Planners Okay Luxury Homes; Ask New Road Through Area

Baltimore, Md., may have to provide a second access road through a parcel of 100 acres to be subdivided for construction of luxury homes to adjacent Board of Education property.

The Planning Board last week approved a subdivision of the 100-acre parcel into 46 lots subject to provision by the applicant of a new road along the westerly side of a block bordering the 10-acre Board of Education parcel.

According to a motion picture by Arthur M. Falkin, this block is not to be subdivided until the road is constructed. It is to be built at the expense of the applicant, conform to the road size and specifications stipulated by the township and meet Board of Education property at grade level.

The property is owned by Ed. Joseph, president of the engineering firm of Grassman, Kreh and Mixer of Elizabeth. He was represented by Alfred Sauer, an attorney, and Richard Mixer, a member of the firm.

Access Road

Mixer said that Baltimore Township would be required to provide a second access road through property owned by William Gural of Old Coach rd. and Westlark Blvd.

Magistrate Max Sherman presided over Springfield Municipal Court for the first time Monday night. Sherman took the oath of office along with the Township Committee appointees at the committee's organization meeting last week.

The new magistrate, who served as township attorney from 1952 to 1958, is a graduate of Rutgers Law School. He is a member of the New Jersey, Essex and Union County Bar Associations.

Others appointed at the Jan. 1 meeting were: Hens M. Calapano, one year term on the local assistance board; Joseph Seidel, prosecutor in magistrate's court; and Dr. Ralph I. Mond, police and fire surgeon.

Other appointments included: Enley B. Bennett Jr., traffic consultant; Fred Braun, tax search official; Florence Worthington, searcher for unaccounted assessments; and Martin A. Strauss and Andrew Morrison for three year terms on the Township Committee.

Donald Rotwein was named to the Health Board and Mrs. Eleanor Worthington was named secretary, both for 1964.

Other appointments for the year included the naming of Dr. Robert S. Milligan as health officer; Arthur T. Marshall, as sanitation and Ben Davis as plumbing inspector.

The Board decided that it would hold its regular meetings the third Wednesday of each month at 8:30 p.m.

Koontz Heading Board Of Health

William P. Koontz will be a busy man learning a new job over the presidency of the Board of Health. He will assume the role for the first time following his appointment at the organization meeting of the Township Committee.

Koontz took over the post from present Mayor Robert D. Hardgrove. The term is for one year.

As the Board of Health held its organization meeting following the Township Committee meeting last week, Mr. Koontz was appointed attorney for the Health Board and Mrs. Eleanor Worthington was named secretary, both for 1964.

Other appointments for the year included the naming of Dr. Robert S. Milligan as health officer; Arthur T. Marshall, as sanitation and Ben Davis as plumbing inspector.

The Board decided that it would hold its regular meetings the third Wednesday of each month at 8:30 p.m.

No Contest Seen In School Board Election On Feb. 4

Three incumbents appear safe in bid for Education posts.

Board of Education elections will be uncontested for the first time in eight years as the names of the three incumbents will appear alone on the Feb. 4 school election ballot.

As of last week a ballot as if another had would be in the bag for a school board post when Thomas J. Lamb of 23 Greenhill rd. picked up a petition on Dec. 27. However, the petition was not filed at the 4 p.m. Jan. 7 deadline.

Thus, incumbents Joseph A. Bender, John C. Gaco and Robert E. Southward are in effect re-elected. All three filed their petitions on Dec. 17.

Bender is the administrative head of several companies specializing in engineering, research and development. Chairman of the building and grounds committee and advisory committee on the school board. He was first elected in 1959 to fill an unexpired term.

Gaco, a certified life underwriter for the New York Life Insurance Co., will also be seeking full term. Presently serving as Board vice-president, he is also a member of the school governing board.

Public Hearing On School Budget Set For Caldwell School On Jan. 21

Copies Of Budget Will Be Mailed To Town Residents

Figures Show Hike Of $45,266 Over Current Year's Total

Questions on the $1,592,814 school budget for 1964-65 will be answered by the Springfield Board of Education at a public hearing to be held at the next regular meeting Tuesday, Jan. 21 at 8 p.m. in the Board of Education office at Caldwell School.

