Trying to shed a label of being exclusionary, Republicans this year field a ticket which features minority groups that party leaders feel were previously overlooked. Democratis, which was the previously overlooked. Democratis unexambile, kept the status quo; all incumbent office holders are running incumbent office forces.

In the three Congressional reces, Republicans nominated incumbent Bob Franks, Theress de Leon and William Stanley Wnuck.

Those three oppose Fanwood Mayor Maryanne S. Connelly and incum-bents Robert Menendez and Donald M. Payne.

Franks boasted to an appreciative audience Saturday that Republicans have done a good job in Washington but have received scant national recognition for achieving goals previously thought to be virtually impossible.

"Republican leadership has led to a balanced budget," he said, "We have to market ourselves better," to market ourselves better."

Heavily favored to win a fourth term. Franks can expect a difficult race, county Democratic Chariman Charlotto Deflippo said. Although Connelly comes from a strong Republican district and enjoys little recognition outside of Fanwood, she will pose a serious threat to Franks' re-election bid. Deflippo said. nition countries to proceed a serious threat to proceed election bid, DeFilippo said.
"I know well enough not to take the public for granted and neither should Bob Franks," she said. "I don't think Congress is repre-senting the needs of this district," senting the needs of this district."

Connelly said in reference to Franks.
Democrats enjoy advantages in the other races: Menendez and Payne represent districts with solid Democratic

de Leon, a Yale University graduate, attacked Menendez, saying he has "no moral character" because he failed to speak out against a partial birth abortion, de Leon said Menendez has done little to help repair the district's infrastructure, which she said is anti-infrastructure, which she said is anti-quated and crumbling. Wnuck, a 26-year-old Rahway native, celled Payne an "ultra-liberal" citing his vote egainst the balanced budget agreement as evidence. Delf-lippo parried those criticisms. County residents are generally happy with the Democrats' performance, she said, and every indicator points to "a banner year."

"We are proud that our Democratic Pany can offer the residents of Union County candidates of this level," DeFilippo said.

At the freeholder level, Republi-cans look to break a four-year losing slump with Juan Fernandez, Andy MacDonald and George Gore, a late addition to the nomination process.

Gore, an African-American from Plainfield, said Democrats have historically "taken the black community for granted." Now, he said, his party is "sending a message that the Republican Party is interested in the minority community.

GOP convention delegates remarked that the ticket blends ethnic groups and geographic areas that they will need to reclaim majority status. Two towns, Plainfield and Elizabeth with their large voter blocs, were targeted because Republicans must cultivate followers in areas where they traditionally enjoy little support, party officials said.

Political observers echoed thos Political observers echoed those sentiments. Charles Kelly, a political science professor at Kean University, said Republicans have problems win-ning more elections or finding a larger candidate pool because it is "difficult to run in certain districts if those dis-tricts are prodominately one party."

"Unless you're in the majority, there's reluctance to give money to warnabes," he said.

"My goal was to a get a cross sec-tion of the county," said Union dele-gate Anthony DiOiovanni. "We've got a great ticket."

Former Freeholder Henry W. Kuriz said, "I think this is very much in line with the party that Christie Whitman wants to bring into the next millennium."

Their opponents, DeFilipo said, are Daniel P. Sullivan, the incumbent and freeholder chairman, and incimbents Lewis Mingo Jr. and Mary P. Rutolo. The latter two filled seets that were vacated this year by Carol I. Cohen and Walter D. McNeil Jr.

Running for an eighth consecutive term is Union County Sheriff Ralph Freehlich. Now in his 21st year at the post. Freehlich is being challenged by a lieutenant in his office, Esther D. Guzman-Malcolm.

"He's not a hands-on sheriff," she said, adding that Froehlich's office has grown "stagnant" during 21 years under his supervision."

Women in the Work Force Prog-ram, many of whom are struggling to rise above poverty-level incomes and the often harsh realities of life on wel-fare now have a partner as they take their first steps on the road to success.

The students enrolled in the 10-week program are trying to better their work skills and become more marketable in today's workforce.

Several have already found jobs after only four weeks into the United Way Mobile Computer Lab program.

The Mobile Computer Lab is the first of its kind in Union County and is available through the collaboration of Union County and the Board of Cho-sen Freeholders, Union County Col-lege, and IBM.

"We targeted people in the Work-force Program, giving them priority to fill the student slots available," said Daniel P. Sullivan, Chairman of the Union County Board of Chosen Prec-holders. "Virtually any job you get

nearly $3 million bond ordinance to These machines."

