Sharpshooters face proficiency testing, orientation course

By Kathryn Fitzgerald
 Managing Editor

With the controlled hunt at the Watchung Reservation approaching, the Division of Parks and Recreation announces additional criteria for those wishing to participate in the sharpshooting program.

Applicants who have been selected through the Wednesday lottery drawing will be required to pass a shooting proficiency test administered by a Union County Police certified firearms instructor.

This test will be offered on the mornings of Dec. 29 and Dec. 30, and will require applicants to shoot at least four out of five rounds through a 6 1/4 inch circle from a distance of 30 yards using a bench rest.

Applicants who pass the shooting proficiency test will be qualified as agents after attending an orientation course administered by county and New Jersey Division of Fish, Game and Wildlife staff stressing program objectives, rules, safety, and ethics. The course will occur on the morning of Jan. 5 and will include a tour of the baiting sites.

According to the Division of Parks and Recreation, agents must use only 10, 12, 16 or 20 gauge shotguns with rifled barrels and telescopic sights and may only shoot slugs. Participants will be encouraged to use their own tree stands.

Working from a base of 10 law enforcement officers and 20 other agents, teams of two or three will be scheduled and deployed with at least one law enforcement officer in each group. Generally, three teams will be deployed on the reservation at any one time.

Although agents will not be restricted as to the number of deer each individual can harvest, only antlerless deer will be taken to maximize population reduction. Any agent who contributes at least 20 hours to this program, the Division of Parks and Recreation reiterates, will receive 40 pounds of dressed venison at the conclusion of the program.

All harvested deer will be transported to a location within the reservation where agents will eviscerate the deer and complete reports about the age, sex and weight of the deer, the disposition of all shots fired and the number of volunteer man-hours expended. The deer will then be transported by the county to a USDA-approved butcher for processing. The majority of the venison will then be distributed to the needy and the homeless through the Community Food Bank.

The park will not be closed during program activities, but some portions of the roadways inside the reservation may be closed for periods of up to two hours if necessary.

The sharpshooting program, scheduled for a Jan. 10 start, will only operate during daylight hours on weekdays. The morning shift will take place from 6-11 a.m., according to the Division of Parks and Recreation, the afternoon shift will last from 3-8 p.m. The scheduling of sharpshooting activities will be adjusted as conditions warrant to maximize program success and facilitate achievement of program goals in the shortest period possible.

All applications must be returned in person or by mail to the Division of Parks and Recreation in the Union County Administration Building by Tuesday no later than 4:30 p.m.

Local improvements head Borough Council agenda

By Kathryn Fitzgerald
 Managing Editor

The Borough Council has announced several measures to provide a better community for borough residents.

Some of the improvements will include the possible installation of a left-turn light for Woodland Avenue, the new police vehicles and resurfacing a portion of Central Avenue.

A left-hand turn light for Woodland Avenue, which will be entered into resolution, would eliminate potential accidents associated with the current street configuration, where traffic often merges from two lanes into one lane to continue onto New Providence Road while those wishing to make a left-hand turn must "battle for position," according to Councilman Werner Schon.

Mayor Robert Vigilanti also suggested that a sign alerting motorists to the impending left-hand turn be implemented before the turn.

Borough residents may soon see different makes of police vehicles, thanks to the Borough Council's approval to advertise for bids.

By advertising for bids, the council opens the possibility to access leftover Fords and several 1995 Chevrolets that are being brought in under Pennsylvania bids that will match New Jersey state contract specifications.

A limited number of 1996 Chevrolets, approximately 200, will be available; the 1995 models will be significantly less than the newer models.

The authorization for this advertising allows competitive bidding between the two automobile manufacturers; in the future, Ford will have the monopoly on state contracts for police vehicles once Chevrolet steps down.

The continuing resurfacing of Center Street will again be funded in part by the Department of Transportation. Portions of the money put toward this project, $80,000 as authorized by the Borough Council, will be reimbursed by DOT funds; any further funding will have to be provided by the borough.

In addition to repaving the street, the money will go toward curb work and storm sewer work on the section of the road that stretches from Our Lady of Lourdes Church to Hedge Row.

The next regular meeting of the Borough Council will take place on Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall.

V-Mail a vital link to armed services during WWII

Today you may have e-mail, but during World War II it was V-Mail.

V-Mail sign to provide the most expedient service and reduce the weight of mail sent from personnel of our Armed Forces outside the continental United States, as the post office resumed it at the time. "When addressed to points where microfilm equipment is operated, a miniature photograph negative of the message will be made and sent by the most expeditious transportation available for reproduction and delivery. The original message will be destroyed after the reproduction has been delivered."

Messages addressed to or from points where microfilm equipment is not operated will be transmitted in their original form by the most expeditious means available. V-Mail letters may be sent free of postage by members of the Armed Forces. When sent by others, postage must be prepaid at domestic rates — 3 cents for ordinary mail, 6 cents if air mail is desired.

Those "reproduced miniature messages" with a censor's stamp were eagerly awaited. Often, the letters to the home folks were labeled "somewhere in England, France, Italy, Germany or the Pacific." More often, they only came at long intervals.

Proudly hanging in the window of almost every home was a banner with a blue star for each member of the family in service. Sadly, many of those stars were later changed to gold ones when the service member died.

Jean Hershey's "History of Mountainside 1895-1945" details many activities of the people in the borough during World War II — the draft board, the rations board, air raid wardens, auxiliary police and firemen, emergency medical services, victory gardens, scrap metal drives, nurses aid work at local hospitals, surgical dressing preparations and knitting and sewing for the Red Cross to meet the needs of service personnel and the purchase of War Stamps and War Bonds.

Jean Hershey said "Mountainside's 'Home Front' has done a good job quietly, without asking for plaudits, but I think we should give a word of thanks to them."

police blotter

• On Dec. 6, between 6:30-9:07 p.m., a 1988 Mercedes Benz was broken into at the Steak & Ale restaurant located on Route 22 East, police said.

The victim reported that while he was in the restaurant, someone broke the front passenger window with an unknown object and removed a bronze-colored makeup case valued at $25. Also taken was a portfolio containing papers pertaining to the victim's employment. The value of damage and stolen property was estimated at $400.