The budget, approved and returned by County Superintendent of Schools Dr. William H. West, will be up for voter decision Feb. 11. The amount to be raised by local taxation is $1,301,530.

Board of Education President August Caprio said that he hopes the fact that there will not be a contest for school board seats this year will not keep voters away from the polls. "It is important that the budget be passed," he warned.

Copies of the proposed budget will be mailed to every resident in Springfield as a feature of the "Community-Budget News" Board of Education publication, and should be out some time this week, Caprio said.

The new budget is $45,266 over the $1,547,544 figure for the current year. The amount is raised by taxation, up $32,285 over $1,309,259 for this year.

Alan R. Cunningham, attorney of the finance committee, said that a change in the current year's tax rate of $2.56 per $100 of assessed valuation is anticipated because of additional rates in 1964.

Of the total budget, $1,300,000 is for operating expenses, $1,280,000 for capital outlay, $17,000, debt service, $165,820.

Balances appropriated from the current year, state and federal aid bring the local tax less for current expenses down to $1,178,200; capital outlay, $18,000; debt service, $165,820.

Board of Education President August Caprio said that the main reason for this increase in 1964 is a bookkeeping switch required by the State Board of Education concerning allocation of funds for school libraries.

Extend Baby Contest

The stork may have been hovering over Springfield but in the time the deadline passed for entering the Leader-Baby Contest, it had no chance.

So, in light of the bird's situation this contest, an extension has been extended for another week.

All hospitals in the area were checked for any new arrivals from Springfield up to the Jan. 3 deadline and also beyond that date.

Reluctant Stork

Under the contest rules, the first baby to be born in the hospital in Springfield after Dec. 31 is scheduled to receive a royal welcome from merchants in town who have prepared to heap gifts on the first arrival.

Participating merchants in the contest include: Evelyn's, Bentley Salon, H. Way Tailors, Richard Debus, Colantone Shoes, Shon, Crestmont Savings, and Loan, Center Simich, Stamm, Springfield Market and Reunite Youth Center.

SEVENTH IN A SERIES ON SPRINGFIELD SCHOOLS

'...Their Most Impressionable Age'

Editors Note: This is the seventh in a series of articles on Springfield's public elementary and junior schools.

By MARIAN BROWN

The dawn of adolescence can be a challenging period for a child. It can be challenging for the child's parents and schools as well.

Mrs. Thekla Sandmeier, principal of the Florence Gaudinier School, which houses 7th and 8th grade youngsters in the Springfield public schools, feels that junior school youngsters represent the greatest possible challenge to school personnel.

"They are at their most impressionable age," she says, explaining that they are capable of exploring new ideas with a depth not possible before and yet they have not acquired the wisdom of sophistication.

"There is a very special school program she explained in the first place, they are being introduced to Republicanized subject areas. They no longer can rely upon one teacher to become a security figure; instead they learn to adjust to the personalities of many teachers. They travel from room to room now, and one visitor commented that the maze of hallways in the Florence Gaudinier School is a labyrinth somewhat of an L. Q. test to the uninitiated."

SPECIAL FEATURES ARE added to the classroom program, Mrs. Sandmeier explained, particularly enjoyed by the students is a series of vocational guidance talks by Springfield residents and occasional out-of-town guests.

Last week the assembly of the class was held at the Harsh Hearing Aid Center, 430 Morris Ave., Springfield, N.J. 07081. Dealer: Paul Gaudinier Hearing Aid Center, 430 Morris Ave., Springfield, N.J. 07081.

