Venes cites experience in run for school board seat

By Blaine Diliport Staff Writer

Carmine Venes is one of four residents who has decided to run for the local Board of Education. Venes, a 20-year resident of the borough, has four daughters, all of whom attended the Mountainside School District at some point in their school career.

Venes is familiar with the inner workings of school districts, since he has been teaching school since the age of 21 and has been a guidance counselor at Rahway High School for the past 27 years. Venes also has experience with boards of education, having served on the Union County Regional District Board of Education for the past six years. It is because of the dissolution of the regional board that Venes has decided to run for the local Board of Education.

"I have been in education all of my life, and I thought that it would be important to have someone who has the knowledge of the inner workings of Governor Livingston High School to be on the local board to give the board some insight and familiarity with the high school programs," said Venes.

Venes would also like to run because he has some concerns about the local district. "I have some concerns that I want to address. One of my concerns is about the Early Warning Test scores in the Deerfield School and the big drop in the test scores last year. We only had 31.6 percent who were competent in all three levels, and that is a big drop from 1995, when we had 64.2. The key here is that all of the sending districts in the regional district except Mountainside and Kenilworth all had numbers in the 70 percent range. I do not know why this would happen but I think it should be looked into," he said.

Venes also would like to see the board deliver some tax relief to the residents. "I remember reports went out that residents could save as much as $600 as a result of the dissolution. Now we hear that the average homeowner will only save about $150, so where is this big savings? There is quite a gap in the numbers. Also with the deal with the high school, we only have two years at a fixed rate, and then it will go to actual numbers, which could become very costly," said Venes.

With all of the experience Venes has under his belt he hopes that he will be able to make a difference on the local board. Resident will have a chance to hear from all of the candidates at Candidates Night on March 18.

No tax increase in municipal budget

By Blaine Dillport Staff Writer

At the Tuesday night meeting of the Borough Council, Mayor Bob Viglianti along with Borough Finance Director Michelle Swisher presented the 1997 municipal budget to the council. The budget, which has been completed on time, will be introduced late since the county and school district have not furnished any numbers to the borough.

"I am proud to say that this years represents a zero percent increase to the taxpayers as far as the municipal budget is concerned. Although I cannot speak for the county or school budgets, there is no increase from the municipal budget," said Viglianti.

The total anticipated budget for the borough is $6,909,172. Of that total, $3,749,813.33 is expected to be raised by local taxes, which will require no point increases on local homeowners.

"We have gone over this budget very carefully and when each department handed in their budget requirements, I sent them all back and told them to cut 5 percent however they could. I think the numbers are fair and we were able to keep costs down for the average homeowner," said Vigitanti.

The budget will be further discussed during the next council meeting, and a special meeting will be held on March 18 to officially introduce the budget.

Hot oven cooks suspect's goose

By Blaine Dillport Staff Writer

In the early morning hours of March 4, Maxwell's Furniture Restoration and the Rejuvenation Hair Salon on Mountain Avenue were broken into and burglarized. Various items were taken from both establishments, including several power tools and hand tools, silver, and an undisclosed amount of petty cash.

Detective Sgt. Richard Weigele was the officer in charge of the investigation into the burglaries of the two commercial establishments. The burglaries were discovered at 9 a.m. on March 4 when the owners of the businesses arrived at work to find that they had been broken into sometime in the night. There were no signs of forced entry into the buildings, and when police arrived on the scene, it was learned that no alarms were set off during the night. The facts of the case led Weigele to believe that the burglary was probably done by someone who had prior knowledge of the businesses

Upon following up on the investigation, a suspect was identified as a former employee of Maxwell's Furniture. Various leads stemming from the investigation led police to question a suspect identified as John Schlegel, 38 of Harding Road in Scotch Plains. Police went to Schlegel's apartment to question him about the break instand during the questioning, he dropped a hypodermic needle on the floor in front of the officers, who upon patting him down, found another freshly used needle. Police immediately placed Schlegel ander arrest. Subsequent to Schlegel's arrest, the Subsequent to Schlegel's arrest, the officers discovered several hand tools that were reported stolen by the owner of Maxwell's, as well as some silver items, and an additional 17 hypodermic needles and various drug paraphernalia in the suspect's apartment. While at the apartment, the officers noticed a microwave oven in the middle of the living room floor.