"When you leave documents (out in plain view) it's an invitation to see what's in there," said Police Chief William Alder, recommending that items be kept out of view or in the trunk of the car.

• On Dec. 1, a 1992 Acura valued at approximately $18,000, was taken from the parking lot of American Aluminum located at 230 Sheffield Street, according to police.

Local artist featured in exhibit at Palmer

"Shadows and Memories," a photography exhibit by Nancy Ori of Gillette, will be held at the Donald B. Palmer Museum of the Springfield Public Library through Jan. 4.

Ori teaches at national photography workshops each year. She has been affiliated with the Ansel Adams Workshop in California and is also on the faculty of the New Jersey Center for Visual Arts in Summit, the Summit Area Community Schools and the Watchung Adult School.

The photographs in this exhibit are from a portfolio called "Shadows and Memories." The images shown were created during a period of five years in what is now a ghost town in Bodie, Ca.

The collection features portraits of artifacts and architecture which in turn represent a portrait of a group of people during the Gold Rush era. Ori said, "Like some of the early adventurers, I also made quite a discovery. The reward for a photographer, though, was not gold, but has instead become a bounty of photographs while completing this portfolio."

The Donald B. Palmer Museum is located at 66 Mountain Ave. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays; and from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Tuesdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

Scouts brighten veterans' holiday season

This is the fourth year the boys have taken time from the holiday rush to spend a few hours with the veterans. The boys played bingo with the patients. Some held the bingo boards for the disabled patients and others served as the eyes for the veterans with poor vision.

The troop also provided refreshments of cookies, fruit and juice. The money to purchase these items was raised by the boys during the year through various fund-raising projects.

The veterans were very appreciative and gave the boys a round of applause at the end. The boys were led by Senior Patrol Leader Ian Cordoni and Assistant Senior Patrol Leader Sean Bubb.

Preschool workshops teach about holidays

Congregation Beth Hatikvah will continue the preschool program it initiated last year with a series of holiday workshops.

Programs will be available for children aged three and up who have not yet entered kindergarten. Through stories, crafts, and special foods and activities, each workshop will help children understand and enjoy a different holiday.

Workshops in the series will teach preschoolers about the history and customs of Purim, March 2, and Passover, March 23.

Preschool holiday workshops are available to members of the public as well as congregation members.

All sessions will be held at Beth Hatikvah's facilities in the Friends Meeting House, 158 Southern Blvd. in Chatham.

In addition to programs for preschoolers, the temple offers weekly religious instruction for children from kindergarten age through Bar/Bat Mitzvah.

Elderly advocates

Adults are needed to become certified volunteer advocates for the elderly, according to an appeal by Sue Rosenkranz, director of the Volunteer Advocacy Program of Senior Services, a nonprofit agency in Orange.

The advocacy program is administered by Senior Services and supervised by the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs, Division on Aging, Office of the Ombudsman.

Rosenkranz said the volunteers will be certified by the state after completing a free training course. They will then be given assignments in Hudson, Essex, Morris and Union counties as advocates. Some will monitor the treatment of elderly residents in institutions and others will be concerned with the care of older, vulnerable adults living in the community. In their work, the advocates will receive guidance and support from professionals at Senior Services.

Of private firms and your privacy

Under the guise of protecting drivers, the Legislature is drafting a motor vehicle-related bill that would place the importance of the individuals' right to privacy behind corporate profits. That bill, S-1912, must be killed.

Sponsored by Senators Louis Bassano, R-Union, and Louis Kosco, R-38, the bill would allow the Division of Motor Vehicles to share individuals' driving records with car rental and leasing agencies, their employees and authorized agents.

This poses problems that, in a perfect world, would derail this bill, but in New Jersey, requires public pressure be applied to legislators:

- Driving privileges are granted by the state — in the form of the recently privatized DMV. If a customer presents a valid driver's license to a rental agent, why should further investigation of that customer be justified? Aren't we all beneficiaries of equal protection under law? Is the state trying to tell us that some motorists are more equal than others?

- If signed into law, this plan would apply only to New Jersey drivers. Why are New Jersey motorists — the ones who pay the exorbitant fees that keep the DMV alive — the only ones suspected of posing a risk to the public safety? Will the Avis clerks at Newark Airport, for example, provide a desk to serve those first-class motorists from out of state, while a second desk handles the troublesome New Jersey drivers?

"This legislation will grant companies access to an individual's driving record to determine their risk of violating a motor vehicle law, causing or becoming involved in an accident, or damaging a rented or leased motor vehicle," said Bassano, trying to explain this nonsense. "This law will also offer protection to innocent drivers by making it more difficult for high risk drivers to get on the roadways."

- Since when have private firms been given the power to gauge a citizen's potential to violate a law? As far as we know, not even the police have that power, and the courts are restricted to very few areas when making such pronouncements. Hasn't it been the role of the DMV to keep "high risk drivers" off the road by denying driving privileges? Isn't it the job of the police to enforce those denials?

"Car rental and leasing agencies make their profits through loaning a very expensive piece of equipment to a consumer," Bassano also said. "Businesses should not be forced to hand over the key to a huge investment, to a person with a poor driving or motor vehicle record."

- As far as accidents are concerned, car rental agencies already protect themselves by denying rentals to drivers under age 25. Will senior citizens now also be considered too risky to rent a car?

Anyone who has had to report a car accident to an insurance company later learns how DMV records do not reflect who was at fault in the collision. Will it soon be the responsibility of New Jersey motorists to supply car rental agents with police reports of any accidents in which they had been involved? Will a "good" driver pay less to rent a car than a "bad" driver?

- More to the point, isn't this bill merely a method by which car rental agencies can get a break on insurance premiums? Since those costs are passed to the consumers anyway, must we pay additionally by allowing this violation of our privacy? When one leases an automobile, it is his or her responsibility to insure the vehicle and to return it in acceptable condition at the end of the lease. Is that a transaction so problematic that the state must monitor?

To address the privacy issue, the bill states that a company using a customer's driving record for reasons other than to assess risk, the agency will be subject to a fine of between $500 and $1,000.

