Naming Members To Review Board At Jan. 1 Meeting

Colandrea Will Fill Unexpired Term On Town Planning Bd.

Robert D. Hardgrove will become mayor of Springfield at the Jan. 1 organization meeting of the Township Committee. This was confirmed this week as members of the new committee met to make the determination.

Max Sherman, former township attorney will be named magistrate, replacing current Magistrate Thomas Argyris and two men will be appointed to the recently created Board of Review.

The new mayor was elected to the Township Committee for the first time in 1961. During his first year he was chairman of the finance committee and is currently chairman of the public safety committee.

A graduate of Newark College of Engineering, with a degree in electrical engineering, he holds a master's degree in management engineering from the same school. He is employed by Public Service Electric and Gas Co.

The Hardgroves, who live at 125 Sutter st., have three children, Janice, 13; Lucille, 11; and Robert, 5.

Sherman Lawyer
Sherman, who was township attorney from 1952 to 1958, recently moved his law office from Newark to Springfield. He is a graduate of Rutgers Law School. He is a member of the New Jersey, Essex and Union County Bar Associations.

The new magistrate will be named by the township committee on Jan. 1. He is chairman of the legal committee of Temple Beth Ahm and counsel in the Fourth of July Committee.

Married to the former Martha Jane Kelly, the couple has two children, Ronald, 20, and High, 11. They live at 303 Alder st.

John Smith of Mountain ave. and Leonard Smith of Garden ave. will be named to all on the newly created Board of Review. An ordinance creating the board, designed to act in an advisory capacity to assist in planning for building, was passed by the township committee earlier this year.

Town Darkened After Auto Hits Pole On Highway

The entire south side of Springfield was plunged into total darkness Saturday night after a teenage driver smashed into a utility pole on Rt. 22.

According to police, James Moester, 18, of 753 Liberty ave., was heading west on the highway at 7 p.m. when another car attempted to make a turn. The Union driver's car collided with an auto operated by George Turner, 25, of Newark.

Police said Moester's car went out of control but the pole near Hillside ave. and business flames. Moester suffered a scratched forehead.

All the businesses along the highway from Union to Mountain side were blacked out from 7 to 8:15 p.m. Some of the businesses, including hotels and diners, switched to candles. Police said about 6,000 persons were affected by the loss of power, which knocked out lights in residential areas and caused furnaces to shut down.

Springfield police were flooded with calls. During the commotion at police headquarters, 20 Girl Scouts marched in and sang Christmas carols to Sgt. Louis Quinton, the desk sergeant, who was working the switchboard.

Action On Sewers Could Come In '64

Chances that the Township Committee would take action on the report of the Assessment Commission in regard to payment for the South Side Sanitary Sewer before the end of the year were reported this week.

At this newspaper's press on Sunday, Mayor Arthur M. Falkin said that committee members were still making a decision as to whether the committee had sufficient time to study the report in order to take action at the Dec. 26 meeting.

The mayor said the matter was still being discussed but that a decision might not be reached until after the organization meeting on Jan. 1. He did not, however, discount the possibility that movement might occur on Dec. 26.

Falkin said the report had been returned to the Committee by the Assessment Commission early in the month.

Set Costs
The original report of the commission setting local assessments against those who benefited by the line was returned to the assessors by the Township Committee on Oct. 22. At that time, Falkin said, the report was being returned "in light of new evidence."

In their original report, the assessors presented local assessments rather than a town-wide general assessment for the project, in conformance with the ordinance drawn at the time the sewer system began in 1959.

Although the contents of the returned report was not made known, it was reported by a source close to the project that (Continued on page 2)

Special Services For Christ's Birth

The days of Christmas are coming throughout the world and throughout this land of ours. And here in Springfield, churches will celebrate the birthday of Christ in many of the town and in surrounding communities.

Christmas Spirit Abounds In Town During Holidays

The multi-color lights of the Christmas tree in front of the Municipal Building reflected in the slight fold of snow which still lightly covered the ground. Snow and lights and Santa and his sleigh, those traditional things for the Christmas children of the north, decorated the sides of the building.

While Morris ave. lights hung overhead, interspersed with images of Santa's head, oversized Christmas balls and reindeer, and the features of St. Nick clinging to the building over the entrance to Regional High School, residents of the township were also in the holiday spirit and reflected it by individual artistic efforts.

On Mountain ave. a group of wooden 18th century Englishmen silently sang "God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen." A bit further down the street General Greene Village dressed its main entrance with a huge wreath, white on Morris ave. the Towne House's Santa and sleigh wished all a "Merry Christmas," in bold letters at the bottom.

Clasby Canvas
Lights framed many of the doorways in the township and at 27 Meisel ave. a tree graced the window. A few dots down the street on a second floor balcony another Santa and sleigh stood out against the white of the home, while candy canes decorated the doorway.

Outside trees were seen as bright as their lights played in the snow. A door, dressed in blue sparkling material framed in lights and boasting a wreath and snow balls gazed a door near Chisholm School.

Bonadies To Reintroduce Bid For Renaming Municipal Pool

As one of his final acts as he leaves the Township Committee after a period of 10 years, Committeeman Vincent J. Bonadies says he will reintroduce his suggestion of renaming the Springfield Municipal Swim Pool in honor of the late President John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

Bonadies said this week that he will bring the matter to the attention of the Committee when it meets Thursday, Dec. 26. "The official period of mourning for President Kennedy will then be over," he said. "I feel that renaming the pool in his honor will create a permanent memorial for one of the things for which he stood, physical fitness."