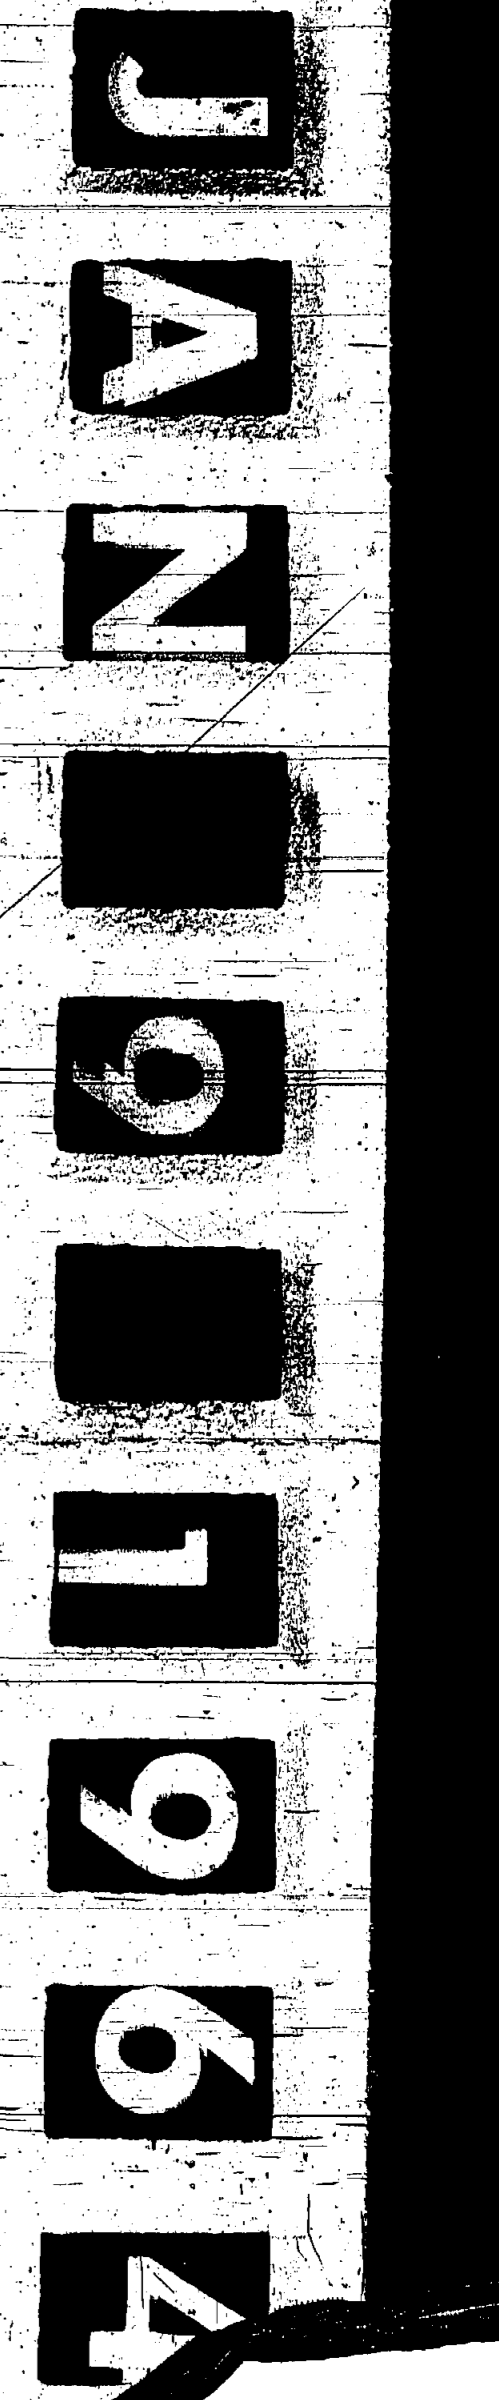

youngsters who crowded into the school cafeteria heard Sandmeier Kessler, whose father heads the well-known Kessler Institute, speak on vocational opportunities in occupational and physical therapy. He lives in Springfield at 39 Hillside Ave.

Stated for future talks to junior school students are Dr. David Hendlin, 5 Laurel dr., neurobiologist; Ivan Gersha, 1 Newwood rd., industrial designer; Charles DeWitt, 133 Baltusrol way, Duver; Sid Perlmutter, 141st St., Newark; Dr. Virginia I. Hoshner, 100 Liberty Ave., medical doctor; Robert Street, 18 Eaton pl., purchasing agent; and Morton DeWitt, 141 Morris Ave., certified public accountant.

Last fall the youngsters heard Capt. Paul Westlake Gillette speak on the Civil Defense; Seymour Margolis, So. Derby rd., lawyer.

According to Irving W. Samuels, chairman, the committee is considering the possibility of holding this time are to broaden community support and to impress upon residents the main goal of the committee which is to create a climate within the community where everyone regardless of race, religion or national origin is welcome.