This is a bad bill and it will take public pressure to stop it. At a time when the rights of convicted child molesters are championed in the courts by civil libertarians, must the state let car rental clerks cite a three-year-old speeding ticket as a reason to deny someone an already insured vehicle?

New Jersey now has a recently enacted law on the books that empowers the state to confiscate a five-year-old automobile if it is found to be "polluting the environment." That law and this bill show a disturbing trend: Trenton is becoming even more intrusive than anyone could have predicted only a few years ago.

Such legislation could have been expected from the Florio administration and the then Democratic-controlled Legislature. We're not sure why, but Gov. Christine Whitman and other politicians who market themselves as conservatives are supporting laws that expand too many government powers and diminish too many individual rights.

They should be ashamed.

We urge our readers to contact their state senator and lobby for the stoppage of this bill. Mountainside residents should contact Sen. Donald T. DiFrancesco at 1816 Front St. in Scotch Plains, or telephone 322-5500.

ETHNIC CELEBRATION — Deerfield fourth-graders celebrate their own ethnic backgrounds in the school's Immigration and Ethnic Celebration on Nov. 16. The program included children who dressed like immigrants coming to America, poems like 'New Colossus,' songs celebrating America and a story of immigrants' hardships when they first arrived in this country. Different ethnic foods, prepared by the students and their families, were available for the public.

Don't just sit cozy and wait. Do something

The Christmas season is upon us and if you didn't like the imagery of local residents shooting at Bambi, you're bound not to sit cozy thinking about Rudolph and company romping into someone's crosshairs.

I hate to remind everyone, but in about one month, the annual Watchung Reservation deer hunt will be under way, much to the chagrin of about half of the borough's citizenry, who feel there must be a better way for people and deer to co-exist.

All animal activists rallied at the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders meetings, protesting the hunt because it's cruel to the deer, because it's unsafe for people living near the reservation, because it's a gruesome thing to expose children to and because of any number of other reasons.

Fat lot of good that did. If the freeholders' approval of the Watchung Reservation Deer Management Subcommittee proves one thing, it's that standing up at meetings and flapping your lips is not an effective means of enacting changes in policy. Translated loosely: If you got off your collective duffs and helped a little, you might actually have an effect on the situation.

Don't get me wrong. Protesting is as American as apple pie, baseball and dear old Mom. The freedom to say what you want, feel what you feel and challenge the decisions of the powers that be are some of the reasons we started this neat little country in the first place. But, as anyone who has actually gone the protest route will tell you, it is a long, difficult road fraught with stonewalling, inaction and some of the slowest progress known to mankind.

Just Fitz

By Kathryn Fitzgerald

So, what's the alternative? Instead of sitting in your house, moping and grouching that no one ever listens to you, lend a hand and try to help. A revolutionary idea, I realize.

The subcommittee's five-year plan, submitted to the freeholders, was not based on the assumption that the reservation would be filled with gun-wielding maniacs shooting at anything that moves. In fact, that's not the case at all.

Perhaps some of the hunters involved in this program see this as an opportunity to score some free venison or maybe even a nice head suitable for mounting on their wall. Perhaps.

Or, perhaps some of them see that the program might do some good.

If the subcommittee's numbers are right, and they're the only ones doing any studies around here, there are about 300 deer on the reservation eating each other out of house and home. When deer overgraze, they eat all the food available to them in one area and move on to another or starve to death.

In the winter, when food supplies are low, deer are known to take to residential shrubbery for a bite to eat. Lately, they haven't been waiting for winter. Why, you ask? Because they have no food. You might not be able to tell that just by looking at the reservation, but then again, maybe you're not up on your wildlife menus.

Like people, deer have specific diets that only include a select number of foods. When that's gone, they can't just eat other plants — they have to find more food that agrees with them — like your fancy, expensive bushes.

It's not that your bushes are a great after-dinner snack. It's that they're the next available food source.

One alternative to save your precious landscaping, and possibly keep the deer from wandering into dangerous situations, is not to buy the $1,000 bush in the first place. Or, in lieu of that, look into planting other foliage that might prove unappetizing to deer. Deer repellent is another path to travel and is only slightly irritating to the deer, but enough to keep them off your lawn.

If the sharpshooting program really has wedged itself into your craw, and passive actions like these are not going to satisfy your civic outrage, you could talk to the subcommittee and see what other things are being done. How about replacing the natural foliage and removing exotic plants that are crowding them out? How about applying for and implementing the one-shot immunocontraceptive vaccine we've been hearing so much about? How about helping with research into more humane methods of thinning the herd?

Whether or not you agree with the sharpshooting program, it's time to face facts. Applications for places on the hunting squad are now being taken. This whole sticky issue is only roughly 30 days away. Very little can be done to avoid it.

So, if you don't want to feel like your voice doesn't matter in the grand scheme of local politics, get up and do something. Don't just sit around complaining and cursing the freeholders for passing the plan or the subcommittee for devising the plan or me for endorsing the senseless slaughter of God's precious little creatures.

I'm not a savage, and if there's one thing I detest, it's the unnecessary killing of anything. There's the key word and I'll repeat it so there's no confusion — unnecessary. Without a severe reduction in the herd, disaster will rear its ugly head. Since there's no other option, it's time to suit up and hit the woods.

I can't speak for everyone; my opinion is just that — my opinion. I am of the belief, however, that the skilled eye and hands of a marksman will be far more humane than the unfeeling and brutal front bumper of a speeding car. Or starvation.

Liberalism encourages reliance on freebies

The cold weather is here, putting us in a shopping and holiday preparation mode. This is also the time of the year when you read about the homeless more than the other three seasons.

With each passing winter and the usual media coverage on the homeless, I can't help but think about a remark made by Michael Kinsley, editor of the New Republic magazine and co-journer-in-chief of CNN TV's Crossfire. It must have been six or seven years ago during a pre-Christmas broadcast when then co-host Pat Buchanan just finished asking the "homeless" didn't resort to private charity instead of demanding still more government largess. "There are hundreds of church groups and other private charities offering aid," said Buchanan, "why don't they take advantage of those?"

