County Seat

By Chris Gatto Regional Editor

When most people think about taking a cruise, they think about tropical islands or a scenic look at the Alaskan shore during the summer months. They usually don't associate the word "cruise" with a tour of the Bayway Refinery and the Elizabeth shoreline.

Some of you reading this right now may be asking, well who on Earth would want to go on such a cruise? The answer: 150 people. That's more than last year's 120. But, how could this be?

That question can be answered with one word: business. The cruise was organized by the Union County Economic Development Corporation and was designed to allow passengers an opportunity to view the area where development projects are scheduled to take place.

While the focus of last week's tour was the not-so-scenic Elizabeth shoreline, a token swing around the Statue of Liberty and Manhattan shoreline provided pleasant scenery later in the trip.

Most of those on board, however, focused less on taking in the sites and more on working on contacts in the hopes of boosting development in their own towns.

A host of politicians were aboard, among them Roselle Park Mayor Joseph Delorio, who was hoping to learn a little more about bringing business to the troubled Westfield Avenue area. Delorio favors hiring an economic czar of sorts who can focus his efforts on seeking grants for physical upgrades of the area, while at the same time lure solid businesses into his borough.

Delorio recently read a newspaper article about Union Township's

The three were among a number of panelists present for the Union County Alliance's Hispanic Economic Roundtable, which included business, government and education leaders, civic organizations and county residents. The roundtable, one of several being held by the alliance, was the first to address economic foundation issues regarding the county's diverse assets and resources. The alliance is in the process of formulating a master plan for the county.

Gas company seeks customer refund

Elizabethtown Gas Company, a division of NUI Corporation, has asked the New Jersey Board of Public Utilities for approval of a net reduction and refund of $12.1 million to its customers during the next year.

Robert P. Kenney, president and chief executive officer of Elizabethown, said the proposal is based on lower gas costs at the wholesale level and economies of scale realized through Elizabethtown's participation in NUI's centralized purchasing operations, which buys gas supplies collectively for all of NUI's operating divisions. Kenney said the reduction and refund will be made through the utility's purchased gas adjustment charge, a mechanism through which the company adjusts the cost of gas to its customers based upon the cost of gas it buys. Elizabethtown earns no profit on the gas it purchases, and the benefit of lower gas prices goes directly to its customers.

between October 1995 and September 1996. A residential customer who doesn't heat with gas would save about $9 during that same period. Savings for commercial and industrial customers would vary according to their usage.

"Just this past winter, our customers received more than $26 million in refunds and reductions through the gas adjustment charge, which cut nearly $100 from an annualized heating bill and nearly $16 from an annualized non-heating bill," said Kenney. "In fact, Elizabethtown has given its customers refunds and/or reductions six times in the last four years. Including the amount we're requesting today, these have totalled $72 million in savings — about $290 for every residential heating customer and about $48 for every non-heating customer," he said. Since 1985, the gas commodity portion of a residential customer's bill has declined by about 17 percent, according to Kenney. "During the same 10-year period, the Consumer Price Index for all goods and services in the New York-New Jersey region rose nearly 50 percent. That clearly shows the value of natural gas."

Kenney attributed the decline in wholesale prices to several factors, including increased competition among energy producers and a series of warmer-than-normal winters which served to depress demand while supplies remained abundant. "Even with these lower wholesale prices, the magnitude of our refunds and reductions would not have been as great as they have without a rigorous effort on Elizabethtown's part to secure the lowest-cost gas available through timely purchases on-the-spot market and the aggressive negotiation of supply contracts," he said. In its filing with the BPU, Elizabethtown requested approval to make a $2.8 million refund in November, resulting in an average credit of $10 on monthly bills of residential heating customers, and $1.80 on those of residential non-heating customers. Elizabethtown also proposes to reduce its gas adjustment charge by $13.7 million between October 1995 and September 1996, lowering the See ELIZABETHTOWN, Page B3

County development plans cruise ahead

By Chris Gatto Regional Editor

What do you get when you combine a yacht, 150 officials and business people from around Union County and a hot, humid summer day?

The answer, of course, would be the Union County Economic Development Corporation's 3rd Annual Union County Waterfront Tour.

Aboard the Amberjack V on July 27, shipgoers set sail for a four-hour tour of the Elizabeth waterfront area, as well as to, as UCEDC Chairman Robert P. Katz described it, "meet, interact and brainstorm" about ways to boost economic concerns in Union County.

