Is Lerner's firm only for men?

Just when I thought Larry Lerner was the most enlightened, compassionate, caring individual I had ever heard of, I had to hear the ugly truth.

It seems Lerner, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the 7th District, can talk about equal opportunity for women, but he hasn't practiced what he's preached.

Lerner founded a patent law practice — Lerner, David, Littenberg, Krumholz and Mentlik — in Westfield in 1965. It has grown to become the largest patent, copyright and intellectual property firm in the state, now featuring 24 attorneys.

By either design or coincidence, all of them are men.

In Lerner-David's 31 years, it has employed nearly 50 attorneys. Only two have been women.

In its history, the firm has had 19 partners. None have been women. Of the law firms in the area that have more than 20 attorneys, Lerner's is the only one exclusively male.

Do you see the pattern?

To perform damage control, Lerner's supporters would argue that patent law is a highly specialized field that women haven't approached yet. However, at both of the next two largest patent law firms in the state, women account for one-fifth of the attorneys. One, located in Princeton, has two female partners.

In all fairness to the candidate, I won't say he's a misogynist, a sexist, or any other "ist" which liberals such as him call those with differing opinions.

Furthermore, it must be noted that Lerner-David has employed female lawyers, something Lerner's campaign manager and spokesman — rather, spokesperson — were sure to mention.

One female attorney was employed from 1987-88. Another was employed in 1988.

I'm sure they left of their own accord, rather than be fired because of any discriminatory code or old boys' network at work, but I can't help but wonder what kind of culture is fostered at Lerner's firm.

I asked campaign spokesperson Rich Ecker how African-Americans have fared at Lerner-David.

He didn't have an answer.

In the spirit of hypocrisy, I offer candidate Lerner two contradictory pieces of advice:

- Rally the troops and take the offensive. Round up every female attorney you know and announce to the world that some of your best friends are female. Then, repeat the process with attorneys of African descent, Asian descent, those who use wheelchairs, homosexuals, etc., etc.

- Drop out of the race, because people like you are not welcome in Congress.

Regardless of who comes out on top in the 7th District race, it is unlikely the Republicans will lose control of the House of Representatives.

This is very significant to Lerner because one of the first votes those mean-spirited, extremist Republicans held upon taking the majority in 1995 was to make Congress abide by the same Affirmative Action laws you and I have had to follow for decades.

Even if the Democrats retake the majority, it is unlikely they would repeal that.

In an attempt to excuse the inexcusable, Lerner's spokesperson said the candidate's record on women's rights is incontrovertible and that he has the support of the National Organization for Women — "and you can't get more mainstream than that."

I don't know what that record includes, but — as I told Ecker — the same was said of former Sen. See IS LERNER'S, Page B2

Freeholders debate as audits loom

County man challenges UCUA head

By Jay Hochberg
Regional Editor

With the help of two freeholders, a Scotch Plains resident was able to discuss the financial condition of the Union County Utilities Authority with that agency's executive director and an accountant Monday morning.

Based on letters he had sent to Freeholder Carol Cohen and on what he said to the freeholders on Sept. 12, Marc Friedenberg was invited to meet UCUA Executive Director Jeffrey Callahan to compare notes.

Friedenberg left for a vacation after his meeting with Callahan and could not be reached for comment. Callahan could not be reached for comment by press-time.

One of Friedenberg's letters included his calculations of the UCUA's financial health and a list of questions regarding the management of the authority.

"The authority shows a loss of approximately $17 million for 1995 as compared with a loss of approximately $1 million for 1994," a letter dated Aug. 16 states. "This is in spite of the fact that revenues were up 15 percent from 1994. Cash flow operations was negative $5.6 million as compared to a positive cash flow in 1994 of $6.3 million."

Saying the UCUA had been stalling in providing him with a copy of the UCUA's financial audit report for 1995, Friedenberg said he thought county officials were hiding information.

"Negative cash flow is negative cash flow," he said. "Something is going on here. Why am I not getting the audit?"

Callahan explained what Friedenberg said was a "delay," saying the audit he wanted had not been finished until after his request.

The executive director also said the numbers were affected by the dates of the incinerator's operation, adding that the difference between the authority's revenues from 1994 to 1995 is attributable to the start of full operations in '95.

Callahan also said the UCUA had received Friedenberg's correspondence and had invited him to the authority's offices to review the documents, which are available to the public.

Facing the Board of Chosen Freeholders, UCUA Executive Director Jeffrey Callahan and Scotch Plains resident Marc Friedenberg discuss their disagreement over the management of the utilities authority during the freeholders meeting Sept. 12. With the help of the freeholders, Friedenberg was able to meet with Callahan to discuss the UCUA's finances Monday morning.

Freeholders may hire auditing firm

By Jay Hochberg
Regional Editor

The Board of Chosen Freeholders may vote Sept. 26 to hire a private firm to audit the finances of the Union County Utilities Authority.

At its pre-meeting conference tonight, the Democrat minority on the board is expected to introduce a resolution that would authorize the county to choose Ernst & Young from among three auditing firms that had submitted proposals to the board.

During its meeting Sept. 12, the board agreed to ask the state Treasury Department to examine the UCUA's operating policies and procedures. No starting date has been set for that audit, which will be performed at no cost to the county.

The Democrats have been seeking passage of a resolution that would allow the county to hire a private auditing firm to examine the UCUA's debt structure and its contracts with Ogden Martin, the company that built and operates the authority's incinerator in Rahway.

Freeholder Carol Cohen said the county should hire Ernst & Young to conduct "a full audit" of the UCUA's books to prepare for renegotiations of the contracts and possible restructuring of the debt.

Those steps, said Freeholder Linda Stender, would precede efforts to make the UCUA's rates — called tipping fees — more competitive.

It has been the UCUA's rates that have prompted several municipalities in the county to seek other ways to dispose of their trash. Earlier this summer, the state Supreme Court ruled the statutes regarding solid waste flow unconstitutional, allowing utilities authorities' clients to send their garbage to landfills or elsewhere for incineration.

Responding to that possibility, UCUA Executive Director Jeffrey Callahan said the county and its 21 municipalities have a "responsibility to stand with the UCUA" and to use its incinerator to avoid possible defaults on debts the UCUA incurred to build and maintain the incinerator.

The county is legally obligated to cover $35 million of the $287 million in UCUA debt.

"Union County developed a very good program and you should be proud of it and not talking like there's something wrong with it," Callahan said to the freeholders.

GOP candidates call for tax-freeze

1995 county property-tax rate promised

By Jay Hochberg
Regional Editor

Joined by state, county and local GOP leaders, the three Republican candidates for Board of Chosen Freeholders announced they would vote to freeze property taxes in 1997 if elected in November.

Incumbent Freeholders Linda-Lee Kelly, Linda Di Giovanni and Mountaineer Mayor Robert Vigilanti held a press conference Tuesday afternoon in Union to say they support a county property-tax freeze at 48 cents per $100 assessed value.

That figure, set in 1995, was maintained this year by the five-member Republican majority of freeholders. The Democrats on the board opposed the freeze and the '96 county budget.

A continued tax freeze would "thereby force the county manager, the department heads and the freeholders to make choices and to prioritize spending," Kelly said.

The candidates said they have not targeted specific areas in the county budget to cut, and that there would be no cuts in county government services.

Regarding payroll, Kelly said "any type of lessening of the workforce would be through attrition," and Di Giovanni said any future budget cuts would be made "only if they economically are the right thing to do."

"It's not the cutting of services, but the sharing of services," added Vigilanti, a longtime proponent of county and municipal governments combining resources. "It gives municipalities reductions in expenses" which lead to lower local taxes.

"You don't make that pledge at the county level very often, but they've already done it," said state Republican Party Chairman Chuck Haytaian. "We also did it at the state level and the sky didn't fall."

The county's 1996 budget totals more than $274 million, a decrease of more than $9 million from 1995. According to the '96 budget, the freeholders had intended a 1 percent tax cut for 1997.

With roar of motorcycles, vets call for POW's return

By Sean Daily
Staff Writer

Thousands of war veterans, their families and friends used the roar of their motorcycles to voice their concerns for fellow vets they said are being held prisoners of war.

Once a year for the past 10 years, bikers gather for Rolling Thunder to remind Americans of the prisoners and of efforts to find them and bring them home.

This is the first year the event has been held in New Jersey. The riders assembled at several staging points across the state to ride to the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Holmdel.

One of those staging areas was Warinanco Park, a county park on the Elizabeth-Roselle border.

The riders assembled Sunday at 8 a.m.

Warinanco Park was solid with bikes from the Thompson Avenue entrance in the south to about a quarter of a mile around the park. Every parking lot in between, including the skating rink, was bursting.

A number of local officials were there, including Rahway Councilman Sal Mione and Business Administrator Peter Pelissier and Elizabeth Councilman Dan Wood.

The staging point was more of a party than anything else. The sun was shining and many people had brought their children along.

Richard Zibkowski of Linden was there with his son Michael. They had come on a Harley-Davidson Sportster — most everyone was riding hogs. Zibkowski is not a veteran, though six of the friends that he rode to Warinanco Park were. "I think it's a nice gathering," he said. "A lot of people are veterans. My father is into veterans; he was in World War II. I've never had any trouble with veterans; they're a good bunch of guys."

When asked why he brought his son to the event, Zibkowski said, "I want to show him that not everything involving motorcycles involves gangs, and that you don't have to belong to a gang to enjoy them."

"I think it's the ultimate ride and I wouldn't miss it for the world," said Ivette Torres of Bayonne, who was there with her friend Mark Manserratti, also of Bayonne.

Manserratti was a staff sergeant during Desert Storm. He brought heavy armor to the front.

"Mark's the only one who found any shade during the war," said a friend.

When asked why he was there, he said, "I'm just here to support veterans of any war. We didn't do what they did." Manserratti was sporting barbed wire tattoos, which he said represented POWs.

Many bikes sported American flags and the black POW/MIA flags. One bike carried a flag-draped coffin on its sidecar and trailed a "prisoner of war" in a wood cage.

"Nobody actually left anybody. That's just how it happened," said Chuck Stewart of Sturgeonsville, a staff photographer for Rolling Thunder. "A lot of us were just in the wrong place at the wrong times, fighting for freedom, riding Vietnam of communists. And all we did to keep them free did not work; they're still under communist rule.

"There's not much we can do except one thing: busting their butts to get our POWs and MIAs back," he added, referring to diplomatic efforts to secure the government of Vietnam's help in finding prisoners.

Along the route to the PNC Bank Arts Center, where the memorial is situated, people were lined along the side of the road, waving flags, lining the overpasses.

"I'm from New Jersey, and I'm a little disappointed in the people on the sidelines," said Maple Sherrer of Gloucester City. "I wanted to hold up a sign 'What, you forgot about the veterans?'"

She and her husband Karl are on the POW/MIA Awareness Committee in Camden County and are helping to build the Vietnam Educational Center at the arts center.

"A lot of people didn't know what happened in Vietnam," he said. "They're not learning about it in school. Like the War of 1812 — they don't know anything except it happened in 1812."

A number of spokespersons for Rolling Thunder and other POW/MIA advocacy groups were speaking at the arts center. The people listening at times shouted their support or derided politicians.

"I'm kind of sick of this because I only see you. I don't see any concerned citizens, only family, and this is the only way that we can advance and to bring our POWs home," said Steve Cressman, one of the speakers.

Amid a sea of motorcycles, area residents prepare for the start of the procession that preceded POW-MIA Recognition Day, which is tomorrow. Thousands of motorcyclists converged at Warinanco Park and rode to the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Holmdel in an event sponsored by the National Forget-Me-Not Association for POW/MIAs and Rolling Thunder, Inc. Inset: Rolling Thunder President Arnie Muller, Forget-Me-Not Director Paul Mevo and Rolling Thunder Vice President Don Lucker observe the crowd.

 "And I say our POWs because Washington has written them off. They're burying them off, body or no body, digging holes and filling them. And I know because that's what they did to my brother Pete."
 Peter Cressman was shot down in 1973, eight days after the United States and Vietnam signed peace accords. He and his crew were declared dead based on a tooth and 23 fragments found in 1994. His brother said military intelligence had reports stating they had been taken prisoner. According to Lynn O'Shea of the National Alliance of Families for the Return of America's Missing Servicemen, there were two instances of AC-130s — close-support gunships with 10-man crews — being shot down and the crews being declared dead. This is despite reports by one returned POW that he saw the crew of one in a Vietcong propaganda film and a message trampled into the Vietnamese vegetation at the other crash site and photographed by a satellite.

"Forget the signal, forget the message in the grass, it grew that way!" she said.
 O'Shea also produced a copy of a New York Times article, dated Sept. 8 about a North Korean defector, Oh Young-nam, who said he saw American POWs. His father was a bodyguard for Kim Il Sung, the North Korean leader who died in 1994.
 "I don't know what it takes anymore," said Rolling Thunder founder Art Muller. "I don't know what it takes for the United States government to abide by the Constitution. We should be running them, they shouldn't be running us."

Is Lerner's firm only for men?

 Bob Packwood, and look what happened to him.
 As for NOW, its membership is limited to about 250,000. That's about one-quarter of 1 percent of all the adult females in the country. In terms of numbers, that's not mainstream, that's a fringe. In terms of its leftist ideology, NOW is barely recognized by many of the same women who propelled it to national status in the '70s.
 But that seems to be the constituency of those like Lerner: people who would use politics to manipulate government to distance themselves from the law.
 Unlike liberals like Lerner, I have a lot of faith in my fellow constituents, who I believe will see this trickster for what he is and reject him on Election Day.

Unit seeks vols

The Union County unit of the American Cancer Society is seeking volunteers for its Road to Recovery Program.
 Road to Recovery is a free patient service program whereby volunteer drivers escort individuals to and from cancer treatments. It is a flexible volunteer opportunity for anyone who has a car and some spare time to help someone in need.
 Contact Carolyn Fabrizio, service director, at (908) 354-7373 for additional information on joining the life-saving crew of volunteer drivers.

St. Mary's will hold open house

"Experience Excellence in Education... with the Personal Approach" is the theme of this year's open house at St. Mary of the Assumption High School said Janet Malko, principal of the four-year, co-educational parish high school.
 The school, located at 237 So. Broad St. in Elizabeth, is accessible from the communities of Union and Essex counties.
 "St. Mary of the Assumption High School provides a quality, personalized education for students from nearly a dozen communities of Union and Essex counties," Malko said. "We offer an alternative to the public schools, which many parents and students are seeking today."
 The student body numbers less than 400, which enables administrators and faculty to provide students with an attentive and personalized education that promotes a sense of community at the school.

Accredited by the Middle States Association, St. Mary's is the largest Catholic high school in Elizabeth and offers students honors and Advanced Placement classes, two computer centers, an after-school program, and many sports and extracurricular activities for about $3,000 a year.
 The school's tuition plan guarantees a student's tuition will not increase while enrolled. However, having one of the lowest tuitions in the area has not inhibited improvements in the school. Recently, the gymnasium and classrooms have been renovated, and now the landscaping is being redone.
 Open house for the school will be held Tuesday at 7 p.m. and on Oct. 27 at 2 p.m. in the school's gymnasium. Faculty, coaches, administrators and students will be present for tours and questions.