The retiring committeeman said that the late President not only stressed the importance of physical fitness as he would not create the image "as often thought abroad, that we are a nation of 'soft-people,'" but "the late President carried it a step further and stated his belief that physical fitness produces political strength." Pointing out that Springfield Chapter, Union National, has passed a resolution asking not only the change in the name of the pool, but suggesting that the entire area be renamed, "John Fitzgerald Kennedy Memorial Recreational Park," Bonadies said he believed that the suggestion was an excellent one and "I will certainly support it."

Bonadies said that township residents had indicated that they favored renaming the pool. "Some residents have stopped me on the street and said they would support it," he said. (Continued on page 2)

District Schools Regional Report Now Available

The 26th annual report of the Superintendent of Schools of Union County Regional High School District No. 1, has been released. It was announced this week.

The 24-page booklet is available to the public at the Board of Education Secretary in Berkeley Heights. There are a limited amount available at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School and at the Springfield Public Library, according to Dr. Warren M. Davis, superintendent.

The booklet covers such items as a brief history of the regional district, the various programs offered and a statement by Dr. Davis concerning planning progress and possibilities. Dr. Davis says in part:

"By 1973, the program and curriculum of the Union County Regional High School will have expanded greatly to keep pace with the expansion of the student body. It is now practically certain that by 1973 there will be a realignment of work as between the high school and the college. The present hesitating entrance of the college curriculum will be advanced steadily to keep pace with the growth of the high school. The present hesitating entrance of the college curriculum will be advanced steadily to keep pace with the growth of the high school. The present hesitating entrance of the college curriculum will be advanced steadily to keep pace with the growth of the high school."

In addition Dr. Davis indicated that the summer schools will be even more important and will change in scope. He said at least partial if not complete air conditioning in the buildings will make it possible to use them for full day summer schools, and will open the way for a complete re-study of the length of the school year.

"Within the space of 10 years," Dr. Davis says, "we shall know much more about the identification of youth with problems and shall have even better facilities than at present for handling these problems. Our already phenomenally low dropout rate will be even lower as we improve our means of identification and care of the problems of youth."

Two Autos Damaged In Meisel Ave. Mishap

Jean R. Schoecraft of Short Hills, was issued a summons for passing a red light last Thursday afternoon when she was involved in an accident at Millbrook and Meisel. The 21-year-old woman was heading west on Meisel when her car hit another woman's vehicle in the left lane.

The Schoecraft woman, police said, was heading south on Meisel and failed to stop for a red light. Both cars were damaged.

'Dear' Me, 'Dear' Me

An auto delivery by Thomas H. Cane, 21, of Spring Lake, was damaged last Friday evening when a deer ran in front of his car while he was driving west on Hamilton rd. near the Little Branch Public Billing Academy. The right front fender was damaged. There was no injury to the driver or passengers.

But those close to the man who served as the township's first Democratic mayor, are indicating that they are convinced that this is not the end of a long and vigorous political career for Bonadies who stepped down from the local spot this year to seek a state assembly seat.

4 People Injured In 2-Car Mishap

Four persons were injured last Wednesday afternoon in a two-car accident at the intersection of Meisel and Linden avenues. Damaged Perotti, 71, of 187 Hillside ave., Springfield, suffered a skull fracture. He is in the hospital in Trenton. The other three injured were John Perotti, 65, of Linden ave., Springfield, who was injured in the head and neck; and John Perotti, 65, of Linden ave., Springfield, who was injured in the head and neck.

The driver of the other car, Albert Duro, 43, of East Orange, also suffered cuts about the mouth. All were treated at Overlook Hospital in Summit.

The driver of the other car was traveling north on Meisel, when he hit the driver car on Linden. He was never defeated by a local opponent.

Sewers

The assessors would continue to uniform to the blueprint of the plan. The "new evidence" came to light when Alan Kempler, a Newark attorney, who at the time the blueprint for the sewer was being drawn, was a clerk in the office of the then Township Attorney, Irwin Weinstein. Kempler said he had informed certain property owners that the program would be partially financed by a general assessment. Kempler said that Weinstein had told him to tell the property owners that the assessment might be partially general.

Weinberg said that Kempler was carefully instructed by me that he could not make any representations about assessments as the policy on the matter was decided by the Township Committee.

At the Dec. 22 Township Committee meeting, former Township Committeeman Daniel M. Lacy and Township Committeeman Vincent J. Bonadies, both testified to the fact that the ordinance governing the project, and published in the newspapers on Sept. 10 and 17, 1959, stipulated that assessments would be local.

On the basis of the verbal testimony and communications from Weinberg and Russell, Sibole, former township committeeman, the Committee decided to return the report to the commissioners for additional study.

"I Want A Chatty Baby, Cosmetic Kit, Car, Barbie Tea Set, Blue Bike, Tressy Doll..."

Dear Santa Claus,

I have a blue bike and some games and a Barbie car and a house for Barbie and Barbie's tea set and a chatty doll and a chatty baby and a chatty baby can for chatty baby can.

I have a pair of overalls and Leopard with and velvet feet and zippered sleeper and 2 piece play suit and a chatty baby and ironing set and E Z weaver and play Cosmetic kit.

Each of Santa's correspondents was "very good" this year, with the exception of Mark Bender who, indicating himself as "half good and half bad," asked for a jungle hat, among other items.

Michael Skaya, who began his letter with an obviously national defense note by asking for "some good Army tanks," switched to a "fish set... dinosaur set... and crayons." Including money and candy in his pole he asked for a Kewpie doll for his mother and made that Santa knew his father "wants two good boys." He also threw in a "bag of bones" for his dog.

While asking for a "snow projector and a service station... clothes and a bike for his sister, "Teddy Conklin wasn't exactly bribing but made it clear that "Teddy would like to help you please."

