32 Added Pupils In Town Schools Since September

Hire School Nurse On Salaried Basis, Walton Secretary

By GEORGE SHERIDAN
School Superintendent John O. Berwick announced Tuesday night that Springfield's public school enrollment has increased by 32 students since September.

Berwick told the Board of Education at its monthly meeting that the November enrollment figure for the township was 2,189, as opposed to 2,157 in September. The current enrollment is an increase of nine students over November, 1963.

Berwick said the jump in school enrollment since September is most surprising for the Caldwell School where an increase of 15 students was registered. The school is in an older section of the township where very few new homes are being constructed, the superintendent explained.

The superintendent recommended and the board approved the hiring of a school nurse on a salaried basis and a school secretary. Patricia Green was hired at $5,300 a year for the remainder of the school year, effective Feb. 1, 1965, as a nurse in township schools. Miss Green had served on a part-time basis while acquiring her master's degree at Seton Hall University.

Mrs. Lottie Arends was hired as a secretary in the Walton School at a salary of $3,000, effective Nov. 1. She replaces Mrs. Evelyn Blair, who died earlier this month. She had served as a secretary in the school part-time previously.

Also approved by the Board was the addition to the school system's substitute teacher list of Mrs. Elizabeth Willis and Mrs. Barbara Parks.

Modern Mathematics

Berwick reported that the modern mathematics workshop sponsored by the board for Springfield teachers "has been a very successful project" in view of a reaction by Mr. Sonny Dancy, a board member, he said there will be no difficulty in classes next year when some students have a modern mathematics background and others do not.

Action Requested On Fadam Parcel

A formal letter requesting the "designation for municipal purposes" of the Fadam Farm property at Mountain Ave. and Simpson St. was sent Tuesday to the Springfield Planning Board by the Springfield New Library Committee. A copy was also read to the Library Board.

The letter urged propping "for township needs one of the few remaining centrally located parcels available against the future needs of a fast growing community."

Seniors To Stage 'Pillow Talk' As Annual Dayton Presentation

A play, which critics have called "an hilarious, fun-filled comedy," will be presented tomorrow and Saturday evenings by the senior class at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield.

"Pillow Talk" which has been adapted from the screenplay, will be staged each evening at 8:15 as this year's senior class play.

Joseph Trinity, of the Dayton faculty, will direct.

Peggy Flynn, a newcomer to the stage, will play the lead role of Jan Morrow, a sophisticated interior decorator.

Howard Levine, who portrayed Albert Peterson in last year's presentation of "The Bye Bye Birdie," will star as Jonathan Forbes, a well-to-do playboy business-man, who has more than his share of wives and money.

The role of Brad Allen, a "Manhattan-type" girl-chasing songwriter, will be portrayed by Dan Eppinger. Dan is remembered for his portrayal of Harry McAffey in "Birdie."

Charles Bontempo will be featured as Mr. Pietri, the nervous and flustered assistant to Jan Morrow and the middle-man between her and Jonathan Forbes. Bontempo starred last year in the leading role of Conrad in the school's production of "Birdie."

Other members of the cast include Melanie Baucher, Susan Hendlin, Douglas Scott, Alison Kalem, Christine Mendel, Diane Rouse, Michele Pauline, Tina and Marilyn Marzell, Jay Weatherston, Frank Stevens, Diane Ebas and Gail Wilson.

RECOUNT LEAVES 14-VOTE MARGIN; BLOOM IS WINNER

The outcome of the Nov. 3 municipal elections remained unchanged following an official recount by the Union County Board of Elections, on Monday. Democrat Jay Bloom still replaces Republican Mayor Robert D. Hargrave on the Township Committee, even though his margin of victory was reduced from 15 votes to 14 by the recount.

Bloom gained one additional absentee vote for an over-all total of 3,925. Hargrave's total of 3,912. The recount did not affect the other local winners, Republican Committee members Arthur M. Falkin and Robert G. Flaner, who outpolled Democrats Douglas C. Mattler and Henry Garbarz, respectively.

Overlook Launches Expansion Campaign

Moving into action following Springfield, campaign meetings held last week for the $5,500,000 program for Overlook Hospital, a team of campaigners under special gifts co-chairmen—Howard Casselman and Joseph Bender, this week will begin their calling on many township residents to tell them about Overlook's expansion program.

"Overlook deserves our interest and support. The hospital has served Springfield residents for many years—and its ever-growing number of patients expect Overlook to grow to accommodate Springfield and other outlying towns, saving at the expense of our own hospitals, without giving our strong, individual support to the hospital's expansion," the co-chairmen said in a joint statement.

Artist Paints Tribute To President Kennedy

By BEA SMITH
The moment one enters the house at 445 Meisel ave. in Springfield, one is immediately struck by a busy creative stir of people, paintings, books and animals.

Colorful paintings adorn the walls of the living room; record albums and prize-winning awards and statues engraved to Helen Frank, professional artist, cover the top of the mantel over the fireplace. Bookshelves line the walls of a nearby room, the shelves laden with all kinds of literature.

Mrs. Sid Frank, a young housewife, greeted this visitor the other morning with buoyancy, her dark eyes dancing with bubbling enthusiasm and interest.

Seated in the busy living room, surrounded by portraits, paintings, some by Mrs. Frank, others by her favorite, the artist proceeded to talk about her Navy Hymn project.

THE PROJECT. Mrs. Frank explained, consists of a series of 18 of her paintings, illustrating 18 lines of the Navy Hymn, a favorite of the late John F. Kennedy, who was assassinated last Nov. 22. They are being exhibited through Saturday at Highgate Gallery, 42 Upper Montclair plaza, Upper Montclair. They are being presented as a memorial tribute to the late President.

"The interesting thing about these particular paintings," she said, "is that in combination with the words of the hymn, they tell the story of the late President Kennedy. She is exhibiting her work now through Saturday in a 'one-man' show at High Gate Gallery in Upper Montclair.

Variance Denied For Apartments; Elks' Bid Favored

The Board of Adjustment Tuesday night denied an application of Functional Homes for a zoning variance to build a 17-unit garden apartment at 92 Denham rd. The Board stated that there was not sufficient reason to justify the granting of a use variance.

The zoning body, in the same line, recommended approval of a variance for Springfield Elks Lodge 2004 to convert the building at 80 Springfield ave. for use as a clubhouse. The application now goes to the Town Planning Committee, which is empowered to grant final approval.

In other actions, the Board of Adjustment approved two structure variances: a side-line variance for Centaur Machine and Tool Manufacturing Co. at 45 Brown ave., and a rear yard variance for Marion Haultbold at 18 Country Club lane.

A number of neighbors appeared to protest against the Functional Homes application. No voices were raised against the bid by the Elks.

The Elks, who lost their former clubhouse at 357 Morris ave. near Salter st., to the state for Rt. 70 in June of 1963, were seeking their third bid for a new home.

They were represented by Harding Brown, an Elizabeth attorney; Saul Freeman, past exalted ruler and now chairman of the board of trustees, testified as to the use which the proposed clubhouse would receive. The building is now occupied by the Twigs, a tavern and restaurant. It is at Springfield and S. Maple aves., in an area zoned for light industry.

Freeman testified that the clubhouse would be open for members and their guests only from 4 to 9:30 p.m. on weekdays, or occasionally to 11. Weekend hours would be 1 to 11 p.m., or until 2 a.m. in the event of social functions perhaps once a month.

He noted that there are 180 Elks in town, with 25 or 30 attending the average meeting twice a month. Freeman also outlined the fraternal order's work to aid crippled children and support other civic projects.

Both Freeman and John Marti, secretary of the Macaroni Co., which owns the adjoining property, testified as to an agreement for joint use of an access driveway and parking facilities. Paul Roman, a Millburn realtor, stated that the lodge building would be the best possible use for the property, which will abut Rt. 70.

When the variance hearing for Functional Homes was announced, Board member Marvin Strauss, disqualified himself.

Owners Will Sell Davega Property At Public Auction

The former Davega store on Rt. 22 at Hillside ave. in Springfield, as well as the surrounding land, will be sold at public auction Dec. 2 at 2 p.m. The New York firm of Joseph P. Day, Inc., real estate auctioneers, will conduct the sale on the grounds.

Vacant since Davega went into bankruptcy nearly two years ago, the property is owned by Wainwright Realty Co., with Louis Slater as president. Wainwright is controlled by stockholders of Channel Lumber Co.

With a plot of some 4 1/2 acres and a building covering approximately 40,000 square feet, the parcel was described by Slater as suitable for retail purposes, for offices or for a combination office and showroom. The area is zoned for business.

The entire site, surrounding the building, is covered by a fully paved parking lot. Inquiries should be directed to the Joseph P. Day firm in New York.

The lesson-sermon concludes with these words from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To divest thought of false trusts and material evidences in order that the spiritual facts of being may appear,—this is the great attainment by means of which we shall sweep away the false and give place to the true. Thus we may establish in truth the temple, or body, whose builder and maker is God" (p. 428).

Plan For Exhibits In Museum Reviewed By Board Of Library

Plans for the opening which took place Monday of an Indian exhibit at the Springfield Public Library museum were completed at the board meeting last Thursday evening.

RABBI HERBERT TARR
Author To Speak On Best-Seller About Air Force

Temple Shalom of Springfield will present "An Evening With Rabbi Herbert Tarr," featuring a discussion by the author of the best-seller, "The Conversion of Chaplain Cohen," on Thursday evening, Dec. 3, at 8:30 at the temple.

Rabbi Tarr's topic will be "Why Chaplain Cohen Converted?" The book, on the best-seller list for many weeks, is soon to be released as a motion picture.

Born in Brooklyn, Rabbi Tarr is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Brooklyn College and holds a master's degree in English and comparative literature from Columbia University. He then entered the Hebrew Union College - Jewish Institute of Religion and, after being ordained a rabbi, entered the Air Force, became a chaplain and served a two-year tour of duty in the United States and Labrador.

Subsequently, Rabbi Tarr served as assistant rabbi at Temple Beth Zion in Buffalo, and rabbi at Westbury Temple of Long Island.

"The Conversion of Chaplain Cohen" relates the story of a very young Air Force chaplain suddenly faced with the confused, bewildered, homesick and love-sick problems of enlisted men and officers. The book depicts the chaplain's rude awakening to the fact that he is, in fact, a member of a minority group, yet must care with all the problems faced by chaplains of all faiths.

Rabbi Tarr is the first in the 1965 series of guest speakers to be presented by Temple Shalom. Advance tickets may be had by calling 376-5387.

working in anthropology and sociology, recently intrigued Springfield grammar school students with his extensive collection of Indian relics, dolls, costumes, tools, weapons and other archeological material. These will now be on exhibit in the library museum and will be on view until the first of January.

Don Palmer, the curator, has also prepared a timely Christmas exhibit of old-fashioned children's toys. These, too, will be on view through the holidays. These toys date back to the late 1800s and early 1900s and many are collector's items.

The toys include a rag doll with the face painted on muslin, her chair and an old quilt on which she sits. There are old jacks, still a popular toy today, a brass cowbell with a clothespin handle, a marble with a lamb inside, a castiron bank in the shape of a chicken coop, with a policeman coming around the corner, and many others.

These toys present an interesting contrast in their simplicity to the expensive mechanical toys of today and will give a feeling of nostalgia to many of the viewers.

