Action In Valco Case Defended By Office-Holders

Candidate Files, 3 Others To Run For School Posts

A variety of men's hats and ladies' millinery appeared poised for tossing into the ring this week as the Dec. 31 deadline neared for filing petitions to run for the Springfield Board of Education.

Harold H. Liebeskind of 1 Greenwood was the first candidate to file. Two other petitions had been taken out by Mrs. Paul Weissman of E. S. Dorsky rd. and by Alex Jay of 17 Lynn dr. Both indicated that they were obtaining signatures and planned to file in the immediate future.

Mrs. Lawrence Dorsky of 247 Milltown rd., a present board member, this week also declared that she would seek another term. First elected in February of 1962, Mrs. Dorsky last week had been indicated as to her plans.

Four seats on the nine-member school board will be filled at the Feb. 2 elections, for three-year terms and one one-year term. Of the incumbents whose terms are expiring, besides Mrs. Dorsky, both Alan R. Cunningham and Frank Hagdu Jr. have declared they will retire from the board.

The other contest will be for the one-year remaining portion of the term of Dr. Benjamin H. Johnson, who resigned in September. A. B. Anderson, who was appointed to serve in this post until February, has indicated to comment on his intentions beyond that point.

Anderson, who retired in June after 27 years as secretary of the Board of Education, was named to the board by Dr. William H. West, county superintendent of schools, in the board's failure to select a replacement within 60 days.

The first candidate, Liebeskind, the first official entrant in the race, is vice-president of the Thelma Saadmeier School PTA, in charge of public relations.

He was chairman of a coordinated effort by Township PTA's last spring to gain passage of the referendum for construction of a new wing at the Florence Gaudineer School. Liebeskind also presented the recent proposal to combine the groups at the various elementary schools into one Greater Council of PTA's of Springfield. This move will take effect shortly.

Active in the Springfield Police Reserve for the past six years, he has been a special police officer for two years. Liebeskind is a board member of the Men's Club of Temple Beth El.

He holds degrees from Fairleigh Dickinson University and the University of Miami. Liebeskind's wife, Beverly, lives at 247 Lynn dr., Stuart, Dr. and Donna.

Officials, Critics Avoid Open Fight On County Probe

Central Topic Skirted In Town Hall Debate; Prosecutor Explains

Mention of the official investigation of "some aspects of municipal government" in Springfield which was instituted last week by Union County Prosecutor Leo Kaplowitz was formally recognized by all parties concerned as not a proper subject of debate at the Township Committee meeting Tuesday night at Town Hall.

The impending probe, however, provided an unmentioned backdrop for much of the discussion.

When the investigation was disclosed last week, Mayor Robert D. Hardgrove was quoted as saying that the "top echelon of the Springfield Democratic Party" had persuaded Kaplowitz to begin the probe.

"Top Echelon"

He added that the "top echelon" was comprised of former Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies, Nicholas Montalino and Irwin Bross, according to the same news item.

Bonadies told the Leader Monday that he was "not a complainant." He added that he merely "introduced certain individuals to Kaplowitz," and that the complaint came from "about 15 people."

Before Tuesday's meeting, both Bross and Kaplowitz declined any comment on their connections with the probe. During the meeting, however, Bross asked the mayor, "How was my name associated with this investigation?"

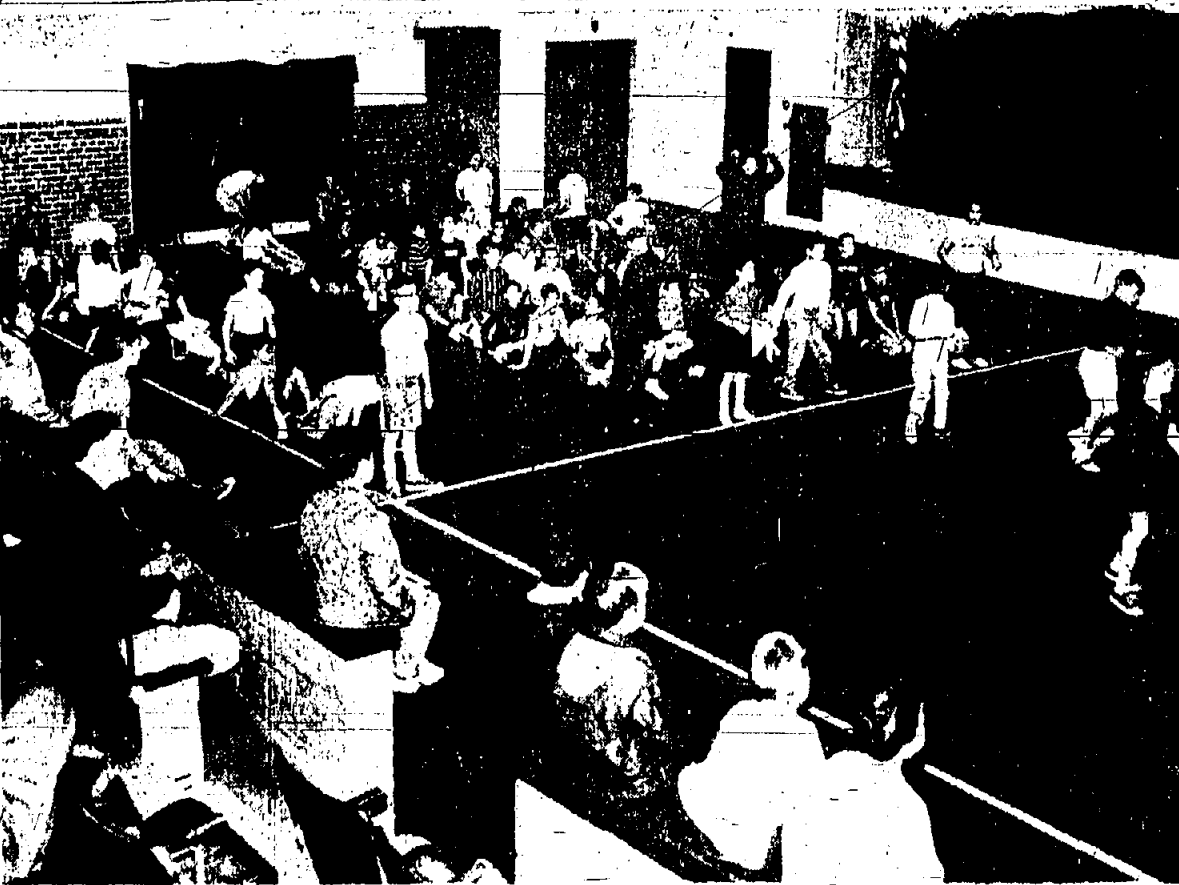

In a comment to the Leader on Monday, Prosecutor Kaplowitz stated, "The investigation has not really gotten off the ground yet, but it involves some aspects of municipal government."

Committee Of 3

"The committee that came to me was made up of Irwin Bross, Nick Montalino and Vince Bonadies. They are not complainants, but they have given me sufficient information to justify this investigation."

"It was documents, photographs and similar material. I cannot speculate on the outcome until the investigation is complete."

Refusing to permit discussion of the investigation at the Township Committee meeting, Hardgrove declared, "The prosecutor is an able man. The full report is in his hands."

Falkin, Schwartz In Heated Attacks At Town Meeting

Speakers Comment On Recorder Costs, Total Of Legal Fees

BY ABNER GOLD

Under constant attack from critics at meeting after meeting of the Township Committee, particularly since the Valco zoning decision was issued last week by the court, two members of the municipal administration "tricked" might be heard to defend their actions.

They were Committeeman Arthur M. Falkin and Edward Schwartz, newly appointed member of the Board of Adjustment. Falkin was criticized by Judge John E. Barger in the Valco decision because he had failed to achieve "total disqualification" when he had a "personal interest" in the application for a special exception use for a nursing home.

Schwartz, since being named to the zoning board last month, has been criticized because he was said to have had an interest in the Valco project.

Whether members of the Township Committee knew of this interest at the time of the Valco hearing in January, 1962, at the time of his appointment to the Board of Adjustment or at any other time has been both disputed—the heat on both sides at times obscuring the facts.

Pool Committee

Schwartz became well known in Springfield several years ago as chairman of the committee which planned and supervised construction of the municipal swimming pool.

He was a center of controversy when he spearheaded the successful opposition to two attempts by the Board of Education to win public approval for a new wing at the Florence Gaudineer School. Schwartz remained silent last May, when the third referendum attempt succeeded.

Falkin issued his statement in response to the latest of a number of demands that he resign as the result of his role in the Valco case.

"My conscience is clean," he emphasized, "I was duly elected to another three-year term, and I will serve. If there should be a recall movement, I will run again."

"No Conflict"

Differing with certain items of the testimony cited in the Valco decision, Falkin added, "There was no conflict with any interest on my part in this application."

Schwartz, who read a prepared statement, declared, "I did not have anything to do with the Valco application. I took no part in the preparation, presentation or handling."

"I had no interest in the application other than that of a real estate broker who introduced one of the principals of Valco to the property. I was not the real estate broker in the transaction. As a referring broker, I would receive a fee."

He also said he was not a member of any board or agency at the time and could not possibly have had any conflict of interest.

Schwartz went on to say that (Continued on Page 21)

Red Cross Unable To Answer Calls Asking For Help

Despite a few responses from people who will serve as volunteers, the Springfield Red Cross Chapter has to turn down several requests for service last week, it was reported by Mrs. Robert G. Laurencello, chapter chairman, and Mrs. Oliver Deane, chairman of volunteers.

They noted that last week's open meeting, designed to find out whether the people of Springfield want to support a Red Cross unit, had prompted calls from several people, primarily former workers, who are willing to help.

Delegates from other organizations who attended the meeting must still report back to their parent groups on the urgent need for volunteers, the Red Cross leaders complained, and additional manpower may well be forthcoming in the next future.

Meanwhile, however, the chapter this week was forced to reject a request from John Bunells Hospital in Scotch Plains for volunteers to aid the nursing staff and to help with preparation and other hospital activities.

At the same time, the chapter received calls from two women requesting "Red Cross" assistance in going to receive medical attention.

Melick Not Sure On Another Race For District Post

With a Dec. 24 deadline set to file petitions for election to the Regional High School District Board of Education, William J. Melick Jr. said this week that he was not sure whether he would run for another three-year term as a Regional Board member from Springfield.

The elections will take place Feb. 2 and seats on the Regional Board will be at stake in Springfield, Clark and Berkeley Heights. John A. Hopping, Springfield's other Regional Board member, will not be up for reelection this winter.

Commenting that his decision on seeking another term had not yet been reached, Melick noted, "I'm still flipping coins in my mind."

"I have served on the board for 12 years, and maybe someone else could take a crack at it. Board membership does take up a lot of time to do the job properly, but I certainly have enjoyed it."

Petitions for candidates who wish to run in the Feb. 2 election must be filed by Dec. 24 with Louis F. Fredericks, secretary, Union-County Regional High School District, at Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Watchung blvd., Berkeley Heights.

2nd Meeting Planned To Offer YES For Township Teenagers

The recently formed YES (Youth Employment Service) Group of Springfield will hold its second meeting Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the Municipal Building.

All church, civic and service organizations were urged to send representatives, and all interested citizens were invited to attend.

Mrs. William Lohmer, temporary chairman, cited the "urgent need" for both female and male help in clerical, public relations, employer contact, legal and advisory capacities. Par-

Those interested in YES are requested to contact Mrs. Lohmer, DR 6-2065; Mrs. Schwartz, DR 6-5053, or Planer, DR 6-5150.

YES is a free employment service for youths 14 through 20 years of age, staffed entirely by volunteers. The program currently is said to be meeting with considerable success in several states and some 26 New Jersey communities.

It has been established, Mrs. Lohmer stated, to fill the needs of two groups of employees, whether homebased, business or plant managers seeking part-time or temporary help, and the many able, interested and qualified young people who earnestly want some income and job experience. YES has the cooperation and guidance of the State Department of Labor and Industry.

Those attending the initial meeting, in addition to Mrs. Lohmer, were Mrs. Jack Cowles, Mr. and Mrs. David Schwartz, Mrs. Louis Colthart, Mrs. Sanford Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Reisberg, Mrs. Arthur Falkin, Mayor and Mrs. Robert

Application Filed On Nursing Home

The possibility of another zoning battle in Springfield arose this week with the announcement that the Board of Adjustment on Tuesday will hear an application by Valco Contracting Co. for a special exception to permit construction of a nursing home in the area bounded by Morris ave., Marion ave. and the Rahway River.

A court decision last month voided permission which had been granted for a nursing home on the Padam Farm property at Mountain ave. and Shunpike rd. The results of the court action are still having a substantial effect in the township political arena.

Holiday Deadlines

The Christmas and New Year's editions of this newspaper will be printed two days ahead of schedule. Strict adherence to the Friday noon deadline both weeks will facilitate publication of organizational, social and other news items.

Alan Greenberg and Dan Etzold, star linemen on the gridiron this fall for Jonathan Springfield's other Regional Board member, will not be up for reelection this winter.

Democratic Club To Elect Officers

Noting that "this is the time to begin preparing, organizing and campaigning" for Election Day next November, the Springfield Democratic Club has announced plans to meet and elect officers for the coming year tonight at 8:30 at Evergreen Lodge.