Four-year-old Gary Raymond was a "good boy." As a matter of fact Gary made it plain to Santa that his "baby brother Kenny... his brother Doug... and his sister Janet were also good.

Clay would like books and books "a big book truck and a book... a punch ball, a book... the ball and nothing else."

Mary (Santa will know her name) is age 8, and she "wants a dress for Barbie and a dress for me... and some Knoses." Whatever her last name, Mary made sure Santa knew that her Zip Code number is 07001, just in case he should miss her chimney.

"I WANT A Tammy doll and a pen and a playhouse and a box of candies and the Ken doll and all the big book and a play car and a ball and a table too," asked Jo Ann Foster. Among her other needs indicated were an "electric mixer," a wonderfule kitchen, "A magic washer and a yellow bike."

Betsy and David Marcel expedited matters by the brief preface: "Here is my Christmas list." Betsy listed 13 items for Santa's consideration from a vanity table to "pebbles." David's list of seven included "Mighty Matilda," a "50 calibre machine gun," and a "Battle Wagon."

A "cotton candy machine" and a "Coco Cola dispenser" were two of the four items asked by David Pacifico. "This is all I want for Christmas," he said.

"P.S. I want this too... carryall tool kit," was the afterthought of Jeffery Pacifico, who would like a total of

Presents Results Of Experiment

Dr. Donald S. Morachuk, director of Special Services, for Union County Regional High School No. 1, Berkeley Heights, has had an article printed in the Research Bulletin of the N. J. School Development Council, Graduate School of Education, Rutgers.

The article concerns the adaptation and usage of programmed instruction in arithmetic with mentally retarded, conducted at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

The purpose of the experiment, according to the article was to compare the difference in learning rate of arithmetic computational skills between two methods of instruction with two groups of mentally retarded students.

Dayton Students! Beware Of Car; Driving's Rough

Don't become so engrossed in after school conversation with your friends at the school bus stop that you forget cars are whizzing by.

This in essence was a warning issued last week by Dr. Warren M. Davis, superintendent of the Union County Regional High School District No. 1, to students of Jonathan Dayton High School in Springfield, as well as to those in the other two high schools in the district.

Dr. Davis sent a memorandum to the three school principals on the subject after comments were made at a Dec. 17 Board of Education meeting. W. Robert Powers, board member, said he had observed boys and girls waiting for buses while standing in traveled roads. He pointed out that weather and icy road conditions at this time of year make driving tricky enough for motorists without school children tempting fate.

Another member, Thomas L. Nolan, said he thought a situation very often arises as follows: Two students will be standing off the road, but others will join in the conversation around them until there is a crowd crowding into the traveled roadway.

Dr. Davis thanked the board members for these observations and said recommendations would be sent to the principals.

Just south of the Post Office a single strand of lights were strung over Mountain ave., and Santa's heads' hung to lamp posts.

The air was crisp at The Top and in front of the mountainside trees blinited their lights in short intervals into the snow. Groups of candles burned in each of the first floor windows of another house reflecting on a steady snow man on the lawn.

And from The Top, New York City was portrayed in its usual awesome beauty, only now, close to the eve of the birth of Christ, it filtered through the trees as a Christmas card.

With National Magazine

To Dodge Responsibility

The Newark Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a new magazine, "New Jersey Industry," which will be published by National Magazine Co. The magazine will feature articles on various industries in the state, including manufacturing, agriculture, and services. It is intended to provide a platform for industry leaders to share their insights and experiences, and to promote the growth and development of the state's economy.

To Dodge Responsibility

A resolution on a new tax bill introduced in the New Jersey Assembly last week has caused a stir among members of the New Jersey Bar Association. The resolution, which calls for the repeal of the bill, has been met with strong opposition from many of the bar's leading figures. They argue that the bill is a necessary measure to address the state's fiscal needs and that it is the responsibility of the legislature to pass such legislation. The controversy highlights the ongoing debate over the role of the judiciary in reviewing legislative actions.

To Change Rules

The Newark Chamber of Commerce is planning to hold a meeting on December 30th to discuss proposed changes to its rules and regulations. The meeting is open to all members and is expected to be a productive session. The chamber's leadership has expressed a commitment to transparency and to ensuring that the organization's policies are fair and equitable to all members. The proposed changes include updates to the membership process and the handling of disputes.

STATISTICS SHOW UNEMPLOYMENT

A major portion of the decline in unemployment during the third quarter of 1962 was due to an increase in the number of people entering the labor force. The Bureau of Economic Analysis reported that the number of new entrants exceeded the number of people leaving the labor force, resulting in a net gain of 1.5 million people. This increase in the labor force has helped to offset the decline in the unemployment rate, which stood at 6.2 percent in the third quarter.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The number of union members in the United States declined during the third quarter of 1962, according to a report by the Bureau of Economic Analysis. The decline was primarily due to a decrease in the number of people joining unions, which fell below the number of people leaving unions. This trend is consistent with the overall decline in union membership that has been observed in recent years.

Reflection: The Six Beautiful And Agonizing Weeks Of Christmas Season

(Christmas is the time for nostalgia! Our photographer and poet-shatterer humors drops the slightly acid pen with which he has previously condensed such American phenomena as New Year's and stereophonic sound and pulls out all the stops on rich Christmas memories.)
By BOB BAXTER

unchanged, I remember when I was a kid, Christmas seemed to start at Thanksgiving and run clear through New Year's. Not that the kids were out of school all that time; it's just that the spirit of the season seemed to come on early and stay late.