Before revealing Kinsley's answer, for those unfamiliar with him, it must be understood that Mike is a likeable and very bright chap but in Mike Kinsley, we are dealing with a museum-piece liberal. Without hesitation, Kinsley sputtered, "because it would be undignified!" Since Kinsley is a smart fellow, we can't chalk up that absurd remark to low intellectual wattage. Being a liberal of the highest order, Kinsley like so many deep-thinking liberals has retained some of the prejudices of Marxism.

Right To The Point

By Joe Orlando

Orthodox Marxists always have scorned private charity. Private giving invalidates the supreme role of the state as arbiter of who needs what and just how much. If private individuals take those decisions into their own hands, a measure of power is bled from the state.

To clear the air, I am not calling Kinsley a Marxist, but his brand of liberalism derives its rationale from Marxism. Consider the parallel to the aforementioned Marxist tenant.

Liberals consider it "undignified" for beggars to accept private charity. The unspoken assumption is that there is some kind of begging that is dignified — begging from the state. But that is a hard concept to sell. Most people throughout most of history have regarded dependency as dishonorable. Being "on the dole" was considered disgraceful. But liberals saw it as their special task to remove the ignominy from beggary. They change the name of the dole, disguising it by the word "entitlement." It was more important to save the poor from disgrace than from poverty. Sadly they have succeeded all too well. Multiple generations of Americans have been born, and died on "entitlements," never knowing anyone in the family to earn a salary, while immigrants of the past have taken low-paying jobs the welfare dependent regarded as beneath them.

As long as a stigma was attached to being on the dole, there was a spur to self-sufficiency. Without it, the dole becomes slothful and enervated. It is not that the poor are corrupt, it is simply that they are human, and subject to exactly the same temptations as everyone else. It goes without saying that no civilized society should allow people to die of hunger or freeze in the cold. But we do the poor no favor by making dependency less shameful. If they need what used to be called "relief," they should take it. But they should not be proud to do so.

Liberal distainers of private charity also are overlooking the important psychological interaction between benefactor and recipient which is part of private, but not public charity. Moreover, the act of personal giving — one human being to another — is good for both. The donor fulfills one of the most revered and ancient fundamental principles of civilization — to feed the hungry and clothe the poor. The recipient gets some genuine compassion along with the goods and cash and perhaps even the desire to repay the kindness, not so with government programs.

Until liberals like Kinsley stop trying to convert the poor and homeless to their steadfast faith in the central authority, perpetual poverty for the poor is almost assured.

Joe Orlando is a resident of Clark and columnist for the national publication, The American Conservative.

Godzilla vs. deer hunt: no contest

To the Editor:

It was a sad day when I read of how the cinema moguls killed off Godzilla, again. This time for good.

One last movie should have the monster tramping on the Old Village in the Watchung Reservation, the site of another taxpayer-funded deer hunt.

I've been to all the freeholder meetings this year and each time hear of park department personnel Dan Bernier and Chuck Sigmund explaining the deer hunt, things keep changing, because what they told the county board was different from what they told the Division of Fish, Game and Wildlife.

I was at that meeting, and what I read in the papers is different. Now that I have an application to hunt deer in the park, (I will not use it), Chuck and Dan have stated that 120 deer per year will be killed for 5 years or 189 deer for 3 years. But the application states that 189 deer will be hunted during the winter of 1995-96. Whether it's the 3- or the 5-year plan.

Something that I and some county official did not know until I mentioned it. I visited a friend of mine in Summit who left corn out all night. There were no deer tracks in the snow, anywhere.

So where are the deer? What if there are not enough? Are Chuck and Dan going to propose to bank the numbers not hunted to be used in the future, thereby keeping the hunt an infinite part of the county's spending program.

If anything should be infinite, it should be Godzilla. At least he's a monster that's worth the time and money to watch, unlike the monsters in real life.

Include school board in November

To the Editor:

What is the problem, if any, to include Board of Education elections at the regular general elections held in November? Offhand, it sounds like we can save some money. I would also suggest it would generate more interest and voter turnout.

Enough! Let's stay out of Bosnia's war

Most of us thought that when World War II ended in 1945 with the utter defeat and destruction of Nazi Germany, Europe would say: "No more."

Obviously, we were wrong, dead wrong. For the last four years, the Balkan nations have been going at it hot and heavy and we hear about "ethnic cleansing," starving prisoners held in concentration camps, mass executions, rape, pillage, destruction, refugees, children dying for lack of food and shelter, families destroyed and towns wiped out. It's a replay of World War II and we wonder how it could have happened a half-century after the guns fell silent. One of the hardest hit areas in Europe during the war were the Balkans, especially Yugoslavia where the Nazis massacred thousands. Throughout the years, the Balkans have suffered as no other regions on Earth has suffered. In fact, the Balkans have been the backdrop for hundreds of incidents which led to wars. World War I was ignited because Archduke Ferdinand was assassinated in Sarajevo.

Now we have another calamity among the Serbs, Muslims and Croats. Each has suffered at the hands of the other. Last week a peace treaty was initiated to set the scene for peace. But I think the United States is the loser. President Clinton wants to send 20,000 American troops to Bosnia as part of a NATO peace-keeping force of some 60,000 heavily armed soldiers. Of course the troops will be complemented by hundreds of ships and airplanes. They'll go first class with body bags.

As much as I want to see the war end, I cannot see sending American troops overseas into an area where we do not have important interests. The peace treaty is a tenuous one and the least bit of real or imagined aggression will be met with heavy firepower from each side. Even the president admits there will be casualties. But he said he will take full responsibility. Tell that to a mother or a spouse of a slain soldier. Won't do much good nor bring back the dead soldier.

As I See It

By Norman Rauscher

During the Vietnam War, we did have an important interest in the warring area. Oil. Of course we dolled the reason up by claiming Iraq was becoming another Nazi Germany, bent on conquest. Today, however, there is no oil at stake; and we wonder why America must be drawn into the conflict and risk casualties.

During the Vietnam War, we gave as a reason for being there: an attempt to stem the tide of Communism in Southeast Asia. Of course, the war got out of hand and America got a good kick in the pants in the form of 47,000 dead. I would think that Vietnam would be a sufficient reason to stay out of Bosnia.

