In Review Of 1963: Referendums Defeated, Pool Opens, Election

Springfield watched in 1963 the defeat of two referendums on school construction, saw the election of the fifth Republican to the Town Committee, and was made more acutely aware of the creeping inflation. Also high on the priority list of events was the opening, in July, of the Municipal Swimming Pool.

In late-May additions to the schools and the construction of an administration building at a cost of $1,475,000 was defeated at the polls. In a second try to alleviate overcrowded conditions at Gaudinier School where six floating classes are in existence, an $800,000 referendum for expansion of that facility hit the dust. It was clearly not a year for schools in Springfield.

Opening of the municipal swimming pool in late June brought crowds to the facility off Mortenson ave. The end of the year report proved that the utility had been successful and had, during its first year, actually made many people happy.

Less content were those who were forced to move their homes as the first physical signs of the approaching 78 became real as the State Highway Department began the purchase of homes within its path. Even less content were those whose homes were not taken, but who were watching the character of their neighborhoods change to make way for the eight-lane interstate highway.

In November William Koontz was elected to the Township Committee, and the election of the Republican to the seat held by the lone remaining Democrat, Vincent J. Bonadies, brought the first political parties represented on the Committee. Some Democrats were saying, "wait until next year."

Blackman was attempting to make inroads in the Township administration party tags. As the year rolled to an end, Springfield recoiled in shock at the murder of John Fitzgerald Kennedy, the 35th President of the United States, struck down in Dallas, Tex., by a sniper's bullet.

PRACTICALLY EATING UP THE YEAR and barely before it has had a chance to begin, is the Leader's New-Born baby, Robert Domination, seven-month-old. Assistant Recreation Director Scott Domination, Young Miss Domination was not planning to stay awake to greet the turn of the year, as she kindly consented to pose early this week. The first baby of the year, Robert Domination, was born at 11:58 p.m. on Dec. 31, 1963, to Scott and Young Miss Domination. The baby is expected to be born in the next few days. The birth is being celebrated with a party at the Domination home on Jan. 1, 1964.

Argyris Appointed Prudential Counsel

Thomas A. Argyris, 40, Philadelphia, Pa., has been appointed counsel for the New York Regional Office of the Prudential Insurance Co. Argyris, who has been in Springfield for the past several years, assumed his new duties in mid-December.

The 30-year old Argyris has returned to the company which he left in 1961 to enter private practice. He had become associated with the Prudential Insurance Co. in Newark, first as a law clerk after graduation from Rutgers Law School in 1959, and rising to the post of associate counsel.

Born in Camden, the former magistrate came to this country in World War II as a member of the U.S. Coast Intelligence and saw action in the European theater of operations.

Admitted to the New Jersey Bar, Argyris is also a member of the Bar of the District of Columbia. Married and the father of four sons, he has been a Springfield resident for 16 years.

JUNE

The Springfield Leader published its first issue on June 20, 1963. The paper was published by the Board of Education. President August Caprio announced that the School Board would probably go for a referendum to add to the Gaudinier School before the end of the year. Caprio said that the proposal would probably ask for between $800,000 and $850,000. A temporary injunction barring building at Gaudinier Lodge was issued by Union County Superior Court Judge Walter Hietfield III, as five township residents filed a motion for a writ of habeas corpus to stop a special exception granted the lodge by the Board of Adjustment and approved by the Township Committee. Janice Smith of 131 Madison ter. was the leader of the "School's Out" girl for 1963. As her picture made Page 1, School ended on June 21. Jay Blackman, Springfield lawyer, named March 21st Director of the township for 1964. 400 teenagers were enrolled in a summer school at Jonathan Dayton High School. The Springfield Municipal Pool opened to 4,800 members on June 28 as temperatures soared into the 80s. Formal dedication of the pool took place July 1. Later, the Township Committee introduced an ordinance to create a five-man Architectural Board of Review and set public hearing date for July 8. The Township Committee approved the purchase of land preparatory to the relocation and improvement of the pool. The pool is to be raised through bonds and the state was to return $26,000 in aid.

JULY

Amendments to the Springfield Zoning Ordinance came up against strong opposition. Particularly hard hit was the Board of Review. Robert C. Miller, architect, and chairman of the Board of Adjustment, said that such a board would be oversteering architecture when it was not equipped to do so. Referring to the South Side Sanitary Sewer was adjourned by the Township Committee for the study of the sewer. The sewer was to be installed in the area of the pool. Mayor Arthur M. Falkin sent another communication to the State Highway Department. The state sit down and talk over the location of the proposed highway. The Township Committee passed a resolution to request the State Highway Department to be changed in memory of the late President, and said he had understood several service organizations had sent letters to the Township Committee recommending the name switch. Mayor Arthur M. Falkin said that the letters were not at the meeting but that they would be given consideration when the committee decided to discuss the matter of a suitable memorial. Previous suggestions coming from the population had been to rename Joanne Kennedy way, and the Township Committee had considered renaming a major thoroughfare.

All Republican Township Committee Scheduled To Take Over On Jan. 1

Hardgrove Set For Mayor's Post Replacing Falkin. Sherman Expected To Be Sworn In As Town Magistrate. The first all Republican Township Committee in 10 years was scheduled to take over at noon on Jan. 1, 1964. Mayor Robert D. Hargrove was scheduled to take over the duties from Mayor Arthur M. Falkin. William F. Koontz, elected in November, was slated to begin his trial by fire. Max Sherman, Springfield lawyer, and former township attorney, is expected to be sworn in as magistrate. Members of the newly created Board of Review will take their places. Richard Colaninno will be the only one to fill the four-year unexpired term of Wilbur J. Binder on the Planning Board. Binder moved from the township earlier this year.

Town Puts Off Renaming Pool In JFK's Honor

Thomas Lamb Files For Board Election. The Township Committee has decided to postpone the renaming of the municipal swimming pool in honor of John F. Kennedy. The committee is still in the process of discussing the matter. Thomas J. Lamb, 23, Greenhill rd., has announced his intention to make it a contest for the election to the Board of Review. Lamb, who picked up his petition from Assistant School Board Secretary Audrey Rubin on Dec. 22, is expected to file his name by the deadline of Jan. 15. Lamb is an engineer and has been in the township for several years. He is currently employed by Shell Chemical Co., New York. Lamb has been in the township since 1961. He is currently employed by Shell Chemical Co., New York. Lamb has been in the township since 1961. He is currently employed by Shell Chemical Co., New York.

