Town School Election On Tuesday; Balloting For Board, '64-'65 Budget

Regional Budget Gets Voter Okay In Light Balloting

Voters in all six districts of the Union County Regional High School District No. 1 overwhelmingly approved a record $4 million school budget in an extremely light vote at Tuesday's election.

All three incumbents running for seats on the Regional School Board were unopposed for reelection, including John A. Hopping of Colfax rd., who won his second three-year term.

A total of 107 persons voted in Springfield. They passed the $2,804,391 current expense portion of the budget, 71-22; and passed the $46,600 capital outlay portion, 71-22.

All six districts passed current expenses by a 300-73 margin, and the capital outlay, 352-80. A total of 453 persons cast their ballots.

The vote and no votes for current expenses and capital outlay in the other five districts respectively, 1 was Berkeley Heights, 66-3 and 65-4; Clark, 32-16 and 30-22; Garwood, 41-11 and 39-11; Kenilworth, 21-12 and 21-12; Mountainside, 129-12 and 129-12.

The budget for this year totals $4,660,937, a $355,181 increase. The other incumbents who refused to seek on the board were John E. Conlin of Garwood and Dr. Minor C. K. Jones of Mountainside.

Polls Will Open From 3-9 P.M. At Three Schools

Springfield voters will have the opportunity to go to the polls Tuesday to cast their ballots for candidates and the budget of the local school system. The polls will be open from 3 to 9 p.m.

While there is no contest for school board seats, currently held by Joseph Bender, John C. Gares and Robert T. Southard, the public will be expected to vote on the $1,502,818 budget for the year 1964-'65, of which the amount to be raised by local taxation is $1,105,680, up $52,200 over the current law.

According to Alan Cunningham, board finance chairman, the budget for the year is some $45,206 higher than the current budget, and indicates a rise of six cents per $100 of assessed valuation. This could bring the tax rate for school purposes to $2.62 per $100 valuation.

The new school budget includes current expenses of $1,300,830 and capital outlay of $17,000.

School Board President August Caprio has expressed concern that inasmuch as there is no contest for Board seats concerning the "top" measure, school election since 1916, the public may not feel the impetus to get out and vote.

A major factor in the rise is

Polling Places Set For Tuesday Voting

Polling places for the Springfield School Elections will be open from 3 to 9 p.m. Tuesday at the following places: Districts 1-6, James Caldwell School; districts 7-8, 9 and 10, Florence M. Gaudin School; and districts 11, 12 and 13, at the Edward W. Walton School.

The total budget for the year is $4,660,937, an increase of $355,181 over the current law. In his original budget statement Cunningham pointed out that current expenses had increased some $97,000 while capital outlay had dropped some $22,600.

Caprio has pointed out that those opposed to any measure

Citizens Plan Court Suit To Block Convalescent Home Construction

A taxpayers' suit, charging that the Township Committee acted in an "arbitrary, illegal and capricious" manner in approving a special exemption to permit the erection of a convalescent home on a portion of the Fadam Farm property, will be filed in Superior Court, according to Mrs. Weinberg, a Springfield attorney, who has been retained by the Shumpke Association to represent it.

Weinberg, whose services were sought by the Shumpke Association, said that the suit will also ask the court to declare that the portion of the township zoning ordinance that names convalescent as an exempted use is "void and illegal."

Noting that the group has 45 days to file following the Jan. 14 approval of the use by the Township Committee, Weinberg said the filing date would meet a Feb. 28 deadline. Determination of the suit, she estimated, should follow "in about four months."

"The details of the suit were discussed at a meeting of the Shumpke Association last week," she said. "The suit is an effort to prevent the residential character of the neighborhood."

He then introduced Mr. Gerhart as the member in charge of collection of funds for the purpose, adding that $625 had been collected so far toward the estimated goal of $1,200.

Montaino pointed out that 100 days had been distributed to residents living in the area of Fadam Farm property on the corner of Shumpke rd. and Mountain ave. in an effort to bring them to the "emergency meeting" held in Emergency Room.

The invitation to attend was issued by Montaino and Frank Weinberg said Monday, in response to a request by Mrs. Sylvia Zissman, secretary of the Shumpke Association, that the resources available to the group now be turned into a request to the governing body for cancellation of the property. These, he said, could be considered concurrently.

Traffic Detoured After 'Hot Wires' Fall In Route 22

Union and Springfield police detoured traffic in Route 22 for more than an hour late Tuesday night after a car hit a 20-foot electric pole causing "hot" wires to fall into the east-bound lanes.

According to police, the pole was struck by a car driven by Donald Weiss, 43, of Connecticut. Weiss said he was driving eastbound when a truck cut him off near Jefferson Ave. Weiss, which had fallen from the pole, burned a hole in Route 22, police said. A transformer fell on a car owned by William Pomerantz of 6 Beverly rd., Springfield. The car was parked in the lot at the Frank & Ben restaurant.

Weiss suffered minor injuries, according to police. He was treated at Memorial General Hospital and released.

Boy, 16, Injured As Car Hits Tree

A 16-year-old Springfield boy was hurt last Thursday afternoon when he lost control of a car in which he was being pushed by another car and struck a tree, Springfield police reported.

The youth, Francis Deabik, was treated at Overlook Hospital, Summit, for a cut on the chin.

Police said the boy was in a car being pushed by another car driven by Kenneth W. Williams, 27, of 434 Summit ave., Kenilworth. The Deabik boy lost control of the car and it hit a tree, police said.

Action On Assessment Report Scheduled For Tuesday Night

Action on the report of the Assessment Commission, which is expected to levy taxes locally for payment of the South Side Sanitary Sewer, will be taken at Tuesday's Township Committee meeting.

The announcement that Township Committee would bring the matter before the open meeting was announced by Mayor Robert D. Hardgrove. Hardgrove said the matter was not brought before the committee at its first meeting this month so that those concerned could be aware of when the discussion would take place.

The report has been returned to the commissioners twice by the governing body so that the assessment group might determine it to determine whether assessments should be local or town-wide.

Followed Law Assessors, according to Elmer Andrew, a member of the commission, have thus far followed the ordinance published in 1959 that assessments would be levied against those whose property benefited by the project.

SMALL TURNOUTS MARKED VOTING IN YEARS PAST

Even during years when Board of Education seats were locally contested, a small turnout of the township's registered voters have revealed themselves at the opportunity to cast ballots in a "School Board" election, according to a statistics gathered from the Board this week.

Major turnouts occurred through the years 1939 to 1962. In 1955, with six candidates bidding for the three posts and in 1960 with 10 candidates on the ballot, a large number of registered voters appeared at the polls, and with eight candidates aiming at three posts in 1962, another large turnout was recorded.

In 1961, with what has been termed the "highly controversial" question of the addition of a fire department system for the schools before the voters, again a large number of voters were "out" and the question was defeated.

Breakdown of the number of those voting in the school elections in relation to the number of registered voters in the township, follows:

Year	Registered	Voted
1953	5,183	465
1954	5,194	624
1955	5,251	923
1956	5,491	583
1957	6,527	863
1958	6,885	411
1959	6,959	1,126
1960	7,334	1,309
1961	8,376	1,184
1962	8,245	1,184

Fire Chief Urges Correct Dialing

In an open letter to Springfield residents this week, Fire Chief (Orlando) W. Mesker, urged the importance of dialing the right number in case of fire.

Chief Mesker, noting that there are many residents who apparently do not know that the Fire Department is manned 24 hours a day, said people have been calling the Police Department when they need the Fire Department.

"When calls for an emergency are not made properly there is always the possibility of error and consequently lost time," Chief Mesker said.

The proper method of calling the Fire Department is as follows:

"Dial Operator—Tell her you would like to report a fire in Springfield. Give the operator your address. And telephone number. This helps the department and the telephone company in case you should be unable to complete the call. Give the fire dispatcher your address and type of fire. After completing the call go outside and stand on the sidewalk in front of your home to signify the location of the fire," the chief added.

Land Owners Seek Garden Apartments

Initial steps in seeking a variance for the erection of garden apartments on the Jacobsen property on Mountain ave. have been taken by Neil and Franklin Jacobsen, owners of the land.

No official word on the "preliminary" application was forthcoming from the Board of Adjustment because, according to Board Secretary, Otto Plesler, no application is complete until all residents within 200 feet have been notified and all papers and maps are completely filed with the Board.

Residents within the 200 foot limit must be notified by Monday, Plesler said, and the application will only be completed after notification has been certified.

Kenya Youth House Guest Of Family In Springfield

A special student at Jonathan Dayton this month is Michael Walamalwa of Nairobi, Kenya, house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lewis and their son, Donald, of 385 Milltown rd.

The 19-year-old youth, who plans to enter diplomatic service, is one of 37 foreign students who are delegates to the 18th annual New York Herald Tribune Youth Forum, in a cultural exchange program involving television discussions Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock on Channel 2.