The tour, which began with pickup at the Elizabeth Marina, was highlighted by a tour of the Bayway Refinery in Linden where the site's owner hopes his business can become more competitive by being included in the foreign trade zone now afforded IKEA and the proposed MetroMall, which is slated for Kapkowski Road in Elizabeth.

"Bayway Refining is looking at all aspects of our operation to reduce costs and increase our competitiveness with other foreign suppliers," Hank Van Handle, manager of Environmental and Engineering Services of the Bayway Refining Company, told those aboard the yacht. "We recently applied for foreign trade zone sub status. This can save us up to several million dollars a year by allowing us to have tax treatment similar to a foreign refiner importing finished products into the United States."

Tosco Corp., which purchased the Bayway Refinery in April 1993 from Exxon, recently completed port dredging work to allow for easier maneuverability by vessels, according to Van Handle. The refinery has two port facilities.

"We were successful in dredging the barge piers in December of 1993 and within the last several weeks we have dredged seaward docks." he said. "We use a combination of temporary on-site upland storage, en-site re-use of material which meets industrial clean-up standards and leveling or redistribution of some of the bottom sediment within our dock."

During the tour, Van Handle explained that the refinery's Steamer Dock I can accommodate a large tanker containing up to 135,000 tons. or 42 million gallons of crude oil. Since 1993, according to Van Handle, Tosco has authorized an aggressive capital improvement program. "We feel that we have a worldclass organization and what we're trying to do is put the necessary capital into the facility to develop a worldclass facility," he said.

Van Handle noted that Tosco has expended millions of dollars on improvements, expansion and beautifying its surroundings. "We want to be a respected corporate citizen in the community and we feel that putting in this investment to beautify the whole area" demonstrates that, he said.

Tosco has garnered the support of UCEDC in its efforts to benefit from foreign trade zone status. Under fed-See WATERFRONT'S, Page B3 appointment of such a person, and hopes to do something similar in Roselle Park. The mayor said he does not want to wait for the avenue to further decay, and for more stores to become vacant.

The mayor is not alone. Many other municipalities are experiencing similar concerns. Local representatives must weigh the take-agamble approach vs. the do-nothing philosophy, and, either way, have to sweat it out.

Hopefully some of the people attempting this balancing act gained some insight on July 27, and while it wasn't quite the same as a tropical cruise, it most certainly may prove to be much more productive.

Democrats, it would seem, are pushing Walter McNeil for freeholder. That is at least early in the campaign, with McNeil's name having been the only one to have appeared on press releases sent to this office so far,

McNeil, who ran unsuccessfully last year but fared well, will attempt to hold onto one of the three Democratic-held seats on the freeholder board. Freeholders Elmer Ertl and Walter McLeod are not seeking re-election, and Freeholder Daniel Sullivan, appointed in January, is seeking to retain his seat.

Evidently, the Democrats feel that Sullivan, an Elizabeth resident, is a sure winner, and believe his incumbency will carry him to victory. But, McNeill must get his name out there, and early. A check of the calendar says Aug. 3, and that is early. The third Democrat seeking election is Carol Cohen, whose name is yet to appear on a press release.

McNeil's two releases to date have both focused on luring business to Union County, something the Republican-controlled freeholder board has made a major goal. ...

Word is that Union Township officials are attempting to work out a deal that would allow Price Club and Home Depot to come into Springfield Road. Sounds good from an economic standpoint, but you're not going to catch me within earshot of that area if what's being talked about is true. If you want to know the true definition of congestion, try to take a ride that way when this happens.

A typical residential customer would see a savings of about $45 ---or 5 percent - on their annual heating, hot water and cooking costs

Freeholders Frank Lehr, left, and Henry W. Kurz take time out to pitch in with the demolition of the 70-year-old stadium located in the county's Wannanco Park in Roselle. Although built for track and field, the concrete facility has been used for a wide assortment of events during the years including parades, 4-H fairs and religious services. Closed some 10 years ago due to safety concerns, it had succumbed to age and the elements.

Village 'survivors' reminder of past

Berkeley Heights stands as testimony to a by-gone era in Union County.

Once a thriving company town which produced paper, Feltville's 10 surviving structures, some of which date back to the mid-1800s, now stand as silent reminders of the past.

"The County of Union has been working to restore Feltville since the early 1980s," stated Freeholder Chairwoman Linda Di Giovanni. "While the importance of this project is undeniable, progress is very costly and timeconsuming. We are pleased to announce that another grant from the New Jersey Historic Trust has been received which will enable us to proceed with our plans."

