Recordation

Room 112 in the Union County Clerk's Office at the courthouse in Elizabeth is dim and a little musty. In this room the employees for companies doing title searches labor quietly, flipping open and closing heavy books that house the records of transactions that have taken place in the county.

Lately, the workers have been competing for space with a group they call "civilians." These non-regulars have been pretty busy lately. An educated guess is that the new visitors include negative political researchers, investigative reporters mixed in with state and federal law enforcement types.

Left Out

By Frank Capece

Since anyone can look at public records, no sign-in or identification is required. But the little copy machine in the room has been doing a bang-up business at a quarter a page for copies for non-public agencies. The added income undoubtedly brings joy to the heart of County Clerk Joanne Rajoppi.

The object in part of this research fervor is the former real estate deals of Acting Gov. Donald DiFrancesco. The opposition research of a political campaign includes the research and "leaking" of material calculated to embarrass. A story in the news last week centered on the sale of real estate in Plainfield involving DiFrancesco and one individual in Garwood who was "implicated in a price-fixing scheme." Mind you, I am not sure what implicated means, but it does sound so ominous for use by opponents. There were even allegations of forgery of DiFrancesco's name.

But if the rumors are to be believed not only is the acting governor the reason for all the page flipping going on at the courthouse. The "trash train" in Linden is also grist for the rumor mill and the page flippers.

Within walking distance of the county clerk, the City Hall in Elizabeth has experienced increased traffic upstairs to Mayor Chris Bollwage's office of people wanting to get married. It isn't necessarily that love is in the air, but rather the importance of Section 245(i) of the immigration laws and the need to get marriages recorded before the end of the month. It is a scam that Bollwage refuses to have any part.

The provision of the law which expires on April 30, allows non-citizen immigrants who have a family member petition for them to receive permanent residency and to get their visas without having to leave the country, while they await citizen status.

The kicker is that if you are in this country illegally and have to leave, your chances of returning

Consumer Bowl champs dethroned

The new Union County Consumer Bowl Championship Trophy went to Russell Carter and his New Providence Pioneer team for beating the three-time county champion Linden High School Tiger team and winning the high school Consumer Bowl competition. Teams representing Governor Livingston Regional High School and Roselle Park High School also competed in the competition at Linden High School last month.

"I am so impressed with how well these students know their consumer rights," Freeholder Chester Holmes said, adding that it is no longer enough to teach the core curriculum in school. "All our teams demonstrated their understanding of Consumer Rights and will know how to respond when necessary."

Sponsored by the Union County Office of Consumer Affairs, the Consumer Bowl was organized as an educational program to assist local high school students to become smarter consumers. Students complete first on a county level with winners going on to compete regionally and then nationally. The students are in family life or business classes and study one unit on consumer economics.

As part of that unit, they learn about the Office of Consumer Affairs.

The Office of Consumer Affairs protects Union County consumers from fraudulent business practices through the enforcement of the New Jersey Consumer Fraud Act and various regulations. They investigate and mediate consumer complaints and provide consumer education and awareness.

Members of the New Providence team who will go on to compete in the regional Consumer Bowl are Susan DuBois, Charles Shutt, Lindsey Rasel, Leeza Kaufman, Naomi Winstein and Carter, their teacher advisor.

Members of the Linden team were Martyna Krysiak, Gregory Taylor, Nejuwah Singley, Chavonne McCray, Marvin Edwards and teacher advisors Marie Wojcek and Antonette Modrak. The members of the Governor Livingston team were Steve Bergeski, Marc Felezzola, Marc Maccarelli, Rob Popovich, Tom Robina and teacher advisor Joe Hubert Jr. Members of the Roselle Park High School team were Mike Litterer, Lokesh Mehta, Polina Mzhen, Minas Niotic, Danielle Weslock and teacher advisor Bruce Coultas.

Chamber honors Mayor of the Year

Plainfield Mayor Albert McWilliams received the Mayor of the Year award from the Union County Chamber of Commerce March 26 at an annual dinner that has grown to be the largest political events of the year in the county.

Mayors or their representatives from all 21 municipalities in Union County were in attendance at the chamber's 12th annual Mayors' Dinner this year at The Westwood in Garwood.

McWilliams received the top honor from the chamber in recognition of his work in revitalizing the city. He has assembled the best economic development team in the region and has taken advantage of Plainfield's Urban Enterprise Zone designation to begin a major turnaround for the once-depressed city.

The mayor also has been a strong supporter of all businesses in the community and a leader in forming the Plainfield Chamber of Commerce, which will have its inauguration in May.

Mayor Michael Tripodi of Kenilworth and Mayor Robert Viglianti of Mounainside also were nominated for their work with the businesses in their communities and for their efforts on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce.

Tripodi played a major role in Schering-Plough's relocation of its corporate headquarters back to Kenilworth and in assembling one of the best collections of restaurants in the state. Under his leadership, Kenilworth also has developed one of the most active chambers of commerce in the region.

Viglianti, who is not only mayor but also a businessman, has helped develop a close relationship between the governing body and the business community. Under his stewardship, there has been a vast improvement in the businesses along Route 22.

"We recognize the importance of economic development in Plainfield," McWilliams said upon accepting the award. "There is $200 million in development planned for the next decade in the city. This will help make Plainfield a different place in five to 10 years from what it has been in the past."

"New Jersey Monthly named Plainfield as one of the top 10 cities in the state in which to live," the mayor said. "The city has experienced decreases in crime in several significant areas and is building partnerships with the county and state to further its development. We are going to bring Plainfield back to where it used to be."

The mayor or representative of each municipality praised the economic development that is being undertaken in their respective communities.

U.S. Rep. Michael Ferguson and Assemblyman Jerry Green, both of whom represent parts of Union County, welcomed the guests and noted the importance of the business community to the successful operation of all municipalities.

Kean Jr. gets nod to fill vacant seat

By Mark Hrywna
Regional Editor

Thomas Kean Jr. as expected was selected by 22nd District Republicans Tuesday night to fill the vacant Assembly seat of Alan Augustine. Kean easily defeated Cranford Township Committeeman Thomas Denny, 290 to 40. William McClintock of Scotch Plains received one write-in vote.

Gathering at The Westwood in Garwood Tuesday night were nearly 300 delegates from throughout the district, which includes parts of Union, Middlesex, Morris and Morris counties. Augustine, who is battling cancer, resigned effective Saturday due to health reasons.

Republicans will meet again on April 16 at 7:30 p.m. in Snuffy's Pan-tagis Renaissance in Scotch Plains to determine who will run for the second Assembly seat in the district. Assemblyman Richard Bagger of Westfield will seek the State Senate seat currently held by Acting Gov. Donald DiFrancesco of Scotch Plains, who is running for governor.

The deadline to file for the June primary is expected to be pushed back from April 12 to April 19. A new redistricting map is expected to be

County closes old jail

By Mark Hrywna
Regional Editor

Despite a last-minute attempt by the labor union representing corrections officers, the county closed the old jail as planned on Sunday. The closing of the old jail went smoothly, according to Union County Manager Michael Lapolla, with only the third and fourth floors remaining open until all transfers are completed.

The county's prisoners will be consolidated into the new jail, built in 1990, across the street from the old jail on Elizabethtown Plaza in Elizabeth. As many as 400 inmates will be sent to a drug rehabilitation facility in Newark. The closure of the old jail and transfer of inmates was proposed after an $8-million gap in the 2001 budget as a result of fewer state prisoners being housed at the county facilities.

Corrections officers continued to come before the freeholder board, attending last week's meeting and calling for the county's governing body to keep the old jail open. An April 18 date has been set for further testimony in court should the union continue to pursue legal action.

Peter Femia, state delegate for Policemen's Benevolent Association 108 representing more than 300 corrections officers, said he still expects problems due to overcrowding and other safety concerns he believes the county has not addressed.

"I'm worried something will happen," Femia said, which is why the union went to court to seek a third party to examine the jail operations and determine whether it is safe. "They don't believe it when it comes from us," he said, alluding to the freeholder board.

Lapolla said the population is manageable and it was "quiet weekend." As of Friday, he said, 76 of the 96 officers laid off had found work with the state or other counties.

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT

Vache hits Rahway this Friday evening

The Arts Guild of Rahway opens its 2001 Concert Program — Jazz Etc. — with Warren Vache Jr. Friday at 8 p.m. All seats are $10, seating is limited, and reservations recommended.