Samuels added that the committee is interested in new members. He said residents of Springfield wishing to join should contact members or send a note with their name, address and telephone number to Samuels, Human Rights Committee for Fair Housing, P.O. Box 225, Springfield.

 ...to New York's financial district on Wall Street.

A HALF-DAY trip to General Motors in Linden to study the workings of industry, a half-day trip to New York City to study immigration patterns, a one-day tour of Philadelphia historical areas, one-day survey of agricultural areas in New Jersey, a trip to the New York Metropolitan Opera House and a visit to the Wall Street Theatre in Manhattan to view masterpieces of literature.

Of course the basic subjects are stressed. All grades study reading, spelling, writing, English, geography, history, arithmetic and science.

But 7th and 8th graders can study French or Spanish. Springfield is the only municipality among the regional districts to offer the regional high schools to have adopted a program of foreign languages in the elementary schools.

Youngsters here can take six successive years of a foreign language if they begin in the 7th grade and continue through high school.

Mrs. Sandmeier explained that other subjects studied by all junior school students each year are music, art, physical education, health, home economics and industrial arts. Mechanical drawing is open to eighth graders only.

Innovations in the program include a boys' cooking class in the home economics department. (And have you seen the pretty woman practice teacher in the industrial arts shop?)

The boys are setting out the best cooks are men—Spinning chefs' caps and aprons; they have the alchemy of spices and sweet flavors. Last week home economics teacher Mrs. Agnes Thackston showed them how to make muffins. So they won't be a step on you, Mom, here's the recipe:

1 and 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup soft shortening
 1 egg
 1/3 cup milk

SIFT TOGETHER DRY ingredients into mixing bowl. With a pastry blender cut in soft shortening until just blended. Add egg and milk.

field pre-school youngsters a great time to boot.

Each class was divided into three committees for preparing (dough parties), entertainment, refreshments, and decorations. A theme was chosen and followed. Refreshments ranged from turkey jello molds to animal crackers and milk; tots were dressed in pirate and Santa Claus hats and kimonos; and games were prepared ranging from pin-the-tail-on-the-pig to coloring contests.

Meanwhile in the industrial arts classes an 8th grader was using a lathe to round the legs of a table he was making and a 6th grader was using an electric sanding machine to buff a plastic key chain attached to the Olympic Park rings. And the science classes were studying the distillation of liquids.

All while the hall display cases held out the products.

Ser Feb. 29 Date To Renew Swim Pool Membership

The Springfield Recreation Department announced this week that those persons who were members of the Municipal Swim Pool for 1963, will have to renew their membership for the coming season.

After this date any resident of the Township of Springfield will be able to join the Springfield municipal pool if there are openings available. It has been determined that in order to meet fully this promise to 1963 members, a member of the Recreation Department will be in the Recreation Office at Town Hall on Saturday, Feb. 20 until 12 noon, to accept membership renewals.

The Recreation Department also announced that as of this date over 2,000 persons have joined the pool for the 1964 season.

Those persons who were members last year should renew their applications now to insure for themselves another summer of fun. Please be reminded that we can only accept 5,200 persons and the openings are going fast. Edward J. Ruby, director of recreation said.

Begin Operation With Machines At Township Hall

The township payroll is being processed through new accounting machines this week.

The first operation performed with equipment installed Monday in Township Hall to effect mechanization of accounting and business procedures here.

Township Committeeman Corner Catapano, chairman of the Finance Department, said that it is too early to completed on the performance of the equipment— one large machine and two accessory machines — but added that a report would be forthcoming next week.

The new machines have been installed in the tax collector's office on the first floor. Catapano said they were purchased from Burrell's Corporation of Elizabeth and that the total cost, including the cost of rearranging the office, came to less than the $20,000 figure appropriated by the Township Committee for the purchase.

Catapano has predicted a saving to the township of $7,000 a year over a three-year period through the use of these machines.

He said that the new equipment represents the first step in the reorganization of the finance department. Other steps he said are combining the positions of treasurer and tax collector into one position assumed by Fred L. Braun, and combining three positions—budget-provisioning, payroll and tax collections—in one office.