The U.S. cannot and must not become the world's police force. If the Bosnians, Croats and Serbs are intent on self-destruction, why must we be caught up in the insanity?

President Clinton's address on Nov. 27, appealed to our sense of honor to help win and hold the peace. All very noble. But what happens when the soldiers go home? Will the three factions again take out their guns and begin shooting all over again? Even now, there are rumors that some factions are determined to torpedo the peace endeavors and promise to make Sarajevo another Beirut. And all have scores to settle.

If this occurs, you can bet your bottom dollar that there will be retaliation. Our troops will be heavily armed and told to fight fire with fire and then some. There is then the possibility that the NATO forces, of which one-third will be Americans, will find themselves in a Vietnam-like mire of a no-win situation. And when the casualties mount and Clinton takes full blame, then what? Do we pull out and leave Bosnia to the tender mercies of the warring parties? Can we save face? Will our credibility be forever destroyed?

Bosnia has been a battleground for centuries and I don't think a NATO force, which will include about 20,000 Americans, is the answer. The Balkans must decide if they want peace or war. If they want peace, let them fashion a treaty themselves. If they want war, and only God knows why they would, let them fight it out among themselves. Yes, that's isolationism.

We all want the killing and pillaging to stop. We want to see a peaceful southeastern Europe. But why must America be dragged into a conflict that is really none of our business? We have had bitter experiences in Somalia, Ethiopia and other hot spots around the world. In a way, we came back home licking our wounds and grieving over our dead. Enough, already.

If we are going to spend money to fight in Bosnia, I'd rather see that money go to help the homeless and starving here.

Assembly considers youth bill

Counties would be authorized to create county youth services commissions, under legislation approved by the New Jersey General Assembly.

According to the bill's sponsors, Sens. Louis Bassano and John Matheussen, both R-Union, the commissions would be charged with assessing and prioritizing the needs of youth involved in or at risk of involvement with the system in order to qualify for State/Community Partnership grant awards. The grant awards are established under the terms of companion bill S-2210.

"The number of young people entering our juvenile justice system daily is staggering. We need to reverse the tide and we hope to do that by addressing problems at the local level," Bassano said. "It's my hope that by creating county youth services commissions, we can identify youths experiencing problems before they get in over their heads and have become hopelessly enmeshed in the state's juvenile justice system."

The senator said this measure includes provisions that hold commissions accountable. "The bill calls for the commissions to not only develop community programs for juveniles, but to monitor new and existing community programs to determine if they are achieving their intended goals."

Matheussen said this is vital, pointing out that by reviewing and monitoring new and existing programs, counties may discontinue the ones that don't work and concentrate resources where they will be the most effective.

"As with many issues in the state, there is a tendency to keep pouring more and more money into the problem thinking that will eventually lead to a solution. This legislation takes a different tact by having an ongoing process," Matheussen added. "Requiring these county youth commissions to report back on a yearly basis in order to be eligible for award grants, motivates the commissions to be productive and demonstrate the effectiveness of their programs."

SAGE opens adult care center

The Summit-area Association for Gerontological Endeavor marked the official opening of its new, state-of-the-art adult day care center at 550 Springfield Ave., Summit.

The late afternoon reception at the SAGE Spend-A-Day Center was attended by local dignitaries, board members, contributors, and other friends of SAGE. Berkeley Heights Mayor Jeanne Viscio presented a plaque to SAGE Board of Trustees President Clare Wherley, and Jacqueline Vogelmann, SAGE executive director, in recognition of the group's leadership in adult day care.

"Welcome to the new home of SAGE Spend-A-Day," said Wherley. "We are glad to be part of the Berkeley Heights community which has already welcomed us so warmly."

"Day care is the partner with the families nationwide who provide 80 percent of the care for the elderly. As one of the few custom-designed adult day care centers, this facility reaffirms SAGE's position as a leader in this field," said Vogelmann. "Our various programs meet a range of client needs, and the increased size of the new center will allow us to serve even more frail elderly."

As many as 650 clients will participate in the Spend-A-Day programs each day. Each client attends the program one to five days per week to socialize and be active in a therapeutic environment. The programs are in session weekdays from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Extended hours to accommodate the schedules of working caregivers, made possible by grants from the United Way of Millburn-Short Hills, and C.R. Bard, Inc. are available from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

In addition to the social day care and Alzheimer's programs already offered by SAGE, a new "special needs" program is now available for those with early dementia or physical limitations. The "special needs" program was funded by the AT&T Family Care Development Fund, a joint project of AT&T, the Communications Workers of America and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

SAGE Spend-A-Day attracts clients from Westfield, Scotch Plains, Fanwood, Mountainside, Watchung, Warren, Millington, Millburn-Short Hills, the Chatham, Plainfield, East Hanover, Springfield, Summit, New Providence, Berkeley Heights, Elizabeth, Cranford and Clark.

SAGE has been a leader in adult day care since beginning its first program in 1975. According to the National Council on the Aging, Inc., there were only 300 adult day care centers nationwide in 1978; today there are more than 3,000.

In contrast, the new facility has been designed specifically to accommodate the Spend-A-Day clientele, including a walking corridor with a handrail, soft lighting, and color scheme, fully accessible restrooms, a private shower and personal laundry capabilities.

WHEREAS, the Planning Board relied upon each of the documentary submissions, exhibits, testimony of witnesses and representations of the Applicant's counsel and fully considered the fact that no objections to the requested relief were made by members of the public or any other person or entity in written or oral form, in taking action with respect to the instant Application; and

WHEREAS, based upon Inter Alia, the shape of the Property and the physical features uniquely affecting it, the Planning Board found that the variance sought by the Applicant relating to number of parking spaces necessary. Further, the Planning Board found that there will be no substantial detriment to the public good, nor substantial impairment of the intent and purpose of the zoning plan and ordinance in granting the variance. In particular, the Planning Board found that the applicant had met its burden under N.J.S.A. 40:55D-7(c)(1) and therefore, it granted the variance, subject to the conditions set forth below; and

WHEREAS, at the conclusion of the hearing, the Springfield Planning Board members hearing the Application voted unanimously to approve it, subject to certain conditions.
BE IT RESOLVED, BE IT RESOLVED, by the Township of Springfield Planning Board by way of memorialization of its prior approval of the Application as follows:

1. The Application is granted subject to the following conditions:
1. The applicant will submit a site plan in a form acceptable to the Township Engineer that will adequately address the traffic circulation concerns raised by the Planning Board.