This English major knows his lines

Summit resident takes his education to Broadway

By Bea Smith
Staff Writer

Nick Wyman, a former Summit resident, who has a featured role in the Paper Mill Playhouse's musical, "Applause," started out to be a college professor and ended up as a Broadway performer and soap opera actor.

"I was looking for the easy way," Wyman said, during a recent chat. "I was attending Harvard University and I had my future all worked out. My reasons included the fact that I wanted the tenure, the best education, the whole thing. I majored in English literature and I was planning on being an English professor, but my grades in English were too erratic. So," he chuckled, "I did the next best thing. I became an actor because I could learn lines and memorize them very quickly."

The Portland, Maine-born Wyman discovered that he could learn lines at a very early age when he attended Summit public schools. "We moved to Summit when I was 10 years old. I attended and graduated from Brayton Public School, Summit Junior High School and Summit High School. When I was in ninth grade, I played Cassius in 'Julius Caesar' in Mrs. Eleanor Davis' class. I think I was probably interested in doing that way back then. I had a good memory, and I could say lines."

"Interestingly enough," Wyman explained, "I spent my summers while I was in college in what was then called the Metropolitan Music Theater in Summit. It was a student-run group sponsored by the YMCA in Summit and we did one musical the first summer, then two the next summer. We even did a children's theater. That's probably where I got most of my early training doing these shows in Summit. And it was fun to do in the summer months."

Before coming to the Paper Mill Playhouse, Wyman did a number of Broadway shows, movies and television.

"My first professional job," he recalled, "was a tour of the musical, 'Grease.' It was a revival, and I was a standby — covered the lead and three other roles. As I said," he laughed, "I've got a good memory. My next Equity job was in two musicals at the Goodspeed Opera House in Connecticut. They were very good, but one never saw the light on Broadway, and the other did come to New York. We played for about nine or 10 weeks. Here's the irony of it all," Wyman declared. "I was playing a Yale graduate, me, a Harvard graduate. I gritted my teeth and played it nonetheless. Ironic indeed."

He said that "since then, I did 10 shows on Broadway, among them 'Grease,' 'My Fair Lady,' in which I played Freddie with Rex Harrison — that was about 15 years ago. During a recent revival, twice I played a standby for Henry Higgins. I also performed in 'On the 20th Century,' 'Whoopie!,' 'Doubles,' 'The Musical Comedy Murders of 1940,' and I was in the original company of 'Phantom of the Opera' in which I played one of the two managers of the opera."

"Four years ago," Wyman said, "I did 'Sweeney Todd.' I played Judge Turpin, and it was a very pleasant experience. I had a great time."

Wyman said that he has "always worked on the east coast. I even did some movies here: 'Die Hard With a Vengeance,' and I had number two billing; 'Planes, Trains and Automobiles,' with Steve Martin; 'Funny Farm,' with Chevy Chase; 'Weeds,' with Nick Nolte; 'Rude Awakening,' with Cheech Marin, and Howard Stern's 'Private Parts.' I also was on the soap, 'One Life to Live' for a couple of years. I played Todd's father. I think I died two years ago," he laughed.

When Wyman came to audition for the Paper Mill's "Applause," he said "I showed up with my accompanist. She played for me, and I sang. And I was told 'You don't need to sing.' It's really so nice to be recognized for one's acting."

Wyman was cast as "a hard nosed producer. Actually, they combined the George Sanders' role from the movie, 'All About Eve,' and that of the producer. I have all of George Sanders' plot functions but not all of his wonderful lines."

"I did see the film, 'All About Eve,' and you can't really compare the movie to the stage musical. Applaud and oranges, you know. I think there's an immediacy to a stage performance that you can't get in a film. And there is also the music and dancing. The show takes one up to another level and makes it that much more theatrical. And on the stage, that's all to the good."

Wyman added, "I have to say in defense of Betty Comden and Adolph Green, who wrote the work. They are legends, and it's truly wonderful to work with them. I worked with them in the '20th Century,' too. In fact, the scene they wrote next to the last in 'Applause,' is masterful. It's just one of the best musical scenes ever written."

"The cast is sensational," he said. "I'm really very impressed with them. For me, it's a reminder of how many talented actors there are in our union in New York."

"And as far as Stefanie Powers is concerned, she is just great. She's a delight to be with. People are going to be very surprised and impressed with her musical abilities."

The show at the Paper Mill "will then play on tour and then Broadway. I'm looking forward to have a chance to bring it to Broadway. I'm not exactly excited about going on tour because I don't like to leave my family in Westchester County for any length of time."

Wyman's family includes his wife, Beth McDonald, an actress, and their three children, Caitlin, 14; Madeline, 9, and Tommy, 5. "My wife," he said, "has a recurring role as Dr. Lynn Michaels in the soap, 'As the World Turns.' She's the talented one," he grinned. "I'm a big ham, but she's good. She's a Juilliard graduate, and she was in the original company of 'Angels in America' on Broadway."

"The kids? Unfortunately, they are all interested in the theater. I always hoped that they would become corporate lawyers and investment bankers. But unfortunately, it is not possible."

"You see," he said, "they see the glamorous part of being in the theater — from me and from my wife. After all, I guess you can't blame them."

'Excellent' poets wanted for national poetry contest

Sparrowgrass Poetry Forum is offering a Grand Prize of $1,000 in its new "Awards of Poetic Excellence" poetry contest. Thirty-five other cash awards are also being offered. The contest is free to enter.

Poets may enter one poem only, 20 lines or less, on any subject, any style. Contest closes November 30, 1996, but poets are encouraged to send their work as soon as possible. Poems entered in the contest also will be considered for publication in the Summer 1997 edition of Poetic Voices of America, a hardcover anthology to be published in June 1997. Anthology purchase may be required to ensure publication, but is not required to enter or win the contest. Prize winners will be notified by January 31, 1997. A winner's list is provided with a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

"Poetry is more popular than ever," says Jerome P. Welch, Publisher. "Our contest offers a public forum for new poets that allows them to share their work. We welcome poetry of all styles and themes. Many of our contest winners are new poets with new ideas."

Poems should be sent to Sparrowgrass Poetry Forum, Dept. O, 609 Main Street, P. O. Box 193, Sistriville, WV 26175.

Festival committee plans juried art show

More than 100 professional and nonprofessional artists, crafters, and photographers of varied ages are expected to participate in Union's 23rd annual Festival On The Green, to be held Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., at Friberger Park in Union.

The juried show is sponsored by the Union Township Chamber of Commerce and provides artists with an opportunity to exhibit and sell their work, and to compete for cash prizes.

Among the exhibits will be fine art, oils, water colors, photography, giftware, and clothing.

Friberger Park is situated behind the Union Township municipal building. Artisan displays will be set up in the upper level parking lot behind the library, while the lower level parking lot, in front of the municipal building, will be reserved for local nonprofit groups providing food vendors and service clubs.

The Union High School band will open the festival, and entertainment will continue throughout the day with ethnic music, dancing, and talent from across the state.

The "Festival On The Green" is co-chaired by Judy Welshons of Hollywood Memorial Park Co., and Donna Visco of Visco Graphics.

For further information about the juried show call the Chamber of Commerce at (908) 688-2777.

Great Beginnings...

"The Exciting and Challenging Process of Parents and Babies Growing up Together"

Overview

Parenting is the most important job in life and yet new parents are left to work it out with no training, few guidelines and often little support. The unfortunate truth is that newborn infants do not come with instruction manuals.

Program Description

GREAT BEGINNINGS is a series of ten interactive sessions on a range of topics dealing with issues important to parents of infants. Share questions, ideas and experiences with other new parents. Parents are encouraged to bring their newborns, ages 6 weeks to 3 months, so they can observe and consider other parenting styles.

Small groups of parents meet weekly for six two-hour sessions and then monthly for four sessions. Each of the ten sessions focuses on a topic of interest to new parents such as:

- Initial adjustment to the baby
- Infant health and nutrition
- Changes in the husband-wife relationship
- Teaching and disciplining your child
- Problem solving strategies

Fee: $130 for ten sessions

For questions or to register for the next session of GREAT BEGINNINGS, please call ParentCraft of Overlook Hospital (908) 522-2946.

DINING/ENTERTAINMENT

Food, fun fill the streets of Westfield

Two stages of entertainment, plenty of fantastic festival food and more than three hundred exhibits of quality crafts, art and local businesses are only some of the highlights of this year's Westfield's Festival of Arts and Crafts on Sunday.

Festifall will fill the streets of downtown Westfield. Traffic along Elm, Quimby, Prospect and E. Broad Streets in Westfield will be detoured for the event, which also features many children's activities.

Two stage areas are planned with entertainment that includes a harpist, a Dixieland Band, three children's storytellers and a magician. At noon, a rockin', soulful blues band known as "Lady Blue and the Tramps" will begin the day's entertainment at the stage area on Broad and Elm streets. Musical and magical entertainers will stroll throughout downtown Westfield during the day.

More than 25 food concessions will tempt Festifall-goers with selections of Chinese and Mexican foods, Pitt-style BBQ beef and ribs, calzone, Italian sausage, Greek food, garlic chicken kebabs and London broil. Local restaurants Hunan Wok, Ferraro's, Best Touch, Domino's and Cosimo's Pizza are planning Festifall menus.

Exhibitors from seven states are part of Festifall's marketplace of fine art and craft items that includes designer clothing, handmade toys, bonsai, wood carving, rubber stamps, inlaid wood, hand-thrown pottery, dolls, handmade furniture and home accessories, and Teddy Bears.

Artists will display and sell their original watercolors, oil paintings and photography. A beautiful collection of bas relief and free standing sterling silver sculpture will be exhibited.

Other Westfield exhibitors include decorative wicker artist Ellen Zied, Joseph McKeon who creates wall hangings and Bridget Heneck who sews custom table mats and decorations of velvet and tapestries. Distinctive sweaters of cotton and wools are knitted by Andrea Arfanis of Westfield. Westfield antique dealer, Mary Lou's Memorabilia on Elm Street will show vintage accessories and collectibles.

Also on display will be original jewelry made of clay, papier-mache, shells, pewter, clay, gold and silver. Some decorative items will be for sale at Festifall.

The children will enjoy pony rides, and a petting zoo, "Pet the Farm", located in the parking areas of First Nationwide Bank at North and E. Broad Streets. A moonwalk, temporary tattoos, face painting, and making sand art creations are other family activities. "Fun 4 Kids" features spin-art and a fishing pond where every child wins a prize.

In addition to the fine crafts exhibition, many local merchants and community organizations plan to participate. Festifall attracts more than forty local non-profit and service organizations. These groups use Festifall for community visibility and important fund-raising activities.

Admission and parking are free and Festifall hours are noon to 6 p.m. on Elm, E. Broad and Quimby Streets. For more information contact the Westfield Area Chamber of Commerce at (908) 233-3021.

Featured entertainers include:

Tom Brislin Jazz Accident, 4 p.m. Broad and Elm.

Tom has been featured on piano and keyboards at clubs and theatres throughout New Jersey and New York in jazz, rock and classical settings. He has also worked as a studio musician and as assistant to the musical director of WWOR TV's "New York at Night". He now performs in an eclectic rock project entitled "You Were Spiraling".

Lady Blue and the Tramps, noon at Broad and Elm.

This high energy partying band has been together nearly a year, although each member has been in the business for more than fifteen years. Already they have opened for some of today's top blues artists such as Bobbie Parker, Johnny Clyde Copeland, Eddie C. Campbell and Debbie Davies.

Joy Koltenuk is The Lady, has been entertaining since she was three and professionally for over twenty years. She not only sings the blues but writes most of the lyrics for the originals that are part of the show and their first CD "Living and Loving the Blues." Steve Koltenuk is known for his Big Fender sound, having been influenced by Albert Collins, Buddy Guy and Stevie Ray Vaughn. He leads the Tramps' solid blues rockin' sound and also writes music with The Lady.

Debbie Brewin-Wilson, Harpist, songwriter, 2:30 GO Keller Lot, Broad near North Ave.

Debbie bills herself as, "Not just another Celtic Harper", though she has studied with two of Scotland's premier performers. She won that scholarship to study on the Isle of Skye as she became the national amateur champion of 1991 in the Scottish Harp Society of America's competition.

Louie The Bum, Clown, street performances.

A silent, yet elegant clown, Louie loves to interact with friendly festival-folk. Dressed in a tattered tuxedo, Louie pantomimes and dances the day away!

Bob Mele, Singer/Entertainment Host, 3 p.m. Broad and Elm.

An entertainer for more than two decades, Bob sings the standards, Big Band favorites, Broadway show tunes, folk and country classics. His smooth baritone and easy crooning style blends well with the ballads of the '50s and '60s.

Kathryn Weldener, 12 and 1:30 at GO Keller Lot, Broad St., near North Ave.

Using a few props, great language skills and lots of imagination, Kathryn engages both adults and children into her world of tales and fables. Her contagious enthusiasm actively involves the audience in "performing" the tales — not merely listening.

Mele Kini Polynesian Dancers, 5 p.m. Broad and Elm.

Performing throughout New Jersey, the Mele Kini Dancers create their own costuming. Their dance studio is located in Bridgewater, NJ where they share space with The Kathleen Academy of Dance. The Mele Kini Polynesian Dancers perform and teach Hawaiian, Tahitian, Samoan and New Zealand dances to children, adults and seniors alike.

Joseph Torre, Union, NJ, 3:30 GO Keller Lot, Broad St., near North Ave.

A twenty year veteran on the NJ/NY Club scene, Joe T. plays guitar, drums and keyboard. He has appeared on the John Zachery Show and many times on Big Joe's Variety Show.

Joe T. collects Elvis memorabilia and has appeared as "The King" throughout the tri-state area. Dressed in a jumpsuit, he croons those Presley ballads ever so smoothly.

Dana, Real Music for Kidz!, noon and 1 p.m. at GO Keller Lot, Broad St. near North Ave.

Dana's genuine enthusiasm and bubbly personality stimulate little imaginations, inspire interaction and introduce children to nearly every style of music, country, pop, island, jazz, and rock, and even rap beats enliven the atmosphere while messages of self-esteem, diversity and sharing connect with audiences young and old.

Dana's debut album, "Gather Your Dreams" won national acclaim and a 1994 NAPPA Gold Medal, awards held annually by thirty-six parenting publications. Her latest album, "Dana's Best Sing & Play A-Long Tunes" was recognized as the best in quality children's music for 1995. Both albums feature "Dana's Dog Rowdy", her faithful companion and friend. Her three albums will be available after the performances.

Mod Orange, 1 p.m. Broad and Elm.