Warren Vache Jr. is a supremely accomplished, versatile and rare performer. On Friday, he returns for another concert at the Arts Guild of Rahway. Despite his relative youth, Vache has pleased audiences worldwide with his magical cornet for three decades through recordings, stage, screen, radio and television performances. He has spent years playing with such greats as Rosemary Clooney, Benny Goodman, Hank Jones, Gerry Mulligan, Woody Herman, Bobby Short and Benny Carter.

Vache has played at major jazz festivals all over the world including The Newport Jazz, JVC Jazz and Playboy Jazz festivals, and in Nice, Mariac and Bayonne Festivals in France, major festivals in Holland, Finland, and Italy and throughout Europe, Japan, Australia and Hong Kong.

His club dates include Condon's, Michael's Pub, Jimmy Ryans, The Blue Note, Sweet Basil, Ronnie Scott's in London, and Marianne's in Bern, Switzerland, Blues Alley and The Blue Note in Tokyo.

This very versatile performer has also appeared on the Broadway stage in "Dr. Jazz" and as musical director for the Richard Burton-Elizabeth Taylor revival of "Private Lives."

Richard Gere was trained to play the trumpet by Vache for Gere's role in the movie "The Cotton Club." He has also acted in movies and performed music soundtracks for films such as "Biloxi Blues," "Money Pays" and "Simon."

Vache's style is a rare blend developed by learning true craftsmanship from a great variety of classic players — Louis Armstrong; George "Pee Wee" Erwin, with whom Vache studied for many years; Roy Eldridge, Bobby Hackett and others. From this, he created his own inimitable style that defies conventional labels. His style incorporates the complete range of the jazz vocabulary. He has been described as lyrical, exciting, daring, warm, and accessible with his delightful way of engaging the audience.

For information and reservations, call (732) 381-7511.

This concert has been made possible in part by funding from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State, through a grant administered by The Union County Division of Cultural and Heritage Affairs.

McGovern, Pizzarelli to team on UCAC stage

Maureen McGovern and John Pizzarelli will perform at the Union County Arts Center in Rahway Saturday at 8 p.m. The John Pizzarelli Trio and the Big Band Swing Orchestra, directed by Ray Kennedy, will accompany this blending of two great jazz musicians.

McGovern's 28-year career spans recordings, concerts, theater, films, television and radio. No stranger to touring, last year she captured the hearts of audiences around the United States with her definitive portrayal of Mrs. Anna in the national tour of "The King and I." She also has a successful track record pairing up with legendary musicians such as Mel Torme and the Duke Ellington Orchestra, directed by the late Mercer Ellington.

Pizzarelli has built a winning career on classic standards, late-night ballads and his highly regarded guitar work. He has created a sound and an atmosphere that have won over a new audience that wants to swing and swoon in the rebirth of the big band sound. Along with the John Pizzarelli Trio, his latest release on Telarc Records is "Let There Be Love."

Drawing on greats like Nat "King" Cole and Frank Sinatra, Pizzarelli joins McGovern on stage as one of the premier interpreters of the popular songbook. About McGovern, the Los Angeles Times wrote, "If there's a singer on the planet who can perform material from the great American pop music songbook any better than she can, it's hard to imagine whom it might be." Both are ready to swing and jive with songs from their combined repertoires.

In a recent interview with one of the tour's producers, Bob Kay, it was noted that there are few artists that pair up so well as Maureen McGovern and John Pizzarelli. Kay emphasized that the right chemistry makes this concert an extraordinary experience. Kay continued, "When Tim Fox, the president of Columbia Artists, approached me to combine these two talents, I instantly recognized a good idea. I am continually impressed by the way they effortlessly share the stage. They each have their own style, but they don't interfere with each other's work on stage. The chemistry they share makes them look like they have been performing together on stage for years. It is hard to explain. Great chemistry is often hard to explain."

Pizzarelli and the John Pizzarelli Trio, featuring brother Martin Pizzarelli on bass and Ray Kennedy on piano, will perform the first half of the concert. In the second half of the evening, the Big Band Swing Orchestra, directed by Ray Kennedy, will accompany McGovern. The duo will come together in the finale of the evening with the John Pizzarelli Trio to support their collaboration on songs like "In the Cool, Cool of the Evening."

'Peter Rabbit' to hop into Rahway April 14

A sparkling, live musical production of "The Adventures of Peter Rabbit" will be presented at the Union County Arts Center in Rahway April 14 at 1 p.m. "Peter Rabbit" is sponsored by Comcast Cable and is included in UCAC's Family Fun Series along with "Snoopy: The Musical" coming May 6. All tickets for "Peter Rabbit" are $9.

Based on the famous stories by Beatrix Potter, this fun-filled production is laced throughout with unforgettable melodies, bright lyrics and crisp dialogue. Unique and colorful costumes bring the irresistible characters to life and magical scenery gives the production a storybook look. So join Peter as he defies his mother and sneaks into Farmer McGregor's forbidden cabbage patch. Cheer on Flopsy, Mopsy and Cottontail as they gather up the courage to follow their brother to a disastrous, but hilarious, ending. Call (732) 499-8226 to join the fun.

Ecologist Abrams will mark Earth Day at UCC

On April 19, Union County College will celebrate Earth Day by hosting nationally known guest lecturer David Abrams, ecologist, philosopher, and storyteller, who will present "The Ecology of Wonder: A Doorway Into the Living World."

Sponsored by the UCC Garden Club, Abrams will present three different lectures throughout the day in various locations on the college's Cranford campus, located at 1033 Springfield Ave.

The day will begin with a presentation at 1:30 p.m., which will include discussion, storytelling, and drumming. Abrams will present, "A Personal View of Ecology: A Conversation With David Abrams." It will be held in The Commons.

At 3:05 p.m., Abrams will present, "The Wild Ecology of Perception and Language," a seminar for faculty and students. It will be held on the second floor of the MacKay Library in the Admiral Stanley Room.

Finally, the day will culminate its celebration with Abrams' presentation at 7 p.m. in the Main Lecture Hall in the Nomahegan Building. His topic will be "The Ecology of Wonder: A Doorway Into the Living World." This presentation is open to students, faculty, and the community.

Abrams is an ecologist and philosopher whose writings have deeply influenced the environmental movement in North America and abroad. He is an accomplished sleight-of-hand magician who has lived among indigenous magic practitioners in Indonesia, Nepal, and the Americas. He has been published in Orion, The Ecologist, Parabola, Wild Earth and Environmental Ethics, and is the author of "The Spell of the Sensuous: Perception and Language in a More-Than-Human World." Abrams' work focuses on perception and language and he teaches that the senses are the finest guides to truth.

Abrams' visit is being sponsored by the UCC Garden Club. The club's mission statement reads: The Garden at Union County College is both a place and a spirit. It is a socially active and environmentally conscious organization dedicated to improving the life of all creatures. Via community-development, artistic endeavors and performances, and gardening, this student-run organization thinks globally, and acts locally. The Garden itself remains where it was first rooted. Through time, it has grown, changed, and evolved — just like all of the gardeners that have broken ground there.

The event is being sponsored by the Faculty Cultural and Educational Programs Committee and funded by the Student Government Association. For more information on this event, contact Vicki Reback at (908) 497-4211 or e-mail Reback@ucc.edu.

Noted ecologist, philosopher, and storyteller David Abrams will give three separate presentations at the Cranford campus of Union County College April 19.

Music Center makes plans for gala to honor supporters of arts education

The Suburban Community Music Center of Murray Hill is planning a spring gala May 5 to celebrate its 16th year and to honor groups and individuals who have advanced the cause of the community arts education movement.

Guests will hear world-class chamber music, enjoy a cocktail reception and elegant dinner buffet and be entertained by the jazz compositions of New Jersey-based pianist Eric Olsen. The gala, called "Night With the Stars," will be held at Schering-Plough's Giralda Farms facility in Madison.

The chamber concert will feature violinist Philip Setzer, founding member of the Emerson String Quartet; the Avalon String Quartet, which won first prize in the 1999 Concert Artists Guild Competition, and actor-director James Glossman. During the cocktail hour and following dinner, guests will bid on extraordinary Silent Auction premiums, including a week's vacation cruise on a chartered yacht.

The Music Center will honor those who have championed the arts and arts education in the area: Schering-Plough Corp., the Union County Division of Cultural and Heritage Affairs, and Charlotte and Martin Rubashkin — both past presidents of the SCMC's board.