Library Business
Robert Halsey presided at the meeting of the trustees, at which regular library business was conducted. It was noted that Mrs. Doris Ravitz of Springfield began working on a temporary basis on Oct. 12, to help with reference work. The book discussion group began meeting on Oct. 20.

The board expressed pleasure with Mrs. Helen Francis, the director, who keeps up with library developments by attending N.J.L.A. meetings, and Mrs. Julia Tuck and Mrs. Mary Mantel of the staff who each attended a meeting in October.

Viola Mathis' report on the library's future has been received by the board and is being reviewed, it was reported.

Mrs. Harry Elisberg read a letter, prepared by the New Library Committee to be sent to the municipal Planning Board and asked the Library Board's support of its position.

MRS. EDWARD J. SCHUBERT

Five years ago, Mrs. Edward J. Schubert of Springfield underwent a surgical operation for the removal of a cancer. It was arrested.

A few years later, while caring for her mother-in-law who was ailing from a cancer, Mrs. Schubert found herself running frantically to get various dressings—for the dying woman.

"I practically watched her die," Mrs. Schubert sighed during a recent interview. When she passed away, Mrs. Schubert decided that she was going to do everything possible to keep other beside help of cancer patients from having to run at random searching for cancer dressings.

"At that time," Mrs. Margaret Schubert recalled, "I approached the Springfield Women's Club (I already was a member) to see whether they were interested in a cancer dressing unit. The club does so much good for so many people, that I found the road to organizing the cancer dressing unit, a smooth one."

MRS. EDWARD J. SCHUBERT

"WE COMMUNICATED with the American Cancer Society, and a group of 10 or 15 of our members received instruction. We are now in our third year. We meet once a month at my home."

Mrs. Schubert, a soft-spoken woman, with kind eyes and a generous smile, is a past president of the Springfield Women's Club and also serves as public welfare chairman.

The cancer dressing work marks only a small part of her helping-hand activities. "The cancer dressing volunteers do quite a bit of hand sewing. I have, on hand, at my home, generous supplies of all sizes of dressings—all of which are available to anyone who might be in need of them."

"The dressings," she went on, "are made up of old sheets, pillowcases, pieces of salvaged material, cellulose. Various size dressings are made up according to the regulations set by the American Cancer Society."

"Originally, we were also using lots of men's white shirts. But upon investigation, we found that so little of the shirt can be used for dressings."

"UPON FURTHER INVESTIGATION, we discovered that Greystone Mental Hospital in Morristown seemed to be in dire need of men's bed jackets. So, each summer, as a special project, we would take shirts that we've collected up to the hospital and with a little work on our parts, turn them into bed jackets."

As public welfare chairman, Mrs. Schubert considers Greystone Hospital one of her very special projects.

"We've also taken discarded silk nylon stockings up to Greystone. The patients there have a TV fund, which they replenish from the funds derived from the sale of these nylon stockings. They buy all their TV necessities that way."

"We've suggested to those people contributing old nylon stockings to do as we do. We keep a plastic bag in our dressers, and when we get a sizable amount of stockings—say, a shopping bag full, we take them up to the hospital. We are always asking people to save their old nylons for us."

"Greystone," Mrs. Schubert explained "has about 5,000 mental patients. A lot of material is donated from our club and from others in town who have heard of our projects. We've collected glasses with the help of Eyes for the Needy group in Millburn. When we get a boxful, we take them up there. Incidentally," Mrs. Schubert reminded, "we are really trying to build up that department."

"We do a lot of work for Greystone. In addition to collecting nylons and old eyeglasses, we collect clothing, we've made candy favors (last Monday, we made 200), we've given parties for the children at the hospital, supplying food, cupcakes, ice cream and candy; toys and games, magazines, books, old jewelry—just about everything the patients up there can use."

"AND BELIEVE ME," she smiled, "they're very appreciative."

Mrs. Schubert's voice grew husky as she remarked, "I do want to stress the fact that the Springfield Women's Club has been behind most of the town's welfare work. The club has been very helpful in supporting welfare cases."

There are 135 members in the club, she indicated, and the club is subdivided into nine departments: library, music, drama, garden, American home, international relations, education, public welfare—and the latest department, cancer dressing.

Mrs. Schubert explained that one of the important projects of the Welfare Department is the group's visits to Lyons Mental Hospital. "It's a Veterans' Hospital," she explained, "and we've had about 25 or 30 members go up there to bring refreshments or conduct a card party for the men."

Right now, she indicated, "economically distressed families are receiving our attention."

Mrs. Schubert, who was born in New York, grew up in Elizabeth and was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania.

Report

From Trenton

by State Senator Nelson F. Stamler (R-N.J.)

There are a great number of lobby groups in Trenton—many of which represent varied industries, professions and governmental agencies. The one, however, which most closely represents John Q. Public in New Jersey—and he needs a lobbyist—is the New Jersey Taxpayers' Association—which has its offices at Trenton.

The Taxpayers' Group lobbies to save money in government, and if for no other reason, deserves the applause of every one of the six million residents of New Jersey.

One of the Association's big jobs is to analyze, compile and distribute information with reference to the costs of government. For instance, not long ago it announced that the cost of County Government in our State had reached the $4 billion mark. Most people who read it probably just glossed it over without recognizing the fact that most of County Government's costs come from the real estate taxpayer. In their most recent report, the Taxpayers' Association said that in New Jersey the assessed valuation of all taxable property is more than $24 billion, and that against that amount of money, there is a tax levy of $1.1 billion, $158 million, which means about $175 for every man, woman and even child in New Jersey.

Unfortunately, not all of our residents are property owners, and in this $175 figure that I have used, there is no consideration of that substantial part of that $1 billion, $158 million, which means about $175 for every man, woman and even child in New Jersey.

Unfortunatly, not all of our residents are property owners, and in this $175 figure that I have used, there is no consideration of that substantial part of that $1 billion, $158 million, which means about $175 for every man, woman and even child in New Jersey.

The residential property in New Jersey is assessed for tax at the rate of 1.5 per cent of the assessed value. The Musicale, Miss Wilson is a member of the National Honor Society and the French-Honor Society.

She was an alternate delegate to the N. J. Girls' State, Miss Wilson plans to attend Springfield College or Bucknell University, headed toward a teaching career, preferably at the kindergarten level. She has taught Sunday School for the past two years.

Her interests include singing or playing my guitar, affectionately called "George," and attending "stimulating" classes. Miss Wilson adds that people today are too concerned about looking happy all the time.

Wuertz Wuertz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wuertz of 12 Perry pl. He plans to study at Dartmouth College, but as yet has no set vocational goal in mind. Wuertz adds that he cannot single out any favorite subjects, "since it varies so much with different teachers."

His activities at the high level, National Forensic League, Jonathan's Journal, the Radio school have included the chess Club and the Kiwanis Key Club.

Letters To The Editor

VALCO DECISION

I write this letter as much in sorrow as in anger. I am not a resident of Springfield, but I do count among my close friends a great number of Springfield residents. I am the law partner of Stanley Gruen, attorney for your Board of Adjustment and I am also the Democratic municipal chairman of the neighboring town of Westfield. With this introduction, I can now get to the purpose of this letter.

I have, naturally, followed the Valco decision and its treatment by certain segments of the population in Springfield. I can only say that I am appalled, as a human being, by what I have heard and read. I know the persons involved in these so-called "conflicts." Particularly, I am closely associated with Stanley Gruen, my partner. There is no more dedicated, honorable, moral person in your entire town.

I have represented Donald Rotwein, for years, and my opinion of him is the same. I do not know Messrs. Falkin and Cawley as well as the others, but I have had occasion to deal with them on both the political and legal levels and in my opinion they are honorable public servants.

You may well say, "at your option." "Well, that's your option." However, it goes far beyond that. The opinion I have expressed is that of the community at large. I have carefully read Judge Berger's opinion (which I disagree with as a lawyer) and nowhere in it does he state that these people are consciously committed any wrong.

In the very hazy, technical field of conflicts—the judge felt that some errors of judgment may have been made. Whether this is correct or not may well be decided by a higher court.

However, the key issue in this matter is the deliberate character assassination that seems to have been undertaken by I am sorry to say, the Democratic party leaders of Springfield. I am no novice at politics, having been Democratic chairman in Westfield for five years. Many a situation arises where a "judicious" slanting of the facts could well "assassinate" a political foe. The measure of the responsibility of a political party is the way in which it uses such situations.

Your Democratic leadership has, in my opinion, forgotten that they are human beings first and politicians last. I had hoped that character assassination by innuendo had gone out with the McCarthy era—evidently not in Springfield.

"Democratic" leaders of the "New Democratic" leadership's callous disregard of all the rules of fair play. As a fellow Democrat, I feel that I have the right and obligation on a question of party responsibility, to call a "spade" a "spade."

ALAN GOLDSTEIN Democratic Municipal Chairman, 23 Tanagers Way Westfield

Red Cross

Mrs. Robert G. Laurencelle, Red Cross Chapter chairman, will preside at the Nov. 30 meeting. All organizations in town have been urged to send delegates to the meeting.

"Let's Not Desert It" In his statement, Mr. Evans declared, "The American Red Cross has always dedicated itself to helping people in need. Let's support it, not desert it, now in the time of its need."

Father Coyle stressed, "I cannot think of a more worthy cause than the local chapter of the American Red Cross. In my own brief stay in Springfield, I have been literally amazed at the instantaneous response of our local chapter in two critical instances."

"Even if we were to ignore the many other services offered by the Springfield group, its existence would be warranted by the presence of the blood bank alone and the great consolation it provides. The Springfield Chapter of the Red Cross has my heartiest endorsement." Rabbi Levine stated, "none of us would hesitate to help a neighbor in distress, whether he be the victim of a natural or man-made disaster. Yet, when we neglect supporting the American Red Cross, we are neglecting a neighbor."

"Through the Red Cross, we have the opportunity of being a neighbor to countless people whom we do not know personally—but whom we would help if they lived next door."

"This is all the more true when our support is directed to our local chapter, which is helping the very people next door."

Mrs. Beno, who has been president of the Springfield Council of PTAs and chairman of the blood bank, declared, "I think that until you pick up the phone and hear a frantic patient who must have blood immediately, you have no idea how gratifying it is to be able to release the blood that is needed, immediately, through the resources of the local Red Cross Chapter."

Freeman stated, "The fine work done by the Red Cross in this town over the past many years, should not be allowed to vanish, nor should an organization of this caliber be allowed to go out of existence for lack of support."

"It is imperative that all of us in Springfield get behind this organization and support all its vital functions."

New Library

The present library facilities are inadequate in size to accommodate present and certainly future needs.

"Beautiful" public buildings are at a minimum in Springfield.

"An expanded and central library located in its present building has been recommended by several official library studies."

Petition Circulated "A petition circulated for only two weeks has been presented to township officials with over 1,000 names supporting such immediate action."

"Emphasis on peripheral parks or buildings on the outskirts of the town proper leaves no aesthetic sites within the town itself."

The letter concluded with a request for a meeting with the Planning Board to discuss the matter further. It was signed by Mrs. Bernard Schwartz, chairman of the New Library Committee.

Donald Rotwein, chairman of the Planning Board, filed the letter Monday that he had not received the letter. He added that it would have to be referred to the Township Committee. In any case, for action on the request.

