children's Specialized Hospital in Mountside are seeking people who have ever been associated with the hospital to join the pediatric rehabilitation institution's celebration of its 100th anniversary throughout 1991.

"We're looking for our long-time friends — former patients and their families, staff and volunteers — to be a part of our centennial events," explained Richard B. Ahlfeld, hospital president. "Sometimes, over the years, we lose touch with them, and they with us. We want to re-establish our ties with the many people who share their history with our facility."

The long history of the hospital, which began as the Children's Country Home in 1891, is a reflection of the progress of healthcare in America, as the hospital was then known, treated children stricken with polio exclusively because of the pervasiveness of the epidemic.

In addition to the young patients, there were many volunteers who assisted with a revolutionary treatment developed by an Australian nurse, Sister Elizabeth Kenny. The volunteers, over 500 women and men altogether, became known as "Sister Kenny Packers."

The name Children's Country Home was changed to Children's Specialized Hospital in 1962 to accurately reflect the services offered there. Today, Children's Specialized is the state's only comprehensive pediatric rehabilitation hospital, offering inpatient and outpatient care to children and adolescents.

"The hospital has a rich history and each person is special," Ahlfeld continued. "The doctors and nurses, the therapists and all the patients that were treated, the volunteers who devoted their energies over the years — we want them all to be a part of our 100th anniversary celebration.

"We'd also like to hear from people whose ancestors were instrumental in keeping the facility operating in the early days," Ahlfeld added. "Family names like Ackerman, Coles, Bridges, Delamater, Engel and Westlake occur frequently in the early records."

Among the centennial events is a birthday party scheduled for June 8, from 11 a.m.-3 p.m., at the hospital grounds.

If one has been associated in some way with Children's Country Home/Children's Specialized Hospital, or have information pertinent to its history, one can call the Foundation Office at 233-3720.

Springfield firm garners two awards

Association Management Corporation of Springfield recently captured two Crown Communicate awards during the New Jersey Society of Association Executives Conference which was held in Atlantic City.

The directory produced for the Consulting Engineers Council of New Jersey was cited for its attractive, yet practical design, while a membership promotion brochure produced for the New Jersey Veterinary Medical Association was recognized for its overall design and "clever concept."

Sporting a line drawing of an owl on the cover, the text invites veterinarians to "Make a Wise Professional Choice" by joining the New Jersey Veterinarian Medical Association.

Produced by the Association Management Corporation Communications arm, headed by Director of Communications Debbie Hart, the pieces were designed by artist Irene Spillane and production manager Dale Nieves.

BANK NEWS

Get the facts about FDIC insurance limits.

The average depositor finds it difficult to determine the strength and stability of a bank. That's why it's important for depositors to know the amount of FDIC coverage provided by their bank.

The basic insured amount for a depositor is $100,000. However, deposits maintained in different categories of legal ownership are separately insured. It is possible for you to have more than $100,000 insurance coverage, as long as the funds are owned and deposited in different ownership categories.

Ownership categories include individual ownership, joint ownership and testamentary accounts. IRAs, Keoghs, and pension or profit sharing plans are insured separately from savings accounts. The insured limit of $100,000 is applied to the combined total amount you hold within each ownership category. Our Account Managers are ready to show you how to achieve peace of mind through FDIC insurance protection. If you have any additional concerns call our Account Managers. We'll even send you a free brochure that explains FDIC depositor coverage.

There has been a movement in congress to alter the amount of FDIC coverage. You may want to write your representative expressing your feelings.

Here's an example of how a husband and wife may have insured accounts totaling $700,000.

Individual Accounts:
Husband.....	$100,000
Wife.....	$100,000
Husband's IRA.....	$100,000
Wife's IRA.....	$100,000
Testamentary (Payment On Death), Husband for Wife.....	$100,000
Testamentary (Payment On Death), Wife for Husband.....	$100,000
Joint account with right of survivorship:
Husband and Wife.....	$100,000
Total.....	$700,000

We can show you how a husband, wife and their two children can have FDIC insured coverage up to $1.6 million.

Art exhibit announced

The public is invited to view a watercolor exhibit by Joan H. McKinney which will be on display at Children's Specialized Hospital, New Providence Road, Mountainside, throughout the month of March.

McKinney, a resident of Bridgewater, has studied with many professional artists in the metropolitan area, including Ed Havas, Nicholas Reale and J. Carl Berger.

She has presented one-woman shows throughout the area and her works are part of permanent collections in regional corporations, libraries and industries.

McKinney is a member of the Westfield Art Association, the Garden State Watercolor Society, the American Artists Professional League, the Princeton Art Association, the New Jersey Watercolor Society and the Somerset Art Association.

If an individual or group would like to view the display between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekly or on weekends, one can contact the hospital's community resource coordinator, Shirley Biegler, at 233-3720, extension 379.

The artist's works are for sale, with a portion benefiting Children's Specialized Hospital.

Civic Calendar

The Civic Calendar is prepared each week by the Springfield Leader and the Mountainside Echo. To avoid conflicts in scheduling local events, please post dates, times and places as early as possible and send to P.O. Box 3109, Union, 07083.

Thursday

Today at 4 p.m. is the filing deadline for any Springfield or Mountainside residents wishing to be candidates to their local board of education, as well as for the Board of Education of Union County Regional High School District 1. School elections are scheduled for April 30.

Wednesday

The Springfield Garden Club will hold its next meeting on March 13 from 7:30-9 p.m. at the Springfield Library, Mountain Avenue, Springfield. Area residents are invited to join club members to learn more about gardening and plants and enjoy refreshments.

Springfielder named secretary

The Union County Utilities Authority has announced that William Cieri, former mayor of Springfield, has been elected as secretary of the authority. Other officers elected included Hillside health administrator Angelo J. Bonanno, president; Plainfield City Councilwoman Helen Miller, vice chairman and Rahway City Council President Chester Holmes, treasurer.

The authority is an independent body created for the purpose of implementing the county's solid waste management plan. Its present work includes the planning, financing, construction and operation of a $155 million resource recovery facility.

Other authority functions include the administration of the authority's Board of Public Utilities granted franchise over all solid waste in Union County and the operation of one of the largest curbside recycling programs in the state, serving 75,000 households in 11 Union County municipalities.

Photographs on exhibit

The public is invited to view a photography exhibit by William N. Kreger of Scotch Plains, which will be on display at Children's Specialized Hospital, New Providence Road, Mountainside, throughout March and April.

This show marks the first professional exhibit for Kreger, a lifelong area resident. Kreger's photographs focus on people, places and nature. The artist's works are for sale, with a portion benefiting the hospital.

Kreger, an employee of Children's Specialized Hospital, began his photographic career as a hobby at a young age and has mastered his techniques. His works are included in many private collections throughout New Jersey.

If an individual or group would like to view the display between 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. weekly or on weekends, one can contact the hospital's community resource coordinator, Shirley Biegler, at 233-3720, extension 379.

Screenings set

The Board of Health of Summit will resume blood pressure screenings on March 21 from 1-4 p.m. at the Sarah Bailey Civic Center, 30 Church Mall, Springfield. This service is available to all Springfield residents.

Election coverage guidelines are set

In fairness to all board of education candidates and to provide the best service to our readers, this newspaper has established ground rules and a schedule for coverage of local elections.

Under the guidelines, this newspaper is committed to specific elements of coverage. It will give background information on all known candidates, including stories on basic positions taken by each and it will write news stories on the issues raised during the campaign.

We will also list important political events such as candidates nights in news stories.

We will aim to stimulate discussion of the issues during election campaigns through independent research and initiative stories.

If appropriate, editorial endorsements will be considered. When this newspaper sees fit to endorse candidates, endorsements will be based on interviews that include at least two members of the editorial staff, usually an editor and a reporter covering the campaign.