In just 16 years, SCMC has emerged as New Jersey's largest independent non-profit music school. It serves 1,100 people of all ages, backgrounds and abilities, with a commitment to developing people's innate creativity in a supportive and non-competitive environment, through musical training and enrichment opportunities. The SCMC's outreach programs bring music appreciation classes to senior citizens, music therapy to youngsters with disabilities, and music and movement programs to preschoolers in underprivileged neighborhoods.

For further information about the benefit, contact the Music Center's office at (908) 790-0700.

GOP will select candidate to fill 22nd District

 released sometime this week, delineating new legislative districts.
 Before the 292 delegates cast their ballots Tuesday night, half of the candidates withdrew their nominations. Green Brook Mayor Patricia Walsh announced she is seeking the nomination for the second seat in the district while former Scotch Plains mayor Gabriel Spera said contractual commitments with his employer force him to work until the end of the year. Although he could not serve in the Assembly this year, he said he intends to campaign vigorously this fall for the term that begins in 2002.

 Spera and McClintock were among a number of candidates from Scotch Plains, including current mayor Martin Marks, before the local GOP selected Spera.
 Cranford had the largest delegation at Tuesday's convention with 39, followed by Westfield, 37, and Scotch Plains, 26.
 Union County Republicans were scheduled to meet last night after presstime at Oak Knoll School in Summit to determine who would seek election to the 21st District Assembly seat.

 State Sen. C. Louis Bassano of Union is expected to resign his post and take a job with the New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority. Assemblyman Kevin O'Toole of Verona will move up to run for Bassano's seat and a running mate will be selected for Assemblyman Joel Weingarten of Millburn.
 Among the candidates for the 21st

District are Summit Councilman Dr. Eric Munoz, former freeholder Linda DiGiovanni and former Springfield Township Committeeman Harry Pappas. Roselle Park Mayor Joseph DeLorio was a candidate until he recently dropped out and asked his delegation to support Munoz.
 The 22nd District includes Berkeley Heights, Cranford, Clark, Garwood, Fanwood, Scotch Plains, Mountainside, New Providence, Westfield, Winfield and parts of Somerset and Middlesex counties.

Fire Chiefs Association installs new officers

Union County Freeholder Linda Stender installed one new and three returning officers at the County Fire Chiefs Association annual luncheon recently. The officers for the association installed include new president, Jonathan Ellis of Scotch Plains, Joseph Signorello of Roselle Park will serve as vice president, Robert Knapp of Roselle will serve as secretary, and David Demme of Fanwood will serve as treasurer.

In addition to installing this year's officers, Stender was joined by Chairman Alexander Mirabella and Freeholders Deborah Scanlon, Mary Ruotolo and Daniel Sullivan to present resolutions in appreciation for the dedication and hard work done by the firefighters.

"I would just like to add that we all know how important your work is in keeping us all safe, it is a tough job and we are grateful to have such dedicated and highly trained individuals serving the county," Mirabella said.

Linden Fire Chief and retiring president of the association, William Konecny Jr. thanked the freeholder board. "We appreciate the continued support we have received from the county and especially Freeholder Stender. Even when she was in the minority on the freeholder board, Linda fought hard to support us. When we came before the board to ask for a firefighter's training facility, she welcomed and supported us. She is truly a friend to all Union County firefighters," said Konecny.

Stender said one of the most rewarding aspects of her job as a county official is to serve as liaison to the Fire Services Advisory Board which helps decide how best to provide quality training to county firefighters. "Every time I meet with the firefighters I am more impressed by their dedication, skill and how hard they strive to improve."

Retiring president Konecny will continue to serve as Linden fire chief. He began his career with the Linden Fire Department in 1965, was promoted to deputy chief in 1991 and was promoted to chief on Nov. 1, 1992.

Konecny was the recipient of the Valor Award from the 200 Club in 1982 as well as being chosen Firefighter of the Year for Linden by the Knights of Columbus. He also received a commendation from the City of Linden on April 7, 1982 and a commendation from the Fire Department of Linden in 1981.

TRI-COUNTY BUSINESS WOMEN'S PROGRAM FEATURES STEVE ADUBATO ON APRIL 18

MOUNTAINSIDE, NJ - The Union County Chapter of NJAWBO (New Jersey Association of Women Business Owners) will host the Somerset and Hunterdon Chapters at a special dinner meeting featuring Steve Adubato, the Emmy Award winning anchor for Channel 13 (PBS) and current Anchor of the Cable Show "One on One."

NJAWBO is a non-profit organization whose mission is to provide tools for women business owners to compete in any marketplace, enabling them to operate a financially successful business.

The dinner meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, April 18, at L'Affaire, Route 22-East, Mountainside, commencing with cocktails and networking at 6 p.m., and the dinner and program set for 7 p.m.

Adubato, who holds a PhD from Rutgers University in the field of mass communication, will speak about "The Art of Selling." His talk is geared to helping the listener become more customer-focused in sales approaches. He will also be discussing new and practical ways to access the dot-com world of the Internet, improve active listening skills, manage time in ways to sell more productively - and much more.

Adubato is also a university lecturer and reaches more than a million readers weekly as a columnist for the Newark Star Ledger.

According to Ann Fisher, President of the Union County Chapter of NJAWBO, "We are all very excited to have such a fine and prominent speaker joining us for the evening, and have invited our Hunterdon and Somerset members and guests to join us for this program."

The cost is $35 members and $38 for non-members and guests. For information or reservations, call: 908/688-0707.

Exercise program set for stroke victims

The Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders through the Department of Parks and Recreation has announced the availability of an exercise program for people who have had strokes or those who have other physical limitations.

The classes, conducted by a rehabilitation aide and active therapist, will address general fitness. Classes are Tuesday and Thursday from noon until 1 p.m. in the auditorium at Runnells Specialized Hospital, 40 Watchung Way, Berkeley Heights, beginning Tuesday and continuing through Nov. 15. There is a one-time enrollment of $15 a person. Pre-registration and a doctor's release are required. This non-stressful exercise program focuses on balance, posture, overall health and exercises that can be performed at home. The workouts are fun, and the classes are a good way to make new friends. The activity is accessible to those in wheelchairs and contains activities that can be adapted to everyone.

For more information call the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation at (908) 527-4096.

Blood drives scheduled

The Blood Center of New Jersey will conduct the following blood drives:

- Friday, 3 to 7 p.m., Union Hospital, 1000 Galloping Hill Road, Union.
- Saturday, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Junior League Jumble Store, 110 Walnut St., Cranford.
- Sunday, 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.,

Zion Lutheran Church, Raritan and Oak Ridge roads, Clark.

• Monday, 4 to 8 p.m., Muhlenberg Regional Medical Center, Park and Randolph roads, Plainfield.

• Wednesday, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Lord & Taylor parking lot, 609 North Ave., Westfield.

For more information call (800) BLOOD-NJ.

Racial profiling the topic at church lecture

"Racial profiling: Solutions to a serious problem," with guest speaker Witold "Vic" Walczak will be Sunday at 10 a.m. in the First Unitarian Church of Plainfield, 724 Park Ave. A 1979 graduate of Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School, Walczak handled prisoners' civil rights cases for the Legal Aid Bureau in Baltimore, Md., before joining the Pittsburgh chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union as associate director. Since 1992, he has served as the chapter's executive director.

Some things never change

 are at best dicey. But if you have a spouse by April 30, who is a legal citizen and files a petition for an alien relative, you get a reprieve and do not have to leave.

The instant marriage protection has become big business. The daily Polish newspaper, Nowy Dziennik sold in central Jersey detailed the steps necessary to receive permanent residency. The Immigration Advocacy Services in New York have also stepped up their efforts. But the potential for sham marriages recalls the movie "Green Card" from a decade ago.

Bollwage does not perform so-called "Green card" marriages. Despite the fact there is a legal ability for a mayor to charge for administering a wedding, Bollwage sends them to the superior or municipal courts to pledge their vows.

But the recording of the wedding is the goal. What strikes me is that in the age of high-tech computers, the research into land deals still requires a lot of flipping of pages. In the case of the quickie marriages, even the sham ones, the ritual of setting up a record is the same as it has ever been.

I guess some things never change.

Chestnut Chateau
 A Fabulous Place to Dine
 For Any Occasion

By Anne Santos

Upon entering the Chestnut Chateau, formerly Chestnut Tavern, 649 Chestnut St., Union I could not believe how beautifully it was remodeled from it's prior state. The new owner, host & chef Manny Niotis amazingly transformed this restaurant - soft recessed lighting, delicate pastel colored walls, fresh linen tablecloth & napkins, sand blasted glass hand-etched with scenery, very comfortable chairs, candlelight & gentle music.

