ON THE RECORD — Mrs. David Katz of 29 Cypress ter- signs her name to the open housing pledge being circulated by the Springfield Fair Housing Committee as Joseph Marzell, volunteer worker for the anti-discrimination group, looks on.

500 Sign Pledge As Drive Begins On Housing Bias

The people of Springfield responded to the Fair Housing Committee's pledge drive last Sunday by giving an "overwhelming vote of approval to the principles of open housing," according to Mrs. Philip Lewis, coordinator of the drive. More than 500 residents signed the "good neighbor" pledge.

"We were extremely heartened by the response," she said. "Everywhere we went, people were friendly, receptive and encouraging."

Some 75 members of the Fair Housing Committee participated in the drive, which was conducted on a door-to-door basis throughout the township. The drive will continue during the remainder of the month, and will culminate in March, when the names of all signers will be listed in a full-page advertisement in the Springfield Leader.

"During the rest of February," said Mrs. Lewis, "we will attempt to cover those parts of town we missed last week. By the end of the month, we feel our list of signatures will approach the 1,000 mark."

In signing the pledge, which is designed "to create a climate in Springfield where people are judged solely on the basis of merit," residents approved the following statement:

"We believe that the foundations of American democracy rest on the enthusiastic support of the human rights and dignity of all people.

"We believe in the principle of open housing.

"Therefore, we express our willingness to accept as our neighbors persons on their own merit, without regard to race, religion or national origin."

Supported by Clergy

In conducting last Sunday's drive, the Fair Housing Committee had the support of Springfield's clergymen, who, as a group, stated that "prohibition based on race, religion or national origin is completely contrary to the religious principles we embrace."

The drive also had the support of Springfield's elected officials. Among them was Mayor William Koonz, who praised the campaign as "an instrumental force in making Springfield a better community for all people."

The drive also had the active support of the 75 residents who conducted the actual door-to-door canvass. Headed by Mrs. (Continued on Page 4)

Chamber Heads, Town Committee Confer On Plans

Now ideas for a roadway north of the Morris ave. business district and prospects for a united fund campaign to reduce the number of charity drives in Springfield were discussed at a conference of the Township Committee Tuesday night with leaders of the Chamber of Commerce.

The participants also touched on the "eyesore" created by the abandoned pizza parlor on Mountain-ave. opposite Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, as well as the need for bus-shelters at the Gen. Greene and Echo Plaza shopping centers.

Concerning the long-discussed roadway to provide added parking facilities north of Morris ave., emphasis was placed on a "new approach" to the problem. Speakers agreed that a suitable use for the property should be determined, whether commercial or otherwise, that a prospective user should be found and that the project then be de-

Red Cross Plans Bloodmobile Visit For Donors Here

Chairman Advises Appointments Now For March 16 Jobs

With Springfield's next Red Cross bloodmobile visit scheduled for Tuesday, March 16, from 1 to 6:30 p.m., Mrs. Daniel D. Kalem, Red Cross blood program chairman, this week appealed for all donors to register now.

The bloodmobile will set up its cots and needles at Holy Cross Lutheran Church, 639 Mountain ave. Mrs. Kalem urged that donors sign up early, so that appointment times can be established.

She added that blood donors are particularly needed for the community group blood bank. Other groups have their own blood bank credits, while participating in the township bloodmobile program. They include PTAs, the firemen, Saks Fifth Ave. and religious groups.

Donors can receive appointments by calling the Red Cross at 376-1878 or Mrs. Kalem at 376-0523. The individual groups participating will also schedule appointments for their members.

Assisting with plans for the bloodmobile are Mrs. John Edwards, chairman of bloodmobile volunteer workers; Mrs. Nathan Lizenmah, chairman, registered nurses; Mrs. W. Nye, canteen chairman, and Mrs. David Weinstein, chairman, Red Cross motor corps.

The local chapter stressed the need at least to match the results of the 1964 bloodmobile visit, when 137 donors took part. Last year's program enlisted the services of 71 volunteers, who contributed 193 hours of service.

They included 44 bloodmobile volunteers, 10 registered nurses, 11 canteen workers and six motor corps members. In addition, units of the Springfield Fire-Add Squad remained on duty throughout the day.

A total of 2,737,500 units of blood was donated through Red Cross during 1963-64. Blood was collected by Red Cross during 1963-64 at an average rate of 5 donations per minute. An estimated 300 colleges and universities have organized mobile unit operations on campus through which Red Cross receives annually some 80,000 donations of blood.

A total of 292,200 volunteers served in the Red Cross Blood Program during 1963-64, including 18,700 volunteer physicians, 19,500 volunteer nurses, 17,800 blood program aides and 236,200 other volunteers.

School Board Election Tuesday

"OOO-DOO-DOO GOES THERE!" echoes from all corners and niches, walls and floors, tables and shelves, bookcases and books, even from the pages of Dr. Ann Duca, as she jingles her brooch of owls and her owl earrings, as the owl pin on her dress sparkles and winks. Dr. Duca, retired geologist and now a volunteer worker at the Springfield Public Library, exhibits a small portion of her owl collection, which originated more than half a century ago. Her three-room apartment in Troy Village features signs of her hobby — OWLS, in assorted shapes, forms and materials. See article on page two.

4 Seats At Stake, As 8 Candidates Finish Campaign

Board Of Education Will Present Budget For Public Approval

With nearly 9,000 voters registered in Springfield, perhaps 3,000 are expected to vote Tuesday for four positions on the Board of Education. There are six candidates for three three-year terms and two contenders for one one-year term.

The voters will also pass judgment on a budget for 1965-1966 consisting of $1,204,120 for current expenses and $31,150 for capital outlay.

In last year's school board elections, there were 301 voters cast by 8,198 registered voters. Interest was less intense at that time, however, since there was no election contest.

The last contested election was in 1963. With 8,341 registered voters, there were 607 votes cast. This year, with room on the board for only half the candidates, telephone squads have been busy. Indications point to a heavy vote, at least by school election standards.

Seeking Office

Candidates for the three three-year terms are Carlo Casale, Mrs. Sonva G. Dorsky, Alvin Jay, Howard Lovin and Francis Shmashock.

Seeking election to the one-year term are Joseph Afflitto and Mrs. Ruth Weisman.

The polls will be open Tuesday from 1 to 9 p.m. Residents of Districts 1, 2 and 3 will vote at the James Caldwell School. Voters in Districts 4, 5 and 6 also will go to the polls at the Caldwell School.

The Florence Gaullinger School is the polling place for Districts 7, 8, 9 and 10. Residents of Districts 11, 12 and 13 will vote at the Edward Walton School.

BOARD DISMISSES ZONING REQUEST BY NURSING HOME

The Board of Adjustment, at a special meeting Tuesday evening, denied an application by the Villa Construction Co. for a special exception permit to construct a nursing home on Morris ave. at the Rahway River. The board declared that an S-60 residential zone, such as the one concerned, "does not permit a private nursing home as a special exception use."

No date has been set for a hearing on the variance request for a single shell at Evergreen Lodge. A previous variance was remanded by the courts for further municipal consideration. The board noted that the matter will be treated, in essence, as a new application, with a need for formal notice to the neighbors and advertisement of a hearing.