- The action must take place in one setting: the foyer of divorce court.

- Entries must be typed and double-spaced, with the author's name, address and phone number included on a separate title page.

- Entries will remain the property of the authors.

Oratory grad returns to school for hero's welcome

At Oratory Catholic Prep, it's not unusual for former graduates to return to their alma mater. Teachers there often remark about the large number of Oratorians who return to keep them updated about college experiences or girl friends, and eventually about wives, families and jobs.

On Nov. 12, one former graduate returned for a special occasion. He celebrated his 96th birthday as a guest speaker during Oratory's National Honor Society induction ceremony. Although the school was then known as Carlton Academy, its main building on Bedford Road is very much the same as it was when Summit resident Carl Donner attended his graduation ceremony in 1916.

On this particular occasion, Donner was accompanied to the ceremony by his wife, Louise, to whom he has been married for 63 years.

Oratory NHSA inductees were given the opportunity to question Donner about life at Carlton in the early 1900s. Billed in its earliest handbook as a "school for boys of good family," Carlton was newly established when Donner entered the lower school at 7. Early records indicate that students were from various foreign countries and the guest speaker recalled that some fellow students were from cities as far away as St. Louis, New York and Washington. Donner himself was a day hop and recalls walking, biking or catching a ride on a horse-drawn carriage to join approximately 25 fellow Carltonians at their studies.

As the Summit resident indicated, the curriculum in the early 1900s, contained many of the courses offered today. A 1914-15 transcript, discovered when the school was researching material for a 75th anniversary journal, revealed that Donner took English grammar, composition, literature, rhetoric, ancient history, algebra and geometry. That year's courses also included three foreign languages: Latin, French and German. Spelling, penmanship and stenography added to his course of study. A note attached to the page of that same transcript praised the 16-year-old's work in German and commented that "Donner is ready for his exam and will do it very well."

Discipline is very much a part of the Carlton/Oratory tradition. When Donner attended Carlton Academy, the rules and regulations of the school were characteristic of the time period. He remembers that Charles Schultz, the first headmaster, was quite strict. He recalled that there were set times regulated for study halls. He emphasized that the faculty were "a fine group of masters who were good disciplinarians."

Back in the early 1900s, Carlton Academy couldn't boast of a martial arts or a computer club as Oratory can today, but both then and now the school offered traditional clubs and sports as part of its extracurricular activities. Donner himself played on the hockey and football teams, which have long left Oratory's picture. He was a member of the baseball and tennis teams as well. He said the teams were not great, but the boys had fun being part of the group. Just as today, the students spent many hours after school taking part in pickup games in the gym or on the field. Msgr. James F. Newcomb, who was the school chaplain when Donner attended and eventually became the second headmaster, often played tennis with the boys.

Social activities were very much on the minds of 15- to 16-year-old boys 80 years ago just as they might be today. However, instead of having dances with nearby girls' schools as is the current custom, Carltonians confined their social events to meeting sisters of their fellow students when families might visit the academy.

Because of the curriculum and its implementation, Donner remarked "everyone made the college of his choice, without much trouble." His interest in mathematics and success at Carlton led him to Princeton University. Since the United States subsequently became involved in World War I, Donner and many of his Princeton classmates joined the Students Army Training Corps, similar to today's ROTC program.

The honored guest, a Summit resident for 91 years, was presented with a special gift from the Oratory students. A china cup, part of an original set of dinnerware found in a Carlton Academy china cabinet, was mounted and engraved and presented to Donner during the ceremonies.

Donner remarked to the NHS members that his Carlton teachers were "a great inspiration, a fine group of individuals" with whom "many students continued their friendships long after graduation."

The Rev. Paul R. Manning, Oratory's present headmaster who shared an interest in geometry and mathematics with Donner, said he was delighted that this member of the class of 1916 has maintained his relationship with his school.

Housing option for seniors

Senior citizens with a housing dilemma have a new option that might solve their difficulty. Community Access Unlimited, long a forerunner in providing housing options for people with disabilities, now offers Home Share — a housing option for today.

There are more than 400 Home Sharing programs in the United States, 11 in New Jersey, and the numbers are growing. It is an arrangement between two or more unrelated people to share a dwelling where the home owner charges rent or gets help maintaining the home while a person seeking housing shares the home for a monthly charge.

Every case is different but basically any home owner with extra space is eligible. This is particularly attractive to empty-nesters who are having trouble paying their bills but don't want to give up their home.

LET THE BIBLE SPEAK

1 Pet. 4:11

Jesus Said "Have You Not Read"

The word of God is like a seed and when sown in honest heart it will Produce (bring forth)

After its Kind. (LK. 8:11, Gen. 1:11-12)

Thus, the fundamental Principle of God's Divine Pattern for the A. New - Testament Church. - and B. New Testament Christians. (ONLY) (Matt. 16: 18, Acts 2:36-47, Eph. 5:23, Ram. 16:16) Acts 11:26, 1 Pet. 4:16)

Human Churches (Counterfeit) are Not Planted by God and are Unknown To The Bible. (Matt. 15:13-14) for Example, The Catholic, Lutheran, Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, Mormon, etc. Exist without divine authority and are SINFUL, and each have its own Teaching and Practice resulting in Religions confusion, division and delusion. (Including the TV Religious (circus) FakeHealers, etc)

Thus the Bible Plainly Teaches These People are Deceived and they are Not Saved, and are Not True Christians. Gen. 3:4-5, 2 Cor. 11:13-15, Matt: 7:21-23)

We Urge All Catholics, and Protestant Denominations To Investigate The Bible That They May be Enlightened of the Profound Truth, for Example there is No Clergy and Laity in the Lord's Church. (Get Back To Bible Basics)

Worrall Super 25 at head of class

Hawkins, Spotwood, Redziniak, Layden, Charlotin, Ferguson are repeat selections

By J.R. Parachini and Michael Ziegler

This year's Fourth Annual Super 25 Football Team is headed by six repeat selections.