Rotwein also commented that the Planning Board has completed work on its new master plan for Springfield.

A date for successful completion of the plan to the people will be announced shortly, he disclosed.

After a copy of the letter by the New Library Committee was read to the Springfield Library Board at its meeting last Thursday, board members stated that they could make no comment until a current study on the library's future is completed, which should be in the near future.

Plans Made For Next Session Of National Forensic League

Plans for a student congress of the National Forensic League, to be held Dec. 9, were scheduled to be discussed by students from a number of high schools throughout the area at a student congress yesterday at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield. David L. Carl is advisor in forensics.

Participants yesterday represented the host school, as well as Gov. Livingston Regional of Berkeley Heights, Arthur Johnson Regional of Clark, St. Benedict's of Newark, St. Dominic's of Jersey City, Morrisristown High, Seton Hall Prep of South Orange, Morris Hills Regional of Rockaway and West Orange High.

Purpose of the congress is to give interested students practice in developing their skill at public speaking on the local, state and national level. Competition is held by the Forensic League in oratorical interpretation, humorous interpretation, original oratory, poetry reading and debating.

The Dayton chapter currently ranks third in state congress competition. The students take part in discussions modeled after those in the federal legislature in Washington.

Topics debated yesterday: "That the U-S. discontinue all trade with nations now trading with Cuba until such time as the commerce between these nations and Cuba be ended."

"That in bicameral state legislatures, one house of congress may be apportioned by county rather than by population."

"That the U. S. Constitution be amended to set the popular vote as the sole means of electing the President."

The following Springfield students are members of the local National Forensic League chapters:

Bruc Boris, Robert Budish, Linda Fingerhut, John Gershon, Gerry Jaffe, Eric Krueger, Susan Maas and Myron Melsel are freshmen who have been actively engaged in preparing for membership.

CPA, Strauss said that he had "business connections with a party of interest" in the matter. He left the building for the duration of this hearing.

A Millburn attorney, Samuel A. Bloom, represented the applicant for the garden apartment permit.

Richard Potter, an architect from Union, testified that there would be 17 units: 12 one-bedroom apartments, four two-bedroom and a superintendent's apartment.

Also planned are a laundry room, heating and storage space and a parking lot for 27 cars. The project will cover some 17 percent of the property of nearly an acre, with an 18-unit-per-acre land use.

Access would be from Denham rd., at No. 82, with a circular drive around the apartments.

Other neighboring properties are Short Hills Village, with over 100 garden apartments on a 10-acre tract in Denham Field, a municipal playground, and private one-family homes on Denham rd. Potter said that the apartments would face the rear of the houses, which are on lots 300 feet deep.

School Board

Members of the Board, read a letter from Springfield Red Cross stating that it has a problem of survival. The Red Cross will hold a public meeting in the Walton School Nov. 30 at 8 p.m. to determine if the township wants and will support the chapter.

The chapter requested that a delegation of the school board attend, but August Caprio, Board president, pointed out that the date conflicts with that of a dinner for the Union County school board.

The Federal Government notified the Board that it is decreasing the amount of subsidy on Type A lunches from six to four cents. A letter read by Mrs. Ruban explained that there are insufficient funds to continue the six-cent subsidy with the growing number of lunches being served.

Robert Southward, another Board member, proposed that the Board investigate the possibility of making smallpox serum available to school children at no cost. The fear of smallpox epidemic coming into the area has been made greater with recent increased activity at Port Newark, he said.

Township Committeeman Robert Planer appeared at the meeting to seek a conference between the Board and Township Committee to discuss any proposals for capital improvement projects in 1965. Under a recent state requirement, the Committee must submit a tentative capital budget to the state.

Scout Campaigners Pushing Collections

Township Committeeman Arthur M. Falkin, co-chairman of the Springfield Boy Scout Fund Drive announced this week that the majority of the fund raising material has been delivered to the residential captains. The major task remaining is to make the rounds to collect the funds, he said.

"The tremendous influence that participation in scouting has on the boys of our town," Falkin said, "is indeed one of the reasons for the greatness of our country. The instilling of decency and good behavior, the willingness to do things for others, and the teaching of love for one's country has made the Boy Scouts of America the great organization that it is today."

"The youth of our country is the future of our country," Falkin declared, "and we cannot let them down. This appeal for financial help goes out to all of us who have the interests of our young boys at heart."

He asked that all contributions be turned in to co-chairman James M. Cawley at 420 Mountain ave. Men who would like to help the scouts in the fund drive were asked to contact Cawley at DR. 6-4189.

CPA, Strauss said that he had "business connections with a party of interest" in the matter. He left the building for the duration of this hearing.

A Millburn attorney, Samuel A. Bloom, represented the applicant for the garden apartment permit.

Richard Potter, an architect from Union, testified that there would be 17 units: 12 one-bedroom apartments, four with two bedrooms and a superintendent's apartment.

Also planned are a laundry room, heating and storage space and a parking lot for 27 cars. The project will cover some 17 percent of the property of nearly an acre, with an 18-foot-wide access lane. Access would be from Denham rd. at No. 92, with a circular drive around the apartments.

Other neighboring properties are Short Hills Village, with over 100 garden apartments on Forest dr. Denham Field, a multiplex playground, and private one-family homes on Denham rd. Potter said that the apartments would face the rear of the houses, which are on lots 300 feet deep.

Elmer G. Houston, a Summit realtor, declared that the property is "practically an island, almost cut off from the street" and not suitable for more than two or perhaps three private homes, at best. He termed the apartments a "good buffer" between the water works and the present homes.

Samuel Sheraton, head of Functional Homes, testified that he had owned the land, fully or in part, for some 25 years. He said the project would cost $150,000.

Sheraton noted that part of the apartment driveway would coincide with an easement granted to Commonwealth Water "for use only in emergencies."

The first neighbor to speak against the proposal was Eugene F. Becker of 84 Denham rd., "the next to last house front the playground." "The economics of this situation," he stressed "are the problem of the owner, not a concern of the township board." Becker added that he had lived there for 22 years, and the area had always been zoned for one-family homes.

He also declared that the access road to the waterworks was used "very actively," and that he opposed any added traffic on Denham rd.

"No matter how pretty an apartment building is," Becker stated, "it will not look anything like the present neighborhood. People in an area of one family homes have a right to keep the character of the neighborhood. There is no hardship involved here for the applicant."

Mrs. Margaret M. Chapman of 91 Denham rd., identifying herself as the mother of four children commented that people in small apartments would be unlikely to have many youngsters. She added that these people might be unhappy with all the noises from the playground.

Charles Cusumano of 87 Denham rd., also a resident for 22 years, declared, "we started with very high class, selected people, and we kept it the same way. The present Short Hills Village apartments are very high class. What kind of people are going to reside in the new place, with such very undesirable surroundings?"

John Bartholomew, a representative of the Commonwealth Water Co., asked how the apartment tenants "would like the view of our playground?"

"We perform a vital service to the community," he added. "We should run more trucks through the area, not less. Our work is sometimes very noisy. We want to remain where we are. If we are too confined, we will not be able to operate as we should."

Richard V. Whalen of 83 Denham rd. said that added traffic on the street, which has no sidewalks, would endanger children going to the playground, particularly in the spring, when it is used for Little League games.

Henry S. Wright of 53 Colfax rd. asserted that the neighborhood was unanimous in its opposition. He urged that the water company buy the land or that the township purchase it to add to the playground.

Philip Becker, Pioneer Pumber Celebrates His 95th Birthday

Irvington's first plumber, Philip Becker, celebrated his 95th birthday last Wednesday, at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Richard Bunnell, in Springfield. Thirty-five friends and relatives attended. Mr. Becker has a total of four children, eight grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

The veteran Irvington resident was himself one of 11 children and is the only one now living. Sharing the nonagenarian spotlight at the party was John Bunnell of Springfield, father of Becker's son-in-law, Mr. Bunnell, 93 years old, is one of Becker's former hunting companions.

Also attending were his son, Hugo Becker of Irvington; and another daughter, Mrs. Margaret Selander of Springfield, wife of Springfield Police Chief, Wilbur Selander.

A third daughter, Mrs. Isabelle Huff, formerly of Springfield, is now working with the Peace Corps in Malaysia.

A friend, Mrs. Viljo Corvasce of Irvington, who could not attend, sent a decorated birthday cake as she has for the past 31 years.

Commentary on a recent National Editorial Association Round the World Newspaper Study Mission

THE SNOWS OF KABUL
It's not every day that one can get snowbound in Kabul at the gates of the Hindu Kush. But where is Kabul? What is Hindu Kush? It all sounds like someone is swearing in a foreign language. Well, Kabul is the capital city of Afghanistan in the middle of Asia — and that besides everything else, isn't exactly handy. Members of the 1964 National Editorial Association Study Mission, however, were lucky enough to get there and see both.

We arrived in Kabul in a blinding snow storm, and at that point, could see nothing. The swirling snow hid houses, buildings, cars, people, everything. We felt as though we were on the wind-swept flats of a high plain. So, when someone said, "You'll never get a flight out in this snow... no pilot will fly out of Kabul unless he can see all around," we really didn't comprehend all the implications of the statement. As far as we could see, there was nothing to stop us. After all, like it or not, more than one plane has flown in fog or snow. "No plane will take off from Kabul Airport unless there is visibility in every direction," the American Ambassador, John Steeves, repeated the next day, "and you'll see why when the snow stops!"

Well, we really said couldn't see why—for planes have flown in bad weather, as mentioned, and we sat in Ambassador Steeves's house in a room full of windows and could see nothing but grey, snowy, empty sky. But as we sat having coffee and donuts, it began to clear, and before we left the sun came out and there in the Ambassador's garden — was a young mountain.

An hour earlier we hadn't even been able to see its outline. And there was more. When we got outdoors and could see all around in the clear weather, we could understand why no planes take off from Kabul unless they can see — in every direction.

In every direction there are mountains. It is like a replica of a gigantic football stadium. The city is the ball field and the mountains are the bleachers. Planes don't take off from Kabul Airport in a straight line as they might any place else. They spiral out.

And all this for one reason: the Hindu Kush.

HINDUS KUSH is a fascinating sounding name. But it is not a fascinating thing to the Afghans. It is an awesome chain of mountains that runs 500 miles long through central Asia which historians of Alexander The Great called the Caucasus. More than 370 miles of it, with some peaks up to 25,000 feet and some parts impenetrable, runs right through the heart of Afghanistan. It goes from north to south, almost dividing the country in half, providing a great impediment for communication and commercial relations between north and south. Kabul, the gem of the country, sits in the eastern section of this formidable range, 6,200 feet high in its own right, and looks up to the jagged peaks of the Hindu Kush.

SO KABUL is quite a city, snow or no snow. It is also about 2,500 years old which alone would give it character. The ages straddle Kabul easily. The old section, known locally as "The City" is composed of the old "Citadel," narrow bazaars, narrow alleys, mud houses and hardly any plumbing. Its people eat nan (a brown water-like bread) and pilau (a rice dish) and the best raisins and pino nuts in the world. The Kabul Hotel, in the new section, on the other hand, has modern buildings all around it, central heating within it, private baths with almost every room, and serves mashed potatoes, steak, apple pie and beer in its stylish dining room. (Nan and pilau only on request.)