Union Man Crushed To Death In Springfield Bus Accident

Springfield recorded its fourth traffic fatality of the year late this morning when John Volosin, 36, of 10th Harding ave., killed himself when he was run under by the rear wheels of a 1963 Chevrolet bus at Morris and Mountain aves. shortly before 10 a.m. The driver of the bus, identified by police as Edward Burke, 39, of Morris Plains, was scheduled to appear in municipal court Monday night under the charge of causing death by motor vehicle accident. The bus driver told police he felt a "bump" and as he looked

Attorney Named To State Council For Investment

John P. Walsh, an attorney from Springfield, has been appointed secretary to the State Investment Council, State Treasurer John A. Keenan announced last week. Walsh succeeds Walter F. Hoffmann of Wayne in the position, which is non-salaried.

Walsh Associated With Law Firm of Hecceg, Bolan and Herzig of Millburn

Walsh is associated with the law firm of Hecceg, Bolan and Herzig of Millburn. Before joining that firm, he was employed in the Legal Department of the Erie Railroad Company, Hoboken. He also was formerly associated with St. Peter's Institute of Industrial Relations of Jersey City. He was admitted to the New Jersey State Bar in April, 1956. A graduate of Seton Hall University's School of Law in 1954, Walsh received his Law Degree from the same school in 1955. He is 31 years old. With his wife and one child, he lives at 162 Baltusor way, Springfield. He formerly resided in Westfield.

Bonadies Receives Vote Of Confidence

Vincent J. Bonadies, who prior to his last meeting as a member of the Township Committee, jokingly remarked that he was getting his "severance pay tonight" received praise from his fellow committee members for his efforts on behalf of the township during his 10 years in municipal office.

Mayor Arthur M. Falkin at the Dec. 26 meeting called Bonadies "a very able committee member. I have not always agreed with him, but I cannot belittle his efforts on behalf of the township." Falkin said he wished Bonadies well in his future endeavors, and said he was giving his best wishes "not only in behalf of the Township Committee, but in behalf of the entire township."

Committee members Robert D. Hardgrove and Carmen Capapano also joined in praise of Bonadies. "Mr. Bonadies," Capapano said, "has been energetic in his actions for the benefit of Springfield."

Falkin praised Bonadies as a leader of the Democratic Party in the township and reflected on his "amazing record" of producing a strong party that had a member on the governing body for 10 years.

Falkin pointed out that although Committee member Philip Del Vecchio had been called out of town on business, that he and the committee member had discussed the matter and that Del Vecchio had also wished to join in praise of Bonadies.

Falkin then called for a unanimous vote of confidence for the retiring committee member. Bonadies looking startled for a moment, said, "You can't do that, I'm still sitting here." Falkin, smiling, asked for and received an overwhelming resolution of confidence for Bonadies.

Bonadies, first elected to the Township Committee in 1952, was the township's first Democratic mayor. He had the distinction of never having lost a municipal election throughout his 10-year career.

He stepped down from his committee post in 1963 to run for the State Legislature and although he carried the township, he lost the county and election.

New Yorker Accused Of Assaulting Girl

Jan. 6 has been set as the trial date for a New York man who is charged with atrocious assault and battery on 17-year-old Lynne Sellinger of Springfield.

Kenneth J. Manley, 18, was accused of running over the girl in the Lincoln School playground in Summit, July 30. She suffered a broken pelvis, internal injuries, and severe facial cuts and bruises, police reported. Manley has been in the Union County Jail since his arrest. He has pleaded innocent to the charge.

FALKIN PRAISED BONADIES as a leader of the Democratic Party in the township and reflected on his "amazing record" of producing a strong party that had a member on the governing body for 10 years.

Walsh is associated with the law firm of Hecceg, Bolan and Herzig of Millburn. Before joining that firm, he was employed in the Legal Department of the Erie Railroad Company, Hoboken. Month-By-Month Review Of 1963

 came after meeting of Township Committee, State Senator Nelson Starnler and Edgar V. Coon, assistant director, division of roads, State Highway Department. The special exception for the Elk Lodge on Old Coach rd. is passed by the Township committee on recommendation of the Board of Adjustment.

AUGUST

Springfield's Fair Housing Committee reviews official recognition as the board of trustees of Tennis Sherry Stadium becomes the first to endorse the newly formed group. School board announces that it will seek referendum adding 10 classrooms to Gaudineer School. Planning Board Chairman Joseph A. Bender says that Board is studying "about a half dozen sets of plans" for project. Mayor Falkin sends letter to the State Highway Department regarding re-alignment of Main St. as well as construction of Rts. 78 and 24 are announced from Trenton. Proposed Rt. 278, shown on map to cut the township in half, is said to be 10 years old, according to Mayor. Board of Education selects $850,000 plan for improvements to and expansion of Gaudineer School. State Board of Education set September, 1963 as target date for completion. School Board selects Oct. 10 as referendum date for Gaudineer project. A five-year plan for installation of sidewalks, curbing and repaving of certain "bad intersections" is announced by the Township Committee. With the water shortage in Springfield, Mayor Falkin says, "Expansion of parking facilities at Sandmeier School are studied as two members of the Board of Education are members of the Township Committee meet to discuss the situation. Parking facilities for Morris Ave. become the topic of discussion as the Chamber of Commerce and the merchants sit down to plan for the future. The township asks the Public Utilities Commission to look into the operation of the Commonwealth Water Co. and the Board of Health adopts a "nuisance code." Springfield residents join with thousands for the peaceful March on Washington for Jobs and Freedom.

