What does Elizabeth have in common with Houston and

What does Enzaged in the Los Angeles?

Well, for one thing, all three have been selected for a test of air quality.

Starting next month, the Environmental and Occupational Health Science Institute, EOHSI, will begin testing the air breathed by ten volunteers in the city. This is a pilot test that will be followed up, later in the year, by a program ten times as large.

The Relationship between Indoor, Outdoor and Personal Air test will evaluate just that: outdoor air, indoor air in the volunteers' homes and "personal" air. Personal air is air aft that the volunteers breath as they go about their daily activities and will be measured by monitors worn on their persons.

Dr. Clifford Weisel of EOHSI said that this test will Dr. Chifron Weisel of EOHSI sad that this test will measure three different types of pollutants. As a result, he will be looking for volunteers living within a few blocks of facilities like dry cleaners, gas stations, roadways and other sources of pollution.

The pollutants to be measured will be:

a Volatile organic compounds that are generated from the burning of gasoline in cars and trucks. These include benzene and toluene.

• Particulate matter, such as smoke. Weisel will be looking at particulate matter whose particles are 2.5 microst size; Wiesel said that these particles are easily inhaled.
• Aldehydes, such as formaldehyde. These are found in smog and are created by the burning of peroteum fuel, but also from indoor sources, like pressed wood.
Some of these, like the aldehydes, are "somewhat irritating" to people, said Weisel.
Others are more harmful. According to Weisel, substances like benzene, formaldehyde and 1.3-butadiene are carcinogens: substances that cause or at least increase the risk of cancer
The last time a similar study was done in Elizabeth was in the 1970s, when the federal Environmental Protection Agency conducted the Total Exposure Assessment Methodology, or TEAM, test.
This was similar to the testing that is soon to begin in the city in that it sets de personal, outdoor and, to some extent, try in that it sets de personal, outdoor and, to some extent,

When asked why Elizabeth was selected as a test site by his organization, Weisel said, "We are looking for a residential are that had a combination of industrial, commercial, traffic."

The tests were generally welcomed.

Daniel P. Sullivan, chairman of the Union County Bo of Chosen Freeholders, said that the county government would be interested in the results of the test.

"Any information affecting the health of residents is important to us," Sullivan said.

important to us." Sullivan said.

"I think it's excellenc." said Bob Carson of the Union County Concerned Clüzens, an athi-incineration group. "The EPA is actually in litigation right now over new regulation in particulate matter and ozone and it would be very interesting to see these." Apparently, the Elizabeth test will complement the tests done in Houston and Los Angeles.

The Los Angeles cest will be more concerned with missions from automobiles while the Houston test, carried out by the Chiversity of Texas, will be more concerned with industrial missions.

According to Parrish, Elizabeth is similar to Los Angeles and Houston in that it has some of the worst air in the country. In fact, Elizabeth is second lowest in air quality in the nation, recently bumping Houston to the number three slot and exceeded only by Los Angeles.

three soot and exceeded only by Los Angeles.

Parish said that the area of Elizabeth, Jersey City and Newark is the largest "ozone non-attainment system" on the east coast. This means the air in the three cities has high levels of the noxious gas ozone.

He added that there are pockets in Elizabeth where four out of every ten children have been hospitalized for asthma eight times the national average.

The area around Elizabeth is home to a number of large-scale industries and polluters.

These include the UCUA incinerator in Rahway, the These include the UCUA incinerator in Rabway, the incinerator in Elizabeth, the hazardous wase incinerator in Newark, the Bayway peroleum refinery in Linden and several major highways: Routes 1&9, the Garden State Parkway and, the New Jersey Tumpike. But, said Weisel, the study will be based in Elizabeth, so the emissions from facilities outside the city, like the UCUA incinerator, probably won't be detected.

According to Weisel, the RIOPA test will carry out more sensitive tests in the late fall or winter, measuring the amount of harmful heavy metals in the particulate matter collected. This second part of the experiment will include 100 volunteers from both Elizabeth and Bayonne.

The EPA and state Department of Environmental Pro-tection could soon begin their own gatewide ar-monitoring program, which will measure the same particu-late mater measured by the RIOPA iesus St. John's Eps-cogal Church—Parish's church—is to hold a working on this proposed testing program on June 1 at 12:30 p.m.

If you have any questions about the RIOPA program, call EOHSI at (732) 445-0157.

Building dedicated to Springfield man

Through the efforts of one Springfield man over the course of three decades, housands Union County residents have received a better education. Charles S. Mancuso, vice president of Statewide Savings Bank, based in Fanwood, also has achieved a distinguished career in banking to go along with an wood, also has achieved a distinguished career in banking to go along with an aggressive pursuit of the common good.