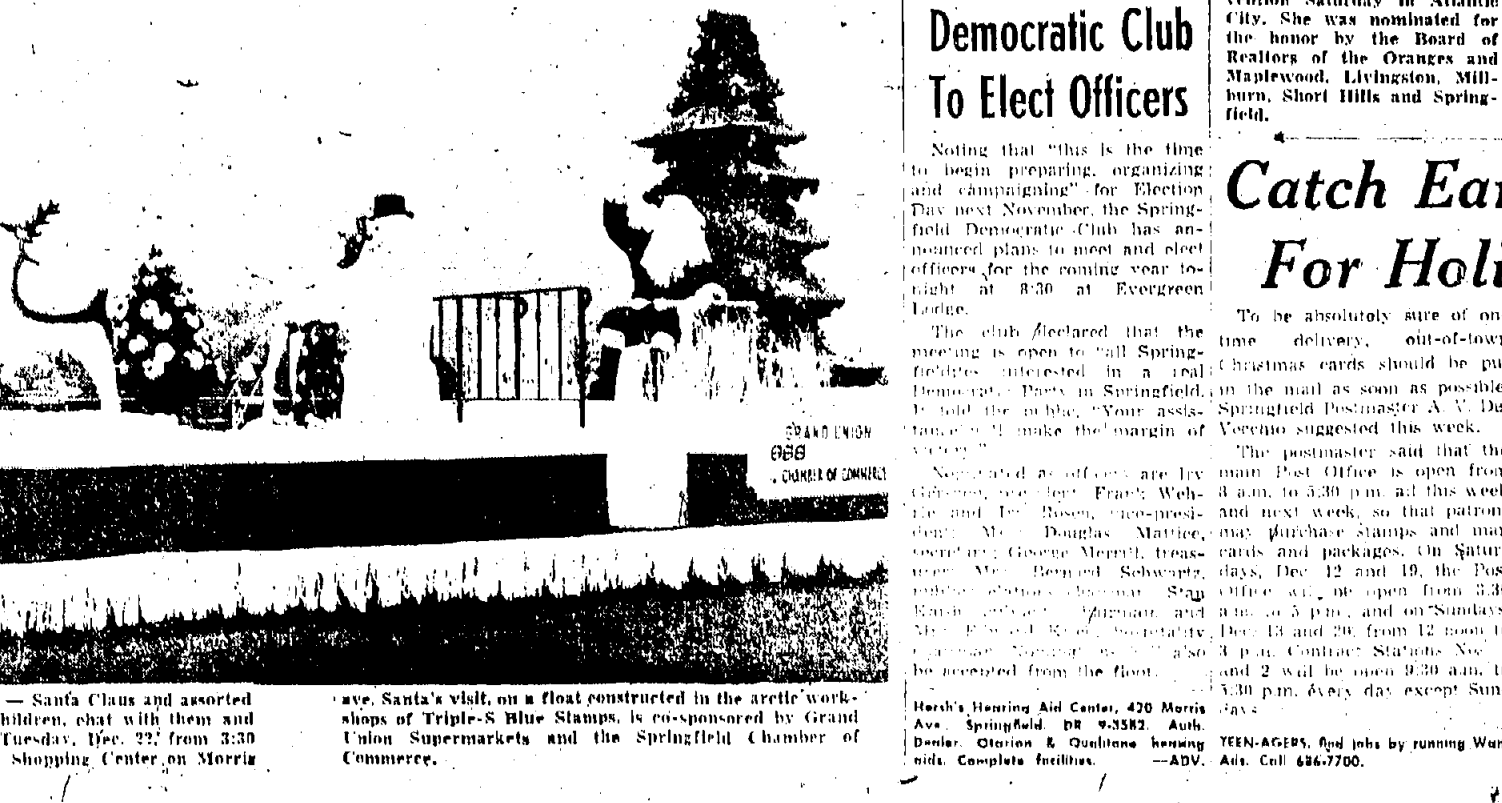

The club declared that the meeting is open to all Springfield residents interested in a real Democratic Party in Springfield. To add the public, "Your assistance will make the margin of victory."

Information on "how to assure acceptance in today's over-crowded universities" will be highlighted at an open meeting of the Springfield Board of Education Monday at 8:30 p.m. A particular invitation has been extended to the students and faculty at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

Richard Loggman, director of the Board's vocational services for Northern N. J., will speak on career planning for youths and adults. His remarks are designed to aid young people who do not plan to enter college, as well as those who will continue their education.

An advisory of Trenton State College and Rutgers University, Loggman is completing work for his doctorate in guidance and educational psychology at Rutgers. He has taught courses in industrial and vocational education and served as a counselor and teacher at both the secondary and the college level. Loggman has also been a regional high school psychological counselor.

The B'nai B'rith vocational service has operated since 1939 to "assist young people in coping with the many problems related to choosing a career in our present complex and changing society."

Otto Granick is president of the order's Springfield Lodge. Sidney Miller is vice-president and program chairman. Dr. Barney Spielholz is vocational guidance chairman.

Santa Hunts Former Residents
To Give Them Stock Dividends

Santa Claus is playing detective this season. He is looking for two former Springfield residents, Thomas F. Murray, with no address given, and Wetta S. Rice of 14 Henshaw ave. Purpose of the search is to give dividend checks, cash surrenders and other interests due previously to them from stock purchases made many years ago and apparently long since forgotten. This lack of attention can be checked and many of them are worth money, even if their value is close to $150,000,000.

St. Nick and his reindeer are also looking for two former Summit residents, Irene K. Clark of 45 River rd. and William Haddon, 100-104 Boulevard. They are among the 30,000 stockholders sought throughout the world for large corporations in order that they may receive their dividends.

According to Travers Co., there are over a billion lost stockholders in America who do not know they have more than $500,000,000 coming to them. Many forget about their holdings during the lean years when no dividends were paid; others are unaware they inherited the issuing company has been liquidated or has changed its name. More than 5,000 persons, in the past few years, have received sums ranging from $25 to $4,000 by having Travers retrace their old securities which had been considered worthless. Another 200,000 stockholders were found by Travers since forgotten. This lack of attention can be checked and many of them are worth money, even if their value is close to $150,000,000.

STILL FEEL TIRED?

If you take vitamins and still feel tired, your trouble may be due to iron-poor blood. Vitamins alone can't build up iron-poor blood. But Geritol can! Because just two Geritol tablets, or two tablespoons of liquid Geritol, contain 7 vitamins plus twice the iron in 1 lb. of calves' liver.

In only one day Geritol-iron is in your bloodstream beginning to carry strength and energy to every part of your body. Check with your doctor, and if you've been feeling tired because of iron-poor blood, take Geritol liquid or tablets, every day. You'll feel stronger fast in just 7 days or money back from Geritol.

Official To Speak On Soccer Rules At AAZA Meeting

James T. Kevill, chairman of the referees' committee of the Southern New York State Soccer Association, will speak tonight at 7:30 at a meeting of the Chaim Weizmann Chapter of AAZA youth organization, at Temple Beth Ahm, Springfield. His topic will be "Soccer and Its Rules."

Born in Scotland, Kevill played competitive soccer there when he was 11 years old. He later played professional soccer in England, Israel and the United States until becoming a referee in 1951, associated with the United States Soccer Football Association.

In 1962, he gave up his whistle to serve on the U. S. Referees' Committee. Kevill is responsible for the recruitment, coaching, and examination of all referees in New York. In addition, he has conducted many soccer rules clinics for teams, leagues and schools.

Preceding the program, a short business meeting will be conducted by Steve Hodess, chapter president. Refreshments will be served. All interested boys of high school age are invited.

Roselle Park Youth Will Face Jury On 3 Robbery Charges

Frank N. Capolo, 19, of 125 W. Clay ave., Roselle Park, was held for action of a Union County grand jury in Springfield Municipal Court Monday night on three charges of armed robbery, and sentence on a lesser charge was deferred. He also was fined $80 on three motor vehicle charges.

Through his attorney, Roselle Park Mayor Herbert M. Barnes, the youth pleaded not guilty to all charges. He was released on a total of $5,000 bail — $1,500 on each of the armed robbery charges and $500 on the fourth charge, which was failure to give a good account of himself, or disorderly conduct. He appeared before Magistrate Max Sherman.

The motor-vehicle summonses for which he was fined were: leaving a motor vehicle with motor running and parking brakes not set, $30; driving the wrong way on Farm rd., a one-way street, $40, and parking in the wrong direction on the same road, $10.

Capolo is the bandit suspect who, police said, covered one eye with a patch and robbed the Atlantic Paint Co. on Rt. 22 in Springfield twice, and the American Host Motor Lodge, also on Rt. 22, all at gun point. When he was arrested, however, police found only a toy gun in his car. The arrest occurred early Thanksgiving morning at the motor lodge, where police had placed a lookout after it had been robbed, allegedly by Capolo, Nov. 15.

A bandit with a patch over one eye reportedly was the robber, and a bandit of that description reportedly had robbed the point store Nov. 12 and again Nov. 24.

Police on the holiday morning watched as Capolo allegedly stopped his car, got out, left the car motor running and walked toward the motor lodge entrance. They converged on him, and he was arrested. They reported finding in his car a black eye patch and a black metal toy pistol that looked like a German Luger.

The disorderly conduct charge was filed against him in connection with the Thanksgiving incident. Magistrate Sherman deferred sentencing until Dec. 21, directing the court clerk to obtain a pre-sentencing report on Capolo.

Wrong-Way Car Causes Accident

A Glen Ridge woman was charged with careless driving in Springfield Friday, after she reportedly drove east in the west-bound lanes of Rt. 22 and was involved in a three-car accident that resulted in injury to another driver.

Injured was Isadore Pompalone, 44, of Scotch Plains, who complained of dizziness and head pain.

According to police, Hazel Phillips, 43, of Glen Ridge, drove down Hillside ave. to the highway and turned left into oncoming traffic. Her car hit one driven by Pompalone, and a car driven westbound by Lt. Garbow, 35, of Plainfield then hit the Pompalone car in the rear.

LEADER PROFILE

AUGUSTUS B. ANDERSON

"I'm really the product of the people around me," Augustus B. Anderson stated the other morning.

Anderson has been an accountant for Bunnell Brothers, Inc. on Mountain ave. in Springfield, since 1932, and served as secretary of the Springfield Board of Education for 27 years until his resignation in June. He was appointed to the board last week to fill the vacancy left by Dr. Benjamin H. Josephson, who resigned.

He attributes his success in a variety of activities through the years to "the various friends, acquaintances and associates — to those who have been very good to me."

The gray-haired, soft-spoken gentleman, who possesses a genuinely wry humor, explained that when he resigned as secretary at the beginning of the summer, after so many years, he began to feel "footloose and fancy free. We planned to take a trip to the Canadian Rockies—we'd never been there before and we really wanted to see as much as we could.

"But," he shrugged and smiled, "I've now been appointed to fill a vacancy until February. Now what are my plans? I can't say I'm footloose and fancy free anymore."

AS LONG AS he's no longer footloose and fancy free, would he consider running for a longer term, he was asked. "I have no plans either way," he said quietly. "We'll have to see what happens when February rolls around — until the next annual election on the ninth."

In Anderson's letter of resignation to the school board, he mentioned that his service . . . "to the various boards and the Springfield public has been most pleasant and satisfactory to me. Covering quite a span of years, the changes I have seen and in which I have participated have been many, and for the good."

Anderson leaned back in his chair, made a bridge of his fingers, and rested his chin on them. He was nostalgically remembering where it all began . . . and how.

Born in Vineland, Sept. 21, 1888, Anderson started in the banking business. "My father was a cashier and director in the bank in Vineland. Then we moved to Wildwood, where I became an organization clerk, and then to Westfield, where I worked in the People's National Bank, as it was called at that time."

In 1916, Anderson was married to the former Lura Belkap-Quackenbush.

THE FOLLOWING YEAR, he "went into government work. After the war," he recalled, "we lived in Roselle for a short time. We were trying to find a place to settle down in — we had three children by this time. But we couldn't buy or buy, times were so bad."

"We came to Springfield by sheer accident," Anderson mused. "You see, at that time, I was working in New York. John Crawford, who was comptroller in addition to holding other offices, suggested that I might find a house in a small town like Springfield, N.J. He was a great one for small towns."

"I was about ready to suggest Springfield to my wife, when she interrupted me by stating that she had found a house she wanted to buy. Some of her friends, she said, had sent her to see Robert S. Bunnell, a real estate man in Springfield. He had taken her to see a house on Maple ave., and it was just beautiful . . . Well, we bought the house in 1922, and that was that."

Anderson spoke briefly of the year-and-a-half he spent in a tuberculosis sanitarium.

"When I was released from the hospital," he said, "Mr. Bunnell offered me a position here. That was 35 years ago, and I've been here ever since."

"IN THOSE EARLY YEARS, Springfield was at a turning point in the business life of the community. Originally, I served as assistant to the Rev. William Hoppaugh, retired pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Springfield. He had a number of school district positions; four, in fact, to be exact. He was township collector and treasurer and secretary and custodian. And he steered this town beautifully."

"I've always been an active Republican in this town. Early in 1931, I was asked to come down to the Town Hall. Al Trundell and others wanted to appoint me treasurer of the town. They were sitting the first of January, 1932. And that was that."

Anderson held that office until 1949. "From that point on, I was appointed custodian of monies. Mr. Hoppaugh was ill, and handling the business, the school districts, the payrolls, was becoming too big a job to handle alone.

"Payrolls were increasing in large numbers — now, of course, they have payroll machines. But expenses were also increasing.

Report From Trenton

by State Senator Nelson F. Stamler (R-Un.)

What happens to a child who needs a few days' care and housing when an emergency arises in the home due to fire, hospitalization of an only parent — or, sometimes, parental neglect?

Until a few years ago, in Union County such children were placed in hospitals, or penal detention quarters, or even the homes of social workers. It was not uncommon for a social worker to get a phone call from the police at 2 or 3 a.m. and the request: "Can you put this child up in your home for a day or two? An emergency has come up, and there's no place else we can go."

More recently, through the good graces of Janet Memorial Home of Elizabeth (a private institution) and the coordination of several welfare agencies, provisions have been made for such emergency cases.

An Emergency Shelter Care Committee was formed by the Community Welfare Councils of Eastern Union County and Plainfield. The Janet Memorial Home agreed to accept children for care and shelter in these emergency cases.