These machines are sold by American Voting Machines Sequois Pacific of Jamestown, N.Y. The county will be buying about 500 of these, at $5,400 each to replace its aging collection of machines.

The bond ordinance approved last Thursday is worth $2,850,000.

The county's voting machines, stored at warbouses in Sociol Flains and Westfield, are used in all government elections in Union county, including Board of Education, local, county, sates and foeteral elections. According to Sullivan, the new machines will not be delivered in time for this year's general election in November. He said they will be used for any special elections in order to familiarize the public and the Board of Elections with them. Representatives of several companies pitched their machines to the county. The AVC model made by American Voting Machines was in the forefront, it was demonstrated at the March 7 freeholders meeting.

The old AVM machines will be given away to colleges and labor unions for use in their elections.

The county has already spent about 10 years and gone through several plans on the expansion. Buying the machines would clear out the space needed for the current expansion plan. However, Sullivan said, the county is not ready to begin the expansion just yet.

"Wo're looking at the renovations for the lab and the police department in the context of the overall capital budget," he said.

'Mattress' thrills audiences with mature cast

All a theater goer has to do is to walk into the auditorium at Union High School and look around to be astounded. A magnificent, realistic setting of a castle in modieval days aurounds the stage and the balconies on both sides of the stage that is rominiscent of the creative work of Michael Anania, sonic director at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn. In fact, thanks to Peter Avagiliano, technical director or at seemic designer of the Union High School Performing Ars Company's hugely ambitious production of "Once Upon a Maturess," and his innuentable assistants among the strudents and satiff who helpod make scenery changing a tomation of the Union High School these days is not unlike walk-free the manual process. walking into Union High School these days is not unlike walk-ing into the Jepper Mill Playhouse. This could be a great weekend to travel to an out-of-town location for from and relaxation. So be sure to get your car checked and all the mainte-nance done early in the week. A co-worker has a suggestion on a great destination. Keep your eyes and ears

Taurus

April 21-May 21

Clear your desk early in the week to open yourself up to some great possibilities. Your readiness will play very well throughout the office and upstain. Be prepared to deal with a difficult family situation as the week draws to a cloos. Stay level-headed. draws to a close. Stay level-headed.

Gemini May 22-June 21

NAMP 22-JUNE 21

Look to a family member for some help concerning a difficult situation. When the problem gets worked out, take time to thank him or her in a creative way. This is a good week to start that exercise and diet program you've been putting off.

Cancer June 22-July 22

It's home improvement time. Gather the family to get things going.

But to be on the safe side, depend on some professional help for the more detailed tasks. Between work and home, be careful about taking on too much to get everything done.

Leo July 23-Aug. 23

July 25-Aug. 23
Don't avoid the difficult situation that rears its ugly head this week. Plunge right in and get it behind you before it gets worse. You'll feel a whole lot better when things are resolved. Make some extra time to do some volunteer work for a local organization.

Virgo
Aug. 24-Sept. 22
Be careful about taking time off work for frivolous things. You may need the time in the fature for more important obligations. Even if you are really busy and on't have much time, spend some of it with a family member who really needs you.

Union resident's efforts give her students a future

By Bea Smith
Staff Writer
There isn't any teacher around the state who is more proud of four of her students than Lynda Dean of Union, senior art teacher at Irvington High School, where she has taught for 27

School, where she has taught tor 27 years.

"This year, my advanced art students in my art latented class at Irvington High School have given me a special incentive," explained Dean during a, recent visit to this office. With obvious pride shining in her eyes, she said, "Four of my students, all juniors, were accepted to Cooper Union Institute, New York City, to work on mursis. On Cot. 15, 1997, the Dodge Foundation offered a grant of $1,000 for a mural encouraging adecation, poetry and personal achievemen."

On Peb. 7, three of Dean's students, Ris Marquaz, Farougi Amin, Brenda Soto, and the fourth, Candie Garcia of Roselle Park, a former student, who now attends Noselle Park High now attends Roselle Park High School, were interviewed, and on Feb. 14, they were accepted out of 300 applicants at the Portfolio Review

Division at Cooper Union School, New York City, for the spring Satur-day Outreach Program for gifted sophomores and juniors in art. A total day Outreach Program for gitted sophomores and juniors in art. Acids of 36 nationwide were chosen. It all came about when "his year, I took over the position of senior an teacher at Irvington High School," explaimed Dean. "And part of the program is teaching advanced an sur-dents, namely juniors and seniors. A lot of them are seriously interested in pursuing an art career. I've been helping them to propare a portfolio and apply to schools. Four in particular that showed excensional talent and were the right see — juniors — went for an interview and portfolio review to Cooper University.