While Schlegel was in custody at the police station, Brighton Gardens called the station to report a break in and the theft of a microwave oven. A night nurse at Brighton Gardens was an eyewitness to the theft of the oven. but it was not reported at the time, since the suspect said that he was a kitchen employee of Brighton Gardens. Detective Sgt. Richard Oseja headed the investigation of th Brighton Gardens break in and discovered that someone had pried open a screen and gained entry through a double window. The officers had the nurse come in to look at a photo line up, and she positively identified Schlegel.

Schlegel was charged with three counts of burglary, three counts of theft, two counts of receiving stolen property and possession of drug paraphernalis. Schlegel was transported to the Union County Jail in Elizabeth and his bail was set at $20,000.

Science fair offers invention and experimentation

By Walter Elliott Staff Writer

Interest in pure and applied science among Mountainside students, going by the fifth annual Deerfield School Science Fair and Invention Convention Thursday, appears to be alive and well.

Seventy-six exhibits created by 95 Deerfield students were displayed in the school gymnasium for public viewing and private judging. While the displays held a three to one ratio between science and engineering, they collectively covered fields from biology to physics.

Each exhibit also displayed an understanding of the scientific method; namely the creation and testing of a hypothesis through research and experimentation. Two variations of the same were found in Ellen Kaplan's "Water Me Plants" exhibit and Lyndsey Thomas "How Do You Keep Your Flowers Powered?" display.

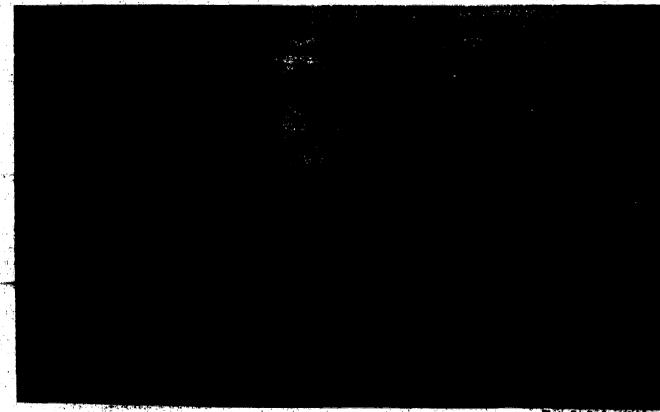

"My mother has plants in the house and they start to die if no one waters them when she's away," said Kaplan. "I thought about how to water them and I came up with this." Kaplan pointed to three sample plants connected to a water bucket by string. She explained that water droplets travel down the string to evenly water the plants. Also on display was a logbook noting designs, testing of different string types and test results.

Across the aisle was Thomas and her display, which measured the lifespan of three plant types to four nutritional solutions. The subject plants, solution samples and colored charts were exhibited.

"I used equal measures of water, powdered asprin and water, lemon-lime soda and fertilizer and water to see how long each plant lives," said Thomas. "The baby roses, tulips and alstromein were watered at the same time and their moisture measured daily."

"What this fair and convention is all about is to expose students to science," said organizing committee Co-Chairperson Elaine Fass. "We're showing how creative science can be."

Ribbons were also handed out to the best of the science fair, including a first prize to Thomas.

Deerfield School Acting Principal Audrey Zavetz examines the 'Flowers Changing Colors' display, presented by third-grader Andrew Gennaro, during the school's annual science fair held last Thursday.

Health officials warn of impending tick season

By Walter Elliott Staff Writer

It appears that a bumper crop of black legged ticks, according to municipal and Union County officials, are making an early appearance in the area this season.

"We seem to be getting more reports of ticks, tick bites and Old Lyme Disease lately," said Stuart B. Palfreyman, health director for Summit, Berkeley Heights and New Providence. "Although we've using the Watchung Reservation, people can pick up tick from brush adjacent to golf courses or lawns."

"There has been an increase in the reservation," said Union County Bureau of Park Operations Director Daniel J. Bernier. "Part of warmer weather. But the greatest one to a bestyand lawn, where a person's guard is down."

The blacklegged tick, better known as the deer tick, tends to transfer from the white tail mouse;

pin, infect the host with a skin bite. "About 60 percent of the time, the bite leaves a bullseye ring around the bite - which is the first stage," said Mountainside Health Official Robert Sherr about Old Lyme Disease's progress. "About a month later, flu-like symptoms occur. Left untreated, the disease can produce heart and nervous disorders."