Unfortunately, the county government found itself in the peculiar position of being prohibited by law from paying its full share of the cost. And for the greater part of 1964, the Janet Home has been carrying the financial burden of caring for children sent to it by local county and even state agencies.

The problem was that according to state law, the county government could provide no more than $8,000 a year for temporary emergency care for children. When I was advised of the problem, I introduced legislation in the State Senate in April to increase to $18,000 the amount a county may appropriate for the purpose. The bill was passed in the Senate 14 days later. The Assembly passed the bill May 18, and it went to the governor. He finally signed it five months later.

Nevertheless, in 1965 the Emergency Shelter Care Committee will have a continuing financial difficulty. A major reason is that a state agency — the Bureau of Children's Services — has been sending dependent and neglected children to the Committee for care. But the state has refused to accept the financial responsibility for these children, until after the Bureau of Children's Services completes its case investigations. This usually takes some days. Meanwhile, the state fails to provide the necessary support.

Unless somebody in Trenton faces up to the responsibility, the problem will get more severe. The pathetic thing is, this kind of bureaucratic entanglement and evasion of responsibility is increasing the proper care of children in times of emergency, when the children need the most care of all.

HOLIDAY THOUGHTS

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all good Republicans and conservative Democrats.

After reading your Dec. 3rd Democratic "Letters to the Editor" and "Leader Profile," I feel moved to write in defense of "loyal Republicans" in Springfield.

Unfortunately, the GOP facts of town are that a wide and vicious split exists between two factions. Which is the minority and who are the majority will be determined in the Republican primary fight April 20, 1965, for committee seats.

Unfortunately, again, for the incumbent GOP (for they, in fact, lost Hardgrove's seat to Bloom) this fight will further and more devastatingly exhaust funds of the GOP down the drain and expose their weak points from the inside.

I don't have to know what they are doing currently, I know the "nature of the beast" and that they can't afford to have a ballot position against them. I have already had printed fact files made for a town-wide distribution regarding their recent court case against me.

How can the present problem

VA Is Seeking Veterans Eligible For G.I. Insurance

More than a million-and-a-half veterans may not know that they are eligible for the reopening of G.I. insurance. P. M. Nugent, manager, VA Regional Office, Newark, said this week.

They are those whose disabilities, although adjudged to be service-connected, are so slight that they do not rate monthly compensation payments. The fact, however, that their disabilities are service-connected makes them eligible to apply for National Service Life Insurance, he said.

The VA has no way to trace these individuals to notify them of their eligibility. Veterans receiving compensation checks, on the other hand, can be notified through the mails. The majority of the remaining million-and-a-half veterans have had complete touch with VA, since there was no reason to notify the agency of their whereabouts. VA records show, however, that 1,690,000 veterans of World War II or the Korean Conflict period have been adjudged service-connected in a non-compensable category, Nugent noted.

The VA is enlisting the aid of patriotic, military and other service organizations in an effort to reach these veterans who may otherwise never learn of the opportunity to obtain the G.I. insurance coverage that they either failed to take during service or allowed to lapse all or in part since that time.

These veterans are probably entitled to the lowest insurance rates under the reopening plan since their physical impairments are of such a slight nature, Nugent said.

Jews Open Homes To Foreign Students

Foreign students from 14 different countries have been invited to the homes of members of Temple Shalom Synagogue tomorrow evening for dinner preceding services at the Temple. The evening service is being dedicated to the "growth of international understanding." Rabbi Israel Dresner will preach a sermon entitled "The Family of Man." An Oneg Shabbat will follow, and the entire congregation is invited to meet the guests.

Mailing

(Continued from Page 1) that all mail include the local ZIP code number — 07081 — in the return address. "People should keep Christmas lists current. They should check the return addresses of all cards they receive to make sure they have the correct addresses in their little black books, and then add ZIP codes to their listings," he said.

ZIP coded mail generally moves in a more direct route and is handled fewer times before reaching its destination, he added. This not only speeds handling of the mails, but saves the Post Office Department a considerable sum of money thereby enabling the postal service to maintain the present low postal rates.

Postmaster Del Vecchio noted that while the Christmas season is the biggest single volume period of the year for the post office, the entire country is in the midst of a mail explosion all throughout the year. During the past year six billion more pieces of mail were handled than were processed three years ago, he noted.

"You can see why the post office needs your cooperation in the use of ZIP codes on all mails," he concluded.

tion is invited to meet the guests. The youths are students at Fairleigh Dickinson, Seton Hall, and Drew universities. They are all non-Jews, and they come from Argentina, Australia, Brazil, Canada, China, Haiti, India, Iran, Japan, Korea, Nigeria, Sweden and Uganda. Mrs. Benjamin Josephson is chairman of the evening, assisted by Mrs. Philip Ames.

Tonight at 8:30 the highlight of the Temple will show a film about Russian Jewry entitled, "The Price of Silence," featuring Edward G. Robinson. There will also be a short documentary film of the silent protest march by the N.Y. Board of Rabbis against Soviet anti-Semitism which took place last week.

In addition to the film, taped interviews will be presented including an address by Senator-elect Robert F. Kennedy. Because of the importance of the topic, it was pointed out, the meeting is open to everyone.

Brother's Keeper

With the observance of Human Rights Week scheduled to begin today, we can well look for guidance to the oldest book in our culture. It stresses that each of us is his brother's keeper.

The week-long observance is based on two specific designations, that of today as Human Rights Day by the United Nations and that of Tuesday as Bill of Rights Day by the U. S. Congress and President.

Basic to any understanding of human rights is the conviction that a man, or woman, should earn the rights of freedom and equality of opportunity merely by being born — and not into any one group or in any one country.

Appropriately enough, it is the UN which plays a major role in human rights observances. Only through international cooperation, and international action, can we ever hope to achieve progress toward freedom for the long-neglected peoples who are tearing apart the continent of Africa, for the voiceless subjects of authoritarian regimes in Russia, the satellite nations, Spain, Cuba, the vast concentration camp which is China.

The problem of achieving freedom for the oppressed, but no longer forgotten, minorities in our own country remains primarily our own responsibility. Napoleon destroyed the ghetto walls in much of Western Europe; many of ours still remain.

We would do well, also, to remember another Biblical admonition: as we judge, so will we be judged in our turn. Most Americans are members of a small white minority in an overwhelmingly colored world.

2 Eagle Awards To Be Presented

Boy Scout Troop 70, sponsored by the Springfield First Presbyterian Church, will hold a court of honor at the James Caldwell School at 7:30 tonight, to present awards earned by the scouts since last spring.

Mayor Robert Hardgrove and scout officials will present the awards which include two Eagle Scout awards. The program will include skills by each patrol. Parents and friends are invited to attend.

The troop will participate in the N. J. Association for Battered Children Yudd drive by distributing collection boxes as part of their Community Citizenship program.

Plans have been completed for the troop's weekend camping trip to Scout Area Camp near Boonton, which begins tomorrow and ends Sunday.

Hank Trovino, Cubmaster of Cub Scout Pack 70 met with Troop 70 committee at the monthly meeting last Thursday night. Troop 70 boys, registered in the past year, and would welcome new volunteers to serve on Scout Pack Committee. Help carry out their assignments.

Publicly challenge any individuals are urged to observe the Friday deadline of this newspaper for other than spot news. Thursday is also better. Include your name, address and phone number.

Assault On Policeman Leads To Indictment

Joseph Fitzsimmons, 18, of 116 Linden ave., Springfield was indicted by a Union County grand jury last Thursday for allegedly assaulting Patrolman Rees J. Powell of Springfield Oct. 25.

The policeman was attempting to arrest the youth as a disorderly person at the time of the alleged assault.

OUR DEADLINE is noon Friday for an organization, social, church news.

Dec. 24 Deadline
For Participation
In Board Election

All persons who wish to vote at the next annual school election of the Union County Regional High School District, to be held on Feb. 2, 1965, must either be permanently registered in the Signature Copy Register (Permanent Registration), or must do so between now and 40 days prior to the date of the school election. The last day for registering for the Regional High School Board election is Dec. 24. Board members will be elected in Springfield, Clark and Berkeley Heights. Every citizen 21 or older who will have been a resident of this state for at least six months, and of the county at least 30 days before the election, will be entitled to vote for all officers and upon all questions which may be submitted to a vote of the people. If they are not already registered lists, they may do so at the office of the local municipal clerk or at the office of the County Board of Elections, 53 Railway Ave., Elizabeth. The office hours of the County Board of Elections are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Monday through Friday. If a voter has changed his address, he must notify the municipal clerk or the County Board of Elections at least 40 days prior to the election. This may be done by mail. The secretary of the Board of Election will not be able to register anyone, such registration must be done by the local municipal clerk or by the County Board of Elections.

Ceylonese Teacher Scheduled For Visit

In January the Union County Regional High School District will be host for a visit of Hettiarachchi Don Perera of Ceylon. Perera is a science teacher in Nikeweratiya and will come to this country as a participant in the International Teacher Development Program (the Fullbright-Hays Act). He is one of 12 teachers from several foreign countries who will be visiting the state of New Jersey. Under this program, more than 5,700 teachers, principals and other educators have been brought to this country from more than 83 foreign lands. This teacher training program is aimed at creating an atmosphere of mutual understanding and respect among educators in many countries of the free world. It is administered by the U. S. Office of Education in cooperation with the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs, Department of State and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Candidates for these grants are nominated by their ministries of education with the concurrence of the American embassies in their country. Applicants are selected on the basis of their educational experience, and all must be able to speak and understand English. During his stay with the Union County Regional District, Perera will be the guest of George M. Parclay, assistant science coordinator, at his home in North Plainfield.

Madison Ski Club
Names 2 Officials

William Rummel of Summit, president of the Madison Ski Club, has announced the appointment of James Young, Randolph Township, as club ski instructor, and Donald Young, Millington, as vice chairman. James Young, a native of Hawaii, is a newcomer to the club. He is a certified Canadian ski instructor and is a member of the staff of the Mount Snow Ski School, Manchester, Vermont. He also serves as swimming instructor. Young learned to ski in Canada and in 1956 was an alternate on the U. S. Olympic Team for the downhill event.

Planning Confab In Trenton Feb. 2

TRENTON — Local planning in New Jersey will be the theme of the eighth annual State Planning Conference to be held in the Stacy Trent Hotel here Feb. 2.

Robert A. Roe, Commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development, said the deep interest exhibited by municipal officials in many aspects of planning at the local level prompted the theme.

Holiday Deadlines

The Christmas and New Year's editions of this newspaper will be printed two days ahead of schedule. Strict adherence to the Friday noon deadline both weeks will facilitate publication of organizational, social and other news items.

FRIDAY DEADLINE All items other than spot news, submitted to this newspaper, should be in our office by Friday to insure publication in the next issue.

AAA CLUB FORECAST

Many Winter Breakdowns Anticipated

The New Jersey Automobile Club (AAA) this week forecasts a record number of automobile breakdowns this winter.

The emergency road service department of the club reported that "unusually early cold weather had gotten ERS off to a flying start" among the AAA Club's 38,000 members in its franchise area of Essex, Union and Morris Counties. On two cold days—Nov. 22 and Dec. 1, the department handled hundreds of calls above the expected number, it reported.

"On this basis, weather forecasts and past experience," said Rene Vialle, assistant general manager, "we should pass last winter's three-county record of 13,279 calls in December, January and February by 10 per cent."

The estimated increase was "exclusive of additional calls due to normal membership growth," he said.

"Our national surveys," said Vialle, "show that 70 per cent of cars on the road are not properly maintained—weak batteries, poor spark plugs, carburetors, etc. At the slightest drop in temperature, the very poorly-maintained engines fall first."

"When it reaches 15 degrees, we're at what we call the 'mass breakdown' level, because every engine except the efficiently-operating one is likely to fail. Those are the days when garages and our switchboard are flooded with calls, and industrial and school absenteeism rise sharply."

"At those times, it's impossible to rescue all stranded motorists without major delays. There just aren't that many service stations in existence."

Vialle said that a major new cause of engine failure has been "the purchase of cut-rate batteries, which do not have the capacity needed to turn a motor over in cold weather."

He declared that a motorist can avoid winter engine problems by having his battery checked for the condition of each cell, having clean spark plugs and points, motor oil with cold weather viscosity, good-battery cables and ignition wires and checking for possible short circuits.

Close For Week After 'Camelot'

The Paper Mill Playhouse in Millbury will take a one-week vacation with the closing performance of "Camelot," the Lerner-Loewe musical, Dec. 20.

It was originally scheduled to close this Sunday, but was extended because of ticket demand. Mergot Moser, John Cullum and Stuart Damon are the stars.

"Enter Laughing," starring Alan Mowbray, Lynn Bari and Dick Kallman, will re-open the Paper Mill the day after Christmas. There will be shows at 8 and 9:30 p.m., and special holiday performances Dec. 27 at 8 and 9 p.m. The show will play through Jan. 10.

By order of the Township Committee of the Township of Springfield, New Jersey.

ELDONORE H. WORTHINGTON

Spfd. Leader—December 10, 1964. (P.O. #16,28)

TOWNSHIP OF SPRINGFIELD AN ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING A LOCAL BOARD OF HEALTH IN AND FOR THE TOWNSHIP OF SPRINGFIELD, IN THE COUNTY OF UNION AND STATE OF NEW JERSEY.

SECTION 1. CREATION OF BOARD OF HEALTH. There is hereby established in and for the Township of Springfield in the County of Union pursuant to and in accordance with the provisions of Title 26, Chapter 3, Article 1, Subdivision 3 of the Revised Statutes of New Jersey (C. 26:3-3 et seq.) as amended, a local Board of Health.