Mancuso's efforts on behalf of deucation have been recognized on many occasions and in a variety of ways. The latest accolade came in March when the building housing the Union County Magnet School for Science, Mathematics and Technology was named Mancuso Hall in his honor. Dignitaries from throughout he state were on hand for the dedication ceremonies.

The Magnet School is on the Raritan Road campus of the Vocational-technical Schools, where Mancuso has been a member of the Board of Education for more than 34 years. Eight of these were as board president. During Mancuso's tenure on the board, the county Vo-Tech Schools have risen to imong the best in the state. The number of programs has grown to 32 with an impressive 92-percent graduate job-placement rate.

The Mancuso Hall honoree points to the newly opened Magnet School as another majoar educational accomplishment. "There was a dire need," he said, "or a superlaive program to help kids who are highly gifted in math, science and technology."

"for a superfaire program to neip sus win are men an entering and technology."

A former mayor of Hillside, Mancuso, has played leadership roles in many projects and with many goal-reaching organizations. As a member of the Coordinating Agency for Higher Education, he took part in the formation of the county college system within Union County, becoming a charter member of the New County College Steering Committee. Special recognition of these efforts came during the Mancuso Hall dedication. It was in a the form of a joint commendation-resolution adopted and presented by the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders and the Union County College Board of Governors and

Trustees:
He has also been active with the Union County Educational Services Commission Foundation and the New Jersey School Boards Association. In 1996, Mancuso was formally honored by these two organizations for more than 30 years of service to education.
The retired executive with First Fidelity Bank served for five years as executive director of the Linden Economic Development Corporation. In October 1996, he joined Statewide Savings as vice president of sales and marketing for Union County.

Despite his heavy commitment to education, Mancuso has also found time to participate in professional and community involvement. He served as director of Union County Crimestoppers; Greater Elizabeth Chamber of Commerce, and

According to Eric Whisler, the UCUA's bond counsel, the UCUA must still clarify a number of components regarding the EIC with the state Department of Environmental Protection.

The EIC, a controversial part of the lease agreement, is made up of four components. Each is meant to pay off different parts of the UCUA's debt See Page BIDDING, B2 certain types of waste.

Right now, the UCUA disposes of two types of solid waste, designated by the state as Types 13 and 27, by sending them to J&J Recycling in Elizabeth.

The UCUA's contract with J&J Recycling was set up before 1997, when the state required each county to dispose of its own garbage. The striking down of these laws last year is the reason the UCUA is leasing its incinerator to Ogden Martin.

The state now requires that solid waste disposal contracts be "non-discriminatory" — that they include bids from outside the county or even outside the store

According to Whisler, the UCUA said that its bid had no language requiring that the contractor has to be located in Union County Whisler said that the bid specifica-tions have already been published. The bids should be filed around June 5, with the contract being awarded on June 10.

Union's new Mentor Theater gets a chance at bat

By Jacquie McCarthy
Associate Editor
A commanity's responsibility to perpetuate the arts is all too often the last thing on any political agenda. No one knows this better than Union native Philip J. Salge. A 20-year vecerian of the arts, helithaing arts expected tion and providing a venue for the results is at the top of his agenda.
Salge has established The Mentor unusual," Salge clarified. "And my crassons for that are very simple — actors need to get paid."

According to Salge. The Mentor Theator, will serve a three-fold purpose—to provide a training ground for actors, produce original works, and broaden the scope of the arts in his hometown. "Union is lacking in the cultural arts." Salge asserted. "It's probably not feath of Union, it's probably the feat that no one has steeped up. And we re going to step up and do it." Salge is not the only one steident Robert Delsor, president and head of production of The Philathalians of Fanwood, harse with Sales the desire to facilitations.

shares with Salge the desire to facili-tate performance art in Union proper. "I wanted to form my own group in Union. I didn't have the resources." Peiser admitted. An introduction to Salge helped forge a fortuitous part-nership, as Salge offered Peiser the position of artistic director.

"Bob is an artistic genius," said Salge, "I need to have him with me. Sarge, "I need to have him with me.
I'm more in the producing end, I'm more in the pay-the-bills end. I need to have Bob, I need to have John, I need to have people behind me."

The aforementioned third member of this joint venture is playwright John O'Reilly, friend to Salge for 15 years. O'Reilly has penned "Bottom of the Ninth," the first production at

at the Pub Zone in Union.
Salge is deeply grateful to Pub Zone owner Marie Kerkoules.

