Arbitrator awards new police, fire contracts

By Rick Klittich
Staff Writer

Springfield Township is marking the start of a new year and the reorganization of its governing body. The township's governing body is set to meet on Jan. 13, 2004, to elect a new mayor and council members.

Mayor Harold Harelik was appointed mayor of Springfield for the second time in over five years on the committee.

"Our mission is to provide the township employees to provide an appropriate level of service to our residents and to meet within a specified budget," Harelik said.

Harelik said that the township's goals for the year include providing a high level of service to our residents and to meet within a specified budget.

"We have an agenda of work that we want to accomplish in the next year," Harelik said.

Working with the residents and the township's governing body is a top priority for Harelik.

Harelik said that the township's goals for the year include providing a high level of service to our residents and to meet within a specified budget.

Both necessary and valuable to produce an informed electorate.

"I have always been very involved in the township," said Harelik. "I look forward to making sure that this year has been a continuation between the employees of the town and the Township Committee and between the Township Committee and residents."

It is important that everyone is up on the latest issues," she said, including the reorganization of the Railway Valley and other organizations at Meisel and the firehouse, and the reorganization of the township.

"I want to make sure we're all working together on the same page," Harelik said.