SECTION 2. QUALIFICATIONS. The Board of Health shall be composed of seven (7) members, of whom at least one shall be a physician licensed to practice in the State of New Jersey, another shall be a resident of the Township of Springfield, and the remaining five (5) shall be residents of the Township of Springfield.

SECTION 3. DUTIES AND EMPLOYMENT. Each member of such Board shall be appointed by the governing body of the Township of Springfield. The Board shall employ a secretary, Registrar and Attorney at Law, and such other personnel as it may deem necessary to carry into effect the powers vested in it.

SECTION 4. VACANCIES. Any vacancy occurring in the membership of the Board shall be filled in the same way and manner as provided for the appointment, but for the unexpired portion of the term only.

SECTION 5. ORGANIZATION DATE. The Board shall organize annually on or before the first Wednesday in January. It shall elect a President and Vice Chairman from among its members.

SECTION 6. RULES AND REGULATIONS. The Board shall adopt such rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary to govern its procedure. It shall meet regularly at least once a month and at such other times as the Board may determine or at the call of the Chairman.

SECTION 7. MEETINGS. A meeting of the Board at which official action is to be taken on any matter within its jurisdiction shall be open to the public. The Board shall keep minutes of all its proceedings showing the vote of each member upon each question or if any member shall be absent or fail to vote, the minutes shall indicate such fact and it shall keep a record of its official acts and proceedings which shall be a public record.

SECTION 8. SALARY. The members of the Board shall be compensated at the salary as set by the Salary Ordinance of the Township of Springfield. No compensation shall be paid to members for special meetings nor to any member for any regular meetings which he does not attend.

SECTION 9. POWERS AND DUTIES. The Board shall administer and enforce all Health Ordinances of the Township now in effect and any Ordinance adopted by the Board of Health or any prior Board of Health and shall perform such other duties as may be required by the Board of Health of New Jersey now in effect or which may hereafter be enacted.

SECTION 10. CARE AND PROTECTION OF RECORDS AND PROPERTY. The records and property of the existing Board of Health and all records and property of the Board of Health now in effect or which may hereafter be enacted shall be transferred to the Board of Health established by this Ordinance.

SECTION 11. PERSONAL DUTIES. The Board of Health shall have the honor and compensation of every appointive office and shall have all authority granted to it by the laws of the State of New Jersey and the Statutes of the State of New Jersey.

SECTION 12. SUBSEQUENT RESOLUTIONS—All matters hereinafter provided for in this Ordinance shall be determined by resolutions to be adopted by the Board of Health.

SECTION 13. REPEAL. All Ordinances or parts of Ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby expressly repealed, except that nothing herewith contained shall be deemed or construed to repeal any Health Ordinance heretofore adopted by any former local Board of Health, which shall continue in full force and effect until such Board of Health is separately constituted by or the Board of Health now in effect or which may hereafter be enacted.

SECTION 14. EFFECT OF ORDINANCE. If any section, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase in this Ordinance is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or invalid, such declaration or determination shall not effect the remainder of this Ordinance.

SECTION 15. LEGALITY. This Ordinance shall take effect January 1, 1965, after final passage and publication in accordance with law.

ELDONORE H. WORTHINGTON Township Clerk Spfd. Leader—December 10, 1964. (P.O. #16,28)

Holiday Deadlines

The Christmas and New Year's editions of this newspaper will be printed two days ahead of schedule. Strict adherence to the Friday noon deadline both weeks will facilitate publication of organizational, social and other news items.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

Students at Union Junior College, Cranford, will be hosts next Thursday at a Christmas party for 42 children at the Cerebral Palsy Center in Cranford.

Goldstein Piano Recital Slated At Elizabeth YM-YWHA Sunday

Bernard Goldstein, teacher of music in the Linden public school system, will perform Sunday in the first of a series of free public musical programs at the Elizabeth YM-YWHA. The first of a "Little Concert Series" will begin at 8 p.m. in the "Y" auditorium at 1034 E. Jersey st. Refreshments will be served afterwards. The recital will include Bach's Prelude and Fugue, No. 17, the first movement of Beethoven's "Sonata," Opus 31, Beethoven's "Sonata Feltre," Opus 13, Brahms' "Capriccio" in G Minor, Opus 113, "Romance" by Schuman, Gerwin's Prelude No. 1 and Poulenc's "Mouvements Perpetuum 1 and 2."

In addition to teaching in Linden, Goldstein also teaches at Temple Beth El in Elizabeth. He is accompanied on four instruments. At a recent recital he performed in National Guild of Piano Teachers auditions and has been a member of the guild for five years. He is a graduate of Wilkes College in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., with a degree in music education.

Other programs in the series will be held in February and March of next year, according to Albert Kessler, chairman of the adult education committee of the "Y." He described the concert series as "a new cultural adventure for the area designed to help meet the growing demands of a population whose educational level is constantly rising." A secondary purpose, he said, is to afford area artists the opportunity to be heard.

"By presenting good artists and great music in an air of informality," Kessler said, "we hope to make new contributions to the cultural betterment of the entire community."

The series is being co-sponsored by the Adult Education Committee and the Women's Division of the "Y." Mrs. Seymour Spivack is division chairman for this Sunday's recital.

Moliere Comedy A Good Start At Morristown Arena Theater

By WILLIAM H. BRUCKER
If New York has its off-Broadway shows, we in New Jersey no longer have to feel deprived, for in the past two weeks there has been generated an off-Millburn theater in Morristown that could literally explode North Jersey theatergoers into the air applauding.
Converting an automobile show room into an intriguing drama structure that seats 200, the management and the talents of the Morristown Theater at 85 Market st. are providing weekend audiences with an exhilarating and rousing reading of Moliere's "The Imaginary Invalid."
This was Moliere's last play and he cast himself as the hypochondriac. His commentary on the medical profession primarily and the legal profession, too, doesn't often differ from present day sentiments. He clothes his plots with such droll humor and downright buffoonery that his frankest and most splashing satire brings only amused enjoyment.
Michael Sisk, the director, has used the Miles Malleon translation that updates this charming play into the very milieu of our times. Considering that it was first performed in 1673, it is exciting to see how well formed and well-paced it is to our present taste and to see that Moliere, the satirist, was a forerunner of the so-called avant garde "Theater of the Absurd."
The final scene certainly had a profound effect on Bertold

Brecht's "Three Penny Opera." Sisk has gathered about him a superb cast that lends itself so well to arena theater. When Sheldon Baron, as the invalid, confides to the audience, he figuratively brings the view right into the play. Sisk casts Mylo Quam in three roles, as an avuncular advocate, a doltish young physician and an eager therapist. Saving money was the least motivation, because it added to the unpredictability of the farce.
Howard Green as Cleanse and Paulene Reynolds as Angelique schillie as the young lawyer, and Margery Field is just right as Louise, the little sister, in one of the great little sister roles in all of drama literature.
Similar excitement is anticipated in Ionesco's "The Chair" and "The Bald Soprano" which open Dec. 11 for two weekends. Then Sheridan's "The Rivals" closes out the winter season with three weekends of performance.
It is a pleasant drive to the Morristown square and certainly a worthwhile excursion for such theater.

WEEDER'S DIGEST

By Your Rutgers Garden Reporter

By Your Rutgers GARDEN REPORTER SOAK TO BE SURE
"Soak everything down."
This may be about the last you'll hear from this corner this season about late fall insurance for your shrubs and perennials.
The advice comes from Don Lacey, home horticulture specialist at Rutgers.
He offers it because he thinks many growers may be fooled by the appearance of the soil. Pump, maybe, but not really wet down where it counts—ground the roots.
Mr. Lacey reminds you again that if you can't use the hose in your town, you can save rinse water from the kitchen and laundry. Pour it, bucket by bucket, around your plants, playing favorites with the ones that are the most important to you in your landscape plan.
LOOSE MULCH

Put off your soaking too late and you may find that your water will run off the frozen soil.
You can begin to mulch with salt hay or other loose stuff now. This will help hold moisture and also keep the soil from warming up during the day.
Also while the soil is soft and before you get caught up in the Christmas rush you can drive the stakes to support your burley windbreaks.
Or if you like the looks of evergreen boughs as windbreaks, string wires between stakes to support them. It's hard to think of a better use for a used Christmas tree.
Wait until the ground is really cold before you pile mulch on plants such as primroses, foxgloves and Canterbury bells. Heavy mulch could trap heat around the crowns and make the crowns rot.

PUZZLE NO. 841

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:
I always wanted to take up horseback riding, so recently I went to a local stable and took lessons. My instructor says I'm coming along fine, but my husband objects. One day he says it's dangerous; the next day he says it's costly. It was then I reminded him about his golf and tennis. You see, we DO have the money!
One Sunday I took him to the stables and made him watch me. He complained of an awful headache and went home. Bob, the stableboy, gave me a lift home.
Now my husband says I ride well and should continue, but I feel this isn't really what he meant to say. How can I make him talk?

Dear Reader:
Many girls feel this way when meeting their future laws for the first time. But they shouldn't.
For a girl who never had a close family of her own, you are indeed fortunate to be marrying into one. It is not necessary or even acceptable to push yourself on them. They are ready and willing to accept you as you are if you will only relax, be friendly, kind, natural and accept them. And it's not hard. Try it and see. Remember, you both have something in common. You both love the same guy!

Dear Amy:
We have friends who are stuck-up. One of them teases her hair and thinks it's very gorgeous. But it really isn't! She thinks she's beautiful. But she really isn't. She also cheats at ball and every other game we play. But she says she doesn't! How can we tell her to act and look like we do?
A & B
Just tell her. But I doubt that your well meaning efforts will do any good. A girl who isn't and says she 'doan't' needs more of a job than you can give her to deflate her ego.

New Minimum Standard Deduction Will Cut Taxes

(This is one of a continuing series of releases from the Newark District Office of the Internal Revenue Service.)
By FRANK S. TURRETT JR., Newark District Director, Internal Revenue Service.
The new minimum standard deduction provision written into the 1964 tax law will cut tax bills for an estimated 13 million people who earn less than $10,000 a year. This provision will free single individuals of any tax liability until their income reaches $900. Under the old law, tax was due when income reached $675.

For a married couple with no additional exemptions filing a joint return, there will be no tax to pay until their income reaches $1,600. Previously, these couples had to pay tax on income over $1,250.
Tax returns must still be filed by everyone, single or married, under 65 years of age whose income was $600 or more even if no tax is due. Individuals 65 or older on the first day of the tax year must file returns if their income was $1,200 or more.
Returns must also be filed to secure a refund of taxes withheld from any amount of income.
The new minimum standard deduction amounts to $200 for a single person or for a married couple filing jointly plus $100 for each allowable exemption up to a ceiling of $1,000. Allowable exemptions include those for the taxpayer, his or her spouse, dependents, old age and blindness.

A single person would thus be allowed a $200 deduction while a single blind person would be allowed $400.
A married couple under 65, no children, filing jointly would be allowed $400. This same couple over 65 would have a $600 deduction. A married couple, five children, filing jointly, would be allowed $800. For a married person filing a separate return, this deduction would amount to $100 plus $100 for each allowable exemption up to a ceiling of $500.
Taxpayers now have three options in claiming deductions. They may itemize them, use the regular 10% standard deduction, or use the new minimum standard deduction.
When husband and wife file separately, they must use the same option. One cannot itemize deductions and the other use either of the standard deductions. One cannot use the

NOTICE OF HEARING
At a regular meeting of the Municipal Council of the Town of Irvington, New Jersey, held the 24th day of November, 1964, the following ordinance was introduced and adopted, which ordinance was taken up on its first reading and passed:
AN ORDINANCE PROHIBITING THE ILLEGAL SALE AND USE OF GLUE CONTAINING A SOLVENT HAVING THE PROPERTY OF RELEASING TOXIC VAPORS OR FUMES.
Section 1. No person shall, for the purpose of causing a condition of nuisance, irritation, excitement, annoyance, or the fuming of his lungs or nervous system, intentionally emit or inhale the fumes from any glue containing a solvent which has the property of releasing toxic vapors or fumes. Provided, that nothing in this section shall be interpreted as applying to the installation of any aesthetic or ornamental purposes.
Section 2. As used in this Ordinance the word "person" shall include individuals, partnerships, corporations, associations, executors, administrators, guardians, trustees, and agents, and the phrase "glue containing a solvent having the property of releasing toxic vapors or fumes" shall include any glue, paint, or other adhesive containing one or more of the following chemical compounds:
acetone
benzene
butyl alcohol
ethyl alcohol
ethylene dichloride
isopropyl alcohol
methyl alcohol
methyl ethyl ketone
pentachlorophenol
petroleum ether
toluene
Section 3. No individual shall, for the purpose of violating Section 1, use, or possess for the purpose of so using, any glue containing a solvent having the property of releasing toxic vapors or fumes.
Section 4. No person, except a person who is, at the time of such sale, actually employed by or engaged in operating a bona fide commercial establishment at a fixed location, shall sell to any other person, in bulk or in a container of glue containing a solvent having the property of releasing toxic vapors or fumes, any glue of such glue not made in or from such an establishment as hereby prohibited.
Section 5. No person shall sell, give, or otherwise transfer to other persons, under the age of eighteen, except with the written consent of the parent or guardian of such other person, any glue containing a solvent having the property of releasing toxic vapors or fumes. Provided, that nothing contained in these regulations shall be considered applicable to the sale of a glue in a container of any size which is immediately in conjunction with the sale of a model kit requiring the use of glue, or the assembly of a model. Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be applicable to the transfer of a glue or other container of such glue from a parent to his child or from a child to his parent.
Section 6. Each person who, in one transaction or in two or more transactions closely connected in time, sells to any other person, two or more containers of glue containing a solvent having the property of releasing toxic vapors or fumes, shall upon the occurrence of the second or subsequent transaction, require such other person to exhibit means of identification of himself, and shall record in a register conforming with requirements established by the Chief of Police the name, address, and description of such other person. Such record shall be kept for a period of not less than six months and shall be available for inspection during normal business hours by officers and members of the Irvington Police Department.
Section 7. Each of the provisions and sections of this Ordinance are severable, and if any provision shall be declared to be unconstitutional or invalid, the remaining provisions shall not be affected but shall remain in full force and effect.
Section 8. Any person who violates any provisions of this Ordinance shall, upon conviction, be punished by a fine not exceeding $200.00, and/or by imprisonment for not less than thirty days.
Section 9. This Ordinance shall take effect upon first passage and publication as provided by law.
NOTICE is hereby given that the Municipal Council of the Town of Irvington, New Jersey will meet on Tuesday evening December 22nd 1964, at 8:00 o'clock p.m. in the Council Chamber, Municipal Building, Civic Square, Irvington, New Jersey, at which time and place, or at any time and place to which such meeting is further adjourned, such ordinance shall from time to time be introduced, all persons interested will be given an opportunity to be heard concerning such ordinance and all such meeting or adjourned meetings of such ordinance will be further continued in second and final reading by the Council.