News releases and campaign position statements from candidates are welcome. They will be used at the editor's discretion and they will not necessarily be printed as such but may be used as material to develop news stories if the issues raised in them merit such treatment.

Story use, timing and treatment are entirely at the discretion of the managing editor.

We will strive to avoid the initial raising of controversial or sensational issues in the final edition before election.

Letters to the editor will be monitored closely during the campaign in an effort to reserve space in those columns for issue-oriented discussion among readers. Letters from candidates, their representatives or backers are considered campaign statements and may be rejected, unless their specific purpose is to object to news coverage of the campaign. All letters will be subject to editing.

We aim to focus on what the voter needs to know and not on what candidates want to say.

Our guidelines reflect the reader service objectives of this paper in municipal and board of education elections. However, we will review our guidelines from time to time and revise them if necessary as to benefit our readers.

Following is the schedule we'll adhere to in the April 30 school board elections:

Letters to the editor: We will print letters up to and including the issue of April 18.

Candidate's Corner: Candidates running for office will be given the opportunity to speak to the readers on these pages as they present their backgrounds, platforms and goals. Their columns will appear on April 18.

Our endorsements: Endorsement editorials will appear on April 25.

Staff written round-up stories: A final look at the candidates, their platforms, goals, etc., will appear on April 25.

Election results: Find out who won and why. Look for complete election result coverage on May 2.

We wish all candidates the best of luck.

News for kids, too

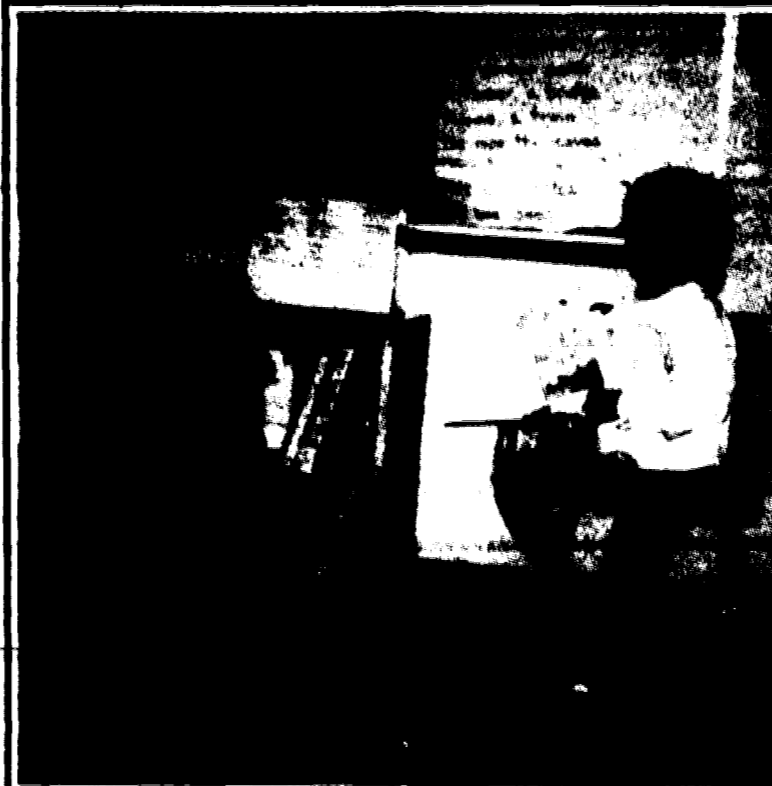

Political and geographic literacy is a key area of concern among teachers who are helping students prepare for their roles as citizens in the global and local villages of tomorrow. In a free nation, liberties are guaranteed by the availability of information. Much of the information that guarantees these liberties can be found in newspapers such as the Mountainside Echo.

There can be no access to information, no matter how available it is, without a literate society. The goals of educators and of newspaper publishers, then, are the same: literacy and access to information.

Newspapers in Education Week shows that through the use of newspapers, students can become better informed and consequently better citizens; that newspapers demonstrate practical applications of skills and concepts covered in the school curriculum; that newspapers update information contained in textbooks; that newspapers can be fun and fun motivates learning; and that teachers are given the opportunity to explore some teaching approaches and resources that they may not have tried.

Children do not simply begin to read the newspaper. They need models such as parents and teachers who are excited about reading and who share with others what they have read.

Parents who are more than a face behind the newspaper and teachers who use the newspaper as a means of enhancing the broad scope of literacy show children just how important newspapers are.

Local governments are endangered species

Editor's note: The following column is the second part of a two-part series which began last week.

The largest grab of local resources has been state government's appropriation since 1981 of the growth in gross receipts and franchise taxes. These are taxes paid by utilities in lieu of property taxes. In nine years, the state has taken unto itself more than $1 billion in these taxes which should have gone to municipalities under the 1938 law which created them. Many cities and towns today would be faring just fine taxwise if the state had simply left this source of money alone.

New Jersey's penchant for mandating new programs, but leaving payment up to municipalities, has reached legendary proportions. Jack Trafford, executive director of the New Jersey League of Municipalities, calls the past 10 years in New Jersey "a period of constantly escalating assaults on municipalities by the state and federal governments." State government's attitude (arrogance?) was epitomized late in 1989 when municipalities received letters from the Department of Transportation that it would no longer reimburse local governments for paying New Jersey's electric bills for street lighting on state-owned highways, a reimbursement which had been in effect since Mr. Edison sent out the first bill. In response, many mayors have said they'll refuse to pay. So far, the lights are still on, but it could get interesting, maybe even dark.

Be Our Guest

By Joseph Hartnett

A "911" emergency telephone system for New Jersey? State government says it's a great idea and passed a law to do it. Who's going to pay? Municipalities. And wouldn't it be nice if all tax maps in New Jersey were the exact same size, with new decimal system numbering of property lots and blocks? The state has said this would be nice, and has required municipalities to pay the considerable cost of doing it, even though graciously allowing the expenditure to be spread over five years. The list of "state mandates/towns pay" goes on and on.

The social engineering contemplated by Governor Florio's tax package does redirect resources from the state level, but overwhelmingly to the schools. This portends that the trend of shrinking resources for municipal governments will continue, not subside.

Just a few months ago, New Jersey Senate President John Lynch created quite a stir by proposing state takeover of the entire system of property tax assessing. Elimination of tax assessing on the local level and the creation of a standardized, centralized system would be a benefit to the public, he argued. Many were alarmed at this direct frontal assault on "home rule"; they might be more alarmed if they realized to what extent similar standardization and centralization are already in place.

Building regulations and the attendant permit process are now standardized from High Point to Cape May. You can take out your permit forms in one town and submit them in another, because they're the same. (You might have to cross out the one town's name and write in the other's.) Soon enough, we can easily have regional state building offices and eliminate the municipal role altogether.

The same applies to municipal courts. They are all being mandated to come "on-line" with the state's uniform computer system for processing violations of the law. There'll be no reason, for example, why you can't get the traffic ticket you received in Newark processed in Toms River.

Police departments have for many years now been linked to the State Crime Information System, a computer network which tracks and records law enforcement information, requiring uniformity and standardization to do so. And while we've already noted the required standardization of tax maps, we haven't even touched on long-standing areas of uniformity in New Jersey, such as the state-required format for municipal budgets.

The fact is, New Jersey may be known as a "home rule" state, but its municipalities actually enjoy no such thing; they're clearly the children in the governmental household. A proposal like Senator Lynch's can, in reality, be easily implemented with today's technology. Indeed many towns are already only one step away, having installed computer assessing systems to state standards and requirements.