Four-year varsity starters Al Hawkins and Quinton Spotwood of Elizabeth are joined by fellow repeat picks Ray Redziniak and Greg Layden of Johnson Regional, Kenny Charlotin of Linden and Corey Ferguson of Union.

Worrall Community Newspapers include the (North Zone) Union Leader, Roselle Park Leader, Kenilworth Leader, (West Zone) Summit Observer, Springfield Leader, Mountainside Echo, (South Zone) Linden Leader, Roselle Spectator, Rahway Progress, Clark Eagle and (East Zone) Elizabeth Gazette, Hillside Leader.

The high school football teams covered by those publications include Union, Roselle Park, Summit, Dayton Regional, Linden, Roselle, Rahway, Johnson Regional, Elizabeth, Hillside and Governor Livingston.

SUPER 25 OFFENSE

RAY REDZINIAK — A standout senior offensive tackle who provided much of the running room for Johnson ballcarriers, Redziniak was equally proficient on defense. He made 44 solo tackles, assisted on 16 others and had 8.5 quarterback sacks. A legitimate Division 1 player.

ALFIE CRITELLI — The senior played outstanding on both sides of the ball, an agile guard who provided running room for Summit running backs with his punishing blocks. On defense, Critelli led Summit with nine quarterback sacks and four fumble recoveries. He also had 41 solo tackles, six of them for a loss, and 51 assists.

JAVIER GONZALEZ — Rahway head coach Mike Punko said Gonzalez played well at center but his true strength was on defense. As co-captain, the three-year starter made 62 solo tackles, assisted on 39, caused four fumbles, recorded three and had two quarterback sacks.

PETE TCHORZEWSKI — This senior lineman's play helped spark Linden to a victory over Union late in the season. Tchorzewski had 53 solo tackles, 15 assists and one fumble recovery.

QUINTON SPOTWOOD — One of the best true football players in the state of New Jersey, the speedy wide receiver had another outstanding season filled with outstanding numbers. He caught 46 balls for 930 yards (20-yard average) and 12 touchdowns, rushed nine times for 184 yards and two touchdowns, returned 19 punts for 510 yards and one touchdown and returned 14 kickoffs for 320 yards and one touchdown. He scored 16 touchdowns and had 1,944 all-purpose yards. At defensive back, Spotwood had three interceptions and 11 tackles. Spotwood opted for track over baseball last spring to improve his speed and he will visit Ohio State, Notre Dame, Syracuse and Virginia.

GREG LAYDEN — Johnson's go-to-man at wideout, the senior caught 43 passes for 638 yards and 10 touchdowns. As a defensive back, Layden had seven interceptions, one for a touchdown, and also ran one kick-off back for a touchdown. Layden caught 48 passes last year for 692 yards and had 91 receptions (15 of them touchdowns) for 1,330 yards his last two seasons.

AL HAWKINS — Arguably the best combination quarterback in the state (right there with Hoboken's Rashard Casey), the three-sport standout will graduate as Elizabeth's most prolific passer. This year Hawkins completed 79 of 120 passes (69 percent) for 1,363 yards, 21 touchdowns and just four interceptions. He also rushed 11 times for 116 yards and three touchdowns.

Hawkins, also among New Jersey's best righthanded pitchers in addition to being a force at forward on the basketball court, will visit Florida State, Georgia and LSU for both baseball and football.

DAN LUEDDEKE — The Johnson quarterback had one of the best seasons of any football player in North Jersey this year, a dangerous threat to run with the ball as well as passing it. His 10 rushing touchdowns were second on the team and he threw 18 touchdown passes. Lueddeke passed for 1,086 yards, completing 69-of-110 passes (63 percent) with just three interceptions.

DARRELL GLOVER — The talented junior tailback rushed for 1,026 yards on just 108 carries (9.5 average). He scored 11 touchdowns (four in one game), returned seven punts for 124 yards and six kickoffs for 180. Glover also caught nine passes for 92 yards and rushed for over 900 yards last year as a sophomore.

JAMIE GALLICCHIO — Another talented runner with outstanding numbers, the senior tailback rushed for 1,118 yards on 126 carries (8.9 average). In addition to being one of the county's leading rushers, Gallicchio scored 15 touchdowns and two two-point conversions for 94 points. He also returned nine punts for 161 yards (17.9 average) and 13 kickoffs for 349 yards (26.8 average) and caught three passes for 38 yards. His total all-purpose yardage was an impressive 1,666.

FRANK MENTZEL — Union County's leading scorer this year with 102 points, the senior fullback was also a dominant linebacker — recording 32 solo tackles, 21 assists, four quarterback sacks and two fumble recoveries. From his fullback position, Mentzel rushed for 16 touchdowns and carried the ball 119 times for 596 yards.

JOHN DUQUE — The senior first-year varsity placekicker was almost perfect with his foot, setting an Elizabeth scoring record for a kicker this year. He made 40-of-43 extra points (one of his three misses was from 35 yards out) and 3-of-5 field goals.

SUPER 25 DEFENSE

PAT COLLINS — The senior defensive end had an impressive two-year varsity career and was one of the better linemen in North Jersey this year. He was among Union's leading tacklers and made two key plays in Union's season-opening 15-12 win over Elizabeth. Collins scored the winning touchdown on a fourth down quarterback sneak from the one and then blocked a game-tying field goal attempt with less than a minute to go.

Another of the best-of-the-best righthanded pitchers in the state, Collins will attend Clemson University on a baseball scholarship package. He is also rated very high on numerous All-America football lists at tight end, defensive end and linebacker.

JULIAN HAMBRICK — The senior defensive end who transferred from Hampton, Va. was one of the more menacing linemen in the county. He had 60 tackles, 36 assists, six sacks and 12 tackles for losses. He also caused four fumbles and recovered one.