Chris Roselle heads up this young, fab Sixties tribute band. Stylish Sixties garb completes the retro feeling that includes hits from the Beatles, The Kinks, Rolling Stones, and The Who.

Pet The Farm is a collection of the cutest critters you'll ever get to touch and feed! The children will get to meet Tony the Burro, Molly and Star the pygmy goats and the woolly, grey-spotted Leonard the Llama. All the animals of Pet the Farm are actual pets of Sharon Serra, who bottle feeds each baby animal. Other "family members" include Daisy the Cow, two Vietnamese pot-bellied pigs, a tiny baby fawn, a black sheep, and Satin, the blue-eyed fancy white pony.

Fairgoers will be allowed to feed many of the animals. New this year are two Jacob sheep, which are black and white and have four horns, a baby goat called Rascal and a wallaby, or mini kangaroo. Pet the Farm is an exciting adventure for parents to experience with young children.

DINING REVIEW
September 19, 1996

III Amici
Experience the culinary craftsmanship of Amici's master chefs.

Chef Mario Lavorato prepares a flavorful dish to customers' liking. III Amici Restaurant is located at 1700 West Elizabeth Ave., Linden.

Seafood lovers must try Amici's linguine with clam sauce made with white wine and fresh fish stock, complemented with shitake mushrooms and tender, baby clams. Perhaps the evening's most pleasant surprise was the mouthwatering filet mignon, smothered with mushrooms and touched with a tasteful suggestion of marsala. Lavorato prides himself on his ability to offer quality meats prepared with the expertise usually found only at fine steakhouses.

As couples danced to the live sounds of Italian and American popular music, we treated our taste buds to Amici's sweet and airy tiramisu. Desserts range in price from $2 to $4.50 and include tortoni, home made cannoli and tartafo gelato. Diners and lounge patrons can enjoy live music Friday and Saturday evenings from 7 p.m. until closing.

Generous portions from the entire menu are available for $2 to $4 less during lunch hours between 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Dinner hours are 4:30 to 10 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday, 4:30 to 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 2 to 9 p.m. on Sunday.

Perfect for all occasions is Amici's banquet room, which accommodates 175 people. A special wedding package including a complete dinner and open bar is offered at $29.95 per person.

Lavorato and his partner, Michele Corvelli, are right at home among their customers. "We want to create a friendly, family atmosphere," Lavorato said. "I make everybody feel comfortable."

HOROSCOPE

For The Week Of September 22-28

ARIES March 21-April 20

Sharp reflexes and quick responses keep you out of hot water — most of the time. This week could be different so try to avoid high risk situations. Facing up to your fears makes it easier to overcome them. If it's too scary, ask a sweetheart to help.

TAURUS April 21-May 21

Head for the outdoors this week. Financial worries start to ease up later in the week. You could even receive an unexpected windfall. Put it to work for your future. Settle a controversial issue at home before you meet with any outside interference.

GEMINI May 22-June 21

Resist the temptation to do something reckless. Ordinarily it would be OK, but this week there are other considerations. Stick close to home and focus on getting your chores done. A group of friends offers a shake up of your usual weekend routine.

CANCER June 22-July 22

If an antagonistic relationship seems to be deteriorating, take a few steps back. It's better than the alternative, which is to patch up after a blowout. You'll beat the odds later this week so be prepared to act the part of the gracious winner.

LEO July 23-August 23

The tides are shifting to favor you throughout the week, so put off decisions until later. A meeting may not be the best place to voice your opinion. Put together a list of changes you think are important, and then bring them up later, in private.

VIRGO August 24-September 22

Work to reach a happy medium with a difficult person. The payoff could be bigger than you think. Pay close attention to deadlines — something could be creeping up on you. You'll be especially energetic in the mornings this week.

LIBRA September 23-October 23

The nights are right for you this week. Do your creative thinking late in the day, or even better, in the evenings. Innovations in your everyday routine are a refreshing alternative to the daily rut. Use all your charm to soothe a demanding person.

SCORPIO October 24-November 22

Sketch out a plan of attack early this week to solve a nagging problem. Make the big moves first, and then refine your approach as the week comes to a close. A romantic evening gives you a new outlook on life.

SAGITTARIUS November 23-December 21

An unexpected gift cheers you up early in the week. Trying times are almost over for a while. Save some money so you can splurge later. You deserve a celebration. Invite someone special to share it with you, and you could learn something of value.

CAPRICORN December 22-January 20

Short tempered coworkers are your main obstacles early in the week. Placate them with a mixture of good humor and tolerance, and you'll go far. Later this week, try something different for recreation. Take a lesson, or read a how to book, then go for it!

AQUARIUS January 21-February 18

Pour all your attention and energies into a big problem. Don't expect anything of others that you wouldn't do yourself. Leading by example is the best way for you to get things accomplished. Stand up to an intimidating person, and you'll earn respect.

PISCES February 19-March 20

You might feel caught in the middle this week, and the worst part will be that you can understand both sides of the argument. Don't take sides; instead, take a mediating role, and you'll come out on top. At home, an intimate relationship takes an unexpected turn.

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE:

NJ Photography Forum offers an opportunity to get into the field

Photography is one of those subjects with limits as to what can be conveyed in the classroom. True learning takes place in the field, with equipment in hand, responding to real conditions.

The New Jersey Photography Forum will sponsor a field trip to the Great Swamp to practice landscape photography techniques. Participants will meet at the Watchung Arts Center on Saturday, September 28 at 9:30 a.m. The rain date is Sunday, September 29. A camera, tripod, film and lunch should be brought. Seminar admission is only $10. $8 for Arts Center members.

Mark Obenzinger, an accomplished nature photographer, will guide the trip. He has been teaching the Zone System through trips he offers to the Olympic Peninsula and many sites in the Southwest. Through the use of Polaroid film, he will demonstrate Zone System techniques while discussing 35mm applications too. The non-profit New Jersey Photography Forum also meets monthly at the Watchung Arts Center to network, learn, exchange tips and critique work. Serious photographers are encouraged to come to meetings, pay a $2 admission fee, and participate, with no further obligation. The next meetings are September 18 and October 14.

The Watchung Arts Center is on the The Watchung Circle, about a mile from either Interstate 78, exit 40, or Route 22, Plainfield overpass. Seminar reservations may be made by calling (908) 753-0190. Office hours are 1 to 4 p.m. Voice mail messages may be left at other times.

Remake of French "Diabolique" measures up to original classic

In 1955 French director Henri-Georges Clouzot made two films, both of which are considered classics. One, "Wages of Fear", deals with a sick oil tycoon playing with peoples lives. The other, "Diabolique", mixes passion and murder and comes up with a result that would make Hitchcock proud. Movie star Sharon Stone loved the film so much that she decided to star in Hollywood's 1996 remake which kept the title intact.

The story begins with Mia, played by Isabella Adjani, and Guy, played by Chazz Palminteri, an ill-fated couple stuck in a miserable marriage. Guy gave Mia the wedding ring so he could forcefully weasel his way into the private school she owns. The marriage is so far gone that Mia ignores Guy's affairs and even befriends one of his "lovers", Nicole, played by Sharon Stone.

Nicole is a teacher at the school and, though she sleeps with Guy, she despises him and the way he treats Mia. The girls starts to talk and they decide it would do them both a world of good if Guy was off the planet. Not willing to put up with one more minute of this creep's smiling face, they draw up a blueprint for murder.

They decide to make it look like an accidental drowning and "Phase 1" begins. Mia sets up a meeting with Guy to discuss their strained marriage. Nicole dissolves enough sleeping pills into a bottle of bourbon to cure an elephant's insomnia. Guy throws a few drinks back and quickly passes out. The two femme fatales drag him to the bathtub and submerge him in an H2O coffin. He spends the night underwater and the next morning the proud criminals throw him in the trunk of their car.

Now comes "Phase 2." In order to keep their accidental drowning scheme alive, they dump him in the school's swimming pool. The pool's water has not been emptied in years and is dark as black coffee. The pool is scheduled to be drained in a few days, and the ladies believe everyone will think Guy got drunk, wandered too close to the edge, and met with an early, unfortunate death.

The Video Detective

By Jim Riffel

"Phase 2" is looking good until they hit a major snag. The pool is drained, and Guy's not in it. Mia and Nicole start biting their nails and sweating buckets. Thoughts of the electric chair fly through their heads and this possibility grows to enormous proportions when an out of work, bored detective played by Kathy Bates starts poking her nose around because she "needs something to do." The unpredictable twists and turns of this film make the 100 minute running time fly by.

Palminteri is great as the rough-edged creep and Adjani is perfect as the meek, frustrated wife who decides to turn her negative energy into murder. I rented both versions of this film and, though Hollywood has a bad reputation for remaking foreign pictures, they came through with flying colors on this one.

Sharon Stone: Facts: Stone was born in Meadville, PA on March 10, 1958. She entered local beauty contests and worked as a model before landing roles in commercials. She made her screen debut at the age of 22 in Woody Allen's "Stardust Memories." Over the next ten years she had parts in a dozen other films but it wasn't until "Basic Instinct", 1992, that Ms. Stone became a household name and a box-office draw. In 1995 she co-executive produced the western, "The Quick And The Dead" which co-starred Leonardo DiCaprio. Other films include "Above The Law", 1988, "Total Recall", 1990, and "Diary Of A Hitman", 1991.

Puerari is tops in electrical business

Joseph Puerari, owner and proprietor of Puerari Electric, operates one of the area's most successful electrical contracting business out of his home, located at 315 Boulevard in Kenilworth.

Keeping his overhead low and customer satisfaction high, he says, are the keys to his success.

An experienced and licensed electrician for the state of New Jersey, Puerari has had his own contracting business for over four years, and services Union, Essex and Middlesex counties.

Prior to owning his own business, Puerari worked for other contractors, where he gained the experience needed to establish a successful business of his own.

His training also includes schooling at the Lyons Institute in Newark and Union County College.

Puerari Electric contracts for all types of commercial, residential and light industrial construction. Most of his clients are so satisfied with his services that they often recommend Puerari Electric to others.

Puerari Electric offers competitive prices for a variety of electrical items, including smoke detectors, track lighting, recessed lighting, and is a fully guaranteed and insured contracting company.

Puerari is serviced by at least half a dozen different electrical supply houses throughout the county, putting parts and supplies within its reach at all times.

For quality workmanship at a price you can afford, call Puerari Electric at 276-3687.

New device assists cardiac diagnosis en route to hospital

The Union Hospital Mobile Intensive Care Unit is equipped with a state-of-the-art device to assist in diagnosing people for heart attacks. The 12-lead electrocardiogram, which is normally administered to patients who show signs of heart attack when they enter the hospital Emergency Department, is now administered by paramedics in the field.

"The more information paramedics have, the more they can do for the patient while they are still in the field," explains EMS Educator Ronald A. Jacobs, BA, MICP, LRT. "They administer the test, call the attending physician in the Emergency Department, and receive orders by radio or phone."

Depending on a patient's condition, a 12-lead EKG can help the emergency physician or cardiologist prepare the proper equipment and personnel at the hospital in advance for the treatment of an incoming patient.

"A paramedic's job is to begin emergency treatment in the field and transport the patient to the Emergency Department as quickly and as safely as possible. The 12-lead EKG is often taken en route to the hospital, or at the scene when the MICU Unit arrives before the ambulance," explained Mr. Jacobs.

With a device as small as a notebook, weighing less than 4 pounds, the test is taken in less than 3 minutes. According to paramedics, the compact device makes it easy to "take the hospital to the house," giving them more flexibility to provide necessary services to the victim.

"The system works, but it is only as good as the patient who calls 9-1-1," reminds Mr. Jacobs. "Patients need to call as soon as they experience symptoms in order for paramedics to begin immediate treatment with the proper drugs to save heart muscle. Remember, time is muscle."

Union Hospital, located at 1000 Galloping Hill Road, is an affiliate of the Saint Barnabas Health Care System.

Nutrition hotline

Questions about nutrition and foods can be answered by the American Institute for Cancer Research's toll-free hotline, (800) 843-8114.

Calls are returned within 48 hours by a registered dietitian who can provide personalized answers to questions related to diet and health, but not medical advice.

Rockin roll to health

Walkers extend a helping heart to benefit various health groups

Walkers are invited to join the Union Hospital Foundation in its eighth annual Helping Hearts Walkathon on Sept. 29.

This year, individuals and teams will strut for The Oncology Benefit Institute, which helps cancer patients purchase necessary medical supplies; SeniorHealth, a free membership program for people age 50 and over that offers educational lectures and activities; the Union Hospital Patient Care Fund; the new Community Resource Center, which will offer health information and free health screenings in the center of town in Union; and the WISE Center, an adult day care center.

Walkers should enlist their own sponsors for a minimum of 50 cents per kilometer for the 6.2 mile trek and/or sponsor themselves. The route starts at Union Hospital, 1000 Galloping Hill Road, Union, travels through Roselle Park and Kenilworth and ends at the hospital.

Refreshments will be served at several rest stops along the route. Walkers receive free T-shirts. Prizes will be given to the walkers who collect the most money in pledges.

All participants are invited back to Union Hospital after the walk for refreshments, compliments of the hospital's Food Services Department. To preregister for the Helping Hearts Walkathon, please call the Union Hospital Foundation at (908) 687-1900, extension 2020. Registration the day of the event begins at 9 a.m. The walkathon begins at 10 a.m. Early registration is encouraged.

The Union Hospital Foundation is a non-profit organization which raises funds to support the programs and services of Union Hospital and other worthy health care endeavors originating in the hospital's service area.

The Union Hospital Foundation, an affiliate of the Saint Barnabas Health Care System, is located at 695 Chestnut Street, Union.

Get to know your local Red Cross Chapter

What is the Red Cross? What do we do? These and many other questions will be answered by volunteers and staff at the Festival in downtown Westfield on Sunday, September 21, 1996 from 12 - 6 p.m.

The Westfield/Mountainside Red Cross booth will be located by Rorden Realty and the Westfield Leader on Elm St. A collage of displays will include videos about the Red Cross programs and services provided. The Chapter's area representative from New Jersey Blood Services, Debbie Kremins will also be on hand to provide information about blood donation in the Westfield and Mountainside area and to answer any questions.

Another highlight at the booth will be GlenGate Apparel, a Mountainside based company, who will be showing their line of shirts and sweaters. Glen Gate is best known for their quality apparel throughout country clubs nationally. Donations for these items will go to benefit the services and programs provided by the Chapter.

There will also be some information regarding the 1997 golf outing. Another feature will be a display of the Chapter's new Disaster Response vehicle — a 1996 Ford Explorer to be used for disaster response and new service starting this winter for housebound residents.

The vehicle was obtained through various grants and will be on display in front of the Chapter house at 321 Elm St. on the day of the Festival for anyone who wishes to see it. This vehicle will also help kick off a new service being provided by the Westfield/Mountainside Red Cross during the winter months to help the elderly and housebound residents. For further information, contact the Chapter at 232-7090.