With their outside revenues drying up and many of their functions easily subject to state takeover as a result of technological and legal standardization, municipal governments as we know them today are an endangered species. Yet, people like municipal government: they can feel it, touch it, yell at it. They can interact with its leaders on the street corner or in the local coffee shop.

Whether the public will allow the demise of local government remains to be seen. But New Jersey's new tax package has motivated the citizenry in an unprecedented way to examine how, where and why their tax dollars are spent. It is this dynamic which is likely to determine the ultimate fate of municipal governments in the State of New Jersey.

Ellis' break adds to Florio's 'credibility gap'

John Ellis is making waves, the kind that are surprising some and making others very uncomfortable. When Ellis, an unknown Texan, was brought in to replace Saul Cooperman as New Jersey's education commissioner, there were certain assumptions made by Trenton political insiders about the appointment.

First, as a total stranger to New Jersey and its peculiar brand of politics, Ellis began way behind — so far that he might never be expected to catch up.

Second, the timing of Ellis' appointment, coming after the enactment of Gov. Jim Florio's major education initiative, the Quality Education Act, put Ellis in a position of defending a controversial, confusing and hastily-passed proposal that he had nothing to do with.

Third, Florio and Cooperman didn't like each other. They had very different ideas about education policy. Tom Kean allowed the outspoken Cooperman to play a major role in shaping New Jersey's education plan. Conversely, Florio clearly wants education policy shaped and executed not from the commissioner's office, but from the governor's office.

Ellis is not the only cabinet member to be frustrated by the fact that they appear to have very little influence over their respective departments. Florio's operation is a very tight, insular one. That's why Florio's education point man, especially for the QEA, has been Tom Corcoran, a savvy education expert who knows the ins and outs of our state and has the total trust of the governor.

If Ellis had any doubts about Florio's education policies, he kept them to himself. Ellis was considered the classic, loyal soldier in the tight-lipped Florio cabinet. While he was well-liked by many local educators, he wasn't taken all that seriously by them. Some went so far as to call him a front.

Screening New Jersey

All that changed about a week ago. Mild-mannered team player John Ellis shocked the political and educational establishments by publicly taking issue with Florio's announcement that the education department's budget was being cut from $45 million to $37 million — a massive $8 million reduction.

Many of the jobs eliminated were those of people who were supposed to monitor the QEA to insure that a massive infusion of new state money wouldn't be wasted by local school districts. Ellis made it publicly clear that if Florio's proposed cuts were left in place, he could not insure that the $1 billion in QEA aid would be spent properly. In fact, Ellis said that not only might his department not be able to monitor these funds "effectively," they might not be able to monitor at all. He said the cuts of the QEA monitoring staff would make enforcement "extraordinarily difficult."

Ellis not only went to the press with his public disagreement with the governor, but he threatened to take an action which is clearly forbidden under this administration by stating, "I will go to the Legislature if I have to. I believe I will be able to document the need in order to do the job."

All of this in light of a Florio edict that bars cabinet members from directly lobbying the Legislature to restore budget cuts. In fact, Florio doesn't even allow his department heads to testify and represent their own agencies before the Legislature's joint appropriations committee. Treasurer Doug Berman has the distinct honor of speaking for all of them.

Ellis' comments further embarrass the governor, who has responded to public concern and opposition about potential waste and mismanagement in the QEA by assuring that he would "add an A for accountability to the three Rs." Obviously, it will be difficult if not impossible for already skeptical taxpayers to feel comfortable with Florio's promise of accountability given Ellis' statements.

Add to this the fact that the QEA sponsor, Sen. Dan Dalton, and Senate President John Lynch said that they weren't sure what was in the QEA formula, and they now question the ability of local school districts to handle all this new money. In fact, while Florio now seems receptive to a Lynch-Dalton proposal to divert $400 million of the QEA money away from urban schools toward property tax

But beyond the educational, political and fiscal ramifications of Ellis' surprising actions, it also points out what one long-time Trenton observer called the "unravelling" of the Florio administration. Unravelling sometimes comes from being wound too tightly. But unravelling also can happen when a group of bright, capable professionals are brought in to be titular heads of departments with no real power or authority to make decisions, to get credit or to take the blame.

In retrospect, maybe John Ellis' public defiance and declaration of independence shouldn't be so surprising. What's surprising is that it hasn't happened sooner and with more cabinet members. Then again, there's still a lot of time. Stay tuned.

Discovering ancestry living in the present

My son, junior ace reporter, met me at the door with a pad and pencil today, blocking my path like a "60 Minutes" veteran.

"Where did our family come from?" "Scoop" demanded.

"I've been asking that question for years, Johnny," I replied, as I took off my coat and dropped it on a chair.

He gave me the look that children reserve for the pitifully insane and parents.

"It's homework. Mrs. Pointzoff says we hafta do a report on where our ancestors came from."

"Oh..." I responded. "I understand. OK."

I grabbed a beer from the fridge and made a mental note to hang up my coat when I got around to it. My son continued to watch me, pencil poised.

"Well?" he asked.

"Hm... Now, I can't speak for your mother's side, but my family came from Italy."

"Does that mean we're Italians?" he asked as he took copious notes.

"No...we're Americans. It's just our ancestors that were Italians. We're as American as pizza."

"Why did they leave Italy?" he asked.

"That's just the way things were done back then. You were born, grew up, and left the country as soon as you could."

There was some fast scribbling, and Johnny moved on with the interview.

"Do we have relatives in Italy?"

"From what I hear, you can't swing a cat anywhere in the country without hitting two or three of our people. That was part of the problem. They all got married at 13, lived to 99 and seemed to have just one hobby."

Johnny raised the eyebrow he inherited from his mother, thought for a moment, and obviously decided to let the matter drop.

"Were any of our ancestors famous?" he explored. "Were they pirates or anything?"

"Sorry, son, no pirates. There was some talk of a horse thief or two, but no one was ever able to come up with much proof, even after the hangings."

"Oh," he muttered. His disappointment was obvious.

"But I'm sure our people WOULD have been pirates if they could have," I comforted. "It's just that they lived in the Alps, and it would have been very hard to SAIL a pirate ship."

The pure logic of the statement seemed to make sense to him. He nodded gravely and he moved on to the next question.

"When did they become Americans?" he asked.

"That's hard to say. Your Grandpa always said he knew Poppa had become an American when he caught him opening a jar of spaghetti sauce." He gave me "the look" again.

"Daa-aa."

"Look, I wasn't there. All I know is what I've been told."

Johnny made a face that made him look for all the world like Sam Donaldson, shook his head, and pressed on.

"Why did they come to America?"

"That's a toughie," I admitted.

"Well, why did our people come?"

"For one thing, passage to New York was $8 cheaper than passage to Argentina."

"That's not a good reason," he countered.

"It is if you don't have the extra $8," I pointed out.

Even if he was getting fed up, I was starting to warm up to the subject. "C'mon, any more questions?" I asked.

I got an uncertain look as he referred to his notes.

"Did they stop at the Statue of Liberty?" he asked.

Actually, family legend says that at least one of my ancestors made his first appearance on these shores at 3 o'clock in the morning after jumping off a tramp steamer. Still, it's quite possible he used the Statue as a landmark as he dog-paddled by. And even if he didn't, there's always the chance that he took the tour once he was settled in, so strictly speaking...

"I'm sure they did," I hedged.

I finally seemed to come up with an answer that my son liked. He grunted in satisfaction.

The next step was for me to rattle off as many of my esteemed ancestors' names as I could remember. My son was impressed by how many of them seemed to have been named after The Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles. I pointed out that we had claim to these names long before the green guys were around, which seemed to impress him even more.

We wrapped up the interview with the honest to goodness real pronunciation of our last name. In Italian, it's almost pretty. In English, it sounds like a throat condition.