Teenagers' Study Trip Planned

Seven Jonathan Dayton Regional High School students will broaden their horizons this summer with a first-hand look at the Alhambra, flamenco dancers and the rain falling mainly on plains all over Spain.

The seven young men and women from the Springfield school who will spend 30 days touring Spain and studying at the University of Salamanca are Susan Blackman, Lauren Blaustein, Rosemary Criscuolo, Ken Max, Sanford Neuhart, Ken Weiss and Dave Yurkman.

The septet is the first local group to take advantage of a low-cost student rate trip sponsored by the American Institute of Foreign Studies. It has been arranged by Robert Freds of the school's language department as part of a foreign study program that was introduced at the school last year.

New England Group Visits Temple Youth

Tomorrow afternoon, some 55 teenagers and 18 adults from Massachusetts will arrive in Springfield to take part in the Temple Shalom Senior Youth Group's sixth annual weekend convale.

The visitors from New England, who will be representing three different Massachusetts churches, will join 30 teenagers from Shalom in a three-day examination of the convalescence theme, "The Problem of Good and Evil."

Bringing their differing religious, racial and geographical backgrounds to bear, the teenagers and their leaders will explore the subject at lectures and discussion groups. They will also attend religious services at Temple Shalom, and make a trip to New York to see Arthur Miller's current play, "Incident at Vichy."

The activities of the weekend will be under the direction of Rabbi Israel S. Dreiner, of Temple Shalom. Assisting him will be Mrs. Natalie Wald, the temple's youth chairman; Lance Kraines, president of the senior youth group, and James Bender, chairman of the convale.

NEWEST-FASHION AS BUSES-VANISH: WALK TO SCHOOL

Springfield students used their feet to go to the head of the class Tuesday, getting to school in their full numbers, and on time, despite the sudden strike by drivers for the Somerset Bus Co.

Officials at both Jonathan Dayton Regional High School and the Florence Gaullinger Senior reported that the figures for students absent and tardy were normal despite the bus strike, snow-covered roads and inclement weather. Students confined to the room by the bus (Continued on Page 4)

2 Siren Blasts Means No School

The Springfield public schools in cooperation with the PTA offer the following advice to students and parents with respect to the question of school sessions on days of inclement weather:

—Listen for fire sirens at 7:30, 7:45, 8 and 8:15 a.m. Two blasts mean no school sessions that day.

—Listen to John Gambing on radio station WOR. Any announcement as it applies to local schools will specify "Springfield Public Schools."

Call class mothers, who will have the information after 7:10 a.m.

Parents and students have been requested not to call police or the school office.

Wise Old Owls Could Speak Volumes On Librarian's Career

Somerset Buses Stop Operations In Sudden Strike

By BIL SMITH
One day back in the early 1920's, a young college girl presented her father with a memento pin. The pin, which had an owl on it, was attached to the young man's lapel. Some time later she neglected to remove the pin when the suit was taken to the cleaner by his mother. The suit was returned neatly cleaned and pressed, but the owl pin was still there.

The owl pin was still there. "How could that young girl be so stupid?" the father thought. "I'll give her a lesson." He took the owl pin and put it in his pocket. From that time on, he always wore the owl pin.

Dr. Duce, a high school graduate, continued to receive a variety of owl objects in her living room, kitchen and bedroom. Supporting her many books in her many bookcases were large owl bookends. Framed pictures of owls covered the living room and bedroom walls. There was owl embroidery on towels, a cookie jar shaped in an owl-shaped owl, and all came from different places: Miami, Denver, Mexico, Tokyo, rare plates with owl designs, a large and small assortment of ceramic owls and owl figurines.

Dr. Duce, who lived with her husband on Madison terrace in Springfield in a split-level house with eight big rooms, explained that she continued to live there after her husband passed away. "I just had to do something I'd heard people talk about. The Springfield Librarian, I called Mrs. Francis, who is in charge there, and she said she was pleased to accept me. She's such a pleasant, friendly person, really, a wonderful person to work with. I'm there now—three days a week, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Some 15,000 commuters in various parts of Union County began looking for alternate means of transportation when 143 drivers unexpectedly went out on strike against the Somerset Bus Co. early Tuesday.

Cars Collide On Slippery Roads As Snow Re-Blankets Township

Slippery road conditions, resulting from the blanket of snow which fell on Springfield Monday, played a prominent role in four auto collisions on township streets. The four collisions, all occurring within a two-hour period Monday afternoon, resulted in slight injury to two persons and damage to eight vehicles.

In the first accident, Arthur Fensterman, 38, and his wife, Ernie, 34, were taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit, by the Springfield First Aid Squad after the car in which they were riding collided with an auto driven by Joyce A. Dausor, 17, of 248 Baltusrol ave., Springfield. The collision occurred at 3:45 p.m.

According to police, the Dausor auto was pulling out of a parking lot into Mountain ave., when it skidded on the slippery pavement and collided with an auto driven by Fensterman, forcing that auto into a tree.

Thirty-five minutes later, autos driven by Leonard C. Goldring, 48, of 8 Berkeley rd., Springfield, and Charles A. Ruggieri, 16, of West Orange, were damaged when they collided in Maple ave., at Springfield.

Police said the Goldring auto was pulling out of a parking area into snow-covered Maple ave., when the collision occurred.

Two cars were damaged shortly after 5:00 Monday afternoon when one of them skidded on snow-covered Mountain ave., and collided with the other.

Springfield police said the first car, driven by Dr. Henry F. Hunseler Jr., 42, of 518 Mountain ave., Springfield, was pulling out of a gas station into

LAKERS, BULLETS BEAT OPPONENTS IN LEAGUE GAMES

The Lakers and the Bullets opened the Saturday afternoon play in the Fall Fry Basketball League. The Lakers got off to a good first quarter start and led throughout the game. Jeff Slater was high man scoring seven points. He received help from Bruce Jeffery and Douglas Williams who scored four points each. Phil Norulak scored five points and Arnold Blumenthal, three points. The final score was 17-8.

In a low scoring game, the Aggies edged out the Billikens 6-4. Mark Yasullo was high scorer with four points for the Aggies. Denis Holter had the other two points. John Gacos did all the scoring for the Billikens.

The Knicks had a shut-out game, defeating the Celtics, 18-0. Howie Fleischman and Rich Kronert each scored eight points. Bobby Fox scored the other two points for the Knicks.

In the final game, the Pistons defeated the Nats, 33-7. Billy Steffany lead the scoring with 14 points. Jim (Scrappy) Schoch, had eight points. Joe Pepe and Richie Schwerdt did a good job of guarding and ball handling for the Pistons.

The last in the series of collisions occurred on Henshaw ave., at 5:50 p.m. when a car driven by Astrid Olofson, 20, of 17 Henshaw ave., skidded into one driven by Walter M. Porter, 39, of 31 Tooker pl., also Springfield. Both autos received slight damage.

According to police, a delivery truck, driven by Anthony R. Minkuski, 38, of 105 E. Roselle ave., Roselle Park, was unable to stop in time and collided with the Olofson car. Police said the truck was not damaged.