Physician lauded for efforts to improve life for newborns

Shyan C. Sun M.D., Director of Neonatology at Saint Barnabas Medical Center, Livingston, recently received the Annual Research Physician of the Year Award from the Center for Home Health Development at ceremonies in Princeton.

The Center for Home Health Department, a non-profit education and research association, honored Dr. Sun for his work to improve the survival and quality of life for premature and critically ill newborns.

Dr. Sun, a resident of Mountainside, is a nationally renowned neonatologist credited with developing the first helicopter air transport team devoted to airlifting critically ill newborns and infants to regional perinatal centers. While training over 1,000 medical professionals in life-saving neonatal resuscitation, Dr. Sun led a team of neonatal specialists to create The Statewide Perinatal Service and Research Center. He is also Professor of Clinical Pediatrics at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey — New Jersey Medical School.

Saint Barnabas is a Level III Regional Perinatal Center, the highest designation attainable. The centerpiece of the pediatric component is the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit. The 50-bed NICU, under the direction of Dr. Sun, is staffed by board-certified neonatologists and specialized neonatal intensive care nurses using the latest technologies.

New laser technology combats old problem

Until recently, wrinkles present under the eyes, around the mouth, and other areas of the face were tell-tale signs of aging. Even a facelift could not attack these areas.

A new technology, the Ultrapulse Co2 laser, used for skin resurfacing can now safely and effectively treat wrinkles, scars, acne scarring, and even offer significant improvement to the whole face in the case of damaged, aging or pigmented skin.

In the past, alternatives such as dermabrasion and chemical peel were utilized.

Dermabrasion is like "sanding" the skin, and was effective for very, coarse contour irregularities.

Chemical peel removed the upper layers of the skin through a chemical reaction which would result in a crust formed on the surface. Although chemical peel is effective, it lacks the precise control of the laser.

The laser can even irregularities and resurface the skin by vaporizing layer by layer, which not only eliminates the crusting seen in chemical peels, but also adds safety and control to the procedure. This precision with the laser allows for exacting removal of fine wrinkles, improvement in large pores, and scarring due to acne.

This laser removes layer by layer of the skin surface to allow a fresh new layer to replace it. Wrinkles can be eliminated immediately by shortening the collagen fibers in the dermis of the skin. The result is a smooth, refreshed look.

Doctor On Call

By Dr. Barry DiBernardo

Since the Ultrapulse laser is a "pulsed" laser, it can safely be used on the surface of the skin. A laser is a high intensity light of a single wave length. The energy creates the desired effect in the skin. Heat is generated from this reaction called thermal energy; if there is too much heat, thermal damage or scarring can occur.

The advantage to a true pulsed laser is that due to a very short pulse duration, milliseconds, the intense laser light can never build up enough heat to cause thermal damage. An example of this is to move one's finger through a candle flame. If moving quickly, there is not a long enough "exposure time" to create a burn. This is the principle which allows us to safely use the Ultrapulse laser on the skin. Other lasers which are not true pulsed lasers do not have this safety.

The procedure can be performed with either local anesthesia or a light sedation. Sedation is recommended for larger areas. After laser treatment, the skin is pink. The new layers of skin form over five to seven days, after which time make-up can be used. The underlying pink color fades with time, usually six to 12 weeks.

A pre-laser skin treatment program can enhance results and allow for faster recovery. The importance of preparation of the skin prior to laser cannot be over emphasized. Without such pre-treatment, very long healing times; uneven pigmentation and prolonged redness can result.

This preparation program is used morning and evening for six weeks prior to laser treatment. This is a fitness and conditioning program for the skin. Just as one would not run a marathon without training, the results seen after laser are markedly enhanced with skin conditioning.

The result is a rejuvenation of the skin, elimination of wrinkles, or improvement in scarring of the face never before possible to this extent. Today, with this new technology, dramatic improvement of years of sun damage or the effects of aging can be significantly improved effectively, rapidly and safely.

Questions on this week's topic? Write to Health Editor, Worrall Community Newspapers, 1291 Stuyvesant Ave., Union, NJ 07083.

If your question is selected, you will receive a complimentary consultation.

This week's question: Will all wrinkles and lines of the face disappear with laser? F.B., West Orange.

No, the very deep wrinkles will only improve to a certain degree. If complete removal is desired, it is best to start early. Also, some skin lines come from the muscles of facial expression. These will always be present when, for example, if one is smiling or frowning.

Breast cancer survivor to speak on climbing back to good health

Rahway Hospital will hold a Breast Health Forum and luncheon Saturday, Sept. 28, at the Westwood in Garwood from 9:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. The event is sponsored by Rahway Hospital Foundation which provided funding. There is a $20 fee for the luncheon only. Laura Evans, author of the new book, "The Climb of My Life," and a breast cancer survivor, will be the keynote speaker at the luncheon.

Commenting on the objectives of the forum, the hospital's vice president for Clinical Services, Arlene Tomchik explained, "The risk for a woman developing breast cancer during her lifetime is one in eight. Although the odds are dramatic, fear and misinformation are often barriers to early detection, which can make all the difference when it comes to her survival." According to Tomchik, the program was designed to raise awareness and to help women make the appropriate choices with regard to their health care needs.

Evans has survived stage-three breast cancer for more than five years and in 1995 successfully led an American team of breast cancer survivors on a 23,000 foot climb of Argentina's Mt. Aconcagua. The story of this climb has appeared on Public Television and is the subject of her new book, "The Climb of My Life." She is in wide demand as a motivational speaker and was featured at the annual meeting of the American Cancer Society and at the annual meeting of the computer giant, IBM, held in Puerto Rico in June.

Deborah L. Toppmeyer, MD, assistant professor of Medicine, UMDNJ/Robert Wood Johnson Medical School and co-director of the Breast Tumor Study Group for the Cancer Institute of New Jersey, will begin the morning presentations with her perspective "Genetic and Environmental Risk Factors For Breast Cancer."

Following Dr. Toppmeyer, two specialist members of the Rahway Hospital Medical Staff will offer presentations in easy to understand "layman's" terms. Charles A. Saniewski, MD, an attending in radiology, will discuss "Mammography as a Diagnostic Technology" and Marc S. Mandel, MD, associate attending in surgery, will demonstrate "The Importance of a Yearly Professional Examination and Overview of Surgical Options."

Registered nurses from Rahway Hospital and Rahway Regional Cancer Center will be on hand to demonstrate with breast models, on a one-to-one basis, the techniques every woman should employ in monthly breast self-examinations. Everyone who attends the forum will receive a coupon for complimentary mammography at Rahway Hospital under the guidelines of the American Cancer Society, according to Karen Fairlie, the hospital's Community Outreach coordinator.

To register for the Breast Health Forum or receive further information about this offering and other Community Outreach initiatives, call the Community Outreach Information Line (908) 499-6193.

Local hospital sponsors various classes, groups

The following programs, classes and support groups are available at St. Barnabas Medical Center:

Monday
• HIV/AIDS Support Group for Patients

This support group provides participants with an opportunity to discuss medical, emotional and spiritual issues relative to the disease, with an emphasis on the mind/body connection. Meetings are held on alternating Mondays from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. in Room 308 of the East Wing Building at St. Barnabas. The program is facilitated by clinical specialists in the field. Educational programs on specific interests and other activities are planned by the group. For further information or to register, call (201) 533-5193.

Wednesday
• Support Group for Patients with Primary Cancer

This group provides a supportive environment to share thoughts and concerns, and gain practical information and emotional support for patients currently receiving cancer treatment. Meetings are held the second and fourth Wednesday of each month from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in Suite 106 of the East Wing Building.

• Family and Friends Cancer Support Group

This group is designed to offer family and friends of cancer patients a forum to discuss issues related to caring about someone with cancer. The group meets on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in Suite 302 of the East Wing Building.

• Living with Recurrent or Metastatic Cancer

Open to patients facing cancer which has returned or spread to another part of the body. This group provides a place in which people can explore feelings, obtain emotional support and develop coping skills to deal with the issues of recurrent cancer. Meetings are held on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in the Cancer Center Conference Room located on the second floor of the East Wing Building.

For information on cancer-related support groups, call (201) 533-8414.

• Basic Life Support Courses
The basics of life support and cardiopulmonary resuscitation are taught in this six-hour course for the layperson. The course includes adult one-man CPR and Adult Foreign Body Airway Obstruction Management/ Heimlich Maneuver for choking victims. This course is offered once a month, either in two 3-hour evening sessions or one 6-hour day session. Preregistration is required, and a fee of $45 per student will be charged. Call (201) 533-5023 for further information.

CHIROPRACTIC FOR BETTER HEALTH

DR. DONALD ANTONELLI CHIROPRACTOR

WHEN SPORTS DON'T WORK

A you concerned about keeping your body in good condition? You should be, especially if your job does not include a lot of physical activity.

You may have a favorite sport that helps you fill this need. But if you can't play often enough, or if the sport doesn't give you enough of a workout to maintain good muscle tone, it should be supplemented with exercise. Take golf, for example. In days of yore, golfers used to walk the full 18 holes. Now, many golfers "ride and play," using electric golf carts to carry them to the ball.

There are many simple exercises that can help you maintain good muscle tone. Sit-ups, push-ups, side twists, and neck rotations can be helpful. But don't try to over-achieve. Perform with moderation and gradually build up your stamina. It's also a good idea to have regular checkups to find out if your spine and nervous system are in good condition. If there are any defects, they can usually be corrected with proper treatment.

 A Reader Service From Your Newspaper

Pine China Cabinet
 This attractive, country-pine cabinet is ideal for displaying china and serving linens, and its open buffet area is great for serving.
 It's a good do-it-yourself project, too. Built mainly from standard pine lumber, the cabinet also requires one sheet each of hardboard and paneling, glass panels and hardware. When finished, it measures 70 inches tall by 35 inches wide by 19 inches deep.

Pine China Cabinet plan (No. 667) ... $7.95
 China Cabinet Package (No. C26) includes No. 667 and three other plans ... $12.50
 Catalog (pictures hundreds of projects) ... $3.95

Drivers get best of both worlds with new 1997 Saturn Coupes

Boasting a sporty, redesigned exterior and increased interior space, the 1997 Saturn Coupe just arrived at Saturn of Denville/Morristown/Livingston. The entry-level Saturn Coupe 1 and upscale Saturn Coupe 2 reflect the company's commitment to serving customers' practical demands of comfort and safety, as well as their more indulgent desire for style and performance in a sport coupe.

"A sleek look and more room on the inside don't usually go hand in hand, but the new coupe successfully delivers both," Mike Kane, general manager of Saturn of Morristown, said. "The new 1997 Saturn Coupe has more headroom, more elbow and leg room and features the aerodynamic look and maneuverability our customers want in a sport coupe."

The latest entry into the small, affordable, sporty subcompact market, the 1997 two-door coupe shares the larger wheelbase and underbody structure of Saturn's sedans and wagons, laying the foundation for a roomier and more comfortable ride.

Both personal and vehicle safety were a priority in designing the second generation coupe, as the Saturn Security System has been enhanced to provide greater theft protection, vehicle immobilization and personal security.

urity. The vehicle security system activates when the doors are locked, with an interior indicator lamp that signals to outsiders that the alarm system is activated. When the system is armed, the starter system is interrupted to prevent starting the vehicle. Any ignition or door activity triggers the alarm, which the driver can disarm at the touch of a button.

A new "panic button" serves personal safety while parked on the street or in parking garages. One press will activate the horn and interior light for two minutes and the driver can disarm the warning features with a second press of the button. The security system offers a backup pocket card to disarm the system in the event the remote is lost or broken, and window decals signal to outsiders the car is protected.

Also with safety in mind, all models have fixed exposed headlamps and daylight running lamps, utilizing a reduced intensity high beam.

The new Saturn also boasts a new appearance with all exterior panels, glass and light assemblies redesigned. For the first time, the entry level SC1 and upscale SC2 share common exteriors, glass and head and tail lamps. A new roof features a lip that helps direct water away from doors, and the revised decklid design reduces water runoff into the cargo compartment.

The new Saturn Coupes are on display at Saturn of Denville, 3103 Route 10 East, Denville; Saturn of Morristown, 108 Ridgedale Ave., Morristown; and Saturn of Livingston, Route 10 Circle, Livingston.

For more information, call 538-2800.

The 1997 Saturn Coupe, available in the entry-level SC1 and upscale SC2; combines the roominess of a sedan while providing the excitement and power of a sports car. Saturn's second generation coupe also puts an emphasis on safety features, with daytime running lamps and security systems available.

Autosource aids in auto search

The girth of information that Worrall Community Newspapers provides to its wide base of readers continues to grow week by week.

Continuing the goal of striving to fulfill the public with valuable information and fresh off the heels of Infosource, a free 24-hour public information service, Worrall Community Newspapers will be launching Autosource.

Autosource is a 24-hour auto information service in which callers get free information from the selections by calling 672-4100 and entering a four-digit code for the selection they want to hear — up to five choices per call. Like Infosource, calls will be free within the local calling area. Out of area calls will be billed as a regular call by the telephone company.

Just imagine, there will be no longer a need to scour automobile magazines like Car and Driver, Motor Trend or Road and Track for sporadic car information. Instead, up-to-date details are just a local phone call away.

For example, does the 1997 Cougar XR7 have increased horsepower? What about the grill for the 1997 Pontiac Bonneville? Get the new specs on the totally restyled 1997 Ford Escort and how many trim levels it comes in. That and more could be answered by calling Autosource.

Almost 40 different car manufacturers are represented on Autosource with just about 200 cars to choose from.

Automotive art

The Mercedes Collection, an innovative program which provides auto-related accessories through Mercedes-Benz dealerships, will begin offering the automotive fine art of Dennis Hoyt, whose work has been showcased in such magazines as Road & Track, Automobile Quarterly and the Robb Report. His first work for the Mercedes Collection, called "Power Play 1937," at top, is a limited edition of 300 lithographs featuring the historic Mercedes-Benz Formula One race car of the 1930s. Hoyt also has created a limited run of 100 unique "cast-paper sculptures entitled "Echoes of Excellence," at bottom, showing mirror images of the legendary 300SL "Gullwing" and the 300SLR racer of the 1950s.

Airbags improve safety; children still are at risk

Air bags have proven to be effective in saving lives and reducing injuries for adults in front-end crashes. They may not, however, protect children in the front seat.

For adults, a 1991 National Highway Traffic Safety Administration study showed the driver deaths in frontal crashes were 28 percent lower in air bag-equipped cars which only had lap-shoulder safety belts. The study also said that drivers of cars with air bags were 25 to 29 percent less likely to have moderate to severe injuries and 24 percent less likely to be hospitalized.