See Good Budget For Townspeople

A good budget operating on a "sound fiscal basis" was presented to Springfield residents by the Township Committee gathered today for information for presentation of the 1964 municipal budget.

Mayor Robert D. Hardgrove told the audience during his first address as chief executive of the township, "that this administration shall have as its watch word, 'progress with economy.'"

He explained that requests of various municipal appointments had not been completely reviewed and that no prediction could be made as to the final municipal tab.

"However," he said, "every attempt will be made to provide adequate and desirable municipal services, and at the same time carefully control budget appropriations."

Begin Slim Classes
A new series of slim and trim classes started yesterday at Temple Beth Ahm, Springfield, and will continue on Wednesday from 8:30 to 10:30 a. m. Dr. George Widom will conduct the classes. There will be no charge.

MAX SHERMAN

Springfield's new municipal magistrate was sworn into office by County Court Judge Chester Weidenburner last Thursday at 9 a.m. in the Elizabeth County Court House.

Max Sherman, who will don judicial robes passed on by retiring magistrate Thomas Argyris, maintains law offices at 26 Linden ave. and served as municipal attorney for the Township of Springfield from 1952 to 1958.

He says his appointment as magistrate is a tremendous new challenge because the municipal court usually represents the only exposure the average person has to the complex network of courts in the state and nation. It is here, Sherman says, that he forms his impression of our entire judicial system.

Sherman feels that a magistrate has three areas of responsibility in rendering a decision: (a) protect society, (b) attempt rehabilitation of the offender and (c) exercise the deterrent power of the courts.

Although most persons appearing before a municipal magistrate are charged with traffic violations, Sherman said the jurisdiction of the local courts is constantly growing. The magistrate, he said, must not be inflexible in considering a case but must take into consideration a great number of factors in rendering his judgment. He must consider, he said, whether the judgment is to serve the purpose of protecting society, as with a repeated offender, or whether it is to serve the purpose of rehabilitating the defendant, as with a first offense.

With a repeating offender, he said, the judgment should be stiff because its purpose would be to protect society; but with a first offender it would be lighter and its purpose would be to check the defendant from committing further violations.

There is a tremendous opportunity for growth and service, Sherman said, in his new position. The challenge, he feels, is to do the job creatively and with proper respect for the law. Sherman possesses a great deal of legal knowledge and has served as a judge in his control over people's lives.

HE SPOKE IN his plush new office, sitting behind the broad sweep of a walnut desk that picked up the decor of walnut wall paneling and sandy beige well-to-wall carpeting.

He has used the building since its completion last May by his two brothers, builders who operate the Sherwood Development Co. of Summit.

It is not the first time Sherman and his brothers have cooperated on a business venture. They operated a milk business that was begun during the depression, financed Sherman's law education, and provided the security that enabled him to launch his career.

Sherman was born in Newark in 1914, one of four children. His father was a builder.

Of his years at South Side High School he recalls that he was manager of the basketball team and that his favorite subject was English. That's because he has a yen to be a writer, and he says that if he didn't have to eat he would write about people.

He's interested in what makes people tick, he says, adding that his study of people fits in well with his legal work, because a knowledge of the laws of probability and possibility in human behavior affect the way he builds a case.

He says he enjoys writing legal briefs, because the research and the attention to detail necessary in constructing a case are fascinating to him.

For instance, he recently won a case against the Town of Belleville that was carried to the State Supreme Court. The town had tried to assess his client, a developer, for the installation of water mains. Sherman established that the attempt was discriminatory by checking assessment records of every development in that town for 30 years.

THE PATH THAT led Sherman to his appointment as Springfield magistrate began with a misadventure of his own.

He says that as a youth he dented a fender in his father's car when his father didn't know he had the car out and he had to get it fixed before his father saw it.

An aunt, who operated a milk business, said she would loan him six dollars for the repair if he would solicit milk customers for her at a commission rate of 10 percent. He decided to do it, and he did it with such ease that he decided to apply for a license and go into the milk business himself.

The business grew quickly. Soon deliveries required three trucks and his brothers went into partnership with him.

Report From Trenton

By State Senator Nelson F. Hamler (R-U.S.)