Our waiter quickly came over to take our order. My companion & I started out with Beef Barley soup and Lobster Bisque. The Beef Barley soup was a light colored broth filled with fresh vegetables, beef & barley served in fine china. The Lobster Bisque was delicately seasoned & creamy with pieces of lobster. Both soups were served hot & very tasty.

We chose stuffed mushrooms & stuffed clams as appetizers. The mushrooms were topped with a seasoned crabmeat stuffing & the clams were also filled with the same stuffing - delicious! Followed the salads - very fresh - (One would think it was just picked from a garden) lettuce, cucumbers, onions, green peppers, tomatoes - quick refreshing.

We could hardly wait for the main course, everything so far was wonderful. Service was also terrific, our waiter - Harry Aspromatis catered to our every wish. Our entrees arrived beautifully presented, I selected the Veal Marsala - tender pieces of veal in Marsala wine sauce accompanied by mixed vegetables (fresh broccoli, cauliflower, carrots, string beans & brussel sprouts). It was fabulous. My companion picked the Surf & Turf. A healthy portion of Black Angus Beef & succulent Lobster Tails accompanied by the mixed vegetables - cooked to perfection.

I can't say enough about this restaurant everything is so good! Dessert soon followed, the chocolate mousse, cheesecake & rice pudding are all homemade, very rich & a delight to the tastebud.

My companion & I decided after the dessert - we would come back to this restaurant again & again. Manny has created something wonderful here, great atmosphere, heavenly food, congenial staff & reasonable prices. Reservations are suggested on Friday's, Saturdays & Sunday. Banquet facilities are also available for parties up to 70 people. Treat yourself call for a reservation today - 908-964-8696.

Malamut exhibit honors past contributing artists

The Les Malamut Gallery of Union Library will hold a Retrospective exhibit of the works of artists who have participated in gallery shows in the past. The exhibit will run through Saturday. The public is invited.

The gallery, located in the Union Public Library, 1980 Morris Ave., opened with its first show in 1988 and has since presented more than 100 exhibitions. It was originally known as The Wheelchair Gallery and was formed to meet the need of offering handicap access to the library. An elevator was built providing access to all levels of the library and space was created for the gallery. In 1990, the name was changed to The Les Malamut Gallery, to honor the efforts of the late Lester Malamut who helped found the gallery.

Thirty-one artists will participate in the retrospective. On display will be watercolor by Hella Bailin, who with the late Eugene Gauss, were the very first exhibitors 13 years ago. The participating artists include Frances Amsterdam, Francesca Azzarra, Hella Bailin, Kubir S. Bhalla, Kathleen Block, Art Carlson, B.A. Cousey, Lina Crincola, Margie DeAngelo, Harry Devlin, Keith Ferris, Elsa Goldsmith, Allen Higbee, Owen Kanzler, Sheila R. Lenga, Donald Lokuta, Judy Nadler, Salvatore Pacifico, Norma Post, Herman Robinsin M.D., Alice Saltman, Susan Puder, William Sturm, Kathleen Thompson, Hans Walther, Bertha Wolf and Barbara Zeitchick.

Members of the Gallery Board who have also had shows will hold a separate exhibit in May.

The gallery is open during regular library hours: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Viola Meskin, director of Les Malamut Gallery, left, views a painting of Hella Bailin for art show 'Retrospective.' Bailin was among the artists in the gallery's very first exhibit in 1988.

Committee members discuss plans for the Union County Arts Center's 'Sail Under the Stars' dinner cruise aboard the luxurious Cornucopia Princess April 28. From left are Kathleen Mamczak, Dianna Andersen, theater business administrator Sharon Surber and Maria Wronski. The evening will feature a cocktail hour followed by dinner and dancing as the ship sails along the New Jersey coast. All proceeds will support the Rahway performing arts center's mission to provide quality entertainment and cultural events for the people of this region.

UCAC sets course for gala fund-raiser

The Board of Trustees of the Union County Arts Center has announced a gala event to benefit UCAC. On April 28, the "Sail Under the Stars" Gala will bid New Jersey bon voyage from the port of Perth Amboy on the Cornucopia Princess, New Jersey's premier luxury cruise ship. The evening will begin at 7 p.m. and include a cocktail hour followed by a three-hour cruise. Dancing, dinner, bar and beverages are all included for $125 per person and everyone is welcome to attend. For more information, call the Arts Center at (732) 499-8226.

All proceeds from the evening will benefit the Union County Arts Center's commitment to provide great entertainment and cultural events to the families and residents in Union County and the greater Union County area. As a non-profit organization, the Union County Arts Center depends upon the generosity of people who realize the value of arts institutions in their community.

"As we continue to become a regional force in the performing arts," said Stephan Peter, Arts Center Trustee and Chairman of the Gala Events Committee, "we look forward to continuing to present great entertainment." That great entertainment includes headliners like Patti LuPone, Willie Nelson and the Manhattan Transfer; family theater like "Snoopy: The Musical;" and classic films like Frank Capra's "It's A Wonderful Life." Also, the Westfield Symphony Orchestra plays regularly at the arts center under its designation as the resident orchestra at UCAC. Peter continued, "We can't do it without the individual contributor and the generosity of the community we serve."

Support for this event is gratefully received by the arts center. If you are unable to participate in the cruise, consider making a tax-deductible donation to this worthwhile cause. Donations may be made payable to the Union County Arts Center and sent to the Union County Arts Center, c/o "Sail Under the Stars," 1601 Irving St., Rahway, 07065. For more information or tickets to this unique event, call the box office at (732) 499-8226.

County's senior artists can enter into annual art contest

Applications are available for Union County senior citizen artists, both professional and non-professional, to enter the 2001 Union County Senior Citizen Art Contest and Exhibition. Exhibit space is limited, so act now.

Sponsored by the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders and the Division of Cultural and Heritage Affairs, Department of Economic Development, the exhibit will take place at NUI/Elizabethtown Gas Co., Liberty Hall Center, 1085 Morris Ave., Union, a barrier-free site. The show opens with a reception June 27 and will be on display until Aug. 10.

"The whole community is enriched by the contributions of our senior citizen artists," said Freeholder Mary P. Ruotolo, liaison to the Cultural and Heritage Programs Advisory Board. "I hope many county residents will take advantage of this opportunity to share their talent at this annual event."

Artists must be at least 60 years old. They may submit one entry that has been completed within the last three years. All work must be the original creation of the artist. Hanging craft or framed work, including matting and frame, and sculptures or three-dimensional craft may not exceed 18 inches in height, width or depth.

The following are categories of eligible work: oil, acrylic, watercolor, pastel, print, drawing, mixed media, photography, sculpture, crafts not made from kits, and computer graphics. Computer graphics is defined as any artwork generated or manipulated electronically, using one or more software programs; work must be entirely original, including the source material, if submitting a digitally-manipulated photo, drawing or painting.

Professional artists will judge the exhibit. There will be awards of recognition for professional and non-professional entries.

Artists claiming non-professional status must not have:

- Sold the type of art entered in the exhibition through commercial channels;
- Exhibited in a professional gallery, and
- Held professional membership in a guild or association.

Artists claiming professional status are those who have met any of the above criteria. Both professionals and non-professional first-place winners in each category will represent Union County in the statewide art contest, which takes place in September.

Full information is on the application form, which is available from the Union County Division of Cultural and Heritage Affairs, 633 Pearl St., Elizabeth, 07202, or by calling (908) 558-2550.

Artists wishing to participate should return their application forms as soon as possible. Participation may be limited to the first 100 applicants due to space requirements.

The annual Union County Senior Citizen Art Exhibit is made possible by the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders, NUI/Elizabethtown Gas Company and a grant from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State. Additional support is provided by the Union County Department of Human Services, Division on Aging.

Editorial deadlines

Following are deadlines for news: Church, club and social - Thursday noon. Entertainment - Friday noon. Sports - Monday noon. Letters to the Editor - Monday 9 a.m. General - Monday 5 p.m.

Goodman Orchestra to 'swing' through town

Recalling the sounds of days gone by, the Benny Goodman Tribute Orchestra will perform at 1 p.m. today at the Union County Arts Center in Rahway.

Under the baton of bandleader Rudy Scaffidi, this concert will include many great hits of the '30s and '40s that were made famous by the "King of Swing," Benny Goodman.

