Municipal Progress, Lawsuits Made News In 1964

A number of positive developments in Springfield during 1964 tended to be overshadowed by bitter political campaigning almost from the start of the year, mixed with the echoes of litigation arising from residents' objections to municipal zoning decisions.

Major achievements of the year ranged from approval by the voters of an addition to the Florence Gaudin Elementary School, expansion of the municipal swimming pool and other recreational facilities and mobilization of citizens to support the township Red Cross Chapter to beginning of the long-sought widening and repaving of Morris Ave.

The political maneuvering began early in the year, however, as Township Committee member Carmen Catapano clashed on several occasions with his colleagues on the all-Republican governing body, and finally resigned.

Municipal zoning decisions to permit added facilities at Evergreen Lodge and a nursing home on the Padam Farm property at Shumpike rd. and Mountain ave. both later reversed by the courts, also were a major factor in Springfield civic life during 1964. As the year ends, the township still faces two more suits, over denial of permission for a motel and over limitations placed on a garden apartment permit.

January

The first all-Republican township committee in 10 years is sworn in at the Jan. 1 organization meeting as William F. Koonz is seated replacing former Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies, this last of the Democratic Committee members.

Robert D. Hardgrove is named mayor, replacing Arthur M. Falkin. Republicans say they will stand with Mayor Sherman on the issue of retaining mayor's post.

Max Sherman is named municipal magistrate. He replaces Magistrate Thomas A. Arzuffi who leaves to become council for Prudential.

Hardgrove outlines six measures which he hopes his administration will bring to the town. Mentioned are the initiation of a street improvement program, completion of a road linking Baltusrol Top with Springfield proper, expansion of the swimming pool facilities, installation of a new fire call system and finaliza-tion of police and fire department regulations.

Donald Royce is re-elected president of the planning board, following his appointment to a new six-year term by the Township Committee.

Mrs. Anna Esten is named to replace Mrs. Joseph Bender, who resigned after four years of service.

Springfield Board of Education approves a $1,592,016 school budget which reflects $426,666 hike over previous figure.

Incumbent school board members Joseph A. Bender, John C. Gacos and Robert T. Southward will be re-elected to the school election next month as no additional petitions are filed before Jan. 2 deadline.

Regional School Board introduces budget of $1,660,933.

The application of Valco, Inc. for a special exception to construct a convalescent home at 311 Mountain ave. is approved by a 3-1 vote of the Township Committee.

Committee member Carmen Catapano casts negative vote and Falkin abstains.

The Shumpike Association, composed of residents near the site of the proposed Valco convalescent home, meets to study impact of facility in their area.

John A. Haring is only Springfield resident seeking re-election to Regional School Board.

Bender and Southward are returned to board.

A $1,419,392.96 municipal budget is introduced. Some $192,291 of total is amount to be raised by local taxation. Figure reflects decrease of five cents per $100 of assessed valuation for municipal services.

Total tax rate, including schools — local and regional — and county tax show rise of 16 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

Shumpike Association files suit in Superior Court asking that approval of special exception for construction of convalescent home by Valco, Inc. be set aside.

Defendants in the suit are the Township Committee and building inspector Otto Fessler. Suit, among other things, charges conflict of interest.

Selyeh Schechter and

Douglas Mattice are endorsed by Democratic Committee as township committee candidates.

Jay Bloom, Springfield attorney, files without endorsement as Democratic candidate.

John Fitzpatrick Kennedy Memorial Scholarship to aid college-bound graduates of Dayton, is begun.

Group hopes to hit $20,000 goal by June.

Positions for township committee seats are filed by Mayor Hardgrove and Committee member Falkin, both seeking reelection to the governing body.

Board of Education screens candidates to replace School Superintendent Benjamin Newswater, whose resignation will take effect in June.

Members of the Springfield Industrial Committee meet with Easley Bennett, traffic consultant, concerning ways of solving traffic problems at Industrial Park off Rt. 22.

Some 30 residents circulate petitions asking that the township consider the Padam Farm property on Mountain ave. as site of new library.

Township Committee "categorically denies" allegations in suit brought against it by 17 township residents regarding granting of special exception for construction of convalescent home on Mountain ave.

Mrs. Lucy Forst, principal of Caldwell School, announces that she will retire after 40 years of service.

Swimming pool, improvements which include seating, grading, the installation of a hand ball court and addition of lockers, will cost about $20,000, according to Recreation Director Ed Ruby.

Country Club Civic Association sends letter to Mayor Hardgrove urging its approval to use of Padam Farm site for nursing home.

April

Committee member Carmen Catapano says his house is up for sale and he may leave township by June. Catapano's move indicates vacancy is probable on the Township Committee.

Township demands clean-up of state properties in path of proposed Rt. 78.

Letter from Township Committee to State Highway Department calls condition of homes deplorable and disagreeable to the township.

William Lohmer, vice-chairman of Springfield Fair Housing Committee, resigns post. Says committee has been "trying to jump over too many fences."

Board of Education tries again on addition to Gaudin Elementary School. This time the price tag to be presented to voters in a special election is $705,000.

Mrs. Audrey Ruban is named secretary of the school board.

Mrs. Ruban, who has been assistant secretary, succeeds A. B. Anderson.

Sent 10 percent of registered voters turn out for primary election which is uncontested on municipal level.

Carmen Catapano makes brief appearance at Township Committee meeting to announce his resignation.

Catapano in a prepared statement says, "Because of my independent thought and action I have been degraded and vilified." He says his concepts of his duties have not been the same as those of his colleagues.

"Immediate consultation" with State Highway Department regarding removal of trailer tracks from Morris ave. is demanded in a telegram to Trenton by Mayor Robert Hardgrove.

Township Engineer Walter Kozak tells of plans to link Baltusrol Top with Baltusrol of township by road to run from Shumpike rd.

May

The new Reformed Church Chapel of Springfield holds its first worship service.

Robert G. Pater is named to fulfill the unexpired term of Carmen Catapano on Township Committee.

Dr. Randolph T. Jacobson, assistant superintendent of the regional high school district, is named president of the N. J. Association of Secondary School Administrators.

The library board discusses plans to hire a professional consultant to make recommendations on future library needs.

Kenneth R. Helzel, president of the Springfield Library Board of trustees, and Mrs. Elizabeth J. Miller are

Fire Takes Lives Of Elderly Couple

An elderly couple, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Abram, lost their lives as a result of a fire which broke out early Monday morning in their home at 358 Mountain ave., just south of Kew dr., Springfield. Police and fire units were summoned at 10:30 a.m. and had to break into the smoke-filled house.

Dr. Gabriel Lull pronounced them both dead, presumably from smoke poisoning, at 11:40. Mr. Abram was 83, and his wife was 86. Mrs. Abram had been confined to bed following a hip injury. Their bodies were found in the bedroom of the one-story home.

The fire had started in the living room sofa, presumably from a cigarette, and had been smoldering for several hours. The Fire Department reported extensive smoke damage throughout the house.