Air bags provide a high degree of protection for the head, neck, and chest in front-end crashes and have been so effective that some automotive companies are starting to make side air bags. Volvo has already implemented side air bags in some models of their cars and Ford is in the process of doing the same. Other car manufacturers are expected to follow this trend.

my. Rear-facing child safety seats position an infants head within inches of the dashboard and the exploding air bag can hit the back of the child seat and injure the infants' head.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration is investigating the deaths of six children to see whether the injuries were caused by the force of the air bags. The children suffered head and neck injuries in crashes under 20 mph. It is believed that the children would have survived with minor or no injuries if the air bags had not deployed. The children in these six accidents were not wearing seat belts, allowing them to slide forward upon impact directly into the force of the deploying air bag.

Presently, automakers are trying to find solutions to these problems. The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration has announced that models of their cars and Ford is in the process of doing the same. Other car manufacturers are expected to follow this trend.

Most cars today are equipped with front-end driver-side and passenger-side air bags. Problems occur when children are sitting in the passenger seat, whether they are in a child safety seat or not. Unfortunately, many parents who are driving with only their child, especially an infant, sit close to them in the front seat.

Most cars today are equipped with front-end driver-side and passenger-side air bags. Problems occur when children are sitting in the passenger seat, whether they are in a child safety seat or not. Unfortunately, many parents who are driving with only their child and no other adult, prefer to have their child, especially an infant, sit close to them in the front seat.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and the National Transportation Safety Board both say that infants in rear-facing safety seats may be injured if struck by a deploying passenger air bag. The bags deploy at an average speed of 130 mph to nearly 200 mph. Air bags can exert 1,100 to 2,600 pounds of pressure on the chest of a crash test dumautomakers will be allowed to install cutoff switches for passenger-side air bags to prevent injury to small children in car seats. These switches will only be permitted in cars that have no rear seat or a rear seat that is too small for a child safety seat. Other solutions are still being investigated.

Officials feel that the easiest way to solve the problem is for parents to place their children in the rear seat at all times. For children sitting in forward-facing safety seats who are placed in the front, the seat should be slid back as far as possible. Older children who do not need safety seats should also have the seat pushed back as far as possible and always wear shoulder and lap belts.

Air bags are to be used in conjunction with seat belts, no alone, in the case of children and adults. Seat belts keep passengers in a position where an air bag can protect them against injury.

Geo offers value, performance

Sport utility vehicle buyers will want to get to know a Chevrolet/Geo Tracker that has two more doors, a handsome new interior, more new safety and performance features — and the familiar affordability that's a hallmark of the Geo line.

The new Tracker four-door LSi Hardtop has a 97.6 inch wheelbase, 11 inches longer wheelbase than the two-door version. That extra length translates into more interior space — three inches more rear hip room and up to 12.1 more cubic feet of cargo capacity.

The entire Tracker 1996 line has a rugged look with new fascia, grille and hood design. A new instrument panel incorporates standard dual air bags and ergonomically designed instrument panel controls. A new convenience package available on four-door LSi models adds the luxury and convenience of power windows, door locks and mirrors. There is a new aluminum wheel as well. Electronic speed control is also available. Stereo speakers mounted on top of the instrument panel enhance the performance of the available audio systems.

New Tracker safety features include standard daytime running lamps, child security rear door locks on the four-door models, available four-wheel ABS and standard dual air bags. The 1996 Tracker also boasts an evolutionary, second-generation On Board Diagnostic System, OBD II. Like its predecessor, OBD II signals emissions system malfunction — but for 1996 — new levels of sophistication have been added which also detect system deterioration.

A 1.6 Liter, 16-valve engine is standard on all Tracker models for 1996. A new optional four-speed overdrive automatic transmission with power/economy settings is available on four-door models.

Tracker isn't a spartan sport utility. A standard center console adds the convenience of dual cup holders and storage space for personal items. Reclining front bucket seats are standard on all models.

A rear folding bench seat is standard on all models, except two-door base, two-wheel-drive models, where it is optional. Cloth seats are standard in base models, uplevel cloth available in uplevel models. Scotchgard fabric protector and intermittent wipers are standard on all models.

Tracker 4x4s are built to take on rough terrain. A full-length frame features ladder-type cross members to resist twisting during off-road driving. A generous 7.9 inches of ground clearance and 64.4 inch overall width are comparable to many larger sport utility vehicles. Optional automatic locking hubs available on all models, make four-wheeling easy.

The 1996 Tracker lineup includes four models: two-wheel-drive and four-wheel-drive two-door convertibles, and two-wheel-drive and four-wheel-drive four-door hardtops. Uplevel LSi trim is available on both Convertible and Hardtop versions. Four-door Tracker can be equipped to tow up to 1,500 pounds — plenty of capacity for a camping vacation.

The two-Door Geo Tracker offers the enjoyment of top-down motoring and the adventure of four-wheeling in an appealing, easy-to-drive package. All across America, people are discovering the fun and affordability of the Geo Tracker.

1996 TRACKER PRICES
TWO-DOOR: 2WD Convertible — $13,285.00; 2WD LSi Convertible — $14,185.00; 4X4 Convertible — $14,765.00; 4X4 LSi Convertible — $15,195.00.

Chevy 'family' offers variety, choice

The Chevrolet Venture is a minivan that gives customers unique features while retaining the minivan qualities they love.

Chevrolet Venture offers exclusive features in several key areas — seating, space/storage, power and "creature comforts" — all housed in a minivan that customers in research clinics describe as "classy" and "upscale."

Chevrolet Venture features include:

- Dual mode sound system. Front seat passengers can listen to the radio while rear seat riders listen to tapes or CDs or vice versa.

- More standard horsepower. Venture has more standard horsepower, 180 HP, than any other minivan. A powerful 3400 V6 engine with sequential fuel injection is teamed with an electronically-controlled four-speed automatic transmission.

- Pollen/dust filter. The driver and passengers can enjoy breathing cleaner air due to this standard feature.

- Power sliding passenger-side door. Providing a larger opening than the Chrysler minivans, this optional passenger-side door can be operated from a keyless remote, the overhead console or the "B" pillar located behind the front passenger seat.

- More storage areas. Venture has 26 storage areas — including a netted storage area between the front seats — more than any other minivan.

- Convenient seats. The seatbacks fold forward and the entire seat folds and slides forward, easily adapting to several people — cargo arrangements.

"Many of Venture's exclusive features make for happier families," said John G. Middlebrook, who succeeded the retiring Jim Perkins as Chevrolet general manager, May 1. "The dual-mode sound system is my favorite. The adults can listen to Bob Seger, while the kids are in the back listening to Hootie and the Blowfish."

Music can be enjoyed in one of three seating configurations — bucket, bench and splitbench — all of which seat seven persons — and all of which are lightweight and create "space on demand." Venture's driver's seat can be lowered or raised with a manual seat adjuster — the only one in the industry. Seatbacks can be folded down and used as tables. Single or dual child safety seats are optional. Convenience also is enhanced by ordering Venture's optional fourth door, a left side sliding door with a protective child lockout feature.

Loading cargo is easy. To stow as many as 14 grocery bags, removing seats is unnecessary — just slide the third seats forward. Remove seats for even more cargo space is easy too because they're the lightest in the industry. Venture can accommodate 4-by-8 foot sheets of plywood with the seats folded flat, with the seats out in between the wheel wells, and with the liftgate closed.

And travel is always easier if you have a place for your stuff. The Chevrolet Venture has 26 storage areas, more than any other minivan: built-in storage pockets in all doors — even the sliding doors, a convenience net between the front seats and cargo nets along the side rear trim panels. The driver's seat even folds forward so packages can be stowed behind it and coat hooks can be used easily.

Available in regular and extended lengths, Venture features a comprehensive standard safety package that includes dual air bags, a four-wheel anti-lock brake system, a rigid steel safety cage surrounding the entire passenger compartment and automatic Daytime Running Lamps. Traction control is optional.

Attention to detail is evident throughout Venture. A Sungate windshield keeps Venture's interior 20 degrees cooler on a hot, sunny day compared to uncoated glass, and functions in the antenna. Venture's optional load-leveling suspension has an air pump that can also be used to inflate tires, balls and other toys.

Like Goldilocks searching for the perfect bowl of porridge, it's hard to find one van that's "just right" for everybody. Understanding this, Chevrolet has its "Family of Vans" — a vehicle lineup that offers variety to the growing and diverse van market.

"As vans go, one size does not fit all," Middlebrook said. "Customers need choices, and Chevrolet provides more choices than any automaker to satisfy van buyers — whatever their needs."

Chevrolet's van family is comprised of the full-size Chevy Van and Chevy Express, the midsize Astro and the Chevrolet Venture — Chevy's new entry into the minivan market. This combination of vans offers customers options in size, power, economy and utility.

"We want Chevrolet vans to be as successful as Chevrolet sport utility vehicles," said Middlebrook. "Our family of SUVs covers the market like none other. From Tracker and Blazer up through Tahoe and Suburban, we offer more and can satisfy needs better than any of our competitors."

AUTUMN CAR CARE

Periodic inspection of suspension is worth the effort

Worn-out or damaged shock absorbers, struts and springs do more than make you seasick. They can undermine your car's handling ability, causing tires and other components to wear prematurely. To prevent this, drivers should inspect their vehicle's suspension at least twice a year.

"You should look under your car to check the springs, struts, shock absorbers, and various links and rubber mounts that comprise the suspension," says Terry Heffelfinger, manager of product planning at Monroe Auto Equipment, which provides shocks and struts to most major automotive replacement outlets in the United States. "It's definitely worth it, because a worn suspension can lead to a number of other problems that can be unsafe and very expensive."

According to Heffelfinger, a worn-out or damaged suspension can result in:

With the car on the ground, push down each corner of the vehicle in turn and let the spring and shock absorber bounce it back up. If the corner of the car bounces more than twice, that shock absorber is due to be replaced.

- loss of control during sudden stops or changes of direction;
- excessive swerving when passing another vehicle;
- hopping sideways on rough, bumpy or potholed pavement;
- poor braking; and
- accelerated tire wear.

Because of the many ride-control products available from Monroe that are vehicle specific, consumers have a choice when replacing shocks and struts.

For example, Monroe's Sensa-Trac product line meets the needs of most drivers, because the product provides both comfort and control, thanks to advanced technology. Sensa-Trac products adjust their performance to handle varying driving conditions. "The average life for shock absorbers has increased in recent years, but a lot depends on what kind of driving you do," says Heffelfinger.

"If you do nothing but freeway driving, your shock absorbers may last longer, but if you spend a lot of time driving back roads with hard turns and rough surfaces, it may be shorter. Our Sensa-Trac product is not only a great replacement choice, it represents an upgrade as well."

Heffelfinger emphasizes the importance of continually checking a vehicle's suspension, because shock-absorber or strut damage may have occurred without the driver suspecting it.

Winter shouldn't 'finish' your car

Whose car looks the best in the spring and summer? The owners of the nicest looking cars are most likely those who maintained the appearance all through the winter, according to STP automotive experts.

While most owners neglect their cars during the fall and winter months as a response to the onslaught of rain, fallen leaves, tree sap, salt and dirt, more and more drivers are realizing the long-term benefits of off-season car cleaning.

A year-round maintenance program extends the life of a car's finish and will make it that much easier to get a rich, high luster on the finish come the nice weather of spring and summer.

Salt, cinders, moisture and ice pose the greatest threat to car finishes during the winter months. If not properly protected, these elements could cause irreparable damage to a car's outer coating.

To help prepare a car's finish for winter's worst, the experts at STP have provided the following tips:

Thoroughly wash the car's finish to remove all dust, dirt and debris that has accumulated. This should be done in a shady area to avoid spotting.

The first step in washing the finish is to completely hose down the car. Then, fill a bucket with water, and add a small amount of a specially formulated car-washing product like SIMONIZ® Car Wash Concentrate. It will help to loosen dirt and other debris from all car finishes, even clear coats.

While most owners neglect their cars during the fall and winter months as a response to the onslaught of rain, fallen leaves, tree sap, salt and dirt, more and more drivers are realizing the long-term benefits of off-season car cleaning.

With a soft sponge, wash the car from the top down. For best results, never wash more than a 3-square-foot area. During winter's snowy season, make sure you rinse the sponge frequently to avoid scratching the finish with dirt or grit that accumulates more quickly on vehicles after snow and ice storms. After washing, rinse all soap and grit away, and dry the finish with a terry-cloth towel or dry chamois.

Don't forget your car's tires. Winter weather can be particularly tough on them. Restoring the shine and luster to car tires is now easy year-round — without wiping and mess. Spray STP® Son of a Gun! ONE STEP Tire Care on the tires to clean, shine and protect them.

Its triple-action foam formula dissolves dirt and grime and restores the original look, while helping to protect against cracking and discoloration. In less than five minutes, the tires are left clean with a rich, satin finish without rubbing or wiping. It is a fast and easy way to clean tires. Just spray it on, and walk away.

No need to spend time on your knees scrubbing away the dirt, salt and sand that are a part of winter driving. STP Son of a Gun! Tire Treatment and SIMONIZ Car Wash Concentrate can restore a car's luster in a matter of minutes. STP and SIMONIZ can help car owners and their cars win the battle against the elements.

Service, satisfaction at Summit Auto Body

The process of vehicle repair can be a very complex one but the concept of customer service should be simple: respect the customer and provide satisfaction.

Summit Truck and Auto Body has a simple goal — to listen to, respect and satisfy the customer. This service principle has existed for more than 25 years and has provided the people and businesses of the area with quality automotive and truck repairs not found elsewhere.

Summit Auto Body, 24-50 Franklin Place, Summit, also works with local rental agencies to aid customers with transportation needs while their vehicle is being repaired.

The majority of repairs performed involve insurance companies and many times require expertise and an understanding of the claims process. To provide assistance with the handling of your claim is shop manager Walt Irvine. With 12 years of insurance experience, Irvine can provide help with the sometimes confusing process of your claim settlement.

Likewise, the technicians at Summit Auto Body are trained and certified to repair every make and type of vehicle on the road today. The shop utilizes three unibody and frame straightening machines for accurate structural repairs and a climate controlled down-draft paint booth to ensure proper color matching and paint texture. All automotive and truck glass replacement is done on premises. Estimates are provided free and Summit Auto Body is a direct repair facility for a number of national insurance companies.

In the event you need an estimate, a vehicle repaired or simply some advice about your car, consider Summit Auto Body first. What you can expect is simple: Service and satisfaction.

Some things to look for in 1996

By J.R. PARACHINI

THERE are a number of twists pertaining to our 11 area teams as the 1996 high school football season commences this weekend.

Three area squads open tomorrow night as Union hosts Linden and Elizabeth welcomes Newark East Side in Watchung Conference action. Our other eight area schools will open next weekend.

Here's a look at some of the changes — on the local front — for the 1996 season:

- Watchung Conference schools will be exchanging hits with Hudson County Interscholastic Athletic Association teams this year and next with home-and-home series.
- Several area teams moved to different conference divisions or conferences. Among the schools moving were Dayton Regional and Summit.

• We all lost a great football coach and more importantly a better person when long-time Union mentor Lou Rettino succumbed to cancer March 22, passing away at the age of 54.