FREEMAN HEADS TOWNSHIP-DRIVE FOR HEART FUND

Saul Freeman of 14 Country Club Lane has been named to serve again as chairman for the Springfield Heart Fund campaign. February has been designated nationally as Heart Month. Freeman declared that "support of this worthy program will reduce the No. One killer in a level which can be controlled."

He is former exalted ruler of the Springfield Lodge of Elks and executive secretary and past president of the Springfield Chamber of Commerce. Freeman is chairman of the committee which is studying prospects for a municipal recreation center.

Township To Begin Adult Art Program

The Springfield Recreation Department will begin its newly-formed adult art program on Feb. 15. The program will run for 10 consecutive weeks and will be conducted at the Recreation House, 59 Caldwell pl. Classes will be held on Mondays from 12:45 to 2:45 p.m.

The adult art program is an introductory course in painting and drawing. Mrs. Helen Frank, a Springfield resident and a professional artist, will be the instructor.

Because of limited room, registration will be kept to a total of 20 persons. The Recreation Department has announced that 10 people have already registered. There will be a $10 entrance fee. All basic materials will be supplied.

Persons who wish to register should contact John S. Dorington, assistant director of recreation, at the Municipal Building this week. The phone number is DR-6-5800.

Snow Is Expensive For Slow Shovelers

Springfield Municipal Court Monday night reported that 137 summonses had been issued in the past week to residents and motorists for alleged failure to clear snow and ice from sidewalks or cover it with sand or salt.

As of that time, 30 of the violators had paid $5 fines through the violations bureau. The court pointed out that the offense carries a fine up to $50 and/or 10 days in jail. However, it has thus far allowed offenders to settle the matter through the bureau for only $5.

The court also reminded all property owners that a local ordinance holds them responsible for snow and ice removal or covering it with salt or sand within 12 daylight hours after a snowfall has ceased.

For those who are physically unable to attend to the problem, the court added, there is a Youth Employment Service housed in the Municipal Building with a roster of boys who are eager to make pin money shoveling snow. The phone number is DR 5-5800. Calls should ask for Y.E.S.

For Sale: A Barn, A Chicken Coop And 3 Houses

A three-tier chicken coop, the shell of an old barn and a masonry shed are among the assortment of buildings to be sold at auction today by the New Jersey State Highway Authority. The buildings now stand on property in Springfield which has been purchased by the department for the future construction of the Route 78 Bypass and Interstate Route 78 and must be moved from their present locations.

The high bidder for the chicken coop must also take a one-family frame dwelling with two-car garage, all of which are located at 36 Tompkins lane.

Along with the shell of the old barn goes a one-family house, both located at 52 Main st., and with the masonry shed goes a one-family house at 84 Main st.

Also included in the sale is a 1 1/2-story frame dwelling at 78 Main st.

The auction will be held today at 11:30 a.m. at 934 Morris turnpike, Millburn, the site of a property also scheduled to be sold by the department.

2 COURSES HELD FOR ISOMETRICS, MODERN DANCING

Two courses of instruction, modern dance for children, and "slim trim" for adults, are now being offered by the Sisterhood of Temple Shalom. Both classes are led by Mrs. Louise Weiss, teacher of physical education, dance and health.

The modern dance classes, now in their third year, teach rhythmic exercises and dance patterns and emphasize proper body alignment. Slim-trim classes concentrate on principles of isometrics, a method of exercise involving muscle tension.

Narcotics User Is Found Guilty On Theft Charge

Springfield Magistrate Max Sherman Monday night gave a 20-year-old confessed narcotic user a six-month sentence in Union County jail, but suspended the sentence on condition that he seek rehabilitation at Synanon House for narcotics users, to which he has applied for admission.

The youth, Michael Barone Jr., of 85 S. 21st St., Irvington, is now serving seven months in Essex County jail for a parole violation. Magistrate Sherman sentenced that the suspended sentence in Union County begin after his release by Essex County authorities.

He was charged in Springfield with walking into an open garage at 81 Morris Ave. and stealing golf clubs and fishing gear. He confessed to being a heroin user, police said.

The youth also was fined $100, but this was suspended on the same conditions as the jail sentence suspension.

Troop 70 Boy Scouts To Take Part In Lake Surprise Klondike Derby

Scouts of Troop 70 will take part in the Northern District Klondike Derby to be held at Surprise Lake Saturday. The troop is sponsored by the Men's Club of First Presbyterian Church of Springfield.

In the Klondike Derby scout teams will pull dog sleds over a wooded course to the various "towns" where "mayors" will present incidents to be handled by the teams. Teams will be judged on their demonstration of scout skills.

At a recent meeting of the troop, held in James Caldwell School, other troops of the area were guests at a program in leather craft. James Bennett of

How To Succeed With Really Trying

Mascuch, Millionaire Since 28, Credits 'Attitude'

By MARJAN BROWN

J. J. Mascuch, self-made multi-millionaire president of Breeze Corporations, Union, and owner of Victory Engineering Corporation, Springfield, believes that success is a matter of attitude.

Owner of some 60 patents and a connoisseur of luxurious living, he has a history of chain-reaction success — from success in stock market speculation to success in shooting wild game in Africa — to give weight to his theory.

"I've always believed in myself," he said recently behind the sweeping semi-circular desk in his office at Breeze, as he chatted with a reporter between telephone interruptions in which he discussed the purchase of a new firm with far less than his average man gives to the purchase of a new car.

"I exercise regularly, live right and maintain a positive attitude," he said.

The vigorous inventor-executive now 68, plans to live to be 100 through his principles of attitude — unless a way is found by then to move into outer space. In that case, he'll live to be 150. "It has to do with relativity," he explained.

Breeze is an engineering, research and manufacturing company for automotive and aircraft, specialty products and services with facilities in Salisbury, Pa., and Wyoming, Ill., as well as in Union, Victory makes variators, thermistors, hypometers and other sensing devices for industry, scientific laboratories and the medical world.

Mascuch founded Breeze in 1926 to make radio ignition shielding for the aircraft industry — a system based on one of his own inventions.

He got the idea during World War I, when as a flier with the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe, the ignition system of his plane interfered with radio signals he sent out, so the only method of plane-to-ground radio communication was to turn the plane's motor off, go into a nose-dive and swoop back into flight. He began working on a metallic shield to cover the ignition system and proved the principle of his invention before he returned to civilian life.

MASCUCH WAS BORN in Newark in 1896 of Czechoslovakian parentage, and was one of 10 children, and his father was a lock designer and metal-pattern maker.

He was about six years old, he said, when he decided to become an inventor. He was always busy figuring out how things work and when he didn't have something he needed or thought he needed, he would figure out how to make it.

Symbolically enough, the device from which the embryonic inventor's flow of productivity first hatched was a jet steam engine made with an egg shell. He was six, and his steam engine was very simple. He punctured an egg with a little hole, sucked out the inside and filled it half full of water. He propped this up over a miniature container of alcohol and stood the whole thing on a little candy box. When he set it in the bathtub and lighted the alcohol — whoosh!

Materials for inventions, he found, cost money, and with 10 in the family there was not an abundance of it. So he busied himself with odd jobs, delivering meat, selling whips to farmers and performing various chores to finance his tinkering.

After graduation from Bay-Ringer High School, he worked as a draftsman for Hyatt Roller Bearing in Harrison and attended Newark College of Engineering at night. It was at Hyatt that he bought his first shares of common stock at 75 cents a share.