The alarm was answered by two fire engines and an aerial truck, under the command of Chief Ormond Mesker. Also at the scene were Patrolmen Robert Kellerman and Harold Seales. The bodies were removed to the Smith and Smith Funeral Home, Springfield, pending word from the next of kin.

Melick Assured Of 3-More Years In Regional Post

William J. Melick had just won the Feb. 2 election and will serve for another three years as one of Springfield's two members on the Regional High School Board of Education. He has served for 13 years.

The Dec. 24 deadline for filing of petitions passed last week and 100 applicants filed in contest. Melick's selection for another term.

Springfield Board of Education hopefuls now have only until Dec. 31 to qualify for the race on a municipal level. At press time, six candidates were facing the mark for the contests to fill four vacancies.

Candidates for the one-year unexpired term were Joseph R. Alfano of 263 Mossel ave., a supervisor for Hyatt Roller Bearing Co., Harrison, and Mrs. Paul Weisman of 6 S. Derby rd., former president of the PTA at the Thelma Sandmeier School and a regular participant at board meetings over the past year.

Mrs. Lawrence Dorsky of 247 Milltown rd. is the only incumbent seeking another three-year term.

Hardgrove Issues Parting Remarks

Mayor Robert D. Hardgrove, in a prepared statement at last week's Township Committee meeting, combined a review of the progress achieved during his three years on the governing body with an attack on the actions of a "group of people" who work "under the guise of interested citizens" to protest "everything and anything" done by the township.

Major gains, Hardgrove related, have included establishment of the municipal swimming pool, repaving of Morris ave., progress toward a road linking Baltusrol Top to the remainder of the town and reorganization of Springfield's top financial rating.

Hardgrove's place on the Township Committee will be filled New Year's Day by Democrat Jay Bloom, who will serve with four Republican colleagues. William Koonz is scheduled to take over the mayor's chair.

Later Comment

In a later comment, Hardgrove stated that administrative critics present "honest expressions of disagreement based on facts, rather than planned opposition to every proposal."

He also stated, "There are qualified citizens who will not seek elective office in Springfield because of the type of campaign we have had. You have to accept a certain amount of personal attack, but the type of campaigning here leads me to ask where we are going."

Personally, the mayor went on to say, "I have gained many more times in the field of personal friendships than I have lost through politics. Some nothing acquaintances don't nod any more; that's about all."

Text of Statement

The text of Hardgrove's statement before the Township Committee follows:

"Since this is the last meeting of the 1964 Township Committee, I would like to say that it has been a pleasure to serve the community with you during my term of office.

"I have witnessed a great many improvements that have been very beneficial to the town."

MAYOR

Charge Authorized For Tape Listeners

Heated exchanges between Township Committee and members of the social public preceded final passage of a measure last week by the committee to set up a fee for listening to tape recordings of Committee proceedings.

The measure, in the form of an amendment to a previous ordinance, established a fee of $5 per half-hour for members of the public wishing to hear playback of Committee meetings.

Following its passage, the Committee approved a resolution which calls for free reruns of the tapes at 1 p.m. the day following each meeting.

The citizens' protests against the measure were spearheaded, in large measure, by former Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies, a Democrat who had clashed with the all-Republican administration over a number of issues, and particularly the matter of the tape charges.

Describing the fee as "unconstitutional, improper and unethical," Bonadies declared that it would soon be challenged in the courts. He said that the fee to hear the tapes was "illegal, discriminatory, violates every right a taxpayer has and violates the right to know law."

"Its consequences are much the same as those of the poll tax, to harass and intimidate the public," Bonadies added.

Committee members stressed that operation of the tape recorder required the services of trained personnel, that such people were available in Town Hall and that such assignments took them away from their duties for which they were paid.

The fee was established, they explained, to compensate the

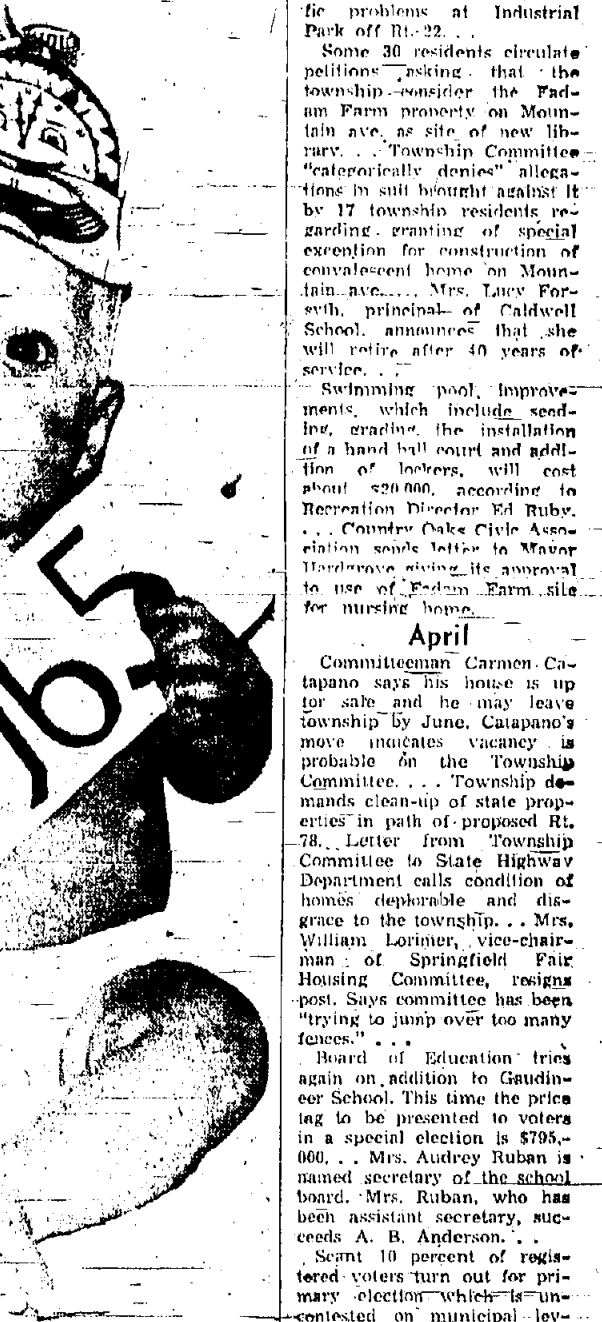

Swearing-In Township Committee

Township Committee members Jay Bloom, Arthur Falkin and Robert G. Pater will be sworn in at noon New Year's Day at Town Hall.

YES GROUP SETS ADDITIONAL DAYS OF REGISTRATION

The Youth Employment Service was scheduled to continue registration of young people seeking part-time jobs Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 29 and 30, in the YES office at Springfield Town Hall.

The registration was designed for young men and women aged 14 to 20. All applications would have to be made in person; the YES office announced, none would be accepted by mail or over the telephone.