Michael has not been informed yet of the dates of the programs on which he will appear, but he knows that there will be two of them and that the topic of the first will be "Problems of Independence."

He has already spent several weeks as the guest of a family in Jamaica, New York, attending the Woodmere Academy, a private school there, and travel to cities along the northeast coast with stops at Harvard and Yale Universities.

At Jonathan Dayton he has the opportunity to visit an American public school. His first day, on Monday, was spent following the subject schedule of 17-year-old Donald, a Junior. Tuesday he was given a schedule of his own composed of those subjects which most interest him.

He chose English, American History, modern European History and philosophy. Asked about differences between American schools and those in Kenya, he said that in Kenya the schools are harder, the students more serious, discipline stricter, and the atmosphere more formal.

"I was prepared for the informality here," he said. "Before I came the U.S. cultural affairs officer briefed me on American customs and said that Americans are very informal."

At school in Kenya, Michael has distinguished himself as a leader. In high school he was elected secretary to the Student Council and later to a higher office, called "head of school," chosen editor of the school newspaper, made a scout troop leader and won a Quaker Peace Prize.

After graduation from Strathmore, he hopes to study international law at a university in preparation for work in the diplomatic service — perhaps as a member of the United Nations.

The greatest problem facing the Kenya Parliament, he says, is education of the people and communication among the 48 tribes, as each tribe speaks a different language.

English, he said, is the official language of Kenya, and Swahili, the second language. The latter is a combination of Arabic and Bantu.

Michael and Donald both feel they have much to gain by the experience of living together.

"It's good for us to extend our horizons," Donald said, "and learn of life outside the United States."

"People here think Kenya is a paradise," Michael said, "whereas most of the forests there have been cleared for agricultural use, and Nairobi is a city of 300,000 people."

"I, too, had many misconceptions of America," thought all Americans were millionaires," he said.

FIREBALL BUICK SPECIAL

NEW, MORE POWERFUL FIREBALL V6 ENGINE. The automotive sensation of the '60's is now bigger and better than ever. Buick's unique Fireball V6 engine has been increased in bore, stroke and piston displacement—and most importantly, in power. The Fireball now checks out at 155 horsepower, plenty to power the lightweight Special to new heights of driving excitement. You'll love the spunky spirit as well as the smooth cruising at highway speeds. And the best of all is that you get all this on so little gas—regular gas, at that.

NEW, SILKEN-SMOOTH 3-SPEED SYNCHROMESH TRANSMISSION. There's nothing like the fun of putting a really spirited engine through its paces manually. Rediscover the pleasure of driving with the new "three-on-the-tree" synchromesh transmission. It's fully synchronized in all forward speeds and features full-freeform equalizers for unbelievably smooth shifting and clutching. Its quick response makes a big contribution to the wonderful nimbleness of the '64 Buick Special. Of course, it's also available with Super Turbine "300" automatic.

NEW, ROAD-HUGGING SUSPENSION. The Buick Special has taken a grip on the road for 1964. A new low center-of-gravity and a whole new suspension design keeps the Special smooth and level on the straightaway and close to the pavement on the curves and corners. It's a real big-car feeling, but with no sacrifice of the Special's traditional sports car agility.

Budget Showing Set For Next Tuesday

The municipal budget will make its showing for the first time at Tuesday's Township Committee meeting, according to figures were forthcoming at this newspaper went to press, it was reported that the budget would be such as to maintain the $100 per $100 of assessed valuation of last year.

Township Committee met in executive session Tuesday night to effect a final budget for presentation at Tuesday's meeting.

The "projection" of the budget seemed that the tax rate for municipal purposes would be held. No overall tax rate can as yet be presented for the township, although voters will go to the polls Tuesday to cast their ballots for the final school budget, up $18,268 over the 1964-65 items and the tax rate for school purposes is expected to rise six cents to $2.62 per $100 of assessed valuation, no figures on Springfield's share of either the county or regional school district budgets are available.

The County Tax Office reports that no figures will come from them on the amount of the county tax applicable to Springfield until next month.

While 107 voters from Springfield voted among "threes" who passed the $54,000,933 Regional budget on Tuesday, the amount of the budget to pertain to the township is not known, according to the Regional Board office, George T. Loman, chairman of the Board's finance committee, said last week, however, that a "one-third" budget was anticipated over the 1963-64 figures.

Springfield's share of the tax rate for the Regional system last year was $1.84 per $100 of assessed valuation. Last year the county budget provided a $1.01 rate for Springfield, and the total tax rate for the municipality last year was $6.87.

Springfield's First Aid Squad Rolls Any Time Of Day Or Night

From this moment a Springfield resident picks up a phone to notify police of an accident or emergency illness until one of the township's two ambulances begins to roll there is a time lapse of about four minutes.

Robert Voorhees, captain of the First Aid Squad, pointed last week to a black alarm box on the wall of his home at 25 Center st. When the police desk officer receives an emergency call, Voorhees explained, he pulls a lever that rings alarm bells in the homes of the First Aid Squad's 30 active members.

The three or four members on ambulance call report immediately to the First Aid Building across from Town Hall. A member serving as dispatcher is informed by police of the location of the emergency and passes the information onto the ambulance crew. Radios in the ambulances enable them to maintain contact with Springfield police.

A second alarm will bring out all squad members home at the time. William Seal, president of the squad, says the group responds to 40 to 70 calls each month. Voorhees said they sometimes handle as many as eight calls in one day.

DAY AND NIGHT crews are always available so that Springfield is covered 24 hours a day.

The squad administers first aid to victims of emergencies that include heart attacks, road and home accidents, convulsions and drunkenness. It transports patients to and from the hospital. And several years ago squad members delivered a baby. All of them know how.

A doctor is always called to the scene. If the patient does not have a preference in the choice of a physician, squad members summon one from a list of Springfield doctors, which each member carries with him.

So conscientious has been the service of this group to the community that it has been chosen this year to receive the Springfield Men's and Women's B'nai B'rith Citizenship Award for outstanding civic service.

Arthur M. Falkin, civic affairs chairman for B'nai B'rith, has said that the plaque will be presented at a joint affair of the men's and women's groups Sunday, Feb. 16, at Temple Beth Ahm.

This is the first time a group rather than an individual has been named to receive the award, Falkin said, adding that it will be presented for service over the years.

The award was given to Rev. Bruce Evans of the First Presbyterian Church.

This is not the squad's first award for community service. Two plaques on the walls of the First Aid Squad Building mark similar awards, one of them presented in 1952 by the Springfield Lions Club and the other in 1953 by the Veterans of Foreign War.

A TROPHY was received for outstanding attendance at a special course in advanced resuscitation given by the N. J. First Aid Council last fall.

All of the members are thoroughly trained and drilled in first aid practice. New members pass through a six-month probationary period of meetings and drills are expected to pass a standard first aid course during this time.

They take courses in advanced first aid, oxygen therapy and resuscitation. Second Lt. Harold Jensen, the squad's education director, gives instruction in first aid to those who have passed the advanced course.

All members must be thoroughly drilled in the use of the equipment located in the two ambulances. There are resuscitator and inhalator machines, various splints for simple and compound fractures, snake bite preventives, maternity equipment, stretchers and litters for soothing nervous youngsters.

Constant practice makes the use of this equipment familiar. For this purpose members meet for two drills and one business meeting every month. The business meeting is conducted by the president, William Seal, who was one of the first members when the squad was organized in 1949. This is his second year as president.

Other officers are Bert Brudner, vice president; Mrs. Madeleine Lanester, recording secretary; Mrs. Barbara Douglas, corresponding secretary; Spence Cannon, treasurer; Mrs. Esther Sibole, historian; Captain Voorhees, 1st Lt. Edward Street, 2nd Lt. Dan Kalen, and 2nd Lt. Jensen, field officers.

A WOMEN'S AUXILIARY makes bandages and raises funds through card parties and other special events. They have bought the kitchen equipment in the squad building.

Building, bought ambulances in 1959 and 1960 and provided equipment. Fourteen thousand dollars collected last year will go toward the purchase of a 1964 ambulance to replace the 1959 model.

Books with slots for $5.00 worth of quarters are mailed for this purpose to residents every spring and collected in the fall.

The outstanding work performed by the Springfield First Aid Squad is attributed to the enthusiasm of its membership, by the group itself.

"I can't tell you how much I enjoy working with this group," Seal says. "We love the work, and we have the satisfaction of knowing we perform a real community service."

POSTING assignments for members of the Springfield First Aid Squad is William Seal, president of the group. The ambulance crew are listed on a board inside the garage of the First Aid Building.

Help Given To Persons Suffering Nerve Deafness

CHICAGO, Feb. 6. — Until today, little has been written about nerve deafness, the nation's No. 1 cause of hearing distress. Now, however, an amazing booklet about this condition is being offered to the public free.