Sherr said that while the degree been getting cases from people of symptoms vary by the person, a 10-day treatment of antibiotics is prescribed. Treatment, however, becomes more difficult with each stage. Palfreyman said that a variation, Erlichosis, has been found.

One problem in combating ticks and the disease is that not all clinics the reason may be that ticks like or physicians report instances. The second problem is the correlation between ticks and deer.

'The deer aren't tick breeders but they apparently like to ride the winter aboard large mammals," said Bernier. "But we have studies and other rodentia to man and other showing the tick population keyed larger mammals. The ticks, which to the number of deer per acre."

Inaugural bike race planned for April

By Walter Elliott Staff Writer

Rahway River Park is to witness the sights and sounds of circuit bicycle racing in the inaugural RRP Criterium April 12, announced the Springfield Rotary Club and the Millburn Chatham Wheelmen Friday.

Millburn Chatham Wheelman Race Promoter Bert Webster and Spring-Beld Rotary Advertising Director Ron Goldberger anticipate dozens of area cyclers to compete on a 1.1-mile semi-circular course on parkland straddling the Clark-Rahway border. The four-hour event, which is to run by New Jersey Bicycling Association rules, is expected to generate winners in at least five classes.

While the winners receive up to $300 in merchandise prizes, the proceeds will benefit the Springfield Rotary Charities Fund. The fund, said Goldberger, includes scholarships for Springfield's students.

idea hit me," said Goldberger. "Holding a bicycle race would open a new avenue for Rotary fundraising and promote the sport to youth."

"This is the biggest event we've staged," said Webster. "We've the permits to hold the race only for four hours. Sanctioning from the United States Cycling Federation is coming in the mail and we'll hold a meeting at the Millburn Bike Shop Tuesday to go. over the final details."

Webster said that the Millburn-Chatham Wheelmen usually hold road tours. The two-year old club picked the river park oval for its layout and accessibility.

"There aren't too many places around here where one can get town permits to close some roads for a day," said Webster. "The RRP course has two tight corners and a level straightaway at the start/finish line. It'll be challenging."

"I wanted to put the race in Springfield," said Goldberger, "but to do it would mean effectively shutting down the town for a day."

"The race site is usually a road for park traffic," said Margie Alverez, County Parks and Recreation Reservation Clerk. "It requires a permit so we can notify local police of the road closure. The Springfield Rotary filed an application last December although the road has been used as a track before."

"The Cranford Bicycle Club used to run there," said United States Bicycling Hall of Fame Events Director Vincent Menci. "There are some 30 criterium races held in the state plus road races and the Tour of Somerville."

Menci said that a criterium is a closed circuit between three-quarters of a mile to 1.5 miles in size while a road race runs from point to point. There are no be Newark and Nutley velodromes were torn down, although there's one in nearby Trexlertown, Pa.

Doubling as tour guide, Menci is eager to share the New Jersey's racing heritage. Irvington mechanic John "Pop" Brennan shares the wall of fame with multiple Tour de France winner Greg LeMond. The Tour of Somerville, first run in 1940, is America's oldest continuing bicycle race. The Irvington-Millburn road race, for comparison, dates back to "The Irvington-Millburn race was a 25-mile course which ran through Vailsburg and Springfield," said Menci. Over 20,000 people would line the streets to watch. It ran until 1908 and was revived for anniversaries in 1933 and 1974.

Racing is set to run between 7 and 11 a.m. Call (201) 376-0001.

Opportunity and accountability

If state Education Commissioner Leo Klagholz has his way, teachers throughout the state would have to periodically prove their mettle.

According to a proposal released by Klagholz last week, New Jersey's public school teachers will be required to return to school to complete a continuing education program every five years to retain their license. In addition, teachers would face evaluations every five years to ensure that they are properly transmitting their expertise to their students.

New Jersey is the only state that does not have a continuing education requirement for their teachers, although many pursue advanced degrees voluntarily. We believe this proposal will be beneficial for teachers and their students.

First, by making continuing education a priority, this measure will give teachers the opportunity to continually update and refine their skills. Also, by making it a requirement, it will provide teachers with a supportive environment in which to further their education.

Second, it will benefit students. The five-year evaluations will help ensure that teachers continually sharpen their skills or face losing their license, and subsequently loss of tenure.