Salge is deep, Salge is deep, Salge is deep, Salge is deep, Salge is death, because she gave the Mentor Theater the chance. She says I can stay there forever. "There" is a 45-seat capace space should be salged in the salged of the tavern, where

"I've been in sheater for 20 years," he continued. "I've worked all around he traite, all around New York. My goal is to have a 500-seat theater somewhere in Union County, and hopefully a union contract in the faure, both technical and Actor's Egulity, I've always wanted to run my own performing arts center, so this is a stepping stone." Paying actors right from the Egning is a small step in that direction. "We're calling it an honorarium." Salge continued. "The normal International Paying is a small pit you're in the media in New high if you're in the media in New Paying the state of the state o "I've been in theater for 20 years area, too.

"I'm going one step above," Salge stead. "I'm paying right now. I'm not going to wait. I think what we have at the Pbu Zone is very unique. What we have is a good deal, and I'm going to just treat it as a regular busines. "Our arts in education is going to teach drama right off the bat," Salge projected. Peiser himself plays the role of Inspector Morris. "One by one, different people come in and I interrogate them. In between that, Ed Delahanty, since he doesn't recall exactly what happens himself, he cavosdrops on what is going on." As a period piece, Salge has arranged to have the actors costumed in replicas of original 1903 baseball outfliss.

Salge said the story is similar to the lm "Eight Men Out."

Sweet country rhythm, traces of which can be found in Monkees' tunes, wrapped themselves around "Lovey Dovey," with Tork on vocals and featuring serious mouth harp by Tadg Calleran. "Comn Find Her" found the gangly Tork doing his familiar bop, which was contagious.

"Hitchnike" was a take-no-isoners blues exploration, with Galprisoners blues exploration, with Galeran's rockin' mouth harp again taking control. And, of course, no Shoo Suede Blues set would be complete without the inexorable "Blue Suede Shoes" and Tork's best Elvis sneer.

The band hit into a deep and abid-

As concerns the briginal muse. The Characters have definitely got the sound down. Lyrically, the band has made a sound investment in chiehe, but it works.

It's got to be hard for musicians with so much character to be the opening band, but there were no complaints from the audience. # Location may not be most important for buyers

Most prospective home buyers have heard the old adage that the drace most important factors to consider when buying real estate are "location, location, location, location, location, location, location, sider in any real estate transaction, which is why home buyers and sellers chouse to work; with real estate professionals.

demonstrate that location is indeed significant.
"People who have bought real estate, especially those who have had a number of transactions, are aware of the value of location," said Roger Love, president of the Greater Union County Association of Realtors.

"However, first time home buyers should be careful to choose a location that meets their needs, even if it means paying a little more," he said.
"A bargain found in a less-than-alternatement location might book to advantageous location might look to be a good deal, but its chances for

be a good deal, but its chances for resale may be lower." The N/AR survey found that value of location is unique to the buyer interests. Home buyers with growing families are likely to look for a neighborhood with proximity to work and schools. Retired home buyers consider availability of shopping a higher priority, the survey shows. "Neighborhoods are key to the type of environment the buyer is searching for," Love said. "For example, neighborhoods surrounding elementary schools tend to attract families with young children. This won't necessari-

Home sales are going gangbusters Weichert Realtors.

After announcing just one month ago that sales in March hit an all-time company high, the nation's largest individually owned real estate company recently reported record-setting April sales — to make March and April the two best single months ever recorded in company history. The combined volume for the two record back-to-back months totaled an unprecedented $3.3 billion.

back-to-back months totaled an unprecedented $3.3 billion. In releasing the new figures, James M. Welchert, president, said the company's March/April volume is a whopping 34 percent aheâd of the same period last year. That high percentage of increase is even more impressive given that 1997 was a record year for Weichert Realtors. The Weichert president stated, 'The sales numbers are staggering and reflect both the tremendous lega this market has and the outstanding.

With strong demand edging up prices, our associates are actively working with more highly motivated buyers than ever before. We see no let-up and expect the mark-et's momentum to propel us into the summer."

summer."
Along with Weichert Realtors' record home sales, affiliated Weichert companies reported substantial increases in business as well. Weichert affiliates offer one-stop shopping convenience to Weichert homebuyers and homesellers as well as the public at large.

At Mortgage Access Corp., which has mortgage representatives serving each Weichert sales office, mortgage activity in March and April was 36 percent ahead of last year. The Weichert affiliate reported that growing numbers of homebuyers are oping to "apply before you buy" through a special program called "It's a SNAP" is a written approval before the buyer finds a home. Once the buyer goes to contract on a property, the SNAP approval can convert to a traditional At Mortgage Access Corp., which

Timing involved in sale of a home can be tricky

This is the time of year when Coldwell Banker sales associates across the tri-state area are asked the same question: "Shall I put my house on the market first and then look for a house or shall I find a house I like and then put my house on the market?"