"The New Jersey Trust has allocated $426,834 to the county for use in rehabilitating Master's Barn, which was originally a carriage house for summer visitors," said Di Giovanni. "Plans call for removal of the interior and exterior of the building. When completed, it will provide space for educational programs."

The proposal to the Historic Trust by the Division of Parks and Recreation was one of 36 projects funded throughout the state, according to County Manager Ann vidence Road, Mountainside.

The Deserted Village of Feltville/Glenside Park in M. Baran. "I understand there were many outstanding proposals and the competition was intense. It is gratifying to know Feltville is recognized statewide as an important historic preservation project," Baran said.

Total cost of the barn's restoration will be approximately $853,000, said Baran. The county will be matching the grant with funds from the sale of property to the state for the construction of Route 78.

This is the third New Jersey Historic Trust grant received for the renovation of Feltville. A 1990 grant enabled the county to do basic stabilization work on all 10 surviving buildings. In 1992, another trust grant was awarded, which is currently being used for the rehabilitation of the chruch/store. The 1995 award is part of the first round of grants authorized by the public under the 1992 Green Acres, Clean Waters, Farmland and Historic Preservation Bond Act.

Tours of Feltville are held twice a year, with the next occurring in mid-October. Additional information about the site and its history is available at the Trailside Nature and Science Center, a facility of the Union County Division of Parks and Recreation, Coles Avenue and New Pro-

Grants being offered for cleaner environment

The Union County Bureau of Environmental Affairs is offering mini-grants to non-profit organizations to fund litter cleanup projects on county parklands, along waterways or roadways under county jurisdiction.

The program is funded through a Clean Communities Grant from the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection and is part of the county's three-fold attack on litter which consists of cleanup, education and enforcement.

Freeholder Henry Kurz, liaison to the Environmental Health Advisory Board, commented on the benefits of the program by stating that "county" parkland and roadways get cleaned up, making them aesthetically more attractive and safer for wildlife. Studies show that people are less likely to litter in areas that are clean. In addition to educating our volunteers on the hazards of litter, hopefully these programs will deter people from littering in the future."

"This is a great way for non-profit organizations to raise money while performing a public service as the same time," said County Manager Ann Baran.

Mini-grant dellars range from $200 to $400, depending on the number of volunteers. Each organization must have a minimum of 10 workers and agree to provide an adult supervisor for every 10 youth workers. They must work a minimum of three hours and cleanup at least 2 miles of county road or waterway, or 20 acres of parkland.

The Bureau of Environmental Affairs provides each volunteer with a T-shirt displaying the logo "Keep Union County Litter Free" as well as gloves and garbage bags. Garbage and recyclables remain at the cleanup side and are removed by the county's Division of Parks and Recreation.

To obtain a mini-grant application or to learn more about the program, call the Union County Bureau of Environmental Affairs at (908) 654-9890.

WORRALL NEWSPAPERS -- THURSDAY, AUGUST 3, 1995 -- B3 Waterfront's economic renaissance moving ahead full throttle

Those on board the tour also heard from Roy T. Perez-Daple, president of IKEA. Although IKEA could not be seen from the ship, Perez-Daple provided an overview of the envisioned 375,000-square-foot IKEA II outlet, which is to be constructed on a 25-acre tract by 1996.

Perez-Daple said the project will bring in 95,000 square feet of "soft goods" including The Gap and Reebok and more than 60,000 square feet of local retail businesses, and will be accessible from North Avenue. The project will generate about 500 to 600 construction jobs, 800 to 900 permanent retail jobs and "we're breaking ground in August," according to Perez-Daple.

IKEA, which opened its Elizabeth store in 1990, had 2 million visitors in 1993 and revenues in excess of $100 million. Of IKEA's customers, 47 percent are from New York or beyond a 20-mile radius in New Jersey.

"IKEA's been in Elizabeth for five years and we're doing wonderful sales with all your help," Perez-Daple told shipgoers. "And we do welcome the MetroMall just south of us. Together we will be a retail force that cannot compare to any other site that I know of."

Perez-Daple noted that the Metro-Mall, known as the Orion Project, and IKEA will not compete with one another. Perez-Daple is looking to attract name-brand outlets, while MetroMall would house factory outlets.

The MetroMall site, like IKEA, is a former landfill site, with all necessary approvals of federal regulatory bodies having been given. The Orion Project consists of a 166-acre tract located on Kapkowski Road in Elizabeth, and can be easily accessed at Exit 13A of the New Jersey Turnpike.