Rudy Scaffidi became a professional trumpet player at the age of 15 years old in his hometown of Cleveland, Ohio. He spent his military career as a trumpet player and upon his discharge moved to New York City to begin a long career as a musician. He found himself playing with some of the country's top names in the emerging era of swing jazz including Benny Goodman, Tommy Dorsey, Jimmy Dorsey, Skitch Henderson, Buddy Morrow and more. Later, Scaffidi led the orchestras of Guy Lombardo, Jimmy Dorsey, Jan Garber and Billy May.

In 1994, Scaffidi joined Benny Goodman as an inductee in the Big Band Hall of Fame.

Scaffidi founded the Benny Goodman Tribute Orchestra in 1995 to continue the memory and music of the late great clarinetist. Scaffidi said in a recent interview that because Goodman produced so many records, there are a lot of hits to craft a wonderful afternoon of music. During the concert, Scaffidi will be featured on trumpet in Goodman hits including "What Is There to Say," and feature vocalist Colleen Manning in "All of Me," "Misty," and "All Right, Okay, You Win." Along with "Let's Dance," "String of Pearls," "Stompin' at the Savoy," "Mellow Tone," "Goodbye" and many more, Scaffidi will dedicate a segment to clarinetist Artie Shaw, a Big Band medley that will feature music from Duke Ellington to

Richard Rodgers and the Louis Prima hit that Goodman made famous "Sing, Sing, Sing."

This concert is one of two Thursday afternoon performances that are being presented by the Union County Arts Center and are supported generously by Golden Age Towers. On May 3 at 1 p.m., the arts center will offer a second big band concert with "Swing and Sway with the Sammy Kaye Orchestra." The weekday afternoon concerts support the community it serves by providing great entertainment at affordable prices during daylight hours.

All tickets for both concerts are $15 and group discounts are available for groups of 20 or more. For tickets sales and more information, call (732) 499-8226 or visit www.ucac.org.

Union County Arts Center is a regional performing arts venue. Its wide array of offerings includes theater, music, film, dance and headliner entertainment. The Westfield Symphony Orchestra performs regularly at the arts center under its designation as resident orchestra of this vaudeville-era theater claimed by many to be the most beautiful theater in the state.

As a non-profit organization, the arts center is supported in part by the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State, a Partner Agency of the National Endowment of the Arts. The arts center wishes to thank The Merck Company Foundation to their continued generosity and Comcast for being the sponsor of the Family Fun Series. The following organizations and institutions are also contributors to the Union County Arts Center: The Rahway Savings Institution, Liberty Bank, Schering-Plough Foundation and NUI/Elizabethtown Gas.

The Cook's Nook

Juicing fruits and vegetables add health as well as taste

By John O'Connell
Copley News Service

For Edie Nichoalds, juicing isn't just tasty drinks, it's the elixir for a healthy life.

The 54-year-old woman, who lives in Bartonville, Ill., credits juicing with helping her battle a rare form of leukemia six years ago.

"I'm not a nurse or doctor or dietician; I'm just a mother who got very sick and wanted to live," Nichoalds said. "I truly believe juicing helped me to rebuild my system so I could fight off the cancer naturally. But who really knows about these things."

Nichoalds underwent chemotherapy treatments in 1991, 1992, 1993 and 1994. For each of those years, she would be in the hospital five to seven weeks at a time undergoing treatments.

"In 1994, I was sent home from the hospital a couple of days before Christmas and told I had six months to live," Nichoalds recalled. "I was praying for a cure. I would try anything. That's when I started juicing. But I also underwent an extensive lifestyle change."

She started meditating and eating a healthier diet — foods low in fat and processed sugar. She also underwent weekly colon hydrotherapy for a year, which cleansed her colon. Her basic diet was nuts, seeds, legumes, fresh whole fruits and homemade breads. Along with these changes and many others, she began her juicing regimen with fresh fruits and vegetables.

"I started to rebuild my body," she said. "There is nothing better for your immune system than carrot juice and fruit juices. For a couple of years, I was drinking six to eight glasses of carrot juice and three glasses of fruit juices about every day."

Nichoalds took eight carrots and a Golden Delicious apple out of her refrigerator to prepare her morning concoction. With a plastic plunger, she pushed whole carrots and slices of apple through her juicer.

"You normally don't mix vegetables and fruits," she said. "But in this drink the apple slices provide a better taste. A lot of juicing is just experimenting."

"My favorite wintertime juice recipe is two apples and a peeled orange processed through the juicer," she said. "That's good to battle viruses."

Another of her favorite recipes is from the book, "The Juiceman's Power of Juicing" by Jay Kordich. She combines two bunches of black grapes and a ½-cup of black cherries and processes them through the juicer.

"This really wakes you up in the morning," Nichoalds said. "It's better than a cup of coffee, and there is no caffeine."

Nichoalds is now cancer-free, which she credits in part to a well-balanced diet and juicing.

"We need to stop eating so much fat, sugar, white flour and com-mercially prepared foods," she said. "The whole idea of juicing is to get the total food value to feed your system. That's why I juice. I know I am getting all the minerals and vitamins in an orange or an apple. With frozen juice you may not. But I would rather see people drink frozen juices than juice from a can."

Nichoalds has given talks on the benefits of juicing at the Recipe Box in Peoria, Ill., and at the Cancer Center for Healthy Living at the Hull Health Education Center in Peoria. After a couple of years of juicing, she has scaled back to a couple of drinks a day.

"I really can't say why I am cancer free," she said. "It may have been the chemotherapy. But I truly believe that juicing and my lifestyle changes played a big part. I definitely felt more energy and stronger after months of juicing."

But you shouldn't look to juicing as a miracle cure, cautions Golda Ewalt, a registered dietitian for OSF Saint Francis Medical Center and media representative of the Illinois Dietetic Association. On the Internet, there are juicing recipes that claim to cleanse the body and prevent cancer, weight loss, anemia, arthritis, acne, heart disease and impotence.

"I'm very skeptical on some of these claims," Ewalt said. "I don't believe the research is there. There is even one juicing recipe that claims to prevent graying hair. It's a blend of cabbage, spinach and carrot juices. It won't do that. And, I highly doubt that certain juices remove toxins from the body or alleviate diseases.

"But juicing is a good way of incorporating more fruits and vegetables into your diet," Ewalt said. "Americans typically don't get enough of the five servings of fruits and vegetables. Juicing can be a part of a healthful eating style."

Vegetable and fruit drinks are packed with vitamins. A ½-cup serving of orange juice meets the daily requirement for vitamin C. Juices also can be packed with calories, Ewalt said.

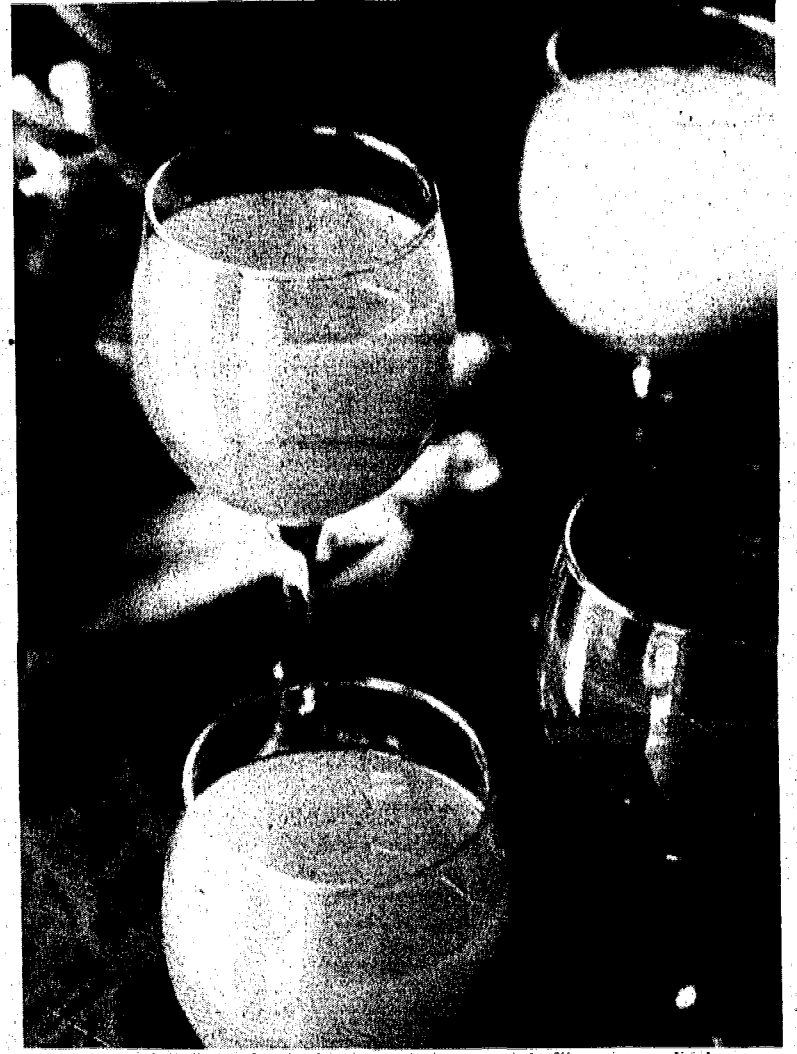

"A cup of orange juice has twice as many calories as a whole orange," the nutritionist said. "And, eating a whole orange is more satisfying than drinking a cup of orange juice and at half the calories. So, if you are interested in losing weight, whole fruits are better than juice."