AWAITS FIRST BABY — The lot above, shown ushering in the new year, is waiting to greet the first baby born to Springfield residents in 1965. The winner of the Year's second annual baby derby will find his arrival greeted with prizes from local merchants.

Stores Await Stork With Infanticipation

An assortment of prizes from local merchants awaits the first baby born to Springfield residents after the stroke of midnight Thursday, ushering in the new year. The child will be named winner of the Year's second annual baby derby.

Entry blanks and contest rules are found on page nine of this week's Leader. Entries must be received at the Leader office, 16 Center st., Springfield, and later than in a Monday, Jan. 4, but no later than 5 p.m. Entries cannot be accepted after the deadline for the entry has passed.

The baby's birth must be substantiated by birth certificate, physician's certification, town record of other official records acceptable to the judges. The decision of the judges is final.

Parents must agree that picture of the baby, the mother and father may be purchased in the Leader's advertising and participate in a drawing.

In the event that no baby is entered by Monday, the contest will be extended for another week.

The winning baby will receive a wool pram robe blanket, valued at $5.00, from Bert's Department Store, 242-244 Morris ave.; a certificate for baby's first pair of shoes from Colantoni's Shoe Shop, 245 Morris ave.; a $10 savings account opened in the baby's name at Crestmont Savings and Loan Association; a Kolmer Busy Box in 10-one by, valued at $5 from Kay's Stationery and Hardware, 265 Morris ave.; and a $300 certificate from Miquel's Youth Fashions, Echo Plaza Shopping Center.

The baby will also receive an aluminum sterilizing kit, a case of baby formula prescriptions.

Girl Scout Troop Celebrates First Birthday; Troops Carol

Girl Scout Troop 712 of Springfield observed its first birthday celebration Dec. 18, in the auditorium of the Theina L. Sandmeier School. Parents of troop members were invited as guests.

A special birthday cake and punch commemorated the occasion, served to the parents by the girls. During the program, Mrs. Myron Ogonowsky, troop leader, presented scout stars to all troop members. The meeting also included a candle lighting and flag ceremony. Mrs. Martin Vogt assisted the troop leader.

The group is composed of 20 fourth, fifth, and sixth grade girls. Troop members are: Lea Brown, Adrienne Carter, Elaine Carr, Ellen Gelfand, Maxine Gelfand, Jean Goldhammer, Cathy Grosky, Sue Hirsch, Phyllis Merentino, Diane Ogonowsky, Judy Steinhart.

Also, Virginia Vogt, Shirley Weinberg, Vikki Warman, Michele Widom, Larsen Boyle, Jackie Krasner, Cindy Roslin, Rebecca Goodman, Diane Mazlicka, Virginia Harback, Melanie Karlzman, Lynn Sternberg, Debra Kahn, Debbie Ironson and Lynn Simon.

Mrs. Philip Del Vecchio, neighborhood Girl Scout chairman, announced that local troops visited the Queen of Angels Church in Newark recently. Mrs. Robert Zigler's troop 840 put on a Christmas skit, and Mrs. Fred Solla presented dolls, games and grab bag gifts from all local Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Kenneth Brand's Cadette troop sang Christmas carols last week at the Colonial Rest Nursing Home and at the homes of many shut-ins. They also paid surprise visits to the homes of Mrs. Del Vecchio and Mrs. Thelma Sandmeier, principal of Gaudineer School. They were served cocoa and brownies by Mrs. William Geoghegan, co-leader of the troop. They also prepared a basket of food for a needy family and gifts for two children in that family.

Mrs. Harry Huneke's Troop 81, dressed in red crepe paper capes made by co-leader, Mrs. Howard Ross, also sang carols for shut-ins.

Troop 583, led by Mrs. Millan Urban, made Christmas place mats for patients at Overlook Hospital. Mrs. Dexter Force contributed the supplies.

community. Perhaps the most satisfying achievement was the establishment of the town's largest recreational facility, the municipal swimming pool. The pool certainly offered more in the recreational and health areas — not to mention the fostering of fellowship and neighborliness — than any facility ever constructed in town.

"The removal of the dangerous surface condition of Morris ave. was another problem that was solved by this administration; and this is indicative of the positive steps that have been taken in the past three years to make Springfield a better place in which to live.

"Future Planning" "Constant future planning has been a keynote of this administration. Mountview rd., the road that will connect Baltusrol Top with the central portion of the township, is again typical of the ideas that have been generated. Progress on the road is continuing as anticipated and will culminate in a successful installation.

"Concerning the financial policies of this administration, management and budgetary policies. Recognition of this administration's capability with financial matters was extended by Moody's who advanced our rating to a straight A. The value of this new rating was aptly demonstrated by the last bond sale. The Springfield issue was awarded at 3.05 per cent, the lowest rate in Springfield's history.

"There are obviously many more accomplishments that time does not permit to reiterate. All of them have helped to improve the community. However, the present will all too quickly slip into history. There should be, and I do hope there will be, the same critical analysis and forward-thinking approach to our town's problems as this administration strived so earnestly to apply.

"New ideas to cover new areas in all fields of municipal operation are not only necessary but mandatory. The status quo can never be considered as a criterion if Springfield is to continue to be the most desirable community in Union County.

"If I may be permitted to present a rather clairvoyant viewpoint, I can see no external clouds to mar the future, provided that Springfield moves prudently and absorbs new gains within her capabilities. Overextension and unrealistic concepts can be the only hazards of the future.

"Real Problem" "It must be noted, however, that within our own borders, seeds have been cast to create a real problem. The problem is still embryonic and controllable — but even in this stage, I have a deep concern for the Springfield image.

"The Springfield form of government accomplishes progress by legislation. Ordinances and resolutions for improvement are presented and acted upon as the elected representatives of the people judged to be in the best interests of the community as a whole.

"Of late, it has become a sport, a game to attack every piece of legislation and institute suit in the courts for an est. pple. Under the guise of interested citizens, the same group of people are everlastingly overturning and anything; and then the same people make a loud hue and cry about the number of law suits that they have brought about as an example of dissatisfaction by the whole town.

"For what reason?" "The answer cannot be found in the application of facts and hence must be placed in the realm of politics. Politics of this nature is not a game and not a sport.

"It is the destruction of the most valued commodity Springfield has to offer — its reputation. In my opinion, the reputation of a community plays an important part in a proper future development.

"Callous Disregard" "When I am personally told not to become upset by members of this group since there is nothing personal involved, I am shocked by the callous disregard that is shown for the town as a whole. I do not understand the motivating factors that contribute to the destruction of a community when all of us should be doing our utmost toward the development of a Springfield of which we can all be proud.

"It is my opinion that a re-examination of the approach to government by this group must be made. There is no political gain that important at the municipal level worth the price the community will pay. If this group does have Springfield's interest at heart as the claim, their approach would alter itself once this re-examination is effectuated.