It makes no sense that teachers are given a lifetime position and are not held strictly accountable. This measure will help answer those who criticize the tenure system by providing a way to remove ineffective educators.

This proposal looks good on paper, and hopefully it will work in practice.

Just do it

In a little more than a month, voters will select Board of Education members and vote on the school district's budget. We think the occasion should draw every voter to the polls, but we are realistic. What we don't understand at all is any citizen's failure to register to vote.

To vote on April 15, citizens have until Monday to register. It's easy, painless and doesn't cost anything. One need only to be an adult citizen who lives in the municipality where he or she intends to vote.

To register, visit either the municipal clerk or the county Board of Elections. The paperwork is light, so just do it.

Is there room for two parties?

In their quest to enforce one-party rule in government, the Democrats on the Board of Chosen Freeholders are expected to fire the Union County Utilities Authority's Board of Commissioners tonight. There are no legal grounds to stop them, but we ask the freeholders to avoid this political

We have no problem with the freeholders' intent to reduce the size of the board, but we are fearful of their plans for its membership.

Freeholder Dan Sullivan said a seven-member board would be "more manageable." and that the current board has not demonstrated a willingness to reduce tipping fees.

As we have pointed out repeatedly, these freeholders have no plan to accomplish that either. Furthermore, a recently completed audit shows that such a goal is easier discussed than accomplished. In addition, another, soon to be finished, audit will show that the authority in fact is working toward fiscal efficiency.

Based on what we know about the party leadership, we suspect the Democrats' intent is nothing more than a political power grab. By putting their own people on the Board of Commissioners, the party will control who the UCUA hires and where it spends its money.

It is no secret that this freeholder board has not made an effort to work with the current UCUA commissioners. In social circles, kind stays with kind, but in public service, all officials should work together to serve the public.

Years ago, when the state decreed that counties must provide a means of waste disposal, it was these Democrats who pushed for what would become the UCUA incinerator.

Last year, when a federal court judge ruled New Jersey's waste flow laws unconstitutional, these Democrats made a campaign issue out of the UCUA's debt and the way its bonded debt is structured.

Last month, this same group of Democrats hired the attorney who negotiated the terms of that bond indebtedness to examine the problem.

And now they want everyone to believe that the UCUA commissioners are at fault, and that they must be replaced.

When this proves to be untrue, we wonder what their excuse will be. If the county does find itself having to cover $35 million of the UCUA's debt, we wonder who the Democrats will blame?

One might as well play fill in the blanks, because to this bunch it doesn't matter. What does seem important to them is the consolidation of power and the ability to spend government money to keep their friends employed.

Bring an umbrella on those weekend jaunts

When a student enrolls on Weather 101, is he/her told right from the beginning never but never to predict rain on a summer weekend?

Weather plays a major role in weekend plans and if the prediction is for rain, heavy cloudiness or unseasonably high or low temperatures, plans are apt to change. The trip to the shore is postponed, that ride in the country to visit that new Tibetan restaurant is put on hold and that shopping trip is put off... much to the concern of shore shops, the Tibetan restaurant owners, and proprietors of the variety shops.

As you can see, weather plays an important role on how we run our lives. And for someone to come right out and say that rain is in the forecast for Saturday and Sunday is something akin to mortal sin.

I notice when I listen to the weather broadcasts in the early mornings, weather is an important topic since the forecast is announced over and over again. And if you take particular notice, the commentators sort of dance around the topic. If they must predict rain, it's done politely without any fanfare or dire predictions that a whopper is bearing down on us. We are gently reminded to take along an umbrella and any other rain gear we have.

As I See It

By Norman Rauscher

However, if there is rain forecast for Saturday or Sunday, the commentator must bite the bullet and just come out and say what is in store for us. Of course, there are ways of saying such things in a way not to disappoint or anger too many people. The commentator will say the rain won't be much and there is a 50-50 chance that the sun will peek out sometime during the day That little disclaimer seems to somewhat calm many people

I've heard announcers dance and skip around a forecast, daring not to say the terrible "r" word even though it couldn't be more cloudy and thunder claps and flashes of lightning are in great abundance. Mentioning or even hinting at the rain is a definite no-no in the field of weather forecasting. This is especially true during summer or holiday weekends, garden parties, especially weddings, or when plans are made to see a baseball game at Yankee or Shea stadiums.