Christmas actually started about the first of December when Mom started making those cookies of a dozen shapes, tastes and memories. Fruit cakes, baking in the wood burning oven filled the house with fragrant memories which will always symbolize for me the true feeling of Christmas. My sister and I spent many an after-school hour decorating the cookies with colored icing and how we would scamp to see which of us would lick the icing best!

Our big present was brought late in November, and locked in a small room under the stairs. For six agonizing weeks my sister and I tried to weasel from our parents a description of our presents. Mom had one answer: "It's round and square and has a hole in the middle," the same answer she now gives her grandchildren. Amazingly enough there has never been a Christmas present that, with a little stretch of the imagination, has not fitted the description.

TIMES WERE tough during the early 30's but my Dad was one of the fortunate ones; he had a job. Still the problem of feeding, housing and clothing a family was hard. But hard times or not our stockings were always hung and found filled the next morning, filled with a precious orange, a few candy pieces, the usual pair of socks and, way down at the toe, a small piece of very black coal.

The coal at the toe became a kind of symbol. For as long as I am able to recall, I remember my Mother reminding me that we had better behave ourselves or "Santa" would give us nothing but coal in our stockings. This was true in the anthracite coal region of Pennsylvania, this threat could too easily become a reality.

In our part of Pennsylvania snow was, and probably still is, minimal. My Dad used to say: "We have two seasons here in Freeland, winter and July."

And he was right: I remember a fire in our furnace in the middle of August.

Maybe because I was just a little kid, as high as maybe the snow really was, so much high because I recall walking to school through banks of white-shimmering snow higher than I could reach, even standing on tippy toes. Since our town was not close to the automobile, it never was brought to its knees by snow. The Christmas tree was always pulled home through the wonderful white stuff, with Dad leading the procession, pumpling under his breath how he had been robbed by paying a quarter for the tree.

CHRISTMAS ITSELF started early Christmas Eve. The family would shake the snow from their clothes, take off their snow laden boots and grind in the parlor. The tree, gilded with dozens of ornaments, a few lights and much love, would be lighted for one and all to "ohh" and "ah" at. Then presents, large and small, would be placed beneath the drooping branches. But the several compartments under the tree would not be opened until Mom and Dad were sure my sister and I were fast asleep. But to tell the truth, Sister and I on more than one occasion "snuck" down the stairs to peek our heads between the banister rails and watch the opening of the "forbidden room" as from its cloistered recesses came sleights and skis and, once, a wagon.

I remember Dad trimming that eight foot tree, balanced precariously on a ladder, hanging ornaments, which Mom claimed were her grandmother's, and must be handled with special care.

Then the lights would be strung gayly around the branches, and Mom and Dad would sit back in a chair as Dad would make the grand gesture of plugging in the lights for the first time. For few spluttering seconds the tree would be alive with glittering light. Then usually out they would go, breaking the blissful mood of the occasion and causing several small outcries to cross his very tired lips.

CHRISTMAS MORNINGS my sister and I dashed down the steps and seeing the array of presents spread in profusion about the tree, we would gasp in awe and put on a proper show for our parents. Those gentle souls nodded to each other and unspokenly said: "We fooled them this year."

Although Sis and I were up early, usually about five thirty, we never quite managed to beat Mom who was up even earlier to start the turkey roasting. Its succulent aroma drifted deliciously from room to room.

The table where the feast would be served was bedecked with all kinds of food, most of which I wouldn't touch and still won't eat. But somehow their careful hues and shapes, the delicious smells made the picture of Christmas perfect to us. The aroma of pumpkin pie and spiced pig baking side by side with a well-stuffed turkey, and the treat of treats that once a year delicacy "OLIVES" made Christmas dinner for us kids perfect. As we nibbled on nuts Dad gave us a short description of each variety.

And then on came the bird, big, brown and with a beautiful bouquet that still swarms fragrantly in my memory. Dad always found one "poor" soul who had no Christmas dinner. He would be brought home to a warm house, and given one of Dad's precious shirts, a sweater and a shave. He was introduced at the table as Uncle John, or Uncle Fred or some other first name "Uncle" and given "first" on all that we had to offer. And almost always Sis and I had stashed a small gift aside for the "Uncle" we knew Dad would bring home for Christmas dinner.

Christmas day seemed to last, at least to our small minds for there and each portion is embroiled in our hearts forever.

Little remains of this type of Christmas. Or is it perhaps not this Christmas but its wonder but that we adults have lost the grace of wonder? Look at the face of any small child, gazing in a shop window or waiting for the first Christmas cookies to come out of the oven—the wonder is still there for the heart that holds the magic of believing!

N. Y. School Custodial Scandal
'Could Not Happen In Jersey'

"Such a situation could not happen in New Jersey," a Union County school official said recently in reference to the school custodian scandal that rocked New York City early this month.

The scandal involved uncovering of the fact that the city had been paying some public school custodians up to $40,000 per annum—more than it pays Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

Dr. Warren M. Davis, superintendent of the Union County Regional High School District No. 1, told a questioner at a Dec. 17 Regional Board of Education meeting: "Such a thing could not happen in New Jersey. It would be found illegal immediately."

He later explained to a reporter that no school district in the state can do anything that is not specifically authorized by state law. New York City had operated under a system of janitorial operation that allotted to the custodian large amounts for the janitorial care of the school, and the custodian was obliged to provide all janitorial needs. "What he didn't spend, he could pocket," Dr. Davis said.

The school head likened the situation to one that existed years ago in New Jersey, whereby sheriffs were allotted $1 a day to feed each prisoner. If the sheriff could feed the prisoner at 22 cents per day, he made a profit.

In all school districts in New Jersey, the school board fixes the custodian's salary, and janitorial needs are purchased out of budgeted accounts, Dr. Davis said.