"Nevertheless, a new Township Committee will form on Jan. 1, 1965. I wish them well; and if, at any time in the future, I may be of assistance to the new Committee, I would be honored to help in any way.

"I would also like to thank the Township Committeemen, the members of the various township boards and committees, and the township employees for their splendid cooperation."

$173,000 Increase Noted By Collector

Collections of taxes in Springfield through the month of November totaled approximately $173,000 more this year than in 1963, according to Tax Collector Fred L. Braun. November's collections were $441,354, to bring the total to $3,849,028 for the year. The totals include receipts for franchise taxes, auto bus taxes, sewer and curbing assessments, interest and cost on taxes and some 1965 taxes paid in advance.

The 1964 real estate taxes collected in the township up until Nov. 30 totaled $3,550,000, an increase of $135,200 over the total for this time last year. Real estate taxes collected in November totaled $418,852. Delinquent taxes collected to Nov. 30 totaled $86,600, an increase of $15,550 over 1963. The delinquent taxes collected in November totaled $1,697.

Braun said the gross receipts taxes received in November totaled $14,493; franchise taxes, $4,598; auto bus gross receipts, $347; interest and costs on taxes, $992; and 1965 taxes, $1,169.

Total collections for the year, to Nov. 30, for gross receipts taxes are $109,189; franchise taxes, $66,402; auto bus receipts, $3,321; interest and cost on taxes, $3,250; tax search fees, $697; and 1965 taxes, $5,724. Sewer assessments for the year so far total $17,359, and curbing assessments, $1,502.

JOHN M. KEITH

Keith Announced For Top Position In Public Service

John M. Keith of 77 Springbrook rd., Springfield, has been named construction engineer in the electric engineering department of Public Service Electric and Gas Company. He succeeds William C. Badgley of Basking Ridge, who died Dec. 10.

Keith, who has been assistant construction engineer since January, 1962, has been with Public Service for 40 years. He is a graduate of Pennsylvania State College, where he earned a B. S. degree in electrical engineering. In 1950, Mr. and Mrs. Keith were the recipients of an achievement award presented by the Springfield Lions Club for "outstanding service in the community." For a number of years, Keith has been chairman of the recreation committee in Springfield and a leader in youth activities.

He is a past master of Maple-Masonic Lodge and a past commander of American Legion Post No. 228 in Springfield.

During World War II he was a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army, and instructed military tactics at Emory and Henry College, Emory, Va.

LEADER PROFILE

Mrs. William Lorimer, who has been making herself generally useful to all who have needed her help at some time or other through the years she has resided in Springfield, has presently embarked on a "tremendous project . . . one of the biggest of my life."

During a recent chat, Mrs. Lorimer excitedly reviewed plans to set up a youth employment service in Springfield. She is acting chairman.

"I realize," she exclaimed, "what a project of this magnitude involves. We are in the process of trying to set up a board of directors, committees, sub-committees — of lining up volunteers to man our office (each volunteer will go through a training period).

"We shall need at least 20 volunteers . . . with two or three available each day. But," she said confidently, "people are very cooperative here in Springfield. I don't think we'll have too much difficulty in that capacity."

The youth employment service, she explained, will serve students 14 to 20 years old. "That would include college kids. We'll be able to place them in part-time jobs, or weekend jobs, 12 months out of the year.

"MOST OF THE students will come to us from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. And we expect to have a variety of jobs for them — from baby sitting, snow-shoveling, mothers' helpers, dog-sitters . . .

"Specifically for girls, we will have ironing jobs (from women who have no time to iron for some reason or other); and specifically for boys, that is, those who have car licenses, jobs to take people's cars for inspection.

"Students who are outstanding in languages may get jobs tutoring children. 'You see,' Mrs. Lorimer said, 'we have a pretty rounded idea of what will be — what children have to offer and what the public wants. Other towns may need instructors, magicians for birthday parties — well, we have very talented youngsters in this town who will be able to fill all these requirements.'

Mrs. Lorimer explained that this youth employment service is not the first of its kind. "I believe there are about 26 of these organizations right around these various areas. I know Cranford and Kenilworth have them. Millburn is in the process of starting one, and I think Roselle has one too.

"I'M SURE we'll be receiving phone calls as soon as people read about the service in the newspapers. The youngsters of course, will have to have working papers and Social Security numbers. Those under 18 must have permission slips signed by their parents.

"Naturally," she said, "we'll have an approximate scale which we'll post as to salaries. We can give them a rough estimate — but primarily, we're going to leave it up to the student and the employer. The student must learn to negotiate. The students will probably set up their own standards on salary, if I know them.

"And I know them," the blonde, attractive Mrs. Lorimer smiled. "I've worked with teenagers before. We have a nice bunch of kids in town — a really terrific bunch of kids. Having one myself, I know."

Mrs. Lorimer's son, Bob Edmondson, who is 18, is a lieutenant in the Civil Air Patrol. "He's very active — always busy. He was active in Civil Defense too. He is now at Norwich University in Vermont. It's a military college.

"As I've said, I've worked with young people before. I've been active with the municipal pool this past summer, and last year I enjoyed working with the Civil Air Patrol. I enjoyed working with the boys. I did a little bit of public relations," she grinned.

"LAST YEAR, when we distributed the polio vaccine for the public, I worked very hard. I acted as a policeman, to line up the boys in C.A.P. to park the cars. "I had intended to work closely with the C.A.P.s this year, but somehow I haven't been able to manage it. Believe me, we've worked night and day right now, to set up our YES office.

"There's quite a bit of mimeographing and typing to do, and there was a lot more when we were getting ready for our big meeting on Dec. 15.

"Right now, we have nine people appointed for our board of directors. We need a lot of specialized people, such as lawyers, teachers, advertising men. We have a treasurer, but we'll need a secretary and a recording secretary."

Mrs. Lorimer went on to explain that the organization will have board meetings every month. "We'll keep day-to-day logs, to be reviewed every month at our meetings.

CHIEF DECLARES NO OFFICER USED RACIAL EPITHET

The Leader last week received a copy of a letter sent to Springfield Police Chief Wilbur C. Selander, charging that a policeman had used a derogatory term to refer to the race of a Negro who has been stopped for a driving violation. The writer of the letter said that he had heard the officer use this term in speaking to headquarters from a call box at Springfield and Morris aves.

Chief Selander declared that the policeman who might have been concerned had strongly denied making any such statement. "I agree," the chief added, "that the comment would certainly be improper, but there is no way of verifying a report of this sort on what might have been overheard."

"In any event, the Springfield Police Department has exercised extreme care in protecting the rights of members of any minority group. We are prepared to stand on our record in the area of human rights, rather than what someone feels he might have overheard."

The letter was written by Albert T. Miles of 77 Summit ave., Summit, who said that he had heard the incident while waiting for a traffic light to change.