Many of us take our weather very seriously. And to many, our lives revolve about it. High strung or emotional people will fly into a rage when told that the weather is going to be lousy over the next few days which includes a weekend.

I've heard of a case when a commentator predicted rain on a certain Saturday and the radio or television station received death threats if such a calamity occurred. It's like killing the messenger who bears bad news.

Weather predicting is still an imperfect practice, even though we can land men on the moon. How many times have we heard a nasty forecast and the opposite took place and how many times have we heard a forecast which is akin to what Camelot experienced and it turns out to be the worst kind of weather ever to befall us.

Being a weather forecaster, now that the supposed nice weather looms on the horizon, can be risky because plans are being made now to set aside certain days in the near future to eat at that Tibetan restaurant or visit a brand new mall; but it all depends on the weather. If the weather doesn't cooperate, we become enraged and begin seriously thinking of suing the radio or television station for being a spoil

That's why enrolling in weather 101 can be a dangerous occupation since we are a volatile lot and the forecaster's job is to promise good weather and mean it. And woe betide the forecaster if he/she is wrong and what promised to be a great weekend ends in a deluge, complete with thunder, lightning and topped off with heavy gusts of wind. Of course, by Monday morning the storm has rolled out to sea and the weather couldn't be more perfect, only thing is, it's Monday.

We are not trying to make light of bad weather since many people earn their living by having good weather, especially those with businesses at the shore or nearby holiday resorts. A constant diet of bad weather can put them out of business or force them to postpone thei planned trip to Mexico.

We bet that listening to or watching those cute little weather ladies on television is becoming more and more of a spectator sport. For many of us, weather plays a key role in our lives, even though we can't do a single thing

When opportunity knocks, don't clown around

We've heard "opportunity knocks," and other expressions of advantage or escape. I'm sure most of us have stories of how some unanticipated chances opened up or got away in our

I'm reminded each spring how one opportunity came my way while waiting for a bus in Roselle Park 12 years

ag0. Of course, this chance would come while I was on my way to work. I had parlayed a communication internship with Shadow Traffic Network, then in Union, into a job as a field-reporter driver. I was still going to college in Wayne and had a girlfriend from Butler attending the same school.

I was long on logistics but short on cash. The Volkswagen I was driving needed repairs and I was waiting for the next paycheck to finish the job.

So I took the NJ Transit Raritan Valley Line to Roselle Park and was waiting for the 94 bus at the corner of Chestnut Street and Lincoln Avenue. I was looking back toward the elevated station on this sunny afternoon when another westbound passenger train arrived — but it was far longer than the average NJ Transit train.

While I'm Here

By Watter Elliott Staff Writer

I climbed halfway up the embankment for a closer look. Silver rail cars stretched from one horizon to the other. The train suddenly stopped for a signal and I saw "Barnum and Bailey and Ringling Brothers Circus" logos on the side.

As soon as the train stopped, two fully grown passengers bolted from a rail car door and dashed past me to the corner delicatessen. They left the door open and a third person in the vestibule looking back at me.

Ever heard of "running off to join the circus?" I've gone to the circus a few times and it was pleasant except once when I sat too close to the elephants. Nothing to leave home over. But here was the chance right before me! the waiting party some questions. He told me they had finished a stint at the Nassau Coliseum and were Philadelphia bound. They were in the middle, of the East Coast tour, full of long hours and small pay.

"We don't accept stowaways anymore," the man at the door said, "but you could go backstage at the Spectrum and ask for a manager. There's also our Clown College in Florida." Clown College I can see my mother telling neighbors I'm a professional clown. "We know that," they'd reply, "but what is your son really doing for living?"

The encounter lasted little more than a minute. The two men, carrying armioads of groceries, clambored back to the car. With a shut of a door and a change of a signal, the train resumed its westward journey. The cars were still rolling when I looked through the back window of the bus.

Within three years, almost everything changed. One day, I reported to Snadow and found my name no longer on the roster. I ended up working as an overnight stock clerk at a K-Mart. So great was my fall from broadcasting that I couldn't get to announce the blue light sales.

The girlfriend would also go away. She married one of her customers. I didn't mourn Fotomat's demise.

But the corner of Chestnut and Lincoln remains about the same, including the station, the deli and the bus stop. What also remains is my memory of the chance to join, which comes to mind about this time every year, when the circus train rolls by.