When the firm was acquired by General Motors two years later stockholders were given two shares of GM stock for one of Hyatt, and Mascuch was launched on a path of successful speculation. He was a millionaire at 28.

Mascuch now divides his working time between Breeze and Victory and his leisure time between a wide assortment of hobbies and entertaining in his 21-room Italian villa in Millburn.

Breeze serves primarily the automotive and aircraft industries but branches out into other areas such as home heating, radar, accessory equipment and super-sonic missile launchers for military aircraft. It manufactures the rescue hoists or winches that plucked United States astronauts out of the ocean after their orbits in space.

At Victory a special project is the manufacture of thermistors, semiconductors made in the form of tiny beads as small as six thousandths of an inch. One of these, imbedded in a tooth of an astronaut, can enable doctors on earth to monitor his temperature. The device is used to measure and control thermal, electronic and physical energy. It can do this because its resistance to electricity varies according to the temperature of its sensing element. A thermistor can detect the presence of a person a quarter of a mile away through body heat.

Victory is developing a hypodermic to take the temperature of the head, a thermometer that reflects temperature change as rapidly as a seismograph, a cancer probe to detect potential breast cancer through body temperature and other devices in the field of electronic medicine. Mascuch predicts a tremendous future for these products. The day will come, he said, when operations will be performed electronically — without a knife.

MASCUCH LIKES to relax and entertain in his pink-stucco Millburn mansion, furnished with elaborate antiques and surrounded by terraced gardens that blaze with color. There is a patio with a quartz glass ceiling and an outdoor swimming pool that is being enclosed by a structure that resembles the Taj Mahal.

Other decorations in his home and at both of his businesses are the heads of wild game he has killed on hunting expeditions in Africa.

Another hobby is color photography. He has a large number of hunting shots and pictures of his house.

If one asks the source of his energy, he is handed a card on which is printed the philosophy of J. J. Mascuch. It reads:

"Take time to work. It is the price of success. Take time to think. It is the source of power. Take time to play. It is the secret of perpetual youth. Take time to read. It is the fountain of wisdom. Take time to be healthy. It is the road to happiness. Take time to dream. It is the road to greater vision. Take time to laugh. It is the music of the soul. Take time to give. The day is too short to be selfish. Take time to love and be loved. It is that privilege of the soul."

Presbyterians Select Theme Of Commitment To Community

"Commitment to Witness in Community" will be the 1965 theme of the First Presbyterian Church of Springfield, as outlined at the 218th annual congregational meeting held last Thursday at the Presbyterian Parish House.

A summary of the work of the church in the past year on behalf of all church organizations was presented in written form, interspersed by brief comments on particular highlights of church activities by both the Rev. Bruce W. Evans, pastor, and the Rev. Donald C. Weber, associate pastor.

Mr. Evans commented on the theme: "The commitment in the year ahead will be expressed more meaningfully in our regularity of worship, our faithfulness in stewardship, our generosity in mission, our acceptance of responsibility and the development of our abilities in dedicated service."

Particular attention was given to the work of the Church-School under the "very capable leadership" of its superintendent, Robert Bevan; the church-musical program as directed by John Bunnell and Mrs. Karen Maglaughlin, organist; and the church-wide organizations, including the numerous Boy and Girl Scout groups which meet in the Parish House.

Plans were also projected for the coming year in every field for a "greater utilization of all in the strengthening of the church program."

Officers Elected

Officers were elected at the congregational meeting for three-year terms, under a rotary system, to the three boards of the church, with nominations presented by C. Stuart Knowlton, chairman of the church-wide nominating committee.

They are: elders: Paul Beck, Howard Heerwagen, James Marshall, John Schoch and Robert Southward; deacons: Gumbler Eidenfessel, Andrews Morrison, Alice Meg, Frank Stevens, Fred Schenk and Gary Brandis.

In addition to the officers, the following members were selected from the congregation at large for a one-year membership on the nominating committee: Henry Brucker, George Glenn, Robert Isley, Mrs. Harry Anderson Jr. and Mrs. Max Kuehn.

At the corporation meeting which immediately followed the congregational meeting and was presided over by Robert J. Kennedy, president of the board of trustees, the following trustees were elected: Robert Hardgrove, Frank Hayden, William Mettke and Robert Steffen. A new church treasurer was also elected, Bruno Becker, replacing Charles Heard to whom tribute was paid for "exceptionally faithful service" in this field.

The Springfield church organized in 1745 as the First Church in Springfield, is one of the leading churches in Elizabeth Presbyterian. It has achieved a memorable record and has been cited by the Presbytery for its work in benevolence giving, it was reported.

Through its ministers, as well as its elders it has provided leadership in committee work with Mr. Evans serving on the council, Mr. Weber a chairman of the Christian education committee, Elder Raymond Pierson on the national missions committee and Elder Warren Halsey on the sessional records committee.

UJC To Get $307,330 For Science Building
 Union Junior College's application for a federal grant of $307,330 for a science building was approved Friday by the New Jersey State Commission for the Higher Education Facilities Act.

The application was forwarded to Washington Tuesday for final approval by the U.S. Office of Education. The college plans to build a science building costing $521,000. The federal grant represents one-third of the anticipated cost, which is the largest amount possible under the Higher Education Facilities Act.

14 Area Drivers Forfeit Licenses For Points, Speed

Fourteen motorists from this area of Union County have forfeited their license for varying periods under the New Jersey Point System and 80/70 Excessive Speed Program, the Division of Motor Vehicles announced this week.

Revoked for four months under the Point System were the licenses of Michael J. Petlinichio, 21, of 43 Mapes ave., Springfield, effective Dec. 2; Richard M. Gelb, 19, 133 Jerome st., Roselle Park, Jan. 18; and Robert D. Andreko, 19, 310 W. Henry st., Linden, Jan. 1.

Revoked for three months under the same program were the licenses of Lawrence E. Whelan, 19, of 508 W. Fifth st., Roselle, effective Jan. 12; and Raymond A. Cure, 22, 28 E. Morris ave., Linden, Jan. 11.

Revoked for two months under the same program were the licenses of Kenneth N. Evans, 20, of 1382 Birch Hill rd., Mountainside, effective Jan. 15; and Frank Warnett, 23-138 W. Third ave., Roselle, Jan. 12.

Revoked for one month under the same program were the licenses of Ronald S. Schwartz, 21, of 728 Colonial Aves. rd., Union, effective Jan. 12; Joseph A. Delquerio, 19, 21-Milled ter., Vauxhall, Jan. 15; Henry Sullivan Jr., 26, 117 Monroe st., Roselle, Jan. 15; and Anthony J. Genovese, 20, 1498 Deer Path, Mountainside, Jan. 19.

Revoked for 30 days under the Speed Program were the licenses of Marco A. Scritella Jr., 20, of 91 Jefferson ter., Springfield, effective Jan. 13; Frederick W. Flewelling, 23, 332 Wayne ter., Union, Jan. 24; and Annabelle Skitcher, 42, 238 Friar lane, Mountainside, Jan. 12.