Always Ready To Hunt Icebergs Or Recruits

By BEA SMITH

Company Chief Petty Officer Richard Frank Johnson, cadet first class, United States Coast Guard, has been making the rounds in Springfield schools and civic organizations these holiday weeks to discuss and promote the U. S. Coast Guard Academy in New London, Conn.

Johnson, 21, a senior at the academy, who resides at 147 Pitt rd., Springfield, was one of 50 students chosen in a military college of 600 to spend his Christmas and New Year vacation lecturing before groups of people.

He is certainly well qualified. Johnson has been on the dean's list since his freshman year, presently ranks first in his class and is extremely enthusiastic about the opportunities afforded by the military college.

"I'll all started," Johnson recalled during a recent chat, "when I was graduated from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in 1961."

"I wanted to go to a military academy — something that was above and beyond a regular college. I had definite goals in mind, naturally, and the U. S. Coast Guard Academy in New London, seemed to be just what I was looking for. It seemed like a fine institution. My aim was toward a career as officer-engineer. I knew what I was shooting for."

"SOME OF my friends in college are still groping around, wondering what they are going to do in the future."

"Mostly, I was interested in engineering, and at present, the academy has one basic curriculum — and that's engineering. In addition," Johnson said, "it really offers some fine opportunities, particularly in free education."

(The academy is a government institution, just like West Point Military Academy, the U. S. Air Force Academy and the U. S. Naval Academy.)

"Not only are we free of tuition fees, but the government pays us $1,200 a year, some of which goes toward payments of uniforms, books, food, laundry and incidental allowances."

"The academy," Johnson continued, "has courses with a high ranking engineering reputation. I will be getting my B.S. degree in mechanical engineering in June of this year."

"I've already been on touring summer cruises, to Europe twice, by way of a 295-foot sailing vessel called The Eagle. This ship is a real beauty — looks like something you might see in the movies. I spent 10 weeks in Europe on each cruise, visiting Scotland, Ireland, Belgium, the Netherlands, Canary Islands, and Quebec."

WITHIN THE ACADEMY, Johnson said, there is a regimental organization. "We are self-governing. I was regimental commander, which means head cadet, for the first eight weeks. And in that capacity I was selected to visit Washington, D. C., the White House and President Johnson in October."

"It seems the President was interested in meeting the student heads of colleges in the United States, and leaders throughout the nation spent a very eventful day in the White House."

"There was a dinner for us, where we heard speeches by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara and Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz. Later, the President gave a welcoming talk. And after dinner, we had a party and entertainment hosted by Linda Bird Johnson."

"I was really impressed," Johnson recalled. "I think I had stars in my eyes, especially White House. Mr. McNamara remarked that he always feels" marked that he always feels a little funny — gets a little chill whenever he goes into the White House. And I sure know what he means. It gives one a strange feeling to know that so many of history's great people, past and present, have been here."

In November, Johnson was among those present at West Point for the presentation of the West Point Library.

"GETTING BACK to the Academy," the young cadet said, "I'd like to mention that it is keeping up with all the general college trends. I'm hoping that next summer I'll be working on independent research in the academy's scholars program."

"They've also come up with a choice between engineering and management. There's a large expansion program. We expect that in about 10 years, attendance will reach 1,100. The changes will be considerable. We'll have a new field house, all kinds of new buildings, additional barracks. "In fact," he said, "the cadet barracks have actually doubled in capacity since 1960."

Among the many other appealing features of the academy as seen through the eyes of the young cadet, one is outstanding.

And that is entrance and admittance.

"There is no appointment. The academy offers regular competitive examinations and there are no geographical limitations. Political aspects are not involved in getting into the academy."

JOHNSON EXPLAINED that upon his graduation after completing four years of college, his salary is doubled. "Everyone is required to take an initial tour of duty for a year-and-a-half."

The general trend is for there one goes to a 35-footer ocean station vessel. From a patrol craft as a commanding officer or to LORAN (Long Range Aids to Navigation), which assists ships, determines their position on high seas through electrical pulses. "This is something we maintain throughout the world. We have the majority of oceanographic data for the government. Our basic mission is search and rescue."

"We also have ice scrapers that service the North Pole, in keeping the sea lanes open. We keep an international ice patrol, maintain watch on icebergs that come down on sea lanes. We have charge of buoys and aids to navigation throughout the country."

"And the Coast Guard approves all merchant ships built in the United States for international trade. We're building our own ships for weather stations. These are the most modern ships they have out now."

Johnson added that when this training is completed, an officer may get a desk job somewhere or take a post-graduate course with the Coast Guard.

WHICH WILL Johnson choose? "I've already made up my mind to go back to school to take a post-graduate course," he said. "Only this would not be an ordinary school. I hope to go on board an icebreaker as a student engineer. After a period of a year, I will be a qualified engineer."

Johnson, who was born in Newark, moved to Springfield with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Johnson and his older brother, Charles (now 23 — and a salesman for Electroflux Corp., South Plainfield) when he was seven years old.

"I couldn't have chosen a better college than the U. S. Coast Guard Academy," he said. "To be perfectly frank, rather than seeing myself in a military career, I'd rather see myself as an independent person with a certain amount of security."

"And where else — and under what circumstances can one find a more exciting, adventurous life? I guess I'm just a lucky cadet."

Season's Greetings

It's Holiday time—a time of cheer, of good fellowship and good will—a time when friends near and far exchange the greetings of the season. Yes, it's holiday time... you hear it in the singing of joyous carols, in the glad ringing of bells. You see it in smiling faces and glowing decorations. Most of all, you feel it in your heart, and so do we, as we send season's greetings and extend every good wish for a Happy Holiday to you, our most appreciated friends, neighbors and customers.

Review Of Town's Year That Was

The Board of Adjustment recommends that Township Committee take affirmative action in an application of former Mayor Vincent Bonadies to construct a 24-unit garden development on Morris ave. The Springfield League of Women Voters lends its support to latest proposal for expanding the Florence Gaudineer School.

Township Committee denies application for zoning variance to construct an office building with parking lot at 733 Mountain ave. Application was made by Alsam Homes. Springfield and Millburn veterans join to march in the annual Memorial Day parade sponsored by the fire departments of the two communities.

Mayor Robert Hardgrove receives word that the State Highway Department is willing to confer on possible removal of trolley tracks in Morris ave. An ordinance is introduced in Township Committee to increase the membership quota in the municipal swimming pool by 300 to total of 600. Robert Halsey Donham is named president of the library board.

June

James Farmer, nationally famed leader of the Congress of Racial Equality, speaks to an audience of 500 in Temple Shary Shalom, Springfield. John O. Berwick of Meriden, Conn., is named to succeed retiring Schools Superintendent Benjamin H. News-wanger. Springfield reaches agreement with the State Highway Department for widening and repaving Morris ave. The project, slated to begin in September, is to include removal of trolley tracks in the street.

The Rev. James Dewart, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, Staten Island, is named by Bishop Lloyd C. Wieke to succeed the Rev. Dr. Benjamin Gilbert as pastor of the Springfield Methodist Church, which is to be merged with Emanuel Methodist Church, Newark. The new name is to be Springfield Emanuel Methodist Church.