He wandered off after that, into the living room and some quick cartoons. I heard him muttering something about hoping that he took after his mother's side. I finished my beer and decided to hang up my coat before my wife yelled. When I lifted my coat, I found my son's underneath it.

As a family, at least we're consistent.

Social Security earnings must be reported in April

People who work while they are getting Social Security benefits need to report their earnings by April 15, if their earnings are above certain limits, George W. Dearness, Social Security manager in Elizabeth, said.

For 1990 earnings, the reports are required from beneficiaries (other than those receiving disability benefits) who were age 65-69 and earned more than $9,360, or under 65 and earned more than $6,840, and received some benefits in 1990. Earnings over those amounts count in determining the amount of Social Security benefits due.

People who were 70 or older during all 1990 do not have to file an earnings report no matter how much they earned, Dearness said.

The annual report forms were mailed automatically to anyone who indicated they would be working and earning over the exempt amounts while they were getting benefits. Anyone who needs to file a report but didn't get one in the mail should call Social Security to ask for an Annual Report of Earnings form, Dearness said.

In their earnings reports, Social Security beneficiaries show the exact amount of the past year's earnings and provide an estimate of their earnings for the current year. For 1991, earnings over $9,720 for people 65-69, and earnings over $7,080 for people under 65, count in figuring the amount of Social Security benefits that can be paid.

For more information about working while receiving Social Security, contact the Elizabeth Social Security office at 24-52 Rahway Ave., Elizabeth, 07202. The telephone number is 1-800-234-5772.

 Explanations of Appropriations for "Other Expenses"

The amounts appropriated under the title of "Other Expenses" are for operating costs other than "Salaries & Wages".
 Some of the items included in "Other Expenses" are:
 Materials, supplies and non-bondable equipment;
 Repairs and maintenance of buildings, equipment, roads, etc.;
 Contractual services for garbage and trash removal, fire hydrant service, aid to volunteer fire companies, etc.;
 Printing and advertising, utility services, insurance and many other items essential to the services rendered by municipal government.

BOROUGH OF MOUNTAINSIDE EXPLANATORY STATEMENT "CAPS" CALCULATIONS

N.J.S. 40A:45.1 et. seq. "The Local Government Cap Law" places limits on municipal expenditures. Commonly referred to as the "CAP", it is actually calculated by a method established by the law.
 The actual calculation is somewhat complex but, in general, it works as follows. Starting with the figure in the 1990 budget for Total General Appropriations, certain 1990 budget figures are subtracted; including the reserve for uncollected taxes, debt service, State or Federal aid, etc. Take the resulting figure and multiply it by 5% and this gives you the basic "CAP" or the amount of appropriations increase allowed over the 1990 Total General Appropriations. In addition to the increase allowed above, any increase funded by increased valuations from new construction or improvements is also allowed. Also, the "CAP" may be exceeded if approved by referendum.
 The actual "CAPS" for this municipality will be reviewed and approved by the Division of Local Government Services in the State Department of Community Affairs, but the calculations upon which this budget was prepared are as follows:

Total General Appropriations for 1990	$4,948,906.46
Exceptions:
Less:
Total State and Federal Programs-Excluded from "CAPS"	$32,392.00
Maintenance of Free Public Library, Joint Library or Private Library	274,736.15
Total Capital Improvements Excluded from "CAPS"	50,000.00
Total Municipal Debt Service-Excluded from "CAPS"	387,000.00
Emergency Authorizations-Excluded from "CAPS"	28,500.00
Reserve for Uncollected Taxes	608,000.00
Other	209,200.00
Railway Valley Sewerage Authority Municipal Court	58,971.20
Total Exceptions	1,648,799.35
Amount on which 5.0% "CAP" is Applied	$3,300,107.11
5.0% "CAP"	165,005.35
Allowable Operating Appropriations Before Additional Exceptions Per N.J.S.A. 40A:4-45.3	$3,465,112.46
Add:
Increased Valuations From New Construction or Improvements	15,803.73
Maximum Allowable Appropriations After Modifications	$3,480,916.19

MR. AND MRS. FRANK W. CLARK

Lewis-Clark marriage

Donna A. Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Lewis of Roselle Park, was married recently to Frank W. Clark, son of Mrs. Dorothy Clark of Colonia and the late Mr. Frank P. Clark.

The ceremony took place in St. John Vianney Roman Catholic Church, Colonia. A reception followed in the Colonia Firehouse, Colonia.

The bride was escorted by her father. Denene Welter of Roselle Park served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Nancy Arcuri of Rahway, sister of the bride; Debra Grispart of Port Reading, sister of the groom, and Monica Carle of Roselle Park. Nicole Arcuri, niece of the bride, served as flower girl.

Mark Cushing of Colonia served as best man. Ushers were Gerald Gris-part of Port Reading, brother-in-law of the groom; Robert Arcuri of Rahway, brother-in-law of the bride, and Paul Oakley of Mystic Island. Gregory Grispart, nephew of the groom, served as a junior usher, and Daniel Arcuri, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer.

Mrs. Clark, who was graduated from Roselle Park High School and Union County College, is employed by Woodbridge Township Engineering Department.

Her husband, who was graduated from Colonia High School, also is employed by Woodbridge Township in the Park's Department. He also is captain of the Colonia Fire Department.

The newlyweds, who took a honeymoon trip to Montego Bay, Jamaica, reside in Colonia.

Panthers lose to Newark Tech, 43-33

By Mark Yablonsky
Sports Editor

In a game marked by tight defense and low scoring, the Roselle Park High boys' basketball team went down to a 43-33 defeat to Newark Tech Friday night in Roselle Park in the quarterfinal round of the North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2 playoffs.

Park, which entered as the section's top seed, got a determined 15-point effort by senior center Scott Birmingham. But Newark Tech, the section's fourth-seeded club, used a tenacious zone defense that forced Park outside for much of the night, causing the Panthers into forcing more lower-percentage shots.

Still, Park, while being held in check offensively, did enjoy a few exciting moments, including when Scott Sexton netted a three-point basket from half court as time ran out in the opening half. And Birmingham sank a long three-pointer from the right side as time expired in the third quarter.

But 13-point efforts from Antoine Hatcher and Terrique Goodman, Park thus concludes its memorable 1990-91 season with a 22-4 record, tying the school basketball record for most wins in a season with Joe Flaherty's 1964-65 squad, which went 22-5.

"We had a great run, to win 18 in a row," remarked Park skipper Pat Lally in reference to Park's 18-game winning streak at the start of the season. "The whole season was great. We had a good bunch of kids who work hard."

Croce wins national title, 6-4

By Mark Yablonsky
Sports Editor

Frank Croce of Roselle Park, one of the local area's outstanding wrestlers and a member of the Kean College wrestling team, is now a national champion.

Croce, a previous two-time collegiate All-American, won the NCAA Div. 3's 142-pound title with a 6-4 decision over Dave Weiland of Thiel College, Pa. this past weekend at the Div. 3 national championship bout at Augustana College in Rock Island, Ill.

That makes Croce an All-American grappler for the third straight year. Last season, Croce placed high enough in the nationals to be an All-American; and the year before that, the senior had been an All-American for Middlesex County College.

Croce also won this year's New

Boys' basketball

In addition to Newark Tech's swarming defense, the visiting team also had a noted height advantage. And to make matters worse, Park simply couldn't buy enough luck in the opening half from the floor. Despite taking shots from farther out, several Park shots seemed on target, only to elude the hoop at the last minute.

"I thought we did a good job defensively," Lally continued. "I was happy with our effort, the shots just didn't fall.

"They're quick in the zone. They cover a lot of space, they've got nice wing span and they're tough to handle."

Both Sexton, Park's sharp-shooting guard, and Steve McCauley were held to six points each.