"Actually," she said, "I went with them on a Saurudy to show them the way and how to take public transportation. And they appreciated it. We felt at I am. and we were among the first 20 to arrive. We go to at about 11 am. I had a ticket to the Metropolitan Museum, and they accompanied and setched as the messem all afternoon. We really made a day of it."

The program at Cooper Union Institute runs for eight Saurudya in a companie of the students of the state of the school, to have four at one fourth with the school, to have four at one time accepted at Cooper Union Institute and the school, to have four at one time accepted at Cooper Union Institute. This never been, in the history of the school, to have four at one time accepted at Cooper Union Institute, Maybe I push the kids a little harder, but they are all so emhassisation." If one of the students, Ria Marney were "maded, sinch terminal state of the state of Mayoe I pasts the kids a linite harder, but they are all so enthusiatio." If one of the students, Rita Marquei, was "pushed a little harder," she midobibled did not mind, becauses her pastel drawing, "Nude Racer," was ascleted by a jury for eshibit at Morris Museum from April 12 to June 6. Filty-five works from more than 6.00 throughout New Jersey were selected. Dean, who was born in Penusylvania, graduated from Edinboro University in Erie, Pa., where she received a bachelor of science degree in teaching. She went to graduate school at Prati Institute and received a master of fine arts degree. "Since then," she recalled, "I did work in the fashion institute of Technology, had designed handbags and sold them on the market nationwide. They were called Mina Handbags.

"I also studio deramics at Kean College of New Jersy, now Kean University in Union. But I'm going back into painting now. It's always been my first love. I do a tot of figure painting. Lately, I've been influenced by landscapes due to a cross country car tift to see America's beauty, particularly the southwest."

In addition to being an art teacher for the past 27 years at Irvington High School, Dean said, "I'm also the fasti-"I also studied ceramics at Kean ion design instructor and I teach cer-amics and crafts. I sold a lot of ceram-ics and of course, handbags, too. I also teach graphic design on the Mackin-teach graphic design on the Mackin-toch computer. We're going to use part of the funding to purchase a print-er and drawing coguipment for the stu-dents to finalize their mural designs." The senior art teacher, whose ambi-tions are reaching higher these days, can attribute these incentives to her "very talented students." If four made it this year, how many more will make it next year?

it next year?
"That's a good question," she smiled -confidently. "These four inspire a teacher to go the extra mile."

Four art students from Invington High School were accepted to Cooper Union Institute, New York City, on a $1,000 grant. From left are Rita Marquez, who will be exhibiting her work at the Morris Museum next month, Lynda Dean of Union, art teacher; Brenda Soto and Farougi Amin. Absent from picture is Candie Garcia.

New 'bug' has passion for driving

Like all of roday's Volkswagers, the New Beetle expresses the German engineering passion of designing and building cars with exceptional road-holding qualifies. It begins with an extra rigid body structure and four-wheel independent supension system, both of which help give the New Beetle a rock-solid feel. The from supersion uses a MacPherson strut design with control arms, stabilizer but and coil spring struts. The rear suspension employs a row solid programs of the rear suspension employs the supersional programs. "V" profile independent torsion beam axle with integral sway bar and trail-ing arms. The New Beetle comes standard with power-assisted track and pinion stering and 16-inch all-season tites. An anti-lock braking system is optional, and standard stopping power is provided by large, power-assisted, deal-diagonal circuit ventialted front discs and solid rear discs.

Active safety in the New Beetle comes from its procise handling, the security of front-wheel drive, advanced braking and other accident avoidance sids like daytime running lights.

For protection when an accident can't be avoided, the New Beetle offers a highly advanced passive safety system that comprises a multitude of state-of-the-art safety features and structural elements designed to work together to help protect its occupants.

together to help protect its occupants. This system begins with the New Beello's exceptionally rigid body surveture that includes energy absorbing crumple zones. In a severe erash, these deformation zones sacrifice thrmschees in an accordion-like fashion, absorbing the energy to help spare the critical central structure.