The people of the city go back and forth, between the two, with the greatest of ease. It is nothing to stand in the entrance of the six-year old Kabul Hotel and watch a 20th century bus wait as a few camels, driven by a nomad in native garb, go by. Right behind him may be a business man in a fashionable western-style suit, and close behind him — a woman in a chadri.

THE CHADRI or chadri is so typical of Afghanistan that one can hardly think of one

Machines Aid In Studying Particles

Physicist Has No Complaint Against Automation

Automation might be a bogeyman to many Americans, but it's a boon to Dr. Richard J. Plano, a physicist who heads a Rutgers University research team studying elementary particles.

Dr. Plano and his associates, who must record, analyze and file information obtained from studies of 150,000 photographs, say that machines have saved them thousands of man-years work.

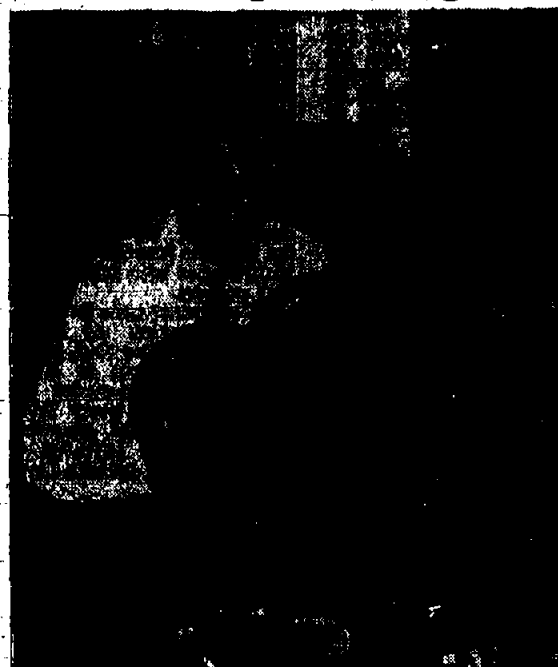

The research team will be twice-blessed in February, when a new high-speed computer is in place and operating in its laboratories at the Rutgers Science Center. One of a series of intricate machines used in the project, the new computer is expected to double the amount of physics being done, according to Dr. Plano.

The aim of the Rutgers scientists in this project is to learn more about the basic properties of elementary particles, the building blocks of all matter. And their "aim" must be true, for elementary particles are smaller than the atom, and they come in about 100 different forms—protons, neutrons, electrons and photons among them. They also travel at incredible speeds, some flashing before the camera lens at almost the speed of light.

Dr. Plano, a graduate of the University of Chicago, where he also received master's and doctor's degrees, launched this research project under a National Science Foundation grant shortly after his arrival at the University in 1960.

His equipment, located in the new physics building being dedicated today in Piscataway Township, is impressive in its complexity and incredible speed. It includes large-scale scanning devices, electronic messengers, machines which punch information on thousands of cards ready for instant reference, and the Digital Equipment Corporation computer, soon to be replaced by a newer model.

The whole process begins on Long Island. There, at the Brookhaven National Laboratory is the largest accelerator of its type in the world.

PHYSICIST'S FILM FESTIVAL — Dr. Richard J. Plano, Rutgers University physicist, changes film on a measurement machine in his laboratory at the university. The machine is one of several complex instruments used by Dr. Plano and his research associates in a study of the nature of elementary particles. In this phase of the study, still photos of the particles in a bubble chamber are flashed on a large viewing screen, and measurements of the particle paths are made to help determine properties.

More than a half mile in circumference, this accelerator, called the AGS, drives protons to a speed which is almost 999 times the speed of light and then shoots them into a bubble chamber.

Dr. Plano explains: "A bubble chamber is essentially a container filled with a liquid which is suddenly heated well above its boiling point. In a clean, smooth-walled vessel a very ing, fading lines, detailed information about the nature of particles is obtained. The information is punched on cards and filed.

Dr. Plano estimates that the work his group has accomplished in four years would have taken a staff of comparable size 10,000 years to complete without the computing equipment, which is why he looks upon automation as an essential helper.

Town Noted For 'Refined Society, Handsome Estates'

Graphic proof that the art of salesmanship is one long known in the township came to light recently, in the form of a brochure and map designed to promote a land auction in Springfield in 1873. The material was discovered by Henry C. McMullen, former magistrate and an expert on township history. He found it among the effects of Mrs. Watson B. Morris, who died Oct. 16. With her husband, the late Dr. Morris, who died some five years ago, she resided for more than 50 years in the big white house at 193 Morris ave., adjoining the Gen. Greene Shopping Center.

Constable Appeals Motor Vehicle Fine

2-30—CONSTABLE APPEALS. A Middlesex County Constable who tried to repossess a car in Springfield was fined $105 for leaving the scene of an accident and $15 for careless driving Monday night in Springfield Municipal Court. Cornelius Grondin, Jr., of Woodbridge announced through his attorney that he would enter an appeal. The attorney is Karl R. Meyer, 100 South River, Township Attorney Joseph S. Seidel prosecuted the case. Grondin was found guilty of the charges Nov. 2, but sentencing was postponed for further study by the court. The complainant in the case was Mrs. Ossie Wright of 59 Diven st., Springfield, who also originally filed identical complaints against Grondin's partner in business, Robert Hoffcraft. They run the Mid-State Auto Recovery Bureau in Woodbridge. The court dismissed the boundaries translated into the names of modern streets, extended from Morris ave. for three blocks along Meisel ave., and into what would be approximately the center of Garden oval. THE SPRINGFIELD of 1873 was described as having "a population of some 3,000, with churches, stores and refined society." The handbill added that local property "has been owned by people of means who have been content to live quietly on their handsome estates, without attempting to convert every available acre into villa plots and building lots." It went on to assert, poetically, "The beauty of this quiet old town, however, with its quaint buildings, wide sleepy streets, shaded by noble old elms, its verdant surrounding meadows, and willow-banked stream have in themselves, been the means, each year, of attracting many newcomers, until every house for miles around has been occupied and the town proper seriously straightened for lots upon which to build new houses. "It has been decided then to lay out a new addition to this historic old town, and the valuable property of Capt. McJilton has been selected for that purpose. "It comprises some 50 acres situated fronting the main street, the old post road, leading from Elizabeth to Morristown; it is surrounded by improvements on every side, and the post office, churches and stores are immediately adjoining; broad avenues have been graded. "IN EVERY RESPECT the property is in a condition for immediate occupancy, and in the words of one of the largest real estate owners in the United States, "It is the finest estate between New York and Texas. "The locality itself is one of unusual attraction, and from any portion of the lots to be sold, a landscape of peculiar beauty lies revealed—embracing rich meadows, through which, with many a turn, brooks of the purest spring water flow peacefully between their shaded banks floor of hopes and forest-crowned hillsides, and the Springfield, Summit and Orange mountains form a beautiful frame for this very beautiful picture. "The immediate vicinity of this property is destined to be a great railroad center. Already the Morris and Essex Railroad has two stations within seven-eighths of a mile: the New Jersey West Line, now building, will have a station within three-quarters of a mile; the new National Line, between New York and Philadelphia, passes just to the rear of the property, and two other roads, the Chicago and New York Air Line and the Caldwell and New Brunswick Railroad, will undoubtedly pass through this town. "THE NEIGHBORHOOD is to be further improved by the completion of the Grand Boulevard, Springfield ave., 100 feet wide, leading from Newark to Millburn. It is now being laid with Telford pavement, and horse cars are to run over it within a few months. "Thursday, the 12th of June, has been declared as the deadline for this newest of the town of Springfield, at which time a portion of the valuable property is to be offered at auction—absolutely sold to the highest bidder. "As it is the first sale ever held in this vicinity, it will be an unusual opportunity for buying choice lots from the original owners, thus paying no speculator's profit, and in a locality offering every convenience and beauty, and every assurance for an increase in values."

THERE'S ALWAYS AN AD MAN — The art of advertising was evidently well developed nearly a century ago, as illustrated by this cover page of a brochure promoting a land sale in the "historic old town of Springfield" in 1873. The brochure and an 1873 land map were recently discovered by Henry C. McMullen, local attorney and former township magistrate.

Bandit With Patch Over Eye Strikes Twice On Rt. 22
Springfield police are searching for a bandit who at one time wears a patch over his left eye and, another time, over the right eye. They doubt if he is blind in either eye. The search stems from two hold-ups in the past week at the Atlantic Point Co. last Thursday and the nearby American Host Motor Lodge, early Sunday morning. Both place are on Rt. 22. Joseph Staro, a part-time employee of the paint firm, reported that a man with a black patch over his left eye held him up Friday night and escaped with $94. He handed Staro a note announcing it was a holdup. A night manager for the motel, Kenyard Ben-Ari of Mountain-side, said a man with a black patch over his right eye waited around the lobby at about 4:30 a.m. Sunday, claiming he was to meet his brother there. The clerk finally suggested to him that he write a note for the brother and leave it at the desk. The man did, but wrote at the bottom "This is a stickup. My brother is outside with a gun." The clerk said that the man revealed a gun in his waistband, but that he did not draw it. After being handed about $123 from the cash drawer, the man told the clerk to go down the corridor and wait five minutes. He claimed that his brother would be waiting for him. Ben-Ari told police he waited for about a minute. He then tried to see headlights of a possibly departing car, but he didn't. He called police.

DO YOU TAKE VITAMINS AND STILL FEEL TIRED?
If you take vitamins and still feel tired, your trouble may be due to iron-poor blood. Vitamins alone can't build up iron-poor blood. But GEARROL can! Because just two GEARROL tablets, or two tablespoons of Liquid GEARROL, contain 7 vitamins plus twice the iron in 1-lb. of calves' liver. In only one day GEARROL-iron is in your bloodstream beginning to carry strength and energy to every part of your body. Check with your doctor and if you've been feeling tired because of iron-poor blood, take GEARROL, liquid or tablets, every day. You'll feel stronger fast in just 7 days or money back from GEARROL. *Due to iron deficiency.

PUBLIC SALE SET TO CLEAR ROUTE OF NEW HIGHWAY
The New Jersey State Highway Department has scheduled a public sale Thursday Nov. 19, of two vacant buildings in Springfield Township, Union County. The buildings, private dwellings, now stand on land purchased by the Department for the future construction of Interstate Route 78 and must be moved from their present locations. The buildings are located at 102 Main st. and 120 Short Hills ave. A highway auctioneer will be on the Main st. property at 11:30 a.m. and the Short Hills ave. property at 2 p.m. to receive bids from anyone interested in buying the buildings and moving them from their present locations. ## Artists film strip, they are shown in a film strip. It was made by Hallon, Inc., audio-visual firm in Springfield, headed by my husband, Sid Frank, and Gayford Weiker."

The film strip, she indicated, synchronizes the paintings, which are designed to add a dramatization of visual dimension, to group singing of the hymn. "It's similar to the old song slides with the bouncing ball."

THE NAVY HYMN film strip, which has won the Chris Award for a fine arts presentation at the Columbus Film Festival, has already been shown at the National PTA Convention, the Boy Scout Jamboree and the Mystic Seaport Museum in Connecticut, and is currently being offered by Hallon to schools, churches and service organizations.

"Sid's company also supplied the film strip for a map which I made called, Talking Map."