Pioneers beat Brearley

By Kim Eagan
Sports Correspondent

The Lady Bears of Brearley Regional High gave it all they had, but fell just short to New Providence by a 47-44 score in the North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2 girls' basketball quarterfinals last Wednesday night.

The Lady Bears ended their 1990-91 season with a strong 14-4 record, the best ever under the direction of coach Marge Egan. Brearley also won the Mountain Valley Conference's Valley Division title with a 10-2 record.

The game with the Lady Pioneers was close throughout the first half and was knotted at 17-all at halftime. Then, after taking the lead with five minutes remaining, the Lady Bears fell behind for good on a combination of bad passes and other turnovers.

Kim Eagan led Brearley with 24 points, while teammate Tricia Anglim added nine.

Local matmen make tourney

A total of 11 wrestlers from the local area, including two champions, will compete in the state's high school wrestling tournament next week in Princeton. Leading the list is 145-pounder Mike Francesca of Union, who won his second straight Region 3 title with a hard-fought 8-6 decision over Andy DeFillippis of Columbia on Saturday in Union.

Five more returners to statewide competition were members of last year's All-County Leader team: Vic Verno of Brearley Regional, Dante Puorro of Dayton, Bob McCafferty of Roselle Park, Dan Lilley of Union and John Ranieri of Roselle Park.

Verno was the winner of the region's 160-pound class, thanks to a convincing 14-4 decision over Phil Iossa of Hanover Park in the final Saturday.

The rest of the local area's state representatives include newcomer Bob Taylor Jr. of Brearley Regional, who placed third in the region's 171-pound class; as well as Ron Cagno of Brearley, Len Rothbard of Johnson Regional, Steve Marcantonio of Rahway and Union's heavyweight, Scott Platt.

Taylor, who is 21-4 on the season, is scheduled to face Lodi's Frank Carriere in a preliminary-round bout this coming Wednesday, March 13, according to one published report Monday.

Francesca, meanwhile, is scheduled to be the No. 2 seed in the 145-pound class and will oppose either Mark Woodside of Freehold Township or Joe Lamonto of Newton.

Fein places 4th

Springfield resident Karyn Fein, 12, a member of the Mapettes of the Maplewood Gymnastics and Dance Academy, participated in the New Jersey State Level 7 Gymnastics Championships recently in Cherry Hill. Competing against 100 other gymnasts, Fein placed fourth in the all-around competition with a score of 34.80.

Fein's individual efforts included an 8.85 on the vault, an 8.70 on the uneven bars for a sixth-place finish, an 8.75 and sixth-place finish in the floor exercise, and an 8.50 and fourth-place finish on the balance beam.

With a total team score of 108.45, Fein and her Maplette teammates took the first-place team trophy for the second time in three years.

'90-91 All-County Girls' Basketball team

About our '91 choices

By Mark Yablonsky
and Susan Krakowlecki
Sports Editors

For the fourth straight year, Worrall Community Newspapers is presenting its All-County Girls' Basketball Team, consisting of players from the towns within our coverage area: Springfield, Mountainside, Kenilworth, Roselle, Roselle Park, Hillside, Linden, Union, Clark and Rahway.

This year, our First Team will consist of 10 players. And since our coverage area has expanded within the last year, we are offering a 10-member Second Team, as well as numerous Honorable Mention selections.

Our choices are based on statistics, importance of a player to her team, personal observation, and also on comments and observations from each of the coaches with whom we spoke.

Also, our choices were not made by position, largely because some of our selections either play more than one position, or play under varying kinds of offenses.

ANNA BLASCZYK

Linden High School head coach Andy Eng calls Tameka Dixon "probably the best-kept secret in Union County." The 5'10" forward is only a sophomore, but she was the Lady Tigers' leading rebounder, averaging 14 boards a game. Throw in her scoring average of 11 points per game, her 55 percent shooting from the floor and her average of four blocked shots per game and you have a clue as to why the Lady Tigers own a 26-1 record this season.

"Tameka is like a female Charles Barkley," Eng said. "She's important to us not only for the points she scores, but also for the points she prevents the other team from scoring. You have to see her play to truly appreciate her."

"And she's only a sophomore. She has a very bright future."

On a very young Arthur L. Johnson Regional team, Anna Blasczyk has been a young leader. The sophomore center is, at 5'11", the tallest of the Lady Crusaders and she excels on both offense and defense.

Blasczyk led the Lady Crusaders in scoring, averaging 10 points per game. She averaged 15 rebounds per game, also tops on the team, and she finished the season with 23 blocked shots.

"Anna has improved a lot since last year," Johnson coach Walt Hennessey said. "She more than tripled her scoring. I think she's going to get better as she goes along. She's only a sophomore, so she's still maturing as a player. She works very hard and she's got the desire to win."

KIM EGAN

Simone Gilliam may be a freshman, but she doesn't play like one on the basketball court. Gilliam averaged 10 points and six assists per game for the Linden High School team from the point guard position.

"This is Simone's first year at the point guard spot," Eng said. "It was quite an adjustment for her at first, but she's mastered the position. Not only was she racking up the assists from there, but she also helped us a lot by putting points on the board."

At 5'10", Gilliam adds some height to the Lady Tiger lineup.

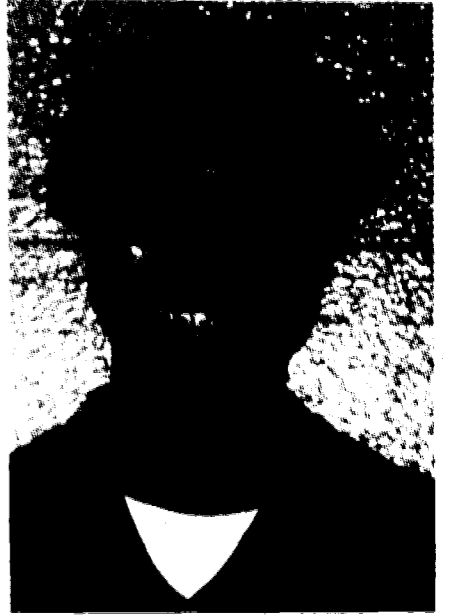

"For a kid as tall as Simone is to handle the ball and run the floor as well as she does is amazing," Eng added. "And as a freshman, she's only going to improve every year."

For the past four years, Kim Egan of Brearley Regional has gone about the business of scoring points at a rapid pace — so rapid that she is now Brearley's all-time leading scorer, both in boys' and girls' competition.

A key reason for Brearley's 14-4 overall record and the team's Valley Division title in the Mountain Valley Conference, Egan's best scoring effort this season was a 33-point showing in Brearley's 66-42 win over Dayton Regional on Jan. 29.

For the record, Egan leaves Brearley with 1510 points — including 454 this year alone for an average of 25 points a game. And Egan also happens to rank sixth academically in her class.

"Kim is a pleasure to coach," Brearley coach Marge Egan said. "She's a player that every coach would like to have on their team. She's a fine young lady, both on and off the court."

SIMONE GILLIAM

Another of Linden's stellar seniors, guard Erica Reed is the Lady Tigers' defensive specialist. "Erica always gets the job of guarding the other team's best player," Eng said.

In addition to her defensive expertise, Reed has averaged 11 points per game this season.

"Night in and night out, Erica always provides the most consistent performance," Eng said. "She's a great all-around player. She's always in the game. She does whatever she needs to in order to help us win. She is consistently one of our best players."

Reed hasn't decided where she will play her college basketball. She is being recruited by Glassboro State College, St. John's University on Staten Island, Union College and Brooklyn College.

ERICA REED

Roselle Catholic's Patty Kelleher must like being her team's offensive leader. This is the third season that Kelleher, a senior forward, has led the Lady Lions in scoring and rebounding.