The site will be developed into a value outlet mall, consisting of a main mall with a total square footage of 1.1 million and separate retail buildings consistig of 280,000 square feet. Twelve major tenants, 185 shops and 18 restaurants will be housed in the mall.

Peter Aagaard, president of OENJ Corporation, said he would not release names of any of the mall's tenants until ground breaking begins this month.

The project, which is scheduled to be completed by spring 1996, will, like IKEA, be located in the Elizabeth Urban Enterprise Zone, which allows a reduced sales tax of 3 percent to be charged.

Construction will generate 2,679,000 man-hours, 1,700 construction jobs and the finished mall will mean 5,200 permanent jobs.

Elaine LaMonica, UCEDC director of business development, called MetroMall the "biggest project New Jersey has seen in about a decade." She noted that the project's importance has actually been underplayed in the press.

UCEDC began its annual cruisetours three years ago in an effort to draw attention to the importance of the waterfront, said LaMonica. The second year was to focus on port dredging, with this year's cruise focusing on dredging as well as development aspects.

And why do people keep coming back for the tour? "They love it. It's so popular," said LaMonica.

The UCEDC had to use a larger boat this year to accommodate attendees, with the maximum number having been set at 120 during each of the past two years.

Hank Ross, president of the Union County Alliance, said the cruise serves as "an opportunity for all the major leaders and players in the county, people from county government," and from the Union County Alliance to get together to exchange ideas regarding development. The harbor area is the "lifeblood, the future of Union County," said Ross. The port, the airport and transportation infrastructure are key to the county's revitalization, and the best way to take advantage of these factors is by "bringing people together," he added.

Elizabethtown seeking reduction for customers

(Continued from Page B1) charge from 5.5 cents per therm to 1.36 cents per therm during that months of the period by a $4.3 million

12-month period. That reduction will be partially offset for the first seven

Dems campaign head chosen Union County Democratic Chairperson Charlotte DeFilippo announced that Anthony Amalfe will serve as campaign manager for the freeholder campaign of Daniel Sullivan, Carol Cohen and Walter McNeil. Amalfe is a former county freeholder, mayor and Democratic chairman of Roselle and is currently a member of the county Tax Board. "Tony Amalfe is a strong leader whose experience and wisdom will help guide our freeholder candidates to victory. As a public official, he has served in numerous posts with distinction," stated DeFilippo. As a successful businessman, he understands the need for county government to ease the tax burden on our residents."

Amalfe said, "I am honored that the county organization has requested my help. I know Dan, Carol and Walter and consider them to be outstanding candidates."

— or 1.5 cent per therm — weather normalization charge.

The weather charge is a mechanism approved by the BPU that helps reduce the financial impact of winter weather on both Elizabethtown and its customers. Under the weather charge, Elizabethtown surcharges its customers if the previous winter was warmer than normal, and refunds money to customers if it was colder than normal. Last winter was 13 percent warmer than normal, based on a 30-year average of temperatures in Elizabethtown's service area.

The net result of the gas adjustment refund and reduction and the weather normalization surcharge is that $12.1 million will be returned to Elizabethtown's customers. All of Elizabethtown's firm customers, including all of its residential and most of its commercial users, are subject to the two adjustment charges. However, some commercial and industrial customers who simply have Elizabethtown transport gas they buy from third parties, or those who buy gas from Elizabethtown on an interruptible basis, are exempt from one or both of the adjustments.

Elizabethtown Gas, the New Jersey operating division of NUI Corporation, distributes natural gas to about 239,000 residential, commercial and industrial customers in Union, Middlesex, Hunterdon, Warren, Sussex, Morris and Mercer counties. NUI Corporation, headquartered in Bedminster, serves an additional 120,000 customers through gas companies in Florida, North Carolina, Maryland, Pennsylvania and New York.

'The Country Wife:' Satire for adults only

By Lisa Ann Batitto Arts and Entertainment Editor It is often just empty hype when it is noted in a play's publicity that it was considered obscene more than 300 years ago. After all, no one from that time is around to verify this fact and beside, people are pretty shockproof nowadays.

However, there is something about seeing long-haired men in tights and big hats, engaging in extramarital trysts with women with upswept hair, ball gowns and fans, that is slightly bawdy and lots of fun. People looking for heart-wrenching drama won't find it in the New Jersey Shakespeare Festival's adaption of "The Country Wife" by William Wycherley; what they will get is an evening of highbrow, adult humor.