TEAK SUN KIM — The senior nose guard dominated opposing centers all season, causing eight fumbles on the center-quarterback exchange. Kim recorded 31 solo tackles and assisted on 23 others.

JON HEMENWAY — Roselle Park's leading tackler, the very physical senior defensive tackle posted 43 tackles, 26 assists, 14 tackles for losses and 11.5 sacks. He also proved to be a very punishing blocker as a tackle on offense, often leading the way for teammate Gallicchio.

BRIAN JACKSON — This Hillside senior defensive tackle really came into his own this year. He had 53 tackles, three sacks, caused five fumbles and recovered one.

COREY FERGUSON — Yes, Ferguson rushes for a lot of yards and scores a lot of touchdowns. However, many close onlookers feel he's a more valuable commodity on defense at inside linebacker. Ferguson paced Union for a second consecutive year in tackles with 101 hits, adding to his total of 69 last year. He also proved very fast when catching Spotwood from behind after the latter raced with a reception and appeared headed for the end zone to give Elizabeth the lead over Union late in the game of this year's season-opener for both. Ferguson caught up with Spotwood and made the tackle to preserve Union's 15-12 victory.

Offensively, Ferguson is getting ready to rewrite the Union record book previously written by 1986 graduate Tony Stewart. This year the junior fullback rushed for 1,165 yards on 175 carries (6.7 average) and scored 16 touchdowns and one two-point conversion for 98 points.

Last year, his first on varsity, Ferguson rushed for 1,383 yards on 192 carries (7.20) and caught eight passes for 212 yards (26.5). He scored 20 touchdowns and 124 points.

So, heading into the 1996 season, Ferguson has rushed for 2,548 yards on 367 carries (6.94) and scored 36 touchdowns. Stewart rushed for over 3,500 yards during the 1983, 1984 and 1985 seasons and led Union to secondary championships in 1984 and 1985.

KENNY CHARLOTIN — The senior linebacker made 45 solo tackles, assisted on eight, recovered two fumbles and had 1.5 quarterback sacks. As a fullback, he ran 143 times for 955 yards with seven touchdowns. He scored on a 65-yard run for the winning touchdown against Union, preventing the Farmers from making the playoffs and handing Union its first road loss in seven years.

QUARRAN ROGERS — The heavily recruited senior linebacker, with visits scheduled to Maryland, Duke and North Carolina State, had a stellar season. He posted 66 tackles, 38 assists, one interception and deflected three passes.

BOB HARMS — Football is truly a team sport and Harms is truly a team player. The senior started at linebacker the past three seasons for Roselle Park and this year spent his first year at the fullback position on offense after starting as an offensive guard last year.

Harms put up some impressive numbers, carrying 138 times for 827 yards and eight touchdowns. He also proved very valuable as a kicker, making 12-of-19 extra points and two field goals, scoring 66 points.

Harms, who started out as a running back his freshman season, also had an impressive 33.2 punting average and did an excellent job with his kickoffs.

At linebacker this year, Harms had 34 tackles, 21 assists, six tackles for losses, one sack and one interception.

DAN GUZEVICH — Johnson head coach Bob Taylor describes his senior linebacker as the "inspirational leader of our defense." Guzevich was a force on stopping the run and recorded 47 solo tackles while assisting on 23 more. He recovered two fumbles, caused two more and returned one interception for a touchdown.

LEE MILLER — When Quinton Spotwood says that his toughest opponent was teammate Lee Miller (in practice of course), then you know that the talented senior defensive back knows what he's doing in the secondary. Miller had 40 tackles, 24 assists, three fumble recoveries and three sacks.

SHAWN ALLEN — According to Roselle head coach Lou Grasso, Allen is the ultimate team player. A natural wide receiver and defensive back, the senior started the second half of the season at quarterback after A.J. Warren went down with an injury. He was the team's leading tackler and had five interceptions, two for touchdowns.

STEVE SCHROEDER — The senior quarterback, linebacker, punter and kicker helped spark Summit to its fourth consecutive trip to the North Jersey, Section 2, Group 2 final. Schroeder had an impressive 32.9 punting average in addition to his talents at quarterback. The crafty signal-caller threw for 985 yards and 11 touchdowns, completing 66-of-161 attempts. He led the team in tackles with 42 solos and 68 assists and had two interceptions.

Union's Pinch completes season

Fred Pinch of Union, a graduate of St. Andrews School, recently completed his first season with The College of Wooster's football team. A freshman offensive lineman, Pinch was a guard for the Scots. "Fred served a valuable role for us," Wooster head coach Jim Barnes said. "If he continues to work hard, he should see more playing time in the future." As a team, the Scots compiled a much-improved 5-5 overall record after finishing 1-9 the year before. They also placed fourth in the North Coast Athletic Conference with a 5-3 mark, which was the most victories by a Wooster team in the 11-year history of the NCAC.

Elizabeth grid star Thomas honored

Rashid Thomas of Elizabeth, the 5-8, 200-pound American International tailback, was the recipient of the Jerry Nason Award for senior accomplishment at the New England Football Writers Awards and Captains Banquet. The award was established in 1958 and presented to the senior who has persevered against all odds to succeed in football. Thomas, playing with a 2-8 team, became the first player at the Division 2 school to rush for over 1,000 yards in two seasons. The former Elizabeth High School mainstay rushed for 1,127 yards on 214 carries this past season and ran for 1,358 last year. Thomas set two other records this season, the all-purpose yards mark with 1,935 yards and the kickoff return yardage record with 620 on 24 returns. In three years at the Springfield, Mass. school, Thomas amassed 3,093 yards. He originally began his career at Ramapo, but transferred after his freshman year when the Division 3 Roadrunners dropped the sport. H.S. schedules still needed
 Winter schedules are still needed from these area high schools: Roselle Park, Dayton Regional, Hillside and Elizabeth, Union, Summit, Linden, Rahway, Johnson Regional, Roselle, Roselle Catholic and Mother Seton have already sent theirs in. Mike Sheppard baseball clinic
 Mike Sheppard's Winter Baseball Clinic will be held Dec. 26-29 at Seton Hall University. To receive an application, call 201-761-9557.