"Patty was our best inside player," Roselle Catholic head coach John Halpin said. "But she was also a good outside shooter. She was really a great all-around player for us. And she provided us with some strong leadership."

The Lady Lions' team captain, Kelleher averaged 15 points per game in leading Roselle Catholic to a 12-9 record this season.

PATTY KELLEHER

MICHELLE PIECH

For the third straight year, Union's Michelle Piech finds herself on our All-County team. And she richly deserves it.

With 390 points this season, Piech, a senior who is considering nursing as a career, easily broke the 1,000-point plateau, making her the first female Union player ever to do so. Her 19 rebounds in one particular game earlier in the season also gives her a new school record.

And she was a consistent rebounder in double figures, averaging roughly 15 caroms per game.

"Michelle's biggest asset this year was her rebounding," Union coach Joe DeStephan said. "She's helped us on our fast break, and she's been very valuable to us."

"I would have liked to see her score more as a senior, but because of her scoring in past years, a lot of teams were double-teaming her."

LORI LAVIN

Of course, no basketball can truly be successful without a good point guard. And Lori Lavin of Union is indeed a good point guard.

With 160 assists and an average of 5.71 assists a game, Lavin was the catalyst for Union's attack. The hustling junior came through with 10 points and six assists in Union's 65-53 victory over Roxbury in state tournament play on Feb. 28.

And while her points-per-game average remained in single digits, there are certain times when Lavin put up big numbers — such as her season-high scoring effort of 18 points in a 56-25 win at Plainfield on Jan. 24.

"You need a field general out there, and she's been doing a great job for us," DeStephan explained. "A lot of times you don't always see the intangible things in the paper. So I think she's been very valuable to our team this year."

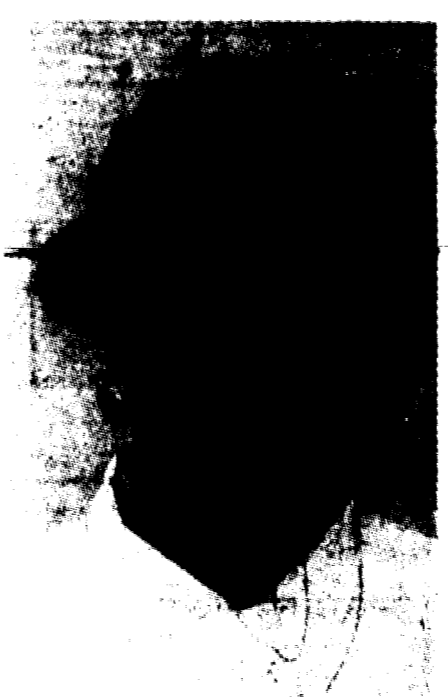

JOANN HALL

There's no mistaking how important Tahisa Palin was to the Abraham Clark High School girls' basketball team. "When she played well, we won," Lady Rams' coach Bob Giannotti said. "We depended on her for points and for leadership."

Palin obliged on both counts. Her scoring average of 11 points per game led the Lady Rams. She also averaged four rebounds, two steals and two assists per game. And as co-captain, the senior guard was a leader on and off the court in Roselle's 9-10 season.

The Lady Rams got a scare in the Jan. 4 contest with Immaculate when Palin collapsed on the court. She underwent tests in the hospital, but recovered quickly. She missed only two games before rejoining the team for a Jan. 18 win over Newark Central. She played less than half the game, but still finished with 10 points.

TAHISA PALIN

Young Farmers go 9-1

The Union ninth-grade wrestling team recently completed its season with a 9-1 record. The freshman wrestlers placed second in the St. Benedict's Tournament and also turned in top performances in the Brick Memorial, Randolph and North Bergen Tournaments.

The freshman team beat Millburn, Kearny, Scotch Plains, Irvington, Columbia, Roselle Park, Westfield, Rahway and Cranford. The only defeat of the season came to a powerful Elizabeth team.

John Borowski led the team with 21 victories, and Nick Alberto led the team with 10 pins. Ron Bubnowski, Ed Collins and Mark Kennedy wrestled on the varsity level. Bubnowski and Collins have been making outstanding contributions to the success of the varsity team, while Kennedy was injured for most of the season.

"There were 21 first-year wrestlers among the 28 boys on the team," said coach Carmen Guarino. "Our first-year wrestlers had some outstanding performances, and were very competitive throughout the year. Overall, the team worked hard and was a very talented group of athletes."

Members from Kawamooch Junior High School were John Salzman, Mark Kennedy, John Borowski, Seth Gollin, Barry Marlatt, Mike Tekle, Gus Xiroharis, Steve Almerico, Mike Kelly, Charles Jackson, Jason Allatore, Rodney Tullis, Paul Yarussi and Craig Healy.

WHO'S ON FIRST?

This week's question: Ready for another hockey question? Well, try to recall the major trade that occurred between the New York Rangers and Boston Bruins in November 1975 — the one that saw the Rangers acquire Phil Esposito and Carol Vadnais from Boston. Can you recall which players the Bruins got in return? Again, no clues.

Last week's answer: Wayne Hicks of the Philadelphia Flyers had the honor of scoring the first goal in the new — and, of course, current — Madison Square Garden. That tally occurred at 12:12 of the first period in the game between the Flyers and Rangers on Feb. 18, 1968, the first NHL contest played at the spacious, sparkling new MSG on 33rd Street and 8th Avenue — exactly 16 blocks south of the old Garden site.

The Rangers, however, answered Hicks' tally with three goals in the second period, with Bob Nevin, Donnie Marshall and Orland Kurtenbach putting pucks past Flyer netminder Doug Favell. Outshooting the Philadelphia by a commanding 45-18 margin, the Broadway Blueshirts won easily, 3-1, in support of their spectacular goalie, Ed Giacomin.

TODAY'S WOMAN IN BUSINESS

Weight-loss programs meet clients' needs

"At Dietriton, we custom-fit our weight-loss programs to meet the special metabolic and physical requirements of each client," said Joyce Yanowitz, director.

"When a weight-loss program is too stringent, it creates a feeling of isolation, deprivation and boredom. Eventually it leads to binge eating and failure," Yanowitz added. "The fact that we have many clients still maintaining and some even below their original goal weight after 6½ years is proof that our slogan works."

Dietriton's slogan is, "We teach people how to eat."

Dietriton offers one-to-one counseling for men, women and teens. Specially designed programs are available for people with cardiac problems, hypertension, high cholesterol, diabetes and food sensitivities.

Foods are purchased by the dieter in the supermarket and include a wide variety of the four basic food groups: meat, milk, vegetables and fruits, bread and cereal. Snacks may include ice cream or a chocolate chip cookie so that deprivation is eliminated. For those clients who wish the convenience, Dietriton has a complete line of fresh (not frozen, pre-packaged) foods. This is an option and no client is obligated to make a purchase.

Dietriton counselors are dedicated to assist, support and guide their clients through weight loss. The office maintains a 24-hour hot-line service.

Results at Dietriton may be a loss of 12 to 20 pounds in six weeks. Maintenance programs are customized to the individual's lifestyle at goal weight and are free and lifetime.

At Dietriton, a client's first visit is free when he or she calls 789-3399 in Westfield. Medical reimbursement is available through most insurance companies.

'King' concludes run

"The King and I," a Rogers and Hammerstein musical play based on the story of Anna and the King of Siam, will conclude its run in the Wilkins Theatre at Kean College at 8 p.m. tonight, tomorrow and Saturday. The all-student cast, which will include 22 children — mostly sons and daughters of college employees and students — is being directed by Holly Rhoades Logue, assistant professor of communications and theatre. Todd Dowdy-Sloan of Newark plays the king and Eileen Toner of Roselle is Anna.