The best answer to 'this question is, "It depends."

The timing involved in boying and selling a house depends upon how much money you have, the kind of house you want to buy, the amount of risk you are willing to take, and the market in general.

In most cases, if you want to sell a house and buy another, a Coldwell Banker sales associate will suggest you spend a little due looking at the houses on the market so you know what's available. After you've looked around a little, put your house on the market and wait until you have a contract to sell it. Then look for a house to buy. This system works best for most buyers and is the most conservative approach in terms of finances.

In today's market, where it's often easier to sell a house than to find a finances.

In today's market, where it's often easier to sell a house than to find a house to buy, your Coldwell Banker sales associate might suggest that you shop for a house firm and then put yours on the market. This system works well for homeowners in a position to come up with a down payment and quality for a mortgage without selling their house first. A few things in life go as smoothly as planned. Homeowners stometimes sell their house right away and can't get into their new house soon enough, or in, "looking around," find their dream house and have to act right sway before they can sell.

Homeowners and their real estate agents often have to face challenges in timing their sale and purchase, and there are a number of ways a Colfight work with the confine and their real estate agent so then you would be a sell to the state agent can help. A professional real estate agent know bow to use confingencies in contracts, bridge loans, flexible closing dates, and even short term retails to bridge eth e-motional, chronological and financial gaps between selling and buying a house. Now, by combining a revolutionary multi-link front suspension with the Pessat's improved structural rigidity. Vollswagon has taken this to a new level of perfection.

Developed within the Voltswagon foroup, this innovative front suspension seeks to perfect the front-wheel drive concept. Its four-link design creases a virtual center steering axis in which the wheels are steered directly from their center points, rather than at the end of lever arms as was previous—the steering for the control in the driveling during hard acceleration or braking.

Instead, even when secclerating through a curve, the Passat's new suspension provides a stright line sability that is instantaneous and precise with a neutral behavior that progresses to a slight, forgiving understeer.

The 1998 Passat GLS is the first Volkswagon to be powered by a unique 1.8 liter four-cylinder engine featuring the automaker's innovative five-valve technology.

Providing substantial, six cylinderlike power and performance, this innovative powerplant uses a turbo charger and an intercooler for cool charger and an Intercooler for cool, high-density intake at — a basic ingredient of power. Of course, its five valves per cylinder provide for excellent topend breathing, and the double overhead carmshafts provide for optimal valve control. All of this is built into a compact and efficient long-stroke 1.8 liter four-cylinder package. The result: 150 horsepower at 5,700 revolutions per minute and 1,750 to 4,600 rpm — an extraordinarily flat torque all the way from 1,750 to 4,600 rpm — an extraordinarily flat torque curve that provide plenty of pulling power from the low end through the top.

Fairway is a fun center for the whole family

In addition to being the largest golf range operation in the northeast with their 140-booth driving range, Fairway Golf Center is a family-oriented golf recreation facility offering a full scope of golf activities plus baseball and softball batting cages, and a Grand Prix Go-Kart track. Fairway is a family entertainment center that all ages can

Along with their fully PGA staffed proshop, indoor and outdoor putting greens, practice sand bunkers and computerized golf simulators, Fairway packs even more fun into their Grand Prix and Mini Prix Go-Karts, Gold Rush Adventure Miniature Golf, and eight softball and baseball batting cages, offering slow, medium and fast pitch

The quarter-mile Grand Prix Go-Kart track is thrilling with its action-packed turns and fast-paced straightaways. It's exciting for both kids and adults. And the Mini Prix provides a safer, first-time track for the younger ones. The Gold Rush Adventure Mini Golf brings back the days of Sutter's Mill and the determined prosepectors sifting for gold in winding, rushing streams, dark caves, and spectacular waterfalls among the rustic California scenery.

Fairway packs all the excitement and glamour of the Gold Rush days into New Jersey's most challenging miniature golf COURSE.

Fairway Golf Center's various functions serve as ideal formats for parties and special events for children, corporations, or general theme use, and may be used in combination or individually.

The next time you're trying to find somewhere to take the family, your sales force, or to host a child's birthday party, think of Fairway Golf Center. The whole crew will undoubtedly find fun there.

NY Tourism department provides information for disabled travelers

Through a survey of area restaurants. accommodations, campgrounds, attractions and town offices, the Warren County Tourism Department in Lake George, NY has compiled a pamphlet which references various types of accessibility and assistance for handicapped visitors to the area.