Beltone Hearing Service at 8 So. Broad St., Elizabeth, has a supply of these books on hand and is making them available free of charge to anyone wishing a copy. Simply write to Beltone or telephone EL 3-7686.

The booklet explains the facts about nerve deafness — the painless, invisible condition that handicaps and isolates millions of persons of all ages.

How does nerve deafness interfere with hearing? What symptoms first warn you of this condition? Will surgery help, will a hearing aid help? Will anything help?

The booklet offered you to the public free of charge by Beltone Hearing Service explains why persons may hear and yet not understand. Can this condition be corrected? Is there any help to this hearing distress — nerve deafness?

"The Inside Story of Nerve Deafness," Beltone's remarkable "free" booklet, tells you what you can do to end this embarrassing ordeal.

If you are in the neighborhood of 8 So. Broad St., Elizabeth, come in for your free copy. Or write to Beltone Hearing Service, Phone EL 3-7686.

SQUAD MEMBERS Mrs. Libby Berson, Dan Kalen and Mrs. Mary Sklar demonstrate the use of first-aid equipment located in one of two Springfield ambulances. Here they show how stretcher is operated.

that assessments would be town-wide.

The matter was returned again when Alan Kempler, a Newark attorney, told an open meeting of the Township Committee that he had "inadvertently" made the cost would be partially financed by town-wide assessment.

Kempler, who at the time he said he was making contact with the property owners, was a clerk in the law offices of then Township Attorney Irwin Weinberg.

Following Kempler's statements the matter was held over by the Township Committee, and at another meeting Weinberg presented a report to the Committee stating that Kempler "was carefully instructed by me that he could not make any representations that there would be no assessments for the South Side Sanitary Sewer."

Weinberg pointed out that he was in no position to make any commitments regarding the project as the matter was policy of the Township Committee.

A the Oct. 22 Township Committee meeting, former Township Committeeman Daniel M. Weinberg and Russell Sibole, former Township Committeeman Vincent J. Bonadies, both testified to the fact that the ordinance governing the project and published in the newspapers on Sept. 10 and 17, 1959, stipulated that assessments would be local.

On the basis of the verbal testimony and communications from Weinberg and Russell Sibole, the Committee decided to return the report to the commission for additional study.

The South Side Sanitary Sewer, last of the major sewer projects in the township, was started in the Spring of 1961, according to Township Engineer Robert Miller. The sewer, 5,000 feet, runs from the Rahway River through the industrial park out to So. Springfield rd. in Weehawken and covers part of Weehawken.

In 1961, according to records of the Adjustment Board, a variance to erect a 48-unit parking garage at 306 Mountain ave. was denied as the Board said a "one-family zone should be maintained."

At that time the Board also explained that "no special reasons have been presented to the Board of Adjustment to justify a change in the characteristics of this zone." It also said in its resolution of denial that "severe traffic conditions exist" and that such a use would "create even more severe traffic conditions."

proposal, he said that they are not legally required to do so.

"At this point Dr. Edward Worfel interrupted with a call for action. 'Let's hear from a lawyer,' he said. 'How long will this take? Can we win? How much will it cost?'"

Weinberg responded by "calling the attention of the suit 'reasonably good.' FHA government regulations, Weinberg said, stipulate that for a 90-bed facility, 60 to 70 acres of ground must be provided.

He also contended that a "deadlock two-to-two decision" by the Board of Adjustment (which in an executive session at its Nov. 19 meeting, "constituted a vote." Robert Miller, chairman of the Board, has said that no vote was taken.

LEADER PROFILE

ALAN R. CUNNINGHAM

Alan R. Cunningham, chairman of the board of Education's finance department, is a tall, lanky westerner with a slow drawl.

He grew up in Pueblo, Colorado, but folks there, he said, think he has an eastern accent. "I seem to have picked up the worst in both," he said.

He sat in his office at the Esso Research and Engineering laboratories in Linden, where he is a chemical engineer on the petroleum staff—a group of specialists who make studies in petroleum engineering economics.

As he described his background and theories concerning school board matters, his drawl was accentuated by the deliberate pauses of a man of science trained to weigh evidence.

"The school budget is tight in all categories," he said of the request for school dollars which goes before Springfield voters next Tuesday. His department has been responsible for drawing up the document, but he is quick to say that it is really the result of effort by the entire Board.

"We hope people will get out and vote for this budget," he said, pointing out that the Board fears a small turnout because there is no contest for school board seats this year. "It is still necessary, however, to approve the funds whereby we operate our schools," he pointed out.

CUNNINGHAM WAS BORN in Aberdeen, S.D. in 1919, one of two children, but he considers Pueblo his home town. A man of few words, he described the environment of his youth as one where there is "more room and less water" (than New Jersey).

His father, who died when Cunningham was a teen-ager, was a mining engineer in Colorado's gold and silver mines, and his mother was a school teacher.

As a youth Cunningham was a good student, he revealed modestly as the fact was dropped out of him. Was he a member of the National Honor Society? Yes. What were his best subjects? Chemistry, physics, mathematics and history. Did he win any honors at high school graduation? Well, there were some scholarships.

As a matter of fact, he put himself through college with scholarships and part-time work afternoons and summers that began during high school at a sand and gravel plant where he ran tests on products and also drove trucks and cars and ran machinery.

He had a scholarship from MIT, where he attended as a chemical engineering major in his freshman year. It became apparent after one year, however, that it would make more sense economically if he were to attend the Colorado School of Mines, where he also had a scholarship.

In 1941 he won a professional degree in petroleum engineering at the Colorado School of Mines—a degree that, he explained, is equivalent to a master's. He is a member of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity.

After that he went to work for the Shell Development Co. in Emeryville, Calif., working in petroleum production.

THERE HAVE BEEN few digressions in Cunningham's life. Always his special area of knowledge has been recognized and put to good use.

Even during World War II it was channeled, and he was sent as a U.S. Air Force cadet to Yale for further engineering study, commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant, and stationed at various spots in Wyoming and Texas as an inspector of fuels and chemical lubricants. He was a 1st Lieutenant when he got out in 1946.

Sometimes he disagreed with people, he said sagaciously.

What kind of a person are you? he was asked.

"Nasty," he answered pleasantly.

Do you work as a scientist are you opinionated? he was asked.

"No. I have to base my opinions on facts," he said. "It's a great discipline."

A man of few words who weighs evidence, is firm in his opinions, and is not afraid to express his views, we summarized mentally. These seemed like good qualifications for a school board member.

In 1944 he married the former Louise Van Dermark of Carbondale, Pa., whom he met during his service travels. We asked for details, but he remained a man of few words.

The couple has two children: Susan, 17, a senior at Jonathan Dayton; and Gordon, 14, a freshman at Pinney. They live at 58 Spring Brook rd., where they moved eight years ago, although they have been residents of Springfield since 1946.

COSTLY CONVENTION

In regard to Senator Nelson Stamler's proposal for a New Jersey Tax Convention, we believe: A tax convention is costly and is not needed in New Jersey at this time. Ten studies by the Commission on State Tax Policy have revealed New Jersey's tax problems and state needs. The last one outlined in detail some of the state's problems such as increased aid to local governments for public schools that must be provided at once to relieve the property tax. Also, the need for a change in the personal property tax of business unless we are to continue to lose industry with the resultant unemployment problems.

The Stuyvesant report enumerated the vast numbers that will be unable to attend college unless facilities are built in New Jersey. The State Department of Institutions and Agencies has detailed capacity needs for the next ten years. In addition to these "absolute studies," the legislature is planning to study needs once again.

On the income side, there is ample information on New Jersey's tax structure and comparison studies of other states are available. No more study is needed.

A tax convention is only a delaying action. Mr. Stamler's desire for progress by way of a referendum next November, then delegates elected the following spring, then a tax convention called in 1964 as evidenced by the Legislative vote on the recommendations of the tax convention. In other words, after all this costly and time-wasting study, the legislature would do what it can do right now.

In the meantime who will bear the increasing cost of public schools and other government services?—the property owner. Property taxes in Union County increased 24 per cent from 1960 to 1963 and a further increase is expected in 1964 as evidenced by the proposed county budget increase of 7 per cent over last year. Local school budgets also increase. There will be no relief until more money is stipended back to the county and local governments by means of increased state aid for schools, for local roads and for the unfortunate. Shall retired workers give up their homes because they cannot afford the rising property tax while New Jersey residents live once more?

Most of us in Union County use Highway 22 regularly. Just such a death trap continues until New Jersey needs are cut back against New Jersey must put more money into highways or the hours lost while traffic is slowed down by accidents will multiply and dilute the state aid. At the present time 50 per cent of our college students are being sent out of the state and a lesser percentage will find space in the future. It takes time to build college facilities. We need them now, not after further study. Are we going to have a lost generation that was denied college education because of lack of space? Will it

TERCENTENARY TALES by John T. Cunningham

Wig-Wag Telegraph System Was Key To Financial Success

Every stock market plunger dreams of two big days: first when he gets good news before anyone else and places his bets that a stock will rise—followed by another day when he gets bad news and unloads his stock before the rest of the speculators start to sell.