The third proposal for expansion at the Florence Gaudineer School is approved in referendum. The State Highway Department is in the process of acquiring property for short connector roads at the intersection of Morris, Meisel and Springfield avenues. Summer activity is begun at the township's seven playgrounds. Henry Grabarz accepts an offer to run with Jay Bloom and Douglas Mattie as Democratic candidate for Township Committee.

Many new recreational features are offered at the municipal swimming pool as it begins its 1964 season. The projected new wing of Florence M. Gaudineer school is scheduled to be completed by March, 1965. The Springfield Leader's publishers announce they have purchased the 35-year-old Springfield Star publication of Vincent Bonadies says he will go to court to find why the Springfield building inspector would not issue a permit for construction of a garden apartment development on Morris ave. The executive board of Springfield Chapter, American Red Cross, considers merger with the Summit chapter.

July

The recreation department announces the opening of a new playground next to the recreation house at 50 Caldwell pl. Township Committee introduces an ordinance that would require persons who work in taverns and liquor stores to have photographs and fingerprints on file with local police. Receipts total nearly $400 in the first Theresa Gargalowitz Fund in Union and Springfield.

The Board of Adjustment hears application for a variance to construct a four-story motel on Morris ave. Springfield Fire Department reports it has answered 103 calls in the first half of 1964.

Henry S. Wright announces he will run as an independent in November's Township Committee race. Township Committee unveils plans to construct a roadway behind stores along Morris ave. in order to alleviate parking problems in the area. A Springfield Volunteer for Johnson Committee is organized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Siobol. The county highway department begins repaving county roads in Springfield.

August

Mayor Robert Hardgrove and Committeemen Arthur Feikin and Robert Flanery announce the appointment of Fred H. Beneker as Republican campaign manager. Democratic Township Committee candidate Douglas Mattie declares that plans to construct a new library should be given priority over plans to construct a civic and recreation center. Approval with limitations, is granted on application by Cellian Holding Company to construct an apartment development on Morris ave.

Rabbi Israel Dresner, spiritual leader of Temple Shary Shalom, Springfield, serves time in a Tallahassee, Fla., jail cell for civil rights actions. A team of playground stars from Springfield comes in third in countywide playground competitions in Elizabethtown. The Springfield First Aid Squad begins its 15th annual month-long door-to-door canvass for funds. The State Highway Department announces plans to extend the Route 24 freeway from Morris County into Springfield with construction probably to begin in spring, 1965.

September

Work is begun on widening and repaving Morris ave. Springfield Young Citizens for Johnson participate in demonstration for the President at Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City. The Springfield playground season ends and children return to school. The Sanitation Department begins an intensive fight against ragweed in the township. The State League of Women Voters attributes information on voter registration at gasoline stations in Springfield.

The State Highway Department announces that bids on construction of Route 78 in Springfield are due in December. Claire Longfield, Springfield, begins Peace Corps duty as a teacher in Adis Ababa, Ethiopia. Dr. Benjamin H. Josephson resigns from the Board of Education. His term was to have expired Jan. 31, 1965. Healed disputes between Democratic and Republican Committee candidates spark Township Committee session. John Bullock, owner of the Sin 'n' Sup restaurant at Springfield and Morris avenues, announces he will appeal denial of a zoning variance to construct a three-story motel adjacent to the restaurant. Township Attorney James M. Cawley is elected president of the Seton Hall Law School Alumni Association.

October

Springfield's voter rolls reach an all-time high, with 8,966 citizens registered. Henry S. Wright files petitions with the County Clerk to run as an independent candidate for Township Committee. Harriet L. Moore, a Millburn realtor who resides in Springfield, is named area "Mayor of the Year." Springfield's civil defense unit takes part in a county-wide exercise to test the disaster plans of hospitals in the county. Jonathan Dayton Regional High School wins its first football game of the year against Gov. Livingston Regional Berkeley Heights. Former-Springfield Police Chief M. Chase Runyon dies at the age of 65.

Wilbert W. Layng of Springfield is installed as President of the Association of Municipal Assessors of Union County. Springfield Township Committee candidates debate issues in annual League of Women Voters forum. County Clerk Henry G. Nulton rejects bid by Henry S. Wright to file as an independent candidate for Township Committee. Springfield's newly-formed Human Relations Commission holds its first meeting in Town Hall. A group of 18 residents issues an appeal for an end to the use of the Springfield municipal swimming pool as a political issue. The Recreation Department announces the opening of a new municipal tennis court behind Thelma Sandmeier School. Democratic Committee candidates issue an 11-point platform they say is "essential to restore faith in the government of Springfield." Both parties predict victory as general election day nears.

November

Two Republican incumbents are elected to Township Committee, but Jay B. Bloom, Democrat, captures one seat on the Committee to make it bi-partisan for the first time in a year. The New Jersey Tercentenary, "Historicville" stops in Springfield for a one-day visit. Mayor Robert Hardgrove, defeated by 15 votes in his bid for reelection, files for recount procedures to be conducted by the Union County Board of Freeholders.

Deputy Fire Chief Robert E. Day warns that the danger of brush fires is acute, because of the current water shortage. Superior Court Judge John E. Banger reverses municipal decision granting a special exception use for Valco, Inc., to construct a convalescent home at Mountain ave. and Shunpike rd. The judge terms the atmosphere surrounding the case "contaminated and infected with... conflict of interest." Demands for the resignations of municipal officials whose actions led to the reversal of the special exception use highlight the Township Committee session.

Schools Superintendent John O. Berwick announces the township school enrollment has increased by 32 pupils since September. The Board of Adjustment denies an application of Functional Homes, Inc., to construct a 17-unit garden apartment at 92 Denham rd.

December

The Springfield Red Cross Chapter indicates sufficient support can be mustered to keep it in operation. A. B. Anderson is appointed to fulfill Dr. Benjamin H. Josephson's unexpired term on the board of education. The term will expire in January. Three Springfield Boy Scouts spend weekend in a fallout shelter as an experiment. Harold H. Liebeskind is the first candidate to file for a seat on the board of education. Mrs. Lawrence Dorsky says she will seek another term on the board. Mrs. Paul Weisman and Alvin Jay take out petitions for nomination. The newly-formed Youth Employment Service (YES) holds its first meeting. Committee-man Arthur Feikin defends his actions in the Valco zoning decision at Township Committee session. A five-man group announces plans to circulate petitions to change Springfield's functions of the master plan to Springfield residents. A fire truck is used to bring Santa Claus for a visit to Echo Plaza Shopping Center. A $1,748,175 tentative school budget is adopted by the Board of Education. The Rev. Francis X. Coyle, pastor of St. James Roman Catholic Church, is named a domestic prelate with the title of right reverend monsignor.