When juice is made in a commercial juicer, typically much of the fiber is removed, Ewalt said. Fiber is important for regularity and it is thought to play a part in preventing some types of cancers.

"If you eat an apple, you get 3 grams of fiber versus a cup of juice, which has no fiber," Ewalt said.

"I don't juice a lot because I feel whole fruits are better for you. But juicing is good as long as it is part of a balanced diet rich in fiber-containing

See RECIPES, Page B9

Although juice doesn't provide as much fiber as whole fruits and vegetables, it is still full of nutrients. Some types of juices are clockwise from top left, carrot, orange-grapefruit, tomato and pear.

Kosher food rules allow for some tasty options at Passover

It comes but once a year, and this year, on the 15th night of the Jewish month of Nissan, which is this Saturday, April 7, Passover begins.

The preparations are many and the food special. To celebrate, The American Dairy Association and Dairy Council Inc. has partnered with Kashrut.com — an online kosher food resource — to share recipes using matzah and more.

The traditional Jewish holiday of Passover marks the Spring Festival of the Exodus from Egypt and the liberation of the Israelites from slavery. The name "Passover" is derived from Exodus' telling of the "passing over" — the sparing of the houses of the Israelites while the first-born of Egyptian homes were smitten by the Angel of Death. Over the years, elaborate customs have developed in preparation for the holiday.

The first two nights of Passover includes a family celebration and elaborate feast called the Seder. Here, the story of the Exodus is read from the Haggadah, and the liberation story is recalled with ritual and food.

Foods eaten during Passover differ from those prepared year-round because of the prohibition of all leavening. As the story is told, at the time when the Pharaoh finally agreed to freedom, the Israelites left their homes so quickly that there wasn't any time to bake their breads. They baked their raw dough quickly because of the lack of time to let it rise to take with them on their journey.

That hard, cracker-like bread is what is now known as matzah. Today, to commemorate this event, Jews eat matzah in place of bread during Passover. Forbidden foods are those containing chometz, which is wheat, oats, rye, spelt, and barley mixed with water for more than 18 minutes. An additional category of foods called kitniot is forbidden for Ashkenazi Jews, the descendants of European Jews. Kitniot contains peas, beans, soy, corn, and mustard, as well as rice. Sephardic Jews, the descendants of Spanish Jews, have different customs regarding kitniot. On Passover, the usual flours are replaced with matzah meal, matzah meal cake flour which is finely ground matzah meal, and potato flour.

Gather the family, and enjoy some of these recipes created by Kashrut.com and kitchen-tested by the American Dairy Association and Dairy Council Inc. Kashrut.com is an online kosher food resource featuring up-to-date information year-round and for Passover. The Kashrut.com Passover section is a must-read resource for this important holiday. Information on preparing for the holiday is provided, as well as other useful recipes to enhance your holiday enjoyment. Visit them at www.kashrut.com/Passover/recipes.

Create many special dishes for Passover using matzah and a few dairy ingredients from your kitchen.

Matzah Lasagna

Olive oil spray
30-34 ozs. prepared marinara or tomato sauce
4 matzahs
1 pound cottage cheese
1-½ cups grated mozzarella cheese

½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
½ teaspoon black pepper (optional)
Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Preheat oven to 350 degree F. Grease pan large enough to fit four matzahs with olive oil spray. Spread marinara sauce to cover the bottom of pan, about ½ cup. Place one matzah on top. Spread with marinara sauce. Add some cottage cheese. Sprinkle with mozzarella and Parmesan cheese. Continue to layer with the next three pieces of matzah. Add a layer of marinara sauce and top with remaining mozzarella and Parmesan cheeses. Pour over ½ cup of water. Cover with foil. Bake at 350 degree for 35 to 40 minutes. Serve hot.

Matzah Cheese Kugel

5 eggs
1 cup milk
1 pound cottage cheese
1 teaspoon salt

½ cup honey or sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
4 matzahs, crumbled and divided
½ cup toasted slivered almonds (optional)
Yield: 4 servings

Preheat oven to 350 degree F. Grease a shallow 2-quart baking dish or large pie pan. In a large bowl, beat together the eggs and milk. Add the cottage cheese, salt, sugar or honey and cinnamon. Add half of the crumbled matzahs to the dish; pour over ½ of the cheese-egg mixture. Top with the remaining matzah. Pour over remaining cheese-egg mixture. Bake at 350 degree F. for 40 minutes or until the top is brown and slightly crunchy.

Vanilla Ice Cream

4 cups heavy cream
½ cup sugar
1/16 teaspoon salt

¼ teaspoon vanilla
Yield: 9 servings

In a large pot, scald one cup of heavy cream over low heat. Stir and dissolve sugar into hot cream. Add salt and vanilla. Add remaining three cups of heavy cream. Pour into a plastic container and freeze. Stir every half-hour until frozen.

Cottage Cheese Pancakes

½ -pound cottage cheese
4 eggs, beaten

2 teaspoons sugar (or to taste)
½ cup matzah meal, butter or oil for frying, sugar and cinnamon mixture
Yield: 4 servings

In a small bowl, combine the cottage cheese and eggs. Add the sugar and matzah meal and mix well. Drop by spoonfuls of batter onto a hot skillet with butter or oil. Once lightly brown on one side, turn and cook on the other side. Sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon. Serve hot.

Workshop unites two communities in harmony

The New Jersey Workshop for the Arts and the Plainfield Board of Education are proud of their recent collaboration to sponsor the Plainfield Saturday Music Workshop.

From Dec. 2, 2000 to June 16, 2001, 120 Plainfield students in grades 4 to 8 now have the opportunity to enhance their music education. With a faculty of 10 highly qualified teachers, the workshop offers children four hours of music instruction including theory, group instrument lessons, band, orchestra, and chorus. Held at the Hubbard Middle School in Plainfield, the 24 sessions are from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Beginning and intermediate levels are available.

Each student can select one of eight instruments, as well as a music stand and all the required books at no cost. Instruments offered include the violin, cello, flute, clarinet, also saxophone, trumpet, trombone, and drums.

The Plainfield Saturday program is a direct outgrowth of the "phenomenal success we had with the Plainfield Summer Music Program," stated Ted Schlosberg, executive director of the NJWA. "The Board of Education, the superintendent of schools and the community support were overwhelming. The Summer Program gained a fine reputation and it was a natural segue to offer Plainfield students a year-round development of their creative talents."

Because the children have other after-school activities and homework, it was determined that Saturday was the best time for this program. The program is also designed to reinforce the instrumental music program in the Plainfield public schools. This dovetailing of instruction and cooperative effort among the teaching staff will reinforce what the children learn during the school year.

Allowing the children to take the instruments home in order to practice also develops a sense of pride, responsibility and ensures a continuous development. The parents have overwhelmingly given their support to what they see as an important milestone in their children's development. Visits by parents to enable them to see their children's progress and concerts every 12 weeks is an integral part of the program.

As the program develops, the hope is to develop a fine concert band and a symphony orchestra. Also being considered is a trip to the NJPAC to hear an afternoon concert and guest artists visitation to give the children a chance to broaden their music appreciation.

The expectations for the Saturday program are high. The children are tested regularly to evaluate their understanding of the nuances of the music they are studying. Whether it is matching pitch, refining tone quality or ensuring accurate rhythms, "this is a serious endeavor and it is obvious the children enjoy the chance to excel." Anyone wishing to help can call the NJWA at (908) 789-8844.

Ori earns grant to photograph county's 'past'

Nancy J. Ori of Berkeley Heights, well-known local photographer and educator, has received a HEART grant — History, Education and Arts, Reaching Thousands — from the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders to do photography at 38 local historical sites.