That is supposed to be hard to do today, but 125 years ago—a small knot of stock dealers achieved phenomenal success by using a secret wig-wag telegraph system between Monmouth and Camden counties.

New York and Philadelphia money men ruled the nation's economy, of course, and they kept ears attuned for disasters and triumphs. A ship arriving from Europe with good news sent stocks soaring, a ship docking with bad tidings sent the market sharply down. The key to success lay in getting information first.

Speculators rode in the ways of science turned a new telegraph system in the 1830's. Their telegraph was a system of semaphores, between the Highlands of the Newark in Monmouth County and a broker's building in New York. Certain speculators in New York began to prosper immediately after the first semaphores on the Highlands was built in 1826.

Ships arriving off Sandy Hook were met by men in small boats, waiting to pick up news—good or bad—dropped over the shore but later they used carrier pigeons for the ship-to-shore message. In this way, the word reached the semaphore operators.

JOIN the already rapidly growing number of unemployed in New Jersey?

It is time for action now. Governor Hughes has led the way with his proposal for an income tax for New Jersey. Not only would an income tax be paid solely by those able to pay but about one-fourth of the cost would be saved because the state tax could be deducted from the federal income tax. It would come at a time of decreasing federal income taxes and for many taxpayers the small amount of the state income tax would be balanced by the decrease.

Let's face up to New Jersey's problems now.

THE LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS OF UNION COUNTY Mrs. George L. Wacker Director

BIT FATHER The article in your Jan. 30 issue titled "Union Freeholder Urges Probe of Traffic in Drugs" is very commendable and I assure other news media will be carrying similar stories as soon as possible.

As a member of the Citizens Committee for Control of Narcotic Addiction (Albert Fontana, chairman) and a candidate for Freeholder myself, I think Freeholder Binaldo in his article is on the right track.

However, with 90 known heroin addicts in Union County I think it is obvious to everyone that we have a serious problem on our hands and every resource should be used to control it as soon as possible.

Every day we read about dope addicts and pushers being picked up by the police in practically every town in the county. In the past week I remember seeing Union, Plainfield, Hillsdale and other municipality residents especially.

As a Freeholder, I would have suggested going a bit farther with a study of all facets of addiction problems in the county.

A branch of Alcoholics Anonymous exists in Union County but it hasn't solved the problem of excessive drinking which is now thought to be a form of addiction.

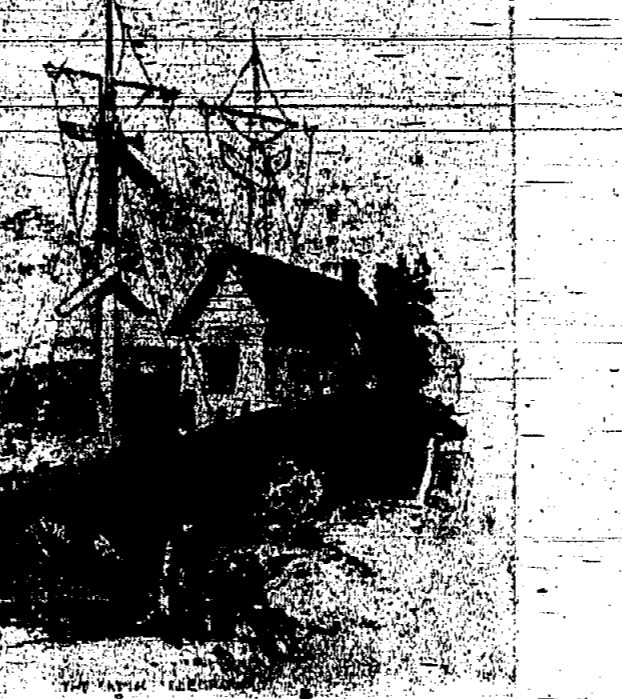

Perhaps with the advent of care in advertising cigarettes to the youth of our nation, we should have a group also into the possibilities of establishing a Nicotines Anonymous.

The problem of addiction is serious and deleterious to the health standard of our nation; therefore, all phases must be investigated, to produce proper action on the local level, and to determine whether or not they are related.

HENRY S. WRIGHT 33 Colfax rd. Springfield of the Camden & Amboy Railroad in the 1830's cut that to nine hours. Seemingly, man had gone about as far as he could go. Suddenly a Philadelphia stock broker named W. C. Bridges began to show uncanny skill on the local exchange in the fall of 1841. He brought right and he sold right, confused competitors watched his agents but they found no key—except that Bridges had important news within a half hour after it broke in New York.

Bridges simply had guessed right: what worked between the TYPE OF TELEGRAPH tower that wig-wagged news and stock reports across New Jersey hills in the 1830's.

Public Library Gets First Written Policy

The Springfield Public Library has its first written policy. It was drawn up over the past year by a special policy committee, headed by Mrs. Sylvia Bender, a member of the Board of Trustees, who retired when her term expired last month.

Included are job descriptions and qualifications for professional personnel and other library employees, by-laws governing the Board of Trustees, and a book policy.

By-laws define the membership of the Board of Trustees as consisting of seven members: the mayor, superintendent of schools, and five citizens appointed by the mayor, all residents of the municipality.

Methods of electing officers and scheduling meetings, committee organization, parliamentary authority and conflict of interest policy are also included.

The book policy has been drawn up in accordance with the American Library Association Bill of Rights and the Freedom of Read Statement which defend the availability of books without regard to race, religion, or political opinion.

Fines, charges, borrowing periods and research services are also spelled out.

Ex-English Brownie Helps Town Troops

A former Brownie scout in England is now serving the Springfield Girl Scouts as a Cadette Leader in Troop 566. It was announced, she is Mrs. G. Randolph Frost of 33 S. Maple Ave.

Mrs. Frost was a Brownie Owl in Springfield. She came from the British Isles and became a Marine Scout in the Cranford Girl Scouts. She now lives in Springfield.

Scouts, Brownies At Skating Party

Springfield Girl Scouts and Brownies recently attended a roller skating party at Olympic Park. Some 300 persons, including parents and guests, were on hand.

A total of 108 Scouts are taking lessons to complete their Roller Skating Badge. Lessons are expected to be completed by Feb. 29. Mrs. Lee L. Andrews, Jr., scout leader of Troop 471, is in charge of the Roller Skating Badge and parties.

Mrs. Fred Solla and Mrs. Joseph Leonardis, chairmen of the benefit cake sale held recently at St. James School auditorium, said it was a success.

Proceeds of the sale went to complete the balance due of the Springfield Neighborhood of the Fireplace at Camp Lor Henry Hoover.

Proud Grandparents

Mr. and Mrs. Sal Ingate of 177 Highlands Ave., Springfield, reported they are grandparents again. Their daughter Mary Ann, now Mrs. Donald McNeil of Plainfield, gave birth to a boy Jan. 15 at Governor Hospital in Somerville. Their other grandchildren are Lynn and Thomas Losco of Panwood.

Give 'Plush' Carpets Close Investigation

Some plush rugs or carpets only look plush. Others really are plush. If you enjoy the softness of plush carpeting and want to be sure you're buying real plush, here's how to tell the difference, says the Rutgers Extension Service.

Look closely at the carpet pile. Miss Gene Thames, Rutgers Extension Home Furnishing Specialist, A plush appearance may be given to carpet pile made from yarn that only looks bulky.

Miss Thames explains that this bulk is produced by using yarn with little or no twist. If you look closely, you can see that the fibers are not spun tightly.

Tips for TODAY'S HOMEMAKER

From MARY ARMSTRONG, County Home Agent

USE WITH CHOICE OF FISH TO VARY YOUR LENTEN MENUS
 Fresh fish supplies usually increase in the spring in time for Lent. This year Lent is early and the fish season is not yet in full swing but wide variety is still possible. When these supplies are available protein foods for religious reasons or just medicinal interest, there are many appealing fish choices. Eggs and cheese also can provide satisfying main dish offerings.
 More frozen fishery products are available this season than a year ago. Sharp increases in cold storage holdings of frozen ocean perch, halibut and halibut filets, and shrimp are in evidence. And,
 these products can be secured in about as many ways as fresh seafood. Fresh sea food items to consider include: butterfish, salmon, whitefish, filets of cod, haddock, pompano, and haddock clams, crab meat, and scallops. Canned fish is always a boon to menu planners. Mackerel, tuna, salmon, and sardines are among the more common varieties.