This year's Football Preview is dedicated to the memory of Lou Rettino, who was one of the most respected and hard working high school educators the state of New Jersey has ever known. He will ALWAYS be missed and his presence will ALWAYS be felt at Cooke Memorial Field — the home of Union Farmers football.

• John Johnston takes over the reigns at Union, previously a successful coach at Harrisburg and Reading high schools in eastern Pennsylvania. Johnston, 47, is a Duke graduate with additional college coaching experience, including a three-year stint at Penn State.

There are some exciting matchups involving Watchung vs. Hudson teams this year including Union at North Bergen, followed by Elizabeth at St. Peter's Prep — all four perennial playoff-bound schools.

The other pairings include: Westfield vs. Dickinson, Linden vs. Ferris, Irvington vs. Memorial, West New York; Kearny vs. Lincoln, Plainfield vs. Bayonne, Shabazz vs.

Marist, Scotch Plains vs. Emerson, Rahway vs. Snyder, Cranford vs. Hudson Catholic and Newark East Side vs. Union Hill.

Summit was scheduled to play Hoboken before moving out of the Watchung Conference-National Division and into the Iron Hills Conference-Hills Division. Out-of-area Watchung Conference school Westfield moved to the smaller National Division, replacing Summit.

Dayton Regional moved from the Mountain to the smaller Valley Division of the Mountain Valley Conference, trading places with North Plainfield.

The Watchung Conference is considered one of the toughest Group 4-3 conferences in the state and now members will have additional non-conference games against very demanding North Jersey foes.

"It's a great chance to get another Group 4 team on our schedule," Elizabeth head coach Jerry Moore said. "We know this make's our

No. 1 Johnson was unbeatable

Here's a look at how our 11 area teams were ranked at the conclusion of the 1995 campaign.

Johnson Regional, which captured its first-ever sectional playoff championship and posted its first-ever 11-0 season, outscored opponents by a whopping 424-24 margin, allowing only four touchdowns. The Crusaders posted seven shutouts (three consecutive twice) and the starting defense allowed only one touchdown all season long.

Union outscored opponents by a 252-69 margin despite not making the state playoffs for the first time in the 1990s.

Playoff teams included Johnson and Summit in North Jersey, Section 2, Group 2 and Elizabeth in North Jersey, Section 2, Group

4. Johnson won on the road against Caldwell 14-0 and Summit 21-6 to win the section and Summit bested visiting West Essex 7-0 to reach the final. Elizabeth fell to visiting Montclair 27-26 in the semifinals.

1995 ELITE ELEVEN

- 1 — Johnson Regional (11-0)
- 2 — Elizabeth (8-2)
- 3 — Linden (6-3)
- 4 — Union (7-2)
- 5 — Summit (8-3)
- 6 — Roselle Park (6-3)
- 7 — Rahway (5-4)
- 8 — Gov. Livingston (5-4)
- 9 — Hillside (4-5)
- 10 — Roselle (4-5)
- 11 — Dayton Regional (1-8)

scheduled tougher and are looking forward to the challenge."

Two of the top running backs in the state highlight a steady local senior class.

The two swift ground-gainers are Corey Ferguson (5-11, 200) of Union and Darrell Glover (6-0, 185) of Elizabeth.

Ferguson rushed for 1,165 yards on 175 carries (6.7 average) last year and scored 16 touchdowns. Also a capable receiver with excellent hands, Ferguson had an even better sophomore campaign, gaining 1,383 yards on 192 carries (7.2), with 20 touchdowns.

Ferguson might be even more valuable at inside linebacker. Union's leading tackler the past two seasons with 69 and 101 hits respectively, he also recovered numerous key fumbles.

After rushing for over 900 yards as a sophomore, Glover gained 1,026 on 108 carries (9.5) and scored 11 touchdowns in 1995. He also caught nine passes for 92 yards.

New Jersey analyst Dennis McCarthy, who runs the North Arlington-based McCarthy Report, had Ferguson and Glover rated high two years ago before both entered their sophomore campaigns.

McCarthy is also high on these area seniors: Union: Leonard Nii-Moi, Billy Tul-lock, Mike Passero and Nick Ferroni; Elizabeth: Hakiem Stewart, Jairo Labrador, Anthony Martini; Linden: Steve Johnson; Rahway: Louis Campbell, Ray Giacobbe; Johnson Regional: Guenter Kryszon; Roselle: Rafael Rodriguez; Hillside: Revon Myles, Damien Robertson.

Last year was considered one of the best — if not the best — senior classes in New Jersey.

"This year line positions are the strongest," McCarthy said. "Last year was a special year because we had so many top-notch players at so many different positions."

There are always several important dates during the season and this 1996 campaign starts later than usual, mainly because Thanksgiving is later this year — Thursday, Nov. 28.

A handful of teams open this weekend and the rest next weekend.

The biggest Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) Saturday, one in which most games are pushed forward to 2 p.m., is Nov. 2.

The playoff cutoff date is the weekend of Friday, Nov. 15 and Saturday, Nov. 16.

The NJSIAA sectional semifinals are scheduled for the following weekend, Nov. 22-25. The finals are scheduled for Dec. 5-7.

Union High School Farmers -

Johnston era ready to take off

By J.R. PARACHINI

UNION — For the first time in 20 years Union will be under the direction of a new head coach.

Previously a highly successful mentor in the Pennsylvania ranks, John Johnston inherits a Farmer squad that has some quality seniors returning among a mix of experienced and inexperienced varsity athletes.

Former head coach Lou Rettino, one of the most successful and respected high school educators in the country, died March 22 after battling stomach cancer for nearly four years.

"Lou and I coached together for one year at Elizabeth (1975) and I'm both honored and proud to be following him here," Johnston said. "I think it's a tremendous challenge to follow all that he achieved here and I know what kind of love Lou had for the game."

Johnston is fully aware of the fact that he is now in charge of a program that has an unparalleled history of championship football. He was the head coach at Harrisburg and Reading high schools in Pennsylvania — both Class 4A schools and similar in size to Group 4 Union — and has coached on the college level as well, including Penn State.

"I'm not intimidated in any way and am very confident in my ability to continue the success Union has had here in football," Johnston said.

Johnston's first squad should be a little more hungry this year based on the fact that Union failed to make the playoffs in North Jersey, Section 2, Group 4 last year for only the fourth time since 1977.

Although Union finished 7-2, the Farmers lost at Linden 12-7 on the playoff cutoff weekend. It was Union's first loss to Linden in nine years and the Farmers' first road loss in seven years.

Union opens its season at home tomorrow night against Linden at 7. The Farmers should also be very motivated for their Game Two opponent, that being North Bergen. This is the first year that Watchung Conference schools get a chance to mix it up with Hudson County teams.

"We're still going through the transition, but now the kids have to start executing and that's what we're striving for," Johnston said.

Johnston, who will serve as the team's offensive coordinator, will have senior Nick

Corey Ferguson, No. 35 on the ground, scored the first of his 16 touchdowns last year in Union's season opening victory against visiting Elizabeth. Union opens the 1996 campaign at home tomorrow night vs. Linden, a team it hasn't beaten the past two years.

Ferroni (6-2, 203) running his Multiple Pro offense, one that will include running out of the I-Formation somewhat. This will be Ferroni's first season as the starting quarterback and Union will be getting away from being a true Wing T.

"We want to be able to spread some people out and that includes a precise passing game," Johnston said.

Union will have one of the most talented backfields in the area with seniors Corey Ferguson (5-11, 200) and Leonard Nii-Moi (6-0, 185).

Ferguson, Union's fullback, rushed for 1,165 yards last year after gaining 1,383 as a sophomore. He has scored 36 touchdowns in two varsity seasons.

Nii-Moi rushed for nearly 800 yards last year and, like Ferguson, is a capable receiver out of the backfield.

Sophomore Nygiem Calhoun (6-0, 220) will be the tight end and the receivers include senior flanker Shaun Johnson (5-8, 160) and junior split end Brian Yawnick (5-8, 150).

Union's all-senior offensive line includes Ron Zieser (6-0, 236) at center, Mike Luzzi (6-2, 180) at right guard, Mike Passero (5-11, 190) at left guard, Billy Tullock (6-4, 220) at left tackle and Garrett Nann (5-11, 205) at right tackle. Passero and Tullock are returning starters.

Union's defense will be sparked by the play of Ferguson at inside linebacker. He registered 101 hits last year, adding to his 69 as a sophomore, leading Union in tackles the past two seasons.

Johnston said that his defensive alignment, which will have a 4-4 look, will be determined following Union's scrimmages.

Union scrimmaged at St. Joseph of Montvale and then faced Phillipsburg before its game-scrimmage, which was scheduled to take place at home last Friday against St. Peter's Prep.

"The kids have to be focused and be a hungry football team," Johnston said. "After our first two scrimmages there were some bright spots, but still a lot of question marks. We still have an awful lot of work to do."

Union opens the season at home against Linden tomorrow night at 7 at Cooke Memorial Field.

Summit High School Hilltoppers

Best players will be on field

By KEITH AGRAN

SUMMIT — Four straight appearances in the North Jersey Section 2, Group 2 title game, winning the championship twice, breeds a certain feeling around camp.

For head coach Ray McCrann and his Hilltoppers, the return of only five players who saw significant game action a year ago is not a concern. Good programs just keep the players coming.

"We don't have a lot of seniors," McCrann said of his five-man class. "But if you've done a good job with your program, you should have the people to step in. We think we have a very good program here."

That type of approach, combined with a firm belief that the best 11 players, regardless of age or experience, will be on the field, gives McCrann a level of comfort few can enjoy. Just a few days into practice, McCrann didn't seem the least bit concerned about replacing his entire backfield or about any other area for that matter.

"You're going to have to show us consistently that you're the best," McCrann said. "Yes, we are approaching this thing with a lot of young names, but we're not looking at it as a rebuilding season."

The I-Formation, Multiple-Set offense will get its third new look in the last three years, what with junior Scott Schroeder taking over the helm at quarterback. Two years ago, the Hilltoppers rode a dominant tailback in Torrie Fogg and last year the arm of a top dropback quarterback in Steve Schroeder. With the younger Schroeder running the show, McCrann thinks the 5-10, 160-pounder can give them an option look.

"Scott can really run the option," McCrann said. "He has different qualities than his brother. That's our offense, though. We're very flexible and diverse. Depending on the strengths of our players, we can go to those strengths."

Behind Schroeder at tailback will be another new starter in junior John Brown (5-11, 180), although Brown did make major contributions on special teams a year ago as a kick returner. Sophomore Dominic Fornaro (5-9, 160) has stepped forth during camp and is also expected to get carries. Junior Jason Flores (5-10, 175) and sophomore Daryl Anderson (6-0, 230) are waging a spirited battle for the fullback spot.

Senior tri-captain Peter Torres (5-10, 170), called by McCrann "one of the team's better athletes," will man the slotback position, one which is handled with versatility in mind and should be aptly manned by the returning Torres. Junior Joe Mormack (5-9, 160) is also very much in the receiver picture, and can float between slotback and split end. Junior Jeff Stewart (5-11, 175) has also been working at split end and should see considerable action. Senior tri-captain Corey Ballantyne (6-1, 200), last year's backup QB, has been shifted to tight end and has made the transition smoothly.

McCrann was unable to confirm any offensive line starters just yet, but does expect to see returnees such as the Weathers' brothers, senior tri-captain Martin (5-10, 200) and junior Jeff (6-1, 180) and junior Ismael Lamboy (5-10, 230) among his top blockers. Sophomore Andrew Busath (5-11, 240) and junior Steve McDermott (5-9, 200) have the edge for the remaining spots.

The eight-man front on defense will feature a bundle of two-way players, reaffirming McCrann's belief that the best will play. Martin Weathers and Lamboy will be inside on the defensive line, flanked by Anderson and senior Greg McDermott (5-11, 165) on the ends.

Ballantyne returns to his post at inside linebacker, where he'll be joined by Flores. Jeff Weathers and Schroeder will be the outside backers. Brown is the free safety and Mormack and Stewart will play the corners.

A move to the Iron Hills Conference-Hills Division, the smaller of the two divisions, should be an interesting one for the Hilltoppers. Their schedule includes only teams in their division and is made up mostly of Group 2 schools from Morris County.

Summit has a good recent history against IHC-Hills Division schools, having defeated Mendham in the North Jersey, Section 2, Group 2 championship game in 1993 and 1994 and having defeated Hanover Park during the regular season the past two years. Both Hanover Park and Mendham are on Summit's schedule this year.

"Because everybody we play is in our division, we're going to have to be on top of our game week in and week out," McCrann said. "But we know the kind of football they play in that league."

At Passaic: Head coach (1981-1993), assistant (1975-1980)

At Summit: 18-4 (.818) — 2 seasons (1994, 1995)

Opponents not so new

Summit is now the only Union County school in the Iron Hills Conference, one of 10 teams in the smaller schools Hills Division.

The Hilltoppers play division foes Dover, Mendham, West Essex and Hanover Park, teams they faced the past four seasons while a member of the Watchung Conference-National Division.

Summit lost to Dover in the North Jersey, Section 2, Group 2 final in 1992 and defeated Mendham in the title game in 1993 and 1994. The Hilltoppers defeated West Essex in the sectional semifinals last year and bested Hanover Park the past two years in non-conference regular-season action.

Summit head coach Ray McCrann calls senior tri-captain Peter Torres, shown here jarring the ball loose from a ball-carrier after delivering a jarring hit last year, "one of the team's better athletes." Torres will man the slotback position, one which is handled with versatility and should be aptly manned by Torres, a returning starter.

Mountainside lends helping hand

By J.R. PARACHINI

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — A much improved Governor Livingston squad, one that finished with a winning record of 5-4 last year that included three shutouts, is strengthened this year by a budding sophomore class featuring a number of Mountainside residents.

One senior and four juniors from Mountainside also dot the varsity roster, providing added depth for head coach Joe Hubert.

"We're starting to see some good numbers from Mountainside," said Hubert, in his 11th season at the helm. "The sophomores are part of a very strong class."

The lone Mountainside senior on this year's squad is split end/defensive end Brian Cantagallo (5-9, 160).

"Brian will be in our rotation at split end," Hubert said.

Juniors include center/defensive end Chet King (6-3, 200), offensive guard/defensive tackle Brett Oberhauser (5-11, 210), offensive guard/defensive tackle Joe Leone (5-11, 195) and halfback/corner back Jim Debbie (5-8, 170).

"Chet was our starting center last year and Brett has been coming on strong in practice," Hubert said. "Leone is our utility guy on defense and can play anywhere on the line. He can really make things happen."

"Debbie is our third offensive back and will see time on offense."

The sophomore class includes Phil Sta-tile, Derrick Whitenour, Parth Savla, Bill Stoltz, Jon Kulsar, Mike Debbie and Alex Polce.

Mountainside residents, on the freshmen team include Mark and Eric Cantagallo, Hank Hansen, Ed Barrett and Mike Watson.

Dave Pidgorak of Springfield (5-6, 150) is included in the sophomore class and plays halfback and outside linebacker.