As the Springfield artist escorted her visitor to the cellar of the house for a view of her studio, a bulky four-year-old English bulldog named Diane waddled over to greet and acknowledge. All 60 pounds of her thumped down next to the fireplace, as she grunted contentedly.

Entering the kitchen, which led to the cellar, we encountered an enormous eight-week-old English bulldog puppy, named Boom-Boom, who stumbled over playfully on short, thick legs.

WATER COLORS and black chalk sketches filled every corner of the room. Paints and brushes stood neatly in jars, next to boxes of chalk, various-colored paints and crayons. A high stool and a much-used easel were situated near one window, and as a reporter gazed around, it became evident that a hidden pair of eyes followed the movements.

Suddenly a very large black Persian cat appeared to emerge from nowhere. He stalked by pausing to stare with curiosity and defiance.

"That's Elliott Ness," Mrs. Frank laughed. "And he and the dogs get along very well together. They're one big happy family. And they just love the children (Roger, 5, and Holly, 3)."

Mrs. Frank, who grew up in Maplewood, moved to Springfield nine years ago. "It doesn't seem that long," she said, "but then we've lived here anonymously."

"A LITTLE WHILE ago, I donated a large oil painting to hang in the pediatrics ward at Overlook Hospital in memory of Dr. Freda Dubin. When the authorities asked me where I was from, I said Springfield. They thought I was new here, and were nearly bowled over when I said I've been living here for nearly 10 years."

Mrs. Frank, who began drawing as a pastime when she was a little girl, "stayed with it" right up into adulthood.

She studied at the Tyler School of Fine Arts of Temple University, Yale University, Cooper Union, the Art Students League, New School of Social Research and the Newark School of Fine and Industrial Arts.

She has won the Fine Arts Award (filmstrip) at the 12th annual Columbus Film Festival, the Highgate Gallery Award at an annual state exhibition in the Montclair Museum, the Brumbaugh Purchase Prize at the New Jersey Watercolor Society annual exhibition and a four-year college scholarship from National Scholastic Magazine.

Mrs. Frank has traveled widely with the American Watercolor Society, exhibiting her paintings in New York City, Terra Haute, Ind., Birmingham, Ala., Tulsa, Okla., Pittsburgh and, locally, at the American Art at Mid-Century Exhibition in Orange. Living with Art, Bamberger's-Newark, Summit Art Association, Art for Overlook, Overlook Hospital, Altman's Summit, Art Gallery of Maplewood and South Orange, Theater Shack in North Arlington, Westfield Hadassah annual exhibition, Newark State College, New Jersey Watercolor Society's annual exhibition and American Family in Art at Fairleigh Dickinson University.

SHE HAS ALSO had one-man shows at Juster Gallery, New York, Hull Art Gallery, Petite Gallery, Englewood and, currently, at Highgate.

In addition to paintings on canvas, Mrs. Frank has made creative contributions by designing record covers for the American Heritage Forum and Savoy, and she served as set designer for a professional children's theater. She also gives instruction in portraiture and watercolor at the Summit YWCA and in private.

Right now, she says, "We are interested in the educational aspects of audio-visual projects. My husband says that we will ultimately cover a vast area. At the moment, we're expanding quite rapidly. How does Mrs. Frank find time to do all these things, be creative and still manage a household (husband, children, dogs and cat)?

"My life is so well organized," she said, "that there is time for everything. Actually, there are so many important things to do. Anyway, it beats making cakes for the PTA."

Dear Amy:
 This is no big problem, but we would like another opinion on this. My boyfriend is 21 and I am 20. We have been dating for about 6 months now, and I am wondering if it is considered proper for us to be alone in his or my home for a few hours—or an afternoon?
 My parents don't think we should be, and I never thought it particularly right when no one is at home. My boyfriend doesn't seem to agree. Could you please give us your idea on this subject.
 D.H.

Dear D.H.:
 I am usually considered a Liberal, but on your question, I am a Conservative! It's not important what your boyfriend thinks. Your parents' veto gets my vote!
 Dear Amy:
 I'm 20 years old and have been married nearly 10 years. My husband is good to me and I told him I wanted to get a job to help him out financially. He told me that if I did, he would take our 7 year old son and leave me. I would love to take a part-time job. Every little bit helps. Please tell me what to do?
 E.R.

Dear E.R.:
 What you should do is very clear. Your husband wants your only job to be taking care of him, your son and your home. Give him a big kiss... and do your job well!

Dear Amy:
 My family constantly complains that my husband is too

DIABETES DETECTION
 Michael S. Newjohn, M.D. Diabetes is a sneak-quiet among diseases. It does not attack its victims openly but steals upon them imperceptibly, working havoc to their health before they are aware. There are almost 2,000,000 known diabetics in the United States, and it is estimated that there is almost an equal number of unknown—undetected—diabetics. To discover and protect these unknown diabetics is the purpose of Diabetes Detection Week. During this period people are asked—by means of a visit to their family physicians, or by submitting to the screening test for diabetes made available through local health agencies—to make sure that they are not unsuspecting victims of this serious disease. Signs to watch for are excessive thirst, frequent urination, abnormal hunger, easy tiring, loss of weight, lack of energy, marked itching, slow healing, and vague pains in the extremities. Diabetes can be controlled by modern scientific means, but it must first be discovered... and the sooner the better. So check in for your check up now.

Cashmere, Noted For Softness, Cost, Although A Luxury, Varies In Quality

One of the sale items being featured these days is cashmere sweaters or coats.

Cashmere is considered an item of luxury, because the finest is noted for its softness and its cost, said the Union County home economist.

Cashmere, however, can vary in quality. One-cashmere sweater or coat, said the Union County home economist, may cost ten dollars, while another is priced two or three times as much. Or, a cashmere coat may be advertised for one third the price of another coat.

Either item may be made of, and marked as "pure cashmere."

However, the difference is that the less expensive cashmere usually contains some of the coarse outer hairs from the cashmere goat.

Top quality cashmere is made entirely of the downy-soft fleece of the goat. Since a cashmere goat yields only a few ounces of this fleece each spring, it is expensive.

The best cashmere can be distinguished from the cheaper grades not only by its extreme softness, but also by its color. Cashmere wool that contains coarse hair will not dye as well or evenly as the yarn made entirely of fleece. Therefore, the colors are speckled and not as clear as those of better quality yarn.

Buy white cashmere in white, while most of the natural color yarn is usually gray or brownish-gray, she said.

Cashmere is noted for its warmth, but it does not have outstanding wearing qualities. A cashmere coat that is worn everyday will show signs of wear more quickly than any other fabric, especially at the edges of the cuffs.

When you buy a cashmere sweater or coat, be cautious about advertising terms that are spelled or pronounced like cashmere. Depend on the labeling law that requires the listing of the fiber to help you know what you are buying.

Some very luxuriously soft fabrics are made by combining wool with rabbit, angora, or muskrat fur, or by combining some cashmere with the wool.

These fabrics can be lovely and satisfying but they are not 100 percent genuine cashmere.

If your cashmere garment is not already treated with a moth proof finish, protect it from possible insect damage.

Cashmere sweaters can be washed satisfactorily. Use cool to warm water, mild or cold water soap and a minimum of agitation. Rinse thoroughly; lay the sweater flat, and block it to shape. Allow to dry at room temperature, she continued.

Carpets, Rugs Protected By Winterized Entryways

Carpets and rugs need extra care during winter. Tracked in slush, snow, salt and cinders can permanently damage your rugs, warns Miss Gene Thames, extension specialist in home furnishing at the College of Agriculture, Rutgers University.

Mud and dirt will soil the carpet and the melting snow and ice will weaken the fibers. This is especially true if the snow and ice melt on it and penetrate through to the backing.

What can you do to prepare all entryways for those snow laden boots? Miss Thames offers some suggestions:

To prevent your family from tracking snow, ice and salt onto the carpet, place mats outside all entrances. This door mat should be sufficiently absorbent to soak up the dripping snow and ice from the boots. Also, the mat should be rough enough to remove cinders and dirt from the boots. Open construction will permit the snow and ice as well as dirt to fall through to the underside.

If an outside door mat is not feasible for your entry, place a firm scatter rug on top of the carpet at the door, that is, if the door can open and close over it. Or use a plastic runner. But remember, plastic does not absorb dirt or moisture from boots; it only prevents the carpet from getting wet.

Be sure that the scatter rug is firmly anchored so it will not trip someone. Also, the scatter rug backing should not be so rough that it will cut the carpet pile.

Place a bench near the door. Your family will find it helpful when they remove their boots. You'll find the bench a protection to your carpet, too, as your family won't be tempted to dash across the rug while still wearing their muddy boots. A bench will help the little ones when they climb out of their snowsuits, also.

If there isn't a bench available, what about a settee or several chairs or even a coffee table that's rarely used?

Place a waste basket lined with a plastic bag near the bench to hold the wet boots. Or use a plastic waste basket if one is available. Even a tray will do. Then you can carry the boots across the rug in the basket or tray without dripping melting snow on the rug.

Tuck paper toweling in a drawer near the entry and encourage every member of the family to soak up any ice and snow as soon as he tracks it in. Or mount paper toweling on an easy to reach roller on inside of closet.

REENACTMENT SLATED

New Jerseyans To March From Fort Lee To Trenton

TRENTON — Just 188 years ago this week, General George Washington was camped in Fort Lee, New Jersey, planning for the defense of the colony from the British troops that had driven him from New York.

Jerseymen from Closter Dock to Trenton will re-enact Saturday the retreat across New Jersey as part of the Tercentenary celebration. The retreat was forced upon General Washington during the week of November 21, 1776, when Fort Washington was stormed by the British and was lost. Fort Lee was threatened by a powerful landing force and was evacuated; and Washington, with his troops, embarked on a retreat that was to carry them to Trenton and then across to the Pennsylvania side of the Delaware.

Writing to John Hancock, president of Congress, from General Greene's Headquarters at Fort Lee on Nov. 14, 1776, General Washington said:

"I have the honor to inform you of my arrival here yesterday, and that the whole of the troops belonging to the States, which lay South of Hudson's River, and were in New York, have passed over to this side, except the regiment lately Colonel Small-

The following week the retreat across New Jersey began. It is the course of that retreat that Jerseymen will retrace on Saturday, in a series of 12 segments, the entire march being carried out as part of New Jersey's Tercentenary celebration.

Edward A. Stewart, Chairman of the Leonia Tercentenary Committee and Coordinator of the Tercentenary retreat, announced that anchor men have been selected for each of the retreat segments. He said that Boy Scouts will comprise the principal marching units, but added that any individual or organization would be welcome to join in the re-enactment.

The segment marches each will start at 9 or 9:30 a.m. and should finish within three or four hours. The start of the march will be signalled by the booming of colonial cannon at Bluff Point in Fort Lee.

The anchor men of Union County segments and their respective areas are: Councilman Joseph Melillo of the Newark Tercentenary Committee; Newark to Roselle; Burton P. Lewis of the Roselle Tercentenary Committee, Roselle to Rahway.

Stewart urged any fraternal, veteran, patriotic or other organization wishing to participate in a particular segment of the march to get in touch with the anchor man in charge.