Gaudineer referendum is defeated by 1,051 to 861 votes. Action was the last possible for 1963. Board says it feels "agony" was responsible for defeat. "Too many thought it was a sure thing," one Board member remarks. PUC tells Township Committee that Commonwealth Water Co. is capable of supplying township's water needs. Alex Blackman urges study of form of government, as part of his political campaign. He asks if township should have professional administrator. "Elka" withdrew bid to use Old Coach rd. for clubhouse in light of taxpayer suit. Membership agrees that it does "not" want "hard feelings" with potential neighbors. Planning Board tables request for consideration of a $600,000 convalescent home on Fadam Farm property and turns matter over to Board of Adjustment. Township Committee in special session hears representatives of Commonwealth Water Co. tell it can supply needs until 1970 and has plans beyond that. South Side Sanitary Sewer assessment issue "again held over" as Alan Kempler, Newark attorney, says he is "definitely" mislead properly owners by telling them that assessment would be partially general. Chamber of Commerce tells Mayor Falkin that 72 cars on north side of Morris Ave. Announce that project will cost $18,000 and say that cost is to be picked up by property owners. Mayor Falkin announces that Township Committee would like to set monies aside for new library. Former township committee member and former attorney Lewis Weinberg tells Committee that no one was ever instructed to tell property owners that South Side Sewer would be general assessment report is returned again to Assessment Commission. County Park Commission announces that 187.9 tract of land in township will become new county park. "TOWNSHIP MOVING" regulations are set at special meeting of Township Committee after residents complain of "havoc" created by moving a house along Bryant Ave. in path of Rt. 78. Irving Samuels is elected first president of Fair Housing Committee as temporary chairman Rabbi Israel Dresner, steps down. Samuels will name steering committee to work on constitution.

NOVEMBER

William F. Koonz is elected township committee member and Alex Blackman by 1,770 votes. Township Committee will be all Republican as of Jan. 1 for 1964. Board selects Vincent J. Bonadies, candidate for State Assembly runs ahead of Democratic ticket in township, but loses in county. "BONADIES" announced that he is running for State Assembly as factor in their defeat. Committee votes $12,000 for purchase of new equipment to extinguish the sign. Committee member Vincent J. Bonadies said at the Dec. 28 meeting he felt that it was impossible to get a regulation for extinguishing the light, when other signs along the highway burn continuously, hours, hours, burning one-half and one-fowl, he said. Bonadies said he felt that sign lighting was not in the time limit. "That is the reason we rekindled it back to them in the first place," he said. The Adjustment Board, previously set 6 p.m. as the time for extinguishing of the sign. Falkin said that although he did not agree with the time limitation, he felt that the company wanted to start operation and if the matter was sent back to the Adjustment Board, it would have to wait until February to gain approval. Bonadies apartment as the variance was approved.

DECEMBER

Mayor Joseph A. Bender, John C. Geary and Robert T. Southward announce their intention of seeking reelection in the Kobonowicz election. Board of Education introduces $1,602,000 tentative budget for coming school year. Although item is $35,000 higher than current budget, Board predicts that "variable" will offset difference and that school tax rate of $2.58 per $100 valuation will not rise. The U. S. Supreme Court responds a decision on an appeal by Rabbi Israel Dresner and nine other clergymen convicted in Tallahassee, Fla. of unlawful assembly during a Freedom March over two years ago. Fifth Court said it needed rulings from Florida's Supreme Court. The ruling and others were attempting to test segregation practices when arrests took place. Jaycees show results of Town Attitudes Study to Township Committee. Produce Meetings of Union County mayors whose municipalities will be affected by Rt. 78 takes place to discuss utilization of Springfield Ave. to handle traffic. John A. Hopping of Springfield announces his intention to seek reelection in Regional School League in February. Hutterer Township residents petition the Post Office Department through its regional office in Philadelphia to allow Springfield mail trucks to leave the township to give service to their area. A $600,000 convalescent home is approved for the Fadam Farm land by the Board of Adjustment. "We have taken long enough with

LEADER PROFILE

ROBERT D. HARDGROVE

The new mayor will like to see more Springfield residents at Township Committee meetings this year.

Robert D. Hardgrove, who was expected to be named Springfield's chief executive at the Jan. 1 organization meeting Wednesday, thinks the municipality would be better off if more people took part in running it. Representation at municipal meetings, he feels, indicates a healthy state of growth for a community and provides the basis for democratic government.

"I went to township meetings," he said, "before I was a member of the Committee." He added that he hopes many more Springfielders than attend now will turn out at the meetings to express their views.

Asked if he welcomes dissenting views, he said: "The day the individual cannot come and express an opinion that is different from that of the governing body will be a sad day for the government."

He added that he also likes to hear a word of approval now and then for the work the Township Committee is doing. He said he hopes people won't come out to the meetings only when they have something to complain about.

ASKED IF HIS desire for citizen representation at municipal meetings indicates he has a large faith in human nature, he said: "To lose faith in human nature is to be a fool."

He said that he believes in "the integrity and honesty" of people.

"Other people are no different from me," he said. "I think I am an honest man."

He said that one has to believe in people because the only constant in life is the flow of the human race. "Buildings fall," he said.

He says he tries to be responsive to the individuals in the community because he feels that every individual is representative of some kind of group thinking.

"The only way we can function," he said, "is to give due consideration to expressions of opinion from residents of the community. But we like expressions of opinion for as well as against," he added.

The 39-year-old mayor sat in the living room of his newly-decorated home at 275 West Street, outlining his philosophy of government.

He is a man with a big laugh and a cordial hospitality, but he does not like to be mined down concerning future plans. He explained that reporters are a tricky lot and that one has to be careful what he says to them. He advised that he likes reporting to be "accurate and fair."

Asked to be more specific, he said: "You know how newspapers are."

HARDGROVE WAS BORN in Maplewood, attended Maplewood public schools and Columbia High School. His childhood hobby, he said, revolved around his favorite hobby—a fish.

Asked what kind of fishing he prefers, he said: "You name it, if you fish for it with a rod, I like to catch it." He said, though, that he prefers the "art of dry fly fishing."

As a boy he fished with his father, and as an adult he continued the hobby, touring Canada, Maine, New Hampshire and other fishing spots.

His children all have fishing rods, he said, and his youngest, Robert, caught his first fish when he was three—a small bass.

Asked to describe his biggest catch, he said he is "one of the few modest fishermen."

An electrical engineer with Public Service Electric and Gas Co., Maplewood Testing Laboratories, Hardgrove started with that organization when he graduated from high school. He has since attended evening school at Newark College of Engineering to win a BS degree in electrical engineering in 1958 and an MA degree in management engineering in 1961.

HE SAID THAT the understanding and encouragement during his prolonged night school trek provided by his wife, Helen, his high school sweetheart whom he married in 1946, was a big help.

He explained that it requires a lot of patience for a wife to provide an atmosphere for concentration and study for her husband during those hours when he would otherwise be counted on to help with a few chores.

Hardgrove's involvement with Public Service was interrupted during World War II, when he saw action in the European theater as a jet airplane pilot with the 10th Infantry Division. He won four battle stars for participation in the 10th Airborne's role in the capture of the Rhine and two others that he doesn't remember.