PERSONAL OR MATERIAL VALUES?
I've struggled for everything I've ever had, and I want to make it easy for my children. I want to give them everything," says a fond parent.

It's natural for parents to want the best for their children. Yet the parental attitude of giving the children everything defeats its own purpose. When things come too easily, there is no fun, no enthusiasm, no real enjoyment. There is overemphasis on material things and the parents' effort to "make up" to the children for their own struggles.

When everything is easy for the children and they have everything they want, they are likely to develop false values. The child who is surrounded by too many expensive toys loses interest in them quickly. He doesn't have the opportunity to learn through creative play with empty cartons or old pins and pans. He does not develop imagination and ingenuity or learn to use his latent resources.

The intangible things of the spirit, such as love, friendship, faith and hope, cannot be bought. More toys, a larger allowance, a car, a fur coat or a better house are all good to have. But material possessions alone do not bring happiness.

Charge Roselle Man In Mishap

A Roselle man was charged by Union Police last week on an Irvington complaint of leaving the scene of an accident.

Irvington Police have charged Frank Mohr, 30, of 151 W. 6th ave., Roselle, with leaving after striking the rear of a car parked at 1123 Stuyvesant ave., Irvington, last Tuesday night. He was stopped a half mile from the scene, at 1700 Stuyvesant ave., Union.

In an Irvington accident earlier that day, driver Minnie Friedman, 55, of 1645 Manor dr., Union, and passenger Anna Lapofsky, 58, of 1847 Manor dr., were injured when Friedman struck the rear of a parked auto at 105 Mill rd. The driver told police she was temporarily blinded by the sun. They were treated at Irvington-General Hospital.

On Friday James McCarthy, 33, of 2074 Stecher ave., Union, and Betty Kampp, 57, of 111 Mill rd., Irvington, complained of head pain after the car in which they were riding, driven by Bernard Feeney of 48 Leslie pl., Irvington, was struck in the rear at 106 Mill rd. by Yvan Bouffet of Orange.

Tips for Today's Homemaker

From Mary Armstrong, County Home Agent

ENJOY OFFERING HOSPITALITY HAVE GOOD THINGS READY AHEAD

You can enjoy the extra guests the holidays bring if you are well prepared. There is still a little time left to get ready a number of good things that are part of holiday hospitality. And some short cuts are possible through the use of foods with built-in mild service.

It is late for making real old-fashioned fruit cake from the beginning, but prepared chopped fruit mixes are time savers and so is the use of prepared mince meat in cookies, as well as in fruit cake.

There's no need to spend time shopping nuts. Usually the cost of those all ready to use is no more. Nuts are a traditional part of the holiday season. Perhaps you can find time to sugar and spice some for casual snacking as well as use at parties.

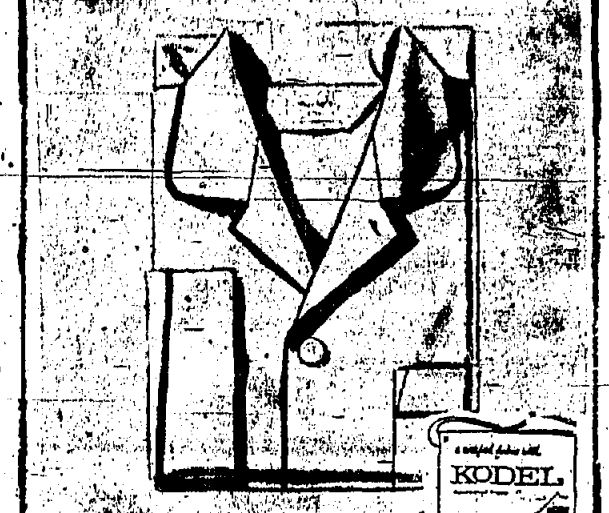

You will surely want the makings of hot spiced cider, or the delicious English Wasad bowl, on hand. You will find that making at the time of use gives a fresher spice flavor than advance preparation. But you will want to be sure you have granadine, red food color, stick cinnamon and whole cloves on hand.

There's sure to be a need for some easy-to-make cookies, as well as the time-consuming decorated cut ones. Molasses coconut chews are easy to make and good enough to make up for their lack of glamorous appearance. Fruit and nut bars are beautiful as well as tasty.

A pecan nut bread loaf served in strips with either butter or cream cheese is often a welcome offering in con-

Blend well but do not over-mix. Stir in coconut. Bake 35 minutes or until done. Place on wire rack. When cold, cut each cake into 24 bars. Store in tightly closed container with waxed paper between each layer. Improves with age.

Almost $2 Million In Student Loans During 4 Months

A total of 2,261 loans amounting to $1,970,363 were bought by New Jersey banks in New Jersey college students during the four-month period of July through October, Commissioner of Education Frederick M. Hauginger announced this week. "The dollar value of the loans issued by the July-October period is more than the total amount of the 2,075 loans issued prior to July since the beginning of the program in September 1960," the Commissioner declared.

During the same four-month period 30 student loans totaling $17,558 were repaid to the lending banks, Raubinger said.

All loans issued by the 113 participating banks under the student loan program are guaranteed or insured by the Higher Education Assistance Authority, which includes Edward W. Moore, chairman, Maplewood; Eugene Jacobson, vice-chairman, Englewood; Charles A. Waverton, treasurer, Morristown; Joseph G. Mark, South Plainfield; and Dr. Raubinger, Dr. George M. Maxwell, director of the Student Loan Program, and Mrs. Anna Price of the Department of Education serves as secretary to the Authority.

CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

Real Joys Of Christmas

By REV. BENJAMIN W. GILBERT
 Pastor of The Methodist Church
 In a world where there is so much heartbreak, sorrow and crime, it is a good thing to have Christmas. For this is a joyful season.