"The Country Wife" follows the exploits of Harry Honer, a notorious womanizer who spreads the false rumor that he has been rendered impotent so he can gain the confidence of London's" noblemen and easy access to their wives. Aside from a few less-than-chaste kisses, there isn't anything obscene about this play by today's standards: no nudity, four-letter words or violence. Still, parents are advised to keep the kiddies at home. Most of the double-entendres will go over the little ones' heads and parents will spend the entire evening explaining to them what is going on.

That would be a shame because the parents will be caught up in the story and rivetted by the actors, each of whom captures the essence of their character so well that one might need to check a calendar mid-play to make certain they are not in 1675 London.

It almost has become cliche when reviewing a NJSF production to say that Paul Mullins steals the show. Whenever he steps on to the stage, all cyes become focused on him and stay there for his duration. In "The Country Wife" he plays Sparkish, a man who is so trusting that he pushes his fiance. Alithea, into the arms of Harcourt, the chief rival for her affection. This character is a far-cry from his role as the lecherous Lenny in the earlier fest offering, "The Homecoming," yet he plays it just as skillfully. Another cast stand-out is Elizabeth Van Dyke as Sparkish's love interest. Strikingly pretty with a regal air, Modette has a strong stage presence and excellent comedic timing.

Other performers worth mentioning are Peter Bradbury as the conniving Horner and Sue Brady as the lusty My Lady Fidget. Like Van Dyke, Bradbury and Brady are newcomers to the Shakespeare festival. If these performances are any indication, audiences can expect to see them again next season.

The NJSF also is known for its sets and costumes and "The Country Wife" continues in this grand tradition. The scenery — by Andrew Hall — are black and white backdrops which change according to the scene. They provide a stark contrast to the bold and colorful costumes by Austin K. Sanderson and make them stand out even more. When a prop is needed on the stage, a group of similarly clad ladies bring it out. This is a more interesting way of doing it then dimming the lights or drawing the curtains, leaving the audience to twiddle their thumbs.

"The Country Wife" is a light comedy which leaves one feeling more cultured when it is over. It's certainly not for everyone, but if you loved "Dangerous Liaisons" — the movie about sexual one-up-manship and revenge — you'll love "The Country Wife."

"The Country Wife" runs through Aug. 12. Performance times are Tuesday through Saturday at 8 p.m., Sunday at 7 p.m., with matinees Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday at 2 p.m. All performances take place at the Bowne Theater on the Drew University campus, 36 Madison Ave., in Madison. ## Director receives teacher's network grant

Maurice J. Moran, Jr., a regular director for Summerfun Theater, received notice that he was chosen as a grant recipient in the A+ for Kids Teacher Network. The grant is sponsored by Channel 9 and was instituted to encourage teachers to produce innovative lesson plans.

Moran, a Rahway resident, is on the English faculty of Verona High School. He incorporated his theatrical expertise with a creative writing project for his winning grant. The lesson plan was titled "Writing With Your Feet: Using Improvisation to Improve Writing Skills." The crux of the lesson focuses attention on the elements of dialogue, conflict and descriptive writing, with an emphasis on creative thinking, through theatrical improvisation exercises. Moran said, "improvisation aids the student in focusing concentration on details and allows freedom and creativity and they translate those elements into their writing.'

W. Scott MacConnell, producer of Summerfun Theater where Moran has spent most of his summers for the past 18 years, said of Moran, "He is a natural candidate for anything academic and creative; he is a productive and highly effective stage director who challenges the actors to achieve their highest levels." Moran received his winning notice while directing the successful and popular Summerfun production of "The Sisters Rosenweig." Additionally, he directs the final show of the season, "Forever Plaid," which is playing at the Weiss Arts Center, located at Llvod Road off Bloomfield Avenue in Montclair today through Aug. 5 and Aug. 8-12 each evening at 8 p.m.

Activist will lead discussion on rainforest

Today at 7:30 p.m. at Trailside Nature and Science Center, David Katz from Juneau will give a presentation on the Tongass Rainforest of Alaska.

Katz is an activist with groups trying to preserve the forests in the southeast — or panhandle region — of the nation's largest state. As a member of the coalition, the Sierra Club, represented by the Loantaka Group, is helping to sponsor this free slide presentation. Katz' talk will be preceded by a half-hour musical introduction by Lew Hollander, "the New Jersey Balladeer," a local performer with an interest in environmentalism.

The Tongass is a temperate rainforest which, like the tropical rainforest, is very rich biologically in species of plants and animals. It is the most intact temperate rainforest on earth and is home to the largest remaining population of grizzly bears and cagles.