TERCENTENARY Tales by John T. Cunningham Ham

New Year's Day, 1781: The Pompton Mutineers Remain Loyal

THE LOYAL MUTINEERS. By JOHN T. CUNNINGHAM

General Anthony Wayne, commanding the Pennsylvania line at Jockey Hollow, cancelled all personal celebration on Jan. 1, 1781, despite the fact that it was both New Year's Day and his 34th birthday.

Discipline and bitterness enveloped the New Jersey encampment, after nearly five years of warfare men, still suffering from inadequate clothing and wretched food. Wayne sympathized with their personal problems but problems which they consider to be the most important legislatively in our state today.

I received a letter the other day from a constituent in Westfield who said "since most of our members are working people we would suggest an evening appointment. We would suggest Monday, Wednesday or Friday evening after the first of the year."

But, the four new Republican members of the legislature, Frank McDermott of Westfield, Lorraine Collins of Summit, Nicholas LaCoste of Cranford, Peter McDonough of Plainfield and myself are going to arrange to be in various announced places throughout the county during the terms of our offices. The purpose of this will be to meet with constituents who have problems—and since there are a great many of them, we have the ability that much greater to all of the people. It is practically impossible for all of us to be together every time we meet the people's sessions. But, where there are problems it is our intention to meet at least once or twice a week to discuss what is going on in Union County and what is going on for New Jersey.

We intend to make these announcements of the meeting places from time to time and look forward to the cooperation of the members of the 21 municipalities who will make arrangements for us in their municipal buildings so that we can meet the constituents at a public place.

Report From Trenton

by State Senator Nelson J. Stamler (R-Union)

As a member of the Legislature I get a great deal of mail from constituents who are anxious to discuss not only their personal problems but problems which they consider to be the most important legislatively in our state today.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

TAKES ISSUE

I wish to correct what I consider to be a major distortion in your recent conversation, referred to in your issue of Dec. 19, regarding the dismissal of important members of the Library staff. And to express my disappointment at his failure to come to grips with a grave moral issue. My wife and I still firmly stand by our original letter to Mayor Falkin, a copy of which was sent to you and published in the Leader.

Handball Bounced

Some $2,000 appropriated for construction of a handball court at the Municipal Swim Pool was bounced back to the general utility by the Township Committee at its Dec. 20 meeting. The Committee passed an ordinance reposing a previous ordinance setting the money aside for the specific purpose.

DRAWING BASED ON diorama in Morristown National Historical Park re-created night of Jan. 1, 1781, when mutinying troops surrounded General Anthony Wayne to hear his plea.

Chief, Selander: 'Don't Be Lit, Be Fit!' In A Warning For Holiday Motorists

Drinking and driving do not mix, and speed and icy roads are a recipe for accident fatalities, according to Springfield Police Chief Wilbur C. Selander, who reminded drivers last week that if they wished to begin 1964 they had better heed a new warning—alcohol and speed do not become holiday casualties.

Pupils, Teachers, Rooms Continuing To Increase

A total of 2,678 teachers were added to the state's New Jersey public schools this year to provide instruction for 50,000 additional pupils, Commissioner of Education Frederick M. Dabner reported this week.

Preliminary results of a survey completed by the Department of Education's Bureau of Research show that the largest increase in pupil enrollments was in the high schools where there were 17,838 more youngsters enrolled than a year ago. Although there was 1,661 more classrooms available this year (44,331 vs. 42,670) there was still a shortage of 409 rooms.

NJEA Warns Teachers In State Aid Campaign

Tough as the recent state bond issue campaign may have been, it was only a forerunner of harder and more controversial days ahead for the state's teachers. For increased state aid to local school districts, the New Jersey Education Assn. is cautioning teachers to "fighting among themselves."

The magazine lists five of the "big hurdles" which must be overcome before the state can relieve tax pressures on the local property owner by increasing its share of local school costs. They are:

1. The interpretation by some political leaders that the bond issue meant a vote against spending.

2. The piecemeal approach of smaller bond issues. "It's difficult to see how those who seriously opposed the Governor's bond proposal can turn around and argue for other bond issues."

road to Farmer Wick's. Wayne rode up, spurred his horse among the riotous crowd, and pleaded with the soldiers to stop. They paused, listened intently for a few minutes but ignored his pleas. Somewhere on the edge of the crowd a platoon fired its muskets over Wayne's head in ugly warning.

Outraged, Wayne shouted: "If you mean to kill me, shoot me at once! Here's my breast!"

Mutiny: The mutiny word in soldierdom. Fearing that the men intended to flee to British camps, Wayne led officers to block the road leading east to Elizabeth-Town. Soldiers resented that, yelling that their aim was to deal with Congress, not to bargain with King George.

SOUTHWARD marched more than a thousand men, pausing overnight at Vealton (now Bernardsville) and at Middlebrook before stepping jauntily into Princeton on Jan. 3. Eye witnesses expressed admiration for the discipline and high spirits of the mutineers.

Wayne dispatched a note to George Washington's headquarters in New Windsor, N. Y., then followed his men. He boldly entered Princeton to negotiate with the Pennsylvanians encamped near Nassau-Hall, recognizing that he would be little more than a suspected prisoner.

Delighted Tory spies raced to New York to tell General Sir Henry Clinton the good news, as they saw it.

Clinton confidentially expected that the end lay near for America—and indeed, if this mutiny persisted, independence would be his. He had his own soldiers everywhere, had grown disgusted with the misgiving treatment shown by a less-than-grateful nation.

SECRET NEGOTIATIONS were begun to work the mutineers into British ranks. Clinton dispatched two Tory spies with an offer of amnesty; within minutes after the spies contacted the soldiers at Princeton, Clinton had an answer. The mutineers awoke Wayne and delivered the spies to him.

The Pennsylvanians expressed disgust at the Clinton offer. They saw themselves as loyal soldiers everywhere, had grown disgusted with the misgiving treatment shown by a less-than-grateful nation.

SOLDIERS in every American camp stirred in discontent as negotiations went on along the banks of the Delaware, and the fires of mutiny flared anew at Pompton on Jan. 20. Several hundred New Jersey volunteers left camp and headed for Chatham, apparently hoping to reach the Pennsylvania success.