Theresa's Dad Found Ineligible For New Benefits

The Theresa Gargalowitz Fund jumped to $8,450 this week—an increase of $200, but not much of this will be left when the family pays a $6,000 bill it owes to Overlook Hospital, Phil Portnoy, chairman of the fund, reported this week.

Theresa is the 20-year-old college coed from Union, who has been in a coma since the car she was driving skidded into a bus on unused trolley tracks on Morris ave., Springfield, last April. The family began running up a bill at the hospital when Blue Cross benefits ran out two months ago.

Theresa's father had expected to receive benefits from a special emergency policy he carries through his employer, but he was declared ineligible in this case through a technicality. A special fund to help the family with medical expenses was begun by Portnoy and Frank Kenny. Almost half of the fund's present total was brought in by Union firemen in a house-to-house canvass.

The condition of Theresa, who was a freshman at Fairleigh Dickinson University at the time of the crash, has remained unchanged.

Contributions should be sent to: The Theresa Gargalowitz Fund, Box 4, Union.

Jet Engine Training For Howard Mayers

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Airman Apprentice Howard M. Mayers, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Mayers of 223 Milltown rd., Springfield, N. J., has been graduated from the Aviation Machinist's Mate Jet Engine School at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, here.

During the eight-week course Mayers studied jet fundamentals, jet power plants, operation and replacement and jet aircraft operation. The curriculum included disassembly and assembly of jet power plants and power plant procedures.

With less than three weeks remaining until Christmas, the Union County Tuberculosis and Health League this week issued a dual reminder to all Union County residents.

8 Area Residents Set To Perform In NSC Operetta

Eight area residents have roles in a production of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "Patience," by the Newark State College Opera Guild at 8:15 p.m. Saturday and 3:30 p.m. Sunday. The first performance was held last night.

The satire of the 1880's involves a rivalry between a "fleshy" poet and an "idyllic" poet for the affections of a millionaire. Patience is directed by Lawrence Davidson, member of the Metropolitan Opera Association and artist-in-residence at the college. Music is directed by Bertha Melnik, opera coach at the Juilliard School of Music, New York City, with the assistance of Jameson Holliman, New York concert pianist.

Playing leading roles from this area will be Pamela Zardecki, 323 Miner ter., Geraldine Castoral, 601 West Curtis st., and Eugene Marteen, 1107 Bower st., all Linden; Barry Weiss, 13 Garden oval, Springfield; and Maryann Eliott, 553 Potter ave., Union.

Area members of the ragorous maidens' chorus and officers of Dragon Guards in Kenilworth; and S. Erik Ors, a foreign exchange student from Sweden who lives in the men's residence at the college.

Gets 81 Days In Jail Following Accident

Preston Baldwin, 23, of Union, set fines of $30 for driving with an expired vehicle registration, $55 for driving an unsafe vehicle, $8 for a parking violation and $10 for contempt. The defendant pleaded guilty to all charges.

The victim was 18-year-old Lynn McKenna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McKenna, of 49 Laurel dr., Springfield, who was reported early this week to be still recovering from injuries at home.

Magistrate Max Sherman sentenced Baldwin, who lives at 325 Carnegie pl. in Union, to 80 days for driving without a license. He is serving a 10-day sentence for a low-car classification. Call 686-7700 before you forget!

Baldwin was unable to pay the fines, so the magistrate gave him credit for time served within jail. He gave him credit for time served of 15 miles per hour. The court set Dec. 21 for a hearing on Baldwin's appeal for driving before the accident. Police said Baldwin received a license after the accident. Police said Baldwin had a license.

Townley Women Sponsor Yule Program At Meeting

The December meeting of the Women's Club of Townley was held in Fellowship Hall of Townley Presbyterian Church Tuesday, Mrs. Bertram Stewart presided.

Two new members, Mrs. Frank Hayes and Mrs. Charles Cordier received congratulations and were welcomed to the club by the president.

A program of Christmas songs and music were presented by Mrs. Catherine Noel accompanied by Mrs. Mabel Grey. Mrs. Noel was a charter member of the Townley Women's Club before she moved from Union.

Mrs. J. C. Petreus was hospitably chairman. Assisted by Mrs. J. H. Bailey, Mrs. William Zerger, Mrs. John Gaydos, Mrs. John Leddie and Mrs. N. R. Maier. Cookies were donated by Mrs. William Ebert, Mrs. C. E. Foss, Mrs. John Gados, Mrs. J. T. Gordon, Mrs. Paul Ken, Mrs. Ferdinand Klump, Mrs. M. W. Martin, Mrs. James McGill, Mrs. J. E. Painter, Mrs. Alfred Venute and Mrs. Walter Wilson.

Dear hostesses were Mrs. John Denney and Mrs. J. T. Gordon. At a recent American Home meeting 18 bids were made for Rummels Hospital.

Ten boxes of cookies were sent to the State Federation Candy-Cookies Project for servicemen in isolated areas.

Twenty-three members and their husbands attended a performance of "The Messiah" at Newark State College. The musical evening was continued at the home of Mrs. J. E. Painter.

Ernest Buttery played his accompaniment, Wilber Hauck, his violin, and J. E. Painter, the organ. Christmas gifts were donated by the members to be given to the inmates of the Clinton Farms Reformatory for women. Mrs. Harry Keller and Mrs. R. L. Boltz were co-chairmen of this project.

Mrs. Floyd Conklin represented our president at the Springfield Women's Club "Presidents Day".

The club received a citation from The Sears-Roebuck Foundation for participation in the "Two Modern Studies" contest.

AREA SECRETARIES HOLD YULE PARTY IN UNION COUNTY

The Union County Chapter of the National Secretaries Association (International) held its regular monthly dinner meeting recently at the Winfield Scott Hotel.

Following the business meeting a Christmas program and hospitable hour were held to enable the members of the chapter to become acquainted with the area secretaries attending the last session of the educational program.

Mrs. John Schind, president, announced that due to the success of the four sessions on "Secretarial Procedures," the chapter plans to have future programs of an educational nature, designed to prepare secretaries to take the two-day, six-part examination, administered by the Institute for Certifying Secretaries held each year in May.

The examination is open to all secretaries, whether or not they are members of NSAI, and includes both men and women.

During the Christmas program gifts were presented for distribution to residents of the Alvin R. Eaton Memorial Home.

HENRY P. WESTER

Rename Wester Despite His Bid To Resign Post

Mountainside Police Commissioner Henry P. Wester has been unanimously elected president of the Essex-Union-Somerset Traffic Safety Council.

Wester, who has headed the organization as chairman since it was founded over a year ago, had submitted his resignation as chairman at a meeting of the council body held in the Scotch Plains Municipal Building last Thursday. The council rejected his resignation.

Wester said his resignation was based on a regulation in the Council's temporary bylaws which require that only elected public officials serving in public safety areas may serve as officers of the Council. Wester's term on Mountainside's Borough Council expires at the end of this month.

The Council indicated there would be some change in this structure to allow Wester to continue in the post. However, Wester committed himself to carry on "only for a limited time" and asked the Safety Council that he be relieved of the presidential duties "as soon as possible."

James C. Conlon, Union police commissioner, and Mayor Robert D. Hargrave Jr. of Springfield, were among those named to the board of directors.

Committee Plans Statewide Drive To Gain Support

The drive to gain the governorship for State Senator Nelson F. Stamler has moved into first gear with the formation of a Union County Young Republican Committee to draft the Union Township legislator for the GOP nomination.

Stamler said he was "highly complimented" by the act of the committee. He said that to his knowledge it was the only group that has supported him. Concerning his own hopes for the post, Stamler said: "We will discuss that at some other time." He said he is not campaigning for the governorship.

The group's leadership includes a number of young Republican leaders in the county. An announcement said the committee will seek signatures statewide on a petition calling for support of Stamler's candidacy. A news release circulated this week indicates that the organization hopes to spread into all other counties.

Frank Betz, of Scotch Plains, who is listed as chairman, said an analysis of last month's voting indicates a need for the Republicans to select a gubernatorial candidate who can attract support from all areas of the county as well as from non-Republicans. Stamler would be such a candidate, Betz stated.

The committee pledged to support "with equal and full enthusiasm any worthy Republican candidate who should emerge as the 1965 GOP choice." The group cited "destructive pre-primary gubernatorial battles in 1963, 1967 and 1961 as reasons for the GOP losses of the elections in those years.

Serving on the committee backing Stamler are the following Young GOP municipal chairmen: Donald Klein, Union Township; Martin Applebaum, Springfield; Joseph Benintente, Kenilworth; John M. Cullerton, the Roselle Park and Richard J. Irwin, Linden.

Red Light Violations Bring Fines To Four

Four motorists were fined by Municipal Court Monday night for running red lights. They are Chas. Gerson, 48, of Milburn, $20 fine; Maxine Cohen, 40, Livingston-15; Harriet B. Barrwell, 41, Short Hills, $16; and Susan L. Panzarino, 30, of Milburn, $10.

First State Bank 'Parade Of Dolls' Designed By Junior High Students

The annual "Parade Of Dolls" sponsored by the First State Bank of Union, will be on display at the Townley Branch, 1201 Morris Ave., for a two-week period, which began Monday and concludes next Friday.

The doll project is one in which 24 students of the home economics classes of Burnt Junior High School and Kawamech Junior High School participate, by designing and sewing a set of clothing for each doll entered. The project is under the supervision of Joseph Kordys, director of Home Economics in the Union Township schools system. Teachers supervising the students are Mrs. Lorraine Ferguson and Miss Peggy Mastromonte of Burnt Junior High and Mrs. Gertrude Golschick and Mrs. Patricia Baniecki of Kawamech Junior High.

Entries will be judged by Mrs. Alice Micone, instructor at Union High School; Miss Millie Fromm, of Terminal Mill Ends, and Charles V. Carman, vice president of the bank. Prizes will be awarded to the winning students on the basis of originality of design, neatness and overall effect.

PAINTING CLEAN-UP
"Cleaning up the house after the youngsters finger-paint is a nightmare," complains a mother.

This indicates the attitude of many parents. They know the children enjoy paints, clay or water colors, but they consider this type of play messy. However, with proper precautions, such as papers spread out on the floor, the clean-up job is not difficult.

In addition, parents frequently forget that youngsters could clean up after themselves. When cleaning up is not an imposed chore, the youngsters enjoy it, particularly if the children think of it as part of the whole play experience. Getting ready, using the paints and cleaning up can be a continuous part of the fun of painting.

Usually mother groans at the thought of letting the youngsters get out their materials. She is sure they will forget the protective measures needed such as the papers on the floor. She feels, too, that if she lets the youngsters clean up, she will have an even harder time cleaning up after the clean-up squad.

This is where some supervision and guidance is needed. The youngsters should do the job themselves—but under mother's watchful eye. And a sympathetic watchfulness gets much better results than pouncing on mistakes or nagging.

By EFFIE

"Now I've heard everything," said Mrs. K. who recently returned from the hospital. "My room-mate told me about a friend who had a gall stone removed. She carefully saved it and after a time had a hole bored through it and wore it on a silver chain around her neck!"

My neighbor said "I was quite amused the other day at the cosmetic counter of one of the large department stores, a young woman inquired the price of the smallest bottle of a foreign perfume. Upon being told the price, she said (much to the disgust of the sales clerk) "O, thank you! My birthday is only a month away. I guess I'll wait till then and have my boy friend give me a large size bottle for a present!"

After the summer dry spells most of the lawns in town were parched and brown. Little four-year-old Bert was riding with his Dad when they came to quite a green lawn. "Look, Dad!" exclaimed the youngster, "Why don't we borrow some grass from them?"

Mission Society Slates Yule Tea

The Women's Mission Society of the First Baptist Church of Westfield will hold its annual Christmas tea next Thursday at 1 p.m. in the church. The guest speaker, Mrs. Charles Matthews of the Cranford Baptist Church, will discuss "Christmas As Always."
The Baptist Belles, a handbell choir, will play several Christmas selections. The Women's Trio, composed of Mrs. Harold Hammar, Mrs. Harold Hill and Mrs. John Alpaugh Jr., will sing several holiday hymns.
A silver donation will be taken to help defray the cost of a bus to transport ladies from the Newark Baptist Home to the March luncheon meeting of the Women's Society.
Tea will be served after the program in the church lounge. Mrs. Albert S. Ayer, president, will welcome members and guests.

Merchants Advised On Dangers Of Fires

Merchants along "Main st." were urged this week to keep their stores free from fire hazards during the Christmas shopping season.

At Christmas time, when stores are crowded with shoppers, care should also be exercised to keep aisles between counters clear as well as doors and exits. Where there are crowds, there is always the danger of panic, if there is a fire or a threat of fire, the National Board of Fire Underwriters said.