Trailside Nature and Science Center is located in the Watchung Reservation on the corner of Coles Avenue and New Providence Road in Mountainside. The auditorium is handicapped accessible and has ample parking. For directions to the center, call (908) 789-3679 during regular business hours. ## Dining Review August 3,1995

III Amici Ristorante at 1700 West Elizabeth Ave. in Linden offers a vast range of continental Italian cuisine with each dish painstakingly prepared as though it were the specialty of the house.

Six nights a week, diners can experience the culinary craftsmanship of Amici's master chefs as they carefully blend Italy's most famous styles of cooking in what owner Giovanni Lavorato described as "a combination of Northern and Southern Italian cuisine." Best of all, it's offered at a price you can afford.

Beginning with hot appetizers, which range in price from $5.95 to $7.95, my dining companion and I sampled spicy clams casino, flavored with pimento, celery and garlic sauce and topped with bacon. Other treasures from the sea include zuppa di mussels in a mild marinara sauce, tender shrimp scampi and clams oreganata. All are fresh, and cooked to perfection.

We agreed that an appetizer not to be missed is the spiedino alla romana. Layers of bread, mozzarella cheese and prosciutto baked with a sauce of olive oil, garlic, capers and anchovies, this flavorful treat is offered as an option with a special $21.95 full-course dinner. Those who don't enjoy anchovies should have no fear of this dish. Both the capers and anchovies add only a pleasant hint of taste.

From among the entrees, we enjoyed a rich fettucine carbonara, cooked al dente with prosciutto. onions, bacon and cheese. From the evenings specials for $13.95, we

Perhaps the evening's most pleasant surprise was the mouthwatoring filet mignon, smith read with mushrooms and touched with a tastoful suggestion of marsala. Laverato prides himself en his ability to offer quality means propaged with the expertise usually found only at fine stadenceses.

As couples danced to the live sounds of Rillin and American popular music, we treated our taste buds to Amici's sweet and airy tiramisu. Desserts range in price from $2 to $4.50 and include tortoni, Generous portions from the entire menu are available for $2 to 54 less during lunch hours between 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Dinner hours are 4:30 to 10 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday, 4:30 to 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 2 to 9 p.m. on Sunday.

Perfect for all occasions is Amici's banquet room, which accommodates 175 people. A special wedding package including a complete dinner and open bar is offered at $29.95 per person.

Fest stages shorts

In a dramatic change of pace, the New Jersey Shakespeare Festival, the state's only classical theater, will present a festival of new works and solo pieces titled "Downtown/Out-of-Town" from Wednesday through Aug. 19.

According to Artistic Director Bonnie J. Monte, "Downtown/Out-of-Town" continues the Other Stage mission of "presenting new theatrical adventures for our audience. Just as our highly successful production of 'Macbeth' acquainted our audiences with a very specific performance style that was new to many people, we are presenting this festival as a way to introduce people to new performers and performance techniques not often seen in this area." In order to encourage the broadest possible attendance to all events, the festival has devised a special pricing structure for "Downtown/Out=of-Town:" $10 for one performance and $15 for any two. Reservations should be made by calling the NJSF box office at (201) 408-5600; the Other Stage is located at 33 Green Village Road in Madison.

"Downtown/Out-of-Town" opens on Wednesday and Aug. 10 with "Confirming the Search: That Girl's Still Here Somewhere," written and performed by Nadine Mozon. This touching and uplifting piece combines music, poetry and dance as it celebrates one African-American woman's family traditions and racial heritage. Mozone's theater credits include "Twelfth Night," "A Christmas Carol," "Talking With . . ." and "Boogie Woogie Landscapes." On television, she has been seen on "Reading Rainbow" and "One Life to Live." "Confirming the Search" performs Wednesday and Aug. 10 at 8:15 p.m.

"Confirming the Search" is followed by "Louis' Lottery," a one-man drama written and directed by Joseph Sorrentino. "Louis' Lottery" charts the fortunes of two homeless friends who spend their days working to survive, waiting to win the lottery that they hope will take them off the streets and into a brighter future. When one of their numbers finally comes up, the friendship is tested as they are thrown into a series of encounters with thugs, scheming bartenders and a television crew. Sorrentino is a writer and photographer whose work on the homeless has been collected in his book. "The New Colossus." The play about the true story of a man Sorrrentino met when working in a Philadelphia soup kitchen. "Louis' Lottery" performs Aug. 11 and 12 at 8:15 p.m.