Officers returned the Pompton mutineers from Chatham to face starting punishment. Three were elected to die—and 17 others were chosen to shoot them, in a ghastly bit of justice that punished the living even more than the dead. One of the three chosen to die was granted a reprieve, but the Pompton mutineers had no more desire to rebel.

Before the end of January, more than half of the 2,500 men in the Pennsylvania line received honorable discharges. Some remained, but a large number of the soldiers were discharged.

The real returning to camp found conditions improved, although not much for the young nation's political leaders never gave the soldiers such a high priority. They expected the others to give.

Carl Van Doren summed up the desperate plight of the soldiers in his book, "Mutiny in January."

"The real fault in the whole affair lay with the public, which had broken its contract with the soldiers of all the Continental Lines by failing to supply and pay them.

"The citizens at large should have been blamed because they would not act. But the insurgent soldiers were blamed because they did."

UJC Tercentenary Lecture Jan. 13

The first of three Tercentenary Lectures at Union Junior College, featuring Dr. Richard P. McCormick, professor of history at Rutgers University, has been rescheduled for Monday Jan. 13. It was announced this week by Dr. Kenneth C. Mackay, UJC president.

Dr. McCormick's lecture was originally scheduled for Nov. 25, but was postponed because of the death of President John F. Kennedy.

"New Jersey and the Founding of the Nation" will be Dr. McCormick's topic at 8 p.m. in the theatre of Union Junior College's Campus Center.

Dr. Mackay has invited the public to attend the three Tercentenary Lectures at no charge.

Social Security Warnin Issued

A word of caution to housewives came this week from Ralph W. Jones, the Elizabeth District manager for social security.

According to Jones, many housewives do not know that their day workers, cooks, gardeners and other household help are covered by social security. Some housewives in the Union-Somerset County area have had to pay back social security taxes plus interest and a penalty because they failed to make social security reports on time.

Jones emphasized that social security coverage for household workers is not optional. "If the worker is paid cash wages at $50 a quarter by one employer, she is under social security," he said.

He cited the recent case of a cleaning woman who worked only one-half day a week. Although she worked for one family only, and made just $5 for her half day's work, this was enough to bring her work under social security. Since there are 13 weeks in a calendar quarter, she was being paid $65 a quarter. Her employer must make a report at the end of each quarter and send in the social security tax on the wages.

Social security reports for the current October, November, December quarter are due by Jan. 31, 1964. The reports go to the District Director of Internal Revenue in Newark, New Jersey. Housewives may have the report forms sent to them after they all out and mail a post-card form available at the Elizabeth Social Security office.

Jones pointed out that the tax is shared equally by the housewife and the worker. The tax

Committee Selected For Building Design

The appointment of a special faculty committee to design a proposed science building at Union Junior College was announced this week by Dr. Kenneth C. Mackay, president.

Dr. Mackay, who is dean, will head the special faculty committee. Starting with him will be Prof. Forrest P. Dexter Jr., Prof. Casey Grygolis, Henry Karsten, Mrs. Robert Leary, Prof. John J. Shurn, chairman of the biology department; Bernard Solon, Prof. Farris S. Swachamer, acting chairman of the chemistry department; and Prof. Elmer Wolf, chairman of the engineering department.

The proposed science building will be the third stage of a 10-year, multi-million dollar development program outlined for the college by the board of trustees in 1960 to serve an ultimate enrollment of 2,000 students by 1970. The Nomahagan Building providing classrooms, laboratories, library, cafeteria, dining hall and lecture hall, and the for each is 3 1/2 per cent. The housewife deducts the worker's tax from her pay and sends a check for the total tax with the report.

The Elizabeth Social Security office at 288 N. Broad st., has available a booklet which explains social security coverage for household workers in detail. The booklet is free and includes the postcard the housewife mails to receive the report forms from the Internal Revenue Service.

FASHIONS REFLECT RELAXED-MOOD OF VACATION DAYS

A new, more relaxed note in vacation fashions will be emphasized next week when Hahn & Co. will present three traxal fashion shows on the fashion floor of the Newark store. Two shows are scheduled Wednesday (Jan. 8), one at 12 noon and one at 4 p.m. The third show is scheduled Jan. 11 at 12 noon.

The fashions which will include wool travel suits, dresses in the new "cool" look, swim suits and play wear, are designed in the carefree mood which has taken over this year particularly for travel and resort wear. The accessory story is also told in light airy tones. Shoes are open and breezy and handbags are created of blonde silhouettes and various bright and pastel straws.

Ice Causes Accident
A car driven by Edward A. Copelan, 19, of 2774 Larchmont rd., Union, skidded on ice on Elmwood ave., Union, last Thursday morning and struck a parked car in front of the home of the owner, William A. Kagan, 7 of 46 Elmwood ave., Union, also reported. Both cars were damaged.

Detection Of Frauds, Swindles Will Be Subject Of Speaker

Herbert H. Kern of 307 Northview Ter., Springfield, an expert in detecting frauds and swindles, will be the guest speaker when the Senior High youth of Connecticut Farms Church entertain their parents this Sunday at 7 p.m.

Kern's topic will be "The Criminal Mind," a study of the psychology, thought, and action of the various types of swindlers and how they operate. Kern said he's been making talks on the subject for about 11 years. He's delivered his series of lectures to more than 475 church, civic, fraternal, educational and trade groups, having a total audience of over 50,000 people.

He became interested in the subject when he was almost killed in a plot to kidnap him by a brokerage firm, Kern said. "Still the most common kind of swindle used today is the 'found pocketbook'."

Kern explained this operation as when a stranger confides in his intended victim that he has found a money-laden pocketbook and would like to share in his good fortune. The victim is asked to put up some security, usually cash, as a token of good faith. A time and place is set for the victim and the swindler to meet and divide the supposed contents of the pocketbook—but the swindler never shows up. This gimmick is as old as the hills and still lucrative," Kern said. "Also, I've actually entered certain contests where I sent in the wrong answers and then received a letter congratulating me for winning a third prize."

Kern is employed in the safety deposit department of Howard Savings Institution in Newark.

40 Liberal Arts Credit Courses Offered At UJC

Forty freshman and sophomore credit courses in liberal arts, science, engineering and business will be offered in Union Junior College's Evening Session during the Spring Semester. Dr. Kenneth C. LeMay, president, has announced.

The Spring Semester will open Feb. 7. Registration will be conducted Feb. 3 through 6.