Kenneth Zehner Is Elected Prexy Of County TARs

The Union County Teen Age Republican Club elected Kenneth Zehner of Union chairman for this year at its annual convention in Springfield last week. Mayor William Koontz welcomed the group and Paul Penard of Springfield conducted the meeting.

Other officers from this area are Margot Penard of Springfield, vice chairwoman; Nancy Aronson of Union, recording secretary; William Kemps of Roselle, delegate to the Young Republicans of Union County; and Craig Mattice of Springfield, alternate delegate.

Zehner, Gregory Miller of Union, Gail Post of Springfield, Nancy Rogers of Mountainside and Cheryl Troitz of Springfield were elected delegates to the New Jersey Teen Age Republicans.

Sixty-one delegates were present from communities that included Kenilworth, Linden, Mountainside, Roselle, Roselle Park and Union.

In a mock gubernatorial convention the group nominated State Senator Nelson F. Staller of Union for governor. Assemblyman Francis X. McDermott, assistant majority leader, gave the keynote address on the topic, "Reapportionment and the 1965 Elections."

UJC President's Book Reprinted

A book, "The Progressive Movement of 1924," by Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president of Union Junior College, Cranford, will be reprinted by Octagon Books, Inc.

The book was originally published by the Columbia University Press in 1947.

Octagon Books, Inc. plans to reissue the book sometime in 1965. The company promises "out-of-print scholarly books for which there is a definite need among libraries — and which are expensive and difficult to find on the second-hand market," a spokesman said.

"The Progressive Movement of 1924" is among 51 selected in the fields of politics, parties, and elections for the White House Library—a project spearheaded by the late President John F. Kennedy.

Quits Admissions Job To Head Department

Prof. Saul Orkin of Plainfield will give up his duties as director of admissions at Union Junior College, Cranford, to devote fulltime to his academic responsibilities as chairman of the Social Sciences Department, and government instructor. It was announced this week by Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president.

Prof. Bruce Watson, administrative assistant to the president, will serve as acting director of admissions during the spring semester.

Methodist Women Will Hear Lecture About Declaration Of Independence

An illustrated lecture on "The Signers Of The Declaration Of Independence" has been scheduled for the meeting of the woman's society of Christian Service of Springfield Emmanuel Methodist Church, Main St. at Academy Green on Tuesday.

The session will begin with a sandwich lunch at noon with dessert served by Julia Weigle, Mrs. Estelle Ferriday, Mrs. Albert Holler, Mrs. Walter Messfelder and Mrs. George Schenck.

Gladys Mc Collum, spiritual life secretary, will conduct the opening devotions, followed by the lecture which will be presented by Mrs. Richard Swain of Livingston, a past president of the Livingston Woman's Society of Christian Service. Mrs. Swain, a cousin of Phoebe Briggs of the local society, has presented the lecture on the Declaration of Independence to the Springfield Historical Society and the Daughters Of The American Revolution.

The business session will be conducted by Mrs. Orinda Rose, president, assisted by Mrs. Mildred Rempter, vice-president, and Mrs. Robert Garner, secretary.

Members are requested to bring their world banks to Mrs. William Rossiter at the February meeting. The next meeting of the society will be on Tuesday, March 9.

Plans are being formulated, under the leadership of Mrs. Mildred Rempter, for a trip to the United Nations and the Church Center at the United Nations for the latter part of May.

Women of the church are invited to share in a visit to the Methodist UN Office, lunch at the UN building and a UN tour. Additional information will be available on Tuesday.

Tips for Today's Homemaker

From MARY ARMSTRONG, County Home Economist

The birthday of our first president always suggests cherries in the food department. Therefore, it is appropriate that red, tart cherries head the list of foods in plentiful supply for February.

The other two fruits along with cherries, worthy of special notice, are apples and dried prunes. For the season, apples are both in good supply and of good quality.

Olives are another fruit-like product on the plentiful supply list in February. The canned ripe olives—acid flavored and textured to casseroles and other combination dishes as well as giving zest as a mealtime accompaniment.

Dry Peas, an old-fashioned food product, also included on the National list of abundant items, is of more interest in other areas of the country and by those familiar with the British "peas porridge." These dried peas are, however, an inexpensive and filling source of protein which are often enjoyed in pork-flavored soup.

Eggs, always an important food in the pre-Easter weeks, are high on the list of plentiful for February. Broilers, fryers, too, are headlined for meat during the next month. This ever popular and nourishing meat dish offers infinite variety and easy preparation. Other meat supplies will be generally plentiful, especially beef, veal and pork. Among the vegetables, spinach supplies are notably heavy. More winter crops of tomatoes and celery are expected during the next few months.

Hearty February menus for two days planned in accordance with the anticipated good supply of certain foods are suggested.

Ask Amy by AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy: I have two wonderful children and I'm divorced from my husband. There is a man whom I have been dating for almost six years off and on. I truly love him very much but how can I find out how he feels about me? Should I go on dating him if he has no love for me? When I do quit going with him for a while it doesn't seem good because I see him out with another woman. I'm jealous and he knows it. So we start dating again. I can't make myself go out with any other men. I really need help because I'm... Jealous

Dear Jealous: If he hasn't made his feelings known to you in six years, he never will. If dating is what you're interested in, he'll fill the bill, but if you have marriage in mind, don't waste another six years. Find yourself a live one!

Dear Amy: My parents gave me strict orders not to "make out" with boys on the outside. They say if I want to make out, bring the boy home.

Dear Judy: Fifteen year-olds have no business "making out" inside or out. Your parents are wiser than you think young lady. You need watching over.

Dear Amy: I have a problem that needs prompt attention, please. I'm being married soon and I need help. My parents are divorced, I live with my father and he is paying for my wedding. My mother hasn't done anything for anyone in the family except to bribe us with money and cheap gifts.

Dear Amy: Do you think I should invite her to my wedding? I know my father would be hurt if I did and my mother would be hurt if I didn't.

Dear Amy: I love my father very much and I also have some feelings toward my mother.

Dear Amy: Out of respect for both of your parents, it's your duty as their daughter to extend an invitation to both. Tell your father or how you feel. If he loves you, he will understand and put aside his personal feelings for one day for your happiness.

Dear Amy: We are a one car family and my husband has to use it to go to work. However, I do have a neighbor who offers me a ride every time she goes shopping or to the beauty shop. One day a store downtown was having a terrific sale of breast of chicken (my husband loves breast of chicken) and my neighbor called me up and told me to be at her house by one o'clock and that we would go together. At one o'clock I was coming up her front walk when her door opened up and there she stood, still in her night clothes, her hair in curlers, saying good-bye to another neighbor. I was quite disturbed and angry and it must have showed because when I exclaimed, "You're not dressed yet!" she said, "So what?" and slammed the door in my face.

Now, Amy, I have always been very nice to this woman for the favors she did for me. I have bought her small pieces of jewelry and have taken her and her husband out to dinner. I don't think I deserved that kind of treatment. Do you?

Dear Disturbed: No, I don't think so either. Perhaps your friend was annoyed at being held up by her neighbor so your remark added fuel to the fire and she exploded. By now she's probably as sorry about the incident as you are.

Unless you learn to become your own chauffeur or have hubby run you around, you must overlook a lot, accept even more and complain very little.

Dear Amy: I am 11 years old and I am taking piano lessons. My mother makes me take them and I just hate it. I hate practicing, too. What should I do?