Wigler's Bakery Now In Millburn

After 74 years of continuous operation in Newark, Wigler's Bakery has moved to a new, ultra-modern plant and retail location at the Millburn Mall, Vaux Hall rd., off Millburn ave. It was announced by Phineas L. Wigler, president of the family-owned bakery. A grand-opening celebration was held Monday.

The bakery will occupy 7,000 square feet of floor space and has purchased new equipment in excess of $100,000, Wigler said. The bakery was founded by Jacob and Fanny Wigler in 1890 "when a pound loaf of bread cost four cents," Wigler said.

Knights To Attend Memorial Mass

Stewart Schofer, State Deputy of the New Jersey State Knights of Columbus, has designated Sunday as John F. Kennedy Memorial Sunday marking the first anniversary of the tragedy in 1963.

Bishop Wigler Council 1858, Knights of Columbus of Irvington and Maplewood, will participate in a memorial mass for the late President at St. Paul the Apostle Church, Irvington, at 10 a.m. Sunday.

OVERHEARD

By EPP'S

Visiting a friend in the hospital, my neighbor was told the patient had such a large gall stone, she must have lived with it for years and the doctor decided not to remove it. Then she added, "Do you suppose they left it because, if removed, it might disturb her balance?"

Mrs. S. was learning diplomacy rather late in life but as they say, "better late than never." One day an acquaintance said to her, "How long do you think I've been a church soloist?" Mrs. S. not having much admiration for her rather harsh nasal voice, was tempted to say, "Too darn long!" But instead she meekly replied, "Maybe 10 or 15 years?"

'Camelot' Seats Gone For Saturday Nights

Good seats are still available for performances Tuesday through Sundays with the Saturday exception. The weekday curtain is at 8:30, Saturday at 8 and 9:30 p.m., and Sunday the curtain is at 8 p.m. The Wednesday matinee curtain is at 2 p.m.

Analysis of effectiveness of its spending controls and review of legislative operations are among other objectives. The program also outlines proposals in the fields of education and public pensions.

Know Your Government

From N. J. Taxpayers Association

TOWARD BETTER GOVERNMENT

Opportunities for improved operation and fiscal control in state and local government in New Jersey are highlighted in the 1965 Platform and Program submitted to members of the New Jersey Taxpayers Association at their annual meeting scheduled today in Newark.

Projects already underway to improve governmental performance are cited and means of their further implementation suggested.

"Price tagging" of legislative bills to show their future costs is provided under the State Legislature's newly instituted "fiscal notes" procedure. This is commended as deserving expansion in future sessions.

Full implementation of long-range planning of state and local government construction and improvement programs through capital budgeting is viewed as means of providing a basis for maximum reliance on pay-as-you-go financing.

Further use of New Jersey's Optional Municipal Charter Law is seen as a means of strengthening the governmental structure and improving services at the municipal level.

Other avenues leading toward economical, efficient government are outlined.

Enlargement of service areas of municipal governments through agreements, consolidations or mergers in the interest of economical and efficient operation is urged. Modernization of the form of county government is cited as a major need in the local area.

ated from Elizabeth schools. When she married Edward Schubert, they lived in Bloomington for four years before moving to Springfield 13 years ago.
"I JOINED the Springfield Women's Club as soon as I arrived in Springfield," she said. "Through the club, I became acquainted with most of the friends I have today."
"Actually," she concluded, "the reason I've plunged into this work so wholeheartedly, is that I think I've always had a suppressed desire to do social work — although I never before had the opportunity."
Her husband, a plant manager at Duraloc Chemical Corporation of Newark, has been very cooperative about Mrs. Schubert's activities away from home. "The only thing he occasionally complains about," she laughed, "is the collection of cardboard boxes I keep and clutter the cellar with."

"But actually, when his mother passed away, he accompanied me to Greystone with all of her clothing and possessions. He was able to see what was being done for the comfort and rehabilitation of the patients."
"You know, when we become chairmen of the club, our husbands also share that honor. They become chairmen too," she mused.
"DURING THE TIME I was garden chairman, he used to go out to the garden and help me — by watering the plants. Whenever we have husband-and-wife get-togethers, we often tell the husbands that they are going to be chairmen with their wives whether they know it or not."
The Schuberts have a 13-year-old daughter, Peggy, who is in the eighth grade at Gaudinor School.

Multiple Listing!

A Realtor has to be ready for almost anything. And he is — with the help of Multiple Listing. This is the modern, most effective way to speed up the sale of your home — by multiplying the number of buyer-prospects.

You set everything into action by simply enlisting the services of a selected Realtor. He becomes your Listing Broker and immediately assumes the responsibility of giving your property his specialized attention. He then calls upon the entire Board of full-time brokers and salesmen to start a concentrated campaign to sell your house. Photos and facts about your property go out to each member office. This means multiple-prospects through Multiple Listing. And this means ACTION!

If you have residential property you'd like to sell, call your Realtor today. Or, call the Board of Realtors. Ask for our brochure that tells all about Multiple Listing — also the Roster of Realtor Board Members.

"I am sorry, the number you have reached is not..."

Exasperating, isn't it? It makes us unhappy, too. Yet avoiding wrong numbers is so easy — and can save so much time. Just remember these tips:

1. When you're not sure of a phone number, look it up. Check the area code, too. Jot down both. And then dial. By being sure, you'll save time in the long run.
2. When dialing, be sure to bring your finger all the way to the finger stop.

3. And, dial carefully — simple carelessness is probably the biggest cause of wrong numbers. If you get a wrong number, just call the operator. She'll see that you're not charged.

P.S. Should you be billed for a wrong number, call the Telephone Business Office. It will be straightened out. Call anywhere, but dial with care.

PART-TIME JOBS

Law Protects Teenager In Holiday Work

With the expected boom in retail sales, young people may have an opportunity for part-time employment during the holiday season, Regional Director Frank B. Mercurio of the U. S. Labor-Department's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division pointed out in issuing a reminder on the child-labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

Mercurio said that the law permits boys and girls 16 and 17 years of age to work in any job except those which have been declared hazardous by the Secretary of Labor. Even 14- and 15-year-olds may work in a variety of occupations in retail or food service establishments and in offices, with certain restrictions on their hours of work.

During weeks when school is in session, they may work no more than three hours a day or 18 hours a week, and only between the hours of 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. During vacation weeks, they may work as many as eight hours a day and 40 a week. Last year the division found many 14- and 15-year-old minors working in permitted occupations, but in excess of these hours and after 7 p.m. Among the permissible jobs for 14- and 15-year-olds are selling, office work, cashiering, window trimming, bagging and carrying out orders, cleanup work, price marking and tagging and work in food service.

It has been estimated that only about five percent of the potential jobs for young workers have been found hazardous and therefore require a minimum age of 18 under the Fair Labor Standards Act and many state child-labor laws.

However, Mercurio stressed the importance of keeping younger workers out of the occupations which have been found particularly dangerous. He said that reports to the U. S. Department of Labor indicate that many young workers continue to be injured on the job.

There have been 17 hazardous occupations orders issued to date, Mercurio said. Of the jobs which require an 18-year age minimum, two in particular are found in a wide variety of industries, including retail stores. These are the jobs of driver or helper on a motor vehicle and elevator operator. Another hazardous occupation where injuries frequently occur is operating and cleaning power-driven meat slicers or grinders.

In order to protect themselves against unintentional violation in which he is employed. In the local area, such certificates are issued by local public school officials.

Mercurio reminded employers and young job-seekers that some jobs do not come under the Fair Labor Standards Act, since they apply to employees engaged in interstate commerce, in the production of goods for commerce or in certain large enterprises engaged in commerce or the production of goods for commerce of the law, employers should obtain and keep on file an age or employment certificate showing the minor to be at least the minimum age for the occupation production of goods for commerce.

However, he said that each state also has its child-labor law, and many of the standards are similar to those provided in the Fair Labor Standards Act. If the state and federal standards for the employment of young people differ, the higher standards should be observed.

Additional information on the child-labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act is available at the regional office of the U. S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division field office, Room 201 Federal Building, Federal Square, Newark, N. J.

Unions Endorse Annual Campaign Of County League

The nationwide Christmas-Seal campaign has again been endorsed by the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations, according to word received this week by Newton J. Rodgers of Clark, chairman of the Christmas Seal Committee of the Union County Tuberculosis and Health League.

Christmas Seal contributions in Union County support the work of the county Tuberculosis League, which carries on a year round program for the prevention and control of tuberculosis, through public education, clinic and case detection programs and support of medical research.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, in a letter to the president of the National Tuberculosis Association says, "It is encouraging to note that significant inroads are being made against these afflictions which annually strike tens of thousands of men, women and children throughout the nation. The work of the National Tuberculosis Association is pointing the way toward eventual conquest over these diseases. But, with tuberculosis still the number one killer among infectious diseases, and with acute respiratory infections still the major cause of time lost from school and work, it is clearly evident that the end of the battle is not yet within sight."

Meany's letter concludes, "Because I believe this effort merits the widest possible public participation, I therefore urge union members to give the 1964 Christmas-Seal Campaign the same generous support they have given in years past."

Rodgers noted in Union County last year 192 new cases of tuberculosis were diagnosed, bringing the total known cases under medical supervision at the end of the year to 914.

N. J. Teachers' Minimum Pay Averages Lower Than County

The median minimum salary this year for New Jersey teachers with four years of college training is $4,800 — $200 more than is required by recent state law, according to a survey by the New Jersey Education Association. The average increase is $433.

Union County teachers' salaries are higher. Linden and Westfield have salary scales that list minimum pay at $5,300 — the highest in the state except for Essex County Vocational School, which lists minimum pay at $5,400.

The Union County Regional High Schools and Springfield public schools pay a minimum salary of $5,200; Union, Roselle, Roselle-Park and Mountainside, $5,100; Kenilworth, $5,000. There are no Union County schools with salary guides starting at less than $5,000 a year.

The state median maximum salary for a teacher with five years of training is $8,200. Here, too, Union County is higher. Union Township schools list $9,400 in this category — $100 less than Westfield's $9,500 — with Linden and Springfield trailing with $9,300. The Regional high schools offer $9,100; and Kenilworth, $9,064. Mountainside pays a maximum of $9,000 for five years of training; Roselle Park, $8,978; Roselle, $8,850.

The NEJEA credits adoption by the state legislature recently of a new salary law for teachers for the growth of the average increase. Compared to the $433 increase this year, the average increase over the past five years has been $357.

The average salary increase in the Union township schools is $558 — highest in the county. Regional high schools are close in the amount of increase with $525. Other area schools list the following average increases: Linden, $490; Roselle Park, $484; Roselle, $453; Mountainside and Springfield, $420; Kenilworth, $393.

On the very top of the guide, teachers in the Union township schools with six years of training can earn $10,300. In the Regional high schools they can earn $9,900, and coordinators working on a 12-month basis can earn $10,000. Top pay in Linden is $9,700; Springfield, $9,600; Mountainside, $9,500; Roselle Park, $9,384; Kenilworth, $9,373; Roselle, $9,250.

Dayton Tops West Orange; Finale To Come At Rahway

The gridmen of Dayton Regional High School were able to rebound from the previous week's defeat at Westfield and triumph over a hard-tackling eleven from West Orange Saturday in a game that went right down to the wire.

Although the offense looked unimpressive in the game statistics, the Dayton defense was able to hold the Cowboys of West Orange to a single touchdown that came in the second quarter.