As we read in the New Testament: "Dear not for behold I bring you tidings of great joy which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the City of David a Savior which is Christ the Lord." (Luke: 2:10 and 11)

Now, my friends as we celebrate another Christmas it is well for us to pause and ask ourselves, "What are the real joys of Christmas?" I am sure we will agree that Christmas means a variety of things to different people.

For many children and young people, main interests are centered about material gifts. I am sure you are familiar with the story, "Yes, Virginia, There is a Santa Claus."

But Christmas also means a lot to adults. Congress and the United Nations adjourn. Kings and queens and presidents drop all duties and some travel thousands of miles to be with loved ones. Our hospitals discharge as many patients as possible so they may be home for Christmas.

But in the last analysis, no one need have a joyless Christmas in our land. For those who do not have the necessities of life; there are enough welfare organizations to help all who apply.

Finally, however, it is not so much what we have in material gifts, for our Lord Jesus Christ is the great Christmas giver. Many of the richest and sweetest joys our hearts can experience were born into the world when Christ was born in Bethlehem.

May I mention a few among the many? In the first place, the joy of knowing the nature of God. Yes, the incarnation is simply a great object lesson of God's love.

Secondly, the real joy is that of possessing a Divine-Human Mediator. Christ came to seek and save the lost. And we have all sinned and come short of the glory of God — so we are all guilty.

But we can rejoice in this Christmas Season because the Bible says: "For any man's sin we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ, the Righteous, and He is the propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only but for the sins of the whole world."

In the third place, when we come to Christ and yield our lives to Him, we can face the new year and begin again.

As a poet has said:
 "Every — is a fresh beginning.
 Listen my soul to the glad refrain,
 And spite of old sorrow and older sinning,
 And puzzle forecasted and possible pain,
 Take heart with the day and begin again."

In conclusion, may I wish you all a joyful Christmas and a peaceful New Year.

REV. BENJAMIN GILBERT

 The scientific nature of Christianity will be explored in next Sunday's Bible Lesson at all Christian Science churches.
 Scriptural readings will include this verse from Isaiah (51:4): "I have spoken unto me, my people; and give ear unto me, O my nation: for a law shall proceed from me, and I will make my judgement to rest for a light of the people."
 Selections from the denominational textbook will include these lines: "Our Master taught no mere theory, doctrine, or belief. It was the divine Principle of all real being which he taught and practiced." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 26).
 The Lesson is entitled, "Christian Science."

The following is the famous reply of a New York Sun editor, Francis R. Church, to a letter from eight-year-old Virginia O'Hanlon. Young Virginia's letter explained that her friends questioned the existence of Santa Claus and that she was seeking the truth. Church's reply appeared in the Sept. 21, 1897, issue of

The Sun. It has since been published and republished in many languages.

IS THERE A SANTA CLAUS?
Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe, except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary would there be no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance, to make tolerable this existence. We should have to creep, and crawl, and grovel, and beg, and plead, and whine, and think of the world with which children's eyes would be frightened.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies. You might even get your papa to hire men to watch all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus! But even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down the chimney what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children or men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. No! Only children can see them. All the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You say you don't believe in the supernatural beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus? Thank God! He lives, and lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, may be ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

NOW CHRISTMAS COMES
With a jangling and rattling timeliness, Christmas comes this year to deliver its message of peace, through love. The destructive power of hate we have seen cruelly and tragically demonstrated. Its bitter harvest of anguish and death has been visited upon us as a people. Yet, in a moment of climatic pathos, when love created death in her arms, we were made to realize that love is stronger than hate and brings a noble certainty that defies them both.

We who seek peace and the hunger for peace is native to the hearts of all men... Welcome Christmas as the open door thereof. The path of peace is love and goodwill. They constitute, also, the only means to human happiness.

So, after deep darkness, let us greet the radiant dawn of the eternal truth of Christmas, and, putting aside all worldly attitudes and moods of spirit, let us so live as to make it possible for us to "have one another's best interests at heart." Then the peace of Christmas will be like a benediction on our lives, as long as love endures.

350,000 Waterfowl Counted In Aerial Survey Of State

More than 350,000 waterfowl were counted in New Jersey on the latest aerial survey of the Division of Fish and Game in the Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

The total of 350,176 birds counted on Dec. 8 was a rise of nearly 12,000 over the survey conducted two weeks earlier. There were no flights in Dec. 1962.

Black ducks and mallards, two of the most popular species with hunters, both rose slightly to 70,788 and 11,007 respectively. Brant also showed a small rise to 148,201.

Huffheads nearly tripled in number, with 4,270, and mergansers nearly doubled, with 3,188. Scaup rose 14,000 to 45,020, and snow geese rose 8,000 to 34,882. (Green-winged teal, which normally, move ware Bay. Most of the birds were found south of the refuge. Totals for other ducks were as follows: pintails, 6,153; light greys, 5,750; ruddy ducks, 3,405; mallards, 1,000; shovellers, 700; canvasbacks, 770; goldeneyes, 725; scoters, 343; oldsquaws, 170, and ring-necked. Unidentified ducks totaled 200, Canada geese, 3,225, and whistling swans, 60.

Sports Editors Vote Weber Top Award

DICK WEBER of the AMF Eight of Champions has been voted the outstanding professional bowler of the 1962-63 season by the Academy of Sports Editors. A special panel representing the country's leading newspaper editors selected Weber top bowler on 81% of their ballots. This was the crowning achievement for the incomparable Weber who has already in 1963 been named Bowler of the Year by the Bowler Writers' Association of America, won the Hickok Belt Award as the top professional athlete for the month of January, and for the second consecutive year won the BPA All-Star Tournament. When not on the tournament trail, Dick operates an AMF-equipped bowling center in St. Louis with another AMF staffer, Pat Patterson. He resides in Florissant, Missouri, with his wife and four children.