Dear Amy: It's a waste of money for your parents to invest in piano lessons when you dislike it so strongly. Ask them to save their money for a few years until the time that you would like to resume. As you grow older, you may realize the importance of having a talent that can bring you popularity, fun, culture and happiness.

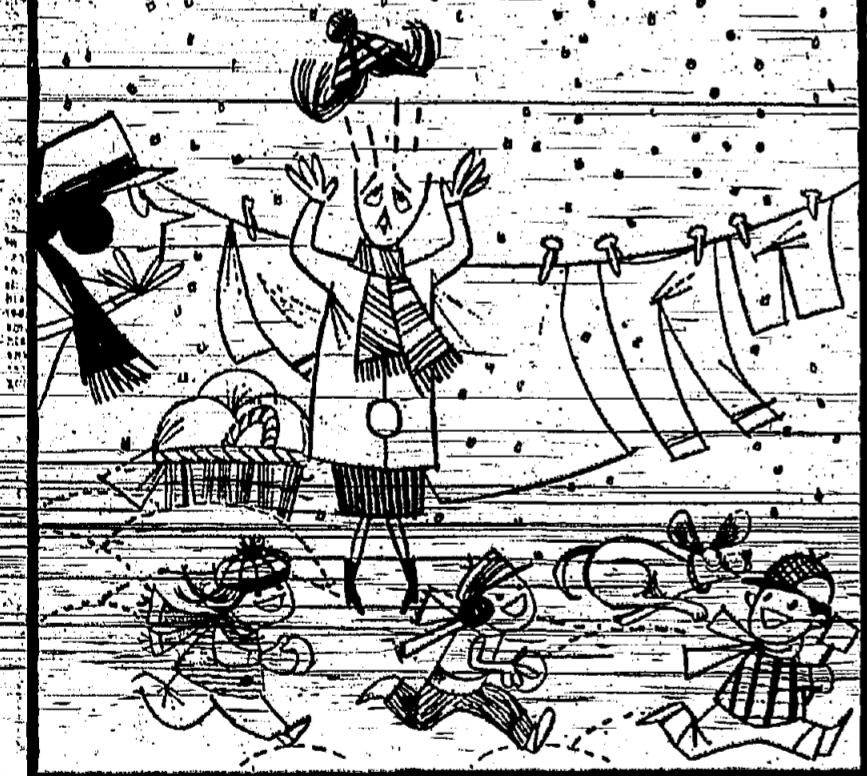

Dear Amy: I am 11 and have a question in my mind that's bothering me. A long time ago a boy liked me but I didn't like him. Now I don't know if I like him or not—but I think about him all the time. Think everything he does is great, can't wait to see him get nervous when he talks when he passes or says hello and I get mad when he talks to other girls. I thought I really like him, though. Do I?

According to your symptoms, the diagnosis is positive. A clear-cut case of "Sussy Love." But don't fret, you will recover without medication!

Legion Commander Plans Official Visit

Stephan B. Lopes, commander of the New Jersey American Legion, with members of his staff, will make an official visit to Union County next Thursday, meeting with officers and members of the county's 24 Legion posts at the home of Unity Post 229, 115 Grove st., Roselle, at 8:30 p.m.

An Army veteran of World War II, the commander is a past commander of Walker-Dyer Post 191, Penns. Grove, and past commander of Salem County. Prior to his election as department commander in September, he served as department executive committee member from Salem County since 1958.

Lopes, who is employed as an accountant with E. J. duPont de Nemours Co. Inc. at Deepwater, will address the county Legionnaires on the Legion's state and national programs for 1964-65, including an intensive membership drive now being conducted.

Union County Commander Charles L. Coble Jr. of Roselle will preside.

OFFICE BUILDING IS FIRST IN EAST POWERED BY GAS

The new $3,000,000 Elizabethtown Gas Building in Elizabeth will be the first office building in the East to provide all of its energy for lighting, heating, hot water, air conditioning and elevator operation from natural gas by means of gas turbine driven generators located within the building, according to John Keen, company president.

The new building will be Elizabethtown's home office. The utility serves more than 600,000 people in Middlesex and Union counties with natural gas.

Construction began on the Elizabethtown Gas Building in November and it is expected to be completed early next year. It was designed by Victor G. Kling and Associates of Philadelphia and the contractor is Frank Briscoe Company, Inc., Newark.

DISCUSSES LITERATURE

Noted Neighbor At Rutgers Teaching Lectern

Rutgers discovered a neighbor of note recently and almost immediately put him to work.

Charles Jackson, author of the novel "Lost Weekend," which as a moving work won the Academy Award, stopped at the State University library for information one day and, before you could say "er, read — "Tom Jones," he was teaching an evening literature class at the New Brunswick Extension Center.

Jackson's visit had alerted a library member to the fact that he lived near the University. When the librarian later heard the Extension Center was seeking a lecturer for its literature series, Jackson was suggested as a possibility.

An invitation to teach was readily accepted. The author of five novels and 77 short stories, Jackson had taught previously at Dartmouth and Columbia Universities and retains a love for what he calls "stimulating teaching."

His course, "Enjoying Good Literature," is apparently admirably suited for a lecturer with Jackson's philosophy of teaching.

"The enjoyment of a great work begins after the reading is completed," says Jackson. "Then you discover with others what you have read."

Jackson offers no set rule for teaching a method to enjoy good literature. But, he suggests a teacher can encourage, stimulate and help his students discover facets of the story which they may have overlooked.

His techniques have proven successful with a class of 35 young and middle-aged men and women attending his lively Wednesday evening lectures.

"Many have a prejudice against the classics because of the way they have been taught," he observes. "I suggest that if a novel or work doesn't interest you don't read it."

"Also, for the work to be enjoyed as great literature, the author has to make you believe you are reading the truth whether it is fiction or fact."

In his first Rutgers class Jackson answered for his students the question raised in his novel "Sunrise Side": "Why do you and other writers on such unhappy subjects when people have enough unhappiness in their own lives?"

Jackson replied that he doesn't give a fig for readers who insist on happy themes. He contends the lighter moments of life are not interesting as the less happy ones, and believes with Andre Gide, "Fine thoughts are what bad literature is made of."

He does say, however, there is a swing back to compassion by today's writers as a reaction to the existentialism philosophy which finds little meaning in life. To further sense of enjoying literature with unhappy themes, Jackson points out that the writer leads the reader to an inner view of a situation, enabling the reader to extend his insight and understanding.

"There are possibilities for error and sin in all of us. By expanding our understanding, we are uplifted rather than depressed by the experience."

His Rutgers class has had the opportunity to discover, with Jackson's help, what he sees as our great heritage in the stories of unhappy lives depicted in "Pride and Prejudice," "Death in Venice," "A Handful of Dust," "Tender is the Night," "Dubliners," "Anna Karenina," "Madame Bovary," "Billy Budd," "Cheri" and "Portrait of a Lady."

Jackson, whose "Lost Weekend" has gone into hundreds of editions and has been translated into 18 languages, will be increasing his output in publications. A sixth novel, "A Secondhand Life," is due next spring and "The Lady Julia," a short story, will appear in next month's McCall's magazine.