It is just about seven weeks since President Kennedy was brutally assassinated in Dallas. While it may appear that the seven weeks is a short time in the general history of the country, it has been a seven-week period during which some shock took place with particular reference to the ease with which his murderer obtained his gun from Chicago by mail, and since that time there has been an onrush of a desire to enact all sorts of restrictive legislation involving the sale of weapons.

The underworld and some of the psychotics seem to be able to get weapons very easily. It is interesting to note that in New Jersey a minor cannot purchase an air rifle and yet there is no law restricting him from purchasing a rifle. In fact, he can buy a rifle through the mail. The argument is often used that the lighter gun laws existing on the second amendment of the Constitution which gives all Americans the right to keep and bear arms. I do not object to that. Oppose the right of any legitimate sportsman to bear arms, but I find it hard to understand why that legitimate sportsman should be denied the right to buy a rifle from any other individual would object to registering his firearms with his local Police Department. If that young boy I talked about could buy the high-powered rifle from Chicago, he would not be obliged to register it with his local Police Department.

He's interested in what makes people tick, he says, adding that his study of people fits in well with his legal work, because a knowledge of the laws of probability and possibility in human behavior affect the way he builds a case.

Master Commandant Richard Somers of Somers Point had none of the traditional look of a hero. He was short and stout, with a prominent nose, bushy cheeks and the beginnings of a double chin.

Concern For The Status Of Women Related To Basic National Philosophy

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Today's concern for the status of women is really related to the basic national philosophy of the right of every citizen to freedom of choice. Assistant Secretary of Labor Esther Peterson told a group with her in the city today that the American way of life should be based on the principle of equality for all.

She pointed out that women's freedom to choose the kind of lives they will lead, the work they will do and the contributions they will make to society, depends to a large extent on the growth of the economy. "For far too many American women, she said, the American way of life is not what it should be. It is not what it should be for women as well as men. Court cases, leading to eventual review by the Supreme Court, are now needed to clarify women's status under the Constitution.

POISON ALERT "Stop, Johnny! Put the mothballs down, NOW!" This mother's cold always warmed with love and pride when Johnny immediately put the mothballs on the floor, instead of into his mouth.

Growth Is Noted In Annual Report Of Investors S&L

Favorable growth in savings and assets and in total lending volume is noted in the annual report to members of the Investors Savings and Loan Association by its president, Leonard Lagan.

Record total dividends again were paid to shareholders last year. Dividend payments totaled $2,163,800, based on a basic rate of 4 per cent, described as the Board of Directors' conservative policy in Lagan's report.

The report shows reserves at year end of $4,431,000 which is 63 per cent of total savings. Lagan pointed out that a new tax law passed by Congress in 1962 had substantially increased the federal taxes paid by the association.

Boots Are Shining Again This Winter

Boots, which regularly come in and out of fashion, are again in vogue. The ankle and mid-calf styles, now are back with a bang. There are boots for walking and for town. There are boots for foul weather and boots for after dark. There are boots that barely reach the ankle and boots that reach to the knee. In the meantime, the burgeoning boot collection of popular boots now available to the woman who wears shoes are worn.

For men, country or four weather, there are strapped buckram boots, high-necked boots of rubber and canvas and half hugging boots of water-repellent leather. Linings are soft, plush and warm. The city life boots are ankle high and deeply notched at the throat. Some are belted at the waist and some are belted with stretch.

Westfield Team Beats Regional Wrestlers, 35-8

Dayton Regional High School's wrestling team opened the season against a powerful Westfield team on Jan. 3 and was smothered 35-8.

Springfield's coach Jerry Sachel primary reason for his team's poor showing: "Our team wasn't up for it and Westfield was."

Though Sachel was disappointed in his team's effort against Westfield, three Dayton wrestlers in the meet helped to keep the team's spirit from being a total disaster.

Springfield's Johnny Gerdella won the 114 pound contest, Richie Little, Dayton's football star, won the 177 pound match and Steve Arnold fought a draw in the 122 pound contest.

Westfield won the other nine matches.

WHO'S GOT THE BALL? Obviously, Ralph Lasso, Ricky Williams knows he doesn't have a chance to get the ball, and so does Dayton's coach Ray Yanchus. The Mutt and Jeff jumpoff took place at Springfield Recreation Department's first basketball clinic of the season on Dec. 28.