The newly produced booklet indicates such assistance as telephone amplification, large print menus and literature, CCTV, parking, restroom and entrance accessibility, hard surface picnic sites, as well as a number of modified rooms that an accommodation may offer, and more.

African Penguins will make a splash at the New Jersey State Aquarium this summer. "Inguza Island," the squarium's newest exhibit containing up to 20 penguins, is slated to open in early July. These blackand-white birds, indigenous to the southern tip of Africa and sometimes referred to as Blackfooted Penguins, will take up residence in "Inguza Island" in a two-tiered 17.000-gallon pool with both above and underwater viewing areas. This outdoor exhibit will be situated between TroutStream, the first exhibit visitors can enjoy while strolling through the gates, and the popular Scal Shores, where mammal trainers lead seals through several shows daily.

Twice daily public feedings of the penguins wil be followed by an information and question-and-answer session with aquarium staff. These two-foot-tall birds weigh in at about 6 pounds and consume about 20-25 percent of their body weight daily.

Known for their donkey-like braying, these animals, classified as "threatened" by the American Zoo and Aquarium Association, are part of the Special Survival Program.

The program, started in 1981 as a cooperative population management and cooperative program for selected species in aquariums and zoos in North America. promotes the breeding of these species to maintain a healthy and self-sustaining captive population.

The NJ State Aquarium, located on the Delaware River Waterfront in Camden, is a regional educational attraction featuring marine life exhibits for people of all ages. For more information or advance tickets. call (800) 616-JAWS.

Scientist invents a better flying disc It took 20 years, but thanks to the efforts and ingentity of one scientist, a new and what many consider a better flying disc toy has been created. The scientist is Alan Adler, an electrical engineer who had built instrument systems for military aircraft and nuclear reactors. He taught himself aerodynamics in order to design sailboats, and applied those principles to his flying disc.

He has already invented numerous flying sport toys. The most famous is the Aerobie flying ring. In 1986 it set the Guiness World Record for the farthest thrown object: 1,257

According to Adler, stability is the most clusive goal in disc design. He solved that by designing a disc with a concave outer rim with spoiler lips both above and below the plane of the disc. These spoilers create turbulent airflow that confines the center of lift to the center of

Special Olympics annnounces the 1998 NJ Summer Games

Many of the 2,000 athletes participating in the 1998 New Jersey Special Olympic Summer Games have hopes of competing in the upcoming Special Olympics World Games, which are held every four years in alternating winter and summer seasons, will be held in Raleigh-Durham, North Carolina during the week of July 26 to July 4, 1999. In 1999 the games will include 7,000 Special Olympics Athletes from 150 countries around the world.

Locally, the 1998 New Jersey Special Olympics Summer Games will be held May 29-May 31 at the College of New Jersey in Ewing. Opening Ceremonies will take place on May 29 at Lions Stadium in the College of New Jersey. The program will begin at 7:30 p.m., and include a parade of athletes; the culmination of the Law Enforcement Torch Run, a concert by John Cafferty and the Beaver Brown Band; and fireworks. Admission to Opening Ceremonies and competitions throughout the weekend is free and competition results will be posted on their website.

All gold medalists will be eligible for the 1998 World Games Training camp to be held at the end of July, from which athletes will be selected for Team USA. The Team U.S.A. delegation will consist of 2,692 athletes from all 50 states. Team USA-New Jersey will include 68 athletes of all ability levels from throughout the Garden State, have added the excitement of qualifying for World Oames. However, each year Opening Ceremonies is filled with shouts of triumph from athletes because they have already completed several qualifying events to reach the state games. We are inviting everyone to come out and cheer for their hometown ethletes. There are some real heroes in their communities," said Lillian Narvaez, director of Training and Competition of New Jersey Special Olympics.

The 1998 Summer Games include competitive events in Aquatics, Bocce, Gymnestics, Powerlifting, Sailing, Softball, Tennis, Table Tennis, and Track and Field. Athletes participate in divisions based on ability, gender and age, where appropriate "Ability grouping is the cornerstone of divisioning in Special Olympics programs throughout the world. By placing athletes in divisions that included no more than eight and no less than three athletes or teams of similar ability, we ensure fair competition and give each athlete the opportunity to excel," said Marc S. Edenzon, president of the New Jersey Special Olympics.

The mission of the Special Olympics is to provide year-round sports training and athletic competition in 23 Olympic-type sports to children and adults with developmental disabilities, including mental retardation.

A tropical paradise can be found on the coast

Vacationing in a tropical island paradise can be a reality.