Ori's project is to create a large body of photographs to be used in a historical guidebook being put together by the county for the coming year. She has spent the last few months doing research on the sites and has now begun photographing the numerous interiors. Her artistic selection of subject matter is determined by the best summary of images to depict the lifestyle of the people who lived throughout the county during different time periods in history. Ori refers to these images as "portraits" of the architecture and artifacts.

"Since 1970, I have traveled throughout the world working on various photographic and video projects which has given me the opportunity to explore many popular and cherished places. I have discovered that right here in my own county there are wonderful sites to photograph and images to share. I proposed the grant project in order to best volunteer my skills to benefit my own community and have since been inspired by not only the interesting subject matter, but also by the many volunteers I have met while doing my research and visiting the sites."

The body of work will provide a balance of images between the architecture, costumes and artifacts of bygone eras to reflect those who lived, worked and played in Union County at earlier times. Some images are romantic in style and provide a contrast to the playful depictions of antique dolls and toys; some are bold forms of tools and objects presented almost as sculptures, and some are planned or contain artistically composed room set up to provide more formal images.

Popular locations such as Liberty Hall in Union, the Trailside Nature Museum in Mountainside and the Drake House Museum in Plainfield — as well as the smaller historical sites of the Eaton Store Museum in Hillside and the Carter House in Summit — are only some of the locations to be featured in Ori's photographs.

"I feel that being involved in this project can make a difference in our community by showcasing and celebrating our accomplishments in historic preservation. The guidebook will allow the reader to explore these significant sites and learn about the character of our community through time."

Nancy Ori is recognized internationally as an industrial photographer and video producer for New Jersey Media Center in Berkeley Heights. She also enjoys teaching photography classes and workshops each year throughout the United States and Europe. She is on the faculty of the New Jersey Center for Visual Arts in Summit, Peters Valley Craft Education Center in Layton, the Somerset Art Association in Bedminster and the Watchung Adult School in Watchung. In 1990, she established the New Jersey Heritage Photography Workshops, which she holds each spring in Cape May. And in 1995, she co-founded the New Jersey Photography Forum, a group of professional and very serious amateur photographers who get together regularly to critique each other's work and exhibit together locally.

HEART grants are still available for residents, organizations

The Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders invites local non-profit organizations, individual artists and scholars to apply for funding from the Union County HEART — History, Education, Arts Reaching Thousands — Grant program.

The Board of Freeholders, recognizing the importance of culture and the arts, has renewed the HEART grant program for the fourth consecutive year. This innovative program supports projects related to history, the arts and the humanities, and demonstrates a commitment to the organizations and artists of Union County.

The response to the HEART grant program is exciting. The recipients are a wonderful mix of visual artists, composers of orchestral music, cultural organizations and civic entities," states Freeholder Daniel Sullivan.

Mary Ruotolo, member of the Freeholder Board and liaison to the Union County Cultural and Heritage Programs Advisory Board added, "The services provided by these artists and organizations directly benefit the residents of our county and increase appreciation for the arts, our history, and the humanities. These cultural assets are a vital part of community life, economic development and cultural tourism in Union County."

Applications will be accepted three times a year: March, June and October. To request a HEART grant application and guidelines, contact the Union County Division of Cultural and Heritage Affairs at (908) 558-2550. Relay users dial (800) 852-7899. Send e-mail to scoen@unioncountynj.org.

Recipes for home juicing offer variety of tastes, textures and nutrients

(Continued from Page B8) foods such as whole grains, beans and other fresh fruits and vegetables. If you are into juicing, do it for its delicious taste and its excellent vitamin content. But don't look for miracle cures or "darker hair."

The first juice recipe comes from Edie Nicholds.

Tomato Drink

- 1 large ripe tomato
- ½ cucumber, peeled
- 1 stalk celery
- ½ green bell pepper
- 1 carrot
- Slice of lime

"Car Accident Victims Get A Crash Course On Their Rights"

Westfield, NJ: A new free report has recently been released that provides information every car accident victim should have before they speak to anyone. Research shows even a "senior helper" can make a poor impression, especially with the young car crash victims who may not be old enough to have their own driver's license. If you have a child in the car, or a child who is not yet 24 hours old, you should read this report by calling 1-800-246-2462. The call is free and so is the report.

Yields one 10-ounce serving.

Wash ingredients and then process through juicer and drink.

The next three recipes come courtesy of "Juicing It" by Jane Pettigrew. Each makes one 10-ounce serving.

Apple Zinger

- 1 large apple
  - 3 carrots
  - ½ inch piece gingerroot
  - 1 orange
- Wash apple and cut into chunks. Scrub carrots, discard tops and cut carrots into chunks. Cut skin from gingerroot and cut into smaller pieces.

Juice orange by hand or in electric citrus press. Feed apple, carrots and gingerroot into juicer, then mix with freshly squeezed orange juice.

Revitalizer

- 1 beet root
- 2 carrots
- 1 orange
- 1 measure spirulina powder (optional)

Scrub or peel beet root and cut off any root. Cut flesh into pieces. Scrub carrots. Cut flesh into chunks. Juice orange by hand or in citrus press.

Put beet root and carrots through juicer and add orange juice and spirulina to juice. Mix thoroughly.

Banango

- 1 banana
- 1 small or ½ large mango
- 1 dessert spoon toasted sun flower seeds
- 1 dessert spoon toasted pumpkin seeds
- 3 to 4 ounces skim or 1-percent milk
- 3 to 4 ice cubes
- Little honey

Peel banana and and cut flesh into chunks. Thinly peel mango and cut flesh away from stone. Put seeds through electric grinder. Put all ingredients into blender and whiz until smooth.

The next recipes are from "The Juicing Bible" by Pat Crocker and Susan Eagles.

Mulled Cranberry

- 2 cups raw cranberry juice
  - 1 cup apple juice
  - 1 cup beet juice
  - ½ cup filtered water
  - 1 tablespoon dried stevia leaves
  - 3 whole cloves
  - 3 allspice berries
  - 1 2-inch piece cinnamon stick
- Yields 2 servings.

In saucepan over medium heat, combine cranberry juice, apple juice, beet juice, water, stevia leaves, cloves, allspice berries and cinnamon. Bring to just under a boil; cover, reduce heat and simmer for 5 minutes. Strain into mugs.

Citrus Cocktail

Half melon (use any melon or can-taloupe for this recipe), peeled and cut into pieces

- 1 cup washed strawberries
  - 1 (1-inch) piece gingerroot
  - 1 orange, peeled and quartered
  - 1 grapefruit, peeled and quartered
  - ½ cup natural yogurt
  - 1 tablespoon wheat germ or finely ground almonds
- Yields 2 servings.
- Using juicer, process melon, strawberries, gingerroot, orange and grapefruit. Pour into carafe. Whisk in yogurt and wheat germ. Pour into glasses.

Peppery Tomato Cocktail

- 3 large tomatoes, washed and cut into wedges
- 1 handful watercress, washed
- 1 green pepper, washed and cut into chunks
- 1 clove garlic
- 3 sprigs parsley, washed

- 2 carrots, scrubbed
  - Quarter-head fennel, washed
  - ½ teaspoon cayenne pepper
- Yields 2 servings.
- Using juicer, process tomatoes, watercress, green pepper, garlic, parsley, carrots and fennel. Pour into a carafe or pitcher. Whisk in cayenne pepper.

Melon Cocktail

- Half cantaloupe, peeled and cut into pieces
  - 4 oranges, peeled and quartered
  - 1 carrot, scrubbed
  - 1 (2-inch) slice watermelon, cut into pieces
- Yields 2 servings.
- Using juicer, process melon, oranges, carrot and watermelon. Whisk together and pour into glasses.

Squash Special

- 1 sweet potato, scrubbed and cut into pieces
  - 1 cup cubed squash
  - ½ teaspoon cayenne pepper
  - ½ teaspoon dried dillweed
  - ½ teaspoon ground cumin
- Yields 1 serving.

Using juicer, process sweet potato; set aside.

Using another container, process squash. Whisk in cayenne, dillweed and cumin.

When starch from sweet potato has settled on bottom of container, pour juice carefully into squash juice, being sure to leave starch behind. Discard starch.

Whisk juices together and pour into a glass.

HOROSCOPE

For April 9 to April 15

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Unusual opportunities will come through a powerful or influential friend. Put your best foot forward and success is promised.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Set aside some quiet time for soul-searching and listening to your inner voice. Uncover crucial information or feelings that will impact your life.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21): You will be required to use concentration and focus to solve a dilemma this week. Get mentally centered and master the challenge.