GL improved from a 3-5-1 showing in 1994 and posted shutouts last year against Manville, Bound Brook and Hillside. The Highlanders concluded the season by blanking Bound Brook 25-0 at home and then by shutting out Hillside on the road 21-0 on Thanksgiving.

Dayton Regional High School Bulldogs

Second step about to be taken

By J.R. PARACHINI

SPRINGFIELD — The first step was taken last year for Dayton Regional. With only four seniors on the squad, first-year head coach Ed Ryscavage knew his team would be lacking in veteran leadership and varsity experience.

What he and his staff needed to do was mold very green junior and sophomore classes, prepare them both physically and mentally for what they were about to experience on the varsity level.

The Bulldogs took their lumps in 1995, winning just once, but now are ready to dish out some of what they received a year ago.

"We were knocked off the ball because we were weak," Ryscavage said. "Hopefully, this year we'll knock someone off the ball and cut down on mistakes made because of inexperience."

Dayton has a nice balance of nine seniors, 15 juniors and eight sophomores on its varsity roster this year.

"So far our preseason has been pretty good," Ryscavage said. "It took the kids time last year to get used to our offense, but this year we're moving right along. That's allowed me to put in more things to do on both sides of the ball."

In charge of running Ryscavage's Combination I-Back, 2-Back and Wishbone offense again is junior quarterback Mark Armento (6-1, 190), last year's starting signal-caller.

"He went to quite a few camps this summer and has looked good so far on both sides of the ball," said Ryscavage, who also uses Armento at safety.

Providing the necessary blocking for Armento whether he throws the ball or hands off will be sophomore center Mike Harms (5-11, 240), guards Jon Zika (6-2, 195 junior) and Jerry Somma (5-11, 230 senior) and tackles Mark Pinhasovich (6-0, 250 senior) and Barry Kaverick (6-0, 195 junior). Junior Joe Rizzo (5-10, 235) is out with an injury and is expected back for Dayton's second game.

Running the ball for the Bulldogs will be senior Ian Telfer (5-11, 195) and juniors Kevin Burns (5-11, 195) and Paul Testa (6-0, 175). Burns missed the beginning of last year and is one of the more talented runners in Union County.

Capable receiving targets for Armento include first-year varsity player Eric Henriks (6-4, 195 senior) at split end and juniors Anthony Chango (6-3, 185) and Burns at tight end.

"We've gained quite a bit of experience from last year and expect a big improvement," Ryscavage said.

Dayton's Even-Front defensive scheme will place junior Kevin Hogan (6-2, 190) and Kaverick at ends and junior Joe Capriglione (5-10, 210), Somma and senior Josh Goldfarb (5-11, 225) at tackle.

Junior Mark Dempsey (5-10, 195) and Telfer are the inside linebackers with Burns and junior Chris Loeffler (6-4, 205) at outside.

Armento, senior Mike Chonko (5-8, 165), junior Jimmy Sweigart (6-0, 185), junior Eric Fishman (5-11, 185) and Testa make up the secondary.

Linden High School Tigers

Time for newcomers to contribute

By KEITH AGRAN

LINDEN — His returning quarterback and tailback won't be with the team this fall, yet Linden Tigers coach Bucky McDonald still has some options he can smile about.

Anthony Thomas and Robert Archie, both no longer in school at LHS, will not be available to help Linden creep closer to a playoff berth, one they missed narrowly a year ago after posting a 6-2 mark by the cutoff date.

A small roster numbers wise has not meant that quality has been diminished. McDonald still likes what he sees from many of his returnees and some impressive new faces, many of whom are being forced to try positions they have not played before.

"I'm just trying to get as many of my top kids on the field as possible and put my best 11 out there," McDonald said.

Three players are battling hard for the opening day quarterback nod, and much like the preseason situation last year, all give the team athletics and an option dimension out of their Wing-T look.

Senior Mike Tumaliuan (5-7, 155) and junior Keith Blazowsky (5-9, 175) both lack the size of Thomas and saw little to no action a year ago and are joined by sophomore Chris Rayford (6-0, 165) in a three-way battle that appears likely to go down to the last day.

The running backs, what with Archie gone, will all be new as well, ensuring that the Tigers will boast a completely new set of faces behind the offensive front. Senior Josh Brown (5-9, 165) did carry the ball some last year and is engaged in a battle with fellow senior and fellow returning letterman Allen

Hay (6-1, 170), who is making his first foray into the backfield. Sophomore Rashiem Starling (5-11, 175) is right in the mix as well for one of the two running back spots.

McDonald will choose between three players who have looked solid so far to fill the fullback void: Sophomore Charles Leverette (5-10, 225), a Shabazz transfer, has thrown his hat into a ring that includes senior Elihue Williams (6-1, 205) and junior Patrick Zygaldó (5-11, 205), with the hard-running Leverette really stepping up early in camp.

"We pretty much lost all of our backs (from a year ago)," McDonald said. "Right now we're flip-flopping kids around to get a combo that fits."

Some experience on the offensive line can be found in three seniors — Steve Fulop (6-1, 180) at center, Simon Ziobro (5-10, 220) at guard and Steve Johnson (6-2, 245) at tackle. Junior Justin Williams (6-1, 220) appears to have the lead for the other tackle spot and sophomores Ernest Strothers (5-10, 230) and Michael Lordi (5-10, 180) are in competition for the remaining guard spot.

McDonald likes what he sees at tight end, as junior Desean Brown (6-2, 215), a Piscataway transfer, enters the program with experience from the strong Chief program. Senior Gean St. Fleur (6-1, 190) has also impressed McDonald.

Juniors Antoine Chapman (5-8, 175) and Waylek Stradford (5-10, 165) are the candidates at wide receiver, with Chapman leading the pack.

Along the defensive line, McDonald has been pleased with Johnson and Leverette inside and Hay and Desean Brown on the ends. Hay is moving from outside linebacker and Brown brings quality defensive experience. St. Fleur is also expected to see time at end. Zygaldó and Ziobro are competing for the inside linebacker spot, while Williams and Starling appear to have secured the outside backer spots. Senior Rich Mazard (5-7, 160) and sophomore Travelle Jackson (6-0, 175) will add depth.

Josh Brown is the lone returnee to a secondary which will need to adjust quickly, as Tumaliuan and Rayford step in along with sophomore Edwin Charlton (5-7, 165).

"There are still a lot of question marks," McDonald said. "We've done some good things on defense. The scrimmages have showed us what we need to work on."

Linden opens the season tomorrow night at Union at 7.

The Tigers are 1-0-1 against Union the last two years.

Linden tied Union 7-7 in Union in 1994 and last year defeated Union for the first time since 1986 when it held on to win a 12-7 contest in Linden.

That defeat was Union's first road loss in seven years.

Roselle High School Rams

Football can be fun this year

Eric Neely, a junior who played some varsity last year, gives Roselle what head coach Lou Grasso calls, "tremendous speed" at the tailback position.

By KEITH AGRAN

ROSELLE — The catch phrase around the Roselle Rams fall camp appears to be "football can be fun," this judging from the positive vibes head coach Lou Grasso exudes about his group of kids this year.

"It's been an enjoyable season so far," Grasso said of the first two weeks. "This is a nice bunch of athletes and a nice bunch of kids."

How much of that enthusiasm transfers to the field will depend, according to Grasso, on how things go early for his troops, many of which will be starting full-time for the first time. From an undefeated freshman team of a year ago, enter five sophomores who Grasso feels could be immediate and solid contributors in the quest to improve upon last year's 4-5 mark.

"We're a bit young and will take some lumps early, but I think that experience will be good for the future," Grasso said.

Grasso was unable to name definitive starters at many positions, saying there were still "a lot of positions open," many of which would only be decided after the scrimmage season ends after this weekend. He was pleased, however, that the team was displaying "good competition among ourselves."

Grasso will decide among sophomores Howard Jones (5-7, 140) and Jamel Dumas (6-2, 185) for the starting quarterback role in the Multiple-Set offense. Both bring different things to the table and Grasso wasn't prepared to make the call at press time.

The rest of the backfield, not unlike other areas, will be manned by relative newcomers. Juniors Eric Neely (5-8, 170) and Jarrett Drake (5-9, 160) did see some action last year and give Grasso what he calls "tremendous speed" at the tailback position, something he feels is a clear strength across his offense. Sophomore Ascer Clay (5-7, 155) has looked good as well and is right in the fray for one of the two starting spots. Senior Chris Clemons (5-6, 150) and junior Joseph Gordon (5-9, 140) add depth.

At wideout, a battle is being waged among six players, all of whom Grasso said have "good speed" and can give the Rams some versatility on the outside. A player Grasso is openly counting on is junior Kirk Hopson (6-5, 185), who returns 100 percent from a broken foot suffered a year ago that forced him to miss most of the season. Senior Marc Carmichael (6-0, 170), a Piscataway-transfer, has also impressed early on, but seniors Jamel Dorsey (5-9, 155) and Brian Stevens (5-6, 150), junior Tareem

Johnson (5-11, 150) and impressive sophomore Ernest Chandler (6-0, 175) have not disappeared from the picture by any means.

Senior Bengee Winbush (6-0, 190) is a returning starter at tight end, but sophomore Jason-Jean Battiste (6-2, 175) has had a solid camp and is likely to see some action.

The offensive line, one which Grasso feels "confident can get the job done" has several returnees, including senior center Rafael Rodriguez (6-0, 205) and senior guards Troy Mickens (5-11, 205) and Claudio Postor (6-2, 215). Two seniors, Tarig Glaster (6-2, 265) and Tyson Knight (6-3, 235) and two juniors, Ryan Deloatch (6-3, 235) and Telfair Rahman (6-3, 245), are vying for the two tackle spots.

Juniors James Jenkins (6-1, 300) and transfer Marcus Williams (6-1, 270) also are competing and add depth and continued size to what is surely one of the bigger offensive line units in the area.

Out of their 50 series on defense, Grasso will look for leadership at inside linebacker, where Rodriguez and Mickens are both returning starters. Winbush is another returning two-way player at defensive end, and the three provide a triumvirate of senior poise which will be valuable to the new faces.

Junior Mike Turner (5-8, 150) has moved to nose guard from defensive back, and will be flanked by two out of a group consisting of Postor, Knight, Glaster, Rahman, Jenkins and Williams. Deloatch appears to have the beat on the other end spot, but both Chandler and Battiste are threatening for time there.

The secondary includes Hopson at safety and Neely and Drake at cornerback.

Rahway High School Indians

Punko: We're cautiously excited

By KEITH AGRAN

RAHWAY — After finishing 5-4 with a close win over arch-rival Linden last season and returning what he is calling his biggest and most experienced team in years, Rahway Indians head coach Mike Punko is taking the wise and cautious approach early in fall workouts.

"Cautious is the right word for it," Punko said of his sizable returning corps. "We really hope to avoid injuries above all, but we are certainly cautiously excited about our size and experience level."

Experience is an 11-man senior class full of players who either started or saw significant action a year ago. After spending most of last year as a student of the quarterback position, senior Louis Campbell (6-2, 180) returns behind a veteran offensive line to lead the Multiple-Set Indian offensive attack again. Backing up Campbell will be sophomore Brandon Thomas (6-1, 165).

"Campbell is a three-year varsity player who has quick feet and is very good at deception," Punko said.

Behind Campbell are a bevy of returning players intermingled with some promising youngsters still making an impression. Senior Omar Francis (5-9, 158) returns as a multi-threat type of player who has been seeing some work at running back, as does senior Marvin Hill (5-10, 165), who Punko envisions somewhere on the field for sure, possibly at wideout.

Senior Isaac Sellers (5-11, 185) has been looking good at fullback according to Punko and gives the coach "decent size at fullback for the first time in four years."

Squarely in the tailback mix are juniors Eugene Jeter (5-11, 158) and James Draper (5-9, 145) and sophomore Lavar Tulloch (5-8, 135), all of whom are likely to see carries, with Jeter and Draper performing solid enough early on to threaten for a starting spot.

The veterans on the line, a contingent Punko sees as his biggest and most experenced in years, includes senior Ray Giacobbe (6-2, 205) and junior Antonio Garay (6-2, 235) anchoring the tackle spots, junior Jake Switzer (6-1, 180) at center and seniors Bobby Vieira (5-10, 205) and Danny Fitzharris (6-5, 256), junior Tom O'Reilly and impressive sophomore Kahlief Parker (5-9, 165) competing for the remaining spots.

The depth and experience level would have even been better had it not been for injuries to senior guard Matt Thomas (5-9, 162) and junior tackle Mikal Ali (6-2, 260), both of whom are considered to be on the shelf for all or most of the season.

Punko likes his group of ends, who combine good hands with solid blocking abilities. At wideout, Hill will be joined by senior Wakil Wynn (5-10, 163), while seniors Abdul Wilks (6-2, 206) and Shaun Young (6-2, 195) and junior Jason Crutchfield (5-11, 165) are also in the mix at tight and split end.

The eight-man front employed on defense by the Indians will also take advantage of the group's excellent size, anchored again by Giacobbe and Wilks at the inside linebacker slots. Both are shifting from defensive end. Punko likes what he sees on the defensive line, where Garay, Young and Vieira all return to down spots with experience. Fitzharris, O'Reilly and Parker are competing for the final tackle spot. Punko has also been pleased with his "outside monster" backers, where Draper and Crutchfield have laid their claim.

Three returnees highlight the secondary, with Campbell returning to patrol center field in the three-deep set, along with Wynn and Hill at the corners.

"I think we're pretty good from end to end," Punko said. "The down kids and linebackers will help us with their experience. Crutchfield and Draper have looked good on the outside and Campbell really knows the safety position."

It is surely Punko's hope that a strong level of experience can transform his cautious approach into one of relaxed confidence by midseason.

Rahway will host Snyder of Jersey City for the first time in its season-opener, Saturday, Sept. 28 at 1:30 p.m.

The Indians will then travel to Kearny, a team they lost to by a 28-27 overtime score last year.

Johnson Regional High School Crusaders

Winning can become contagious

By KEITH AGRAN

CLARK --- Winning can become contagious. It can spread from group to group, year to year. Most football programs experience a surge, a cycle of years where things are on the up and up.

It appears the Johnson Regional Crusaders are in the midst of just one of those cycles, coming off a season which saw them score some 424 points (38.5 per game) and allow a mere 24 (the first-team defense allowed just six) en route to a sterling 11-0 season and a North Jersey Section 2, Group

2 state title. This came after they posted above-.500 campaigns in each of head coach Bob Taylor's previous two seasons with the school.

Where to go from the top? Certainly not down, at least as Taylor sees it. He and his kids have an eye on another conference and playoff party.

"Things are going real well, we're beginning to jel," Taylor said.

Coming together is exactly what this group needs to do to ensure continued success, what with a senior class of only five players and a host of backups stepping into full-time starting roles.

"A lot of guys in backup roles are stepping in," Taylor said. "But these kids got a lot of playing time last year and we think we have the opportunity to be very competitive for the conference championship and a playoff berth."