"Downtown/Out-of-Town's" second week opens with "Make the Brothers Stop," written and performed by Joan Rater. "Make the Brothers Stop" is the story of one woman's quest for self-esteem set against the backdrop of celebrity tell-all books, a liaison with Teddy Kennedy and a trip to the Dairy Queen. According to Rater, "I made it my mission to research the subject fully and have acquired virtually every female star autobiography published. I spent months pouring over these seminal works to unlock their secrets, and in 'Make the Brothers Stop' I share my findings with the general public." This moving and provocative comic monologue will perform three times. Aug. 16, 17 and 18 at 8:15 p.m.

The final performance of "Downtown/Out-of-Town" will be a double bill of "Poster of the Cosmos," a one-act play by Pulitzer Prizo-winner Lanford Wilson and the world premiere of "The Man Who Stopped" by Ruben Carbajal. "Poster of the Cosmos" is a powerful and unusual look at a man whose lover has died of AIDS. It will be directed by NJSF veteran Faul Mullins, currently appearing in the festival's production of "The Country Wife" and will feature Tom Delling, who appeared as Joey in "The Homecoming" earlier this season. "The Man Who Stopped" is the story of a man who, fed up with his job, his friends and his family, literally, tries to stop the world, so he can get off. "Poster of the Cosmos" and "The Man Who Stopped" perform twice on Aug. 19 at 2:30 and 8:15 p.m.

"Downtown/Out-of-Town" is made possible through a grant fron the AT&T Foundation. A supporter of the festival since 1976. AT&T became sole sponsor of the Other Stage in 1990. The foundation supports the Other Stage as part of its on-going committment to fostering new and non-traditional voices in the theater, especially those of women and minorities who have often been denied access to more "mainstream" venues. Commented Monte, " 'Downtown/Out-of-Town' is the perfect blending of our mission for the Other Stage and AT&T Foundation's funding mission and we are especially grateful for their support, without which this project might not have occured."

Art group exhibits its work

Art groups exist to help members learn and expand their craft. The New Art Group has an additional, loftier purpose: it does all the work associated with the art exhibits at the Watchung Art Center. This largely thankless job results in two galleries full of artwork each month, exposing emerging and established talents to a wide audience.

Once a year, though, the group is rewarded with a show of its own. This year it's called "Red-Hot-Blue."

The New Art Group will exhibit a varied collection of artwork at the Watchung Arts Center during August. The 15-member team is made up of accomplished artists and photographers, meaning that the work shown will be both diverse and professional. Examples of their latest output will be displayed through Aug. 31, filling both galleries at the center. Members include Denise DeVone of Springfield.

"Red-Hot-Blue" will be a show filled with fireworks, melancholy, bright colors and somber themes. Pieces displayed will include drawings, abstracts, mixed media, photos - everything. All pieces are available for purchase. Gallery hours are 1 to 4 p.m. weekdays and Saturdays, and there is no admission charge.

A reception wil be on Aug. 12 from 7 to 10 p.m. This affords the public a chance to chat with the artists, view the work and enjoy some refreshments, too.

The exhibit is the culmination of a successful year of monthly exhibits in the two galleries at the arts center. Emerging talents and seasoned professionals compete to hang their work in the central suburban setting, to be viewed by visitors, critics and those attending an intensive schedule of concerts and theater offerings in the center's historic building on the Watchung Circle. It is reached from three surrounding counties, either via Route 22 - Plainfield overpass, or Interstate 78, Exit 40.

Many artists choose to join the nonprofit Watchung Arts Center, if only to exhibit in the annual members' show, in September this year. Membership is not limited to artists, either. All members get a monthly newsletter, discounts on certain classes, concerts and plays, plus other benefits. Membership information may be requested by calling (908) 753-0190.

WORRALL NEWSPAPERS - THURSDAY, AUGUST 3, 1995 - B7 Symphony at park

Chemical Bank, New Jersey, and the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders have teamed up to bring the New Jersey Symphony to Echo Lake Park, Mountainside, on Wednesday.

"The public is invited to attend this wonderful evening of classical music, free-of-charge," said Freeholder Chairwoman Linda DiGiovanni. "We are so pleased to be presenting this critically acclaimed orchestra as part of our Summer Arts series. This is an opportunity we hope everyone will take advantage of."

"Our sincerest thanks goes out to Chemical Bank, New Jersey, for their support of this evening," said County Manager Ann M. Baran. "They are a new Summer Arts sponsor and we welcome them to the outstanding group of corporate donors who make this festival possible."

The New Jersey Symphony Orchestra is one of the oldest orchestras in the United States, founded in 1922. It performs more than 150 concerts each season all over the state and the nation.