The board offers these suggestions for retail establishments:

1. "No Smoking" rules should be enforced in all stores at all times. Smoking by either customers or employees should not be permitted on selling floors. If there is smoking in the building, it should be restricted to specially designated areas.
2. In stores where counters and shelves are stocked with fresh merchandise daily, empty paper cartons and packing cases should be taken from the selling floors immediately and disposed of the same day.
3. Not only at Christmas time, but all year around, care should be taken to see that flammable goods are displayed away from radiators, steam pipes or other sources of heat.

4. Christmas decorations in stores should be made of non-flammable or fire-resistant materials. When putting decorations in place, special care should be taken to be sure that they are some distance away from electric light bulbs.
5. Keep selling floor aisles and regular and emergency exits clear of stock, hand trucks and other obstructions, so that the store can be quickly evacuated in case of an emergency.
6. In advance of the Christmas season, gather all employees together and prepare a plan on what to do, if a fire alarm sounds. It is a good idea to have a fire drill in which all employees participate.

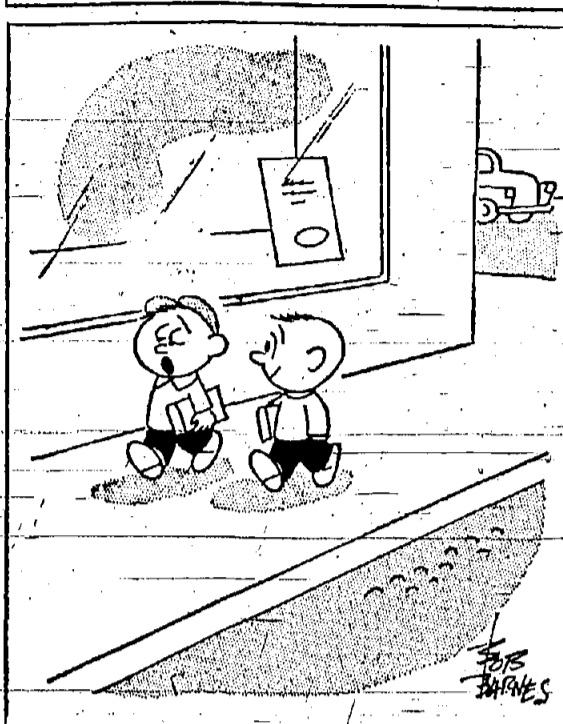

In case of fire, someone should immediately sound the store's fire alarm in order to get customers out of the building quickly. Then, promptly, even if the fire is a small one, call the fire department.

If there is a fire alarm box near the store, at least one employee should be assigned to sounding the alarm from that box. He should remain by the box to guide the fire department to the store when the fire trucks arrive.

As a routine check, an employee of the store should make the rounds of all exits every morning to make sure they are unlocked, and that panic locks are in working order.

Tickets are $1 and may be obtained at the door, but because seating is limited to 85, Evans suggests that interested persons call the university's fine arts department, FR 7-4700, for reservations.

Library Science Includes The Art Of Reaching People

By HEA SMITH

How much do Springfield residents know about their public library?

How well do they know the services available to them, of the duties of the library's director, her assistants, her full-time, part-time assistants and her staff—all working in an effort to serve the public?

How many books are in the library? Who supplies the posters for various holidays? Or the pictures on the wall—or the various collection of relics in the library's museum room? What programs are available to adults and youngsters alike?

What makes the Springfield Public Library on Main street?

Whether a Springfield resident is a frequent visitor to the library, an occasional browse-about or one who merely takes advantage of the opportunity to do some reference or research work, perhaps in connection with school assignments, he should be made aware of the intricate functions of his public library.

voiced, librarian explained, "Our entire stock of books, in the library and circulating, comes to a little over 50,000. And the library is open six days a week and two nights, Monday and Friday.

"But first, however," she said, "we should start with the circulation desk... which is the first desk the public encounters upon entrance.

"We have, what is called 'setting up' the circulation desk' the first thing in the morning. This consists of preparing the machines with the proper set of dates; setting it so that there is adequate change (money) on hand; counting the previous day's circulation; sending out overdue notices; recording the information; filling applications of new borrowers; replacing lost cards—and there are an accumulation of those," she noted.

"LOST CARDS mean we have new plates made—and that takes from two or three weeks.

"Then we check the borrowers' reserves for books—to see if we have the requested book—or if we would consider purchasing it.

"Also," she went on, "the circulation desk controls the needs of family clerks—high school students who come in after school, but the books and magazines away. They learn to work—many for the first time in their lives.

"In addition, the circulation desk controls the needs of the newspaper. Mrs. Francis said that there are about 13 people employed by the library.

"We have four professional librarians and the rest administrative. We also have a volunteer teacher who helps with student references at school. We have Carl Foster, who teaches computer work at Catholic high school, and another at Caldwell School.

"Recently, Mrs. Francis visited two librarians, Mrs. Julia Trunk on the reference desk, and Mrs. Alice Schmidt, who is in charge of the reference department, as an assistant, completing a 10-week course at the Connecticut State Library in reference and cataloging.

"It is important when telephone calls come in, or during lunch hour, that someone is always on hand who has some knowledge of where to find books."

The second major section is the reference department.

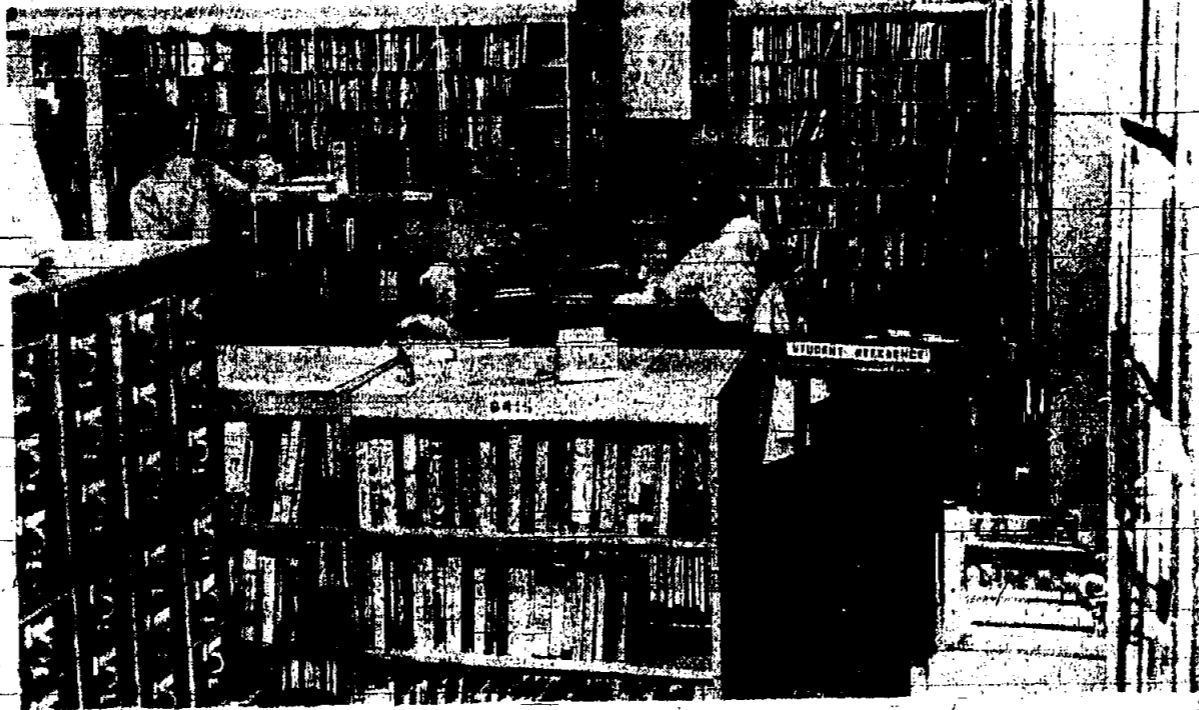

"At the present moment," Mrs. Francis explained, "that position is filled on a part-time basis by an adult student, Mrs. Doris Rawitz, who is in college. We also have a volunteer in reference work, Mrs. Anne Duca, a retired librarian, who is reorganizing the vertical files along with Mrs. Rawitz."

Then there's the technical service department.

"This," Mrs. Francis explained, "is the mainstay of the library. Mrs. Mary Manuel is in charge; she is also the cataloguer.

"Then there is the book-keeper, who also handles the correspondence for book orders. There are about 4,600 orders of books a year and 140 periodical subscriptions.

"NATURALLY," Mrs. Fran-

A WONDERFUL WORLD OF BOOKS — A wealth of knowledge and pleasure may be found in Springfield's public library where adults and children come to take advantage of its many advantages. group, providing its own leadership. There are about a dozen (including housewives, teachers, business people), who meet twice a month.

Mrs. Francis introduced this reporter to Mrs. Helen Keller, who is in charge of the library's children's services. Mrs. Keller listed her duties with the small fry, all of whom she loves, and who love her.

"We conduct a pre-school story hour, Wednesday mornings," she said, "for youngsters four to five years of age.

"Our objectives are to acquaint the child with the library at an early age, and make the library a pleasant place for children of all ages; to expose him to good stories and good story illustrations; including poetry, music and rhythmic games; to teach the child library routines in selecting books—and library manners; and to teach him to take care of books.

"Then there's the summer reading program. Each year we have different contests. We visit schools and talk about books and our summer reading program. We award certificates, diplomas and sometimes books to children during September in schools.

"We also make loans to teachers," Mrs. Keller said.

"We have 25 to 75 books collected for various schools, and that includes St. James School.

"We also hold individual consulting with parents on the reading problems of children, and we give individual help to children who have school assignments."

Prosecutor

Earlier the mayor told the leader, "I would like to say that the prosecutor is doing his job. I will cooperate in every way I can. I want to help him in performing his job so this project can reach a conclusion."

Bonadies' Statement

In his earlier statement, Bonadies concentrated his fire on the remarks ascribed to Hardgrove. He declared, "For the past three years, Hardgrove and his Republican colleagues have taken great delight in bandying around my name publicly—to suit their whims and as it fits their personal needs for political advantage."

Bonadies also attacked the "general atmosphere of town-ship meetings during Hardgrove's tenure, in which all taxpayers who dare to rise in protest are labeled political obstructionists and members of a Democratic plot."

"Hardgrove must be reminded that the plaintiffs in the many suits brought against the municipality are taxpayers protecting their homes and are not members of the Democratic higher echelon. Never before have so many aggrieved taxpayers been forced to seek relief from the courts in their dealings with the local government."

Holiday Deadlines

The Christmas and New Year's editions of this newspaper will be printed two days ahead of schedule. Strict adherence to the Friday noon deadline both weeks will facilitate publication of organizational, social and other news items.

Plan Holiday Dance

Music by the "Moodmakers," holiday decorations, and refreshments will highlight a Christmas dance to be held from 9 p.m. to midnight Saturday at the Summit YWCA. With or without a date, all single post-high-school age men and women are invited to attend. Held on the second and fourth Saturday evenings of each month, social dances such as this holiday affair are sponsored by the Summit Y to enable single young adults to meet other young people in the area and make new friends. No previous reservations are required. Further information may be had by telephoning Mrs. Gerald Carter, associate program director at CR 3-4242.

A CHAT WITH Mrs. Helen Keller, director and administrator of Springfield's public library, revealed some wonderful world of books, books to which she devotes each day, each week of her life.

"To begin with," she said,

NEW! ALBERTO VOS SHAMPOO FOR DRY HAIR

Makes even hard-to-manage dry hair do what you want it to!

CHANGING THIS TO THIS (WITH VOS SHAMPOO)

Sav-On Drugs, N. 22, Springfield

she continued, "as you add, you need books that have become obsolete... electronics, anything to do with space.

"There's a tremendous fiction-reading public in Springfield. We order about 600 adult fiction titles a year. Most of them are new. In addition, we have 200 rental books in fiction, kept up to date with 25 new ones every month.

"We borrow and buy these books from Trenton State Library. We also borrow from the out-of-print books, which are expensive for us to purchase.

"We have approximately 850 new fiction books for adults over the year.

"We have many non-fiction books for students' assignments. There are many college students involved in critical literature. There is a great deal of interest among young people in plays—the current 'B' way plays, that is," she added.

"The director emphasized the 'two services' for businessmen. One is used a great deal," Mrs. Francis declared, "the information which is put out by Moody's Investors' Services.

"The other one is really for businessmen exclusively; it is not used half as much; Thomas Register of American Manufacturers, which include trade names of products and manufacturers.

"WE HAVE SOMETHING that should appeal to the student and to others as well. It's microfilm. Anyone who wants to use these films on a special viewing machine that we have.

"The New York Times is on microfilm—we get current newspapers and two weeks later, the microfilm comes in. We go back as far as 1957. We are trying to build up back issues.

"One item that students may be interested in is that we have two years of the Civil War period on microfilm.

"The library," Mrs. Francis said, "is open 53 hours a week, although a normal working week for the staff is 35 hours. This, in itself requires very close scheduling.

"And the office work requires four to five people.

Mrs. Francis said that the library has "very excellent relations with the Regional High School's librarian, Barbara Dinners. She keeps us informed of the high school assignments. There's always something available for the student to work with.

"WE ALSO HAVE a discussion group, which has been sponsored by the library for the past five years. Now we have a general discussion possible.

Mrs. G. Randolph Frost, residential co-chairman, pointed out that Springfield does not have a United Fund campaign and therefore drives must be conducted on an individual basis.