Cite Freeholders For Taking Steps To Tuition Plan

The Union County Board of Freeholders were commended last week by the Elizabeth Chapter of the American Business Club for taking the first step to institute a tuition aid plan for county residents attending Union Junior College in Cranford.

In a resolution, the club said the Union County Board of Freeholders can help ease the crisis in higher education by implementing a recommendation of its Advisory Committee that it establish the tuition aid plan for Union County residents attending Union Junior College.

Under the plan, the county would provide $100 a semester or $200 a year for each Union County resident enrolled as a full time student at Union Junior College. This would be matched by a similar amount provided by the state.

"We agree with the Advisory Committee's proposal by the Board of Freeholders that Union County should utilize to the fullest extent the opportunity and resource it possesses in the existing and accredited 20-year old Union Junior College, by granting financial assistance to the Union County students who attend there," the club's resolution said.

This action was taken after former Assemblyman James M. McGowan, who is serving as co-chairman with former Assistant Prosecutor Richard P. Muscatello of the Union County College Opportunity Committee, spoke at the tuition aid plan. McGowan reported that the Board of Freeholders has included $50,000 in its 1965 budget for the program.

3 Weekend Hikes Planned By Club

The Union County Hiking Club is planning three trips during the coming weekend. Miss Irma Heyer of Elizabeth will lead a Saturday afternoon ramble in the Watchung Reservation beginning at 1:30 p.m. from the Tralidae Nature Center.

Jack Smith of Rahway will take a group on an eight-mile hike along the hills of the Hudson River from Nyack, N.Y. Hikers will meet at the Administration Building, Warnance Park, at 8:30 a.m.

Max Lillian Dene of South Plainfield will lead the third group at the Staten Island Zoo. The group will meet at the Park Commission Administration Building at 12:45 p.m.

1,250 Will Begin UJC Semester

An enrollment of 1,250 is expected when Union Junior College, Cranford, opens its spring semester tomorrow.

Registration for Evening Session students concludes tonight at 8 p.m. in the Campus Center. Prof. Saul Orkin, director of admissions, and he anticipates about 750 students in the Day Session, and 500 in the Evening Session.

About 160 freshmen will begin their college careers at the Spring Semester, Prof. Orkin reported. There will be about 90 entering freshmen in the Day Session and about 70 in the Evening Session, the admissions director said.

Substantial Increase In Gas Users Shown In Annual Company Report

The Elizabethtown Gas Co. added almost 4,000 new customers throughout its territory in Union and Middlesex counties last year, according to the annual report sent to shareholders this week.

The report also showed a 7.7 percent increase in gas heat customers and a 10.2 percent increase in the use of gas for commercial and industrial purposes. Operating revenue was reported at a new peak of $23,737,656 while earnings were $2,073,841.

Commenting on the increase in gas heat customers, John Keen, Elizabethtown's president, said that the company now serves 42,828 customers with gas for heating purposes.

"The increase in the use of gas for industrial processes reflects the many new applications of gas to manufacturing operations," Keen reported. "Our territory has one of the largest concentrations of diversified industry in the nation. We are working closely with existing and potential industrial gas users to further expand this market," he said.

Keen said that the company's first Rutgers class Jackson answered for his students the question raised in his novel "Sunrise Side": "Why do you and other writers on such unhappy subjects when people have enough unhappiness in their own lives?"

Jackson replied that he doesn't give a fig for readers who insist on happy themes. He contends the lighter moments of life are not interesting as the less happy ones, and believes with Andre Gide, "Fine thoughts are what bad literature is made of."

An exhibition of nature color slides accepted in the nature division of the International Salon of Photography will be shown at the Union County Park Commission's Tralidae Nature and Science Center in the Watchung Reservation Sunday at 3 p.m.

The exhibit will consist of projecting the accepted slides of subject matter restricted to nature in any of the various phases. Pictures of wild flowers, birds and animals in their natural surroundings will highlight the exhibit.

The show will be under the direction of Rudolph Peterson, director of the Watchung Camera Club.

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week at 4 p.m. Dr. Harold N. Moldonke, director of Tralidae, will conduct one-half hour nature talks for children. The topic selected for the four days is "Local Songbirds." The lectures will be illustrated with color slides and admission is free.

Dayton Quintet To Travel To Rahway, Scotch Plains

The Bulldogs of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School dropped a predictably tough basketball game to the Cougars of Cranford High last Friday night. Cranford, undefeated in Watchung Conference action this season, has virtually clinched the conference title.

Two Ivy Teams Are Deadlocked For First Place

Cornell and Princeton remained tied for first place in the Recreation Department's Ivy League, as both squads rolled to victory in games played last Saturday afternoon. The Ivy League meets in regular season competition each Saturday afternoon at the Regional High School Gymnasium. Starting time is 1 p.m. Three games are played each Saturday afternoon.

The first contest last week saw Cornell beat Dartmouth in a game which was close for three quarters. The final score was Cornell 35, Dartmouth 15. Dartmouth played the first three quarters of this game as if the team was set to win its first game of the year. Bob Fielding and Joel Schwartz of Cornell, however, divided 10 points in the final period to put the game away for Cornell.

Schwartz was game high point man as he hit 12 markers. Fielding had eight points for Cornell. Dave Margulies and Dave Cohen had five points to be high scorers for Dartmouth. Princeton retained its position of first place by rolling over Yale 35-11. High scoring center Ralph Losanno paced the Princeton team as he hit for 10 points. Ralph is the league's scoring champion this season. Gary Fox, just up from the State League, also had a good game for Princeton as he scored six points. Frank Buccell led the scoring for the Yale team with six points.

In the final game of the day, Harvard played its best game of the year and rolled over Columbia, 43-10. Dennis Lester, Lee Rothfeld and Kenny Kurnos all scored and played well in the Harvard onslaught. Lester scored 12 points, while Rothfeld and Kurnos hit for 11 and eight points, respectively. Alan Donaghy with six points also played well for Harvard. Bob Janukowicz with four points was the top man for Columbia.

Wrestlers Meet Second Cougars Within Four Days

After they tangled with the Cranford High School Cougar matmen this Tuesday, the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Bulldogs will face another group of Cougars when they play host to the Columbia High School grapplers tomorrow at 8:30 p.m.

The Maplewood contingent is riding high on the crest of a winning season under the tutelage of first year coach, Al Hector, who was an outstanding wrestler at Dayton in the 1950's. The combination of a tough Columbia Cougar club that is headed by its best season in years, and the added attraction of two former Dayton wrestling stars pitting strategy against each other for the first time should make for a full-house attraction.

Coach Jerry Sachsel's Bulldogs lost their scalp to their traditional rivals, Rahway's Indians, last Wednesday as they dropped eight of 12 matches for a 26-14 loss. Rahway's record climbed to 3-4, while Springfield's dropped to 3-4-1.

Widom Bowlers Get League Lead

George Widom took the honors in the Week-Ah Bowling League last week at the Hy-Way Bowl in Union with games of 245 and 227 in a 630 series. The hot pinning by Widom enabled his team to sweep three games and increase his team's league lead to a full game.

Other bowlers who hit the 200 mark were Milt Koplik, 203; 248-839; Bernie Sanders, 216; Gil Judd, 238; Sid Faber, 207; Jerry Wolfe, 218; Hal Davis, 215; Lee Sarokin, 200; Len Seroff, 207; Hal Reslin, 201; and Lee Richter, 201.