The Bulldogs, although lacking a punch in rushing, made efficient use of the breaks that came their way, and scored twice to win, 13-7.

The Dayton team will be inactive this coming Saturday. On Thanksgiving morning, the team will travel to Rahway for the holiday classic with rival Rahway High. Both teams this year have winning records, and are highly rated.

Coach Herb Palmer of Dayton said, "Rahway has two of three boys who can throw and two good halfbacks who can run. It should be a good ball game."

The Rahway-Dayton III is always an unpredictable game. As Coach Palmer said, "Anything can happen. A team could win all its games and lose this one, or lose all and win this one."

Palmer said that the defense was what won the West Orange game for his squad. Although seeming to have difficulty stopping the West Orange running backs, August Renna, Anthony Anferio and Nick Turco, the defense was able to create the breaks that went for Dayton.

One such break came in the first period when lineman Tom Tonkin blocked a punt, which was then picked up by linebacker Al Greenberg.

Greenberg carried it all the way to the Cowboys' one-yard line. Halfback Carl Yaras took it over for the touchdown and then for the extra point.

Palmer said that his boys had been working on the blocking of punts all week because of a scouting report that said West Orange might be hurt this way. It was one instance of scouting that paid off in points.

The Cowboys' lone score came in the second quarter after a pass interception on their own 11-yard line. A toss by the quarterback for Dayton, Bob Ries, after a beautiful fake, was bobbled around and finally grabbed by a Cowboy back end.

Then, after a 36-yard end run by Nelson Frank, in which two Dayton linemen missed tackles, West Orange scored on a plunge through the line. The extra point was scored on a fake kick by Wayne Basile, who picked the ball up and ran with it instead of kicking. The half ended with the score tied at seven-all.

The Dayton Bulldogs regained the lead in the third quarter after West Orange was forced to punt from deep in its own territory. Safety man Mark Anthony took the kick on the middle field stripe and ran it to the 35 yard line.

On the first play from scrimmage, halfback Yaras plunged through a big hole in the DRS and raced through the backfield with the aid of a key block by Perry Krowne. Yaras scored his second TD of the afternoon on this 35-yard run. The extra point attempt failed.

The fourth quarter was dominated by the Cowboy offense unit. Coach Herb Palmer of Dayton had strong praise for his defensive unit, which halted two separate West Orange drives in the period to preserve Dayton's slim lead.

The first was stopped when Frank Haydu of Dayton recovered a fumble on Dayton's 10 yard line. The second was stopped when the Cowboys simply ran out of downs deep in Dayton territory. The game ended as quarterback Anthony Fortino was still struggling to score for West Orange with a long pass.

Dayton Girls End Athletic Schedule For Kicks, Sticks

By DIANE SCOBAY

Friday, Nov. 6, was the last event of the Dayton Regional Girls' Athletic Association soccer season. Judy Brenn scored the only field goal in the combined effort of the juniors and seniors to edge Scotch Plains-Fanwood High, 2-0.

A complete sophomore team also went along and tied Scotch Plains, 2-2. The victory helped to ease the seniors' record of four defeats and the junior record of two victories and two ties.

On Nov. 9, the junior and senior field hockey teams played Millburn at Millburn's home field. The junior team consisted of Cheryl Boyle, Kathy Carell, Evelyn Grimshaw, Jane Hoeflich, Jerry Klotter, Sue Liebling, Lisa Moore, Nancy Mumford, Margo Penard, Sharon Robbins, Ruth Slugocke, Jacinta Smolinski and Joan Werener.

The senior team included Marilyn Brownlie, Alice Cadby, Rose Crisculo, Pat Dessewffy, Cathy Evans, Pat Furze, Marilyn Gierman, Ann Machin, Carol Masturro, Chris Mindas, Nancy Smith and Judy Spaeth.

The juniors were soundly defeated, 4-1, by Millburn, despite Nancy Mumford's field goal.

The senior game was just the reverse, a 4-1 victory. Pat Furze, Nancy Smith and Marilyn Brownlie did all the scoring for the Seniors. This leaves the juniors with a record of one triumph and two losses, and the seniors with two victories and one loss.

Rockets Keep Lead Despite First Defeat

Although the Rockets met with their first defeat of the season last week, they continue to lead the way in the Boys' Recreation Bowling League. The Rockets, with a season record of 7-1, hold a one-game lead over the Bombers, who have a record of 6-2.

Last Friday afternoon, the Pirates gave the Rockets their first setback of the season in the first game of a two-game match. Steve Grau, with a 141 game, led the Pirates to this victory. The Rockets bounced back in the second contest behind the bowling of Mike Rubinfeld and Ricky Williams. Todd Herman had a good afternoon for the Pirates, while Rick Ezviz bowled well for the Rockets.

The Bombers made it six consecutive victories as they defeated the Raiders twice. Jimmy Sarokin led the Bombers to two victories with games of 136 and 149. Eric Wasserman, with a series of 240, and Evan Wasserman, at 234, also aided in the Bombers' two victories. David Epstein, with a high game of 155 in the first contest, was top

Unusual Record Has 7 Tie Games

By DON LEWIS

The most successful soccer season in five years drew to a close last week for Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. Following a freakish regular season that saw seven games of 15 end in ties, the Dayton booters ended the year with a record of five victories, only three defeats and seven ties. For the first time since 1959, the team qualified, on the basis of its season record, for the state tournament.

In 1959 Dayton went all the way to the final round of competition before being eliminated. This year the booters lost to Union in the first round.

The year started out with a bang in the third week of September as Dayton won its opening game against highly touted Jefferson High. By the end of the first seven games, the team's record was 4-0-3, including a tie with soccer power Pingry and victories over the Regional sister schools of Clark and Berkeley Hills.

Then, however, a series of four ties, with Union, Irvington, Watchung Hills and Westfield, seemed to break the momentum of the team. They went on to win only one more of the remaining five games, and to lose three.

Late Slump

Coach John Palfi said of this late season slump, "I don't know what happened. If I did, we would've been better." The year ended with last week's 4-0 defeat at the hands of a first-up Union eleven in the first round of the state tournament elimination competition.

There were 12 seniors on this year's soccer squad. Of goals, Keith Neigel, Coach Palfi said, "Keith is one of the best goalies in the county. He's a possible all-county selection."

The two fullbacks, Stuart Falkin and Val Spins, were both seniors. At the halfback slot, three seniors saw action, Mark Schenach, David MacMillan and Dave Dropkin, who Coach Palfi said was the most improved player on the team.

On the front line, there were six seniors who saw action. Of Fred Reu, starting center forward, Coach Palfi said, "Reu started off quite well; he did a good job on offense."

Starting Wings

Ken Max and Mark Muller were the two starting wings. Palfi praised Max for doing "a terrific job, always in there." He said Muller had developed into a fine soccer player in only his second year of play.

Rich Mayer, according to Palfi, was a player who provided a lot of hustle for the team. The other seniors were Val Del Vecchio and Richard Bingham, who did not see much action this year because he was out all last season with an injury.

Despite the fact that the team will be losing 10 seniors who were used a great deal this year, Coach Palfi hopes for a successful season next year. The Dayton booters will be facing the same tough schedule with only a few minor changes.

Looking Ahead

Palfi said, "We'll have to build a little but I'm counting on some of this year's boys to come through for us next year."