All candidates for admission to the Evening Session, including non-matriculating students, must submit their applications complete with supporting credentials before the beginning of registration. Applications arriving later cannot be processed in sufficient time to allow the student to enroll for the Spring Semester.

Prof. Watson explained that among courses available at UJC's Spring Semester will be principles of accounting, organization and management, business law, problems of economics, marketing principles and practices, money and banking, general chemistry, organic chemistry, English composition, English literature, public speaking and general biology.

Also college algebra and trigonometry, unified calculus I and II, calculus and differential equations, introductory algebra, college mathematics, descriptive geometry and drawing, trigonometry, engineering mechanics, mechanics, heat, sound, principles of electrical engineering, introductory French, intermediate German, intermediate Spanish, beginning French, beginning elementary Russian, western civilization since 1500, social psychology, psychology of personality, U. S. history since 1865, and introductory sociology.

Normally candidates for the day school are only accepted in September. However, anyone with previous college work or equivalent background may be considered for admission in February. Candidates should contact the school during the month of January.

Prof. Watson added that all applicants must have a high school diploma or its equivalent to be eligible for admission.

A special or non-matriculating student must present evidence of preparation for any course in which he wishes to enroll.

Yanchus Scores As 'Rookie' Coaches Varsity Team For First Time

Dayton Regional High School's basketball team is off to a strong start this season thanks to the guidance of its coach, Ray Yanchus.

This is Yanchus' first try as varsity coach, for the past two years he coached the JV basketball team, and at his first try as a varsity coach he coached the freshman team.

But Yanchus kept a one step ahead of the game. He coached the first two years of Dayton and for the past two years he coached the varsity football and basketball.

The 29-year-old native of Wilkes-Barre started in varsity football and basketball at Wilkes-Barre College. He was a quarterback in football, played every position in basketball and was a center in basketball.

The Cleveland Indians expressed interest in Yanchus while at college, but he decided to continue with his schooling and gave up the career of professional baseball.

Yanchus said he is sure he made the right decision by coaching in Dayton.

Yanchus got a nice start in coaching his entire career. He coached in the Marines after "graduating" from high school and spent 12 months as a "leatherneck."

But the only action Yanchus saw during his stay with the Marines was during the Korean War when he was in the front lines.

Yanchus only saw track meets and baseball diamonds. Camp Lejeune's commanders spotted his athletic skills and decided to give him a try as a professional basketball player.

RAY YANCHUS
BASKETBALL COACH

Yanchus is assigned to get better track coaching on the high school level.

"For years track coaches have complained about the poor officiating," Yanchus said.

There's a three-way tie in the Temple League. The three teams are Temple, St. Vincent and St. Joseph's.

High series scores were Abby Robinson with 232 and Lenny Cohen with 231 (220).

And the high individual scores were Dr. George Wilson, 222; George Merenstein, 220; Bernie Kayler, 212; St. Veg, 215; Bernie, Davis, 203; Hal Davis, 203; George Blank, 201; Manny Meyer, 201; Bernie Cole, 200 and Lewis Scott, 200.

Here are the top 12 teams in the league:

Springfield Man Only Candidate

John A. Hoping of Springfield, candidate for reelection to the Regional Board of Education, looked this week as if he would be the only Springfield candidate for the Board seat.

The Board office reported that as of Friday, Hoping was the only applicant in his area.

Hoping was appointed in 1960 to fill an unexpired term, and regained his seat in the following year. He is ending his fourth year on the Board.

The Board member is assistant vice-president of Carteret Shingles and Loan Association, Newark. He is a former president of the Springfield Board of Adjustment and Planning Board.

Upsets Highlight Boy's Recreation Bowling Activity

There's marked excitement in the Springfield Boy's Recreation Bowling League.

The Raiders were defeated twice by the Eagles, the Jets split two with the 755 phasers-Hurricanes and the Bombers were jumping twice by the Rockets, leaving a three way tie for first place.

The Eagles were captained by Ted Rosenkranz, Robert Zuckenberg and Robert Zuckenberg, Bruce Gerstein and Dave Epstein were the leading scorers for the Raiders.

The Rockets were led by Rick Williams, Sal Mucario and Mike Rubinfeld. Jim Sarokin and Eric Wasserman were the leading scorers for the Rockets.

Mitch Wolf led the Jets to victory in the second game. His series of 232 was high for the day for his team. In the most contest, Hurricane bowler Larry Devinsky turned in the high game of the day, 136, to defeat the Jets. Devinsky and Bill Harden combined two good games in the second contest but their team fell short of victory.

Devinsky's series of 232 was high series for the afternoon.

Three Epstein of the Raiders remains the league's high average bowler. Dave's average is 123.7. The team's average is 121.7.

Sarokin is averaging 117. Robert Shindler, 112; Jim Sarokin, 112; Mitch Wolf, 108; Mike Rubinfeld, 102; Eric Wasserman, 101; Rick Williams, 91, and Mark Hollander, 101.

Colantone Beats League Leaders

Looks For Tough Game Against Roselle Cagers

"Every game is tough." That's how Dayton's basketball mentor Ray Yanchus evaluated the Roselle High School basketball team which the Bulldogs face tonight at home.

Yanchus is aware of the fact that Roselle last three games before breaking into the winning column against Clark, the only team to beat Dayton this season. Roselle's record in 1963 was 10-10. Yanchus says Roselle's Ed Eschard, who scored 40 against Clark will give his team some trouble.

After the Roselle game, Dayton takes on a tough Greiford Livingston team at home on Friday and a day later plays host to Hillside which holds first place in the winning column.

An impressive 60 to 61 victory over a strong Westfield High School basketball team last Monday night, pushed Dayton's cagers into serious contention for the Watching Conference championship.

The victory over Westfield didn't come easy. It was a well played see-saw type of game with the "lead" changing hands a number of times.

At the half Westfield was ahead 31 to 25, but whatever Dayton coach Ray Yanchus told his boys during the half proved to be the correct stimulus for the Bulldogs.

The Strathmore team came out in the second half and scored 13 quick points and forged ahead of the Blue Devils 46-34. But Westfield recovered and scored eight consecutive points, five of them by center Bob Felzer. At this point Westfield was ahead 52 to 33.

Their Dayton's big center Bill Kretzer scored three field goals and a foul shot and from that point Dayton was in command.