Dayton-Westfield Game Looms As Battle Of Centers

Regional Wrestlers Grapple Westfield

The Dayton Regional High School wrestling team's first match is against powerful Westfield H. S. and the Bulldogs.

BILLY GOLEMBIEWSKI Hold ball way out in front and drop it on first step.

By BILLY GOLEMBIEWSKI Brunswick Advisory Star I am an odd-ball bowler in that I don't always practice what I teach.

I tell beginners and those I instruct that they must use the pushaway. I recommend that they keep their elbows tucked in close and push away with the ball on the first step. I don't do this. I hold the ball way out in front when I'm set to go. Then I merely drop the ball on the first of four steps. Another way I vary from the norm—and what I teach—is that I employ an exaggerated follow-through. I force my hand through the ball, instead of stopping it normally, the way I like to see my pupils do it. I believe that every good bowler, after he has mastered the basic techniques, develops little deviations.

If he uses little variations, which are adapted to each bowler's physical and mental characteristics, that his good habits will lead to great ones.

DAYTON'S POWERHOUSE: Center Bill Kretzer is the leading scorer for the Bulldogs' five, averaging 30 points a game. The six-foot center is also a strong rebounder. The jump shot is his most effective scoring weapon.

Four Strikes Split With Pin Breakers

The Four Strikes and the Pin Breakers split last week in a tight battle for the top spot in the Girls' Recreation Bowling League. The Four Strikes team bowled games of 415 and 408 to establish a new high series for a team at the Bowling Pin Breakers to victory in the first game while Linda Glanton, who bowled 40 plus better than her average. The other members of the Pin Breakers team, Kathi Sumpster, Linda Norwalk, and Diane Slater, also called good games. In the first game Sharon Gagnon, Nancy Mortine, and Virginia Vogt of the Four Strikes all bowled over 100, with Virginia's 120 leading the way. The second contest was won by the Strikes as Virginia rolled a 129 game, second-highest game bowled in the league this year. It also gave Virginia a new high series mark of 249.

The Wild Bowlers defeated the Lucky Stars, twice, to move into a tie for second place. Karen Lubber turned in games of 87 and 85, and Debbie Klinton also bowled well for the Wild Bowlers. Lucky Stars leaders were Sharon Mortine and Bonnie Bosh. In the final match of the day, the Four Strikes, Patty Knudsen, Alyse Cooper and Barbara Palmer led the Wonders. Sheri Goldman and Karen Jacobs paced the Pros. Diane Slater continues to lead in the averages with 93. Alyse Cooper remains one pin back with a 92 average. Girl Possums, with an 85; Martene Motrione, 81, and Karen Lubber, 80, round out the top five averages in the league. Other leaders are Sharon Gagnon, 80; Nancy Mortine, 79; Virginia Vogt, 78; Sheri Goldman, 78; and Linda Norwalk, 77.

Giants Win Three In Boy's League, Paced By Tasher

The Giants won 3 games in the Saturday Morning Boy's Bowling League last week and the Millers were defeated twice, to narrow the Millers' grip on first place to 2 games.

Steve Tasher's 470 series led the Giants to a sweep of the hot place Dodgers, Ray Learcrafts bowled 344 for the victors. Kurt Kuntze led the Dodgers.

The Mets took two from the Millers behind Lew Whitlock, Ted O'Connell and Mike McCourt. Joe Fiorillo, Chic Marcantonio and Ray Haines led the Millers.

Pacing the Cards to two victories over the Yankees were Alvin Podres, Dave Rech, Howard Spelman and Lenny Scelfo. Bruce Mochler turned in a 160 in the final game to salvage a victory for the Yankees.

Dave Rech, with 130, continues to pace the league in individual averages. Fred Struck is second, with 124 averages, and Ray Haines and Steve Tasher are tied for third with 123 each.

Bulldogs' Kretzer Matched Against 6-5 Bob Feller

By NAT RUBENSTEIN The Dayton Regional High School basketball team was scheduled to slip across Springfield's southern border on Monday to tangle with a powerhouse Westfield five which has a 3 and 0 record.

Westfield rolled over Plainfield 70 to 50 in its first game. And against Scotch Plains it won 59 to 57.

The Dayton-Westfield contest was billed as a battle of centers. The Blue Devils' bucketman, Bob Feller is six-five and a dynamo under the basket, and, unlike most big men a sharpshooter from outside. Feller, who's only a Junior, is being courted by a number of colleges.

Bill Kretzer, Dayton's center who's averaging 20 points a game this season, is expected to have his hands full.

Westfield coach John Lay says he has three lettermen on this year's squad including Feller. Lay says senior back court man Bob Whitaker is a good steady ball player who can be counted on to control the team on the floor.

It appears that Westfield's basketball team could win the County championship. Last year's club compiled a 21-3 record.

"Now we got to get Westfield."

That's what members of Dayton's basketball team were saying Friday night in their locker room after beating Caldwell's campers, 61-57.

It appeared that the Bulldogs came into their own against Caldwell for they not only sprigged an offense but showed improvement on defense.

Dayton's defense was so effective that Caldwell was forced into streaks of bad shooting. And in the first six minutes of the second half Caldwell scored only two points. Coach Ray Yanchus said Jimmy Lees showed a lot of hustle and aggressiveness.

At one time he took a shot and missed and followed up, grabbing the ball off the boards and fed it to Billy Kretzer who dunked it into the hoop for two points.