For economy in shopping for fish, remember that prices vary greatly for different products and, for the same product in different forms.
 Filets have far less waste than whole fish and are the low cost choice. Domestic products usually cost less than imported items. The packing medium may affect the cost of canned fish. There too, different brands of the same fishery product may vary in cost. Compare costs before making a choice if you would get the most value for your fish dollar.

Cheese and eggs can be economical, as well as tasty, main meat alternatives
 during Lent.
 Consider the type of fish in choosing the cooking method for most eating enjoyment.
 Fish with fat is best suited for broiling and baking. This group includes butterfish, mackerel, salmon, ahad, swordfish, lake trout, and whitefish.

 Lean fish may be dry and tasteless if baked or broiled unless it is basted with fat. It is better if cooked by steaming, broiling, deep fat frying, or sautéing. Lean fish includes cod, haddock, pompano, haddock halibut, perch, porgy,
 whiting, and red snapper.
 Sauces or wenders for most of these fishes.

BAKED HADDOCK FILETS IN SPANISH SAUCE
 1 lb. haddock filets
 1 1/2 tablespoon ground onion
 1 tablespoon salad oil or melted fat
 1 1/2 tablespoon sifted flour
 1/2 cup tomatoes
 1/2 tablespoon ground
 green pepper
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon sugar
 Pinch crushed bay leaves
 Dash ground cloves

Thaw filets. Divide into portions. Place on well-greased pan. Make sauce. Cook
 onion in fat until tender.
 Blend flour with a little of the tomato liquid and mix with remaining tomatoes. Add ground pepper and seasonings to tomato and heat with onion-fat mixture. Cook about 10 minutes until thickened, stirring occasionally. Cover fish with the sauce. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes, or until the fish flakes easily when tested with a fork.

Jobs Announced
 By Civil Service

Examinations for appointments to positions of stenographer and typist in Essex and Union County offices of the Internal Revenue Service and other federal agencies were announced this week by the Board of the U. S. Civil Service Examiners.

The stenographer positions range from $3,880 to $4,215, and the typist positions from $3,620 to $3,880. Appointments will be career-conditional unless otherwise limited.

To qualify, all applicants will be required to pass written and performance tests. In addition to passing these tests, applicants must have had appropriate experience or education. Description of the tests and experience requirements are shown in the following table:

Banker Says Economical Literacy Vital To Survival Of The American Society

"Economic literacy" is vital to the survival of the American society, Albert Stearns, assistant vice-president of the Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co., told a group of banking officials and educators at a cocktail party and dinner given by The First State Bank of Union on Monday.

The dinner, held in the auditorium of the First State Bank, was sponsored by the Union Branch of the First State Bank. The 20 teachers who received the State Bank scholarship for the three college sessions, and the schools they represent, were: Franklin School; Mrs. Laura Hamilton School; Mrs. Florence Humes; Livingston School; Grace Zahring and Mrs. Phyllis Zwillman; Albert G. D'Amato, Carl Lander and Vincent Meola; Kawanooh Junior High School; Alfred Amgen, Mrs. Ida Ziel, Seymour Sipin, Robert Sishan and James Dow; Union High School; Frank Marotti, Florence Sullivan, Mrs. Constance Brown, Dolores Grooms and Mrs. Loreta Sanderson.

In stressing that he feels economic literacy is vital to the survival of the American society, Stearns said that "one economic situation in our schools negates the statement that economic literacy was a matter of urgent national priority."

Pointing out that, according to statistics, only 10 percent of the nation's youngsters finish four years of college, and of those only one-quarter takes courses in economics, he said, "I beg to differ with you on some idea of the limited exposure of our society to 'academic economics.'"

He said that there is a shortage of teachers prepared to teach the subject, the goals for economic education have not been defined, and that there is insufficient good teaching material available.

Stearns said that before a pupil can be taught economic facts he must overcome some of the folklore and mythology about the subject. Then only he said, can he think for himself.

A major point in not being able to present education in economics, Stearns said, is that while many groups and individuals favor such education, they have failed to coordinate their efforts.

Stearns compared the federal government grants, he took exception to government farm policies, struck out at the Rural Electrification Agency and emphasized that "profits is not a dirty word."

"The Committee for Economic Development and the National Task Force on economic education were in agreement on the fact that one of the main purposes of teaching economics is to produce better citizens," Stearns said.

"Psychological groundwork for economic education has been created by years of effort on the part of a great many people," Stearns said. The CED concluded, "and that a greater intensive and coordinated effort could be achieved essentially as follows: 1. Economics should be taught at all possible grade levels through enrichment of existing courses. 2. The course in social studies usually given in the 12th grade should be changed toward developing economic literacy. 3. Teachers should be better

Widnall To Speak At Lincoln Day Dinner Monday

Congressman William R. Widnall of Saratoga Brook will be the principal speaker at the Union County Republican-Lincoln Day Dinner to be held next Monday at the Elmhurst Hotel in Elizabeth.

Chairman, Frederick Matthew J. Donadio.

Congressman Widnall represents the Seventh Congressional District, and is one of the most influential members, having been a member of the House of Representatives since 1953.

In addition to Congressman Widnall, Congressman Warren D. Dwyer of Union County and State Senator Nelson Stander are expected to attend and will be called upon for remarks.

U.S. Senator Clifford Case has also been invited to attend.

Tickets for the affair may be obtained from members of the Republican County Committee in each municipality.

Mrs. Amy C. Baudemer of Springfield and Mayor H. Raymond Klewan of Canfield, are the co-chairmen of the ticket committee.

Classes To Resume After 8-Day Break

Classes will resume tomorrow at Union after an eight-day mid-semester break.

Students in both the day and evening sessions will return to classrooms tomorrow while those enrolled in the UJC Institute for non-credit programs will resume studies next week.

About 1,000 students are enrolled in the spring semester in all programs, Dr. Kenneth C. Mackay, UJC president, said.

prepared in economic education must be created.

4. Interest in economic education must be created.

5. Colleges preparing teachers must be urged to secure qualified economists for their faculties.

6. More and better educational material is needed.

The Textbook Study Committee of the American Economic Association and the Materials Evaluation Committee, composed of these economists, three curriculum specialists and one economic historian, felt that the material available could be improved and revised on a national basis.

7. Labor leaders were also among the invited guests, as were Dr. Eugene Wilkins, president of Newark State College, Union School Superintendent, Dr. Fred Eick Stalder, Assistant Superintendent, Laurence Holland, School Board Secretary Rudolph Schuber and all members of the Union Board of Education.

JAMES CLARK, a Springfield postal employee, has been invited by the Art Gallery of South Orange and Maplewood to have a one-man show of his art work at the Maplewood Memorial Library. It was announced this week. Twenty of Clark's pastel paintings will be on exhibit from Feb. 16-29, the announcement said. Clark is shown here with one of his works.

Nostalgic History Of Library Flows Over With Anecdotes

Miss Helen C. Reyer's parting gift to the Springfield Public Library is a nostalgic history of events that transpired during her 10-year term as library director.

It was written over the past year as she prepared for retirement this month, and its contents spill over with anecdotes of community cooperation and personal warmth.

When Miss Reyer began directing the library just prior to taking charge officially as director Jan. 1, 1954, stacks bulged with an overflow of books. Librarian Miss Phoebe Briggs was ill and volunteer staffers were attempting to cope with a large number of books presented as gifts within a short number of time.

Miss Reyer looked immediately to the talents of members of her staff, particularly those of Miss Briggs and Donald Palmer, curator of the library's historical room.

"TALKING HER HISTORY TOGETHER," already had a large collection of objects and pictures (of the local historical scene) which were housed in the attic, the cellar, and what is now the office of the children's librarian. Miss Briggs had collected many books on local history which were kept with the historical materials.

She points to the "quantity and quality" of work performed by these two, saying that "local historians are interested in their work."

"As soon as some way is found to duplicate their printed materials, they can be used without being raised, the general public will have a storehouse of local history," she wrote.

Two early innovations by Miss Reyer were time sheets to record overtime work by employees and request cards for handling requests for books and reference materials.

The latter service was discontinued in 1962.

Volunteer readers filled in to handle the children's story hours. Mrs. Estey Taylor was hired for a time to read to the youngsters several afternoons a week.

Meanwhile Miss Briggs had prepared a guide for volunteer workers, augmented by suggestions gleaned at the 1963 annual volunteers luncheon.

OTHER SERVICES WERE the preparation of a community calendar and a directory of organizations and their officers. A summer reading club for children was begun in 1954. These, as well as newspaper, publicity, library scrapbooks, exhibits and talks by library staffers are described in Miss Reyer's history.

Books, including "The History of the Library," written in 1957 that might not be known in newcomers to the area, are recalled. For instance, books which might have been in the way of builders were stored in the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches and the Florence Gaudineer School. Borrowers were allowed to take home as many as 50 books and keep them until the new wing was finished.