Kretzer continued to shine as a scorer and rebounder. He scored 21 points, 105 in the game, and grabbed 16 rebounds—14. Westfield's center, Bob Felzer, who was supposed to score 22 points.

A big and welcome surprise to coach Ray Yanchus was the performance of Keith Neigel who scored 15 points and played a smart game. The Dayton junior was not a starting member of the squad, but when Brian Levig was out, Neigel was moved up to the starting five. Against Colantone Shines scored 10 points and fought hard off the boards.

Frank Monticello played another smart game for Dayton. He scored 12 points and snarled the Bulldogs.

Ray Yanchus' boys' shooting was in sharp focus against Westfield, for they made 29 out of 41 of their shots from the field. And they improved slightly in their foul shooting. They made 10 of 20 foul shot attempts.

BULLDOG SHARPSHOOTER: Forward Frank Monticello who scored in double figures in the past two games. He also sparked the club to victory by his drive and aggressive floor play.

Bill Kretzer Eyed By Eight Colleges

Bill Kretzer, Dayton's basketball star, is being eyed by eight colleges.

Bill Kretzer, Dayton's basketball star, is being eyed by eight colleges. He is being eyed by North Carolina State College, a school noted for its consistently strong basketball teams.

But North Carolina State isn't the only college who's looking to give Kretzer a scholarship. Dayton's basketball coach Ray Yanchus says that eight colleges have expressed interest in Dayton's center.

Kretzer, who has been averaging close to 30 points this season and sparking an offense and off the boards has become a hot college prospect. The "Big Man" from Dayton is a scout for North Carolina State College, a school noted for its consistently strong basketball teams.

Wright reported Saturday that he already has over the 100 signatures needed to file. Wright, who has announced that he would like to gain experience in his home state.

Capacity Crowd Sees Bulldogs Take On Grads

A capacity crowd made up of faithful graduates, students and interested townspeople watched the Dayton Regional High School varsity basketball and wrestling teams take on the alumni last Friday night.

Dayton's Athletic Director Herbert Palmer was "extremely delighted" with the purpose of the Bulldogs' games was to help the alumni.

The Bulldogs cagers swamped the alumni 78-58. But the varsity wrestlers, who put up a courageous fight, bowed to the Alumni 32 to 3.

Actually, Dayton's wrestling put up a finer showing than the final score indicates.

Wrestling coach Jerry Sachel said his team won 12 out of 13 matches as strong as the alumni all season. Sachel is careful to point out that four members of 1957 alumni team have had college wrestling experience. Heavyweight Tommy Venice is wrestling at Missouri Valley College. 137 pound center Kaschman was on the Newark Rutgers varsity last year. 123 pound Ronnie Lucariello is on the Rutgers freshman team and "Puffy" Hartz who fights at the 136 pound class is wrestling at Penn State.

Wins Match

Rickie Bittle, who's an All County football end, won the only match for the Varsity. Wrestling in the 181 lb. weight Bittle beat Lou Pfeifer 2-0.

There was only one pinning. Alumni John Petrucci pinned Gary Purze in the 133 lb. match. In the other contests 132 lb. varsity grappler John Gardella lost to Ronnie Lucariello, and Alumni Richie Lucariello defeated the varsity's 130 lb. center Steve Appold. Grad Bob Gardella beat Jimmy Palmer in the 140 lb. match.

In the 147 lb. contest the varsity's Tommy Baker lost to Eddie Kishbarian. Grad Tuffy Hartz pinned Bobby Kaiser in the 156 lb. match. Richie Baste of the varsity lost to Vince Caprio in the 168 lb. contest. In the 177 lb. match alumni Carmen Ricca beat Harold Barrow and in the 190 lb. weight class Lou Borich bowed to alumni Tommy Venice.

Wrestling coach Sachel feels his boys did well because as he put it, "the alumni team wrestled with him in their eyes."

Sachel feels his squad is ready for Dayton's wrestling opener against a powerful Westfield team. The match against the Blue Devils will be held in Westfield on Jan. 3 at 8:30 p.m.

Dayton's varsity cagers, who are coached by Coach Ray Yanchus, will play their first Westfield basketball game never in trouble against the Alumni five. In fact coach Ray Yanchus substituted freely after his starting five rolled up a 20 of 8 lead in the first quarter.

Billy Kretzer, Dayton's star center rolled up 21 points and could have scored more, but didn't play six minutes of the game. Frank Monticello looked good again and finished in 10 points. And Yanchus called sub Dave Droppkin's performance as a "welcome surprise." Droppkin dropped in 11 points. Brian Ledig who has shaken off his illness, scored 10 points.

The high scorer for the Alumni team was Jackie Appar. Appar who played on last year's Dayton team scored 11 points.

Town Set To Defend Tax Appeal Case

The township will defend its position on a tax appeal of the Springfield, Conn., General Greene Shopping Center, now before the State Board of Tax Appeals.

The township attorney is being asked to defend the township's position. Attorney James M. Sawley explained that the corporation had lost an appeal on the matter before the Union County Board of Tax Appeals.

Freeholder Aspirant Readies His Petitions

Horby S. Wright of 53 Colfax rd., aspirant to a County Freeholder post on the Republican ticket, is expected to turn in his petition for his name to appear on the primary election ballot shortly after the first of the year.

Wright reported Saturday that he already has over the 100 signatures needed to file. Wright, who has announced that he would like to gain experience in his home state.

OK PAL!
THE NEXT ONE'S ON ME

The grim spectre isn't kidding. That "one for the road" may well take you all the way into eternity. Holidays and week-ends are the times of greatest danger. The highest casualty lists. More drivers are on the road in more of a hurry, traffic is congested, driving strain increases. Add to this potion, the drinking driver, and the mixture is DEADLY!

It's hard to convince a person who has had a few drinks that he shouldn't drive. Alcoholic stimulation engenders a false confidence in his ability. In reality, his reactions have slowed down, his perception and judgment are lowered—driving alertness is gone. Soon the road blurs and lights blind, as he fights drowsiness. Finally he loses control. Result: tragedy. Keep out of this grim picture. If you drink, don't drive. . . if you drive, DON'T DRINK!

This New Year's Eve - - and Throughout the Year

MAKE THAT 'ONE FOR THE ROAD' - - - COFFEE!