Visiting the eight destinations of the Lee Island Coast of Florida, especially during the bargain summer and fall months, one can find the best of tropical pleasures - fabulous beaches - plus a host of amenities and

Each destination has wonderful resorts restaurants and shopping, natural wonders and lots of things to do!

Go golfing, play tennis, tour gallaries and go boutique shopping. Take a bike ride on a safe, tree-canopied trail.

And, oh, those sparkling waters! After fishing, swimming or playing in the Gulf of Mexico, watch a spectacular sunset from a sesside cafe Sanibel and Captiva Islands most capture the free and easy spirit of a true tropical hideaway. The islands' tranquil beaches washed by gentle surf rolling in from the Gulf of Mexico, are a treasure of beautiful seashells. More than half of Sanibel is preserved as a wildlife sanctuary, home to abundant wildlife.

Fort Myers Beach, Estero Island, has a wide shoreline that gently slopes into the gulf, making it an ideal spot for family vacations. Try parasailing, water skiing and Fun and energetic Fort Myers Beach has many parks, recreation areas and marinas. Rent a self-piloted boat - or choose from boating and fishing charters and see if you can spot a playful dolphin!

There are also evening dining and dancing cruises, as well as offshore gambling. To leisurely enjoy the island's backwaters, stroll an elevated boardwalk through the Matanzas Pass Wilderness Preserve

Just minutes form the Gulf is Fort Myers. rich in Old South ambience and history. Once the winter retreat of Thomas Edison and Henry Ford, their stately homes are now popular attractions. The historic riverfront area features both charming cafes and fine dining. After sundown, the city comes alive with a variety of theaters and nightspots.

Surrounded by water, Cape Coral is a natural for fishing and boating enthusiasts. It has more than 400 miles of saltwater and freshwater canals - more than Venice, Italy - plus some of the area's best golf and tennis facilities

Children will love the 12-acre water park and Children's Science Center.

For a relaxing inland water adventure. canoe down Bonita Springs' Imperial River or take a water tour through the Telegraph Cypress Swamp in North Fort Myers.

On Boca Grande, visit a quaint fishing village and historic lighthouse. Kayak the estuaries for a close-up view of palican, egret and ibis nesting areas. Boca Grande and Pine Island are surrounded by some of the world's most famous fishing waters; tarpon abound!

To further delight fishing fans, Leheigh Acres has 16 well-stocked freshwater lakes

County pool discount cards on sale guality State Licensed

The Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders has announced that Family Discount Cards for the county pools in Rahway and Wheeler parks are available for purchase.

"The cards, which will be honored at either pool, offer each immediate family member the opportunity to obtain a 30-visit card at a substaintial discount over the regular daily admission price," said Freeholder Chairman Daniel P. Sullivan. "For a Union County family of four, two adults and two children, there could be a savings of 50

Family discount cards will be on sale through June 19. After June 19, individual discount cards will be sold at the pool in 10and 30-visit quantities.

"Although there is a savings to realized when purchasing an individual discount card, it is definitely in the best interest of families to be part of the advance sales," said

All people who purchase discount cards should note that admission to the pools is on a first-come, first-serve basis. Possession of a discount card does not guarantees admittance and is not considered to be a reservation or club membership. For safety reasons, when the pools have reached capacity, no further admissions will be allowed, whether or not a person has a discount card.

The County's pools are outdoor facilities with handicapped accessible features. They will open on June 20. John Russell Wheeler Pool is located on Stimpson Avenue, Linden, off Route 1 South, while Walter E. Ulrich Memorial Pool is in Rahway River Park, off of Valley Road, and Clark and St Georges avenues in Rahway.

Sessions at the pools vary as to day and times, so the public is urged to contact the pool they wish to attend or the Division of Parks and Recreation for an information sheer. A schedule of swim lessons and classes can also be obtained by calling the county's parks office.

To obtain a Family Discount Card, individuals must complete and return an application form in-person to the Union County Administration Building, Elizabethtown Plaza in Elizabeth before June 19, Proof of residency will be required at the time of purchase. The fee is $200 for Union County residents, $400 for out-of-county families. Regular daily admission for county residents is $4 per adult, $3 for children. Senior citizen daily admission is $3.40 for county residents. Identification is required to purchase admission to either pool.

For further information, contact the Union County Division of Parks and Recreation at (908) 527-4900.

well-loved musicals under the stars, Playsin-the-Park of Edison has announced its upcoming summer fare.

According to theater representative Jackie Neill, "Our 1997 season was a blockbuster, and 1998 promises to be even bigger."