"As for Kretzer," Yanchus said, "he held his man to six points."

The big Dayton center kept up his torrid scoring pace by pumping in 27 points. And Frank Monteith broke into double figures Friday night. He scored 16 points, 13 of them in the first half.

Keith Neigel, playing for all-time league points, scored 10 points.

And Dayton's big three up front, Kretzer, Monteith, and Neigel did a good job off both ends.

But in the victory over Caldwell these still was some disappointment. The Bulldogs continue to do poorly at the foul line. They missed 12 of 22 free throws. Kretzer missed three of eight attempts.

Though Dayton's beat Caldwell by only four points, the Bulldogs were always in command.

AIMING TO PLEASE — Bob Bennett Jr. demonstrates a rifle sitting position in his livingroom at 78 Sherwood st. Bob is a member of the Newark College of Engineering's varsity rifle team.

Sherwood St. Sharpshooter Zeroes In For Newark Engineering

There's a rifle sharpshooter who lives at 78 Sherwood st., but there's nothing to worry about. Bob Bennett Jr. does his shooting at intercollegiate rifle matches or during the hunting season.

Bob, 21, is a member of the varsity Newark College of Engineering Rifle team (the team has won five and lost two this season). This is his third year on the team. He's a Junior.

Bob's cousin—taught him how to shoot when he was 14. Actually, the first weapon Bob fired was a shotgun near his cousin's home in Hackettstown.

He's aware of the potential danger latent in any fire arm, but points out that the weapon doesn't pull the trigger. Bob feels that a federal law against purchasing a rifle through the mail won't do much good in keeping weapons out of the hands of criminals and unbalanced persons.

"If a person wants a rifle badly enough, he'll find a way to get it," Bob said, "the best control over rifle use comes from a sound moral character."

Though Bob has lived in Springfield since 1948, he did not graduate from Dayton Regional High School. He spent three years at Dayton and in his senior year switched to Governor Livingston H.S. because that school offered a special electronics course he was interested in taking.

Bob has no aspirations of becoming an astronaut. "Though he likes to fly, and he's down when he prefers to fly in the Earth's atmosphere," he says, "I don't think I'll qualify for outer space travel, and you have to be tough to do that." Bob may not be too much into everything, but when it comes to pumping a rifle through a target, he excels.

League Hears Talk About Air Pollution

"Vegetation and farm products can give warning of air pollution, just as the canals and in the coal mines years ago," according to J. A. Leone, of Elizabeth, speaking at a meeting last week of the board of directors of the Union County Tuberculosis and Health League.

Miss Leone, an assistant research specialist in the Rutgers College of Agriculture, showed slides of her current research on the effect of air pollution on vegetation.

"Air pollution can cause considerable economic loss to farmers whose crops are damaged," Miss Leone said, "and it can affect human beings. By observing plants we are alerted to the possibility of ill effects on people."

Crop damage can be caused, Miss Leone explained, by a variety of sources of chemicals in the air, from industrial processes, in combination with an atmospheric condition which causes the gases to settle and become concentrated rather than being dispersed in the air.

Rutgers University was the first university in the country to initiate a research project on the effect of air pollutants on vegetation. Co-researchers with Miss Leone were Eileen Brennan of Colorado, formerly of Rutgers, and Dr. Robert H. Daines, both of the department of plant pathology in the College of Agriculture.

Miss Leone, a native of Elizabeth, is a graduate of Hamilton High School and Douglass College. She received her master's degree in plant physiology from the College of Agriculture. She is listed in "Who is Who of American Women" and "American Men of Science". She was elected to the Tuberculosis League board of directors in May, 1963.

In other action the board of directors named an executive committee for the League composed of the five officers and Dr. Ellis P. Singer of Plainfield and Joseph F. Mellor Jr. of Westfield.

Dr. Theodore Kusnick of Linden, League president, announced receipt of a letter from the qualifications and control committee of the New Jersey Tuberculosis and Health Association, commending the county group on its program of work. In particular its successful initiation and transfer of the tuberculosis case register, its case filing in high risk groups, and the continued development of TB Clinics.

$17,369.63 Raised For Sister Kenny

Robert Sheldon, state chairman of the 1963 Sister Kenny fund appeal announced this week that, with half of the returns from the Union-Middlesex area, $17,369.63 has been raised to date.

"The drive has been extended until Christmas to give the remaining volunteers an opportunity to cover their areas," he said.

"I urge all of the Kenny volunteers to complete their assignments and return their collections before Christmas," Sheldon said.

"Our fiscal year ends Dec. 31, 1963, and our deficit for the 1963 operation is dependent upon this year's fund appeal."

The Sister Kenny Foundation maintains a treatment center in the B.S. Pollak Hospital in Jersey City and is affiliated with the Seton Hall Medical School.

"This year the institution has given over 38,000 treatments to victims of arthritis, strokes, cerebral palsy and other nerve and muscle disorders," Sheldon said.

Plan Open House At Junior College

All former Union Junior College students have been invited by George Van Horn, chairman, to attend the annual alumni homecoming open house. This year's event will be held at the Student Center of the new Campus Center in a roomed.

"We urge all former students, whether from the class of '33, or '34, to attend the annual homecoming and open house," Van Horn said.

The program will include speeches by the UJC Club under the direction of George White, vice-president and chairman of the new center under the direction of the UJC Key Club, student host organization.

Homecoming is sponsored by the UJC Alumni Association and the Day Session Student Council. The program is conducted each year during the Christmas holidays at recent Union Junior College graduates now attending four-year colleges and universities around the country can attend.

"Many UJC faculty members are expected to be on hand to greet former students and their friends."