Savings will be spread out

To the Editor:

Recent published reports of Mountainside's agreement with Berkeley Heights for continuing our relationship after the success of dissolution were not wholly accurate, and I must admit it was my failure to properly communicate the financial aspect of the whole picture that lead the reporter astray.

The deal, as outlined in the story, is correct. The savings in tax dollars is accurate when compared to last year's spending in the Regional District, but not all of those savings will be passed to the taxpayers in this single year.

When you compare our costs after dissolution, as compared to sending our students through the Regional, we will be saving approximately $6,000 per student. In the budget last year, the Regional board took money out of surplus, and did not get it all from a single tax year, so the savings, also, will not be reflected in a single year.

This year for the first time, the tax bill will show a single number for school taxes, there will not be a separate number for the high school as there had in years past. That total number, however, will show a decrease over the total tax dollars spent a year ago. It is also a fact that our cost per student is locked in for the second year of our 10-year pact, with no increase. Our hope was to give an incentive to Berkeley Heights to try and keep standards high, with a sharp eye on the bottom line. It will also make our planning here in Mountainside not only more accurate, but more cost efficient.

I apologize if I led anyone astray. In my zeal to show the benefits of dissolution to a town that deserved relief from the high spending of the past, I did not present as accurate a picture as I would've liked. It is for that reason that we will have a budget hearing on March 25, where all questions will be answered. It is an open forum for anyone to attend.

Frank G. Geiger, president Board of Education

Horse Salve Eases Arthritis Pain

LOUISVILLE, KY -- An ingredient derived from hot peppers that decreases inflammation in racehorse's legs, has now been approved by government researchers for human use into a product called ARTH-Rx* ARTH-Rx comes in a strength designed for humans. Researchers are excited and say the formula can relieve arthritis pain for millions.

Developed by the Phillips Gulf Corporation. ARTH-Rx is a breakthrough in the treatment of painful disorders ranging from minor aches and pains to more serious conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, tendonitis, backache, and more Although the mechanism by which

ARTH-Rx works to relieve pain is not totally clear, scientists suggest that pain is relieved because ARTH-Rx intercepts the messenger substance that sends pain signals to the brain. ARTH-Rx is available in a conve nient roll-on applicator without a pre scription. According to a spokesper son for the company, due to the over whelming demand for ARTH-Rx to save taxpayers money

Assemblyman Joel Weingarten, R-Union, one of three members on the State Leasing and Space Utilization Committee, announced that the committee saved the taxpayer over $4,716,106 million by eliminating and renegotiating state leases. Weingarten, who represents the 21st District in the legislature, has been a member of this committee since he was sworn in as a legislator in May of 1996.

"As a freshman member of the Legislature, I found it particularly rewarding to be able to directly save the taxpayers over $4.7 million. I am proud of what we have done because we were able to save the taxpavers millions of dollars without eliminating or curtailing essential state services — we simply worked to make government smarter and more efficient," said Weingarten.

The State Leasing and Space Utilization Committee was created by the General Assembly so that the state would have means to review and negotiate costs leasing office, storage and parking space throughout New Jersey. The committee works with the State Treasurer to renegotiate the various leasing contracts held by the Weingarten's district mates, Senator Louis Bassano and Assemblyman Kevin O'Toole, R-Union, praised the committee's efforts. "This is how smarter government is supposed to work," said O'Toole. "The State Leasing and Space Utilization Comemittee has successfully saved almost $5 million taxpayer dollars from being squandered," Bassano added. The Space Utilization Committee performs a very important but oftentimes unheralded task. We are lucky to have dedicated members of the legislature like Senator Ewing and Assemblyman Weingarten who will spend countless hours doing tedious work to save us all money."

mandates coverage for hospital stays

Health insurers would be required to pay for 72-hour hospital stays after mastectomy surgery under legistration sponsored by Assemblymen Kevin O'Toole and Joel Weingarten, R-Union, that was approved by the General

Representatives from women's rights organizations, prostrate cancer survivor support groups and doctors have voiced their support for this legislation. The measure, a committee substitute for A-10, A-2524, A-2551 and A-2575, would require health insurers to provide a minimum 72 hours of inpatient care following a mastectomy. It also would require providers and employers to notify the patient if her health coverage is not subject to the 72-hours mastectomy law.