Members of the staff are with the library no longer are all noted in Miss Reyer's history. There are mentions of gifts from the Woman's Club, Rotary and Lions Clubs and other organizations.

Sections entitled "Pleasant Memories" and "Special Occasions" round out the bulk of nostalgic events with which this history abounds.

IS IT SOUND PLANNING TO BORROW MONEY?

Prudent borrowing, based on a sound repayment plan, can save money for the borrower. For some people, it means opportunities to improve income. Others reduce costs by consolidating bills. We regularly make loans for modern appliances that save time and expense... for new cars that help the breadwinner fill a better job... to modernize and improve property... for bill-consolidation... and for many other worthwhile, productive purposes. If a loan can help you in one of these ways, it's very likely we can be of service. At National State, you borrow at low bank rates and on convenient terms. Come in and talk to us at our most convenient office.

"Make a date with National State... Union County's Leading Bank"

FEBRUARY 4

ITALIAN NIGHT, staged Monday by Senior Girl Scout Troop 564, brought characters from Italian literature and folk lore to the Fellowship Hall of Connecticut Farms Church, Union. JoAnn Walker, center, of Union provided the accordion music for dancers, Barbara Waldrop and Linda Erlson, both of Union, (front row) and 19 other troop members who danced the "Tarantella." Pictured in the back row are, in the usual order, Deborah Zacher, of Union, as the Old Winemaker, Diana Scobey, of Springfield, one of the cooks who prepared the Italian dinner, Ingrid Zandler, of Union, as Pepino, and Janet Holt as Phoebe.

Aunt Janie Leads CDA-ers In Home-Grown Musical

An original comedy, "Aunt Janie's Bookin' Agent," headed a variety program presented at a recent social evening of Court Immaculate Heart of Mary, CDA. The author, Miss Jane Owens, appeared in the title role and was backed by a talented group of court members.

Mrs. John Pleyk, Mrs. W. S. Darrow and Mrs. Andrew Nedzan appeared as a hillbilly singing trio while Mrs. A. John (Mary) Martin gave a brilliant imitation of her famous namesake, Mrs. Cosmos Genikore, Mrs. Frank Messina and Mrs. Theodore Bubnowski appeared as a French ballet group. Mrs. Steve Balinski provided the accompaniment for a duet sung by Mrs. Robert Dray and Mrs. Fred Beron. Mrs. Thaddeo "Maddeus Kocak" was the announcer.

DAR'S HERITAGE PROGRAM STARS TWO UNION MEN

Two Union residents, Sven Westdahl, of 301 Putnam rd., and James Nelson, of 342 Minnie Arms rd., were the principal speakers at an "American Heritage" program presented Saturday by the New York Chapter of General Nathaniel Woodhull, D. A. B. The program, held in the Hotel Vandenberg, New York City, was arranged by the chapter's regent, Mrs. Wilhelm Genander, of 345 Putnam rd., Union, and was aimed at the furthering of the "arts."

Mr. Westdahl, a retired staff engineer for Bristol Meyers and an artist and teacher, spoke on "Art As A Hobby." Mr. Nelson, a student at the Newark School of Fine and Industrial Art, discussed "Design Curriculum." Subject, lighting, media and technique were touched on in Mr. Westdahl's talk. He also related stories of some of his experiences while painting in the western parts of the United States and Canada. Some of his paintings, framed in hand-carved frames which he had made, were on exhibition.

MISS DIANE PECKLERS FUTURE BRIDE OF PETER M. SMITH

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Pecklers, of Sherwood rd., Union, announce the engagement of their daughter, Diane, to Peter M. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Smith, of Pine ave., Union.

Miss Pecklers and her fiance are graduates of Union High School. The bride-elect is attending Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing, Newark. Mr. Smith, an alumnus of Drake Business College, Elizabeth, is employed at Elastic Stop-Nut Corp., Elizabeth.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Pecklers, of Sherwood rd., Union, announce the engagement of their daughter, Diane, to Peter M. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Smith, of Pine ave., Union.

SEWING MACHINE CARE-TOPIC FOR COUNTY MEETING

How to clean, oil, and adjust thread tension will be featured in a demonstration on sewing machine care Thursday at 9:45 to 11:30 a.m. at the South Side Fire Hall, Raritan road, Scotch Plains.

Mrs. Carolyn F. Yuknus, Associate Home Agent for the Union County Home Economics Extension Service, will give the demonstration.

Mrs. Yuknus said that many problems with sewing machines stem from poor cleaning and oiling methods. She feels that once homemakers understand how to adjust thread tension on their sewing machines, they will have greater satisfaction and less frustrations in using their machines.

Patrons on selecting a new sewing machine, as well as determining when a sewing machine is worn out, will also be discussed.

CHURCH WOMEN MEET AT FARMS

The executive board of the Women's Association of Connecticut Farms Presbyterian Church will meet Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the Colonial Parlor of the church on Stuyvesant ave. and Chestnut st., Union.

The Daytime Circles will meet at 4 p.m. with the following as hostesses: Mrs. A. R. Siles, Mrs. G. W. Harkinson, Mrs. Clarence Griggs, Mrs. George Mackie, Mrs. Edward Morgan, Mrs. Hudson Gillard and Mrs. Max Heister.

Publicly chosen and individuals are urged to observe the Friday deadline of this newspaper for other than spot news. Tuesday is even better. Include your name, address and phone number.

Brandeis Members Invited To Attend Study Sessions On Drama, Great Novels

A study series on the great novels and drama is now being conducted by the Union County Chapter, Brandeis University National Women's Committee. Mrs. Abe Schwartz, of 22 Hemlock ter., Springfield, is leading one of the units which meet the second Thursday of each month at members' homes.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy: To settle an argument between my husband and myself, please tell me if an 18-year-old boy should drink a milkshake with or without a straw?

Mrs. S. M.

Dear Mrs. S. M.: This is like asking whether a bearded man sleeps with his beard over the blanket or under! There is no set rule for drinking a milkshake. The way he enjoys it is the way he should drink it.

Dear Amy: Please in the name of God help me. Print this as soon as you can. I am a female, 24 years of age. I ruined my life and I can't stop, but to do this to someone else and ruin their life, Amy, this I can't do. Please tell people to beware. Do not take pills from anyone, not even your best friend. This is the line—Here, take these, I'll bet they'll work wonders for you. Don't fall for it and make the same mistake I did.

Dear Hooked: While you still have the will to want to live right and the realization of what is happening to you, you can be cured. Please send me your name and address and I will put you in touch with those who will help you. Have no fear. The information you give me will be held in strictest confidence.

PERSONAL TO BRIDE-TO-BE: Unless you are prepared to be the wife of a drinking husband, you had better wear him off the bottle or you will have a crabsy on your hands for the rest of your life!

Know Your Government

TAXPAYERS' VALENTINES

It's Valentine's season, and for you and the county budgets are on their way to adoption so that the major share of their contemplated costs can, with municipal budgets, be incorporated into local tax rates and delivered in bills reaching property owners sooner or later, those tax bills will hit you right where it counts.

Already the school budgets and the county budgets are on their way to adoption so that the major share of their contemplated costs can, with municipal budgets, be incorporated into local tax rates and delivered in bills reaching property owners sooner or later, those tax bills will hit you right where it counts.

Governor's budget savings and (transferring it into the annual appropriations act. This will set the State's tax collection machinery on target for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

At Washington, Congress is beginning the vast and complex process of translating the President's $96 billion budget into spending bills for the new fiscal year. While slightly lower than its predecessor, and accompanied by promise of tax reduction, the President's budget message will leave a $3 billion deficit between planned outlay and income in the new fiscal year. Added to present national indebtedness, this will leave a $317 billion public debt for years to come.

But regardless of their distance from Main Street, varied timing or differing methods of collection, all those government costs come home to roost, sooner or later, right on the taxpayer's pocketbook. The combined bills for local, state and Federal government in New Jersey alone at last count averaged nearly $820 for every man, woman and child. That was the per capita figure two years ago—and it's rising.

So, says the New Jersey Taxpayers' Association, since the period of budget preparation and adoption coincides with the Valentine season, it may be the time for an appropriate message to municipal council, county treasurers, state legislators at Trenton and Congressmen at Washington. This could remind them of the desirability of avoiding new costs, and commend any moves toward economical and efficient government to hold down taxpayer on a fine letter and five-cent stamp during this season of greetings, the Association points out.

Engineering Tests Offered Students

Junior and senior high school students interested in discovering if they have engineering aptitude will be given an opportunity to find out Feb. 22 at Newark State College, Union.

On that day a two-and-a-half hour battery of aptitude tests, open to both boys and girls in grades seven through 12, will be given in the Little Theatre of the College Center. They are offered under the auspices of the Junior Engineering Technical Society (JETS), a national non-profit educational organization.

Newark State has been named an area "Search Center" for the testing program, known as the JETS "National Engineering Aptitude Search." Professor John G. Wagner of the Science Department is director of the center.