THIS MESSAGE SPONSORED IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST BY THE FOLLOWING:

OK PAL!
THE NEXT ONE'S ON ME

The grim spectre isn't kidding. That "one for the road" may well take you all the way into eternity. Holidays and weekends are the times of greatest danger... the highest casualty lists. More drivers are on the road in more of a hurry, traffic is congested, driving strain increases. Add to this potion, the drinking driver... and the mixture is DEADLY!

It's hard to convince a person who has had a few drinks that he shouldn't drive. Alcoholic stimulation engenders a false confidence in his ability. In reality his reactions have slowed down, his perception and judgment are lowered — driving alertness is gone. Soon the road blurs and lights blind, as he fights drowsiness. Finally he loses control. Result: tragedy. Keep out of this grim picture. If you drink, don't drive... if you drive, DON'T DRINK!

This New Year's Eve -- and Throughout the Year

MAKE THAT 'ONE FOR THE ROAD' --- COFFEE!

SECOND CONCERT

Marlboro Trio To Perform Jan. 4

The Marlboro Trio, which has made a considerable name for itself in the past two years performing in concert halls, universities, museums and the Library of Congress, will appear Jan. 4 under sponsorship of the Union Community Concerts Association at Connecticut Farms School in Union.

It will be the second in a series sponsored by the group, which plans to present the Hungarian Rhapsody, Bihari at Burnet Junior High School in Union, March 17. Attendance to the concerts is by membership only. The time for Monday's concert is 8:30 p.m.

The ensemble has an extensive repertoire, which ranges from the early classics of Mozart and Haydn through contemporary works of Copland and Ravel. It performed these in England, the Netherlands, Germany, Switzerland and Portugal as part of a six-week tour this past fall. Michael Tree, a native of Newark and violinist in the group, began study of the instrument with his father, Samuel Appelbaum, when he was four years old. At 12, he was accepted at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, where he became a pupil of the famed Efren Zimbalist. He made his Carnegie Hall,

New York, debut at 20. Since that time, he has toured throughout this country and Canada, sometimes as a guest with such groups as the Philadelphia Orchestra and Los Angeles Philharmonic.

Mitchell Andrews, pianist, has often appeared as a recitalist at metropolitan centers, in addition to performing as a soloist with orchestras throughout the east and mid-west. A native of Iowa, he was awarded a scholarship to study with the art Ota Samgroff at the Pennsylvania Conservatory of Music. He had further study with Carl Friedberg. He is a member of the piano faculty at Juillard School of Music in New York City.

David Soyer made his debut as cello soloist with the Philadelphia Orchestra under Eugene Ormandy when he was 17. A former member of the Bach Aria Group, the Guile Quartet and the New Music Quartet, he has performed in concert extensively in United States and Europe, both as a soloist and in chamber music groups. He also has appeared frequently as a soloist in Carnegie Hall and Town Hall in New York City.

CHAMBER MUSIC — The Union Community Concerts Association, serving the Union, Springfield, Hillside Area, will present the famed Marlboro Trio in the second of its series of concert programs at the Connecticut Farms School in Union on Monday. The trio consists of Michael Tree, a native of Newark, violin; Mitchell Andrews, piano, and David Soyer, cello.

Install Union Realtor As Board President

Martin H. Hochadel, Union realtor, will be installed as president of the Eastern Union County Board of Realtors at a dinner dance at the Chanticleer, Millburn, Jan. 8. He succeeds U. Edward Ratzman of Roselle.

Hochadel opened his real estate and insurance business at his 1236 Burnet ave. home in 1950 and moved a year later to his present office at 2137 Morris ave. He was named "realtor of the year" in 1962 for his work in publicizing the Eastern Union County Board.

A native of Newark, he attended Westside High School, Rutgers University and Middlesex Junior College before joining the Army Air Corps in 1940. During a five-year service career he served as editor of a squadron newspaper in Virginia and with a special service detail at Miller Field, Staten Island. He had his own radio show on station WMBR for three years and arranged radio and television programs for the Disabled American Veterans.

He was the first president of the Hamilton Civic Association. A member of the Irwin D. Harris Post, DAV, he handled arrangements for the 1959 Memorial Day parade in Union. He also served two terms as president of the Craftsmen's Club of Potters Lodge, F. & A.M. of Hillside.

He is married to the former Miss Kathleen Arndt of Orling, Wash. The couple has three children: Martin Jr., 12; Sue, 11; and Debbie, 6.

Other officers to be installed are 1st vice-president, Carroll Dolan of Elizabeth; 2nd vice-president, Charles Berry, Union; 3rd vice-president, Henry Kolar, Elizabeth; secretary, Walter Pector, Linden; treasurer, Chester Frankel, Hillside; and director, Ratzman.

Clinic To Receive Foundation Grant

The Union County Psychiatric Clinic will receive a grant of $10,000 from the Nathan Hofheimer Foundation of New York, Mrs. Stephen Orlando of Linden, president of the clinic's board of trustees, announced.

The new grant will bridge a financial gap until 1966 when federal funds for mental health will become available. Under the federal program New Jersey plans to establish mental health centers throughout the state. The Union County Psychiatric Clinic, a county-wide non-governmental service organization, will play a major role in planning and staffing. The clinic was founded in 1941 by an original grant from the Hofheimer Foundation and has since expanded its services to include five officers and 32 professional workers.

The first Hofheimer grant was followed by two others in 1945 and 1946. Under the New Jersey State Community Mental Health Services Act of 1956 the clinic began major expansion with the aid of public money and through local financial support from each of the 22 communities it serves.

Second Term Begins For 3 YWCA Classes

The second term for three classes at the Summit Young Women's Christian Association will begin next week. They include modern dance for adults, pre-teen modern dance and daytime English classes for non-

English speaking men and women. The pre-teen session will begin next Tuesday. The English and adult dance classes will begin on Thursday. The YWCA urged interested persons to register before sessions begin.

 Planer has been very interested in this project. He has looked into it very thoroughly.

"SEVERAL WEEKS AGO we had a representative from each organization in town—we had sent out invitations to all organizations and churches to attend our meeting . . . and it turned out to be very successful. In fact, the First Presbyterian Church here explained that they would have a notice about our project in their bulletin."

Mrs. Lorimer, in answer to a hypothetical question of what happens if a student gets a part-time job, and his grades suffer as a result, said: "Our first obligation is to the student. We'll talk to him, have him discuss his job, and why he needed his studies for the job. If the job proves too pressing, why, we'll get him a less demanding job instead."

"One of our biggest dreams," Mrs. Lorimer sighed, "is to get some of the dropouts placed in part-time jobs so that they can return to finish their high school education. If we can talk them into going back to school—if back five years ago" (The Springfield Leader).

Mrs. Lorimer has been active in organizational projects as far back as she can remember, she says. "I go where and when I'm needed," she explained. "I'm a sort-of-Jack — or Jane, if you like — of all trades. When I worked with the municipal pool, I became busy, full time, in getting the membership set up, arranging for the badges . . . I was a part of every phase of it."