"Our bill will set the standard of care for how insurers in New Jersey cover the treatment of patients recovering from mestectomy procedures," said O'Toole. "It seems that some health management organizations are requiring patients to obtain breast cancer operations on an outpatient basis. Requiring health insurers to cover a minimum 72 hours of inpatient care following this procedure would protect patients from the complications that a reduced hospital stay can inflict."

Weingarten added, "I have been a longtime supporter of less government regulation. However, our foremost concern must be the health of the women who undergo this procedure. We must ensure that if doctors prescribe a stay of longer than one day following a mastectomy, that women are afforded this opportunity under the law."

A mastectomy involves the removal of a breast and often the lymph nodes to halt the spread of cancer. According to O'Toole, many surgeons say they are uncomfortable with discharging mastectomy patients the same day, since the risk of post-operative hemorrhaging is too great.

The legislation also include a provision that would allow a patient and physician to determine a length of stay for less than 72 hours if mutually agreed upon. The measure was merged with identical Senate Legislation and approved by a 71-3 vote. It now heads to Governor Whitman for consideration.

Overlook offers alcohol

Family Service of Summit, a division of Overlook Hospital, Summit, offers two new subtance abuse programs for Summit area residents, who are more comfortable conversing in Spanish. One is an Alcoholics Anonymous group that is conducted by trained Hispanic leaders who were either alcohol or drug abusers in the past and have been clean for many years.

The Spanish AA group meets Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m. in Room 405 on the fourth floor of Overlook Hospital's Medical Arts Building, 33 Overlook Road. There is no charge for this program and men and women of all ages are welcome.

The other group, Al-Anon, is for the families of substance abusers and for others who are close to them. Al-Anon meets Tuesdays from 7 to 8 p.m. at Family Service, 45 Franklin Place, Summit. It, too, is free of charge and all area residents are welcome.

Led by Alicia Domizi-Gorman, CSW, Spanish-speaking outreach counseling in Spanish coordinator for Family Service, Al-Anon participants gain support and understanding from one another as they discuss what living with a substance abuser involves. Former members of other Al-Anon groups also attend to offer their experience and advice to help those now going through similar situations.

Participants learn about the nature of the disease/addiction and ways to deal with the person who has this problem. Some members of the group are concerned about a spouse or other adult; someone to help a child or teenager break or abuse habit.

Domizi-Gorman said that drug and alcohol use seems to be starting at a younger and younger age. Where the introduction to these substances was previously thought to be in the middle school years, evidence now shows that children as young as 8 are indulging.

For more information about either of these programs, call Alicia Domizi-Gorman at Family Service, 273-1844.

Red Cross training program will assist coaches

The Westfield Mountainside Chapter of the American Red Cross is offering a new training program designed to assist coaches. This course provides participants with the knowledge and skills necessary to help provide a safe environment for athletes while they are participating in sports and, in an emergency, to help sustain life and minimize the consequences of injury or sudden ilness until medical help arrives.

The course content and activities will help participants identify and eliminate potentially hazardous conditions, recognize emergiences, and make appropriate decisions for first aid care. The course teaches first aid skills that coaches and other participants need to perform as the link in the Emergency Medical Services system.

The training will be offered on March 24 and March 26 from 7 to 10 p.m., at the chapter house located at 321 Elm St. in Westfield. The class is open until March 17. All coaches should have training in how to handle injuries. Call the Red Cross office at (908) 232-7090, Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. for additional information on this and other training courses. Class sizes are limited to first-come, first-served.

Ousted in state tournament play

Dayton, Summit seasons end

Although the Dayton Regional and Summit boys' basketball teams were bounced from the North Jersey, Section 2, Group 2 playoffs last week, both squads improved a great deal from last year.

Dayton, which lost a heartbreaking 59-58 quarterfinal round decision at home to Hanover Park March 5, finished the 1996-97 campaign with an impressive 16-6 overall mark.

Dayton was 5-15 last year.

High School Boys' Basketball

The Bulldogs this year finished second in the Valley Division of the Mountain Valley Conference with a 12-2 record and at one point in the season reeled off seven consecutive victories.

Senior Ryan Nelson is the only starter who will not return. Key players on next year's team will include Eric Fishman, Chris Salvato, Chris Loeffler and Ratph Sarracino.

Nelson scored 19 and Loeffler and Salvato had 14 each in the season-finale against Hanover Park.

Dayton began the year with a three-game winning streak before falling to Ridge 57-54 in the Ridge Holiday Tournament championship game.