Season's Greetings

It's Holiday time. . . a time of cheer, of good fellowship and good will. . . a time when friends near and far exchange the greetings of the season. Yes, it's holiday time. . . you hear it in the singing of joyous carols, in the glad ringing of bells. You see it in smiling faces and glowing decorations. Most of all, you feel it in your heart, and so do we, as we send season's greetings and extend every good wish for a Happy Holiday to you, our most appreciated friends, neighbors and customers.

Ask Amy BY AMY ADAMS. Dear Amy: I've been going steady with this fellow for a little over 9 months. He says he loves me very much and I know that I love him. My problem is his mood and temper. I have been very patient with him hoping that he would change... but he hasn't. Do you think it's right that he should tell me that I can't even see any of my girlfriends? Yes, he can still go along with his friends. He thinks that by me not seeing his 'bosomest' buddies, he's a possibility that I may meet someone else. I am in and work nights till ten p.m. The 'book' has given me details in his mind about how to work the rights he is unable to pick me up. Sometimes, he even gets mad if an old friend (male) of mine should also and talk to me. I love this guy very much and try to make him happy. But, I'm afraid his demands are getting more and more. Please don't tell that I should leave him until he changes because I would be more miserable without him. Is there anything I can do to make him see how his 'bosomest' buddies are me. If I were to bring it up to him, it would only cause another argument. I heard that love was a two sided affair. You give and take a little. But in this case, it's a one sided affair. I'm tired of Being 'Bosomed'.

Paper Mill's 'Tender Trap' Hearty, Unadulterated...

DR. WILLIAM H. BRUCKER was the first to report that the Paper Mill Playhouse is a bright and breezy theatre of the best character of the "Tender Trap" which plays until March in the most officious of the winter season, as revealed in a vacation from celebration.

The live and kisses and good hearted unadulterated nature of the play is so much to be appreciated. Those masters of fun, and even more important, pure humor, Max Shubman and Roger Paul Smith, have brought the "Trap" some very funny situations that have pleased to surprise since the play has knocked around the musical theatre and the late 1950's.

It is interesting to watch the "drunkards" an unfold with such a classic treatment of the farce comedy. There have been other greater, more humorous, more explosive comedies. This pleasure here is at least one as a carefully contrived, well-wrought theater piece unfolds.

The trap is obviously marriage an engaging comedy in which the bachelors skirts around, and avoids, a condition of faith that the married man demands, that is convinced that he is great enough for all his bachelors' friends.

We observe Charlie Reddage skillfully played by Hal March, who transfers his burlesque from "Come Blow Your Horn" without dropping a brasserie sign. Charlie is a bachelor, 35, well situated, circumvented by a continuum of female lovers, and a similar single, a few years younger, simply well suited. The lunger precipitate to him the lunger love looking for an anxious electrode.

We also watch Stan Watt as Joe McCall, married and harassed, worried over his bourgeois, present day responsibilities, and preoccupied with the wall caption, summer camp, confused because he finds himself inced.

Poet Dramatizes Edgar Allen Poe

Poet Murray Brown will present "A Night of Edgar Allen Poe" Wednesday, Jan. 8, at 8 p.m. at the Little Theatre of Newark State College in Union.

The event, being sponsored by the College Center Board. The entire program is dramatized from memory, according to an announcement by the twenty-eight-year-old Brown, who has performed here and abroad, is the author of two books. He is currently working on an epic poem, "The Epic of Spenser."

According to one reviewer: Brown is a "one-man show of great literature and his own poetry."

Louise Redder Heads Irvington GOP Unit

Mrs. Louise Redder has been selected president of the Irvington Women's Republican Club. Installation of officers will be held at a meeting set for Jan. 7 at the club building.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. Kitty Walker, first vice-president; Mrs. Catherine Miller, second vice-president; Mrs. Helene Kessler, recording secretary; Mrs. Marion Calabrese, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Helen Wagner, treasurer.

Disability Under Social Security Is Explained

"Disability? Unable to work? You may be eligible for social security benefits," says John M. Denton, acting manager of the Irvington Social Security Office.

He explained that social security provides cash monthly benefits for disabled people unable to work. He emphasized that inability to work must be a result of a disabling condition and this condition must be severe enough to prevent a person from being able to engage in any gainful work activity, not just his usual job.

Another requirement is that the disabled person must have worked in covered employment for at least 10 years before he became disabled. If a person is disabled while he is earning the Social Security Act and has worked long enough, he can receive cash monthly payments beginning with the seventh full month of disability, he said.

Denton emphasized that even though benefit payments cannot begin before the seventh month of disability, it is important to apply for this benefit early to this time, he said. The Social Security Administration can make a decision before the seventh month of disability. By filing early, the first benefit check will arrive on time.

Denton also stated that failure of the disabled worker to apply early, especially those disabled over one and one-half years ago, may cause a reduction in the amount of benefits received and, in some cases, loss of all benefits.

In addition, all applicants for disability benefits are referred to the State Vocational Rehabilitation Agency to see if the disabled person can be trained in a new type of job within their capabilities.

Disability payments continue until there is medical recovery permitting the worker to return to his normal work or until he receives a permanent and total disability. Through this time, the worker may receive a medical recovery and he shows he can work and earn a gainful living, disability payments will continue for up to 18 months.

An attempt to work will not immediately stop his payments. A trial work period is allowed in which his ability to work will be continued and payments will continue as long as 13 months while the disabled person is working.

Cash monthly payments, Denton added, are also paid to certain dependents of the disabled worker.

4 Cars In Mishap, One Towed Away

A New Market man reported to Union police a four-car Christmas Eve collision on Stuyvesant ave. at Haines ave., after which the other drivers exchanged names and addresses and left the scene.

No one was injured, but the car driven by the New Market man, Henry J. Doebler, 56, had to be towed from the scene. He identified the other drivers as Morris L. Levine, 5 Avon rd., Springfield; W. Ahrendt, 1787 Walker ave., Union; and Archibald Grant-Newell.

Two Autos Damaged On Springfield Road

Cars driven by Anthony W. Cunniffen, 19, 21 70 Tockoff ave., Springfield, and Floyd Skolnick, 29, of 1765 Walker ave., Union, were damaged in a Christmas Eve accident at Springfield rd. and Sprague st., Union police reported. No one was injured.

Equipment Sold

Kitchen equipment for the snack bar at the Municipal Swim Pool was purchased from Joe Decker by the Township Committee at its Dec. 26 Meeting. Parillo, who had operated the snack bar on congress, and whose contract was recently terminated by mutual consent, sold the equipment for $500.