The play is part of a month-long celebration of the performing arts at the college, commemorating 25 years of Wilkins Theatre. Tickets, priced at $8, are available at the box office by calling 527-2337.

Musical Club will meet

The Musical Club of Westfield will meet at the First Baptist Church, 170 Elm Street, at 1 p.m. on March 13.

Barbara Krause, program chairperson, has announced that organist Marie-Danielle Mercier and pianist Evelyn Cox will perform First Movement of the Concerto in E Minor for Organ by Marcel Dupre, with arrangement for Piano by Dupre.

Trio #5 in G Major, K. 564 by Mozart in 3 movements-Allegro, Andante, Allegretto-will be played by Florence Jacob at the piano, guest artist Betty Avis on the violin and Peggy Tristram on the cello.

The Musical Club Chorus, directed by Vivien Cook and accompanied by Mary Beth McFall on the piano, will sing music covering four centuries from the British Isles. "Now is the Month of Maying" by Thomas Morley, "May" by Benjamin Britten, "Angel Spirits of Sleep" by Gustav Holst, "April Is In My Mistress' Face" by Thomas Morley, "The Keel Row"—a Tyneside Air arranged by Percy E. Fletcher, "Ye Banks and Braes O' Bonnie Doon"—a Scottish Folk song harmonized and arranged by Arthur Hall, "Fly Singing Bird" by Edward Elgar and "Spring Grass" from Snowbirds by Michael Head.

The hospitality chairperson, Eileen Jacobs, will be assisted by Helen Hynes, Louise Andrews and Molly Rudd.

JFS hosting Parparim

Jewish Family Service will present its third annual spring concert, featuring the Parparim Ensemble, a group of dancers who frequently appear at the 92nd Street "Y" in New York. The event will take place on Sunday at 7 p.m. at Union County College, Cranford.

The group's dancing will reflect the dancing and music of Israel, the Mideast and the Soviet Union. With its own band, and a large troupe of dancers supplemented by a slide show, Parparim's programs have been described by some reviewers as a complete "multi-media experience".

Chairing the concert of JFS board members Herbert Polskin of Plainfield and Rhoda and Murray Staub of Mountainside.

Tickets will be available through the JFS main office in Elizabeth. To order tickets or for information, call 908-352-8375.

Houghton settles in at Millburn theater

By Bea Smith
Staff Writer

Katharine Houghton — a talented, versatile actress whose preference in the arts is whatever she is doing currently — is having a wonderful time at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn.

Houghton portrays Miss Maudie in the theatre's production of "To Kill a Mockingbird," opposite George Grizzard, with whom she has had a fine professional working relationship. They worked together in two other vehicles, "A Touch of the Poet" on stage and the award-winning "Adam's Chronicles" on television.

During a recent telephone interview, Houghton praised the Paper Mill Playhouse.

"I really, truly think the Paper Mill is one of the best-run theaters in the country," she said. "It's a terrific operation and New Jersey is very lucky to have a theater like this. Angelo Del Rossi, the executive producer, knows his audience and what the audience wants and is considerate of his actors. It's great to have someone who is aware of both sides.

"And," she added, "Robert Johanson, the Paper Mill's artistic director, is a very fine director. They're a great team... an unusual phenomenon."

In addition, the soft-spoken Houghton said the theater has a "superb" technical staff.

"All of them," she indicated dramatically, "are excellent, and I hope that in the future the Paper Mill will be able to do more and more types of theater. I know it is well-known for its wonderful musicals and straight dramas, but I would think that the public would be receptive to more experimental theater. I'm sure it would be successful and challenging as time goes on."

Houghton, who has appeared on Broadway in revivals of "Our Town" and "The Front Page," as well as "A Very Rich Woman," was selected for the Theater World Award for her performance in "A Scent of Flowers" off-

Broadway in 1969. She also appeared in about 50 plays in regional theaters including "The Merchant of Venice," in which she played Portia; "The Taming of the Shrew," as Kate; "The Glass Menagerie," as Laura; and "Suddenly, Last Summer," as Catherine.

Even though she is most remembered in films for her work as the charming, witty daughter of Katharine Hepburn and Spencer Tracy in "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner?," Houghton was unable to follow up with too many movies.

The incomparable Hepburn, who is the actress' aunt, and the talented Houghton have "made a pact" with each other not to discuss one another during interviews.

Fair enough. But, why, we asked, after such a fine performance in "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner?," didn't Houghton follow up with more similar movie roles?

"It's a funny thing," she said, "In my generation, good parts for women have not been as plentiful as in prior times. My particular type of personality was not what was being sought in films. I'm not the sexy type, you know."

Working with Grizzard in "A Touch of the Poet" and as his daughter, Abby, in "Adam's Chronicles" has been very enlightening to Houghton. "I find George an extremely talented, intelligent, civilized human being. He's a great joy to work with, and a lovely human being... a lovely actor."

Houghton recently completed a movie role in the upcoming film "Billy Bathgate," which was directed by Robert Benton and which stars Dustin Hoffman. "It was a novel written by E.L. Doctorow, a very fine novel written about a young man growing up in the 1930s. The script was adapted by Tom Stoppard," she said. "It's another gangster film," she noted.

"I play an aristocratic woman who lives in Saratoga Springs, and all my scenes were photographed at the racetrack... which is gorgeous. You must visit Saratoga Springs some day. It's a beautiful place."

The film will be released sometime this spring.

Having worked in film, theatre and television, what entertainment media does Houghton prefer?

"I don't have a preference. I like See HOUGHTON, Page 6

WHERE TO DINE

A Guide to Find the Finest Dining In New Jersey

By Suzette Stalker

A truly fabulous dining experience is the best way to describe my recent visit to Uncle Mike's restaurant, located at 3 Morris Ave. in Summit, which offers patrons fine Italian cuisine while wrapping them in a warm family atmosphere.

My friend and I were welcomed into the cozy establishment by brothers Michael and Anthony

Restaurant review

Sereno, who own the restaurant with their family. The friendly bartender, John, made us really feel at home with a pair of cool, refreshing daiquiris.

Uncle Mike's well-lighted dining rooms, with their charming decor of soft beige walls and polished wood, perfectly arranged tables and bountiful hanging baskets of artificial flora, give one the feeling of dining in a bright and airy cafe.

The owners added an outdoor porch several years ago to enhance the relaxing environment of the establishment — should be ideal for dining outside on a breezy summer evening.

Our attentive hosts and hostesses provided us with an extensive dinner menu and recommended several house specialties, all of which were modestly priced and professionally prepared by the staff at Uncle Mike's.

For openers, my friend and I reveled in the many tantalizing appetizers available at Uncle Mike's, from the cold antipasto and the fried mushrooms with cheese, to the light and delicate eggplant rollatini.

My choice for an entree was the richly satisfying shrimp marinara over linguine, while my friend opted for the equally delicious shrimp and chicken scampi. Our meals were accompanied by a generous serving of the restaurant's crunchy and flavorful garlic bread — a must with any meal at Uncle Mike's.

In addition to their many appetizers and Italian specialties, Uncle Mike's also offers a mouth-watering array of pasta entrees, house specialties, traditional "all-time favorites" including cake, mini pastries, cookies and ice cream, plus coffee or tea.

The Serenos, lifelong Summit residents, have owned the restaurant for 14 years, and obviously take great pride in their establishment's reputation. In addition to Anthony and Michael, their parents and sister also work in various capacities at the family's restaurant.

The popularity of the restaurant was evidenced by the steady stream of customers that continued to join us at the restaurant even way past the regular dinner hour on a Monday evening.