All students who wish to participate are invited to apply as soon as possible to Junior Engineering Technical Society, United Engineering Center, at 348 E. 47th St., New York 10017, N. Y.

"These tests do not in any way conflict with testing programs already in use in school systems," Professor Wagner emphasizes. "We encourage all participants to discuss test results with their school guidance counselors and teachers."

Students will be charged $2.50 when they take the tests to defray expenses. Reports of results accompanied by an explanation will be sent to each student from The Psychological Corporation.

A MANY-VOLUMED STORY: The history and the potential of the Negro will be told next week in exhibits set up in the three branches of the Union Library. The main part of the exhibit, which was set up in observance of National Negro History Week, which opens Sunday, is on display in the Vauxhall branch on Hillon and Yund ave. Getting a preview of one of the volumes is Mrs. Irma Weinstein, center, senior assistant librarian. Mrs. Joseph Pierce, left, and Mrs. Herman C. Gray are members of the Vauxhall Unit of the Union County Council, National Council of Negro Women, sponsors of the project.

Dr. MacKay Named Chairman For Easter Seal Fund Appeal

Dr. KENNETH MAC KAY, president of Union College, Cranford, has been named honorary chairman of the Union County Easter Seal fund appeal in March, according to an announcement this week by Dr. Ronald E. Myers, president of the Union-County Society for Crippled Children and Adults. The Society for Crippled Children and Adults (League for the Handicapped) is a community organization offering handicapped children and adults a chance to join with their physically able recreational programs. Volunteers of all ages share in activities with the handicapped and volunteer leaders assist the professional director. Volunteer drivers provide transportation to and from the programs at the headquarters in Plainfield for handicapped persons in numerous nearby communities. Dr. MacKay said the League's job is to educate and psychologically equip the people of the community not only to accept handicapped boys and girls, but to give them scope and use for their talents and thus help them to take an active part in community life. A second and larger goal is to help the student with the handicapped. For instance, in a group of 30 or more handicapped boys and girls there are 30 or more physically able boys and girls to share in all activities which, in turn, are planned so that everyone, even the most handicapped, will be able to take part with ease and enthusiasm. "Handicapped club members want and need to acquire those skills in which they are interested and for which they have talent-plus-physical capacity. Both social and pre-vocational skills are important. The League has four programs a week. Monday afternoons from 3:30-4:30. Adults on Monday evenings from 8 to 10. Handicapped children on Thursday from 3:30 to 4:30, and teenagers on Tuesday from 4 to 7:30. "In the various age groups the League offers activities such as ceramics, table games, fabric painting, folk dancing, puppetry, singing, billiards, flower arranging and seasonal parties. The teenagers have chosen to arrange their own programs as follows: choice of skills from 4 to 5:30; supper from 5:30 to 6; and a social hour with either movie, a teen-age hand singing, or group games from 6 to 7:30," he said. "The League's newest service is called 'Creative Hands.' This survey shows that the great majority of these important people are still without jobs and they are still socially isolated. It is bound to be this way until the physically strong boys and girls of a community grow up with the experience of working and playing with the blind, the deaf, the speech handicapped, and with those who have other limiting conditions," Dr. MacKay added.

Assessors Fight Change In Law On Business Tax

Elimination of a 20 per cent floor on depreciable assets in the business personal property section of state law would shift the tax burden from business and industry to the homeowner, in the opinion of the Association of Municipal Assessors of Union County, and the organization has come out against such a move.

Wilbert W. Layne of Springfield, secretary, reports that the association unanimously opposes implementation of Chapter 51 directed toward removing the floor. Use of the law as amended would not be in the home owners' interests, the association feels.

The secretary was directed to notify Governor Richard Hughes and the following state legislators:

State Senator Nelson F. Stangler of Union, Senator Charles W. Sandman of Cape May, who is Senate majority leader; Assemblyman Alfred N. Benedetto of Monmouth County, who is speaker of the Assembly, Union County; Assemblywoman Mildred B. Hughes of Union and Union County; Assemblyman Lawrence Collins, Nicholas St. John LaCorte, Francis X. McPherson and Peter J. McDonough.

Scout Cookie Orders Still Being Taken

The Washington Rock Girl Scout Council announced this week that Girl Scout cookie orders can still be placed by calling the Council office at AD 2-3236.

Profits from the sale are used for camping and operating expenses and troop program. There are five kinds of cookies to choose from, the announcement said.

Bulldogs Look For Win Against Rahway High School

Hope To Break Into Win Column Tomorrow Night

Starting from two successive losses, the Bulldogs' basketball team will try to crash into the win column against Rahway tomorrow night. Dayton beat Hillside in their first meeting earlier in the season, but Coach Ray Yancus says Rahway is now a steadily improved club.

For the first five minutes of the game against Hillside Tuesday, it appeared that Dayton was on the road to victory. The Bulldogs thanks to a strong effort by Frank Monticello, roared out in front, five to one. But Dayton didn't keep the lead very long. At the end of the first quarter it was Hillside on top, 12 to 11, and at the half Hillside widened the gap and was out in front 20 to 18.

In the first half Billy Kretzer was held to only three points, but it wasn't Billy's fault. His teammates couldn't get the ball to him. He only took three shots in the first half. Hillside's double-teaming tactics of 7:10 was the main reason Dayton's top scorer wasn't getting the ball.

But in the third quarter Dayton started running and started clicking. The Bulldogs outscored Hillside in the third period, 7 to 13 and in the last quarter Dayton outplayed Hillside, but the Bulldogs couldn't repair the damage that was done in the first half and bowed out to 45.

Frank Monticello was the high scorer of the game. He pumped in 22 points. Billy Kretzer was held to 13. The high man for Hillside was John Maddalena. He scored 21.

Though throttled offensively, Billy looked good off the boards, picking up 15 rebounds. Coach Ray Yancus blamed the loss against Hillside to sloppy ball handling and a lack of concerted aggressiveness.

"We blow hot and cold," Yancus says. Against Cranford last Friday night Dayton blew hot and cold. They led 37 to 35, but Cranford won out in front 38 to 19.

In the second half it appeared as if Dayton was about to absorb a real shock, for at one point Cranford was out in front 37 to 37. But when Cranford's subs came into the game, the Bulldogs got hot and scored twenty points to Cranford's 10.

Billy Kretzer was the high scorer with 21 points and his brother Mike scored 16. His high point game was 26.

George Kretzer bowled a 245 for the daily high. These who bowled 200 games were Arny Shippio, 313; Harry Stein, 208 and 202; Al Schreiber, 221 and 223; Ben Widman, 202; M. Manawitz, 201; Mord-Millman, 235; Sandy Kessler, 201; Bernie Davis, 202; Lee Strakins, 204; George Wilton, 245; Hal Davis, 202; Mel Zeller, 200; Al Klein, 222; Stan Bricker, 203; and 210; and Al Spindler, 224.

Springfield's Minute-Men All Stars, sporting a one-and-one record, plays a Somerville team Saturday, 10 a.m. at Gaudineer school's gym.

3-Way Tie For First In Ivy League Play

Last week marked the half way point in the Ivy League basketball schedule. At this point there's a three way tie for the top spot. All three of the leagues front runners won their respective games last week.

The first game last Saturday at the Regional High Gym pitted the high-scoring Dartmouth against Princeton.

Princeton took a first half lead of 22-17. Dartmouth, however, rallied in the final period to win the game, 38-32.

The Harvard-Cornell was a thriller. Cornell won in the final minutes, 32-31. Ted O'Connell was high point man for the winners, tossing in 14 points. It was a last period spurt by Cornell that won the game.

In the final game of the day Yale rallied to win the game, 32-28. Columbia's Ralph Laganano and Howard Spellman scored 10 and 9 points respectively.

With only 10 weeks of bowling remaining in the Girls Bowling League there is only a two-point margin between the top three teams.

The Pin Breakers, four winners and Lucky Stars. In last place are the Pros.

The Lucky Stars took all four games last week and moved to within a game of the top. The Stars turned back the Four Winners in two games and the Four Strikers in two games. Bonnie Raskin and Marlene Metrolone have been leading the Stars at 245.