The Springfield Girl Scouts would like to thank all these residents, business and industries who have contributed to the cause. Mrs. Del Vecchio said she would like to thank the many parents and leaders who have helped with the drive. "Special thanks," she said, "to Saul Freeman, Arthur Vail and district captains, Mrs. Henry Graveman, Mrs. George Lalk, Mrs. Nicholas Zarrelli, Mrs. Louis Sons, Mrs. Harold Seavies, Mrs. William Dolshun, Mrs. Thomas Gentes, Mrs. Eban Hansen, Mrs. Henry Bullman, Mrs. Stanley Mazieka, Mrs. Robert Peters, Mrs. Robert Ziegler, Mrs. Fred Solla, Mrs. Charles Janklakin and Mrs. Joseph Carroll."

director and administrator (not pictured) says the library possesses about 50,000 books, available to residents in every walk of life. (Photo by Bob Baxter)

Girl Scouts' Drive To Obtain Funds Still In Progress

The Girl Scout fund drive is continuing apace, according to Mrs. Phillip Del Vecchio, neighborhood chairman. Scout mothers are busy picking up contributions from homes, district captains are making their initial reports and industry is mailing in contributions.

Mrs. Del Vecchio pointed out that those whose were not at home at the time contributions were sought to carry on the work of the society may assist by mailing their contributions to Arthur Vail, Girl Scout fund treasurer, at the Springfield branch of the National State Bank of Elizabeth.

Saul Freeman, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and co-chairman of the business phase of the drive, has requested that business and industry make every effort to send their contributions as soon as possible.

stated, "We had to turn them down. There was just no one available, no matter how urgent the need."

She added that the chapter is currently operating with 10 motor corps drivers, plus the services of some 17 board members.

"Another 15 volunteers would at least get us on our feet," Mrs. Deary estimated. "If we could get going on some sort of a program for Springfield. To do the job that we really could do here, we could easily use 50 to 100 men and women."

She went on to say, "Our basic problem, and we share it with every other group in Springfield, is that we have 80 organizations competing for the time and energy of perhaps 200 people who do virtually all the work. I wish someone knew the answer."

Carnegie Hall Concert Tomorrow

The second Carnegie Hall performance in a series of "Messiah" concerts by The Masterwork Chorus and Orchestra under David Randolph's direction will be given at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

A very few tickets for this performance are still available and may be ordered through The Masterwork Foundation office at 11 South St., in Morrisstown. This concert is one of a series of four presentations of "Messiah" being given by the organization this season. The first was held in St. Mark's Methodist Church in New York Nov. 22 as a John F. Kennedy Memorial.

The next was a Carnegie Hall presentation Sunday, and the concert to be given tomorrow will be the third.

The last in the series, consisting of only the choral portions of the oratorio, will be held in Madison-Dee-18. This concert will take place in the Madison Junior High School.

WINTER SPRITE — Karen Cohen, nine-year-old Springfield figure skater, is one of some 100 competitors who will take part in the North Atlantic State Regional championships today to Sunday at South Mountain Arena in West Orange. Karen is entered in the novice ladies' event. The top three winners in each class will move on to the national championships to be held at Lake Placid in February.

KRETZER LEADS FROSH SCORERS IN OPENING GAME

Springfield's Bill Kretzer was high scorer for the North Carolina State freshman basketball team as the Wolfpack subs won their opening game last week from Edwards Military Institute, 19-63. Kretzer, who started last year for Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, sank eight of 18 field goals and all five foul shots for a total of 21 points.

He also contributed 13 rebounds and an assist as his team led throughout the game. With a coaching staff that records all errors by the players, Kretzer was low man among the regulars with only three minutes to his discredit.

Garber On Staff Of J. Kislak Firm

Leonard H. Garber of Springfield has joined the life insurance division of the J. I. Kislak Organization, according to David Kislak, president of the organization whose home office is in Newark.

Garber, formerly chief auditor of the Health Insurance Plan of New York, with which he was associated for 10 years, holds a bachelor's degree in business administration from New York University. He lives at 30 S. Derby rd.

Yaras, Greenberg, Etzold Win Honors

Dayton Regional football coach Herb Palmer's gridiron bombers did not achieve their 9-0 objective this year, but they were impressive as they swept to a 6-2-1 record and placed three men on the Union County all-star team.

Carl Yaras, Alan Greenberg and Dan Etzold combined their talents to give Springfield three first team places as halfback, guard, and tackle respectively on the all-county teams as selected by the Star Ledger, Newark News and Daily Journal.

In addition, Yaras captured the area spring title and established a Dayton record with 120 points, to surpass the 115 points scored by Frank Chornoway in 1948. Yaras was a deceptive, hard runner who still was able to perform with effectiveness as the Bulldog's defensive corner man.

Greenberg was defensive captain of the Bulldogs and he was a consistent stand-out on defense. Operating out of an offensive guard position, he was as tough a competitor as could be found in the region. The middle linebacker, displaying unusual speed for his sturdy frame patrolled both sides of the line.

Etzold's ability to explode with sudden speed for a 6-2, 215-pound tackle, gave him the edge over his opponents and made it possible for him to develop into the finest blocking tackle yet seen at Dayton. He was widely recognized as a hard-nosed, aggressive defensive player with great lateral and pursuit movements. Dan follows his brother Herb Etzold, a 1000 back from Dayton, on the all-county squad. All three Dayton seniors are expected to attend college next year.

JV Record
The Junior varsity football team compiled a respectable 8-2-1 record under the guidance of Coach Bob Lämmer, while Mike Innelli and Joe Mills directed the Bulldog freshmen to a 1-4-2 effort. Vinny Albano, Ray Vanchus and Pete Scocca completed the Bulldog staff as backfield coach, line coach and cameraman, respectively.

Coach Palmer's five year coaching record at Dayton stands at a 663 level, as he has won 28, lost 13 and tied 4.

His top team featured all-state, all-American high school star Marty Sica, who led the Bulldogs to a 7-1-1 record as they were awarded the state championship in 1961.

Last year's record was 4-4-1, 1962 was 5-3-1, and 1960 was 6-3. Coach Palmer's Bulldog bombers have never suffered a losing season in his tenure but things look bleak for 1965 as Kentworth's David Brerley Regional High School is due to open.

Dan Ginter, Mike Adickman, Harold Hansen, Robert Bluffe, Tom Tonkin, Dave Roney, Robert Ries, Ernie Erskine, Etzold and Greenberg added 83 points to Yaras' 120 for a team total of 203 points. The Dayton opponents were held to 106 points.

The coaches selected Adickman as the most improved back and Richard Lyons as the most improved lineman for 1964. Greenberg and Yaras were the elected team captains for 1964.

There is a sign on the wall of Coach Herb Palmer's office. It says, "264 days until football practice starts at Jonathan Dayton-Regional High School in Springfield." Planning has already started.

Postal Employee To Exhibit Pastel In South Orange

James A. Clark, money order clerk at the Springfield Post Office, has been invited to exhibit his pastel art work at the South Orange Library from tomorrow through next Friday.

The invitation was extended by the Maplewood-South Orange Art Center.

Clark has exhibited extensively in the metropolitan area and in numerous one-man shows. He studied under the late Van Deering Perrine of Maplewood.

Clark, who will end his career with the post office the end of this month after 12 years of service, intends to enter church work and continue with his art.

Basketball Team Begins Schedule

By DONALD LEWIS

With season shrouded in mystery by a successful Springfield soccer and football seasons under their belt, followers of Jonathan Dayton Regional varsity teams are now turning their attention to basketball.

The basketball season will open tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the Dayton gym. The Bulldog dribblers will meet Arthur L. Johnson Regional of Clark in the first game of the new season.

The Dayton team has been practicing and scrimmaging during the past two weeks in the attempt to rebuild a squad that lost such outstanding players as Frank Monticello and 6-7 Bill Kretzer.

Head Coach Ray Yanchus says that his main problem will be lack of experience. "We'll be counting on our two returning varsity lettermen, Keith Neigel and Mike Kretzer," said Yanchus, "but the other positions will be filled by boys who are relatively inexperienced, or who saw little action last year. We are bringing up some of last year's JV's and were also bringing up three football players."

Key Veterans

Both Neigel and Kretzer are seniors who started on the varsity team last year. Neigel is 6-2 and Kretzer, brother of Bill Kretzer, is 6-3. Both will play as forwards this year.

The football players Yanchus spoke of are 5-9 Alan Greenberg, recently named to the All-State football team, a guard in both sports, and 6-2 Dave Ronco, left end in football and a forward with the dribblers. Bob Ries, six-foot quarterback on the gridiron will be a forward on the basketball court. All three are seniors.

Other seniors who will be moved up from the junior varsity squad are a pair of 6-2 forwards, Dave Dropkin and Gary Wood. At 5-11, Frank Haydu may play in the guard position. Juniors Al Lobato, six-foot, and Jim Belliveau, 6-2, will also see action.

The small man in the play-making position will probably be senior Dave Macmillan. Macmillan, 5-10, played basketball in his freshman year but participated in indoor track during his sophomore and junior years.

Mike Rekon, who saw action in this position last year, will be out for the year with a torn knee cartilage-injured during a scrimmage last week.

Change Pattern

Coach Yanchus says there will be some changes in strategy this year because of the different nature of the team. Last year's squad stressed its powerful offense built around scoring powerhouse Bill Kretzer.

This year the team will have to have a different, more balanced attack. Yanchus has experimented with different offenses during scrimmages these past two weeks. However, the team will, as always, stress the importance of the fast break.

Defensively, Yanchus hopes for a better, tougher defense. "Last year," he said, "we had a good defense for a while but it sort of petered out. This year we will have to stress defense, because we may not have as powerful an offense."

Dayton's biggest problem, however, will be the unusual strength of the other teams in the Washington Conference. Dayton is scheduled to play 14 conference games, two each with Westfield, Scotch Plains, and Cranford.

Coach Yanchus commented, "The three teams ahead of us last year in the Conference were all composed of juniors who'll be back this year. They are Cranford, last year's champs; Westfield and Scotch Plains. "Hillside and Rahway also last year were some real tough teams to beat. breathers in the schedule, but this year there are no weak sisters in the league."

Clinic Scheduled To Help Coaches In Boys' League

A basketball clinic for prospective coaches, players and interested adults will be conducted on Tuesday evening at 7:45 at the James Caldwell School.

This clinic is being conducted by the Springfield Recreation Department in conjunction with the youth basketball program, which had its season start last Saturday.

A total of 303 boys attended registration for the three basketball leagues which compose the Recreation Department's youth basketball program. The largest number of boys appeared at the Caldwell School to register for the Small-Fry League. A total of 162 boys registered for play in the Small-Fry League. These boys are aged 9 and 10.

The State League had a large turnout at the Caldwell School as 110 boys came to register for play. These boys, aged 11 and 12, organize teams which assume the names of various states.

Some of the men who have volunteered to coach teams in either the Small-Fry League or the State League are: Joe Pepe, Dave Brown, Roger McQuade, Richard Green, Sal Filcone, Al Rose, Leo Kravner, Leo Sankolin, Murry Levine, Jerry Fox, Joe Frank, Joe Yacullo and Harold Davis.

The Ivy League met at Dayton Regional School. This is the final stage in the development of the boys in the youth basketball program. A total of 52 boys registered for play in the Ivy League this season. Men who have volunteered their time to coach teams in this league are: Phil Kurnos, Bill Saverin, Jack Williams, Jack Weiner and Phil Meisel.

Rosenkrantz Bowls 222 In Boys' Action

A mammoth 222 game bowled by 12-year-old Teddy Rosenkrantz highlighted action last week in the Springfield Recreation Boys' Bowling League at Springfield Bowl.

His score was more than 50 pins better than any ever before bowled in this league for boys of grammar-school age.

The Rockets split two games with the Jets to hold their slim margin of one game—Mike Rubinfeld was the top bowler for the Rockets, as he rolled a 242 series. Danny Weiss, with a 247 series, was the leading man for the Jets.

The Rockets remained close to the Rockets by dividing a pair of games with the Raiders. The first game went to the Bulls behind the top bowling of Lee Meisel. Lee had a 143 game.

The Raiders, however, captured the second behind Rosenkrantz' big 222 game. Dave Epstein also had a good game and series for the Raiders. Dave

Bluebirds Retain Leading Position In Girls' Bowling

The Bowling Bluebirds team continues to lead the way in the Springfield Recreation Department's girls' bowling league at Springfield Bowl.

Last week the Bluebirds defeated the Four Strikes in two games to raise their season record to 11 victories and but three losses. Bowling for this league-leading team are Barbara Owens, Jewel Brands, Lisa Brown and Jeanine Spangler.

Lisa Brown, with a series of 174, led the Bluebirds to victory in both games last week. Nancy Morlino, with a high series of 210, was top bowler for the Four Strikes.

By splitting two games with the Knockouts last week, the Bowlettes have moved back into second place. Robin Ries, with a 165 series, was high bowler for the Bowlettes. Bonnie Rasikin, who rolled a 175 series, paced the Knockouts.

The final match of the day pitted together the Lucky Churns and the Wildcats. In the first game, the Lucky Churns snatched a nine-game losing streak by defeating the Wildcats. Eileen Francis led her team to victory as she rolled the high game of the day, 130.

The Wildcats bounced back to win the second contest. Michelle Witten was top bowler for the Wildcats, with a 173 series. Dawn Zarell also rolled well, as she chalked up a 186 series for the afternoon.

Alyse Cooper is the new pacesetter in the individual average department. Alyse is averaging 111 for the season. For the first time this season, Sharon Gagnon has dropped out of the top spot. Sharon is in second place with an average of 107.

Nancy Morlino is in third place with an average of 104. Michelle Witten is fourth place with 96. Sis-Brown is the fifth place bowler with 83.

Judge Fines Youth For Displaying Art

A Berkeley Heights youth who reportedly thought it very funny to litter a Springfield diner property with old pictures and frames paid a $50 fine in Springfield Municipal Court Monday night — with a sullen face.