CANCER (June 22-July 22): Don't make any quick or unpredictable moves in your career or professional pursuits. Take your time and carefully consider all of your options.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You have a very active and high-spirited week on tap. Look into opportunities to travel or other ways to answer the call of the wild in your heart.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Making the right investment moves will allow you to earn while you're asleep. Connect with a reputable firm or counselor and relax.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23): Words uttered in haste could come back and haunt you. Make a careful and conscious decision about a relationship before opening your mouth.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21): This is a great time to get organized and update your financial files. Go through that pile of papers on your desk and eliminate some of the clutter.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Cooperation is a key word on the social level. Do your best to get along with loved ones, friends or other members in a club or group.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Partners are willing to help you grow and expand your awareness. Open up and express your personal beliefs, philosophical thoughts, ideas or feelings.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Concentrate your mental energy and don't lose sight of an important piece of information. Spend quality time with children or younger siblings.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Fiscal matters require your attention. Come to terms with an impulsive urge to shop until you drop. You are urged to save for a rainy day.

If your birthday is this week, channel your energy along positive and productive avenues during the coming year. Good planning and patience are important in helping you stay focused and on track with your goals. Friends play a major role as you join forces with others to gain a deeper understanding of the human condition. Enjoy a creative project and read to keep your mind fresh and alive with new ideas.

Groups with kids can get discounts

Parents, adult mentors and teens: experience the arts for less than $5 per ticket when one or two adults take four or five students to a High 5 Tickets to the Arts event, or to a museum any day of the week.

Using High 5's "Take 5" program, the group receives six tickets for just $25 to museums and performances listed in the High 5 catalog, web site or telephone hot line.

High 5 Tickets to the Arts is the award-winning program that makes the arts affordable for teens by offering $5 tickets to cultural activities year-round. "Take 5" tickets are currently available for hundreds of events through May, including performances by the New York City Opera, New Jersey Ballet Company and the Lincoln Center Jazz Orchestra; shows at the American Globe Theater, Signature Theater and The New Victory Theater; exhibitions at the Jewish Museum and Guggenheim Museum; and much more.

"Take 5" is designed to promote adult mentorship and parental involvement in teen arts events, and introduce students to the best of New York's Off-Broadway theater, dance, film, concerts, lectures and museums," said Program Manager Alyssa Tullin. "Since 'Take 5's' inception in the fall of 1999, we have sold thousands of tickets through this program. It is a great way for younger teens and for teens who may be reluctant to venture out on their own to arts events."

To obtain "Take 5" tickets or to learn about the program, contact Tullin at (212) 750-0555, ext. 203, or e-mail autullin@high5tix.org and write "Take 5 program" in the subject heading. For complete event listings, call High 5's hotline at (212) 445-8587, visit the web site at www.high5tix.org, or sign up for High 5's weekly newsletter by e-mailing info@high5tix.org with "Newsletter" as the subject.

Free High 5 Spring 2001 catalogs can be picked up at public libraries, and participating Ticketmaster outlets which include HMV Records, Tower Records, The Wiz and other stores in New York City and much of New Jersey. The catalog is also available in the lobby of High 5's executive offices at 1 E. 53rd St. in New York City during office hours Monday through Saturday.

Child Safety Network's new theme is 'Go, Speed Racer'

By Mark Maynard
Copley News Service

One of the most unusual vehicles at the San Diego International Auto Show was the Mach 5 Speed Racer, a limited-edition, Corvette-based roadster.

Made popular by the 34-year-old cartoon series, Speed Racer is now the icon for the Child Safety Network, a firm that distributes safety information on automotive and roadway issues.

"We never thought we'd be in the business of selling Mach 5," says Ward Leber, the network's CEO. "We needed an icon to attract men 25 to 45, and Speed Racer kept coming up as the way to go."

The image of the cartoon racer and car has a 95-percent name recognition among men ages 25 to 45, Leber says, and almost 40 million fans would worldwide.

"The focus on men brings in the fathers — the ones who are buying the family cars, either safe or unsafe, and installing the child safety seats, properly or improperly, and they are teaching the children to ride bicycles," Leber says.

As a hook to promote child safety in cars, Leber unveiled a working prototype of the Mach 5 at last year's Chicago auto show.

"We were asked so many times by serious people if they could buy a Mach 5 that we bought the license rights," he says.

The prototype sold for $180,000 at a collector-car auction in August and will go on permanent exhibit at the Petersen Automotive Museum in Los Angeles.

The road-ready Mach 5 sells for $72,000, ordered at the web site www.mymach5.com with a $35,000 refundable deposit. Twenty percent of the proceeds go to the Child Safety Network.

One hundred Signature Series cars will be built, each signed by actor Peter Fernandez, the original voice of Speed Racer, who also wrote and directed all 52 episodes, named all the characters and wrote the theme song, "Go, Speed Racer, Go."

Leber is also supplying Mach 5s for the Speed Racer movie, scheduled for release next summer. "I'm sure there will be much more demand than cars," he says.

Sign language tour
Pontiac-GMC is reaching out to the deaf community throughout the United States in a program that provides American Sign Language interpreters at auto shows.

The tour to 30 cities began in January in Los Angeles.

Outreach is through online publications, schools and organizations for the deaf, hard of hearing and senior citizens.

At the shows, one to two sign language interpreters accompany the participants and provide translation through the General Motors Experience display area at the auto show and beyond for as long as six hours at the show.

Groups range in size from five to 100 and participants are given free admittance to the show, lunch and a souvenir memento.

At the Portland auto show, a group of 21 elementary school students spent the day at the show. "We have people as young as a preschooler and as old as 92," said Christie Conti, Pontiac-GMC program coordinator on the West Coast.

The nationwide ASL tour by Pontiac-GMC is in its third year, with more than 1,600 participants logged over the past two years. Around 1,500 are expected to take advantages of the program this year.

Reservations can be made by e-mailing CarShowsforDeaf@aol.com.

Luxury tax
The luxury tax has been trimmed to 4 percent as of Jan. 1, but the threshold for computing the luxury automobile excise tax will remain at $38,000 through 2001.

Spare Parts
Infiniti Zoom

With its 340-horsepower, 4.5-liter V-8, the 2002 Infiniti Q45 moves farther into the sport sedan class with 0-60 mph times expected to be less than 6 seconds, says a news release.

And, with an optional rear-view camera, the view to the back is automatically displayed when the drive puts the Q into reverse. The camera is designed to improve visibility for safer driving.

The all-new sedan goes on sale in the spring.

Monterey weekend
Bentley will be the featured marque at the 2001 Monterey Historic Automobile Races, which will be held Aug. 17 to 19 at Laguna Seca Raceway.

X-Type
Jaguar has released photos and a few specifications on its new compact sports sedan, the X-Type.

Previously referred to as the X400, the sedan will be priced below the S-Type sedan and put Jaguar on course with the Mercedes-Benz C-Class, Audi A4 and BMW 3 Series.

When it goes on sale next summer, it will be the first Jaguar to have all-wheel drive. Power will come from a 2.5-liter or 3.0-liter V-6.

Designed and developed in Coventry, England, the X-Type will be built at the Halewood plant in Merseyside.

Harley haven
Online shoppers can now get official Harley-Davidson merchandise at the newly launched RoadStore at www.harley-davidson.com.

More than 2,600 items from "MotorClothes" to leather and chrome are just a few clicks away.

From now through Dec. 15, with every purchase of $30 or more, shoppers will get a H-D mouse pad in the shape of a motorcycle and a custom pin. Registered visitors have access to a special "Wish List" feature.

Book corner
Auto writer Dan Burger and photographer Robert Genat have just finished "Impala 1958 to 2000," (128 pages; 80 color, 40 B&W photos; $21.95).

The softbound book is finely photographed and written and features factory photos and period advertisements.

Genat has written and photographed a dozen or so automobile-truck tomes, including "Chevrolet SS." That history of the option package was introduced in 1961 and continued through the 1994-96 Impala SS ($21.95, 128 pages).

There's plenty of Genat's photography and factory archival material on the Chevelle, Camaro, Nova, Impala, Chevy II, Monte Carlo and El Camino SS models.

Genat's calendar, "Vintage and Historic Drag Racers, 2001," costs $11.95.

You can also pick up all the Hemmings Motor News Calendars — 14 of them — at Motorbooks.com or www.hemmings.com. Each costs $11.95. My favorites are still the "Abandoned Autos" and "Abandoned Trucks."