The Bulldogs then ripped off seven straight wins, including an impressive 39-32 win at Roselle Park minus the talents of Nelson, who was out with an injury.

After losing back-to-back games to St. Mary's of Elizabeth and Union Catholic, the former Dayton's first in Valley play, the Bulldogs managed to win four more in a row heading into Showdown No. 2 with Roselle Park. The Panthers came out on top this time, defeating the Bulldogs 57-43 in Springfield, despited 18 points from Loeffler and 10 from Nelson. After wins against New Providence and Manville, Dayton fell to Roselle Catholic in the Union County Tournament and then to Hanover Park in the state tournament last week. In the team's 60-57 win over New Providence Feb. 11, Nelson scored 17, Loeffler 14, Fishman 13 and Salvato 10. In Dayton's last win against Manville, a 75-35 win at home Feb. 14, Nelson scored 20 points and Paul Gerber had a career-high 18 rebounds. After finishing a dismal 6-14 last season, Summit bounced back to record a 10-10 record this year, their first as a member of the Hills Division of the Iron Hills Conference. The Hilltoppers were by defeated by a tough Roselle squad 82-50 in state tournament play last week. Junior point guard John Foushee, who will be a cornerstone for the program next year, scored 18 points and sank 12 free throws to lead the Hilltoppers. Head coach Mackey Pendergrast said he was very impressed with the way

Foushee "turned it on" as the year progressed. The Hilltoppers were led this season by senior center Charles Cary, who averaged close to 16 points and seven rebounds. Pendergrast's squad was very balanced. He said that at any point during the year any one of his players could have scored 15-20 points.

Prior to the Roselle game, Summit was defeated in a closely contested game against Mendham 56-49.

Mendham defeated Roselle 67-64 in overtime at Cranford Monday to capture the sectional title for a second consecutive year. Mendham defeated Roselle in last year's final for its first championship.

A special season comes to a much-too-quick conclusion

Oak Knoll falls in first round of states

By Andrew McGann Staff Writer

Despite a top-seed in the North Jersey, Parochial B state tournament, the Oak Knoll girls' basketball team was not able to advance past the quarterfinals and were defeated by eighth-seeded Villa Walsh 65-53 at home last Friday night. The defeat ended a spectacular campaign for the Royals, one that featured Oak Knoll reeling off a 19-game winning streak. They ended the season at 21-3. "Villa Walsh played a tremendous game," Oak Knoll head coach Tom Elliot said.

"On that night they were the better team," Elliot added, noting that Villa Walsh outshot Oak Knoll both from the floor and the free throw line.

Elliot also said that Brenna Supple, who had been hot of late for Oak Knoll, was limited to just eight minutes because of foul trouble and her absence limited the Royals' scoring chances.

In the defeat, junior center Libby Keneally tied a careerhigh with 22 points and grabbed a career-best 17 rebounds. Earlier this season, Keneally scored 22 in a victory over Governor Livingston.

"That was far and away the best game she played all year," Elliot said of Keneally's performance. "All of her points were quality points.'

Junior point guard Melissa Lopez, who recently broke out of a mini scoring slump, added 11 points in the defeat.

For the season, Lopez led Oak Knoll by averaging 12 points, five steals and four assists a game. Luckily for Elliot, the junior transfer student will be back next season. Senior guard and outside threat Liz Boccella was second on the Royals in scoring with a 10.6 per game average. She also grabbed 4.6 rebounds a game.

H.S. Giris' Basketball

Keneally led Oak Knoll in rebounding with 9.5 a game and poured in 10 points a game.

Despite the disappointing early exit from the tournament. Elliot said he was very happy with his team's play this season and he is looking forward to next year.

Dayton improves to 11-11

Dayton's season came to an end March 4 when the Bulldogs were defeated by West Essex 54-46 in North Jersey, Section 2, Group 2 action.

However, the Bulldogs improved a great deal this year, finishing 11-11. Last year Dayton was just 3-18.

The leadership of first-year head coach Staci Hartzler and the play of Dawn Woodruff, Lucy Cucincilo, Melynda Egenberg, Theresa Lyle and others helped turn the program around.

Impressive wins came against Bound Brook in double overtime and Roselle Park the second time the teams played.

Summit's Charles Carey attempts to drive around a Roselle defender en route to the basket.