Stepping into the quarterback position to operate the split-back veer offense is junior Dennis Bowden (5-7, 150). He directed last year's junior varsity squad to an undefeated season. Concerns there? Not many.

"He's a very capable athlete," Taylor said. "He has shown good leadership and throws the ball extremely well."

Behind Bowden will be another pair of excellent athletes in senior tri-captains Jason Hassler (5-8, 160) and Billy Prokos (5-10, 185). Hassler saw much time replacing the injured Joe Aleffi a year ago and Prokos was a big-play contributor on special teams. Junior Eric Gerstner (6-0, 200), who had six touchdowns last year, will backup both and see plenty of action. Hassler will again handle the kicking duties, an area he remains superb in.

"We're looking for combo athletes in the backfield," Taylor said, referring to a back's ability to do many things. "I'm very comfortable there (with the backs). We played a lot of people last year."

Two offensive line starters return, headlined by mammoth senior tri-captain Guenter Kryszon, a 6-5, 260-pound tackle mentioned in some circles as one of the top players in the state.

"He had an outstanding year last season," Taylor said. "He has the ability to be one of the top players around. It certainly is helpful to have big tackles in high school football."

It surely can't hurt to have an experienced center either, which Johnson boasts in senior Brian Fewkes (5-7, 190). Size at the other tackle comes in the form of junior Jerry Derillo (6-4, 295) and while junior Nikos Nicholas (5-10, 210) is set to man one guard post, junior Adam Zambuto (5-10, 215) and

Roselle Park High School Panthers

Success should continue here

By J.R. PARACHINI

ROSELLE PARK — Among the winningest Group 1 programs in North Jersey the past 15 years, Roselle Park always fields a highly competitive team.

This year's squad, one that returns 19 letter-winners from a year ago, should be no different.

"We have some starters back and some senior experience," said veteran head coach John Wagner in his typical low-key pre-season manner.

Roselle Park returns five starters on offense and six on defense from a team that finished 6-3 last year, falling to two playoff opponents. One of them — Johnson Regional — is not on the schedule this year.

The Panthers have recorded 12 consecutive winning seasons (1984 through 1995) and are hungry to extend that impressive mark to 13.

"We look to be competitive in our conference as usual," Wagner said.

The top teams in the Valley Division of the Mountain Valley Conference should be Ridge, New Providence, Roselle Park and Dayton Regional.

Roselle Park has qualified for the playoffs three times in the 1990s and has finished unbeaten at home during four of the previous five seasons. The Panthers are back to being situated in North Jersey, Section 2, Group 1 after spending one year in Group 2 last season.

Getting the nod to direct the Wing-T offense this year will be either senior Matt Harris (5-9, 180) or junior Dan Hutchinson (6-0, 180). Harris and since graduated Anthony Fanelli shared the quarterback duties last year.

"I'm not against alternating quarterbacks," Wagner, in his 16th season at the helm, said.

The offensive line will feature a senior contingency that includes Anthony Vitale (6-0, 210) at center, Steve Karlik (5-10, 205) and Brian Belfiore (5-10, 180) at guards and Albert Munoz (5-8, 205) and Mickey Weslock (5-10, 250) at tackles. Reserves include senior Joe Collins (5-8, 175) at guard and senior Miguel Castro (5-8, 220) at tackle.

Running the ball effectively behind that upperclassmen line will be of great importance to the Panthers. Halfbacks include senior Jeff Gallicchio (5-7, 160), junior Ricky Carlson (5-10, 180), senior Matt Ferraro (5-6, 155) and junior Jayson Bogota (5-8, 155). Fullbacks include seniors Matt Story (5-9, 190) and Steve Matthews (5-10, 160).

Seniors Juan Hernandez (6-0, 220), Kevin Vargas (6-2, 180) and Anthony Villano (6-1, 170) and junior Joe Bielski (6-4, 160) will be counted on to catch the ball, Hernandez the tight end and the other three split end threats.

Harris is joined by Hernandez, Karlik, Vargas and Gallicchio as returning starters. "Gallicchio had an outstanding scrimmage against Parsippany Hills," Wagner said. "Story and Matthews are playing well and our offensive line is coming together nicely."

Roselle Park's 50 defense will have Vitale and senior Kevin Schlenger (5-7, 200) at nose guard, junior Pat Appello (6-0, 210), Weslock and Castro at tackles and Hernandez, Belfiore, Munoz and Carlson at ends.

The inside linebackers are Karlik and sophomore Reid Reinhart (5-10, 190) and the outside linebackers will consist of sophomore Kevin Kolbeck (5-8, 160), senior Frank Cunha (5-9, 190), Gallicchio and Collins.

Senior Brian Breen (5-8, 150), Vargas, Santos and Matthews will make sure no receiver gets by them in the secondary.

Ferraro gets to handle the punting chores and the placekicking will be done by either Carlson or Kolbeck.

Roselle Park first scrimmaged at Parsippany Hills, as it usually does, Sept. 10. The Panthers were scheduled to scrimmage North Arlington and Montclair Immaculate at home last Saturday and Governor Livingston and Summit at home Tuesday night.

Hillside High School Comets

Senior leadership is important

By J.R. PARACHINI

HILLSIDE — In order for Hillside to show more consistency on the playing field this year, head coach Derryk Sellers feels his team needs to be more cohesive as a unit.

"We have senior leadership, something that was missing a year ago," said Sellers, now in his second year as the Comets' head coach.

HILLSIDE COMETS

SENIORS: Anthony Aponte, WR/DB, (5-5, 140); Ralph Borja, OL/LB, (5-5, 230); Marsac Hawkins, TE/DE, (6-4, 230); Frank Ibeceta, OL/LB, (5-9, 225); Jovon Kelly, WR/DB, (5-10, 180); Will Landers, TE/LB, (5-11, 200); Revon Myles, RB/LB, (5-10, 195); Jamir Phillips, WR/DB, (6-0, 175); Damien Robertson, RB/LB, (6-0, 225); Lateef Texiera, OL/DL, (6-3, 245); Halbert Wilson, WR/DB, (5-8, 155); John Wyche, OL/DL, (6-0, 240).

JUNIORS: Ahmed Alli, OL/DL, (5-8, 175); Gerard Bishop, WR/DB, (6-0, 165); Corey DeGannes, QB/DB, (6-0, 165); Curtis Golphin, OL/DL, (5-8, 225); Robert Jetter, OL/DL, (5-8, 245); Phillip Rainey, WR/DB, (5-6, 155); Armondo Riera, WR/DB, (5-7, 145); Charles Thebaud, TE/DE, (5-10, 195); Anthony Womack, TE/DE, (6-3, 180).

SOPHOMORES: Anthony Adebayo, C/LB, (5-9, 170); Randy Brito, OL/DL, (5-7, 180); Henry Chambers, OL/DL, (6-2, 235); Teshon Clegg, WR/DB, (5-10, 160); Curtis Cooper, RB/DB, (5-10, 175); Cornel Grandberry, WR/DB, (5-5, 135); Roger Jones, OL/DL, (5-7, 220); Krzysztof Kaczorowski, OL/DL, (6-4, 260); Rahim Martin, RB/LB, (5-7, 160); Jason Newby, WR/DB, (6-0, 155); Dujuan Weems, RB/DB, (5-7, 155); Jamicie Wineglass, TE/DE, (6-4, 235).

FRESHMEN: Joseph Aponte, WR/DB, (5-3, 130); Curtis Moore, RB/LB, (5-7, 150).

Two Class of 1997 athletes that will be tough to bring down when running the ball are backs Revon Myles and Damien Robertson, Myles also an outstanding linebacker.

"When they were freshmen they were 9-0 and gave up two touchdowns," Sellers said. "They want to win. They're the first ones in practice and in the weight room. Now it's up to us (the coaching staff) to put it together on Saturday."

Junior signal-caller Cory DeGannes (6-0, 165) will be directing Hillside's Multiple Set offense for the first time and will have the good fortune to hand the ball off to Myles (5-10, 195) and Robertson (6-0, 225).

"Corey's worked real hard and has really grown (DeGannes was listed at 5-10 last year)," Sellers said. "He's smart and just has to get some experience. He makes real good decisions and knows the offense well. Our offense is in capable hands this year."

Hillside also has capable and speedy receivers in Gerard Bishop (6-0, 165), Jovon Kelly (5-10, 180), Halbert Wilson (5-8, 155) and tight end Will Landers (5-11, 200).

"Bishop is the fastest kid (4.4 40) I ever coached," Sellers said. "Jovon and Halbert are good possession receivers."

Providing pass protection for DeGannes and responsible for giving Myles and Robertson running room include tackles Lamar Williams (6-3, 240) and Curtis Golphin (5-8, 225), center Ralph Borja (5-5, 230) and guards Frank Ibeceta (5-9, 225) and Krzysztof Kaczorowski (6-4, 260).

Hillside's 4-3 defense features Marsac Hawkins (6-4, 230) and Jamicie Wineglass (6-4, 235) at ends, Henry Chambers (6-2, 235) and John Wyche (6-0, 240) at tackles. The linebackers are Myles, Ibeceta and Landers.

The safeties are Bishop and Jamir Phillips (6-0, 175) and cornerbacks are Kelly and Wilson.

"We're expecting a lot from our defense," sophomore Mike Fink (5-9, 235) are vying for the other.

New faces can be seen at tight end and wide receiver as well, where junior Brian Drake (5-11, 170) has won the tight end spot and junior Nick Spagnuolo (6-0, 162) one of the wideout slots. Junior Jim DeTrollo (5-10, 170) and sophomore Ryan Garner (5-9, 145) are neck and neck on the other side.

An active five-man front is the key to the Crusaders' defensive scheme and Taylor is able to combine a good amount of size with quick ends and linebackers. Kryszonek and Derillo anchor the middle of the line along with either Nicholas or senior Curtis Dick (5-8, 200) at middle guard. Sophomore Matt Desch (5-11, 240) and Fink will provide depth.

The speedy and athletic Prokos and Zarnuto will man the ends, and have ample size and speed behind them in linebackers Drake and Gerstner. DeTrollo and Garner are penciled in at the corners, with Hassler in a classic rover-type safety position and Spagnuolo patrolling center field.

A solid mix on paper of speed and athleticism and an optimistic approach from the get-go appear to have Johnson prepared for the wars ahead.

"We feel like we're going to be competitive right out of the blocks," Taylor said. "Our special teams may even tip the scale."

"The kids are very goal-oriented," he continued. "Many of them were there last year. They saw it. This group is working just as hard."

Head Coach: BOB TAYLOR
Lifetime: 147-60-1 (.710) — 22 seasons (1974-1995)

Johnson Regional: 24-6 (.800) — 3 seasons (1993-1995)

Hillside: Senior leaders needed

Sellers said, "We have a lot of hitters and some good size."

Sellers took over the reigns last year and Hillside finished 4-5, unable to put together back-to-back wins and falling in its last two contests.

"The kids didn't adjust until halfway through the season," Sellers said.

Elizabeth High School Minutemen

Big and strong squad returns

By J.R. PARACIINI

ELIZABETH — Despite the loss of a very talented senior class, Elizabeth still figures to be one of the top teams in North Jersey this year.

Although the Minutemen will miss the services of four-year varsity players Al Hawkins and Quinton Spotwood and other key players from last year's squad that included Julian Hambrick, Lee Miller, Quarren Rogers and John Duque, Elizabeth has a solid squad returning and remain a threat to capture its first North Jersey, Section 2, Group 4 title since the 1989 team went 11-0 and was ranked No. 1 in the state.

"This will be our first year without Hawkins and Spotwood in four years and we lost a lot of experienced players," said head coach Jerry Moore, in his 12th season at the helm. "We do have some players back with quite a bit of experience."

Key returning players, all seniors, include running back Darrell Glover, tight end/linebacker Hakiem Stewart and two-way linemen Anthony Martini and Jairo Labrador.

Glover rushed for 1,026 yards on 108 carries (9.5 average) last year and scored 11 touchdowns, four in one game. He gained over 900 yards as a sophomore.

Stewart and wideouts Tobias Daniels (5-10, 170) and Maurice McClain (5-11, 170) are capable receivers and will pick up the slack left behind by Spotwood, now a wide receiver at Syracuse.

Asad Abdul-Khaliq (6-0, 170) steps in as Elizabeth's starting quarterback. The junior started last year's season-opener at Union and did quite well, pitching in as Hawkins could only play a couple of series of downs at quarterback because of a sore shoulder.

Khaliq completed a touchdown pass to Spotwood and was able to get a bit of varsity experience before Hawkins returned for the rest of the way.

"Asad went to Rutgers Quarterback Camp and that helped him a lot," Moore said. "He's a very intelligent young man who has a lot of potential."

Although Elizabeth lost to Union 15-12, the Minutemen went on to win seven straight and finished 8-2 overall in 1995, qualifying for the playoffs once again.

"I really like the attitude of this team and we're the biggest we've been up front in years," Moore said.

Running a Multiple offense that includes the Pro I and Split Backs, Abdul-Khaliq, not as big as Hawkins, should be well protected by a massive offensive line consisting of Martini (6-2, 245) at center, John McBryde (6-1, 238) and Clement Joachin (6-2, 225) at guards and Craig Sporer (6-4, 270) and Labrador (6-1, 320) at tackles.

That offensive line will be pushing forward opposing defenses so that Glover and fullbacks James St. Forte (6-0, 220) and Basim Santiago (5-11, 175) can muster through for huge chunks of yardage.

Darrell Glover, shown here throwing an option pass during last year's game against Linden, is Elizabeth's No. 1 tailback and the senior has rushed for nearly 2,000 yards the past two seasons.

"Hopefully our veterans can pull everybody together," Moore said. "I look forward to having a good year. Our kids are together, we've had great practices and they've been pushing each other."

Elizabeth's 40 defense will consist of Anderson Dortilus (6-4, 278) and Julian Gibson (6-3, 270) at tackle and McBryde and Martini at end.

The outside linebackers include Glover (6-0, 185) and St. Forte and the inside linebackers are Stewart (6-1, 235) and Peter Czjakowski (6-0, 195).

The secondary will consist of Karim Hill (5-7, 160), Raheem Orr (6-3, 200) and McClain at cornerback and Santiago at free safety.

Look for Elizabeth to run the ball as Abdul-Khaliq will often hand off to Glover and sometimes look for Daniels or McClain deep or Stewart over the middle.

"Glover is one of the best running backs in the state," Moore said. "He has the ability to run around you and over you. He's very strong and very fast and knows when to cut and when not too."

"Daniels and McClain are legitimate home run threats and Daniels had an excellent season for us last year."

It will take time for Abdul-Khaliq to get comfortable under center, but to his advantage he has a solid group of blockers protecting him which should make his transition as the starter a bit easier.

"We have a real good offensive line; they're big and strong," Moore said. "If they can perform like I know they're capable of, then we have a chance to be a real good offensive team."