The restaurant was formerly a Victorian inn built around 1850 and used as a stagecoach stop for 19th-century travelers going between Morristown and Newark. The building not only retains its original design, but old-fashioned cuisine and service are offered as well.

The head chef, Joe Kawan, is a graduate of the Culinary Institute of America in Hyde Park, N.Y., and has been with Uncle Mike's about six years. Assistant chef Joseph Fenton has been with the restaurant for 10 1/2 years.

Uncle Mike's, in addition to the regular menu, provides a lunch menu featuring many of the same items. The restaurant also offers private rooms for special functions involving between 10 and 70 people, such as weddings, bar and bat mitzvahs or business luncheons.

Open seven days a week. Lunch Monday through Saturday, 11:30 a.m.-3 p.m.; Monday through Thursday, dinner 5 to 10 p.m.; Friday, dinner 5 to 11 p.m.; Saturday, dinner 5 to 10 p.m.; Sunday, dinner 11:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Located at 3 Morris Ave., Summit; 277-2343.

'Comfort' is their business
More than 66 years ago, the Woolley Fuel Company, located at Burnet and Springfield avenues in Maplewood, started in the home heating business. Their slogan then, as it is now, was "Your Comfort Is Our Business."
In those days, Woolley Fuel delivered coal and ice to its customers by horse and wagon.
Today, the needs of Woolley's customers are very different, but the company's motto and work ethic are still the same.
To keep up with modern needs, Woolley Fuel Company entered the home heating oil business, adding new storage tanks, delivery trucks and a staff of qualified oil heating personnel who are certified under the Fuel Merchants Association of New Jersey Certification Program.
Through the years, customer comfort has been their top priority — and still is.
With hundreds of satisfied regular customers and more new customers calling nearly every day, Woolley Fuel has been able to expand their services to accommodate a growing clientele.
Woolley Fuel stores abundant quantities of top-quality fuel oil, ensuring that their customers' heating

WOOLLEY
This plan allows customers to divide their fuel costs into 10 equal, manageable payments and get their budgets back on track.
Woolley Fuel Company's regular service hours during summer months, from May 1 to Sept. 30, are 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on weekdays.
During the winter months, from Oct. 1 to April 30, service hours are extended — from 7:30 a.m. to 11 p.m. seven days a week.
For all your home fuel oil and central air-conditioning needs, call Woolley Fuel at 762-7400 and become one of the many satisfied customers who put their trust in Woolley Fuel Company.

USO continues season

The Union Symphony Orchestra is celebrating its 38th season. The second and third concerts of the season will be held on Friday and May 3 at Kawameeh Junior High School, David Terrace in Union, at 8 p.m.

The orchestra was founded in 1952 by Leo W. Rindler, the then-music director for the Union Township schools. The orchestra presented three to four concerts annually, with hundreds of students and community musicians performing with the orchestra and as soloists. In addition, outstanding musicians from neighboring communities, as well as New York City and Connecticut, have performed as guest artists. The orchestra directors, from Rindler to Dr. Gerard Matte and presently Edward A. Klizus Jr., have endeavored to present a combination of classical as well as contemporary selections.

The March 8 concert will feature violinist Anne Marie Pockleambo and oboist Mary Ellen Centanni featured in J.S. Bach's Concerto in C Minor for Oboe, Violin and Orchestra and Cimarosa's Concerto for Oboe and Strings.

Guest conductor for this concert will be Thomas Lindsay. Lindsay, an accomplished violinist, as well as conductor has performed with the orchestra and as soloist. He has also been a member of the New Jersey Symphony for 21 years.

Klizus is music director and conductor. Gerard Babo is associate conductor. Robert J. Pauli is president.

For ticket information, call 908-851-6583. Tickets may also be purchased at the door. Discounts are available for seniors and students.

Houghton settles in at PMP

doing whatever is challenging. In fact," the actress explained, "I'm writing a screenplay. It's a love story about an American girl and a Soviet man."

The screenplay is based on her 27 years of correspondence with Vladimir Pavlov, a professor and inventor in the field of theoretical mechanics in the Soviet Union.

"I would love to see it produced as a three-part television series," she said. "Directly after this play at the Paper Mill," she said, "I will go back to working specifically on the screenplay."

"But," she mused, "I have a few irons in the fire that are of paramount importance to me because of the topical aspects. Still, I would like to get on with my screenplay project. The rest of my scripts can wait because of their timeless quality."

Houghton also has written a full-length play called "Good Grief" which is being given a staged reading in Washington D.C. at the Georgetown University Theater.

As an actress, is there anyone in particular with whom Houghton would like to appear?

"Oh," she said with a definitely familiar family-type chuckle, "lots of people. Too many to mention, actually. But I'm envious of other people's work. The world is very full of fine talent. I enjoy getting to know actors and directors and other interesting people. It's a very enjoyable thing to be an actress," Houghton exclaimed with a tender smile in her voice.

"When I first came to the Paper Mill, I knew only George Grizzard. Now I know many people in the cast. It's really wonderful to have the opportunity to meet different people and see the world through their eyes. It's almost as thrilling as performing."

"You know," she mused, "what goes on backstage can be just as interesting as what goes on onstage."

horoscope

For week of Mar. 10-Mar. 16

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Family issues will be predominate. Do not fly off the handle. Give your mate your warm thoughts. Take a week away from a certain business proposition. Go out and buy new books.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Resist the urge to cling to obsolete methods. New paths are calling you. Answer those calls. Something that was lost is recovered. Watch out for an excessive sense of materialism.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Giving means that you should not expect any return favors. Youngsters will provide secret messages. You will find emotional turbulence in business. The love boat sails in still waters.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You will attract important guides. Be willing to learn from them. Have faith in your intuition. Others will take only what you give. Selectivity will ensure your future security.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22) Stop pinching yourself. Wake up and smell the coffee. Give your whiny partners the cold shoulder. Watch out for somber moods. A nature trek will stimulate your health.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) Read the fine print in all contracts. Someone of prestige will aid your career. Do not make any promises that you cannot keep. Put your financial "house" in proper order.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Any domestic disputes must be resolved. Be assertive and self-confident when facing others. Do not gamble with your savings. Direct your passion for the common good into the proper channels.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Follow the path that offers the least resistance. Watch out for those cranky, emotional outbursts. A temporary change of scenery will rejuvenate you. Act on what you have learned.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Determination breeds character. Last week's roadblocks will abate. Words of praise will offer healing. Perform some form of community service. Be one of the gang.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) Break out of your old ruts. Rekindle your passion for music and art. Make plans for a spring vacation. Stop thinking so much. A mentor will help shorten the trip to the top.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) Resolve all your emotional matters. Your career will hit full-stride. Weed out expenditures. Remember, patience is a virtue. Steer yourself clear of physical exhaustion.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20) Launch into a new enterprise. Your efficiency quotient soars. Do not delay necessary health check-ups. Secrets and rumors abound around you; but be strong — do not gossip.

A subscription to your newspaper keeps your college student close to hometown activities. Call 686-7753 for a special college rate.

Winograd joins Westfield orch.

Violinist Peter Winograd has had a continuing relation with the Westfield Symphony Orchestra since its founding in 1983. He was its original concert master and debuted with the orchestra at Carnegie Hall in 1987.

He will join the Westfield Symphony in presenting Beethoven's Violin Concerto in D — written in 1806, the same year as the Fourth Symphony and Fourth Piano Concerto. Also on the program will be the New Jersey premiere of "H'un — Lacerations — In Memoriam" by the young Chinese American composer, Bright Sheng.

The concert will be Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church in Westfield, preceded by a 7 p.m. pre-concert discussion by music director Brad Keimach and Sheng. Tickets are $17.50, $15 for senior citizens and $10 for students — $8.75 with Arts-Card. For reservations, call 908-232-9400.