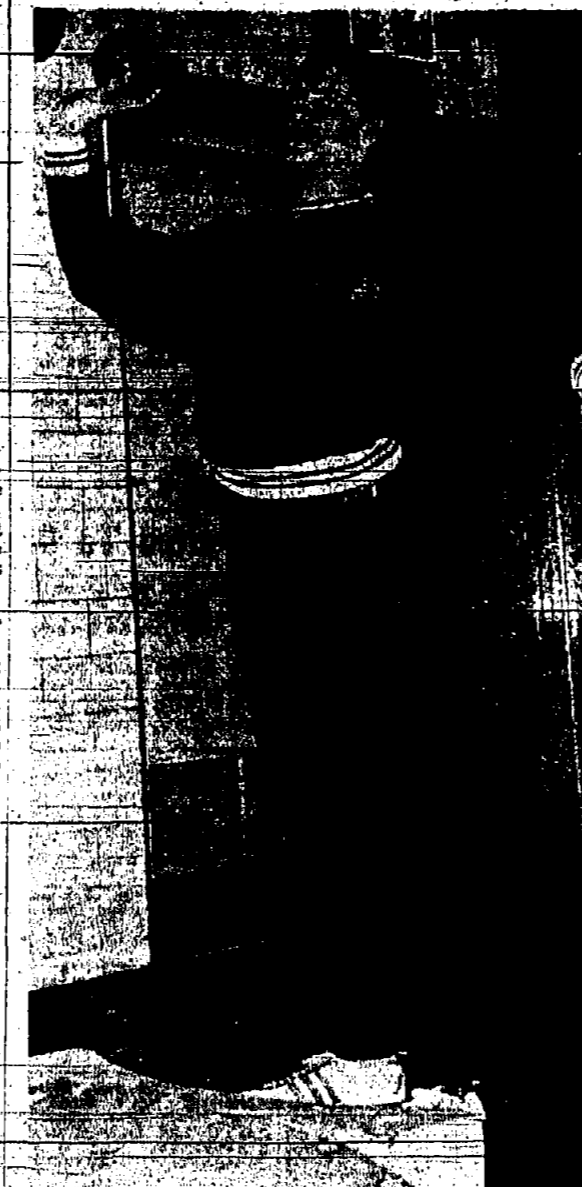

The Pin Breakers after dropping two games to the Wild Bowlers, defeated the Dros twice to move into first place tie. Packing the Pros in their victory over Diane Sinter, with a 228 series. Leading bowler for the Wild Bowlers was Karen Luber.

Diane Sinter has increased her average leading her team to 245. Alyse Cooper with 91 remains in the second spot. Marlene Metrolone is third with a 228 average.

In the Boys Bowling League, the Bowlers were upset by the Eagles in two games and the Raiders won two from the Raiders to create a deadlock for the league lead with records of 15-4.

Leading bowler for the Pros was Mark Hollander with a 291 series. The Raiders were paced by Bruce Gessman, who rolled a 300.

The league-leading Bombers were dumped twice last week by the Eagles. Leading them was Dave Epstein is top center in the league with 130 average. Bruce Gerstein is second with 124, and Robert Shindler is third with 118.

A RECORD BREAKER AT DAYTON — Last Saturday Charles Roll broke the NJSIAA indoor track and field championships shot putting record with a heave of 88 feet, 3 1/2 inches.

Dayton's Ace Ready For Championship

Big Charles Roll, Dayton's ace shot-putter, who smashed the NJSIAA indoor track and field shot putting record last Saturday, is getting in shape for the big meet of the season.

Track and field stars from New England, and the Middle Atlantic states will compete in the A.A.U. sponsored meet.

The boys who'll be on Dayton's 240 yard relay team are Dave Ronco, Pete Crede, Craig Reibold and Jim Mullen.

Mike Tabakin, Danny Ginter, Pete Crede and Dave Ronco will make up the 880 yard sprint relay squad. And as for the medley relay team, Pete Costancia will run the mile; Frank Phillips will run the half mile; Richie Moore will sprint the quarter mile and the 220 yard runner will be Dan Calabrese.

They begin this week as reference librarians, primarily in the area of genealogy. Mrs. Simmons will work Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Saturdays; and Miss Reiner, Thursdays and Fridays.

Mrs. Simmons is a member of the Springfield Historical Society and the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Miss Reiner is a member of the Springfield, Camden County and New Jersey Historical Societies.

Sabin Oral Vaccine Program Runs Up S-O-S Signal--Stopping Of Shots?

By RITA ZEISS

The S. O. S. signal, traditionally a sign of distress, will change next month to a sign of rescue when the Union County Medical Society opens 50 temporary clinics throughout Union County to immunize residents against poliomyelitis with Sabin oral vaccine.

The S. O. S. program, which stands for Sabin Oral Sunday, is scheduled March 1, April 12 and May 21. The clinics will be open each of the three Sundays from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Five of the 50 clinics will be set up in Union and two in Springfield. The location of each will be announced shortly.

Each station will be manned by a crew of volunteers, including two medical doctors, at least six nurses, a dentist and 25 clerks. Boy Scouts will act as messengers in the schools. Arrangements for the local health department will coordinate the logistics and manpower at each school.

Dr. Bernard Ehrenberg, Union County Medical Examiner and director of the program to immunize Union County's half-million residents against polio, urged the president of the county's 21 municipalities to take all three oral doses. All three must be taken as protection against three different polio strains, Dr. Ehrenberg said.

Dr. Ehrenberg said the fastest vaccine will be administered to infants by dropper. Older children and adults will be given a vaccine-saturated lump of sugar. Those who cannot take oral doses will be given a vaccine-injected lump of sugar. Those who cannot take oral doses will be given a vaccine-injected lump of sugar.

A large delegation of Union County residents is expected to take part in the Feb. 22 celebration of New Jersey's 300th birthday sponsored by the Falmouth Club of St. Benedict's Prep of Newark.

The state's Tercentenary will provide the theme for the club's fifth annual Variety Night, the major social activity for parents and friends of students at the school.

An hour-long stage show in the form of a history lesson depicting the past and present will be featured. Banquet will then be available to guests in such areas as "The Jersey Riviera" and "The Jersey Renaissance."

Proceeds will go toward a 10,000 Fathers Club goal for the school's redevelopment fund.

SCOUT LEADERS SET ANNUAL FETE

The annual dinner of the leaders of the Northern District of the Union County Boy Scouts of America will be held at the Hawaiian Cottage, Cherry Hill, on Sunday evening. It was announced.

Frank Gundaker, general chairman, said the dinner would follow a visit to Philadelphia in view of the annual "String Bands on Parade" at convention hall.

The vaccine is easy to administer -- no needles -- and provides rapid action -- in about a week. And it helps break the chain of transmission by stimulating resistance to future infection.

"The possibility of stopping out polio, as a threat to our children and their parents is closer than ever before. We have the tools. Now it's up to the community to use them."

Similar programs will run concurrently in Essex County and other adjacent counties in the metropolitan area.

The large scale Sabin program means for Springfield children getting the oral vaccine requirement that they be "immunized" against polio before entering school. A change in the local ruling, made last July 18, by the Springfield Board of Education, changed the wording to "immunizing" of polio vaccine, making the Sabin oral vaccine acceptable for entry.

Springfield School Superintendent Benjamin P. Neuwanger said this week that an additional phrase in the July 19 ruling, which requires a booster dose in one year, will most probably be eliminated by the local board in the near future.

Dr. Fred Stalhaber, Superintendent of Union Schools, says "it is likely" that the school doctors will recommend to the Board of Education a change in the present township ruling. The present ruling, established May 19, 1959, requires each child entering school to have "immunizations against poliomyelitis," a phrase which implies injections of the Salk vaccine. Upon recommendation of the school doctors, the Board of Education will in all probability change the phraseology of the ruling to allow acceptance of the Sabin vaccine as full immunization, Dr. Stalhaber indicated.

of Education is not likely before March 17, since the February meeting is limited by state law to reorganization. However, it is reasonably certain the 744 children expected to enter kindergarten classes in Union just September, like their 250 peers in Springfield, will be able to make an injection-less entry into the school ranks.

Courses Added At Adult School In Springfield

The Regional Adult School at Springfield announced this week the addition of several new courses to its Spring 1964 program.

Plain and Fancy Cooking: "to suit the tastes of the meat and potato eater and the gourmet." Creative Hobbies: "putting with a purpose on leather, jewelry, and semi-precious stones." "Tricks" say yes to tennis, anyone? Creative Expression: an informal approach to better speaking and writing. French I: Conversational French for the beginner; and ten Piano classes: beginning piano for the novice and popular piano for those who have had piano fundamentals.

Registration for these and other courses will be held at the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School on Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 18 and 19, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. All classes begin the following week.

Further information or a free brochure may be obtained by calling the Director, Harry Linkin, at 755-4216, it was announced.

Union Attendance High At Fairleigh

Twelve municipalities in Union County have more than 20 students each in attendance at Fairleigh Dickinson University, according to figures released by the university's Statistical Computer Laboratory.

Union County students attend Fairleigh Dickinson at all three campuses, and several municipalities have day and evening students at each one.

Largest representation are from Union Township with 148 students; Elizabeth, 85; Fairleigh, 62; Summit, 62; Linden, 51; Springfield, 30; New Providence, 37; Cranford, 33; Hillside, 32; Berkeley Heights, 28; Scotch Plains, 25; Roselle Park, 24; Roselle, 15; and Kenilworth, nine.