This system works in concert with an advanced supplemental restraint system. In addition to front driver and passenger airbags, the New Beetle uses a new seat belt tensioning system that tightens and optimally positions

Lexus combines style and efficiency

Admantic hint of what's in the future for luxury sedans, the Lexus HPS, High Performance Sedan, concept which combines advanced styling with innovative packaging efficiency and provides a showcase for avariety of new Lexus technologies expected in the next future. HPS is a creation of Lexus parent company's design studio Japan. It is a high-performance luxury sedan, with priorities placed on compact and ninhole exterior size, we have prowerful yet efficient engine output, superior comerting, ample interior comfort and advanced levels of stability and safety.

Loxus designers sought to redefine the classic performance chassis layout of front engine/rear wheel drive. The HPS takes a step beyond so-called "cab-forward" designs and provides the cabin and runk space of large prestige luxury models, yet occupies the nimbler footprint of small-temperature and the performance and handling benefits associated with rear drive cars, yet space officiency most commonly associated with front-wheel drive. As a result, weight is minimized and accordynamic properties are enhanced to benefit acceleration and handling performance.

enhanced to benefit acceleration and handling performance. The aggressive front-end design embodies the spirit of the ground-breaking Lexus Coupe in sport sedan form. Its dramatic headilphs incorporate self-leveling high intensity discharge lamps with inboard high bearms located in numbered enclosures. The signature inboard/outboard beam lighting arrangement is continued in the tailight theme. Extremely short front and rear decks and minimal body overhangs generate a taut, muscular stance. Subtle fender bilisters emphasize the 18-inch performance wheels and tries, instally conveying the case is intensity beging its long greenhouse and short deck lengths, trunk space is exceptionally deep, branks to careful peckaging of rear suspension, fuel tank and other components.

The HPS is powered by an all-aluminum 32-valve V-8 The HPs is powered by an all-aluminum 32-vatev 8-6 engine using a newly developed intelligent variable timing system. A first for any V-8 engine, VVTI provides continuously variable adjustment of intake valve timing in response to engine speed and load. This results in superblow-end torque, high power, excellent fuel efficiency and very low emissions. The Lexus HPS V-8 is coupled to an experimental 5-speed transmission which can operate in either of two modes providing fully automatic or electromic manual control. The transmission concept affords the best of both worlds for drivers who enjoy the control of manual stafiting when driving for plassaure, but must contend with urban stop-and-go when driving for ovork.

Jaguar named car of the year

"Robb Report," the world's leading authority on the luxury lifestyle, has named the new Jaguar XJR sedan as its Car of the Year for 1998.

The award — an exquisite crystal trophy from Geary's of Beverly Hills — was presented to Jaguar officials on December 30, 1997 at the Greater Los Angeles Auto Show. This year marks the renowned carmaker's second consecutive win in the award's five-year history. The Jaguar XK8 convertible won "Robb Report" Car of the Year in 1997.

"The Jaguar XJR is a monster in a tuxedo," said Daniel J. Phillips, publisher of "Robb Report." "It looks simple and elegant, but once you step on the throttle, it turns into a sports ca with all the power and performance of a street racer. We congratulate Jaguar for a job well done and wish it success with this superior vehicle."

Competition for the grand honor for 1998 was flerce, with 11 luxury vehicles selected as finalists, repre-senting the largest and most diverse field ever considered. The Audi A6 licid ever considered. The Audi Ao Quattro sedan, Mercedes-Benz's highly regarded ML320, and the sleek Porsche Boxster are just a few of the distinctive vehicles that were under consideration for this year's award.

The magazine assembled a panel of highly respected automotive journalists for the "Robb Report" 1998 Car of the Year Selection Committee, including Ken Gross, who penned the Car of the Year Feature for the magazine, Paul Dean, automit e columists for the Los Angeles Times and "Robb Report" contributing writer, Dennis Adler, automotive writer, photographer, and "Robb Report" auto historian; Christopher Jensen, automotive colior for the Cleveland Plain Dealer and "Robb Report" contributing auto ditior; Steven Castle, editor of "Robb Report," and Daniel J. Phillips, publisher of "Robb Report."

publisher of "Robb Report."

The panel selected the XJR for its ultimate blend of luxury, performance and style. The car represents the princale of Jaguz's new series of V-8-powered XJ sedams. Nearly, excepting inside had been improved: the remote transmitter, all the interior controls and switches; six-position, variable intermittent wipers; one-touch window controls; a new analog clock and an LOD message center that clock and an LCD message center that "speaks" 12 languages; a Harman Kardon storeo, and a new security system with over one billion possible

The Jaguar XJR offers a unique balance of power, design, comfort, and safety with a supercharged 32-valve, V-8 engine, dual frontal and side air bags, traction control, ABS, and an interior trimmed in birds-eye maple and leather.