"I've been a sort of Girl Friday for Springfield. If an official came to town, and they needed someone to give out awards, they contacted me. I made arrangements, helped out in every way I could."

"I rarely say no to any group. If I can help them out, if it's a worthwhile activity, or if someone needs a favor, I do not hesitate to become actively involved."

"KEEPING ACTIVE," she said, "keeps me out of trouble and keeps me from becoming one of the over-the-fence-gossip mongers — who must surely get into trouble."

What does Mrs. Lorimer do in her "spare time"? "I sew, make my own clothes, wall paper, paint," she replied in a matter-of-fact voice. "We do our own gardening," Mrs.

Youth Fined $200; Jailed 3 Months; Appeal Entered

Frank N. Campolo, 19, of 125 W. Clay ave., Roselle Park, was sentenced in Springfield Municipal Court last week to three months in the Union County jail and fined $200 on a disorderly persons charge.

An appeal was entered by his attorney, Roselle Park Mayor Herbert M. Barnes. The youth also faces three charges of armed robbery which have been referred to a county grand jury by the Springfield court.

Campolo pleaded not guilty before Magistrate Max Sherman Dec. 21 to the disorderly persons charge, which was for failure to give a good account of himself. He remains free, in $3,000 bail pending the outcome of the appeal.

Whiskey, Cash Taken

The theft of six cases of whiskey and an undetermined amount of cash was reported to Union police last Wednesday by the Esco Auto Seat Cover Company, 1521 Rt. 22. Police said an investigation disclosed entry to the building was gained through a rear door.

Police on the holiday morning watched as Campolo allegedly stopped his car, got out, left the motor running, walked around the premises and then toward the entrance. They converged on him, and he was arrested. They reported finding in his car a black eye patch and a black metal toy pistol that looked like a German Luger.

To Appear In Court On Two Complaints

Francis A. Kelly, 40, of 97D Troy Village, Springfield, is scheduled to appear in Springfield Municipal Court next Monday night on charges of disorderly conduct and assault on a police officer.

The Springfield man, a construction worker, was arrested on Rt. 22 in Springfield twice, his residence Christmas Eve, after a neighbor reported hearing a woman screaming. Sgt. John Springfield filed the complaints, and Kelly was released in his own recognizance.

Compton Chosen By Atlas Supply

Compton Advertising, Inc., New York City, has been appointed the agency to handle advertising for Atlas Supply Co., Springfield, according to Henry J. Archer, advertising manager of Atlas.

Archer said: "Compton was selected to handle the advertising of the Atlas fire, battery and accessory line after careful consideration of several other agencies."

"The company was selected," he said, "because we felt their advertising and marketing philosophy was best suited to the present and future development of Atlas."

Kirk Wins Election To College Post

EASTON, Pa. — Robert C. Kirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Kirk of 117 Saller st., Springfield, N. J., has been elected sergeant-at-arms of Alpha Omega chapter of Theta Chi fraternity at Lafayette College, here.

A 1962 graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Kirk is majoring in government. He is a member of the Fine Arts Society and the yearbook staff. He is also active with the school's fencing team.

Heart Group Offers New Year's Resolutions

"Resolved that in 1965, I will take all possible precautions to reduce my risk of heart attack."

This New Year's resolution was proposed this week by the Union County Heart Association for adoption by the country's adults — especially those under 65 years of age. About 150,000 Americans under 65 die of heart attack each year, while the total at all ages is about half a million. An additional 200,000 die of strokes, about 40,000 at ages under 65. The same precautions will be helpful in reducing the risk of both conditions, the Heart Association said.

The Association cited a number of health measures available to improve the individual's chances of avoiding (or at least delaying) a heart attack or stroke. The measures are especially important for men and women in "high risk" groups — for example, if they or their families have shown a tendency to these illnesses. But everyone, the heart Association emphasized, can benefit by taking the following precautions:

1. See your doctor for regular check-ups so that he can determine whether you have any of the established "risk factors" — such as a high blood level of the fatty substance known as cholesterol, high blood pressure, diabetes and, some others.

2. Reduce if overweight. Obesity especially in combination with high blood pressure is a threat to heart health. And obesity raises the risk of high blood pressure.

3. Under the doctor's guidance, eat less fat — and while you are cutting down on fats, reduce the amount of animal fats you eat and raise the amount of vegetable oil and fish. This type of dietary change will accomplish two things: it will lower total calories and make it easier for you to maintain ideal weight and it will tend to lower blood cholesterol. Blood cholesterol tends to go up when the diet is high in animal (saturated) fats, tends to go down when the diet is proportionately high in vegetable oils and other polyunsaturated fats.

4. Control high blood pressure. If a physical examination discloses that you have high blood pressure, cooperate with your doctor in following the regime he prescribes — chiefly drugs and diet changes — to bring it under control. This, in itself, may add years to your life, since chronic high blood pressure adds significantly not only to the risk of heart attack but is also an important factor in stroke and kidney disease.

5. Stop smoking cigarettes. If cigarette smokers were to experience the same death rate from heart attack as non-smokers, about 60,000 more men under age 65 would live through 1965, the Association said. Studies indicate that death rates from heart attacks in middle-aged men range from 50 to 200 percent higher among cigarette smokers than among nonsmokers depending on the amount smoked. And there is evidence that with time, the risk of having fatal heart attacks among persons who stop smoking cigarettes approaches that found in persons who never smoked.

Senator Williams Named Chairman Of Palsy Telethon

Julius R. Pollatschek of Union, president of United Cerebral Palsy Associations of New Jersey and Union County, this week announced the appointment of United States Senator Harrison A. Williams Jr., of Westfield, as honorary chairman of the 14th annual United Cerebral Palsy Telethon.

The Telethon will be seen on WOR-TV Channel 9, Saturday, Jan. 9, 10:30 p.m., to Sunday, Jan. 10, 5:30 p.m. During the 19-hour period, stars from all media will be seen with Dennis James acting as Master of Ceremonies.

In accepting the appointment, Senator Williams urged residents of the state to pledge generously during telethon hours. "Little children with cerebral palsy need our help and encouragement," he said. "It is my hope that the January telethon will be a huge success."

Aaron Blumhagen, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Milton Blumhagen of Cranford has been chosen as junior telethon chairman for United Cerebral Palsy of Union County which maintains a center for victims of Cerebral Palsy at 216 Holly St., Cranford.

Scout Sale Chairman Will Discuss Plans
District and neighborhood cookie sale chairmen of the Washington Rock Girl Scout Council will hold a luncheon meeting Jan. 7 at the Kingston Restaurant in Union to discuss plans for the Girl Scout cookie sale Jan. 22-30.

The sale will involve more than 1,500 Girl Scouts in the area. Proceeds will be used for camping and other Scout activities.

There are 50 chairmen, representing 26 communities in the council. Mrs. John Casale is general chairman, and Mrs. A. M. Gessler, co-chairman.
