Dems take early lead A good name

Last Sunday, The New York Times did a follow up on Raymond Donovan. The Short Hills execu-tive is a former U.S. Labor Secretary in the Reagan administration But he was better known for the bevy of lawsuits and the battering brought against him by overzealous prosecutors. All charges of corrup-tion were ultimately dropped and even publicly ridiculed. His famous question "Which office do I go to get my reputation back?" remains a chilling statement. Donovan's unfortunate ordeal

Donovan's unfortunate ordeal came back to me while reviewing a new proposal regarding public offi-cials being crafted by the state Office of Inspector General and State Commission on Ethical Stanrds. It looks like things are get ting better.

With one exception, I've skipped the "stasher flick" gener since they re all cookie-cuiter creations.  "Psycho" Not only does this top my horror movie list, it's also my all-time favo-rite film. Made on a shoestring budget, director Alfred Hickcock's buillant 1960 classic stands head and knotter above the rest. Hickcock masterfully directs not only the actors, but the audience as well, building thid tension to an unbearable point. nc UISURCE and Green did, Wakh supported the voucher system to a point. "Yes, I would support a voucher system, but not if it means taking billions out of the public school system." One of the last issues the candidates were asked to comment on before the forum concluded was how they intend to help clean up crime and drug sales. Stender said phat funding for law entorement should be examined. Walsh cited three ways in which wine should be attacked. "First, we need more of police presence. The second thing is money for rehabilita-tion to prisoners. Third, we need more money into education for our children in school to help our kids understand that this is something that alters your life."

extreme acceleration, the Ram was admirably unshkable. Drivability is entjanced by a smoother shifting optidbil automatic transmission and by smaller, but more efficient, engines. The sleeper motor is the new 3.7-liter V-6 boasting 215 horsepower – 35 more than the 3.9 it replaces – with decent 15/21 fuel economy. The 4.7-liter V-3 is rated at 240 horsepow-er, which is up about five powies from last year's 5.2-liter motor. Each of the new power relatis boots fuel economy by about one mile per gallon. Those two engine choices, pilos the carry-over 245-horsepower 5.9-liter Magnum V-8, run on regular unleaded. That's a miligating factor for otherwise unimmiligating factor for otherwise unim-pressive fuel economy. The 8.0-liter V-10 and Cummins