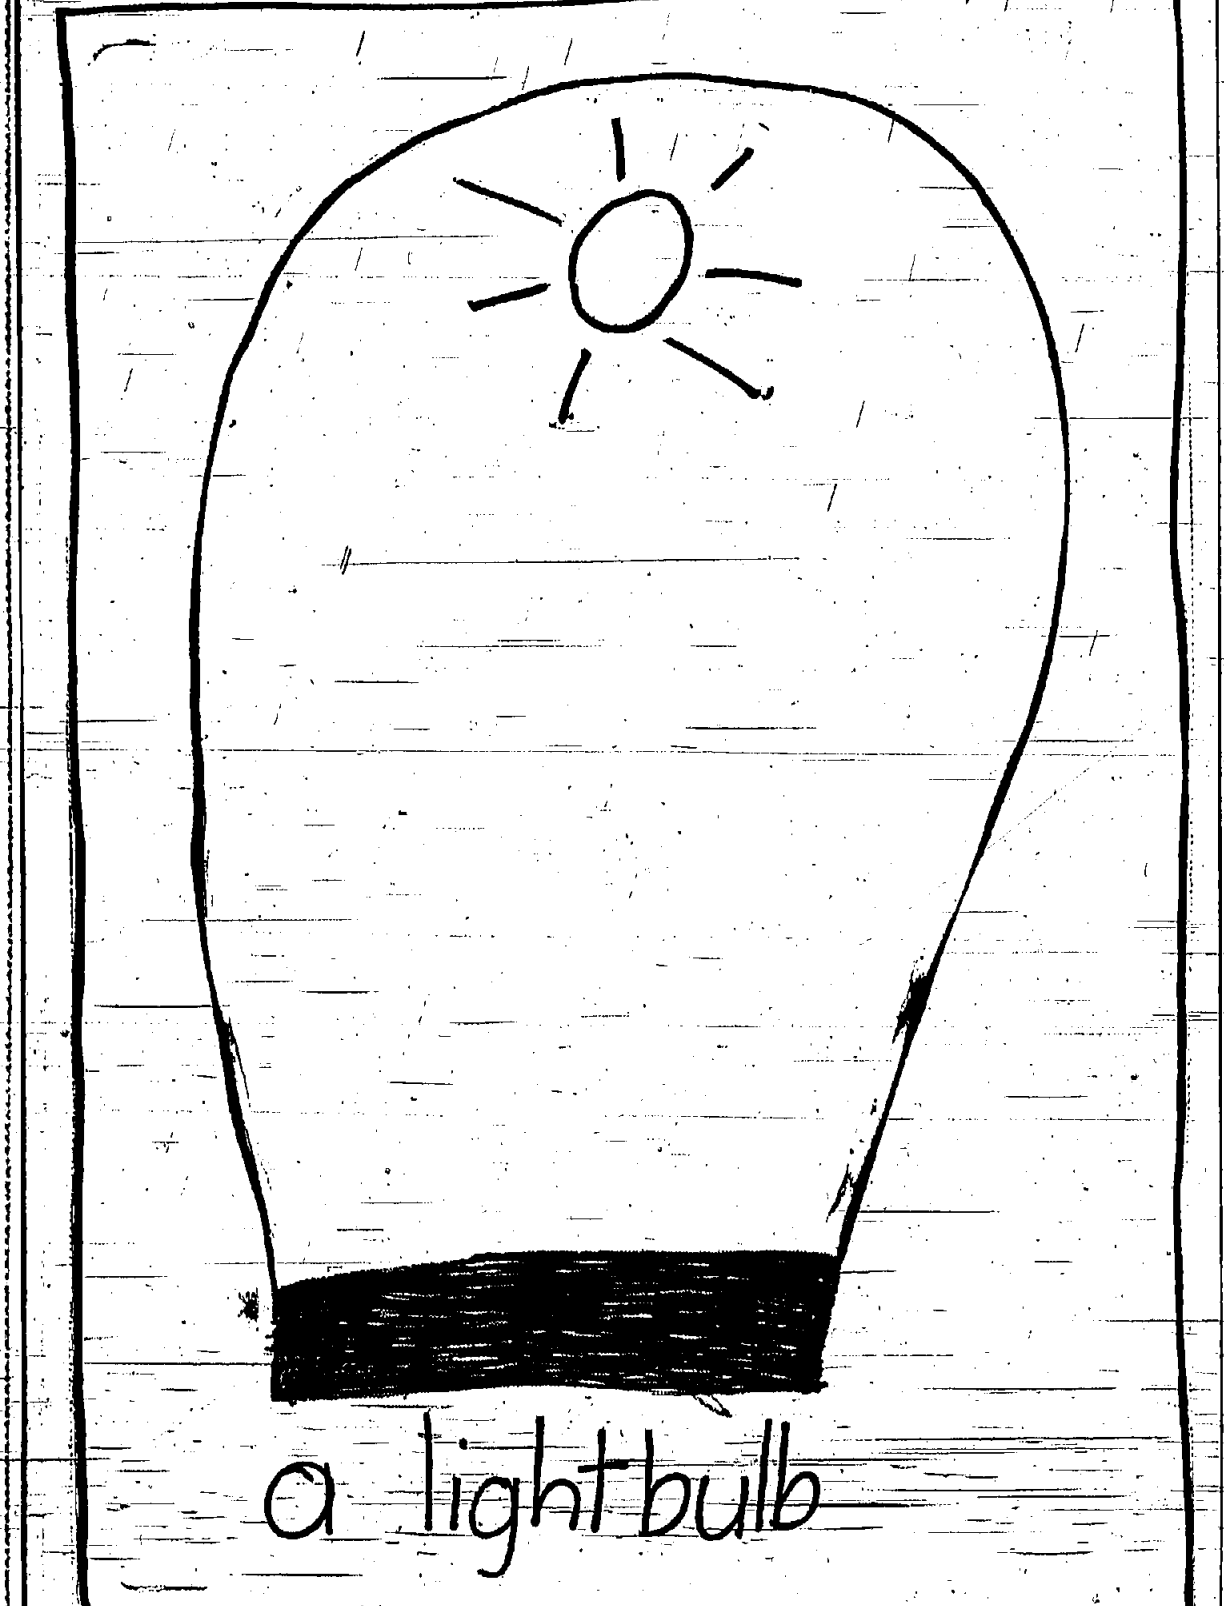

Some of the players Coach Palfi will be depending on are Ron Kizevich, Larry Buddish and Bill Murphy in the backfield. Palfi had special praise for Murphy's play in his first year on the soccer squad. Murphy is only a sophomore.

To replace Neigel in the goal, Palfi is counting on sophomore Howie Goldhammer, of whom Palfi said, "He looked good when we had a chance to use him this year."

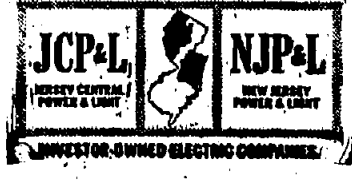

Another player who did not see much action this year but will have to help support the team next year is lineman Bob Morelines. With the aid and effort of all these boys, the soccer team is already rebuilding for 1965.

This poster, drawn by seven-year-old Judy Bruce, was one of the entries in the "What Electricity Means To Me" contest held for children of JCP&L-NJP&L employees.

"Electricity makes the lights go on. If there wasn't any electricity, you would click on the lights and it would still be dark." So writes Judy Bruce. And she's right. Electricity means a lighted bulb. But there's more to it than that. Electricity means power to run things—at low cost. Now people are using more electricity than ever before, but they are paying for it at a rate that's 20% lower than it was in 1929. That's a good record—but one that we work hard to make even better.

Names 11 Service Academy Nominees

Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer this week announced her nomination of 11 young men from this area of Union County for appointments to the U. S. Military, Air Force and Merchant Marine Academies in the classes entering in 1965.

There was no vacancy for the Sixth Congressional District this year at the Naval Academy. For the two Sixth Congressional District vacancies in the class entering the Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., in the summer of 1965, Mrs. Dwyer nominated Walter A.

Matejcek of 760 Sheridan ave., Roselle, Edward H. Wilson of 2565 Hamilton-ter., Union, and ten other candidates in other parts of the county.

The congresswoman nominated six candidates to compete further for the one appointment from Union County to the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo. The group includes from this area of the county Philip J. Del Vecchio Jr. of 11 High-Point dr., Springfield; Charles W. Pittman of 957 Townley ave., Union; Kenneth I. Salkeld of 28 E. Colfax ave., Roselle Park, and Michael V. Geoghegan of 26 Edgewood ave., Springfield.

Among ten persons from Union County nominated for the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, Long Island, N. Y., are Richard A. Bilancia of 1020 Field rd., Union; Frank D. Pilati of 1455 Orchard rd., Mount-ainside; Richard E. Boyer of 135 E. Lincoln ave., Roselle Park; Richard W. Peizold of 1327 Center st., Union, and Louis F. Kowbier of 53 Oakwood crescent, Union.

Mrs. Dwyer based her nominations, she explained, exclusively on the results of a competitive Civil Service Commission examination which was given at her request on three occasions during the past summer and on the results of preliminary physical examinations. All candidates were required to take both examinations.

M.D. Will Analyze Diabetes Clinic

The Union County Club for Parents of Diabetic Children will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight at Clark Lanes, Clark, at 8 o'clock.

Dr. S. J. Cohen of Westfield, medical advisor to the club, will analyze the question and answer clinic held the previous week with diabetic children. The clinic was recorded on tape and will be replayed at the meeting.

The club is a non-profit group open to all parents of diabetic children. It has been active since 1960 to help parents in the care and understanding of diabetes in children.

ly on the results of a competitive Civil Service Commission examination which was given at her request on three occasions during the past summer and on the results of preliminary physical examinations. All candidates were required to take both examinations.

The nominees will now be expected to take the individual entrance examinations administered by the academies. Congresswoman Dwyer pointed out final appointments to all the Union County vacancies, she said, will be based on the recommendations made by the academies following their evaluations of the candidates' examination results, their academic and extracurricular records in secondary schools, and their potential for success as officers in the armed services.

Mrs. Dwyer utilizes a completely competitive merit system for making appointments to the service academies. This system, she has emphasized, assures equal consideration to all Union County applicants, encourages maximum competition for appointments, and enables the academies to obtain the best qualified young men.

For the Birds

By FARRIS S. SWACKHAMER
Instructor, Union Junior College Institute, Cranford, N. J.

The metropolitan area in which many of us live has long been a melting pot. Many nations have contributed to its rapidly growing population. Birds from many continents have gathered and prospered here too. The starling and the "English" sparrow came from Europe, the cattle egret from Africa by way of South America, the ring-necked pheasant from Asia, and most recently, the house finch or linnet from, of all places, Hollywood.

Toward the end of 1852, the trustees of the Greenwood Cemetery in Brooklyn imported 168 birds from England. The lot included skylarks, wood larks, British goldfinches, European robins, thrushes and European blackbirds. They were all released in the cemetery, but the only species remaining is the British goldfinch which is still seen on Long Island. Most transplanted birds do not do well, but some come through with flying colors.

The first starlings were brought to the United States in 1890 by Eugene Schieffelin who released them in Central Park. They first nested in the park and then began to move further afield. Today they are found from the east to the west coast and have been known to raise a family above the Arctic Circle in Alaska.

Strange as it may seem, the same individual had introduced the "English" or house sparrow to these shores 50 years earlier. They, too, are found in every nook and cranny of North America where man lives. Originally they subsisted on undigested oats left in the street-by-houses. Today they eat all the food favored by the finch family to which they belong.

The cattle egret was originally a resident of Africa. There it was frequently found in the company of elephants and other large animals, eating the insects stirred up when its large companions moved about. Apparently a flock flying off the coast of Africa was blown west, eventually arriving in South America. Here it prospered and then gradually moved north. Cattle egrets were first seen in New Jersey in 1952 on a farm near Cape May. Today it is a common sight in that area, having transferred its companionship to herds of cattle.

The American pheasant stock came from the most part from a Chinese variety that has a white collar and is known as the ring-neck. It is now common over most of the northern United States and southern Canada. Hundreds of thousands are shot every year, but it still thrives.

Although the house finch or linnet came from the west coast, it didn't make the journey under its own power. Back in 1840 many of them were trapped illegally in California and sold as cage birds in New York City. There they were called "Hollywood" finches. The International Migratory Bird Treaty Act forbids the trapping and sale of local feathered residents and in order to escape prosecution, the pet shop owners let the birds go.

Despite the unfamiliar environment 3,000 miles from home, the little birds increased their numbers rapidly. The first nest was reported in 1943 and by 1958 the species had established itself on western Long Island, in Westchester County and in southwestern Connecticut. Each fall they migrate to the Philadelphia area where they are said to winter.

List Soloists For Masterwork Contest

David Randolph, music director of the Masterwork Music and Art Foundation, has announced that the soloists for the forthcoming "Messiah" performance by the Masterwork Chorus and Orchestra at Carnegie Hall in New York City will be Helen Merrill, soprano; Lillian Merritt, contralto; Jack Litten, tenor; and Andrew Frieron, bass-baritone.

Two complete performances of "Messiah" will be offered— one Dec. 6 and one Dec. 11. Both performances will begin at 8 p.m.

Helen Merrill is a native of Rensselaer County, New York. She obtained her vocal training privately in New York, where at present she is a soloist at St. Bartholomew's Church. Her experience includes appearances with the Turnau Opera Players and the Valley Opera Company. As a concert artist, she has appeared with the New York Sinfonia, the Huntington Orchestra, the Cantata Singers, and the Masterwork Chorus and Orchestra.

Lillian Merritt is from Worcester, Mass., and obtained her musical training at the University of Indiana, studying with Anna Karkas, former leader and contralto of the Metropolitan Opera. After graduation, Miss Merritt was the recipient of a Minna Kaufmann-Rud Foundation Award, which enabled her to come to New York and study with Frantz Prochowski, noted voice teacher.

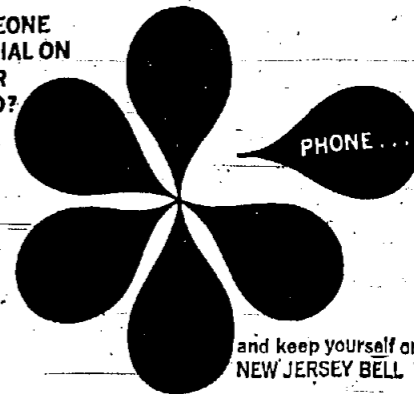

Jack Litten graduated from the University of Colorado with a Bachelor of Music Degree in piano. Upon entering the army, he was assigned as tuba player with the Fourth Army Band, a task which also required him on occasion to take a turn as solo singer with the band. After completing his tour of duty, Litten entered the School of Music at Yale, this time to major in voice, and received a Master of Music Degree from this institution. A series of teaching positions at Hunter College, Columbia University and Wesleyan University led to Litten's appointment to the faculty at the Yale University School of Music, where he is presently assistant professor of voice.

Andrew Frieron is a graduate of Juilliard School of Music and at present a member of the voice faculty of the Henry Street Settlement Music School. He made his Leitch Stadium debut in 1959 with Thomas Scherman and the Little Orchestra Society, singing three different roles in Offenbach's "Les Contes d'Hoffmann." He is