Opening the 1998 season will be "The Who's 'Tommy' ", the Broadway sensation based on the classic rock opera by Pete Townsend of The Who. The winner of five 1993 Tony Awards, including a Best Score trophy for Townsend, "Tommy" will run from June 23 through July 3.

Following "Tommy" will be "She Loves Me," the romantic tale of feuding coworkers who are actually pen-pal lovers. The show - which features a score by Sheldon Harnick and Jerry Bock, who composed 'Fiddler on the Roof' - is based on a Hungarian story which inspired the Van Johnson film "The Shop Around the Comer." "Sho Entering its 36th season of presenting Loves Me" will be presented July 15 to 25. In the third slot is the ever-popular "My Fair Lady," the musical which made a starout of Julie Andrews. The Lerner and Loewe. adapation of George Bernard Shaw's "Pvgmalion" plays Aug. 5 to 15.

Closing the season will be "Jerry's Girls." a musical collage of the songs made famous by the leading ladies of Jerry Herman's musicals, including "Mame," "Hello, Dolly!" and "La Cage aux Folles." The season finale runs from Aug. 25 through Sept. 4.

Plays-in-the-Park, sponsored by the Middiesex County Board of Chosen Frecholders, is located in Roosevelt Park adjacent to the Menlo Park Mall in Edison. All shows run for 10 performances, which begin at 8:30 p.m. Ticket prices are $3 per person, with children age 12 and under admitted free.

Golf center finishes

Construction is almost finished with Fairway Golf Centers' most innovative idea vet. Located at 1650 Stelton Road in Piscataway, the 18-hole bent grass putting course is going to be the most popular golf attraction in Central New Jersey. By using the same top-notch golf course designers as they used for their 9-hole par-3 golf course, "Royal Dunes," the new bent grass putting course should prove to be very well-designed and new putting course fabulously manicured. It will be a fantastic practice opportunity for everyone, and a true test of skill for all the best putting strokes. Putting makes up 43 percent of the game of golf, so Fairway is heading in the right direction providing a challenge in one of the most important and most under-practiced areas of the game. Stop by or call Fairway Golf Center at (732) 819-0111 for more details and opening dates.

The show that's become a legend makes history with an all new production!

Group travel is increasing. reports tourism industry

North Americans like to travel. The tourism industry is learning they especially like to travel in groups.

In 1995, group tour travelers contributed more than $11.6 billion to the North American economy. The group travel industry employed more than 141,000 full-time equivalent jobs in the US alone.

More than 25 million people went on group tours in North America during 1996. An economic impact study by the National Tour Association showed groups spent more than $6,000 per day on food, souvenirs, lodging and entertainment while on a mulitday tour. The group tour industry has grown by 39 percent since 1993, and it's become "a vital segment of our thriving industry," said Janice McIlwain, president of the National Tour Association

"More and more people are realizing that group travel is more convenient and a hetter value than trying to plan and take a trip independently," McIlwain added.

She said the study showed tour travelers make more of a financial impact on a community than their independent counterparts. They spend $157 per person per day on multi-day tours, as opposed to $110 for an independent traveler staving overnight at a hotel or $74 for individuals staying with friends or relatives.

The National Tour Association is comprised of nearly 4,000 North American tourism professionals promoting tour operatorpackaged travel. For more information, call (800) 755-TOUR, ext. 67, or write the National Tour Association, Dept. MR, P.O. Box 3071, Lexington, Ken. 40596-3071.

Festival at Sea offers distinct itinerary

Just as there are cruises for singles, seniors and bridge players, now there's a cruise specifically designed with African-American vacations in mind.

Seven years ago, Festival at Sea, the brainchild of Blue World Travel, was born. Now, it's the only full-ship charter cruise offering a distinct itinerary for African-American travelers. According to Patricia Nicholson Yarbrough, president of Blue World Travel, "The cruise was created to meet the needs and expectations of a segment in the marketplace, but has grown into a popular vacation option for African-American singles, couples, families and friends."

Festival at Sea sails from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., on Celebrity Cruise Lines' luxury liner, MV Century. The ennual Caribbean Sea voyage will visit Montego Bay, Grand Cayman, Cozumel and Key West in 1998.