Assistant Conductor Mariusz Smolij will be conducting the evening's program, titled "A Salute to the Allies," which commemorates the 50th anniversary of the end of World War II. Selections will include Aaron Copland's "Fanfare for the Common Man," Tchaikovsky's "1812 Overture" and John Philip Sousa's "Stars and Stripes."

Echo Lake Park, site of all the Summer Arts Festival concerts, is located off Route 22 East in Mountainside. The performance will begin at 7:30 p.m. Patrons should bring lawn chairs or blankets. A refreshment stand is available beginning at 6:30 p.m.

In case of rain, the concert will move indoors to Cranford High School, West End Place, Cranford. Rain information is available after 2 p.m. the day of the concert by calling (908) 527-4900 during business hours, or the Division of Parks and Recreation 24-hour hotline, (908) 352-8410.

Relive the fabulous Fifties with a safe 1995 engine

General Motorsport engineers have not only maintained the muscle car mystique of a 1955 Chevy, but also have brought it into the 1990s environmentally.

To celebrate the 40th Caprice and installed it in a 1955 engine, they took the 265 cubic-inch engine from a 1995 Caprice and installed it in a 1956 Chevrolet. "A complete emission control system, including dual catalytic converters, brought the car up to smog-legal, 1995 standards," said Mark S. McPhail, a GM engineer who spearheaded the project. "From there, we moved on to ensure the car had the kind of performance expected by today's enthusiast. A prototype camshaft and Corvette cylinder heads were added, along with a four-speed electronic automatic transmission.

"The Chevy small block engine revolutionized automobiles when it was introduced in 1955," McPhail said. "More than 60 million Chevys built since then have the same essential engine. We did this project to demonstrate the versatility of the small block in today's world."

McPhail explained that tougher emission control laws, enacted in the

More than 60 million Chevys built since the Fifties have the same essential engine. Chevy did this project to demonstrate the versatility of the small block in today's world.

1990s dampened the enthusiasm of car buffs who thought they would have to compromise horsepower for cleaner air.

"Performance enthusiasts are accustomed to working on their own cars. In this age of environmental regulations, this project is an example of how enthusiasts can enjoy a smoglegal vehicle without sacrificing the spirit and soul that they value in hot rods and street performance cars.

McPhail said that GM Motorsports has developed this anniversary vehicle and others to demonstrate that car owners can still have their cake and eat it too.

McPhail said these updates boosted the original 195 horsepower to a whopping 330. The switch from a two-speed to a four-speed automatic transmission with overdrive improved fuel economy while increasing vehicle acceleration. The state-of-the-art electronic transmission also facilitates wide-open throttle shifts for performance and smoother shifting, should the vehicle be used for day-to-day transportation.

GM Motorsports engineers have developed a variety of project vehicles for the street performance enthusiast. Its Camaro Performance Package for vehicles built from 1982-87 enabled car buffs to raise the original 150 horsepower to 300, while complying with emission standards.

"Many enthusiasts enjoy purchasing used cars and upgrading them," McPhail said. "These project cars show them not only how to dot that, but to do such upgrades in smog-legal form and let them know that GM Performance Parts are available through franchised dealers."

GM Motorsports' primary role is to develop vehicles for automotive racing such as NASCAR Winston Cup for Chevrolet and Pontiac stock cars; International Motor Sports Association. IMSA, and Sports Car Club of America, SCCA, road racing programs for Oldsmobile. Herbert A. Fishel is executive director.

Donate unwanted air conditioners to MS

People with Multiple Sclerosis are greatly affected by the heat. If you are renovating or converting to central air, or have a working air conditioner "resting" in your basement or attic, please consider donating your window units to the MS Society for our clients.

The Ford Contour has alot to offer the States

The 1995 Ford Contour, a 4-door sedan that has been available in Europe since 1993, can now be bought in the United States.

In addition to an Anti-lock Brake System, ABS, the Ford Contour offers and Electronic All-Speed Traction Control system, as well. Filimonchuk said that this system, offered by very few other vehicles, helps the tires to get a better grip on the road to prevent slipping.

The car is also health conscious. The MicronAir Filtration System inside the car filters out pollen, road dust, and other particulates before they can enter.

Some other standard features offered by the Contour are dual air bags, solar tinted glass, and a 10-way power driver's seat. There are many other optional features offered, as well, including leather seating surfaces, lighted door handles, air conditioning, power windows and a power moonroof.

This automobile has been named Car of the Year for 1993 in Europe, where it is known as a "Mondeo." In Europe, this car has been celling at a record rate.