The Widom team holds the edge over the Bluder team which has a record of 37 victories and 26 defeats. In third place, only 2 1/2 games behind the leaders, is the Wortzel team.

Pussycats Gain Lead Of 5 Games

In the Smithfield Park mixed bowling league, the Pussycats have gained a five-game lead over the Crazy Balls. The Pussycats now stand 31-7 over the Crazy Balls.

High games for the men are: Abby Weinberg, 236-627; Jim Neifeld, 224-591; Milt Koplik, 212-389; Gil Wolfe, 214-558; Bernie Cole, 203-551; Sid Miller, 210. High games for the women are: Joanne Silverstein, 192-502; Shelly Wolfe, 187-481; Bunny Miller, 155.

Three Teams Tied For 1st Spot In Springfield's State League

At the completion of four weeks of regular season competition in the Springfield Recreation Department's State League, there is a three-way tie for first place between Iowa, Wyoming, and Oklahoma. The State League is well balanced this season as all the teams show the ability to win any game at any time.

Bullets Nip Pirates, Threaten Top Place

The Bullets moved to within a game of first place in the Springfield Recreation Department's Boys' Bowling League last week as they beat the Pirates in two games bowled.

Mark Hollander continued his top-notch bowling of the past few weeks and paced the Bullets to victory. He rolled a 295 series Friday afternoon. Robert Shindler, with a 232 series, also rolled well for the winning team. Danny Neuses, at 236, was the top bowler for the Pirates.

The Rockets salvaged a game of their first place lead as they rolled to win one game from the Raiders. The Raiders won the first game last week behind the top bowling of Roy Greenberg and Mitch Kaplan. Ricky Williams, with a 154 game, rallied the Rockets to victory in the second contest.

Jimmy Sarokin, with a good 305 series, paced the Bombers to a pair of victories over the Hurricanes. Leon Margolis also starred for Irvington, proved to be an outstanding player. His ball handling was the best seen all season by the Springfield team. Kozlik also was able to score 15 points. Phil Lambert hit for 16 points for the Irvington team.

Minutemen's Squad Will Oppose Linden

The Springfield Minutemen will meet a basketball team from the Linden Recreation Department Saturday evening at the Gaudineer Gym. Starting time will be 7 p.m.

The Minutemen played host to an all-star team representing the Irvington P.A.L. last Saturday evening at the Gaudineer gymnasium. Springfield continued its fine play of this season as the team rolled to a 69-43 victory. Springfield has now won three straight games, hitting over 60 points in each contest. The season mark is now four victories as against a single defeat.

Springfield team captain and center Ralph Losanno paced the team to this victory. Ralph established a new Minuteman scoring record as he hit for 31 points. Ralph also played a fine defensive game and was a tower of strength in the rebounding department.

The Springfield floor leader, Joel Schwartz, also had a fine game. His many steals and scoring passes kept Springfield in front during the early stages when the score was close. Joel also hit for 10 points.

Springfield's youngest player, Frank Buccell, broke into the starting line-up in this game and scored eight points. Two other members of the starting team, Dave Margulies and Dennis Lester, also played well at both ends of the court. Both Dave and Dennis hit for seven points, to help the team to victory.

Tommy Kozlik, back-court

Bluebird Keglers Take Two Games In Bowling Action

The Bowling Bluebirds in the Springfield Recreation Department's Girls' Bowling League, maintained their torrid pace last week as they swept a series of two games from the Lucky Charms.

Jeanine Spangler, Barbara Owens and Jewel Brands were at the top of their games last week, each girl doing her part in leading the team to a pair of victories. Jeanine Spangler, at 214, had the highest series. Donna Petruzzello, with a 180 series, was the top bowler for the Lucky Charms.

The Four Stripes maintained space with the Bluebirds, four games behind the league leaders, when they defeated the Bowlettes in two games last week. Sharon Gagnon and Linda Mutschler were the pace setting bowlers for the Four Stripes. Barbara Crump and Joanne Palmeri were high for the Bowlettes.

The final match of the day also resulted in a sweep, as the Wildcats tripped the Knockouts twice. Michelle Widom was the top bowler in this set of games, rolling a 220 series. Michelle's two-game total was the highest of the afternoon.

Nancy Morlino continues to retain her position as the league's top bowler. She is hitting the pins at a 107 average. Alyce Cooper remains in the second spot with an average of 102. Sharon Gagnon is third at 101. Lisa Brown is in fourth place with a season average of 96. Michelle Widom is also rolling at a 98 average. Pin fractions, however, place Michelle in fifth place.

Mortgage Expert Says Money Plentiful For Commercial And Industrial Needs

Mortgage money for residential, commercial and industrial construction in New Jersey will be in ample supply for the next six to eight months...

CARLTON S. STALLARD

Stallard said that recent financial moves by the government and the banks may be expected to have a tightening effect on the short term money market.

Such factors as the inventory build-up in steel, rising capital expenditures and government spending plans together with the worsening of the balance of payment situation...

On the state scene, Stallard anticipates substantial activity in the building of one-family developments and large apartment projects.

Investors are taking a closer look at each new project before committing money to it.

B'NAI B'RITH PROGRAM

Unit Will Present Cantor In Benefit Recital

Cantor Israel J. Weisman of Temple Beth Ahm, 60 Baitur way, Springfield, will present a special recital of popular operatic selections, light classical songs, and show tunes next Sunday, at 8 p.m. at the Temple. He will be accompanied on the piano by Maurice Grudin, well known composer. Cantor Weisman lives at 224 Dewey st., Union.

The recital will be the highlight of a program sponsored by the Springfield B'nei B'rith Women's Chapter and Men's Lodge to present an Annual Citizenship Award to the Springfield Volunteer Fire Department.

Cantor Weisman serves Temple Beth Ahm during regular and high holiday services, and also teaches students in the Temple Beth Ahm Hebrew School. He is a member of the B'nei B'rith Springfield Men's Lodge.

CANTOR ISRAEL WEISMAN

Cantor Weisman has won acclaim for his tenor voice. Able to sing in seven languages, he has conducted services in leading Temples and Synagogues from Maine to Florida.

While in the Army, he was the only Cantor in Hawaii and was invited to conduct High Holiday Services for all Jewish troops in the Pacific. He also appeared often on TV in Hawaii.

Cantor Weisman studied at the Julliard School of Music and the Hebrew Union College School of Sacred Music. He has appeared in Town Hall, Carnegie Hall, and Waldorf Astoria in special concerts and as soloist with national opera companies and famous choirs. He played the roles of Rodolfo in "La Boheme" and the Duke in "Rigoletto" with the Armado Opera Company.

He is the product of a "singing family." At the age of seven, he assisted his father and other Cantors at holiday services.

The public is invited to attend next Sunday's program at Temple Beth Ahm.

Mrs. Arthur M. Falk and Jay B. Bloom, both of Springfield, are co-chairmen of the presentation ceremony. Mrs. Wilfred Satesky heads the B'nei B'rith Springfield Women's Chapter. Otto Granick is President of the B'nei B'rith Springfield Men's Lodge.