The youth, Gerald Hutz, 18, was found guilty a week earlier by Magistrate Max Sherman, but the magistrate directed him to return to court with his parents for sentencing. The boy's father did appear this past Monday, and he and the boy were recipients of a lecture from Magistrate Sherman.

Hutz recently removed the pictures from a car at the White Diamond Diner and lined them along a fence for 25 feet in order to make room in the car for two female companions from another car. The diner management doesn't allow fraternizing of persons between cars.

In a more lenient mood, Magistrate Sherman gave James Marlin, 18, of 33 Battle Hill ave., Springfield, a suspended 30-day jail sentence, fined him $10 and directed him to report to the court clerk weekly for the next month on efforts made toward getting a job.

The youth was arrested Sept. 1 for disorderly conduct after being paroled from Annapolis Reformatory, and there were several adjournments in the case.

James C. Colangelo, 22, of Summit was fined $25, given a 30-day suspended jail sentence and placed on probation for two years on a charge of false pretenses, to which he pleaded guilty. The court noted that he had made restitution to the complainant, the National State Bank of Elizabeth, in the sum of $152.

Wrestling Coach Sees Double; Both Scenes Spell Out Trouble

By JOHN SWEDISH

Gerard A. Sachsel, head wrestling coach at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, is a most unhappy fellow. Southern California upset his beloved University of Notre Dame football team to shatter the national championship hopes of Notre Dame and its die-hard alumni.

The second phase of Sachsel's double troubles is his 1964-65 varsity wrestling team at Dayton. He has no illusions about rebuilding one. He lost seven seniors who compiled winning records and two district champions who will be hard to replace. Richie Bittle and Tommy Baker, now displaying their winning wrestling forms at Wisconsin State and Missouri State, respectively, are the two stars who will be particularly missed.

This year's schedule features a tentative date with a Falls Church, Virginia, team coached by Richard Besnier, a Dayton Regional graduate who teamed with Coach Sachsel to bring two state wrestling titles to Dayton in 1956—in the 147 and 105-pound brackets. Sachsel also won the 106 honors in 1955.

The squad, which numbers close to 75, includes the following six lettermen: Jeff Karlin, Mark Muller, Gary Furze, Mike Geoghegan, Richard Bastia and Harold Brower. Howie Hoerwagen, Ed Korecky, Bill Marino, Mike Koenig, Joe Scarinzi and Tom Martin appear likely to attain letterman status this season.

GERARD A. SACHSEL

duplicating Notre Dame's string of nine consecutive team victories. His team is spread so thin that he is realistically facing the possibility of a 50-50 season.

Coach Sachsel is faced with the possibility of freshman wrestling on the varsity level in certain lower weight classifications. Last year's 6-51 record seems hard to duplicate.

Each Monday's practice features the granting of the "Bear Award Pennant" to the "hardest, roughest and toughest working wrestler" of the previous week. Sachsel and his assistant, Jerry Vignola, instituted this award to stimulate the grapplers to strive for the tough condition demanded of good wrestlers.

Edward Korecky, Jeff Karlin and Mike Geoghegan were the first three recipients of this award as the Bulldogs sweated and strained in room 20, in the gym and around the school grounds to set in shape for their opening matches Dec. 18 and 19 at the Montclair High School invitational tourney.

This will feature teams from Barringer, Belleville, Hunterdon Central, Jefferson, Livingston, Lyndhurst, Montclair Academy, Morristown School, North Bergen, Nutley, Roselle Park, Section Hall, St. Benedict's and Westfield. Sachsel feels that the results of this tourney will give him a chance "to separate the men from the boys" before the regular dual meets begin.

Sachsel regards this year as a

16 Girl Scouts Plan To Raise Trip Fund

Sixteen area Girl Scouts have begun a special fund drive to raise $2,500, and thereby pay their own expenses to summer roundups this July. Eight of them have been chosen to represent Area B Patrol of the Washington Rock Girl Scout Council at the senior roundup at Farragut State Park, Idaho, and the other eight, who have been named alternates, will attend a different roundup at a closer site, which has not been determined.

Their fund drive will consist of door-to-door sales of items they have made themselves, performing chores for their neighbors, cake sales, suppers, a Chinese auction, a raffle, and a canvass of industrial firms.

4th Workshop Set During Holidays

The 4th Annual Christmas Workshop for high school science teachers at Fairleigh Dickinson University's Florham-Madison campus will be held December 28-30, Malcolm Sturcho, director, announced this week.

The laboratory workshop is sponsored by the New Jersey State Department of Education, the N.J. Science Teachers Association, and the university. This year the workshop will include sections in biology, chemistry and electronics for teachers in grades seven through 12. The program is designed to provide the participants with practical laboratory experience in modern techniques in instrumentation and its application to the teaching of science.

The fund-raising program is headed by Mrs. Bernard J. Sipress of Union. Girl Scouts involved in the project are Nancy Angstrom, Irma Arndt, Barbara Baxter, Leda Sipress, Donna Taylor, Deborah Zacher and Ingrid Zondler, all Union, and Dorothy Finnegan of Roselle, delegates to the roundup at Farragut. Alternates are Linda Ericson, Linda Hambrook and Jo Ann Walker, all Union; Gail Kautzmann and Maureen Reese of Roselle, Judith Khudson of Kenilworth, Janet Moore of Linden and Elaine Orlovski of Roselle Park. They were chosen to attend the roundups out of 1,000 girls on the basis of tests involving camping and hiking skills.

The two-week roundups will provide intensive training in camping and survival skills. The six-day trip to Farragut on a special Girl Scout train will include a stopover at Yellowstone National Park and a tour of Chicago.

HOLIDAY TOUCH — Area Girl Scouts make Christmas hors d'oeuvres picks of holly sprigs to be distributed through door-to-door sales in a special fund drive that will pay their expenses to summer roundups. ## Rainfall Below Norm November: "Only 2.01"

Precipitation in November totaled only 2.01 inches as compared with an estimated normal rainfall of 3.72 inches. Harold Dufloec, meteorologist at the Union Junior College Meteorological Station, Cranford, reported in his monthly report to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Rainfall for the first 11 months of 1964 totals 33.20 inches, compared with 31.88 inches a year ago, and 41.46 inches in 1962.

Precipitation in November was 1.71 inches below the estimated normal rainfall of 3.72 inches. A year ago 7.13 inches of rain was recorded in November, while the total was 4.13 inches in 1962, 2.59 inches in 1961, and 2.72 inches in 1960. The average temperature for the month of 47.2 degrees was 8 degrees above the estimated normal mercury reading for November. The maximum temperature was 71 degrees on Nov. 12 and 13 and the minimum reading was 17 degrees on Nov. 23. The average maximum temperature was 58.2 degrees, and the average minimum was 36 degrees.

During the month, 528 degree days were recorded to bring the total for the heating season which began Sept. 1 to 955. This compares with 463 degree days recorded in 1963, 686 in 1962, 555 in 1961 and 561 in 1960.

The warmest day of the month was Nov. 13 when the average temperature was 68 degrees, while the coldest day was Nov. 22 when the average temperature was 29 degrees.

Fog occurred on five days. There were 15 clear days, six partly cloudy days, and nine cloudy days. The prevailing wind direction was southwest.

Deserted Village Tour Is Planned

Dr. Harold N. Moldenke, director of the Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watchung Reservation, Mountainside, will conduct a tour of the historic "Deserted Village," located in the valley between the first and second ridges of the Watchung range, on Sunday, the Union County Park Commission announced this week.

The guided tour is open to the public and will start from the Trailside Nature and Science Center at 2 p.m. and proceed to the site of the "Village," a short distance away, by auto.

Dr. Moldenke will discuss the 200-year history and tradition of the area from the time of the Indians and earliest settlers to its present state as a unit of the Union County Park System. He will point out many historic features and identify and tell interesting facts about both the native and exotic plant and animal life that exists in the area.

Baby-Sitter-Tips

If you are going to employ a baby sitter during the coming holiday season, be sure she knows what to do in case of fire, says the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Make sure she understands that if a fire occurs, she should get the children out of the house quickly. Be sure she knows two alternate routes of escape from the house so that if fire blocks one of them, she and the children can leave the house by the other one.

Christmas Trees May Stain Rugs

Before you bring your Christmas tree indoors, protect your carpets from possible stains, advises Miss Gena Thames, extension specialist in home furnishing at the College of Agriculture, Rutgers University.

Miss Thames said: "Its true, place the tree in a container of water to keep it fresh. But leaking water from the container and needles and pitch from the tree can stain your carpeting or rug."

"When you put up the tree, be sure that the container of water is secure, will not permit water to run over and will not leak or sweat on carpeting or rug."

"If water from the container spills on the carpet, blot it immediately with paper towels or unattached cloth. Then place a thick padding of paper towels over wet area with a weight on top. This allows the moisture to wick up into the towelings without stopping at the rug surface where it might deposit staining material soaked up from the backing."

"Christmas tree needles and pitch also can cause stains if allowed to remain on the carpet," Miss Thames warned.

If needles and pitch do cause stains, Miss Thames says to apply a dry cleaning fluid to the area with an eye dropper, following label precautions for using the cleaning fluid. Blot with clean white toweling or small cloths, repeat if necessary she concluded.

THE FEMININE LOOK

Commentary on a recent National Editorial Association Round the World Newspaper Study Mission

By TRUDINA HOWARD

35th of a Series

THE LAND OF LEBANON

The country of Lebanon is as glorious, as complicated, as practical, as one of the oriental rugs that hangs in one of its Beirut shops.

It is a beautiful blend of thousands of years of histories, cultures and races—making a harmonious pattern called Lebanon. It weaves together Eastern tradition and Western impulsiveness, old laws and new ideas, ancient ruins and glossy new hotels, lush fruits of the valleys and deep snows of the mountains, women in veils and women in bikinis.

And it is very fashionable. Lebanon, I have been given to understand, is the only place to be. It is THE place to go. Called for many years the playground of the Near East because it provides warm weather sports on the coast and cold weather sports in the mountains and big city pleasures in its capital, Beirut.

It is now also the pace of the jet set, the international set, the social club or what-have-you.

It was the last stop for our National Editorial Association study mission in a flash of fashion.

We arrived in Beirut, the capital of Lebanon, after a nine-hour flight from Kabul, the capital of Afghanistan at 8:45 p.m. Beirut time, 11:15 Kabul time, and it was almost tepid and balmy. But Beirut prides itself as a city in the scorching Mediterranean; it also resists against the proferring forehead of the Lebanon Mountains, so it almost has to be cozy and warm.

Lebanon is an Arab country but about half of its people are Christians; the other half—of course being Moslem. There are a few thousand Jews but during the Arab-Israeli dispute in 1948-49 about 120,000 Arab refugees came to Lebanon, and the Jewish population appears to be on the decline. Earlier, around 1914, many Armenian refugees from Turkey came to Lebanon also. By an unwritten law, its president must be a Maronite Christian, its prime minister a Sunni Moslem and its legislature mixed.

The Lebanese of today believe they hope lies in the Arab League, the United Nations and the United States.

WITH ALL THIS background plus the atmosphere of the beautiful, blue Mediterranean, Beirut can hardly help but be something. It is a big city with a big city way about it. It has glamorous hotels, stunning shops, exciting restaurants, night clubs, beaches and The Works.

But I enjoyed Baalbek; Byblos and Chiffra more. Lebanon consists of several strips. The coast area hugs the Mediterranean for about 125 miles running the entire length of the country, and at times is barely a road wide; close upon it and paralleling it are the Lebanon Mountains which run above Lebanon into Turkey and Syria and south into Israel too, averaging five to six thousand feet high; then comes the fertile inland valley called the Bekaa or Bira, which they say is the Biblical land of Milk and Honey; and last is the mountain range bordering Syria on the east called the Anti-Lebanons. The entire width of all this comes to no more than 50 miles at the widest point.

At Gubla or Gena and when the Greek Ambassador, Armin H. Meyer of Limnos, in a student they found Egyptian papyrus in the ruins of Baalbek, spoke eloquently of it. "They were told, 'From this they derived 'papyrus' and papyrus eventually 'papyrus' calling the town after the product. The name Eastern names we had been common man eventually became 'papyrus' for 'papyrus' and it is and, from this that we derived our word 'papyrus'."

TSCHAURA on the other hand, is not a ruin of any kind but a "live" one. It is a tiny town on the way to Baalbek from Beirut halfway down the mountain on the valley side and is known as the "Honey-moon Town." It is sort of a vacation town to Beirut, and gourmet. Like it also for in Tschaura there is a world-famous restaurant called AEL. On a Sunday afternoon it looks as though all of Beirut, gourmet or not, is at the Restaurant AEL for it is so crowded. Our Study Mission group added to it one Sunday for we got there too. We had Lebanese shish kabob which was chopped up lamb and it looked like elongated hamburgers. We also had very good pomegranate and good wine made by a nearby monastery.

On the way to Tschaura we passed some of the famous trees of the country, the Cedars of Lebanon, which are spoken of in the Bible. They are beautiful evergreen trees, but they are becoming so scarce, they are under the protection of the government. Only 300 or 400 trees remain and some are believed to be more than 1,000 years old.

TO BE FAIR to Beirut, I really did not see enough of it to really judge it. We were delayed in our arrival there and we did not stay long. It must be quite a city for everyone from the American Embassy, to the student LEBANON ITSELF is stretched comfortably on the eastern rim of the Mediterranean and although it is only one-fourth the size of Switzerland and not even as big as Connecticut, it is the banking center of the Near East and the marketing center of activity on the Mediterranean. Its citizens call Switzerland the "Lebanon of Europe" — and not vice-versa.

But strangely enough, Lebanon does not really have much in the way of raw materials. Despite its valleys of Milk and Honey and mountains of Cedars of Lebanon, it is not endowed with many natural resources. It