NJ Transit can take you to all summer destinations

NJ Transit is the way to go again this year to your favorite summer destinations like the Jersey Shore, Great Adventure, MetroStars soccer games, the New Jersey State Actuarium in Camden, Sesame Place and Monmouth Park. This year's NJ Transit summer services program builds upon last year's successes by offering transportation and discounts to more than a dozen popular

For the convenience of customers, the traditional beach packages will be sold this year through ticket vending machines and at ticket windows in Penn Station New York. Newark Penn Station and Hoboken

For frequent and occasional shore visitors. NJ Transit will offer travelers a pass that saves money and eliminates the hassle of driving between neighboring towns. The Hop & Stop weekend shore pass will allow riders umlimited trips between Long Branch and Bay Head on NJ Transit's North Jersey Coast Line. The pass is valid from 6 p.m. Friday through midnight Sunday and the fare is $10. For frequent shore visitors, NJ Transit will also offer an eight-weekend Hop and Stop pass for $75. Eight weekend passes must be purchased for one of two periods: May 22-July 12 or July 17-Sept. 7. In addition, NJ Transit is offering the traditional Bargain Beach Package, which will be sold for Saturday and Sunday admission only from May 23 through June 21, and daily from June 22 through Sept. 7.

The Beach Package, which includes round-trip transportation and beach admission, costs $12 from Hoboken Terminal and Newark Penn Station and $15 from Penn Station New York. The package will save shore travelers up to $4 on the cost of a ticket and beach admission. Participating towns are: Long Branch, Ocean Grove, Asbury Park, Bradeley Beach, Belmar and NJ Transit will also offer service to Seaside Heights and Seaside Park on its No. 67 express bus from Newark or Jersey City or from New York on its No. 137 bus.

NJ Transit has already kicked off its Great Adventure No. 308 and No. 318 bus service and admission package. The No. 308 bus departs from the Port Authority Bus Terminal and Newark Penn Station. The No. 318 bus departs from the Greyhound Bus Terminal in Philadelphia and the Walter Rand Transportation Center in Camden.

Other NJ Transit summer services

· Patrons of Sesame Place in Langhorne, Pennsylvania can purchase NJ Transit's Sesame Place package, which includes a round-trip ticket from any point on the Northeast Corridor rail line and a $4 savings coupon off theme park admission. The discount admission price is $23.95. SEPTA shuttle service is available between Trenton Train Station and Sesame Place for only $2 each way. The packages can be purchased at Newark Penn Station, Penn Station New York, Hoboken Terminal and from ticket agents and ticket vending machines along the Northeast Corridor Line.

· The New Jersey Symphony Orchestra will offer free round-trip transportation on the Northeast Corridor with the purchase of a ticket to the Amadeus Festival at the New Jersey Performing Arts Center in Newark and Princeton University's Richardson Auditorium from July 7 through Aug. 8. The packages will be sold through the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra box office. For ticket information, call (800) ALLEGRO.

· NJ Transit riders will receive $1 off the adult terrace admission to Trenton Thunder baseball games now through Sept. 2 by showing their ticket, pass or receipt at the Trenton Thunder box office.

· Fans attending MetroStars home games at Giants Stadium can receive a $2 discount off a game ticket by taking NJ Transit bus No 351 or Community Coach from the Port Authority Bus Terminal to the game and presenting their receipt at the box office.

· For Philadelphia Phillies baseball fans, a special discount will be offered to select team games at Veterans Stadium. Fans receive the discount when they present their NJ Transit ticket, pass or receipt at the Philadelphia Phillies ticket window.

· NJ Transit is also teaming up with the Philadelphia Zoo, offering $1 admission discount between June 1 and Aug. 21. Zoo visitors can receive the discount when they present their NJ Transit ticket, pass or receipt at the Philadelphia Zoo ticket window. In addition, NJ Transit will operate the Pony Express Train on the Northeast Corridor and North Jersey Coast Line to the Monmouth Park Racetrack, making stops in Newark, Elizabeth, Rahway, Perth Amboy and South Amboy. The fare, which is $9.50 from Hoboken and Newark Penn Station, and $13 from Penn Station New York, includes grandstand admission.

Horse racing aficionados can also save on admisssion when traveling to the Meadowlands Racetrack. Bus riders to the Meadowlands can present their bus receipt at the grandstand pass gate for free admission to the racetrack. From New York's Port Authority Bus Terminal, riders can take the No. 351 or No. 164 bus. From Paterson, riders can board a No. 703 bus.

Traveling to the quaint, quiet town of D Cape May or neighboring Wildwood is as easy as hopping on NJ Transit's No. 316 bus from Philadelphia's Greyhound Terminal, the Walter Rand Transportation Center in Camden or the Avandale Park-and-Ride.

NI Transit can also take you to the excitement and glamour of Atlantic City. NJ Transit's Atlantic City Rail Line trains operate between 30th Street Station in Philadelphia and the Atlantic City Rail Terminal, which is directly adjacent to the new Atlantic City Convention Center. NJ Transit bus service is available from Philadelphia's Greyhound Bus Terminal on the No. 551 bus route.