Dayton Cagers Help At Basketball Clinic

Though Dayton's varsity basketball squad suited up on the morning of Dec. 28, they didn't play a game.

Actually, coach Ray Yanchus had his boys out on the high school gym to take part in Springfield Recreation Department's first basketball clinic of the season.

About 60 sixth, seventh and eighth graders turned out. Coach Yanchus was somewhat disappointed at the turnout. He said he was expecting more than 200.

In this way he worked his way through Newark University, and New Jersey Law School, and State University of New York at Albany.

He won his law degree in 1937, and the next year he passed his bar examination. He had clerked, summer for two Newark attorneys.

The milk business was still needed after he set up a law office on Commerce st. he says, adding that his milk customers became good clients. He delivered milk at night and worked at his law business during the day.

After he was married in 1940 he continued the double shift. Sometimes his wife, Martha, rushed his business clothes to him so that he could make a quick change at the home of a client before dashing off to court. And sometimes Martha delivered the milk.

The family has lived in Springfield since 1942.

Dennis Parks Bows 623-Series

Other notable performances were by Greenstein's, 222 and Murray Hurvitz's 221.

The Chamick team took four points from the Newman team to retain its first place standing.

Dayton Defeated, 69-48, By Hillside

Tomorrow night Dayton's basketball team plays host to its arch rival Westfield. The Bulldogs have already beaten the Blue Devils, but beating them a second time will take a strong effort for Westfield beat Hillside, a team which trounced Dayton Tuesday, 69 to 48.

"Poor shooting by our team and phenomenal shooting by the Bulldogs was the primary reason we lost Tuesday afternoon." That's how Dayton's coach Ray Yanchus analyzed the Springfield team's route to the floor. Hillside made almost 70 percent of its field goal attempts.

Yanchus pointed out that the double teaming of Dayton's top scorer Billy Kretzer didn't exactly help Springfield's cause. Kretzer scored only two points in the first half and got hot in the second half. He sank 12. But the player who was really hot was Hillside's Bruce Heriman. He pumped in 26 points.

"We had no unusual difficulty in getting the ball off the boards," Yanchus said, "but we just couldn't put the ball in the basket."

Monticello played another strong floor game and scored 12 points. Mike Kretzer scored seven.

Yanchus also pointed out that Hillside invited Dayton's guards to take the long shot and concentrated in containing Billy Kretzer. The strategy seemed to work.

Dayton Over Gov. Livingston. Despite a heroic effort, the Government Livingston High School basketball team bowed to Dayton's cagers, 52 to 46 on Friday night in Springfield.

Once again Ray Yanchus boys got off to a slow start. Gov. Livingston poured it on in the first seven minutes of the ball game and stormed out ahead of Dayton by a nine to three score.

But Dayton fought back and at the end of the first period it was Gov. Livingston-13 and Dayton 12. At half time Dayton was trailing 27 to 28.

In the third period Springfield's tight defense proved to be the turning point of the game. The Bulldogs held their opponents to three points during the period while scoring nine.

In the second half Dayton started fast breaking and in the third period the team scored 18 points and in the last period scored 17. Dayton pulled out a 69-48 quiet victory.

Coach Ray Yanchus had something to cheer about. Bruce Ledig who's been ill was back in top form. He made five out of six shots from the field and scored 14 rebounds and held Roselle's star Ed Esbrandt scoreless. In his last outing Esbrandt scored 19 points.

In the second half Dayton started fast breaking and in the third period the team scored 18 points and in the last period scored 17. Dayton pulled out a 69-48 quiet victory.

LEADER PROFILE

Sherman considers his experience as municipal attorney a "remarkable education." He says that it did more for him in terms of growth and challenge than any other experience in his own practice he specializes in cases relating to municipal law, such as subdivision of real estate and zoning problems.

He is counsel for Crestmont Savings and Loan in Springfield and chairman of the legal committee of Temple Beth Ahm.

A side interest is the Union County Heart Fund Drive for the last three years.

If he has time he likes to play golf at the Bradburn Country Club in Florham Park where he is a member and to read novels and articles on political science. He says that among his favorites are "The Great Gatsby" and "The Sun Also Rises" by Ernest Hemingway.
